Mr. Chambers thanked the candidates for attending the meeting and asked representatives of the press to publicly thank them in behalf of the League.

Elizabeth DeBerry, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. DeBerry, was fatally injured and six others were less seriously injured when two automobiles collided at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning, a mile east of the city at the point where the old Comanche road joins new highway 10.

The girl was riding in a small coupe with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lucas, their daughter, Martha Louise, 5, and James and Joe McDonald, 15 and 12, respectively, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDonald of this city.

Mr. Lucas, prominent citizen of Brownwood and president of the National Pecan Marketing Association, was driving the car.

They were on their way to Sunday school from the Lucas home, east of town, all in the car were more or less seriously injured.

Mrs. Lucas was seriously injured, suffering fractures of both legs, fracture of her right arm and neck.

Her condition is still considered serious, but attending physicians reported her slightly improved.

Her right arm was fractured between the shoulder and elbow. She also received several cuts and bruises and two or three of her teeth were knocked out or loosened.

Collided With Heavy Car The other car, a heavy roadster, was driven by M. S. Mobley, 23, 1415 Hawkins Street, who was accompanied by his brother, W. H. Mobley, Lester Locke, 306 Third Street, and Locke's daughter, Bettie Laverne, 4. None in the car was seriously injured, but W. H. Mobley suffered cuts about the head, arms and bruises and was treated at the hospital Sunday afternoon.

Others injured in the Lucas car were rushed to Medical Arts Hospital in a McInnis Funeral Home ambulance.

Elizabeth DeBerry lived only a short time after reaching the hospital, dying from a broken neck and fractured skull. She was riding on the right side of the car in the seat with Mr. and Mrs. Lucas. The other children were riding in the rumble seat.

Mr. Lucas received cuts on his face and legs, and suffered no broken bones. He received treatment in the hospital Sunday but was allowed to leave the hospital Monday.

Martha Louise Lucas suffered cuts and bruises but no fractures. She also had a slight concussion of the head, doctors said, but was able to leave the hospital Sunday afternoon.

James and Joe McDonald suffered numerous cuts and bruises. Joe was thought the more seriously injured of the two, suffering a fractured arm, according to doctors.

Both automobiles were badly wrecked, almost beyond repair. Several witnesses saw the accident, but neither they nor those in the wreck could say exactly how it happened.

Mobley said Sunday, referring after the accident that he had started across the highway to stop at a gasoline station on the left side of the highway. He was driving out of town and the Lucas car was coming toward town. The whole scene was witnessed by Mr. Mobley, who was driving a car with the others. Mr. Mobley had not the others drive his car and was not with them when the accident occurred.

WORK RESUMED ON NO. 129 BY E. R. LEACH CO.

E. R. Leach Construction Company, with J. H. Strain as foreman, resumed work on the south end of Highway No. 129 Wednesday, the work being taken up where the L. A. Murdock Contracting Company, sub-contractors on this project, left off several weeks ago.

Mr. Strain has a force of about 50 men at work and it is likely that the entire project will be completed within sixty working days.

About twenty days will be required to complete the rock base work on this section of Highway No. 129 and an additional forty working days will be required to lay the triple asphalt topping, it is estimated by highway department officials.

Most of those now at work for the E. R. Leach Company are former employees of the L. A. Murdock Company, who began the construction of the surfacing project on this section of the highway Mr. Strain, foreman of the work now under way, was also foreman for Mr. Murdock.

Other Projects Progressing Other state highway projects in the county are progressing rapidly, according to Park Huntington, resident engineer. Work on Highway No. 7 from Brownwood to the Coleman county line is making good progress. The H. K. McCollum Construction Company has the contract on this project and J. B. Hrdlika is superintending the work.

Another fifteen working days will be required to complete the caliche base on No. 7, after which work will be begun on the rock base. When this work is begun more laborers will be needed, thus affording more work for Brownwood's unemployed men, it is stated.

Cage Construction Company, with J. O. Palmer as foreman, is making good progress on the north end of Highway No. 129. All caliche work has been completed and about 3 1/2 miles of rock base has been laid.

Bucy & Childs, contractors on Highway No. 10 from Brownwood to the Colorado river bridge, are off to a flying start on their project with over two miles of caliche base completed and work progressing at a rapid pace.

185 Men Employed Approximately 185 men are now at work on the four state highway projects under way in Brown county and the number is due to be increased during the summer, it is believed.

Work on the new warehouse for this division of the State Highway Maintenance Department is almost completed. This warehouse is located on the old Brown County Fair grounds and is near the intersection of Highways No. 10 and No. 7.

The highway department here has obtained additional office space on the third floor of the courthouse and has begun moving into the new quarters. The office space turned over to the department was formerly occupied by the entomology department of the Federal Pecan Experiment Station. This department has moved into a new laboratory building on the pecan experiment farm.

Miss Mayesie Malone, home demonstration agent, has received numerous telephone calls during the last week from Brown county women seeking instruction in the art of canning vegetables. For the interest of all interested, Miss Malone has prepared an article giving detailed information which she hopes will aid the women in their work. She suggests that the women will find it a great convenience if they will clip this article from the Bulletin and save it for future use as may be needed. Miss Malone gives the following instructions in canning:

Steps in Canning Use only clean, fresh, sound fruit and vegetables for canning that are in prime condition.

Two hours from the garden to the can is a good rule. In any case for the best results the material should be canned the same day it is gathered.

Be sure that the containers in which the fruit and vegetables for canning are gathered and handled are clean.

Grade for size and same degree of ripeness if uniform product is desired. Wash the material thoroughly until every trace of soil is gone. The most dangerous bacteria and the most difficult to kill is in soil. A wire basket is helpful in washing but should not be loaded too heavily, always lift the material out of the water rather than pour water off.

In case a bushel or more of peaches or apricots are to be canned at one time, they may be peeled with a peeler, but this method is not justified with a smaller amount, except for a very firm peach which can not be peeled with the use of water. Be careful in using lye, if children are around, for it is a powerful caustic and serious accidents have happened.

To peel peaches or apricots with lye, prepare in an agateware or iron kettle, never aluminum, a solution of one-fourth pound 4 ounces or about 4 level tablespoons of granulated lye of a standard brand in 2 gallons of water. Heat to boiling and while actively boiling immerse the peaches or apricots in wire basket, until the skin is loosened and partially dissolved. This will usually require 30 to 60 seconds. Remove the fruit, wash it at once in running water if possible, until skin and

Grand Jury Makes Report; Violations Pro Law Attacked

Brown county grand jury adjourned Friday afternoon after two weeks of work during which time a grand total of 22 indictments were returned, these being in addition to other work performed by the jurors. The customary report of the grand jury has been given Judge E. J. Miller and the jurors dismissed.

The following report was made by the jury through J. S. Wilson, foreman:

Hon. E. J. Miller, Judge, 35th District Court of Brown County, Brownwood.

"Sir: Your grand jury, empaneled for this session of court has been in session nine days on an average of about ten hours per day, have examined 143 witnesses and have returned 22 indictments against 24 individuals.

"We have paid special attention to violations of the liquor law in the hope of stopping the widespread sale of intoxicants. In almost every indictment returned, intoxication has played some part in the crime. The best citizens of Brown county have brought to our attention the promiscuous drinking in Brownwood and various communities. The distressing feature of this situation is that drinking is so common with boys, and even girls, under age. Numerous cases have been reported to us of serious disturbances at social and school entertainments.

Officers Are Delighted "The county and city officers have been extremely diligent in their efforts to eradicate the manufacture and sale of liquor, are continually making raids on suspected places, but they encounter the same obstacle that confronted your grand jury—the difficulty of getting sufficient evidence to convict. Our deliberations convince us that the grand jurors and the law enforcement officers of the county and city cannot make substantial progress in stamping out violations of the law unless they receive the earnest, active co-operation of the citizens of Brown county.

The situation is particularly bad in certain sections of Brownwood. Citizens living in these sections, among the best people of Brown county, own and occupy their homes, and are continually harassed by drinking and disorderly conduct. There are many cheap rental houses in Brownwood that are almost continuously used for illegal purposes. We suggest to the owners of such property that they can help relieve an intolerable condition by making careful investigation of the character of their tenants for rental of their properties. The law abiding home owners of the county are entitled to the peaceful occupancy of their homes and the opportunities to raise their families without the menace of disreputable neighbors.

Jail Inspection "We made a careful inspection of the following directions: On the screw-top jars, screw the cap down evenly until it catches hold of the rubber ring.

On the screw-down type jars, screw the lid on firmly. With the wire-clamp glass jars, raise the upper clamp in position to hold the lid in place, leaving the lower clamp loose until after processing.

On the automatic seal jars, fasten the cap with the metal spring or clamp.

Seal the tin cans which have been packed hot before placing them in the canner. When not packed boiling, the cans should be exhausted before sealing to remove the air. Do this by placing in a pan of boiling water and leave until material boils. Then seal at once. The air should be removed as completely as possible from the material being canned before it is sealed in the canner.

In case of glass jars packed with food below the boiling temperature, exhausting is done during the processing, since they are not sealed airtight when placed in the canner. In tin cans and glass jars packed boiling hot the head space is filled with steam and further exhausting is unnecessary. Heat all other tin cans in water or steam bath until steaming hot in order to drive out air; then seal immediately.

For Canning Berries and Apricots, Pack containing 1/2 cup of each boiling hot syrup (medium syrup) or pre-cooked and pack hot. Cook in boiling water, 20 minutes, for pints and quart glass jars. For No. 2 and 3 cans, 15 minutes. This is counted as the beginning of the canning.

Canning Beans, Water-Bath Canner String fresh young beans, place on fire, when boiling well fill jars with beans using 1 scant teaspoon salt to each quart jar, fill to top of jar with the liquid beans were cooked in. Screw jar top tight and boil for several minutes, but later settled one hour after it is sealed. Be sure the water used in canner is as hot as water in jars to prevent breaking. When time is up, remove test seal and place in a room free from draught. Next day place back in canner and boil one hour again, counting time after water is boiling. Repeat for the third day each time, boiling one hour.

The water-bath canner may be a wash tub or bucket, use a heavy cloth or wooden rack in the bottom to keep the jars from direct contact with the heat and do not let the jars touch each other. Allow enough space for circulation.

Pressure Cooker String beans. Heat to boiling with water to cover. Pack hot into containers, cook 35 to 40 minutes, for pints and quarts, and No. 2 and 3 cans, for 35 to 40 minutes at 15 pounds pressure. Plunge tin cans in to cold water when time is up to cool.

Would Publish Reports "As it is of such vast importance to the tax payers we recommend to the commissioners' court that the auditor's report be published in the daily and weekly newspapers. We believe the newspapers will co-operate to the extent that it can be done without heavy cost.

"In our investigations we have received the hearty co-operation of many citizens, the district and county attorneys, the sheriff and his deputies, the chief of police of Brownwood and his assistants, for which we are truly grateful.

"Our bailiffs were faithful and efficient, and we commend them for their services.

"We also appreciate with great appreciation the courtesies at the hands of Your Honor and the county judge."

Yours very respectfully, J. R. WILSON, Foreman.

Wash Chandler, about 74 or 75, the first colored child born in Brown county and probably the best known colored man in this section, died at 8:15 o'clock Sunday morning, June 5, at his home on Cordell street, "Old Wash Chandler," as he has been known, had many white friends as well as friends among his own race.

When Welcome W. Chandler and J. H. Fowler came to Brown county from Mississippi in 1856 they brought six slaves to Texas with them. Welcome W. Chandler was one of the earliest pioneers of the county, as was Fowler, who later married one of Chandler's daughters.

Wash Chandler was born in the late 50's, the first colored child born in the county, the child of a couple of the slaves brought here by Chandler. Wash was born into slavery and although his race was freed a few years later, he liked to tell that he was born a slave. His friends among the whites were made because he loved and respected white people.

The Chandlers and Fowlers, masters of Wash Chandler, cultivated the first land that was cultivated in Brown county. They owned and worked the Lucas farm, east of Brownwood, and put 100 acres into cultivation, having rails out to fence the tract from the natural forests of the county along Pecan Bayou. The first courthouse in the county was on Chandler's land. Welcome Chandler was the first county judge of Brown county and the first postmaster of Brownwood. Fowler lived in Brownwood and his descendants still live there.

Wash Chandler lived in Brown county all his life, making only short trips to any other places. He was married to Salena Pratt in 1858 and to the couple fourteen children were born, six boys and eight girls. Wash is survived by one brother, John Joseph of Brownwood, one sister, Mrs. Jane Harris of Brownwood and other relatives.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Lee's Chapel, A. M. E. Church, of which Wash was a member. Services were conducted by Rev. C. J. Jones. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Holman Funeral Home.

APPEAL CONSIDERED BURNET, Texas, June 9—Appeal of a five-year sentence given Ophelia Garcia, Mexican woman, for beating to death with a stick a two-year-old child, was considered today by Ben L. King, defense attorney appointed by the court.

Exchange Established With View to Saving Food on Brown County Farms By Getting Canning Done on Halves

That the vegetables on Brown county farms shall be canned for a winter food supply is of vital importance, says County Agent O. P. Griffin, and yet many of the farmers have no money with which to buy cans. Therefore, the county agent's office is starting an exchange whereby he believes the farmers and also people furnishing the cans can be benefited by a plan of having canning done on the halves, Mr. Griffin explains this move as follows:

"There are many farmers who have lots of vegetables and fruit, such as string beans, lima beans, peas, corn, tomatoes, berries, peaches, etc., but they have no money to buy cans in which to preserve food for next winter's use. Unless this food is preserved some one may go hungry next winter.

"Also there are people in Brownwood who would like to save on their food purchases. Now, an exchange has been started to get the food preserved on the halves. That is, the farmers will the cans for half the price. Anyone who wishes to have canning done can list at the county agent's office the number of cans he desires to have filled and what vegetables or fruits he desires. Farmers who wish to do-canning may list the kinds of vegetables and fruits they have and the number of cans they need. The listing will be gotten together and the cans filled to order.

"Home canned vegetables are recognized as being better than factory canned goods. This is because everything is canned perfectly fresh and the cans are well filled. It is hoped that Brownwood grocersmen will join in this program and help to preserve all the vegetables that would otherwise go to waste, even the produce that is open to anyone who desires to cooperate.

"The production and preservation of food has already slowed up to a considerable extent on account of low prices and the uncertainty of profits. Stocks are becoming smaller month by month as production decreases. Next winter may bring a shortage unless precaution is taken to prevent waste. A food shortage will bring high prices and our 'land of surpluses' may find it difficult on the part of many to secure food of the kind to preserve health."

RISE IN BAYOU FOLLOWS RAINS TOM CONNALLY WILL NOMINATE JOHN N. GARNER

Pecan Bayou was steadily rising this afternoon as a result of heavy rains over the watershed Wednesday night. The water rose several feet during the morning and afternoon was rising at the rate of a foot an hour at Brownwood.

One of the heaviest rains of the season fell in Brownwood Wednesday night, totaling 1.05 inches, according to the government rain gauge. The rain, accompanied at first by a hard wind, fell in torrents for several minutes, but later settled into a steady downpour.

Other streams over the country were rising today and tanks were filled to overflowing. "The section is soaked by the rain Wednesday night and recent previous rains."

Galveston Bayou has been open since the rise started and the water is flowing through the conduits. Very little water has been backed up at the dam since the conduits are taking care of the flow. A few days ago the water on a rise at the dam when the gates were closed backed up for some distance and was standing about four feet over the Byrds road. This road will be submerged when the dam is completed and the lake fills.

Report of Rains Other towns in the section also received by southwestern State Telephone Company are: Goldthwaite, big rain; Coleman, heavy rain; Ballinger, light rain; Brady, none; Bangs, 1/2 inches; Abilene, big rain; Austin, light rain; Blanket, big rain; Menard, big rain; Comanche, heavy rain; Cisco, good rain; Dublin, heavy rain; Dallas, big rain; Fort Worth, heavy rain; Lampasas, big rain; San Angelo, none; Santa Anna, good rain; Waco, heavy rain; Richmond Springs, sprinkle; Zephyr, big rain; Rising Star, heavy rain, and Tricham, 1/2 inch.

Wednesday was the hottest day of the summer here, according to weather reports. The maximum temperature was 98 degrees on the government thermometer. In the business section, however, some thermometers registered two and three degrees over 100. The 98 degrees is two or three degrees higher than any other reading for this summer.

Mobley said Sunday, referring after the accident that he had started across the highway to stop at a gasoline station on the left side of the highway. He was driving out of town and the Lucas car was coming toward town. The whole scene was witnessed by Mr. Mobley, who was driving a car with the others. Mr. Mobley had not the others drive his car and was not with them when the accident occurred.

KNOBLER SALE BEGINS FRIDAY

Friday morning at 9 o'clock Knobler's Stile Shop begins what it styles a No Profit Sale. "Our aim," says Dave Knobler, "is to reduce our stock and raise cash. We have no thought of profit in mind, consequently everything will be sold at cost price and many articles for far below cost."

Farming for Food

SPEAKING more or less facetiously the other day before a Brownwood service club, President Thos. H. Taylor of Howard Payne college answered the question, "What would I do if I were out of a job?" by declaring that he would arrange for a few acres of Brown county land, move onto the place and go to work.

Dr. Taylor was born and reared on a farm, and therefore has a love for and a confidence in the soil that is not to be found in every man's heart, but he has reflected a sentiment that seems to be sweeping all over the country as one of the most interesting phases of the post-depression situation.

A few years ago there was real alarm because of the steady exodus from the farm to the city. Now the process is reversed, and all over the country people are moving from the cities and towns back to the farms. Farm lands that have been idle for years are again being cultivated.

Men who have toiled in factories or elsewhere in the population centers are now taking up the implements of agriculture. Children who have been accustomed to the city streets are now familiarizing themselves with the open spaces of the country.

There is already an over-production of farm products, to be sure, but these people who are moving from the cities to the farms are not thinking about that. Rather, they are thinking that on small farms they can produce foodstuffs for themselves and their families, and can achieve a measure of independence that is impossible in the population centers.

The farmer has a hard life, and during the past three years has suffered heavily along with the rest of us, but very few farmers are in breadlines and most of them have no anxiety for the food supplies of the coming summer and fall.

A great many people who are utterly unsuited for farm life, of course, are now in the procession farmward, and some of them probably will register bitter failure. But the farm is not very far removed from most of us, despite our long residence in towns or cities and our lack of acquaintance with many of the agricultural problems. Men who are willing to work, and who either know something about farming or are willing to seek information from those who know, and who have physical strength and energy, may find on the farm a place of peace and security, and that is what most of them are seeking who are now going back to the soil as a source of livelihood.

Examining trials held for four men, all freed on bond. Examining trials for Bob Stegins, C. E. Alderson, Monroe Stewart and Len Stewart, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for purposes of sale, were held Monday before Judge E. T. Perkinson. At the conclusion of the trials, Judge Perkinson ordered all four held for action of the district court and fixed their bonds at $500 each, which were made immediately.

The Senate Tax Bill

NOW that the Senate has finally passed a tax bill, a good many people are raising their voices to ask why in the name of good government the job took such a long, long time. The obvious reply, of course, is that the Senate is an unwieldy body cursed by politics, and that the delay was chiefly a matter of sheer inefficiency and partisan obstructionism. But that hardly tells the whole story.

It would be more nearly right to say that the Senate went slowly because it reflected the confusion of the country at large. There is no sign that the mass of citizens have at any time been in agreement on any phase of the taxation measure, because each citizen has wanted a tax plan that would relieve him and place the burden on someone else. A score of plans have been advanced, each enjoying wide support. The Senate had to choose among them—and, really, when all is said and done it did a pretty fair job.

Cox and McInnis Application Writ Of Error Withdrawn

The application of Cox and McInnis for writ of error which was pending before the State Supreme Court has been withdrawn, according to T. C. Wilkinson, attorney for the land owners. The Cox-McInnis land is in Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1. In the condemnation hearings the land owners were allowed between $35,000 and $40,000.

Cox and McInnis appealed the case to the court of civil appeals and the judgment was upheld. The case was appealed to the supreme court on an application for writ of error. Withdrawal of the application means dropping of the suit.

Roger George Wins Honors At Canyon

Roger George of Thrifty did his freshman year of college in Howard Payne and went to the West Texas State Teachers College, located in Canyon, for his sophomore year. He carried six subjects for most of this year and did outstanding work in all of them. He won the Regents Scholarship which is granted to the student doing the most outstanding work in school.

This is the most coveted scholarship that is offered by the State Teachers Colleges because it means that the individual winning it, first has made most excellent all-round grades. Second has conducted himself in and out of school in such a manner that there is no question but that he is of the finest type possible, and third that he has the absolute confidence of the entire faculty.

Roger is majoring in mathematics and minoring in science. This is conceded to be the hardest course offered in any college and he stood at the head of all his classes. He plans to go on and get his degree as soon as possible.

Funeral Services Held Monday For Elizabeth DeBerry. Funeral services for Elizabeth DeBerry, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. DeBerry of this city, who was killed in an automobile collision Sunday morning, were held at St. John's Episcopal Church at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 5:00 o'clock at the residence with Rev. John N. Bent, pastor First Methodist church officiating. Interment was made in Greenleaf cemetery with McInnis Funeral Home in charge.

She is survived by the parents, Mrs. H. C. Lucas and others, who were less seriously injured, when the tragic accident Sunday morning occurred. Elizabeth finished her sophomore year in Brownwood High School last month and would have entered next September as a junior. She was one of the most popular young girls at the school and had many young friends who sorrow at her untimely passing.

She was born March 8, 1917, in Fort Worth, but had lived in Brownwood most of her life. The great many friends in Brownwood extend sympathy and condolence to the bereaved parents.

Funeral services were held at Salem Church and interment was made in Salem cemetery. Rev. E. P. Swindall of Bangs officiated and H. L. Allcorn of Bangs was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Curry was a man of sterling character and possessed all the qualities that go to make up the highest type of citizen and Christian gentleman, one of his friends said, expressing the verdict of all his acquaintances.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The senate today reaffirmed its approval of the ten per cent government salary cut by defeating, 41 to 36, a Jurgenson plan offered as a substitute by Senator Moses, republican, N. H.

The salary reduction recommended by a special economy committee has withstood strong opposition from various senate groups, which introduced a dozen or more plans calling for graduated reductions and exemptions of employees in the lower brackets.

The committee pay cut exempts only those workers with compensations under $1,000 annually. Its estimated saving is $117,000,000. The Moses substitute would have saved $85,000,000.

Senator Bratton, democrat, New Mexico, opened debate on the Jurgenson plan, pointing out although the administration portrays itself as a champion of 'economy' every move by congress to cut appropriations had been opposed by cabinet members.

Under the furiously system, Bratton argued, "it is impossible to estimate how much would be saved, because it is impossible to know how many substitutes are necessary or would be employed."

Soldier Graves at Zephyr Decorated

The grave of Isham A. Smith, first Brown county boy, who died in the world war and for whom the local American Legion post is named, in the Zephyr cemetery, was decorated by members of the local post and auxiliary Sunday afternoon. Graves of four other soldiers in the Zephyr cemetery also were decorated.

Every year the post from Brownwood holds memorial services at Zephyr and decorates the graves in the cemetery. A large crowd of Legionnaires and Auxiliary members took part in the services this year.

Rev. I. K. Floyd, pastor Austin Avenue Presbyterian church, chaplain of the post, preached the memorial sermon at the Zephyr Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon. The graves were decorated following the sermon.

A large crowd of Zephyr people also attended the services. SHERIFF'S SALE THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Brown.

POST COMMANDER HERE IS FOR SOLDIER BONUS BUT AGAINST MARCHERS

W. G. Streckert, commander of the Isham A. Smith American Legion Post, is in favor of the soldiers' bonus and believes it should be paid by the government, but he is heartily opposed to the bonus marchers, ex-soldiers who have marched, are marching to Washington demanding that congress pay the bonus.

The marchers are taking the wrong kind of action to get the bonus bill passed and congress could hardly be expected to pass the bill under demands made like those being made by the marchers, he thinks.

"I am not in sympathy with the kind of action the marchers are taking in regard to getting the bonus bill passed. I feel that it is contrary to the ethics of the American Legion. The Legion among other things stands for law and order. The confiscation of railroad trains and other things done by the marchers can hardly be considered as observing the law. I believe the march will be injurious to the cause of all ex-service men."

"I would like to see the bonus given the ex-soldiers. Congress today is trying to decide relief measures and is appropriating money to give relief. Congress is creating new debts by passing the relief measures which the tax payers will have to pay. The debt to the ex-soldiers already has been made and is acknowledged. Why not pay this debt to the ex-service men and at the same time bring about relief."

"The ex-soldiers in this way would be used as distributors of the money paid to them and the money will reach more common people than it would spend in any other way and will be more evenly distributed. Some ex-soldiers are in need and others could use the money to good advantage. They would not keep the money, but would spend it with the butcher, the baker and the candle stick maker and each would get his share. Brown county ex-soldiers would receive about $500,000 if the bonus were paid. Think how that would help the business of the county," Mr. Streckert said in closing.

FARM WORK PLAN FOR RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYMENT SUGGESTED

A plan for relieving unemployment and at the same time furnishing much needed labor to the farmers is being discussed by a number of people in Brownwood and Brown county, according to reports received by The Bulletin.

The plan as outlined is in part as follows: Meetings of the people in every community. Selection at the meeting of leaders and committee to make a survey to determine the amount of labor each farmer in the community can give. Let unemployed of Brownwood and the county do the farm work. Pay for work in vegetables, flour, meat or any farm product.

If this plan is carried out the unemployed, who need food more than they need money, will be fed and the farmers, who need work done but have no money to pay will get their crops worked. The plan has only been suggested but has met with approval of many. The plan with which it has met indicates that it will be carried out and put into practice.
