NUMBER 43

In his "non political" speech Tuesday to a convention of labor union members President Johnson proudly announced that more people are working today and receiving higher pay than they did four years ago.

The statement was in keeping with the administration's much publicized prosperity pitch, which is being offered to voters as inducement not to make a change. But it did not tell all of the story. Related facts not mentioned are that there are also more jobless people, and the higher pay does not buy any more than the smaller pay used to.

Of course more people are working. Increase in population accounts for that as well as for the fact that more people are not working. Making the one remark without including the other was misleading.

Another obvious half truth is the statement about higher wages. What's the advantage of higher pay when the gain is wiped out by decreased value of the dollar?

And there's still more that was left unsaid on the subject of inflation. While workers with pay raises failed to gain in real wages another segment of our population continued to lose. People who got no increase of income are worse off than before. Included in that group are folks living on fixed income or on their savings. Inflation, both encouraged and caused by official policy, has trimmed off some more of the value from the limited amount of money they have.

One of the most disappointing aspects of the prosperity line is the fact that it so often goes unchallenged. The American public needs more reminders that such prosperity is strictly phony. It's like a spending binge by a man with borrowed money. Superficially he's prosperous, but his financial condition is only getting worse. He has a rough day of reckoning ahead.

The same applies to a nation. Borrowing billions by way of deficit financing can create temporary and phony prosperity by pumping additional money into circulation, but it isn't really prosperity, and any thinking person knows it. What's to happen when this artificial stimulant wears off? Will we just go deeper in debt? And deeper and deeper into the country, like the spendthrift, will finally have to admit it is bankrupt? When will we ever apply common sense and conscience to our nation's fiscal policy?

The remark has often been made that our generation is imposing an awful burden on our children and grandchildren. That is obviously true. If the country ever gets out of the red they will have to do the paying. Certainly not a pretty outlook for them — to pay the money we have wasted.

But that's only half of the story. Much of the wasted money has already been taken from people of our time, and is still being taken. Anyone who has saved knows that he is being tapped every time the value of his money is further depreciated by inflation. Insurance, savings accounts, bonds, or money on deposit in banks have all been shrinking in real value. Savings bonds, which our government urges us to buy, are not worth as much on maturity as on the purchase date, because of the government's own spending policy.

Even the people who are brainwashed into thinking they enjoy real prosperity are losing by the phony deal. While their wage increases are only keeping pace with inflation, their savings are taking a beating. If they'll only think a little they'll see they would have been better off under a sound fiscal policy.

Though not a pleasant thought, it is a known fact that our country's phony prosperity is the product of a two way steal. We have taken from posterity and we have taken from those who saved.

Adding insult to injury, the administration brazenly launches a poverty program to take care of people who can't make ends meet. It's hardly necessary to point out that many of those in financial distress are victims of the government's fiscal irresponsibility. They would not be in need if savings had been permitted to retain their value.

Community Gets Wonderful Rain Measuring 5.40

The best soaker this community has had in a long long time came Tuesday and Wednesday, improving the local rain measure by 5.40 inches by Thursday morning.

It was ideal in every respect. Enough for a deep down thorough soaking and also to fill lakes and ponds but not enough to cause run-off and flood damage. Most of the time the rain was slow, however most of it fell in hard showers Wednesday morning.

Steve Moster reported four official readings for the rain. At 7 a.m. Wednesday it was .95 inch. At 10:45 another 2.08 was recorded and at 1 p.m. another 1.46. Thursday's 7 a.m. reading was .91.

Moisture records at Muenster now stand at 5.87 for the month and 25.43 for the year.

Tommy Herr, Alumni president, conducted the business session in the presence of about 30 members and Father Bruno Fuhrmann. A social hour and refreshments followed adjournment.

Tigers Eager for First Win Friday At Callisburg

This is the week for Sacred Heart's Tigers to break their losing streak — provided that improvement of their prospects plus a super effort will be enough to do the job.

Coach Adam Wolf said this week that the game at Callisburg is the Tigers' first this season in which they are not outclassed. The two teams should be well matched, with the Tigers holding a slim advantage in weight and experience.

Wolf is estimating his boys' chances on the basis of their game with the powerhouse Panthers of Saint Jo last week. They looked sharp in spots, in spite of their 22-0 loss. In fact they did a fairly good job in holding the score down to three touchdowns.

At the same time Callisburg cannot be taken for granted. The 22-6 decision over Masonic Home of Fort Worth last week indicates that the Wildcats deserve respect and Sacred Heart has work to do. Nevertheless the Tiger skipper is confident. Says this is the best chance so far and the team intends to do something about it.

Garden Club Group Opens New Season With Book Review

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club opened a new season at Monday night's meeting when the organization resumed activity after being disbanded during the summer.

Mrs. Arthur Felderhoff and Mrs. R. N. Fette were co-hostesses in the Felderhoff home.

The program featured a book review by Miss Diane Henzler. She reviewed "Silent Spring" by Rachel Carson. Afterward she led a discussion on the dangers of over-use of insecticides and pesticides.

Mrs. Earl Fisher gave a short talk on the value of compost as a means of soil improvement in the home yard.

During a brief business session Mrs. Dick Cain, president, presided and committee chairmen gave reports.

It was announced that Wednesday, Sept. 23, has been set as the day for members to hoe weeds at the hospital grounds.

New year books were distributed. An added program feature this year is a short study or talk on a timely garden need each month.

As members and guests arrived they made a tour of the Felderhoffs' new home and had refreshments. Guests were Meses. Andy Schoech, Joe Voth and Wilmer Luke.

For next month's meeting Meses. Earl and John Fisher will be co-hostesses. The program will feature Marvin Daventport of Gainesville as guest speaker on plants and shrubs suitable for landscaping in this area.

Mrs. Wendell Richey will discuss moving house plants that summer outdoors to winter time conditions indoors.

St. Anne Society Sponsors Shower For Parish Nuns

Annual shower for Sacred Heart Parish Benedictine Sisters was an event of Tuesday night held in the Parish Hall after evening church services. Some 75 to 100 persons attended.

The guests came and went bringing gifts for the convent pantry, locker and kitchen and cash gifts. They met the Sisters, all of them were there except Sister Leonarda who is a patient in St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Also there were the nuns from Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Members of St. Anne's Society, sponsors of the shower each year, served coffee and cookies.

Final plans for the shower were completed at the society's monthly meeting Sunday night. Mrs. Al Walterscheid, president, presided.

Mrs. Wilfred Bindel gave a report on the Catholic State League state convention held at Lindsay and congratulations went to Mrs. Walterscheid for being elected state vice president.

Father Andrew Wewer was introduced as chaplain succeeding Father Martin Fischer. He spoke to the assemblage on children's behavior. Thirty members were present and Mrs. Leo Henschel won the attendance prize.

Hornets Pile Up Points on Breaks, Lick Lindsay 28-0

The Hornets of Muenster High made a strong start on their 1964 football season Saturday night by dumping the Lindsay Knights 28-0. However, the game was not as one sided as the count. The spunky Knights led 14-9 in first downs and trailed 200-153 in total yardage from scrimmage.

Two fumbles and a blocked kick were the big handicaps for Lindsay. Early in the second quarter Fuhrmann was jarred loose from the ball and Tommy Swirczynski recovered for a Hornet counter.

Later in the same period Lindsay was on the 1 yard line with four downs to go and fumbled away its best scoring threat on the first play.

And early in the second half Lindsay's blocked kick gave Muenster a set up on the 5, from where Wimmer crashed over. The Hornets, too fumbled away a beautiful opportunity. After a 73 yard drive early in the game they were on the 7 with three more tries for the distance. Then a fumble on the next play.

Also figuring in the top heavy score was an exciting 82 yard kick return by Roy Wimmer combining fancy footwork by himself with several timely blocks along his meandering route of about 150 yards.

That left only one Hornet TD to be accounted for by a steady drive. And even that was a series of big gains rather than a sustained push. Dale Klement was the workhorse in the drive with three runs for 31, 32 and 15 yards respectively. Counting a 15 yard penalty that had to be overcome, the total yardage gained was 108. Virgil Swirczynski made the TD on a keeper play around right end.

BIRTHS

Proudly announcing the birth of a son are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haverkamp. Their seven pound six and a half ounce boy checked in at Muenster Hospital Saturday, Sept. 12, 10:47 p.m. He's the couple's first child, the first grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hundt of Dallas and the first great-grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Bill Becker of Muenster. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ben Haverkamp of Muenster and there's another great-grandma, Mrs. Jos. Hundt of Lindsay.

From Hereford comes announcement of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Knabe early Sunday, Sept. 13. The news was telephoned to Mrs. Knabe's parents, the Clem Reiters, Sunday morning.

The baby's other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Knabe and there's a great-grandmother, Mrs. Fred Hoedebeck, all of Muenster. The new baby is the fifth child in the family — all boys.

Proudly announcing arrival of a son are Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hermes Jr. of Lindsay. Their little boy weighed six pounds three ounces when he checked in at Gainesville Hospital at 3 a.m. Tuesday Sept. 15. He's a brother for two-year-old Danita and a grandchild for Mesas. and Mmes. Clem Hermes and John Hess, all of Lindsay.

Father Francis Has New Assignment

Father Francis Zimmerer, OSB, retired army chaplain with the rank of colonel, has a new assignment and is in residence at St. Edward's Parish, Little Rock, Ark., but not assigned to parish work. He will be working as a counselor with the Arkansas State Rehabilitation Service.

The appointment was made by the Most Rev. Bishop of Little Rock and the Rt. Rev. Abbot of Subiaco. In this new field of activity Father Francis will be closely associated with the sick and suffering people of the area. His previous work was in Mt. Clemens, Michigan.

Hornets to Meet Warriors Friday On Local Field

The Muenster Hornets can beat the Valley View Warriors here Friday night, but they'll find it a big job. So says Coach James Polk who had charge of the Wichita County boys two seasons ago.

He knows most of the team personally, knows that it has a strong line and two strong backs. A measure of its ability, he said, was a loss of only 19-0 to Holliday, which is rated high in Class A.

Last year's Hornets, playing one of their better games, lost 26-12 to the Warriors. Since they have improved Polk feels that this game will be more evenly matched and his boys have a fair chance to dump the visitors.

Rain this week could have a bearing on the game, says the coach. If it continues the heavier Warriors will have the advantage of a wet field. Also the Hornets are missing some urgently needed practice to overcome weakness that showed up in the opening game. That applies to both offense and defense.

Physically the Hornets are all fine and ready to go. Kick-off time is 8 o'clock, on the MHS field.

Tigers Bow 22-0 To Power Packed Saint Jo Panthers

Sacred Heart's Tigers went down for their second straight loss last Friday night as the potent Saint Jo Panthers were demonstrating clearly that they rate with the top teams of this area. The score was 22-0.

The visiting Panthers got off to a comfortable start on the first scrimmage play of the night. Fleetfooted Eddie Yetter took a piteous punt from Quarterback Boyd, scooted around left end and sailed 65 yards to the goal line. A pass to Arledge added 2 points and the visitors led 8-0.

For the rest of the first half the teams played almost on even terms. Both teams made five first downs but Saint Jo led 89 to 42 in total yardage gained.

After intermission the Panthers continued hammering at the Tigers. First play after kickoff they took over on a Sacred Heart fumble only 29 yards from the goal. A pass to Yetter reached the 17 and five running plays reached the 2. There Yetter made his second touchdown identically as he had made it on the opening play. He took Boyd's piteous punt and raced around left end to the double stripe.

The remainder of that quarter and into the fourth Sacred Heart was frustrated by two interceptions and a fumble while Saint Jo worked forward on scattered first downs to make their final TD.

Tigers lost possession on an interception first play after the kickoff. Saint Jo made a first down and fumbled. Second play thereafter Tigers had another pass stolen from them.

Saint Jo made a first down, lost a fourth down gamble the next series. Sacred Heart was stopped on its first series, Saint Jo on its second.

Then Sacred Heart fumbled on its 22 and the Panthers went after their final score. Three running plays went to the 10 and a pass to Yetter produced the final touchdown.

Another pass, to Lovett, added bonus points, making the final count 22-0

One Day Drive Tuesday For County United Fund Faces Goal of $48,500

Final preparations are under way this week for next Tuesday's big one-day campaign to raise $48,500 in the 1964 Cooke County United Fund drive.

Under general chairmanship of Joel Street of Gainesville, nine worker groups are being organized to cover the entire county. They will attend a kickoff dinner and program at Cooke County Junior College Monday night to hear a pep talk and briefings and to receive workers' packets with cards on the people they are to contact.

Headliner on the program is Pierce Allman, TV executive of Dallas. Local entertainment, a meal catered by Jetton's, and instructions to workers make up the rest of the program.

Everyone is welcome to the dinner, visitors as well as workers. And everyone is expected to pay $1.50. Directors have decided to make the program pay its own way rather than be charged as a campaign expense.

W. Texas Firemen Book Convention Sunday at Saint Jo

The Muenster volunteer fire department will be represented next Sunday at the convention of West Texas Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association in Saint Jo. The Saint Jo fire department will host the event, holding the meeting in the high school and a 6 o'clock dinner catered by Rohmer's Restaurant at a place to be announced.

A program submitted by Fire Chief Pete Jones indicates that registration will be from 10 to 1 in the city hall and the meeting will start at 1:30. Hose races and water polo will be held on the city square.

Muenster firemen, while urged to attend, are reminded not to over-attend — lest the home town be left with a shortage of firemen. Fire Chief Alvin Hartman asks all members to clear with him before leaving Muenster — whether going to the Saint Jo meeting or anywhere else. He wants to make sure a crew will be here, just in case.

Auxiliary to VFW Fulfills Honor Roll Requirements

Honor roll requirements for the month were fulfilled by members of the VFW Auxiliary at their September meeting Monday night. Mrs. John Mosely, president, conducted the business session attended by 28 members.

Honor roll participation consisted of taking part in some school activity and the organization voted to finance one student's lunch for one month.

The fifty cents a member hospital pledge was approved and the contribution was tagged for the VA Hospital at McKinney. The final requirement is to hold a school of instructions and members set Monday, Sept. 28, for this. At the same meeting new members will be initiated and a covered dish supper will be held.

Mrs. Arthur Bayer reported on the district meeting at Gainesville, adding that Muenster of continuous sacred music members present.

A letter from Doris Parker, district president, concerned her special project: installation of continuous sacred music recorded in the Memorial Chapel in the Veterans of Foreign Wars building in Austin. The membership voted to give a contribution.

Mrs. Joe H. Walterscheid asked members to save coupons — any coupons cut from papers and magazines — coupons they don't redeem themselves. These will benefit a crippled children's home. Likewise, Mrs. Clarence Hellman, asked the group to save all empty cigarette packages. These also help crippled children.

After business the women joined the VFW post members for a chicken supper. Mrs. Arthur Hess won the door prize.

Another economy feature of the drive: There is no assistance from a professional fund raising organization this year. Money normally paid as a commission remains in the fund.

In Muenster Steve Moster and Henry Weinzapfel, co-chairmen, have been busy with organizational work. At a Monday breakfast meeting and Tuesday and Wednesday night meetings workers have been selecting their persons to contact.

The Muenster group also has decided to make a head start on the drive. They intend to see people this weekend and make all possible contacts, then make finishing calls on United Fund Day. Two reasons are given for the plan. First lots of rural driving can be avoided if people are contacted when seen in town. Next, on an average some people are missed on the first call. An early start allows time for extra calls if they are needed. So, the drive will be a little different here. United Fund Day is not the day to do it all but rather the day to finish the job.

Here, as everywhere else in the county, the public is urged to cooperate in putting the drive over the top on a single day. Besides making the job easier and getting it out of the way, they will be able to share the distinction and pleasure of doing an outstanding job.

And the best way for an individual to cooperate is to determine in advance what he will give and have the donation.

"You Know In Your Heart That He's Right"

I predict victory for Barry Goldwater on Nov. 3. I say this because I hear reports of an awakening and stirring going on throughout the land that will lead us back to faith, courage, self reliance, national pride, and the will to win. The reason for the turning tide can perhaps be best explained in the words of a sign in Atlantic City, not far from the hall where the Democratic National Convention was held. The sign has a picture of Senator Goldwater, and the words, "In your heart, you know he's right."

There has been much political bombast and editorial thunder about promoting human rights, warring on poverty, legislating against prejudice, helping the down-trodden, condemning the extremists, and cooperating with the communists. But I believe that a solid majority of Americans know in their hearts that the ends do not justify the means, and that a statement of noble purpose does not pave the way for the use of unjust methods.

They know in their hearts that Senator Goldwater is right when he seeks the solution with the conscience of a conservative. They know that the rights of one group cannot be guaranteed by destroying the rights of another, that prejudice and discrimination cannot be overcome by legislation but by a change in the hearts of men. They know that it is impossible to continue spending beyond our means without facing the inevitable reckoning, which may be financial chaos and national bankruptcy. They know it is wrong to risk the surrender of our national defense forces and

Foreign Aid Wasted

This country has hinted it will cut off foreign aid to Indonesia's President Achmed Sukarno unless he stops his campaign to "crush" Malaysia. To date, almost $1 billion has been channeled to Indonesia.

Does this threat bother the playboy of the eastern world? Recently he boasted to a Jakarta audience he doesn't need help from America, that he could care less about the possibility of aid being cut off.

"Go to hell with your aid," was the way he put it. At the time, he was dedicating a project built with U. S. assistance. Sukarno noted in his cutting speech that "Indonesia has rich natural resources and enormous man-power. We can establish and set up our own society full well even without foreign assistance."

To many lawmakers, this is good news; they are looking for a way to trim foreign aid. Let's take Sukarno at his word. Let him build up his country without using millions of "imperialistic" American dollars which are thrust upon him every year.

Let us offer him our applause—and not another dime.—Browning, Mont., Reporter

Lincoln Statements Are Still True

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift."

"You cannot help small men by tearing down big men."

"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong."

"You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer."

"You cannot help the poor man by destroying the rich."

"You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income."

"You cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred."

"You cannot establish security on borrowed money."

"You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence."

"You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."
— Abraham Lincoln

"Only 19"

You haven't yet heard of the "Only 19" campaign. But you will.

It's to be conducted in October. And the purpose is to show the American people that food is a bargain. The main point to be emphasized is that the average American family today spends only 19 cents of its after-tax dollar for food, as compared with 26 cents just 15 years ago. This simply means that, while food prices have naturally risen, incomes have risen substantially more. And the percentage-of-income that we must pay for anything is the best measurement of value received.

All types of food retailers, chains, independents, cooperatives — are invited to participate in telling the industry's impressive story. A game — called "Only 19" — has been created for the campaign, and winners will be given handsome prizes. All in all, the pending campaign is described as the "greatest united industry effort in history."

Commercial considerations aside, this is a matter of gaining credit where it is due. The whole food industry, in this age of inflation, has done a far better job than we generally realize in making the consumer dollar go as far as possible.

DANGER SIGNALS

It is the avowed policy of the Administration to produce a business boom which is not accompanied by inflation. That is a large order.

In one of her recent columns, the authoritative writer on financial affairs, Sylvia Porter, pointed to some of the danger signals. Wholesale prices are tending upward. So are the prices of basic materials, both here and abroad — and the increases cover a very wide range. Wage hikes are pending in the basic automobile industry and this will affect hundreds of other industries in all parts of the country. And spending by both consumers and industries is at enormous levels.

So, Miss Porter writes, if this situation continues . . . consumer prices are sure to be affected. Small though most of the price boosts are, they are widely scattered, and as one expert emphasizes, "This usually means bigger things to come."

Miss Porter is not a pessimist. She concludes, "The early warning system is signaling now that inflation is only a threat." And what the government does, in its spending and fiscal policies, will be the major factor in determining whether that is to be or not to be the case.

In Senator Storm Thurmond's opinion: "The basic fallacy underlying our foreign aid program is the notion that friendships can be purchased. Another basic fault lies in the gross mismanagement which has been evident in this program since its inception. Then there is also the inordinate leeway which the aid administrators have been permitted to assume. . . . Foreign aid has its proper place when available to friendly nations in a reasonable amount, preferably through loans, to help them help us turn the tide against communism and in favor of freedom. This is the only justification for a foreign aid program."

Lots of Cars

If you find it harder to find a parking place, here's why! State Highway Department reports that it has licensed 5,632,373 motor vehicles this year — ranging from the 747,734 in Harris County to 184 in Loving County.

This is a gain of five per cent above last year.

37,683 REPORTS!

The heavy burden of the federal government's demands on businessmen for written reports was disclosed, recently, by Rep. Arnold Olsen (D-Mont.).

He cited the single year's experience of one small firm which was called upon to handle 173 different federal forms, involving the filing of 37,683 reports, a workload of 42,285 hours.

Transportation Is Important Item in Honey Business

Did you ever stop to think how much transportation is involved in the honey that goes so well with hot biscuits or hot cakes?

Even for bees, the honey business is mainly transportation. If a single bee should fly an average of a mile to a source of honey — making sufficient trips to produce a pound of honey — it would have to fly the equivalent of three times around the world. A tremendous task for even a bee in this age of jet transportation.

But wait, even more transportation is involved. Beekeeping is becoming mobile. The migratory beekeeper moves his bees by truck from south to north following the blooming period of the best nectar producing crops. The trip north may take him almost to the Canadian border. In late summer, he starts the return trip but on the way makes stops to harvest from fall flower flows. Total honey production for such a round trip may reach a million pounds.

Transporting bees is a fairly simple operation provided everything works as planned. The beekeeper closes the hive entrance at night after the bees have returned from the field. Hive bodies are stapled together for the move and are loaded in stacks on the trucks.

Now bees are important for agriculture for pollinating crops. Research at Texas A&M University shows that seed production from clover can be increased seven-fold when bees are used to pollinate it. Farmers who grow clover and alfalfa for seed, for example, welcome the migratory beekeeper to their farms.

But isn't all hot biscuits and honey for the beekeeper. He can run into a peck of trouble in a hurry. When bees are in the vicinity of fields being treated with chemicals for insect control, he sometimes has to make a forced move in a hurry. Otherwise, he may lose an investment running into thousands of dollars.

There are other problems he must overcome by good management but those who profit most from his efforts are the ultimate consumers of the food delicacy which he and his hard working bees provide.

two first downs, then kicked on its third series, setting the Hornets back to their 16. From there Wimmer and Klement did the heavy toting for a 74 yard gain to the 10 yard line on 11 plays. Next play added 3 and the following one was the heartbreaking fumble.

Nevertheless the first Hornet TD was not delayed long. Ending its series Lindsay failed to get off a kick and Muenster was on the 14. Muenster also failed and Lindsay took possession on the 7. Three plays later Muenster scored on Lindsay's fumble behind the line. Klement crashed over for bonus points.

After that for a while fate seemed to smile on the Knights. After a first down they failed on the second series. The Hornets, on their 38, were penalized back to the 23 and fumbled the next play. From there the Knights hammered to the 1 in six plays and fumbled away their near cinch.

A good kick opening the second half put Lindsay in play on its 10 and the kick ending its first series was blocked. Muenster was on the 5 and Wimmer made good on the first try.

For a while then the Knights were in control again. Starting from their 16 they kept plowing for 72 yards on 6 first downs to the 12. There the drive bogged down and the next series ended on the 7.

Then the quickie Hornet drive with Klement going strong. Five plays reached the 17 and Wimmer scored on the next play. But instead of points the Hornets got a holding penalty, back to the 32. Klement then made 15, Wimmer 5 and Swirczynski the final 12. Wimmer's run for extra points was good. The score, 22-0.

After kickoff Lindsay made a first, kicked on the next series. That's when Wimmer made his big kick return.

For the rest of the game the Knights made two first downs and failed on the third series.

Electronic nurses, keeping "round-the-clock" watch on patients, will be available in hospitals of the future, say researchers at the University of Michigan Medical Center. The machines will continuously monitor temperature, blood pressure and heart beats of patients. Electrodes that look like small adhesive bandages are fastened to the patient's chest, pick up the heart's electrical sign and transmit it to a machine which records and computes heart action on paper.

The recent raise in social security benefits was prompted by the same problem. Payments lately were not going far enough because of the rising cost of living — in other words, the declining value of the dollar. So more money has to be given. And wage earners will have to pay more. Another case of taking from contemporaries to pay for official inflation policy.

Incidentally, the raise of social security benefits was quite a neat political trick. Beneficiaries are to get their raise before the election but the increase of social security tax comes after the election. The pay off is early enough to influence favorable votes but the gig is too late to influence unfavorable votes — unless people just happen to know.

Continue Crafts

Lindsay Craft Club youngsters headed by Mrs. Norbert Rohmer had a meeting Monday in the Parish Hall. The girls continued their project of painting quilt blocks with paints obtained through the Gold Bond project. Refreshments were served during the meeting.

A tour of Arkansas was vacation last week for Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Neu who made the trip with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hoenig of Irving. The foursome made scenic tours and, visited places of interest including National Park and Forest at Hot Springs and they stopped at Benton to see their niece and cousin, Sister Silvaria. On their return last Thursday night they drove to Muenster to visit the Wilfred Bindels and the Joe Hoenigs. The Raymond Hoenigs returned to Irving Friday after an overnight visit with her parents.

tion waiting when a worker arrives. The recommended donation is one day's pay.

At Muenster, Henry Weinzapfel reports, the Muenster Dress Factory apparently will stand out again as the big donor of the community. The management is hoping to get a pledge from every worker to give 25 cents out of each week's pay for the coming year. That would figure to over $800 for the year. Last year the factory gave $200 and its employees $261. Total donations in Muenster last year were $1782.74.

Most of the money has been returned to the community. Weinzapfel pointed out, while still more is available to the community. Funds came directly for the local youth program and to 4-H and FFA prize winners. The community also gets benefit of the Red Cross swimming program and the Boy Scout and Campfire Girls programs. Besides, the community or its inhabitants away from home are eligible for the services of Red Cross, Salvation Army, USO, and Diabetic Foundation.

Workers in the local drive are Mrs. Louis Roberg, Mrs. Earle Otto, L. B. Bruns, Marty Klement, Rody Klement, Arthur Endres, Herbert Miller, Clyde Fisher, Pat Hennigan, Bill Pratt, Vincent Felderhoff, Al Felderhoff, Leo Lawson, Urban Endres, B. J. Swirczynski, Jerome Pagel, Dan Luke, Clyde Muller, Carl Walterscheid, Larry Yosten, Wm. J. Miller, Bill Luke, Albert Herr, Jerry Wimmer, Robert Bayer, Richard Grewing, Steve Moser and Henry Weinzapfel.
