Education study results support parental choice and school competition

by Janet Felderhoff

The results of a research study of education released March 23 suggest that the key to successful schools is more effective school organization and greater school autonomy. The most promising approach to achieving these goals is school competition and parental choice.

According to the study, if the problems of excessive regulation, inefficient operation, and ineffective service are to be alleviated, educational systems will need to be reorganized fundamentally. "Public school monopolies will need to be opened to competition, and social control over schools will need to be exercised less through politics and central regulation and more through markets and parental choice."

The study, entitled "Educational Choice", was released March 23 by the San Antonio based Texas Public Policy Foundation. Conducted by Dr. John Chubb, Senior Fellow with the prestigious Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C. and Dr. Terry Moe, and Stanford University professor, the study gives answers to the most frequently asked questions about mediocrity in American education and what can be done about it.

"Dr. John Chubb is in error

many places in his study entitled Educational Choices so far as Muenster I.S.D. is concerned," said Superintendent Charles Coffey. "Muenster I.S.D. runs a very efficient operation financially, rather than the inefficient operation referred to by Dr. Chubb. During the 1988-89 school year Muenster I.S.D. spent $3,255.00 per student while the statewide average expenditure per pupil was $3,766.00."

Texas Public Policy Foundation president, Fritz S. Steiger, released the study at a special policy luncheon sponsored by the Foundation for the purpose of briefing San Antonio business and govern-number of national and state leaders who have recently embraced the concept of school choice as the cornerstone of their own educational reform efforts. The Chubb study, which took more than five years to complete, surveyed 400 high schools across the nation, and interviewed over 20,000 students, teachers, and principals.

"In this study, Mr. Steiger and Dr. Chubb did not check all test scores for all districts in the state since Muenster I.S.D. pupils annually score above the state average on any standardized test given to pupils attending Texas Public Schools," stated Coffey.

Muenster," commented Jack Murdock, principal of Sacred Heart School. "The students and faculty of both local schools try to cooperate, but they can't help being competitive. We have the sort of things suggested in the study and students of both schools enjoy good academic success."

"Muenster I.S.D. welcomes the competition and the choices provided to patrons living in the district provided by the presence of the Catholic school," remarked Superintendent Coffey.

Dr. Chubb points out that many of our nation's public schools are ruled by external political forces (from school board to unions) and

Muenster girls finish second; set new records at SH Relays

"Thank the Lord for a beautiful day," said Sacred Heart athletic director Jon LeBrasseur, "an ideal day for a track meet."

The weather was beautiful last Saturday, especially compared to the weekend before, for the annual Sacred Heart Tiger Relays. Fifty-three teams from 26 schools competed, including 3A, 2A and 1A schools.

Pilot Point finished on top in the girl's division followed by Muenster and Lindsay. Sacred Heart came in eighth. Bishop Dunne took home the boy's number one trophy, followed by Pilop Point and Callisburg. The Tigers were unable to qualify for any of the finals.

"There was a great field of athletes," commented Coach Jon. Eighteen new meet records were set. Muenster's Tina Klement beat Julie Dowd's 1987 records in the 1600m and 3200m runs, while Yancy Culp set a new meet record in the 1600m run.

Three Lindsay tracksters also joined the ranks: Kristi Krebs in the 400m; and Felisha Hellinger in the 300m high hurdles, a new event for the ladies; and Joel Metzler added the triple jump to the meet records. Improved times were also set in the boy's 3200m, 400m, 800m and 300m hurdles. Records were set in the girl's 100m, 200m, 800m runs, the 400m 800m and 1600m relays and the triple jump.

Sharon Fuhrmann earned two gold medals for Sacred Heart in the throwing events, winning the discus and shot put. She was the only medal winner for the Tigerettes.

Tina Klement was awarded the gold in the distant runs, with Kim Anderly winning the high jump. Six other Hornets finished with medals: Denise Anderle, Cindy Culp, Shonna Reiter, and Amy Dankesreiter earned silver medals and Melissa Bayer and Roxie Knabe finished third in their events.

The Lindsay girls were led by Kristi Krebs who, besides winning the 400m, came in third in both jumping events. Felisha Hellinger won the 300m hurdles and the 400m relay team of Hellinger, Krebs, Cassandra Fuhrmann and Julie Fuhrmann finished in third.

Yancy Culp led the Hornets, finishing first in the 1600m and second in the 3200m runs. The gold medal went to Jerry Brawner in the high jump and Ryan Sicking earned a second in the 300m hurdles.

Joel Metzler was the only medal winner for the Knights.

The Tigers failed to earn a medal.

Coach Jon wished to thank the Sacred Heart Alumni, the Muenster High School Athletic Department and the many volunteers needed to "excellently run a track meet of this magnitude. Meet coaches expressed nothing but praise for the well-organized meet," stated the Sacred Heart Coach.

Complete finalists, times and distances are reported on Page 14, with team totals completing the statistics.

The Shoe Rack to hold grand opening

Muenster's most recent young business entrepreneur, Terri Whitley, has announced the grand opening of The Shoe Rack during the week of April 9 through 14. "Come in and see what I have," invites Terri.

Terri is planning to give away door prizes and will have a drawing each day of the grand opening week. She will select the prizes from the merchandise available in The Shoe Rack.

Foot wear available at present is from Connie Shoes and Keds. The Connie Shoes are offered in ladies sizes 5-11 and the customer can choose from flats, sandals, high or low heeled dress shoes, and oxfords. Keds shoe sizes and styles range from childrens to adults.

Also available are a selection of Connie Accessories such as purses and shoe bows. Terri has made arrangements to carry the Fall line of Calico and 9 West shoes.

Other merchandise worthy of special attention in the Shoe Rack are a variety of hairbows created by Lisa Rohmer and a unique selection of sweat and tee shirts designed by Flo Walterscheid. Also casual wear outfits by Designer Classic of Fort Worth that are similar to the now popular units.

The Connie and Keds brands were especially chosen by Terri because they allow her to place single orders and she can make special orders for people with a need for odd sizes to accommodate wide or narrow feet.

Another good feature of the Connie shoes is their flexi-soles that give with the foot, said Terri. Connie offers dyeable shoes and Terri plans to offer at a future date the service of dying shoes to match any outfit.

mental leadership on the concept of school choice. Chubb was the featured speaker at the event.

In making the announcement Steiger said, "With student performance continuing to decline in our state's public schools...and spending for educational reform continuing to increase, we felt the release of this paper to be very timely in Texas." He went on to point out that the special legislative session to deal with the Texas Supreme Court's equal funding for schools' mandate (Edgewood vs. Kirby) also made the release of the study critically important.

President George Bush and Secretary of Education Lauro Cavazos are among a growing

According to Dr. Chubb, the heart of the school choice issue is the idea that the best kind of school reforms are those that promote competition between schools. He cites private schools (whose educational quality is generally seen as much higher than public schools) as examples of what schools can accomplish in a competitive, free market environment.

"We have that situation here in bogged down in an escalating cycle of bureaucracy. He sees them as largely un-responsive to the real needs of students and their parents and more responsive to the bureaucratic systems that inhibit the important process of teaching and learning.

"The key," says Chubb, "is to free excessive bureaucracy imposed by external controls and give principals and teachers the

Vote Tuesday for primary runoffs

by Elaine Schad

While there are no local races on the ballot, Cooke County voters are reminded that Tuesday, April 10, is runoff day for both the Democrats and Republicans.

The same precincts will be in operation from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for the April 10 election as for the March 10 primary election, according to officials with the county clerk's office. Voters may also vote absentee at the county clerk's office until 5 p.m. Friday for either runoff.

The race that has gained the most attention statewide has been the runoff for governor, where Jim Mattox or Ann Richards will be selected to run against Republican opponent Clayton Williams.

Cooke County Democrats will decide three other races. For State Treasurer, Nikke Van Hightower is facing Tom Bowden. In the Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 2 runoff, Ross Sears is running against Bob Gammage. In the Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 1, Morris L. Overstreet is running against Frank Maloney.

Republicans will decide two runoff contests. The race for the Commissioner of the General Land Office has West Gilbreath running against Grady Yarbrough. Commissioner of Agriculture runoff opponents are Richard McIver and Rick Perry.

Good News

From this time on, many of his disciples broke away and would not remain in his company any longer. Jesus then said to the Twelve, "Do you want to leave me too?" Simon Peter answered him, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life."

Don't Forget ...

Primary election runoffs Tuesday, April 10. Voting places are the same as in March.

Deadline to sign as a candidate for the Muenster Hospital Board is Monday, April 9.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

In the 1990's, let's say "YES TO LIFE." You have a choice between two things: to one you say "NO;" to the other "YES."

When you say no to drugs, you are saying no to a lifestyle which includes drugs, alcohol, school dropouts, runaways, jobless, prison, poverty, suicidal, hate, violence, crime, loss of family, prostitution, teenage pregnancy, aids and other birth defects, crack and cocaine-addicted babies, unwanted babies dumped in trash cans, child abuse and parental neglect. We are saying "NO" to the conditions we don't want. If you are into the above lifestyle, take control of your life by making a new decision, rehabilitate. Rehabilitation prepares us to be noble men and women. No effort is too great. You life is a gift. Life is for living and giving. Make the right choice. A positive lifestyle allows us the freedom to be loving, healthy, successful, happy people that we are created to be. LIFE IS PEACEFUL!!

We all have the ability to lift our vision to see new values, to establish new goals. Say "YES TO LIFE" and to what we really want. As parents, we choose to build a new civilization, a healthy, happy and drug-free, peaceful, community and country. We say "YES" to health, happiness, abundance, freedom, love, trust, respect, faith, courage, honesty, goodwill, laughter and humor. Say "YES" to developing your talents, "YES" to education and job training, "YES" to sharing, "YES" to good relationships with all people. Do something good for somebody. Volunteer your time and talents; work is fun; friends are fun; parents and grandparents are fun.

When you say "YES TO LIFE," you are a "POINT OF LIGHT" and you are playing a vital part in creating a new civilization. You are helping to eliminate the cause of human suffering.

LIFE IS PEACE!! LIFE IS BEAUTIFUL!! LET IT BEGIN WITH ME!!

Williamson votes against Senate Bill 31

State Representative Ric Williamson (D-Weatherford) voted against Senate Bill 31 and against all floor substitutes during debate on the House floor Thursday, March 22.

"Once again, property taxpayers in Cooke County are put in the corner. Every proposal presented today spends more money to the property wealthy urban school districts while demanding more property taxes of the suburban and rural school districts. I have said before and I will not change my position - I will not vote for a new public education finance system that does not bring property tax relief to Cooke County."

The House of Representatives spent the entire day debating public education financing and public education policy. Most of the proposals talked about increasing state assistance without providing any way to pay for that assistance. "Why should we be guilty of the same ineptitude as the Federal government?" Williamson commented. "We need to quit trying to fool the folks back home. There is no free lunch in Texas today - the cost of public education cannot continue to go straight to property owners."

In addition to financial options, the House of Representatives debated a series of proposed changes to education policy. Among those changes were - open enrollment, increased local authority and changes to the State School Board rule making process.

"I supported each amendment that would give more control to the education process at the district and campus level. Unfortunately, most of the special interest groups involved in education are afraid of any changes that would decentralize and de-regulate our education process. I will continue to support the return of control of our public schools to our neighborhoods and taxpayers."

Williamson commented. The final vote saw the defeat of Senate Bill 31 by a margin of 101 against and 45 in favor.

If you let a junk car sit around, you're wrong!

While doing research for this week's Groad Hole story an interesting discovery was made. That is Muenster has had an ordinance since March 20, 1972 wherein any person or business owning or renting property within the city limits can be forced to remove any tall grass or weeds, various types of junk, trash, etc., and any old or unoperative vehicles.

The city usually makes a request to have the offensive objects removed. If after a given number of days the request has not been honored, then a citation is issued. Failure to obey the citation can result in the case being brought before the city judge and according to Celine Dittfurth, city secretary, he usually issues a stiff penalty. The toughest can be a $200 fine which if the judge chooses can be for each day until the ordinance is complied with.

The city also has the option of removing and disposing of any abandoned non-operative vehicle or any such that may be left standing or parked on any street, lot or premises. They may be held and after giving the owner a ten day notice it can be sold with the city getting the proceeds. If the owner wishes to claim the vehicle before the 10 days are up, he must pay for all costs involved of removing the vehicle plus a service fee of $25.00.

City Hall was in the process of sending out five requests to owners of vehicles when we contacted them Tuesday. There are numerous junked vehicles in and around Muenster. They have been chosen as Groad Hole of the Week Awardees.

Persons owning these unsightly vehicles might want to contact Gilbert Wayne Auto Salvage in Gainesville, 668-8501 or Roy's Auto Salvage, 665-3981 also in Gainesville.

Gilbert Wayne will discuss prices on the phone, but will pay around $35 for a complete junk car and around $15 with no motor or transmission. He doesn't charge for hauling, but requires a title.

Roy's Auto pays $25 and up depending on the vehicle. If you don't have a title or bill of sale he will let you sign a property owner's removal permission form.

It may be in your best interest to get rid of your old vehicle before it costs you money instead of making you a few bucks.

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to Margaret Galubenski's letter in The Gainesville Register on March 30, 1990.

The problem of high property taxes of all taxing entities in Cooke County hits the home owner the hardest. Today the local taxes on a modest farm home exceeds the amount paid on an entire farm just a very few years ago, and there seems to be no relief in sight (an annual 20 percent increase seems to be the norm) as every arm of government, every school district - every taxing entity thinks they simply must have more money to operate.

What is the answer? What can and what should we do in order to more evenly and equitably spread this burden?

On the county or local level we should make certain that properties in Cooke County are properly appraised (fairly, honestly and accurately). Render your own taxes (set your own property values) especially if you do not agree with the appraisal district's valuation (you have that right).

On the state level, in theory we tax wealth, but the greatest wealth in Texas goes scot-free of any state taxes. How is that? A little known and thoroughly misunderstood amendment to the Texas Constitution was passed along with the Reveto Bill making it unlawful to tax the yield of intangibles (state bonds, certificates of deposits, etc.).

Today, we should be doing what Tennessee has been doing since 1930. Namely, collecting 4 percent of the yield of all in state intangibles and 6 percent of Texas money invested out of state.

We must have I & R (Initiative and Referendum) in order to accomplish this, for insurance companies alone in Texas have billions and billions that pay not one red cent in state taxes, and make no mistake - they control the Texas Legislature. We (the tangible taxpayers) must be able to petition and get the issue on the ballot for a vote of the people.

Yes, write your state legislators and state senators and candidates for governor demanding I & R. It will take a 2/3 majority in both houses.

Our message must be, "Give us I & R (Initiative & Referendum) and some badly needed improvements in Texas state government will become a reality." (21 states now have it - Texas should be next.) We the tangible taxpayers should not have to bear this burden alone!

To be a page, the student must have parental consent. Parents are invited to attend the convention with the student. The page and his family must pay their own hotel expenses and meals. For more information, or to request an application, call 759-2890.

COMMENT: A meditation on moving

by Pam Fette

A decision was made in our household last November. After 8 1/2 years in our house on Willow Street, we decided to look for a house in the country. We needed more space, we wanted the benefits of country living and we wanted to adopt a "back-to-basics" lifestyle. Sitting in our familiar kitchen over a cup of coffee, it seemed wonderfully easy and exciting to move. "Where to move?" took a little more time.

Unbeknownst to me, David's dream of living on the family farm was carrying him away with memories of his happy childhood, with Granny and Pop's farm playing a big role. I said, "NO WAY!" The house was unoccupied for years! I've never painted anything! David asked me if I would consider it. I said, "Absolutely not!" but that I would pray about it. A big mistake, because God changed my heart completely, the family graciously agreed and we were on our way to 3 1/2 months of the hardest work I have ever done.

But God is always right. He came in the form of dozens of friends to help us. He was there every step of the way. And so, on one rainy, dreary Saturday, the Fette family moved.

Muenster, Texas is the greatest place on earth to live. I love it. I moved every one to two years all of my life and settling in this community has been the fulfillment of our dreams for ourselves and our family. I thought moving a half mile would be easy. In 26 years, I never cried once when I moved. I just said goodbye, closed the door and walked on. This time it was different. I cried buckets full. Why? Not for the bricks and mortar, but for the rooms that my babies laid their heads down for the first time; and for the sidewalks David laid stone by stone; and for the kitchen where the high chair stood and the birthday cakes were cut. Yes, moving this time was different. For the first time in my life, I realized I allowed myself to make an emotional investment in a home, a community, and a people.

Now, for the time being, in our new (old) house, memories will be made again, until someday God calls us to move on. One day at a time, I will again allow myself to make an emotional investment in a place. I will learn the ways of the country life - water wells, septic tanks, mice, skunks, moaning cows, quiet breezes blowing, room to roam, and the beautiful view of the place I call home, Muenster, when the city's lights turn on after dark.

So, for now, from my kitchen table over coffee, in the country, I say goodbye today with tears to the old and turn with a smile to face the new. I know that if I keep my eyes on Him who is leading us, all will be for our good.

Love to all, Pam Fette

P.S. Our favorite scripture is, "Unless the Lord builds a house, then in vain do builders labor."

autonomy to carry out the teaching/learning mission of the school." He also stresses that educational choice creates the environment for schools to implement a second wave of reforms that include more on-site leadership by principals, clearer definition of school mission, and more professionalism by teachers. These changes are natural responses to competitive pressures when a system of school choice is in place. "Markets promote the kind of restructuring that politics have now made necessary," said Chubb.

"Perhaps these two researchers are attempting to justify receipt of the grant money from the Brookings Institution for the Texas Public Policy Foundation to release the inaccurate statement in regard to our school district," said Coffey. "I would like to pose the question, what is the purpose or ultimate goal of the TPPF, and what public, private, or parochial school districts compose its membership?"

"The problems encountered in teaching and providing education for pupils in the San Antonio area with a large majority of minority group pupils are undoubtedly even more complex and possibly a great deal more challenging than those encountered daily in Muenster I.S.D.," stated Coffey. In Muenster there are very strong family ties, old fashioned values and the schools are community centers, this makes for a good education system, said Jack Murdock. "This probably won't solve school difficulties where there are language difficulties and students come from a wide variety of family backgrounds," commented Murdock. The information on what it takes to make good school systems has been available a long time before any of these fancy studies have been done. It is there but nobody is doing anything about it."

In conclusion Mr. Coffey said, "In public education, we are required to enroll ALL pupils and to attempt to educate ALL students. In our district we have successfully done this at the lowest possible cost to our taxpayers. Our test scores, the success of our students attending colleges and universities, and the results of accreditation visits by the Texas Education Agency all indicate that the staff of Muenster I.S.D. is experiencing much success in educating our students."

Muenster Kiwanis donate scholarships

Muenster Kiwanis Club has donated money to fund two scholarships for local graduates interested in a college education. One scholarship will be awarded to a graduate of Muenster Public High School, and another will be awarded to a graduate of Sacred Heart High.

The money will be awarded by the Cooke County College Endowment Foundation. Interested applicants should contact the college, identifying their interest in applying for the Muenster Graduate Scholarship. While one of the requirements will focus on the graduate's academic record, this should not discourage anyone from making application. The Endowment Foundation has unrestricted funds to be used for other applicants.

Funds were initially donated to the Foundation in 1988. At that time the club had hoped it would spark enough interest locally so a total of $10,000 could be raised, which is just enough to fund one scholarship a year from the interest earned on that amount. The intent was to never have to spend the money raised, and having a scholarship each year

"forever." The full $10,000 could not be raised, and the smaller amount the club donated will now be disbursed as two scholarships this next year. "However, the publicity from The Muenster Enterprise story back in 1988 resulted in a local area person deciding to donate two fully endowed scholarships of $10,000 each to the Foundation," said Kiwanis member Gary Fisher. "The person donated the funds in memorial of her late husband as a "living" memorial. The moral of this story is that while what we do may seem minor or small, the impact of the good we do can influence others who are able to help in a major way."

The Muenster Kiwanis Club of Muenster reminds any interested person who would like to set up a memorial now, or to work out the details for doing so from their estate as a means to reduce estate taxes, please contact the Endowment Foundation at Cooke County College. The CCEEF is a fully IRS approved non-profit foundation. All donations are tax deductible. The Foundation will provide contacts for assistance on "Estate Tax Planning" if desired.

Boy Scouts sponsor Food Drive

It's called the "biggest food drive in the world." The National Council of the Boy Scouts of America will launch perhaps the largest "good turn" in its 78 year history. The Council is coordinating a nationwide food collection for April 7.

Cooke County Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts distributed "Scouting for Food" bags Saturday, March 31 to houses throughout Gainesville, Valley View, Muenster and Lindsay. All food collected stays in the Cooke County area to help the needy.

Muenster Pack 664 and Troop 664 will return Saturday April 7 to collect the full bags and take them to the Muenster Police Station.

If not able to be home, just set the bags on the front porch and they will be picked up, or contact any Cub Scout or Boy Scout leader for pick up.

The boys request non-perishable foods in non-breakable containers to be donated.

Help the Boy Scouts do a large "good turn" for Muenster!

Franciscan Fraternity hosts provincial fraternity March 20

The Franciscans Fraternity of St. Peter's Church of Lindsay received Father Martin Wolter OFM, provincial special assistant from Eureka Springs, Arkansas during the March 20 meeting. He celebrated Holy mass at 11 a.m. and during his homily he commented on paintings on the sanctuary wall, stressing in particular the lives of St. Barbara and St. Clara. He also urged fraternity members to be at peace with themselves, family, neighbors and all people.

Members gathered in the home of Henry and Frances Zimmerer, following Mass, to enjoy a covered dish meal.

The formal Visitation meeting followed. Members received copies of the official Franciscan Forum and the unofficial "Communications." "The Mustard Seed" and "The Network."

Father Martin Wolter OFM also told members of the need of increased funds to operate undertakings of the Province. He attributed this to inflation, shrinking membership and increased age of remaining members. To assist and to increase support, the Provincial Council has raised the Per Capita Tax to $12 per member per year, but to cancel the special October collection.

Also announced was that Resource Center of Park Rapids, Minn. will have complete materials available and will have a display at the 1991 Triennial Convention in San Antonio, June 20-23 at St. Mary's University.

Fraternities will have the option of ordering New Rule Books, in particular for rituals for Reception and Profession of new members.

Meeting closed with prayer and blessing by Father Wolter. He also audited the fraternity's books.

The hosts served cookies and Sunny Delight after adjournment. Special guests were Sister Henry Ann, Mrs. Louise Morisak, and Mrs. Wm. Drozd.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mary Stoffels.

Students from both schools will be asked to create an interesting, exciting slogan that will best describe this new organization. Parents are urged to encourage their children to participate, but only students may enter the contest. Also, the creator of the winning slogan will receive a free pizza and a pitcher of his or her favorite soft drink from The Center. The deadline for the contest is April 11.

Gina and Adam were honorees when their grandparents, Gene and Claire Klement hosted a noon dinner in their home featuring turkey and dressing and beautiful trimmings, prepared by Grandmother Klement. A special First Communion cake was decorated by Cathie Fuhrmann. A video tape was prepared during the afternoon to send to an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Klement of Spokane, Washington.

The honorees were presented special gifts.

Together for the family gathering were: Gene and Claire Klement, Ray, Kaye, Jenny and Kelly Wimmer, Doug, Lynda, Gina and Tara Yosten, Andy, Emily, Kristen, Allison, Laura and Adam Klement, Grandmother Vera Conrady of Lindsay, Dr. and Mrs. Enrique Juarez and Judy Klement of Fort Worth.

Please Note

The picture of this year's First Holy Communion class has not arrived. Hopefully, by this time next week, we will be able to include it with many more stories of family reunions that honored the children. Space dictates how many we can print each week. Stories were accepted and typed as they came in.

Richard Swirczynski and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Endres and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bobbie Lutkenhaus; the honorees and their families, Jim and Shirley Endres and children DaLana, Allison, Chad and Brad; Bobbie and Linda Lutkenhaus and Jason, Brandi and Crystal; Troy Lutkenhaus; Samantha Mauldin; Janel Lutkenhaus; Doug McAdams D.D.S.; Bob and Kenya Endres and Mindy, Mitch, Kyle and Derek; Cliff and Kathy Sicking and Ryan, Cody and Brent; Joyce Swirczynski; Dale Swirczynski and Tara and Zack; Bill and Shawna Sicking and Travis and Ashley; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luttmer; Dr. and Mrs. Enrique Juarez and Jonna Schneider.

Following tradition, Jason's white vest and Allison's dress were designed and made by their grandmother, Dorothy Endres, who made an exact duplicate for Allison's doll. Jason carried his father's First Communion prayer book.

Kristen Nicole Fleitman Honoring Kristen Nicole Fleitman, her parents August and Paula Fleitman observed her First Holy Communion Day with a family dinner following the 10:30 Mass in Sacred Heart Church on March 25.

For her First Communion Day, Kristen wore the same treasured dress and veil her three sisters wore. She also wore a white ivory cross necklace, gift from her now-deceased maternal grandmother, Pearl Richardson, for the four girls to each wear on the First Communion Days.

A gift from her godparents, Kenny and Susan Fleitman of Lindsay was a new Catholic Picture Bible. Her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fleitman, Sr. gave her a statue of the Virgin Mary.

Guests for the turkey dinner were her parents, her brother, Randy (who also filmed the Mass) and her sisters Jan, Melinda, and Kerry. Also Brett Marion of Gainesville; Kenny and Phillip Fleitman of Lindsay.

The dinner table centerpiece was a special cake with a little girl figurine kneeling at an altar, with four pink roses signifying Kristen and her sisters, and one blue rose for her brother.

Church, wearing a first communion dress hand-made by her Aunt Kathy Bonner, and a special treasure, her mother's own wedding veil.

Her gold crucifix necklace was a gift from her Uncle Henry Yosten on her second birthday. Very special to all of them was his ability to be in attendance at this Mass, since he very nearly died several times, through critical illness after a motorcycle accident on June 3, 1989.

Two parties honored the day for Sarah, a fried chicken dinner hosted by her Grandmother Bonnie Hess, with a cross-shaped cake centerpiece made by her mother. Guests were Don and Martha Hess and children Arnie, Barry, Donetta, Toby, Corey and Todd of Muenster; Denis and Mary Katherine Hess and daughter Lara of North Richland Hills; David and Billie Hess and children Matt, Randy and Bonnie of The Colony; Steve Hess and daughter, Jennifer of Irving; Paul and Frances Stratton and daughter, Trisha of North Richland Hills. The Legend of the Dogwood Made Visible

At the time of the Crucifixion, the dogwood, then the size of the oak and other forest trees, was chosen as the timber of the Cross, because it was so firm and strong. And from the Cross it was said, "Never again shall the dogwood tree grow big enough to be used for such a cruel purpose. Henceforth, it shall be slender, bent and twisted; its blossoms shall have two long and two short petals and be in the form of a cross. In the center of each petal's outer edge, there shall be nail prints, brown with rust and stained red. And a crown of thorns will be in the flower's center. All who see it will remember." From J & C Ferrara.

The Sand Dollar Cross

One of the most widely known and popular of all shells, the Sand Dollar, has been combined with the Cross to tell the story of Christ's suffering and glory. Legend has it that the five holes in the Sand Dollar shell represent the five wounds of Christ. The Easter Lily is on the front and in its center a five-pointed star representing the Star of Bethlehem. On the back is the shape of a Christmas Poinsettia reminding us of Christ's birthday. Inside the shell are five pieces resembling the Doves of Peace and Good Will. A beautiful interpretation by J & C Ferrara.

Dr. Ferring to present archeology program

The Cooke County Heritage Society and Cooke County Historical Commission are happy to announce that Dr. Reid Ferring will be presenting a program on archeology in Gainesville on Monday, April 9. First Americans and their lifeways.

The evening will kick off with a preview of the new exhibit at the Morton Museum entitled "Let the Evidence Speak: Archeology in Cooke County" at 7:00 p.m. Dr. Ferring will be at the museum then and it will be a chance to meet with him and ask questions about his work. The society will then adjourn to the meeting room at the Gainesville National Bank for his program. The program is free and open to the public. It is being held in honor of Archeology Awareness Week April 8-14. For more information, call the museum at 668-8900.

Gift of Life encouraged by Muenster Hospital

Organ transplantation, one of the most remarkable medical success stories of recent years, is no longer an experimental procedure, but a widely accepted medical treatment which has gained much public awareness and support. Recognizing the vital need for continuous public education and participation in donation programs, Muenster Memorial Hospital in conjunction with Southwest Organ Bank is offering educational brochures containing Uniform Donor Cards for persons interested in learning more about organ and tissue donation.

According to Southwest Organ Bank, some 25 different organs and tissues can be transplanted today. Transplantable organs include kidneys, heart, liver, lungs and pancreas. Tissues which can be transplanted include bone, skin, bone marrow, tendons, ligaments, nerves, vessels and eyes.

To become a donor, an individual completes a Uniform Donor Card in the presence of two witnesses. More importantly, a prospective donor should inform family, friends and physician of the decision to donate. Donor cards and brochures can be gotten by calling the hospital at (817) 759-2271 or by contacting Southwest Organ Bank in Dallas at (214) 821-1931. Another option is to sign the back of the Texas drivers license. Effective Jan. 1, 1990, Senate Bill 1588 reinstated the donor signature lines on the back of the license.

National Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week begins April 22. This would be the perfect time to discuss the option of donation with your family.

St. Patrick's Day spirit turns shamrocks to gold

The spirit of St. Patrick's Day was alive and well in Cooke County and twice that of 1989 through the help of Gilbert Endres Distributing.

Gilbert Endres sponsored the 1990 "Shamrocks Against Dystrophy" program only to find overwhelming support from the business area accounts. Local bars, restaurants and convenience stores were invited to help "spread the green" for MDA by selling shamrocks for $1.00. Sixteen businesses sold the paper shamrocks from March 1 - March 17, raising $1311.71 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Bill Lange, Sales Manager for Gilbert Endres Distributing, headed up the 1990 program doubling the distributors' success in 1989. Locations that participated in the program included:

D.I. One Stop, Bayer's Kolonialwaren, Fischer's Market, The Superette, Wolf Liquors, American Legion, Gainesville V.F.W., Holiday Inn Lounge, North Star Marina, Lake Kiowa Lodge, Twin Hills Store, The Run-A-Way Bay Club, Kim's Korner, Jean's Club, Earl's Liquor, and the All Star Lanes.

The Gainesville V.F.W. and D.I. One Stop received special recognition plaques for the outstanding job they did through the "Shamrocks Against Dystrophy" program. D.I. One Stop won the Top Fundraising award for collecting over $300.

For more information about the success of Gilbert Endres Distributing or the accounts participating, please contact Shanna Perry, MDA, (214) 480-0011.

DOUBLE COUPONS EVERY DAY!

District meet here Monday and Tuesday

The Hornet men are looking to capture their third district track title in a row. Era, Lindsay, and Paradise also look to be in contention for the team title. "This is a very important meet for all of the kids," said Coach Jump. "You must finish in the top two to advance to regional."

The Hornets should figure in almost every event. In the field events, Muenster's Jerry Brawner jumped 6'1" last week which should make him one of the top jumpers in the meet. Brad McDaniel, Donnie Boydston, Chris Kubis, and Jeff Hellman all have a shot at the top spots in the throwing events.

Era's Sean Terry comes in as the favorite in the shot with a 50 foot plus throw but Boydston is also closing in on that mark. McDaniel has the season's top discus mark of over 130'. In the pole vault, Chris Massengale of Era and Hanks of Lindsay are the favorites. Mike Vogel of Muenster could challenge those two if he puts it all together. Joel Metzler of Lindsay brings the top jumps in the long jump and triple jump to the meet. Muenster's Scot Vogel will compete for the first time in the triple jump and has a chance to do well.

In the running events, again the Hornets can score in most of them. Lindsay should be favored in the sprints with Joel Metzler and Kevin Parsons but the Hornet's Scot Vogel could be the spoiler in the 200m. In the 400m James Hennigan and Marshall Smith, of the Hornet squad, have a good shot at the top medals. Michael Bierschenk should do well in the 800m as only he and a young man from Paradise have run under 2:10. The Hornets appear very strong in the distance races with Yancy Culp, who is among the state's top milers and two milers, should be the favorite in both events. Bierschenk should also be one of the top milers in the meet. The Hornet's Terry Felderhoff should compete for one of the top spots in the two-mile event.

Hornet hopes in the Hurdle events appear to be strong with Boydston, Ryan Sicking, and Tony Perryman. All three have finished high in every meet this year. Sicking looks to be the favorite in the 300's and Boydston in the 110 highs but, there are several others that could be there, such as Heinzman of Era.

Both relays have a shot to go to Regional. The 400m relay of Hennigan, Smith, Sicking and Vogel are among the state's top 20 with a time of 45.00. The 1600m relay of Hennigan, Smith, Vogel, and Culp should also be a top district finisher.

"We must pick up points in every event," said Coach Jump. "There are a lot of good athletes in this district. Our kids seem to be at their best when the pressure is on and every event will be a pressure cooker. It should be a lot of fun."

This next Monday will be a heart-pounding time for several local girl track athletes. The District track meet will be held in Muenster to see who qualifies to go to the Regional meet in Kilgore April 27-28.

"I think we are capable of winning the District title," said Coach Ratliff, "but it won't be easy. Lindsay, Paradise, and Alvord all have good athletes and are capable of winning, as well as the rest of the schools in the District."

A few of the runners expected to go on to Regionals are: Tina Klement, 1600m and 3200m; Cindy Culp, 1600m and 3200m; Denise Anderle, 100m hurdles and 300m hurdles; Dianne Pagel, 100m hurdles and 300m hurdles; Melissa Bayer, 800m; Amy Dankesreiter, 800m and high jump; Kim Anderle, high jump; Roxie Knabe, shot put; and the 400m, 800m, and 1600m relays.

"We have a district meeting this Thursday so I am not sure of the schedule yet," said Coach Jump.

"But, here is a tentative schedule:"

Monday - field events begin at 2:00 p.m. and running preliminaries begin at 6:00 p.m.

Tuesday - running finals begin at 6:00 p.m.

SH's Hess selected to represent All-Stars

Sacred Heart senior LaBecah Hess has been nominated by Dallas-Fort Worth coaches to play in the East-West Metroplex All-Star game this Friday evening in Fort Worth. Hess, an all-state performer for the State Champion Tigerettes will play for the West All-Stars. "It's a great opportunity for LaBecah to play against the best players in the Metroplex," said Coach LeBrasseur. Hess will be playing with girls mainly from the Fort Worth area against girls from the Dallas area including

Lincoln and Duncanville. "It will be an elite group of young ladies that possess Division I college skills," said LeBrasseur.

Hess is the second Tigerette to be selected to play in the game. Former Sacred Heart standout Vickie Walterscheid received the honor in 1988. Hess, an inside player, will be moved to the small forward or number 2 guard position for the game this Friday. The game will be played at the Sid Richardson Center in Fort Worth at 8:00 Friday evening.

Jr. High Hornets finish second at Howe

Muenster Jr. High girls' track team traveled to Howe Friday night to compete in the Bulldog Relays and came back with a 2nd place finish. "It was a tough meet since we were the only Class A school there. Everyone else was either 2A or 3A," stated Coach Ratliff. Pottsboro finished first with 106 points, Muenster second with 75, and Celina third with 55.

Muenster's results are as follows: 8th grade - 2400m, Paige Bass, 1st, 10:03.96; 400m relay, 3rd, 56.27, Theresa Kubis, Danell Reiter, Lori Klement, Amy Otto; 800m run, Lori Klement, 2nd, 2:43.12; 100m dash, Amy Otto, 5th, 14.13; 800m relay, 3rd, 2:00.47, Danell Reiter, Brandi Grewing, Denise Russell, Amy Ot-

Local tracksters rank high in state books

Muenster, Sacred Heart and Lindsay tracksters were recognized in the latest issue of Texas Track and Field News this week. The times and distances achieved at last week's Tiger Relays improved many athletics' records, earning them a place as top 1A competitors in the state.

Tina Klement took top honors in the 1600m and 3200m runs. The Muenster High sophomore has a time of 5:32.5 in the 1600m, ten seconds faster than the second place runner from Austivoli. A 12:02.0 time in the 3200m now gives Tina a 9 second edge over Angie Curz of Asherton. Cindy Culp is ranked eighth in the state in both distant runs.

Others getting recognition is Sharon Fuhrmann, with a 36'02.75" shot put throw, making her third best in the state. Sharon is also ranked tenth in the discus. Roxie Knabe and Gretchen Hoening of Lindsay also made the top 20 with Roxie finishing sixth. Kim Anderle and Amy Dankesreiter are both 4' short of the top high jumper, coming in fifth with jumps of 5'1". Lindsay's Kristy Krebs leads the 400m runners with a 60.3 time. Kristy is also listed in the triple jump and a member of two of Lindsay's relay teams, all making the listings.

Muenster's 800m and 1600m relays also hit the top 20. Melissa Bayer, Denise Anderle, Amy Jo Walterscheid and Felisha Hellinger placed in their events.

Yancy Culp leads the local boys with the second best time, 10:18.2, in the 3200m run and the third best time in the 1600m run, approximately six seconds behind the leader.

Joel Metzler of Lindsay is on second place in the triple jump, fifth in the long jump and eighth in the 100m dash.

Other athletes from Muenster making the top 20 were Brad McDaniel, Ryan Sicking, Jerry Brawner and Donnie Boydston.

Two Tigers qualify for state meet

The Sacred Heart Tigers ran at the Sacred Heart Relays in some very exclusive company. In the high competition the Tigers failed to score, but two Tigers did qualify for state competition in three events. Chris Hess qualified in the 200m dash with a 25.06 clocking, and in the long jump with a leap of 18'4". Mark Flusche also qualified in the 3200m run with a 12:02.00 clocking.

The Tigers next compete at the Tom Landry Relays at Trinity Christian-Addison on Friday for field events and preliminaries at 3:00, then return for running finals on Saturday at 3:00 p.m.

Muenster golf tourney slowed by wet course

by Dan Hamric
Thirty-one golfers reported for the April tournament at the rain soaked Nocona golf course Sunday morning. After being closed Saturday because some of the fairways were still standing in water, officials decided to open back up with walkers or carts in roughs only allowed.

Competition was keen as four of the seven teams were in contention. Earl Fisher's team consisting of himself, Sonny Fare, Jerry Reid, Billy Don Wolf and Dianne Vicari finished at 8 under and took home the first place money. They birdied the tough number 13 par three to take a score card playoff, nudging out Kenny Hartman's team who also finished at 8 under. Kenny was teamed with Dot Endres, Terry Walterscheid and Tom Hesse.

Mike Hesse won the putting contest as he stroked a 65 foot putt in the hole and took home a cap donated by Muenster Building Center.

The May tournament will not be held as scheduled due to another tournament on the calendar May 6 by the Sacred Heart Alumni, which will involve most of the Golf Association members anyway.

S.H. Tigerettes place at Hornet Relays

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes also participated in the Hornet Relays, but were inadvertently omitted from last week's lead-in story covering the track meet. However the finalists were listed in the statistics. For this partial oversight we apologize.

Sharon Fuhrmann was the only gold medal winner in the discus throw. Fuhrmann finished second in the shot, an inch short from first place.

Amy Walterscheid earned the silver in the 200m dash and was a member of the 3rd place 1600m relay team along with April Truebenbach, LaBecah Hess and Angela Endres. Hess was another Tigerette earning a medal, finishing third in the high jump.

Other Tigerettes earning points were Shirley Henscheid, Janie Fisher, Robin Greathouse, and the 800m relay team of Angie Hofbauer, Jennifer Walter, Alison Klement and Robin Greathouse.

The bitter cold kept times and distances down, also causing the meet to end without finals. For a complete list of results, check last week's Muenster Enterprise.

Soccer action finally sees good weather for competition

by Shirley Knabe
Spring has sprung, the sun is shining, and Mother Nature has put away the rain drops for a few days and the Cooke County Soccer Association has finally gotten to kick the ball around in the great outdoors.

Soccer action opened Sunday, April 1 with the Muenster Excalibur girls defeating the Lady Eagles from Valley View 6-0. Offensive goals were scored by Stephanie Grewing 3, Candice Abney 2, and Tonya Knabe 1. The entire team played excellently together, each giving the other support. Other star members having a great game were Julie Felderhoff, Christin Cain, and Misty Knabe. Tonya and Misty shared goal keeping responsibilities and did a good job.

In other action, on Monday and Tuesday the Muenster JC's and the Catholic Life Saints struggled to a 1-0 finish with the only goal being scored by the JC's Vince Felderhoff. All players on both teams gave it their best and had a great game.

Triple G lost to Furniture Connection 5-1. Offensive work was done by Keith Felderhoff, Mitch Endres, Christopher Grewing, Lance Sparkman and Randy Grewing. Christopher Smith did an excellent job at defense.

In Tuesday action R&R Pipe defeated Alan Ritchey 5-2. Nick Silmon scored 3 times and Matt Wilde twice. Goal work was done by Eric Knabe, Joanna Gehrig, and Kristen Knauf. Other players giving support were Cloy Baldwin, Johnna Schneider and Jacob Endres.

In other Tuesday action Tops & Teams Comets lost to the Lindsay Untrasonics 3-0. All team members played well.

Walterscheid Oil and the Mavericks both were able to play this week but results were not yet available.

Cattlemen speak out at 13th annual meet

FORT WORTH - Texas cattlemen have strong feelings about Mexican wolves and flesh-eating screwworms and said so during the 13th annual meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Fort Worth today, says incoming President James B. Owen of Tyler, Texas.

The convention which attracted nearly 3,000 beef producers, who set a new attendance record, also passed a resolution dealing with water use in Texas.

TSCRA, a 14,000-member livestock trade association headquartered in Fort Worth, represents cattle producers in Texas, Oklahoma and surrounding states on state/federal legislative and regulatory issues, theft prevention and other matters, Owen said.

In the first of three policy resolutions approved, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department won the group's support after that state agency determined that there were no suitable release sites in Texas for the reintroduction of the Mexican wolf.

The determination by the agency was in response to plans to bring back the Mexican wolf, an endangered species extinct in Texas, and brought strong support of the cattlemen who fear the predator might prey upon their baby calves and cows.

Recent political events in Panama and Nicaragua have more than a passing interest to the Texas cattlemen who see the new developments as helpful to their long-term goal of eradicating the screwworm, a livestock killer, from Central America and thus ensuring to a greater degree their own protection from its accidental reintroduction here. Before cattlemen eradicated the screwworm, they lost millions of dollars annually in dead animals, injuries and poor cattle production.

The cattlemen recommended that sterile fly production be increased at the Mexican screwworm plant from 100 million flies per week to 250 million. They also asked U.S. government officials dealing with economic aid to Panama and Nicaragua to earmark a portion of that money for plant production and eradication activities.

The association also opposed the state issuing any more permits to use fresh, potable water or brackish water for secondary recovery operations in the state when that water could be used for livestock consumption. The group further said that all uses of water, both fresh and brackish, requiring state permits should be put under the jurisdiction of the Texas Water Commission.

Cattle, ranch thefts were multi-million dollar problems in 1989, cattle group says

FORT WORTH - The theft of livestock and ranch equipment in 1989 cost Texas and Oklahoma cattlemen and farmers millions of dollars, according to Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, a Fort Worth-based group that has fought the problem for more than a century.

In an annual report given to its members, TSCRA Secretary-General Manager Don C. King said in 1989 the association's 32 field inspectors, all certified peace officers with special Ranger commissions, developed 103 field inspectors, all certified peace officers with special Ranger commissions, developed 103 theft cases, primarily involving cattle thefts. Working closely with state and local law enforcement officers, the inspectors recovered or accounted for 4,478 head of cattle and horses, 23 trailers, 216 saddles and miscellaneous ranch property valued at more than $3.59 million, or $9,841.68 per day.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the important role that brand inspection in Texas played in resolving many of these cattle-related cases and the eventual recovery of these valuable animals for their owners," King said.

The cattle raisers group also employs approximately 82 brand inspectors who identify five to six million head of cattle at the time of their sale each year. They report their findings to the group's Fort Worth headquarters, where the information is tabulated for computer retrieval.

The theft of livestock in Texas is a felony offense even for the theft of one animal. This is a serious offense, a prison offense, King said, and with the help of the court system we are sending a strong signal to thieves that this kind of behavior will not be tolerated.

The cases worked in 1989 by the TSCRA field inspectors and other law enforcement officers, when presented for prosecution, resulted in almost 430 years of prison, probated, suspended and deferred sentences for the offenders. The courts ordered those convicted to pay more than $143,700 in restitution to the victims. Fines and court costs were assessed in the amount of $23,866, King said.

King encouraged all cattlemen and owners of farm and ranch equipment to take steps to protect themselves from theft. He invited them to contact their local TSCRA field inspector or the Fort Worth office for theft prevention information and other details.

Texas winter wheat...

Three strikes, and yer' out!!

By JOE BRYANT

Most of Texas' struggling 6 million acres of winter wheat has been thrown two round-house curves from the weatherman - and in some areas is looking at a called third strike.

Lack of rainfall since planting has kept much of the dryland crop from emerging or making a stand, and hard freezes at year's end damaged some of the irrigated wheat, as well as the dryland crop.

Now, unseasonably warm weather in many sections of the state is cutting the chances for vernalization, the development of wheat seeds and seedlings that is enhanced by cold temperatures, report agronomists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Across the state, the condition of the wheat crop is only 38 percent as good as normal for this time of year, said Rodney Mosier, executive assistant to the Texas Wheat Producers Board at Amarillo. Last year, conditions were 45 percent of normal at this time, he said. If this situation continues, forage and grain yields can be expected to decline proportionately.

Soil moisture in the Panhandle is 31 percent of normal, Mosier said, while in the High Plains the figure is only 16 percent. The two areas annually produce a third of the state's wheat.

"We've had only about one inch of moisture from snows the end of January," Mosier said of the Panhandle. "We've had nothing else since before planting time."

Heavy and prolonged freezes at the end of December damaged some of the irrigated wheat, he said. About 30 percent of the wheat acreage in the Panhandle and South Plains is irrigated.

In the Rolling Plains, only three or four of 20 counties can even hope for a near-normal crop, said U. U. "Al" Alexander, Extension Service agronomist at Vernon.

"Those counties (Wilbarer, Wichita, Archer and Young) got up to a stand fairly early and tilled (put out sprouts from the base) well. So if they get normal or above-average rains the rest of the growing season, they have the potential of near-average yields."

But from Vernon west, "much of the crop still hasn't emerged to a stand," Alexander said. In some fields, part of the crop emerged in the fall and part in January, but many plants haven't tilled.

"We're lookin' at production probably only from the main stem," Alexander said.

The Rolling Plains has been unusually dry since mid-September, except for some spotty rainfall. Farmers in the 20-county area have planted about 1.3 million acres to wheat, which is about the 10-year average planting, the agronomist said.

In the area around Stephenville, the picture is equally grim. Generally speaking, "if growers want to look at green grass, they should let the wheat alone; but if they want to make money, they may as well plow up wheat that emerged in January or later," said Dr. George Alston, Extension Service agronomist.

"We had a lot that didn't come up. We have a few fields beginning to head on just the primary stem," Alston said. He said farmers were reporting very few tillers in wheat that had made a stand.

Warm weather in January and February is complicating the situation in Central Texas," Alston said. "We're convinced there's no way we're going to get enough cold weather now to have vernalization."

Hightower asks for emergency pesticide use

By PAT PATTERSON

Much ado about pesticide rulings...those which are usable, effective, safe to environment and inhabitants...those which aren't. Those sold over the counter...those only available to certified, licensed applicators.

Just one month before the new setting for pesticides and applicators became final, Ag commissioner Hightower asked EPA to allow Texas wheat farmers to use the pesticide Lorsban to control the Russian wheat aphid, saying "this little critter is going to be with us until we discover an effective method of biological control" and concluding that "until science gets us to that point, the next best alternative is carefully controlled applications of a specific pesticide."

Use of Lorsban, a trade name for the pesticide chlorpyrifos, is illegal on wheat in Texas without authorization from EPA.

Meanwhile, wheat farmers in 15 rolling plains counties of Texas have begun use of the pesticide Asana to fight army cutworms. Hightower proclaimed an emergency need for the pesticide.

Use of the pesticide continued for 15 days. Without the emergency declaration, use of the pesticide would be illegal on wheat. Asana is a trade name for the pesticide esfenvalerate. The chemical provides better than 90 percent control on the army cutworms, while other approved chemicals provide only about 50 to 80 percent control. Hightower predicted the loss to army cutworms would be more than $5.3 million, and to the Russian aphid could cost the Texas economy up to $140 million. Since its outbreak near Muleshoe in 1986, it has spread to more than a million acres in 26 counties in Texas.

Planning done on 17 million erodible acres

TEMPLE - Over 60,000 conservation plans have been developed on about 13 million acres of the state's approximately 17 million acres of highly erodible cropland, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service reported recently.

"We in SCS made a commitment to see that every farmer who wanted a conservation compliance plan got one by the deadline of Dec. 31, 1989," said Texas State Conservationist Harry W. Oneth. "Farmers and ranchers themselves have made a strong commitment to soil and water conservation with these plans. In fact, they have already fully implemented plans on approximately 33 percent of the highly erodible cropland."

Highly erodible cropland without plans include situations where the land is no longer being used for cropping or where the person has decided not to develop a plan at this time.

"Texas can be proud of the enormous conservation effort underway as a result of the conservation provisions of the Food Security Act of 1985," Oneth said.

Oneth encouraged farmers to examine their plans carefully and to be sure they understand what they've agreed to do this year. Each plan contains individual conservation practices and schedules for their installation agreed to by the producer and the local conservation district. "If farmers have questions, now's the time to call or come in and talk about it at their local SCS offices," Oneth said.

Farmers are encouraged to check with SCS when new farms or units are purchased or operators change. If a plan has been developed on the new land, now is a good time to get it implemented or revised. If there is no plan, a conservation plan will need to be developed.
