NUMBER 41

To the credit of the Democratic National Convention, it can be said that voters are presented a clear cut issue in the coming presidential campaign. Selection of Hubert Humphrey for number two spot on the ticket indicates clearly that the party is ready to go all the way in backing up the liberalism of its past record and its future program. The line is drawn and there is no middle ground. The most definite choice offered so far this century awaits the decision of the voters.

By their action, it seems, the Democrats apply to themselves the label of extremism which they are so eager to apply to their opponents. Certainly Humphrey and Johnson are no less extreme as liberals than Miller and Goldwater are as conservatives. Humphrey has long been the darling of Americans for Democratic Action, an outfit which, in the opinions of millions of Americans, is a much greater threat to the freedom and security of our nation than the much maligned John Birch Society.

On this matter of extremism, let's consider the two opposite extreme organizations, their ideals and activities and their respective potentials as a menace to the nation's welfare. John Birch Society is best described as bitterly opposed to communism and ardently devoted to constitutional government. Many people have examined its principles and found nothing to clash with the traditional ideals of good Americanism.

What then is the reason for the label of extremism? Nothing but the strong, sometimes intemperate, criticism made by its members against the liberal doings in Washington. Such remarks have been effectively twisted and exploited by liberals of the government and the press to the extent the society's ideals and motives are generally misunderstood.

That about sums up the John Birch Society. It is labeled as extremist and dangerous, a threat to the country, simply because of what some of its members have said — not because of anything it has done.

Then there's that other extremist organization, Americans for Democratic Action, advocating welfare state socialism, deficit spending, bureaucratic government, one worldism, coexistence with communism and the other well known characteristics of ultra liberalism. They are as far left as the Birchers are far right. In fact some of them have been identified as members of communist or communist front groups. It's hardly an exaggeration to say they are more extreme on one side than Birchers are on the other. Furthermore they are fully as extreme as the Birchers in the matter of extreme criticism of their opponents.

That's how the two match up in principle. But there is still a very important factor as a basis of further comparison — the influence of each on the American way of life. ADA is in our government, effectively applying its principles in legislation and policy which lead toward socialism, bureaucracy, bankruptcy, social strife and softness to the global menace of communism. Of the two extreme factions which do you think is the greater menace to our country? The one which has been active in applying its extreme principles in our government or the one that has been just extremely critical?

Still on the subject of extremism, what do you think of the proposal now before congress to overhaul the country's immigration policy? The bill would wreck the present quota system, letting down our bars to swarms of Africans and Asians, and almost double the number of immigrants to be admitted each year.

It seems as though we want to make it easier than ever for Khrushchev to send in his spies, subversives and saboteurs to carry on his dirty work. It also seems we are eager to add to our problems of unemployment and public welfare.

It is estimated that the bill, if passed, will admit more than a million immigrants a year. What will they do? One thing seems certain. The president's wonderful War on Poverty ought to develop into a really big program.

Think how it would help his (Continued on page 8)

Tigers Will Open Season Friday At Whitesboro

Signs are good and bad for Sacred Heart's Tigers as they get ready for their season opener at Whitesboro Friday night.

Coach Adam Wolf said Wednesday that the boys looked fine in their scrimmage session at Valley View last Friday night but a couple of injuries in a car accident requires a general shakeup of the team. Leon Endres, quarterback, and John Streng, center, are likely to miss two or three games. At least a half dozen changes in lineup were made in shaping up the team.

In Wolf's opinion the Tigers will have a weight advantage but the Bearcats should be faster with a pair of speedy halfbacks as well as speedy ends.

The Tiger coaches were well pleased with their boys in the test at Valley View. They played regular game rules except no punting or place kicking. Sacred Heart made two early scores after recovering a Valley View fumble on the 8 and intercepting a pass on the 25. Larry Hess and Willie Wimmer went over for the TDs. Next the Tigers completed an 80 yard drive, Ray Wimmer crashing over for the final 2 yards. Another score was on a 85 yard run by David Hess.

The Eagles scored once on a nice 65 yard sprint by Tipps. Outstanding Tiger performers of the tussle were Donny Rohmer, Melvin Koelzer, Wayne Reiter, David and Larry Hess and Ray Wimmer.

Another flood retarding dam is due to get under construction soon on the Clear Creek watershed. Sealed bids are being received at the state SCS headquarters in Temple for construction of a reservoir near Rosston.

J. M. Weinzapfel, president of Clear Creek Watershed Authority disclosed that the reservoir will be located on the J. B. Christian farm.

Polk Is Pleased With Hornets in Practice Test

The performance of Muenster's Hornets in a scrimmage at Whitesboro last week was encouraging even though Whitesboro marked up the only three touchdowns.

Considering that their hosts rate as strong Class A, in AA last year, the Hornets made a nice showing, in the opinion of Coach James Polk. System followed in the practice was for each team to get 15 tries, starting from its own 20. Muenster started by reaching midfield on the 15 plays. Whitesboro did the job on its first turn with the ball, going over on the last play.

On their next the Hornets reached the 10 in 15 plays, then the Bearcats scored again on the 13th play.

Reserve teams then got their turns. Muenster Bs got to the 10 in 15 plays, Whitesboro Bs scored on a pass on the 12th play. Finally first stringers had their last chances. Bearcats made 10 in 15 tries. Hornets got to the 5 in 10 tries and failed to finish their job in 5 more.

The Hornets have another week of practice before their season opener with Lindsay on the local field.

And the squad still consists of 20 players, after adding Kenny Cain and losing Terry Cason.

'64 Regulations Adopted for 9-B Football District

There will be no tie games in District 9-B this year unless they are tied in first downs and penetrations as well as score. That was one of the decisions at the district's regular pre-season meeting of coaches and superintendents last week.

Coach Polk said that in case of a tie score the team with more penetrations will be declared the winner. If penetrations are tied first downs will decide. And if first downs too are tied officials will declare the game a tie and each of the two teams will be credited with half a win on the district record. Game records are to be kept by officials. There will be no special statisticians.

On the matter of admission prices, the coaches and superintendents agreed to continue last year's prices at their district games. That is $1.00 for adults and 25 cents for students.

Starting time for all district games will be 7:30 o'clock.

Coaches also decided on the junior football program for the district. All schools except Alvord and Chico will have their teams in the junior loop and the schedule, as in previous years, is determined by the senior schedule. The youngsters will play the Tuesday preceding the big boys and at the opposite location. For instance, Muenster plays Valley View there on Oct. 9, so the Muenster Juniors play Valley View Junior here on Oct. 6.

Coaches also admitted Lindsay Juniors into the loop, taking the schedule that would have been assigned to Alvord. Chico dates will be open dates for the junior teams.

Members of the 9-B district this year are Muenster, Saint Jo, Era, Valley View, Callisburg, Sanger, Alvord and Chico. Each team has seven conference games.

JCs to Sponsor Hospital Benefit On Thanksgiving

Next major project for the Muenster Jaycees is a benefit picnic for the hospital to be held on the Sacred Heart parish grounds on Thanksgiving Day. The job was taken on by directors at their meeting last week and Arthur Bayer was appointed general chairman.

First objective of the event is to pay for the automatic sprinkler system, in accordance with an earlier resolution to help with finances on the system. Members are confident they can top that figure and raise additional money for the hospital's debt retirement.

Al Felderhoff, hospital director, will work with Jaycees on the project.

In other action directors started on their building fund, which they intend, will be used for a community center building. They put $500 into a savings account for the fund.

Ford Dealers and NFL Sponsor 4th PP&K Contest

The National Football League and the Ford dealers of America today (Aug. 30) announced the fourth annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition for the nation's 8-through-13-year-old football fans.

"PPK" pits the youths' punting, passing and place-kicking skills against those of other participants of the same ages. Since its inception in 1962, the program has attracted more than 1,100,000 entries, including nearly half a million last year.

Registration for this year's competition at Endres Motor Company, Muenster's Ford dealership, starts on September 1 and will continue through October 9.

The 12 finalists — one each in the 8-13-age group from both the Eastern and Western Division team areas — will go to Miami for the final PPK competition at halftime of the NFL Runner-Up Bowl Game on Jan. 3. The all-expense-paid "Tour of Champions" for the youths and their parents will begin with a visit to Washington, D. C., on Dec. 30. The Washington visit will be highlighted by a special tour of the White House.

There will be five levels of competition beginning with the Oct. 10-18 period. Local winners will be picked in local, dealer-sponsored competitions. Zone winners will be determined by a comparison of scores of local first-place winners. (Continued on page 8)

The physical plant, which is situated on a 60-acre tract, is composed of four buildings — a classroom-student union building, a newly completed library-administration building and science-mathematics building, and a vocational-technical arts building. All these buildings are air-conditioned.

The curriculum of the fully accredited college is arranged around nine academic departments and the vocational-technical division. These academic departments are language and journalism, business mathematics, science, behavioral science, social science, fine arts, health, recreation, and physical education, and industrial arts.

Students may major in over 35 subject-matter areas and may take more than 141 individual courses. The college has a continuous day and evening operation, with 27 per cent of the offerings of the institution provided in the college.

Dr. Willis also listed the times when he will be available at his Saint Jo office. That will be on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons and on Saturday mornings. Instead of a day off he's taking two half days: Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

'SNEAKER' BILL PACKS A WALLOP FOR WORKERS

While millions of American wage earners aren't even aware of it yet, a bill is well along the way to passage in the Congress which, to all effect and purpose, will wipe out the tax cuts enacted earlier this year.

This bill can be termed a "sneaker bill" in that its cost to wage earners has largely been downplayed while its benefits to Social Security recipients have been overly accentuated.

In brief, the bill proposes a five per cent across-the-board increase in old age, survivors and disability benefits paid to those eligible for these benefits under the Social Security system. The increase, however, cannot be financed under present Social Security tax rates, the rates must be raised, and this is where the "sneaker" part of this bill comes into play.

Starting next January, if this bill is enacted into law, Social Security tax rates will be boosted from 3.625 per cent to 3.8 per cent on both employees and employers alike. Here again this sounds like a very minor increase until one learns that in addition to hiking the tax rate the bill proposes to raise the base upon which these taxes are paid from the first $4,800 in earnings to the first $5,400 in earnings.

Translated into dollars and cents the full impact of this bill becomes much more evident. Under present tax rates a worker earning up to $4,800 a year pays a maximum Social Security tax of $174 with his employer kicking in a like amount. Under the proposed bill, however, both an employee and his employer will be forced to pay a 3.8 per cent tax on all earnings up to $5,400 with the result that the maximum tax will climb to $203.20 for both worker and employer.

This adds up to a tax increase of $29.20 on each end or a $58.40 overall increase. This increase, however, applies only to 1965. In 1966 the tax rate under this bill will go to a straight 4 per cent, while in 1968 it will be boosted to 4.5 per cent where it will remain until 1971 when it will climb to 4.8 per cent which is generally regarded as the maximum that wage earners can or will pay without nearing the point of open revolt.

The "sneaky" aspect of this bill can be emphasized further by some additional figures. Under present law, which also involves some rate increase between now and 1971, the maximum Social Security tax will hit $444 in 1968 and will remain at that level until 1971.

Under the new law, however, the maximum tax will rise to $518.40 in 1971 which amounts to an increase of 16.76 per cent. On a seven-year basis, from 1965 to 1971, the increase adds up to a whopping 49 per cent.

It is further proof that nothing comes free under the welfare state form of government we are operating under today, and that for everyone who gets something from the federal government somebody else has to foot the bill for it.

BLOOD NEED MOUNTS

Senator Barry Goldwater and President Lyndon B. Johnson differ on many things but are in hearty agreement on one vital matter. This is the life and death importance of supporting the nation's voluntary blood banks and blood collection centers.

As honorary head of the Red Cross, President Johnson appeals for support of that organization's blood program. And before his own hospital stays, for his own hospital stays, which reminded him of the need, he took an active part personally.

What about Senator Goldwater? He celebrated his victory in the California primary this year by showing up quietly and without publicity at a community blood bank and giving a pint of his blood for some casualties in an explosion for whom a public appeal had been made. When pressed about it, he admits to having given about 90 pints of his blood this way in the last 24 years.

The need for blood is greater than ever before, according to speakers at the annual meeting of the American Association of Blood Banks in Washington this year. Advances in fractionation make it possible sometimes to help two patients with different needs with the same unit of blood. But the rise in auto accidents and the increase in open-heart operations require more whole blood.

It can't be manufactured. It can come only from human beings. If you are between 21 and 60, and in good health, you may save a life by volunteering the blood that only you can give. Visit the nearest blood bank or collection center.

STRANGELY SILENT

A federal judge has reduced the award given General Edwin Walker in his libel suit against the Associated Press to $500,000 from $800,000.

In the judge's opinion the AP had not been actuated by malice in writing about Walker's activities during the rioting at the University of Mississippi. The jury had ruled that malice existed.

Regardless of whether or not malice did exist there is one thing certain and that is that the AP reporters were determined by making Gen. Walker look bad, to paint a sordid, distorted and untrue picture of the right wing movement.

These reporters, young and inexperienced perhaps, were only mimicking what their heroes, the professional columnists, were writing over and over again.

Now it is extremely strange that these same columnists are silent about the whole affair. Where is their concern about the freedom of the individual? They wrote reams on the subject before. Now when the person who was libeled outrightly, happened to be General Walker, the holier than thou columnists say nothing.

Have you read of any one of them coming forth to confess that they regret their attacks upon General Walker at the time of the Mississippi incidents? Has there been a single one of them now acting like a gentleman? How low can writers get in their desire to promulgate hate? They built up hatred for General Walker. Please won't one of them come forth to acknowledge their mistake? They could be gentlemen enough to apologize, could they not?

Car Crashes Cost Texans Over 400 Million a Year

The economic waste of motor vehicle accidents in Texas last year was estimated at $432,715,000.

It included lost wages, medical expense, property damage and the overhead cost of insurance.

N. K. Woerner, chief statistician at the Texas Department of Public Safety, pointed out that this huge amount of money would buy:

- 10,000 homes at $20,000 each.
- 10,000 refrigerators at $400 each.
- 10,000 electric ranges at $350 each.
- 10,000 television sets at $350 each.
- 10,000 dishwashers at $300 each.
- 10,000 automobiles at $3,000 each.
- 10,000 central air conditioning installations at $1,400 each.

"Enough money would be left over," Woerner said, "to furnish the head of each of the 10,000 households with a bank account of $17,471."

Safety leaders point out that the vast losses create the challenge of vast savings. The Department of Public Safety cites statistics showing how accident prevention efforts pay. Since 1937 the traffic death rates have decreased from 14.6 to 5.2. This trend has saved 61,739 lives and an estimated $6,247,620,158, the DPS says.

HELP!

In New York City last week the Welfare Commissioner revealed that a total of 483,573 persons received public aid during the month of June. That almost half-a-million recipients of welfare assistance payments is the total for New York City alone — not the state.

"Don't get the idea that these people don't work for the welfare payments," cautioned a newspaperman friend. "Every election day, they dutifully march down to the polling place and vote for the candidate who promises to continue and increase the payments. And 483,573 votes gives him a pretty good running start in the tally."

Two-hundred years ago a keen-thinking professor in Scotland observed that a democracy could survive only until the public understood that it could vote itself largess out of the public treasury.

One wonders what the good professor would say if he had to help pay the taxes for carrying those 483,573 persons on the dole.

The East River in New York is not a river, but an ocean strait.

Della Wimmer and Dolphy J. Hellman Say Vows at Mass

Miss Della Wimmer became the bride of Dolphy Joe Hellman at 5 p.m. nuptial mass on Saturday, August 29, in Sacred Heart Church in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. Father Aleuin Kubis officiated and directed the exchange of vows in a double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wimmer and Mrs. Rudy Hellman and the late Mr. Hellman.

For her wedding the bride chose a formal gown of white pure silk peau de soie with accents of Alencon lace at the rounded neckline and extending over the shoulder into the fitted elbow length sleeves. Bands of the lace ornamented the divided overskirt revealing a sheath silhouette. The skirt extended from a fitted cummerbund and swept into a chapel train. A jeweled crown held her bouffant waist-length veil and she carried a cascade of white roses. Her father gave her in marriage.

The bride's three attendants wore floor length semi-sheath gowns of petal pink pure silk linen. The necklines, rounded at the front, tapered to a V at the center back. The fitted sleeves were elbow length. A wide panel of self material held by a tailored bow extended from the natural waistline to floor length. Their veiled headpieces matched their dresses and each carried a single long-stemmed red rose.

Mrs. Herbert Otto of Arlington was her sister's matron of honor, Miss Dyann Hellman of Dallas and Mrs. Harold Bindel were bridesmaids.

Charles Wimmer, brother of the bride, was best man and Doug and Mark Hellman, groom's cousins were groomsmen. Harold Bindel and Roger Fleitman ushered.

Sacred Heart men's choir sang the mass and Anthony Luke was organist. He also accompanied Mrs. Rody Klement, bride's cousin, who was vocal soloist. She sang "Ave Maria" before mass and "Mother at Your Feet" after the service when the bride placed white gladioli on the Blessed Virgin's altar. White glads also adorned the main altar.

Wedding reception and buffet were held in the Parish Hall where Misses Jo Ann Fisher and Dolores Monday presided at the guest book. The wedding dance was in the VFW Hall.

For going away the bride wore a lightweight red wool dress with beige accessories. After their honeymoon they will be at home in Lubbock where he is a senior at Texas Tech. Both are graduates of Muenster High School and she attended Cooke County Junior College. Until her marriage she was employed at First National Bank in Dallas.

Five grandparents of the couple attended the wedding. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lueb of Oklahoma City and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wimmer of Muenster. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. G. H. Hellman, returned from her summer trip Friday.

Among relatives and friends attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Seyverson and children of Waukesha, Wis., Dr. and Mrs. Monte Hellman and children and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Luke of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Damian Hellman and children of Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Herie Otto, Pam and Rhonda of Arlington.

Messrs. and Mmes. Oddis Minnick and family, Bob Metcalf, Ray Lueb and O. E. Wayland, David Klement and a friend, all of Oklahoma City, Messrs. and Mmes. Dick Schleicher, Jerry Klement, and Jim Schumacher, Misses Shirley Walterscheid, Kaye Dolle and Judy Sicking and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Castleberry, all of Fort Worth and Mrs. Castleberry's mother, Mrs. B. I. Dern of Vernon. Other friends attended from Lubbock, Dallas and Fort Worth and relatives and friends were present from Lindsay and Gainesville.

Nuns Are One-Day Visitors With Kin

Coming to say hello and good-bye in a one-day visit last week was Sister Francesca, guest of her parents, the August Walterscheids and family. She had just returned from a summer abroad and was packing to leave for Hollister, Calif., to teach this year.

Contract Let for Historical Signs In Gainesville

The state contract for making the Confederate Memorial Information Marker for Gainesville and the Historical Markers in City signs in Cooke County has been let by the State Building Commission. This announcement was made by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee and the State Building Commission, which are jointly responsible for their erection.

The Confederate Memorial Information marker for Gainesville is 24" x 18" of cast aluminum with Swedish steel effect and will be erected at the western city limits on Highway 82. This marker has been designated to "Governor John Connally" marker since, at his suggestion, the marker was designed to tell the history of the town involved, facts about the economy, listing any special annual events that would interest tourists and calling attention to specific historical sites in the city.

The following information is contained in the inscription: Gainesville was founded in 1850, named for General Edmund P. Gaines, who aided the Republic of Texas in 1836. It was a military supply headquarters during the Civil War, and important in defense against Indian attacks and invasion.

Gainesville is a center for agriculture, industry, oil and the home of the famed Gainesville community circus.

The Historical Markers in City signs will be placed, two to a city, on the city limit signs on U. S. Highway 82 East and U. S. Highway 82 West, in Gainesville. These signs are to be black with the white lettering "Historical Markers in City," which will reflect the words at night. There are 249 such markers being erected over the state in towns having state historical markers.

The erection of Confederate Memorial Information Markers is part of the Civil War Centennial Commemoration in Texas. The markers are designed to interpret and commemorate the role of prominent Texas Confederates, battles, frontier outposts, coastal fortifications, manufacturing plants, and military supply centers.

This marking program is part of a comprehensive five-year plan of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee to record, appreciate, mark, preserve, and survey Texas history. "RAMPS", as the plan is called, seeks to place 5,000 historical markers over the state in this five-year period. These markers are to be sponsored through joint efforts of the state, counties, cities, civic groups, and individuals.

Rosa Driever is back at the Enterprise this week after a two-week vacation at home.

A decorated cake and anniversary gifts including a set of silverware were added honors for the couple.

Parents See Sons Settled for Term At Subiaco, Ark.

Saturday and Sunday might well have been designated Muenster Days at Subiaco Academy as Muensterites flocked in to register their sons for the new term. Ten boys from here were signed up.

They are Glenn Trachta, Ricky Endres, Pat Hennigan Jr., Gene Kleiss, Tommy Hess, Mike Felderhoff, Paul Hoedebeck, Jerry Taylor, Mike Stoffels and John Riggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Trachta took their son Glenn, a freshman, and the Paul Endreses' son Ricky who is a senior.

Another returning student is John Riggs. He's a senior this year. His brother Gene Riggs and Bill Oliver took him and helped him get settled.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hennigan and Pat Jr. left here a day early and visited in Eureka Springs on the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Kleiss and daughter Mary Ann took their son Gene Kleiss who is a junior this year. They were there a day early to spend Friday with their other son, Novice Mike Kleiss. At the same time they also visited with Father Francis Zimmerer.

Messrs. and Mmes. Ray Hess and Vincent Felderhoff were there with sons Tommy Hess and Mike Felderhoff, both freshmen, and they also had with them the Felderhoffs' nephew James Jennings of Wichita Falls who is a sophomore but at Subiaco for the first time. They spent time visiting Mrs. Hess's brother, Brother Louis Fuhrmann at the Abbey.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Eoedebeck and daughter Linda took their son Paul and Mike Stoffels, both freshmen, and Jerry Taylor a returning student. They visited with Gene's brother, Father Paul Hoedebeck. All who went also visited other local young men and former pastors at the Abbey.

Local Cows Lead DHIA Production

A cow owned by Jerry Hoening took the top spot for June milk production among cows in the Cooke County Dairy Herd Association. The cow produced 2,690 pounds.

Hoening had five other cows in his 39-head herd that produced at least a ton.

A cow owned by Richard Frasher produced some 32 pounds of butterfat to lead all cows in that department. The cow had a 3.6 butterfat test.

Wilfred Sicking's "Sadie" had a butterfat test of 4.2 for June's highest.

Other cows producing at least a ton of milk were in herds owned by Paul Fisher, Sicking, Hi-Lo Dairy, Frasher, H. C. and Leroy Hay and F&M Dairy.

All but two of the dairymen had cows producing a minimum of 2000 pounds.

In herd production, Paul Fetsch's herd tied with Hoening's cows in producing 1,170 pounds.

Carl Gimple Gets Surprise Honors

Mrs. Carl Gimple, Rt. 1, Gainesville, entertained with a special dinner honoring her husband on his birthday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Stevens, Miss Elaine Welch, Kenneth Mitchell Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mitchell of Gainesville.

A surprise telephone call from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swan Jr. and family of Chula Vista, Calif., delighted the group, with Jan and Sherry singing "Happy Birthday" to their grandfather, Mrs. Swan and Mrs. Mitchell and the Gimples' daughters.

Birthday Honors

Birthday celebration for two little brothers came early when Randy and Wayne Pelzel had their party Sunday. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Pelzel of Pilot Point. Randy was four Sept. 2 and Wayne was three Sept. 3. The boys always celebrate together because only about an hour at the time of Wayne's birth prevented him from also being born on Sept. 2. They are grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennigan.

Medders to Build Home in Saint Jo

Work is due to start soon on a new home in Saint Jo for the Ernest Medders family. They won't be moving from Colonial Manor in Muenster. The new place will be a home away from home for the family, they'll occupy it from time to time and will entertain guests there.

It will be a Spanish-type home with a western atmosphere on a 58-acre tract just east of the site of the Medders' Vacation Resort. From all points of the house will be a view overlooking the entire ranch complex.

The architect met with the Medders Saturday and construction will begin shortly as ground work is laid for the giant vacation spot adjacent to it. Architect Plumer, famous golf course builder, has already begun plans for the 18-hole championship course.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Recently the Board of Supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with the United States Department of Agriculture. This document outlines in detail the working arrangement between districts and the United States Department of Agriculture. Secretary of Agriculture, Orville Freeman, signed this agreement on behalf of the USDA and his signature was witnessed by D. A. Williams, Administrator of the Soil Conservation Service under date of June 22, 1964.

Soil Conservation Districts are completely independent of the Federal Government or any part of the State Government other than the law under which they were created and thereby answer to no individual or agency. It, therefore, being a pure example of democracy can request and expect to receive help from any and all sources.

The Upper Elm-Red SCD has memoranda of understanding with all agencies in which they request assistance in carrying on the district program of soil, water and plant conservation. The first memorandum of understanding between these two groups was entered into December 18, 1941 which was soon after the Upper-Elm SCD was organized. As conditions changed and new programs came into operation it was necessary to sign another memorandum with the USDA in June 1946. This latest memorandum should be effective for several years or at least until conditions change to need an updated agreement. Secretary Freeman stated in signing this document, "The district movement has gained enormous strength over the past quarter century because you and other dedicated men have given freely of your time, energy and imagination in the finest tradition of democratic action and self government. We are on the threshold of a new era in the management of our resources of land, water, forest and wildlife, by our people. I am convinced that your district has an important part to play in giving reality to our broadened concepts of conservation and rural areas development. I urge you to push forward in every way you can conceive to achieve maximum advancement in the conservation and economic development of our soil and water resources within your District."

Kenneth and Robert Klement recently became cooperators with the District and developed a conservation plan on their farm one mile south of Hood. They intend to establish one large waterway and plant another 20 acres to Coastal Bermudagrass for pasture. About five miles of terraces will eventually be built. Their conservation cropping system will consist of small grain and clover with emphasis on something for their dairy cows to eat. Fertilizers will be used to produce more grazing and a better quality.

Average annual snowfall in Squaw Valley is 40 feet.

Lindsay Trio Take Colorado Vacation

Father John Walbe and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bezner, back in Lindsay after a 12-day vacation in Colorado, can entertain listeners with travel talks. They were away Aug. 16-27, stopping in West Texas going and returning.

After spending the first night in Hereford with the Frank Bezners they headed for Idaho Springs where they were guests of Mrs. Bezner's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiese of Gainesville. He works there at Radium Hot Springs Hotel and the Bezners took the baths — their real reason for the trip.

The Wieses spared no efforts to show their guests the scenic beauty and tourist attractions in the area.

Father John was fascinated by the history that was made in that part of Colorado a hundred years ago when the gold and silver mines were booming. Strange and interesting stories are still told, principally about Central City. Today its population is 300. In the gold rush days it was 30,000, with another 30,000 miners and prospectors within a five-mile radius. There were 300 mines in the vicinity. Many of the ancient buildings have been restored, complete with antiques, and are high on tourist attractions.

It was here that the Lindsay trio got a surprise. They met up with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fisher of Muenster and the Jim Fishers of Arvada, Colo.

Another surprise for the Bezners was the arrival of their daughter Viola who flew from Oram, Utah, to join them for two days.

Another top attraction was Mother Cabrini's Shrine near Denver. The Saint herself visited the mountains in 1912 looking for a location for a convent. When she found the spot on one of the peaks, her traveling companion objected because there was no water there. At that, the Saint struck a rock with her staff and water gushed forth. The miraculous spring still flows today. A massive statue of the Sacred Heart dominates the mountain peak and is visible for miles around.

Other noteworthy stops were at Buffalo Bill's Grave, the Continental Divide, and Mt. Evans. Jake drove his Ford up the mountain. They also went fishing . . . caught rainbow trout . . . and had fish fries.

Returning, the trio stopped at Hereford as guests of the Charlie and Ewald Berends and Frank Bezners.

Trip Takes Trio Over 6000 Miles Through 24 States

Touring 24 states and registering 6,271 miles on the car speedometer made a never-to-be-forgotten month's vacation for Mrs. Margaret Sicking and daughter, Miss Theresa Sicking of Gainesville and Miss Charlene Wimmer of Muenster. For Theresa and her mother it rounded out a visit to each of the 48 states on the mainland.

Mrs. Sicking collects rocks and brought some back with her again this year. They also came home with roasting ears from Illinois, peaches from Ohio, apples from Indiana, peanuts from Virginia, maple syrup from Vermont and souvenirs from Niagara Falls, Washington, D. C., and other points, and about 80 color kodak pictures.

And they took a wreath along from Gainesville for President Kennedy's grave. The wreath, hand made by Theresa, was of permanent red roses.

When they arrived at the cemetery they were treated like royalty, escorted by a guard and privileged to use Mrs. Kennedy's private walk instead of having to join the hundreds of other visitors in the lineup. They saw the wreath placed on the grave and had an opportunity to take pictures.

Among other stand-out attractions of the highlight-filled trip were a visit to the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows in Bellville, Ill., and participation in a public novena service, and a visit to the Ave Maria Grotto in Cullman, Ala. The grotto complex is a miniature of the Holy City and is called Little Jerusalem.

On the lighter side of the trip, they visited in Cherokee Village, Tenn., met the Indian Chief, and he posed for pictures with them.

Mountains that provided scenic tours included the Shawnees of Illinois, Look Out in Georgia, the Smokies of Tennessee and North Carolina.

In New York City they saw the Statue of Liberty, in Portland, Maine they visited a lighthouse, in Tennessee they toured Ruby Falls Cave and Clingman Dome, in South Carolina it was Middleton Gardens where the oak trees were heavy with Spanish moss.

They drove the ocean drive up the East Coast, visited at Annapolis to see the U. S. Naval Academy and crossed over Chesapeake Bay Bridge. They stopped at Mt. Kisco, N. Y., where Theresa was born and visited Buffalo Ranch in Oklahoma.

Among relatives and friends with whom they made pop calls or visited were Mrs. Mary Sherman, a cousin of Mrs. Sicking, in St. Joseph, Mo., the Tony Holmans at Loretto, Tenn., the Eckels family in St. Florida, Ala., the William Kellys in Sheffield, Ala., and Mrs. Sicking's cousins in Monroeville, Ohio.

Birthday Surprise

Surprises greeted Mrs. Andy O'Connor in observance of her birthday when a group of a dozen friends arrived at her home last Wednesday night to help her celebrate. They brought gifts and party refreshments. Andy O'Connor who is recovering from illness joined in the celebration for his wife and was up in a chair part of the time. He still spends most of the time in bed but is getting stronger.

Mrs. Leon Hess Is Honoree at Party

Mrs. Leon Hess was complimented with a gift party Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gerald Hess with Mrs. James Hess and Mrs. Angelo Nasche as co-hostesses.

Fifteen guests were present for games and refreshments of punch, cake and coffee. A pink and blue color scheme was used in decorating the party room and a stork centered the gift table.

Claude joined them on the trip to New York to take in the Fair. Among the many sights they enjoyed were the Unisphere, General Motors Building and the Vatican Building where they saw the Pieta.
