Local schools recognized for academic excellence

by Elaine Schad

Muenster Elementary School and Lindsay High School were among those cited by the Governor's Select Committee on Education this week for recognition as exemplary schools.

Representatives from both schools have been invited to Austin for a 2 p.m. ceremony on Oct. 27 when they will receive a flag and a citation in the Texas House of Representatives where Governor Bill Clements will be in attendance.

The winners were chosen by a 15-member committee in two categories, one for excellence and another for performance gain over the last three-year period. The governor's office announced the names of 374 schools that were recognized for their continued level of exemplary achievement. Besides Lindsay and Muenster, Edison Elementary and McMurray Elementary in the Gainesville school district were also recognized for exemplary performance. The schools were the only ones in a three-county area recognized for excellence, with the exception of Krum Middle School in Denton County.

Some 279 campuses statewide were recognized for gains in student performance based on the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS). Those campuses will share in cash rewards totaling $7.7 million based on the size of their schools. The campus must form a committee to decide how to spend the cash award, which may not be used for salaries or athletics, officials said. Those schools will receive their awards during an Oct. 20 ceremony at the capitol.

Valley View is the only school in Cooke County recognized for performance gain. They will receive $27,626. In Denton County, Aubrey Elementary will receive $22,664, Ponder High School will receive $10,000 and McNair Elementary in Denton will receive $37,040.

Some 1,000 schools were nominated to compete for the recognition, but only 764 schools returned their applications, said a spokeswoman with the governor's office. The program, which Clements said was funded to encourage continued improvement and advancement throughout the state's public school system, will be held again in the spring, but will also include recognition of intervention programs, said Rossanna Salazar, the governor's press secretary. Some $10 million is available for next year's awards, she said.

"We're just tickled to death that we've been recognized by the governor for something that we've known for a long time," said Muenster Superintendent Steve Cooper. "I thought, however, that we might have a shot for a little financial gain since we were one of only a couple of schools nominated in both categories," he said. Muenster was nominated in the excellence and performance gain categories.

In their application, Lindsay cited their academic achievements over the last 20 years. Beginning their fourth decade of education, Lindsay students over the past two decades have averaged a score of 1,000 on the SAT and 20.7 on the ACT college entrance tests, both much better than the national average. Of the 523 graduates at Lindsay over the past 20 years, 58 percent have attended college. The school also cited its less than 1 percent dropout rate plus its continued dedication to excellence even though the district has grown by more than 100 students during the past four years, to an enrollment of about 460.

Both Lindsay and Muenster schools continue to attribute their academic successes to quality students, strong and supportive families, a stable and professional faculty and strong caring communities where people work together toward a common goal, officials said.

Telephone Corp. announces upgrade

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm of Texas has announced the award of a $5,287,000 low-interest loan to Muenster Telephone Corporation of Texas for extensive upgrading of telephone service.

The funds, approved by the Rural Electrification Administration of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, will be used to finance facilities to serve 472 new subscribers and construct 62 miles of new fiber optics which will allow 15-20 area schools to receive educational programming.

"I believe in assuring that Texans get a fair return on the tax dollars we sent to Washington," Sen. Gramm said in announcing the loan. "So I am pleased that this loan will provide permanent improvements which will benefit local residents."

Alvin Fuhrman, President of Muenster Telephone Corporation, received word from Senator Gramm's office that the company's loan request for $5.2 million dollars has been approved.

Fuhrman states that the funds must be repaid, with an interest rate of five percent, within 22 years. The money will be used to replace defective and outgrown buried telephone cables and make it possible to add 472 new subscribers. The subscribers will be added as the Muenster/Valley View system grows and lines are extended to new areas. Buried cables placed 18 years ago are outgrown and damaged from the rocky soil. The damaged cables have caused water to enter making phone lines either noisy or to go out of order completely. The damaged and outgrown cables will be replaced with larger cables of new design to meet future growth and prevent problems from rocks and water damage.

Also included in the loan are funds for a fiber cable to be placed between Muenster, Myra, Forestburg, Rosston and the Valley View exchanges to give alternate routing for toll service.

The fiber cable will compliment the copper cables now providing toll service to assure that one cut cable cannot isolate a community from the rest of the world.

The Muenster toll will be combined at Valley View with Valley View to attract long distance companies and give us a choice of long distance companies (MCI, SPRINT). With other long distance companies willing to provide toll service, equal access will be available. Equal access will bring lower toll rates to the Muenster-Valley View telephone system. Besides long distance companies of your choice, it will be possible to provide many new services that are just emerging.

While placing a fiber toll cable, additional capacity will be added to provide an interactive educational television network between the schools in the Muenster system area. Initially five high schools have the option to connect to the system, Muenster, Sacred Heart, Forestburg, Era and Valley View. With the cooperation of adjoining telephone companies it is planned that other schools in North Texas will be connected to the system. Of high priority will be to extend the fiber cable through Lindsay to Cooke County College for the college to become the hub of the network. Plans call for up to 15-20 schools in North Texas to be connected eventually to the network.

Fuhrman further stated he is pleased that the loan will help with the company's objectives of providing Muenster and the surrounding area with high quality services at the lowest possible rates. It will keep the company on the cutting edge of emerging new technologies. To make our serving area an even better place to live is our top priority.

REA operates both electrification and telephone service programs, providing low-interest loans and loan guarantees to small companies and cooperatives for 50 years.

Congress created REA to bring electric and telephone service to persons who live and work in rural areas.

Lawsuit is settled out of courtroom

by Elaine Schad

Cooke County commissioners this week decided to waive all rights to easements on what is now private property that was originally granted to the county by the federal government on the site of an old army camp.

Commissioners decided to settle a lawsuit filed by the Red River Cattle Company against the county requesting that county give up all rights to easements on about 700 acres of property in the northern part of the county. Commissioners authorized the company's attorney, Kip Schiller, to draw up papers stating that the county will no longer have any right or title to the property or easements.

The land was once part of Camp Howze, a U.S. Army training facility used during World War II. After the war, deeds to the property show that the government turned over its rights to easements to the county, which has abandoned the property. It is now owned by private land owners, officials said.

New education corporation formed in North Texas

A meeting of area school leaders this summer at Cooke County College has resulted in the formation of a new education corporation to benefit the students of the North Texas area. Members comprising the Board of Directors are: Bud Joyner of Cooke County College, Steve Cooper of Muenster ISD, David Brewer of Nocona ISD, Hollis Adams of Forestburg ISD, Charles Uesleton of Gainesville ISD, Dale Smiley of Era ISD, Artie Thrash of Cooke County College Foundation, and Jack Murdock of Sacred Heart School. Alvin Fuhrman was elected an ex-officio member of the Board. He represents North Texas Communications Corporation. In an election of officers, Dale Smiley of Era was elected Treasurer, Artie Thrash of Cooke County College Foundation was elected Secretary and Jack Murdock of Sacred Heart School was elected President.

The purpose of the corporation is to establish an interactive, fiber optic, educational television network between schools that will allow all of the schools to expand their curriculums while reducing costs. It is seen as a method to better utilize and share the individual resources of all the area schools.

The heart of the concept is the fiber optic system that North Texas Communications Corporation will install throughout Cooke and Montague Counties.

The new corporation has been named the North Texas Educational Network Corporation. It is expected that up to two years development time will be required before programming can begin.

McCain addresses Chamber luncheon

The challenger for the position of State Representative of District 63 addressed members of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce at the monthly Tuesday luncheon at The Center Restaurant. Kyle McCain, native of Gainesville and municipal manager of Lake Kiowa for the last 2 1/2 years, will challenge incumbent Representative Ric Williamson in the Nov. 6 election. McCain is running on the Republican ticket.

He talked about responsibility and accountability and the increased emphasis they have in a contested election. Speaking of accountability of elected officials, he said, "I feel I need to do something local control over schools," he said. "I don't have all the answers."

"I'm committed to making a change," said McCain, "to holding officials accountable. I've already made a difference, a contribution, because now you are more interested."

McCain announced another debate between Ric Williamson and himself in Weatherford would be broadcast on KGAF, 1580 AM, or Muenster Cable TV, Channel 2, Thursday, Oct. 11, at 8:40 p.m.

The members also heard an appeal by Gary Fisher for funds and help to decorate the business district for Christmas. He told about the many volunteers who could help and said the real need now is for funding.

Chamber President Chas Bayer made another appeal for a Christmas Parade chairman. He said the Chamber would not sponsor the parade unless a chairman volunteers.

Muenster State Bank receives 5 star rating

Bauer Financial Reports, Inc., a Coral Gables, Florida research firm is pleased to announce that Muenster State Bank has been awarded a five-star rating. This prestigious award identifies this institution as one of the safest, most credit-worthy banks in the United States.

The award is based on a zero to five-star rating assigned by BFR based on its analysis of the March 31, 1990 financial date as filed with federal regulators.

A five-star rating, for the safest banks in the country, indicates that the bank's tangible capital exceeds 9.0 percent of tangible assets, that there are no excessive delinquencies or repossessed assets and that the bank is profitable. "Customarily," noted Paul A. Bauer, President, "the five-star rating is awarded to traditional banks, institutions that serve the local community and watch their bottom line. Out of 12,592 banks nationally, in Texas only one of five was rated five-star. Reporting the period ended March 31, 1990, 3,242 banks, only one out of four received our five-star rating."

Muenster State Bank has received a FREE, personalized award certificate in recognition of their achievement to display on their premises.

Executive Vice President Henry Weinzapfel said, "Our continued growth in deposits, loans and strength is due to the confidence and support of our customers, both old and new. We are committed to continued service and security for our community."

First local snowfall reported !! ??

As unbelievable as it may seem, Muenster had its first snowfall on Monday, Oct. 8. Local residents Gary Knabe and Henry Starke reported that the snow flurry started around 5:30 p.m. and lasted for 15 minutes. The men and two Harvester repairmen were working atop the 80 ft. high Harvester on the Arnie Knabe Dairy northwest of Muenster.

Good News!

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
With today's emphasis on conservation of our natural resources and concerns about the delicate ozone layer, not to mention what the individual family costs are to get our children to and from school, I have become increasingly aware of a problem that could be easily corrected by a collaborative effort on the part of the school systems of Muenster.

I have seen anywhere from 30 to 50 cars of parents that have to drive their children to Sacred Heart School because of the obvious busing problem. I know personally that with the high cost of living and the rising fuel costs that we are not even addressing this obvious problem. I have to cut back on bus usage because that is one bill I can try to omit. I see the S.H. bus on my route taking less than 10 children routinely before or after school. I'm sure the bus only gets 5 miles per gallon. As a financial analyst of the Ambrose Family, I am told to only wash a full load of clothes, save aluminum cans, glass, paper. I am told as a concerned citizen to use biodegradable products, conserve paper, be fuel efficient, use less air conditioning.

Considering the fact that every family pays taxes to support MISD whether they choose to use that school or not, every family should be able to benefit in some way in which the tax is spent. It makes common sense, good business, and responsible judgment to realize that the solution would be to bus all students through a common system. Why don't we do that?!

We are a community, we are also a community of choices of what is important to the individual. We have the right to respectfully disagree with one another, alternately we have to work collaboratively for a common good.

I challenge you as the powers to be to address this issue.

Sincerely yours,
Yvonne Ambrose

Applications are being accepted for academies

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Charles W. Stenholm is currently accepting applications from young men and women in the 17th Congressional District who are interested in attending one of the nation's service academies.

This December Congressman Stenholm will have the opportunity to nominate area citizens for appointments to the four U.S. academies: the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Co.; the Military Academy in West Point, N.Y.; the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.; and the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, N.Y.

Persons interested in the possible nominations should contact the Congressman's Stamford office as soon as possible. The deadline for completed application files is December 1, 1990.

To be eligible for an appointment, the applicant must meet certain requirements. The requirements are: American citizenship; good SAT or ACT scores; outstanding high school record; and good physical condition, including excellent eyesight. There is a very limited number of waivers for non-pilot candidates whose eyesight is less than 20/20.

Aside from academic achievement, emphasis is also placed on character, church and community involvement, extra-curricular activities and/or part-time employment. Applicants must be single with no dependents and at least 17 years of age, but not past their 22nd birthday upon admission into the academy on July 1, 1991.

Additional information may be obtained from high school guidance counselors or by contacting Jayne Schoonmaker in Congressman Stenholm's Stamford office at (915) 773-3623 or (915) 672-1322 or by writing P.O. Box 1237, Stamford, Texas 79553.

SNAP's volunteers serve up kindness

One of the finest qualities about this community is its degree of volunteerism. Of the many volunteer and service organizations in Muenster, one of the most appreciated is the SNAP program and its volunteers who bring noon meals to shut-ins three days a week at a nominal cost.

Not only is this a kindly act; it is an avenue to new friends and new expressions of thanks.

At a certain time, I was one of many who received the special help from SNAP volunteers who came to me when I was unable to walk and I learned to appreciate their work. I hope the day comes soon that I can help them in return.

Stenholm votes on funding formula

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Charles Stenholm (D - TX) was able to help preserve the future of regional drug task forces in the 17th district recently when he voted in favor of keeping the current funding formula in place.

The House of Representatives approved an amendment by Congressman Albert Bustamante (D - TX) with a 236-to-189 vote that killed a provision of the crime bill that would have sent drug enforcement funds to cities rather than state governments.

Under current law, the federal government sends a block grant for drug enforcement to the state government with funding allotted to implement comprehensive drug control programs. The crime bill provision would have allowed cities to apply directly for the funds without state involvement.

"This was an important victory for law enforcement in the 17th District," said Stenholm. "The figures show that our rural drug task forces are making the most headway in this war on drugs and it's only logical that we should reward a job well done by continuing rural funding."

Eight of the state's 49 drug task forces operate in the 17th district. Forty-two of the task forces are in rural areas. From Fiscal Year 1987-89 a total of $822 million worth of illicit drugs were seized by the task forces in Texas. The rural operations were responsible for 736 million, or 89 percent, of that total.

The eight task forces operating in the 17th district have been awarded over $2.8 million dollars in grants for 1990 operations.

Just say no!...

Highway Dept. refuses signs on right-of-way

Political campaign signs may be beautiful to candidates and their supporters, but they're litter to the highway department. The highway beautification act prohibits most campaign signs within sight of the main lanes of any federally funded highway in Texas. Safety rules ban the signs from all highway rights-of-way in the state.

Campaign signs, like any advertisement, can be posted on private property if they are licensed and permitted under current billboard guidelines. However, most campaign signs don't qualify.

Signs are allowed on private property along farm-to-market roads and other state-funded roadways as long as they can't be seen from federally funded roads and don't violate local laws against such signs.

"We have two very legitimate concerns regarding these camaign signs," said highway department Engineer-Director Arnold Oliver. "Safety concerns and litter control laws dictate that we keep the rights-of-way free of clutter, whether it's for political candidates, real estate companies or anyone displaying advertising on the highways."

State highway maintenance forces are busy notifying political organizations to remove unauthorized signs. If candidates don't remove the signs, maintenance workers will, leaving the candidate subject to a fine under the litter abatement act.

"This can be an expensive activity for us and the candidates. We're asking their help to save both of us time and money," said Oliver.

He said if the state does not attempt to comply with federal beautification regulations, the Federal Highway Administration can extract a 10 percent penalty from the state's federal highway funds.

Questions regarding the placement of campaign signs can be answered by local highway district or maintenance offices.

Operation Desert Shield packaging tips offered

The Postal Service has some helpful hints for Americans mailing parcels or packages to military personnel deployed to Operation Desert Shield. Following these guidelines, packages will get there promptly and efficiently.

Use a sturdy carton, large enough to accommodate the contents.

Use some form of cushioning to protect the articles inside. Seal the parcel securely. Use pressure-sensitive tape. Avoid using brown wrapping paper, cord or string on the outside.

Print the service member's name and address on the address portion of the package on one side only. It should include the service member's name, rank and service number, military organization or unit, and the APO/FPO address. It's important to have the current APO/FPO address, which should be available from that service member's base in the United States.

Put the return address in the upper left hand corner of the package. Also, include return address on a piece of paper on the inside of the package.

Remember the hot temperatures and heat of the Saudi Arabian climate when considering to send to the troops there. Temperatures in the desert exceed 100 degrees regularly.

Census shows Texas' growth

AUSTIN - State Comptroller Bob Bullock reported that his study of the U.S. Census Bureau's preliminary 1990 count shows that while Texas' overall population has grown since 1980, some regions of the state are growing faster than others and that suburban areas have outpaced the inner cities.

"While I believe the Bureau's preliminary tally is low and will require an adjustment to accurately reflect the size of the state's population, particularly minorities, our analysis of the early numbers reveals that where Texans are choosing to live has changed dramatically in the last decade," Bullock said.

The Bureau has calculated that Texas has grown by 2.6 million - 19.2 percent - since 1980, compared to a national growth rate of 8.5 percent, but the increase has been uneven. Over the past decade, those parts of Texas that depend the least on oil and gas - the Metroplex, Central Corridor and the Border - grew the fastest.

The population of the Dallas - Fort Worth Metroplex climbed 29.7 percent, the Central Corridor from Austin to San Antonio gained 24.2 percent and the Border, 20.1 percent.

Throughout the Texas, suburban counties on the outskirts of metropolitan areas grew the fastest - at an average of about 50.6 percent, with some counties skyrocketing. The population of Denton County outside Dallas increased 88.8 percent.

Mirroring the national trend away from rural communities, Texas' rural areas showed either slow growth or declining populations with nonmetropolitan areas growing at just 6.1 percent overall. Cooke County did better than average showing an increase of 11.0 percent. The 1980 population was 27,656 and the 1990 preliminary count is 30,690.

The staff of the Comptroller, by law one of the five members of the Legislative Redistricting Board, is studying the effects of this population shift on the redistricting process.

Comptroller Bullock added, "I continue to be concerned about the consequences of Texans not being counted and how a serious undercount may unfairly reduce federal aid to Texas.

"If the U.S. Commerce Department, which oversees the Census Bureau, does not adjust its figures to correct any undercount, thousands of Texans may suffer needlessly because the assistance they deserve simply won't be there. And help won't be available if the Department continues to refuse to take responsibility for the accuracy of its own numbers."

Performance - Not Promises

Many life companies today project values as if there would be no mortality charges or company expenses. Clients, and sometimes professional advisors, often make the mistake of accepting value projections as if they were reality; of course, they are not. More and more professionals are insisting on evaluating the company behind the numbers. Of 2,500 life companies in the U.S. market, only 13 are rated Aaa (highest mark) from Moody's Investors Services, for their ability to meet policyholder obligations and pay claims. We offer products from 3 of those 13 companies.

Sickings host a day of remembrance

MR. and MRS. LEO SICKING
...on their wedding day, Oct. 1, 1940...

A day of remembrance and celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary began for Leo and Martha Sicking with a Mass of Thanksgiving in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Sept. 29. Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, pastor, was celebrant of the Mass and imparted a special blessing to the couple in the 3 p.m. ceremony.

Attending the Mass were Leo and Martha Sicking's eight children and spouses, twelve of their fourteen grandchildren and many relatives and friends.

The couple was attended by the original bridesmaid, Rose (Sicking) Rohmer and her husband, Alois Rohmer. The late Norbert Knabe was the original best man.

Liturgical Readings during the Mass were given by the Sickings' oldest son, Charles. Intercessory Prayers were given by their son, Dan and grandson, Michael Rowton.

Grandchildren, Jeff Sicking, Michelle Rowton, Matthew Wiggins and Lauren Sicking presented the Offertory gifts at the altar. Great-nephews, Bart Sicking and John Sparkman were Mass servers. Christy Hesse led the congregation in songs chosen by the honor couple, accompanied by Ruth Felderhoff, organist.

Eucharistic Ministers were Carol Fights, JoAnn Sicking and Mary Bayer.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall, the same hall where the Sickings' wedding dance was held 50 years ago.

Hosts for the celebration were the couple's eight children and spouses, Carol and Jim Fights of Denton; Sharlene and Herman Depold of Lake George, New York; Charles and Mandy Sicking of Plano; Annette Rowton of Richardson; Karen and Bret Wiggins of Richardson; Kevin and Gina Sicking of League City, Tx.; Dan and Nina Sicking of Bay City, Tx.; and Dean and Lola Sicking of College Station, Tx.

The hall was decorated with clusters of gold and white balloons with gold metallic streamers suspended from the ceiling and decorating the windows.

Guest tables covered with white cloths were decorated with fresh yellow Tyler roses surrounded by mounds of shredded, curled gold ribbon. The tables were sprinkled with tiny, delicate gold confetti 50s numerals.

A beautiful, three tier anniversary cake, adorned with yellow roses, gold leaves and a gold 50th anniversary wreath completed the theme. Hall decorations and table decorations were designed by daughter-in-law, Nina Sicking and the cake was baked by Betty Rose Walterscheid.

Pictures of the couple, from courtship to the present time were on display. Also included were old family pictures of Leo and Martha with their children and a recent family portrait including the couple, their children and spouses and their fourteen grandchildren.

More than 150 relatives and friends enjoyed the catered dinner and danced to waltzes, pblkas and country-western favorites by the Earth Tones of Denton. Dinner was catered by the Hermes Sisters of Lindsay.

Daughters Annette Rowton and Karen Wiggins presented a program including some of the couple's favorite memories of their years together. Special toasts were offered to the couple by those attending. The program was completed by Christy Hesse and Ruth Felderhoff singing a medley of old favorites.

In conversation with friends, Leo and Martha recalled the day, Tuesday Oct. 1, 1940, when the former Martha Knabe, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Knabe, was married to Leo Sicking, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sicking. Father Frowin Koerdt OSB offered the Nuptial High Mass at 8 a.m. Anthony Luke, church organist, accompanied the Sacred Heart Men's Choir in singing the Latin Mass "Alma Mater."

Mass servers were cousins of the groom, Leo Felderhoff, August Felderhoff, Thomas Felderhoff, and A.J. Felderhoff.

The bride wore a white satin wedding gown, designed with a cowl neckline, a long row of tiny buttons down the back and at the wrists, and a fitted waistline with tie-back sash. The full skirt draped into a brief train. Her veil of silk net was held by a halo of valley lilies. She carried an arm bouquet of white lilies and Queen Anne's lace fern, and a dainty white lace handkerchief, a gift from her aunt, Mrs. Tony Gremminger.

Rose Sicking Rohmer was the bridesmaid, wearing a flower blue satin full length dress, a matching headress and a brief, shoulder length veil. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Gremminger of Windthorst, was a special guest.

Mass was followed by a wedding breakfast and noon dinner for relatives and friends served at the home of the bride's parents. In the evening there was a wedding dance in the K.C. Hall.

When the couple returned from a wedding trip to West Texas and to Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, they made their home at 203 North Hickory in Muenster, where they lived for five years. They then lived on Seventh St. for a short time before moving to their farm 1 1/2 miles north of town, where they still reside.

Leo Sicking is retired from Cooke County Electric Co-op where he was employed for 42 continuous years until 1980. He remains active and helps out when needed answering phone and radio calls on Saturdays, Sundays and nights.

Hornet Band competes

The Muenster High School Hornet Band will be competing in UIL Marching Contest on Oct. 20, 1990 at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls. The band is scheduled to perform about 3 p.m.

This is the first time in many years (not since the late '60s) that the band has competed in UIL Marching Contest. This should be a good learning experience for the whole band and especially for the freshman and eighth grade band members.

The band is required to be on the field performing 5 to 10 minutes. They will be judged in the following areas: music competencies, marching competencies, and general effect of show, drill design and uniformity.

The band is excited about this competition. The band invites parents and friends to travel to Wichita Falls and support the Hornet Band on Oct. 20 for this competition!

VFW Auxiliary State President honored at district convention

Texas VFW Auxiliary State President Betty Roystun was honored by District I Sherman Post No. 2772 during the District Convention Sept. 22, 23 and 24.

FRANCES BAYER

On Friday, there was a hospitality hour, spaghetti supper and a country-western dance. A steak dinner on Saturday was served to about 600 guests from all areas of Texas, hosted by District I VFW and Auxiliary members.

The program in the afternoon consisted of a song and dance number performed by "Betty's Fantastics." Also on the agenda was a parade of membership transmittals; a "Kool Kutie" contest to benefit the auxiliaries' Cancer Aid Research project; and a "love gift" parade.

The "Kool Kutie" contest was won by District I. Representing the 19 auxiliaries of District I, Frances Bayer was crowned queen because her district brought in the most monies for cancer aid and research. There are 19 auxiliaries in District I and 30 districts in Texas.

Customing for the "Kool Kuties" was early 1900 swimwear attire. Frances Bayer also participated in the dance number and other entertainment activity.

A balloon release marking the Americanism, POW-MIA and "Get Out the Vote" campaign programs which the VFW and its Auxiliary sponsor, was another part of the program.

In the evening, a country-western dance was the entertainment. A breakfast on Sunday morning was prepared and served to all delegates by the host post, Sherman.

Betty Roystun is from Lewisville Post #9168.

Attending from Muenster were Arthur and Frances Bayer, District I president, Janet Barnhill, local president, and Herbie and Marie Herr.

VOLUNTEERS:

Where would 4-H be without them?

Nowhere. Without adult volunteers who work with the county extension office, 4-H could not have reached the 5,145,548 youths that participated in 4-H activities in the 1989-90 year. Last year, 644,272 4-H volunteer leaders worked directly and indirectly with youth. The number of volunteers may be large, but 4-H can always involve more volunteers.

Volunteers today are different than the volunteers of past years. The difference is they have fewer hours available to give. The Extension Service is working very hard to meet the challenge of taking large volunteer efforts and breaking them down into smaller, but certainly no less important, tasks. The goal is to have more volunteers, in smaller amounts of time, working with youths and to share their knowledge.

When volunteers share their time, experience, skills and knowledge, 4-H youths benefit in several ways. First, they are learning to work with others. Second, it gives them positive adult role models. Third, the 4-H'ers not only learn by doing, they in turn teach the younger 4-H'ers and the public which gives them opportunities to speak in front of others. All these work together to increase their self-esteem. Another benefit is that 4-H'ers can see the importance of giving back to the community.

Have you been a volunteer in the past?

Have you been looking for an opportunity to give back to your community?

Do you enjoy working with youths?

Do you have a limited amount of time to give and want it to be worthwhile?

If you can answer yes to any or all of these questions, contact the 4-H club manager in your community or the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

CHRISTOPHER MOSTER

Christopher celebrates 2nd birthday

Christopher Joseph Moster, son of Chris and Patricia Moster, celebrated his second birthday Thursday, Sept. 27, at the home of his grandparents, Larry and Mary Sell in Denton. Grandma Sell baked and decorated a Big Bird birthday cake and Christopher blew out the two candles without any hesitation. He also enjoyed opening his many gifts while cameras flashed.

After all the gifts were opened, Grandpa Sell took Christopher for his first ride in his new red wagon. The party was preceded by a spaghetti supper for family members - Christopher's parents, Aunt Pammy, also Grandma Mary Moster and Uncle Frank Moster.

Get involved in Muenster 4-H!

by Muenster 4-H Club

Are you tired of hearing your children say, "I'm bored!" or "I have nothing to do!" Well, we have a solution for you. Get involved in 4-H!! 4-H has many opportunities to offer all youth third grade to age 19 regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Some of the projects in which the Muenster 4-H Club participates are: foods and nutrition, clothing, shooting sports, livestock (including small animals such as goats, rabbits and poultry), leatherwork, ceramics, consumer life skills, method demonstrations, record keeping and record books.

Adopt-A-Highway is a special project that has been taken on by the Muenster 4-H Club. We began to pick up trash off of 2 miles of Highway 82 east of Muenster when the program became available across the state of Texas four years ago. Our responsibility as participants in the program, other than picking up trash, is to make the public aware of the amount of trash carelessly tossed out of vehicles and feed sacks, ice bags and trash which blow out of pickup beds.

We 4-Hers and parents meet by our road sign on a given Saturday afternoon. Here, we all don a bright orange vest (provided by the Highway Department), hold a safety meeting, break up into groups, and grab a 50-gallon trash bag to get to work (no experience necessary, that will come with the job). This job can take as many as 5 hours, and net as much as 44 bags of trash.

Why do we participate in this program? Because it is a part of learning by doing, which is what 4-H is all about. We learn Community Service by picking up the trash, become better citizens because we will not be throwing trash out on the roadways, but will put it in the rightful containers. It also gives us a sense of pride because we are doing something to save tax dollars and helping to beautify our state of Texas!

Other community service endeavors involve the rest home where we visit, hold pet shows, go Christmas caroling, present skits and play bingo with the residents. Older 4-H'ers have led food projects at the Youth Club in Gainesville.

To help our youth become the leaders of tomorrow, there are many camps and training sessions held at county, district, state and national level. Our county holds a camp each summer at Kingston, Oklahoma. Last year, there was a project on self-esteem. Our district holds an electric camp and leadership lab at Trinidad, Texas.

State specialty camps such as Prime Time for the younger 4-H'er and Spectra for the older 4-H'er are offered. State training sessions such as Jr. Retreat for the younger 4-H'ers and Teen Retreat and Ambassador Workshop are for the older 4-H'ers who are interested. These are held at the State Center in Brownwood, Texas.

The National 4-H Center offers an outstanding opportunity for 4-H'ers to see all the sights in Washington, D.C., visit with their legislators and participate in citizenship programs at the National Center.

4-H is a youth development agency which involves the family in fun and in work. Members select and conduct their project, parents provide encouragement and much of the resources needed by the 4-H'er. The understanding parent is often the force that helps 4-H members through their beginning years of 4-H and sets the stage for a fulfilling and enriching experience as a senior 4-H member. Parents are encouraged to get involved in 4-H as it draws them and their children closer together.

CCC ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIP - Mrs. Mozelle Atkins of Gainesville, right, presents a $10,000 check to Dr. Artie Thrash, executive director of the Cooke County College Endowment Foundation, to establish a new scholarship in memory of her late husband, D.W. "Pancho" Atkins, longtime Gainesville businessman. CCC President Dr. Bud Joyner, left, said this brings to six the number of fully endowed scholarships now available through the Foundation. Since awards are made from interest proceeds only, the funds will provide scholarships to CCC students in perpetuity. These scholarships will help many future CCC students in their journeys through higher education. Known especially for his love of travel, D.W. Atkins made "expand your horizons" a byword. Far horizons had a special appeal for him. His last big trip was to Russia in 1989. Before that to Australia, two trips to Europe, another to Athens, Greece. In 1950, Mr. and Mrs. Atkins got out of Nassau just in time before Castro started trouble. Travel was always exciting they said. Information on scholarship opportunities is available by contacting Dr. Artie Thrash at CCC, 817-668-7731, ext. 205.

DOUBLE COUPONS EVERY DAY!

Lindsay added the pelt of the Sacred Heart Tigers to its collection Friday as the varsity Knights squeezed to a 5-0 record for the 1990 football season, in front of a large homecoming crowd.

Sacred Heart and Lindsay haven't met on the football field in 10 years, the last contest played Sept. 12, 1980. Sacred Heart won 13-6, also winning '79, but were defeated by the Knights in 1978, 9-6, when T. Haverkamp, who never kicked a point, booted a 21-yard field goal with 9 seconds remaining in the game.

Everyone knew this contest was most definitely the "Game of the Week," matching up two of the counties most improved squads.

Under the watchful eyes of over 1200 spectators, the Knights and Tigers battled it out till the final minutes of the game.

Scott Hermes started the contest, kicking the ball to the 5-yard line. Steven Beyer returned the ball for Sacred Heart to the Tigers' 22-yard line. A pass from Stevan Nasche to Shawn Dangelmayr and a 6-yard run by Chris Hess gave Sacred Heart an early first down. The next drive went in reverse for the Tigers as the Knights' defense stiffened. A fumbled ball and a quarterback sack by Patrick Schully forced the Tigers to punt on fourth and 38. The Knights started play on the 25-yard line. On the second attempt Ronnie Dieter circled around the right end and scored 6 points for Lindsay. Pressure by C. Hess and Larry Switzer caused the PAT to fail with 9:17 remaining on the clock.

S. Hermes again booted the ball to the Tigers' 5-yard line, where Beyer ran the ball to the 20-yard line. Unable to then move 10 yards, Sacred Heart kicked to the Knights. Lindsay took the ball eight yards, but two incomplete passes gave the Tigers the ball on their own 37. Again Sacred Heart punted to Lindsay, then Lindsay booted the ball back to the Tigers.

A 15-yard penalty cost the Tigers, but a defensive pass interference flag gave the visitors a first down on their 35-yard line. Runs by C. Hess and Beyer were followed by a Nasche quarterback keeper to give Sacred Heart a first down on the 47 starting the second quarter, the turnover quarter.

The Tigers continued their drive, assisted by a facemask call and runs by Nasche, R. Sicking and Switzer. C. Hess took a pitch and ran 38 yards for a touchdown, which was nullified by a Tiger holding/clipping call. A fake kick attempt failed for Sacred Heart, giving Lindsay possession at the Knights' 34-yard line. Dieter picked up 8, then helped by a 5-yard flag, the Knights picked up a first down. Jeff Hermes gained another 13, putting the ball on the Tigers' 40-yard line. The next play a fumbled ball was covered by Kelly Bell for Sacred Heart. Three plays later Matt Zimmerer got back the ball for Lindsay. Marty Neu and S. Hermes picked up a first down for the Knights before the ball bounced back into the Tigers' possession when Bill Parks covered the ball. Sacred Heart got off two plays, the second returning the pigskin to the Knights, with Tracey Huchton reclaiming possession.

Starting on the Tigers' 36-yard line, two offside penalties gave Lindsay 10 yards. Dieter, Neu, and S. Hermes moved the ball to the 14. With 2:49 remaining in the half, S. Hermes circled around the left end to score 6 points. The extra point pass failed, giving the Knights a 12-0 lead.

Sacred Heart couldn't gain any yards their next possession, booting the ball to Lindsay. The Knights threw an interception three plays later to R. Hess, then returned the favor when Chris Hess picked off a Lindsay pass to end the half.

"Our big problems were penalties, on field adjustments, other little things and turnovers; that really hurt us," said Tiger Coach John Nasche. "We knew we were good enough, the defense did a great job shutting them down the second half."

Sacred Heart held Lindsay to only 4 first downs in the second half, 2 earned on penalties against the Tigers.

Lindsay, starting on their 39-yard line, moved the ball to midfield before punting possession to the Tigers deep on their own 5-yard line. The next play, Hanks caught C. Hess in the end zone for a 2-point safety. With 2:00 left on the clock, the Knights led 14-0.

Lindsay couldn't move the ball on their next possession, with the Tigers taking over at the visitors' 40-yard line. R. Hess and Nasche gained 16 yards before losing the ball on downs. Lindsay, assisted by a penalty, moved 11 yards when C. Hess caused a Knights' fumble. Switzer covered the ball for Sacred Heart. Moving to the 15, the Tigers' threat to score was halted when a loose ball was repossessed by R. Dieter. Lindsay moved the ball into the fourth quarter. Good defense by the Tigers held the Knights, allowing the Tigers to start possession on the 20-yard line. A play by C. Hess, helped by a face mask flag, put the ball 10 yards from paydirt. R. Hess picked up 9 yards, but the Knights' goal line defense stopped the attack, turning the ball over on downs.

Starting on their 1-yard line, a 55-yard pass play from S. Hermes to P. Corcoran helped Lindsay get into Tiger territory. A few plays later, Nasche picked off a pass for the Tigers. R. Hess moved the ball 12 yards in 2 plays before Lindsay's defense halted any attempt for more yardage. Taking over at their 31, with 4 1/2 minutes remaining in the game, Lindsay faked a kick on 4th and 1, picking up the first down, then was halted by Sacred Heart. Starting from their 5-yard line, a second pass attempt was intercepted by Corey Sandman, giving the Knights possession with 49 seconds remaining in the game. The game ended 14-0.

"All in all, I was real pleased with our effort. We played well enough to win, but didn't come out on top, due to mistakes," said Nasche. "I guess you could say we won the battle, but lost the war."

"They (Sacred Heart) came over to play and surprised us," said Lindsay's Coach Pat Benton. "I didn't think they were that tough, but we pulled out a win." Benton also commented on the excellence of the Tiger team and coaching staff that has them fired up.

The two quarterbacks seeing duty were Stevan Nasche and Scott Hermes, completing only 2 passes each. Nasche's gain was only 7 yards, while Hermes gained 62.

Ryan Hess led the Tigers on the ground, picking up 51 yards on 12 carries. Ronnie Dieter, after recuperating from an injury, also gained 51 yards.

"Offensively, we need to become a little more fluent; we run offense well, but we need to step up a notch" ... "We need a little fine tuning," said Nasche. The Tigers' defense was led by the tackling efforts of Jason Beyer, Gary Hess and Larry Switzer. Nasche credits the entire defense for a good game. "We held their points under 25," said Nasche. "We're the first team this season to accomplish that. They scored on our miscues."

Coach Benton believes his defense also played well with an outstanding goal line stand. Outstanding defensive players for the Knights included Corey Sandman, Pat Schully and Patrick Corcoran.

Lindsay will host the junior varsity squad of Jesuit High School of Dallas. The Rangers are members of the Texas Christian Interscholastic League Class AAAA. After playing one of the toughest schedules of any Texas school last season, the varsity fell to a 0-10 finish. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Sacred Heart will host the Irving Cistercian Hawks for a Saturday night Homecoming contest. Cistercian Hawks, members of the Southwestern Prep Conference, returned this season with 22 lettermen, led by the backfield duo of Justin Lannen, who threw 1,135 yards last season, and running back Josh Jonston.

Pre-game activities begin at 5:30 p.m. with the game scheduled to start at 6 p.m. The Homecoming Queen will be announced at halftime.

"They're going to be tough," said Coach Nasche. "They have a good passing game and rushing attack. We need to shut down their passing game."

Lindsay JV wins over Sacred Heart JV 36-0

Sacred Heart's junior varsity football team dropped a game to Lindsay Thursday, 36-0. "We missed three of our key players," said Tiger Coach John Nasche, "that hurt us, we had to move players around." Nasche believes that they weren't outplayed, the mistakes hurt them more than anything.

Weldon Bayer started the contest kicking the ball to the Knights' 15-yard line, Dan Zimmerer returned it to the 25. On Lindsay's first play, Jason Benton picked up 20 yards. A loose ball covered by Sacred Heart gave the Tigers their first possession.

Willie Hess picked up one first down for the Tigers, but couldn't get the gain, kicking the ball back to the visitors. Lindsay, starting on their own six, moved out to their 32 before booting the ball back to Sacred Heart. The Tigers moved the ball into the second quarter, threatening to score by moving the ball to the 16-yard line. A loose ball was covered for the Knights by Joe Coke and Lindsay took over on their own 39-yard line. Runs by Zimmerer, Benton and Donnie Cox put the Knights on the Tigers' 31-yard line. A jump pass from Joe Coke to Jeremy Owen was good for 6 points. The extra point run failed.

Each team had possession the final three minutes of the first half, finishing with a 6-0 score.

Lindsay powered it on in the third quarter. Sacred Heart took the kick with Jody Fleitman returning it to the Tigers' 30-yard line. Aaron Berres picked up 5 yards, followed by a minus 15 yards in penalties and an incomplete pass and a fumble.

Rocky Barnes covered the ball allowing Lindsay to take control only 14 yards from pay-dirt. Two plays later Matt Menzie ran in from the 13 with 8:22 remaining in the quarter. The PAT failed and the Knights took a 12-0 lead.

Jason Benton booted the ball to the Tigers' 5-yard line and the next play, Lindsay caught Sacred Heart behind the line, gaining another 2 points for a 14-0 score. Michael Cunningham is credited for the 2 points.

The visitors began their next drive on the Tigers' 40-yard line.

Knights find Cubs tough

Lindsay's younger Knight team had a tough go last Thursday night when they took on Sacred Heart, but came out ahead 20-6 when all was said and done.

Coaches John Nasche and Danny Walterscheid were real pleased with their young team taking on Lindsay's eighth grade. "Turnovers and their big gains called the game," said Nasche.

The eighth grade Squires took the opening kickoff, starting at their 32-yard line. Three runs by Chris Brown gave Lindsay one first down, then Will Thomason picked up another 14 yards. Sacred Heart buckled down the next two plays with Jason Hess giving Lindsay a 9-yard loss, followed by Joseph McCoy causing the Squires to fumble. Michael Schilling covered the ball for the Cubs on the 30.

Trent Truenebach and Neil Berres moved the ball to the 15, where Jason Hess, on a keeper, ran in for 6 points. The extra point run failed giving the Cubs a 6-0 lead with 1:19 left in the first quarter.

The Squires fumbled the ball on their second play, allowing Joseph McCoy to cover the ball for Sacred Heart.

The Cubs failed to move the ball going into the second quarter until Hess connected a pass to Berres for a 9-yard gain. The next play, a loose ball was covered by Jeff Hale, setting up Lindsay's scoring drive. Starting on their 45, a pass from Will Thomason to George Lutkenhaus tied the game. Brown ran the PAT, giving Lindsay a 6-8 advantage.

The Cubs started their next possession on their 40-yard line. Truenebach picked up 15 yards on a carry, but one fourth and six and another fumbled ball gave the Squires possession at mid-field. Another pass to Lutkenhaus moved the ball to the 31.

John Klement covered a loose ball, but Lindsay regained possession when the Cubs were penalized for a face mask. From the 13, Brown went around the right end to score for Lindsay. The pass attempt extra point failed giving the young Knights a 14-6 score with four seconds left on the first half clock.

The Cubs' offensive dominated the third quarter, controlling the ball the entire quarter. Runs by Berres, Truenebach, J. Hess, John Klement and a pass to Hess moved the ball to the 12-yard line. On the first play of the final quarter, on 4th and 8, a pass to Berres was 3 yards short, turning the ball over to Lindsay. From the 10-yard line, Chris Brown ran 90 yards for Lindsay, adding another 6 points. The PAT failed, giving the Squires a 20-6 score with 5:26 on the clock.

The Cubs fumbled on the kickoff with Robert Lutkenhaus covering for Lindsay, but the next play Jason Hess got back the ball giving the Cubs possession on their 37-yard line. Sacred Heart punted the ball to Lindsay, who in turn punted back to the Cubs. After three pass attempts Lindsay again covered a loose ball. The turnover save by Chris Brown allowed the young Knights one drive before time ran out, giving Lindsay a 20-6 victory.

Lindsay Coach Pat Benton stated that Sacred Heart played a real good game, surprising the Lindsay team, and was very impressed with the Cubs. He also stated that he was proud of the Squires and that they played very well.

Coach Nasche said the Cubs played good defense most of the night, but made a few minor mistakes. "They need more confidence."

Lindsay's junior high will take on Argyle Thursday night. The game is there, beginning at 5:00 p.m.

The Cubs will host Cistercian Saturday for a 3:30 game.

Hornets get a 'kick' out of Indians' game

A 42-yard field goal by Rajko Jelen with a minute and a half remaining in the game gave Muenster the 10-7 winning edge over the Nocona Indians last Friday night.

Nocona took the opening kickoff, controlling the ball for a dozen plays, moving from their 20 to the Hornets' 33-yard line. On fourth and 13, the Indians attempted a fake punt, but failed, giving the Hornets the ball on their 37. Troy Pagel, Mike Vogel and Ryan Sicking took turns running the ball for ten plays, taking the pigskin to Nocona's 15-yard line. A quarterback sack backed Muenster to the 23. Starting the second quarter, the Hornets were unable to pick up a first down.

An attempted field goal failed to flow through the goalpost, returning possession to Nocona. The Indians dominated the quarter, picking up 75 yards in 13 plays. Muenster gained only 24 yards in 8 attempts.

With just 16 seconds remaining in the first half, Indian quarterback Matt Furschour passed to Greg Fuller from the 9-yard line to give Nocona 6 points. The extra point kick counted and Muenster went to the lockers behind 0-7.

"The boys realized they were behind, not because of Nocona, but because of the Muenster Hornets," said Coach Grady Roller. "They knew they had to play or go home beaten."

Muenster started the third quarter from their 19-yard line. Again the running attack of Vogel, Pagel and Sicking gave control of the ball to Muenster for seven minutes, moving the ball 81 yards in 16 plays. Pagel did the honors on a 2-yard run with Jelen kicking the extra point, tying the game 7-7.

Muenster defense held Nocona for no gain their next attempt then ran the ball into the final period. Vogel, Pagel and Sicking again took the ball inside the 20 before being stopped by the Indians' defense.

Nocona ran six plays, fumbling the last, which Paul Black covered for Muenster. Both teams ran two plays, incompleting a pass then punting on their next possessions. The Hornets started their next drive near mid-field, topped by a 26-yard run by Vogel. Stopped on the Indians' 26-yard line on fourth and seven, the Hornets again tried a field goal. The second time was a charm as Jelen's soccer kick cleared the goalpost, giving Muenster a 10-7 lead with 1:29 remaining in the game.

Nocona attempted to come back, but the Hornets' pass defense caused three incomplete passes. Muenster got in two plays, letting the clock run out to bring home their fourth season victory.

"We're lucky to have a player that can kick field goals," said Coach Roller. "I couldn't watch the attempt, knowing we had only 10 players on the field. That's lack of concentration." Roller said his young club needs more concentration, then have few turnovers. "We need to eliminate our mistakes and concentrate."

Mike Vogel led the Hornets' offense, picking up 163 yards on 31 carries. Troy Pagel added 47 and Sicking 33 yards to assist in the Hornets' total 224 yards. "Vogel ran real tough for the second week," said Roller. "The line, offensive ends and backfield are all giving key blocks."

Muenster's defense held Nocona to a minus three yards on two carries, an incomplete pass, forcing the Indians to punt the ball away on fourth down during the third quarter. The offense is to be credited too, with the Hornets controlling the ball the quarter.

"We got penalties that stopped our drives all night," concluded the coach. "We have to be more consistent."

Muenster begins district play this Friday, traveling to Collinsville. "Whoever corrects their mental mistakes Friday will come out on top," said Roller. The Pirates are 1-3 in the pre-district competition. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Little Reds tie with Braves, JV loses

Muenster junior high Hornets ended their contest last Thursday with the Nocona Braves to a scoreless tie. A fumbled ball deep on Nocona's end of the field set up a possible score for Muenster. Time expired, leaving the Little Reds sitting on the 1-yard line.

Muenster will host Collinsville Thursday, Oct. 11. The junior high contest begins at 6:00 p.m. with the J.V. scheduled to play following the junior high game.

Contest hits midseason

The fifth week of the Pigskin Picks saw several surprised scores, causing the 47 contestants that entered to decrease their percentages for the big bucks.

The best correct pick was 17. Five entrants tied for first place, giving the top weekly dollar prize to Henry Kessler. Kessler had a 26 point spread on the Sacred Heart vs. Lindsay tie-breaker score. Second place went to Benny Haverkamp, missing the tie-breaker by 28 points. Following close behind were Mark Fuhrmann 29 points, Nick Stoffels 30 points and Mike Felderhoff 39 points. Ten contestants correctly guessed 16 games, while 16 entrants had 15 right choices.

Everyone correctly picked Era over Windthorst, Oklahoma over Oklahoma State and Texas A&M's victory. Only one was wrong in picking Muenster to lose and another chose Saint Jo over Blue Ridge. Twenty-four correctly picked the Cowboys to win over Tampa Bay.

The most missed game was Notre Dame's loss to Stanford, everyone picked the Irish to win. Only one correctly picked TCU over Arkansas and five chose UNT to win over SMU.

In the tie-breaker game 40 picked Lindsay over Sacred Heart. The best score for Lindsay, the worst for the Tigers was 35-0. The closest point spread was 20 points, 7-17, the Knights' favor.

This week's winners picked up their cash prizes at The Center, the tie-breaker sponsor of the week.

Construction may bring down Texas-OU attendance

The world famous Texas - Oklahoma football game is about a week away...construction on IH35 between the Red River and Dallas is in the fourth quarter, but the game won't be over in time for the T-O Gametravelers.

In Cooke County, a three-mile stretch of IH35 in Gainesville will allow only one lane of traffic each way with a 45 mile-per-hour speed limit. Traffic flows smoothly unless a breakdown or accident clogs the roadway.

Other areas of construction in Cooke County are complete and the speed limit will be back to interstate standards.

In Denton County, from the Cooke County Line to US77, a distance of some eleven miles, all lanes are open but the speed limit is reduced to 50 miles-per-hour. The project there will be completed at the end of October.

So, although the outcome of the T-O Game is unknown at this time, it's a good bet that IH35 will be open from the Red River to the Dallas area next year. In the meantime, the winners are going to be the travelers who allow extra time to get through the construction areas with reduced speeds.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

SMALL GRAIN PEST ALERT

The recent showers have been very beneficial to the small grain crops in the county. Much of the grain has emerged and producers are advised to be on the lookout for greenbugs and armyworms. This young tender wheat and other small grains are very susceptible to injury from insects and larvae. As with all pests, each field must be scouted to determine infestation levels. As in the spring, armyworms can be very uncommon in certain fields and still show large populations in others.

Generally the larvae, or armyworms, is found protected under some stubble or other matter during the day and do most of their feeding at night. However, on cloudy days or cooler days, feeding can be done during the entire day.

Not only do armyworms attack small grains, but any lush growing forage is susceptible. We have had reports in the county over the last several weeks of armyworms in bermudagrass following irrigation and heavy moisture.

Armyworm larvae can feed for 3 to 4 weeks and then pupate in the soil. Following moist conditions hatches occur.

In visiting with producers during planting the past several weeks, greenbugs have been noticed on Johnsongrass in and around small grain fields. With the emergence of the small grain, these greenbugs should move to young tender small grain plants. Producers should check fields for the presence of greenbugs before damage occurs. Greenbugs cause damage by injecting a toxin into leaves as they feed. Leaves turn brown and may die if greenbugs are allowed to continue feeding. Heavily infested fields will have yellow spots where greenbugs have killed the plants. The pests will move from these spots onto other green plants and continue feeding.

Greenbugs are most active when the temperature is about 70 to 80 degrees F. They can give birth to living young when the temperature is as low as 50 degrees F. However, the lower the temperature, the less reproduction that occurs.

A beneficial wasp is very active and feeds on greenbugs when temperatures are above 70 degrees F. The wasps lay eggs in the greenbugs, thus killing them. These parasitized greenbugs are called mummies and take on a brown swollen appearance.

Insecticides are available for both greenbugs and armyworms and should be used when populations justify chemical treatment. Be sure and read and follow all label restrictions before using any chemical pesticide.

COOKE COUNTY HAY SHOW

Hay producers need to set aside and submit samples to the 1990 Cooke County Hay Show scheduled for Oct. 23 at the Cooke County Fairgrounds in Gainesville.

Samples need to be submitted by Oct. 15. Producers can enter up to three square bale samples. The samples can be taken to the Cooke County Fairgrounds where they will be stored until the Show. Identification tags for producer samples will be on the shelf by the office at the Fairgrounds. Enter the small door on the Northeast side of the Fairground Building.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Doug Robinson or T.J. Devinson at Cooke County College 668-7731, or the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

Hay shows provide an opportunity to compare different samples of hay and help producers evaluate what makes high quality hay.

Hay is a major portion of the roughage diet of many ruminant animals, so an evaluation of food value and protein content can help growers determine hay quality more easily so that livestock can be fed according to hay value. An analysis of hay quality is particularly important this year because of drought conditions in our area.

An individual entering a hay sample will know the value of his hay when the show is over. Samples will have a protein analysis run and be physically evaluated as to leafiness, steminess, color, foreign material and suitability.

Livestock producers preparing to feed hay will know if their hay is adequate to meet animal needs or if supplements are needed. Hay shows can take a lot of guesswork out of livestock feeding.

Dale Lovelace, Extension Forage Specialist, will be on hand to present a program on Production of Quality Hays and Forage at 7 P.M., Tuesday October 23. At this time, the producers can view all the hay samples at the County Hay Show. The program will be held at the Cooke County Fairgrounds.

The public is invited.

New wheat faces traditional varieties

by Kathleen Davis

VERNON - A beardless hard, red winter wheat has been developed without shaving away desirable traits of currently popular varieties, scientists here report.

"The thought is that the beards on wheat make it less palatable to cattle," said Dr. David Worrall, one of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists who developed the new wheat. "By breeding off the beard, we have a multipurpose wheat for grain, grazing or hay."

Planting seed for the new wheat currently is being grown and, barring a major crop failure, should be available for farmers this time next year.

Beards, or awns, are wiry bristles that extend from each seed hull on a head of ripened wheat. If cattle graze the mature wheat, the bearded awns may poke the animal's eyes or stick in the mouth. Irritations from repeated jabs may cause the animal not to eat as much. The livestock producer loses money when the animal doesn't gain adequate weight.

"We see that when cattle graze wheat that is really mature, there may be some (awns) impacted in the jaws," said Dr. John McNeill, Texas Agricultural Extension Service beef cattle specialist. "It's not a major problem, but awnless wheat could be a selling factor. When a farmer puts up wheat as hay, it might become more of a management problem."

McNeill noted that federal farm programs tend to guide the farmer's decision on what use to make of wheat, because it is planted in the early fall before government plans are announced.

If the federal programs scale back the number of acres allowed, for example, the farmer may decide to harvest a portion of his crop for grain to be made into flour, and let the rest be grazed by cattle or stacked as hay for later animal use.

"We have had demand from producers for an awnless hard, red winter wheat for years," Worrall said. "So if that's what they want, that's what we'll give them. It gives them more options in their farm management."

Worrall said the beardless trait previously has been bred into soft wheat varieties but not hard, red winter wheat. More than a third of the U.S. crop, and almost all of the 6 million acres planted in Texas each year, is hard, red winter wheat, according to the Texas Wheat Producers Association in Amarillo.

The scientist said the new wheat yields about the same and has similar milling and baking qualities as TAM 101, a widely grown wheat in Texas and parent to the new wheat.

"Essentially the new variety is TAM 101 with no beards. No more, no less," Worrall said. "Anytime you do anything in plant breeding, there is a trade off. But with this, the yield was not sacrificed."

Worrall noted that in field trials this year near Chillicothe, TAM 101 yielded 56 bushels an acre to the new wheat's 55 bushels. Some varieties yield more, but the state's annual production hovers around an average 30 bushels per acre.

Maintaining yield on beardless wheat varieties is a challenge, Worrall explained, because the awns actually are slender leaves.

"The beard has an important place in the production system," he said. "It is a modified leaf. So if you take it off, you affect the respiratory and photosynthetic ability of the plant."

As field production was monitored, the wheat also was subjected to three years of testing at the Cereal Quality Lab at Texas A&M. Worrall said the milling and baking qualities for the new wheat are excellent.

Some beardless soft wheats grown in traditionally hard red wheat areas have caused milling problems in the past, the scientist said. Soft wheats, used mostly for pastry flours, do not have the baking properties of hard red wheat, used primarily for making bread.

Armyworms are on the offensive

ARDMORE - Fall armyworm infestations are being reported this week from numerous locations in Love County, Oklahoma, and could soon be showing up elsewhere in Southern Oklahoma and North Central Texas.

Dr. Ron Mitchell, forage and crop management specialist with the Ardmore-based Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation, says the armyworms began to show up in potentially damaging numbers late last week on the Foundation's Red River Farm near Burneyville.

"They're not uncommon given our early planting dates for winter pasture," Mitchell says. "Some years you have them; some years you don't. This year, we have them."

The armyworms attack small grains, Bermudagrass and other warm-season perennial grasses. If infestations are high enough, "They can destroy a stand of small grains in a relatively short time," Mitchell explains.

Producers in Southern Oklahoma and North Central Texas should check their fields for infestations, Mitchell says. The worms are brown, yellow or black and have a prominent inverted "Y"-shaped line on the front of the head. Adults are between 1 to 1.5 inches long.

"If you can count an average of three to four worms per square foot, you need to start a treatment program," Mitchell says.

Oklahoma State University recommends several pesticides for armyworm control. These include Parathion at 8-12 ounces per acre; Parathion-methyl plus Parathion (6-3) at 8-12 ounces per acre; Sevin at 1-1.5 pounds per acre; Sevin-4 oil at 1 to 1.5 pounds per acre; or Dylox at 1/4 to 1/2 pound per acre.

Mitchell points out that Parathion should be applied only by air, and can also be used to control greenbug populations. Sevin products can be applied by ground sprayers, he adds.

Weather can have an impact on the effectiveness of the pesticides, Mitchell says, so growers with armyworm infestations should take wind, dew and rainfall forecasts into account before applying. He also points out that pesticides have grazing restrictions of about 15 days, and urges, as always, that producers read and precisely follow pesticide label instructions.
