YARD OF THE MONTH for July has been awarded by Muenster Garden Club to Fr. Sebastian Beshoner, OSB, for beautification projects around the rectory of Sacred Heart Parish. The front porch of the rectory has been adorned with hanging baskets of cascading petunias and greenery. Eye-catching green planters are filled with colorful petunias and the circular beds in the front yard are filled with a variety of spring and summer flowers in full bloom. Fr. Sebastian's green thumb is also apparent in the large flower bed in the backyard filled with an assortment of plants and blooming flowers. He has also planted a number of trees in the area. Shown is Fr. Sebastian is assisted by Willie Fuhrmann.

Red Cross Swim Program:

Volunteer is the name of the game

Muenster has the distinction of being the only place in Texas that still offers Red Cross Certified Swim Lessons free of charge. The two-week program requires the help of approximately 70 volunteers.

Jeannine Flusche, program director, said that about 2000 hours are donated by volunteers during the two-week program each year. This is as many hours as one person with a 40-hour work week would work in one year.

Frances Bayer, bookkeeper for the swim program, has volunteered approximately 15 summers. She said she finds it rewarding to see those who are so unsure in station one finally make it to station six (American Crawl) and finally out of station nine and into Advanced Beginners.

"These students, from the first few years that I have helped, are now teachers showing the confidence and self-esteem they have attained by learning to swim," said Mrs. Bayer.

An average of 400 students will benefit from the Muenster swim program this year. The program is sponsored by Red Cross, but doesn't receive any funds from them. Items such as patches, books, cards, and T-shirts and doughnuts for the volunteers must be purchased each year.

The Muenster VFW Auxiliary, United Way and Coca-Cola have contributed generously to the program every year. Coca-Cola usually donates T-shirts, but this year the Muenster Bluebonnets supplied Centennial T-shirts to the program at a cost of $3.00 per shirt. According to Mrs. Flusche, the program could still benefit from cash donations this year.

Mrs. Flusche remarked that one unique thing about the local program is the number of grandchildren of area residents that come from the Metroplex and spend a week with their grandparents especially to take swim lessons in Muenster.

Children with special learning needs are accepted and their needs accommodated as much as possible.

Students who have completed all of the Lifesaving courses have sometimes found special benefits in college jobs such as lifeguarding or teaching swimming at a Y.

AMY HOENIG teaches Brad Hermes how to swim using sign language during swim lessons this week in the Muenster pool. The Hoenigs became friends of Kenny and Paula Hermes, Brad's parents, years ago and took sign language courses at Cooke County College to communicate with Brad. Brad, who just turned 9, is formerly from Lindsay and now lives in Krum. He's staying with his cousins, Tony and Craig Hartman, while taking part in the Muenster swim program.

Good News!

Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Trial, or distress, or persecution, or hunger, or nakedness, or danger, or the sword? As Scripture says: "For your sake we are being slain all the day long; we are looked upon as sheep to be slaughtered. Yet in all this we are more than conquerors because of him who has loved us."

ROMANS 8: 35-37

Family Swim Night is Friday, July 7, from 7 to 9 p.m.
The FREE swim evening is hosted by the Muenster Kiwanis.

VBS celebrates "Glory Days"

by Linda Knabe

The Sacred Heart Parish Vacation Bible School of 1988 closed on June 30 after five days of fun-filled, action-packed activities. The program carried the theme, "Glory Days," and was attended by an average of 205 students ranging from 4-year-olds to fifth graders.

With the 16 teachers, 48 craft helpers and aides, each day began at 9 a.m. with a worship service led by Pam Fette and Emily Klement. These morning services started with a procession of the Holy Bible and Flags. Mrs. Fette then led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag, the Papal Flag and the Bible, followed by songs of praise and glory and inspirational words.

Upon leaving church, all made contributions to this year's mission project which was given to the Mik Luttmmer family.

The children then returned to individual classrooms for Bible study, plays, skits, learning situations, crafts and work sheets about Christian living.

Snacks and refreshments were served mid-morning by Debbie and Aaron Hess and Kenya Endres and numerous helpers.

Fr. Victor visited the classrooms Wednesday and presented everyone with a holy card in remembrance of their week at Bible school.

Friday's closing program and liturgy was planned by Pam Fette, Linda Knabe and Karen Moster. Theme for the Eucharistic celebration was "We Belong to God's Family." The theme was carried out with altar posters made by each class, decorating the altar rail.

In the entrance procession was director Mary Endres, carrying a Family Bible; Elizabeth Fette, carrying a Child's Bible; Douglas Evans and Darlene Hess, carrying the American and Papal Flags; followed by Josh Ashley, carrying the mission project collection box; and Jennifer Hoedebeck and Lisa Felderhoff, carrying crafts made during the week by students; and celebrant Fr. Victor Gillespie and servers Lucas Hartman, Scott Hermes, Matthew Fuhrmann and John Bartush.

Brandi Lutkenhaus gave the Scripture Reading and Nicholas Taylor, Jennifer Hess, Casey Walterscheid, Gina Yosten, Kenny Fleitman, Bryan Miller and Betty Trevino presented the Prayers of the Faithful. Ushers were Jack Murdock and David Whitecotton.

In the Offertory procession, Michelle Bayer and Kristen Yosten carried the water and wine cruets, Justin Walterscheid carried the ciborium and Stacie Yosten presented the Offertory collections. Eucharistic Ministers were Kathy Hartman and Kim Felderhoff.

Musical selections for the children's liturgy included "We Belong to the Family of God" for Responsorial Psalm; "A Wondrous Work of Art" for Offertory song; and "Jesus Loves Me." "Oh, How I Love Jesus" medley and "God Is Love" for Communion songs.

Meditation song was "We Are the Children of Sacred Heart," written by Pam Fette especially for Vacation Bible School. She was assisted in the hand motions by Russell and Elizabeth Fette and Karen Moster. Closing song was the "Wa Wa Song."

Following the meditation song, director Mary Endres added her thanks to all the directors who helped make VBS so successful: Kathy Hartman, office assistant; Linda Knabe and Karen Moster, mission and liturgy directors; Debbie Hess, Aaron Hess and Kenya Endres, refreshment directors; Pam Fette and Emily Klement, music directors; Tina Bindel and Marlene Fisher, nursery directors; Cathie Fuhrmann, crafts; Diane Grewing, typist; Pat Knabe, donating pencils to the students.

She also recognized Linda Knabe for the years she has served on the Liturgy Planning Committee for Vacation Bible School. Linda, who is retiring after nine years of service, was told that a Mass will be offered for her intentions and those of her family.

After the liturgy, all students filed out to front of church and all released balloons in "Thanksgiving to Jesus for all the good things done and learned this week, thus bringing to a close of the 1988 Sacred Heart Vacation Bible School."

LINDA KNABE was honored for her many years of service to Vacation Bible School during closing ceremonies Friday.

Bullock to offer tax seminar in Sherman

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said last week that a tax seminar designed especially for owners and managers of new Texas businesses will be held in Sherman on Wednesday, July 12, 1989.

"Most new business owners have lots of questions about their responsibility as Texas taxpayers. These seminars will help new taxpayers understand the Texas tax system, and it will familiarize them with tax returns and other forms," Bullock said.

Billy Wilder and Kevin Brogan, Enforcement Officers from the Sherman Field Office, will be at Grayson County Justice Center, Central Jury Room, Sherman, Texas from 1 to 3 p.m. New and old taxpayers are welcome to attend, and there is no charge.

Bullock said that each of the agency's 29 field offices will hold the new taxpayer seminar four times during the year - once every quarter. Invitations for the seminars are sent by mail to new taxpayers.

Sherman area taxpayers who cannot attend the seminar or have questions about Texas taxes can still get individual tax assistance by calling the Comptroller's toll-free telephone number, 1-800-252-5555, from anywhere in Texas.

The Sherman Enforcement Office, headed by Linda Kissingner, serves Grayson, Collin, Cooke, Hunt, Raines, Lamar, Red River, Delta, Hopkins, Denton and Fannin counties.

Comanche Peak Nuclear Power Plant generates its first electricity May 3

For the first time, the Comanche Peak Nuclear Power Plant has generated electricity and sent that electricity out on TU Electric's power lines. The electricity was produced without using nuclear fuel during hot functional testing.

Generated electricity was a milestone event in the effort to have Comanche Peak Unit 1 ready for Nuclear Regulatory Commission license to load fuel this fall.

For 1½ minutes Wednesday evening, May 3, the Unit 1 turbine generator produced an average of 28,500 kilowatts of electricity. That compares to 1,150,000 kilowatts Unit 1 will produce at full power.

The electricity was made as part of Unit 1 hot functional testing. As part of hot functional testing, Unit 1's systems were brought to operating temperatures and pressure by running the unit's four electrically-powered 7,000 horsepower reactor coolant pumps. Using the pumps to circulate water through the plant's piping systems raised the water temperature and pressure to 557 degrees Fahrenheit and 2,235 pounds per square inch.

That heat was used to make steam, turn the turbine generator and make electricity for a short time. The rotating portion of the turbine generator weighs 628 tons and spins at 1,800 revolutions per minute when operational.

Beginning May 2, the turbine generator was spun during five periods. The last time, electricity was actually produced. Hot functional testing is the first of three extensive series of pre-operational tests. Many safety and non-safety systems associated with Unit 1 are tested to verify they will function properly under operating conditions.

Bishop Delaney will dedicate new church

by Elaine Schad

Bishop Joseph P. Delaney of the Diocese of Fort Worth will formally dedicate the new $700,000 Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic Church in Decatur during a special 10 a.m. service Sunday.

Delaney will bless the church before celebrating a bilingual Mass. A reception will follow at 11:30 a.m. at the new parish hall joined to the church, located on Deer Park Road just north of the Decatur High School.

The new church and parish facility, located on seven acres, includes a sanctuary, foyer, parish hall and about eight classrooms. The sanctuary will seat 375 people, almost four times the number of the existing church, built in 1939, located on North Church Street.

N.C. Sturgeon of Midland is the contractor on the project. Parishioners have been saving money for the construction since 1977 and have also borrowed some funds from the diocese, said Jerry Flusche, a member of the building committee. The parish plans to sell the old church building and grounds, he said.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas lawmakers, hoping someone will blink in the special session standoff, left for the holiday weekend trusting a hot July Fourth will cool frustrations. Most action was behind the scenes with little results as House panel members debated a controversial workers' compensation reform package deemed crucial to the Texas economy.

Earlier, acting quickly, the Senate approved and sent the House its liberal version, and then lawmakers crisscrossed the rotunda all week bent on hammering out a compromise, with little progress.

At week's end, House Speaker Gib Lewis said, "greedy special interests" who wouldn't give an inch have snarled this issue worse than any issue he has ever seen.

The key issue is the Senate's insistence that jury trials be allowed to settle disputes, while the House adamantly seeks a non-trial solution desired by pro-business groups.

Special Interest Players

Alliances among the lobbyists pit labor groups and the trial lawyers against business, insurance and medical groups which argue that jury awards are too expensive and drive up insurance costs. Newly entering the fray on opposite sides were the United Farm Workers and the Texas Farm Bureau, which seeks to cut protections for farm workers forged in a 1984 compromise.

Lame Duck Hobby

Pro-business groups want employers to be able to hire five employees before having to purchase mandated insurance. The 1984 deal limits farms and ranches to three workers without mandated insurance, but now the Farm Bureau wants it kicked up to five, same as other businesses.

Their proposal angered Mexican-American Caucus lawmakers (who generally support the labor-trial lawyer position anyway), and drew concern from Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who helped craft the 1984 pact.

Hobby doesn't want changes in farm workers coverage, and some observers wonder if this is the first bona fide challenge to Hobby as a lame duck.

Hobby, who has wielded the gavel longer than any Texan, has said he will retire from politics next year, but he wouldn't be the first to get mad and jump back in.

"MIT on the Trinity"

Meanwhile, Gov. Bill Clements widened the agenda to permit lawmakers to consider repeal of a measure on crime victim identity, to expand three state colleges, create a Department of Transportation and allow physicians to prescribe drugs to some terminally ill patients.

The new law, which allows police agencies to withhold the names of felony crime victims, has angered news organizations and confused law enforcement departments.

A bill upgrading the two-year, upper division University of Texas at Dallas to full-university status passed quickly.

Sponsors dubbed the new school "MIT on the Trinity," a bow to famous Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to stress hopes it will become a world-class university in new technology.

Another Jim Wright?

An Aug. 12 special election was set by Clements to replace U.S. Rep. Jim Wright, who resigned his congressional seat last Friday. Democrats seem to be rallying behind Pete Geren, while the GOP leans to Dr. Bob Lanier, allergist and TV personality.

Meanwhile, James C. Wright 3rd, 44-year-old son of the former House speaker and a resident of Riconada, New Mexico, confirmed that he has been encouraged to return to Fort Worth and run for Congress.

Although he is not currently a Texas resident, the younger Wright could run for the office as long as he establishes a Texas residence by August 12, said Brad Galm, Texas assistant secretary of state.

The door is also open for several state legislators to run without giving up their present office, including Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis, state Sen. Hugh Parner, and others, assuming the special session is over by then.

On another front, Houston businessman Tommy Fajto threw his hat in the race for Comptroller on the GOP ticket.

Fajto, a new face on the political stage, is a successful entrepreneur who has ample pro-business support as a base.

Other Highlights

• Texas' number one good citizen, H. Ross Perot, entered the mysterious Treaty Oak poisoning case by hiring specialists across the nation to save the 600-year-old tree.

Austin police arrested a suspect who may have poisoned the tree as part of a magic spell.

• State Sen. Craig Washington, D-Houston, said he'll fight a resolution to protect the American flag from protest burning.

Two other major test sequences will follow hot functional testing. The integrated leak rate test will show the Unit 1 containment building could withstand a severe accident. The integrated test sequence includes a number of plant electrical system tests.

Comanche Peak, with its 2,300,000 kilowatts of generating capacity, will produce electricity for TU Electric's 2.1 million customers, or about one-third of the population of Texas, in 87 of the State's counties.

Rogers moves his office to Dallas

Richard L. Rogers, vice-president of investments at Prudential-Bache, on Thursday moved his office from E. California Street in Gainesville to the Prudential-Bache building located on Central Expressway and Meadow Road in Dallas.

By moving his offices to Dallas, Rogers will be able to take advantage of the resources available in Prudential-Bache's main office. His clients are located in several cities and states, and having these resources available will enhance Rogers' service to his clients.

In order to ensure convenience to his Muenster clients, Rogers will have the same phone number, 759-2725. He will also maintain an office in Ron Reddy's building at 302 E. Main Street in Gainesville, which he plans to visit at least once a week.

Sunday golf all "tied up"

Did you ever play the "String Game?" Not like the cat's cradle, but the one on a golf course? If you join the Muenster Golf Association for their Sunday morning game at Nocona Municipal Golf Course, you too can play the String Game, according to Dan Hamric.

In a nutshell, each person playing gets an 18-foot piece of string, usable to either improve or advance the position of their golf ball on the course.

Registration is 8:45 a.m. Sunday, July 9. Tee-off time is 9 a.m.

A reminder from Faye Hamric: "Be sure to remember the Club Championship coming in September!"

Era students score high on TEAMS test

Students at Era performed well on the Texas Assessment of Minimum Skills test (TEAMS), officials reported this week.

TEAMS is a state-mandated, minimum-skills test given annually to students in odd-numbered grade levels. The 11th grade students are given an exit-level TEAMS test which must be passed in order to receive a diploma. Those results were reported earlier this year.

Of the approximately 34 students taking the first grade test at Era, 97 percent mastered the math and reading sections, while 100 percent of the students mastered the writing section.

In third grade, of the 31 students tested, 97 percent of the students mastered the math and reading sections, while 94 percent mastered the writing.

In the fifth grade, of the 33 students tested, 97 percent mastered the math, 94 percent the reading, and 97 percent the writing.

In the seventh grade, of the 20 students tested, 100 percent passed both the math and reading sections, while 90 percent mastered the writing.

Of the 11 ninth graders tested, 100 percent of the students mastered all three sections of the test.

MRS. DONALD CARL FLEITMAN
...nee Linette Ann Schroeder...

Double ring ceremony unites couple July 1

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl Fleitman have returned from a wedding cruise to Nassau in the Bahamas that followed their marriage on July 1 in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Windthorst.

Father Bartholomew Landwermer, pastor, officiated for the Nuptial Mass and double-ring ceremony at 4 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schroeder of Windthorst. She is a graduate of Windthorst High School and Vernon Regional Junior College. She is an L.V.N., employed at Bethania Regional Health Care Center in Wichita Falls.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Fleitman of Muenster. He is a graduate of Muenster High School, and is employed by Norman's Well Service.

Dusty rose and ivory flowers and lighted candles provided the altar setting, and dusty rose and emerald green bows marked center aisle pews.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a designer gown, an original by Alfred Angelo, made of ivory satin, featuring a dropped waistline and full, gathered skirt. The close-fitting bodice was entirely made of lace over satin, with a scalloped neckline rising to collar level. The back closure featured 30 pearl buttons and lace designs.

Sleeves were double layered with fitted lace under sleeves and puffed mira-mist outer sleeves. Pleated cuffs revealed 10 pearl buttons. The circular train featured five inches of wide lace trim along the entire hemline. Swirls of mira-mist created unique designs on the train decorated with tiny silk roses.

The bridal veil was worn elbow-length, highlighted by an ivory satin bow and silk rose.

The bridal bouquet featured her chosen colors of emerald green, dusty rose and ivory miniature rosebuds, along with ivory lace puffs, to form a cascading garden of colors. A shower of dusty rose and ivory ribbons followed the cascade effect. An ivory rosary belonging to her grandmother was draped across the bouquet. The bride also wore diamond earrings borrowed from the groom's sister.

Selections included "We've Only Just Begun" before Mass; "Wherever You Go" as mothers of the couple were seated; "That's The Way" as the Unity candle was lit; "There Is Love" at Communion; "Wedding Song" as the Communion Meditation; and "God, a Woman and a Man" after Mass.

Patricia Kainer was lector for the wedding liturgy.

RECEPTION

Following the church service, parents of the bride hosted a reception, dinner and dance for 450 people in St. Mary's Parish Hall.

Beth Halfman and Diane Havlak, both cousins of the bride, presided at the guest book.

Guests danced to music by Southern Rebel.

The bride's table featured her portrait and a special candle made by her aunt, Gail Schroeder.

The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with dusty rose flowers and green leaves and held a keepsake wedding couple on top and a floral bouquet in the middle between tiers. The cakes were cut by Theresa Bean, groom's sister, and Margaret Fleitman, groom's sister-in-law.

Assisting were Bridget and Amy Halfman, and Sandra and Wendy Schroeder, bride's cousins.

Guest tables were decorated with ivory and green streamers and circles of green leaves on which rested dusty rose and ivory roses.

The rehearsal dinner was held in Windthorst City Park, with a cookout.

Students travel through Europe

Sacred Heart students experienced a once-in-a-lifetime tour of three European countries. The cultural-heritage tour began June 12, with their departure from JFK Airport in New York, and ended 14 days later. Initially, the trip was established as an extended learning experience for German students of Eric Gray at Sacred Heart, but eventually it was offered to other interested students and friends.

Visiting the countries of Austria, Germany, Switzerland and tiny Liechtenstein were: Shawn Dangelmayr, David Rohmer, Jason Endres, Barry Biffle, Don Park, Jenny Yosten, Sharon Fuhrmann, Dawn Knabe, Janel Flusche, Robin Greathouse, Amy Bayer, Angela Endres, Amy Walterscheid, Lisa Hamric, Theresa Mae Walterscheid, Faye Hamric, Debbie Endres, Christi Taylor, Helen Taylor, Mary Beth Bartush and Eric Gray.

Highlights of the trip included the Schönbrunn Palace and St. Stephan's Cathedral in Vienna, Austria; a tour of Mozart's city, Salzburg; two nights in Munich, Germany; sightseeing and an overnight stay in the beautiful Olympic city of Innsbruck; paddleboating on Lake Lucerne in Switzerland and castle gazing in Heidelberg.

The climax of the trip was the arrival at Münster, Germany, where Sacred Heart students were welcomed and hosted by students and teachers of St. Mary's, a Catholic girls school in Münster. The group was treated royally by both the officials of the city and the host families. Everyone had the opportunity to experience German hospitality in Muenster's ancestral city.

Five members of the group had a similar chance to visit their ancestral past with visits to farms and homes of German relatives. The Taylors, relatives of teacher Eric Gray, were hosted by cousins near Frankfurt; Theresa Mae and Amy Walterscheid and Shawn Dangelmayr traveled to the farm of their great-grandparent in Kel Kheim.

All 21 members of the group returned home weary, but thankful that they had been given the opportunity to experience a part of the world that most had only read about. As one traveler remarked, "I don't think history will ever be boring again!"

THE FIRST WEEK of Muenster swim lessons started Monday morning. Lessons include swim strokes, diving and floating.

Brazos Electric Co-op seeks rate reduction

Brazos Electric Cooperative has filed with the Public Utility Commission for a rate reduction that will permanently reduce rates to about the same level they have been since the cooperative implemented a temporary rate reduction in December.

"It is uncommon in today's world, but we in the cooperative business gauge our success by how little we can charge our customers," Richard E. McCaskill, Brazos Electric Cooperative's executive vice president and general manager, said. "Our goal is not to profit, but to economically serve our customers with dependable electric power. Whenever we foresee that we can safely reduce rates, we will request authority to do so."

McCaskill said Brazos Electric Cooperative has a history of passing savings to its wholesale customers. The cooperative has returned $20 million in the last two years with temporary rate reductions. Additionally, it reduced its fuel charges by more than $11 million per year, starting in 1987. In 1977, it returned $1 million to its customers. McCaskill said the pending reduction means the cooperative's wholesale customers will have had a 19 percent average reduction in their cost of power since 1984. To the end consumer, this means a reduction of about $10.00 per 1,000 kilowatt hours. The cooperative has had only one rate increase since 1976.

Public notices state the cooperative has requested that the rate reduction become effective July 17 and that the cooperative's revenues be reduced by $21,508,032, or 10.8 percent. McCaskill emphasized that the present temporary rate structure already has lowered rates by about that amount.

Brazos Electric Cooperative is a member-owned generation and transmission electric cooperative based in Waco. It provides wholesale electric power to 20 member cooperatives, seven municipal electric systems and Texas A&M University. The electric cooperatives include Bartlett, B-K, Belfalls, Comanche County, Cooke County, Denton County, Dickens, Erath County, Fort Belknap, Gate City, Hamilton County, Hill County, J-A-C, Johnson County, McLennan County, Mid-South, Navarro County, Navasota Valley, Tri-County and Wise.

Call them partners: birds called egrets feed on insects stirred up by grazing cattle. In return, the egret warns the cattle of danger by flying away.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Diseases and insects can cause a significant amount of damage to plants. In many cases, it becomes necessary to use pesticides. Sometimes the cure can cause as much damage as the problem if label recommendations are not followed.

Pesticide damage to plants appears in a number of ways, but occurs most often as:

Burn - appears on the tip or margins of the leaf as necrotic areas or the entire leaf surface may appear burned, or the roots can be burned.

Chlorosis - appears as curling, crinkling, or cupping of the leaf.

Stunting - reduction in size of entire plant or certain parts (fruits, flowers, roots) while rest of plant appears normal.

Abnormal growth - a stimulation of excessive growth on either certain parts (aerial roots, suckering) or the entire plant.

Usually the new growth is most likely to show damage when sprays are applied. The following are general rules or guidelines to help reduce plant damage from pesticides.

(1) Don't apply a pesticide to plants that are stressed. Avoid spraying under extremely hot, sunny conditions. When air or plant temperature is approximately 90 degrees or higher, damage will likely occur. On bright days, leaf temperature may be 5-15 degrees higher than the surrounding air, thus increasing the possibility of injury. Avoid temperature extremes, either high or low.

(2) Don't apply pesticides under conditions which will not promote drying. Plants sprayed when cool, humid conditions exist for extended periods will remain wet for long periods of time and increase the possibility of injury. Never spray plants when they are in need of water. Wilting or dry plants are extremely sensitive to spray injury.

(3) Wettable powders are usually safer to plants than liquid pesticides because they do not contain solvents. The disadvantage of wettable powders is the objectionable residue on the foliage.

(4) Almost all aerosol formulations of pesticides will cause plant damage if applied at less than the recommended distance between aerosol nozzle and plant. The distance usually recommended is 18-20 inches. In some experiments, it was found that almost all of the aerosols tested were damaging to plants when applied at eight inches.

(5) Study the label and any brochures that are available concerning the particular pesticide to be used for rates, application instructions, and plant damage information. Do not overdo. Clean out sprayer, hose, and nozzles after each use.

A few other comments worth consideration: Some gardeners mix pesticides with fertilizers and apply both at the same time. This can be a risky practice since a larger quantity of fertilizer solution is needed than that of a pesticide solution. The safest method is to apply each separately. It takes a little longer but it is a lot safer. In addition, be very careful when applying pesticides to seedlings or non-established plants. Most plant damage problems occur at these stages.

When buying a pesticide and again prior to use, be sure to read the label carefully. A pesticide label contains a considerable amount of beneficial information. First, look for the EPA registration number which will indicate the Environmental Protection Agency has found the material effectively controls certain pests (insects, weeds or diseases). The number also indicates that substance is safe to use when directions are followed.

The next thing found on the label is the pest that this material is effective against. Only those pests listed can be controlled with this material.

Rate of materials to use is also on the label. This rate must be followed. If you exceed the recommended rate and problems occur, the company is no longer responsible. Also, you waste material and stand a chance of polluting an area with a chemical.

The pesticide label also lists the interval at which the materials should be applied. This may vary with materials but will generally be between 5 and 21 days. The label may indicate that this is a one-time application for a certain pest.

How soon can you eat a crop after a material has been applied? That information is also found on the label. On many labels, there are special precautions such as washing fruit or not spraying past a certain development stage. Read these warnings closely.
