NET arrives Jan. 31

by Emily Klement

After months of planning and preparation, the National Evangelization Team will finally be in Muenster on Jan. 31. The week will be filled with retreats for the young people of the parish, rallies for the schools and the community, music and spiritual renewal.

This delightful group of young evangelists is a witness today of how God's love can touch lives and change hearts. Their ministry is also one of joy and fun and will be Muenster's blessing.

Of special interest to the whole community is the Christian Family Outreach Seminar on Saturday, Feb. 4. This will be a special time for families of all ages and types. The seminar will be held at the Community Center from 1 to 4 p.m. There will be no pre-registration - just bring your children! The NET team will do the music for the 5 p.m. Mass immediately following the seminar.

The entire community is invited to the closing rally on Monday, Feb. 6, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Muenster High School Auditorium. This is an event that no one will want to miss - all ages and denominations are invited.

The team comes from a diverse group of people from all walks of life - they are college-aged people who have given a year of their life to serving the Lord by evangelizing young people and their families. They have traveled and evangelized in 32 states, Canada and Australia. They have previously been in the San Antonio Diocese but this is the first time in the Fort Worth-Dallas area. It truly is a privilege for Muenster to be able to have the Team here! Full Schedule, Page 2

Banquet marks year end, welcomes new Chamber directors

Celebrating Muenster's 100th birthday was the theme of the 1989 Chamber of Commerce Awards Banquet. From the decor to the historical speech given by Ronnie Felderhoff to the door prize including 1889 silver dollars and a Kodak 35mm camera (Eastman Kodak developed the camera 100 years ago), the emphasis was on 100 years. A before-dinner highlight was the presentation of a giant birthday cake made by Bayer's Kolonialwaren und Backerei. Centennial King and Queen, David and Juanita Bright, cut the first piece with his sword.

After the dinner, catered by Ginny's Catering to a crowd of over 200 persons, Urban Endres, representing the Centennial Steering Committee, presented an American flag to Mayor Ted Henschel. The flag was sent to Muenster by Congressman Charles Stenholm after it flew over the nation's capitol on Dec. 8, 1888, the beginning of Muenster's Centennial year.

Mistress of Ceremonies Janie Monday next introduced Outgoing Chamber President David Fette. He extended thanks to God, the general membership and the board of directors for help in negotiating a most busy and trying year for the Chamber. Fette presented Centennial Steins with engraved bases to retiring board members Gary Endres, Phil Endres, Ben Bindel and himself. The same type of award was made to Pat Dennis and Doris Muller in recognition of the outstanding 1988 Banquet Project, and to Joe Hellman in appreciation for his contribution of storage space to the Chamber. In addition, Fette gave a bouquet of roses to Chamber Executive Secretary Maudine Griffin and his wife, Pamela, for their help and support through the year.

Janie introduced the new president of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, Charles Bayer, owner of Bayer's Kolonialwaren und Backerei. Bayer addressed the crowd, then introduced Ronnie Felderhoff, past mayor and manager of Muenster Milling Co. His talk recalled some of the not-so-well known items in Muenster's history. He challenged the community to continue striving to avoid mediocrity and work for the good of the whole.

President Charles Bayer next introduced the 1989 Board of Directors: remaining from 1988 are Monica Hess, Dale Felderhoff, Pat Dennis and Bayer. Newly elected directors are David Flusche Sr., Lora Hennigan, J.T. Pagel and Dr. Chris Bean. Hess is Vice-President, Hennigan is Secretary and Flusche is Treasurer. Bayer presented the traditional plaque and gavel to David Fette in appreciation for his 1988 presidency.

Sacred Heart Parish assistant pastor, Father Sebastian Beshoner, gave the invocation and benediction. Pat Dennis and Doris Muller co-chaired a second outstanding awards banquet.

The 1988 Chamber of Commerce experienced a very active and tumultuous year. Among the more noteworthy events were: An expanded Germanfest with added concessions and capital expenditures; Sponsorship of a chartered bus trip to Austin to lobby for a bridge across the Red River; Hiring of a full-time Executive Director, Richard Ferber, then losing him to a heart attack a few short months later; Ferber contributed greatly to the Red River Bridge effort and expanded the Chamber Challenge newsletter. The 1988 Chamber has hired Beth Trubenbach as assistant secretary, expanded office hours to full time and supported or sponsored many community events and projects.

Muenster Telephone Company celebrates 80th

by Gracie Fuhrman

One of the oldest continuous businesses in Muenster celebrates its 80th birthday this Centennial year.

The Muenster Telephone Corporation celebrated its 80th birthday with a banquet, held Saturday, Jan. 14, in the Telephone Company meeting room. The telephone company began in 1909. Along with its 80th celebration, the company and its employees also surprised Alvin Fuhrman on his 40th anniversary with the company.

The invocation was given by Ken McDougle. A steak dinner was catered by The Center Restaurant.

After the dinner, Alvin Fuhrman gave some highlights of the company. He stated all the employees had a total of 217 years of service or an average of 10.33 years per employee. Muenster had 36 years of magneto service, 17 years of common battery service, 22 years of electro-mechanical service and now digital. He then presented employees their service pins. Eight had less than five years and received no pins. As he presented each employee their pin, he gave a short history of their employment. Employees receiving their five year pins were: Joe Yosten, Bob Williams, Donna Walterscheid and Larry Eldridge. Receiving 10 year pins were: Ken McDougle, June McDougle, Jerry Yosten, Tina Weinzapfel and John Monday. Receiving 15 year pins were: Paulette Swirczynski and Maurus Hacker. Receiving a 30 year pin was Gracie Fuhrman.

Then Alvin presented 25-year director pins to W.J. Miller and Terese Miller. He outlined the many achievements of the company since the purchase of the company from Herman Younger in 1960. New lines and dial service in 1963, cable television in 1966, one-party service, direct distance dialing in 1972, and digital dial service in 1984. He credited the ability of the company to do this to the progressive-minded board to work with. Finally, Alvin then presented a plaque to Ida Hoenig in memory of Alphonse Hoenig for his 39 years as director in Muenster Telephony before his death.

At this time of the evening, Alvin thought the program was over. Then Gracie Fuhrman took the podium on the pretense to present Alvin with his pin and, in a complete surprise to him, she announced that the rest of the evening would be dedicated to him on his 40th anniversary with the company. She gave a light-hearted narration of "This Is Your Telephone Life." She presented him with his 40 year pin and a plaque. Gene Fuhrman then presented Alvin with a diamond tie tack from the company.

After this, Alvin again thought the program was over. Ken McDougle then spoke on some of the lighter things the employees observed. After this, the employees presented a humorous skit, "Alvin's 40 Years," written by the employees. After the skit, the employees presented Alvin with an oil painting of him standing beside the 1949 construction truck. The truck was purchased the same year Alvin started working with the company.

After the skit, everyone enjoyed cake and ice cream. The cake was baked by Cathie Fuhrmann of The Farmer's Kitchen.

The party room was decorated in the company colors of tan, blue and orange. The table centerpieces were carved candlestick telephones made by the employees.

The old and new logos were displayed. Two old switchboards and Alvin's first manager's chair was displayed. Also on display were photos of 80 years. The evening concluded with the showing of many years of slides of company activity.

Lindsay Council requests input for Feb. 6 meeting

By Elaine Schad

Members of the Lindsay City Council are encouraging public input at its next regular meeting on Feb. 6 concerning several proposed ordinances under consideration for adoption this spring.

The council will look into drafting an ordinance providing for a no parking area along a section of the east side of Maple Street, between Fourth and Second Streets. The city has been receiving complaints about congestion caused in that area by parked vehicles, and will begin the first of three public hearings on the ordinance at the February meeting, said Mayor Don Metzler.

Property owners living along unpaved streets within the Lindsay city limits are requested to address the council if they'd like their streets paved. Property owners wishing to have the street paved should petition the council. If the council agrees, the property owners would be responsible for sharing the paving costs.

The city will also hold its first of three public hearings on an ordinance prohibiting the blocking of city streets with vehicles. Blocking city streets, such as when people stop their vehicles in the middle of the street to have a conversation, is a Class B misdemeanor by state law. By adopting a city ordinance, the city's police chief could enforce the local ordinance, which would be a class C misdemeanor.

At their regular January meeting, new councilman Manley Taylor took the oath of office, replacing Jerry Kneupper, who has moved from the city, until the May city election.

The council also: - Reported that a fence will be installed this week to the east side and north side of the city dump grounds as requested by the state health department at an estimated cost of $1,000.

- Heard a report from Steve Bell, vice president of the planning and zoning commission. The P&Z will begin a series of meetings to revamp the city's subdivision guidelines.

- Set a council workday for Jan. 28 to organize the files at City Hall, and discuss future planning for the city.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As I came from Gainesville the other night, I noticed some writing on the Muenster 4-H Club Adopt-A-Highway sign. I must tell you it hurt and disappointed me. What fun would anyone get out of defacing public property? Are they proud of this deed?

The Adopt-A-Highway program is a worthwhile endeavor for people of all ages and all around the state of Texas. Texas is known for their slogan, "Don't Mess With Texas," as was mentioned on the news during one of the Inaugural Balls.

As one of the people who has picked up trash for six miles, yes, six by the time you figure each side and the median, I can tell you what it is like to have blisters, sore feet and swollen knees from it. We have had people to drive by and honk to acknowledge our effort, but we have also had people drive by and throw cans and trash at us and say, "Here's more for you." This can be dangerous and, as a leader, I am responsible for the young people in our group who are working with us.

We do not get paid to pick up your trash, but it is rewarding to drive down the highway and see how nice it looks.

We sign a contract to do this four times a year. We are the only group left in Muenster who is participating in this project. There are 116 groups in our District, who are in the Adopt-A-Highway program.

We have all kinds of litter, but the largest amount is the trash which blows out of pickup beds, cans, bottles and paper cups. We are not asked to pick up broken bottles, but I feel compelled to do so when I think it might be my tire that is ruined if I have to pull over.

Please, if you cannot refrain from littering, do not deface our sign. This looks bad for the whole town.

The best thing about this project is when you hear a child who has picked up trash say, "Boy, I'll never throw a piece of trash out again," and know it has made them conscious of our goal to educate people.

IT'S HARD to distinguish the graffiti sprayed on this sign in the daylight. At night, it's much plainer on the reflective surface. Besides the insult to our neighbors to the east, the vandals should know that, according to the Highway Department, the maximum penalty for damaging this $275.00 sign is $1,000.00 fine and/or two years in jail. Thanks for your "artistic" contribution to the countryside. We hope our visitors don't see it, lest they think we are all like you.

ANY PAIN, NO GAIN

By Edwin Feulner

If "no pain, no gain" is the motto of exercisers, the motto of politicians might be "any pain, no gain." They support no policy that might cause even the slightest pain for even the shortest time, regardless of how sound the policy is.

Since we elect those who govern us, it says a lot about the decline of values. Several phrases popularized in the last couple of decades illustrate the problem: "Live for today," "if it feels good do it," "whatever turns you on." This philosophy is at the root of many disastrous policies, both foreign and domestic. When things get so bad that something must be done, Congress dodges as much political heat as possible by appointing a commission to make recommendations.

The record-high national and consumer debts are only the most glaring examples of this. Nearly 15 percent of the federal budget now goes to pay the interest on the national debt. Since Franklin Roosevelt built his New Deal coalition, the way to get reelected has been to buy votes by deficit spending. The way to lose elections is to cut federal benefits, because the well-organized beneficiaries know how to squawk very effectively. And since the cost of federal giveaway programs is spread over all taxpayers, no one gets stuck enough for any single program to squawk.

That's how, over time, there got to be more than a 1,000 federal programs handing out, in toto, hundreds of billions of dollars directly or through subsidized loans. Only a small percentage of this money goes to the needy—most goes to businesses and middle-income individuals. The gravy train continues because few in Congress are willing to cause even the minor, short-term pain that spending cuts would bring. Hence Ronald Reagan could cut taxes—that caused no pain—but not spending.

The special interests painted any effort to cut spending as a cruel assault on anti-poverty programs that allegedly had already been cut to the bone. Though the cuts would not have affected the poor, and the programs had not in fact been cut sharply, facts seldom matter to Congress. The result? Domestic spending has increased under Reagan.

The same thread runs through America's foreign-policy failings. The president's chief failure was his inability to persuade Congress of the dangers of another communist regime in this hemisphere: Nicaragua's Sandinistas.

This is similar to the failure of the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations to oust Fidel Castro, who seized power in Cuba 30 years ago. By the mid-1970s, Castro, not content with oppressing his own people and terrorizing his neighbors, began dispatching troops to Africa to prop up Soviet-backed communist tyrannies there. Similarly, U.S. military and diplomatic shortsightedness in the 1940s and 1950s condemned Eastern Europe to the communist oppression and impoverishment it still suffers today.

These are examples of the long-term costs of shrinking from the short-term pain required to nip communist expansion in the bud, as was done in Grenada.

Today, as even many liberals at last realize, there is no reason to believe that the Sandinistas will show any more devotion to democracy than Castro did, yet the realization has no impact on policy. Instead of aiding the Nicaraguan freedom-fighters, Congress cut them off, fatuously trusting the Sandinistas to abide by a negotiated settlement. Thanks to the wildly distorting but effective campaign of Sandinista apologists, supporting the freedom-fighters was not as politically popular as saying, "Let's not get involved in some mess down in Central America." And the result, of course, will be a worsening mess.

I could cite examples for pages. If I could force one New Year's resolution on the new Congress and administration, it would be this: Be willing to endure some short-term pain to achieve some long-term gain. Even if you don't get reelected, people of judgment and character will consider you a statesman.

Rep. Ric Williamson appointed to task force

On Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1989, Governor Bill Clements appointed State Representative R.F. "Ric" Williamson, D-Weatherford, to a seven-member bi-partisan statewide task force on State Campaign Finance Reform. Williamson joins the Chairman, Secretary of State Jack Rains; Sens. John Montford, D-Lubbock, and Don Henderson, R-Houston; former Sen. Max Sherman, who is Dean of the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs; Reps. Ashley Smith, R-Houston; and former Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston, who is an attorney.

"In my four years of public service, I have worked continuously to strengthen the campaign finance statutes by which candidates for public office must conduct their campaigns. In my quarterly surveys of taxpayers, there is a continuing concern about this issue on the part of working men women in Cooke County. Governor Clements has now taken the initiative in this current legislative session and I look forward to being a part of this reform effort. If we are to regain and hold the trust of our taxpayers in the political process, we in the public service arena must advocate the highest ethical standards and be committed to the notion of living with those high standards. The recent nationwide publicity concerning our campaign finance system makes it imperative that we move now," Williamson said.

Rep. Williamson and Rep. Smith were recommended by House Speaker Gibson D. "Gib" Lewis, D-Fort Worth, for appointment to the task force.

Historical curse finally ends

by Robert McDaniel
When President-elect George Bush was inaugurated on Jan. 20, 1989, the Tecumseh Curse ended.

Tecumseh was an Indian who tried to unite many of the eastern Indian tribes of the American colonies into one unified nation against the westward advancement of the colonists in the early 1800s. Tecumseh, an Indian religious leader, was upset because the white men were taking too much land from the Indians.

When William Henry Harrison made a treaty with the various Indian tribes which Tecumseh considered unfair, Tecumseh threatened Harrison by telling him that he would die while being president, and all future presidents elected in the year that begins a new decade would also not leave the presidential office alive.

The curse placed on Harrison by Tecumseh became a reality when Harrison, who was elected in 1840, dies a natural death while being president. The curse continues when President Abraham Lincoln, elected in 1860, is assassinated by John Wilkes Booth. The same with James A. Garfield who was elected in 1880 and is assassinated by Charles Guiteau. Likewise William McKinley who was elected in 1900 and is assassinated by Leon F. Czolgosz.

The curse continues when President Warren G. Harding dies of natural causes. The same with President Franklin Delano Roosevelt who was elected in 1940. Most Americans today can recall the election of John Fitzgerald Kennedy in 1960 as well as the assassination of this great president by Lee Harvey Oswald. With the election of Ronald Reagan in 1980, the curse continues.

However, with the inauguration of George Bush as president, the curse placed on the occupant of the Oval Office was lifted because President Reagan lived through his two terms as president, and also through his attempted assassination.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Recently, Europe banned U.S. beef imports fed with growth hormones. When President Reagan retaliated with U.S. tariffs, Hightower ripped the president as insensitive to health issues.

In turn, Texas Farm Bureau president S. M. True called for Hightower to resign, saying he'd done immeasurable damage to the Texas beef market.

Bad Headlines?
Other cattle group leaders were more restrained, but worried that Hightower's desire for headlines could cause the world to think American beef is unsafe.

They also expressed skepticism about Hightower's beef trade overtures to Europe even while the U.S. prepares for what might be a trade war.

True's tongue-lashing stung, coming one week after Hightower reluctantly gave up his planned run for the U.S. Senate, and added to Capitol perception that the party-popular populist is losing ground.

Could Feed Europe
But Hightower countered, saying Texas alone might have enough hormone-free beef to supply U.S. trade quotas to Europe.

Hightower and the Farm Bureau have long been enemies, anyway. His top deputy, Mike Moeller, is a former president of the arch rival Texas Farmers Union, and there are quite a few farmers who would prefer Moeller over Hightower.

Insurance Collapse Seen
Attorney General Jim Mattox found himself at odds with the State Board of Insurance board after he criticized their ineptness in face of what he painted as a potential collapse of the insurance industry, similar to what he said occurred in the lending industry.

Board members promptly responded by saying Mattox didn't know what he was talking about. Interest in the conflict soon faded when new campaign reports showed Treasurer Ann Richards, his probable opponent in the 1990 governor's race, raised more money than Mattox in the past six months, $1.89 million to $1.16 million.

Mattox, the reports show, still has more money in the bank, by about $3.25 million to $1 million.

The Mattox camp quickly questioned whether all of Richard's funds were legal, contending that some donations were made to her after the cut-off date imposed by law.

Sen. Montford Critical
Meanwhile, Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, said the insurance board suffers from "dangerous mismanagement." But chairman Jack Smith said the senator's investigation smacked of a "witch hunt."

Montford, in releasing an 11-page report of an investigation his office began in December, accused the board of being "misinformed or uninformed of the waste, inefficiency, cronyism and patronage which apparently permeates the agency."

In a letter to Gov. Clements, Montford suggested the governor seek the resignations of all three board members.

Chair Stripped of Power
Former legislator Bob Aikin of Commerce, whose father once championed education causes in the state senate, said abuses by past chairmen, not political politics, was the reason the Democrat-controlled State Board of Education stripped its new Republican chairman of much of his power.

Others commented it was the rawest display of partisan politics since Mark White pulled down 103 last-hour appointments made by his nemesis, Bill Clements.

Budget Termed Bleak
The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee described the proposed $43.7 billion state budget as a bleak blueprint for spending over the next two years.

"It's not a bright prospect," said Sen. Kent Caperton, D-Bryan, who heads the committee. It's pretty sobering, to say the least."

Several members of the family were present for the service, among whom were Olivetan Benedictines, Sister Carmelita and Sister Carine Myers, sisters of Sister Clare, and three brothers, Clarence Jr., Roger and Ramon Myers.

Concelebrants at the Mass were Father Kevin Ryan, O.S.B., convent chaplain, Father Bernard Bolds of Walnut Ridge, Father Ernest Haresty of Jonesboro and Father Bill Foley, visiting from Baltimore.

Sister Clare entered Holy Angels in 1940 from Hot Springs, where two of her brothers still reside. She has served as principal and teacher in elementary schools of Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, for 43 years - 15 in Muenster, seven in West Memphis, six and a half in Blytheville, and five years in Lake Arthur, LA. She also taught in Benton, Jonesboro, Little Rock, Pocatohotas, Stuttgart, Weiner and Wynne.

She held BSE and MSE degrees in elementary education plus a Specialist Degree in elementary principalship from Arkansas State University in Jonesboro.

Many local students remember her as Sister Theophane.

She was born on May 16, 1922 at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, to Clarence C. and Anne Cory Myers. Since her mother died when she was an infant, she never knew her. As a child, she followed her father and stepmother wherever his army career took them. She was baptized into four different religions, the last one Catholic.

SISTER CLARE MEYERS

In his funeral eulogy, Bishop McDonald called attention to her dedication to Catholic education, and the interest she had in visiting elderly widows and shut-ins.

Members of the Knights of Columbus of Blessed Sacrament Parish, Jonesboro, served as pallbearers.

A.G. Edwards' research top performer

Stocks recommended by A.G. Edwards were the No. 1 performer for the 12-month period covered in a Wall Street Journal study. The recently-released study ranked A.G. Edwards' recommendations first for both the 12-month and three-month periods ended Sept. 30.

"As it often has during the past year, the St. Louis firm showed up its nine New York competitors in the latest quarter," says the Journal article analyzing the study.

Edwards' recommendations produced a 1.5% gain during the 12-month period, according to the study conducted by Zacks Investment Research. The stock market as a whole, as measured by the S&P 500, was down 12.5% over the same period. The recommendations of the nine other firms studied would have also produced losses over the same time period. During the full 27 months covered by the study, Edwards' recommendations were up 15.9%.

"We are very pleased with the results of the study, and feel it illustrates that money can still be made in the stock market," says Betty Peveto, Branch Manager of the Gainesville A.G. Edwards office.

Following Edwards in 12-month results was Shearson Lehman Hutton with a loss of 5%; Smith Barney ranked third with a loss of 9.2%.

According to the Journal, "Edwards tends to select the stocks of relatively small companies, not closely followed on Wall Street, that meet the traditional 'value' criteria. For example, it likes stocks that sell at a low multiple of the company's book value, or assets minus liabilities per share. It also favors stocks that pay good dividends."

For the three-month period, Edwards led the pack with a 2% return. It was followed by Smith Barney with a 1.3% return and Kidder Peabody with a 1.2% return.

St. Louis-based A.G. Edwards operates more than 360 offices in 47 states. The local A.G. Edwards Branch is located at 113 East California, Suite 2, Gainesville, 668-8762.

Vows exchanged in Oklahoma

MR. and MRS. KEVIN COGGBURN
...nee Carmen Fuhrmann...

The wedding of Carmen Fuhrmann of Idabel, Oklahoma and Kevin Cogburn of Omaha, Nebraska was held in St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church in Idabel on Saturday, Dec. 31, at 4 p.m. with the pastor, Father Patrick O'Donnell, officiating for the Nuptial Mass. Mass servers were friends of the couple, Jason Bushers and Chip Jones.

The bride is the daughter of Ewald and Irma Fuhrmann of Idabel, former residents of Muenster and Lindsay. She is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Clem Hofbauer of Muenster.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Eunice Cogburn of Bossier City, Louisiana.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a traditional white wedding gown of pure crystal organza and Chantilly lace and Alencon lace. The modified Sabrina neckline was edged with lace and five teardrop pearls at the center front point. Iridescent sequins and seed pearls enhanced the entire wedding gown. The puffed elbow-length sleeves were edged with a cuff of lace and seed pearls. The low waistline basque bodice was accented by a keyhole back. Cascading bows extended down the entire length of the chapel train.

Her triple tier bridal veil of French illusion fell from a lace and pearl headpiece with pearl sprays on each side of her face.

She carried a cascade of white roses, baby's breath, pearl strands and greenery.

Pre-nuptial music was offered by Nancy Bryant, organist, and Joseph Sharp as vocalist. As guests were being seated, selections were "We've Only Just Begun," "Evergreen," and "Annie's Song." He sang "Hail Mary, Blessed Woman" as mothers of the couple entered. The organist played "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" as attendants entered, and the traditional "Wedding March" for the bride.

Tracy Marshall of Oklahoma City gave the liturgical readings; Angela Hofbauer of Muenster gave prayers and petitions; and the groom presented his mother with a memorial picture of his deceased father, and a long stemmed lavender rose. The vocalist sang "The Rose" at this time.

Marriage vows were then pledged and the couple lit their Unity candle from the flame of the Christ candle. The vocalist sang "There Is Love."

Offertory gifts were carried to the altar by William and Mary Evelyn Hermes of Muenster, and Michelle Fuhrmann, the couple's baptismal sponsors. The Offertory song was "Like A Seal On My Heart." The Communion song was "Only A Shadow." Eucharistic ministers, Maria Mayhall and Mike McClure.

After the Nuptial blessing, the couple placed a long-stemmed white rose on the Blessed Virgin's altar, as "Ave Maria" was sung. Recessional for the bridal party was the traditional wedding march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn.

RECEPTION

A reception followed in the community center of the church. Molly Koelzer of Muenster, bride's cousin, and Paulette Bushers registered 175 guests. Chris Ann Columbus and Christina Cooke presented rose rice bags to the guests, who showered the couple as they entered the center.

The three-tiered wedding cake was made and cut by Lynne Fuhrmann. Cake servers were Jayna Hofbauer of Muenster and Micki Columbus and Melissa Jones. Charles Busher served punch. The horseshoe-shaped groom's cake was made by Bernida Bell. A table of pick-up foods was served, followed later by a seated, catered dinner.

The rehearsal dinner was held at "The Branding Iron," hosted by the groom.

The bride is a graduate of Idabel High School and attended St. Gregory's in Shawnee, Okla. and Creighton University in Omaha, Neb. where she earned a degree in Elementary Education in December. She is a teacher in the Omaha area.

The groom is a graduate of Louisiana schools and served in the U.S. Air Force. He is Technical Data Manager for SAC Headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha. They will make their home in Omaha.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Clem Hofbauer of Muenster; Dale and Dolores Hofbauer and Jayna, Angela, Jason and Stephen of Muenster; Earl and Beatrice Koelzer and daughters, Molly Koelzer and Beverly Yosten, all of Muenster; William and Mary Hermes; Raymond and Louise Haverkamp; Gertie Loerwald; Bill and Henrietta Dankesreiter; Raymond and Jeanne Fuhrmann; Kenny and Debbie Koelzer, all of Gainesville. ## Hartman wins Geography Contest

Justin Hartman, an eighth grade student at Muenster ISD and son of Roy and Irene Hartman, won the school's geography competition on Friday, Jan. 20, and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship.

Muenster ISD's chapter of the National Honor Society sponsored the local competition by furnishing most of the prizes, including the floor model globe that was first prize. This test was the first round in the new National Geography Bee that is being sponsored by National Geographic WORLD, the National Geographic Society's magazine for children.

The school winners, including Justin, will now take a multiple choice test; up to 100 of the top scorers in each state will be eligible to compete in their state Bee April 7. All first-place winners from the state Bees will be flown to Washington, D.C. to participate in the National Geography Bee finals on May 18 and 19. The first-place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship; the second-place winner, a $15,000 scholarship; and the third-place winner, a $10,000 scholarship.

Interested Muenster ISD students in grades 4-8 researched numerous practice questions before class eliminations to the top 16. These competitors then took a 20-question quiz, plus five tiebreakers, using questions from the Society that tested their general knowledge of geography. Justin had 18 correct of the 20 questions. Examples included: Which New England state is landlocked? In which European country is the Peloponnesus? How many native peoples live in Antarctica? (answers: Vermont, Greece, zero).

Muenster ISD's 2nd place winner was Darlene Hess, also an eighth grade student. Other prize winners were Marlene Hess (8th grade/3rd place), Brandon Walterscheid (7th grade/4th place), Elaine Poulson (7th grade/5th place), Melissa Fisher (8th grader/6th place), Cody Jump (4th grader/7th place), and Steven Reiter (4th grader/8th place). Sponsoring teachers included Mary Ahrens, Margie Alsop, Marilyn Garner, Priscilla Phillips and Tim Ratliff.

The Honor Society members chose this geography contest as a service project in order to show their support for the National Geographic Society's concern about the lack of geographic knowledge among young people in the United States. National Honor Society members assisting in the presentation of awards included Jennifer Carroll, secretary; Kim Hess, reporter; and Gaylia Brunson, Rhonda Stewart and Dyann Vogel, members. Sponsors are Nancy Perryman, Vernon Austin and Gerri Eckart.

NATIONAL SPELLING BEE entries at the local level have worked very hard these past few weeks. The winner, Tracey Vogel, will advance to the Cooke County Bee in February, and perhaps there win a berth in the state meet and later the National Bee held in Washington, D.C. The Spelling Bee was held on Jan. 20, 1989; entrants were, 1 to r, bottom row - Audrey Knabe, Kay Grewing, Amy Sturm, Brandi Grewing, Tracey Vogel; middle - Heather Balk, Misty Knabe, Amy Otto, Karri Barnhill; top - Jeff Felderhoff, Carrie Hess, Elaine Poulson, Andrea Schoppa, Becky Fleitman.

Local participants were given a written exam covering the aforementioned topics, with the top three students advancing to regionals in March at Fort Worth.

Muenster Hornets down Lindsay, Era

The Muenster Hornets raised their season record to 11-9 and district slate to 5-2 Tuesday night with a 44-27 win over the Era Lady Hornets. Coupled with Friday's last second buzzer beating shot by Jennifer Carroll at Lindsay and a 40-39 victory, the Hornets are 2-0 in second-half play and tied with Valley View. They play in Saint Jo against the Pantherettes Friday night at approximately 7 p.m.

Against Era, the Hornets used good team defense to throttle the Lady Hornets' top scorers, Paige Lange and Misti Barthold. The two combined for 14 points. For Muenster, the balanced attack was led by Jennifer Carroll with 12, Dana Wimmer 10, Denise Bayer 8, Melissa Bayer 6, Shonna Reiter 4, Jenny Wimmer 2 and Kim Hess 2. In one of the best team rebounding efforts of the season, Melissa Bayer got 11, Carroll 10, Dana Wimmer 9, Denise Bayer 7, Jenny 6 and Reiter 4.

and have shown tremendous character. That's why it's so easy to respect them."

Heers praised Jenny Wimmer and Denise Bayer for their rebounding efforts and for their improved play. "Their improvement has coincided with better play by our team."

Carroll led Muenster with 22 points. Jenny hit for 10, Denise scored 4, and Dana hit 4.

The Lindsay Ladies connected only 9 of 24 free throw attempts. Angela Fuhrmann was high scorer with 10 points. Gretchen Hoenig added 9, with Amber Anderson and Julie Fuhrmann scoring 8 each and Kristy Krebs contributed 7.

The Hornets can assure themselves of a bi-district berth by winning their next two games.

CHRIS KLEMENT moves under the basket in a zig-zag district match against Lindsay last Friday night. The Knights came out victorious with a 50-42 win, handing the Hornets their first conference loss. Also pictured is Troy Pagel.

Hornets' title hopes rests in own hands

The Muenster Hornets beat Era 71-60 Tuesday night and had their district title hopes for the second-half returned when the Saint Jo Panthers downed Lindsay 55-45. Muenster is currently 17-3 for the year, 6-1 in district, and 1-1 in second-half play. If the Hornets can win their remaining three games, they will almost assuredly tie for the second half title at 4-1 or win it outright. They would have first place honors for both halves and the championship.

"One game at a time," said Hornet Coach Ted Heers. "We have to beat the team Friday that we thanked Tuesday night. The Panthers are a talented bunch. Coach Cates will have them ready for what should be a barnburner. We'll need all the support we can get." Muenster will meet the Panthers at Saint Jo at approximately 8:30 p.m.

Chris Klement scored 9.

Last Friday night at Lindsay, the Hornets saw their 25-game district winning streak ended by a 50-42 count. The Knights pulled away in the fourth quarter as Muenster could manage only 29 percent from the floor for the night. Lindsay's 6'6" forwards Mark Hoenig and Robert Duncan were credited with 16 blocked shots. J. Shane Wimmer led Muenster with 20 points including four 3-pointers to tie the school record.

"It hurt as much as Ponder, Roston and Rotan," said Heers, "but then I heard from a friend of mine who lost his Dad, that can make losing a game seem pretty trivial. We play to win, though, and we want to teach our players to win. Losing isn't the end of the world, but it's a close second."

James Hennigan added 9 points, Chris Klement scored 5, followed by Keith Klement 4, Mike and Troy Pagel 2 each. Hoenig and Duncan had 12 and 28 points for Lindsay to score 80 percent of the Knights' 50-point total. Mike Dieter, Tony Cunningham and Craig Neo also added to the scoreboard.

"I'm proud to have coached all the guys who helped Muenster win 25 in a row. We've got a new streak now at 1." Support the Hornets at Saint Jo and Tuesday night here against the Collinsville Panthers. JV boys' action will tip-off at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Big Red JV beats Sanger

The MHS JV boys' basketball team ran its record to 11-2 with a 48-41 win over the Sanger Indians Tuesday night. Doug Hennigan led the Hornets with 19 points. He was followed by Justin Ramsey with 9, Scot Vogel 7, Mike Gobble 5 and 4 each by Steven Fisher and Ryan Sicking.

"We played twice as many games this season as in any other year," said Coach Heers, "and both the boys and girls got into three tournaments. It's been great to let them get more playing time."

The boys are scheduled to play Collinsville Tuesday here at 5:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 3, will be a JV boys or girls game at 5:30 p.m. game here with Valley View. Which will play has yet to be determined.

speth, Doug Hennigan, Mike Gobble and Rex Huchton.

Longhorns teams split second round opener

Forestburg roundballers started their second round of district play Tuesday night, splitting the action with Ponder.

The Lady Longhorns lost their fifth district match 72-51. Kristi Shults was high scorer with 20 points.

Forestburg fell behind early with a 21-3 first quarter score. Ponder kept their pace with a 42-22 halftime lead. Doubling the lead Ponder took the match 64-32.

returned to tie the game 79-79.

A loose ball fowl on Bart Sirman took him out of action and gave Ponder's best shooter a 1-and-1 situation, which he was unable to capitalize on. With 2 seconds left in the game, Forestburg Coach Bob Stastny received a technical foul, giving Ponder another chance to take away the lead. With their best shooter on the line, he missed both shots and the Longhorns kept the lead.

Forestburg travels to Alvord this Friday, Jan. 27, for a 7 p.m. game, then remains home to challenge Paradise Tuesday, Jan. 31.

Senior Mike Pagel paced the attack with 23 points and 15 rebounds. Senior J. Shane Wimmer had 14 points and 13 rebounds. Hennigan added a career-high 19 points, and Keith Klement hit 6 points along with a season-best 14 rebounds.

At Lindsay, the Hornets fell behind 15-2 before Carroll unleashed 3 second-quarter 3-pointers and a layup to help pull Muenster within 4 at the half, 21-17. The nip and tuck final quarter came down to Lindsay at the free throw line with 6 seconds to play and a 39-38 lead. Dana Wimmer got one of her 9 second-half rebounds on the miss and hit Carroll near midcourt. She dribbled within 12 feet and hit the game winner.

"When we are with each other every day and work together to succeed, we are like a big family, including the fans," said a jubilant Coach Ted Heers, "and the effort and emotion that went into this win was one that will be remembered for a long time. We suffer together and celebrate together just like a family. And the Red gives 100 percent towards winning. But when we step outside the court, we also realize the game itself is less important than the lessons learned. These girls have been down a lot this year

TURTLE HILL BEEFMASTERS, local Muenster Beefmaster breeder, scored as high-volume buyer at the Beefmaster Cowtown Classic Auction Friday night at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. According to Dick and Kim Murphy, Turtle Hill has made a major commitment to improving quality through top-line genetics. By acquiring the additional superior cattle, Turtle Hill will not only offer good commercial seed stock to local ranchers, but will now enter the top circle of Beefmaster Breeders Universal (BBU). Among the bloodlines acquired at the Friday night auction were a super bull out of the famous Levi and Cordova Princess. Another bull, a grandson out of Crimson Warrior, one of the premier sires of the Beefmaster breed. A heifer with a 12-star family including Ranger's Pride, Barbon, Crimson Warrior and Miss Lindeman (each star represents a pace-setter cow or bull). These quality bloodline animals will round out the Turtle Hill Beefmasters seed stock which is already known for Navigator, a U-grade top of the breed bull, out of Mr. Duval. Accompanying the Murphys to the sale Friday evening was Jerry Reed, the Turtle Hill ranch manager. Photos courtesy of Kim Murphy

Land buying seminar set for Feb. 3

A special seminar on "Buying More Farmland" will be held Friday, Feb. 3, 1989, at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center, 17360 Coit Road, Dallas, Texas, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"The seminar is designed to explore the 'best' way of buying more land for Texas farms and ranches," says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist and attorney with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Even if there is not a 'best way,' maybe we can keep people from making mistakes that were common in the past."

Discussions will center on economies of scale, projecting cash flows financing alternatives and tax planning.

Farm purchase agreements include many clauses, notes Hayenga, and many of these will be discussed at the seminar. Benefits and restrictions to both sellers and buyers will be addressed.

One major consideration is projecting income from both the existing operation and the additional land. Dr. Ken Stokes, Extension economist from Dallas, will discuss this topic.

Financing alternatives will be covered. Price and interest trade-offs will be calculated with a look at the tax situation of both the buyer and seller.

Ways to take title to the new farm to save both income and estate taxes will be the highlight of the afternoon program.

This is the second time Extension is hosting this program. As many of Texas farmers and ranchers are thinking about selling land because of the current financial situation, others will want to buy the land. We hope to help buyers buy the land "right."

A registration fee of $75.00 will be charged, which includes the cost of meals and materials. For registration information, call Wayne A. Hayenga (409) 845-2226 or Ken Stokes (214) 231-5362.

Catastrophic care coverage could increase your tax bill.

You can fight back. Learn how at this special seminar.

If you're eligible for Medicare, you may see an increase in your tax bill of as much as $800 in 1989—$1,600 if you and your spouse are both eligible. This increase is actually a premium to fund Medicare's new catastrophic care coverage, and the premium will increase each year until 1993. You'll learn:

- what the catastrophic care premium is
- how to calculate what you'll pay
- what future premiums to expect
- how to reduce the new burden

Stockmen's School set for Feb. 15-18 in Houston

by Craig Rosenbaum,
County Extension Agent

Stockmen in Cooke County are reminded that the 1989 International Stockmen's School is coming up soon.

The school is Feb. 15-18 at the Astro Village Hotel and is aimed at helping stockmen with problems they face in making a profit.

This year's school will feature in-depth concurrent sessions in beef cattle, dairy, horses, range, pasture and wildlife management, futures and options marketing. Also, there is a special section for international guests.

The school is designed to address the needs and meet the challenges of those who will make their living in the livestock business in the years ahead. It is a joint effort of the Extension Service, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, and the Agriservices Foundation of Clovis, California.

The beef cattle program will focus on how a cattle producer can balance fertility, growth, milk, muscle and frame in his production environment. Particular emphasis will be on the importance of size in assuring genetic progress.

A special session dealing with improving beef production on marginal lands will be presented in Spanish.

The dairy section will explore the best management practices for super herds with cows that produce more than 20,000 pounds of milk annually.

There will be a special session on biotechnology for both beef and dairy producers.

The main focus of the horse program will be on new developments in the horse racing industry.

Speakers from several brokerage houses and the Chicago Mercantile Exchange will be on hand for the session on livestock futures and options.

In the session on total ranch management, ranchers will deal with setting goals, evaluating enterprises and understanding overall ranch management principles to help them keep their operations profitable.

Information on registration, including the cost of the overall school as well as the separate sessions, is available from Dr. L.S. Pope, Director, International Stockmen's School, 129 Kleberg Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843; telephone 409-845-3808.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Huddleston elected

Billie Ray Huddleston of Celina has been elected to the Board of Directors of Texas Farm Bureau, the largest state farm organization

Huddleston was nominated by delegates of his district, TFB District 4, and elected by the voting delegates to Texas Farm Bureau's 55th annual convention in Corpus Christi recently. He succeeds Royce Magness of Telephone who had served the six years permitted by TFB by-laws.

The new TFB Board member produces wheat, corn and grain sorghum on his 2,100-acre farm in Collin County.

Huddleston has served on the Collin County Farm Bureau Board of Directors, including two separate terms as president, 1971-72 and 1979-80. He has served on all board committees over the past 25 years and is presently the chairman of the National Affairs Committee and a member of the economic services committee.

Huddleston graduated from Celina High School in 1946 and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Mathematics from North Texas State University in 1950.

A member of the First Baptist Church, he has served as church deacon for 32 years, is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Quarterback Club and served on the school board for 14 years. ## County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

If you are planning to plant trees or shrubs, it is near time to find good selections at nurseries. Garden centers and nurseries generally have shrubs and trees for sale in three forms. Some are balled and burlapped. A ball of soil, in proportion to the top growth of the plant, is wrapped in burlap and pinned. In handling this type of nursery stock, the plant should not be lifted by its stem or trunk. Rough handling can loosen the ball of soil and endanger the life of the plant.

Balled plants, or B & B as they are often called, are usually larger than container-grown plants of the same price. They are usually field-grown and may be better adjusted to conditions in your own landscape.

Container-grown plants are continuing to gain popularity. The most common sizes are one- and five-gallon containers, but other sizes are frequently found.

One distinct advantage of plants grown in containers is that there is usually less shock when transplanting takes place. Metal cans are usually cut with special shears by the nurseryman, allowing the plant to be lifted out of the container. Most plastic containers are designed to allow the ball of soil to slip out without cutting the sides. Plants should never be planted with the container left around the rootball. Plants grown in containers offer another advantage since there is less chance of damage due to rough handling.

The third form in which plants are commonly offered by nurseries is with bare roots. Many fruit and nut trees, as well as some shrubs and vines, are offered for sale with bare roots or with roots packaged in a bag of sawdust or similar material.

This method is most successful during the dormant periods of late fall and winter and is much more risky once the plant leafs out.

When setting out bare root plants, two things are important. First, never allow the root system to dry out or be completely submerged in water for long periods. Second, pruning at transplanting time is essential. The amount of pruning needed differs among species but generally a third to a half of the top growth should be removed. Any damaged roots should also be pruned back to healthy wood.

Plenty of humus material worked into the soil and a good mulch on the surface, along with adequate water, will ensure maximum growth during the establishment period. When watering, be sure to wet the soil thoroughly, then allow it to become almost dry before watering again.
