COOKE COUNTY GAME WARDEN John L. Welch patrols rural areas despite the rain in search of violators of the laws and regulations set up by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Janie Hartman Photo

Game wardens are protectors of Texas' natural resources

by Janet Felderhoff

Texas Game Wardens are the primary people responsible for enforcing the laws and regulations passed by the Texas Legislature and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. Often they are the only authority figure that stands between the state's wildlife and fish and those who would ravage them for their own gain or pleasure without any concern for the future of the species.

There are around 400 Texas game wardens today. When the position was first established in 1919 there were six men hired. Besides the awesome responsibility of protecting the state's plentiful natural resources, a game warden has a variety of other responsibilities.

Among the numerous duties are patrolling rural areas and public waters to discourage criminal activity; organizing hunter safety courses; checking to see that boats on public lakes are operating under safe conditions; enforcing safety rules; enforcing the same laws as an officer of the county sheriff's department; and assisting in search and rescue operations during tornadoes, floods and other disasters.

John L. Welch is the game warden for Cooke County. He was born and raised in Saint Jo, Texas and his father, Doc Welch, was an employee of the H.D. Fields' Ranch. John worked on the ranch some and later was employed in the oil field.

One day while reading an article in Outdoor Life about game wardens, John Welch decided that this was the career that he wanted to pursue. He enjoyed hunting and loved the outdoors and felt that the game warden job was suited to him.

It took him three years to be accepted into the training program. Welch went on numerous interviews throughout the state as he vied with other applicants for the opportunity to become one of the elite group of employees of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept.

Welch trained at Texas A&M where he took college courses in subjects such as Wildlife Science and Management, Speech, Parks and Wildlife Code of Criminal Process, and more. The trainee must maintain at least a 90 percent average. Now two years of college are a prerequisite.

Law enforcement training is a part of the program because a game warden is also a commissioned peace officer with the authority to make arrests.

In September of 1969, after completing his training, Welch became the game warden of Sabine County for four years before being transferred to Denton County. He always hoped to be transferred to Cooke County and in 1981 he achieved that goal.

There are people in Cooke County who still have respect for natural resources. A game warden has a difficult time when the residents of a county don't assist with enforcing game rules. "I like the people of Cooke County and also wanted to be where I can do some good."

There is no such thing as an average day for a game warden according to Welch. "No telling where you might end up," he remarked. "The hunting season is going strong now, but is has still been warm enough for some water sports. Everything is going now."

The variety of his duties and the opportunity to work in the outdoors are some of the reasons that the Cooke County game warden enjoys his job. Even though the job is rewarding it is not without its drawbacks.

Valenite picks Gainesville

Representatives of GTE - Valenite traveled to Muenster Wednesday morning with formal notification that their new consolidated manufacturing plant will be located on Interstate 35 in Gainesville. The group included Gene Pelzel, John Cory and Bruce Herrin and was led by Terry Sletten, first vice-president of steel manufacturing GTE-Valenite.

Sletten said it had been a very tough decision and one of great magnitude. "I wish we had two plants to build," he said. "Your package was very attractive and well presented." He indicated the Muenster effort was competitive with Gainesville's offer.

Sletten said that the main deciding factor in picking the location was based on the employees. Since the financial considerations of the offers from Muenster and Gainesville were so competitive, the question of employee residence and drive time became a major one. About 75 percent of Valenite employees live in Gainesville or north, east and south of Gainesville. In fairness to, and concern for, their established labor force which is so important to their business, the decision for a central location was made.

The Valenite delegation expressed their individual and corporate appreciation to the Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Board and the whole community of Muenster for their effort and obvious support for their company. Gene Pelzel expressed his hopes for continued good relations among Valenite, the community and the employees.

The GTE-Valenite group was met at the Chamber of Commerce office by Charles Bayer, Urban Endres, Carl Smith and Ted Henscheid. Though disappointed, the Muenster group expressed thanks for painstaking consideration and asked for help in the process of getting Valenite's buildings, especially the vacant one on West Highway 82, occupied and once again providing employment in Muenster.

Chamber President Charles Bayer said the Industrial Board and Chamber would continue working to attract industry and jobs to Muenster. They especially hope to acquire the Valenite West building to make it available for business.

"The whole community of Muenster has been behind us for the year we've been working on this project," said Urban Endres. "We extend sincere thanks for the wholehearted support of the community." The community willingly put half a million dollars at risk and tax abatement incentives were certainly competitive or better than Gainesville's. Endres expressed thanks to the City of Muenster, Muenster Independent School District and Cooke County College who cooperated in taxing incentives.

"A very big thank you goes to Carl Smith who so willingly contributed his time and expertise to the project," said Endres.

GTE-Valenite hopes to complete and occupy their new plant in Gainesville by the end of first quarter of 1992.

As stated in the pledge agreement, all those who pledged money to the Valenite project will soon receive their signed form back with a letter of thanks from the Industrial Board.

Areas plagued by burglaries

Cooke County and the surrounding area has had a number of burglaries in the last few weeks. Two of the most recent were the Theo Voth residence south of Muenster and the Chris Metzler residence south of Lindsay.

Investigator Kent McKee of the Cooke County Sheriff's Dept. revealed Wednesday that on Tuesday he had cleared up a couple of burglaries in the Era area. He was filing the paper work on one of the suspects on Wednesday and the individual's accomplice was already jailed in Denton County on other charges.

McKee stated that the method of operation (MO) in the Voth burglary and another which occurred west of Muenster were very similar to those in the Era area. Both suspects are from Denton County. The Sheriff's Dept. knows that there were at least three people involved in the burglaries and possibly more.

Muenster to crack down on vandals

There is a $500 reward offered to anyone who comes forward with information that leads to the conviction of any person or persons committing acts of vandalism in the city of Muenster, reminds the Muenster Chamber of Commerce.

Anyone with information should report it to the Muenster Police Department. They can remain anonymous. The reward has been given for such information in the past, according to the Chamber office.

Chief of Police Helen Tompkins urges people to be on the lookout for any unusual activity and to contact the police department to investigate. With the Chamber's campaign to decorate Muenster for Christmas there will be special efforts to prevent vandalism and prosecution if there is any.

Flusche accepts 'Fest chair

Dave Flusche, Sr. has accepted the challenging job of 1991 Germanfest chairman. He will hold the first Germanfest meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 4 at 6 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The organizational meeting is for all Germanfest committee members and anyone interested in participating in Germanfest. Flusche stated that most of the Germanfest entertainment is booked by Dec. 15 because the Germanfest brochure must be built and printed by some time in January.

"One of my primary objectives as chairman is to improve the local image of Germanfest," said Flusche.

The Cooke County Sheriff's Dept. has stepped up patrols of rural areas hoping to discourage further thefts. McKee encourages neighbors to look out for each others property. Especially people who are home through the day need to be aware of activity at residences where people are at school or work from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Daylight residential burglaries have a routine that, according to McKee, goes something like this: drive up to a home and knock on the door; if nobody answers they kick the door in; if someone answers the door the would-be thief asks where someone lives; they usually don't work an area at night or on Sunday because more people are home then. A burglar's prime time is from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

There have been several reported thefts in Muenster. During one night a Gilbert Endres Beer Distributing truck was broken into and 12 cases of beer stolen; a block east a Honda electric generator was taken from Mark Mollenkopf's residence; and another block east a chain-saw was stolen from the back of a Cooke County Co-Op truck.

Thieves are expected to be more active between now and Christmas, warns Muenster Chief of Police Helen Tompkins. She attributes the recent rash of thefts to the increased cost of gasoline and the condition of the economy.

"People should put up, lock up, and keep tempting items out of sight," said Chief Tompkins. "It's a good idea to keep an eye on your neighbor's property as well as your own home. If you see anything out of the ordinary, don't hesitate to call us and give us an opportunity to check things out."

Muenster, Lindsay, Era listed among outstanding schools

by Elaine Schad

More recognition for outstanding academic performance has again come the way of some Cooke County schools, this time from the Texas Education Agency. Both high school and elementary departments of Lindsay, Era and Muenster Public Schools have received certificates of praise from the TEA in recognition of "Exceptional Achievement in 1989-90."

Muenster, Lindsay and Era are among area schools that have been cited for exceptional achievement in the latest TEAMS recognition program announced by the TEA for the 1989-1990 school year.

Cooke County schools recognized for exceptional achievement for 1989-1990 include both Muenster Elementary and Muenster High School in the Muenster ISD; Lindsay Elementary and Lindsay High School in the Lindsay ISD; Era schools in the Era ISD; Rad Ware Elementary in the Callisburg ISD; and Edison Elementary and McMurray Elementary in the Gainesville ISD.

School campuses where at least 90 percent of students passed all sections of the state-mandated minimum skills tests were cited for exceptional gain. Also recognized were those schools where students have achieved that goal for the past four consecutive years. Schools attaining the exceptional gain achievement have received a certificate of recognition from the TEA.

The campuses of Era schools and Lindsay High School were the only two recognized in Cooke County for attaining the 90 percent or better passing rate on all sections of the test for the past four years. The two schools are among only 80 school campuses in the entire state to attain that passing rate. There are almost 1,100 school districts statewide, but thousands of campuses within those districts, officials said.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Before the recent election passes into history, I want to thank you for your coverage of my candidacy. It is most difficult to wage a campaign against an incumbent, but it is important to our form of government because it allows the voter to demand answers on positions for the sake of comparison.

I personally feel that I accomplished my first purpose, which was to increase voter involvement in the election process. Although I did not succeed in winning the election, I am very grateful that I won Cooke County by such a large margin. I am most proud of the vote from the two Muenster precincts because it lets me know that I was right on the issues that mattered. Very early in the campaign Muenster became a "battleground" because I knew that the voters there were more inclined to make an informed decision. Again, I want to publicly thank David Fette and the staff of the Muenster Enterprise for their fair and unbiased treatment during the many months of the campaign.

Sincerely,
 Kyle H. McCain

Dear Editor,

Well, the Muenster people and businesses outshined again. What began as a Renew small group Thanksgiving project, became a community project. When our group decided to collect for a needy family, we were informed of the many needy families in our community. Our group hated the thought of not being able to help all of the families, so we began to ask for help from the community. There was a tremendous response. Our request for help was answered in a mere two days so the boxes of groceries could be delivered by Thanksgiving. As it would be impossible to name the many individuals and businesses that responded, for fear of leaving someone out, we would like to take this opportunity to say "Thank You Muenster" for your support in this project.

May God be with you all,
 a Renew Small Group

An open letter to my memories,

As a child, I was raised in the city (Mesquite, Texas). I always spent a lot of time outdoors playing football, digging in the dirt and building forts. Through this process, I learned about nature. Be it with a piece of bacon tied to a string (to catch crawfish) or lying on my back looking at a crystal blue sky as a norther came through, or the sound of a fieldlark's song.

I often wondered what a scissor tail looked like up close, or just how big was a sparrow. Then came a big step in my life - a Daisy BB gun - I had the power to find out.

With a single click, I could send the aerobic and tireless warriors tumbling to the ground. After a brief moment of observation and examination, my curiosity was satisfied, but a very beautiful creature ceased to exist. Through the months that passed, I learned that they did not have to die to be enjoyed - that I could sit and just watch them as they worked or just survived.

It is one thing that has stood out in my life - these creatures have a purpose in life. They are tireless workers, as are deer, wild hogs, wild turkey and quail.

When we take to the fields as hunters and sportsmen, let's be thankful for this pleasure we hold so dear and hopeful that the opportunity to hunt will be here for generations to come through conservation, knowledge and sportsmanship.

When we teach our children to go to the fields, let it be with a grain of salt, because only if they conserve will they have the same pleasure.

Not only are the creatures of the wild endangered, it is also the hunter himself who is endangered. Please leave your campsite clean. Be glad you have the freedom to be there - take garbage bags, sack up your trash (and that of others that do not care). It is no quick fix, but it might change a landowner's mind next year.

In closing, all I can say is Safety, Education, and Concern. Hunters are the endangered species - let's turn this around. Best of luck, good hunting and have a safe time.

Dear Editor:

It's through the help and cooperation of concerned members of the print media such as yourself that the public receives vital information about the Muscular Dystrophy Association, its programs, and the plight of the million people our Association serves.

That's why it's truly a pleasure to thank you, and your readers, for the outstanding support you've given us this year. This help has enabled us to make some exciting progress in the fight against 40 neuromuscular diseases. MDA-funded scientists have begun human tests of the experimental treatment "myoblast transfer" for Duchenne muscular dystrophy. This technique involves injecting healthy immature muscle cells into diseased muscle tissue to produce normally - functioning cells. Another group of MDA scientists has identified the location of the defective gene or genes responsible for the childhood forms of spinal muscular atrophy, the leading genetic cause of infant mortality.

Each year brings us closer to our goal of winning the war against neuromuscular disease. With you and your readers behind us, I feel more confident than ever that this war will be won.

Thanks so much for caring!

Sincerely,

My very dear friends,

I am standing at a crossroad. That is, in regard to my correspondence. Should I first answer the unanswered letter? Should I write the letters which are to be sent overseas? I was informed, to my dismay, that they must be mailed by the first of December in order to make room for the millions of letters, which will be sent to our servicemen, stationed in the Middle East. Or finally, should I write my traditional Christmas letter to the Muenster Enterprise? I decided to do just that, because by doing so my message reaches a vast number of friends in the U.S.A. as well as overseas.

I have on my desk a newspaper, by name Tagess Anzeiger. It is an independent Swiss Newspaper - a Weekly for Overseas. It has 16 pages and many photos. It contains interesting articles of various kind.

I receive this newspaper from the Swiss family which has recently moved into Jonesboro. The head of the family is the President of Delta. I, of course, thought at once of Delta Airlines. How ridiculous! If I am not mistaken the Company makes or deals with boxes of fine tools of various kinds and for various purposes. The family consists of the parents and a little boy and a little girl. The latter attend the local Blessed Sacrament School.

Soon after the arrival of the family in Jonesboro it attended Sunday Services, followed by dinner. At their suggestion we spoke Swiss dialect during the meal. It was a most delightful visit. Well, the above covered space on my scrap paper. Hopefully it is a little more than that only. At least it is something entirely new.

The Tagess-Anzeiger is a terrific temptation for me. I want to read it so badly, but the time is lacking terribly. I could write a lot more, but this will have to suffice. Besides, the Muenster Enterprise has more than enough material, especially at Christmas time.

"Two things upon this changing earth
 Will never change nor end:
 The splendor of Christ's humble birth
 And the love of friend for friend."

In conclusion, I wish to each and everyone of the readers of my message a most Joyful Christmas and a Happy New Year, even though my wish may sound unreal for millions of grieving hearts in our land and overseas, but "Blessed are they that put their trust in Him." PSALMS 2:12.

I remain forever your friend,

To the Editor:

Questions on how football playoff sites are selected often come up.

The week before the playoff game, usually on a Saturday, the two schools agree to meet in a town that is midway between the schools. The first priority is to try to find an agreeable site that is located approximately halfway between the towns. This is not always possible because sometimes there are no suitable sites midway. Anytime a mutually agreeable site cannot be found, then a flip of a coin is used to decide where the game will be played. The team winning the flip will then designate a site.

The main consideration in choosing a site is the shape of the playing surface. Is the field in good shape? You then have to contact the school district administrators, of the site, to see if they will host the game and how much they will charge. Price and services provided vary greatly, other considerations include parking area, bleacher size, dressing facility, etc.

After site selection has been made another flip of the coin is in order. This time to determine who will be home team - winner usually chooses to be home team. The home team is responsible for all game preparations that are not included in the agreement made with the host district. The home team is also responsible for security, announcers, securing officials that have been mutually agreed upon. (If schools cannot agree on officials then the UIL is contacted and they send officials from wherever they want, excluding chapters blacklisted by coaches, usually close in proximity as possible to the playoff site). In addition to things already mentioned, price of admission and who will furnish gate keepers is decided, programs and printing costs are also determined.

Sometimes there is some "jockeying" that goes on, for instance, a home team could let the visitors sit on the home side depending on fan support. Jersey colors are often traded. Anytime there is a stalemate a coin flip is in order to decide the situation in question. The idea is to play the game on a good field as close to a central location as possible for both teams. That in essence is the procedure of post season site selection.

Steve Cooper Supt., MISD

Letter to the Editor:

To All Mothers and Fathers,

I don't know how many of you realize there are some problems in our school system that need our attention now, so that the next group of kids going into high school will not be let down.

I have had children in the MISD for six years this school term. I have tried to be active and helpful to the teachers and administration by volunteering my services whenever needed, if possible.

This year, I enrolled my brother in the Muenster School System. He is not your A or A+ student that some teachers seem to prefer, but, nonetheless, he was a student. I say was because of Nov. 26, 1990, he has dropped out.

Why, you ask? He had been struggling with two subjects and failed them both. He had asked for tutorials the first six weeks and was denied them, along with several other students. He was allowed to take them the second six weeks since he failed the first. I was told by the superintendent that he could receive extra tutoring other than the normal 15 or 20 minutes in the morning. He said the teachers are required to give 30 minutes before and 30 minutes after school to those students who need it. He was told by one teacher she would have to do it in the morning because she had other things to do in the afternoon. The other took afternoons for a while, then decided to opt for mornings also. So, he was reduced to 15 or 20 minutes with each teacher in the morning, with what I am told was a large number of other students.

Okay, now you ask - what's the problem? Well, tutoring to me would be a teacher sitting down with a student or students and digging to the bottom to find out what the problem was, and how to fix it so the student could make the grade.

What I am told by several is that tutorials are going in, sit down and do whatever you happen to be working on in regular class, while the teacher grades papers at her desk. Now, if you need something (help) on what you're working on, you can ask and get an answer. Then there are those that go so fast that unless you are an upper-classman, you cannot keep up, never mind understanding what's going on.

This student was not a discipline problem. He attended school every day. I did not have to make him get up and go; he was up and ready everyday. I know he is not alone in his struggling. MISD has lost two students already this year and are well on the way to losing one, maybe two, more by the end of the third six weeks.

I know some of the teachers (one in particular) say that it's okay that he's gone; now the smart ones can go ahead and learn. I may be wrong, but that does not sound like a very loyal teacher to me.

I have seen the grade school teachers working themselves to a frazzle, trying to help the slower children to learn and grasp the knowledge needed for them to move on; then what happens? They make it to high school to sit on a shelf and molt. They are told they can't possibly pass, so go get a GED, or you can go ahead and walk across the stage with your classmates, but your diploma will not be signed, so don't worry about it.

If there are so many students in the tutorial classes that the teacher can't give them what it takes, then more teachers need to be hired for that purpose only. If there are that many kids in there that the teachers can't give one-on-one, that should tell you there's a problem! Thank about it!

These kids have just as much right to be taught as the "A students."

When I checked my brother out, he was not approached by any administration or faculty to try and talk him (out) of this or to try and work out some other way so he could remain in school. I think they were more concerned whether Johnny down the hall had his haircut right or had a hole in his jeans than whether he stayed in school.

My brother cannot be helped any longer by this school system, but the students of the present and of the future must not be allowed to drop because of sloppy tutorials.

The day I checked him out, I was told by administration that what he (administration) had gathered from the teachers in the first six weeks of school, when reviewing the previous year, was that he (my brother) was lacking the basic ground work for these subjects. He had missed them along the way in the past schools. I asked him why the teachers were not working with those problems. My answer was: No Answer.

Please take charge and see that something is done so future strugglers don't drown like him and the others MISD are losing, and have already lost. All kids, no matter how much we would like, cannot, and never will be, A students.

Thank you,
 Retha Sparkman
 Myra, Texas

P.S. MISD is a good school and my three children in Elementary do fine and are very proud to be a part of it. So, let's keep them proud. I know this problem is also in other schools, so let's try and get our problem solved.

VA cuts home mortgage rates to 9.5% for vets

WASHINGTON - The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs has lowered the maximum interest rate on VA-backed home mortgages to 9.5 percent for qualified veterans, says U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm.

Affairs mortgage program allows qualified veterans to obtain guarantees to buy, renovate or refinance a home.

"This is good news, not only for veterans who can now expect to pay less for a new mortgage, but to the entire real estate and homebuilding industry in Texas," Gramm noted.

The new VA interest rates are:

- 9.5 percent for houses, townhomes and condominiums.
- 12 percent for manufactures homes.
- 11.5 percent for loans covering both manufactures homes and lots.
- 11 percent for home improvement loans.

"Last year, the VA guaranteed $15.8 billion in home loans to veterans," the senator said. "That covered 196,000 loans, up substantially from the year before."

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to Texans. Our customers trust gas and take comfort in the impressive safety record we've compiled. By following a few simple rules, you can help keep that record intact.

Always have qualified service people install and maintain all gas appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation and operation. And always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.

Natural gas itself is odorless. Its strong smell is added for your protection. If you ever smell gas in your home, follow these rules:

- Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use your own telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity). Do not strike a match, and do not do anything that might cause a spark.
- Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation.
- Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.

Since gas lines run underground, you should also take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to:

- Put in a new fence.
- Install an underground sprinkler system.
- Perform any major landscape renovation.

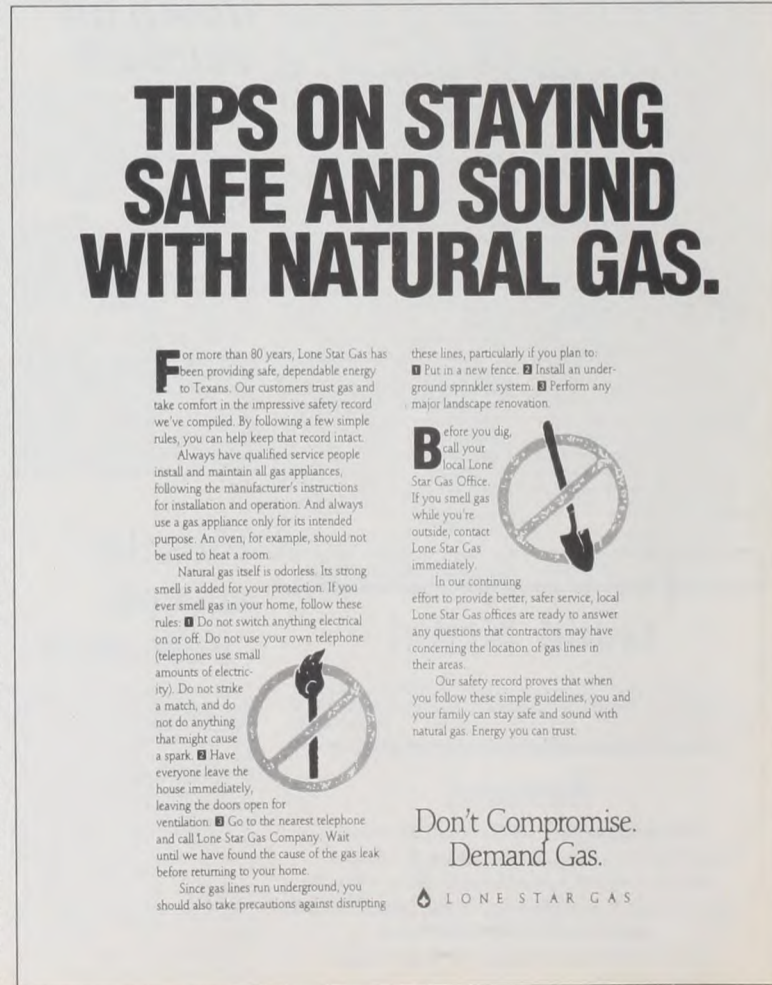

Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas Office. If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

In our continuing effort to provide better, safer service, local Lone Star Gas offices are ready to answer any questions that contractors may have concerning the location of gas lines in their areas.

Our safety record proves that when you follow these simple guidelines, you and your family can stay safe and sound with natural gas. Energy you can trust.

Don't Compromise. Demand Gas.

Congressman Stenholm seeks page applicants

High school sophomores interested in serving as Congressional Pages for the 1991-92 school year can now apply to Congressman Charles Stenholm's office.

Eligible students must reside in the 17th Congressional District, be 16 years of age by Sept. 1, 1991, have a "B" average in four major courses excluding electives, and be juniors by September 1991.

The pages perform a variety of duties, including delivering correspondence or small packages to offices within the Capitol complex, answering telephones in the Members' Cloakrooms and the Page Phone Banks, and taking messages to Members. The pages work on a rotation system so they all have an opportunity to experience all aspects of the job. The work does include a monthly salary, which covers basic living expenses. Dormitories are located on the Capitol grounds. Pages are supervised while in their quarters, which are guarded by the Capitol Police 24 hours a day.

School remains a part of the page's life because they will study junior-level curriculum at the U.S. Capitol Page School in the Library of Congress. Students are expected to maintain at least a "B" average while serving as a page.

The deadline to apply for a page position is Jan. 23, 1991. Applications will be forwarded to a Selection Committee who will notify finalists by Feb. 28, 1991. Interviews will be conducted in Abilene on March 23, 1991, and pages will be selected on that date. Application forms and additional information are available from the Congressman's Abilene office at (915)673-7221.

MISD approves CCAD budget

by Elaine Schad

The Muenster School Board has approved the latest budget of the Cooke County Appraisal District, with a directive that the district take a look at its costs over the next year with the intent that the budget will be cut by fiscal 1992, officials said.

"There are still some areas of personnel and salaries that our board has concerns about," said

Muenster Superintendent Steve Cooper. "We'll give them a year to look at the situation. Our desire is for them to cut the budget," he said.

This is the second budget the CCAD has submitted to the county's taxing entities for approval. The Muenster ISD was among nine of 11 entities to reject the last budget. The City of Gainesville and the Valley View ISD have turned down the budget for the second time. The budget will take effect Jan. 1, 1990, unless rejected in writing by a majority of the county's taxing entities.

Interim Chief Appraiser Brenda Urretia and CCAD board member Robert Klement attended the board's regular November meeting to answer questions about the CCAD's budget. The approximate $622,000 budget was reduced by about $8,000 from the first proposal.

In another matter, the school board authorized school officials to start preparations for bidding out roof repair to the woodshop area of the school. The bid packet should be ready by the December meeting when trustees are expected to discuss a timeline for completing the project, Cooper said.

In other business, the board: -Recognized representatives of the Muenster ISD who made the trip to Austin to receive the school's achievement award from the Governor's Education Excellence Committee.

-Accepted the resignation of Flossie Schoppa effective the end of the first semester. Mrs. Schoppa has requested a leave of absence, which was denied by the board. She then submitted her resignation, officials said.

-Appointed the textbook committee for 1990-1991.

-Hired the law firm of Purdue, Brandon and Fielder of Wichita Falls to pursue the collection of delinquent taxes for the Muenster ISD.

-Approved the district's annual performance report.

-Approved drug-free school policies. Cooper said new notification requirements about drug-free schools are becoming more stringent and guidelines are becoming stiffer in order for a school to retain federal money for drug-free education. The new policies include identification, notification procedures, and consequences covering students, staff and all employees of the Muenster ISD based on federal and state mandates.

Lindsay ISD approves lease agreement

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay School Board this week approved a lease agreement with St. Peter's Catholic Church for rental of school buildings for the current school year.

The agreement comes following more than a year of negotiation between the school district and church officials. The Lindsay ISD leases the high school and elementary school buildings and the cafeteria from the church.

The agreement will be the same as in past years, with the district paying some $10,000 in rental for the year and $5,000 for repairs. The agreement will expire in August, said district officials.

In other business at their regular November meeting, trustees approved the $620,715 budget of the Cooke County Appraisal District. Interim Chief Appraiser Brenda Urretia was present to answer questions about the budget, which is the second submitted to taxing entities. Lindsay joined eight other entities in turning down the last budget. The Valley View School Board this week rejected the budget for the second time. Taxing entities have until mid-December to take action on the budget, or it will stand approved automatically.

In another matter, the board heard from four district teachers during the open forum part of the meeting. The teachers were requesting that the district fund a larger share of insurance benefits since premiums have increased. Since the teachers made the request during the open forum and not as an agenda item, the board members did not respond to the request, officials said.

The board also approved an at-risk policy and a drug-free policy for the district as is required by the state. Trustees heard a financial report on the district from Michael Kendall, CPA, and approved moving remaining funds from the district debt service fund to the general operating fund.

MRS. CARL MAGES died on Friday, Nov. 9, at 1907 Refinery Road in Gainesville, at age 76, following a lengthy illness. Mass of Christian Burial was in St. Peter's Church and burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery on Nov. 12. She is survived by her husband, Carl, two brothers and three sisters.

Elderly homeowners may pay in installments

AUSTIN - Homeowners 65 or older may now pay the taxes on their current homesteads in four installments. Most elderly homeowners received their home tax bills this month.

Leon Willhite, executive director of the State Property Tax Board, explained the purpose of the new installment payment option authorized by state law beginning this September.

"In past years, older homeowners had to pay their entire home tax bill before the normal February 1 delinquency date or pay a penalty and interest on the unpaid amount. This was a hardship for many elderly homeowners with fixed incomes," Willhite said. "This new provision gives them the option of spreading out that payment," he said.

To set up installment payments, 65-or-older homeowners must pay at least one-fourth of their 1990 residence homestead taxes before the February 1 delinquency date. Then, three equal installments are due before April 1, June 1, and August 1.

If all installments are paid on time, homeowners will not be charged penalty or interest for late payment, Willhite said. However, those who fail to pay an installment on time must pay penalty and interest on that installment.

Homeowners 65 or over who are interested in arranging installments need to contact the tax collection office for each taxing unit - county, city, school, or special district - at the address on their tax bills.

This new provision does not apply to any past home taxes already delinquent or other types of property.

THIS DISGUSTING puddle of brown swill was thoughtlessly spit on the sidewalk just outside a business located on Main Street by a local teenager. The disagreeable mess was in range of unsuspecting foot traffic. The clean-swept sidewalk was transformed into a Groad Hole in the matter of a few minutes and several well-aimed spits.

Couple honeymoon in the Caribbean

MRS. JOSEPH DALE HENNIGAN
...nee Kimberly Mechelle Eldred...

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dale Hennigan are on a wedding cruise in the Caribbean, and upon their return will be at home in Muenster. They were married in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Nov. 24 in a 5 p.m. Nuptial Mass celebrated by Father Victor Gillespie OSB, with a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Kimberly Mechelle Eldred, daughter of Mrs. Shirley Cooper of Rt. 2, Muenster, and Mr. Johnny Eldred of Nocona, Texas.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hennigan, Sr. of Muenster.

A 1985 graduate of Muenster High School, the bride also graduated from Cooke County College in 1987 and from Texas Woman's University in 1989. She is a Registered Dental Hygienist and is employed in the office of Dr. E.R. Martin DDS.

A 1983 graduate of Muenster High School, the groom also graduated from Cooke County College and is employed by Peterbilt of Denton.

Presented at the altar by her father, Johnny Eldred, the bride was wearing a white taffeta formal wedding gown, designed with a jeweled high neckline, fitted bodice appliqued with elegant pearls and iridescent sequins. Long sleeves, slim to the wrist, were puffed at the shoulders and were heavily encrusted with sequins and droplet pearls. The sheath gown was edged with Schiffler lace and sequins. Her cathedral-length, detachable train was accented with scattered lace burnouts embellished with pearls and iridescents. Taffeta bows accented the waistline.

Her illusion bridal veil was fingertip length, caught to a band of silk flowers, pearls and ribbon, backed with a pouf of gathered sheer illusion.

Her bridal bouquet, made by Lora's Flowers and Gifts, was a cascade of red poppies, white stephanotis, white baby's breath and pearl sprays.

For sentiment and in keeping with tradition she wore pearl earrings borrowed from her grandmother, Mrs. Evelyn Cook of Nocona, and a diamond cross, a gift to the bride from the groom.

ATTENDANTS

Jean Walterscheid of Muenster, a friend of the bride was her matron of honor. Karen Evans of Gainesville and Jana Hamilton of Tulsa, both friends of the bride, and Sheila Gebman of Santa Monica, California, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids.

They were identically attired in red lace and taffeta gowns designed with lace bodice, sheer neckline and V-back. The drop waist was sashed and bowed with taffeta, and the full, taffeta skirt featured a high-low hemline.

The bridesmaids' bouquets were cascades of red and white flowers.

The flower girl was Megan Hennigan of Muenster, niece of the groom. The ring bearers were Shane Cooper of Muenster, step-brother of the bride, and Anthony Cook of Nocona, cousin of the bride.

Craig Stoffels of Denton, cousin of the groom, was best man. Johnny Eldred, Jr., bride's brother, and Tom Hennigan and Tim Hennigan, groom's brothers, were groomsmen.

Mike Hennigan, groom's brother, and Jeff Fisher of Dallas, Greg Luke of College Station and Chris Rohmer of Houston, friends of the groom, were ushers.

Mass servers were Darren Hennigan and Michael Hennigan, nephews of the groom.

Altar decorations included arrangements of red and white flowers on the high altar, tall floor candelabras with spiral lighted tapers at the sides of the front altar. White bows designated family pews in the center aisle.

Pat Hennigan Jr., brother of the groom, presented traditional wedding music on the organ and accompanied vocalist Leann Hunter in "Evergreen," "How Great Thou Art," "Wherever You Go," "Wedding Song," "Just You and I," and "Hail Mary, Gentle Woman."

JoEll Hellman and Melissa Hennigan presented special Readings chosen by the couple, for the wedding Liturgy.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart

Community Center, hosted by parents of the bride and groom.

Sandy Tempel and Connie Klement of Muenster presided at the bride's book, registering 400 guests.

Dinner was catered by Rohmer's Restaurant. Gary Lee's Dance Band played for dancing.

The bride's table and the head table were decorated in red and white. A wall arrangement featured two large illusion hearts with red ribbon roses and bows. Floor candelabra with lighted candles were at each end of the long table. The bride's bouquet was used as the centerpiece with silver candelabra on each side. The attendants' bouquets encircled red candles.

Guest tables were decorated with hurricane globes, candles, and red ribbon bows. A silver candelabra with lighted candles centered a red and white floral arrangement on the cheese table. A hanging centerpiece made by Aileen Knabe was suspended from the ceiling, featuring an arrangement of red and white flowers.

The wedding cake was made and cut by Betty Rose Walterscheid. The three-tiered cake decorated in red and white, stood above a lighted fountain. Fresh flowers decorated each layer. The German sweet chocolate groom's cake was decorated with white and dark chocolate chips and an "H" monogram.

Cake servers were Michelle Hennigan, and Mindy Hennigan of Muenster, Stacy Hennigan of Coppell and Miki Cook of Nocona.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at The Center Restaurant.

Among relatives attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Jean Gebman and family of Santa Monica, California; Bill and Terese Neil of Penn Valley, Calif.; Alma Hennigan of Grass Valley, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Johnston and Sean Johnston, all of Danville, Calif.; and Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Hope of Fort Worth. The paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elise Hennigan was unable to attend.

Dear Friends,

It's so hard to know where to begin. But ever since Sept. 15th our lives have totally changed. As you know, Duane was in a 10K Run and, near the end of the race, he collapsed with a heartstroke, along with this, he had an infection throughout his neck and chest. Little did we realize how close to death Duane actually came.

From that day on, we thank God for giving him a second chance at life again. Duane is progressing steadily because of his age, strength and determination. But, most of all, because of the many prayers that have been said. While he was in the hospital, it was difficult for us, but with all of the support you showed us with the phone calls, visits, cards, food and flowers sent, that helped ease the pain.

We wish to thank Sue and James Yosten for taking care of Diana. Also Fathers Victor and Sebastian for their continued prayers at Mass, and especially for coming to the hospital and praying with the family. We also thank our family for their support they had given us, especially Greg and Reneta Knabe and Jack and Mary Endres for opening up their home to us. We appreciate the support of my co-workers at the Muenster Bank during my stay at the hospital. We thank the Prayer Group and all of the RENEW Groups that have kept Duane in their prayers and also all of the Masses that are being said for him. A special thanks to whom ever took time out of their busy schedules to mow and care for our lawn. A big thanks to Ben Bindel for making a cassette tape from our friends here in Muenster. It was so good to hear your voices again!

We deeply appreciate the benefits that were held, such as the dances and the Kiwanis Pancake Supper, and also the donations made to the Love Fund. We're blessed with such a loving, caring and generous community. The hospital and staff have found out what a close knit community Muenster really is, and still it is great to have such support. Duane has come a long way, but still has a long road of recovery, we ask you to continue your prayers for him and his family.

May God, in His Goodness, bless each and everyone of you!
Duane, Mary Lin and Diana Knabe

CCC Planetarium presents "The Story of THE Star"

The Cooke County College Planetarium opened a very special holiday season attraction November 27 when it presented the first showing of "The Story of THE Star."

Free to the public, the show will be presented on December 4 and 5 beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Dr. Ron Bost, CCC Planetarium director, said he expects a large turnout for this special show and issued the reminder that advance reservations for each public showing are necessary due to limited available seating.

Reviewers have called this show

"an entertaining and spirit-filled rekindling of a holiday tradition" and says it is "appealing to everyone with its light touch and wide scope."

Bost explained that "The Story of THE Star" is narrated by a kindly grandfather who reminisces about the joy and beauty of the holidays. He begins with part of Clement Moore's "The Night Before Christmas" and proceeds to explore a diversity of Christmas symbols, such as mistletoe, the Christmas tree and candles.

After exploring the winter night sky, the narrator introduces a re-telling of the Biblical Christmas story in which the scenes appear as stained glass windows within a cathedral.

"Our kindly Grandpa Christmas next explores the question of when Christ was born," Bost said, "concluding that two time periods are possible, since there is still no agreement on which of two lunar eclipses marked the death of Herod - although the later eclipse seems to be gaining in acceptance."

Next, the audience is relocated, both on the surface of the earth and in time, to view the skies over Bethlehem in the early B.C. years. This section includes an explanation of the earth's motions in space.

"Ironically, we won't have to relocate ourselves much in regard to our position here on earth," Bost pointed out, "because the positions of the stars and other heavenly bodies in the night sky over Gainesville at this time of year is almost identical to the description given in this show for the night sky over Bethlehem at the time of Christ's birth."

A variety of possible explanations for the star of Bethlehem is explored, including bright meteors, comets, novae and conjunctions of planets and bright stars.

The final identification of the star of Bethlehem is left, Bost said, "for each of us to decide for ourselves."

Repeating his expectation of large turnouts to view "The Story of THE Star," Bost said persons wishing to see it on a certain Tuesday evening should call as far ahead as possible to reserve a seat for that showing. Reservations for regular Tuesday public showings should be made through Ron Bost's office at 668-7731, Ext. 252.

"We are also going to be taking requests for special group showings at other times to be arranged," Bost reported. "Persons wishing to arrange a special showing for their class, club or organization, should contact me directly."

Muenster 4-H Club has electricity demonstration

On November 13, the Muenster 4-H Club held its regular monthly meeting. Roll call by Emily Felderhoff introduced new members for this month: Sara Hess and Kristen Creed. They were welcomed to the club.

Tracey Vogel read the minutes for the last meeting. They were accepted as read. Twenty-five members attended the meeting with ten adults.

The program was given by Darrel Hinkle, Tommy Hammick and Alan Baldwin, representing TU Electric of Muenster. The program was given on electric safety. Actual electricity was used for their demonstration. The program was fascinating to children and adults. The club appreciated their coming to the club meeting and demonstrating the hazards of misuse of power lines and telling of the dangers of underground wires.

After the demonstrations the meeting was called to order by Werner Becker III and Michael Becker. After reading the news letter little candy boxes were made for the next meeting which will be a trip to the local resthome.

On December 15, swine and sheep validation will be held at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. The assigned time for the Muenster club is 12:30 p.m. The market hogs and market sheep are to be validated to be able to show and sell in the Cooke County Jr. Livestock Show in March. This is a new rule.

This month's report was given by Jr. Reporter Heath Bayer.

Christmas Bake Sale scheduled for Dec. 7

Decorated cookies, fresh cinnamon rolls, home-made candies, cakes, pies, breads and more will be available for purchase at the annual Christmas Bake Sale, sponsored by members of the Sacred Heart Home-School Society on Friday, Dec. 7 from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. It will be held in the lobby of the Sacred Heart Community Center.

Sponsors of the event hope that by making the announcement in advance of the date everyone will be better able to plan for purchase of their Christmas baked goods, either for immediate use, or to store in freezers for the holidays. Parents of S.H. school children are also reminded to bring in their baked goods on Dec. 7.

The school children will be allowed to purchase items at the bake sale for snacks and parents are asked to send money with their children if they want them to have the bake sale snacks.

John Dangelmayr family to lead ceremony

Volunteers from Muenster will be at the Home Hospice Holiday Tree, located in Beall's Department Store on Monday, Dec. 3 from 12:00 noon until 8 p.m., to accept contributions to the "Light Up a Life" project, sponsored by Home Hospice of Cooke County.

A $10.00 donation will light one more light on the Hospice Holiday Tree and allow the donor to enter a name in the Book of Lights displayed at the tree. The traditional emblem and motto of the fund-raising campaign suggests donations celebrate the life of someone special, still living; or express joy at the birth of a child; or be made in loving memory of a friend or relative.

Decorated by Pass Time, the tree will be dedicated in a special ceremony on Dec. 2 at 2 p.m. The tree-lighting will be held by John Dangelmayr and his children, Lauren and Joseph, representing Home Hospice, and in memory of their wife and mother, Lynn. The dedicatory prayer will be offered by Rev. Jim Dorff, pastor of First Methodist Church, and elementary school choir students, directed by Anetta Earle, will present appropriate music.

Also attending will be members of families whose terminally ill relatives have benefited from the loving care of Home Hospice Volunteers and Professional staff.

These families are unanimous in their praise and respect of Home Hospice. They reiterate that this holiday season is a good time to pause and remember loved ones, "count our blessings" and give thanks to those near and dear.

Volunteers at the Light Up a Life tree will be present through Dec. 20, accepting contributions.

KCs set Turkey Dinner for Sunday, December 6

VFW Auxiliary to sponsor Big Foot Peanut Program

The Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW is sponsoring the BIG FOOT Peanut Program to raise funds for scholarships to Camp Sweeney. State Auxiliary President Betty Roystun of Lewisville has chosen this to be her special project for the year.

A purchase of these peanuts offers a nutritious product, is an excellent stocking stuffer, and helps send a diabetic child to Camp

Sweeney, where he learns to be self-sufficient.

The BIG FOOT Peanut package contains 4 oz. peanuts and sells for $1.50. A box of 12 packages sells for $18.00. Anyone wishing to purchase these peanuts may contact a VFW Auxiliary member or call Janet Barnhill, 759-4560, or buy the peanuts at the VFW Club.

Yostens celebrate

Mr. and Mrs. Al Yosten were in Dallas on Thanksgiving Day to celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary with their daughter and family, the Dan Phillips. Also celebrated were the birthday of their grandson Kary Phillips and the birthday of the Phillips' neighbor, Anna Lee Rimardo, age 90.

Adding a special treat to the day was the arrival of Mrs. Rimardo's son from Brazil who flew in for the celebration.

Enjoying a wonderful Thanksgiving dinner were the Dan Phillips family, and Kary and Paul; Sue Savage of Garland; Mr. Jim Phillips; Bobby Yosten; Terry Yosten of Euless; and Mrs. Rimardo. After dinner pictures were made and birthday gifts were opened and displayed.

Baptisms

Rust

Julia Christine Rust, infant daughter of Lola and Frank Rust of Houston, was baptized on Thanksgiving evening on 6 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster. Her great-uncle, Rev. Joseph J. Weinzapfel officiated.

Godparents are David and Nancy Bright of Idaho Falls, Idaho. In their absence, her grandfather David M. Bright and her aunt, Julia B. Bright stood in proxy.

Guests at the Baptism and reception included the infant's parents; and Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel of Dallas; Brian Beattie of San Antonio; the Jon Birken family of Corinth; and from Muenster were the Henry Weinzapfel family and their guests from Japan, Hiroko and Taka. Also attending the Baptism were infant Julia Christine's grandmother, Juanita Bright and the great-grandfather, Mr. Joseph Michael Weinzapfel.

Felderhoff

Kaitlyn Rose Felderhoff, infant daughter of Scott and Sandy Felderhoff, received the sacrament of Baptism during a special ceremony performed after the 7 p.m. Mass Saturday, Nov. 26, 1990. Father Sebastian Besoner, OSB officiated for the service.

Kenny and Kim Felderhoff, an uncle and aunt, were Kaitlyn's baptismal sponsors. Her baptismal gown was a gift from her maternal grandparents, Theo and Millie Voth.

A buffet supper was hosted by the Scott Felderhoffs in their home after the baptismal service. A two-tier white cake which held a gold cross inscribed with Kaitlyn's name, served as the table centerpiece. It was a creation from The Farmer's Kitchen.

Present for the baptism and buffet supper were grandparents Theo and Millie Voth and Al and Sis Felerhoff; uncles, aunts and cousins, Kenny and Kim Felderhoff and Kayla, Keith and Kara; Ross and Janet Felderhoff and Jody and Deann; and Tim Voth and Debbie Metzler; and friends, Lynda and Doug Yosten and Gina.

Family gathers for holiday in Bright home

A mid-day traditional Thanksgiving meal brought family and friends together in the David Bright home on Nov. 22.

The special gifts of new life, (infant Julia Christine Rust); the wisdom of old age, (J.M. Weinzapfel); good health; beautiful weather; and especially the safety of loved ones overseas (Joseph and James Bright) were top items on the long, long list of family blessings.

Together for the occasion were Bill and Mary Birken and Andy Birken of Denton; Jon and Claudia Birken and daughters, Holly and Jenna of Corinth; Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel of Dallas; Julia Bright of Arlington; Brian Beattie of San Antonio; Rev. Joseph J. Weinzapfel of Muenster; and J.M. Weinzapfel of St. Richard's Villa.

On Friday, Mrs. David Bright hosted a "Show and Tell" open house honoring her new granddaughter, Julia Christine and the proud mother, Lola's friends and classmates came to see and visit throughout the afternoon.

Sam and Elaine Bright and son, Benjamin of San Antonio arrived Friday evening to visit through the remainder of the holiday weekend.

4-H volunteer leaders needed to assist youth

by Cassie Bullock, County Extension Agent

Special volunteer leaders are being sought by Cooke County 4-Hers to assist children ages 9-19 with a variety of programs. Two of these leadership positions are Ambassador Program Leader and Communications Project Leader.

It is not necessary to have a child in the 4-H organization to assume a leadership role in 4-H. Anyone interested in participating as a 4-H volunteer in any area should contact the Cooke County Extension Service at 668-5412.

An Ambassador Program Leader works with a group of 4-Hers and adults who have been to Ambassador training to establish the program in Cooke County. Using the 4-H Ambassador Program Handbook, the leader plans the strategy that best suits Cooke County. Ambassadors are a group dedicated to telling the 4-H story to those who either don't know about 4-H or don't know all that 4-H has to offer.

A Program Leader is required to familiarize himself with the program by reading the handbook and gaining information from leaders and ambassadors who have already begun this program. Leaders meet periodically with the 4-H Agent to discuss progress, obstacles and future plans. The priority in planning the program will be to show and tell city audiences what 4-H is about and its impact on the lives of young people, and also to develop leadership and communication skills in 4-Hers.

The County 4-H Extension Agent would be available to offer suggestions, lend support and help secure resources to the program leader. The leader would be required to work with a 4-H group one hour per week over a 12-month period. This is a long-term commitment because this is the start-up year and will involve a great deal of planning time. The leader would be requested to be available to consult with the volunteer who becomes the next program leader.

To qualify for the position of Ambassador Program Leader, you must be a male or female adult who enjoys working with the public and has a desire to be a part of a program that will carry the story of 4-H to new audiences. A program leader would benefit from the experience by working with an enthusiastic, knowledgeable and willing group, guided by a complete handbook. The program is supported by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in human and material resources.

A Communications Project Leader works with youths age 9-19 to learn about different types of communication: working directly with local radio stations and newspapers to provide a wide range of learning experiences. Basic communication skills will need to be included.

The qualifications of a Communications Project Leader are a male or female adult who has some background or knowledge in the area of communication (radio, print media, television, freelance writing or public speaking); you do not have to have teaching experience or experience working with youth - this training can be provided as needed. The benefits are leading a communications project, allowing you to share your knowledge and experience in a way that will support the community and helping the youth. The Extension staff will support your efforts and provide training in areas you may feel are lacking. The County 4-H Extension Agent will be available to offer suggestions and lend support.

As the project leader, you will organize a series of six learning experiences, contacting resource people who would help with the project in their areas of expertise. The leader will set the number of meetings and their length. You will be asked to evaluate the project when it is completed.

The leader would be required to devote 18-24 hours over a 3-4 month period. Initially, your time would involve making contacts by phone and some travel time to meet with the contacts. Once the planning is complete and the project meetings start, your time will be spent working with 4-Hers in the project meetings which may last 30 minutes to 1 hour.

Red Cross appeals for more donors

Persons between the ages of 17 and 73 are needed to donate blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile comes to Muenster on Thursday, Dec. 6. Donations will be taken at the Knights of Columbus Hall between the hours of 3 to 7 p.m.

About 10 percent of all blood donations to the Red River Regional Blood Bank come from people in the military, according to Red Cross officials, and now because of Operation Desert Shield they aren't getting the donors. With the holidays the number of accidents increase and there is a greater need for blood. Because of this Red Cross is hoping for a good donor turnout, said Jean Walterscheid, Blood Drive chairman.

In Texas, 17 year olds must have written parental permission and all donors must be in relatively good health. Anyone having a history of hepatitis, heart disease, or cancer (other than skin cancer), are restricted from donating blood.

Beta Kappa is organizing the Blood Drive and will have home-made cookies and juice available to donors.

Christmas plans finalized

The Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW met Nov. 19 at the post home with 19 members present.

The meeting was called to order with Janet Barnhill presiding. After the roll call of officers, opening ceremonies were held in accordance with the ritual.

Minutes of the October meeting were read and approved. The financial report was given by Rose Hudspeth. The president called for reports of various committees. A contribution was made to Cancer Aid and Research, a project from the proceeds of last month's bake sale.

The Voice of Democracy winners were announced: Tommy Greathouse, first place; Sharon Fuhrmann, second place; Jenny Yosten, third place. They will be awarded cash prizes by the VFW.

Plans were made for the Christmas party for children on Dec. 12 at the Post Home at 10:00 with Santa present. Gifts for special children were planned and will be sent soon. Members wishing to donate gifts to Denton State School should contact Agnes Hesse who is in charge of the project.

"In Lieu of Christmas Cards" will be held again with Janet Barnhill and Juanita Knabe in charge.

Another project of the Auxiliary is the sale of Tom's Big Foot Peanuts which will be available for sale at local stores and the VFW Club. The proceeds will be a benefit for the President's Special Project which is scholarships to Camp Sweeney at Gainesville.

The door prize was won by Dorothy Swirczynski. A buffet lunch was served by Jake Schilling.

Ethel Hesse is Auxiliary reporter.

Two sons are in Operation Desert Shield

The Bright family has been receiving telephone calls and letters from two sons, Maj. Joseph Bright and First Lt. James Bright, both participating in the Desert Shield Operation. The exact location of neither is known, but James reports he is not far from the Kuwaiti border. They indicate the weather is now becoming much more bearable and the nights are magnificently beautiful due to the absence of all artificial lighting.

Joseph lives in a semi-permanent structure with floors and a place to shower. James doesn't enjoy such luxury - He sleeps on a cot in the sand and has an opportunity to "go back" about every sixth to tenth day for cooked meals, clean clothes, a bath and rest.

Both are hungry for letters, news from home, and especially Doritos. Both are in good spirits and ask to be remembered to classmates and friends. Their addresses are: Maj. Joseph A. Bright U.S.A.F., SS No. 449-04-8654, 317 TAW deployed, 41TAS/DOXT, APO, N.Y. 09608 and 1st Lt. James M. Bright U.S.M.C., SS No. 449-04-8702, 4th Pltn., Anti Tank Co. 1st Tank Bn., FPO, San Francisco, CA. 96608-5521.

keep the old fellow from getting too lonely during his stay here why don't you plan to bring all the kids you know up to the museum to see him. By the way, Mrs. Santa Claus will be putting in an appearance as well though you will need to phone the museum to get the specific times when she will be in town.

Tigers annihilated in State Semi-Finals

The Sacred Heart Tigers traveled to Duncanville last Saturday evening to tangle with the Trinity Christian Tigers in the TAPPS State Semi-Final playoff game. The Cedar Hill team proved too powerful for Sacred Heart, who was handed a 0-55 beating.

The one-sided defeat took away substantially the prestige the Tigers had going into the game. "I was a little disappointed in our performance, it wasn't a lack of effort, but a lack of mental discipline," said Tiger Coach John Nasche. "We were hurt by penalties and didn't execute our defense the way we wanted." Nasche also said, not making any excuses, that it wasn't fair for Sacred Heart to have to play a team with an enrollment of over 400 students. "We've played bigger teams all year long and played fine," said Nasche, "but with their size, speed and numbers, we were outclassed."

Trinity Christian took Larry Switzer's opening kick 19 yards to the 34-yard line. The first play saw Jason Endres, Hess and Jason Beyer teamed up for a 4-yard loss. A 5-yard delay penalty gave the Cedar Hill team a 2nd and 19. The second play was intercepted by Shawn Dangelmayr when he picked off a pass, giving Sacred Heart possession on the 34.

The drive was highlighted by a pitch from Jason Beyer to Chris Hess for a 25-yard gain to the 6-yard line. Switzer picked up 3 yards, but a motion flag took the ball back to the eight. Unable to move the ball the next two plays, Sacred Heart set up for a field goal. A fake kick turned ball holder Shawn Dangelmayr into quarterback, overthrowing to Beyer in the end zone.

Trinity got the ball on their 7-yard line. A 69-yard gain from a pitch play took the Tigers to the other end of the field. Two plays later the host team scored the first touchdown of the game. The PAT kick was good and the score read 0-7 with 6:09 on the clock.

Sacred Heart, starting on their 40-yard line, found the going tough. Chris Hess, after a hard hit, fumbled the ball for an 8-yard loss. A pass from Stevan Nasche to Switzer picked up 13 yards. A motion penalty, a 2-yard loss and a delay flag, forced the Tigers to punt. A clipping call on the kick return against Trinity pushed the blue Tigers back to their 18-yard line. It took only 4 plays, the final a 72-yard reverse, for Cedar Hill to score again. With the PAT, the score read 0-14 with 2:05 remaining in the first quarter.

It took Trinity three boots to get the ball back into play. Starting on their 8-yard line, a facemask call helped get the Tigers to the 20-yard line. The next two plays backed Sacred Heart to the 5-yard line going into the second quarter. Chris Hess completed a 16-yard pass from Beyer, but was eight yards short, forcing a punt.

Starting near mid-field, Trinity moved to the 20 in 3 plays. A touchdown play was called back on a holding charge, but the next play Cedar Hill scored again. The extra point counted and the score, with 9:28 left on the clock, was 0-21.

A 17-yard kick return started the Tigers' next drive on their 25-yard line. Dangelmayr picked up 10 yards on a reverse, with Scott Hennigan and C. Hess gaining another 8. On 3rd and 2, a fumble backed the ball up 10 yards. A motion flag left Sacred Heart with a 4th and 29 situation and a punt.

Starting on their 42-yard line, it took Trinity only five plays to take the ball into the end zone. The kick was good and the blue Tigers took a 0-28 lead with 4:36 on the clock.

Sacred Heart took the ball on the 20 their next drive, but were left sitting on a 4th and 23, punting possession to Cedar Hill. On the kick return, Switzer covered a loose ball returning possession to the Tigers.

From the 27, Beyer was dropped for a 12-yard rush, then the next pass attempt was picked off by Trinity. It took Trinity four plays to get into the end zone, which was called back on a clipping call. The next play hit pay dirt. The kicked PAT went wide left and the Cedar Hill team took a 0-34 lead going into the locker room at halftime.

Sacred Heart started the third quarter deep, on their 1-yard line. Runs by Beyer, Hennigan and Hess and a pass interference call took the ball to the 40. A 5-yard motion flag, and seven yards lost on two attempts left Sacred Heart with a third and 12. A run to the wide left was fumbled and Cedar Hill took over only 18 yards from the end zone. Four plays later, Trinity added another score. The PAT counted, making the score 41-0.

A personal foul put the Tigers on their 17-yard line. Hess and Switzer picked up 8 yards and on fourth and two, a fake punt by Dangelmayr picked up the two needed yards. From the 27 Cedar Hill's defense and a flag left the Tigers with a fourth and 24, forcing a punt. Trinity returned the kick 49 yards to score again as the time ran out. The extra point kick was good and the score now read 47-0.

Sacred Heart started their next drive on their 5, failed to pick up 10 yards and punted the ball back. A 15-yard penalty forced Trinity to punt, giving the Tigers the ball on the 1-foot line. A fumbled ball was covered by Trinity in the end zone, adding another touchdown to the scoreboard. The PAT was good and with 8:20 remaining, the score was 55-0.

The Tigers made no progress and ended with a kick, so did Trinity, then Sacred Heart again, before the game ended.

Chris Hess received a slight concussion when he was knocked out of bounds into a wall. "We had to do a jiggling act with our players," said Nasche.

The Tigers finished the season as Regional Champions and State Semi-Finalists. Coach Nasche was pleased with the Tigers' effort this season, and noted several bright spots in the season. One a junior varsity squad, the first in 8 years, along with a District Championship. The third was winning a state playoff game, the 1st in eleven years and only the 3rd Sacred Heart team to reach the state semi-finals.

Nasche said the seniors will be missed, but the Tigers have a lot of returning talent, and he expects the team to improve next year, "if the boys can get in the weightroom and will participate in basketball and track."

Coach Nasche wishes to thank all involved in Sacred Heart athletics, most of all the parents, fans and assistant coaches Danny Walterscheid, Virgin Henschel and Bart Henschel.

Tigerettes improving!

With wins over Saint Jo and Prairie Valley and a disappointing loss to the Lady Leopards the Tigerettes pushed their record over .500 mark to 3-2. "We are moving forward again," said an excited LeBrasseur. "We played a good quarter at Saint Jo and a good quarter against Gainesville, but against Prairie Valley we played the kind of defense that wins Championships!"

Led by the senior duo of J.J. Dowd and Sharon Fuhrmann, the Tigerettes rolled to a 39-20 halftime lead and returned to Muenster with a 63-44 win over Saint Jo. Dowd and Fuhrmann each had 17 to lead the attack. Shirley Henschel hit for 9, sophomores Deann Bayer and April Truebenbach 8 and 6. Also scoring were Jennifer Walter, Julie Felderhoff and Vickie Bayer. The Sacred Heart ninth grade team walked to an impressive 44-28 win over the Pantherettes JV. Jennie Endres and Erica Schilling each hit for 16. Deanna Hess nailed 5, Amy Fisher 4 and Donnetta Hess 3.

At the Tiger Den Saturday morning the Tigerettes jumped all over the Lady Leopards in the early going only to fall prey to poor free throw shooting and turnovers. Jumping out to a 12-4 lead the Lady Leopards closed to 12-10 at the period. "We did exactly what we had to do to win," said mentor LeBrasseur. "Then on the same hand we did all the things that cost us the loss. Our inexperience showed today."

With a 25-19 edge at the half a sluggish 6-point third period proved to be a confidence builder for the Lady Leopards who captured the lead 34-31 at period's end. The Tigerettes mounted a charge to knot the game at 38 before the Gainesville post Kelly Baker went on an 8-point scoring spree to close out the Tigerettes 46-41. Dowd led the Tigerette attack with 17, Sharon Fuhrmann hit for 12, assisted by Shirley Henschel, Vickie Bayer, Deann Bayer and Christy Yosten. Fuhrmann led the Tigerette rebounders with 10 of the team total of 28.

The Lady Leopard JV was too much for the Tigerette 9th as they jumped out to a 21-0 first period lead and rolled to a 42-18 win. Scoring for the Tigerette 9th were Jennie Endres 5, Deanna Hess and Erica Schilling 4, Kelly Dangelmayr, Donnetta Hess and Amy Fisher.

"The best defense we have played all year!" exclaimed LeBrasseur. Defense was the key for the Tigerettes Tuesday evening in the Tiger Den as they limited the Lady Dogs of Prairie Valley to one basket in the first 6:30, as the Tigerette offense was in high gear for 18. "No doubt tonight was our best effort of the season," said LeBrasseur. Twenty-eight steals and numerous turnovers were the result of the Tigerette in-your-face defense.

Taking an 18-5 first period lead, the Tigerettes connected on 8 of 14 shots from the floor.

The second period saw the Tigerettes continue the defensive intensity as they upped their lead to 38-10 at the half. "Jennifer Walter was all over the floor tonight," said LeBrasseur. "She picked up the pace of the game and everybody followed suit." Walter scored 6 points, collected 8 steals and dished out 6 assists. Balanced scoring and defense continued in the final half as the Tigerettes rolled to a 65-23 win.

Sharon Fuhrmann continued her fine play with 11 points. J.J. Dowd finished the night with 16 points before leaving the game with a back injury.

Everyone scored for the Tigerettes and LeBrasseur got great support from the sophomores. "The sophomores are here," said LeBrasseur. The Tigerette roster is dotted with six sophomores and if they continue the play of Tuesday the Tigerettes will be a team to be reckoned with in 1990.

The Tigerettes will be in the Lindsay tournament this weekend. The schedule is as follows for the round robin event. Thursday at 7:00 vs. Valley View, Friday at 7:00 against Lindsay and Saturday at 4:00 against Saint Jo. The Tigerettes return home next Tuesday for an encounter with Lindsay. Four games are on tap beginning at 4:30 with a JV girls and followed by JV boys and the Tigerettes and Tigers.

Contest goes into sudden death overtime

Going into overtime with the Pigskin Payoffs, contestants finished week twelve with high scores. Only 28 entered the contest which left Mark Grewing the winner for the week. Mark's only miss was the Forney-Springtown game, giving him 22 correct guesses.

The North Dakota-USC game, which should have been Notre Dame vs. USC, was pulled from the contest, giving only 23 total games. Three entrants has 21 correct guesses with Shirley Noonan taking second place honors with a 16 point spread on the tie-breaker game. Peachie Huchton finished third and Terry Walterscheid fourth with 18 and 22 point differences on the tie-breaker.

Missing only three games were Mickey Haverkamp, Mike Stoffels and Mike Felderhoff. Six entrants correctly guessed 19 games.

One of the most missed games was Oklahoma's 45-10 Friday afternoon victory over Nebraska. Eight picked Sacred Heart to win and six favored Gainesville. Only two picked Muenster to lose. Everyone picked Italy, Pilot Point and Vernon to win, with only one missing the A&M and Carter victories.

Weekly winners picked up their cash at Gregg's Chevrolet, last week's tie-breaker sponsor.

Terry Walterscheid moved up to first place for the season winnings with a .739 percentage of correct picks. Coming in a close second place with a .735 percentage are Mark Grewing, Henry Kessler, and Neil Huchton. Following are Mark Klement and Barbie Barnhill at .731 and Mickey Haverkamp with a percentage of .727.

Staying above .700 are Duane Haverkamp, Tim Felderhoff, Mike Stoffels, Bob Ambrose, Benny Haverkamp and Edna Hermes.

Entrants are reminded that the contest will continue as long as the Muenster Hornets continue winning, so don't quit now, it's not over yet!

Hornets advance in playoffs

Muenster's torrid Hornets continued their outstanding season last Friday by turning back the Tigers of Gunter 34-12 and claiming Area Championship honors in the UIL state playoffs.

The sensation of the game was the Hornets taking full advantage of their opponents' mistakes.

"They made the mistakes and we put the ball into the end zone," said Coach Grady Roller. Muenster turned four turnovers into touchdowns.

At Frisco Friday, as the week before, Muenster played an almost mistake-free game. "If we can just keep it up," said Roller. "We're all excited about our continued success."

The Muenster boys gave their opponents an early demonstration of their winning defensive team. The Hornets, receiving the kickoff, gained 12 yards in five plays and punted on the next. The Cardinals fumbled their first play on their 29-yard line. Ryan Sicking recovered the ball lost by Sean Terry. The next play Sicking went in on a 29-yard touchdown play. Rajko Jelen booted the extra point giving Muenster a 7-0 lead after two minutes and 38 seconds of play.

After the next kickoff Gunter started from its 30 and gained 11 yards, then punted to Muenster. A penalty and a quarterback sack left the Hornets with 4th and 8, punting the ball back to the Tigers. Again the ball fell into the Hornets' hands, when the punt return attempt was fumbled. Troy Pagel covered the ball on Gunter's 41-yard line.

With a fourth and four situation, Pagel threw a 44-yard halfback pass to Sicking for another touchdown. Jelen kicked the PAT and Muenster extended the lead 14-0 with 2:58 remaining in the first quarter.

Gunter controlled the ball going into the second quarter, moving to Muenster's 23-yard line before trying a pass which Scott Hudspeth intercepted and returned to the 23. A scoring opportunity was highlighted by a 19-yard run by Pagel, but failed, forcing a 4th down punt. Brad McDaniel booted the ball to Gunter's 1-yard line. Gaining only 8 yards, the Tigers punted the ball out of the end zone. Beginning Muenster's next series of plays on the 38, Sicking picked up 14 yards on one pass, but the drive came up short and the field goal specialty team took over the play. Jelen's 32-yard attempt was short, giving the Tigers possession on their 20.

Gunter's first play was a quarterback sack for a 2-yard loss. Their second attempt was a pass picked off by Troy Pagel at Gunter's 39 yard line. Pagel, Sicking and a 15-yard penalty put Muenster's ball on the 12-yard line. On first down Mike Gobble connected with Terry Felderhoff in the end zone for 7 points. Jelen's PAT counted and with 13 seconds on the first half clock, Muenster took a 21-0 halftime lead.

Gunter took the kick at their 27-yard line and that began trouble for Muenster. The Terry brothers, assisted by Chris Palasota used over 5 1/2 minutes off the clock, moving down into the end zone. The PAT failed and Gunter was on the scoreboard 21-6.

Bad luck struck again when on the kick return, Stevan Fisher, after an outstanding 60-yard return, lost control of the ball, fumbling to the Tigers. Good fortune returned to the Hornets two plays later when Doug Hennigan picked off a Gunter pass, giving Muenster the ball 34 yards from pay dirt. Runs by Pagel and Sicking took the ball to the 2, with Troy Pagel on a full back drive from the right guard went in for a touchdown. Jelen kicked the PAT and with 1:58 remaining in the quarter, the Hornets led 28-6.

Muenster's next opponent will be the Burkeville Mustangs from District 24A in East Texas. Burkeville, the 1986 state champions, slumped to a 3-6 season last year. Coming off a 33-14 victory over Cushing last weekend the Mustangs hold a 9-2 record this season. "They're fast," said Roller, including a fast quarterback and full back. "They run the option and are average to better in their passing game." Roller, who scouted the team's last game, also believes they have the best offensive team Muenster's been up against. "We're lucky we've played teams with speed, so we should be ready." Burkeville also knows to take advantage of missed tackles. "We have to have good 'heads up' defense," said the Muenster coach. "We haven't peaked on defense, so we'll have to be ready." The Mustangs have some weak spots that Muenster hopes to take advantage of.

Mike Vogel, after an injury in the Bi-district game with Wortham, will suit-up for the game, but his playing time is unknown. "It's a day to day situation," said Roller, "depending on Vogel's recovery progress."

The Regional Playoff game will be Saturday, Dec. 1 in Hawkins, Texas. Hawkins is located 20 miles northeast of Tyler on U.S. Hwy. 80. Admission is $5 adults and $3 for students. Several busses have been chartered to take fans to the contest. Game time is 6:00 p.m.

Muenster JV girls control Prosper

Muenster's junior varsity girls took a 43-28 win over Prosper last week. "We started slow, but once we heated up, we took it to them," said Coach Brian Strother. Ten girls scored, with Cheryl Hacker hitting 9 points and Candice Abney and Kristi Bierschenk chipping in 8 and 7 points.

"The most exciting thing in the game was when exchange student Hiroko Miura noticed a girl that rode the plane from Japan," said Strother. "They were all excited, speaking Japanese and smiling. This was the highlight of the game."

The J.V. Hornets lost to Valley View Saturday 28-33.

"It was a hard fought game for both sides," said Strother. "We missed too many lay-ups." The Eaglettes pulled ahead the last seconds of the game. Amy Dankesreiter was high scorer with 12 points. The young Lady Hornets breezed past the Paradise team Tuesday 57-26.

"It was a fun game except we fouled a lot," commented the coach. Nine of the players scored. Muenster defense showed, not allowing Paradise a field goal until the third quarter. Candice Abney and Kim Anderle were high scorers with 10 points each.

Tigers start basketball season with first victory

Sacred Heart varsity and junior varsity basketball teams started their season Tuesday night hosting Prairie Valley. The JV boys opened the night, winning in the last second of the game 23-20, to set the pace to a clean sweep.

The Tigers took a 14-6 halftime lead, with Prairie Valley closing the gap 18-17 going into the final quarter. The visitors took the bucket with 30 seconds, leading 20-19. Kelly Bayer took the ball down court, shot from 15 feet out, giving Sacred Heart a 1-point lead with 10 seconds on the clock.

Prairie Valley inbounced, but Tommy Greathouse stole the ball at half court, passed it to Bayer at the basket, who put the shot up in the hoop at the buzzer for a 3-point win.

Bayer led the team with 13 points, with six Tigers assisting with scores.

The varsity Tigers also finished the night victorious, winning 52-47. "It's encouraging, after only one hour of practice following football," said Coach John Nasche. "It's exciting to win both games, especially after a winless season last year." The Tigers have a present total of 24 high school boys participating in basketball this season. "We have a lot of athletes that played well. I'd hoped our success in football would carry over to the basketball court," said Nasche. "It shows how important confidence is in high school athletics."

Stevan Nasche led the Tigers with 20 points, including four 3-pointers. Shawn Dangelmayr and Jason Endres contributed 11 points a piece. Dangelmayr also collected 9 steals in the Tiger victory.

Sacred Heart was behind 9-11 the first quarter, but took the edge 23-19 at halftime. The 3rd quarter ended with the Tigers 33-29, but Prairie Valley took a short 42-40 lead with 3 minutes remaining in the game.

Stevan Nasche hit a 3-pointer to take the lead and "the Tigers never looked back."

The Tigers will compete in a round robin tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Lindsay with Valley View, Saint Jo and Lindsay taking part.

Muenster boys lose first b'ball game 58-52

Muenster's varsity boys' basketball had their first game at Prosper last week, losing 52-58. The Hornets were short of players, with most still playing football. "Brian Reiter and Rajko Jelen had good games," said Coach Brian Strother. "Once Rajko adjusted to the officials." Muenster had a 25-29 halftime lead. "We were staying right with Prosper," said the coach. With the game tied at 40 seconds, "Nothing would fall in."

The Hornets were playing with two freshmen, two sophomores and the substitutes no taller than 5'6".

Jelen led the Hornets with 17 points, followed by Reiter with 14. Justin Ramsey, Tom Teafatiller, Steven Youngblood and Corey Knabe also scored.

What to do if confronted by an anti-hunter

Anti-hunting and animal rights groups have stepped-up their efforts to harass, intimidate and even terrorize hunters participating in legal, ethical hunting activities. If you are confronted while hunting, the National Rifle Association of America suggest that you employ the following tips:

- Always strictly observe all gun safety rules. If approached, remove the ammunition from your gun or the arrow from your bow. Generally, these people have little or no knowledge of firearms or firearm safety. Don't take any chances.
- Don't do anything with your gun or bow that could be considered threatening. Protestors want media attention so TV cameras will not be far away. Any aggressive behavior will give them exactly what they want.
- Show the utmost respect for the game you have bagged. Don't unnecessarily display dead animals to the protestors. Remember, the main reason they are there is that they believe you are a crazy, blood-thirsty, inhumane person. Making them cringe by flaunting bloody animals or animal parts only fosters their inaccurate impression of hunters.
- Don't argue with them. Trying to convert anti-hunters or discuss reason or logic is a waste of time. Kindly inform them that you are participating in a legal activity and that you do not appreciate being bothered. Then, be on your way.
- Keep your cool. Ignore any derogatory comments and try to distance yourself.
- Contact the appropriate law enforcement authority and report the incident.
- Remember that law enforcement officers must protect the rights of hunters and anti-hunters equally. Don't try to do their job for them.
- Always remember that your commitment to hunting is greater than their opposition. If you act properly there will always be another day and place to hunt.

To protect our rights as well as the traditions of hunting, you are urged to support federal and state legislation to prevent hunter harassment. The importance of such legislation cannot be overemphasized.

Feeding tips for winter birds

AUSTIN - The bird breeding season is over and with winter approaching some birds will leave, others will arrive and some will remain year round. Supplemental feeding can provide a ready source of energy for some that may be under stress.

"Songbirds, as well as game birds, have high metabolic rates that require them to eat quite often, more so in the winter than in the summer," said Ruben Cantu, technical guidance biologist with Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in Alpine. "These small birds must feed daily during the cold periods to maintain energy levels for warmth."

The best way to begin supplemental feeding, he said, is to purchase commercial wild bird seed mix and scatter some on the ground. After the birds begin using the feed, an elevated table or

Hornettes maintain busy schedule

Muenster's varsity girls' basketball team remains busy, picking up one win and two losses this past week.

The game at Prosper improved the Hornets' record 3-0 with a 45-42 win. Behind the shooting of Melissa Bayer and Kim Anderle and the rebounding of DaLana Walterscheid, Muenster took the halftime lead 24-22.

"We have a good mixture this year in scoring," said Coach Brian Strother. "We took care of the ball and hit the free throws in the clutch." Brandy Debnam and Walterscheid led the scoring in the second half.

Debnam was leading scorer with 14 points, followed by Anderle and Bayer with 8 and Walterscheid with 7. Bayer was also leading rebounder.

Saturday Muenster traveled to Valley View and was handed a tough 46-42 defeat. The Hornets started with an 8-0 lead, finishing the first quarter 8-2. Valley View came back the second quarter and took a 20-17 halftime lead.

"Melissa Bayer was doing it all - scoring, rebounding, assists and defense," said Strother. "It was the best game she had in her career."

Muenster led 29-28 at the end of the third quarter, but fell behind 38-31 with 4 minutes to go. "We fought back slowly," said the coach, but the Hornets came up short.

Melissa Bayer was top scorer with 21 points, Brandy Debnam followed with 8. Also adding points were DaLana Walterscheid, Kim Anderle, Marcia Vogel, Amy Otto and Dianne Pagel.

The Hornets tangled with Paradise Tuesday, finishing short 46-64. "We were never in a groove or mentally ready," Strother said.

Pheasant counts still at low level in Panhandle

AUSTIN - This year's road-side pheasant survey in the Panhandle, taken during October, showed only a slight improvement in the number of pheasants being seen from last year. Biologists attribute the continual low numbers to several factors.

An average of 12.3 birds were seen per survey route this year, up from 11.7 in 1989, said Diane Lockname, wildlife biologist from Amarillo. Since 1988, though, the average number of pheasants seen along survey routes has been well below the 14-year average of 42 birds per route.

"Pheasant production is dependent on weather and on what farmers are planting on their croplands," Lockname said. "Pheasants need a grain crop like corn or sorghum and green feed like winter wheat for food sources. They also need an adequate water supply derived from irrigation or a wet playa lake. Finally, pheasants require dense cover for winter production, travel lanes and nesting and brood rearing. All of these elements must be present."

The majority of blame is placed on changing agricultural practices. A shift from irrigated corn and milo to dryland wheat and milo have decreased the food supply. Other factors adding to the low counts include the weather, predators and possibly, the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP).

"Farming practices have changed substantially in the last five years. The high cost of irrigation has forced many operators to raise dryland crops," she said. "If it is hot and dry during the spring, like we've had the last two years, these crops can fail, resulting in loss of a food source. Hot, dry weather also can have a negative impact on the success of the hatch due to a lack of sufficient humidity during the incubation period. In many areas, few young birds were seen on our survey routes this year."

In 1985, the CRP began to encourage farmers to remove a percentage of their erosive cropland from production. The fields would then be seeded to a permanent cover-mixture of native and introduced grasses, forbs, shrubs and trees, Lockname said. Often, though, large tracts of land were seeded to a single grass species and lacked the diversity beneficial to wildlife. CRP may have provided pheasant nesting cover where there previously was none, but in some areas, it may limit the pheasant's food source.

The Panhandle also has seen a huge increase in predators such as coyotes, skunks, possums and other small mammals. Lockname said overall predation is not a major problem for pheasants.

Deaf Smith County may have been hit the hardest the past few years. Only three to four birds were counted on survey routes this year, she said. Some of the better areas may be in Dallam, Parmer and Hale counties. "Tulia, Dimmitt and Plainview still have a lot of corn, so that's where I'd go."

The Panhandle pheasant season is Dec. 8-23 and bag limit is two cocks per day and four in possession. The coastal season began Nov. 3 and continues to Feb. 24. Bag limit is three per day and six in possession.

For those who don't have a lease to hunt on private land, the Panhandle has 15 units containing 21,127 acres in the Type II Public Hunting program. Panhandle Type II areas are in Castro County, three units of 4,557 acres; Deaf Smith County, three units of 3,603 acres; one unit of 3,555 acres straddling Castro and Deaf Smith counties; Dallam County, two units of 1,146 acres; Parmer County, two units of 3,033 acres; Sherman County, three units of 4,363 acres; and Hale County, one unit of 870 acres. Type II hunting permits can be purchased at many TPWD offices across the state.

Pheasant hunters may hunt below the conservation pool elevation one-half hour after sunset. One foot must remain attached to the carcass until it reaches the final destination.

Waterfowl hunting is offered at Ray Roberts

PILOT POINT - Waterfowl hunting will again be available to hunters at Ray Roberts Lake Wildlife Management Area in North Texas, according to a Texas Parks and Wildlife Department official.

Area Manager Jim Dillard said the Type II WMA has filled to just below the conservation pool elevation and presently covers about 29,000 acres. Large areas of the lake flooded standing timber and shallow water, both ideal for waterfowl hunting. A recently filled lake, Ray Roberts contains an abundance of waterfowl food and is expected to attract a large number of migrating ducks this year.

Last year, 73 percent of all waterfowl taken by hunters on Type II lands came from Ray Roberts where an estimated 834 hunters harvested 5,932 birds, Dillard said. Public access for launching boats is improved this year with two ramps now open to hunters, one west of Pilot Point on Highway 1192 and the other east of Sanger on Highway 1190.

Hunters are reminded that non-toxic steel shot is required for hunting waterfowl in Grayson and Denton counties, portions of both being within the lake area. Also, waterfowl hunting is not permitted in the area north of Lone Oak Road (Highway 3002), which has been designated a Waterfowl Sanctuary Area, he said. A few other areas also are closed to hunting and are identified on maps found in the 1990-91 Public Hunting Lands Type II Wildlife Management Area map booklet provided to those who purchase the required $35 permit.

The only firearms permitted are shotguns with shot. No overnight camping is available right now and the area will close to hunting on Feb. 24.

Free seed to improve hunting

Imperial Whitetail Clover, produced by the Whitetail Institute of North America under the direction of Dr. Wiley C. Johnson, an expert in seed, and wildlife biologists, Randall Rogers and Dr. James Kroll, has proven to be an inexpensive way to give deer what they need most to eat year round. One acre of Imperial Whitetail provides as much browse as 50- to 60-acres of forest.

Deer love to eat Imperial Whitetail, usually bypassing grains and other clovers to feed on the Imperial Whitetail. At the Institute, Imperial Whitetail has improved the weights (20%) as well as the antler development

(from spikes to more than six points per buck) of the 1½-year old bucks involved in a four year study. Imperial Whitetail is a perennial clover that must only be replanted every two to three years and has a special feature of quick growth with its Jump Start that gets the clover growing fast to attract and begin holding deer.

Buying a bag of Imperial Whitetail entitles you to be sent free of charge, two samples of the seed as well as a video on how to plant the seed properly. To improve your hunting lands, become a field tester for Imperial Whitetail Clover. Contact 1-800-688-3030 for more information.

"Our defense is our strong point and we couldn't stop anybody. The killed us on the boards."

High scorer for Muenster was DaLana Walterscheid with 16 points. Brandy Debnam sank in 12. The Lady Hornets shot 80 percent from the free throw line. "We will rebound back this weekend at the Henrietta tournament. We are young and our inexperience shows," concluded the coach.

Cubs win one, lose 1, lose 2

After defeating Goldburg 36-15 and losing to Terrell 31-33 in overtime, the Sacred Heart Cubs hosted their first home game of the season Monday night.

Montague handed the Cubs a 26-44 loss. "I was pleased with their effort," said Coach John Nasche, "but we need to work on our defense and rebounding to improve."

Trent Trubenbach was lead scorer with 14 points, followed by Jason Hess with 10 points. Jake McCoy also scored.

"We're looking forward to getting Neil Berres back from a football injury," said Nasche.

National Honor Society officers elected by Robin Greathouse

Wednesday, Nov. 14, Sacred Heart's National Honor Society held officer elections. This year's Executive Committee consists of five seniors: President - Sharon Fuhrmann, Vice-President - Robin Greathouse, Secretary - Kim Cler, Treasurer - Jenny Yosten, and Parliamentarian - Dawn Knabe. The sponsors for the Sacred Heart Chapter of the National Honor Society are Jeanne Greathouse and when she returns after Christmas, Sister Carmelita Myers.

The Sacred Heart Chapter of the National Honor Society is a very elite group of students. The criteria for being inducted into this group is based on four things. 1) The student must maintain an 88 percent average throughout the year. 2) The student must be a leader. 3) The student must be involved in service in school and in the community. 4) The student must also be of good character. There are lists of standards by which to judge these things.

The Sacred Heart Chapter of the National Honor Society is planning to participate in many activities. Under the direction of Mrs. Greathouse and Sister Carmelita, this year's National Honor Society will make a positive influence in Sacred Heart School and in the Muenster community. Some of the planned projects are book drives and possibly hosting an academic meet.

An exchange student returns by Dawn Knabe

The year was 1974, and Paulo Montes Luz was enjoying life of an American. Paulo was an exchange student from Brazil who attended Sacred Heart High School as a member of the Junior Class. His host family was the Chuck Bartush, Sr. family. He stayed in Muenster from January of 1974 through July of 1974.

When asked what class he liked best, Paulo said that his favorite class was recess. He said he also liked the math and biology classes. He found English, in which he had to memorize Shakespeare, very hard because, although he had studied English for four years before he came here, it is very different from his native Portuguese. Paulo liked playing sports during physical education. He played baseball, basketball, and volleyball during the class. He also enjoyed playing in the volleyball tournaments up at the school on Sunday afternoons with other schoolmates. He threw the shot and discus during track and field season.

As an unexpected gift from the Bartush family Paulo was sent baseballs, gloves, bats and an American football. He said he used them often and loved receiving them after his return home.

When Paulo returned to Brazil he continued his education and graduated in 1975. He went on to a university and studied to become a Civil Engineer. In July of 1990 Paulo applied to go to Japan on a project. His trip to Japan is what brought him to Muenster. Paulo decided to stop and visit all his old classmates and friends for a while.

After 16 years he has returned to Muenster and Sacred Heart School. Jack Murdock, the Sacred Heart Principal showed Paulo around the school. Paul visited Sister Mary John, who was Principal in 1974. He talked to two of her classes and Mrs. Bedowitz' English class about how different it was in Muenster and where he lived in Brazil. He took pictures of the students, which were the only thing he said changed in the school. He not only took pictures but he also videotaped some of the events he saw going on in the school. When asked what had changed in the school he replied that the students were the only thing. When asked what he thought about Muenster he replied, "I came from a big town. Muenster is much smaller and very different."

Paul would love to hear from some of his old classmates and friends. If you are interested in writing him, his address is Paulo Montes Luz, Av. Vincente Machado 1592, CEP-84.500, Irti-Parana-Brazil.

Fifth Annual Social Ministry Conference by Jason Beyer

Each year the office of Parish Justice Ministries calls together all the people in the Diocese of Fort Worth involved in Social Ministry. The office sees the conference as an opportunity for these ministers to learn and pray together and to support one another.

Priest, and most eminent commentator on the spiritual life, Father Rohr, OFM, will be the presenter at the 1990 Social Ministry Conference. The conference will take place on Saturday, Dec. 1, at St. John the Apostle Church in Fort Worth.

At the conference, Father Rohr will treat the important topic of relationships. In the morning, he will explore relationships among friends and family. And in the afternoon, he will turn to social and global relationships. Father Rohr will also preach at the closing prayer service which will mark the 10th anniversary of the martyrdom of four women religious workers in El Salvador.

Other features include group reflections, an art display upon which the art students at Sacred Heart are working, and lunch. The registration cost, $5.00 in advance, includes lunch and has been kept to a minimum to encourage all to attend. Scholarships are also available upon request.

Sacred Heart Student Council attends District Conference by Jenny Yosten

Monday, Nov. 5, the Sacred Heart Student Council attended the Texas Association of Student Councils' District 3 Conference. The conference was held at L.D. Bell High School in Hurst, Texas. The students met at school at 7 a.m. in order to be at Bell High School in time for registration at 8:30 a.m.

The students brought with them a box decorated and filled with canned food for the needy. The boxes were judged on appearance and originality. They will be given to needy families around Thanksgiving time. The program started at 9:30 a.m. with the first general session. The group was led in songs to get them spirited for the day. A keynote address was given by Mr. Phil Gugliuzza on the topic of staying in school, getting involved and making memories. At 10:30 a.m., the students took a break and were served snacks. The group then divided up for small group sessions. These sessions were planned and put on by students from area schools. Most gave the details of the successful projects that Student Council had sponsored in their school. From 12 to 12:45 p.m. the large group separated in half, one group went to lunch while the others watched a Motivational Media Presentation. Afterward, the groups switched places, giving everyone a chance to eat. The afternoon general session began at 1:30 p.m. A normal meeting was conducted including a reading of the minutes from the previous meeting and a treasurer's report. Mr. Phil Gugliuzza gave a closing speech motivating the students to care and take time out for each other. The meeting was then adjourned at 2 p.m.

Wardens are responsible for certain educational programs and John Welch likes to give them as often as possible. Since he is on call 24 hours a day and fall and winter are his busy times he tries to schedule them in the spring and summer so as not to have to cancel unexpectedly.

Holiday stress program

The Christmas Holiday Season can be a source of joy - and of stress - for family members.

A special program on "Dealing with Holiday Stress" will be held on Monday evening, Dec. 3. Ms. Dorothy Taylor, Family Life Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be the speaker and leader. The program begins at 7 p.m. at the TU Electric Meeting Room in Gainesville.

The Holiday Stress program was planned by the Partners for Parenting Coalition who recently sponsored a Parenting Fair. This is the first in a series of monthly special programs designed for parents. It is open to parents, grandparents, daycare providers or anyone involved in the responsibilities of parenting.

The program is being co-sponsored by Cooke County College Continuing Education. Daycare workers will be able to apply for Continuing Education Units.

Many times some of our happiest events and preparation for them can actually bring on the most stress. During the holiday but I've learned to adjust to this," commented the warden. He revealed that he has received threatening phone calls. Often when a person is confronted by someone wearing a uniform they drop their loaded gun and it discharges or young children don't always watch what they are doing and may hand over a gun that is off safety.

"As people involved with narcotics move into the country, game wardens face another danger," said Welch. "A game warden is wearing a uniform and a badge and all that person sees is an armed officer, not a game warden looking for poachers."

Many interesting and unusual things happen to game wardens while they are performing their duties. John Welch told of a strange occurrence when he was working in East Texas. One very cold night when it was drizzling and sleeting, he and a friend had staked out a place where people were causing some problems. He and his friend, who was a big, burly guy, sat hidden along a timberline that was adjacent to a road.

There were watching a car that was slowly driving up and down the road. It stopped as if to pick someone up and then took off driving real fast.

Welch started to light up his pipe as he stood considering what to do next. "Hey, buddy, how about a light?" said a voice out of the dark. The two men were so scared that they both headed for their vehicle.

As it turned out a guy and his girlfriend had a fight and she kicked him out on the 2,000-acre area with nothing but a short sleeve shirt and a six pack of beer. She later thought that she had better find him before he froze and was driving up and down the road searching for him.

Game wardens are responsible for certain educational programs and John Welch likes to give them as often as possible. Since he is on call 24 hours a day and fall and winter are his busy times he tries to schedule them in the spring and summer so as not to have to cancel unexpectedly.

Welch has a number of qualified individuals around the county who teach Hunter Safety Programs. He predicts that in time the course will be required for all hunters before they can purchase a license. Most hunters whose date of birth is during the period September 2, 1971 through August 31, 1974 must have successfully completed the course to hunt in Texas. Trespassers seem to be one of the biggest problems here in

Cooke County. If a person owns property or has property leased, they have the right to file charges against individuals for hunting on that place without their consent.

"If a landowner or leasee wants me to enforce the trespass law, he or she must be willing to sign a complaint and possible testify in court," stressed Welch. If the owner or leasee will not sign a complaint, then I won't file charges because if they later change their mind about filing the charge, I would be charged for false arrest, he added.

Cooke County is noted for producing trophy bucks and this is causing another problem of the county looking for an opportunity to kill a trophy buck.

Road hunting is NOT legal from any PUBLIC road for any kind of game. You can't hunt any type of migratory birds from any moving vehicle no matter where.

If people want to report hunters who are trespassing or shooting from the road, they should contact the game warden or the county sheriff's department, cautioned Welch. Don't get involved in a heated argument because someone could get hurt.

Texas has an Operation Game Thief Program that has been very successful statewide. Individuals can report game or fishing violations by calling 1-800-792-GAME. If the caller requests, they can remain completely anonymous. Information resulting in arrest and conviction can earn a cash reward.

Welch asks that people reporting these violations give as many details as possible. Get a vehicle license number, and color and make if possible. Remember details like how many people are involved, what they look like, what they are wearing, etc. One or two calls a week are relayed to Cooke County but only about one out of every three have enough information to build a case.

The state is making a great effort to protect its abundant natural resources. Game wardens are equipped with the best equipment and have boats, four-wheelers, etc. available for their use. They have excellent radio equipment and are in radio contact with the local county sheriff's department and all surrounding counties.

"I like to help people, especially young people," commented John Welch who is the father of twin daughters. "It's very rewarding when you spend time with young people and later find out that it paid off."

The game warden feels good about his job when he is finally able to catch someone with a lot of complaints of illegal hunting and fishing. "In Cooke County there is good cooperation with the people and with the judges," he stated. "When someone is caught he is punished. It is a combined effort that makes it all worthwhile."

Welch is a hunter and enjoys the sport when he is able to find some time for himself. He is on call 24 hours a day and has two days a week off (if he can get away from the phone). He encourages people to contact him at home 668-6722 or through the county sheriff's department 665-3471. They will get in touch with him by radio or send a deputy to deal with any problem.

Facts from Game Warden Welch
Cooke County is a one buck county. There is not a season on does. Poachers can be fined a maximum of $500 for each violation but a judge can add a restitution charge on to each fine if he desires. There is a guide that lists the cost of an animal from baby on to number of points on a buck. Bald eagles are valued at several thousand dollars.

Cooke County has only a spring season on wild turkeys. It is for gobblers and only two gobblers can be shot. Montague has a spring and a fall season. In the fall the hunter can kill either gobblers or bearded hens and may kill a limit of two.

Spotlighting is allowed for varmints only and the landowner's permission must be obtained. Coyotes and bob cats can be hunted year round but not from a road or without landowner's permission. Certain furbearing animals can be hunted only in December and January. Persons caught with a pelt in their possession during November or February will be fined. A trapper's license is required to hunt furbearing animals.

If you hit a deer with your vehicle do NOT move it. Call the game warden immediately. Any and all seasons are closed on all public road systems across the state. If the meat is usable it will be donated to a charitable institution or needy person.

Earwax and what you should know about it

The Outer Ear and Canal

The outer ear is the funnel-like part of the ear you can see on the side of the head, plus the ear canal (the hole which leads down to the eardrum).

The ear canal is shaped somewhat like an hourglass - narrowing part way down. The skin of the outer part of the canal has special glands that produce earwax. This wax is supposed to trap dust and sand particles to keep them from reaching the eardrum. Usually the wax accumulates a bit, and then dries up and comes tumbling out of the ear, carrying sand and dust with it. Or it may slowly migrate to the outside where it is wiped off.

Should you clean your ears?

Wax is not formed in the deep part of the ear canal near the eardrum, but only in the outer part of the canal. So when a patient has wax blocked up against the eardrum, it is often because he has been probing his ear with such things as cotton-tipped applicators, bobby pins or twisted napkin corners. Such objects only serve as ramrods to push the wax in deeper. Also, the skin of the ear canal and the eardrum is very thin and fragile and is easily injured.

Earwax is healthy in normal amounts and serves to coat the skin of the ear canal where it acts as a temporary water repellent. The absence of earwax may result in dry, itchy ears.

Most of the time the ear canals are self-cleaning, that is, there is a slow and orderly migration of ear canal skin from the ear drum to the ear opening. Old earwax is constantly being transported from the ear canal to the ear opening where it usually dries, flakes, and falls out.

Under ideal circumstances, you should never have to clean your ear canals. However, we all know that this isn't always so.

When wax has accumulated so much that it blocks the ear canal (and hearing), your physician may have to wash it out, vacuum it, or remove it with special instruments. Or he may prescribe ear drops which are designed to soften the wax. If so, you may first wish to try over-the-counter products such as Debrox or Murine Ear Drops. These are not as strong as the prescription wax softeners but are effective for many patients. In the event that the non-prescription product is not satisfactory, a physician should be consulted.

You must know that you do not have a hole (perforation or puncture) in your eardrum. Putting the above ear drop products in your ear in the presence of an eardrum perforation may cause an infection. Certainly, washing water through such a hole would surely start up an infection. If you are uncertain whether you have a hole in your eardrum, consult your physician.

You may soften the wax for a few days by instilling several drops of an earwax softener into the ear canal twice a day. This can be purchased in your drugstore without a prescription. If your ear still feels blocked after using the ear drops, you should consult your physician, who may elect to wash it out.

Grade stabilization structures are explained

by Gregg Tompkins
A Grade Stabilization Structure (GSS) is a dam that acts to stabilize upstream erosion. There are basically two different types of GSS.
Low inlet drop structures impound little to no water. These are designed to drop water through a pipe down to the bottom of a gully in order to stop the gully from moving further up the hill.
Pipe drop structures use impounded water to control upstream erosion. Usually these structures back permanent water up to an overfall of a gully. This eliminates the overfall and stabilizes the gully.
GSS's are designed to create a storage buffer between the pipe and the emergency spillway (where water runs around the dam). There is usually two to three feet of difference in elevation between the pipe and emergency spillway. This in effect creates storage for rain water to pile up above the pipe and flow through at a slower, safer rate. Almost all GSS's designed in Cooke County are capable of handling a 25 year rainfall frequency (7.3 inches of rain in a 24 hour period) before any water will flow through the emergency spillway.

If you have gullies on your land and feel you might be in need of a GSS or if you just want to know more about them call or come by the Soil Conservation Service at 4505A West Highway 82 (668-7794).

State Hay Show
The 1990 State Hay Show along with Forage and Grassland Council Meeting will be held at Gainesville Thursday and Friday, Dec. 13 and 14. A variety of programs will be conducted during the two days' activities.

On Thursday, Dec. 13, producers are invited to attend a Pasture Renovation Workshop along with a Pasture Sod Seeding Demonstration. Various companies will be demonstrating pasture renovators and sod seeding drills on the Robert Martindale Farm located approximately five miles south of Gainesville on Interstate 35. The farm is located at the Hockley Creek Exit. This demonstration will begin at 1 p.m. Following the demonstration, a tour of forage production using various small grains along with grazing turnips and tyfon will be held. This will be at the Milton Ward Ranch located near the Sivils Bend Community.

Forage forum sessions at the Gainesville Civic Center on Thursday evening, Dec. 13, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. A 5 minute overview will be given on each topic. Producers can then attend one individual session for further discussion and questions. The forum will include the following topics and speakers: 1) TFGC's Forage Bull Test Program, Al Croix; 2) Hay Storage, Dr. Greg Clary; 3) Quality Hay Production, Monte Roquette; 4) Alfalfa, Dr. Dale Lovelace, John Strodes; 5) Horse Quality Hay and Pasture, Dr. Mark Hussey; 6) Weed and Brush Control, Dr. Ken Smith; 7) Legumes, Dr. Gerald Evers, Dr. Roy Smith.

On Friday, Dec. 14, the Texas Forage and Grassland Council will hold their annual meeting at the Gainesville Civic Center. Times, topics and speakers are as follows: 8:00-8:30 a.m., Registration, Booth visitation; 8:30 a.m., Welcome; 8:40 a.m., Interpretation of Soil Analysis Reports by Dr. Larry Unruh of Texas Agricultural Extension Service; 9:00-11:00 a.m., Forage Fertility Discussion by Dr. Bob Bullock, Chairman; Nitrogen by Dr. Flake Fisher, American Plant Food Institute; P-K by Dr. Larry Sanders, Potash and Phosphate Institute; Mg-S by Mr. Mike Sevey, Western Ag-Minerals Company; Ca by Terry Bell and/or Leon Young, S.F.A.; 11:15 a.m., TFGC Annual Meeting; 12:15 p.m. Lunch, Awards.

Producers will have the opportunity to visit commercial booths at the meetings.

A Youth Hay Judging for 4-H and FFA will be held on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 13, at the Civic Center. Teams interested in participating in this contest can contact the County Extension Office or Doug Robison at Cooke County College.

We have a good array of topics and speakers lined up for the two days and we look forward to attendance by all producers and interested participants.

Check for greenbugs on small grains

Greenbug populations on small grains have been below economic thresholds so far this season. Producers can expect the tiny green aphids to increase in some fields with the warm weather.

With the warm weather this fall, producers should watch their wheat closely during the next two months for an increase in population levels.

There are several aphids that attack wheat. These include the greenbug, English Grain aphid, the Oat Bird-Cherry aphid and the Corn-leaf aphid.

Normally, only the greenbug is of economic importance. Greenbugs can be identified by their pale green color and a dark green stripe down their backs. Small grains infested with greenbugs first turn yellow to orange. This damage often occurs in a localized spot in a field. Reddish spots on the leaves may be caused by a small greenbug colony feeding on the underside of a leaf.

To sample for greenbugs, make five random counts per 20 acres of field areas. Each count should consist of a linear foot of row. It's best to make counts during the warmest part of the day.

Because of the cost of treatment and destruction of natural enemies, careful evaluation is essential before applying an insecticide.

President of TFB speaks on farm productivity

SAN ANTONIO - The president of the Texas Farm Bureau told delegates to the organization's annual meeting that agriculture has many strengths that other American industries lack.

"While productivity in many segments of the economy is going down, ours is going up," S.M. True of Plainview said in his annual message to the 1,300 delegates representing 214 county Farm Bureaus.

The farm leader said current normal problems in agriculture are bad enough without farmers having to overcome "incorrect perceptions" in the public's mind.

"It isn't always what the public knows that can hurt you," he said. "It's what the public perceives to be the truth, and isn't. You know these myths as well as I do."

"The public perceives that using hormones in promoting growth in beef animals endangers their health. The truth is, hormones are not in any way dangerous."

"The public perceives that farmers' use of agricultural chemicals results in widespread pollution of their water supply. The truth is, the EPA announced recently that the first national survey of pesticides in groundwater has found only one Texas well with an unhealthy level of nitrate and none with pesticides."

Consider the plant vigor, climatic conditions and the presence of parasites and predators before deciding to treat.

Generally, treatment is necessary when greenbug numbers reach these levels: 100 to 300 greenbugs per linear foot of row in 3- to 6-inch wheat, 200 to 400 in 4- to 8-inch wheat, and 300 to 800 in 6- to 16-inch wheat. Occasionally, populations of 25 to 50 greenbugs per foot of drill row in young small grains may warrant treatment, particularly if plants are being killed by spot feeding.

Remember, too, that low temperatures will reduce the effectiveness of insecticides. For best results, apply control chemicals when the temperature is above 50 degrees F.

"Americans should be thankful for an abundant and safe food supply at reasonable prices," the speaker said. "Only 2 percent of the U.S. population lives on farms and ranches, yet we manage to feed the other 98 percent and others overseas."

Ag Tour meeting set

The Gainesville Area Chamber of Commerce annual Out-Of-Country Ag-Tour is scheduled for the week of January 6, 1991.

Plans are underway to tour the Great South Texas area with stops in San Antonio, McAllen, Corpus Christi, Houston and points in East Texas.

Reservation cost for the 7-day tour will be $250 per person. Seats are limited so make your reservation for this exciting tour today. It will be on a first come-first serve basis.

A meeting will be held Thursday, Dec. 6 at 7 p.m. in the Gainesville Chamber office to discuss the agenda and reserve seats on the bus. Everyone is invited.

To make reservations by phone call Bill Bibby at (817) 665-8183 or the Chamber office at (817) 665-2831.

CC Farm Bureau wins award at convention

SAN ANTONIO - Awards for county Farm Bureau public relations, safety, members, "Agriculture in the Classroom" and the Young Farmer & Rancher activities were presented during Texas Farm Bureau's 57th state convention recently.

Cooke County Farm Bureau won the safety award. The award is presented to the county Farm Bureau judged to have conducted the best safety education program during the past year. Leonard Hartman of Muenster is the president.

Ten counties received the public relations awards for their scrapbook entries including Montague County. The counties were judged to have done the best job during 1990 in public relations activities, including public media coverage and use of organization newsletters.

Two county Farm Bureaus, received the "A Plus Award for Excellence" for their outstanding support and promotion of the TFB Ag in the Classroom program during 1989-90. Ag in the Classroom is designed to give fourth grade students across the state a better insight into agriculture and where the food and fiber they consume is derived. There are 188 county Farm Bureaus involved in the Ag in the Classroom program in Texas.

Recognition was also given to counties showing the largest gain in membership, the highest renewal percentage, the largest number of new members and the longest continuous gain.

Texas Farm Bureau finished fiscal year Oct. 31 with 320,272 member families. TFB is the largest general farm organization in Texas.

EPA pesticide study finds one problem well

COLLEGE STATION - The first national survey of pesticides in groundwater has found only one Texas well with an unhealthy level of nitrate and none with pesticides, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency announced recently.

The survey indicated that nationally about 10 percent of the community water systems and 4 percent of the rural domestic wells tested have at least one chemical above the survey reporting limit.

The Tahoka Public Water System well, sampled in April 1989, registered 13 milligrams per liter. The EPA-established Lifetime Health Advisory Level is 10 milligrams per liter.

More than 50 Texas community water service wells and nine rural domestic wells in Washington County were sampled in the survey which EPA said was designed to "give a national picture" of groundwater quality.

Samples were analyzed for nitrate and 126 pesticides. None of the pesticides were found in the Texas samples. Nitrate in trace amounts below the maximum allowed was found in about 15 of the samples.

Nitrate is a source of nitrogen, a nutrient that plants cannot live without. Nitrate fertilizer sometimes is added to farmland and city lawns. Improperly used, nitrate could get into the water supply. But nitrate also comes from natural sources, such as manure or decomposition of plants and animals in the ground.

Babies are at the greatest risk for exposure to nitrate in water. Certain bacteria in an infant's digestive system in the first months of life may change nitrate into nitrite, which removes oxygen from the blood. Untreated, the condition causes suffocation.

Dr. Dale Pennington, who heads the water testing laboratory for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in College Station, said nitrate contamination of water generally is not a problem in the state except for some occurrence in the Rolling Plains, the region between Lubbock and Dallas.

"In East and South Texas, the wells are mostly in good shape," Pennington said. "But in the Rolling Plains, there is strong occurrence of nitrate in the wells."

Precision soil tests developed by the Extension Service 20 years ago have contributed to the current lower nitrate levels in the state's soil, Pennington said.

Pennington said efforts in Texas to control high nitrogen use rates on soils began in 1970 on the High Plains.

Two other chemicals most prevalent in the national survey - DCPA and atrazine - were not detected in Texas.

DCPA is a herbicide, or weed killer, that is used primarily on lawns and to a small extent on vegetables. It is not very widely used in Texas and very little in agriculture.

Less than 0.001 percent of the agriculture land in Texas is treated with DCPA. DCPA is used to kill germinating weed seeds. Therefore, the rainfall is needed to soak the chemical into the soil where the seeds are. Abernathy said DCPA is only active for about six to eight weeks.

Atrazine is used to kill weeds in corn and sorghum crops. In Texas, it is used primarily on the heavier, clay-type soils in the northern High Plains and through the Blacklands of Central Texas where the grain crops are grown. One-third of the state's sorghum, or about 1 million acres, are treated with atrazine.
