Volunteers make it happen...

Melange of activities succeed

Even with a number of activities scheduled for last weekend most seem to have been successful. Locally there was a cutting horse competition on Friday and Saturday nights, Muenster Madness Bike Rally Saturday morning, Annual Firemen's Barbecue Saturday night, and at Forestburg the Watermelon Festival.

FIREMEN'S BARBECUE
Hard work paid off for the members of the Muenster Volunteer Fire Dept. Saturday when they served more than 850 people at their annual barbecue supper in the City Park. "We're real pleased with the results," said Herbie Knabe Muenster Fire Chief. "We made enough so that we can buy the chassis for our new rural fire truck."

People came from out of town according to Knabe who reported seeing names of people from as far away as Fort Worth and many from Gainesville. "Everyone seemed to have a good time," Knabe said. "We ran real close on food, but we had enough."

Winners in the drawing were Kenny Felderhoff and John Monday, fire extinguishers and Andy Serna, smoke detector.

Members of the fire department credited Mike Sturm and Ed and Ginny Schneider for their assistance in the preparation of the meal and the Jaycees for serving beverages

MUENSTER MADNESS

"It was mad!" said Muenster Madness Bike Rally organizer Ben Bindel of Saturday's event. The rally has been held in Muenster for the last four years by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation as a fund raiser.

Approximately 800 riders participated in the grueling courses. Riders could choose between the 100K, 65K, and 35K distances.

An accident occurred just minutes into the race when a rider who had pulled out in front of the pack was forced to brake causing two other riders to crash. The incident took place near the Brushy Elm Bridge.

One rider was hospitalized and the other two treated for lacerations and abrasions.

Bindel praised the rest stop and sag wagon crews for their "exceptional job" and expressed gratitude to them, to the Jaycees and all others who helped in any way. "A lot of people pitched in and helped at the last minute when several volunteers became ill," remarked Bindel. "The people from CF were real impressed with the city of Muenster."

Congressman Stenholm to visit Aug. 28

Congressman Charles Stenholm (D, 17th Dist.) will visit in Muenster on Wednesday, Aug. 28 from 2:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m. at the City Hall. He will be introduced by Urban Endres, a personal friend. Accompanying the Congressman will be Bill Longley of the Stamford office.

It has been more than a decade since cotton-farmer and livestock producer Charlie Stenholm left his farm in Ericksdahl, Texas and went to Washington, D.C. to begin his distinguished career as Congressman Stenholm. Now in his seventh term in office, he is highly regarded for his involvement in agriculture, rural health care, budget, veterans, and small business issues. The scope of his legislative agenda touches almost every constituency.

A conservative Democrat, he was reared on a family farm and now serves the nation as chairman of the Livestock, Dairy and Poultry Subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee; has been a member of the Ag Committee since January 1979 and became a member of the Budget Committee at the beginning of the 102nd Congress, in addition to various other duties.

Antique Machinery Show set for Aug. 24-25

by Elaine Schad
More than 150 pieces of antique farm tractors and equipment from the early 1900s through the 1940s will be demonstrated and on display this weekend during the Sixth Annual Antique Machinery Show sponsored by the Cooke County Antique Tractor and Farm Machinery Association.

The show, which annually attracts about 2,000 visitors, will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 24 and 25 at the Tractor Pull Arena, located three miles north of Lindsay on FM 1199.

The show will begin at 11 a.m. each day. A parade featuring antique tractors and equipment will begin at 2 p.m. each day. Refreshments and lunch will be available.

Other events will include wheat threshing, hay baling, small engine displays, corn grinding in a grist mill, horse-drawn equipment, a draft horse demonstration, antique tool display and steam tractors.

There will be old-time plowing demonstrations, a kiddie tractor pull, and arts and crafts booths.

A desire to retain some of the farm machines of the past before it was too late led to the formation of the antique farm group, said Doug Martin, association president.

Some 75 members of the non-profit organization have restored most of the equipment on their own. They find parts from other old pieces, which is sometimes a challenge since the parts are no longer made, said Martin. Most of the equipment has been restored to its original color and is fully operational, he said.

Rain days will be Aug. 31 and Sept. 1. Admission is $3 per person, with children under 12 admitted free.

For more information, call (817) 668-7861 or (817) 665-6806.

Jaycees to collect $$$ for MDA

Muenster Jaycees will hold their annual collection effort to cover the entire community in support of the Muscular Dystrophy Association on Wednesday evening, Aug. 28, starting at 6 p.m. On Labor Day, they will present the entire check at the MDA Telethon in Sherman on Channel 12. Muenster Jaycee chairman is Tim Felderhoff.

SHARI VOTH is the proud new owner of Muenster's newest business, Mane Attractions Beauty Salon, at 303-305 North Mesquite. Located north of the Urban Endres Building, the modern new building, erected by Structures, Inc., faces east. The south entrance opens into Shari's operation and the north side opens into Jan Cain's Tan-Fastic, which shares the location since moving from Old Theatre Mall. Inside, the arrangement of equipment and furniture is all very new, very modern and very convenient. There are three styling stations (chairs), three shampoo bowls, and three dryers. A three-dimensional piece of art on one wall announces the chosen color scheme - black, gray and pink. There is an unusual decorative mirror and a black leather couch and chair set for comfort. Referring to her recent Open House, Shari said, "Come celebrate with us!" Regular hours are Tuesday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., 759-4033. Janie Hartman Photo

SH School continues tradition as classes begin on August 26

Students of Sacred Heart School will begin the 1991-92 school year on Monday, Aug. 26, with an opening Mass and special liturgy in Sacred Heart Church. Parents are encouraged to attend the special service.

Most of the students already know who their teacher will be and in which classroom they will spend the next nine months. "Sacred Heart has a long tradition of strength and stability in its faculty," said Principal Jack Murdock.

Two teachers have joined the school's faculty this year. Donna Maxon is the new Science teacher replacing Mary Beth Bartush and Cindy Lee will be the Kindergarten teacher filling the vacancy left by Debbie Zimmerer.

Donna Maxon is a graduate of Notre Dame High School and University of Dallas. She has earned a Master's degree from University of Texas. Her teaching experience includes seven years in San Antonio. Ms. Maxon's parents are retiring in Wichita Falls and she has accepted the new teaching position to be near them.

Cindy Lee is the mother of two teenagers, Shane and Shawnee. They will attend Sacred Heart High. Shane is a freshman and his sister is a sophomore. While growing up on a dairy farm in Wisconsin, Ms. Lee attended a Catholic elementary school in her German-Polish community. She earned a degree from Oral Roberts University and is certified in early childhood education. The new Kindergarten teacher has several years of teaching experience and will integrate Montessori into her Kindergarten program.

The curriculum at Sacred Heart service was previously offered to families of students in SH Pre-School and, because of the many requests by parents, it has been extended to elementary students. A modest fee will be charged.

"We have just received the results from the Diocese of the

Also new to Sacred Heart Elementary School this year is an after-school care program. This comparative achievement test results" from last spring," acknowledged Murdock. "Compared to all other Catholic schools in the Fort Worth Diocese, Sacred Heart students' performance is higher in every academic area. This is particularly significant in the high school where our students' achievement is compared to Nolan High School, which is a very strong

Area ranch teams to compete in Ranch Rodeo August 23-24

Cooke County Young Farmers and Ranchers are sponsoring their 4th Annual Ranch Rodeo. The event will take place in the Saint Jo Rodeo Arena on Friday and Saturday, August 23 and 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Twenty teams have signed up for the competition. Ten teams compete each night. Winners will be determined by the best scores over the two days. A Top Hand Award will be presented each night.

Admission to the Ranch Rodeo is $5.00 for adults and children under 12 free. This price includes admission to the dance on Saturday night. Ranch rodeo fans and participants are invited to dance to the music of Andy Serna and the Captive Hearts following Saturday's events.

Ranch Rodeo differs from other rodeos. Instead of cowboys trying to ride bucking horses and bulls, the events are similar to what a cowboy might do during a regular day's work. The stock is pasture fresh and the teams consist of four cowboys and their horses.

Although ranch rodeo competition has been around since the days of the Old West, it has only recently resurfaced as a new sports event and is quickly gaining popularity.

This weekend's Ranch Rodeo will feature five events: Calf Branding, Calf Penning, Pasture Roping, Wild Cow Milking and Remuda Roping.

Calf branding is the most basic operation done to all calves on the ranch. The cows and calves are rounded up and worked. Today's cowboy uses a special table or cattle chute. But in a ranch rodeo, the cowboys ride horses into the herd and throw a heel loop, catching a calf by its two hind legs. The calf is taken to the branding crew to be marked with an identification brand.

Calf penning is an art which is still practiced today. The cowboys will have to separate cattle or load them in an open field. It is where you will watch the cowboys and horses working in unison and the one event which emphasizes the skill of the horses in being one jump ahead of the animals. The pen is rather small, or even a stock trailer, which makes it all the more difficult.

In pasture roping, the cowboys must rope either end of the animal and then turn their horses facing each other and get the ropes tight. The animal can either be standing, as is the common rodeo practice, or laid on its side. This is the way the cowboys have to work on an animal while it is on the open pasture with no available corral. In this position, it is safe for the animal, and for the cowboy to work the calf with a minimum of injury to both.

Wild cow milking is an operation which was practiced on the

T.H.R.O. kicks off campaign to find replacements for Congressional seats

T.H.R.O. (acronym for Throw the Hypocritical Rascals OUT!), brainchild of retiree turned political activist Jack Gargan, has just announced a nationwide talent search for qualified people to run for congressional seats in the 1992 elections.

Gargan, plain-spoken 60 year old retired financial planner catapulted to national prominence last summer when he borrowed $45,000 from his retirement savings to place full-page ads in five major newspapers across the country. "I'm mad as hell and I'm not going to take it anymore!" screamed the headlines in bold print. He enumerated a long list of congressional incumbents, and asked for contributions from those who felt the same way so he could "put another ad in another city." By election day Gargan had parlayed his 5 ads into 245 full-page ads in practically every major newspaper in the country, was named "Hero of the Week" by Time magazine, was guest on more than 250 radio shows, and appeared on practically every major TV talk show in the nation.

While the campaign was credited with a miraculous 12 percent closing in the spread of votes in practically every voting district in the country, it succeeded in ousting only 16 incumbents. The problem, says Gargan, was that more than 80 congressmen had no challengers at all, and most of the rest had only token opposition. "You can't throw 'em out if they don't have anyone running against 'em," he said.

To correct the situation for the '92 elections, Gargan is launching a nation-wide talent search for qualified applicants in each congressional and senatorial district. He promises help in getting on the ballot and running a campaign as well as "an endorsement worth thousands." Qualifications include love of country, integrity, common sense and backbone.

All applicants must pledge to limit terms of office; roll back the recent congressional pay raise; reduce staff and perks; eliminate deficit spending and initiate meaningful election reform.

"This is truly a non-partisan effort," says Gargan. "We don't care if the applicant is a Democrat, Republican or Independent. Our committee will endorse the best qualified challenger in each primary and/or runoff election." When asked who will do the screening of applicants, he said it would be a panel of former congressmen and people who ran unsuccessfully for a congressional seat. They are members of a "better government" organization called The Coalition To End The Permanent Congress. Gargan's group, T.H.R.O., Inc. will not take an active part in the screening process. Instead, he will continue his efforts to publicize the gross misconduct and excesses of incumbent members of Congress.

"Beat Waste" Hotline surpasses 2,000 calls

AUSTIN - "Like hundreds of other individuals who called earlier, the 2,000th caller on the BEAT WASTE Hotline has made an excellent suggestion," State Comptroller John Sharp says.

"Over the past four months, more than 2,000 Texans have called the BEAT WASTE Hotline and given us their ideas for how state government can provide improved services to its constituents and operate more accountably for taxpayers," Sharp said.

"The 2,000th caller suggested that if a job opening in state government remains vacant for one year, the position should be eliminated and part of the unspent salary be shared among the employees who assumed the additional workload. The remaining portion of the salary would revert back to the State Treasury.

"Those are the kind of suggestions that encourage greater incentive for state employees, at less cost to taxpayers, and we're seriously considering the recommendation," Sharp said.

The BEAT WASTE Hotline was installed in mid-February as part of the Texas Performance Review to give Texans an easy way of expressing their views on how state government can be improved. The number is 1-800-BEAT WASTE (1-800-232-8927).

"The single most-frequently mentioned suggestion is that the state do a better job of recycling. Caller after caller has stated - repeatedly and emphatically - that the state wastes paper, uses too much styrofoam and tosses out aluminum cans.

"Probably the second-most frequently mentioned suggestion is for the state to get a better handle on its utility bills, by turning off lights when offices aren't in use and more-closely monitoring heating and cooling temperatures," Sharp said.

Other suggestions received by the BEAT WASTE Hotline include:

*State agencies should use compact and sub-compact sized vehicles, especially for short, in-town travel.

*Agency field offices should be consolidated so that all state human service programs, for example, are available to constituents in one location.

*Highway road signs are replaced too frequently.

*Tighter restrictions should be placed on tax-free license plates provided to auto dealers and for farm vehicles, to avoid abuse. Another caller wanted to know why both front and rear license plates are required for all vehicles.

*Postcards, rather than more costly first class postage, can frequently be used by state agencies for license renewals and routine correspondence with constituents.

*Agency administrators should write fewer memos and fewer copies of those memos that are written should be distributed. Instead, memos can be posted on bulletin boards.

The BEAT WASTE Hotline operates from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Callers do not have to reveal their names.

Law changes registration

In September, the simple matter of registering a motor vehicle in Texas will become a little more complicated. The change is a result of insurance reform enacted by the 72nd Legislature.

Beginning Sept. 1, the owner of a motor vehicle must submit current proof of financial responsibility with an application for initial registration, renewal of registration or transfer of registration. Also for the first time, Texans will have to show proof of insurance increases compliance with mandatory liability law," said Arnold Oliver, engineer - director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. "But the Legislature was really responding to public pressure. Insured drivers - that's about 75 percent of us - wanted to tighten enforcement on the other 25 percent."

The most common evidence of financial responsibility is a liability insurance card issued to the policyholder by the insurance company. Examples of other types of acceptable proof include insurance policies and binders, pool coverage documents, certificates of self-insurance, and certificates of bond.

Comptroller rep. to offer tax help in Gainesville

AUSTIN - "Government operates best when it's closest to the people it serves. The public must also have accurate information about state taxes, and as Comptroller I want to make sure they receive it. To assist local businesses with their tax questions, I'm sending a Comptroller's tax expert to Gainesville on Wednesday, Aug. 28, 1991," Comptroller John Sharp said recently.

"If you are a business owner and you're not sure how to collect sales tax, you can talk one-on-one with someone who can help. Or if you are a consumer and need information on what items are tax exempt, now is the time to ask," Sharp said.

Don Ersch, from the Sherman Field Office, will be available at Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, 101 S. Culberson from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

For additional information contact the Sherman Field Office at 903/893-0692. Those who cannot attend the August 28 meeting can still obtain tax assistance by calling the Comptroller's toll-free number 1-800-252-5555.

Lindsay ISD swears in new board members

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay School Board discussed building plans among other items during a special meeting held Aug. 12.

The board has authorized a local architect to draw up preliminary plans for a seven-classroom addition to the middle school. The board is expected to get a report on the plans at its September meeting.

Included on the board's agenda was administering the oath of office to new board members Jim Neidhardt and Susan Metzler and electing new school board officers. That was postponed, however, because the district has not yet received its paperwork on the two back from Austin, officials said.

In other business, the board hired Joe Reynolds as a bus driver, approved a food service contract with Ben E. Keith and canvassed the results of the Aug. 10 election.

Hopefuls file for mayor's seat

by Elaine Schad

Filing opened this week for a special Nov. 5 election to fill the mayor's position, which became vacant with the death of Mayor Doyle Cogburn in June.

Filing will continue until 5 p.m. Sept. 21. Those interested may file with Lindsay City Secretary Wilbert Block.

During the city council's regular August meeting, two Lindsay residents who own businesses along US 82 asked the members to study the possibility of reviving the police department.

The business owners were concerned about the lack of police protection and the recent rash of robberies, especially noting the recent armed robbery of the Holiday Inn in Gainesville.

The council has asked the Texoma Council of Governments to draw up a policy manual for the city's police department and will continue to work on the matter, officials said.

In other business, the council: - Awarded the bid for the Elizabeth Street and Circle Drive construction projects to Overland Corporation of Ardmore, Oklahoma. The bid was $56,650.70. The project should begin the first week of September and take about 60 days. The only other bid was from Cole and Smith of Denison, a bid of $60,548. - Set the next meeting for Sept. 9.

open range by the oldtime cowboys. Often, a mother cow would die during birth and the newborn calf would have to have milk. The only bottle was usually an old whiskey bottle and the nipple would be made from an old glove. This was done to save the life of the calf until another cow could be found to take the new calf.

During the ranch rodeo, area cowboys will attempt to milk a wild, pasture-raised cow, not a gentle Holstein, so this event delivers plenty of action and laughs from the resisting cow.

Remuda roping is a new event in this year's Ranch Rodeo. Remuda is a group of extra saddle horses kept as a supply of remounts. In competition, one cowboy rides in on a competitor's horse, dismounts, enters a pen of horses to find his animal. Meanwhile, team members have unsaddled the strange horse, then saddle their horse. The rider then races out on his horse for the best time.

Friday's competitors include: Cross N Ranch of Era, Payne Ranch of Saint Jo, Biffle Cattle Co. of Muenster, 6R of Southlake, Bar 2 Cattle Co. of Henrietta, Combs and Ogle of Nocona, Bonita Pens of Nocona, Coker Ranch of Saint Jo, Clawhammer Cattle Co. of Henrietta and Wines Ranch of Henrietta.

Saturday's competitors include: May Cattle Co. of Gainesville, C & A Longhorn of Windthorst, Y Bar of Gainesville, T Bar of Gainesville, Broken W of Whitesboro, Lazy H Ranch of Holliday, IC Cattle Co. of Graham, Boddy Randy of Henrietta, 7B Ranch of Bellevue, and Bar D of Saint Jo.

College Board sets public hearing on Aug. 26 to review 1991-92 budget

The Cooke County College Board of Trustees has set an Aug. 26 public hearing to review an $8.08 million budget for 1991-92.

The meeting will be at 7 p.m. in the college board room on campus.

The budget, if approved, would be about a $59,711 increase over the current year's $8.025 million budget.

CCC officials are expecting a 3.2 percent cut in state appropriations as a result of final budget approval in Austin, according to CCC President Bud Joyner.

Major impacts expected for the next year will be absorbing a 6 percent enrollment increase and 4 percent inflation factor.

The college will be anticipating about $304,000 in increased revenues from tuition and fees, from a proposed 1-cent tax rate hike and reduced food service costs. Most of that will be offset, however, by a $298,000 in increased costs from eliminated use of about $141,000 in reserve funds, $105,000 in additional cost for staff benefits, a $32,000 additional cost incurred by a new occupational therapy program and about $20,000 increased costs for the Denton extension program, Joyner said.

Linda Mast, director of Continuing Education, told trustees that a proposed $3 increase in out-of-district tuition for Denton students would help offset some budget increases and would more than pay for the Denton technical program.

Joyner told trustees that Denton extension occupational therapy and paramedicine classes will be held at Texas Woman's University this fall. He said the site for other classes in Denton will be at Denton High School.

No salary increases are in the proposed budget, said Joyner, who added that CCC faculty salaries are 6.8 percent below comparable community colleges and 17.5 percent below the state average in administrative salaries.

Industrial Arts will construct new facility for Wood Shop

by Elaine Schad

Four parents appeared before the Muenster Board of Trustees during their regular August meeting to request the district change its dress code to allow students to wear shorts.

The board earlier this summer approved the student handbook which does not allow the wearing of shorts. Trustees requested the item be placed on the agenda Aug. 29 for consideration.

The board approved allowing the Industrial Arts class to construct a portable classroom facility as one of its projects for 1991-92.

"We're really going to kill two birds with one stone," said Superintendent Steve Cooper. "The kids get hands-on experience, and it will be used to alleviate overcrowding in the Wood Shop area."

During a recent inspection by the state fire marshal, the district was told the Wood Shop was a critical need area because of overcrowding. The portable classroom will also be built at a lower cost than what it would cost to purchase one, said Cooper.

The fire marshal also noted some other items, including the cafeteria area which needs to be reviewed to conform to state fire standards as well as general attention to detail to maintain the facility at state fire standards, said Cooper. The inspection also recommended the district purchase battery-operated exit signs and battery-operated lights for the gymnasium area.

In other business, trustees: - Reviewed goals and objectives for 1991-92 and will finalize them at the September meeting.

- Directed that the gifted and talented program standards be broadened for selection purposes so that more students can be involved. About 5 percent of the student population is selected each year, about 18 students, officials said.

- Approved administrative guidelines and procedures for evaluation.

- Approved a 5 percent salary increase for support staff, which includes the five extra school days which go from 175 to 180 days this year.

- Approved a teacher increment for teachers with 10 years of experience at the Muenster ISD. A teacher with 10 years of experience will receive a $100 increment, and that will increase by $100 for each year over 10 years on an annual basis.

- Heard that the district may have about 3 percent of its budget from 1990-91 as a carryover for the coming year, about $500,000.

- Approved the purchase of eight IBM clone computers for the computer lab, bringing the number of IBM compatibles to 15. The Apples in the computer lab will be moved to the classrooms.

- Estimated the district will receive about $100,000 in additional state aid this year due to an increase in the district's average daily attendance and because the district is beginning its own special education service program.

- Approved a sick leave policy to conform to state guidelines. The policy is expanded to approve 5 days of sick leave for all employees rather than for just professional staff.

Her bridal bouquet, made by Bouquets and Gifts, held pink star gazer lilies, white roses, stephanotis, mini carnations, alstromerias, lepto greenery, myrtle and plumosa.

For "sentiment," she wore her late father's gold wedding band and her paternal grandparents' wedding rings which had been restyled into a single ring. For "something borrowed," she wore her mother's gold cross and chain. For "tradition," she wore a blue garter.

Scottish young farmer visits Muenster locales

by Elaine Schad

Coming from the land of those fuzzy Highland livestock and "The Hunt," Jennifer Wilson of Scotland is getting a heavy dose of Texas-style agriculture.

Miss Wilson, 26, is visiting the Lone Star State as part of an exchange program sponsored by her local chapter of young farmers and a week with members of the Valley View Young Farmers Chapter.

As part of her Texas experience, Wilson spent an entire day soaking in the German hospitality from visiting with folks in Muenster. She visited a meat market, craft shops, a feed mill, rode a combine during milo harvest, and spent time riding "western style," very different from the type of riding she is accustomed to.

Hailing from the golf capital of the world, St. Andrews Fife located north of Edinburg, Wilson has received the bulk of her agricultural experience from grooming and preparing horses for the famous fox hunts, conducted almost daily from October through February in her homeland.

Wilson's employer is master of the fife fox hounds, meaning he is in charge of the area hunt. It is her job to groom some 16 horses and ponies for the family pleasure riding and the fox hunts, held every Wednesday and Saturday.

Contrary to popular belief, the hunts are not just sport, said Miss Wilson. The fox population in Scotland is much like the coyote in Texas, posing a threat to livestock, she said.

Wilson sees a lot of similarities in the struggle of farmers worldwide to stay in business. "There's talk that the subsidies to agriculture will be cut, and the weather really hasn't been too good lately," she said. "It's amazing to see the number of farms going up for sale. It's sad."

Amazingly enough, some farmers are looking to golf for their salvation around St. Andrews. A country with 400 golf courses, the five located in the vicinity of St. Andrews aren't sufficient to take the heavy tourist traffic of golfers who come to bone up for the British Open or for some other reason, said Miss Wilson. "You see a lot of farmers have applied for permission to make their land into golf courses."

Diversification is cropping up throughout the Scottish countryside. For a country that has relied on vegetable and fishing exports, barley, wheat, livestock and oil seed, which is used to make salad oil, some farmers are finding more unique ways to make a living.

Wilson's employer has recently gone into "deer farming." He has about 350 head of deer. The stags are slaughtered when they reach a year old, and then the carcasses are sold to area residents or to an outlet farm shop which sells venison, she said.

The greatest satisfaction from her travels in this country, however, has not necessarily been her agricultural adventures, but the people, said Wilson. "It's just really just an experience meeting the people and seeing how they live," she said.

Four vacation in Michigan

Jon and Monica LeBrasseur, accompanied by their nieces, Holly Hartman age 8 and Courtney Hartman age 5, spent a "before school starts" vacation in Escanaba, Michigan as guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton LeBrasseur. The little girls are the daughters of Ken and Rhonda Hartman.

They all enjoyed visiting with Jon's grandmother Irene; a trip to Iron Mountain and a train ride deep into the mountain to see how ore is mined; also seeing a ski lodge and lifts to the slopes. A swim in Lake Michigan, seeing a light house and visiting the Escanaba Fair on the Upper Peninsula were added treats.

Enroute home they viewed St. Louis' famous Arch, the Budweiser Brewery and Cardinal Stadium. Holly also kept a record of all license plates and states indicated, enroute and returning.

Youngsters on a limited fat diet seem to grow as well as those on a standard U.S. diet, say researchers at Loma Linda University School of Public Health in California. Study compared students at public school with Seventh Day Adventists, who eat less meat and dairy foods.

New radiation technique to fight bladder cancer directs the radiation directly at the tumor without damaging the bladder, bowel or rectum. In this intra-operative radiation therapy, the bladder itself does not have to be removed.

High stress jobs do not seem to put pregnant women at higher risk of miscarriage, stillbirth or other childbearing problems according to a survey by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development. The researchers compared women medical residents with the wives of male medical students.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hess enjoy vacation in Friona

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hess vacationed for two weeks with their daughter and son-in-law JoAnn and Leroy Berend and their daughter Dana. They flew from Dallas to Amarillo where JoAnn picked them up and took them to her home in Friona, Tex.

While there they got acquainted with their new great-granddaughter, 3-month-old Brittany, daughter of Roddy and Sandra Berend. One day they enjoyed a drive to the Ute Lake in Logan, New Mexico for a picnic and sight seeing on the way.

Ed and Lucy were very impressed with how good the field crops look this time of year in the Panhandle. Also the weather was just beautiful. On their arrival back in Dallas they were met by their son LeeRoy at the airport to take them back to Muenster.

They also visited with their granddaughter Kelly Hennigan who is a student at West Texas State in Canyon and works at the hospital in Friona on weekends.

I wish to express my appreciation to all those who assisted with the completion of my Eagle Scout project - rebuilding and refinishing the picnic tables at the pavilion of Sacred Heart Church.

I wish to thank Willie Fuhrmann, Windy Bindel, my dad, nine Boy Scouts of Troop 664, Ray Traffanstedt, Rudy Koesler, Muenster Building Center, and Community Lumber Co. for their advice, assistance and their time.

I especially wish to thank the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, St. Joseph's Society, Muenster Kiwanis and the Knights of Columbus for their financial assistance to help pay for the materials.

*Thank you all very much,
Gus Felderhoff*

Happy Birthday, Lynda (Klement) Yosten!

SPECTRA '91 enjoyed by local 4-H members

Submitted by Evelyn Sicking
Seven Cooke County 4-H'ers and one adult leader attended the spectacular SPECTRA '91 program held August 4-9 at the State 4-H Center in Brownwood, Texas. There were 200 senior 4-H'ers attending eleven programs from around the state.

Michael Becker of the Muenster 4-H club attended the Entomology program. Sherilyn Sicking of the Muenster 4-H club and Sean Herbold of the Silver Cedar 4-H club participated in the Recreation workshop. They report it was a fun project, but a lot of work.

Sara Flusche and Charlene Lutkenhaus both of the Lindsay Sr. 4-H Club and Evelyn Sicking, club manager for the Muenster 4-H club, were in the public speaking workshop. Clifford Lutkenhaus of the Lindsay Sr. 4-H club attended the Agricultural Enterprises session. Robert Lutkenhaus of the Lindsay Sr. 4-H club participated in the Canoeing and Sailing workshop.

Upon arrival each one of the 4-H'ers received a SPECTRA T-shirt. SPECTRA is an intense study or workshop in each of eleven areas for at least five hours each day for four days.

Each day's activities began with the flag raising ceremony and concluded with flag lowering. Helping with these ceremonies were Sherilyn and Sean.

Every evening after the theme party there was a dance. The evening was concluded with a touching closing ceremony. All participants received a certificate of completion in their respective workshops. Each adult leader was recognized by receiving a certificate at the Gala.

A group picture was made of everyone who attended SPECTRA and anyone wishing purchased one.

Programs at night were presented on the "IFYE," International Foreign Youth Exchange, "C.W.F.," Citizenship Washington Focus, National 4-H Conference CWF and 4-H Conference, both are held in Washington, D.C.

The Gala was held on Thursday night. It was a formal affair complete with a decorated gazebo, stars hanging from the ceiling, and an abundance of fresh flowers. The speaker for the evening was world renowned, Dr. Earl Reum. Thursday evening concluded with the song "Friends." Many friends were made, never to be forgotten.

On Friday morning a slide show was presented by the photography group where there were oohs and aahs! Laughter rang out, tears were shed, and hugs were shared. All were reminded of the theme for SPECTRA, "Keep Your Feet on the Ground, and Reach for the Stars." All are looking forward to SPECTRA '92.

Best All Around award presented to SH squad

by Michelle Walter

The Sacred Heart High School Cheerleaders recently returned from a National Cheerleaders Association summer camp workshop where they received many honors. The camp was held at the University of North Texas during July 31 through Aug. 3.

The squad learned new cheers, chants, dance routines, partner stunts, pyramids, and ways to get the crowd motivated. Each night, the girls were evaluated on required performances. The first night, the squad performed a cheer brought from home; the second night, they performed an NCA chant and an NCA cheer with an advanced jump incorporated into it; the third night they also performed an NCA chant and an NCA cheer with the incorporation of an NCA pyramid; the final day, they were evaluated on their home cheer and their creativity cheer. They were evaluated on their originality of their motions applied to designated words.

Each night, the SH squad received Superior ribbons for their sensational performances. Thursday night, the squad also received a spirit stick for their enthusiasm and attentiveness. On the final day, each girl received a Superior ribbon for her performance of the home cheer and the squad received a Superior ribbon for their performance of their creativity cheer. The cheerleaders received a Spirit Stick Winner certificate and brought a spirit stick home.

The SH squad received the great honor of being an Award of Excellence nominee and finalist. In order to receive an Award of Excellence nomination, a squad had to perfect one of the three following requirements:

- 1) the incorporation of a jump in an NCA cheer;
- 2) the incorporation of a pyramid in an NCA cheer;
- 3) the originality of the creativity cheer.

Because Sacred Heart perfected all three requirements, they became a finalist for the Award of Excellence. The finalists had to perform two cheers in front of the NCA staff and the large and small varsity squads. Also, the SH squad received a trophy for top recognition as the "Best All Around" squad in the small varsity division.

The National Cheerleaders Association is sponsoring the "Best All Around" squad award at each of over 350 NCA workshops held across the United States. The Sacred Heart cheerleaders were selected for this award above all other cheerleaders at the workshop on the basis of their cheerleading technique, unity, friendliness, cooperation, leadership and sportsmanship.

The presentation of the NCA "Best All Around" squad came at the completion of a full workshop of training on cheerleading technique, cheers, chants, jumps, partner stunts, and pyramids, as well as a leadership program for sportsmanship, crowd participation, responsibilities, organization and dedication. The National Cheerleaders Association has been conducting summer workshops for over 40 years, teaching 125,000 students each year on the art of cheerleading.

The girls are prepared for the upcoming year in sports. They are looking forward to sharing their enthusiasm with the Sacred Heart fans. Come and support the Sacred Heart athletic programs with this "Super Squad."

Senate approves benefits increase for retired teachers

AUSTIN - Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock applauded Senate approval of a pension increase for Texas' retired teachers, which will be funded from the Texas Retirement System and not require new money from the state.

The retired teachers will get raises of 1 percent for each year since they took retirement. A teacher who retired in 1980, for instance, would receive an 11 percent increase in benefits.

"This legislation will help older, retired teachers who left state service before pension benefits reached a realistic level," Bullock said. "For a retired person, living on a fixed income, that extra money means a world of difference."

Bullock cited an example of a teacher who retired in 1970 after 30 years service. Currently, that teacher receives only $650 dollars per month while a teacher who retired in 1985 after the same 30 years of service receives, on average, $1,251.

Under the Senate plan, the older teacher's average benefits would go up 21 percent or an additional $136 per month, while the teacher retiring in 1985 would receive a 6 percent increase of $75 on average.

The raises will take effect in September, Bullock said.

The legislation now goes to a House - Senate conference committee.

Driver safety course may be taken every

Beginning Sept. 1, 1991, House Bill 70 allows a Texas driver to take a Texas Education Agency State Certified 8-hour driving safety course every year to dismiss most moving traffic tickets.

In 1981 it became mandatory for judges to allow a ticketed driver to take a driving safety course every two years. Since then traffic deaths on Texas highways have decreased by more than 50 percent.

By allowing a ticketed driver to take the 8-hour course every year the Texas Legislature hopes to reduce driving related deaths even further.

Hornets ready to scrimmage Perrin

by Mike Pagel

After one week of two-a-days and one week of long after-school practices in the sweltering heat, the Muenster Hornets will finally be able to knock helmets with someone other than their own teammates Friday as they travel to southern Jack County for a scrimmage with the Perrin-Whitt Pirates at 6 p.m.

Hornet Head Coach Grady Roller has been pleased with his players through the first two weeks of workouts.

"I feel real good about the progress the kids have made so far," Roller said. Looking forward to Friday night's scrimmage, Coach Roller also stated that the scrimmage would be a big test for not only the older players, but especially the younger players who will have their first real opportunity to show the Muenster coaching staff their capabilities.

The Hornets, who went 11-2 as regional qualifiers last season, open the regular season looking to avenge a 3-0 loss handed to them by the Callisburg Wildcats on opening night last season. Throughout the year, it has almost seemed as if Callisburg was invincible to the Muenster Hornet football program. The Hornets will try to end that tradition of losing to the Wildcats on Sept. 6 in Callisburg. Other non-district opponents that pose a threat to an undefeated regular season are Bryson and Nocona. The Cowboys and Indians, who haven't been very competitive in the past, are expected to field tough teams this year. Other games to watch include district games versus Lindsay (the state's biggest rivalry continues), Era, and a possible dark horse Collinsville team.

In breaking down his team, Grady seemed to be especially excited about his offensive line. "Our offensive linemen may not be as big as last year's, but they will certainly be much quicker," Roller commented. New additions to this year's line include right tackle Tony Perryman (formerly a tight end and running back) and right guard Kody Truebenbach (formerly a split end).

Being ranked as high as seventh in the state in some polls, I asked Coach Roller if he thought overconfidence was evident among his players. "No, I don't think so," replied Roller. "They know what their limitations are and that keeps their confidence level down to where it needs to be." Coach Roller went on to say that he has a "good group of seniors" this year who he hopes can provide the leadership necessary to advance beyond the regional semi-finals this season.

Strong senior class leads Knights into '91 season

by Mike Pagel

Lindsay Knight Head Coach Pat Benton is entering into his third year of coaching at Lindsay ISD. In his two previous years as the Knight head coach, he had been deprived of talented and experienced players necessary to reach the playoffs. This season, however, Coach Benton could turn that trend around. Ronnie Dieter (TB, LB), Kenny Fleitman (OT, DE) and pre-season All-State pick Patrick Corcoran (TE, LB) lead a group of ten seniors into the 1991 football season which begins this Friday night with a 6:00 p.m. scrimmage against the Jacksboro Tigers at Knight Field.

One uncertainty in Coach Benton's "I" formation offense that could extend into as far as the third or fourth week of the season is at the quarterback position. "We've been working Fred Hughes in the quarterback position, as well as Patrick (Corcoran) and Ronnie (Dieter) some too," Benton said. "It's going to be a tough decision considering that Fred has been such a good slot back. Ronnie's a good tailback with a lot of speed and Patrick can catch the ball so well." Only time will tell on that decision. On the other side of the football, Benton intends to run mainly a 4-3 defensive set.

The Knights begin the regular season on September 6 against Windthorst. In the non-district schedule, Coach Benton expects tough games from Chico (Sept. 13), Nocona (Sept. 27), and Jesuit JV on homecoming night, Oct. 11. "Jesuit usually suits up more people for the game with us than they would for an ordinary junior varsity game," Coach Benton commented. In district play, Benton expects tough games from Muenster, Era and Collinsville.

The 37 players out for football this season will be enough to field a junior varsity squad. Other seniors not previously mentioned include Jesse Barnes, Jeff Pearson, Russell Almon, Tim Cannon, Jeff Hermes, and Travis Huchton. Pat Benton's assistant coaches are John Metzler and Linus Fuhrmann.

Sept. 9-11 are dates set for Hunter Education

Another course in Hunter Education has been scheduled for Sept. 9, 1991 to Sept. 11, 1991 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. in Muenster, according to Jim Gehrig, Hunter Education Instructor. The class will be held at the meeting room of Cooke County Electric Co-op Building, one mile east of Muenster.

By Sept. 1, 1993 all hunters born on or after Sept. 1, 1971 must have successfully completed the course to hunt in Texas. "The course is open to adults and will include instructions in rifle, shotgun and bowhunting handling and safety; outdoor responsibility and ethics; laws and regulations; conservation; hunting traditions; wildlife identification; field care of game; wilderness first aid and survival," James Gehrig added.

Tigers enjoy new spirit with Nasche

by Mike Pagel

During this time last year, newly hired Sacred Heart Tiger head coach, John Nasche was preparing his team for the 1990 season. Optimism was not very high among Tiger supporters. Nobody really doubted Nasche's coaching ability, it was just that his team was young, had little experience, and the 1990 season was supposed to be a rebuilding year. Also, winning football games seemed to have eluded the Tigers in recent years at the class 1A level; now they had been bumped up to class 2A in the Texas Association of Private and Parochial Schools (TAPPS). The season began on a slow note, surprising hardly anyone. Then, something happened. The Tigers got on a roll of momentum that carried them all the way to the state semi-final game.

Now it is 1991. Many of those players who played in that state semi-final game last fall are back out on the field participating in Nasche's two-a-day workouts. They are now more experienced and confident than they ever have been before. "They are more confident this year than last (year) and they know they have the ability to win," coach John Nasche said of his players.

Our first look at the 1991 Tiger football team will be Friday night at 6:00 p.m. when they scrimmage district opponent Wichita Falls Notre Dame here. Offensively in Friday's scrimmage, the Tigers will run a Wing T formation and a wishbone offensive set. On defense, they are capable of showing a variety of looks. The "Arkansas Subie", a 5-2, 5-3, a Wide 6, Gap 8, and a Goaline set are all a part of Sacred Heart's defensive repertoire.

With a total of 23 players out, Coach Nasche lists these eleven as his top players: Chris, Gary, and Greg Hess, Larry Switzer, Stevan Nasche, Kelly Bell, Scott Hennigan, Jeremy and Jordan Bayer, Mark Flusche, and Jason Frost. "The hogs will be a determining factor in how successful our team will be this season," Nasche said of his offensive linemen. "They are all returning from last year and the blocking schemes are still the same."

John Nasche's younger brother, Stevan, who started six games for the Tigers last year at quarterback, will get the nod as the man under when Sacred Heart opens its regular season on September 6 in Era. Sacred Heart's schedule, which should be "close and competitive", according to Nasche, also includes Lindsay, Collinsville, Cistercian, and the defending state champions in 1A TAPPS, Lexington Academy, among others.

Coach Nasche went on to say that "if we remain healthy and get a few breaks, we'll have a very productive season." Could a very productive season end in a class 2A TAPPS state championship? GO BIG RED!!

SH Tigers scrimmage Friday!

Sacred Heart will start their 1991 football season by hosting Notre Dame, Friday, Aug. 23 for a 6:00 p.m. scrimmage. "I feel it will be a good scrimmage," said Tiger Coach John Nasche. "We're getting a better start this year than last."

The contest was originally scheduled as a 3-team scrimmage to include Brookhollow, but the DeSoto private school closed and consolidated with Trinity Christian, the team Sacred Heart lost to in the playoffs last season.

Friday's scrimmage will begin with 20 offensive and 20 defensive plays, then 15-15. For two quarters, the teams will play a line game without the punter. "Notre Dame has a complete new coaching staff," said Nasche, "this will be the only time they'll be able to scrimmage play. This should make it very exciting."

Again, as in the past, soap and towel admission is requested to help supply the field house showers.

Among popular events were the Jail and Bail, parade, Gunfighters, and fashion show. Twenty riders participated in the Off-Road Bike Rally. Numbered among them was the president of the Dallas Off-Road Club. He and his group complimented the course that included creeks, ca-

"Lone Star State" is coming to license plates

The eyes of Texas may think they're seeing things beginning next spring. But deep in the hearts of Texans, they'll know it's true.

That really will be "The Lone Star State" written across the bottom of Texas license plates on passenger cars.

"Texans have made their pride plain, to the point of making it the object of legislation," said Arnold Oliver, engineer-director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. "We obviously have a lot to be proud of, and our newest license plate, with its flag and 'The Lone Star State,' couldn't trumpet that any more loudly."

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission approved the new design in its July meeting. The new tags will begin appearing when all the current plates are issued, probably by early spring, said Lawrence Smith of the Division of Motor Vehicles.

Two years ago, the slogan surfaced as an alternative to using the proposed label "The Friendship State," rejected by the commission after Texans said they didn't like the idea. ("Friendship" is the state's official motto.) The commission opted not to mess with Texas plates except to add the Texas flag on the upper left.

This spring, the Texas Legislature passed a resolution suggesting the department consider adding "The Lone Star State" to the redesigned plates.

"Through the resolution conveyed a suggestion, we agreed it was time to put Texas' unofficial but best-loved label on the plates," Oliver said.

Finding bargains on back-to-school clothes

by Sandra Avant

COLLEGE STATION - Shopping for children's clothing gets intense twice a year - Christmas and right about now, when clothes for school are in high demand.

"Clothing is probably the most expensive item on parents' school supply list," said Dr. Ann V. Beard, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A U.S. Department of Agriculture study indicates that middle-income urban families in the South each year spend about $780 on clothing for each child age 15 to 17, $830 per child between 12 and 14, and $500 on each younger school-age child.

Shopping a variety of sources for children's clothes can help reduce back-to-school expenses, Beard said. By planning ahead, consumers can find bargains at outlets, thrift stores, discount stores and garage sales.

When shopping for clothes, she suggests following these steps:

- *Make a list - Look over your child's wardrobe and note the items needed. Consider the garment desired, color and fabric.
- *Budget spending - Before you go shopping, know exactly how much you can afford and what you can spend on each item.
- *Take your child shopping - Before you go, prepare the child for what you are looking for, and shop only for him or her, not for the entire family, since young children get tired easily.
- *Know sizes - Take along your child's measurements and a tape measure. You cannot always depend on sizes to be accurate.
- *Consider the child's growth patterns - Don't buy more than what's needed. Children grow rapidly and may outgrow what you buy before the school year is over.

*Consider purchasing two or three outfits that can be mixed and matched for a more useful wardrobe.

*Consider what special clothing will be needed for your child's activities. Decide if parts of these garments could be worn with regular school clothing as a wardrobe extender. Less expensive tops such as brightly colored T-shirts can add variety to a wardrobe.

*Choose styles and fabrics that will grow with the child. Raglan sleeves, cuffs on pants, adjustable straps and waistbands, large hems in dresses and tops can add to the wear-life of a garment.

*Also, consider the care factors. Knits, especially cotton or cotton/polyester, are easy to care for and stretch for comfort. Choose durable fabrics such as denim and corduroy to withstand children's activities and repeated laundering.

Buying from discount sources can save money, but you need to be careful, Beard said. To make sure you are satisfied with what you buy and getting a good deal, ask yourself these questions before buying the merchandise:

- *Are all parts of the garment the same size? One sleeve may be smaller than the other.
- *Are collar and lapel points the same length?
- *Is the lining the correct size for the garment?
- *Will wrinkles press out?
- *Are ties and belts the right size and a good color match?
- *Is the fabric design pleasing?
- *Are there defects in the fabrics - holes, runs and imperfections? Hold the garment up to the light to find out.
- *Is the fabric durable and suitable for the child's activities?
- *If there are flaws or worn spots, can you repair them easily?

New procedure is used in pelvic cancer surgery

HOUSTON - A new procedure called endoscopic pelvic lymph node dissection will enable doctors to more accurately diagnose and quickly treat people with prostate cancer and other pelvic cancers. The method is being tested by researchers at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

The research team, led by Dr. Donald P. Griffith, a professor of urology at Baylor, and colleague Dr. Joan T. Meaney, performed clinical trials on 40 patients. Thirty-one patients underwent endoscopic pelvic lymph node dissection while the remaining patients had the more widely used open pelvic lymph node dissection.

Endoscopic pelvic lymph node dissection involves examination of the abdominal cavity and pelvis via a laparoscope, a tube-like viewing instrument. It provides a "picture" of the area enabling physicians to sample pelvic lymph nodes where prostate cancer may spread. A small incision the size of a keyhole is made in the area allowing the physician to examine the involved area and if necessary remove the cancerous lymph nodes.

"This new procedure will allow physicians to determine the extent of the cancer," Griffith said. "Patients will require less pain medication and recuperate faster following surgery which means fewer days in the hospital and less time off from work."

The more invasive open pelvic lymph node dissection is routinely performed to remove the lymph nodes, round bodies of tissue that act as filters by preventing cancer cells from entering the bloodstream, which are removed to detect and possibly prevent the spread of prostate cancer.

"Both procedures are effective, but endoscopic patients experience significantly less pain and disability," Griffith said. "We can puncture the pelvis and remove the lymph nodes with a small incision rather than an open one."

Griffith plans to perform similar surgeries on patients with bladder cancer who may also benefit from earlier detection.

Dr. Says: Be Wheel Wise

Biking, boarding and blading are the "hot" activities for more and more people this year.

Whether it's a means of transportation, an opportunity to exercise or just a pastime, bicycles, skateboards and rollerblades all require proper safety gear and knowledge of safety rules.

The cost of ignoring precautions is high. Every year half a million cyclists are injured in bicycling accidents, and over 100,000 people seek emergency room treatment for skateboarding accidents. In the newest sport of the three, rollerblading, accidents have increased an estimated 10 times over last year.

"These types of sports leave us vulnerable to head injury, because we're typically traveling at higher speeds and on hard surfaces," said Dr. James Wasco, medical director of the New Medico Head Injury System. New Medico provides rehab for individuals who have brain injuries from accidents, or from other causes.

"Any time we take it upon ourselves to go faster without properly protecting ourselves, we run the risk of injury." Though most of us can bounce back from a few bumps and bruises, a blow to the head could cause irreparable brain damage. Without wearing an approved helmet for any of these sports, your chances of serious injury increase significantly.

- Always wear a helmet when you're bicycling, skateboarding or rollerblading. Helmets are lightweight and are relatively inexpensive.
 - Protect yourself by wearing the proper safety gear. Use knee and elbow pads, gloves with padded palms and wrist guards.
 - Avoid poor road conditions. Rocks, bumps, or ruts in the road can cause serious accidents.
 - Go at moderate speeds. The more you increase your speed, the less control you have.
- "An active lifestyle is important for a healthy life, but we must be careful that our activities don't cause us harm," said Wasco. For more information about brain injury and rehabilitation, contact New Medico Head Injury System at 1-800-CARE TBI, ext. 3070.

SCS offers copies of Cooke Co. Soil Surveys

by Gregg Tompkins, Soil Conservation Service
The Soil Survey of Cooke County, Texas contains much information useful in any land planning program. Of prime importance are the predictions of soil behavior for selected land uses. Also in the Soil Survey are limitations or hazards to land uses that are inherent in the soil, improvements needed to overcome these limitations, and the impact that selected land uses will have on the environment.

The Soil Survey was prepared for many different users. Farmers, ranchers and agronomists can use it to determine the potential of the soil and the management practices required for food and fiber production. Planners, community officials, engineers, developers, builders, and home buyers can use it to plan land use, select sites for construction, develop soil resources, or identify any special practices that may be needed to insure proper performance.

Many soil properties that affect land use are described in the Soil Survey. Broad areas of soils are shown on the general soil map; the location of each kind of soil is shown on detailed soil maps. Each kind of soil in the survey area is described, and much information is given about each soil for specific uses.

If you would like a copy of the Cooke County Soil Survey come by the Soil Conservation Service office at 4504A West Hwy. 82 just east of the Weber Airport road, or call (817) 668-7794.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Grazing/Grain Demonstration

For the past two years we have been conducting a Grazing Study on the Fuhrmann Brothers Limousin Ranch to look at the potential loss to grain yield from livestock grazing. In the 1990 year each variety that was grazed showed an increase in grain yields over those varieties that were not grazed. The 1991 trial consisting of all soft wheat varieties showed varied results.

Producers need to consider several management practices if they intend to benefit from both grazing and harvest of wheat or other small grain. Those factors to be considered include fertility, planting date, livestock removal date, weather, tillering, and seeding rate.

Fertility needs are going to be greater on grain that is both grazed and harvested. As we know, for grain yields wheat will utilize approximately one pound of Phosphate per bushel and two pounds of Nitrogen per bushel of grain produced. Livestock consuming forage also remove Nitrogen from the soil through the regeneration of plant tissue. Therefore, producers will probably need to add an additional 40 to 50 pounds of Actual Nitrogen per acre to that grain that is to be grazed. Ideally, this Nitrogen would be added sometime in January or February before jointing begins.

Planting Date - tests over the years have shown that to benefit from fall and winter grazing, small grains must be planted early. In our area, this would be in the first part of September. Small grains do not fully begin tillering and develop secondary roots until approximately six weeks after emergence. Before grazing begins, we need both tillering and secondary root development to begin. Early plantings allow for small grain production during the cold winter months.

Livestock Removal - Today's wheats tend to joint earlier than older varieties. For this reason, livestock must be removed before jointing begins. Most jointing in our county will begin sometime toward the end of February or the first of March. Weather plays a big role in the starting of this process. The colder the temperatures during the winter, the later the jointing will begin. Producers need to be aware of the growing conditions and possibly remove cattle from the small grain that they plan to harvest by the middle of February.

Weather is always the key factor in any production of agricultural commodities. This is also true with grazing/grain production. The past several years our small grains have been actively growing in the fall and then shocked from severe cold. This has caused reduction in stands. If we can slowly cool down through the fall and winter, the small grain can stand more pressure from livestock. Wet weather certainly has an effect on stands in the Blackland. However, the benefits derived from grazing in a depressed wheat market certainly outweigh the small production loss due to trampling.

Tillering - In looking at small grains over the past years, one factor seems to pop up when looking at stand loss, freeze loss, and other environmental conditions when grazing. This factor is tillering. Those small grains which heavily tiller and form a mat on the soils tend to support livestock pressure better. Producers should observe the wheat varieties they plant this year and look for this growth characteristic.

One last thing to consider when grazing is your Seeding Rate. Seeding rates should be increased for grazing. Also large plump seeded varieties could have seeding rates increased. And those varieties that tend to grow upright and tiller very little need to have increased seeding rates. Seeding rates for grazing should be somewhere in the 100 pound range per acre.

Below are results of the 1991 Small Grain Grazing/Grain Result Demonstration conducted on the Fuhrmann Brothers Limousin Ranch. The seeding rate was 90 pounds and was planted on 9-28-90 with fertility rate of 100-46-0. Grazing was done during November, December, and January. Several varieties were severely damaged from the late December freeze. These included the Florida 302 and Milburn. Those varieties producing the greatest amount of forage during the first clipping which was held in December included Coker 6815, Coker 9877, Pioneer 2551, Milburn, Soft Mix, Coker 9766, Keiser, and Florida 302. Varietal selection is important but planting dates tend to be even more critical. Producers having questions about any of the following data should contact the County Extension Office.

Many factors affect forage production yield

by Bob Keating
More management changes than moving up the planting date need to be considered when aiming for good fall wheat pasture, says Gene Krenzer, Oklahoma State University Extension wheat specialist.

In addition to an early planting date, the seeding rate, seeding depth and row width all can influence early-season forage production for wheat pasture, Krenzer explains.

Planting date is of primary importance, he adds. Late August or early September planting is recommended for maximum fall and early-winter wheat forage. The ideal planting range for wheat for only a grain crop is between mid September and mid October.

"But for each two-week delay in seedling emergence during August and September, potential forage production may be reduced by up to 1,000 pounds," Krenzer says.

He also notes for the September planting dates, the higher the seedling rate, the more forage was produced to the early jointing stage.

However, he adds, the highest seeding rates - 90 to 120 pounds - may not be economical, depending on seed cost.

Another point he makes is that narrower row width can be much more important in early forage production than later in the season. Rows as narrow as three inches can increase early forage production simply because the plants are more equally spaced, allowing them to use sunlight, soil nutrients and available soil moisture better. Once wheat plants form a canopy over the row middles, row width becomes less important.

"Three-inch row width may not be mechanically or economically practical in an operation, but a producer particularly interested in early fall forage shouldn't plant in rows wider than eight inches," Krenzer says.

Proper planting depth is important at all dates, but it is extremely important when planting in soils that may be hotter than 85 degrees at the seed depth in August and September.

High soil temperature causes the coleoptile of the wheat seedling to be shorter than normal. The coleoptile is the protective covering over the emerging first leaf. If it doesn't elongate enough to reach the soil the plant seldom emerges.

For that reason, wheat planted early in hot soil should be seeded no deeper than one inch, or stand reductions are likely. Seeding depths of one to two inches in late September or October produce good results.
