

The fact that last weekend's peace march on Washington can be carried out in this country is a credit to the country, but every person who participated in it is a disgrace to the country.

That is the essence of a remark made Monday by someone in the official family who ranks high enough to be asked for an opinion. This column regrets it cannot recall the name or quote directly, but it is pleased to pass along the thought as one that most Americans will accept with pride.

Meanwhile the People's Daily of Peking was gleefully gloating over the incident as an indication of double significance—that the Negro "struggle against police violence" and the anti-Vietnam war sentiment "are influencing each other and alternatingly coming to the fore. They are gradually merging into one tempestuous tide, pounding more and more heavily at the reactionary regime of the American monopolists."

The Chinese communist analysis is interesting in that it admits the red effort to exploit racial strife in this country, and also confirms a very prevalent suspicion that the Marxist conspiracy is at the bottom of much of our trouble. Unwittingly it tells us that we could eliminate much of the racial tension and the treason by cracking down on the known communists involved in both movements. Unfortunately that is next to impossible so long as our country continues its leniency toward communism.

This predicament brings up an interesting problem, perhaps a vital problem, concerning our convictions on human rights and national security. What is the proper limit of a person's right to do and say as he pleases, and where does it become proper to apply restraint in the interest of the public good? We do not need to be told that so far the official policy is very lenient to the individual. Is it too lenient? That remains to be seen. We hope not, but we have reason to wonder. Whatever the answer to that, we can still be very proud on principle. The important point is that America has deep respect for a person's right to do and say as he pleases even when it does not agree with him. It's the reason for saying that allowing the demonstration is a credit to the nation but participating in it was a disgrace.

We sometimes wonder whether the same thought does not occur to the people of other countries. Even when the slanted accounts of such incidents come from the red propaganda mills they have a meaning between the lines which must be obvious to observant readers. When a group of people is allowed to demonstrate against the government anyone should be able to see that those people are free. So, even while the red agents gloat over our troubles they are unintentionally pointing out that this is still the stronghold of liberty. Indirectly they are reminding their own people that such incidents do not happen among them because they are not free, and they can still look up to America as the country that respects human dignity and right.

As regards the wisdom of our official policy in Vietnam, it's hard to find a better

McNAMARA'S ALUMINUM BAND

A few days back the aluminum companies announced to the public that modest price increases were to be put on that metal. Washington promptly organized an orchestrated propaganda campaign against the companies. We were led to believe that such a price increase would breach or destroy the effort to hold back inflation in our national economy. After a two-day chorus of this refrain, Mr. McNamara's Band broke loose with a marching tune at the Pentagon.

There was an appropriately ominous roll of the drums, and then Mr. McNamara said that, if the aluminum companies insisted on maintaining the announced price increase on the metal, the government would dump onto the market the government's stockpile of aluminum. That, anybody could understand, would drive the price down, the aluminum companies would have no market, no jobs for employees, no income to share with millions of Americans who have invested their savings in aluminum companies. So, the aluminum companies knuckled in to the demands and threats and revoked the announced price increases.

At least two things are clear: the first is that the government's stockpile of aluminum was not essential to the military requirements of Mr. McNamara's Department of Defense. It was procured under that guise; but Mr. McNamara clearly doesn't need it, if he can dump it on the market in a war with domestic aluminum producers.

The second is that Mr. McNamara's threat was government price control imposed on taxpayer investors in the aluminum industry without any similar pressure, present or past, ever having been imposed on labor leaders seeking wage increases, fringe benefits, cost-of-living adjustments, etc.

There is a very ugly word which defines the activity of a government which pursues such selective procedures. The word is Fascism. And only that word properly defines what has taken place.

Unless America's industrialists, businessmen and farmers stand up and fight back against such political demands, they, and all of us, will come to the time when we will be doing a Fascist goose-step to the tune of McNamara's Band.

"SO HELP ME GOD"

If you have ever served on a jury, you'll be interested in a recent decision of the Court of Appeals in the State of Maryland. That court has set aside several jury verdicts on the grounds that the members of the jury had been required by State law to affirm their belief in a Supreme Being. Such a belief is implied, of course, whenever anyone takes an oath which includes the words "So Help Me God."

Thus, the stage is set for a lot of convicted criminals in this country to demand new trials on the same grounds. And, prospective jurors have been provided a ready-made escape from jury duty; admission, or mere profession, of a belief in God will soon be sufficient grounds for disqualification of a prospective juror.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
 THE STATE OF TEXAS
 TO: Charles Selby, Defendant
 GREETING:
 YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable District Court of Cooke County at the Courthouse thereof, in Gainesville, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 29th day of December A.D. 1965, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 4th day of November A.D. 1965, in this cause, numbered 20,117 on the docket of said court and styled Cora Selby, Plaintiff, vs. Charles Selby, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:
 A divorce from the bonds of matrimony for the reasons of harsh and cruel treatment, for change of name of Plaintiff from Cora Selby to Cora Thomason, and for general and special relief, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.
 If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.
 The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

in our society. But if God-fearing men who believe there is a difference between right and wrong are to be excluded from jury duty in the future, we have some fearsome justice in prospect. The mere matter of impaneling a jury of "peers" may require a whole battery of lawyers, to say nothing of psychologists, psychiatrists and sundry other experts on what a prospective juror may have ingrained in his consciousness. Otherwise, who is to say that a juror has not concealed, even unwittingly, a sublimated belief in a Supreme Being? If such a man can't serve on a jury, who can? What manner of jury tampering would that be?
 If future juries in our Great Society are to be selected on these guidelines, eliminating those who affirm a belief in a Supreme Being, truly it will be the accused who will need to invoke the words, "So Help Me God!"

"IRRESPECTIVE OF NEED"

As everyone must know, this nation has gone a long way toward what is called a welfare state. But it's a safe bet that few realize how fast the trip has been. It's an equally safe bet — human memory being short — that equally few realize how enormously the costs have escalated.

The story is told in a publication of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York. In 1945 — a mere 20 years ago — federal, state and local government spending on welfare activities came to $6 billion. In the fiscal year that ended in June, 1964, it was $47 billion — almost eight times as much. And the current bill is much higher.

So far as the individual is concerned, social security tax collections show what has happened. The maximum payment in 1949 was $30. Now it is $147. Next year it will rise to $277.20 and further increases are scheduled thereafter. And there is good reason for believing that the future increases will be greater than the current schedules — government programs almost always cost more than the optimistic estimates.

The bank's publication, in discussing the welfare programs, says: "... the spectacular growth has been — and will continue to be — in outlays for social insurance plans, which provide cash support to designated classes of people as a matter of right irrespective of need."
 That phrase — "irrespective of need" — is a vital one. Take for instance, the new medicare law. The poor, the well to do, and the very rich will all be entitled to the same tax-supported services so long as they are drawing social security benefits.

About all one can say is — What's coming next?

if the accused or his attorneys so desire.
 Before the full implications of that decision could be realized by the legal profession, a Pentagon psychologist added fuel to the fire. He finds, in a paper just published, that jurors who attend church regularly, believe in God and adopt conventional religious beliefs are more likely to find defendants guilty in court than those who are unencumbered by such attitudes. And further, says the Pentagon professor, such jurors tend to exact punishments that are more harsh, to accept the representations of the prosecution over those of the defense attorneys, and to be less willing to accept pleas of insanity.
 The innocence of the accused until proved guilty is a foundation of our jury system. And tampering with that jury invites a pretty severe penalty

Alma Louise Herr Becomes Bride of Sp. 5 Fred T. Marr

Honeymooning on a trip to Kentucky are Sp.5 Fred (Tony) Marr and his bride, the former Miss Alma Louise Herr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Herr. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marr of Greensburg, Kentucky.

The couple was married in Sacred Heart Church here Saturday in a 6 p.m. service. The Rev. Andrew Wever performed the double ring ceremony.

Nuptial music was presented by the bride's cousin, Anthony Luke, church organist, and Mrs. Rody Klement, vocalist.

After the ceremony Mrs. Klement sang "Mother at Your Feet" when the bride placed a bouquet of white gladioli on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white brocade two-piece suit with a white pillbox hat and a white carnation corsage.

Adding sentiment to her wedding the bride carried a crystal and silver rosary which formerly belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Mike Koelzer, and is now her mother's.

Wedding attendants were Sgt. and Mrs. Don Wilson of Fort Hood, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Herr, her brother and sister-in-law. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Herr wore pale blue brocade suits with white pillbox hats and white carnation corsages.

Frank Herr, bride's uncle, and Jim Doughty ushered.

Wedding reception was in the home of the bride's parents. Some 50 relatives and friends attended. They were registered by Miss Linda Wilson.

The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Joe Lehnertz and Mrs. Joe Voth. Presiding at the punch service was Mrs. Melba Kinsey.

The refreshment table was covered with a white hand crocheted cloth and held white candles in crystal holders. The tiered cake was baked and decorated by the bride's mother.

After their trip to Greensburg, Ky., to visit his parents, the newlyweds will be at home in Killeen while he is stationed at Fort Hood. He will be assigned to duty in Germany in January and she will join him there after he gets settled. He has already had a tour of duty in Korea.

Mrs. Marr is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School with the class of 1965 and has been employed in Dallas in an insurance office.

A man who had never been particularly noted for high moral standards was extremely ill and it was feared that he was dying. A clergyman was called in to give the man an opportunity to "Make his peace with God."

"Now," the clergyman asked, "do you wish to renounce the devil?" "Well," gasped the dying man, "Right now I don't think I should be making any new enemies."

THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders want to publicly thank everybody in Muenster, Gainesville and all surrounding area cities for helping make their formal barn opening a happy success. To all who helped in any way they are grateful. They wish they could have invited everyone from everywhere but the barn, huge as it is, has its limitations. They want to thank in a special way the Muenster people for the handsome silver tray, which they treasure. It means much to them. Out of town people were impressed by the friendliness of Muenster people and said so. They commended the Jaycees for parking cars so well and for meeting them at the airport and spoke highly of Muenster in many ways.

Sincere thanks for many kindnesses while I was in the hospital. Thanks for the prayers, cards, visits and other thoughtful deeds. Thanks to Father Alcuin, Dr. Kralicke, the Sisters, nurses and hospital staff. My wife is grateful too. —John Neu.

We are grateful for the many kindnesses that came our way while our little son Brian was a patient at Muenster Hospital. For the prayers, visits, cards, help, toys and other gifts our sincerest thanks. And thanks to all at the hospital for the good care and attention to our little boy. —Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Herr.

Many, many thanks to all who remembered and helped me and my family during my recent illness — especially the personnel of Muenster Memorial Hospital. —R. N. Fette

Barn Warming Is Still Conversation Piece Hereabouts

People hereabouts — and elsewhere — are still talking about the "unbelievable" party given by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders last week on the formal opening of their new show barn at Colonial Acres Farm. It was so beautiful and so much fun.

The barn warming attracted guests from several states . . . relatives, friends and business associates, bankers from Chicago, fliers from Iran and the Republic of China, horse and cattle raisers from a wide area and socialites from Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Wichita Falls, Phoenix and adinfinitum.

Relatives of the hosts present included Messrs. and Mmes. Joe Smiddy and family of Wise, Va., Ralph Huffman of Coburn, Va., Fred Stickle and daughter of Ewig, Va., Richard Hummel and daughter of Blacksburg, Va., Bill Brewer of Matawana, N.J., Charles Smiddy and children and Jack Smiddy and children of Knoxville, Tenn.

Presiding at two guest registers were Mrs. J. D. Howard, Mrs. Bob Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Herr.

Names and faces in the crowd included Congressman and Mrs. Graham Purcell. The congressman was in Rome, Italy, that morning and flew back to be on the barn warming scene. His parents Mr. and Mrs. Purcell Sr. attended from Archer City.

The "Danish Minister of Agriculture" who spoke to everyone turned out to be the famed comedian, TV and radio personality, Cactus Pryor of Austin. He came by helicopter accompanied by Les Ready of Austin.

Pleased at what they saw were A. J. Airolidi and E. L. Loughborough, Dallas contractor and architect for the barn, respectively, and their wives.

The Chicago delegation included Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ball and Harold P. O'Connell Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson attended from Phoenix.

It was like old home week for Wichita Falls guests. These included Rae Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Shelton, Joe Brown, Annie Lee Williams, all of the Record News and Daily Times, joined by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crowley of Burkburnett, also with the newspapers. And Messrs. and Mmes. Tom B. Medders Sr. and Jr., Harry Lane, Ernest Sanford, Claude Vaughan, and Chales P. McGaha.

Enjoying the party were Captain Tohidi A. of Iran and Captain Peng Hsien-Tsu of the Republic of China, exchange students at Sheppard Air Force Base and their sponsors Mr. and Mrs. W. Tarlington and Roy S. Neel.

Judge and Mrs. W. C. Boyd were with the Denton crowd which included Asa Hanna of NTSU who was Miss Cathy Medders' escort. Cathy was in a formal dress of white silk brocade in Empire lines. Mary and Sara Medders were in formal dresses of white chiffon and wore orchid wristcorsages. Their escorts were Karl Klement and Steve Walterscheid.

Miss Enid Justin was among Noconans, Miss Ermatrude McNatt attended from Bowie, Angus breeders included Les Jungdahl from El Dorado, Kansas, out of state Appaloosa raisers included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sims of Leawood, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pritchett of Clovis, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Randals of Montoya, N.M., and Dr. and Mrs. John Norton of Colorado Springs, Colo. Newspaper, television, and magazine photographers had a field day.

The fabulous food was catered by the Sheraton-Dallas staff. Mrs. Medders was assisted in planning the dance by Mrs. Floreine Smith of Dallas who was on the decoration staff. She's associated with "Mr. Buster" of Dallas of home decorating fame. And Polly Davis of Gainesville more or less coordinated all the action.

Persons Over 65 Should Check for Possible Benefits

Persons over 65 who are not receiving social security payments, railroad retirement benefits, or State old-age assistance need to get in touch with their social security office now, according to Gus Jones, District Manager of the Sherman Social Security District Office. This includes those persons who are still working as well as those who have retired.

There are many people in Cooke County who are eligible for the new Health Insurance Program, even though they may not be entitled to monthly social security benefits, Jones said. These people should sign up for the new health program without delay.

Some of these persons, Jones stated, could possibly be receiving part of their social security benefits during the year, even though they are still working.

"Remember," Jones added, there are two important reasons for a person to complete application for social security now if at least 65 years of age. The first is that he is eligible for the new Social Security Health Insurance Program even though he may not be entitled to monthly benefits. The second is that it is just possible he may be losing some monthly social security payments even though regularly employed."

For information on the new health program, or social security benefits, persons in the Gainesville area may contact Mr. Nat Houston, Field Representative from the Sherman office, any Tuesday or Thursday from 9:30 until noon, in the Federal Building.

Taking a chance with your health is never a good idea. This is especially true when you stake your well-being against influenza—a disease that can sweep through the population in a matter of days. The odds are that there will be increased flu this winter. The U. S. Surgeon General's office has advised influenza immunization for all Americans, noting the fact that flu epidemics generally run in two-to-three-year cycles and that the last major U. S. epidemic occurred in the winter of 1962.

Certainly, such avoidable winter sickness is one "jackpot" that nobody wants. One way to beat the flu is timely use of influenza vaccine. Flu shots, according to the Surgeon General's warning, are especially important for persons over 45; persons who suffer from chronic illnesses; and persons who reside under crowded living conditions. These groups are the ones likely to lose the most by gambling against influenza. Flu can and does cause death.

Wayne Reiter of NTSU, Denton, spent the holidays with his family, the Wilfred Reiters, and was among guests at Cathy Medders' dance Friday night.

Russ Linn had his children at home for the Thanksgiving holidays. Visiting him were Mrs. Ray Smith and son Craig, Mrs. Jim Minto and daughter Michelle, all of Dallas, the Tommy Linn of Gainesville and Pvt. Pick Hemphill of Fort Polk, La.

Be on Guard for The Silent Killer, Carbon Monoxide

A silent killer may be loose in your house. The deadly criminal is carbon monoxide — CO — a colorless, odorless, tasteless gas produced every time a carbon-containing material burns, says a new leaflet from the American Medical Association.

CO combines with blood 200 times more easily than oxygen. If you breathe air containing a normal amount of oxygen and a moderate amount of carbon monoxide, your blood will be starved for oxygen. When blood cannot supply oxygen to your brain, permanent brain damage or death may result.

Dangerous quantities of CO usually accumulate when a cool, slow fire burns in limited air. Since you can't see, smell, or taste it, the gas is hard to detect except by your symptoms — drowsiness, headache, tightness across the forehead, confusion, nausea, and muscular weakness. CO poisoning may confuse you so that you cannot reach fresh air to relieve the symptoms and prevent serious injury.

To prevent carbon monoxide attack in your home —

- *Have all heating systems checked annually for operating efficiency.
- Make sure that vents, pipes, flues and chimneys are tight.
- *Make certain that your heating plant is not starved for air.
- *Be sure that all heating devices designed for venting are properly vented to the outside.
- *Provide additional fresh air for charcoal grills and hibachis used indoors.
- *Never tamper with ducts or vents of a heating device to get more heat out of it.
- *Be sure that heating devices have been tested by a reputable firm. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations for installation and use.
- *When changing types of fuel, ask a qualified serviceman to adjust all appliances involved.
- *Don't close fireplace dampers until you are certain the fire is out.
- *Be sure that your garage is sealed from the house. Never run the car in a closed garage.

NOTES FROM A Garden in the Forest

BY WALTER CHALUPNIK, CHIEF HORTICULTURIST
HODGES GARDENS, MANY, LOUISIANA

Notes for the Second Half of November

The right time to plant bulbs is when it is cooler. Bulbs are not forced into growth. Before planting them you should know how and where they can perform best for you—in sun or moist spot—when they will bloom—how long they will stay in the bed.

Practically speaking most of the very showy bulb plants in our area are annuals. Some will stay a few years. Few will get naturalized in the true meaning of the word. If a group of fancy Narcissus show up for years and grow only foliage and a few undersized flowers, it means they are gone despite the claims of some who say they have been staying and blooming for them for years. Let us accept the facts. Most of the hybrid Narcissus, Tulips, Anemones, Irises are good only the first year after planting, particularly in formal plantings. Expect only that much and you will be happy with them.

Time To Plant

Now is the time to plant Anemones, Triteleia uniflora, Scilla sibirica, French (Roman) Hyacinths, Iris reticulata, Ixias, Tritonias and Freesia hybrids, Anemones De Caen are single and come in assorted colors, too. St. Brygid hybrids are double. Triteleia uniflora (Milla) naturalizes and is a low growing plant with white flowers tinged with blue. Scilla sibirica (squill) are small herbs with narrow basal leaves with beautiful, deep blue, wheel-shaped flowers and are very good for rock gardens.

French (Romans) Hyacinths, white and pink varieties, bloom as early as December and are not affected by frost. Blues will bloom a month or more later, so do not try to use them for design effects. They usually stay for many years and even multiply. Iris reticulata is a sweet little Iris. Its single flower is raised on a long tube and is deep violet with an orange ridge. It is very fragrant and blooms in early March.

Cape Bulbs

Cape or South African bulbs all belong to the Iris family. They are tender and rabbits find them delicious to eat. Even if their foliage gets damaged by frost, they will open their beautiful and eye catching flowers in Mid Spring, so they are very desirable.

Ixias are the hardest in our area and will come back for many years. Culturally they belong to the same class as Sparaxis and Babiana, which are all very desirable. All varieties of Ixias on the market are probably crosses of Ixia maculata and Ixia columellaris. Their flowers are charming in all stages of development. At first they are erect and cup-shaped and as they grow older they open into a star. They close at night and on dark days. Tritonia will stay for some time in the gardens. Since they start growing early in the fall, the first hard freeze will severely damage their heavy foliage. It is another small flower of bright delicate tones between red and orange and usually blooms in May.

Freesia hybrids are perhaps the most attractive, eye catching and sweetly fragrant little bulbs. They have narrow gladioli like foliage. The flowers in shades of pink, rose, purple, blue and orange are borne in small clusters at the top of the tender stem. This stem bends back almost at a right angle so that the tubular flowers stand up like colorful candles. These and other Cape bulbs like Streptantheras, Babianas and Soaraxis always create a lot of interest. Plant them in your garden. Even if the hard winter partly ruins them, they are inexpensive and worth trying over and over again.

The bank robber shoved a note across to the teller which read: "Put the money in a bag, sucker, and don't make a move." The teller pushed back another note: "Straighten your tie, stupid. They're taking your picture." Ivanhoe: Russian garden tool.

Cathy Medders Is Hostess for Dance In New Show Barn

What the 900 guests had at the gala barn warming at the Medders Colonial Acres Farm last week Tuesday was repeated on a smaller scale Friday night for some 250 young people when Miss Cathy Medders entertained with a formal dance.

Teen age friends of the Medders children were there from Cooke and Mountague Counties, Dallas, Denton, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and elsewhere.

The gorgeous decorations, the beautiful flowers and fruits used at the formal opening of the show barn were still in place and lovely. Buffet tables were again loaded with food, and The Abstracts, a rock and roll band from Oklahoma City, played for dancing. There was breakfast afterward.

Cathy returned to Hockaday School in Dallas Sunday, along with some weekend guests, after spending the Thanksgiving holidays at home.

Medders Family in Holiday Reunion

On Thanksgiving Day Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders entertained in their home with a family reunion and turkey dinner, a final gathering before out of town relatives who were here for the barn warming started returning to their homes.

Special guest was Mrs. Medders' mother, Mrs. Joe Smiddy, who left Muenster Hospital to be with the family for the reunion. Family members were present from Virginia, New Jersey, Tennessee and Texas.

A GOOD LESSON

Sen. Carl Curtis notes: "It has been argued for many years that poverty and unemployment are the basic causes of crime. Yet it is a fact that crime rates have increased as the federal government has spent more money on welfare programs—on the theory they will eliminate poverty and crime. From 1933 to 1963, the population of the United States increased 50 percent; crime rates increased 1,231 percent and government spending, about half of which has been used for welfare programs, was hiked 1,215 percent." There's a lesson there somewhere . . .

Art is so simple: it's either "pop" or "op."

Starting with the first payday next year, the social security tax on both employer and employee will be increased from the present 3.625 per cent of taxable payrolls to 4.2 per cent. Moreover, this higher tax rate will be applied to the first $6,000 of annual earnings instead of the $4,800 taxable wage base now in effect. The maximum deduction will be $277.20.

There'll be more trucks under the Christmas tree this year than on the job site, and mother will buy most of them for budding truckers like this.

Who are the biggest purchasers of trucks, bulldozers, road graders and other working vehicles? Not engineers, builders or contractors as you might expect, but American mothers!

These are toy vehicles designed for the Christmas tree rather than the job site. And although they are made of steel and operate much like their real-life counterparts, their dimensions are measured in inches rather than in feet.

One manufacturer alone, Tonka Toys, is producing more than eight million toy vehicles this year — several times the combined output of their real-life counterparts. And Tonka officials say that more than half of them will be bought by mothers. Thus Mom will be the key purchasing agent for highway equipment — junior-size, that is.

Mrs. Kathman Has Illinois Visitors

During their stay the Caugheys visited at the Haverkamp farm where they especially enjoyed horseback riding.

SS Office Adopts Special Schedule For Short Period

The Social Security office in Sherman will remain open from 8 a.m. until 12 noon Saturday mornings beginning December 4 and from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. each Thursday evening effective December 9 for the next several weeks for the added convenience of residents of the area, Gus Jones, Social Security district manager, said today. These evening hours are in addition to the regular 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. schedule of office hours, Monday through Friday.

Jones pointed out that it is important for many people to get in touch with the district office to take advantage of the health insurance and other provisions of the 1965 amendments to the Social Security program. Although most people are able to visit the office during the day, many find it impossible to do so because of employment or home responsibilities.

The Sherman Social Security office is located at 315 West Mulberry. The telephone number is 893-4301.

Four Sisters Join For Thanksgiving

They were all together for a turkey dinner in the Bledsoe home. The Cookes were houseguests of the Harvills.

The California couple had their movie projector and slides with them and entertained with films showing scenes of their travels in Oregon, California, Arizona and New Mexico and several other states, and slides of their home and two daughters.

On their drive home Friday the Cookes got into a sandstorm at Grandbury which made driving difficult for some distance.

presentation than that of Former Vice President Nixon in the current issue of Readers Digest. He says, as many of us are aware, that peace demonstrations are sabotaging our best interests by conveying a false impression of weakness and national disunity, which encourages the reds to fight on.

He also warns that a compromise deal would be as fatal as that in Laos. Where reds are allowed to retain a hold they eventually take over. If that should happen in South Vietnam the conquest of communism would continue, the last holdouts of freedom would be doomed and all of Asia would go red. After that it would be only a matter of time until the reds are headed for world conquest.

Vietnam is freedom's last line of defense in Asia. It is freedom's first line of defense for us Americans. We can't afford to quit on this job, nor to do it half way. The only solution is first to win in battle so that we can be undisputed boss at the peace table. The reds cannot be licked politically until they are licked militarily.

Meanwhile, concerning demonstrations, this column still thinks it is a good idea to lower the boom on known communists. It is convinced that the beatniks and other rabble would not bother if the rabble rousers were out of circulation.
