County commissioners pass $6 million budget

by Elaine Schad

Cooke County commissioners this week approved a $6.6 million budget for fiscal 1992 with no pay raises, saying they need more time to make decisions about reclassifying county job positions as recommended in a recent salary study.

The budget is a $65,000 increase from the current year's budget, but cuts were made in a variety of areas so the county could absorb an 85-percent increase in health insurance premiums that will cost the county an additional $161,000, officials said.

Some of those cuts included a reduction in vehicle purchase expenses for the emergency medical service from $50,000 to $20,000, a reduction of one employee in the district clerk's office due to attrition and reducing a position in the Veteran Affairs office from full-time to part-time, officials said.

The rise in insurance premiums is partly due to a large number of claims this year, officials said. Two of the claims, for major illness and earlier this year by Ray Associates of Austin recommended job classifications and a pay system for the county, but several commissioners said they had problems with adopting the study in its present form.

Commissioner Virgil Hess said he voted against a proposed 3-percent across-the-board salary increase because it would just make the discrepancies worse before the court had a chance to thoroughly study it. "I know we've got a problem, and I know if we did this 20 years ago, we wouldn't be here surgery, totaled $80,000, officials said.

About 20 county employees came to this week's commissioner's court meeting. Several employees commented about what they said were discrepancies in salaries paid for similar positions, and some were upset because some county employees working for the District Judge's office will receive pay raises, since those salaries are not set by commissioners, but by the District Judge.

A $20,000 study completed

today," he said.

Robin Kuykendall, an employee with the tax assessor's office, said she makes about $1,000 a month. "But I could walk down the street to the sheriff's office and make $17,000 for doing the same job," she said.

Commissioner Jerry Lewis said he thought it was enough of a raise for the county to pick up the added employee health insurance premiums this year.

In another major issue, commissioners disagreed on how money should be distributed to the individual road and bridge funds. Commissioners Kenneth Alexander and Knight felt that they should be allocated more money since they had two-thirds of the rural county population. Hess and Lewis disagree, saying they had about the same amount of roads to care for and had more bridges to maintain.

Total road and bridge fund surpluses at the end of the current fiscal year should total about $1 million, with about $300,000 in reserve in precincts 3 and 4 and $200,000 in precincts 1 and 2, said County Auditor Gloria Parrish. She said the county should have a reserve of about $600,000 in the general fund at the end of the 1991 fiscal year.

Commissioners are expected to set the county tax rate at a meeting on Sept. 23. They are proposing a 3-percent tax increase, with a proposed rate of about 37 cents per $100 of assessed property value. If that rate is set, the county will use an estimated $300,000 of its carryover reserve funds for the fiscal 1992 budget, said Parrish.

SACRED HEART SCHOOL students were honored by the Home-School Society and the Student Council at the annual Academic Awards Program Tuesday evening at the Community Center. Members of this large group received trophies as members of the "A" or "B" honor rolls and medals honoring their selection as top student in each subject of study. Look for the complete report in next week's Enterprise.

Council refuses pay raises... New budget adopted with lower tax rate

City of Muenster employees brought forward their request for a pay raise at the budget hearing last Wednesday evening. The request was placed at a previous workshop but was voted down. The employees thought it important enough to ask again.

Speaking from the audience, Rufus Henscheid said he thought the employees were all doing a fine job, but incomes all over town were down and the taxpayers were hurting. Police Chief Helen Tompkins reminded that the employees are all taxpayers, too.

Councilwoman Mary Ann Grant said she was in favor of a compromise, a raise for police only. Mayor Henscheid said he didn't want to be preferential. "Raises have always been across-the-board in the past," he said, adding "We feel like salaries are in line with other cities."

City employees get a built-in $103.00 per year raise but City Administrator Joe Fenton said that's not much in the face of rising living costs. "If the city was broke, we wouldn't ask," he said. "But we have surpluses in every fund and the employees are the reason why. They save you money."

Councilman Arthur Hennigan ended the discussion, saying the only way to raise pay was to eliminate positions.

The public hearing was closed and the regular city council meeting for September was opened. The first item involved codification of city ordinances. The process should accomplish several objectives: (1) Clean up and put in understandable language the current burgeoning pile of ordinances both old and new. (2) Classify and organize the city laws into readable ring-bound books for quick reference by officials or citizens. (3) Recommend as to the constitutionality of any ordinance in question. The city is talking seriously with a company which specializes in this work and estimates a cost of $4,000.00 to $5,000.00.

Chamber of Commerce President Jacob Pagel brought a request to the council to allow the closing of a portion of Main Street for Oktoberfest on Oct. 19. The city approved, on condition that the State Highway Dept. allows the closing of the FM road and the Chamber of Commerce carries liability insurance for the event.

The city budget for 1991-92 was adopted at a total planned expenditure of $894,710.00. Last year's budget totaled $826,728.00. The motion to adopt the budget as is with no new pay raise passed by a vote of 3 to 2.

Park Board recommendations for tree and lawn improvements in the City Park were accepted for consideration. The city will consult with urban forester, Don Weise, of Gainesville concerning excessive shade in some areas to re-establish lawn grass.

Other items considered by the council included:

-Request from Muenster Independent School District to use water from the city's north water well for landscape watering. This well has been out of use by the city for seven years because of the hard water it produces and its tendency to break suction when other area wells are in use. The council is weighing the variables in order to make an arrangement.

-Bids are out to contract for street overlay paving similar to the Sixth Street job. Pecan Street is a prime candidate.

-Monthly bills totaling $15,322.23 were approved for payment.

-The 1991-92 city tax rate of 40.868 cents per $100.00 valuation was adopted. This rate represents a rate decrease of 3.326 cents caused by the increase in property values. City Secretary Celine Dittfurth estimates a 98 percent collection tax rate will raise about $200,000.00. The balance of city funds come from fees for service and franchise and sales taxes.

-Bid for the new rural response fire truck was awarded to Endres Motor Company of Muenster for $16,929.75 for a 1991 F-Super Duty truck, cab and chassis only.

-The council heard complaints that certain persons were dumping unauthorized household garbage in city park trash cans. Identities are known but were not revealed. They will receive letters concerning the offense and citations if the warning doesn't work.

-Council closed the public meeting to meet in executive session.

United Way Fund Drive experiences strong start

Cooke County United Way hosted a luncheon at noon on Friday, Sept. 6, in the Gainesville Civic Center with KXAS-TV sportscaster Scott Murray as the featured speaker. The county's goal of $225,000 is 45 percent on the way to being met.

Pacesetter organizations - Tom Thumb, Gainesville Memorial Hospital, City of Gainesville, Weber Aircraft and Valley View - accounted for almost 41 percent of the donations tallied so far. Valley View issued a challenge to other small towns in Cooke County to match the $7,310 already raised in Valley View.

Muenster has set a goal of $11,000. Last year, Muenster's goal was $10,000 and a total of $10,441.00 was raised. Lindsay's goal for 1991 is $900. Their goal last year was $600 and they raised a total of $789.00.

Members of Muenster's Park Board are responsible for the United Way Fund Drive in Muenster and have distributed information to local employers who will contact their employees for possible contributions. Locally, the funds from United Way are used to help finance youth organizations and activities.

Williamson comments bluntly at meeting

Oktoberfest will be a reality in Muenster this year. A large program of activities and events is planned for downtown on Oct. 19. Proceeds will benefit city beautification. More details will be released soon as plans are finalized by the Chamber of Commerce.

This short announcement was the only business to share time with Texas Representative Ric Williamson at Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce lunch meeting at The Center Restaurant. Williamson came with no prepared remarks, saying he intended to use the time answering questions and being in touch.

Under new Texas redistricting western Cooke County remains in Williamson's district. He voted against the new lines, generally along I-35 to California Street in Gainesville to Grand Avenue north to the Red River, calling it "dishonorable gerrymandering."

He said he could have surrendered Cooke County, but his influence in Austin enabled him to keep part in his district. "It made me mad that I only got 40 percent of the vote from this part of the county in the last election and I wanted the challenge to win you back," he said. "I'm going to work real hard to prove you have one of the best legislators in Austin."

Questions to Representative Williamson were mostly about spending and education.

Dennis Hess questioned how it could be called budget cutting with a 21 percent increase. Williamson explained that the 21 percent figure was misinformation. The fact is the last biennium budget of $52 billion and population goes up, rates have to go up."

-Speaking of the County Education Districts, he commented that "sometimes it takes doing something really dumb to get people's attention and that's good news."

-He recommended output-oriented, performance-based education programs instead of current directives from the state. "I'm proposing that Muenster Independent School District will be one of a few schools in a pilot program for de-regulation."

"I think our economic crisis is beginning to be realized and understood."

Williamson addressed questions on state revenue and taxation.

"Taxes on wealth and production, the property tax and income tax are counter-productive. They encourage cheating. Tax on consumption could be much more broadly based. It encourages saving and, if applied equally to all transactions, virtually eliminates cheating. It's certainly not pleasant, but we must consider alternatives to the present system."

Williamson concluded his remarks with his thanks and news that he is working toward opening a small office in Muenster soon.

will increase to $55.6 billion or 6 percent per year over the next two years. He said that Texas population growth justifies the rise and, though the amount is great, Texas operates very frugally compared to other urban states.

Williamson made these points in discussing public education:

"I think it's insane to try to educate your kids off of a shrinking tax base. If property values shrink

Administrator named, CCED approves budget

by Elaine Schad

The Cooke County Appraisal District will serve as the administrator of the Cooke County Education District, the CCED board has decided.

The CCED board has voted to designate the CCAD as the chief administrator for the collection and distribution of local property tax money to the county's eight school districts.

CCED trustees also approved a $25,065 budget for 1991-1992 for the operation of the education district. The budget includes a salary of $18,500 for the CCAD to hire an additional employee for the operation of the CCED. The services part of the budget, which will include audit expenses, total $2,800. CCED liability insurance will cost $2,500, with supplies and capital outlay set at $265.

The Muenster, Era and Lindsay school districts voted against the CCAD's selection as administrative agent, recommending that the school districts handle the duties and save the expense of an additional employee. CCED board member Leon Klement, Muenster representative, made the motion for the school districts to handle the administratives, but the motion died for lack of a second.

"In my opinion, the reason was two-fold," said Muenster Superintendent Cooper of the three school districts wishing to handle the administrative duties. "First, the administrative duties he's (the chief appraiser) required

Sacred Heart Trust Fund hosts annual dinner Sunday

The Sacred Heart School Trust Fund hosted its annual dinner on Sunday, Sept. 8 at noon in the Sacred Heart Community Center to honor special invited guests, to hear addresses by several speakers who are themselves distinguished alumni and to receive the financial report of the year's activities and the financial status of the fiscal year July 1, 1990-June 30, 1991.

The trust is operated by a committee of five members, three permanent, two elected. Permanent members are the Pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Ray Voth and Ed Endres. Current elected members are Julian Walterscheid and Chuck Bartush, Sr.

The Sacred Heart School Trust Fund was established in 1976 by a group of parents of Sacred Heart School students. The sole purpose of the Fund is to collect money to be used for the benefit of the teachers of Sacred Heart School.

The Trust Fund is an independent non-taxable Fund approved by the IRS with its own tax identification number. Income to the Fund is through donations, fund raising events and interest.

Over the last several years new developments and ideas concerning the Trust Fund include some life insurance policies devoted to the Trust Fund and some Testamentary bequests naming the Trust Fund as a beneficiary in wills. Just this year one estate made a very generous bequest to the Fund in an amount over $10,000.

A printed report of the fiscal year and the financial status, 1976-1991 was given to each member attending the Sunday dinner.

Master of Ceremonies for the program was Neil Hesse, president of the S.H. Alumni Association, who related personal memories of school days, saying "Then I had only my family; after I got married we had her family and my family; after I got out of college, I came to realize that Sacred Heart is now all our family too." Father Victor Gillespie led the opening prayer.

Guest speakers were Mark Nasche, a Sacred Heart Alumni member, son of the Angelo Nasches, an Investment Executive employed by Piper-Jaffrey - Hopwood, Inc. and a resident of Kansas City, Mo. He is a 1984 graduate of Benedictine College of Atchison, Kansas with a degree in Business Administration and Economics.

His remarks included references to the costs of normal private schools in cities as compared to the cost of attendance at Sacred Heart School. "It's cheap here," he said, in comparison.

Another speaker was Cynthia Bindel Dennis, a Sacred Heart Alumni member, daughter of the Wilfred Bindels, a College Mathematics Instructor at San Jacinto College in Houston. She is a graduate of Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio with a degree in Math and holds a Master's degree in Education from the University of Texas at San Antonio. She has also attended the University of Houston.

Her remarks included her own experiences in the various parishes she has lived and stories told her by parents who attempted to start private parish schools but found the undertaking too great and too much of a financial load. She urged, "Don't let go" of what you have.

The third speaker was Paul Hesse, an alumnus of Sacred Heart School, son of Mrs. Ida

Hesse and the late Meinrad Hesse, a Computer Management Executive, an employee of Aramco Oil Company in Saudi Arabia and now retired in Muenster. He attended the University of Dallas and UT in Arlington; also the University of Maryland and holds a Bachelor's degree in Commerce and is now retired and cares for his property, etc.

His remarks included references to his work in many parts of the world and related how a good all around Catholic background helped him adjust to world-wide conditions wherever his job carried him.

The financial report was given by Chuck Bartush, Jr., S.H. Trust Fund attorney.

Father Camillus Cooney, assistant pastor, gave the closing prayer.

Musical entertainment was provided by Roger Endres, Shawna Herr and Wendell Black.

Special guests, in addition to the local pastors were the Benedictine Sisters, and Edward J. Doherty, Superintendent of Schools, Diocese of Fort Worth and Sister Marguerite Connors, Assistant to the Superintendent.

Price of the meal was $25 per person. The seated meal was catered by Rohmer's Restaurant and served by Shirley Henscheid, Jennifer Walter, Mandy Barnhill, Amy Bayer, Vicki Bayer, Mark Flusche and Stevan Nasche to 168 attending.

Decorations emphasizing the school colors of red and white were created by Peggy Grewing, Jana Stoffels and the chairman, Donna Biffle.

Gary Endres headed the planning and publicity committees, assisted by a group of volunteers.

Souvenir booklets were made by the office staff of Sacred Heart School.

to perform will be school duties, and he's a tax man," said Cooper. "Second, we were trying to split those duties to try to save that $18,500 for the additional employee, which will eventually be picked up by the school districts," he said.

The CCED's next task will be setting the county tax rate. CCED trustees are waiting for the appraisal district to complete conversion to a new computer system being installed to handle the CCED accounts. The CCAD is expected to supply the education district with a certified tax roll and collection data within the week, said CCAD Chief Appraiser Ross Fry.

Cooke County's school districts will be unable to set their local tax rates until the CCED first sets the county tax rate, officials said. By law, school districts must wait at least seven days after the county tax rate is set before approving the local school rate, officials said.

Couple united in Sept. 7 ceremony

MRS. JOSEPH BRIAN PAGEL
...nee Laura Jean Hess...

The wedding of Laura Jean Hess and Joe Pagel was held in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Sept. 7, with Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, celebrating the Nuptial Mass and presiding for their vows in a double-ring ceremony at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Jerry and Monica Hess. The groom is the son of John and JoAnn Pagel, all of Muenster.

In a setting created by arrangements of white gladioli tied with royal purple bows, a pair of tall, multi-tiered floor candelabra with lighted candles and a Unity candle on the altar, the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding, she chose a white satin bridal gown designed by Mary. The mermaid-style gown featured a wedding band neckline of beaded and sequined re-embroidered Alencon lace with a row of pearl droplets falling over the yoke of sheer English net. The mermaid bodice was adorned with appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace, bridal pearls and sequins. A row of pearl droplets matching those at the neckline accented the shoulders, and edge of the yoke. Long tapered sleeves of net and satin were buttoned at the wrist. From the mermaid bodice, the full skirt, edged with scalloped beaded lace fell to slipper length in front and swept into a chapel train. A large satin bow at the waist and appliques of lace adorned the skirt and train of the gown.

The bride chose three white satin roses, white baby's breath and purple and silver ribbon gathered into a nosegay for her bouquet.

For sentiment and "something old" and "Something borrowed," she carried her mother's rosary and wore her pearl and diamond ring.

ATTENDANTS

Penni Haverkamp of Muenster was her sister's matron of honor. Jean Pagel of Lubbock, groom's sister, Melanie Hesse of Denton and Staci Walterscheid of Muenster, friends of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were gowned alike in long purple satin gowns designed with fitted bodice, scooped back neckline draped with triple rows of pearls and straight skirt encircled at the waist with a peplum.

Each held a single white magnolia stem accented with baby's breath and tiny mauve and purple flowers, and purple, silver and white ribbons, carried gently as an arm bouquet.

Lacy Endres, groom's cousin, was flower girl, dressed as the bridesmaid. Shawn Hess, bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

Mike Pagel of Denton stood with his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Mark Klement, a friend of the groom, and Glenn Hess and Ryan Hess, both brothers of the bride, and all of Muenster. Ushers were friends of the groom, Drue Bynum of Georgia, Daniel Klement of Gainesville, and Gary Grewing of Gainesville.

Cousins of the bride, Aaron Hess, Matthew Nasche and Jason Hess were Mass servers.

Wedding music was presented by Ruth Felderhoff, organist, and Christy Hesse and Roger Dieter, vocalists.

The wedding liturgy included Readings and Responses by Denise Bayer and Kim Walterscheid, friends of the bride, and Offertory petitions by Dianne Pagel, groom's sister. Eucharistic Ministers were Dave and Pam Fette, James and Theresa Walterscheid, Ryan Bayer, Tara Walterscheid and Carol Klement.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed at Sacred Heart Community Center. Parents of the couple hosted 600 guests.

Dinner was catered by Francis and Cathie Fuhrmann of The Farmer's Kitchen, who also created all the decorations for the reception area, including a huge deep purple balloon, suspended from the ceiling with floating drapes of purple net. The wedding couple chose Victorian style decorations, with romantic purples to mauves in tapestry colors. The centerpiece was a mauve pageant-style draping with a dramatic purple sphere entwined with pearls, ribbons, flowers and netting. The hall was accented with ficus trees, crystal lighting and balloons, with votive candles on guest tables.

Presiding at the guest book were Tracy Skrivaneck of Ennis and Michelle Monday of Denton, friends of the bride.

The bride's table, with formal draping and clusters matching the centerpiece, included purples, mauves and net, accented by hurricane candles. A lattice background held a hand-painted cherub with garlands of antique Victorian flowers.

Betty Rose Walterscheid baked and decorated the bride's cake and the groom's cake. The bride's cake was a six-layer confection - with three tiers of the main white wedding cake standing above tall crystal pillars. A shimmering crystal stairway connected the main cake to an adjoining two-tier chocolate cake frosted in white. Another stairway connected the final white layer. Another stairway descended to the table and an arrangement of fresh flowers. Fresh arrangements of asters, statice, larkspur, cushion mums and Monte Casino daisies in plum and white and a crystal heart decorated the top of each layer. The top keepsake layer held a porcelain couple miniature.

The chocolate groom's cake, held dipped strawberries, chocolate curls and chopped pecans.

Cake servers were Janet Ivers, Theresa Ivers, Nicole Endres, Shauna Endres and DeAnna Hess.

The rehearsal dinner was held on Sept. 1 at The Center Restaurant and attended by immediate families, wedding party and guests.

The bride is a graduate of Muenster High School, Brookhaven College and the University of North Texas with a degree in Strategic Management.

The groom is a 1987 graduate of Muenster High School and is employed by Community Lumber Company.

Upon return from a wedding trip to Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic, the couple will be at home in Muenster.

1991 Cordis to be issued on Friday at Sacred Heart School

The long and anxiously awaited 1991 Sacred Heart Cordis has arrived and will be issued on Friday, Sept. 13. Yearbooks will be distributed after lunch to students that purchased a book last year. The seniors of 1991 may pick up their yearbooks in the Homemaking Room on Friday. If you wish to purchase one of the few remaining books, please contact Mrs. Linda Ellender.

The 1991 edition boasts color endsheets and eight color pages. The picture-packed book is awesome from the first page to the last. The title page features "Tiger Life" from sunrise to sunset at Sacred Heart. It is amazing that first-year Journalism students could produce such a graphic portrayal of student life. The 1991 Cordis is truly a work of art.

The 1991 staff to be commended was composed of Jason Beyer, Kim Cler, Jason Endres, Sharon Fuhrmann, Robin Greathouse, Jayna Hofbauer, Dawn Knabe, Jon Schilling, Katherine Vickers and Steven Youngblood. Many of the photographs were taken by the students, Mr. Eric Gray of the faculty staff and The Muenster Enterprise. Mrs. Linda Ellender is the Journalism teacher and yearbook sponsor. The Cordis is published by the Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas and is truly worth the wait.

Fraternities from Lindsay, Muenster meet

Father Martin Wolter, OFM, Spiritual Assistant from Eureka Springs, Arkansas met in Lindsay on Sept. 3, 1991 for Visitation. Meeting with him were members of St. Peter's Secular Franciscans of Lindsay and St. Bonaventure Fraternity from Muenster.

Mass was celebrated at 11 o'clock by Father Martin Wolter. Entrance hymn was "Thy Loving Kindness." Sister Henriann Fuhrmann was the lector for the Readings. Father Martin Wolter gave an inspiring homily on the life of St. Francis, as he carried out his work and lived in the light of Christ. He was blessed with courage, kindness and the true love of Christ. St. Francis also had the "Stigmata," which are like the wounds that Jesus received during his Passion and Crucifixion. Carrying the gifts to the altar were Theresa Hermes and Betty Yosten. Mass ended by singing "Make Me A Channel of Your Peace."

A delicious dinner was enjoyed by all at noon. Everyone had brought a covered dish for the occasion. Later, Father Martin Wolter again spoke to the group. He said the most important part of meetings are prayers, practicing the rules of the fraternities and to have friendship with everyone. We should visit the sick, visit members and people and pray with them, and also have enjoyable times with them. We should help anyone we can. The meeting closed with prayer from the new Franciscan ritual. All joined in singing "Holy God," "We Praise The Name" and "This Is The Day." After adjournment, punch, cookies and cake were enjoyed by all.

Many thanks for the Masses, flowers, gift certificates, money, gifts, plants and cards sent to us on our 65th wedding anniversary. You made it such a wonderful day - one we shall never forget. We are so happy to be in Muenster with such loving and thoughtful friends.
God bless you
We love you all,
Charlie and Violet Stelzer

Stelzers celebrate 65 years

Violet and Charlie Stelzer recalled their wedding day of Sept. 7, 1926 - the day they were married in Sacred Heart Church in Muenster 65 years ago by Father Frowin Koerd, OSB, pastor - and attended a Mass of Thanksgiving celebrated by Father Camillus Cooney, OSB, on Saturday, Sept. 7, 1991 at 8 a.m. She is the daughter of the late Henry Walterscheid and Anna (Kaiser) Walterscheid. Charlie is the son of the late August C. Stelzer and Mary (Mueller) Stelzer.

The next day, Sunday, the couple hosted a reception at 4:30 p.m. and dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall for relatives and friends, catered by Rohmer's.

Registering about 174 guests were the couple's nieces, Lynette Harris and Shirley Grewing. Decorating the registration table was an arrangement of red silk roses, a gift from Violet's fellow quilters.

Other decorations throughout were created by Loretta Wimmer, Mary Alice Bayer, Shirley Grewing, Rose Hofbauer, Josephine Schilling, Juanita Knabe, Lynette Harris, Charles Wimmer and Wilfred Bindel. Dubonnet and mauve streamers centered guest tables, with arrangements of carnations and daisies. Betty Rose Walterscheid baked and decorated the two anniversary cakes. Assisting with serving the cakes were great-nieces Amber and Brandi Grewing, Raina Walterscheid, Jimmie Lyn Harris and Dayna Westmoreland.

Guests enjoyed visiting and reminiscing after dinner. In addition to relatives and friends from Muenster, guests from out of town included Starla (Harris) Satchell; Gerald and Helen Stelzer of California; Dayna and Jr. Westmoreland of Sherman; Lynette, Jim and Jimmie Lyn Harris of Denton; Andy and Rosemary Stelzer, Julius and Isabel Stelzer of Post; Maurice and Ann Stelzer of Hobbs, New Mexico; Rainard, Margie and Raina Walterscheid of Jacksboro; Leonard Gottlob and Eva Dora Judge of Azle; Paul and Bernice Yosten, Stan and Rosabell Yosten of Fort Worth. A big surprise was the arrival of Lambert Walterscheid from Las Vegas, Nevada.

Charlie and Violet Stelzer moved to Fort Worth in 1929, and he went to work as a meat cutter for the Alexander Bale Store. She worked at the same store in the delicatessen and cafeteria.

In 1943, Charlie was called to serve his country in World War II and Violet worked at the Convair Plant on the B24 plane. Upon his return home, he was employed for Jetton's, the King of Barbecue. Mr. Jetton had a large catering service and traveled all over the United States. Both of the Stelzers worked with the catering service and enjoyed a number of trips. They told of serving movie stars at Universal City in California and served many times at the Johnson Ranch when Lyndon Johnson was president of the United States.

Charlie worked for Jetton's for 28 years until he retired in 1974. Since 1976, they are enjoying retirement and life in their hometown where they built a new home on North Walnut Street.

Annual reunion held on Labor Day weekend

Labor Day and its preceding weekend provided the traditional time for the annual reunion of the Hogan-McDonald-Cain relationship, drawing approximately 250 people.

Brothers, sisters, cousins, uncles, aunts and many guests were together for a festival of visiting, food, music, singing, and dancing. "The Cherry Rhones" are family members and, as always, bring their Band and enhance the entertainment.

Special guests were Rosa Driever and Sister Carmelita Meyers, long time friends of the Richard Cain family and other relatives.

A new speciality of the reunion was a "Look and Cook Book," put together by Judy (Cain) Hartman, by collecting pictures and recipes from everyone in the relationship. This very unique book will be treasured for years to come and will be a reminder of precious memories.

Guests came from Amarillo, Lubbock, Dallas, Denton, Fort Worth, Sanger, Valley View, Gainesville, Bellvue, Houston, Bryan and Wichita Falls.

Lindsay Clover Kids have met several times. Their meetings have included crafts, games, button making, food, and fun. The club plans to meet once a month as a large group and during the month in smaller groups.

The Era Clover Kids Club met for the first time Sept. 7. They plan to meet the first Saturday of each month at 7:00 p.m. Parents will be meeting soon to plan activities and field trips for the club.

Parent participation is emphasized as in regular 4-H Clubs. Four-H is a family affair. With adult guidance, Clover Kids develop confidence, social skills, decision making abilities, acquire knowledge, and develop physical skills that will help them lead richer lives.

Clover Kids' activities are non-competitive. Research shows that children in this age group are not developmentally ready for win/lose competitions. Activities and curriculums have been developed and adapted by specialists at Texas A&M University. They are developed with the 5-8 year old in mind - active participation, not passive; small group (5-8 people) work emphasized; peer interaction promoted; wide variety of teaching methods used; and adult guidance for activities.

The Clover Kids Clubs are developed and organized using the policy, procedures and resources in the Agent and Volunteer Leader Guide.

Clover Kids is for males and females and is open to all youth regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin. Four-H Clover Kids Clubs are made possible through the cooperative efforts of the United States Department of Agriculture, University Extension, and local County Government.

St. Richard's Villa News

by Frances Reiter

Hello from St. Richard's. We had such a nice birthday party with Sonny and Norma entertaining. They were a little late because of the flood, but they made up for it when they got here. They played all our favorites, including "Fraulein," "Yellow Rose of Texas" and "Oh Them Golden Slippers." We celebrated birthdays for Vena Settle, Estelle Kelley and Mary Klein. We all had a good time.

Sept. 8 was Grandparents Day and Open House. We had about 100 visitors and Janie took lots of pictures. You should come by sometimes and see our scrapbook of the past year. It has a picture and brief biography and picture of each of us, then pictures of our activities. It is a lot of fun to look back at some of the things we've done and seen, such as the llamas that Gwen Vawter brought and our trips to the lake and park.

We want to say thanks to the Wednesday bingo players. We always enjoy them and they are so faithful. They started this volunteer service about 25 years ago. Some of the early volunteers were Susie Hoenig, Bertha Pick, Sadie O'Connor, Bertha Hacker and Angeline Eckart. The prize money is donated by several different organizations, such as VFW, VFW Auxiliary and Knights of Columbus.

The volunteers now have different weeks they come and play: 1st week - Mmes. Felix Yosten, Frank Bayer, Adolph Fuhrmann and Al Yosten; 2nd week - Ed and Thelma Dill, Lou Vogel, Augusta Walterscheid, Margaret Fisher; 3rd week - Margaret Schmitt, Marie Hundt, Agnes Klement, Mrs. Ed Knauf, Louise Felderhoff and Martha Sicking; 4th week - Margaret Kupper, Catherine Hermes, Julie Cunningham and Leona Eberhart. Lou Vogel and Bertha Pick were nice enough to give me the history and details of the bingo; I do appreciate it.

We have really been missing Irma Koelzer lately. She has been a bit under the weather and unable to play dominoes with us. Hope she is better soon.

Fr. Paul Hoedebeck returned to Subiaco after visiting for a couple of weeks. I will miss him.

Well, I guess I better leave a little to say till next week. Until then, visit a friend - visit St. Richard's.

Attention, graduates!

Graduates of 1956 from Sacred Heart and Muenster Public Schools are asked to help with the set up of a class reunion for next summer. Those willing to help and collect ideas, addresses and planning the event, please contact Queenie Walterscheid or Tommy Herr.

Organ transplantation is topic at Beta Kappa

Ann Wagner, director of educational services for Southwestern Medical Center of Dallas, was guest speaker at the Sept. 9 Beta Kappa meeting held at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Connie Grewing.

Press clippings were distributed to members to give them an idea of recent advances in organ transplantation. Ms. Wagner, who has been employed by Southwestern Medical Center since 1974, explained that it was an organ procurement organization. Their purpose is to procure, process and distribute bankable tissues to area physicians for transplantation, teaching and research.

Ms. Wagner stressed that organs and tissues cannot be sold or purchased. It is illegal. When a potential donor dies, and if they meet the necessary medical criteria, and if their family agrees to the donation, there is no charge to the family for the surgery to remove the organs, nor any other charges involving the donation.

The speaker encouraged all people interested in donating organs at the time of their death to sign their intent on the designated place on their driver's license, or carry a donor card with them. Also they should discuss their wishes with their family because if the family goes against their wishes, the donation will not take place.

Following a question and answer session with Ms. Wagner, the Beta Kappa members held their regular monthly meeting. Dolores Miller, president, conducted the business.

Laurie Rohmer reported on the Rush Brunch held on Aug. 24 in the home of Jean Walterscheid. A potential new member, Lisa Rohmer, was guest of honor. The couples' party, another aspect of Rush, is still in the planning stages.

It was decided to donate $50 to Ricky Walterscheid. He plans to continue his work with the National Evangelization Team (NET) for another year.

Sharon Felderhoff reported that the park bench built last March for placement in the Muenster City Park in memory of Lynn Dangelmayr was still awaiting final approval from the City Park Board.

After some discussion, it was decided to act on the suggestion of Ms. Wagner and ask permission from both local schools to sponsor a program on organ donation that is geared toward school age children. Lisa Walterscheid volunteered to contact school principals.

Another opportunity to preserve your family history...

Cooke County History Book nears publication

Did you neglect to submit your family history for inclusion in the Muenster Centennial History Book? After reading other family histories did you wish you had presented your story differently? Did you forget to include something really important? Haven't you wished a million times your grandparents, great-grandparents and great-great-grandparents had written their story? Have you thought how happy your grandchildren, great-grandchildren, etc. will be to find your story when you are long gone? Now is the time to act affirmatively if you answered "yes" to any of the above.

The Cooke County History book will soon be ready to go to press. You are invited - urged - to submit your family history of two type-written pages and photo absolutely free. Institutions, organizations, and businesses are also urged to submit their stories. There will be a charge of $60.00 to businesses which will be applied to the cost of the purchase of the book when it is ready for distribution. This prepayment from businesses is providing working capital during the process of collecting, printing and publication.

Envelopes to hold your story and photo are available at the Muenster City Hall and major businesses in Muenster and Gainesville. They can be turned in at City Hall or delivered to Dr. Powell's office at 315 East Main St., Gainesville; or mailed to Cooke County History Book, P.O. Drawer G, Gainesville, TX 76240.

Representation from cities, towns, and communities throughout Cooke County make up the working committee headed by the well-known, respected and recognized civic leader, Dr. Wm. F. Powell of Gainesville.

Juanita Bright, 759-4482, is the Muenster representative on the committee and will be happy to answer questions and help in every way possible.

The deadline is Oct. 31! Act now! Don't delay! Don't miss this golden opportunity.

Although a great many families submitted their stories in the Muenster Centennial History, making it an outstanding legacy to future generations, those same families and many others are urged to submit their stories also to be included in the Cooke County History, thus reaching a vastly new reading public.

The Enterprise asks readers to recall memories of Camp Howze

The "Camp Howze Days" Reunion, the dedication of a memorial monument, announcement of plans and activities for a gala weekend, a parade, a Big Band Dance and presentations by the Butterfield Stage Players and the prospects of seeing long-ago friends have rekindled personal memories locally, of the time when Camp Howze was under construction, and of the years when three divisions were housed and trained over the vast spaces of the army camp.

The Muenster Enterprise urges local residents to share some of those memories and help us to print interesting bits of information you can recall, whether military or civilian. Please send your notes, preferably, or phone calls to Elfreda Fette, Muenster Enterprise, Box 190, Muenster, Texas 76252, or 759-4311.

Military mail call is underway for Christmas

The 1991 Christmas Mail Call is now underway! For the better part of two decades, through both crisis and calm, MILITARY "MAIL CALL!" has served as the clearinghouse to spread morale-boosting mail from concerned and supportive Americans to our troops in as many places as possible. The greetings are re-sorted into well over 1,000 bundles, varying in size from 25 or so to 4,000+ cards and letters, which are then sent priority mail to units and locations all across the U.S. (more than 40 states) as well as in every corner of the globe. The program's twin goals are to include mail from many people and places in each outgoing bundle while spreading each person's greetings as widely as possible. It works! A soldier reported that his unit was excited to find mail from 39 states in its bundle, and some participants have received responses from literally every continent.

Two commanding officers' comments concerning last year's program:

"As the greetings were distributed, they quickly became a hit! As many of our crew are away from home for the holidays for the very first time, others for the 10th time, I included every crewmember possible. As the Mail Call program was explained to them, I had a very heartwarming experience, as I saw smiles break out on their faces upon opening and reading the good tidings. Many requested additional cards."

And, "I cannot express enough appreciation to your fine organization. At a time when the soldiers in Saudi are receiving deserved attention, ours...have felt somewhat forgotten. Your letters have made a difference."

There was outstanding participation from across the nation last Christmas. Sincere thanks to all who helped make that program and the 1991 Valentine Mail Call the most successful ever.

(Because the mail is so widely distributed, many schools prominently post world maps and mark with maptacks the locations across the U.S. and around the world from which their students receive responses. This can tremendously increase interest in geography. "Mail Call!" has also been adopted by teachers as an aid in teaching English, writing, citizenship, word processing, typing - well, just about everything.)

"Mail Call!" is an exciting project for everyone! To learn how you can be a star in a thousand places while helping yourself to a star-spangled Christmas, please send a first-class postage stamp (Note: No return envelope - Just the stamp), along with your name and address, to: Military "Mail Call!", P.O. Box 817, Christmas, FL 32709-0817, and mention where you read about this program. Thank You!
