NUMBER 13

Have you heard about the Doctors' Eldercare Program? It is a plan recommended by the American Medical Association as a substitute for Medicare, which the Administration is trying to have adopted as a means of providing medical care for older people.

In several ways it is a far better program than Medicare. It offers more benefits, it applies to some old people who would be missed by Medicare, it minimizes government involvement in medicine, it avoids the payroll tax and the additional strain Medicare would place on the Social Security system.

The really significant feature of the doctors' plan is that it makes use of private insurance. To make sure that all elderly people can be adequately covered by the insurance it provides for the state to help those who are not able to pay for their premiums.

To qualify for such a health insurance policy, covering a wide range of hospital and medical benefits, the elderly person would simply file a statement of income with the state agency. If his income is below the minimum established by the state he pays nothing. If it is above the minimum he pays a proportionate part of the premium. If his income is above a certain figure he pays all of the insurance. In that way the doctors' plan helps to the extent that help is needed.

Eldercare starts by employing provisions already existing in the state-administered Kerr-Mills program. In case of sickness the benefits provided by that program are already more adequate than those proposed by Medicare. But that's only the beginning. Additional benefits provided by insurance would assure benefits not provided by Kerr-Mills and the combined benefits would provide a very good coverage, much better than that offered by Medicare.

Administrative procedure likewise is far superior. Kerr-Mills provisions already in effect could continue without additional expense, and private insurance administration would continue on long established policy of sound actuarial principles. The system does not require a new and cumbersome federal bureaucracy as the Medicare program does. Furthermore it does not allow for government interference in medical practice, with its inevitable trend toward socialized medicine. In this case doctors and hospitals continue their dealings with the insurance companies—a much more desirable arrangement, as shown by records from countries that have socialized medicine.

In the matter of regulation the Medical Association plan presents another advantage. If insurance companies should begin taking advantage of the public they can be brought back into line by federal pressure. But if a federal bureaucracy imposes on the public there is no higher authority to bring it back in line.

The item of cost is another big factor. Combined Social Security tax on employee and employer is already over seven per cent and the additional cost of Medicare would probably send it over ten per cent. Many are wondering whether the system can keep going under such a load, especially when the number of people eligible for benefits increases constantly. An added item of cost: lots of benefits would go to people who do not need them, whereas Eldercare qualification for benefit would be based on need.

Considering all the angles in relation to our traditional American free enterprise system, there can be no doubt that the AMA proposal is far better than Medicare. We are convinced that it should be preferred by national legislators. But reports from Washington indicate nevertheless that Administration pressure in support of Medicare is increasing. Odds are strong that it will be adopted.

Why? Can the Administration truly say that it is concerned primarily with the welfare of older people? Or is it seeking instead to expand the centralized bureaucracy, and continue expanding it as medicare develops into all-out socialized medicine? As with so many other welfare schemes, is the real motive to help the country or to help the politicians?

THIRTY OF THE FORTY FIVE BABIES born in Muenster Memorial Hospital last year accepted invitations to the kiddies' party in the lobby on February 3 in observance of the hospital's first anniversary. The three latest arrivals, still in the nursery, could not get on the picture. (Boyd and Breeding photo)

Average number of patients for the month was slightly more than 18.

Sister Mildred also revealed a few statistics for the first year of operation, ending on Feb. 2. Total admissions were 565. Births were 45. Average number of patients was just under 10.

Mayor and Three Aldermen Will Be Elected April 6

An election to name a mayor and three aldermen on the Muenster City Council will be held on Tuesday, April 6. Members of the council in their regular meeting Monday night ordered the election and also announced that candidates will have to file with the city secretary on or before March 7 in order to qualify for a place on the ballot.

Present members of the council whose terms expire this year are Mayor Earl Fisher and Aldermen Bill Luke, Gene Hoedebeck and Ray Otto. The council also considered changing the term of one of its members so that three persons will be elected each year instead of four one year and two the next. If the change is legally permissible and is sufficient time remains it will be made in this election.

Council members who were elected last year and whose terms continue another year are B. J. Swirczynski and Willie Walterscheid.

Dick Trachta disclosed Wednesday that he has just received a ten year contract from Fred Lynn, manager of the Gainesville TP&L office, for rental of a new building to be located in the 400 block of Main, just north of Leo Henschel's office.

The building will measure 31x42, with all walls of brick veneer and tile. Inside surfaces will be painted over the tile. It will have acoustical ceiling, asphalt tile floor, Corey tile at the entrance, and central heating and cooling.

A special feature is the public relations room, which will be available for meetings of civic organizations. It will occupy slightly less than half the inside space. Other rooms will be the office, two rest rooms and the mechanical room.

Hereafter a charge will be made by the city when it marks off property lines. The city council at its meeting Monday night decided that the service usually requires two men for two hours or more, an expense item that should be paid by the person getting the benefit.

The rate set by the council is $7.50 per location plus $5 per hour for the time beyond one hour.

.42 Inch Rain

Rainfall lately has been light, but falling on ground that already had abundant moisture it was enough to complete the soaking of area farm land.

Readings this week were .11 on the 16th and 31 on the 17th, making 2.05 inches for the month to date. Rain measure for the year now stands at 4.73 inches.

24 Teams Booked For Tournament Starting March 1

Twenty four teams have accepted invitations to the volleyball tournament sponsored by Sacred Heart Alumni during the week of March 1, and more are expected to enter.

There will be five nights of action, Wednesday being the only open date of the week. Charges for each evening's schedule will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children or players.

Men's teams entered are SH Alumni, Grinders, Muenster Mill, SH High, and Willie's Mobil of Muenster, Geer Tank Trucks of Jacksboro, Field Ranch of Saint Jo, O'Neal's of Nocona, Cooke County Junior College, Gainesville Register, Bellevue, Lindsay and Prairie Valley.

17 Hornets Doing Road-Gym Work For Track Team

The boys of Muenster High School are centering their athletic interests on track nowadays. Coach James Polk said Wednesday that 17 boys have reported and are starting training by distance running. On clear days they take to the open road, on rainy days they circle the gym.

This year's track team is mostly the same as it was last year. The only regular lost by the 1964 graduation was Weldon Vogel. With the benefit of that experience the team should be better this year, says Polk, however other district teams are also experienced and competition will be rugged.

Track meets booked to date are at Iowa Park March 6, Gainesville March 13, and Saint Jo March 27.

The Hornets will also participate in district baseball but their first practice is still a few weeks away.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hartman are celebrating the birth of a daughter Monday, Feb. 15. The little girl checked in at Muenster Hospital at 6:12 p.m. weighing six pounds six ounces. She's a sister for Tim, Jean Ann and Johnny; a granddaughter for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fette and Mrs. John Hartman; and a great-grandchild for Mrs. Joe Otto.

There are plenty of rules for attaining success, but none of them work unless you do.

500 Signatures On Petition for Hospital District

A petition with about 500 signatures asking for creation of the Muenster Hospital District was taken to Austin Wednesday in support of a bill which had been submitted earlier.

It was presented to State Representative Don Hefton by four directors of the hospital authority: Alphonse Felderhoff, Leo J. Haverkamp, J. H. Bayer and Arthur Hess.

When Hefton originally received the bill for creation of the district, about a month ago, he said that it would have to be supported by some evidence that the district is wanted. Since then the petition has been circulated in all areas of the proposed district.

SH Students Make Educational Trip

Mrs. Henry Wenizapfel, vice president, conducted the business session. For the program Miss Diann Henzler read a paper prepared by Miss Steve Moser on "Successful Bulb Forcing," and Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid led a short study on dahlia culture.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Ed McGannon and Miss Henzler in the McGannon home. They served refreshments to 12 members as they arrived.

Beyond this, the nation faces a critical problem of juvenile delinquency. Various cures are offered, based on the home, school and churches. In addition, those groups which work with youth, in all manner of fields, can do an essential job in building character, honor and responsibility. The Future Farmers organization is one of the best of them.

IN THE NEWS

The symbol "14(b)" is destined to play a leading part in the news of the near future. It is the designation given to the section of the Taft-Hartley Act which authorizes the states, if they so wish, to pass Right-To-Work laws.

These laws simply say that it is up to each worker to decide for himself whether he wishes or does not wish to join a union. If he decides not to join, he cannot be discharged from his job for that reason. Coercion cannot be applied by either the union or the employer.

On the side of public policy, the laws honor freedom of association—the freedom of any person to join or not join a club, a civic group, a political organization or anything else. And the right to join or not join a union is certainly more basic than any of these.

On the purely practical side, Right-To-Work makes for better more effective unions. They must sell themselves to the membership on the basis of service, instead of a basis of compulsion. A good union has no difficulty in enlisting members—it provides a dollar's worth of return for each dollar of dues. Only the indifferent, ineffective or corrupt union needs to fear "14(b)".

Assembly Trouble

In the Soviet of Berlin a German worked in a plant which manufactured a variety of small parts which, when shipped back to Russia, were supposed to be assembled into baby carriages. He decided to steal enough parts to make his own baby carriage.

A few weeks later a friend who was aware of his purpose inquired how the project had progressed.

"I got all the parts," the worker replied, "but, you know, no matter how I put them together, they come out a machine gun."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Application of soil conservation practices in the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District has continued at a rapid pace the past few weeks.

Brush control in preparation for grass planting is being carried out by H. C. Sockwell, Clifford Hudspeth, John Moore, and Glen Lynch of Forestburg; Bayer Brothers, Paul Endres and Vinc Felderhoff of Muenster; Roy Kingery of Saint Jo, and Joe Brown of Leo.

J. W. Fleitman, J. H. Bayer and J. A. Stovall have sprigged bermuda grass this past week.

Ponds for livestock water have recently been staked by the Soil Conservation Service on the farms of Roy Kingery of Saint Jo, Bayer Brothers of Muenster, A. E. Cogburn of Leo, Clifford Hudspeth of Forestburg, and C. D. Johnson near Dye Mound.

Leon Young of Saint Jo is building about 4000 feet of terraces to protect his sloping cropland field from erosion.

The Soil Conservation Service Vegetative Crew, headed by Bob Lawson, has completed the sodding of Flood Prevention sites 6, 22 and 28 on the Clear Creek Watershed. These dams are located on land owned by C. D. and S. T. Meador, L. W. Young, and Mac T aylor.

Other progress on the Clear Creek Watershed shows detail surveying core drilling operations complete on five more flood prevention dams and three sediment control dams. Invitations for construction bids on these 8 structures are expected to be issued in April.

Fluids in the insect-eating pitcher plant digest meat and egg white, but are harmless when swallowed.

SUPPOSE!
 Suppose every farmer and rancher was required by law to join and pay dues to a farm and ranch organization. Or suppose every parent of school children was required to be a dues paying member of the PTA. Or suppose every fisherman and hunter was compelled to join a game protective association.

These ridiculous ideas, as the Arizona Farm Bureau Federation has pointed out, contain the same logic as that used by labor groups and others who are now seeking repeal of that section of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits the states, if they so choose, to enact Right-to-Work laws.

Twenty of the states have done that. They thus have said, in effect, that it is up to each individual worker to decide whether he wants to join or not. He cannot be compelled to join—on pain of unemployment—and his employer cannot prevent him from joining. In other words, it is up to the union to demonstrate that its services are worth their price.

If the right to join or not to join any organization is not a fundamental right, what is?

Nature gives men two ends—one to sit on and one to think with. Ever since then man's success or failure has depended on the one he uses most.

FHA CHOOSES GIRL OF MONTH

DIANE AMOROSO

Diane Amoroso has been chosen January FHA girl of the month. She is a junior and has been an active member of FHA for three years. She has served as chairman of many activities. For two years Diane has attended area meetings in Denton. She has earned her junior homemaker degree and is presently working toward her chapter degree.

Norma Lutkenhaus is getting ready to submit her written report for her FHA State Degree to a reviewing committee in Arlington. The committee is made up of Home Economic teachers who will review her degree March 5 and 6. Norma will be notified immediately whether or not she qualifies for the degree, which is comparable to the FFA's Lone Star Farmer Degree.

The following is a continuation of Who's Who; in the individual department each teacher chooses 3 students. In Science Mrs. Marie Mosman chose Biology, Wayne Klement; Chemistry, Dale Klement; and Physics, Ken Cain. In Band Eric Brewster chose Rita Trubenbach on the saxophone, Peggy Hellman on the clarinet, and Carol Mosman on the trumpet. The athletic department headed by Coach Polk selected athletic boys and girls. The boys chosen are Tom Flusche, Roy Wimmer, and Roy Hartman. Girls chosen are Cindy Cain, Peggy Branch, and Rita Trubenbach.

The MHS school board held a meeting Thursday February 11, in the Superintendent's office. They decided that every basketball student would receive a sweater this year. The boys who have received a football jacket will not receive one for basketball and those who lettered in Band will be allowed to choose between a jacket or a sweater.

"BOLTS AND NUTS" CAST ANNOUNCED

The Seniors of MHS have all gone crazy-crazy over their play that is. Play books arrived some time ago, and they have really been practicing. The three-act farce takes place at a health resort in Missouri during the late spring.

Rebecca Bolt (Sandra Cler) turns a recently inherited mansion into a hospital for people with nervous disorders. In the meantime her niece, Benita (Cindy Cain), has troubles of her own, trying to sneak her fiancée, Twink Star (Eddie Hellman), into the hospital without Rebecca suspecting.

Domestic help adds a humorous flavor with Lutie Spinks (Linda Whitt), the man-hating maid who winks, and Martha Grubb (Debbie Fette), the mournful cook, and Henry Goober (Ken Cain), the porter who is afraid of lunatics. Dr. Hippocrates Joy (Roy Hartman), as the psychiatrist, spreads "joy" around the sanitarium.

Of course, the patients soon start arriving. Phineas Phinkett, the lawyer with a humility complex is played by Donny Hellman. Joyce Rumley as Prunella Frigg, a patient with claustrophobia, is forever in conflict with Tommy Flusche, who portrays Cadwalder Clippy, a patient afraid of cats. Mrs. Gertie Glossop (Florence Walterscheid) fears contamination and is very protective of her young son, Wilbur (Tom Swirczynski). Jack Gordon (Randy Wimmer), a young intern enters in time to help avoid a disaster.

The senior class invites each of you to attend "Bolts and Nuts," March 2 at 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Tickets may be purchased from any senior.

GRADES OBSERVED VALENTINE

Grades 1-6 celebrated a Valentine party, February 12. They exchanged Valentines, played games, and had refreshments.

The seventh grade English class went to the Post Office February 10. Mr. A. J. Endres showed them how the mail went through and explained the Zip-Code to them. They received commemorative stamps of Shakespeare, Kennedy, The Battle of New Orleans, and Conservation. Miss Henzler accompanied them.

There have been several students out with the flu. The teachers are not exempt from this illness. Carl King math teacher, has been absent since Monday and Mrs. James Walterscheid taught his classes.

Five local volley ball teams will participate in a volley ball tournament at Prairie Valley next week. Men's teams are Muenster Mill, Sacred Heart Alumni and Sacred Heart High. Ladies' teams are Sacred Heart Alumnae and Muenster Independents.
