August 24 Set For Opening of Muenster Schools

Good news, kids. Summer vacation is more than half over and school will start just a little more than five weeks from now. The date is Monday, August 24, at both of the Muenster schools.

Father Alcuin Kubis and Superintendent L. B. Bruns indicated this week that not only the opening date but all the rest of the school calendar will again be identical at the two schools. That's because both are served by the same bus system, so the same schedule is adopted to avoid needless bus mileage.

Superintendent Bruns also stated that the faculty at the public school is complete. Mrs. Josephine English, who joined the faculty last year after Mrs. Bessie Miller quit because of failing health, said that she will return and will move to Muenster soon. Her re-appointment was subject to her living within the district. The only vacancy on the staff was filled by Eric Brewster, band instructor succeeding Royce Lumpkin. He is a part time instructor, teaching afternoons and attending school in the mornings. He is a senior at NTSU.

The rest of the public school faculty is the same as last year. At Sacred Heart School the faculty will not be known until a few days before school starts, when the Benedictine Sisters return from their convent at Jonesboro, Ark.

Lindsay Will Host Catholic League State Convention

Delegates from more than 100 parish societies and 150 local insurance units will gather in Lindsay July 24-27 for the 66th annual convention of the Catholic State League of Texas and the annual state meeting of the Catholic Life Insurance Union.

The convention is scheduled to open on Saturday, the 25th with welcome messages by Father John Walbe, Lindsay pastor, Joe Bezner, Lindsay mayor, and William Carroll, Cooke County judge. Nick Block of Lindsay will be convention chairman. The insurance section of the convention will open the day before.

Sunday's schedule will be featured by two events. A pontifical high mass in the morning will be celebrated by Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of the Dallas-Fort Worth diocese. Abbot Alfred Hoenig of Corpus Christi Abbey will be present. The other event is an evening program starting at 8 o'clock headed by Mrs. Mike Smith of D'Hanis and Charles O. Galvin, dean of the Southern Methodist University law school, as principal speakers. The day was also selected for observance of the golden anniversary of the Texas branch of the National Catholic Women's Union.

At a youth rally Saturday night the convention will award savings bonds and plaques to winners of the annual rural life contest, in which more than 600 students participated. Purpose of the program is to stimulate young people's interest in rural living.

The closing session, on Monday, will vote on resolutions to be adopted by the convention.

Charlotte Will Enter Miss Texas Pageant Next Week

Miss Charlotte Wolf, winner of the Miss Muenster pageant a month ago will be in Fort Worth next week participating in the Miss Texas pageant. The event is a state wide contest to select the Texas entry in the Miss America pageant. Entries in the Miss Texas pageant are winners of local pageants all over the state.

The Fort Worth contest is spread over four programs: swim suit contest Wednesday night, evening gown contest Thursday night and talent contest Friday night. The top ten selected from those three contests will advance to the Saturday night final.

Firemen Offer to Help Burn Weeds On Vacant Lots

Property owners of Muenster who wish to eliminate the hazard of dry weeds and grass on their vacant lots can get the cooperation of volunteer firemen next week Thursday night, the 23rd. The men will stand by with their fire truck, if they are asked, while owners burn off their lots.

Owners who want an appointment can call Henry J. Pels, assistant fire chief. He's in charge of the program in the absence of Fire Chief Alvin Hartman, who will attend the annual firemen's school next week at Texas A&M.

Owners who want lots cleared are asked to make the appointment and be there when the firemen arrive.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Mrs. Anthony Grewing was dismissed from Muenster Hospital Sunday after three days of treatment for a back injury.

Mrs. J. W. Hess is a medical patient at Muenster Hospital since last week Thursday.

Mrs. Lena Bernauer of Gainesville, formerly of Muenster, entered Gainesville Hospital, Lindsay Street Unit, the latter part of last week for medical care.

Mrs. Fred McTaggart of Myra has been a patient at Wilson N. Jones Hospital in Sherman.

Mrs. Frank Schilling and Mrs. Theo Vogel are recovering from varicose vein surgery performed at St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth last Thursday. They have been dismissed from hospital care.

Former Muensterite Mrs. Carl Pelzel of Ennis was dismissed from Ennis Hospital Friday after undergoing varicose vein surgery the preceding Tuesday.

Larry Gobble is back at home recovering from a foot infection that sent him to the hospital in Scott City, Kansas, for four days and ruined his plans for continuing with a crew of harvest hands to Nebraska and South Dakota. The doctor told him he couldn't work for two weeks.

Mrs. Frank Bindel is a shut-in at home, a wheel chair patient, suffering a recurrence of arthritis.

Five-year-old Billy Felderhoff of the Tommy Felderhoff family has a broken index finger on his right hand. The accident happened when Billy was "helping" his daddy repair a hay baler.

James Lutkenhaus was released from Gaston Episcopal Hospital, Dallas, this week Thursday to continue convalescence at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lutkenhaus. He underwent back surgery June 24, will continue as a bed patient for about six weeks.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The following patients were admitted and dismissed at Muenster Memorial Hospital during the past week.

Thursday: Admitted — Mrs. Anthony Grewing, Mrs. J. W. Hess.

Sunday: Admitted — Hill Christian, Forestburg. Dismissed — Mrs. Anthony Grewing.

Monday: Dismissed — Hill Christian.

Tuesday: Admitted — Joe Smiddy. Dismissed — Fred Hoedebeck (died).

Wednesday: Admitted — John Grewing.

Good news is reported on progress of the lawn in front of the hospital. Bermuda grass planted several weeks ago is established all over and is taking over in some areas as weeds and other grasses are kept closely mowed. The grass is responding fine to regular waterings of lake water and is expected to do better after an application of fertilizer. Tony's Seed Store donated the fertilizer, also donated the mowers. The lawn will have a finished look by the end of the summer.

The Joe Galloways and Henry Weinzapfel will be at an Area 3 Jaycee convention at Wichita Falls Saturday and Sunday as delegates of the Muenster Jaycees.

Medders to Build 100-Unit Motel Near Saint Jo

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders, owners of Colonial Acres Farm and breeders of Black and Red Angus cattle and Appaloosa horses, have announced purchase of 434 acres which will be developed into Colonial Acres Vacation Ranch a mile and a half northwest of Saint Jo on Hy. 82.

The 100-unit luxury motel will include suites for family use. The dining room will seat 300. There will be large party rooms for wedding receptions and private parties and a convention hall.

The development will include a nine-hole golf course, olympic size swimming pool, stables with horses and riding instructors.

The finest in food and entertainment will be offered. Planned entertainment will include top-name dance bands, floor shows, movies, trail rides, boating and fishing. And the Ranch will house a health and beauty center with diet foods. The background will be a working ranch.

Sale of the real estate was completed Tuesday this week. Mr. and Mrs. Medders bought the property from the Liech Estate. As soon as plans are completed the project will be put up for bids by contractors. Start of construction is expected in two months. It is estimated eight months will be required to complete the development.

The new addition to Saint Jo will have its own water and sewage disposal plants. Electric lines reach the site.

County FB Will Send 2 Members To Leaders' School

Cooke County Farm Bureau will be represented by at least two of its members at the 16th annual training school for FB leaders to be held in Brownsville starting at 2 o'clock July 21. W. W. Simpson and Donald Bayer were instructed to select the two delegates.

The institute will stress Americanism more than topics which refer directly to the presence of two noted patriotic speakers on the program. Dr. George Benson, a former missionary to China and a popular speaker and writer on Americanism, will talk on "Our American Way of Life under Fire." John Noble, a prisoner for nine years in a Russian slave labor camp, will draw on his personal experiences in talking about "Communism in Soviet Russia — Where Do We Go from Here?"

Deposits Drop Half a Million During Past Year

Deposits in Muenster State Bank dropped almost a half million dollars in the year just ended and combined declines in the four Cooke County banks were over a million dollars. Those facts were revealed in official statements of condition as of June 30, requested last week Friday by the state banking commissioner.

The deposit here was $3,516,792.61, a drop of $491,509.35 from that of a year ago. Total deposits in four county banks were $22,971,965, a drop of $1,136,007 for the year. First State Bank of Gainesville and Valley View National showed gains of $210,845 and $20,637 respectively and Gainesville National lost $876,081.

During the year loans gained at three of the four banks and dropped at the other. Locally the increase was $133,260. First State gained $403,047, Gainesville National gained $425,444, Valley View National dropped $69,560.

Several factors combine to account for the drop in deposits at Muenster State Bank according to J. M. Weinzapfel, president. A sizeable portion of it was used for construction, especially the hospital, and some of it has been drawn out for investment in building and loan savings. At the same time the slump in beef prices and the slump in harvest income have brought less money to the bank.

Scouts Will Have Outing and Mass At Lake Texoma

Muenster Boy Scouts and their dads will have their annual overnight camp out followed by a field mass Saturday and Sunday at Lake Texoma. KC hall with bedroll, food and morning at 10 o'clock from the KC hall with berroll, food and cooking equipment for preparing meals and sleeping out. All the group will camp together and spend spare time at swimming boating and fishing.

Sunday morning they will attend a field mass celebrated by Father Alcuin Kubis at Walnut Creek at 11 o'clock. Other members of the scouts families will also be there and after mass all will have a picnic dinner. Food for the dinner will be brought Sunday by the scouts' mothers.

German Singers Accept Invitation To IC Fish Fry

The Frohsinn Choir of Dallas, specialists in German singing, will add their spark to the Jaycee fish fry dated Friday, the 24th at 7:30 in the city park. Henry Weinzapfel said Wednesday that the choir has accepted a Jaycee invitation to participate.

Indications from advance sale of tickets are that the fish fry will be much larger than last year's 400. Carl Walterscheid, general chairman is planning for 800. Tickets, costing $2.00 each, are available at Tommy's Barber Shop or from Jaycee members. Preparation and serving will be by Rohmer's Catering Service.

Profits from the event will be used to start a fund for a community center building.

Firemen Ask for Guide Service At Rural Fires

Guide service at rural fires has been asked by Muenster Fire Department. Fire Chief Alvin Hartman stated this week that the firemen could save time and property if someone familiar with the area were with them showing how to reach gates, avoid gulleys, etc. Persons who phone in an alarm are urged to meet the fire truck when it arrives and help pick the best way through fields and pastures.

At night especially the firemen have trouble getting around and lose precious time. Sometimes they cut wire fences not knowing they missed a gate by a short distance. A person familiar with the area can be very helpful at such times.

Another recommended help, especially for farmers along the highway or railroad is to protect their fields or pastures with a fire guard. A high percentage of rural fires originate on the railroad or highway right of way.

County FB Plans Picnic July 23

Members of the Cooke County Farm Bureau and their families are invited to join in a county-wide picnic on Thursday, July 23, 7:30 p.m. at Sycamore Lake north of Lindsay.

All members are urged to be there, with picnic baskets.

Death Ends Illness of Two Muenster Men

H. A. Walterscheid

Harold A. Walterscheid, fighting for his life since major surgery July 3, lost the battle Tuesday afternoon. Death came at 2:50 in a Dallas Hospital. He was 62, had lived in Muenster since childhood. His father, Henry Walterscheid, was an early-day drug store owner here.

Requiem mass and funeral services were held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in Sacred Heart Church with Father Alcuin Kubis officiating and Miller Funeral Home directing burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Bearers were Ray and Walter Klement, Harold Knabe, Pete Hellinger, Pete Hellinger Jr. and Louis Roberg.

Rosary services were conducted at the Miller Chapel Wednesday at 4 and at 8 p.m. Harold Walterscheid was born in San Antonio on Nov. 24, 1901, and spent all his adult life as a painter. He married Miss Marie Richter here on Sept. 19, 1933. In recent years his health started failing but he was on the job painting until he entered the hospital.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Lambert of Muenster, Delbert of Rockwall and Rainard of Kermit; two daughters, Mrs. Jim Harris of Oklahoma City and Miss Shirley Walterscheid of Fort Worth; one sister, Mrs. Charlie Stelzer of Fort Worth and five grandchildren, Jimmie Lynn and Starla Mabelle Harris of Oklahoma City and Bradley, Delanne and Michelle Ann Walterscheid of Rockwall.

City Uses 430,000 Gallons of Water In 24 Hour Period

Water consumption in Muenster last week Thursday, July 9, jumped to a new high record of 430,000 gallons for a 24 hour period. It was a big increase over the previous high of 368,000 gallons set in 1962, and more than a 35 per cent increase over the high mark of 320,000 gallons ten years ago. Consumption on the 10th was 330,000 gallons.

The high consumption resulted simply because several big users were drawing on the supply at the same time, City Superintendent Steve Moster explained. Both football fields were being watered while other use was higher than usual.

First high consumption period came from 10:45 to 2:30 Moster said. For 3 hours and 45 minutes the booster pump at the reservoir ran steady before filling the water tower. Normally it takes 30 minutes. That means, he said, that for the period water was used as fast as it could be pumped, 500 gallons a minute, or 112,500 in 3 1/2 hours. Another peak demand period was 5:30 to 8:15, the usual time of heavy consumption.

The important point, Moster said, is that the city was not low on water at any time. The 200,000 gallon reservoir built last year to replace the old 50,000 gallon unit has doubled total reservoir capacity, to 300,000 gallons — 100,000 gallons on North Main and 200,000 gallons down-town.

Three wells put water into those reservoirs at a rate of 23,000 gallons an hour and from there it is pumped into the mains and tower at a rate of 30,000 gallons an hour. At that rate the booster pump would have to run steady for almost two full days to empty the two reservoirs, provided the three well pumps are running.

The city's method is to keep reservoirs and water tower full, a total of 350,000 gallons. That amount is more than the city normally uses in a day, an ample supply in case of emergency.

Next improvement in the city system is completion of a loop of 8 inch pipe permitting water to be pumped into the mains faster. Using two booster pumps then the water can be pumped into mains twice as fast. A much larger volume will be available far sudden heavy demand.

Fred Hoedebeck

Fred Hoedebeck, 87, who came to Muenster from Illinois in 1909, died Thursday 9:15 p.m. in Muenster Hospital where he had been a patient since suffering a stroke on June 5. He was a retired farmer.

Funeral services with requiem mass for him will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock in Sacred Heart Church with his son, the Rev. Paul Hoedebeck of Subiaco, Ark., as celebrant. Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery will be directed by Miller Funeral Home.

Two rosary services were scheduled for Thursday in the Miller Chapel at 4 and 8 p.m.

Fred Hoedebeck was born March 20, 1877 in Teutopolis, Ill., and was married there to Miss Anna Schumacher of Lillyville, Ill., on June 5, 1900. Nine years later they moved to Muenster, farming until 1930 when they moved to Tishomingo, Okla. In 1940 they moved to Denison and returned to Muenster to stay in 1942.

His wife survives along with 12 of their 18 children. The two daughters are Mrs. Clem Reiter of Muenster and Mrs. John Howell of Houston; the ten sons are Frank and Eugene of Muenster, Leo of Gainesville, Ray of Denison, Robert of Ada, Okla., Joe of San Diego, Calif., Norbert and Cletus of Dallas, Alfred of Irving and Father Paul Hoedebeck of Subiaco.

Also surviving are one sister, Mrs. Minnie Stortman of Cincinnati, Ohio, 57 grandchildren and 37 great-grandchildren.

George Hartmann's Daughter, 23, Dies

Miss Rose Marie Hartmann, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartmann of Elmhurst, Ill., died Wednesday, July 8, in a Chicago hospital after an illness of several months.

Her mother is the former Anna Fuhrmann of Lindsay and she was a granddaughter of Mike Fuhrmann.

Other survivors are a sister, Mary Ann and three brothers, George, Paul and Joseph, all of the home.

Funeral services were held Saturday in Elmhurst with burial in Pesotum, Ill.

W. C. Hogan Dies Of Heart Attack

A heart attack while working on a farm near Saint Jo Monday afternoon resulted in the death of Wilbur Columbus Hogan, 55, of Gainesville. He was taken to Muenster Memorial Hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival at about 2 o'clock.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 in the George J. Carroll & Son Chapel and Carroll Funeral Home directed burial in Fairview cemetery.

The Rev. Donald Quance, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church officiated.

Hogan was a printer and typesetter by trade, had worked in Gainesville and at the Muenster Enterprise. He was born in the Hardy community and grew up in the Muenster-Saint Jo area.

Hogan was an army veteran of World War II. In 1934 he married Miss Evelyn Jackson of Marietta, Oba.

Survivors are his wife, three daughters, two sons, four sisters, Mrs. Dick Cain of Muenster, Mrs. Charles Rhone of Bellevue, Mrs. O. Z. Smith of Lubbock, and Mrs. Lloyd Hefner of Amarillo; four brothers, C. C. Hogan of Fort Worth, Jack Hogan of Saint Jo, Frank and Gerald Hogan of Amarillo, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hogan of Burleson and 3 grandchildren.

Schedule of Coming Events

FRIDAY, July 17, Angels-Twins; Colts-Mets.

THURSDAY, July 16, Muenster Little League vs Spanish Fort, here.

WEDNESDAY, July 22, Crows-Jays; Hawks-Cards.

A thought that deserves lots of consideration was offered last week by Glenn Doss in his column in the Whitewright Sun: "We don't think that Barry Goldwater should be stopped, as Gov. Scranton and others are trying to do. Let the Republican Party nominate Goldwater, thus giving the voters their first chance in more than a quarter of a century to choose between a real conservative and a liberal candidate for the presidency. Both parties have had liberal candidates for President ever since 1936, and now is a good time to give the conservatives what very well may be the last chance they'll ever have to vote for a conservative."

The last remark is the one which should get special attention. It could be prophetic, and for that reason it is really something for Americans to take seriously. Just think what kind of government ours will be if it becomes so liberal that conservatism will have to be abandoned as a hopeless cause.

Predictions for months have been that LBJ and the Democratic party have the election in the bag. Analysts point to several factions which are known to lean strongly in favor of the present liberal administration. Labor leaders, negro leaders, beneficiaries of federal handouts — in fact all who have reason to think that they can receive special favors — along with many office holders who want to keep their jobs, leftists who like the soft attitude toward communism, egg heads who think that the masses must be cared for by big government whether they like it or not, voters who will vote Democratic because they always have.

All of that power is conceded to be lined up in favor of the present administration. It's not surprising that the Democrats are already believed to have a cinch. Their strength is already alarming. And just think how much stronger it can get if given four more years to buy the support of still more favored groups. As Editor Doss states, conservatives of the future may not have a chance.

The implication in such an occurrence is what serious minded Americans should be thinking about. A party so powerful that it can't be beaten has the making of dictatorship. We could reach the point where our officials, who want to do so many things for the people, will do anything they want to the people. What's to keep them from it if they can't be voted out?

Fortunately, however, that development is not inevitable. This column firmly believes that when issues are squarely presented, as they certainly will be in the coming campaign, the American public will think the matter through and vote conscientiously for the man and the ideals it thinks is best for the nation. Despite pollsters and prognosticators, despite big city machines and favor seeking pressure groups, the fact still remains that many millions of Americans think on their own and vote as they please.

Before this campaign is over the labels of Democrat and Republican will mean less than at any time in our history. The real issues of conservative and liberal will have taken on greater importance than ever before. There will be Democrats for Barry and Republicans for Lyndon. And the final outcome will determine whether the nation really wants to continue down the road of welfare statism or to adopt anew the standards of personal freedom and opportunity inherent in our constitution.

Another thing: that outcome definitely remains to be seen, as is being shown very clearly this week at the Republican convention. The fact that conservatives were able to take over the convention in spite of Eastern liberal manipulators and pressure groups and constant knifing by the unfriendly liberal press for the past several months indicates a strong surge to conservatism among grass roots people. If Goldwater and his message could win over such odds at the convention he most certainly cannot be counted out in the campaign.

Another indication that he can't be counted out is the apparent fear of some Demo-

WHY ARE OPPORTUNITIES LIMITED FOR THE NEGRO?

Lack of initiative, courage, integrity, loyalty and wisdom are responsible for the limited opportunities open to American Negroes, according to S. B. Fuller, president, Fuller Products Company, Chicago. Addressing a panel of manufacturers in New York City, Mr. Fuller said:

"The Negro believes that the lack of civil rights legislation and the lack of integration have kept him back, but this is not true. . . . The Negro must learn how to think. You can't change the system to accommodate the Negro. You have to change the Negro to fit the system. You can't legislate equality."

A questioner asked Mr. Fuller what the NAACP is doing for the Negro. The reply: "Nothing. They are trying to change the white man, not the Negro."

"The Negro must pool his capital in order to help himself," the speaker said. "Since our capitalistic system is a competitive system, the Negro must learn to compete with his fellow man. He must not only seek jobs, but he must own establishments which will give jobs to others."

The firm of which Mr. Fuller is president manufactures cosmetics, does $10,000,000 of business annually and was started in 1935 with $25 in working capital. Mr. Fuller was born in Louisiana, went to school through the sixth grade. He is a Negro and can boast that he is among the highest paid business executives in the land.

COST TO YOU

Early this year Tax Foundation, Inc., estimated that government spending on local, state and federal levels would reach an all time high of $197 billion. To help poor mathematicians like us determine how much money $197 billion is, the Foundation figured out that if every man, woman and child in the U.S. paid $1,044 it would amount to the $197 billion!

How would you feel about "liberal government" and its free spending programs if you had to pay from your own hip pocket $1,044 for yourself, for your wife, and for each child in your family?

Is it any wonder that people are beginning to look for candidates who advocate a return to conservative government?

Do those people seeking to have the "Liberty Amendment" passed have a valid reason for wanting to curb the taxing powers of Congress?

MORE FOOD FROM LESS LAND

One thing can be said with certainty about the use of chemicals in agriculture — and it is an enormously important thing. Without them, as a publication of the Agricultural Extension Service of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute has pointed out, " . . . our society would revert to a primitive state and many people would die of hunger."

The pesticides have been the source of most of the controversy. Actually they present only about 2 per cent of the total sales of the agricultural chemicals industry — fertilizers are the dominant product. But their value is far greater than that small percentage figure indicates. To quote the Institute again, "It is because, with a few exceptions, pesticides have been used in beneficial ways that we in the United States enjoy an abundant, wholesome, and safe food supply."

Yet, it seems, only a beginning has been accomplished. Some 95 per cent of our forest lands and 97 per cent of our permanent pasture lands have not been treated. The annual losses caused by pests, says the Institute, reach the incredible total of $11 billion. And hard, actual experience has amply demonstrated the menace. Some years ago the tomato crop in the eastern part of this country was not sprayed with fungicides. The result was that a blight fungus destroyed more than 50 per cent of the crop in 10 states.

The problem will grow more, not less, severe. So far as our food supply is concerned, we are confronted with two opposed and formidable forces. The population increases, at a swift pace. With it, more and more land is taken out of food production and given to industrial and residential areas, highways, airports, and all the demands of modern civilization. To feed more people from a decreasing acreage means that the utmost use must be made of advanced agricultural techniques — and the proper use of chemicals is one of the most important of them.

Government of Law

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 188 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; . . . For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; . . ."

Some five years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Courts day by day guard these rights for us.

WHAT KIND OF DAM?

Every time severe floods hit some section of the country there is renewed demand for the construction of big federal dams to catch and hold the water. Needless to say, this approach is solidly backed by socialized power groups who are more interested in the power-producing potential of such dams than in their flood control value.

The fact is that, in a great number of cases, there is no need for the big and extremely expensive dams. Small earth-fill dams in the headwaters can capture the water before, not after, the damage has been done and later release it into rivers in an orderly fashion. These small dams can be constructed at a relatively modest cost by local contractors, thereby helping local communities. They would back up reservoirs that would serve as recreation areas and provide fish habitat in the higher elevations. And there would be fewer productive valleys inundated by the lakes that the huge federal projects create.

Sound conservation involves obtaining maximum result for minimum cost. When it comes to effective flood control, networks of small dams can often fill the bill perfectly.

FOR THE RECORD

In speaking out against "phantom fears . . . that the federal government has become a major menace to individual liberty," and declaring "This is not so," President Johnson saw fit to quote some of Thomas Jefferson to bolster his own.

Yet the President must surely know that Jefferson not only voiced repeatedly his fears of a strong federal government, but even went so far as to say:

"That government is best which governs least."

ELECTRICITY Assures MORE Air Conditioning COMFORT!

Colder Coils Remove More Moisture

On sticky, muggy summer days, one ton of electric air conditioning will remove as much as 12 gallons of moisture from the air it conditions. This can be done only with the colder coils of an electric unit.

While lowering humidity, electric air conditioning also keeps your whole house dry . . . no mold, mildew, rust.

Too, by removing excess humidity, you can keep comfortably cool with less variance between outside and inside temperatures. This saves you money on operating cost, since your air conditioner works less.

Enjoy healthy, dust-free filtered air . . . a cleaner home . . . a quieter home. See your electric air conditioning dealer.

Nuns End Classes See Mexico City Before Trip Home

Writing from Leon, Old Mexico, for the last time Sister Theresina tells of experiences she and Sister Patricia have been sharing while they were there teaching religion and English classes.

They left July 15 for Mexico City for sight-seeing about five days. After that short visits in Dallas and Little Rock enroute to the motherhouse in Jonesboro, Ark.

Lasting impressions of Leon include the beautiful and solemn church services. June 29 was celebrated in grand style at the American Institute. It was the founder's anniversary and the feast of Sts. Peter and Paul, a Mexican holy day.

After the religious ceremonies there was a program with 1000 pupils, all girls, participating. Then a gala fiesta for which the area is famous.

Sister Theresina noted that school girls from the smallest to the largest all wear uniforms very similar to those at Sacred Heart School. The athletic colors are red and white. "Making me feel doubly at home."

On July 2 the city celebrated the 232 year of the arrival of the image of Senora de la Luz (Our Lady of Light), from Spain. According to legend this picture of the Madonna was painted under direction of the Mother of God herself, an angel guiding the hand of the nun who painted it. The Blessed Virgin, according to the legend, directed that the picture be taken to Leon. It is richly encased in a gold frame.

The services lasted two and a half hours beginning with vespers followed by a Pontifical Mass and Benediction. Then exposition of the Blessed Sacrament for the remainder of the day. Notable was the fact that even after such long service the people "did not rush out as though the church were on fire." Many stayed for adoration. Special decorations enhanced the cathedral. Some 2000 gladiolas, all the same shade of pink, were used. The day closed with a grand display of fireworks.

July 4 passed quietly. The nuns with whom Sisters Theresina and Patricia stayed are Daughters of Mary Immaculate. Their motherhouse is in Leon with some 800 Sisters, all Mexicans. They teach, nurse and take care of rest homes. Many are highly educated, speak English fluently. Some attended American Universities. They tell of persecution they have undergone. Even now they are never sure of their property. So much of it has been confiscated by the government.

In Guanajato, on a tourist's tour, they visited the Castle of St. Cecilia which dates back to 1680 and is a complete restoration of the original — converted into a fabulous modern hotel, a favorite of American tourists.

Again both sent best regards to all back home, and a promise of remembrance at Guadalupe.

Except for vultures and parrots, wild geese live longer than any other birds. Authentic records give them as much as 70 years.

Alice Walter and C. J. Hellman Wed At Nuptial Mass

Celebration Marks 25th Anniversary Of Andy Flusches

The Flusche family — 12 brothers and sisters — were together for the observance of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Flusche of Dallas who were hosts in the K of C Hall there for a buffet supper. Other relatives and friends in the celebration brought the total number of guests to about 200.

Andy Flusche who hails from Muenster married Miss Marie Mueller of Politt Point there on June 1, 1939. The observance awaited the arrival of their son, Seminarian Leon Flusche, studying at the Catholic University of Washington, D. C. Their other child is a daughter, Miss LaVerne, of the home. She baked and decorated the handsome anniversary cake.

Coming with anniversary gifts and congratulations for the honor couple were his 11 brothers and sisters and their families from Dallas, Decatur, Muenster and Lindsay.

Others present included Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison, their son and family, the Henry Flusches of Dallas, another son, Father David Flusche of Subiaco, Ark., and their daughter Miriam who lives with her husband and children in Hawaii and is on vacation.

Relatives and friends attended from Pilot Point, Dallas and Electra. A large number of clergy was present including Msgr. Paul Charcut of Dallas, former Pilot Point pastor, who married the couple 25 years ago, Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel, Msgr. Anthony Daley and Father Hubert Neu all of Dallas.

Group pictures were made of the 12 Flusches: Andy and Urban of Dallas, Lawrence, Conrad and Al of Decatur and J. P. Flusche of Muenster; Mrs. Joe J. Neu, Mrs. Raymond Zimmerer and Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerer of Lindsay, Mrs. Henry Henscheid, Mrs. Gus Lutkenhaus and Mrs. Paul Fetsch of Muenster.

Parish Societies Name Delegates To State Meeting

The business sessions were held separately before the two groups joined for a social hour and refreshments.

The men's meeting opened with the litany of St. Joseph led by Father Bruno Fuhrmann. Sylvan Walterscheid, president, presided. He thanked all who helped in any way toward the success of the July 4 picnic.

Named as delegates are Joe Mages, Donald Bayer and Ray Sicking. Arthur Endres spoke briefly on the Catholic Life Insurance Union.

The men made plans to paint and repair the Sacred Heart football bleachers. Volunteers will do the work.

In another announcement it was reported that new signs have been made, listing services at Sacred Heart Church, and are ready to be erected at each end of the city limits. J. P. Flusche was in charge of the project which amounted to $80.

That expense is shared equally by St. Joseph's Society and Club.

Business session for St. Anne's Society was conducted by Mrs. Al Walterscheid, president. Father Martin Fischer, spiritual director, led the opening prayer.

Delegates to the Lindsay convention are Mmes. Frank Herr, Wilfred Bindel, Ted Gremminger and Alphonse Hoeng.

The women approved purchase of two new altar linens for church, the cost of $54 to be taken from the treasury.

Members were reminded to attend mass on July 26, feast day of the society's patron, St. Ann.

July 19-25 Named Farm Safety Week By Judge Carroll

County Judge Bill Carroll has officially proclaimed July 19-25, 1964 as FARM SAFETY WEEK in Cooke County, according to J. T. Cole, president of the county Farm Bureau. The local farm organization is coordinating activities for the special farm safety campaign.

President Johnson and Governor Connally have previously designated that week on national and state levels as a period to call attention to worthwhile safety practices that can reduce disabling injuries and death.

The county farm leader said that farm accidents have been reduced in the past few years; however, farmers cannot afford to let down their guard against accidents. He emphasized that farming remains one of the most hazardous occupations in America today.

In his official proclamation, County Judge Bill Carroll said: "All the citizens of Cooke County are concerned about the safety and well-being of farm families from whom we receive our abundance of food and other essential agricultural commodities."

"Farm accidents result in over 150 deaths and thousands of disabling injuries in Texas each year."

Throughout this special week, a statewide prevention and educational program will be undertaken by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Safety Association and the Cooke County Farm Bureau with the theme "Safer American Families Everywhere."

County Farm Bureau President J. T. Cole said that Farm Bureau is becoming increasingly active in safety work. This is evidenced by the County Farm Bureaus cooperating with the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department in sponsoring and conducting safety education demonstrations in schools, clubs meetings and television all over the state as well as participating in fire extinguisher and auto safety seat belt projects.

For the second consecutive year county Farm Bureaus, along with the Texas Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance and the TFB Safety Department, have sponsored a two-part rural fire protection program. One of the programs involves sponsoring volunteer firemen to the annual Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M

University held during FARM SAFETY WEEK, July 19-25. Farm Bureau also pays any local fire department $75 for each call answered outside the city limits to fight fires involving the property of Farm Bureau members insured with the Texas Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company.

Of interest to Cooke Countians, especially the Hoenig and Fetsch relationship, is the wedding of Sp. 5 James L. Fetsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fetsch of Munday, and Miss Kathy Northam of White Salmon, Wash.

The couple exchanged vows at nuptial mass on June 27 in St. Joseph's Church with Father Brendan Dorian officiating. A lace-covered pillbox held her finger-tip length veil and she carried a purple throated white orchid surrounded by gardenias and Stephanotis.

Attending the couple were her sister Miss Darlene Northam and her brother Keith Northam, of White Salmon.

A reception in the church basement followed the service with members of the parish Altar Society as hostesses.

Among guests were the groom's parents and his sister, LaVerne Fetsch of Munday. Miss Fetsch registered guests at the reception. The bride's sister, Mrs. Ralph Bigalow poured coffee.

The hummingbird is the world's smallest warm-blooded animal. It is three inches long, weighs less than a dime and can beat its wings up to 80 times a second. It burns energy at a rate equivalent to 10 times that of a running man during the day and at night sinks into a sort of hibernation to avoid starvation. The female incubates bean-sized eggs in 12 to 16 days.

FB Hears Report On Business with Common Market

A report on current cooperative efforts by shippers and growers to establish a foothold in the Western Europe market was presented to the County Farm Bureau Monday night by Melvin Dansby, area field representative of District 4.

Marketing of American grown vegetables in the Common Market is handled by the Farm Bureau Trade Development Corporation's office in Rotterdam. 1200 carloads of South Texas carrots were marketed by the organization in Western Europe last year.

Dansby pointed out that this FB marketing program was developed as an alternative to the government's supply management programs, in keeping with the FB principle that market power of farmers is best achieved by use of market price system with supply and demand as the primary factor. Dansby also mentioned the growing threat to free enterprise in the cattle business. He urged opposition to any type of government subsidy in the livestock industry and called for congressional investigation of meat imports as to volume and country of origin in an effort to curtail beef imports which are depressing the American beef market.

crats who stuck their noses into the nomination campaign and convention for the obvious purpose of defeating Goldwater. Most conspicuous was the CORE demonstration, which claims to be solidly for LBJ but tried desperately to stop Barry. Plenty of other Democrats have been doing likewise since January. For instance, New York Times, Saturday Evening Post and Drew Pearson. Why do they bother about the other party's nominee unless they are scared?
