CCAD Board announces nominees

Eight people, including all five incumbents, have been nominated to serve on the Cooke County Appraisal District's Board of Directors. The five board seats will be filled for two-year terms beginning Jan. 1. Incumbents nominated include Robert Klement from Muenster, Lloyd Marshall of Callisburg, Gary Lewis representing Cooke County, Roger Martin and Jim Zachary, both of Gainesville. In addition, the Gainesville city council has nominated Sandra Currie, the Gainesville ISD has nominated Jake Lawson, and the Sivelles Bend ISD has nominated Barbara Pybas. The Valley View ISD board nominated Billy Kupper after the deadline for nominations, said officials. The board is elected by resolution of eligible voting county taxing entities, which includes school boards and city councils throughout the county. The Cooke County College board and Gainesville Memorial Hospital board are not allowed to cast ballots. Voting entities have until Nov. 14 to return their written resolutions to the CCAD office, said a spokeswoman with the CCAD. Votes are cast according to the proportion of taxes that are collected by each unit. The Gainesville ISD, city of Gainesville and Cooke County have the largest numbers of votes, and are able to seat one board member with their voting power.

In a related matter, the CCAD board has voted to approve the appointments of three men to a new state-mandated agricultural appraisal board.

The board will consist of Wendell Proffer, Ed Knight, and J.C. Skinner, contingent also upon the approval from the Texas Farm Bureau recognizes Bartush as outstanding farmer

Mike Bartush of Muenster was one of 13 district winners in the 1989 Texas Farm Bureau Outstanding Young Farmer and Rancher Award competition. District 4 consists of 16 counties including Cooke County. He was entered in the state competition, but was not chosen one of the three finalists.

As a district winner, Bartush received an engraved plaque and a $100 reimbursement towards the purchase of a new pair of boots. The main values used by judges in scoring included growth and progress of operation since acquisition, how the operation was acquired, Farm Bureau and other leadership. Each entrant must have been a Farm Bureau member, actively involved in farming and/or ranching and no more than 35 years of age.

Ranching and livestock are Mike's major agricultural interests. His parents, Charles and Mary Bartush, raised American Saddle Bred horses for 30 years, but Mike was more interested in cattle, starting with a few cows. In 1982, the Bartushes discontinued raising horses and their land north of Muenster was available for Mike to manage.

"Being an individual and partner in the cattle business, I knew pasture was most important," said Bartush. His first projects were land clearing, establishing grass, drilling water wells, water tanks and erecting fences. He also built cattle pens and cross fences for his cattle operation.

Mike was a nine-year member of the 4-H Club, holding an office for three years. He was also a member of the State Finalist Method Demonstration and Horse Judging Team. A 1983 Sacred Heart High School graduate, Mike received an Associate degree in Farm and Ranch Management from Cooke County College.

"I hope to have a ranch of my own someday and expand my registered Simmental and Simbrah herd," said Mike when asked about his future plans.

In 1985, Bartush became a

Cooke County Farm Bureau Director; in 1986, he started as Membership Chairman; and in 1987 became the County's Young Farmer and Rancher Chairman. He presently holds each of these positions.

The three finalists picked will attend the 56th Annual Texas Farm Bureau Convention on Nov. 26-29 in Fort Worth where the State Outstanding Young Farmer and Rancher winner will be named.

Chief appraiser strives for improvement

A help wanted ad in The Dallas Morning News caught the attention of Pat Pickett. There was an opening in Cooke County for a chief appraiser and Ms. Pickett felt it might be right for her. She applied for the position and was hired by the Cooke County Tax Board. Her employment began on Nov. 21, 1988.

Ms. Pickett's previous experience in a tax appraisal district began in Fannin County where she was employed as a clerk in February 1983 until January 1984 when she became a personal property appraiser. In January 1985, she was promoted to deputy chief appraiser.

It was approximately March 1985 when Ms. Pickett was appointed interim chief appraiser. At the request of the Fannin County Tax Board, she became the chief appraiser in May 1985 and she remained in that position until Aug. 31, 1986 when she moved to the Metroplex.

Since Pat Pickett became chief appraiser for Cooke County, there have been a number of changes. "As of Oct. 6, there is a whole new appraisal staff," said Ms. Pickett. "All five appraisers (four real estate and one personal property) are new."

There are 13 employees in the appraisal department. "I have a very good staff of people," said Pickett. She also commented that the employees' morale seemed higher than it had been when she first came.

The tax appraisal staff members are there to serve the public and Ms. Pickett expects all of the staff to be cooperative and pleasant to people seeking their help. "A number of taxpayers have commented on the change in atmosphere when they come into the appraisal office," remarked Pickett. "As public servants, it is our job to make sure people fully understand the forms they need to fill out, or how to find the information that is needed."

Ms. Pickett commented that people had called it to her attention that previously they "got nowhere" when they approached the tax appraisal office for assistance.

All tax appraisal records are open for public inspection. There is a reference book kept on the front table in the tax appraisal office for this purpose. Appraisals are listed by property owner's name, any exemption, and total value.

You can compare the appraisal value of your property to that of anyone else in Cooke County. Pat Pickett or any appraiser on duty will explain how to use the reference and answer any questions you may have about your property appraisal. They will only discuss the appraisal of a property with the owner of that property.

Ms. Pickett invites anyone with questions or in need of assistance to come by the appraisal office between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. An appointment is not necessary. The tax appraisal staff will help file claims for such exemptions as homestead, Social Security and DAV exemptions, etc.

To update the county records, Ms. Pickett intends to ask for all property owners claiming different types of agricultural exemptions to refile between Jan. 1 and

To the Editor:

Enclosed is a report on a district court case in Cooke County that was not reported in the Register. I took a copy by last week and still it has not appeared - had that case gone the other way it would have been front page news for days as was Mr. Leon Haney's case some time ago.

Please consider it as local news, which it is, and print it. Thank you.

P.S. Ike and Virginia Thurman live on the south side of Hwy. 82 just east of the auto salvage yard near the Woodbine to Callisburg crossing on East Hwy. 82.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article appeared in a recent issue of Texas Association of Concerned Taxpayers, Inc.

Cooke Co. couple, protest, prepare well, win suit and legal fees in district court

A difference of opinion on the valuation per-square-foot of the brick farm home of Ike and Virginia Thurman seemingly could not be resolved at the Cooke Co. Appraisal District (C.C.A.D.) in Gainesville.

But that difference of opinion is now expected to cost the C.C.A.D. several thousand dollars in paying the Thurmans' legal fees and court expenses, plus its own attorney's fees.

After efforts to negotiate a fair market value on the 1982-constructed quality-built structure failed, the Thurmans were forced to go into district court to get a just settlement. The C.C.A.D. declined to make an "agreed settlement" offer to avoid court costs and legal fees for the district.

The chief appraiser said the 1,718-square-foot home was worth $31.60 per square foot, and the Thurmans said the valuation should be $29 per square foot - considering the negative impact of an auto junk yard that moved in down the road after they built their retirement home. They were protesting the increase in values for 1987-88-89.

After two days of testimony, the jury, comprised of eight women and four men, took two hours to agree with the Thurmans that the average market value for the three years was under $50,000.

Visiting District Judge R.C. Vaughan also awarded legal fees and court costs to the Thurmans, to be paid by the appraisal district. They also will be able to apply for refunds from the taxing districts for taxes they were forced to over-pay because of the disputed values.

"This victory through the court might serve as encouragement to those hesitant to file suit," Mrs. Thurman said.

"We feel our success is a direct result of good representation by Mr. Jimmy Horan (attorney) and the excellent exhibits prepared and presented by Phyllis Murrill (Certified Review Appraiser-Registered Mortgage Underwriter)," she added.

The appraisal district attempted to impeach the credibility of the Thurmans' expert witness, but failed when it became apparent that the certified review appraiser had nearly three times the years of experience than that of the chief appraiser.

In testimony, Ms. Murrill took the C.C.A.D.'s own classification schedules, and applied the district's own valuation figures to show how to properly arrive at an equal and uniform appraisal.

"If there is no uniformity, the result is unfair taxation," she commented. The jury agreed.

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The board must be comprised of one representative of the ASCS, while the remaining members must be landowners in the district where they have been residents for at least five years. The board serves as a source of information for the chief appraiser on local land use, crops and crop yields and other areas connected to the appraisal of agricultural property.

In another matter, taxpayers have received their 1989 property tax statements. Deadline for payment of taxes is Jan. 31, with some entities offering discounts for early payment in October through December.

DON'T FORGET!

It's that time again! This weekend you'll regain that hour of sleep you lost last spring when Daylight Saving Time began. With the return of Standard Time, clocks are to be set back one hour, effective Sunday, Oct. 29, at 2 a.m.

The International Association of Fire Chiefs is reminding everyone to "Change your clock and change your battery" every October, when clocks are moved back an hour for Daylight Saving Time, due to the fact that although 83 percent of U.S. homes contain smoke detectors, less than half are operable. Also, if you don't own a smoke detector yet, do get one and mark your calendar.

The workers' compensation crisis in Texas, Part II: The changes sought by business community

by Richard F. (Ric) Williamson, State Representative, District 63

AUSTIN - This is the second installment in a series of articles examining the workers' compensation insurance system in Texas. The first installment presented an overview of the procedure by which an injured worker is compensated for an injury sustained in the course of his or her employment. This installment, however, will look at the issue from the point of view of the business community in Texas.

Texas employers pay the highest workers' compensation insurance premiums in the nation. In fact, just since 1985, these premiums have gone up by a startling 148 percent. And yet, injured workers in Texas receive some of the lowest injury compensation awards in the nation. Clearly, something is wrong and the business community has called upon the Legislature to cap the cost related to each injured worker and, also, to change the process by which disputed claims are resolved through the elimination of a worker's "trial de novo" privilege to send the matter into the court system if he or she is not satisfied with the Texas Industrial Accident Board's (TIAB) decision on the dollar amount of compensation to be awarded. The business community asserts that the court-ordered compensation awards have escalated over the years - to the point of being out of control. Normally, the courts operate under the doctrine of "stare decisis" which means that there should be uniformity and predictability in handling of cases of substantially similar circumstances. However, according to the business community, the court-ordered awards in recent years have fluctuated wildly and are rising out of sight. This, in turn, causes a business' insurance premiums to skyrocket, too. In many instances, the premiums have gotten so high that some businesses, in desperation, have opted to roll the dice and "to bare" without any workers' compensation coverage at all and hope and pray that nobody gets hurt on the job. Others have retained their coverage but have had to let go of some of their workers just in order to maintain positive cashflow. Some more prosperous businesses have chosen to "self-insure," but even this option can be disastrous after just one very bad incident in which extensive injuries are sustained. And in still other cases, businesses have simply gone "belly up" because of the exorbitant premiums.

It is important at this juncture to note that the business community does NOT place all of the blame on employees. Rather, they also blame what they call "greedy lawyers" who manage to secure huge settlements in the court system for their injured clients and then keep a big chunk of the award for themselves and give the remainder of the award to their injured clients. The business community also argues that the medical profession charges higher rates for, and spends more time on, work-related injuries. By taking away the worker's right to appeal into the court system - and, therefore, limiting the decision-making process to the TIAB - the business community says that the legal and medical professions will be removed from the picture and then both compensation awards to injured workers and the coverage premiums paid out by businesses can then stabilize and become manageable once again.

But the business community is also mistrustful of the TIAB - albeit to a much lesser extent. A statutory cap on the amount of a compensation award is energetically sought by the business community to add further predictability to the workers' compensation process in Texas.

The business community asserts that if the changes they desire do not materialize, Texas businesses will continue to cease operation and that new businesses will not start up in Texas, and that out-of-state businesses will not relocate to Texas.

In summary, the business community argues the following points:

- (1) Texas employers pay the highest workers' compensation insurance premiums in the nation;
- (2) Injured Texas workers receive almost the lowest benefits in the nation;
- (3) The legal community drives up the total cost of the injured workers' settlements;
- (4) The medical profession drives up the total cost of injured workers' settlements;
- (5) Future insurance premium costs cannot be accurately forecasted; and
- (6) Economic development in Texas is stifled by this situation.

Whether or not these points are valid will be discussed in a future installment on this topic.

In the third installment, the point of view of the injured worker will be discussed.

As always, I encourage you to express your thoughts to me on this or any other issues pertaining to State government by writing to me at P.O. Box 2910, Austin, Texas, 78768-2910 or by calling my Cooke County district office at (817) 665-6116.

April 30, 1990. Likewise, homestead exemptions will be called for in 1991. These cannot all be called for in one year because there isn't enough staff to handle the workload it would cause.

Every property in the county is appraised as vacant, then each improvement (home, shed, barn, garage, etc.) is appraised separately and its value included with that of the property.

An appraiser determines the value of a home by measuring exterior square footage, determining roof type, foundation type, number of bedrooms, if there is a fireplace and number of garages; any physical depreciation, repairs on home, etc. It is also up to the appraiser to take into consideration any physical or economic obsolescence such as a nearby waste disposal site, freeway, etc. that would lower the value of the real estate.

Any functional obsolescence in a home such as outdated bathroom fixtures, heating units, or wiring will also be taken into consideration when determining the value of a home. The functional obsolescence should be called to the appraiser's attention by the property owner because they don't inspect the inside of a home unless asked to do so. Homes are classed as being frame or masonry and also as low, fair, average, good or excellent in design and workmanship. The value of land is determined by market value of that property less any economic or functional obsolescence.

When an appraiser comes to your home, he or she will knock on the door to see if anyone is home. If there is no one home, a door hanger will be left on your front door, stating that your home and property were appraised.

Within a city, an appraiser can value and measure about 40 residences a day. Rural properties take longer because of driving distances between properties and there are usually a larger number of improvements to measure.

All improvements, new and long-existing, are being remeasured due to numerous inaccuracies found in previous appraisals. Normally, appraisers are required to measure improvements which were added since the last appraisal.

An RPA (Registered Professional Appraiser) designation by the Board of Professional Tax Examiners is required of anyone appraising property for tax purposes. To attain the RPA designation, the would-be tax appraiser must have five years of appraisal experience in the ad valorem field and take a minimum of 10 required courses, each of which has an exam that must be passed.

At the end of three years of appraisal experience, he or she must go before the Board of Professional Tax Examiners and successfully pass an exam which lasts 4 to 4 1/2 hours. When five years of appraisal experience are completed, the candidate again goes before the Board of Examiners to take a time-sensitive exam which lasts 8 hours.

Chief Appraiser Pat Pickett has attained her RPA-3 designation and has until July 1991 to reach her RPA designation. She plans, however, to acquire it in five or six months.

Ms. Pickett indicated that presently the divisions for the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District are not set by the same boundaries as the school districts within the county. The groundwork for the present division was set before she became chief appraiser. In 1990, the divisions will break on Independent School Districts within Cooke County. Parts of Saint Jo, Slidell, Muenster, Lindsay, Sivelis Bend, and Valley View ISDs are to be appraised.

Tower comes down ...

As promised by Alvin Fuhrman, general manager of Muenster Telephone Corp. at the July 11, 1989 Chamber of Commerce luncheon, the 200-foot communication tower erected on Walnut Street has been taken down. The disassembling process began early the morning of Wednesday, October 24.

Lumberton Tower Service, Inc. of Lumberton, TX. was hired to take down the tower. They are the same company that erected the tower.

A storage site has been chosen for the tower by the telephone company and there are presently no plans to re-erect the tower. The people of Muenster will not immediately notice a change in service because the new tower was never allowed to be used for any type of service.

"Citizens of Muenster never had the opportunity to see what the tower could do for them in the way of signal quality," said D. August Boto. The attorney and spokesman for the telephone company also noted that the effect on rates wouldn't have been experienced for a period of time.

The team from Lumberton Tower Service is also qualified to inspect the old "Haverkamp" tower which is located northeast of Muenster. A report will then be made on the tower's condition and the telephone company will respond by making the necessary repairs or upgrades.

Muenster Telephone will begin to formulate other plans and adjust the timetables for the upgrade of the entire system. The government has imposed requirements for upgrades that must be complied with very quickly. The telephone company is currently applying to the city for a franchise renewal. If the renewal is approved, the company will begin action to comply with governmental regulations.

"Since we are required to upgrade our system by regulations, it would be foolish not to upgrade the system to the company's high standards at the same time," remarked Boto.

A number of benefits will be lost by continued use of the "Haverkamp" tower or any tower located off-site from the telephone company. Among the lost benefits are lower rates, an emergency power backup and protection from vandals.

Vandalism to the rural tower has mostly consisted of lights being shot out. The bill for the last light repair was $1,127. "If we find the person or persons responsible for shooting out lights we will prosecute them to the full extent of the law," stressed Boto.

It is a Class C felony which carries a maximum fine of $5,000 and, or a jail term of two to ten years. If more than one light is damaged, a stiffer penalty will be imposed.

"We are undertaking measures to identify the vandals in the future," said Boto. He declined to disclose the methods that would be used.

The decision to voluntarily dismantle the tower and absorb the considerable expense of its placement and subsequent removal was arrived at by the telephone company management and their attorney after analyzing the longterm effect of pressing the legal issue.

To win their case, a Muenster zoning ordinance, on which the public depends for orderly city development, would have had to have been done away with judicially. This would adversely affect the people of Muenster and the telephone company. Good relationships with the local residents and city officials seemed more important to the telephone company than any other factor.

praised in 1990. Appraisal for Callisburg, Collinsville, Era, Pilot Point, Walnut Bend and Whitesboro ISDs are set for 1991 and Gainesville ISD's appraisal is scheduled for 1992. After that time, appraisal will take place every three years, meaning those done in 1990 will be done again in 1993.

The new boundary breaks, present appraisal staff, and improved system of appraising property are all a part of Pat Pickett's plan to remedy the many problems that have plagued the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District. She has had to bear the brunt of the criticism directed at the appraisal office by Muenster city officials regarding numerous errors on the city's tax roll.

"The tax board was aware that there were problems in the county when I was hired and realized that they couldn't all be solved in a year," commented Pickett. She also seemed to feel that if improvements weren't noticed after the four years required to reappraise the entire tax district, job would be in jeopardy.

When queried about $460,000 worth of discrepancies on personal property, some of which is listed on the city tax roll and is not within city limits, Pat Pickett could only reply, "The city has not notified this office of any discrepancies that they have found in the certified appraisal roll that we submitted to them in mid-to-late-July." "I can't give a reference to particular properties because I don't know what they are basing the discrepancies on."

The tax roll was accepted by the City of Muenster under protest because to challenge the complete tax roll would have caused the whole procedure to be delayed and the city would have run out of funds before statements could go out.

At one point, Ms. Pickett and two members of the Tax Board, Robert Klement and Roger Martin, met with Muenster representatives Joe Fenton, Pat Dennis and Celine Dittfurth, to try and solve some of the controversy. According to Pickett, there were two or three properties that the city felt had been misvalued. The group agreed to have them checked and it was found that there were some misclassifications. Pickett stressed that these had been made under a previous chief appraiser and that the errors were small.

The most significant cause of the difference in the city's tax roll was caused by automobiles. There is no way to know if the owner lives in or out of a city's limits. Mailing addresses are sometimes misleading. Also, she said autos are so mobile that it is hard to get an accurate audit by the auto source, thus there is always some incorrect information.

Lack of communication would appear to be a major contributing factor in many of the misunderstandings between Muenster and the Cooke County Appraisal District.

"Better communication would benefit everybody," said Pickett. "A designated official such as City Manager Joe Fenton, or someone appointed by him, could make a point of communicating with the Appraisal District on a regular basis."

The Cooke County Tax Appraisers are now working in the Muenster area. The property appraisal values being done now will be used to determine taxes in 1990. The statements for 1989 have been mailed recently and do not reflect the new appraisals.

Sincere thanks to everyone for the many kindnesses extended to us since Travis became ill. Special thanks to those who called the Community Prayer Service, the prayer groups and individuals, also for the CCD Mass for Travis. We are grateful to the Sacred Heart Student Council for sponsoring the blood drive for his benefit and to all who gave.

Many thanks to all who left their busy schedules to go to Dallas to be tested for platelets, and then returned when called to donate platelets. We are uncertain how long this will be necessary.

We appreciate the Beta Kappa Love Fund and the organizations, clubs and individuals who contributed to it.

Last, but not least, thanks to our neighbors, friends and relatives who assisted with chores on the farm, taxied our children here and there, prepared meals for us, brought food to our home, sent cards and letters of encouragement, telephoned their concern, visited us at the hospital or helped in any other way.

Travis remains a patient at Baylor and is improving. He asks for your continued prayers for his recovery.

God Bless All of You!

Western wedding unites couple Oct. 7

MR. and MRS. BRADLEY LEON MCKENZIE
... nee Susan Kay Fleitman ...

The wedding of Susan Kay Fleitman and Bradley Leon McKenzie was held on Oct. 7, 1989 in the VFW Hall of Muenster at 4 p.m., with Brother Red Lancaster officiating the double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Anton and Anna Marie Fleitman of Muenster, and the groom is the son of Karl and Sara McKenzie of Carrollton.

Decorations carried out a country-western theme. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Emphasizing her chosen country-western theme, the bride wore a tea-length white water, white western dress designed by Lillian Smith. Flowing fringe accented the scoop neck and hip yokes set with silver studs. Her accessories included white roper boots and a silver floating heart pendant, a gift from the groom's mother. In her hair, she had a comb holding gray flowers and baby's breath.

Her bridal bouquet consisted of white roses, yellow daisies, various mixed wild flowers and baby's breath. To continue the country theme, pearl loops, sprigs of wheat and bamboo curls were added, with streamers of yellow and gray ribbons, with lace and pearls adding finishing touches. She had a birthdate penny in her boot and, for something borrowed, she wore a St. Christopher necklace belonging to her maid of honor.

ATTENDANTS

Nancy Paynter of Lindsay was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a prairie skirt, white blouse, yellow bandana with beads and white boots. She wore bandana bows in her hair, and carried a fan with yellow flowers.

Amber Fleitman of Bowie, bride's niece, was flower girl, dressed like the maid of honor. She carried a basket of yellow flowers. Eric Fleitman of Bowie, bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

Kevin Paynter of Lindsay, bride's brother-in-law, was best man.

The groom escorted his mother and the bride's mother to their places before the ceremony.

Decorations for the wedding and reception were made by Terry Felderhoff.

Songs for the ceremony were "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Wedding Song," "Just You and I." The music was provided by the Full House Band, who also played for the reception.

RECEPTION

A reception and dinner followed with parents of the couple hosting 125 guests. The meal was catered by the Hermes Sisters of Lindsay.

Teena Perry of Wichita Falls and Susan Lancaster of Gainesville, friends of the bride, presided at the guest book.

The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with yellow flowers. The chocolate groom's cake was baked and decorated with a bull rider by the bride's sister, Theresa Beane.

Reception assistants were Laciasha Fleitman of Nocona, bride's niece, and Dody Lewis of Dierks, Arkansas, groom's cousin.

Guest tables were decorated with yellow and gray bandanas along a center line on the white cloths. Lanterns and boots held flower arrangements. A double heart decorated the wall behind the bride's table, with the couple's names decorated Western style.

The bride made all the decorations. Carol Fleitman, bride's sister-in-law of Bowie, filmed the wedding and reception.

The bride's co-workers at Nocona Boot Co. hosted a surprise miscellaneous shower on Sept. 29 with breakfast, gift opening, cakes for refreshments, and picture taking. Gifts at the wedding were displayed on quilt tops made by the bride's late grandmother, Jennie Schilling.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Muenster High School. She is employed as a computer stitcher by Nocona Boot Co.

The groom is a 1978 graduate of Dierks High School in Dierks, Arkansas. He is an electrician employed by the City of Denton.

The couple is at home in Callisburg since returning from a wedding trip to San Antonio.

Out-of-town guests included the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagner of Dierks, Arkansas and several cousins. Other guests came from Bowie, Nocona, Lindsay, Gainesville, Carrollton, Garland, Denton, Wichita Falls, Windhorst and The Colony.

VFW Auxiliary meeting hears upcoming plans

Members of the VFW Auxiliary made plans for the observance of Veterans Day on Nov. 11 after the 8 a.m. Mass, when they held their regular October meeting in the Post Home.

They also accepted sponsorship of the benefit project, "In Lieu of Christmas Cards," for 1989 and appointed Terri Luke as chairman.

Members were also reminded to bring gift items to be presented to the Denton State School before the holidays. These items should be brought to the November meeting.

Janet Barnhill presided for the business meeting and led opening prayers. Secretary and treasurer reports were presented and members were informed that October program participation required a donation to the Health and Happiness Fund and to the Christmas Cheer Fund to National Headquarters.

A bake sale was scheduled for Oct. 20 and members volunteered to form a telephone committee to encourage full participation.

The door prize was won by Rosa Driever. Lu Vogel served refreshments to 22 members.

The October Pack meeting for Pack 664 was held Monday, Oct. 23, in the VFW Hall at 7 p.m.

The opening flag ceremony was conducted by Den 4. They marched in procession with the flags and a bound and gagged Scout. The Scout represented an American boy. The American Revolution won him his freedom, at this time his wrists were untied. The Constitution guarantees him freedom of speech, the gag was removed. A free education has given him the ability to see and understand, the blindfold was removed. In teaching him to preserve and enjoy his glorious heritage and become a good citizen everyone then joined in the saying of the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. The colors were then posted by members of Den 4.

A Ghost Story skit was presented by the Cobra Den of Webelos, complete with skeletons, tombstones, clock striking at midnight and a poor old lady stuck in the graveyard visiting with corpses.

Awards were presented to Duncan Campbell. He earned a gold and two silver arrow points towards his Wolf rank. Certificates were presented to Erik Walterscheid, Jim Stoffels, Jerry Stoffels, Glen Dangelmayr, Matt Muller, Josh Luke, Jacob Luke, Eric Knabe, Royce Knabe, Michael Flusche, Greg Flusche and Laura Stoffels for participation in the Jamboree on the Air event this past weekend. They will also be awarded colorful patches at a later date.

Closing ceremony was conducted by the Panther patrol of Webelos.

Cub Scouts of Pack 664 ventured south to Fort Worth Saturday, Oct. 21, to attend the Scout Show at Will Rogers Coliseum. While there, the Scouts were able to see the many exhibits and experience hands-on Scout activities throughout the day.

Members of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts are invited to participate in JOTA.

The Muenster Cubs met at the home of Don Dudley in Gainesville and were able to link up with Jason N3HOR in East Greenville, Pennsylvania which is about 50 miles northeast of Philadelphia. In talking with Jason, the boys learned he is a Second Class Scout with Troop 108 in East Greenville. They had just returned from a hike on the Appalachian Trail earlier that day. license earlier that weekend with his new call sign.

Halloween safety tips for ghouls and goblins

Halloween is almost here, and children everywhere are preparing for the big night by searching for scary masks and spooky outfits. Although having fun and filling up those trick-or-treat bags are foremost in their minds, children need to remember to follow safe practices. Parents should keep in mind the following safety tips provided by Scott & White Memorial Hospital in Temple:

* Make costumes short enough so the child won't trip when going up and down stairs.
* Use white colors or big patches of white on the costumes to ensure good visibility.

* Use fire-retardant fabrics for the costumes or treat the material with a chemical fire-retardant.
* When making masks or hoods, cut out holes in them that are large enough to assure easy breathing and good vision. Using makeup or face paints instead of masks is an even better idea.
* If face paints are used, make sure that they are designed specifically for this purpose, they are non-poisonous and that the paint can be washed off easily.

* When lighting Jack O'lanterns, use small flashlights - not candles - in order to prevent fires.
* Have an adult accompany the children while they are trick or treating.
* Trick-or-treating should be done before dark, especially if you have young children. Set a curfew for the older children and enforce it.

* Instruct the children to stay in their own neighborhood and to call on only people they know and trust.
* Give each child a flashlight and remind him or her not to shine it into anyone's eyes, especially someone driving an automobile.
* To prevent falls, remind children to use sidewalks instead of cutting across yards and vacant lots.

* If your child gets sick, try to find out exactly what he or she ate and where it came from. Call your doctor immediately or contact the Scott & White Poison Control Center at (817) 774-2005.

DAVID HESS and LaVerne Otto Elliott announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sharon Rene Hess, to Christopher Lee Rice, son of Wendell and Billie Rice. The bride-elect graduated from Robert E. Lee High School and Tyler Junior College and now attends the University of Texas at Tyler. The future-groom is a graduate of Chapel High School and Tyler Junior College. They will be married on Nov. 25, 1989 at 6 p.m. in Walter Fair United Methodist Church in Tyler, with Dr. McClesky officiating.

"Charlotte's Web" opens Oct. 28

An irresistible pig, a literate spider, a gluttonous rat and a girl who understands what animals say are all characters in "Charlotte's Web," Sherman Community Players children's production opening Saturday, Oct. 28, at 2 and 4 p.m., and continues Sunday, Oct. 29, at 2 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 4, at 2 and 4 p.m., and Sunday, Nov. 5, at 2 p.m.

Drama to take stage

Butterfield stage's next season offering, "Days of Wine and Roses," will begin its three-week run Nov. 3. Production dates for the drama will continue Nov. 4, 9, 10, 11, 16, 17 and 18 with performances at 7:30 p.m. nightly.

The J.P. Miller play, though written in 1958, transcends its beginnings to delve into the past and present problem of alcoholism and its effects on relationships and lives. Although the focus of the drama has often been its tragedy, BSP director Janine Fuller hopes to stress the optimism of recovery that is interwoven during and at the end of the drama. As relayed by its author, beyond the wine there lies the roses.

Box office for the BSP production opened Oct. 16 for season members and Oct. 23 for the general public. Box office hours are held Monday-Friday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling (817) 665-8152 or by coming by the theater at 201 S. Denton. Also, the opportunity for membership to the BSP will continue through Nov. 1. Membership provides first choice of reserved seating, a savings beyond general admission prices, and unrestricted use of admissions (except for the musical). So, even though one BSP production has gone by, a full number of admissions are available for new members as the season continues.

Vests, vests and more vests

"Vests, Vests and More Vests" is the program planned for next Monday evening, Oct. 30. The same program will be repeated on Tuesday morning, Oct. 31, at 9:30 a.m. for those who prefer a daytime activity. Both programs will be held in the Texas Utilities Electric Meeting room in Gainesville.

Vests of all types are definitely a popular fashion item this fall. All qualities of vests are available to buy with a wide range of prices. The program will feature making top quality vests at affordable prices.

Easy methods of making a fully lined vest will be shown. Also included in the program will be ideas for a variety of vests including casual, tailored, dressy and holiday. Vests for adults as well as children will be shown.

The program, which is free and open to everyone, is being sponsored by the Home Economics Committee of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It will be presented by Phyllis Aston, owner of The Sewing Center, and County Extension Agents Evelyn Yeatts and Carol Roberts.

Interested participants are asked to pre-register by calling the County Extension Office at 668-5412. Handout materials will be provided those attending the program.

Come to the "Vests, Vests and More Vests" program and you'll see how sewing can be fun and profitable.

"Charlotte's Web" is a charming theatrical production of E.B. White's beloved children's story about Wilbur, a young pig who desperately wants to avoid the butcher and the extraordinary spider, Charlotte, who campaigns to save him by writing "some pig" on her web. Charlotte's victorious campaign ultimately ends with the now-safe Wilbur returning the kindness by assisting Charlotte in an important task. Audiences are sure to be entertained and touched by this beautiful knowing play about friendship and relationships.

The box office will open one hour prior to curtain time for ticket sales and seating. Club Theatrics season members may be seated in a special area reserved until 5 minutes before curtain. Groups wishing to attend are requested to contact SCP Box Office Chairman Lenea Willsher at 893-2260 prior to the performance.

Club Theatrics memberships are available for purchase during the run of "Charlotte's Web" which entitles the member to one admission to each of the three productions in the 1989-90 Theatrics season. Club Theatrics memberships are priced at $7.00 each and include "Charlotte's Web," "The Lion, The Witch and the Wardrobe," and "Androchles and the Lion."

Muenster 4-H to hold raffle Nov. 14

The Muenster 4-H Club met on Oct. 10, at 7 p.m. in the Sacred Heart High School. Werner Becker, president, conducted the meeting. Holly Mullins, Jessamy Sicking, Angela Russell and Yvonne Martin presented the 4-H Prayer, Motto and Flag while the club recited each.

Sherilyn Sicking called roll and read minutes of the last meeting. Weldon Bayer gave the report on 4-H Carnival; Lucas Bayer reported on the County Council; Michael Drachenburg gave report on Poster Contest; Werner Becker reported on the Awards Banquet; and Emily Felderhoff gave a report on Foods Training.

The club elected Emily Felderhoff as Secretary/Treasurer. By-laws were voted to stay the same.

The club has a raffle underway for a 13" color TV and a 1250-watt blow dryer to raise funds. Tickets are on sale now until the club's next meeting on Nov. 14 when winners will be drawn. Tickets are $1.00 each or 6 for $5.00.

Club Manager Evelyn Sicking announced that the club received the Gold Seal Charter Member Award. Refreshment and Telephone Committees were appointed.

Projects were discussed in which Sherilyn Sicking, Mary Sicking and Becky Felderhoff volunteered to lead approximately 25 4-H'ers in the Food Project.

Evelyn Sicking and Becky Felderhoff briefly went over record book keeping how-to's.

The meeting was adjourned. Evelyn and Jerry Sicking passed out trick or treat bags. Jared, Weldon, Heath and Lucas Bayer and Aaron Sicking provided refreshments. The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 14 at 7 p.m. at Sacred Heart High School.

SH students to participate in Citizen Bee

Sacred Heart High School students will have the opportunity to participate in a unique social studies academic competition which could lead to a scholarship and a study trip to Washington, D.C. in June 1990. The school has registered to participate in the Close Up Foundation Citizen Bee.

The Citizen Bee is an academic competition that focuses on social studies and progresses through school, regional and state events. Three Sacred Heart students will advance to regional competitions with top students there going to the state finals.

State winners earn a trip to Washington to participate in the Foundation's government studies program and the national competition. Winners of the national event receive college scholarships of $7,000, $5,000 and $3,000. The national Citizen Bee is funded by the Milken Family Foundation, with additional support from KPMG Peat Marwick; RJR Nabisco, Inc.; Kraft General Foods; and the Monsanto Fund. On the state level, the Bee is sponsored by Southwestern Bell Foundation and the Houston Chronicle.

Schools which register for the event are permitted an unlimited number of participants and receive source books from which most questions are derived.

Joe Caserta, an educator at Sacred Heart, will be coordinating the Citizen Bee at the school.

MHS students shoot for PAR!

Middle school and high school students in the Muenster Public School began an experimental program on Friday, Oct. 21, which should, according to Principal Eddie Griffin, be continued on a regular basis because of the success of the program. The endeavor, called PAR (Positive Activities Reward) calls for early dismissal from school on the first Friday following each grading period for those students who have no formal discipline referrals, no unpaid library fines or lunch overcharges, or no excessive tardies or detentions during a six week grading period.

To accommodate releasing the students 20 minutes earlier than usual, fifth period is moved to the end of the school day. This period is normally used for tutorials, enrichment, activities and study halls. Arrangements are made to supervise the students who ride the bus and have no other transportation home at 3:10 in the afternoon. The necessary supervision is provided by two or three teachers who volunteer their time and the principal.

Those who have not earned the early dismissal are kept in a detention hall. On the first Friday the program was in effect, only five of the 211 students eligible were detained, a number only described as "incredibly good." Enthusiasm for the program is high among both students and teachers, all of whom appreciate the opportunity to leave a little early on occasion.

In a similar reward program for perfect attendance during October, students have been using their 20-minute activity period once each week for an extended lunch break if their class has had perfect attendance for the prior week. Attendance during October has been running at about 99 percent, an extremely high figure which is typical of Muenster students. School officials feel a small reward is in order, however, during October because of the state funding formula.

A visit to the Cedarvale Botanic Gardens in Oklahoma was the highlight of the October meeting of the Muenster Garden Club last Friday.

Dolores Miller drove her van for the group of eight members. The greenhouse portion of the gardens was filled with potted plants of many varieties. Outside, paths led along the many displays of annuals and perennials, some of which had been nipped by Jack Frost just the night before. A river at the bottom of the property was home to ducks and geese. On the opposite side rose a cliff where goats were dozing in the sun.

A menu of trout, chicken and spaghetti was enjoyed by visitors before they returned home.

Liberty wins battle over Tigers, 52-0

The Tigers' fate of what was to come Saturday evening in Denton was revealed early.

Liberty Christian took the opening kickoff and, on the second play of the game, a 65-yard run ended on the scoreboard. A PAT kick was good and the Warriors took an early 7-0 lead.

The Tigers picked up 2 yards on their first possession, booting the ball back to Liberty. Four plays later, the Warriors struck again on a 37-yard run - the score, 13-0.

Six yards were picked up on Sacred Heart's next possession. It took the Denton team just three plays and a kicked extra point to make the score 20-0 with only half the first quarter over.

The Tigers lost 10 yards in 3 plays and booted the ball back to Liberty. On the next play, Stevan Nasche picked off a Warrior pass and the Tigers took over at their own 22. A roughing-the-kicker call on 4th and 7 gave Sacred Heart a first down, but the Tigers couldn't capitalize on the break and booted the ball to the Denton team. It took only two plays, one a 55-yard run, for Liberty to score again - the score 26-0.

The Tigers again couldn't move the ball as the second quarter began. On the first play, Liberty ran 64 yards for another touchdown. The kick was good and Liberty led 33-0.

Sacred Heart fumbled the kickoff and Liberty took over on the Tiger 25-yard line. Sacred Heart's pass defense was put to the test, preventing four pass attempts and the Tigers took over. Three plays pushed Sacred Heart back 6 yards, forcing a punt, and giving Liberty the ball near midfield. The first play of the session, a 53-yard TD run, was called back on a clipping charge. Two plays later, Tony Grewing picked off a Denton pass, stopping the drive short. Sacred Heart took over deep on their 12-yard line where a fumbled ball gave Liberty the ball 5 yards from paydirt, which they hit on the next play. The PAT failed and the score was 39-0.

Sacred Heart couldn't gain any yardage and Liberty took over. With 1:31 remaining, the Warriors struck again. Bill Park blocked the extra point and the halftime scoreboard read 45-0.

The clock never stopped during the second half. On Liberty's first possession, the Warriors ran a 63-yard touchdown. The kick was good and stretched the score to 52-0.

Nasche and Ryan Hess picked up 20 yards on the Tigers' next drive, but turned the ball over to Liberty.

The Warriors moved the ball inside the 10-yard line in the fourth quarter, but a good defensive play by Jordan Bayer halted the threat.

Some fine running by Ryan and Darren Klement picked up 35 yards for Sacred Heart, but Liberty picked off a pass, keeping possession till the game ended.

"It was the worst mismatched game I've ever coached," said Tiger Coach John Sims. "We just went into shock." Liberty has 12 seniors on their team - we start six kids that are sophomores and freshmen."

Sacred Heart picked up 4 first downs, gaining only a total of 78 yards. Liberty, a Class 2A team, picked up 508 yards. Ryan Hess was the Tigers' leading rusher with 56 yards. Darren Klement, Chris Hess and Stevan Nasche added to the rushing. Tony Grewing completed two passes for 16 yards.

Running back Chris Hess received a hairline fracture in his arm Saturday and will be out for the season. Sims plans to put Tony Grewing in the backfield and Darren Klement in as wingback.

The Tigers will host Lexington Academy Saturday night. "Lexington is 7-0," said Sims, "but basically hasn't played anybody. They haven't been tested till Tyler Street."

Sacred Heart's squad will suit out only 15 players. Other players on the injured list include Kelly Bell and Joe Bedowitz. "We can win if we play well," said Sims. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Era game vital for MHS playoff hopes

"This week's game with Era is a must if we are going to remain in the playoff picture," said Hornet Coach Bill Jump. "We feel like a team with two losses will not continue into post-season play." Valley View all but locked up a district title with their defeat of Era 14-13 last week. Muenster and Era look to be the two teams to battle for the runnerup spot, both with identical 5-1 records.

"Era has an excellent club," said Jump. "They have several outstanding players," he reported. Those mentioned were senior runningback Chris Massengale and junior quarterback Terry. Both have outstanding statistics and have been vital cogs in Era's rise to prominence in District 12A. The Era defense has been especially dominant as they have limited opponents to just 19 points in six games.

"We have had two weeks to heal and prepare, so we will be ready to play," said the Hornet mentor. "We recognize the urgency of the situation, we are looking forward to getting back on the field and let our playing do the talking."

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Era, so follow the Hornets and be a part of their assault on Victory #6. GO BIG RED!!!

Mistakes prove costly for Lindsay Knights

"We should have won but we didn't," said Lindsay Knights Head Coach Pat Benton. "The kids played hard, but too many mistakes hurt us."

The Knights were handed their third district loss last Friday night under the blade of the Petrolia Pirates.

The Knights received the opening kick, but punted the ball to the visitors on their sixth play of the night. Petrolia struck early, as on their second play, a 49-yard run gave them a touchdown. The PAT was good and the Pirates led 7-0 with 8:23 on the clock.

The Knights moved the ball 38 yards to the 29-yard line where they were stopped by 2 incomplete passes, a 15-yard penalty and a quarterback sack. Petrolia took possession at the Knights' 37-yard line. Fine defensive plays by Scott Hermes and David Parsons, a quarterback sack by Herb Price and a knocked-down pass by Ronnie Dieter stopped Petrolia with a 4th and 12 at the 25. The Pirates settled for a field goal and, with 1:37 remaining in the first quarter, Petrolia led 10-0.

Lindsay had the ball going into the second quarter, but lack of downs gave the ball back to the visitors. Petrolia was on the move when Chris Hanks covered a fumbled ball.

The Knights moved the ball 36 yards behind the running of Scott Hermes, Kevin Parsons and Joel Metzler, with Metzler completing two passes. But Lindsay's advances were stopped when Petrolia picked off a pass, taking over for just four plays, where the Knights took over. On the first play, Petrolia again intercepted the pass at midfield. With 17 seconds till the half, the Pirates scored again, taking a 17-0 lead.

During halftime, Julie Fuhrmann was crowned 1989 Lindsay High School Homecoming Queen.

Petrolia took the second half kickoff and marched 71 yards to score their third touchdown. The score was 24-0.

The Knights failed to pick up 10 yards on their next possession and the Pirates took over. The Lindsay defense stood strong when David Parsons intercepted a Petrolia pass.

The running of Metzler, Kevin Parsons and Hughes took the Knights to the 2-yard line where Kevin Parsons scored with less than a minute remaining in the third quarter. The extra point attempt failed and the scoreboard read 24-6.

Lindsay kicked an onside kick and David Parsons covered the ball, giving the Knights possession on the 38-yard line. Again Metzler, K. Parsons and Hughes moved the ball, reaching the 1-yard line, where the Pirates' defense held. Petrolia took over, but the Knights stood their ground and regained possession.

Lindsay's three running backs, assisted by a 27-yard pass to Hughes, put the Knights on the 5-yard line where Fred Hughes went in for a touchdown. The extra point pass failed and Lindsay trailed 24-12 with 3:16 remaining in the game. Petrolia kept the ball the remainder of the game.

"We could have been in the ball game," said Coach Benton, "but we couldn't come back."

Petrolia, 6-1 for the season, picked up a total of 286 yards. The Knights gained 137 on the ground and 47 yards in the air.

The Knights travel to Alvord Friday night to tangle with the Bulldogs.

"Alvord's a lot like Petrolia," said the Lindsay coach. "They have a good size line, run out of the wishbone and like to drive down the field and eat up the clock."

Chad Sandmann's off the injured list, but Joel Metzler, Jessy Barnes and David Parsons are all questionable in this week's lineup. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Cubs pick up victory #2!

The Sacred Heart Junior High Tiger Cubs picked up their second victory for the season, shutting down Liberty Christian 30-0 last Thursday in Denton.

The Cubs received the opening kickoff. Chris Pagel made a 60-yard return, giving Sacred Heart the ball on the Warriors' 20-yard line. After several Pagel runs, Chris crossed over from the one for the first touchdown of the night. Pagel added the two-point run. Behind the blocking of Jeremy Bayer, Kelly Bob Bayer, Weldon Bayer and Jason Hofbauer, the Cubs led 8-0.

On the Warriors' next possession, a series of penalties aided the Cubs to trap the Warrior quarterback for a safety, making the score 10-0.

Chris Pagel once again had an excellent return to the 18-yard line. On this series, Chris followed the blocking of Mike Schilling, Darrin Hess and Jody Fleitman for a 1-yard touchdown. Pagel again ran the extra point, giving the Cubs an 18-0 lead.

Sacred Heart's defense, led by Kelly Bayer, Jason Hess, Chris Pagel and Jason Hofbauer, again forced Liberty to punt. A Tiger Cub 40-yard drive was capped by a 20-yard touchdown run by Neil Berres, behind the Bayer side of the line. The extra point failed, and the scoreboard read 24-0.

Action slowed down during the second half. After a scoreless third quarter, Chris Pagel tallied again in the final quarter on a 25-yard touchdown run. The extra point attempt failed and the Cubs won the game 30-0.

Sacred Heart's defense allowed only 1 first down. Contributors were Weldon, Jeremy, Kelly and Heath Bayer, Jason and Darrin Hess, Jason Hofbauer, Jody Fleitman, Mike Gehrig, Chris Hess, Joseph McCoy, Mike Schilling, Aaron Berres and Neil Berres.

The Cubs will host the Patriots of Lexington on Saturday, Oct. 28, for a 5 p.m. game.

2 new winners in contest

The sixth week of The Enterprise Football Contest must have been tough. Several "upsets" left some contestants with only 10 or 11 correct picks out of 26 games.

The most missed game was Saint Jo's 64-0 win, only two entries correctly guessed the outcome. Thirty-five of the 39 entries were wrong on Indianapolis's win over Cincinnati. Thirty-four missed Texas over Arkansas and TCU over Air Force and 32 were incorrect on Michigan State's loss to Indiana. Only eight correctly picked Valley View over Era and North Texas's loss to Sam Houston. Other games strongly misspelled were the Arizona vs. Washington State; SW Louisiana vs. Southern Mississippi; Lindsay vs. Petrolia; and Alvord vs. Windthorst games. Fourteen contestants still believe in "America's team!"

Last week's tiebreaker had six loyal fans (and coaches) pick Sacred Heart to win.

Carol (Mrs. Mark) Greewing was the week's winner, picking 22 games correctly. Ben Bindel came in second with 18 picks. Eight contestants had 17 correct, while nine picked 16. The weekly winners were wrong on Indianapolis's win over Cincinnati. Thirty-four missed Texas over Arkansas and TCU over Air Force and 32 were incorrect on Michigan State's loss to Indiana. Only eight correctly picked Valley View over Era and North Texas's loss to Sam Houston. Other games strongly misspelled were the Arizona vs. Washington State; SW Louisiana vs. Southern Mississippi; Lindsay vs. Petrolia; and Alvord vs. Windthorst games. Fourteen contestants still believe in "America's team!"

Mickey Haverkamp's percentage dropped to 78.38, but she still takes the overall lead. Second place Bonnie Stoffels fell to 75 percent. Still in the running and their percentages are: Nick Stoffels, 73.65; Alan Hudspeth, 70.27; Carol Greewing, 69.54; Terry Walterscheid, 68.46; Duane Haverkamp, 67.57; and Barbie Barnhill and Leona Hellman with 66.89.

Bluebonnet landscaping

by Craig Rosenbaum, County Extension Agent

Bluebonnets have been transformed from a single-color, difficult-to-grow wildflower used primarily in naturalistic plantings to a multi-colored, very-easy-to-grow bedding plant destined to become a star attraction in flower beds around your home. We can combine interplanting techniques with basic principles of landscape design to make bluebonnets scintillate in the home landscape. Here's the scoop, beginning with interplanting.

Many would-be, patriotic planters of bluebonnets have been discouraged with the idea of a non-blooming winter bluebonnet plant. From September until April, bluebonnets are a hard sell item to those who demand beauty from flower beds all year. This problem can be solved by interplanting with other fall annuals which serve as companion plants to provide interim beauty. After several years of testing and some record-breaking cold winters, the recommended companion plants for bluebonnets are pansies, dusty miller, dianthus, spring-flowering bulbs (tulips, etc.), ornamental cabbage or kale and Drummond red phlox. Most of these flowering plants will be overgrown by the bluebonnets in March as they begin to expand. At that time, remnants of the interim annuals can be removed, thus allowing the bluebonnets to take center stage.

To ensure continuous beauty and utilize the texture of the bluebonnet foliage as a background, plant bluebonnet transplants in rows 24 inches apart. Transplants should be 12 inches apart or less within the row. Then between each row of bluebonnets, or every 12 inches, plant a row of pansies, ornamental cabbage or kale, dianthus, dusty miller, spring-blooming bulbs or Drummond red phlox.

Bluebonnets also make a great companion plant for summer blooming perennials such as lantana, mealy cup sage, autumn sage, and Michaelmas daisy. These and similar plants can be cut to the ground after the first frost and interplanted with bluebonnet transplants. As the bluebonnets fade in late spring, they can be removed as the warm season perennials begin to emerge.

In addition, bluebonnets make great plants for containers such as whisky barrels and terracotta pots. The pots should be filled with a potting soil mix which drains well, then placed in a sunny location. Bluebonnets are an ideal low maintenance flower with which to replace summer color container plants (i.e. copper plants, periwinkles, purslane) - particularly those around decks, patios and pools which won't be used again until spring. The following spring, as the bluebonnets fade, replace them with your favorite heat-loving annual flowers.

To keep bluebonnets blooming longer, remove old blossoms. This encourages a profusion of side shoots to develop and bloom while eliminating seed production which would otherwise stop the bloom cycle. This practice of removing spent blossoms can keep bluebonnets blooming for up to two months!

For maximum impact and beauty in the landscape, use large drifts of a single color rather than a hodge-podge sprinkling of many colors. For example, a line of blue pansies (interplanted with one color of bluebonnets) reinforcing the line of your patio is most striking. Cool colors such as blue make an area appear farther away, whereas reds and yellows bring an area closer.

Bluebonnet planting time is also important. Many people wait until they see bluebonnet plants blooming in the spring to begin planting. IT'S TOO LATE to plant transplants in the spring. Fall is the optimum time! The sooner in the fall (beginning in September) that chemically-scarified seed and transplants are planted, the larger the plants will grow in the spring and subsequently more bloom will occur. Root systems of seedlings and transplants established in early fall expand more and are able to produce a larger plant when top growth and bloom begin in the spring. Chemically-scarified seed should be planted no later than mid-September and transplants no later than Halloween in North Central Texas.

A major advantage of the commercial production of bluebonnet seed, and consequently, transplant availability is that it eliminates the problem of the homeowner having to wait until plants produce dry seed in June before removing old, ugly, dried plants. Rather than suffering with the ugliness of a dying, drying plant (which can endure longer than 40 days after bloom), simply remove the plant after bloom has occurred. Who cares about the plant forming seed! You will be able to buy more fast-germinating, reliably producing seed as well as transplants next fall. Gardeners don't save seed of petunias, pansies, marigolds, etc. and NOW we don't have to worry about having a dependable supply of the state flower's seed.

Now is a perfect time to purchase and plant bluebonnets. While local nurseries have good supplies of transplants and chemically-scarified seed in blue, white and 'Abbott Pink,' an inflated windstorm roared through the commercial planting of 'Worthington Blue,' greatly reducing seed availability. Thus, in 1989, the only way to purchase seed of this newest of the new bluebonnet color strains is to attend the "Fall Is For Planting" seminar scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 23, in the South Texas Room of the Will Rogers Memorial Center in Fort Worth. Sponsored by Region 5 of the Texas Association of Nurserymen, this free and very interesting program will feature presentations on the new bluebonnets, as well as on native plants, fall bulbs, tree selection and fall lawn care.

Many have asked how they can obtain a copy of the new Extension bulletins entitled "Texas Bluebonnets - Texas Pride," which outlines proper cultural techniques, gives information on the exciting new colors, etc. It's very easy, just stop by your participating local nursery or garden center and pick up your free copy.

County Agent's Report

Control Fruit Tree Diseases

Sometimes fruit tree care is forgotten or neglected in the fall, but it's a critical time for controlling many peach and plum tree diseases to insure a good crop next year.

Applying a copper fungicide now can stop or help reduce three of the major diseases that attack peach and plum trees in Texas. These are peach leaf curl, bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker.

The puckered and distorted peach tree leaves that were either bright red or light green in diseased areas last spring were the result of peach leaf curl fungus. The time to control this disease effectively is in the fall by use of a copper-containing fungicide.

Timing of the fall spray is critical for effective control and for avoiding tree damage. Unless applied correctly, copper, a metal, may cause severe defoliation.

Spraying should be done when 70 percent of the leaves have fallen. Spraying too early will cause leaf shed or cause the spray to be ineffective later.
