Dignitaries visit from Münster, Germany

Mayor Ted Henscheid and his wife, Carol, along with a delegation of Muenster citizens, were on hand at Dallas Love Field Thursday night to greet Dr. and Mrs. Jorg Twenhoven. He is the Lord Mayor of Münster, Westfalen, Germany. The couple has come to Texas to participate in activities which are scheduled in Dallas to honor Muenster, Texas on its 100th-year centennial.

As a welcoming gesture from the citizens of Muenster, Mayor Henscheid presented a Stetson hat to the Lord Mayor and Mrs. Henscheid presented his wife with a dozen long-stemmed yellow roses.

The Twenhovens will be overnight guests in the Henscheid home. Today, Friday, and tomorrow morning, a flurry of activities are scheduled to provide our guests with the opportunity to see what Muenster's namesake has accomplished in 100 years. (See itinerary, page 3). To join the bus tour, call the Chamber office at 759-2227 to reserve your seat. The tour is free and will leave the Chamber at 8:45 a.m.

The 27th Annual German Day Pioneer Ball will take place in the Grand Kempinski Hotel, 15201

North Dallas Parkway in Dallas on Saturday, Oct. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Joachim Korth have contacted the David Brights to leave word that they cannot visit Muenster, Texas this weekend as they had planned.

The Unique Tour Bus will be leaving Muenster for the German Day Ball in Dallas at 3:45 p.m. from the Knights of Columbus Hall in Muenster. Seats on the bus and ball tickets will be available until the last minute or until they are all sold. Tickets are first come, first served. Cost of the bus ticket is $13 and the ball tickets are $23 per person. According to Alvin Fuhrman, a number of tables have been reserved in Muenster's name and local people should make an effort to be present and show a good representation from Muenster since our town is being spotlighted. The bus will return to Muenster after the Ball Saturday night.

Mayor Ted Henscheid and his party will be honored guests at the ball, representing Muenster.

A cocktail hour, starting at 6 p.m., begins the night's activities. Dinner will be served to seated guests in the Grand Ball Room of the Grand Kempinski Hotel. The Dallas Town North Concert Band, under the direction of Max Tunnell, will provide the dinner music. The program opens with official greetings and various presentations. The program concludes with German songs by the Dallas Frohsinn Singing Society, and the 22nd appearance of the Soldiers Chorus of German Air Force from Fort Bliss, Texas. Dancing to 1 a.m. will conclude the Saturday night program.

After the Ball, on Sunday, Oct. 15, Muenster's anniversary will be recognized in the Band Shell at German Day at the Texas State Fair. There will be German folk singing, dancing and music by the Dallas W.T. White High School German Club Folk Dance Group.

Murder suspect surrenders

Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins reported late Wednesday afternoon that the main suspect in the murder of Georgia Daugherty had turned himself in to the Cooke County Sheriff. Gerry Wilson of Shawnee, Oklahoma reported to the Sheriff's Department, accompanied by his attorney, at about 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. He is being represented by the Houston law firm of Richard Haines and is currently being held in the Cooke County jail in lieu of $250,000 bail.

Sheriff John Aston received a sealed indictment from the Grand Jury on Friday, Sept. 29. A murder warrant was immediately issued and Wilson became a much-wanted man by agencies, including Muenster Police, Cooke County Sheriff, Texas Rangers, Department of Public Safety and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Wimmer sisters reach for the stars

by Janet Felderhoff

Many young girls dream of singing songs to an audience and moving the listener to tears or giving them a toe-tapping good feeling. Jenny Lynn and Kelley Jean Wimmer don't have to just dream about this. The two sisters have been entertaining local audiences for the past couple of years and are quickly gaining popularity in a wider area.

They have recently released a cassette with several songs that have never before been recorded. They are now singing under the name, "Sweeter Than Honey."

Jenny, 17, is a senior and Kelley, 15, is a sophomore. Both girls attend Muenster Public School. They are the daughters of Ray and Kaye Wimmer of Muenster. Their grandparents are Eugene and Clara Klement and Lawrence and Irene Wimmer.

"Singing is just a part of us," commented Jenny. "We don't really work at it." The girls said they enjoyed singing and the words "just seemed to flow out." Kelley, who usually sings harmony, said that the hardest part of a song is getting the ending correct.

"The girls usually practice singing in the bathroom in the mornings when they are getting ready for school. They sing along with the radio," said their mother, Kaye.

The music they sing is country and western. They've never been big on rock. The songs they choose are clear-cut and appropriate for their teenage years.

Some of the first experiences that they had singing in front of people goes back to the Wimmer family's Christmas tradition. All the grandchildren are required to sing a Christmas carol before the gifts can be opened. "We're a singing family," they said fondly.

Jenny was first asked to sing publicly for an FHA Awards Banquet and received a great deal of positive reinforcement from her friends and others at the banquet. She sang again the next year, but that time Kelley was at her side to sing harmony and provide moral support. "Jenny was scared to get up in front of an audience alone, having Kelley with her made Jenny feel more comfortable," offered Kaye.

Helping other people is something that Kelley has always enjoyed doing. She is usually happy to be in the background helping and to let everyone else take the spotlight. The two sisters are very close and they feel that singing together brings them closer. "They're not just sisters, they're friends," commented their mother.

The two girls laughingly refer to an old Ann Landers column that graces the family's refrigerator. In part, it tells that siblings should be good to each other because only they will remember years from now the special Christmases and other family memories. When the girls argue, their mother follows them around reading the column.

How do two girls from a small town in Texas wind up in Nashville, Tennessee cutting an album? Jenny and Kelley attribute much of their success to their father, Ray. He felt they had something to offer and he always encourages them. "He's given us lots of opportunities," praised Jenny.

Ray Wimmer is his daughters' manager, chief promoter, sound man and equipment mover. He recorded some of their songs and had James Otwell of Gainesville listen to them. Mr. Otwell is a songwriter for Capitol Management. Being impressed with what he heard, Mr. Otwell sent a tape to a producer in Nashville.

An invitation from Mr. Robert Metzgar of Stop Hunger Records brought the Ray Wimmer family to Nashville for an interview while they were on vacation this past summer. The interview went well and the girls were soon making arrangements to return to Nashville and cut a tape in a Nashville recording studio.

There were 23 songs sent for their selection. All of them were original, unrecorded songs. The girls knew that they wanted to use a song, "Paint The Flowers," which was written by their friend, Wendell Black. They chose the other songs by the words or story and beat of the music. One, "A Little Girl Needs A Daddy," is special to them because their dad is so special to them.

While recording their songs, Kelley and Jenny felt very privileged to have musicians who usually only play for known celebrities playing for them. Something that left a good impression was that the celebrities acted just like common people.

A future goal of "Sweeter Than Honey" is to have at least three songs on the Country Charts. This is what it takes to be bought by a major record company.

The girls perform at as many benefits as they are asked to do and are able to make. They performed, at the invitation of the Activities Director, on Oct. 10 at Cooke County College. In June, they performed at the Chisolm Trail Days and in July at the Grapevine Opry.

During a performance, the girls usually do one song acappella because they have been accused so often of lip-synching. They sing with taped music at their local performances.

Ray and Kaye Wimmer are Muenster natives, but had moved to Keller. In July 1982, they returned to Muenster with their young daughters to operate 82 Liquor, a business they had recently purchased.

When Jenny was about two years old, she was diagnosed as having alopecia areata, which causes hair loss. The cause is not known. She had to learn to put up with a lot of teasing, especially in the third grade. Her hair has grown back but she lives with the possibility that the loss could recur at any time.

Jenny admits that without the alopecia areata she may have been a different person. "I am more conscious of how other people feel because of my own problems."

Kaye remarked that "Jenny had to mature faster than other kids her age as she learned to deal with her problems and how to get through each day. She used to ask 'Why me?' and I would tell her that God only gives us what we can handle."

Plans in Jenny's future are to attend Texas Tech and major in Science with a minor in Math. She is considering entering Pre-Med with hopes of becoming a pediatrician. Kelley also plans to finish high school and enter college. Both girls agree that they would like a college education to fall back on even if they do further their singing career.

"The girls' personalities haven't changed," declared Kaye. The girls said that they aren't any different from anyone else.

They want to do what normal teenagers do and would like the people of Muenster to be a part of any of their successes. The family agreed that the support from friends and family has been great.

They are in the process of having their songs released to radio stations. KGAF in Gainesville has been playing their songs on request. If you want to get your own personal copy of the "Sweeter Than Honey" cassette, it can be purchased at most local stores and at the Superette in Lindsay. The cost is $10.00, taxes included.

DON'T SMASH THOSE MACHINES

By Edwin Feulner

In the 19th century, a group of workers called the Luddites ran around smashing machines to demonstrate their opposition to automation, which threatened their jobs. But technology marched on and society prospered—and many new jobs were created to replace the ones that technology rendered obsolete.

Opposition to technology seems to be a perennial problem. Today's Luddites, self-styled environmentalists, aren't interested in saving jobs but in preserving natural resources. They believe technology is rapidly depleting our resources, and only by rejecting modern-day machines—by trading our cars in for bicycles, for example—can we avoid environmental disaster.

It's true that we face some serious environmental problems. But the solution lies in technological advancement, not a return to the Stone Age. Far from depleting our natural resources, technological advances actually create new resources, as human ingenuity comes up with new ways of producing energy. For example:

- Solv-Ex, an Albuquerque, N.M., firm, has developed a profitable method for extracting petroleum from tar sands. Tar sands are sandstone formations containing bitumen, a very heavy oil which has been difficult to extract. Because tar sands are plentiful in Canada, it could help the United States become independent of oil produced in hostile or politically unstable countries.
- Scientists are exploring "superconductivity," a property displayed by certain compounds through which electricity can flow without resistance. Superconductivity can currently only be achieved at very low temperatures, but scientists have been able to increase the temperature at which it is possible. This line of research could eventually vastly increase the efficiency of the electric power industry, which now consumes more than three times as much energy as it produces. Already Conductus, Inc., of Sunnyvale, Calif., with the backing of Hewlett-Packard, is developing higher-temperature superconducting devices for use in medical research and strategic defense.

- Even garbage has been turned into a wealth of resources. Aluminum, paper, glass, and steel are all being recycled, and recycling of plastics has also become a viable industry. Genpak Corp. of Glens Falls, N.Y., and Mobil Chemical Company have opened the nation's first plant to recycle fast food-type containers, cups, and trays. The plant is able to recycle 3 million pounds of these plastic foam products each year, and could eventually double this amount. This would represent the output of some 2,000 school lunchrooms. The recycled material can be used for insulation and industrial packaging.

The environment itself can also be "recycled"—the Society for Ecological Restoration in Madison, Wis., is involved in restoring native plants and animals to their original habitat.

A resource is only a resource because people are able to put it to use. Oil lying underground would be worthless if technology couldn't locate and pump it, and engines couldn't burn it. If we face shortages of natural resources, the answer is to be found in new technology, not in the doomsday scenarios of the new Luddites. The human mind is, after all, the ultimate natural resource.

SH honors 41 years of queens

by Angela Endres

Being crowned Homecoming Queen is a great honor and that title is never forgotten. Sacred Heart's first homecoming queen, Bernice Reiter Sicking, was crowned in 1948. Homecoming queens have been elected in various ways throughout the past 41 years. At one time, all the candidates were to raise money and the one who collected the most money was elected queen. Today, the queen candidates are nominated by the football team and the entire student body elects the queen.

This year, in honor of Muenster's Centennial, Sacred Heart is going to honor all former Homecoming Queens at a special pre-game ceremony on Saturday, Oct. 14. Before the game, former queens will be escorted across the field, followed by the princesses and queen candidates of 1989. There will also be a special Homecoming Mass at 4 p.m. The former queens will be honored, along with this year's Royal Court, and the Classes of 1989, '79, '69, '59, '49, '39 and '29.

Homecoming pep rally

by Amy Walterscheid

The Sacred Heart Homecoming Pep Rally was planned by the Sacred Heart cheerleaders. The pep rally was very unique. The Lord Mayor of Munster, Germany and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Jorg Twenhoven, were special guests at the pep rally, along with Muenster's Mayor Ted Henscheid and his wife, Carol.

The Drill Team performed a special drill as added entertainment for the mayors.

TIGER MASCOTS, l to r, Janie Fisher, Debbie Schmitt and LaBecah Hess, will boost the Tiger spirit at Sacred Heart Homecoming Saturday night.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Top lawmakers disagreed on whether a tax increase will be needed to equalize public school financing in the wake of last week's historic Texas Supreme Court decision.

The High Court sent the Capitol world spinning with its unanimous decision that struck down the present finance system as unconstitutional and sent the issue back to the Legislature for remedy.

The justices gave legislators no recipe, but set May 1, 1990 as the deadline for a solution.

New Taxes Predicted

Key Democrats immediately predicted a state tax hike as much as $2 billion coupled with some local school district tax increases.

New taxes would most likely come in the form of an expanded sales tax base to include new service industries such as real estate and others.

The so-called "sin taxes" on alcohol and tobacco could also be increased and certain tax exemptions cancelled.

But Gov. Bill Clements cautioned that money itself was not the solution and promised to call a special session this spring following task force hearings across the state.

The High Court, composed of six Democrats and three Republicans, said the present system cheats students in poor school districts out of an equal education.

Bloated School Budgets

Clements said the first step to a solution was to attack bloated school budgets and consolidate some of the 1,100 school districts.

While some local school districts feared a loss of state revenues, Clements also warned other districts not to expect large amounts of new state funds to be infused into local spending.

Prisons, Drug Stance

Unused military bases and under-used state buildings should be temporary housing for prisoners and drug addicts, said former Secretary of State Jack Rains, now a candidate for governor.

"If these barracks, dorms and hospital beds were good enough for our nation's soldiers, they should be good enough for our state's prisoners," he said.

Rains also promised he and his staff would set examples for others in state government by voluntarily submitting to drug tests.

He also vowed to push for a new law requiring prison inmates to improve their literacy skills and be drug-free before parole.

Burial Plots for Sale

Texas General Land Commissioner Garry Mauro said the state would auction 17 burial plots in a cemetery where three former governors, two U.S. cabinet members, and the first woman elected to statewide office are buried.

The lots are in historic Shady Oakwood Cemetery, which is owned by the Texas School for the Blind.

Governors Elisha Pease, Jim Hogg, and O.B. Colquitt are buried there. The sale will be held Oct. 25, with a minimum bid of $16,000.

Brady Races Start

Texas' fledgling parimutuel racing industry was off and running, for the first time in 52 years, at G. Rollie White Downs in Brady.

Gambling proponents predicted the new industry would boost local economies in Brady and other racetrack towns around the state, while opponents warned of organized crime.

Brady officials said motel rooms were booked solid in a 60-mile radius, while a new fast food franchise rushed to open its doors before the weekend.

TDC Moves on Job Program

The Texas Department of Commerce sent a five-man team to take financial control of the Dallas job-training program after it failed for months to send the state proper budget reports.

Last year the $12 million Dallas program was reported having one of the worst records for training welfare recipients and the poor.

Other Highlights

■ Former state Rep. Cliff Johnson, who until recently served as Gov. Bill Clements' legislative director, was appointed by Clements to the Texas Water Commission.

■ The State Preservation Board awarded emergency contracts of up to $192,860 to remove cancer-causing asbestos particles released into the basement of the state Capitol during a recent fire.

■ Six people, including two Killen attorneys, have announced their candidacy to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of long-time state Rep. Stan Schlueter.

■ Eleven Texas counties repeated their demand for the Texas Department of Corrections to take about 6,000 felons out of their jails, while their attorneys asked for permission to seek compensation for keeping them.

■ Chuck Nash, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, was named to the National Park System Advisory Board by Secretary of the Interior Michael Lujan.

■ Oct. 10 is the deadline for registering to vote in the Nov. 7 election, reminds Secretary of State George Bayoud.

School financing to be affected locally

by Elaine Schad

While most local school districts should stand to gain from the recent Supreme Court ruling that the current funding system for public schools is unconstitutional, school administrators here remain skeptical about where the legislature is going to find the money to equalize funding and what the ruling will mean for their own school districts.

The Texas Legislature has until May to come up with a funding plan. Lawmakers will begin work during the upcoming special session in November. Gov. Clements has said he will call a second special session for the spring to deal with the issue. Texas is the ninth state to have its school financing system declared unconstitutional, and the 11th where its system has been legally challenged.

"I can see tremendous changes. They're going to step into some new ground," said Muenster Superintendent Charles Coffey. Muenster is just slightly above the state average in wealth per student, and has been able to keep its tax rate among some of the lowest in the state.

About three-fourths of the 107 school districts represented by State Senator Steve Carriker, Cooke County's representative, will gain from the decision, Carriker said from his Roby office. "I'm glad the Supreme Court said what it has said. The legislature has for over a decade passed the costs onto the local school districts," said Carriker. "This gives the legislature an opportunity for the first time to actually lower rates."

Since the state average tax rate is 75 cents per $100 valuation, a good rule of thumb would be to say districts at or above that rate will receive more state money, while districts below that rate will probably be unaffected, Carriker said. He doesn't think there will be a "Robin Hood" approach to solve the problem, meaning taking state aid away from rich school districts while giving more to the poorer ones.

While Lindsay has consistently had a low tax rate, the property values per student is lower than the state average, said Superintendent Gilbert Hermes. "Basically, I think we'll tend to gain from the decision," he said. State lawmakers, however, may begin talk again about a state income tax to come up with new revenues, he said.

Era is another school district that stands to gain from the decision, said Superintendent Dale Smiley. "We'll be one of the 'give to the poor,' " he said. "The legislature's main job will be to determine what the minimum level of funding will be."

Almost everyone is in agreement that new avenues of funding must be established instead of relying on the local taxpayer. "With all the mandates, the crunch has really hit our district," said Coffey.

"Property taxpayers have had about all they can take."

Since a district's taxable wealth will probably be taken into consideration when passing out future state dollars, one thing school districts must be vigilant about is their property values, said Carriker. "There will be pressure on the local appraisal districts to raise taxable assessments above the market value," he said. "Everybody knows that a three-bedroom home in Muenster isn't worth as much as the same home in Dallas."

Carriker said it will be vitally important that local districts be supplied with accurate assessments, and then that they prove and fight for those values with SPTB to keep the property wealth per student at an accurate, not an inflated, level.

Carriker said a minimum of $500 million to as much as $1.5 billion in new revenues will have to be pumped into the state's public school system to comply with the Supreme Court ruling. While it is an equitable tax, most people think the sales tax is already too high, he said. "While an income tax will always be an option, I think it's pretty far down on the list."

New winners announced in football contest

Week Five of The Enterprise Football Contest sees two new weekly winners - Kim Walterscheid and Duane Haverkamp. Kim and Duane both correctly picked 19 games, including the tiebreaker. Nick Walterscheid and Janet Pagel also had 19 correct, but missed the tiebreaker.

Winners picked up their cash prizes at Rohmer's Restaurant, last week's tiebreaker sponsor.

All contestants missed Tampa Bay's win over Chicago, 37 missed University of North Texas' loss, and only one picked Houston to lose to New England. Seven contestants correctly picked Sacred Heart to be defeated by Perrin and 10 haven't given up on the Cowboys, thinking they can still win.

Only one missed the Mississippi vs. Alabama, UCLA vs. Arizona, Denver vs. San Diego, Lexington vs. Saint Jo and Oklahoma vs. Oklahoma State games.

Two wrongly picked Era to lose and three picked Lindsay over Muenster. Duane Knabe was closest in the tiebreaker with a 12-24 score.

The Lakehill game was excluded this week after mistakenly listing Cistercian as their opponent.

Forty-two entered last week's contest. Besides 4 picking 19 correct, three had 18 correct, nine contestants had 17 and nine picked 16 correct.

As we get halfway through the regular season of the contest, Mickey Haverkamp continues her lead for the $100 prize. She has an 82% correct average after 5 weeks. Bonnie Stoffels remains in second at 77.778%. Nick Stoffels is a close 3rd with 77%. Others with higher percentages include Duane Knabe, Duane Haverkamp, Terry Walterscheid and Nick Walterscheid.

Muenster Golf Association hosts successful tournament

The Muenster Golf Association's monthly scramble enjoyed a huge turn-out and perfect weather Sunday morning. Twenty-five He and She teams participated in the association's first tournament involving a mixed handicap. Tournament directors Dan Hamric, Brian Herr, and chairman Tom Flusche were elated with the large number of players and assured the crowd that it will be an annual event in the monthly schedule next year.

The only team to shoot under par in the field of 25 teams consisted of long time golfers Bertha Hamric and Earl Fisher. They birdied the final two holes to post a great round of 69. However, the duo had to settle for second place money as the tournament was scored by handicap. Bud and Donna Graham took first place honors with an even par 70 that was handicapped to a 62. Hamric and Fisher, lower handicap players finished with a handicapped score of 63. Other top ten money winners were Frank Hess and Dyanne Vicari with Glenn Fisher and Mary Lee Hennigan at 64; Sonny and LaMarilyn Fore, Laura Trachta and Don Eckart, and Danna Hamric and Brian Hess at 66; Kim and Queenie Walterscheid, Pat and Larry Wimmer, and Terry Walterscheid and Margie Wimmer at 67.

Closest to the Pin was taken by Della Hellman as she drilled a 155 yard shot to within 8 feet of the hole. Longest Drive honors belonged to rookie Kim Eldred. While playing her first tournament, she nailed a drive down the middle of Number 9 fairway leaving Kim and her partner just 165 yards away from the tree surrounded, elevated green.

Next MGA action will be held on November 12 at Nocona Municipal Golf Course. Tee-off time during the winter months will be at 10 a.m. instead of 9 a.m. so the course can warm up and dry off a little more. The November match will be a traditional four person scramble with registration required by 9:45 a.m.

Double ring ceremony unites couple Oct. 7

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lee Henscheid are on a wedding trip to Sunbay Resort in Hot Springs, Arkansas and, when they return, will be at home in Grapevine.

They were married in a Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Oct. 7, at 5 p.m., celebrated by Father Victor Gillespie, pastor.

The bride is the former Kathleen McGovern of Grapevine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Inman of Saint Jo. She is a 1986 graduate of Saint Jo High School and is employed as a secretary at Ace Foundation in Fort Worth.

The groom is the son of Ted and Carol Henscheid of Muenster. He is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Midwestern University in Wichita Falls with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. He is a member of, and held an office in, Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity and is employed at Prestige Gunite of Keller.

Presented at the altar by Jim Inman, the bride was wearing a designer gown of white slipper satin with sweetheart neckline and elongated bodice, shirred and softly gathered to a floor-length skirt. The shoulders of the dress were accented with white seed pearls and sequined bows, with strands of seed pearls that draped softly over the butterfly sleeves.

Her illusion veil was attached to a white satin headpiece heavily beaded with seed pearls and tiny satin roses.

She carried a bouquet of cascading white roses, carnations, stephanotis and English ivy accented with ribbon streamers and bows.

In keeping with tradition, for "something old and blue," the bride carried the same rosary used by the groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ed Hess, on her golden wedding day. "Something new" was a bracelet given by her mother.

ATTENDANTS

Ellen Hohn of Dallas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Amy Henscheid of Muenster, groom's sister, Amy Lee of Saint Jo and Autumn Westergreen of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, both friends of the bride, were bridesmaids.

They wore designer gowns of evergreen moire taffeta, tea-length, with elongated bodice, scooped neckline, double ruffled peplum and double puffed sleeves. The low sculptured backs were accented with pearl buttons. Each bridesmaid carried a single peach rose with baby's breath and evergreen satin ribbon.

Melissa Knapp of Boyd and Amy Hohn of Dallas, both nieces of the bride, were flower girls, wearing peach moire tea-length dresses, with puffed sleeves and bows accenting the shoulders. Three ruffles accented the back of the skirt, with a sash at the waist. Each carried a single peach rose.

Cody Hess of Southlake was ring bearer. Eric Hess of Southlake carried the Unity candle. Both are cousins of the groom.

Brad Henscheid of Muenster, brother of the groom, was best man. Roddy Berend of Friona and Darrel Swirczynski of Grapevine, both cousins of the groom, and Ricky Hennigan of Saint Jo were groomsmen.

Ushers were Ed Hess of Irving, groom's cousin, and Phil Knapp of Saint Jo, Frank Popp of Lindsay and Kevin Cler of Roanoke.

Mass servers were C.J. and Matt Muller of Muenster, groom's cousins.

Liturgical Readings for the wedding were given by Rufus Henscheid, groom's uncle, and Florence Kelly of Fort Worth, groom's aunt. Offertory gifts were presented at the altar by Terry Hess of Grapevine, groom's uncle; Evelyn Hennigan, groom's aunt of Muenster; Lu Rose Schumacher of Munday, groom's aunt.

Eucharistic Ministers were Carolyn Bayer, Raymond and Peggy Walterscheid, Mark and Carol Klement, Toni Hess and Dorothy Hartman.

Ruth Felderhoff, organist, and Christy Hesse and Charles Bayer, vocalists, presented "If," "Edelweiss," "Wind Beneath My Wings" and "How Great Thou Art" and the traditional wedding marches.

Altar decorations included arrangements of white gladioli and a pair of candelabras with lighted candles. White bows marked pews in the center aisle.

RECEPTION

A reception with dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center for 350 guests, hosted by parents of the groom, Ted and Carol Henscheid.

Presiding at the guest book were Vickie (Brice) Fisher and Debbie Metzler.

The bride's table was covered with white lace cloths, caught up with white satin bows. Arrangements of gladioli, carnations, with lovebirds and baby's breath and lighted candles in candelabra.

The three-tiered white angel food wedding cake was placed over a lighted fountain, and surrounded by white spirea and peach carnations, topped with a glass lovebird ornament, bells and wedding rings. The chocolate groom's cake was decorated with chocolate roses, pecans, white chocolate and a monogram surrounded by frosted grapes.

Reception assistants were Carolyn Bayer, Dana Berend of Friona, Kelly Hennigan of Canyon, Haley Fenton of St. Joseph, Missouri, Joanna Cantrell of Hardy, Rita Bayer of Muenster and Cherilyn Pollard of Schertz.

Guest tables were decorated with peach and green fans, peach candles and peach and green bows.

A white wrought iron arch decorated with ivy and a large white wreath decorated with roses, gladioli, pearls and greenery were used in the area behind the cake table. Behind the main table was white lattice draped with white tulle, peach bows and green fans. The cheese table held a peach floral arrangement and trays of cheeses, fruits and assorted nuts and sweets. Special guests were the groom's grandparents, Mrs. Anna Henscheid and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hess.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Ted and Carol Henscheid at The Center Restaurant on Friday evening, Oct. 6.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Sandra Fairweather of Friona, Haley Fenton of Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. John Cast of Eddy, Bob Hamric of Wichita Falls, Bert Knabe of Lubbock, Christy Rohmer of San Antonio, the Albert Schumachers of Munday, the Leroy Berends and Roddy and Dana of Friona, and the John Pollards of Schertz, and many from Lindsay, Gainesville and the Metroplex and the bride's aunts from Dallas, Ms. Betty Janko and Alice Dohn.

Feast of St. Francis is celebrated

A special liturgy of praise, thanksgiving and petition in prayers, hymns and readings featured the Sunday, Oct. 8, regular meeting of Secular Franciscans of Sacred Heart Parish in celebration of the Feast (Oct. 4) of St. Francis of Assisi, founder of the order.

The 3 p.m. service in church began with unison singing of "The Prayer of St. Francis." Marie Henscheid, prefect, led the prayers recited by the tertiaries and Sister Barbara Bernauer read "The Canticle of Brother Sun," written by Father Francis in 1225.

Together, the group sang "Whatsoever You Do," then repeated in unison "The Canticle of Mary." The service closed with the hymn, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name."

Minutes of the previous meeting and the financial report were given by Ida Mae Herr and Betty Yosten.

From church, the members went to the home of Caroline Schilling, hostess for the annual social.

During a period of visiting together, Mrs. Henscheid read letters of thanks and news from the fraternity's two adopted families in India and a letter from Father Tom Gardner to whose foreign ministry (in Africa) the local organization also sends a monthly monetary gift.

Mrs. Schilling invited the group into the dining room for a sit-down meal. The table was appointed in linen, china and silver and held a variety of delicious foods over which the 12 members lingered and conversed until 5:30 p.m.

Patron's feast day observed

In observance of the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi, the Secular Franciscans of St. Peter's Parish, Lindsay, attended Holy Mass at 7 p.m., which was offered for the living and deceased members of the Fraternity.

Following Mass, the members held special October services in church. The opening song was "St. Francis, Image of the Lord," accompanied by Mrs. Angela Haverkamp on the church organ. She also accompanied the "Hymn of St. Francis" and the closing song, "Make Me A Channel Of Your Peace."

Prayer services offered in unison were led by Mrs. Tony Hermes. Eight parishioners joined the fraternity members at the services.

There will be no business meeting in October. The next meeting will be on Nov. 14 at noon for a luncheon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Flusche.

KCs schedule Oct. 22 for Bowl-A-Thon

The Muenster Council of Knights of Columbus have set a special charity Bowl-A-Thon for Oct. 22 at 4 p.m. at All Star Lanes in Gainesville. Registration will begin at 3:15 p.m. It is not necessary to be a member of the Knights of Columbus to participate, and women are also welcome to participate.

Anyone interested in bowling in the bowl-a-thon needs to secure a pledge sheet and get sponsors to agree to pledge a certain number of cents per pin. For example, if a bowler scores a total of 450 in the three games of the bowl-a-thon and the sponsor pledges one cent per pin, he or she would pay $4.50. However, no amount is set, the sponsor has a choice of number of cents per pin. Also, straight donations are quite acceptable. Pledge sheets are available at the DI One Stop, Tops and Teams and the KC Hall.

All money raised by the bowl-a-thon will be sent to the Knights of Columbus State Charities, which fund the K of C Deaf Program, the Apostolate for the Imprisoned and other KC State Charity Programs.

Trophies and prizes will be given in several different categories, including high point male and female; most money raised; and others, including colored head pin strikes.

Instructions for competition and descriptions of prizes will be announced Sunday afternoon. For more information, call Grand Knight John Walterscheid, 759-4732.

Family endures a frightening experience

Luck and the grace of God held an immeasurable influence over a father, mother and two daughters in Champaign, Illinois, relatives of the Walter families here, in a terrifying incident that occurred when lightning struck the family car.

Mrs. Sylvia Everette, a native of Muenster and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Walter, sent the information to her sisters and brother here. She told that her son, Allen Everette, his wife Trish and their daughters, Amanda and Samantha, were driving to Indianapolis, Ind. in a storm when lightning struck their car and blew a hole in the pavement.

The Everettes said they saw the flash and heard the deafening noise, saw smoke coming into the car from burning wiring. Lightning had apparently struck the radio antenna on the rear of their car. They were able to stop and the family exited into the pouring rain, shocked but uninjured except for the father who was struck by the lightning and received a huge blood blister across the back of his hand.

Truck drivers stopped when they saw the accident happen and came to help the family, who related later to their relatives that many strange things were associated with the incident. The radio antenna burned; the car's air bag inflated, although the lightning struck the rear of the car; two solid white shirts worn by two family members had blue spots all over; and a fire was smoldering in the car's trunk.

One family member, a son, missed the incident, having remained at home to participate with his high school golf team.

After emergency treatment, the family returned home in their own car. It still could be driven.

Officers are elected for Dye Mound Association

Directors of the Dye Mound Community Association met at the annual Dye Mound Homecoming on Oct. 1. During the meeting, Charles Edwards of Forestburg was elected chairman; Veda Brogdon of Forestburg, vice-chairman; and Ruth Mitchell of Saint Jo, secretary-treasurer. Other directors present for the meeting were B.L. Harvill, Gainesville; Leon Young and Bill Parr of Saint Jo. Directors drew for terms of one, two or three years.

During the meeting, plans were made for the 1990 homecoming, as well as making plans to repair and paint the church building. Donations for these purposes may be sent to any of the directors or the First National Bank of Saint Jo.

The Dye Mound Church building marks its 100th birthday during 1989. A new, up-to-date memorial plate of the church may be purchased from Charles Edwards for $10.00.

4-H Carnival promotes fun and learning

by Carol M. Roberts, County Extension Agent-H.E.
In celebration of National 4-H Week, the Cooke County 4-H Council sponsored a 4-H Carnival on Saturday, Oct. 7. This special event promoting 4-H educational programs took place on the parking lot of the North Texas Bank & Trust from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Approximately 200 people attended. 4-H clubs throughout Cooke County sponsored booths, displays, or exhibits focusing on 4-H projects or activities. At the Silver Cedar 4-H booth, puppet shows were the fare of the day. Silver Cedar 4-H'ers presented three puppet shows: "Animals Aren't All," "Focus on the 4-H Sheep Project" and "A Visit to the Doctor." Shirley Buck, Silver Cedar 4-H Leader, and Kids on the Block puppet, Mark Riley, who is wheelchair-bound, presented "4-H Is For Everybody." The Valley View 4-H booth also featured puppets. Valley View 4-H members presented a puppet show entitled "From Hollywood to Valley View." In this puppet show, Miss Piggy learns the fine points of showmanship as she prepares for the county 4-H Livestock Show. At the Sivel's Bend 4-H booth, everyone used their creativity to promote 4-H by making a "button" to wear. This booth also highlighted 4-H project work with a display by Sivel's Bend 4-H'ers. The Muenster 4-H Club booth featured a hands-on, creative 4-H project - leathercraft. Participants hammered, beveled and carved designs into leather while Muenster 4-H'ers demonstrated various leathercraft techniques. The Lindsay Senior 4-H Club spotlighted safety with a poster exhibit. These 4-H'ers added to the carnival fun by sponsoring a washer toss game. At the Mountain Springs 4-H booth, people were reminded to "Keep America Clean" by playing trash toss games. Mountain Springs 4-H members provide a valuable service in their community by picking up trash and litter along the roadside. Lindsay Junior 4-H's "Feed the Chickens" booth promoted the 4-H poultry project. Youngsters fed the chicken to receive a prize while adults received delicious poultry recipes. Photos, trophies, a saddle and grooming equipment promoted the Emerald Riders 4-H Club's activities. This active 4-H club revolves around one special project area - the 4-H horse project. "Facing Life's Obstacles" was the theme of the Red River 4-H Club's booth. With one hand, participants in this booth tied a shoe and buttoned a shirt. Then they maneuvered through an obstacle course first on crutches and then by wheelchair. These obstacles emphasized that handicaps can be overcome and that many people take simple actions for granted. Carnival goers tested their decision making skills at the 4-H Consumer Life Skills project booth. This booth featured a judging activity on the topics of toys, snacks and clothing and promoted the countywide 4-H Consumer Life Skills project starting on Oct. 17. To round out carnival activities, the 4-H County Council sponsored a games booth and petting zoo with a calf, lamb, goat, chickens, rabbits and kittens. 4-H leaders manned bake sale tables at Wal-Mart, K-Mart and the carnival to raise money for the county 4-H fund.

And now for... The rest of the story

V.W. Clayton has been a mechanic in Saint Jo for many years - but that was "The Rest of the Story." Last Wednesday, Oct. 4, many local residents were surprised when they heard "Muenster, Texas" mentioned on Paul Harvey's national radio commentary. Years ago, "Jabb" Clayton lived northeast of Muenster on the "Trew Lease." An oil field accident on the Cunningham Lease caused a piece of steel to strike his right eye on Sept. 25, 1936, at the age of 19 years. A "bad doctor" took care of him and inflammation cut off the optic nerve, which caused the loss of sight in the left eye, leaving him totally blind. Mr. Clayton said, "I gave up for six months, but with a lot of friends and the good Lord helping me, I started living again." Clayton pumped a lease for several years, then went into business with his brother in Saint Jo, operating a garage. Clayton worked there until 1976 when he opened his own shop at his home, still working as a mechanic. He married Anna in 1952 who "helped a lot" and they have one son and three grandsons. "Just because you're handicapped," said Mr. Clayton, "you don't have to give up ... you can do something with your life."

Teutopolis, IL celebrates its Sesquicentennial

The town of Teutopolis, Illinois celebrated its 150th anniversary this summer. Gene and Elsie Hoedebeck of Muenster were among the founding descendants who celebrated the sesquicentennial event.

The following article appeared in the Sept. 6 issue of Teutopolis Press with a photo.

In 1909, a group of Teutopolis residents, with their families, possessions and livestock, departed by train to homestead in Texas.

They departed for many reasons: land, new vistas, adventure, health and hope of better times. Improved health for Anna Schumacher Hoedebeck was the reason Anna and Frederick Junior joined this group. They settled in Muenster, Texas.

Their new Texas home was named for Munster, Germany, which was the closest large city to the tiny Newenkirchen area from where the Hoedebeck family hailed. The Frederick Hoedebecks eventually had a family of 18 children.

The Hoedebecks of Teutopolis are descendants of John Frederick Hoedebeck, who came to America in 1853 and married Philomena Uptmor, daughter of founding father, Clemens Uptmor. The Teutopolis Hoedebecks are descendants of John Frederick's son, Clemens Anton Hoedebeck.

The Texas branch of Hoedebecks are descended from John Frederick's son, Frederick Jr.

The Texas Hoedebeck family live in a delightful counterpart of Teutopolis. Muenster, Texas is almost a carbon copy of Teutopolis in size, religious inclination and nomenclature. A Teutopolis resident can feel very much at home there, even if the trees are shorter and each little knoll harbors an oil pump!

Sacred Heart Tigers are decalved by Perrin

The Perrin Pirates decalved the Sacred Heart Tigers 26-14 in Friday night's matchup at Tiger Stadium.

The game started with strong defense from the Tigers and the Pirates. Sacred Heart showed promise when the defense held the Pirates and the Tigers took over on their 25-yard line. Sacred Heart picked up 3 first downs, highlighted by a 40-yard quarterback run by Stevan Nasche on a broken play, but lost possession when a loose ball was covered by Perrin.

The Pirates picked up 48 yards on the next play. Then, on 4th and 4 on the 20-yard line, the visitors' quarterback circled around the left end and scored the first of the night. The PAT was good and Perrin led 7-0 with 2:02 remaining in the quarter.

The ball exchanged hands going into the 2nd quarter when Shawn Dangelmayr covered a fumbled ball on the Perrin 30-yard line. A pass from Nasche to Tony Grewing picked up 24 yards. Ryan Hess got the ball to the 2-yard line senior Ken Hughitt ran to the left side for a 56-yard Pirate touchdown with 8:23 remaining in the game.

Turnovers kept the remaining time exciting. Chris Hess picked up 23 yards before the Tigers lost a loose ball. Again, on Sacred Heart's next possession, an intercepted ball halted a scoring threat.

Jason Endres saved a touchdown, covering a fumble inside the Tigers' 20-yard line. Passes from Nasche to Tony Grewing and Ryan Hess kept the fans alive before time ran out, handing the Tigers another pre-district loss, 26-14.

"We didn't do what we had to do to make the ballgame," said Tiger Coach John Sims. "We were inside the 27 three times and didn't score." Coach Sims credited Stevan Nasche and Chris Hess and the offensive line for a good game.

"We played well in spots, but nobody came up with the big play," commented the coach.

Statistics were close as the RYAN HESS (with ball) picks up a first down for the Tigers, but Perrin's defense prevented Sacred Heart from scoring on this drive. Other Tigers pictured include Werner Becker (71) and Darren Klement (44).

SJ Cubs defeat SH Cubs

Fumble was the name of the game when the Sacred Heart Tiger Cubs hosted the Saint Jo Panther Cubs last Thursday evening.

Sacred Heart took the ball at the opening kickoff after failing to pick up a first down. Chris Pagel punted the ball to Saint Jo, who fumbled, and Pagel covered the ball and the Tiger Cubs regained possession. Five runs by Pagel picked up 21 yards and Mike Gehrig gained another 4, when a loose ball fell into the Panthers' hands and the visitors took over on their own 35-yard line. A 30-yard pass, followed by a 35-yard run gave Saint Jo the first touchdown of the night. A two-point run added to the score, making it 8-0.

On Sacred Heart's next possession, a first down wasn't made and Saint Jo took over, moving inside the Tigers 20-yard line as the first quarter ended.

The Panthers moved to the 10-yard line where a fumbled ball was covered by Mike Gehrig and the Tiger Cubs took over on their own 5-yard line. On the third play, Sacred Heart lost a loose ball and Saint Jo took over on the 9. Two plays later, a quarterback keeper gave the Panther Cubs a 14-0 lead.

Saint Jo kicked an outside kick and covered the ball, taking over at the Sacred Heart 41-yard line. On the seventh play, Saint Jo added another touchdown with extra points and strengthened their lead 22-0.

Runs by Pagel and Aaron Berres, helped by a penalty, gave the Tiger Cubs a first down. On the next play, the Panthers covered another loose ball and took over. After two pass attempts, Jody Fleitman stepped in and picked off a Saint Jo pass. The next play, the Panthers took the Tigers' ball and the half ended.

The Panther Cubs took the opening 2nd half kick. After a good 19-yards, the Sacred Heart defense caused a fumble. Jeremy Bayer recovered and the Tiger Cubs took over at midfield. The next play, Sacred Heart coughed up the ball and Saint Jo once again had possession. A bungled ball stalled the Panthers' momentum, but a 13-yard run gave them another 1st down. Gehrig's defense gave Saint Jo a 5-yard loss and two incomplete passes gave the Tigers the ball. A mixed-up fumbled play put them back 3 yards and made it impossible to pick up another first down. Saint Jo took over at midfield. The Panther Cubs picked up two first downs going into the final quarter, moving inside Sacred Heart's 20 before losing the ball on downs. The Tiger Cubs couldn't pick up a first down and booted the ball back to the visitors. Three plays later, Jon Klement covered a fumbled ball. Sacred Heart ran four plays, turned the ball over and time ran out.

Sacred Heart's offense picked up only 2 first downs, Saint Jo had 10. Chris Pagel was the Tiger Cubs' leading rusher with 33 yards.

The Cubs will host Collinsville Thursday, Oct. 12, for a 6 p.m. game.

TIGERS put pressure on Perrin's extra point kicker and blocked this attempt. Pictured are Tony Grewing (81), Gregg Hess (33), David Rohmer (56), Jason Endres (62) and Darrell Mullins (75).

where Chris Hess ran in for 6 points. The extra point kick failed and the Tigers trailed 7-6 with 10:23 remaining in the half.

The Pirates took possession on their own 31-yard line. In 14 plays, Perrin moved 69 yards to add another touchdown. The extra point kick was good and Perrin led 14-6.

The Tigers moved to the Perrin's 15-yard line with a combination of runs by Nasche, Ryan and Chris Hess, topped by a 24-yard pass to Ryan. But three incomplete passes gave the ball back to Perrin. The Pirates picked up 13 yards before time ran out.

The second half started in favor for the Tigers, a mixed-up kick, covered by Jason Endres, gave the Tigers possession on the Pirates' 37-yard line. A pass from Nasche to Grewing picked up another 14 yards. Running by Chris and Ryan Hess brought the ball to the 1-foot line where Perrin took over on loss of downs. The Tiger defense held and a punted ball gave Sacred Heart the ball on their own 40-yard line. After picking up another first down, a 46-yard run by Chris Hess put the Tigers back in the game. Chris also ran the extra point to tie the game 14-14.

Sacred Heart's defense held and Perrin punted the ball over. A 15-yard penalty put the Tigers deep into their own territory, where the Pirates kept the Tigers. Taking possession at midfield, Perrin moved across the goal line in 6 plays. A blocked extra point kick attempt made the score 20-14 as the third quarter ended with the Tigers in possession.

Four plays later, Perrin took over the ball. From midfield, Pirates nudged by Sacred Heart in first downs 16-15, and total yards 354-304. Each team lost two fumbles and the Tigers threw one interception.

Chris Hess was Sacred Heart's leading rusher with 113 yards in 18 carries. Ryan Hess picked up 38 yards. Stevan Nasche threw for 118 yards, three to Ryan for 62 yards and 6 times to Tony Grewing for 56 yards.

Sacred Heart will host Dallas Lakehill for the district opener Friday. The Lakehill Warriors are 2-2-1 for the season with an improved team over last year. "They expect to beat us," said Sims. "We must be prepared to play every play." The Warriors have an outstanding quarterback that can run or pass and a tailback with speed. They play a "run and shoot" offense.

Homecoming pre-game activities being at 5:30 p.m. Game time is 6 p.m.

Hornets stop Knights for Victory No. 5

The Hornets of Muenster ran their season record to 5-0 with a sound defeat of arch rival Lindsay. The Hornets road a strong defensive effort and the running of James Hennigan to notch the win.

The contest opened up as a defensive battle. Both offenses were held in check in the early going. The teams exchanged punts with the Knights winning the field position battle. Muenster spent most of the first quarter deep in their own territory. An excellent cutback run by Hennigan of 23 yards changed the fortunes of the Hornets. After a couple of first downs the drive stalled at the Lindsay 20 yard line. Brawner came on to attempt a 28 yard field goal. The try was successful and Muenster broke onto the scoreboard with a 3-0 lead. Lindsay's Fred Hughes stopped a Hornets' threatening drive when he sacked the quarterback on 4th and 14 on the Knights' 30-yard line. The Knights' defense shone again when Chris Sanders stopped Brawner on a 3rd and 9 situation. The defensive struggle continued and the half ended 3-0 in favor of the Hornets.

The Knights received the second-half kick off but were unable to move, so they punted to the Hornets. Muenster attempted a 1st down on 4th and 1, but a good tackle by Tracy Huchton stopped the Hornets drive. The Hornets moved the ball into enemy territory to set up a 3rd and long situation from their own 42 yard line. Brawner dropped back to pass, but was flushed from the pocket by a strong Lindsay Rush. Brawner rolled left and appeared to be running for the first down. At the last second, he spotted Yancy Culp alone in the Knight secondary. Brawner lofted a perfect strike to Culp and Yancy galloped into the end zone for a 42-yard 6-pointer. Brawner booted the PAT to make it 10-0. "That first touchdown was a mental breakdown," said Lindsay Coach Pat Benton. "Muenster struck with their game plan that gradually wore us down."

The Hornets best drive of the night came in the third quarter as they marched 68 yards in 12 plays. Most of the yardage came on the legs of James Hennigan who capped off the drive with a one yard TD plunge. Hennigan finished the evening with 188 yards on 35 carries. "James ran extremely hard," praised Coach Jump. "He gets the most out of every block." Blocking was a strong point for the Hornets with eight players grading above 75 percent. Those reaching the goal mark were Michael Bierschenk, Jeff Hellman, Kelly Colwell, Brad McDaniel, Keith Vogel, Terry Felderhoff, Mike Vogel, and Marshall Smith. The extra point was short but the margin was upped to 16-0.

The ball zig-zagged back and forth between the teams during the fourth quarter. The Hornets slowly worked their way to the one yard line.

The final Hornet tally came with just seconds to go on a drive aided by a roughing the punter call. Again, Hennigan finished the drive with a one yard plunge. Brawner kicked the point to make the final score 23-0 in favor of the Muenster Hornets.

"We had a strong offensive team effort," said Jump. "James had the yardage, but the offensive line opened the holes, so all deserve the credit. We also got excellent lead blocks by our other backs, Mike Vogel and Marshall Smith." Again Brawner received the coaches praise. "Jerry made good decisions and made the offensive game plan work."

Defense wins games. This game proved that statement to be true. The Hornets completely shut down the potent Knight offense holding them to only eight yards rushing and no completed passes. The leading Hornet tacklers were Scott Vogel with 13 and Troy Pagel with 12.

"Muenster capitalized on mistakes the second half," said the Knight's coach. "They have an excellent football team. They're an older football club and a little better." The Lindsay coach credited his young team for playing hard and listed Joel Metzler, Tracy Huchton, and David and Kevin Parsons as outstanding defensive players. Metzler, Chris Sanders and Fred Hughes are also given credit for quarterback sacks.

Others having a big night defensively were Brad McDaniel who recorded four sacks and Michael Bierschenk who finished with eight tackles. "Our defense played terrific," said Jump. "You cannot expect to hold a solid team like Lindsay to those totals, but when everybody plays with intensity it can be done." The Hornets also received a couple of big turnovers on interceptions by Ryan Sicking and Yancy Culp.

Muenster picked up 17 first downs to Lindsay's three and picked up 303 total yards. Lindsay averaged 36 yards with six punts while the Hornets booted four times for a 28 yard average.

The Hornets continue district play this week with the Eagles of Valley View coming to town. The Eagles bring a potent offense and a solid defense to challenge for the district title. "There are no easy games, we must turn it up another notch this week," said Jump. "We have not beat Valley View in a long time and we want very much to reverse that trend." So be at Hornet Stadium this Friday at 7:30 p.m. as the Hornets aim for Victory Number 6.

The Knights travel to Era to take on the districts surprise team. "Era's not as tough as Muenster," said Coach Benton. "They have more speed, but not the size and strength. If we can stop Mesengale, then the quarterback will start throwing."

Era's defense hasn't been scored against all season. "We have to play as good as we did the first half against Muenster," said the Lindsay coach. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Era.

Muenster Jrs. split with the Knights

The Muenster Junior High football team was handed their first defeat last Thursday when the Lindsay Junior Knights came to Muenster.

Lindsay outsize the Hornets and the Knights' passing attack hurt the home team, getting key receptions on 3rd and long situations. Lindsay's quarterback, Mark Knight, also led the running attack, scoring twice.

The Junior High Hornets were led by quarterback A.J. Knabe, who had a tough time getting started, and Lindsay's defense prevented him from mounting a serious threat. Muenster's defense was led by Rodney Vogel, who, along with the interior defense, shut Lindsay down up the middle. A.J. Knabe and Cory Cain each had one interception.

The Junior Varsity Hornets won their first contest by beating Lindsay 12-0. The first half was a defensive struggle with neither team scoring.

The second half opened with Doug Hennigan returning the kickoff 72 yards for a touchdown. With momentum in their favor, the Hornets took control of the game. The Hornets kept the ball most of the 2nd half, mounting a 16-play drive resulting in their second touchdown.

Kody Truebenbach added an interception to stifle the Lindsay attack.

The Hornet juniors travel to Valley View Thursday, Oct. 12, for their second district battle. Game time is 5:30 p.m.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to say thank you to everyone for each and every expression of sympathy that we have received, and are still receiving, during this time of loss. CARD OF THANKS
I want to take this means of thanking both Dr. Antonetti, Jr., Dr. Antonetti, Sr. and Dr. Kralick for the excellent care at Muenster Memorial Hospital during my reconstructive surgery. I'm afraid we all tend to take for granted the exceptional nursing care we can get locally. It is especially nice to be among friends when one is so helpless. Besides that, Mr. Caplinger adds so much to patient recovery with his constant humor and wit.
Thanks again. I will be glad to discuss this type of surgery with any woman considering breast reconstruction or reduction.

Bush calls upon farmers and ranchers to back cutting tax

President George Bush has called upon US farmers and ranchers to help push for passage of a cut in the capital gains tax, according to KRF News.

"Your input makes a tremendous difference," Bush said during a press conference with farm radio broadcasters. Cutting capital gains tax was a Bush campaign promise.

In calling on farmers to support the capital gains tax cut, Bush cited a Treasury Department study which he said found that nearly half of the population will "report capital gains sometime in their lifetime." Of those, he said, the big majority is in an income range below $50,000.

Bush gave several examples of farmers and ranchers who he said would be aided by his tax cut proposal, including "an elderly rancher who wants to sell his land."

"This policy will put more money in the little guys' pocket, not fat cats," he said.

The capital gains tax cut proposal recently passed the House Ways and Means Committee with bipartisan support, but faces an uphill battle in the full House and in the Senate, where the Democratic leadership is offering the return of Individual Retirement Account deductions as an alternative.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Producers throughout the county have been receiving soil test reports from the Texas A&M Lab stating the need for the addition of sulfur to their soils. Sulfur is an element that is essential to all and to plants. For years, fertilizer companies during their processing had added sulfur to many of their blended fertilizers. Generally, this would be sufficient to provide plants with needed supplies of sulfur. In past years, with the increase in fertilizer costs and different methods of processing, we are seeing a trend for sulfur deficiencies in soils.

It has been said that small grains, grasses, corn, and milo are less sensitive to their needs for sulfur. However, recent studies conducted by Dr. Travis Miller, Agronomist at Texas A&M, have shown anywhere from 3- to 4-bushel increases through the addition of sulfur. These fields were tested for a 3- to 4-year test period.

If your soil report indicates a need for sulfur, this can be accomplished in several ways. First of all, if you are planting small grains, the best time to apply sulfur is during spring topdress. This would mean adding the element during January and February. If you are needing sulfur on crop land that is to be planted with grain sorghum, then you would want to add the sulfur before planting. Again, this would be sometime during January or February.

The forms of sulfur available in Cooke County include the 21 percent nitrogen ammonium sulfate. This nitrogen source contains about 20 pounds of sulfur. Therefore, the addition of 100 pounds of ammonium sulfate would add 20 pounds of sulfur to your crop land. Another form that is available is the 90 percent flake sulfur. The problem with flake sulfur is that it will tend to acidify soils. For every 1 pound of 90 percent flake, you would generate 3 pounds of sulfuric acid. Basically, what this means is that the flake is 5 times more acidifying than the ammonium sulfate. So, this would make soils acidify quicker. On high pH soils that we have in the western part of the county, the flake would work well. The ammonium sulfate would work well on all soils in the county.

Sulfur is available in some fertilizer forms that producers use in the county. Check with your fertilizer dealer to see if the product you have used contained sulfur. And, don't forget to take that soil test to determine proper plant nutrient needs.

TSCRA NEWS UPDATE

Texans vote Nov. 7 on ag-related amendments

Texas voters will have to decide whether to amend the state constitution 21 times on the Nov. 7 ballot. While all amendments are important, propositions 3 and 18 are of particular interest to Texas farmers and ranchers.

Proposition 3 (HJR 51) authorizes the legislature to provide money through the issuance of general obligation bonds for a Texas agricultural fund, a rural microenterprise fund, a product development fund, and a small business incubator fund in the state treasury.

The purpose of the funding package is to provide "for the recovery and further development of the state's economy, with goals of increasing job opportunities and other benefits for Texas residents, through state financing of the development and production of Texas products and businesses."

Proposition 18 (SJR 44) would reauthorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue and sell no more than $200 million in Texas agricultural water conservation bonds, if two-thirds of each house of the legislature approves. The board's current authority to issue the bonds expires November 1989.

Court rules beef checkoff program okay

The beef checkoff program has been ruled constitutional by a federal court of appeals. The decision resulted from a lawsuit brought by the US Justice Department on behalf of the Beef Board after Pennsylvania market owner Robert L. Frame refused to collect the $1-per-head assessment on customers' cattle.

The appeals court rejected Frame's argument that the checkoff law violated his constitutional rights. It also ruled that the Board can collect overdue assessments and late charges.

Diet pills from cows said to curb fat, cholesterol

The US Patent and Trademark Office in Washington, D.C., has issued a patent to two California cardiologists for "Fat Magnets": diet pills that prevent the body from absorbing some of the fat and cholesterol in food, according to the New York Times.

The "magnet" in each pill is bovine bile, the liquid secreted by the liver that ordinarily transports fat molecules into the bloodstream.

In making the pills, the inventor has attached the bile to cellulose, a nondigestible fiber. As a result, the compound reportedly binds to five times its weight in fat molecules and is excreted from the body.

In one independent lab study, patients taking the pill while on a 1,200-calorie-a-day diet lost an average of 8.1 pounds after three weeks. In a separate study, volunteers' cholesterol levels dropped about 5% in one week.

The pills, manufactured under license by DNF Industries in Orange, Calif., have been on the market for 18 months.

Congressman wants fish, seafood inspected

House Agriculture Committee Chairman E. "Kika" de la Garza, D-Texas, plans to introduce legislation that will require mandatory federal inspection of fish and seafood, according to KRF News.

Under his bill, USDA's Food Safety Inspection Service will handle the inspection responsibilities.

If de la Garza's proposal passes, fish and seafood will be subjected for the first time to the stringent safety and inspection requirements that US red meat and poultry undergo before being offered for sale to consumers.

Broadening federal inspections of fish and seafood in light of recent media reports on the products' sanitation and safety has been the subject of several bills pending in Congress. However, some proposals would place the regulatory burden with the Food and Drug Administration instead of USDA, as de la Garza suggests.

US cattlemen would gain from global free trade

A new US Agriculture Department study says that a phase-out of worldwide farm subsidies and trade barriers would increase world meat consumption and US livestock production.

The report, in Agricultural Outlook magazine's October issue, says, "World meat consumption would go up as the European Community and Japan removed trade barriers, which would lower their domestic consumer meat prices."

The US is pushing for eventual elimination of ag trade barriers, including subsidies that impair fair trade, in the current Uruguay Round of negotiations under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Industry must cut beef costs to compete with poultry

Beef is too expensive and the industry must trim costs out of each stage of the production process to effectively compete with poultry, according to a panel of experts at the recent American Meat Institute convention in Chicago.

The driving force behind cutting costs should be a value-based marketing system that rewards product meeting quality specifications while penalizing lower-quality product, they said.

A value-based system should operate in a free-market arena and provide true, accurate values at each point of purchase, said Paul Engler, a panelist and co-owner of Gactus Feeders Inc., the nation's largest feeding operation.

The cattle industry has trimmed fat out of operating margins in the feeding and packing industries through massive concentration, said Jim Eller, senior vice president of the Granada Corp.

In a few years, it may be economically possible to produce feeder calves with consistent, uniform and predictable carcass characteristics through advances in artificial insemination, embryo transfer and cloning. Meanwhile, he urged the industry to adopt the new technology and economies of size to reduce costs.

Beef will share with all food products the need to ensure food safety and healthfulness in the coming years, but panel member Dr. Gale Johnson of the University of Chicago said it was a "coop-out" to say losses in per capita beef consumption were due to changes in tastes and preferences.

As chief analyst of the National Cattlemen's recent study on packer concentration and other issues, Johnson concluded that beef demand actually remained remarkably strong throughout the cholesterol scare of the 1980s and only 3% of the decline in beef consumption was linked to diet and health concerns.
