NUMBER 33

It has been said that statistics can be found to support any contention under the sun. That statement is especially significant this week in relation to an advertisement published for Texas Free Bargaining and Marketing Committee in many of the state's newspapers.

The ad is headed "Time to Face Facts," and directly beneath the title it presents a graph showing "Texas Per Capita Income as a Percentage of National Average." The point presented there is that in 1947, when Texas passed its Right to Work Law, per capita income of the state was 85.6 per cent of the national average, whereas the 1965 per capita income is 82.3 per cent of the national average. The ad then explains that under right to work laws incomes of Texas people have fallen way behind the rest of the nation.

However the explanatory part of the ad ignores other pertinent information on the graph. From 1947 to 1961 Texas per capita income was a higher percentage of the national average than when Right to Work was passed. If the law is blamed for lower income the past four years it should be credited for higher income the other fourteen years.

Another point about the ad is that it refers to the average income of all Texans, not just to the income of wage earners. To say that per capita income is above or below the national average proves nothing at all about average income from wages. Texans receive income from many other sources as well. Those sources may be responsible for a drop in income while wages hold their level.

If a person wants to refer to statistics in connection with the present hassle over Taft Hartley 14-B he can find plenty of good figures, all taken from official records of government bureaus, which recommend allowing states to keep the Right to Work law. Here are some of those figures published by the National Right to Work Committee in an effort to show that states with Right to Work laws have been ahead of the other states in recent years in several categories of economic progress.

Rate of increase of per capita income 1953-1963: Right to Work states 43.7%, other states 35.4%, national average 37%.

Rate of increase of hourly earnings by manufacturing workers 1953-1963: Right to Work states 46.7%, other states 41.5%, national average 43.7%.

Rate of increase of weekly earnings of production workers 1955-1965: Right to Work states 46.8%, other states 42.8%, national average 44.3%.

Unemployment rate for 1964 — as a percent of total work force: Right to Work states 4%, other states 5%, national average 4.7%.

Rate of increase of bank deposits 1953-1964: Right to Work states 69.4%, other states 63.5%, national average 64.6%.

Rate of increase of capital expenditures 1953-1962: Right to Work states 37.1%, other states 27.2%, national average 29.8%.

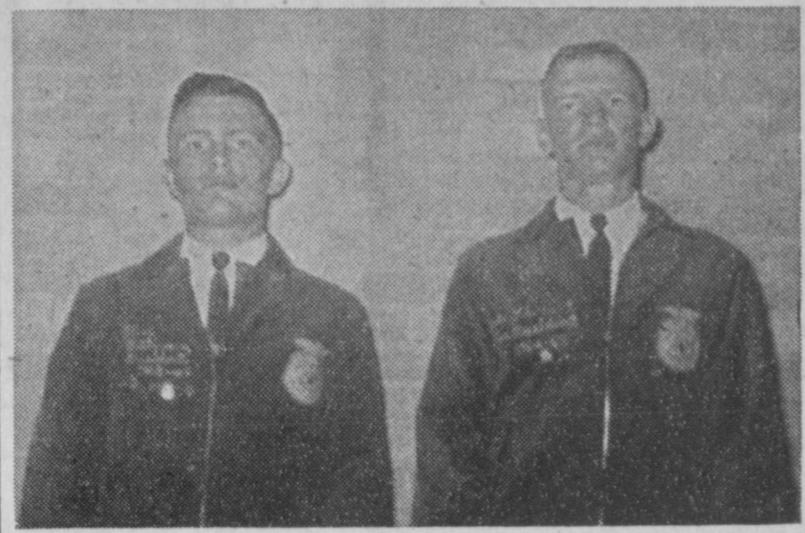

Rate of increase of non agricultural jobs 1953-1963: Right to Work states 23.3%, other states 9%, national average 12.6%.

So there you have some figures from the other side of the issue, figures which leave little doubt that economic progress in many of its phases is moving faster in the states which do not require compulsory membership in a union to hold a job.

It might be noted that these statistics apply to all of the 19 states which have Right to Work laws. And it might be further noted that comparison of the two reports on per capita income makes the first one appear rather weak. Texas per capita income is slightly below national average, but it is only one of the 19. For all Right to Work states the figure tops the national average.

We are told that tremendous pressure is being exerted to repeal Taft Hartley 14-B, thereby wiping out the right of all states to have their Right to Work law. Union bosses are pushing hard. President Johnson is pushing. So are all liberals and pinks and reds. So are congressmen who feel obligated to union support in their campaigns.

On the other hand there are (Continued on page 8)

Junior Course In Life Saving Booked at Pool

Another swimming class is in the plans for the near future at Muenster's municipal pool. Carl King, manager, said this week that a Junior Life Saving Class will be taught as soon as it can be organized, probably starting Monday the 19th. Enough interest has already been shown to assure enough enrollees for a good class.

The only requirement listed for the course is a minimum age of 12. King added however that at least fair swimming ability is taken for granted.

A class in Senior Life Saving is also being considered at the local pool. King said he is waiting for a show of interest before he starts organizing the course. Required age for that is 16 or over.

168 Swimmers Promoted

The advanced swim classes are under consideration just after completion of two weeks of elementary swimming instruction in four groups. King said that 221 students attended the full course of instruction and 168 of these advanced sufficiently for promotion into the next group. Beginning enrollment was 250.

In the beginners class the final enrollment was 140 and 110 received their promotion buttons. There were 52 intermediates and 32 finished the course. There were 19 swimmers and 16 completed the course. A special class of adults started with 12 and ended with 10. All made progress, King said. He also pointed out that a similar report applies to all children. Those who were not promoted at least improved their swimming.

King extends his thanks and those of the city to all the instructors who gave their time the past two weeks to help teach the classes.

PAYING A LOT FOR A LITTLE

Although it appears that nothing is going to stop enactment of the Medicare proposal by congress, we cannot refrain from calling attention to what it is going to cost an ordinary individual before he begins drawing any of the meager benefits the program provides. And this will be based on the present and anticipated rates, which will probably increase as time goes by. On the basis of rates in effect today a person who averages $4,000 a year income over a 45 year earning period — 20 to 65 years of age — will have paid $13,050 into the social security program by the time he is old enough to start drawing any benefits. That includes the employer's contribution, of course. If Medicare is added it is estimated that an additional five per cent will have to be collected to cover its cost. Over a 45 year period that will mean an additional $9,000, for a total of $22,050 each wage earner will have invested in social security by the time he is eligible to reap any benefits.

All the while he is accumulating this $9,000 he will be paying for some other type of medical insurance or run the risk of digging up the money from some other source in the event of illness. The Medicare cost figures $16.66 a month, and for that figure you can buy some pretty good insurance that will start protecting you from the day it is purchased. Medicare will not be effective until you reach the age of 65, and as presently understood, will then provide only a limited amount of hospitalization and nursing home care. It pays nothing toward the doctor bill.

It is doubtful that any people have ever been sold such a small package of goods for such a tremendous price. The truth of the matter is, of course, that it is primarily a tax - collecting scheme by which the American people's earnings can be siphoned into the public treasury without deductions and without refunds.

WE CAN LEARN

Poverty, with all its concomitants — substandard housing, inadequate educational and recreational facilities, absence of cultural opportunity, and the rest — is commonly considered a major cause of juvenile delinquency.

And there can be no doubt that environment is an important factor. But, perhaps, we tend to exaggerate its weight. For example, most of the Chinese living in this country — even in such famous Chinatowns as San Francisco's — live in poverty. Yet, while seven per cent of America's juveniles will be in trouble with the law this year, not one of them will be Chinese!

Paul Harvey makes that statement, in a column appearing in the Suburban & Lawrence Journal of Indianapolis.

Why is it so? He quotes one Chinese leader as saying: "We keep a tight rein on our children until they are really responsible." Another says: "Our children just naturally respect and obey their parents. A boy or girl would not bring shame on his family or his family name."

It looks as if we can learn something from the American Chinese — including those whose lives are spent in grinding poverty.

THERE IS A CHOICE

It is expected that the $6 billion medicare bill will reach the floor of the Senate in early July. And, for the sake of the national health, it is hoped that all the Senators will recall some words spoken by Donovan F. Ward, M. D., president of the American Medical Association in testimony given before the Senate Finance Committee.

He said: "This may be your last chance to weigh the consequences of taking the first step toward establishment of socialized medicine in the United States. While there is still time, we urge you to pause, consider and act wisely." Dr. Ward called on the experience abroad to support his case. As he pointed out, in the nations that have adopted a centralized governmental health care program, the results have been long waits, poor equipment and facilities, short and impersonal examinations, redtape record-keeping. He asked: "can we hope the American plan will be so different as to negate all these adverse factors?"

No one can honestly say that the dangers medicare presents must be accepted because there is no other way to meet the medical needs and problems of the aged. The AMA proposed Eldercare plan, for example, is superior in every way. It would use public funds, locally administered, to offer the aged a complete range of health care if they cannot afford to pay their own expense. Blue Cross, Blue Shield and health insurance companies would provide the coverage. No money would be spent to pay the medical bills of the well-to-do. All the resources would be devoted to bringing aid to those who need it. It will soon be up to the Senate to decide.

THE CORRECTIVE

Washington reporters are saying that the vote on repeal of section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, which permits the states, if they so choose, to pass Right-to-Work laws, is apt to be extremely close and could go one way or the other.

Just why this should be so is a puzzle. Right-to-Work doesn't discriminate in any shape, manner or form against labor or the unions. It simply gives each worker the right to choose — to decide for himself, without fear of union or employer coercion, whether he wants to belong to a union or doesn't. If that isn't a fundamental right, essential in any free society, what is?

The compulsory union shop makes for labor monopolies compared to the financial and industrial monopolies that were outlawed long ago. And the compulsory union shop leaves the way wide open for exploitation of the membership — the worker must join or become jobless and is without the power to fight abuses. Right-to-Work is the corrective.

DON'T CUT IT — REMOVE IT!

This is a good time, thinks the Tax Foundation, Inc., to dream up some more painless new ways for Uncle Sam to shake down his nieces and nephews for the hundred billions — plus, that he thinks he needs annually to run his greatest-show-on-earth. To relieve high income tax rates the Foundation is looking into sales taxes at retail, wholesale and manufacturing levels, expenditure taxes, turnover taxes, even lotteries.

So it ought to be a good time to beat the drum for the "Liberty Amendment" that proposes to do away with personal income tax, estate and gift taxes by cutting the cost of Government in half and the national debt by $65 billion!

The Amendment would require the sale of lands and facilities of the 700 business-type activities now conducted by the Federal Government. It figures! And five states have approved!

In Texas after a day's fishing beer's the one... for good taste, good fun

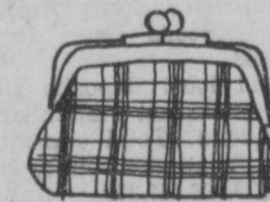

Wherever you fish for sport—on the ocean, by the booming surf, or on some quiet country pond, it's great at the end of the day to head for a rewarding glass of beer. While you're talking over the ones that got away, or pan-frying the ones that didn't, you enjoy the hearty taste and cool refreshment only a glass of beer can give you so well. Yes, whatever your sport—bowling or strolling, golfing or gardening—a frosty glass of beer makes a naturally great accompaniment.

If you're in the market for central air conditioning, this ad can save you hundreds of dollars!

GAS AIR CONDITIONING SAVES MONEY AND HEADACHES YEAR AFTER YEAR

You save in operating efficiency, low maintenance, amazingly long service. Combined heating and cooling costs with gas are substantially lower than for electric heating and cooling. Add to that the savings in maintenance and electric compressor replacements and you'll see why gas is your best home air conditioning investment.

LOW DOWN PAYMENT, AS LITTLE AS $25/MO. FOR 2.8-TON UNIT

This new gas unit for medium-size homes both cools and heats . . . puts the world's finest air conditioning in reach of everyone.

HOW GAS UNITS CAN LAST TWICE AS LONG AS ELECTRIC

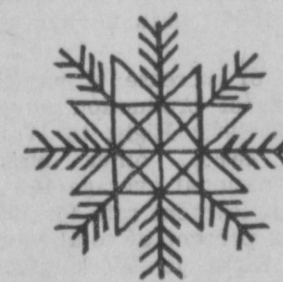

Gas cooling for homes has no compressor. A simple gas flame is the heart of the cooling cycle — with few moving parts to wear or need repair. No wonder the life-expectancy of gas air conditioning is double that of compressor types!

SPECIAL SUMMER GAS AIR CONDITIONING RATES

Owners of gas air conditioners get reduced gas rates for cooling during the hot summer months. This makes for even more economy from an efficient gas unit!

CALL FOR A FREE ESTIMATE ON GAS AIR CONDITIONING. NO OBLIGATION.

Don't be fooled by "horseback estimates" on costs! Get a bona fide air conditioning price from Lone Star Gas and compare with the price of the same size electric unit. You'll find the little extra per month to buy a gas unit buys you a lot more air conditioning over the years! There are two types of gas systems for the home: a combination cooling and heating system and an add-on cooling system. Investigate the possibility of gas air conditioning your home now.

Family Gathering Is Welcome Home For Wilbert Vogel

Family members welcomed Wilbert Vogel home from Africa at a reunion Sunday in the home of his parents, the Joe Vogels. Wilbert flew in from Nigeria Thursday on a month's vacation, a part of which will be spent in Houston at school taking a summer shortcourse. He left Monday, will be back for more visiting here before returning to Nigeria.

Reunioning Sunday and hearing highlights of Wilbert's two years in Africa were Weldon Vogel and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hess and children Brian and Cheryl of Dallas, Misses Lillian and Virginia Vogel of Fort Worth, and the Robert Beyers and family of Lindsay. Another sister and her family, the Clifford Ottos of Gainesville were on vacation but they saw him as he arrived and had dinner with him in Fort Worth.

To date Wilbert has seen only one of the home town boys, John Aytes, in the African oil field. He has also visited with Brother Louis Fuhrmann at a mission school in Nigeria.

An August wedding is being planned. It will be solemnized here in Sacred Heart Church.

Miss Reiter is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and of business college in Wichita Falls. She is employed as a secretary for a law firm in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Curtis Holland of Cleburne advises that her brother-in-law, Ben R. Holland, is a patient at 5th Avenue Clinic, Room 8, Fort Worth, Texas, with a broken foot and will enjoy hearing from friends. He'll be a patient for some time. Ben often accompanies the Hollands to Muenster on their visits with her mother Mrs. Bob Yosten.

Mr. and Mrs. J D Hanna were in Marietta, Okla., Tuesday afternoon for the funeral of Mrs. Ollie Gilmer. Mr. Hanna was one of the bearers. Mrs. Gilmer's husband died in January. He was pharmacist of the Hanna Drug Store in Marietta.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wood and sons Sammy and David left early Thursday this week to return to Pennsauken, N.J., after a visit with her parents, the John Strengs and other relatives including her sister, Mrs. Vincent Bozzone and family. Captain Bozzone left last Thursday for his new station — Chanute Air Force Base, Ill. — but his wife and daughter Linda remained for a longer visit. Mrs. Bozzone is regaining her strength after surgery since she is in Muenster.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Schoech enjoyed a weekend visit in Subiaco, Ark., making the trip with her sister Mrs. Walt Barry Jr. and son James of Dallas and another sister, Miss Frances Spaeth of Denison. They left James to attend two weeks of vacation camp at Subiaco Academy. It was the final weekend of Miss Spaeth's vacation. She had just returned from Florida. The Schoechs visited their son, Frater Frowin, and other Muenster boys there including Fraters Guy Pels, Lucian Gehrig and Xavier Kleiss and former Muenster pastor Father Christopher Paladino.

Mrs. J D Hanna went to Stillwater, Okla., Wednesday for a visit with her son and family, the J. Dan Hannas, for a few days.

Arriving here Tuesday for a vacation visit were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dillard and children Vickie Lee, Lonnie, Debbie and Arlen of Amarillo. They are guests of her mother, Mrs. Oscar Detten. From Muenster they'll go to Arkansas to visit his relatives and will stop here again before returning home. Visiting over the weekend with Mrs. Detten were friends from Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Don White.

It was a short vacation but it was lots of fun according to the Raymond and Norbert Walterscheids who spent three days of last week at Freeport fishing. And they came home with fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wolf, daughter Miss Charlotte Wolf and granddaughter Missy Wolf returned Wednesday night from a holiday in Houston with Mitchell Wolf since Sunday. Among activities was seeing the Astro dome and a game there when the Astros played the Dodgers.

Giants 8, Yanks 5 Dodgers 12, Braves 5

Last week's games were different in the big kids division of the Little League. The Giants broke their losing streak and the Braves broke their winning streak. As a result Braves and Dodgers are tied for the league lead with records of 3-1 and Yanks and Giants share the bottom with records of 1-3.

In the opening game the Giants overcame their jinx in the first inning and got their limit of 5 runs before an out was made. 2 errors, 2 walks and 2 hits did it. Three more runs in the second and third made the margin of win as Yanks made 1 each in five innings. Yanks had more to work on — 4 hits, 9 walks and 4 errors compared with 5 hits, 8 walks and 2 errors — but the opportunities were scattered and failed to pay off. Giant hitters were Alvin Hoening 2 singles, Ken Walterscheid, John Felderhoff and David Fette each a single. Yank hitters: Bobby Bruns a double and a single, John Schneider and Tommy Hess each a single.

Next game the Dodgers went their limit on two innings in blasting the Braves 12-5. Their 10 hits and 5 walks along with 7 errors came mostly in the third and fourth innings. Braves had 4 walks and 4 errors to help their three scattered hits. Time To Face Facts

Source: Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas.

Under Texas' so-called "right to work" law, the incomes of Texas people have fallen way behind the rest of the nation. Because most Texans have not had the right to bargain effectively for better wages, we have always been behind other states but things have actually gotten much worse since 1947 when the so-called right to work law was passed. Texas is one of the few states to have enacted this unfortunate and harmful law.

Thanks to the leadership of our Texan President, Lyndon B. Johnson, we now have a chance to put the family wage-earners of Texas back on an even basis with people throughout the nation. President Johnson has asked Congress to approve new labor legislation repealing the section of the Taft-Hartley law that has done so much to lower the average incomes of millions of Texans. This section is called 14-B. Let President Johnson know that Texans stand behind him in his program to help the wage earners of Texas. Write your Congressman today and ask him to support the President by voting to repeal section 14-B of Taft-Hartley. You'll be helping the economy of Texas and helping your children to grow up in a state with greater opportunity for all in the years ahead.

strong indications that the nation wants to keep 14-B. Opinion polls, including union membership, favor it by a big margin. The legislature of Iowa refused to scratch it as a state law. Governor Connally asked all Texas lawmakers in the national capital to vote against repeal. Leading periodicals all over the country say that 14-B should be retained. One even wonders whether LBJ is as determined as he pretends. He has favored Right to Work in the past, and now the effect of his attitude is definitely softened by the statement of his good friend Connally.

There is still a chance that common sense will prevail when the Senate comes to a vote on the bill. In their hearts the senators know it is morally wrong to force any person to join a union in order to hold a job. Conscientious men need no other reason to vote for keeping Taft Hartley 14-B. And smart people can follow their judgment in the clear conviction that unions will be better and members will be happier when people join because they have to. The all important fact is that good unions do not need compulsory unionism and bad unions do not deserve it.

Rosemary Hermes Tom Dankesreiter Marry at Lindsay

Miss Rosemary Hermes and Thomas Dankesreiter were married at Nuptial Mass in St. Peter's Church at Lindsay on Saturday, July 3, in a 5 p.m. service. Father John Walbe celebrated the Mass and performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hermes of Lindsay and Lawrence F. Dankesreiter of Muenster. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Alencon lace and silk organza over antique white taffeta. The empire bodice and long sleeves were fashioned of lace. The skirt had a slim, lace-frosted sheath effect in front and bouffant draped folds at the side flowing into a chapel train. A blossom crown held her waist-length veil and she carried a purple-throated white orchid on top of her prayer book, a gift from the bridegroom.

Adding traditional wedding sentiment, the bride wore an antique cross and chain that her grandmother, Mrs. Alfons Koessler, wore at her wedding 54 years ago after receiving it from her bridegroom. For something borrowed she wore her mother's gold ear-screws. Blue ribbons fastened the orchid to her prayer book.

Mrs. Thomas Hesse of Muenster, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Koessler of Muenster, bride's cousin, were maid of honor and bridesmaid. They wore pink embroidered crystal peau dresses over taffeta and carried a single long-stemmed pink rose. A taffeta rose and pink tulle fashioned their headpieces.

Mary Kay Caplinger and Susan Lin Koessler of Muenster, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. They were in pink crystal peau with full shirred overskirts of organza.

Cecil Hermes of Sherman, brother of the bride was best man and Ralph Hermes, Lindsay, another brother, groomsmen. Thomas Hesse and Gilbert Hermes ushered.

Another brother, Francis Hermes, and Steven Zimmerer, Donny Schad and Richard Hundt, cousins, and Ricky Bezner were candle lighters and acolytes.

St. Cecilia's choir sang the Mass. Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer and Mrs. Ben Hermes presented a vocal duet before the service and Mrs. Rody Klement of Muenster sang after Mass when the bride placed a bouquet of white gladioli on the Blessed Virgin's altar. Mrs. Bill Schmitz was organist.

Wedding reception and buffet were held in the Parish Hall where Misses Gretchen Koessler and Rose Ann Sickling registered about 325 guests. The bride's table held the three-tier wedding cake topped with a gold cross and double wedding bands, and further ornamented with the traditional bride and groom figurines.

A wedding dance concluded festivities. Playing for the dance were the bride's uncles Norbert Koessler and J. D. Caplinger and her cousins Sonny Walterscheid, Mrs. Mike Schilling and Mrs. Dennis Hofbauer.

When they left on their wedding trip to Colorado the bride wore a brown dacron voile dress with white accessories and the orchid she carried at the wedding.

They will reside in Muenster in their new white brick veneer home. He is in the service station business.

The bride is a graduate of Lindsay High School, Cooke County Junior College and Sherwood Music School in Chicago. She is a teacher in St. Mary's School in Gainesville. The bridegroom was graduated from Sacred Heart High School and served in the army with duty in Germany.

Among guests at the wedding were Father Thomas Taaffe of Gainesville, Father Alcuin Kubis of Muenster and Brother Michael Fuhrmann of Subiaco, Ark., who were in the sanctuary during Mass.
