

According to the old church calendars the first three days of this week, preceding the feast of Ascension, were known as "Rogation Days" when Christians got down on their knees and asked Almighty God to bless their crops.

The custom originated more than 1500 years ago in France after a number of crop failures had caused widespread hunger. People then were no different from those of today. While things are going smoothly they are inclined to take things for granted. They forget that this is God's world and He sometimes needs to remind us that He's running the show and providing our daily bread.

Wise old timers were aware of that and acted accordingly. Furthermore they continued their custom for many centuries, some bringing it to this country with them. Older folks of the community can recall that the early settlers here used to leave their fields on three successive days to come and ask the Lord's blessing. The service consisted of a procession over the parish grounds while reciting the rosary.

Gradually the custom faded out but it is still being observed in an indirect manner, perhaps applying the old slogan that God helps those who help themselves. Rogation Days have become Soil Stewardship Week, an occasion for us to reflect that the earth belongs to God and those who use it have a sacred duty to return it to Him in as good a condition as received, or better.

Normally this week would be the time for the annual conservation awards banquet honoring farmers who do a particularly good job of soil stewardship. However, because Rogation Days are linked to the movable feasts of Easter and Ascension, they frequently come at harvest time. Local farmers, preferring to be in their fields then, have moved their banquet to the early part of the month.

We are pleased to realize that this modern observance of Rogation Days calls on people to take on their part of the responsibility of providing for mankind. This isn't just God's job. After all, saving the soil and improving its potential have a bearing on crops as well as the weather. But an unfortunate fact is that we still have only the one ingredient production. Now it's stewardship instead of prayer, and it seems that a better way would be stewardship with prayer.

The worldly wise won't go for that idea, we know. They like to think they don't need a God. But lots of others think that God would appreciate the attention, and it just seems smart to be appreciative.

Just ahead is Memorial Day, one of the most popular holidays of the nation. Coming, as it does, in the spring of the year, weather is usually good, the temperature pleasantly warm, the roads clear, and flowers in bloom... an ideal time for traveling.

Originally established on May 30, 1868, in honor of soldiers who died in the Civil War, and later expanded to include those who died for their country in all wars, Memorial Day has become primarily an opportunity to go places and visit. This applies especially since a few years ago when the three-day holiday started.

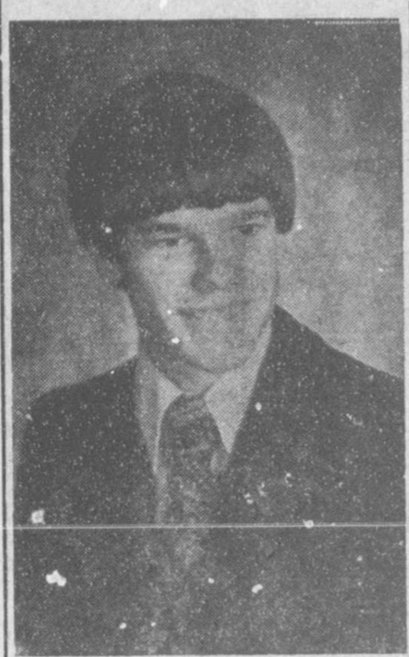

Accordingly Memorial weekend is a time when many thousands of additional vehicles are on the roads. Millions will travel, some for great distances, tending to leave early and return late and drive in a hurry. Considering those factors, it is not surprising to learn from public safety officials that the Memorial weekend is expected to be marred by one of the highest traffic casualty rates of the year.

The thought of such tragedies should serve to forewarn us for the next few days. Whether we drive far or just a short distance, it's a good idea to bear in mind that there are more drivers than usual, and many of them may be tired or in a hurry or pre-occupied. The hazards are more numerous, so we have more reason than ever to drive defensively, watch

1.61 Inch Rain Delays Harvest

1976 seems to be a year in which the grain crop and the weather failed to get coordinated. Rainfall, which was inadequate during the growing season is too abundant during the harvest season.

In general over the community, the yield is estimated at about 50 per cent of normal, and prospects of reaping a good portion of that are getting poorer by the day. Grain has been mature in many fields since the first of the week but combines are unable to operate.

The week's first rainfall was 1.28 inch recorded Sunday, and .24 and .09 were added on Monday and Tuesday. At the same time damp cloudy days held drying to a minimum.

Total for May to date is 4.25 inches and the total through April was 9.01, bringing the year's measure to 13.26 inches, still below normal but getting fairly close. Coming mostly in April and May, the moisture has been a big help to pastures and hay and it has the ground in fine shape for maize and corn.

The local wheat yield appears to be in line with the rest of the state where the overall crop is estimated at about 50 per cent of last year's, according to Ag Commissioner John C. White. The price now is about $3.25 per bushel. Oats that has been harvested as hay is less disappointing.

Becky Davidson Is NTSU Graduate

Becky Davidson received a Bachelor of Science degree in secondary education from North Texas State University on May 8. Her teaching field is in History and English. Becky, a graduate of Muenster High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davidson of Muenster and granddaughter of Mrs. Louise Siegmund of Gainesville. The graduation ceremony was attended by her parents, her grandmother and her sister Pat, Kathy and Amy.

Hornets Outscore Callisburg 7-4 in District Playoff

For the second successive year the Muenster High baseball team advanced to bi-district, but it was slightly different this time. The Hornets had to share the champ title with Callisburg when both ended with 5-1, then they were 7-4 winners in last Thursday's playoff to determine the 13-A representative to play Sanger for bi-district honors.

Last year the Hornets won their bi-district over Frisco and then sacked Whitwright for the regional honor. That ended the season. Class A teams do not go past regional in UIL.

Good hitting did the job for MHS. They had eight hits working for them, plus well timed walks and Callisburg errors to bring in three runs in the second and two each in the third and fourth.

Callisburg seemed to have something going in the second and brought in one run, but Danny Endres halted them with runners stranded. Again in the fourth Endres held 'em scoreless after they had loaded the bases. And in the seventh Callisburg's rally was cut short by Tim Wolf, who came in as Endres' relief. Endres almost pitched a no-hitter and was deprived of the honor in the seventh. However 8 walks and 3 Hornet errors gave Callisburg something to work with.

Along with a good pitching job Endres got a pair of singles, but the slugger of the day was Bob Endres on two doubles and a single. Also Kim Walterscheid, Neil Walterscheid and Mike Davidson got singles.

Funeral Service Held Saturday for Ricky Huchton, 22

Funeral service for Richard (Ricky) Huchton, 22, was held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in Sacred Heart Church with his uncle Father Nicholas Fuhrmann of Subiaco, Abbey, Ark., officiating.

Huchton had died Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in a Wichita Falls Hospital. Rosary service for him was held Friday at 8 in the chapel of Nick Miller Funeral Home.

Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was directed by Nick Miller and the pallbearers were Ronny Wachsmann, Michael Stoffels, Donald Stoffels, Roger Haverkamp, Robert Walterscheid and Lynn Huchton.

Huchton was a native of Muenster and a resident here all of his life. He was born on July 22, 1953, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Huchton. He was a graduate of Muenster High School.

Survivors are his parents; five brothers, Terry, Neal, Billy, Lyle and Rex, all of Muenster; and two grandmothers, Mrs. Katherine Huchton of Muenster and Mrs. Willie Fuhrmann of Lindsay.

Lives of Service Urged as Goal at SH Graduation

Graduates of Sacred Heart High School at their commencement Sunday night in Sacred Heart Church, were urged to apply themselves in making this a better world.

The speaker was Father Hubert Schiffer of the Montserrat Retreat House, Lake Dallas. He referred to spreading happiness on the personal level by courtesy and kindness as well as serving society by working for greater social justice.

In contacts with others, his first advice was to "be yourself". He referred to personalities as God's gift, to be used preferably as God gave it. "Have the courage to be yourself and live up to your ideals even when the world does not seem to agree." He also recalled that others are like ourselves about being wanted and appreciated, so we can do a great service by being kind to them.

He said that "I" is the most overworked word, and words like "well done" and "thank you" are used too little, so a good goal is to change our frequency in the use of each. A related virtue is to accept praise gratefully and gracefully.

Social justice was recommended on both the local and global levels. He encouraged appreciation of social workers who labor among the poor, the confused and the misled. He urged charity to the world's starving, but more so the support of programs enabling the poor to do more for themselves. Such help to God's less fortunate people, ministering to their rights and dignity as well as their hunger, is a sure trait of a successful life.

Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr, assisted by Father Placidus Eckart presented diplomas to the school's 21 high school graduates and 38 elementary graduates. Another presentation was a bouquet of red roses congratulating Sister Theresina on the golden jubilee of her sisterhood. Thirty one of those 50 years were spent teaching here.

The classes, along with clergy and faculty entered church in a processional played by the horn section of Muenster High School Band under direction of Mrs. David Bright. At the end the same group played for the recessional.

Father Placidus Eckart was celebrant of the graduation mass. Members of the senior class gave the scriptural readings, members of the faculty presented the offertory gifts, and girls of the junior class sang.

As a special bicentennial observance the seniors wore white and blue ribbons and a mital sundial.

Mrs. Clifford Sicking (Kathy) is the new employee at the Muenster Enterprise, replacing Mrs. Allen Reiter.

Arthur Hellman Is Heart Attack Victim

Final rites for Arthur B. Hellman, 66, were held at 10:30 Tuesday in Sacred Heart Church with Father Placidus Eckart officiating and Father Damian Wewers of Lindsay joining in the con-celebrated mass. Father Placidus also gave the funeral sermon and led the graveside prayers.

Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was directed by the Nick Miller Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Tony Trubenbach Jr., Herbert Meurer, Dolphy Joe Hellman, Ronnie Weinzapfel, Dwayne Hellman and Sid Thomas.

Rosary service in the chapel of Miller Funeral Home was held at 4 p.m. Monday and a wake service was held at 7:30.

Hellman died suddenly about 9:30 Sunday morning apparently of a heart attack, while driving a pickup about a mile from his home. He was not known to have a heart condition and had spent his life time without being a hospital patient. Seemingly in normal good health, he had attended the 7 a.m. mass as usual in Sacred Heart Church.

Arthur Hellman was a native and lifelong resident of Muenster. He was born on April 24, 1910, a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hellman, and attended school here. He was married to Pauline Otto on December 26, 1931, and has spent the years since then on a farm some six miles south of Muenster.

He was active in community life, served as member and president of the Muenster school board and as treasurer of the school district. He was a member of the Muenster KC council, the temporary president of Muenster Telephone Company during its transition to Muenster Telephone Corp.

Survivors are his wife; four sons, Glenn of Lindsay, Lonnie of the home, Douglas of Dallas and Dr. Mark Hellman of Curtis, Neb.; three daughters, Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel and Mrs. Jimmy Jack Biffle of Muenster and Mrs. John Aytes of Denton; one brother, Paul William of Wagoner, Okla.; one sister, Mrs. Vincent Baker of Chicago; and 19 grandchildren.

Among relatives and friends attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hellman and Mark and Chris of Curtis, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hellman of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. John Aytes and Desiree and Kregg and Mr. and Mrs. Sid Thomas, all of Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hellman and Dwayne, Glenna, Sandy, Bryan, Gina and Jeff of Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Baker and Bill of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hellman of Wagoner, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hellman of Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Janusek of Mrs. Frank Elrich of Bryan; Mrs. Della Bayer of Dallas; Bill Otto of Fort Worth; Lorraine Otto and L. A. Two members of Kappa Theta Chapter of ESA International, Genie Gilliland and Joyce Mitchell both of Gainesville, were honored by members for outstanding records and contributions during the past year.

Mrs. Gilliland, named outstanding ESAer, is currently sorority president, and has held various offices in the organization. She has earned her first peral award, both first and second degree pallas athene awards. The former Eugenia French, Genie is married to Curtis Gilliland and they have two children, Arreva Mae Marcell and Eugene.

Also honored by Kappa Theta was Joyce Mitchell, selected as Outstanding First Year Member. During her seven months of membership, she was hostess for an evening of entertainment at Hillcrest Manor in February and was decoration chairman for the District VI meeting in Gainesville in January. She assisted with the Little Miss Pageant in several committees and is currently Ways and Means chairman and co-chairman of the float for the Gainesville Bi-entennial Parade and has earned her first peral award. Mrs. Welch earned a second degree pallas athene award for service to chapter projects. She is married to Bob Welch and they have two children, Jennifer and Jeffrey.

The woman who insists upon making a match for her daughter probably intends to referee it as well.

Burleson Invites Applications for Service Academies

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Omar Burleson reminds young persons who are interested in competing for nominations to the service academies, for the class entering July 1977, he uses a competitive method of selection so that all young persons who meet the necessary requirements may be considered.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado; and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. These institutions offer a fine education and a great opportunity for service to their country by young persons who wish to follow a military career.

In order for Congressman Burleson to consider applicants, a candidate must meet these requirements: (1) Must be a U.S. citizen; (2) Must be over 17 and a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (3) Must be under 22 years of age on July 1, 1977; (4) Must never have been married; (5) Must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) Must have a good high school record.

Burleson stresses that political influence is not a factor in his nominations to the Academies. The important thing is not who you know but what you are.

Interested young persons who meet the above requirements should write Congressman Omar Burleson, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515, no later than July 16. Examinations will then be scheduled as a rating device to set up slates for nominations. The competition is keen but Congressman Burleson wants to assure that all young persons who are interested in a military career may have an opportunity to compete for nomination.

Korea Girl Joins The Gene Lowreys

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lowrey of Mansfield announce with pride a new daughter, Celesta Dawn, who became their little girl on May 13. She was born in Korea on January 8 and the Lowreys met her when she arrived in Chicago, through sponsorship of Catholic Social Services in Fort Worth.

Celesta Dawn was baptized on Sunday morning, May 23, following the 11:30 Mass in St. Jude's Church of Mansfield. Father Reginald Kelly, the pastor, officiated. Baptismal sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Werner Becker Jr., an uncle and aunt. Also present were the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jaspas Lisle of Fort Worth and the three Beckers, Stephen, Wayne and Werner III.

Celesta Dawn's christening dress was a gift from her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Werner Becker, Sr. Following the religious services, the Lowreys were hosts for dinner in their home. Mr. and Mrs. Becker, Sr. were in Mansfield last week to get acquainted with their new granddaughter, who is a baby sister for 1½ year old Brendan.

Celesta Dawn and Brendan's great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Becker of Muenster.

Metrics Discussed By Forestburg HD

Assistant County Agent Mrs. Imogene Evans met with the Forestburg Home Demonstration Club and presented a program on Metrics during the May 17 meeting. Presented as an amusing dialogue, the topic was a study of the coming use of metrics.

Included in the program was a demonstration on the many uses of the avocado. Mrs. Evans served an avocado salad, a well balanced meal itself.

Members present were Velma Freeman, Cleta Reynolds, Betty Reynolds, Decie Ellzey, and Juanita Bailey. Several were absent because of illness. The club president, Mrs. Marion Sockwell was at the bedside of her husband, a patient at Muenster Hospital. Decie Ellzey won the door prize, a vase and colorful flower arrangement by Millie Reynolds.

RE-ELECT BILL PRATT SHERIFF

A vast majority of the people of Cooke County are good honorable people, ready and willing to fight crime and corruption wherever it may exist as proved by the statistics that show Cooke County as one of the lowest crime rate areas in the State. I count myself as Sheriff of Cooke County one of them. The people of Cooke County are too intelligent to be stampeded by last minute rash rumors, whether the rumors are directed at me or my opponent. I have not started any rumors nor do I condone rumors. I stand on the facts and truth and I trust that any rumors on me or my opponent will be verified on the truth or falsity determined before voting. This I believe the voters will do. I have devoted most of my adult life trying to keep law and order. I submit that the low crime statistics of Cooke County speak louder than words. On this basis, I sincerely request your vote and support for sheriff with my assurance that I will continue to conduct myself in such a manner that you will never have cause to apologize for support you give me.

BANK
ON IT!

Inflation, simply stated, means it takes more to buy less, and while the experience may be new to some, anyone over 60, or even 45, has been through it before. The one thing the over 45 generation knows that nothing lasts forever. That holds true for inflation, recession and unemployment.

Since the turn of the century, we have had two major price inflation periods, not counting the present one, 1914-'20 and 1939-48, during and after two World Wars. Prices doubled, but so did our money supply. The nation also has experienced one fairly long continued peacetime rise in prices, 1897-1914, when everything went up 40-50%.

The economist-historians say we also have had four periods of economic stability, 1882-92, 1903-1913, 1923-29 and 1948-1960, and, since economic growth depends upon stable money, this nation experienced unprecedented industrial growth during each period.

As a nation, we have overcome and taken advantage of our setbacks, and we will continue to do so. One strength of our economy is its banking system, which is among the strongest in the world. Your bank provides the loans that build the businesses that generate the income that pays the salaries that pay the bills that keep industry moving.

Unique Situations

Lindsay and Muenster have unique business situations from the rest of the county since they are permitted by law to have businesses that can sell alcoholic beverages. Since the State of Texas gives Lindsay and Muenster the right to have these businesses, any candidate for sheriff would be insulting the intelligence of the citizens of these communities to make the following statements and expect the citizens to believe them.

1. That if elected sheriff he would close all businesses selling alcoholic beverages, legal or not, and stack hay in the buildings.
2. That if elected sheriff he would have deputies stationed at all businesses selling alcoholic beverages to check and harass customers.
3. That if elected sheriff he would not allow the Muenster Police Department to place prisoners in the county jail.

There are other statements equally as ridiculous as these, that I am alleged to have made but I think these will suffice to point out the absurdity, unreasonableness and stupidity of such statements attributed to me. Any candidate in his right mind would not dare make such statements and expect to get votes in these communities.

In the first place,

1. A sheriff can not, at his discretion, close any legally operated business. To do so would constitute a violation of the law on his part.
2. There are too many corrupting things going on in Cooke County such as murders, thefts, dope traffic, and related crimes that need the attention of the sheriff and his deputies too much to confine all the sheriff's manpower to just areas that have a legal right to sell and consume alcoholic beverages. I will expect the owners of these businesses to help keep their operations and customers within the law. The law must be respected by all, including the sheriff.
3. The county jail will not only be available to the Muenster Police Department, but to all lawmen who have a need to place a prisoner or prisoners in it.

I have tried to conduct my campaign in a manner that would appeal to the intelligence and reasonableness of the citizens so they would vote for me for sheriff, rather than appeal to the base instincts and fears of the citizens and try to scare or frighten them into voting for me.

Vote for Fair, Firm and Impartial Law Enforcement.

Margie Felderhoff, Clarence York United in Nuptial Ceremony

Margie Ann Felderhoff and Clarence Edward York were united in Holy Matrimony in Sacred Heart Church Saturday at 5 p.m. Father Stephen Eckart officiated for the vows and celebrated the Nuptial Mass.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Felderhoff of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. John L. York Sr., of Wharton.

Vows were exchanged in a setting of lighted candles and spring pastel gladioli. With a parting kiss, the bride was presented at the altar by her father. She wore a soft flowing gown of dacron polyester organza. The bodice featured a triple, lace edged ruffle forming a V, front and back and was bordered with a floral patterned Venice lace at the neck and waistline. Long, fitted sleeves of sheerest organza were edged in narrow lace at the wrists. The skirt was accented with lace appliques and floral Venice lace on a bias sheer ruffle which extended into an elegant attached brush train; narrow lace edged the ruffle and train.

Her triple tiered, finger tip length illusion veil edged with matching Venice lace was caught to a lace covered Camelet cap etched with seed pearls.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade centered with a removable white, purple throated orchid, yellow and pink sweetheart roses, stephanotis and blue pixie carnations with ivy, and white streamers in lovers knots and the rosary her mother carried in her wedding twenty five years ago. She wore a necklace, a gift of the groom, and she had a birth-date penny and a blue garter. Her 'something old' was a white lace handkerchief, a gift of her Grandmother, Mrs. Hubert Felderhoff.

The bride presented her mother and the groom's mother each a red silk rose, and the couple presented an arrangement of pastel gladioli at the Blessed Virgin's Altar, kneeling in a moment of meditation. During Mass, Offertory gifts were presented by Doris Henscheid, Leigh Ann Bayer, Amy Felderhoff and Doris Voth, cousins of the bride.

Attendants

Attending the bride were her cousin Mrs. Patsy Henry, matron of honor of Gainesville, her sister Rose Mury Felderhoff maid of honor and Mrs. Carolyn Joines of Wharton, groom's sister and Susan Felderhoff bride's sister as bridesmaids. They wore an enchanting array of rainbow pastels in separate colors of orchid, pink, blue or yellow. Dresses were designed identically with a yoke of flocked sheer organza edged with narrow, soft, self fabric ruffles around the Victorian styled collar and sweetheart neckline. Their dresses of soft pastel crepe were gathered at the waistline and accented with a self fabric bow in the back; an overlay of the flocked sheer organza accepted the front of the dress with an apron effect, extending into the deep ruffled hemline. Fluffy, long bishop sleeves stopped short of the wrist and sheer overlay cuffs buttoned to the wrist. The bridal attendants carried pastel spring bouquets.

Best man was John L. York, Jr. groom's brother of Houston; groomsmen were Chris, Thomas and Bill Felderhoff, bride's brothers. The groom wore a camel colored tuxedo and the best man, groomsmen, ushers and fathers of the couple wore galant dark brown tuxedos.

Acolytes were Mark Miller and Bert Miller, bride's cousins. Ushering guests were Robert Patterson and Charles Svatek, friends from Houston.

Wedding music included "Time in a Bottle", "Love Is Real", "Follow Me", "Sunrise, Sunset", "Of Our Hands", "Love, Love, Love", "Day By Day", "Wedding Song" and "One Hand, One Heart". Musicians and singers were Mary Lou Kralicke, Linda Miller, Laura Kralicke, Gayle Miller, Doris Schmitt, Lynda Klement and Mary Hess.

Reception

Following the Nuptial Mass, the bride's parents hosted a reception, catered dinner and dance in the Sacred Heart Community Center. Guests were registered by Mrs. Linda Fuhrmann of Muenster, and Miss Carolyn Lewandowski of Galveston. Mrs. Henry Spaeth cut the cake served by Brenda Henscheid, Dianne Bayer, Paulette Yosten, and Amy Miller, bride's cousins.

For the wedding and reception, the bride's mother wore a formal length pink dacron polyester gown and the groom's mother wore a blue formal of dacron polyester. Both had corsages of pale pink carnations, red roses and baby's breath.

Decoration in the reception rooms was outstanding. An array of pastel net seemed to float from the ceiling. Guests entered through a special wooden gazebo enhanced with colorful hanging baskets. On the wall behind the bride's table was hung a large bright banner, made by the Catholic Newman organization at the University of Houston. The bride's table was centered by the wedding cake, surrounded by fern and gladioli; bridesmaids' bouquets also decorated the bride's table. Guest tables were decorated with English ivy and bouquets of fresh spring flowers.

The couple left on their wedding trip to fly to Florida and then southeast to the British West Indies' Island of Grand Caymen; the bride was wearing a floral bright pink sheer polyester dress with white accessories.

When they return they will reside in Houston. The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High in Muenster and attended Cooke County College and Texas Women's University and earned a Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Houston. She is presently enrolled at the College of Optometry at UH. The groom is a graduate of Wharton High and attended Wharton County Junior College. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Houston and is employed as a lab technician at Rice University in the Chemical Engineering department while continuing graduate study.

Pre-nuptial celebrations included the rehearsal dinner for family and wedding party hosted by the groom's parents.

Three showers were given in the couple's honor. Mrs.

Frank York of Houston hosted a miscellaneous shower for friends and relatives. Miss Rhonda Yeager of Houston gave a bed and bath shower, Mrs. Eddy Henry and Mrs. David Spaeth hosted a lingerie shower.

The groom was honored with a bachelor's party the evening before the wedding, given by his groomsmen and friends.

Smart Shoppers Find Big Values at Outlet Stores

Even in a year when prices seem to be going through the roof, there are still ways to economize. Where, when and how you shop can make a tremendous difference in family expenditures — particularly in clothing and home fashions.

One shopping tip for bargain hunters is to explore the money-saving world of outlet stores. An outlet store is different than a department store, specialty shop or discounter. Unlike these other retailers, an outlet store generally offers famous-brand merchandise at 30 to 70 percent below regular retail prices.

Most outlet stores are operated by manufacturers who are faced with production overruns and slight irregularities that they can't market through traditional channels. So, by holding down fancy frills on fixtures, displays and advertising, it is possible for them to sell at prices only slightly above manufacturer's cost.

The key word here, of course, is VALUE. While it is possible to buy cheap merchandise at low prices, an outlet store can sell high quality items (that normally retail much higher) for less.

An example of this type of direct-from-factory marketing is Ashley's Outlet Store in Gainesville. The store is owned by a leading manufacturer of family clothing, home fashions and camping equipment and receives goods from more than 60 of its own plants.

With this many sources, the store can bring merchandise in early — and often — and sell at the lowest possible price to make room for new shipments.

Joyce Pierce, manager of Ashley's, offers these additional hints for getting it on the best bargains at an outlet store:

—SHOP OFTEN. Outlet stores feature many one-time items that may not be repeated or reordered. The frequent shopper can take advantage of these specials by coming in regularly to check on new shipments.

—SHOP EARLY. Outlet stores begin stocking seasonal merchandise further ahead than most stores. Because it comes direct from the factory, spring goods are available as early as January; fall goods begin arriving in June.

—SHOP EFFECTIVELY. Outlet stores usually offer the best selection right after deliveries. Your store manager can keep you posted on the store's normal schedule and procedures.

—SHOP SMART. Plan ahead to take advantage of your best buys. If you wait until the last minute, selections may be limited; or you may be forced to pay twice as much elsewhere.

By knowing how to shop outlet stores, a wise buyer can get quality merchandise and still beat inflation.

Outlet store shopping can be a money-saving experience if you follow a few simple guidelines.

Myra Club Starts Child Story Hour

A summer story hour program has been organized in Myra, sponsored by the Myra Improvement Club. It will be held on the third Thursday of each month, 2:30-4 p.m. at the Community Room.

The first meeting was held on May 19, when thirteen children, ages 3 through 6, attended. They worked on Father's Day cards, listened to records and read stories.

Sherry Hacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hacker, served refreshments.

The next meeting will be on June 17. Mothers must register their children by June 16. Phone Mrs. Jim Hacker 736-2244; Mrs. Ray Sicking 736-2291; Mrs. Larry Vogel 736-2215.

Walterscheids at First Communion Of Lynette Steele

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid and Amy were in Graham Sunday morning to attend the First Communion of their god-child, Lynette Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Steele. Mass and First Communion ceremonies were in St. Mary's Church at 10:30 a.m.

The Steeles were hosts for dinner following, in their home. A special First Communion cake was the table centerpiece. Family and group pictures were made.

During the afternoon, the Steeles and Walterscheids drove to Muenster in time to attend graduation exercises at Sacred Heart Sunday evening. The Steeles returned to Graham later Sunday night. Coach Steele told of his new appointment as head coach of Godley High School for next year.

Mrs. Charles Reiter was a weekend guest of her husband's relatives here and in Gainesville. In Muenster she visited the Wilfred, Alfons, Clem Reiters, Mrs. Buddy Reiter and Mrs. Charles Knapp. In Gainesville she visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Otto, Mrs. Catherine Luttmer and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Reiter.

Robert Detten, 73, of Amarillo died Sunday, May 16, of an apparent heart attack at his home. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Odilia Detten. She was unable to attend the rites.

Public School Happenings

Kindergarten

Morning and afternoon classes of kindergartners enjoyed a special treat as a "near the close of school" event. They rode a school bus to Ardmore where they boarded Amtrack to ride back to Gainesville. A group of mothers met the children at the train station, took them to Leonard Park for a sack lunch, a trip to the Zoo and play time at the park. Other mothers and many little brothers and sisters joined them at the park. Several mothers furnished drinks and cup cakes. Accompanying the children on the bus and train were Mrs. Leroy Yosten, Mrs. Roger Taylor, Mrs. Chris Walter and Mrs. James Walterscheid.

Fifth and Sixth Grades

The fifth grade presented the play "Blind Sunday" on May 13, under the direction of students Garland Tate and Le Jones. The play was given to the remainder of the fifth grade class and to the sixth grade. Everyone had a fine time preparing and seeing the play.

May 14 was a pleasant day for the fifth and sixth grades who went to Denton for their end of school trip. They enjoyed skating and then went to McKenna park where several mothers had prepared hamburgers, all the trimmings, drinks and cup cakes. After the picnic lunch, playing and relaxing for a while, the students returned to Muenster.

During their recent studies in science on electricity, the fifth grade was glad to have Eill Bedrick, manager of the Muenster TP&L office for a visit. He gave an informative talk and showed slides on materials and sites used in the production of electricity and explained how electricity goes from the source to the points where it is used.

A meter was shown; its operation was explained as well as the manner of figuring a consumer's bill. Mr. Bedrick pointed out that although electricity is very useful, it can also be very dangerous. He gave the class tips on what to do in case of an emergency involving electrical power.

SUMMER-IZING

CHECKLIST FOR A WELL-COOLED HOME

1. Set thermostat on 78° and leave it there. Turn unit off if you'll be away from home several days.
2. Keep equipment at top operating efficiency. Have it checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
3. Check filter regularly. Dirty filters cause equipment to use excessive electricity.
4. Proper home insulation keeps the cool in, cuts energy use. Twelve inches of insulation is recommended. Attic ventilation helps, too.
5. Keep fireplace damper closed. Draft pulls cool air up the chimney.
6. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns.
7. Weatherstrip doors and windows; caulk cracks to prevent drafts and cool air loss.
8. Shade on roof and walls can save energy. Keep outside compressor unit free of leaves, debris. If air flow is blocked, unit uses more energy.

Reducing plan for energy users

Plan E How to save electricity when using air conditioning

Central Systems

1. Set thermostat on 78°, or higher, during the summer. Turn unit off if you'll be away from home several days.
2. Keep equipment at top operating efficiency. Have it checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
3. Check filter every 30 days. Dirty filters cause equipment to use excessive electricity. If filter is permanent, clean by manufacturer's directions; if it's disposable, it should be replaced when dirty.
4. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns. Clean grills often.
5. Close draperies and blinds to keep out direct sunlight.
6. Keep fireplace damper closed.
7. Proper home insulation keeps the heat out, cuts energy use. Insulation questions? Call TP&L.
8. Shade on roof and walls can reduce energy needed to cool. But trim trees, shrubs away from outside compressor unit. Keep it free of leaves, debris. If air flow is blocked, unit uses more energy.
9. Weatherstrip doors and windows; caulk cracks to prevent drafts and cool air loss.
10. Keep windows closed. Open outside doors as little as possible.

Window Units

Follow all above suggestions, plus these:

11. Buy units with highest "energy efficiency ratio" (EER). Uses less electricity to cool. If EER is not on sales tag, ask for it or figure it yourself. Divide "wattage" into "BTU" capacity. Both figures are on unit.

12. Place unit where it'll get as little direct sun as possible.
13. Aim air outlets at lower half of doorway to next room to allow warm air from that room to enter at the doortop for recooling, recirculation.
14. Never vent air conditioner into garage. Ventilation is usually too poor for top performance of your unit.

Conserve electricity and you help conserve one or more of the fuels needed to produce it: natural gas, coal and oil. Conserve fuels and you help assure that there will be enough to meet essential needs for electricity in the future.

When you pass a TP&L office, warehouse, generating plant or other facility, you'll see that we've turned off all non-essential lighting. And, in as many other ways as possible, TP&L is reducing its own uses of electricity.

If you would like additional information on conserving electricity, call or see the Customer Service Representative in the TP&L Office.

SH All-Awards Banquet Honors Leading Students

Scholastic and athletic achievements of the past year at Sacred Heart School were reviewed and rewarded last Friday night in the annual awards banquet held in Sacred Heart Community Center.

Heading the program as guest speaker was Jere Nichols, head coach of Bishop Lynch High School of Dallas. He urged students to strive for excellence in athletics for its physical benefits along with teamwork, personal pride and determination. Winning, he said, is dependent mostly on a state of mind... the urge to excel and the firm belief that he can win.

But being a good athlete is still secondary to being a good student. Excellence in study is a way of acquiring the qualifications which serve a person through life. He emphasized that the advancements and rewards of tomorrow will have to be deserved and earned... the world will not give them as gifts.

Nichols was introduced by Charles Bartush, master of ceremonies.

Other speakers on the program were Sharon Rohmer, valedictorian, and Arnold Yosten, salutatorian. Both expressed gratitude to parents and teachers for sacrifices and guidance, also made nostalgic reference to the past four years and confident reference to the future.

Better Harvesting Yields Better Crop

Losses in harvesting any crop with a combine may be much greater than necessary because of improper operation, according to Henry O'Neil, Agricultural Engineer, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A & M University System. Getting better yields either through better methods of raising the crop or use of better varieties means nothing if the increased yield is wasted through improper combine adjustment. Large losses frequently take place because of improper adjustments.

Listed below are some general rules or practices for good combining:

1. When first beginning to combine a field, get the "feel of the combine" by operating at a slow ground speed, without reducing engine speed. Gradually increase ground speed checking for threshing losses and damage. Under normal conditions, the combine should be able to operate at ground speeds between 2 1/2 and 3 1/2 miles per hour.

2. Make combine adjustments as necessary. Make only one adjustment at a time, checking the results before making others.

3. Check often for proper threshing, adjusting cylinder speed and concave setting as necessary.

4. When checking threshing, check for grain losses and make necessary adjustments.

5. Cut as high as possible without missing too many heads.

6. Keep reel height adjusted for changes in crop height and reel speed adjusted for changes in ground speed.

7. Adjust cleaning units when excessive losses occur.

8. Don't overload the combine.

9. When operating in weedy or hard to thresh crops, slow down and make frequent checks on combine performance.

To get an estimate of harvest losses, stake off an area that is the width of the combine swath and one foot deep. Run the combine across the staked area. Pick up all grain on the ground (shattered and remaining on the head) within the staked area and count the number of seeds. Divide the number of seeds picked up by the combine swath width to get the number of seeds per square foot lost in the harvesting operation.

The following ratios show approximate loss in bushels per acre. (Kernels per square foot to equal one bushel per acre). Barley, 13-15; Oats, 10-12; Rye, 21-24; Grain Sorghum, 19-22; Wheat, 18-20.

This same method may be used to determine losses at various points of harvest. Take a measurement in standing grain to get pre-harvest loss. Back up combine and measure in cut grain and subtract pre-harvest loss to get cutter bar loss. Catch a sample of material coming out of rear of combine — loose grain represents straw rack and cleaning shoe losses, unthreshed kernels in heads are cylinder loss.

Once harvest losses have been established and where they are occurring, steps may be taken to reduce them. Use the operator's manual as a guide in adjustment of the combine. Check for worn or broken parts that may be reducing operating efficiency and review operation procedures with machine operators.
