Among things to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving is the fact that Americans can be proud of their country's part in the rescue of over 1500 persons from Congo savages this week. Our planes transported the Belgian paratroopers who swarmed down on Stanleyville, seized the city's airport, and helped Congolese government forces take control from the rebels. And when that was accomplished our planes transported all of the terrorized white captives to the safety of Leopoldville.

It is estimated that about 50 of the doomed captives were killed before they could be rescued. But the more important and more gratifying fact is that about thirty times as many were saved.

This heroic achievement, mind you, was not the doing of UN. It was the cooperative action of United States and Belgium, by-passing the so-called world peace keeping organization which, by its bungling, if not subversive, interference, started the trouble in the first place. Leaders of these two countries, acting together on their own, moved with speed and determination to do the job which UN could not have done and probably would not have been inclined to do.

Furthermore, it's ironic that Belgians did the big job. As most of us recall, Belgians were kicked out of the Congo a few years ago by the UN because of their colonialism. Our country went along with that idea, supporting the UN claim that Congolese had a right to be freed from the colonialism by which they had been held in subjection for so long. Belgians knew better. They said the Congo was not ready for self rule, and developments since have shown that they were right. Congo conditions got worse instead of better. Exploiting communist colonialism took over when benevolent Belgian colonialism moved out. So, it's especially satisfying now that Belgians took the lead in bringing order out of the Stanleyville anarchy.

Likewise, it is satisfying that our country teamed with the Belgians in the Congo operation. In so doing we redeem ourselves, at least partly, for that miserable blunder of supporting the original UN blunder.

Another ironic fact: Tshombe, who resisted communism in the Congo and was outlawed by UN for his refusal to cooperate, who was snubbed and insulted by our State Department for that reason, now stands out as the foremost statesman of the Congo.

Up to this time at least, those are developments for which we and the rest of the free world can be very thankful. We see in this temporary setback a glimmer of hope that legitimate government under Tshombe will keep red inspired rebels of the Congo on the run. We see another glimmer of hope that free nations like our own are more disposed to do what's right rather than rely on the slow and questionable process of the red dominated UN. We see the possibility of increasing firmness in our dealings with the reds.

Another encouraging sign lately is our country's demand that dead-beat members of the UN pay their debts or lose their votes. We have been soft on that a long time, even tapped our treasury to pay the crooks' debts. Let's hope we will stand pat on that, even if the Soviets take their threatened walk. Of course, it's too much to hope that the Russians would quit the UN. It's a safer bet that they will pay when the chips are down so they can continue their evil influence in world politics.

That's that for important matters. The rest of this column will concern another matter which comes once a year and calls for a personal expression of thanks.

As indicated by the volume and number under the name plate at the top of this page, this is the beginning of a new year for the Muenster Enterprise. This paper is 28 years old today. It is starting its 29th year of publication.

As mentioned on several anniversaries before, this birthday appropriately falls on Thanksgiving Day. It was not planned that way. It just happened that the original job of setting up shop was completed in time to get the first paper printed on Thanksgiving Day.

Local Lowlands Reap Benefits of Detention Dams

The value of flood control reservoirs on Elm and Clear Creek watersheds was clearly apparent last week after abnormally heavy rains dumped an average of about seven inches of rain on North Texas.

Protection by the dams completely eliminated flooding along the upper regions of both creeks and substantially reduced the volume of floodwater that broke out of the channels farther down-stream.

Elm Creek broke out of its banks just below Gainesville. That happened in spite of the fact that most rain on the watershed above was being caught by thirty two flood control reservoirs. All were near the overflow level but some of them spilled over. From each of those reservoirs a three foot drainage tube emptied into the creek channel. Water that would have gushed down in a few hours was spread over a few days. The reduced volume of water plus drainage from small un-controlled streams was held in the creek channel as far as Gainesville, but undammed streams below there dumped their torrents and the creek spread over bottomlands.

Damage downstream was heavy, but nothing like it would have been if the upper area of the watershed had not been protected. Besides, it is likely that parts of the city of Gainesville would have been flooded. It has happened several times before in heavy rains.

In this area damage was not only reduced but completely prevented. Bottomlands which used to be flooded by less rainfall remained clear as upstream lakes reduced drainage rate to a tiny fraction of what it used to be.

Similar reports come in from the Clear Creek area. Bottomlands that used to become temporary lakes were untouched by surplus water this time. There was no damage to crops or property as the greater part of flood water was detained by forty dams. One of those reservoirs is reported to have gone over the spillway, and all were near the spillway level.

But farther down the creek, in the area of Sanger, uncontrolled streams were dumping in and Clear Creek went on a rampage.

Teddy Miller Is New President of SH Alumni Group

Teddy Miller has been elected president of the Sacred Heart Alumni Association. Members favored him for the office at the annual election Monday night.

Tommy Herr who served as president two years automatically became vice president and Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid, secretary, and Roger Taylor, treasurer, were re-elected.

Other business consisted of making plans for the volleyball tournament scheduled tentatively for February or March, and a report on the homecoming celebrations. Tommy Herr thanked all who helped make it such a happy success.

Mrs. Tommy Herr served refreshments after the meeting.

Hornets of 1964 Win 5 and Lose 5

A big upset for an 8-2 decision over Chico's Dragons brought a cheerful ending to the Muenster Hornets' football season, and an official season record of 5-5.

Actually the record was 4-5-1, but according to District 9-B agreement the Hornets were given the decision on penetrations after their tie game with Alvord.

Coach James Polk and his MHS boys got their wins at the beginning and end of the season. In pre conference play they took Lindsay and Valley View Warriors and dropped a close one to Ardmore B. Then they got into their conference schedule and lost four in a row before winning the remaining three.

The scores: Muenster 28, Lindsay 0; Muenster 22, V. V. Warriors 0; Muenster 8, Ardmore B 12; Muenster 0, Valley View 18; Muenster 0, Sanger 20; Muenster 6, Era 26; Muenster 6, Saint Jo 30; Muenster 12, Alvord 12; Muenster 24, Callisburg 16; Muenster 8, Chico 2

Installation of Christmas Lights Delayed by City

Christmas street lights in Muenster are due to start burning about the second week of December. Mayor Earl Fisher said this week that a similar lighting schedule last year was satisfactory and has been taken for granted this year. Installation and first day of lighting will depend on when TP&L linemen and city employees can get together for the job.

City Superintendent Steve Moser said the lighting plan this year will be about the same as last year. There will be near 800 bulbs of five colors on 22 strings crossing the highway and Main Street. And the lights will be turned on and off automatically by a time clock.

The honor roll for the second six weeks at Muenster public school was announced this week by Principal George Petrus.

B honor roll — Florence Walterscheid, Norma Lutkenhaus, Sandra Cler, Cindy Cain, Margaret Lawson, Rita Trubenbach, Glenn Klement, Brenda Skaggs, Debbie Cler and Paula Herr.

Inspired Hornets Upset Chico 8-2 In Season Finale

Muenster's Hornets closed their football season in glory Friday night. They were playing ten feet tall as they upset the strongly favored Chico Dragons 8-2.

They did a fine job all the way and especially at the end when they protected their six point margin with two magnificent goal line stands.

Late in the period the Dragons, for the first time in the game, combined two first downs and, also for the first time, got inside the 10 yard line. They were set up on the 7, with four tries at the goal. When the series ended they had lost two yards. The scoreboard clock had 2:57 remaining at that time.

Then the Hornets encountered serious trouble as they tried to move up field from their 9. First play made 2, then a penalty back to the 6. Next one gained 3, and then a fumble giving Chico four more plays from the 5. Time remaining, 1:40, and the Dragons conserved it by stopping the clock after each play.

Two of those plays reached the 2, the third was stopped at the same place, and the last try lost a yard.

From then Muenster used the last 40 seconds making three yards on three plays.

Game conditions were rugged: a sloppy field, near freezing temperature and a stout north wind that made a big difference in the defensive struggle which called for frequent kicks. Those conditions accounted largely for Chico's 2 points conceded early in the game.

Chico's long kick, favored by the wind, put Muenster back on the 16 and three fouled up plays lost yardage back to the 2. On fourth down Virgil Swirczynski decided not to kick into the gale and risk giving the visitors a good position. Instead he deliberately touched down a knee behind the line, donating 2 points to the Dragons, a bit of strategy which (Continued on page 8)

5 County Teams And Saint Jo in 36-B Cage Loop

Interscholastic league basketball for the 36-B district this year is mostly a Cooke County affair. Five of the six member teams are in the county, and the other is Saint Jo, just a few miles outside the county.

Members of the loop are Muenster, Lindsay, Era, Valley View, Callisburg and Saint Jo. Last year Callisburg took the titles in both the boys' and girls' divisions of the district. The boys won over Valley View in a play-off after a tied season and the girls won it in their regular season schedule.

The district season will open on January 5 and will consist of ten games, a double round robin in which each team plays each other team twice. Between now and January the teams will have their own practice schedule.

In Muenster that schedule consists of games with Sacred Heart on Dec. 4 and 18 and competing in the Pilot Point invitation tournament Dec. 10-12.

Panthers Win 9-B Trophy, To Meet Anna in Bi-District

The Saint Jo Panthers are the 1964 champions of District 9-B and will be official representatives of the district in a bi-district contest with Anna's Coyotes, winner of the 10-B title.

That was the decision of district coaches and representatives at their post season meeting in Gainesville Saturday.

Final standings in the 9-B district race are as follows. Saint Jo, 6-1, is champ. Valley View and Sanger, each 5-2, share second and third positions. Era and Chico, each 4-3, are tied for fourth and fifth. In the last three spots are Muenster, 3-4, Callisburg, 1-6, and Alvord 0-7.

In another meeting Saturday Saint Jo and Anna school representatives decided that their bi-district contest will be played Friday night in Saint Jo. Anna is remembered here as a team that was edged 8-6 by Sacred Heart Tigers. Saint Jo beat the Tigers 22-0.

English Masses In Local Parish To Begin Sunday

The Sacred Heart Parish of Muenster next Sunday joins in the world wide movement by the Catholic Church of changing from Latin to the vernacular. For the first time in the history of the local parish, the priest will recite Mass prayers in English.

The occasion will also bring two other changes in local custom. For the first time here the priest will celebrate the Mass facing the congregation. And, for the first time the congregation will recite the Mass prayers with the priest.

Father Alcuin Kubis explained this week that the changes apply only to low masses. On the local schedule it means that the English Masses will be at 6, 7:30 and 10:30 in the morning and 7:30 in the evening. The High Mass at 9 o'clock is unchanged. Father Alcuin said that the High Mass cannot be changed at this time because translations of the prayers and hymns have not been set to music.

Leaflets of the Mass prayers will be in all the pews next Sunday to assure that all have prayers similar to those used by the priest. And Arthur Endres will lead at the microphone to assist the congregation in keeping coordinated with the priest.

The altar to be used as the priest faces the congregation was finished last week by Father Andrew Wewer and Bill Knabe. It was designed by Father Andrew and materials for it were given to the parish by Community Lumber Co. The altar is made of oak, harmonizing with other woodwork of the sanctuary, and its altar stone is built into the altar top. The new altar, which looks more like a table, will be used only as the priest faces the congregation at mass. At other times it will be moved to the side and the main altar will be used.

Next game Lindsay girls had a similar advantage over the Tigerette regulars. Scores by quarters were 7-2, 18-12, 26-14, 36-24. Barbara Schmitt hit 15 for Sacred Heart, Patsy Zimmerer 24 for Lindsay.

Tigers pulled ahead early in the boys game for a 20-7 lead at the half and held out for the final win of 27-24 after losing Larry and David Hess on fouls. Top scorers were Ray Wimmer, 13, for Sacred Heart and Ronnie Fuhrmann, 15, for Lindsay.

WORTH RETELLING

The housewife may be incredulous—but food prices, measured by the accurate yardsticks of income and earning power, are cheaper than ever. Here is the story: At the turn of the century, average pay was $11 a week and about 50 per cent of it went for food. Now the average wage is around $100 a week, and food takes only 20 per cent of it. Moreover, the figures can't reflect the vast improvement in the quality and healthfulness of the American diet that has taken place over those years, or the enormous increase in the number and variety of food offerings, or the development of convenience foods which are ready to eat or almost so, or the fact that many foods which used to be available only during brief seasons now grace the stores most or all of the year.

This is a credit that must be shared—and there's plenty of it to go around. The American farmer is the most efficient and productive in the world, and every consumer is in his debt. The processors and packers have played their part, and it is a big one indeed. And, finally, mass distribution, which the chains pioneered in the face of much skepticism long ago, brings our splendid foods, in all their variety, forms and abundance, to the consumer at rock-bottom cost.

This is a story that deserves telling and retelling.

THE FAITH OF THE PILGRIMS

In a Thanksgiving message, Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI paid a moving tribute to the Pilgrims and the ideals they left to us. Then he said: "Regrettably, too many Americans no longer care about religious ideals and heritage. To some, our country is a fantasyland filled with complimentary handouts of rights and freedoms without obligations. With patent indifference, they shirk the mere suggestion of individual responsibility. Their purpose in life is lost in moral lethargy, self-indulgence, and neglect of duty."

A cynical, unthinking attitude such as Mr. Hoover describes can, if ever it becomes wide-spread enough, prove suicidal for this or any nation. All our material abundance could not then save us from ultimate destruction as a free people. Those who forsake duty ask for masters who will impose duty—the duty of slaves. The faith of the Pilgrims was never so greatly needed as it is today.

The American Medical Association points out that Old King Cold is a king-sized trouble-maker. In a new pamphlet, it states that the common cold costs this nation $5 billion a year in lost wages, lost production and medical expenses. More than 20 million people suffer from colds on any given wintry day. No specific treatment, so far available, is effective against the cold virus. Any treatment should be directed toward relief of the symptoms and prevention of complications.

It is the time set aside to look appreciatively at our many blessings. It is the time set aside to give thanks for all the things we usually take for granted.

Thanksgiving quickens a new spirit of appreciation within us. Thanksgiving creates joy. Thanksgiving builds faith. Thanksgiving for our blessings never fails to open the way for more good. Thanksgiving sets in motion an endless cycle of good that enriches us in mind and body.

Let us make an unforgettable day of Thanksgiving. Let us give thanks for peace, life, family and friends. Let us give thanks to God for the glorious world in which we live. Let us give thanks for our blessings great and small. Let us say, "Thank You, God, for everything." —The Daily Word.

"A big city newspaper recently carried a story where a maniac was accused of rape and murder and released on $500 bail. A day later we read an article about a group of men who were arrested for playing cards and were released on bail of $1,000 each. It made us wonder whether it was cheaper to murder than to get caught playing cards. Doesn't add up!" —Shickshinny, Pa., Mountain Echo.

Thoughts at Thanksgiving . . .

The warmth of family and friends . . . the spiritual guidance of our house of worship . . . the freedom and opportunity assured by our great country, where we can live and worship and vote as we please . . . for all this and much more we offer thanks.

From all of us to our friends and patrons, a happy and healthy Thanksgiving.

Bids Will be Let Soon for Contract On Vacation Ranch

Plans for the Colonial Acres Vacation Ranch and Four Trails Inn to be built outside the Saint Jo city limits, are progressing very well at present, according to Carl Webb, developer of the project.

They anticipate that final drawings will be finished in about two weeks, at which time, building contracts will be let and actual groundwork will begin around January 1.

A Thanksgiving Message

In the name of the Muenster community, the board of directors and the management of Muenster Memorial Hospital on this Thanksgiving Day express sincere gratitude to the people of Muenster and surrounding areas for the personal help, donations, and good will which made establishment and operation of the hospital possible.

We say a heartfelt "God Bless You" to all the volunteer workers who have so generously given their time and energy in: . . . Sewing window draperies, surgical drapes, wrappers, towels, sheets etc. . . . Cleaning the building, moving in equipment and supplies, donating items asked for. . . . Planting shrubs, removing rocks, hoeing and mowing the lawns. . . . Raising funds by various projects.

We are thankful to pastors for their spiritual help, to the medical staff for directing patient care — especially to Doctors Cole and Atchison for helping through a very difficult period — and to our hospital personnel for kind and efficient care of patients.

We ask the Giver of all gifts to bless you one and all and to help all of us become more and more appreciative of His daily bountiful blessings.

Hospital Auxiliary Plans Christmas Decor for Hospital

Getting ready to decorate the grounds and lobby at Muenster Hospital are members of the Hospital Auxiliary. They'll get together for that activity on December 13.

Those are the plans made by the organization at their November meeting Thursday night. Most of the decorations have been donated. One hundred and sixty feet of Christmas lights and ten dollars cash came from Cooke County Electric Co-op, the M. H. Kings gave lights for an outdoor tree and another donor gave decorations for the lobby.

Mrs. Ervin Hamric, president, conducted the meeting and reports were given on the benefit art show and the benefit Stanley party. Members volunteered to help the Jaycees with the Thanksgiving picnic by taking charge of the sandwich stand and securing pies for the dinner.

Mrs. Martin Kralicke was welcomed as a new member and Dr. Kralicke stopped by to get acquainted with members. The Auxiliary has a membership of 69 now.

Sister Mildred, hospital administrator, spoke in the interest of securing volunteer help at meal time and to answer light calls in the morning. Some volunteered to help and Mrs. Hamric is compiling a list of others who have spare time to donate to the hospital.

After the meeting Mrs. Hamric served refreshments and Mrs. James Mollenkopf won the attendance prize.

Seeds of the evergreen Texas Ebony are used as a substitute for coffee by Mexican Indians.

Four from Colonial Acres at Cattle Fair in Mexico

Home now, reporting an enjoyable Mexico visit, are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders, C. S. Martin and Bill Oliver of Colonial Acres Farm who flew to Mexico City to attend the Mexican National Cattle Show.

President Adolpho Lopez Mateos inaugurated the Fair at which the Foreign Agriculture Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture displayed educational pamphlets that illustrated the mutual cooperation and introduced prevailing differences between the Mexican and American breeders. It also made available thousands of pamphlets on breeding methods to assist Mexican cattlemen interested in purchasing United States stock.

Mr. and Mrs. Medders also distributed small brochures, printed in Spanish, with information about their Red Angus cattle. These were received enthusiastically by Mexican cattlemen.

Among other highlights of the trip for the Muensterites were an invitation to a reception given by U. S. Ambassador Fulton Freeman at the Embassy residence, dinner with Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hopp at their home — he's the agricultural attache with the American Embassy — and attending the dedication of a ten million dollar housing project named the John F. Kennedy Housing Project in honor of the late president. His brother Attorney General Robert Kennedy was present and spoke to the crowd.

Other highlights were visiting the beautiful Guadalupe Shrine and Cathedral of Mexico, and Mrs. Medders made a tour of Mexican colonial homes with Mrs. Hopp.

Dr. and Mrs. Hopp were in Muenster in October as guests of the Medders to see their Red and Black Angus herds.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Noss of Pilot Point visited Tuesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Zipper. They were road testing a new car.

Gift Party Greet Mrs. Felderhoff

A surprise gift party planned for Mrs. Henry Felderhoff Wednesday of last week went off as scheduled in spite of the rain. Twenty guests braved the inclement weather to attend.

The party was given in the home of Mrs. Al Fleitman with Mrs. Joe H. Walterscheid as hostess.

A pink and blue carnation corsage was pinned on the honoree as she arrived and pink and blue was noted in decorations and refreshments. A stork centered the gift table.

Tips From Your Hatchery

Did the recent wet spell bring dampness or water into your basement, cellar or floor furnace pit? If they remained dry then I don't think you need to worry about them in the future. But if unwanted moisture did seep in then we can be of realistic service to you. The fact is, we are so sure we can do the job that we will not bill you for it until next May. By then you should know if our work was satisfactory.

And, of course, if there is excessive moisture under your house you have a "Welcome" mat out for termites. Let us get 'em. Better be safe than sorry.

Tots and Parents Attend Diocesan Party in Dallas

Thirteen children and their parents from Cooke County were among the several hundred guests Sunday afternoon at the annual diocesan party for the youngsters and their adoptive parents.

The group enjoyed seeing others they see every year at these get-togethers given by Bishop Thomas K. Gorman. His Excellency was not present this year. He is still in Rome.

Attending from Muenster were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Moser and Frank and Chris; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Klement and Karl, Karlyn, Kellye and Kirk; and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Fuhr-man and Kent. Those from Gainesville were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Graham and twin sons Kyle and Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. William Pulte and daughter Helen and Mr. and Mrs. Doc Kasparic, Johnny and Doris. And from Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hermes and Diane.

The group gathered first in St. Cecilia's Church for blessing of the children, a talk by Very Rev. Mgr. C. L. Mulholland and Benediction, then went to the school for entertainment, games, refreshments and the highlight of it all for the little ones, the appearance of Santa Claus with a gift for each and a round of visiting with them all.

Attending the party the first time this year were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Luke and daughter Beth of Dallas. After the party, the Lukes invited the three Muenster couples and their children to their home for visiting and lunch.

NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

She Came to the Valley

The scene of this long, rich novel is the Valley of the Rio Grande in the early twentieth century. The period when a small valiant group of Americans, as true pioneers as their ancestors before them, made this desert country into a flowering garden. It was a time of tension and peril, with the constant threat of bandits who swarmed across the border, pillaging the countryside and leaving death and destruction in their wake.

Willy Westall had her hands full when she arrived in Mission, Texas, with a crippled husband and two little girls, but she found time to run a general store and give comfort and courage to all who needed it. Four men loved Willy, but as long as she lived, she loved only Pat, her headstrong, weak, charming husband. She never failed Pat in all his failures, but it was Bill Lester who never failed her.

The fortunes of an American border town were shaped by these two. The man who fought for it in its beginning, and the woman whose radiant personality, indomitable courage and genuine sweetness helped it grow. Their story will live in the heart and memory of every reader for years to come.

About the Author
Cleo Dawson, the author of

"She Came To The Valley", writes with an intimate knowledge of the Texas border country, for she was born and raised in the Valley. Mission is a real Texas town, and Miss Dawson herself saw the border raids she so vividly describes. Willy, her heart warming heroine is a literary tribute to her mother.

Hornets

very probably kept them from making 6 or 8 points.

For the rest of the first half until the closing seconds it was a defensive standoff. Chico got two first downs, possession changed ten times.

With less than a minute left Muenster faked a kick and Wimmer raced around right end for 24 yards. Next play was a pass to Wimmer good for 30 to the 12. Two more plays gained 4 as the period ended.

Coming back after intermission the Hornets were hot in spite of the norther, and continued where they had left off before. Seemingly pushed by the wind at their backs, they stormed 59 yards in thirteen plays. Wimmer slipped through from the 4.

On the try for bonus points the ball squirted away from Roy Hartman and was recovered over the line by his brother Joe. The Hornets led 8-2 as the clock read 5:29 in the third period.

From then until late in the last period the defensive contest resumed. Chico made one first down, possession changed six times. Then, with about four minutes left and the norther pushing, the Dragons launched their strongest scoring bid.

Two first downs from the Hornet 38 reached to the 7. But the Hornets suddenly became much bigger than they had been all season and made their two magnificent goal line stands.

12 Boys, 21 Girls Report for Teams At Muenster High

Twelve boys and twenty one girls of Muenster High School reported Monday for the season's first session of basketball practice under direction of Coach James Polk.

Most of the boys are hold overs from last year's squad. Only one player from the '64 quint is missing, so the team in general has the benefit of a year of experience, and Coach Polk is looking confidently for a better season than they had last year.

Squad members are Bob Russell, Jim Robison, Dickie Embry, Dale Klement, Terry Cason, Roy Reiter, Doug Otto, Chris Cain, Louie Hellman, Tommy Flusche, Roy Hartman and Roy Rumley.

In the girls' department, Coach Polk is long on numbers and short on experience. Only two of the 21 prospects were regulars on last year's team, however several of the others have been on the reserve list.

Those who reported for practice are Cindy Cain, Rita Trubebach, Carol Mosman, Sandra Cler, Peggy Hellman, Rose Knabe, Jill Swirczynski, Linda Owen, Linda Whit, Linda Fisher, Debbie Fette, Paula Herr, Dorothy Cain, Margaret Lawson, Debbie Cler, Betty Knabe, Rose Eckart, Peggy Branch, Debbie Russell, Rita Fette, Ann Sicking.

At this time the team's have only two games and one tournament before they start their district schedule after Christmas. They play Sacred Heart in the MHS gym on Dec. 4 and in the SH gym on the 18th. And they will be in the Pilot Point tournament December 10-12.

Film and Lecture Feature Program For H-S Society

Program for the Sacred Heart Home-School Society meeting Monday night featured a film with commentary by Dr. Martin Kralicko. The illustrated lecture was on pre-adult sex education as it concerns the adolescent. The same program is planned for students following its enthusiastic endorsement by parents.

During the business session W. J. Miller presided and various committee chairmen gave reports. Sister Julia thanked parents for their cooperation in the recent parent-teacher conferences and for their work in making the Halloween Carnival a success. Father Alcuin added that the set date for the annual carnival is on Halloween night as an alternative to trick-or-treat wandering.

He also urged each member present to bring a prospective member to the next meeting in January. The society does not meet in December.

After adjournment Mrs. W. J. Miller and Mrs. Alfred Bayer served refreshments.

Confetti

1936. There was much to be thankful for on that day, and reasons for continued gratitude have been equally abundant every year since then.

So again, the Enterprise is thankful to all whose generous support enables it to keep going — its advertising and printing customers and its subscribers. They have been good to us through the years, providing both the means and the inspiration to publish a paper which is a credit to our community.

The Enterprise is thankful also to many individuals for their considerate help. The things they tell us make the news items that so many others find worth reading. And the Enterprise is thankful to the dedicated staff whose combined efforts each week get the information into print. It is thankful for the privilege of working in an exceptionally fine community. Progress is the rule here. Muenster is far ahead of the average town its size, and being part of it is a cherished opportunity.

Above all this paper is thankful to Almighty God — for direct blessings and also for the many other blessings that derive from His goodness to the community, the nation and mankind in general.

Now, while the Christmas Seal campaign is on, is a good time to refer to a letter received a few weeks ago from Adolph Fuhrmann of Lindsay at McKnight TB hospital in Sanatorium, Texas.

Adolph is lavish in his praise of the doctors and nurses there — says they are thorough, kind and considerate — treat their patients as persons, not numbers — and are very capable. He strongly recommends the purchase of Christmas seals, proceeds of which are used to support TB treatment.
