ANOTHER FAMILY FIGHT?

If the Washington "insiders" are correct, the Republican family ruckus in San Francisco recently is going to fade into a distant second place to a really big Democratic Party fight in Atlantic City shortly. The columnists and big-city correspondents in Washington are nervous about reporting the story, but they're all talking behind their hand about the prospects for a first-class squabble over the ticket to oppose Goldwater and Miller in November. What they're talking about is a prospective bid by Attorney-General Robert Kennedy to replace Lyndon Johnson at the head of the Democratic Party ticket. If that possibility strikes you as impossible, reflect before you wager. It was Robert Kennedy who personally corralled the delegates for his brother's successful campaign in 1960. As manager of that campaign he developed the political contacts and organized friendly state and local delegations. He has, say the insiders, carefully maintained those contacts, and the estimate is that Robert Kennedy can recruit perhaps as much as forty percent of the delegates to the Atlantic City Convention to support his nomination. Clearly forty percent wouldn't be enough, but then there's Governor Wallace who may show up in New Jersey with fifteen or twenty percent of the total delegates in his briefcase. The whispering may be premature, but the mathematics is right for a fight.

If Mao and Khrushchev can have a family fight, Goldwater and Scranton can have a family fight, why not Bobby and Lyndon? Now there would be a real rumpus.

"From each according to his ability... to each according to his need." — KARL MARX.

DEAD END ROAD

Charles Edison's years of public service included such high positions as Governor of New Jersey and Secretary of the Navy. Recently he was asked this question: "What has happened to America?" His answer: "The empty philosophy of Socialism is replacing the rich and free traditions of America. . . . The strength of the American people has been sapped. . . we have become a country where self-reliance, pride, hard work and thrift are being replaced by ideas of dependency on government, pleasure before duty, higher pay for less work and the right to government handouts." Those are hard and pessimistic words. But they are justified. The loss of individual liberty has been a step by step affair — a gradual erosion. So, it has happened almost unnoticed by multitudes. But its sour fruits are found in the way these multitudes almost automatically turn to a super state in the search for solutions to almost every human problem. Lost, forgotten and trapped under are the responsibilities that used to belong to the family, to local initiative and generosity, to the kind of self-reliance that created the nation.

That is the record. The overriding, unanswered question is: "Will we take another course before it is too late?" The road we are traveling is easy — but it has a dead end.

JOHNSON AND MARX

When Light Bulb Lyndon addressed the Texas Press Association convention in Houston on June 21 he said: We are going to TAKE all the money that WE think is unnecessarily spent and TAKE it from the HAVES and give it to the HAVE-NOTS who need it so much." Who does Lyndon think he is? Robin Hood?

Now we remember another great politician — a fellow named Karl Marx — who laid down the fundamental law of the Communist party saying the same thing in much more elegant language. He said, "From each according to his ability, to each according to his need."

We can find no conflict of philosophy between Karl Marx's statement in the Communist Manifesto in 1848, and Mr. Johnson's declaration of June 21, 1964, except, of course, in semantics.

Connally Protests Insult to Texas

Reference in "NATO Letter" to Texas as a "semi-civilized part of America" peopled with oil millionaires who serve as financial angels for radical right "hatemongers" brought strong protest from Governor Connally to Secretary of State Rusk.

"The fact that (the author) was emotionally distressed by the tragedy (President Kennedy's assassination), as so many of us were who were much more directly involved, is no excuse to print such an irresponsible diatribe in a magazine of this nature," Connally wrote.

Since the U. S. State Department is directly connected with the publication, the governor said, future articles should attempt "to undo the harm" already done.

WHAT "PRUDENCE & ECONOMY"?

Senator Harry F. Byrd, Virginia's outstanding patriot, and untiring exponent of sane fiscal policy, blasted the Johnson extravagance from the Senate floor as he announced he would vote against the latest lift in the debt ceiling — as he had voted against it in the Finance Committee of which he is chairman.

In discussing the bill to increase the debt limit to $324 billion until the end of next June when, says the Secretary of the Treasury, it will be boosted again, the Senator declared: "This is the largest increase in the Federal debt limit in 19 years. Under it, the debt will rise to its highest point of all time."

To convert the upcoming deficit into a surplus the Senator proposes cutting 1965 Federal spending by $6.5 billion and selling off non-essentials in the Government's $8.5 billion strategic and critical materials stockpile.

The Virginia Democrat quoted a Presidential memorandum of last November 30 to all Federal Department heads in which Mr. Johnson said: "I have pledged that the Executive Branch will be administered with the utmost thrift and frugality; that the Government will get a dollar's value for a dollar spent; and that the Government will set an example of prudence and economy." And the Senator declared:

"I regard passing this bill (which happened in the Senate shortly after his speech), raising the debt limit, increasing the debt, and continuing operation of the Federal Government on a planned deficit basis as a breach of policy enacted by Congress and declared by the President.

"Such needless use of deficit-and-debt financing is reckless and dangerous. It has become chronic. The end is not in sight. We have got to stop at some point. I am voting against this bill in the belief that now is better than later."

These are undoubtedly the sentiments of the great rank and file of American taxpayers. And though, once more, Senator Byrd's protest was in vain, we can be sure his words reached the White House. And perhaps the man who prides himself on turning out unneeded lights in that mansion will yet heed the Byrd proposals for economy.

IS YOUR SNAIL SICK?

What is your tax money used for?

There's an easy answer — to pay for the national defense, to maintain the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the government, and so on.

But it's the safest of bets that the average citizen, would be amazed if he knew where some of his money goes.

Examples: The federal government spent $18,000 on a study to learn why patients break appointments at pediatric clinics. It spent $1,250,000 to study the relationship between an infant monkey and its mother. It spent $11,500 to study blood group genetics of Southampton Island Eskimos. It spent $20,092 to study diseases of the giant snail.

Such a list could be continued almost endlessly. The individual amounts are small. But there is more to it than just the money involved. These are examples of what happens when a central government, peopled by avaricious bureaucrats all seeking more power and larger appropriations, try to do all things for all men and all interests.

Large oaks from little acorns grow. Small cuts, in totally nonessential government projects, can add up to large budget reductions, to the benefit of us all.

CONFUSING THE CONFUSION

There is little doubt that the attitude of the American people toward foreign aid as now constituted has been changing and hardening. This does not mean that the nation is going isolationist; it does mean that there is more and more reasoned doubt that the mere spending of limitless billions will really add to the strength and influence of this nation abroad, and there is an equally reasoned feeling that the many countries on the receiving end of aid are sitting on their hands and doing very little to help solve their own problems.

This attitude certainly applies to aid for military assistance as well as for economic development and related purposes. Moreover, the overall aid program seems to have gotten almost completely out of hand. According to Representative Passman who is chairman of the Foreign Operations Subcommittee on Appropriations, 26 federal agencies are now dispensing some type of foreign aid, and the total for this fiscal year may exceed $7 billion, not including interest on borrowed money. He adds: "It is fantastic but true that our government will be dispensing funds during Fiscal 1965 in 99 nations and 9 territories. Furthermore, this uncontrolled and apparently uncontrollable program now has 71,416 people, including participants, on its payroll. It has reached such proportions that even the confusion is confused."

Foreign aid — in scope, kind and dollars — is destined to be a major politico-economic issue in this country — an issue which soars beyond mere partisan considerations.

Disarmament is like a Hollywood party. No one wants to get there until the others have arrived.

Stork Makes Third Delivery July 14

July is a busy month for the stork, at least so far as the John G. Harts of Duncanville are concerned, and July 14 is the date.

John and his wife, Linda Faye, became parents again on July 14 this year. It was their third child. All were born on July 14. Diane was born July 14, 1962; David was born the same date in 1963; the newest addition, Patrick, was born July 14, 1964.

The youngsters are grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hart of Dallas. Mrs. Hart is the former Verena Stelzer of Muenster.

The proud papa is a second class petty officer in the Navy stationed at the Dallas Naval Air Station as a jet mechanic. The couple and their babies were pictured in the Duncanville Tribune and there was a feature story about them in the Dallas Times Herald.

Medders Hosts for Party for Guests At Colonial Manor

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders and family had as weekend guests the Carole and Shirley Morat Dancing Troop, friends from Memphis, Tenn., — six girls, two boys and their instructor. The troop is on a tour, came here after performing in New Orleans, La., accepting the Medders' invitation to visit in Muenster.

Saturday night the troop appeared as guest artists on the New Orleans Night program at River Valley Country Club in Gainesville and Sunday night they performed again at Colonial Manor when Mr. and Mrs. Medders entertained with a poolside party and buffet for them.

The party also was a courtesy for the hosts' nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smiddy and daughters Pam and Melissa of Cleveland, Tenn., introducing them to friends while they were in Muenster for the first time.

Guests at the party Sunday night — about a hundred people — were from Muenster, Gainesville, Saint Jo and Nocona. After a cocktail hour guests served themselves from a bountiful buffet, then watched the floor show presented on the patio.

The troop's numbers at both performances consisted of action songs, tap, ballet and acrobatic dancing and included a number by the hosts' daughter, Cathy Medders, appearing again with her adagio partner from Memphis dancing class days, Johnny Cecalla. They presented the difficult routine in an easy, graceful manner.

Afterward there was dancing for the guests on the patio to music by the Epics, a band from Nocona.

Back From Trip

Seeing sights in Colorado and New Mexico made vacation time interesting and enjoyable for Mr. and Mrs. Al Walterscheid who joined the Frank Walterscheids of Hereford on the trip. They visited the Royal Gorge and other scenic spots and Coor's Brewery in Colorado and made a tourist's tour of Santa Fe, N. M., enjoyed especially seeing the famous stairway in the Chapel of Our Lady of Light in Loretto Academy. The spiral stairway is Santa Fe's modern wonder, famous throughout the world. It makes two complete 360 degree turns and has no center pole.

"Milk" made directly from vegetable matter without the help of a cow is expected on the market shortly. Dr. H. B. Franklin, leader of the scientists who have been working since 1956 on the manufacturing process, claims that almost 30 per cent of the protein in suitable vegetable matter can be extracted and made digestible by his process, compared with the waste of four-fifths of the protein in grass by the inefficient cow. Looks like the cow is going to be out of a job.

Miss Agnes Noggler Becomes Bride of John David Meurer

Miss Agnes Noggler pledged vows with John David Meurer in a double ring ceremony at 7 a.m. nuptial mass Thursday, July 23, in Sacred Heart Church with Father Alcuin Kubis officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. A. J. Noggler and the late Mr. Noggler, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meurer, all of Muenster.

Ted Noggler presented his sister for marriage. She wore a gown of imported silk organza with overbodice of Venice lace designed with a scoop neckline and short sleeves. Miss Rita Noggler attended her sister as bridesmaid. She wore a lilac A-line dress of silk brocade with white accessories. Her flowers were pink rose buds.

Robert Meurer of San Antonio was his brother's best man. David Haverkamp and David Walterscheid, bride's cousins, ushered.

Anthony Luke, organist, and Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid, vocal soloist, presented wedding music including "Ave Maria" before mass and "Mother at Your Feet" after the service when the bride placed a bouquet of white gladioli on the Blessed Virgin's altar. Orchid gladioli adorned the main altar.

After the wedding, relatives and friends were guests for breakfast in the Parish Hall. Misses Frances and Florence Walterscheid, cousins of the bride, registered guests.

When the newlyweds left on their wedding trip she was wearing a champagne knit dress with tan accessories. They will be at home on North Hy. 373 in the Zipper house.

Both are graduates of Muenster High School and both are employed at Muenster State Bank.

Coming and Going Makes Week Fun For Paul Fetsches

Things got back to normal routine at the Paul Fetsch home Tuesday after a week of coming and going and relatives dropping in from far and near. It began last week Wednesday when the Fetsches and children went to Rhineland to visit relatives and left daughter Joan with the Leo Fetsches. They and their daughter LaVerne brought her back Friday and went to Lindsay to attend the State League convention. LaVerne was a houseguest at her uncle's home. Sunday Paul's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Albus and four children of Pep came for dinner and stayed over night, returning home Monday. Also dinner guests were Norma, Doris and Charles Lutkenhaus. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoening were guests to visit the out of town folks. When the Leo Fetsches returned home Monday, Robert and Monica Fetsch went with them to visit in Rhineland until Wednesday.

Outing at Turner Falls with a cook-out and swimming Sunday was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herr and daughters Paula and Marlene and their guests Shirley Klement and Monica Yosten.

Miss Agnes Eckart And Bernard Hesse Say Vows at Mass

Sacred Heart Church was the scene of nuptial services Saturday afternoon uniting in marriage Miss Agnes Eckart and Bernard Hesse. The bride's uncle, Father Stephen Eckart of Subiaco, Ark., read the double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. and celebrated the mass. Sacred Heart choir and Anthony Luke, organist, presented the music and Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid, aunt of the bride, was vocal soloist before and after the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Eckart. She was presented in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose a gown of imported silk organza over taffeta. The fitted bodice had a rounded neckline and elbow length sleeves. The bouffant skirt had extra fullness swept to the sides and back where it was secured with two self-material roses and fanned out into a chapel train. A panel of Alencon lace accented the front of the bodice and extended the full length of the skirt. A crown of crystals and pearls held her waist length veil and she carried a yellow-throated orchid and feathered carnations on top of her prayer book, a gift from the groom. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hesse.

Mrs. Robert Simmel of Pilot Point was her sister's matron of honor and the groom's sister, Mrs. Harold Neu of Madill, Okla., and Mrs. Pat Hess were bridesmaids. They wore dresses of sunshine yellow satin with A-line skirts and sleeveless bodices topped with short white lace jackets with elbow length sleeves. Their hats were two-tired bows of yellow satin and they carried baskets of yellow carnations. Attending the groom were Harold Neu, best man, Robert Simmel and Pat Hess. Arthur Hess and Virgil Henscheid ushered. Candle lighters and acolytes were Steve Rohmer, Glenn Trachta, Alcuin Schilling, Melvin Schilling and Stanley Endres. After mass the bride placed a bouquet of white gladioli on the Blessed Virgin's altar. Wedding reception and buffet were in the Parish Hall. Registering relatives and friends were Miss Frances Walterscheid and Mrs. C. J. Hellman. The wedding dance was in the VFW Hall.

When the couple left on their wedding trip, not revealing their destination, she was wearing a light yellow crepe suit with white accessories and the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet. When they return they will be at home in Muenster. He works for Yosten Sand & Gravel Co. She is employed in the bookkeeping department at Shamburger Lumber Co. Both attended Sacred Heart High School and he served in the army four years with two years of overseas duty in Germany.

Garbage should be treated as a valuable national resource, say geologists at the City College of New York. They contend that waste should be processed into "compost" for use in agriculture and horticulture. This would decrease incidence of pollution and pest infestation, and would aid in conservation, the geologists say.

The swimmer may pass out so quickly that other persons present may not realize he's in trouble until it's too late.
