Appraiser files lawsuit against CCAD Chief

By Elaine Schad
A former longtime Cooke County Appraisal District appraiser has filed a $500,000 lawsuit in 235th District Court against CCAD Chief Appraiser Pat Pickett, charging that she wrongfully terminated his employment with the appraisal district.

Norman Dean Sallee is requesting a jury trial, charging that Ms. Pickett, both as an individual and in her capacity as chief appraiser, violated his rights of due process. He is further requesting that he be reinstated with back pay, and is requesting that the court award damages in the amount of at least $500,000. No trial date has been set.

The suit alleges that a conflict arose between Ms. Pickett, who became chief appraiser in November 1988, and Sallee shortly after Sallee was praised for his professionalism and fairness at a local taxpayer meeting.

In the suit, Sallee is claiming that Ms. Pickett had never reviewed his work performance and conduct as is required by CCAD rules; and that she exceeded her authority; and, "acted capriciously and arbitrarily in bad faith in discharging Mr. Sallee." Sallee further charges that he was never provided with specific reasons for his discharge, and that Ms. Pickett allegedly violated his privilege of public employment.

The suit alleges that on Dec. 30, 1988, Ms. Pickett, without first discussing the matter with him, reduced Sallee's salary from $20,400 to $16,000 and placed him on a six-month probationary period. The reasons Ms. Pickett gave for the probation, according to the suit, included poor general job skills, including knowledge - proficiency, self-sufficiency and organization. Sallee is certified as a Level 4-A Registered Professional Appraiser, the suit states.

Sallee charges in the suit that on June 1, 1989, Wendell Proffer, a taxpayer, came into the CCAD office for assistance concerning a denial of an agricultural exemption. Sallee, saying he was acting at the suggestion of his supervisor, Cheryl Martin, provided the taxpayer with an agent's authorization form. Proffer then went to Ms. Pickett's office to discuss the exemption. After the discussion was completed, the suit states that Ms. Pickett, "became visibly agitated and angry."

The suit further states that, when Sallee reported for work the following day, June 2, 1989, his personal effects were waiting for him in a paper bag. Sallee alleges that Ms. Pickett wrongfully verbally accused him of providing confidential information to Proffer concerning the disputed agricultural exemption. Sallee received a, "Notice of Termination," on June 2, 1989, for "insubordination...not following office policies, procedures and guidelines."

Sallee claims that on June 15, 1989, Ms. Pickett signed the unemployment claim response giving the reasons for the termination which included, "Mr Sallee's supervisor pointed out his mistakes to him, but he continued to make mistakes, and refused to follow correct acceptable appraisal procedures, leading to a decision to terminate his employment."

The suit states that Sallee is and remains unaware of his alleged mistakes. He claims he was admonished three times during the course of his employment, including failure to measure a bay window on a mobile home, for eating lunch in the city during his noon lunch hour, and for the matter referring to Proffer.

The suit states that Sallee is pursuing court action after exhausting all avenues of resolving the matter according to CCAD rules.

The suit states, as provided by those rules, Sallee claims he requested a private discussion of his grievances by a letter dated Dec. 5, 1989. In a letter of Dec. 11, 1989, Ms. Pickett denied his request. Sallee requested a hearing on Dec. 12, 1989 before the CCAD board of directors. On Dec. 14, 1989, Sallee alleges CCAD Chairman Jim Zachary replied that it is the policy of the CCAD board not to become involved in personnel matters and that Ms. Pickett's actions were final.

The suit further states that on Dec. 18, 1989, Sallee put his grievances in writing addressed to Pickett. On Dec. 27, when no reply was provided, Sallee claimed he wrote to Zachary and again requested that the board resolve his grievances. On Dec. 29, 1989, Pickett wrote to Sallee that she had submitted his grievances to the CCAD board and that the board was supportive of her decision.

Three proposed solutions to the funding crisis in Texas schools

by Janet Felderhoff

Due to lack of more detailed information on these three proposed plans for solving the funding crisis in Texas Public schools, all three are being published in this edition. Next week information will be published on the plan supported by the State Board of Education.

The Legislature will convene Feb. 27 in a special session to develop the new finance system. It is important that all concerned citizens let their representatives know how they feel about the issues and which plan they support.

Parker Plan

Carl Parker, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, has proposed solving the funding crisis in Texas schools by changing the guaranteed yield allotment of the current school finance system from $18.25 per weighted pupil to $22.50 for the 1990-91 school year.

Also the tax rate to which the state guarantees matching funds would increase from the current 36 cents above local fund assignment to 65 cents. To receive maximum state funding, it would require a total tax rate of around $1. An additional one billion dollars per year would be required to implement this proposal.

School districts would receive approximately $3,500 per student in state and local money in 1990-91.

Texas Research League Plan

In a solution suggested by the Texas Research League, a non-profit business study group, a three tier system would be put in place. The county-based Foundation Program would be supplemented by Guaranteed Yield, and debt service based on Guaranteed Yield added as a third level.

Property taxes for schools would be assessed countywide rather than by school districts. The money would be allocated to school districts on a per-pupil basis.

This system would eliminate the problem of having a property-wealthy district next to a property-poor district in the same county. The approach should reduce current property wealth inequities from a ratio of 300 to 1 to 30 to 1.

A county tax rate of 64.8 cents based on a 1987-88 formula; a ten cents Guaranteed Yield; and up to 12.9 cent debt service would be required. With this system, local taxpayers would shoulder 52 percent of the district's education finances with the state paying the other 48 percent.

Each school district would receive $3,300 per student. No new state funds would be required. It would be equalized for only 50 percent of the students.

Although the Texas Research League is not advocating the forced consolidation of small school districts, it is completing a report that makes a strong case in favor of such consolidations. Communities strongly oppose forced mergers of school districts.

The group's studies showed that generally the larger a student's senior class, the higher the college entrance Scholastic Aptitude Test scores are, said Gary Wood, president of the Texas Research League. Also studies show that education costs are generally higher in districts with the lowest enrollments.

Equality Plan

The Equality Plan is a two tiered system in which the county-based Foundation School Program is supplemented by Guaranteed Yield. It would require an 80 cent effective county tax rate with an additional 20 cents allowed for Guaranteed Yield.

Educational expenditures would be equal for all students and tax equity for 94 percent of the school districts. The plan allows for up to approximately $4,800 per ADA (average daily attendance) by 1992.

The system would require three years to phase in and the state would shoulder $7.7 percent of the cost by 1992-93 with local districts contributing 42.3 percent. Cost to the state is expected to be $800 million in 1990-91, $1.6 billion in 1991-92, and $2.2 billion in 1992-93.

Census Bureau needs workers

The U.S. Census Bureau has issued a call for additional Cooke County residents to apply for temporary jobs.

Census work will last between two and eight weeks for most workers. Positions available include enumerators, office clerks, and data transcribers. Enumerators will be walking or driving to designated areas of the county to follow up on addresses See CENSUS Page 2

Speedy Reiter looks at the large hole next to his service station where fule tanks were once buried. Strict, expensive government inspection of commercial underground storage tanks is causing many small gas stations to close down. Tanks are subject to be registered by the Texas Water Board and tested every year, at the owner's expense, for leakage. Tanks not used in 15 years are not required for inspection. Pagel golden wedding celebrated with day-long event

Recalling the solemn vows of Matrimony they pledged on Monday, Feb. 5, 1940 during an 8 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church, Jerome and Gertrude Pagel repeated their promises in a golden anniversary version during the 10:30 a.m. Mass in the same church on Sunday, Feb. 4, 1990. The ceremony was witnessed by their wedding day attendants, his sister Marcella Pagel Janicki and her brother Louis Roberg, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

The anniversary Mass was celebrated by Father Victor Gillespie OSB and a special friend of the Pagels, Father Alphonso Chaplain of St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Father Victor delivered the homily and most appropriately used for his topic, "Joy," developing the theme, "Jesus is Joy"...."He expects us to be joyful in our Faith and Family."

The Pagels' family consists of John and JoAnn Pagel and children, Jean of Denton and Joe, Mike and Dianne of Muenster; Richard (Dick) and Kay Pagel and children, Dolle of Lubbock and Kristi of Denton; Kathy and Charlie Ivers and children Donna, Theresa, Carl and Janet of Fort Worth. One of the Ivers' daughters, Nicole, is deceased.

Family members participated in the anniversary liturgy. The Pagels' daughter Kathy and sons Richard and Johnny presented Offertory gifts at the altar. A granddaughter, Donna Ivers gave the two Readings.

Songs chosen by the honor couple and music for the Mass were presented by Emily Klement, David Nystrom and Pam and David Fette.

A reception and anniversary celebration followed at the Sacred Heart Community Center, beginning at noon and continuing until about 8 p.m.

A hint of the memorable day in store for the entire community and hundreds of out-of-town relatives and friends was indicated by the original invitations that were sent out weeks earlier.

The reception theme "Come along down Memory Lane" culminated many months of planning and preparation by the honor couple, assisted by Francis and Cathie Fuhrmann, who directed the decorations, food service, entertainment and all other details, including design of the original invitations. Assisting the Fuhrmanns Sunday was their select crew of talented individuals.

A special prayer of thanks was offered by Father John Alphonso at noon at the reception.

Guests entered through a lattice arbor where Jerome and Gertrude greeted their hundreds of guests and invited them to sign the register. Decorations throughout the hall were coordinated in the same color scheme of metallic gold with shredded and curled ribbons of gold, magenta, rose, turquoise and powder blue. The color theme was accented with iridescent ribbons and streamers.

Francis Fuhrmann designed and constructed all of the props that completely surrounded the great hall of the community center.

Each of Jerome Pagel's past properties and businesses were represented by an individual building "front" constructed from materials furnished by Community Lumber Co.

Gertrude's chief place of employment and her homemaking and family dedication were represented by individual buildings. All props were complete with shingles or composition roofing, porches, docks, fences or whatever detailing was necessary to duplicate the original.

Jerome's history was recreated in the construction of "The Pilot Point Poultry and Feed Store," which had a loading dock, that quite appropriately doubled on Sunday as a place for guests to be seated as they visited and reminisced. Decor there included a chicken wire fence enclosing a live tree, and a hen and baby chicks. Jerome and Gertrude well remember when this store sold broilers for 12 cents per pound. Their children enjoy referring to this as "The Broiler House."

"Whyte Lumber Co.," which Jerome and the late Rody Klement purchased and moved to Muenster from Saint Jo when it became apparent that Muenster was the proper location for the operation they were dreaming of; and they named the business Community Lumber Co. This is a special place for the family because so many members are employed there, including Cory Klement, son of the late Rody Klement and Mrs. Marcie Klement, who, Jerome says, "is just like a family member."

"Al's Machine Shop," next door, owned by Al Walterscheid, a neighbor, was another bit of history for Jerome and Gertrude.

Following was a neighborhood grouping constructed and detailed with scalloped trim, windows, doors and porches all painted in pastels. One of these "houses" came complete with the car in the garage carrying an authentic

Letters to the Editor

Dear Friends,

As I prepare to return to my missionary work, I want to thank each of you who welcomed me home, expressed interest in my work, or showed your support in any way. I would like to contact each of you personally, but since this is not possible, I hope at least to reach you through this note.

My thanks especially to those who invited me to share some of my experience of the 22 years in Africa. By this sharing you have joined me in fulfilling some of the corporal works of mercy; of feeding the hungry, giving drink to the thirsty, clothing those in need, and helping the sick. Even with this, the fact is, that there are always the poor. Much is being done in terms of education to teach others to help themselves.

I was touched to find so many of you continue to show your concern for the poor by contributing to the Mission Fund at the Muenster State Bank, or the First State Bank in Gainesville, or the Milk Fund at OLV in Fort Worth. It will be my privilege to take your contributions with me to the missions.

Our missionary region has communities in Africa and Brazil, to the area of Estancia, which is between Recife and Salvador in the states of Bahia and Sergite. For me, this will be a new experience with new culture and language. Portuguese is spoken in Brazil. Needless to say, I count on your prayers and support. Again, thank you. I ask God to bless each of you.

Sister Roberta Hesse

The following is a note from her family:

The Sister Roberta Mission Fund is a continuous account set up at the bank for anyone wishing to contribute to her mission work. Checks are sent regularly to her from this account with a list of the contributors. All the donations are used to feed and nurse the poor, and are very much appreciated.

Thank you

To the Editor:

This Sunday I was late to Sunday School due to listening to a panel discussion on Channel 5 TV where the Director of the Federal Budget faced a questioning panel. His reasoning that a cut in the tax rate on capitol gains was a superb idea, but that a cut in Social Security taxes definitely was not a good idea was difficult for me to agree with or to comprehend.

Reducing the payroll tax would help the American economy enormously. A payroll tax is not merely regressive, falling disproportionately on lower-income workers, but it is one of the most economically destructive ways for the government to raise revenue, because it discourages business from hiring additional workers. Former U.S. Treasury economists Aldona and Gary Robbins estimate that the 1988 and 1990 payroll tax hikes will cost Americans $10,000 jobs and reduce national productivity by $320 billion over the next ten years. By contrast, they argue, every dollar reduction in Social Security taxes will expand the economic output by 68 cents.

The best way for Congress to protect the solvency of Social Security in the next century is through a pro-growth tax policy. Part of this is the payroll tax cut recommended by Senator Moynihan, and part of it is the capitol gains tax urged by President Bush. Such a pro-growth tax policy is the best way to assure funds for retiring Americans. Example: If America's real per capita income were to grow by just 2 percent per year or about the same rate of growth in the 1980's between now and 2030 - the year in which the "baby boom" pressure on Social Security will reach its peak - workers in that year will have more than double the income of today's workers. By contrast, maintaining today's high payroll taxes will dampen productivity and output meaning tomorrow's workforce will be less capable of paying the bill for retirees.

Please encourage Senator Moynihan's plan as it will end the stealing or raiding of the Social Security pension and make it an honest "pay as you go" program.

What's happened to the mail - I failed to get my Enterprise last week? Too, isn't it a shame most of TV is soap operate - Wheel of Fortune or such - then list an important live issue come on it is scheduled for Sunday morning 9:30-10:00 when we should be in church?

To the Editor,

Recently while visiting my family over the Christmas holidays, I had the misfortune of becoming very ill with the flu. As my symptoms worsened, I realized that I might need intravenous fluids to prevent severe dehydration. Hospitalization, always a stressful experience, was made worse by the unhappy coincidence of the holiday season and being away from my familiar hospital and physician. My family took me to Muenster Memorial Hospital and what a relief it was to see the familiar faces of Dr. Kralicke and Shirley Endres RN in the emergency room. The care I received was professional and friendly.

I would like to thank all the staff that was on duty December 30-31. Muenster Hospital is an excellent hospital and the people of Muenster would be foolish not to utilize this excellent facility. I am an RN working in a busy intensive care unit. It has been my experience that if I had been in a larger hospital I would have been referred to as "the flu in Room 1120" but at Muenster I was "Melissa Roper in Room 1120."

There is no need to go all the way to Denton or Dallas for medical care. Imagine sitting in a clinic filled with strangers and occasionally seeing an exhausted nurse. It is not unusual to wait several hours before a doctor can see you. He may have been on duty 16 plus hours and seen over 80 patients! If you are hospitalized you might need help but it takes the nurses 30 minutes to get there because she has 15 other patients to take care of!

Please, people of Muenster you have a wonderful hospital to be proud of, so use it! Remember, bigger doesn't necessarily mean better. Predictions for the 1990's indicate that 1 in 10 hospitals will close. In today's competitive health market, under utilization might well cause a small hospital to go 'belly up' and like so many other entities, you might not think you'd miss Muenster Hospital until it is gone.

My dear friends of Sacred Heart Men's Choir

As one of your greatest boosters, I wish to send a little congratulatory card on the occasion of your celebration of the Centennial of the Sacred Heart Men's Choir. I do hope that you feel God's blessings upon you, as I invoke it upon you several times daily, as I see the beautiful photo which you sent me in April of last year.

The photo recalls all the beautiful singing the Choir rendered from the year 1926 on, when I heard it the first time.

I do hope and pray that the Men's Choir will perform during the next 100 years. It would be a sad event for the parish, especially for all its boosters, if this would become an impossibility.

Maybe I should start praying fervently for new members. I will do so from this moment on.

May you all have a happy 1990. God's special blessings upon you!

Love and prayers,
Your friend and booster,

Congressman Stenholm urges support for the 1990 Census

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The 1990 Census could mean about 300 jobs for residents of the 17th Congressional District according to Congressman Charles W. Stenholm.

Every ten years the Bureau of Census, which is part of the U.S. Department of Commerce, conducts the census and issues official population counts that are used to decide everything from federal funding to political boundaries.

"An accurate census assures a community its fair share of government funding and representation," said Stenholm. "Every level of government uses the census figures to formulate public policies."

The Congressman explained that the federal government uses the figures to assess an area's need for public housing, child care or energy assistance, as well as deciding where grant money will be applied and to enforce fair lending practices.

The census data also helps state officials to direct aid to the elderly, the handicapped and to single mothers, plus to improve transportation systems, to organize school districts and to build hospitals.

"By answering the census questionnaire you will be helping determine where the needs are in every neighborhood in every community of our country," explained Stenholm.

According to the General Accounting Office, in fiscal year 1984 (the most recent year compiled) the government distributed more than $31.4 billion based on information derived from the 1980 census.

One of the main things folks should remember is that all information given to the census bureau is confidential and will not be shared with any other governmental or private agency," explained Stenholm. "The census is used for population information and anonymous statistical analysis only."

The first census was taken in 1790. It is a function required by the U.S. Constitution.

This year about 565,000 people will be hired to help with the taking of the census. Residents of the 17th district who are at least 18 years of age can apply for a variety of positions by contacting the Texas Employment Commission office in their community for more information and testing or by contacting Don McInnis at the Abilene District Census Office, 147 Sayles Blvd; phone 915-674-8600.

CCC schedules TASP test

Currently enrolled college students and college-bound high school (including GED) graduates planning to take the Texas Academic Skills Program (TASP) test can improve their chances of passing by participating in special tutoring workshops set for the next two Saturdays at Cooke County College.

The February 10 session will concentrate on reading and English, and the Feb. 17 session will focus on math. These are three areas of competency measured by the TASP test.

Each session will last from 8 a.m. to noon, and students may participate in either or both sessions. Interested students must sign up in advance in the CCC Continuing Education Office across from the entrance to the Library on campus.

The cost for going to one session is $3, and the cost for both is $5.

Instructor for the reading and English session will be Ann Waggoman, director of CCC's Development Studies program. Rosalie Reiter, coordinator of the college's Learning Center, will teach the math session.

Waggoman says the Development Studies program, which makes extensive use of the Learning Center, is a key element in CCC's overall response to TASP as it was mandated by the Texas Legislature through passage of House Bill 2182 in 1987. She explains:

"Basically, the program requires that, with a few exceptions, all students enrolling in a college or university in Texas take a test to demonstrate high enough levels of proficiency in reading, writing and math to successfully handle college-level coursework."

"But TASP is much more than just a test," Waggoman stresses, "and that's where our Developmental Studies program comes in. The TASP law also requires that students who fail to pass any sections of the TASP test must enroll in non-credit 'remedial' or 'developmental' courses in those subjects - in addition to any credit courses they may be taking - and remain continuously enrolled until they can pass."

"Students should understand that the official TASP test is only given on a limited number of statewide testing dates," Waggoman points out. "There is a fee of $24 charged. And, since space is limited and demand is high, you must sign up about four weeks in advance to be assured of a place, so it's not something that can be put off until the last minute."

Waggoman reports that CCC will be a testing station for the Feb. 24 TASP test, contrary to earlier notices that it would not. The next two nearest testing dates are April 28 and June 30. For more information about TASP, contact the CCC Counseling Center at 817/668-7731, Ext. 216.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Pagel...on their wedding day, Feb. 5, 1940.

Texas License plate. This represented Gertie's homemaking years of raising children, their home life, their religious life indicated by a church steeple and cross in the background. It also indicated that many customers relied on trust and advice from Jerome, when building their homes and making the initial major investment. This also represented the Pagel's involvement in the community and tremendous effect on other people's lives.

The "Myrick Muenster Clinic" where Gertie was one of the much loved nurses for sick children and mothers and newborns was shown. This store-front was an exact replica of the building which is now the Muenster Public Library.

The "A-OK Motel" probably represented more of Gertie's memories than any other building. Stories of humor and sacrifice in all the years the couple lived there and operated the motel were told, but dozens more were shared only in the golden memories of people who treasured them.

Space prevented inclusion of many items of their history.

Lattice fencing surrounded and transformed the great hall, connecting each "building." Potted live trees "grew" behind the fencing. These were decorated with balloons and curled, shredded ribbons by Kay and her daughters, Dolle and Kristi; Kathy and her children Donna, Theresa, Carl and Janet; JoAnn and her daughters Jean and Dianne while sons Joe and Mike were lending a hand constructing the stage and bar.

In the center of the hall was an Atrium-type beverage center which allowed beverage service on all four sides. The center contained serve-yourself iced beverages, crystal pitchers of Sangria covered with fresh fruit and crushed ice. This was poured by attendants who also offered hot coffee and iced tea.

And FOOD!! Tables, each representing a particular theme, were set up at various locations around the reception area. Each table was accented with fresh fruits and greenery and assorted bread loaves and sticks.

Table No. 1 - Texas, held favorite Mexican foods. Jerome told that his grandmother always delighted her Muenster friends with her homemade tamales. This menu included tamales, make-your-own tacos, chile con queso, tostado chips and salsa, chopped tomatoes, sour cream, black olives and cheese, and nine-layer dip.

Table No. 2 - German-Texas. Traditional of both German and Texan heritage is really good barbecued meats, so smoked ribs and barbecued wieners were served here, with Paradeiskraut (cabbage rolls with sour cream), Backhendl (chicken wings), fried potato skins, with cheese and bacon and dip, and Gerostete Paté with assorted crackers.

Table No. 3 - Afternoon tea - bite size assortments for guests preferring a lighter meal, mini quiches, canapes - ham pinwheels, smoked oysters, bacon crumbles, olives and pineapple nut, fresh whole strawberries, pastries of fudge tarts, apricot tarts, cheese cake. And baskets of homemade cinnamon rolls and strawberry muffins.

Table No. 4 - Health bar, grilled shrimp kabobs in lime butter, a fresh fruit and vegetable waterfall overflowing with broccoli, cauliflower, celery, carrots, watermelon wedges, black olives and giant stuffed green olives, radishes, cheese cubes, and fresh Hawaiian pineapple garnish. Also a shrimp ball coated with sunflower seeds, and assorted crackers.

Table No. 5 - Champagne and Dessert bar, a most indulgent table, a sparkling champagne fountain, the bride's cake, a silver white three tiered anniversary cake decorated with triple drop pendants, white rosebuds and gold leaves, and a 50th anniversary keepsake layer, all decorated with fresh yellow roses, babies breath and ferns. It stood over a sparkling fountain and a circle of lighted votive candles and tiny twinkling lights. White tapers and fresh yellow roses completed the decor.

Desserts included chocolate cheese cake, amaretto cheese cake, New York style cheese cake with strawberries, homemade apricot strudel, bride's cake, homemade German sweet chocolate cake and French chocolate tarts, banana muffins and cinnamon rolls.

The anniversary table was covered with powder blue table cloths and held fresh flowers. Just in front was a smaller table holding natural brown bears wearing specially made party hats which Jerome and Gertie were coaxed to wear during one of the afternoon skits. These gold foil hats were decorated with iridescents, and accents of colored bows. One hat had a nut tied to it, the other had a loose screw. Its significance was explained in a later skit. An anniversary toast was included while the band played a special number.

Guest tables were adorned with white pine figures, hand-painted little children designed and made by Cathie Fuhrmann, depicting each of the ten grandchildren, recalling the favorite Golden Book We Help Mommy which Gertie always read to her grandchildren. The lumber came from their grandfather's business and provided the special keepsakes.

Scrolls of "Anniversary Times," significant events of 1940 were placed in baskets for the guests to keep, read and enjoy as they strolled from table to table and wandered "Down Memory Lane."

Entertainment was provided by "The Irish Rogues," a band from Fort Worth; also "Sweeter Than Honey," the Wimmer sisters singing. These Hands Hold Your Heart and Make You a Queen

In the county of Galway, in a small fishing village called Claddagh, an Irishman who had designed and made this ring, presented it to his bride. Because of what it expresses, the Irish Claddagh has become a universal symbol. The hands are for friendship, the crown for loyalty and the heart is for love. Home Hospice to benefit from "Love Affair"

Winning an elegant badger fur three quarter length jacket valued between five and seven thousand dollars will be only one of the inducements for attending a benefit for Cooke County Home Hospice on March 5 at 7 p.m. at Lake Kiowa Lodge. The fur jacket is on display at the Charm Shop. Tickets at $1.00 each are available there or from Mrs. Alfredo Antonetti.

The latest fund-raising effort will include a dinner and fashion show. The special evening will begin with cocktails at 7 p.m., followed by dinner and a fur fashion show. Dinner tickets are $12.50 per person or $25 for a couple.

Home Hospice is in need of support to enable it to provide care for terminally ill patients who choose to remain in their homes. Financial support from the community enables Home Hospice to provide this care. It also helps to fund programs such as the six-week bereavement seminar, and volunteer training sessions. Several Muenster volunteers plan to attend the March and April programs.

Thirty terminally ill patients in Cooke County were administered to by Home Hospice in 1989, two men in particular were Leo Becker and Raymond Endres, Jr. of Muenster.

Their families were lavish in their praise of the circle of care and support received from Home Hospice; and both Hilda Sicking and Elitha Endres urged families who need help in the care of sick family members to avail themselves of the expert help from Home Hospice medically trained volunteers.

The benefit dinner will feature style show fur garments furnished by Szordeiner Furs of Dallas. The fur jacket for the fund-raising effort was also donated by Szordeiner. More information on the benefit dinner, or the bereavement seminar or volunteer training may be obtained from Angela Antonetti or by phoning 665-9891.

NET is returning

NET, the National Evangelization Team will be in Muenster again April 4 to 7. The team is comprised of twelve spirit-filled young men and women from all around the world. Team No. 8 will be in Muenster - there are nine teams ministering all over the U.S., Australia and Canada.

The ministry of the National Evangelization Teams began in 1981 when a handful of talented, enthusiastic young adults began traveling throughout southern Minnesota leading high school retreats for about 1100 students.

This year NET will reach more than 150,000 high school students throughout the United States and Canada with the Gospel of Jesus Christ through a dedicated staff of more than 100 trained Catholic youth evangelists. But with more than 2 million Catholic High School age youths in the United States, many of whom are struggling to maintain a single thread of faith in God, the task and need are great indeed.

"Therefore," states Emily Klement, Youth Director of Sacred Heart Parish and Fort Worth Diocesan Coordinator for NET, "we believe that NET is part of God's plan to respond to the critical situation in which we find many Catholic youth today."

Team members come from a variety of backgrounds and parts of the United States, Canada and Australia, and are between the ages of 18 and 27. Some are college graduates while others choose to take a year leave from their work or school to serve on NET. Each member is carefully interviewed and selected. Following an intensive five-week training program highlighting the essentials of Catholic faith, character formation, retreat method, and team ministry, the teams are sent by vans across the country on their missionary journey.

Many of the young men and women who serve on NET often choose to continue their work as full-time parish youth workers following their year of service.

To assist in any area of their visit to Muenster, or for more information, please call Emily Klement, Youth Director of Sacred Heart Parish and Fort Worth Diocesan Coordinator for NET.

Beef for two!

Roses are red, violets are blue, I've prepared an intimate dinner for two.

People once believed that the birds began to mate on February 14. The keeping of Saint Valentine's Day as a day for lovers probably grew out of this belief.

For many years sweethearts have diligently searched for unique ways to express their feelings. Some send cards, flowers, love letters, candy and in recent times, videos and singing telegrams.

Go ahead, try balloons, flowers or other trinkets; but remember the way to anyone's heart is still by way of the stomach.

Whether you select gourmet chocolates or prepare an elegant dinner for two, your sweetheart will love you for it. Sure you could eat out. However, an intimate dinner for two, lovingly prepared for that special someone will make a lasting impression.

A trimmed 3 ounce serving of beef contains less than 200 calories. Today's beef is lower in cholesterol yet still high in protein. Beef also contains such nutrients as iron, zinc, riboflavin, B-12 and niacin.

So if "love-handles" are not on your list as valentines gifts, remember select lean cuts and stay away from sauces and gravies.

Dinner by candlelight, flowers and an exquisite Texas Wine is sure to cause any heart to flutter. And the money you save by preparing an economical meal at home is only one of the fringe benefits.

For more beef facts or recipes, please write to the Texas Department of Agriculture, 1801 N. Lamar, Suite 103, Dallas, Texas 75202.

4-H share the fun held Feb. 3

by Evelyn Yeatts
County Extension Agent

4-H Share the Fun! What is it? Over 250 4-H'ers, parents and friends found out Saturday night, Feb. 3, as the 1990 Show took place in the Gainesville Middle School Auditorium.

For weeks 4-H'ers had been planning, practicing and working together on a variety of different acts that included singing, dancing, pantomime and skits. The costuming was great and carried out the theme of the skit well. Some acts were strictly fun while others had a more serious note and depicted what 4-H has to offer youth of today.

Talent was part of the judging but was not the real purpose of Share the Fun. The 4-H'ers learn the importance of cooperation and working together to plan, practice, and perform in front of several hundred people. They are also judged on showmanship, creativity, audience appeal, costuming, and appropriateness of material chosen for a 4-H audience.

Taking top honors in the Junior Division was an Act from Mountain Springs called "Cinder Feller" with Chance Barthold, Keith Barthold, Josh Brinkley, Craig Dennis, Misty Graves, Chad Martindale, Casey McKown and Willie Onstott. Shirlee Martindale served as coach.

Senior Division participants who received the purple ribbon and along with the Mountain Springs Act will represent Cooke County at the District Show were from the Muenster 4-H Club. "There's No Place Like Home" was depicted by Weldon Bayer, Werner Becker and Sheryl Sicking. Coaches were Jerry Sicking and Sue Viktor.

The Mountain Springs Club had another act which placed second and received a blue ribbon. It was called "Fire Ant Fume-On-Ya." AMERICAN LUNG ASSOCIATION
The Christmas Seal People

It's a matter of life and breath.

No glass between!

There was a little boy who came from an extremely poor family. He received no gifts at Christmas time, but he often looked into the store windows at the pretty things other little boys could have but he could not. One day he was run over by a car and taken to a hospital. One of the nurses brought him some toys - a troop of soldiers. As he touched them, he said, "There isn't any glass between!" There is a glass separating us now from the things that many of our fellow men enjoy in this life, even great honor and respect in the house of God, but the day will come when there will be no glass.

1 Corinthians 13:12 - For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face; now I know in part, but then I shall know fully just as I also have been fully known.

Say the word and you can break a child's spirit.

Words that demean and insult a child can hit as hard as a fist. And leave scars you can't see. Stop using words that hurt. Start using words that help.

stop using words that hurt.

Buckle up for love!

As Valentine's Day approaches, our thoughts turn towards finding ways to show our loved ones how much we care about them. Flowers, cards, chocolates, works are only one-time gestures. This year, try giving the gift that keeps on giving - buckle your children into child safety seats and safety belts whenever they ride in cars. And remember to buckle up everyone else, too.

Each year, several hundred children are killed in highway crashes because they are not fully protected. In too many cases, children were told to get in the car and sit down. Some drivers even had a child safety seat in the vehicle, but either forgot to use it one crucial time, or didn't anchor the seat correctly. The results were tragic.

Why do people buy safety seats and not use them? They may purchase a seat because it seems like a good idea at the time, or because using it is the law in all 50 states and the District of Columbia. Maybe the safety seat was a gift. But after a while, the well-meaning parent may start to believe that the safety seat is too uncomfortable for the child, too bulky or heavy, or perhaps the instructions are too complex to follow. It may not seem "worth all the bother" to use a child safety seat, because the likelihood of being in a crash seems very remote to most people.

The flaw in that logic is that it takes only one unexpected crash or sudden stop to make you regret your decision not to buckle up. In a split second, your regrets can literally fly out the window. Every child has the right to be as safe as possible in a car. Every person who drives with children is responsible for protecting their lives, even if it may seem inconvenient or costly.

Using a child safety seat need not be a burden. Before buying one, go to stores and look at the variety of seats available. See the features each seat offers and decide which are most necessary for you. Take your child (or a lifelike doll) with you and test the seat's comfort, convenience and compatibility with your vehicle. Some aspects of a safety seat are not obvious until you begin to use it.

Another hint is to look at the instruction manual before you buy the seat. If the instructions are confusing or the diagrams are not clear to you, ask the sales clerk to demonstrate how to install and use the seat you want. Don't make the mistake of buying something that you won't use after you leave the store.

Finally, remember that your child not only needs protection for his or her life, but your child needs you, too. Remember to buckle up yourself and everyone in the vehicle. You're a great role model. Buckle up for love! Buckle up for life.

Walterscheid wins geography bee at MPS

Brandon Walterscheid, an eighth grade student at Muenster ISD, won the school's geography bee on Tuesday, Feb. 6, and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. The school-level bee was the first round in the second annual National Geography Bee that is being sponsored by National Geographic World, the Society's magazine for children, Amtrak, and Kudos Snack. The local sponsor was the Muenster High School's Chapter of the National Honor Society, which furnished the first place prize, a lighted globe.

The bee was kicked off the week of January 29 in thousands of schools around the United States. The school winners, including Brandon Walterscheid, will now take a written test; up to 100 of the top scorers in each state will be eligible to compete in their state bee March 30. State champions will be provided all-expense-paid trips to Washington, D.C. to participate in the National Geography Bee finals on May 23. The first place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship; the second place winner, a $15,000 scholarship; and the third place winner, a $10,000 scholarship. Alex Trebek, host of "Jeopardy," will moderate the national finals.

Twenty-one Muenster ISD students from grades four through eight participated in the contest. Second place winner was fifth grader, Cody Jump, and Kerri Barnhill, eighth grader, and Steven Reiter, fifth grader, shared third and fourth place honors. All received prizes from the sponsors.

Other contestants included fourth graders: Lucas Hartman, Jerry Stoffels, Emily Felderhoff, Scott Hermes, Jeff Wilde; fifth graders: Eric Miller, Holly Mullins, Tony Hartman; sixth grader: Greg Russell; seventh graders: Jeff Walterscheid, Jerry Reed, Brad Knabe, Becky Fleitman; eighth graders: Charles Johnson, Jason Hubbard, Jay Hennigan, and Albert Knabe. These students faced a real challenge as they could be tested on any phase of geography. Sample questions include: "What term describes permanently frozen subsoil?" and "What city is often referred to as the waltz capital of the world?" Answers: (permafrost/Vienna).

The National Honor Society sponsors the bee at MISD as a service project and to show support for the National Geographic Society's growing concern about the lack of geographic knowledge among young people in the United States.

Muenster varsity ends the season with losses

It was perhaps the most exciting game Muenster fans had the opportunity to witness this season. An action packed Muenster Lady Hornets varsity basketball game left fans clinching to their seats when Dana Wimmer hit a 3 point shot with two seconds remaining in the match to tie the game with Valley View 53-53; going into overtime.

"The girls played an excellent game," said Muenster coach Brian Strothers. "A few breaks and a couple of shots, we could have had it won."

In the opening period it looked as if it was business as usual with Valley View taking a 16-14 lead. The Hornets fell farther behind 22-29 at halftime. The third quarter saw an even 8-8 point score. "We couldn't get anything to fall," said Strothers, "then we fired up the fourth."

Dana Wimmer hit 15 points that period and Denise Anderle scored 8 of her points to outscore Valley View 23-16 and tie up the game.

In overtime, "We got our shots, but got down 3 points with a minute to go," said Strothers. A foul to McLaughlin added two more points and the Eaglettes won 58-53.

The Hornets finished third in both rounds of district play with Collinsville and Valley View advancing to the playoffs.

Dana Wimmer dashed for a team high of 27 points, Denise Anderle added 10 with Shonna Reiter and Jenny Wimmer scoring 6 apiece and Melissa Bayer with 4 points. Muenster was 6 of 8 from the free throw line.

"The girls' team won't need rebuilding the next few years," said the coach, "just reloaded. With a little luck and lots of hard work we have a chance to make the state playoffs in the next years."

Muenster Jr. High finishes season with four games

With last Monday night being the last night of action for the Little Hornets and Hornetses, four games were scheduled with Valley View to allow all players to participate. The first game saw the "B" Hornetses play. Scoring was low throughout the game as Muenster was ahead at halftime 4-1. The third quarter saw the Eagles jump out to a lead of 7-6. Muenster came back in the fourth quarter to win the game 12-11. Scoring for the "B" Hornetses were Jill Reiter 6, Sabrina Truelsen 2, Karrie Barnhill 2 each, Sally Fisher and Paige Bass one each.

The second game saw the "B" Hornets suit out against the Eagles. With the Hornets being outsize, it was difficult for them to get rebounds and score. With the Eagles able to outscore the Hornets in the first three quarters 18-8, Muenster tried to mount a rally in the fourth but were unable as the "B" Hornets lost 20-14. Scoring for the Hornets were Tom Dankesreiter, Jason Huchton, and Jeff Walterscheid 4 each, and Cody Klement with 2 points.

The third game of the evening had the Little "A" Hornetses in action. Muenster was able to take control of the game from the opening tip, as the Hornetses outscored Valley View 22-5 in the first half. Muenster kept up the

It was a disappointing night in Valley View for the Hornets as they watched their district mark sink to 7-3 to the claws of a 71-66 loss to Valley View.

"We just played behind the whole game," said Coach Brian Strothers. "This was a rebuilding year."

Valley View outscored Muenster in the first three quarters by scores of 21-15, 35-24 and 52-39. "We made a run the last quarter," said Strothers, "the last minute and a half we closed the gap to 4 points."

The Hornets scored 27 points to the Eagles' 19, but failed to catch up.

James Hennigan tossed in 15 points with Doug Hennigan and Bryan Reiter sending in 10 points apiece. Troy Pagel added 8, Steve Fisher 7, Terry Felderhoff, Tom Teafatiller, and Ryan Sicking 4 points each. Justin Ramsey and Kody Truelsenbach added 2 apiece. The Hornets hit 11 of 16 from the free throw line.

The junior varsity boys took a 62-38 win over Valley View ending their season 11-3. Kody Truelsenbach led the team with 14 points, Michael Hacker added 12 and Ryan Sicking 11. Others scoring were Brian Knabe and Darren Bindel with 8 apiece, Justin Ramsey 6 and Steve Youngblood 4 points.

Muenster took a 14-10 lead in the first quarter, extending it to 29-20 at halftime.

The Hornets dominated the third quarter scoring 20 points to the Eagles' five, taking a 49-25 lead going into the final period.

"I have positive thoughts for the team the next couple of years," said Strothers. "Our Freshman team plays real well together and there will be four JV players bidding for varsity spots next year."

pressure in the second half and were able to outscore the Eagles 24-14 to win a rout 46-19. Scoring for the Hornetses were Theresa Kubis 14, Kim Stewart 10, Danell Reiter and Amy Otto 8 each, Candise Abney 4 and Tracey Vogel 2.

With the win the Little Hornetses were able to capture the District Championship for the second year in a row. "I am very proud of all the players," said Coach Tim Ratliff. "From the starters down to the players coming off the bench, the girls worked hard all year and deserve it."

The last game of the evening saw the Little "A" Hornets go up against the Eagles. With both teams fairly evenly matched, the score remained close in the first half with Muenster on top 14-11. The third quarter was the difference in the game as Muenster outscored the Eagles 14-8. The fourth quarter was even as both teams scored 12 points. Muenster finished the game on top 40-29. Scoring for the Hornetses were Jay Hennigan 19, Albert Knabe 9, Brandon Walterscheid 4, Cory Knabe 6 and Cory Cain 2 points.

As a final note, Coach Tim Ratliff would like to extend a special note of thanks to all parents and fans for the support and encouragement shown over the season.

Hornets lose playoff hopes to Collinsville

Muenster traveled to Collinsville Friday night with high hopes of bringing home two important district wins, but came up empty when both teams met defeat at the hands of the Pirates.

"We had the lead in the first quarter," said Muenster coach Brian Strothers, "They took Vannay out of the game and the girls seem to have taken a deep breath and we went cold."

After an even 10-10 first quarter the Lady Hornets took a 22-17 halftime lead. A slow third quarter gave Collinsville a 5 point lead going into the final period, where the Lady Pirates outscored Muenster 18-16 and took a 46-53 district win.

"We got down the third quarter," said Strothers. "The fourth was close, but we got in foul trouble and started missing easy shots."

The game was tied 45-45 with 1:20 remaining in the game. "They were then up 47-45, we fouled, they missed the shot, rebounded and got a 3-point play," remembered Strothers. "Dana fouled out and that seemed to take the air out of our balloon."

Dana Wimmer led Muenster with 13 points followed by Denise Anderle's 12. Melissa Bayer hit 7, Shonna Reiter 6 and Jenny Wimmer and Delana Walterscheid had 4 apiece for the Hornetses.

UIL redistricting offers new area competition

The University Interscholastic League's redistricting caused some major changes in area districts, the most important, Muenster's loss of Valley View.

"We are pleased that some long standing rivalries remained in the district," said Muenster Athletic Director Bill Jump. "Lindsay and Era are natural rivals and we have had great games with them."

In football Masonic Home and Saint Jo now join Muenster, Era, Lindsay and Collinsville in Region III, District 17A.

"We are glad to have Saint Jo in the district. We should be able to develop a good rivalry with our neighbor to the west," said Coach Jump. "Collinsville has been on our football schedule anyway, but now the game will be a district contest. Masonic Home is pretty much an unknown to us, but we welcome them."

Alvord, Windthorst and Petrolia moved to Regional II, District 13A with Bryson, Perrin and Throckmorton. Valley View moved up to Class 2A, Region II, District 9, joining Chico, Henrietta, Jacksboro, Nocona and Paradise. Also in the district are Krum and Peaster, but they do not take part in football.

In basketball, Region III, District 34A will be the same as this year with the exception of Valley View. "It's good in the girl's competition to lose Valley View because they're a good team," said Muenster basketball coach Brian Strothers. "We'll have to schedule a few more games to take their place."

The five team district will include Muenster, Lindsay, Era, Collinsville and Saint Jo. Masonic Home will compete in District 21 in basketball.

In other local interest, Gainesville moved from District 9-4A, where it will compete with Allen, Coppell, Denison, The Colony, and McKinney.

Class A student enrollment dropped from 144 in 1988-89 to 139 for the 1990-92 schedules. Other classifications are 2A, 140-284 students; 3A, 285-689; 4A, 690-1459; and Class 5A, enrollment of 1460 and up.

The redistricting gives the state a total of 314 Class A UIL schools.

"There are several strong programs in this district," said Jump. "There will be a real battle for the district crown."

The renumbering of the districts also changes the bi-district matchups.

The realignment doesn't become official until February 21. Schools can appeal their new redistricting if there is a doubt on enrollment figures or if excessive travel will be required.

Anderle and Shonna Reiter for having an extra good game.

Muenster hit 65 percent from the free throw line and are now 3-1 in the second round of district action. The Hornetses must win over Valley View and Collinsville must lose to Lindsay to keep Muenster in the playoffs.

The Hornets, now 2-2 in the second round of district action lost 66-40 to a tough Collinsville team. Muenster fell behind 12-6 in the first half, closing the gap 18-19 at halftime.

"I don't know what happened," said the Hornet coach. "I have no idea. It was one of those games where nothing would work for us."

Collinsville scored 21 points in the third quarter and 26 in the fourth compared to Muenster's 22 in the second half to take the commanding victory.

"The Lawson kid lit up in the third quarter," said Strothers. "We were flat, had no emotion and couldn't hit anything."

Muenster's shooters were cold most of the night with Tom Teafatiller being high scorer with 10 points. James Hennigan and Terry Felderhoff added 7 each while Doug Hennigan, Troy Pagel, Brad McDaniel and Steve Fisher also added points.

The loss took all and any chance for the Hornets to make the playoffs.

Tigerettes get 20th win

Entering the month of January the Sacred Heart Tigerettes were 9-7 and looked as though they may not reach 20 wins nor capture the district championship. Last Tuesday night in Dallas at Lutheran High the Tigerettes captured their 20th win and clinched the District Championship with an impressive 70-23 win over the Lady Lions. "What a month!" exclaimed Coach LeBrasseur. "I am very pleased with the girls' work habits the past month, and now they can reap the rewards as they will have the chance to defend their STATE CHAMPIONSHIP."

The Tigerettes jumped out to a 16-1 lead only to have Lutheran score the final four points of the first period to cut the lead to 16-5. In the second frame the Tigerettes ran past the Lady Lions to a 40-10 halftime advantage. Senior forwards LaBecah Hess and Debbie Schmitt led the Tigerettes scoring blitz with 16 and 12 for the half along with great defensive play by Sharon Fuhrmann, Amy Walterscheid and Amy Bayer.

Schmitt continued the scoring, and the defense of the Tigerettes continued to stop the Lady Lions as the Tigerettes coasted to the 70-23 win. "We seem to be able to replace parts and not miss a beat," said LeBrasseur. "Our bench is giving us great help, and this could be the key to the success the past month." An indication of the bench help is Janie Fisher 7 boards, Jennifer Walter 5 steals, April Truebenbach 6 boards and Vickie Bayer 7 points.

Scoring for the Tigerettes were: LaBecah Hess 24, Debbie Schmitt 20, Vickie Bayer 7, Sharon Fuhrmann and Amy Bayer 6 each, Amy Walterscheid 4, April Truebenbach 2 and Julie Felderhoff one. Walterscheid led the rebounders with 9 and also handed out 7 assists while Fuhrmann paced the Tigerettes with 7 steals. The Tigerettes, 20-8, will wrap up the regular season at Lakehill Saturday at 6:00.

GAME NOTES: The 20 wins continue a school record of 8 consecutive seasons. Good news comes from the Tiger Den as J.J. Dowd is expected to see action for the first time in a month when the Tigerettes visit Lakehill. Dowd fractured her foot and has been sidelined for a month. Sharon Fuhrmann has connected on 23 of 26 charity shots in district competition. The Tigerette team has received word of a number nine ranking in the state of the private school girls' teams in all classes and leagues. Also, from The Dallas Morning News LaBecah Hess is ranked in scoring, Debbie Schmitt in rebounding and Amy Walterscheid in rebounding and assists. The Tigerette team is ranked 16th in scoring at 57.3 and 13th in defense allowing 42.5 points a game. LeBrasseur will be in Waco Sunday for the TAPPS announcement of regional pairings. Pairings should be released by 4:00.

Ron and Mike Dangelmayr were crappie fishing on a local pond Sunday afternoon when Mike hooked the enormous black bass he is displaying. The fish weighed 9 3/4 lbs. and measured 23 inches in length and was caught on a minnow.

Knights fall to Era, Ladies win 57-42

The power shooting of Sean Terry kept the Hornets in the lead during the majority of the game. Era led 23-14 and 40-31 in the first two quarters. Lindsay outscored the visitors 16-14 in the third quarter, but couldn't catch up to take a winning lead.

Chris Hanks was lead scorer for Lindsay with 18 points. Kenny Fleitman and Corey Sandmann added 15 points each, while John Krebs hit 10 and Scott Hermes 7. Terry made 26 points for Era.

Ten lady Knights scored in Lindsay's victory over the Hornets.

Era scored only 4 points in the first quarter and 7 in the second to fall behind 24-11 at halftime. An even 14-14 third quarter score kept Lindsay ahead going into the final period. The Lady Hornets scored 17 points, 12 from free throws, in the fourth quarter, but failed to take the lead, falling to Lindsay 57-42.

Scoring for the Knightettes were Debbie Fangmann, Julie Fuhrmann, Gretchen Hoening, Kristy Krebs, Cassandra Fuhrmann, Amy Sandmann, Julie Sandmann, Melanie Anderson, Jessica Fuhrmann and Laura Lutkenhaus.

Melissa Knabe and Misty Mathews were high scorers for Era with 18 and 10 points.

The Lindsay junior varsity boys were led by Ronnie Dieter and Patrick Corcoran who scored 24 and 26 points respectively in their 68-54 win over Era. Jeff Pearson, Chris Brozovick, John Hoening and Jeff Hermes also added points to the scoreboard.

Lindsay was behind 17-18 at the end of the first quarter, falling to a 30-33 halftime score. Era remained ahead 46-49 going into the final period. Twelve fourth quarter points by Dieter helped Lindsay pull ahead and win the match.

Lindsay and Valley View meet Tuesday, Feb. 6 for the final district game.

Lindsay loses last games to Collinsville Pirates

The Lindsay varsity boys and girls took to the highway Tuesday night with a destination of Collinsville, and both came home with district losses.

The Lady Pirates dashed to a 23-12 first quarter lead, which ballooned to 26-40 at intermission. The Knightettes didn't help their own cause from the free throw line, hitting just 15 of 42 chances.

Third period happenings weren't any better as Collinsville nailed an additional 17 points to Lindsay's 14, keeping their lead going into the final quarter. The game ended 73-54 giving the Lady Knights a 12-13 season record and a 5-5 district record.

"It was a little bit of a disappointment," said the Knightette coach George Thomason about the season, "we were hoping to do better. Everybody did well and did what they could."

Julie Fuhrmann willed 13 points through the nets while Kristy Krebs and Gretchen Hoening added 10 points apiece. All players scored for Lindsay including Debbie Fangmann with 7, Melanie Anderson 4, and Julie Sandmann, Cassandra Fuhrmann, Amy Sandmann, Laura Lutkenhaus and Jessica Fuhrmann with 2 points each.

Representing the district in the girls' playoffs will be Valley View and Collinsville.

The varsity boys lost to Collinsville Tuesday night 82-51. It was a tough shooting night as the Knights could only muster 9 and 12 points in two of the four quarters.

Collinsville took the first quarter edge 13-9 before extending their lead 32-21 at halftime. A close played third quarter left the score 39-51 going into the final quarter, when the Pirates lit up the scoreboard, hitting 31 points to Lindsay's 12 to take the district win.

The loss finished the Knights 6-4 in district play and 13-12 for the regular season.

John Krebs kicked into gear, posting 18 points for the Knights, Scott Hermes added 15. Others scoring for Lindsay were Kenny Fleitman 7, Corey Sandmann 6, Ronnie Dieter and Pat Corcoran 2 each and Chris Hanks with one.

The Era Hornets took top district honors, winning both rounds of conference play.

Lindsay and Collinsville boys will meet one more time to decide the second place winner to represent the district in the playoffs.

The game will be Friday, Feb. 9. A district meeting was held Wednesday night and three neutral game sites were chosen. The game will begin at 7:00 p.m. if played in Krum or S&S and the time is unknown if played in Denton. Coach George Thomason told The Enterprise late Wednesday night that the district needs to notify the three schools to find out which one will be available. This was unknown at press time.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

County Judge Jim Robertson designates Farm Bureau Week

Farmers should maintain IRS, Social Security on workers

by Craig Rosenbaum
Farmers, starting on January 1 of this year, were required to start withholding federal income tax from wages of employees.

Employers must keep on file a completed W-4 form for each employee. This W-4 form determines the correct amount to withhold from each paycheck, based on how many exemptions an employee may claim, including dependents and disabilities. Farmers also will have to provide W-2 forms to workers each January, starting this year. These forms will provide details on how much the worker earned and the amount that was paid to Social Security and federal income tax accounts.

Regarding seasonal migrant workers who don't live in the area where the farmer resides, the employers will have to be able to show they have made a good-faith effort to locate the workers so that the W-2 forms could be sent to them. This means that the employers should obtain and put the permanent addresses of their workers on file for reference.

Workers who do not earn the minimum taxable wage base of $4,400 will be eligible to recover all federal taxes that have been deducted. Farmers may want to offer assistance to their workers in obtaining such refunds when warranted.

Farmers should use the IRS Circular E to determine correct withholding rates. They can call the IRS toll-free at 800-424-FORM to obtain this circular and other forms.

In addition, farmers are reminded that the Social Security tax rate for 1990 also increased from 7.51 percent to 7.65 percent for employees and to 15.3 percent for those who are self employed.

County Judge Jim Robertson has signed a proclamation designating February 11-17 as "Farm Bureau Membership Week" in Cooke County.

The week is part of a statewide observance during which county Farm Bureaus will make a special effort to enroll new members, according to Leonard Hartman of Muenster, president of the Cooke County Farm Bureau.

Mike Bartush of Muenster is chairman of the membership committee which is responsible for membership acquisition and maintenance.

"The Texas Farm Bureau, with more than 325,000 member families, is influential in both state and national affairs on behalf of agriculture," the proclamation reads.

"Farm Bureau is a grass-roots organization. Its foundation is the county unit. There are 214 organized county Farm Bureaus in the state including the Cooke County Farm Bureau," the proclamation states.

Mr. Hartman said the local county Farm Bureau has 2188 member families and is seeking to exceed that figure in 1990.

Beef Bucks ($) Better

From a Farmer's Friend.

By ROGER BERGLUND

National average retail prices in 1989 showed an increase over 1988 levels, the National Cattlemen's Association announced. Relatively little change in the annual average is expected in 1990.

Reporting on the December (1989) 19-city survey of supermarket beef prices, NCA noted that the average price of five cuts was $2.96 in 1989, compared with $2.75 in 1988. Economists have attributed the 1989 increase in beef prices to a reduction in supplies and to a stabilization of or improvement in demand. Exports also were a factor.

The latest NCA survey showed that the average price of five cuts on December 14 was $2.98 per pound, compared with $2.95 on November 9. The average remained below the 1989 peak of $3.07.

USDA figures showed that average per capita supplies (and consumption) of beef were an estimated 68.6 lbs. (retail weight) in 1989. That compares with 72.1 lbs. in 1988, when beef production was larger. For 1990, USDA is forecasting per capita use of 76.8 lbs., only slightly less than in 1989. Total beef output in 1990 will not show much change from 1989.

USDA said that improvement in beef's image - as a result of closer trimming and promotion programs - had helped to increase beef's value to consumers. Another factor in price increases is a smaller per capita supply. The recent per capita supply decrease reflects reductions in trimmable fat on retail cuts as well as somewhat smaller total wholesale output. In numerous cases, people now get more red meat and less trimmable fat and bone per pound purchased.

The per capita beef supply is expected to drop slightly in 1990, but supplies of competing meats will rise and the total per capita meat supply will reach a new record. In spite of the total meat supply increase, USDA foresees at least some rise in average beef prices in 1990.

Also the Whimsical Minstrels coordinated by the SH Development Committee. Four skits included "Nurse, Nurse," with Gene Yosten, Frances Bayer, Karen Mosier, Joe Pagel, John Pagel and Richard Pagel. Also "There's No Place Like Home" by the Muenster 4-H Club "Share The Fun" skit including Sherilyn Sicking, Werner Becker III and Weldon Bayer; also "Make-Up" with Mary and Amy Bayer, Angelo and LaVerne Nasche, Billie and Jerry Fleitman and Harold and Jeannine Flusche.

Some of the very special moments for the family were those offered by their friends.

A late afternoon surprise came with the balloon release when all guests each took one of the white or gold balloons that had adorned the ceiling, carried then outdoors and, with a toast to the couple, all balloons were released, fluttering in gold metallic beauty skyward.

Then all returned to the hall for a sing-a-long led by Ruth Felderhoff and Christi Hesse, going Down Memory Lane with "Always," "Edelweiss," "Lily Marlene," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," etc., followed by a touching, impromptu presentation by Roger Endres and Andy Serna.

When conversations strayed from admiration and compliments, innumerable times this comment was heard or asked "How did Francis and Cathie Fuhrmann manage all this?" Cathie says today: "Here is our statement, Jerome and Gertie expressed exactly what they wanted, and that is what we tried to achieve. They wanted each person to feel welcome and comfortable because they really wanted to share this special time with their fellow citizens of Muenster and special friends and relatives out of town. They would have preferred receiving all in their home, but since it was impossible, because they invited the entire community, they wanted this party's atmosphere to be an extension of their own home and hospitality. We can never thank Jerome and Gertie for giving us the opportunity to work with them. It was a genuine pleasure."

A very special tribute was offered by Jerome when, at the end of a perfect day, he donated the Atrium-Bar to the parish, for everyone to enjoy in the future. The bar was constructed by Steve Yosten and is not only lovely but also extremely functional.

This day is becoming an unforgettable experience for all who attended.

Included in the reminiscing was the account of Jerome and Gertie's wedding day on Feb. 5, 1940, carried in the Muenster Enterprise. It told that Fr. Frowin Koerdt officiated the Nuptial High mass at 8 a.m. with the Sacred Heart Men's Choir and Tony Luke, organist, providing music. Gertie, daughter of Katie and the late Henry Roberg, wore a powder blue sheer wool crepe suit with fox fur trim, and a corsage of talisman rosebuds. Jerome is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Pagel. The wedding breakfast was hosted by the bride's mother for the bridal party and the groom's grandfather Jacob Pagel, Sr. The couple departed for a week's trip to South Texas. Gertie attended local schools, took nurses training at St. Vincent's Hospital in Sherman and worked there 2½ years. She worked at the T.S. Myrick Clinic another 2½ years. Jerome is a graduate of Muenster High School and a five year employee of Shamburger Lumber Company.
