VOLUME XXX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 NOVEMBER 26, 1965

On several occasions during the past two years this column has endeavored to enumerate the many benefits of having our own community hospital. Now it can emphasize most of those points as one who speaks from experience.

Yours truly has been in Muenster Memorial Hospital since Friday and at this writing, on Tuesday, expects to be dismissed soon. Every one of those five days have pointed out advantages that were mentioned before.

First of all, acute appendicitis can be very uncomfortable. That's when nearness is a most desirable feature. To a person in misery it means a lot to reach a doctor soon — and to be in the hospital just in case its facilities are needed.

Well it was not long until tests were finished and relief was given. The only discomfort since has been a healing incision.

Meanwhile there has been plenty of opportunity to appreciate the other benefits of nearness. Family contact remains much closer when it takes less time and mileage to visit the hospital. It's pleasant, too, to see friends who might not come if the trip were long.

As a person notices how many visitors come to the hospital each day he can easily believe that the money saved on travel is more than enough to pay the tax for its debt.

That applies even more so when one considers also that the hospital is due credit for savings in visiting doctors at home. They are here only because the hospital is here. Actually it seems that nearness itself is enough to justify having the hospital here; and that convenience and time saving and wonderful attention in a comfortable beautiful building can be figured as bonus benefits.

These things are mentioned here because the column is qualified now to judge as a patient as well as a visitor. And it can say with full conviction that our hospital is a wonderful asset.

Meanwhile, this week is important to the column in another way. Thanksgiving Day marks the twenty ninth anniversary of the founding of the Enterprise. As indicated by the volume and number on this edition, the paper is starting its thirtieth year of publication. Thanksgiving Day, as a birthday, is especially significant to us as an occasion to thank those who have been so good to us through all these years.

Old timers will recall that Muenster was much smaller back in 1936. Potential was limited, but a very fine support from the limited potential was enough to keep the Enterprise going. As the community grew, so did the support, so that we can proudly claim community growth is reflected in our growth. For that we are deeply grateful. It has been a privilege through these years to be a part of a progressive community.

This is also an occasion to express special gratitude to many people: to our subscribers, our advertisers, our commercial printing customers, and all the helpful friends who report news items. Those are the folks who keep the Enterprise going and we want them to know they are appreciated.

10 Seniors Spark SH Hi Cage Team

Ten seniors spark the 1965-66 Sacred Heart High girls' basketball team. The Tigerette team, which opened its season with a win, has a roster of 34 girls. Besides the 10 seniors, there are eight juniors, four sophomores and 12 freshmen in the fold. Barbara Schmitt and Pauline Fleitman, a pair of seniors, are co-captains of the team.

The roster looks like this: Barbara Schmitt, Pauline Fleitman, Judy Danglemyer, Debbie Schilling, Mary Wimmer, Gloria Haverkamp, Paulette Endres, Mary Knabe, Patsy Hartman, Janice Trubenbach and Debbie Fette.

Mary Ellen Endres, Janie Fleitman, Kathy Walterscheid, Dianne Gehrig, Gloria Gieb, Mary Kay Luttmir, Annette Sicking, Joyce Schmitt, Laura Trubenbach, Linda Rohmer and Donna Stoffels.

Hornets Win 20-0 Over Callisburg In Season Final

The Hornets of Muenster High kept a firm hold on the runner-up position of District 9-B in their season finale at Callisburg Friday night. The 20-0 win gave them a 6-1 conference record, the only loss being to the champion Panthers of Saint Jo with a perfect 7-0 record. Muenster's record for the season is 7-2-1.

Action at Callisburg started in a big way following a kickoff return to the Hornet 26. The first scrimmage play looked like tragedy as a hand-off to Dale Klement tumbled into the open. But Klement came charging up, recovered the ball without losing stride and kept going and going, 74 yards to a touchdown. His kick for extra points was bad and the Hornets led 6-0 in less than a minute of play.

After next kickoff the Wildcats made one series and kicked on the second and the Hornets did likewise, the kick being killed only 6 inches from the goal line. For the rest of the first period Callisburg worked on a nice drive from that point to mid field and then kicked.

Muenster had to kick ending the next series and Callisburg kicked on its second. Again Muenster kicked on the first series and Callisburg on the second.

Klement's return on that kick was a beauty, about 75 yards for an apparent TD. But officials decided that one of his teammates had clipped some 61 yards back and stepped off a 15 yard penalty from there. The Hornets were back on their 24.

Starting there they used the rest of the quarter on a 76 yard drive to their second score. Big plays of the ten used were a run for 10 by Stormer, a pass to Louie Hellman for 25, and a pass to Klement for 32. Virgil Swirczynski scored from the 1 on a quarterback sneak. Klement ran for bonus points after faking a kick. Muenster led 14-0 at the half.

After intermission Muenster got going after forcing the Wildcats to kick on their first.

Mrs. J. S. Horn, 90, Resident 75 Years Birthday Honoree

It was a happy 90th birthday all day Sunday for Mrs. J. S. Horn, one of the community's pioneers, a resident 75 years.

The day started with attendance at 7:30 a.m. Mass and breakfast out with her son Joe Horn and his wife. She had dinner out with another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Al Horn.

Holidays Postpone Opening of Dress Factory Few Days

Opening of Muenster's second sewing factory, scheduled for Monday, Nov. 29, has been delayed a few days, Mrs. Ola V. Roberg, owner and manager, disclosed this week. She expects to be ready for business by the middle of next week.

Equipment installation is lagging and will be further delayed by the Thanksgiving holidays.

However, applications for about 20 employees will be taken on Saturday, Nov. 27, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. as previously announced. Applications will be taken for pressers, single needles and special machines.

Mrs. Roberg's location is the former Muenster Equipment Company building where the other dress factory was located until it moved into its new building. She is the former manager of that plant, Muenster Manufacturing Co.

The new factory has a contract to sew for a clothing distributor of Dallas.

A formal opening at the new plant will be held at a later date, Mrs. Roberg said.

Medders Host 900 Guests for Formal Opening of Show Barn

It was the grandest ball in all the land. That's the unanimous opinion of some 900 people who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders Tuesday night for the formal opening of their new show barn at Colonial Acres Farm.

The new building was transformed into an elegant ballroom with "out of this world" decorations and guests danced to "the sweetest music this side of heaven" played by Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians.

Strictly a black tie and formal evening gown affair, guests in silks, satins, minks and sables came from several states and many towns. They came by car, chartered bus, plane and helicopter.

It was the first time the Lombardo band played in a barn but they probably never played in grander surroundings nor at a larger private dance. The sparkle, pomp and ceremony could well rival a theatrical "first night" in Hollywood or on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Medders, who established Colonial Acres in 1962, and their six children greeted the guests. Mrs. Medders wore an original gown by Gustave Tassell, a pale pink-beige slipper satin with high scooped neckline, wee sleeves and easy column silhouette enhanced with Sicilian hand embroidery in silk floss in a motif of flowers and leaves. Her wrap was a sable stole.

Receiving with their parents were Misses Cathy, Mary and Sara Medders and their brothers, Eugene, John and Frank.

Elaborate Decor The huge ballroom arena was adorned with a multitude of poodle trees loaded with fresh fruits. Railings and walls were draped in smilax. Large Chinese lanterns hung from the rafters of the enormous — 100 by 200 — centrally heated and air conditioned building to provide illumination. Lombardo's band was seated on the south side surrounded by avocado trees and chrysanthemums.

Round tables to seat from eight to ten guests lined the 60x80 foot dance floor. The tables were covered with white floor-length cloths with overlays of avocado green, gold and pomgranate colors. Flowers and branched candelabra with 18 inch tapers adorned the tables, the candles matching the color of the cloth.

Refreshment tables were set up in each corner of the arena and a champagne fountain was another focal point.

Buffet tables were draped in green, appointed with silver and brightened with flowers and fresh fruit arrangements.

The tables were loaded with food ranging from French fried chicken legs and Chinese barbecued ribs to whole steamship rounds of beef, whole hams and turkeys, cold canapés and hors d'oeuvres. A cocktail hour was held from 8 to 9 p.m.

Old People Urged To Qualify for Medicare Benefits

Working round the clock since September 1, Social Security Headquarters in Baltimore has completed the mailing of Medicare information kits to all of the 15 1/2 million persons 65 and over on the social security and railroad retirement benefit rolls.

By now, all elderly social security or railroad retirement beneficiaries in Cooke County should have received their kits and the enclosed application for the supplementary medical insurance part of Medicare, Gus Jones, social security district manager, stated.

Many older persons not on the social security or railroad retirement benefit rolls have already been in touch with the social security district office in Sherman, Jones reported. But many others still need to take action to protect their Medicare rights.

Eight out of ten aged persons will be reached through the mass mailing, he noted. About one-third of those who will not be reached this way are receiving old-age assistance payments and will hear directly from their local welfare agencies.

Another third are still working full time and will need to file social security applications. About one million nationwide will also have to get in touch with their local social security district offices.

The enrollment period for those who will be 65 or over before the end of the year closes March 31, Jones pointed out.

The March 31, 1966 deadline is very important, Jones stressed. Everyone who is 65 or who will be 65 by January 1, 1966, must return the medical insurance enrollment card by that date — whether received in the mail or picked up at a social security office, if he wants full protection when the program goes into effect July 1, 1966.

For the housebound, the district office will make arrangements to have a social security representative pay a visit to them at home.

The Sherman District Office is located at 315 West Mulberry. The phone is 893-4301. However, persons in the Gainesville area should call (Continued on page 8)

St. Ed's Wallops Tigers 34-6 for Bi-District Title

Post season ambitions of the Sacred Heart Tigers got a severe jolt Saturday night when they tangled with another breed of Tigers from St. Edward's of Austin on the Sacred Heart field. The visiting fellows were too much in both tonnage and speed and the 34-6 score was a fair indication of comparative power.

The trend was apparent early. St. Ed's failed on its first series and kicked. So did Sacred Heart. And then the visitors started working on their first score. They used twelve plays to make the total of 61 yards and the pay off was a pass for 11 yards from Purdy to James.

The second touchdown came about a minute later. Sacred Heart's first series ended abruptly with an interception on its first try got Spiller loose for a 42 yard ramble around right and then a cut to the left. Another run added two points.

After that the Muenster boys put on their only sustained drive of the night, using 13 plays to make 65 yds. The big gainers along the way were a pass from Leon Endres to Rudy Koelzer for 11, Kralicke's run for 10, a pass to Willie Wimmer for 11 and Robert Klement's 10 yard plunge over tackle to the goal.

A run for bonus points fell short and the count was 14-6 as the first quarter ended.

The visitors' next score was another quickie operation. After a kickoff return to Sacred Heart's 48, Howard ripped off 15 yards and Spiller 4 yards and Howard breezed around right end for the remaining 29.

For the rest of the half it was defensive football and neither team made any real progress. Sacred Heart kicked on its second series. St. Ed's kicked on their first series. Again the hosts kicked on their second series and the visitors also kicked on their second series.

The score was 29-6 at intermission. Starting the second half Muenster boys made two first downs on passes to Willie (Continued on page 8)

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE STREET

"Agent Provocateur" is a high-falutin' term for a very low occupation. It means a person who deliberately sets out to strike terror in some segment of our society, or to stir up trouble, usually for some self-serving political purpose. "Agitator" or "rabble-rouser" are names more commonly used for such people — and perhaps they are more descriptive of what such individuals really do. There are several kinds of provocation, however, and, in these times when various political factions and self-interest groups are stirring up trouble all over the country it is important that decent, law-abiding citizens should be aware of how these various types operate.

The straight-out rabble-rouser is generally easy to spot, whether he is spouting off on a street-corner or over a microphone on some college campus. His mission is to incite those around him to riot or to engage in other disorderly behavior. More dangerous, perhaps, and at least harder to recognize, is the fellow who works for a particular trouble-making or power-seeking group by pretending to be against them.

One classic example of this sort of "other-side-of-the-street" agitation is the activity during the past several years of a small group of professional "provocateurs" who call themselves the American Nazis. Let a group of ban-the-bomb beatniks or Communist sympathizers show up to picket the White House and there, Johnny-on-the-spot, will be a handful of these phony Nazis to counter-picket, and thereby effectively discredit decent citizens who are honestly opposed to the ban-the-bomb beatniks. Groups of responsible citizens wisely declining to be photographed participating in counter-picketing with the ersatz, or to undertake any public activity in opposition to rabble-rousing groups which might result in their being identified with the Nazis.

The result? The phony Nazis reap press coverage giving a public impression that only the Nazis oppose Communist rabble-rousers. And darned if some colleges don't go and invite the mincing leader of the Nazi pack to speak on their campus as an opponent of Communist ideologies.

Nazi-Communist compatibility is as old as the World War 11 pact between Hitler and Stalin. The Liaison between them is a profitable love affair. They work opposite sides of the street in public, but they drink from the same loving-cup in private.

CALLING ALL BARBERS

At last, a setback for "Beatelemania."

A dermatologist in Salt Lake City reports an increase in forehead acne among teenagers with Beatle-style hairdos. It seems that bacteria thrive in all that hair, which not only collects dirt but raises skin temperature to promote a type of infection he calls "Beatele Forehead."

His advice to kids so afflicted: "Get a haircut!"

That's the same advice a lot of us have been giving all along but we never had the backing of medical authority before.

AN ENCOURAGING NOTE

Ordinarily, we believe that all legitimate bills should be paid as promptly as possible. But, we've found an exception in the case of the rent subsidy bill which the 89th Congress added to our substantial outstanding account. Because it was passed by congress, we have to admit that the bill is legitimate even if there may have been some high pressure salesmanship involved in making it so. But we're pleased that some of the more considerate of our "purchasing agents" in Congress managed to hold up payment on it by deleting the funds to pay for it from the Appropriations Bill.

If we had to choose one bill from among all the many money-wasting boondoggles that were pushed through the 89th Congress that qualified as the worst, that rent subsidy scheme certainly would make it into the final elimination round. It is just about as well suited as any law can be as a combination vote-getter and profit-maker for any office holder who has learned the first lesson in the art of political patronage.

We're under no illusion that this is the end of the rent subsidy bill — most likely we'll still have to pay for it, and in more ways than just money. All that has happened really, is that forty or so of those Congressmen who rubber-stamped the order went home from the office without signing the check. The bill itself was passed by a narrow margin of 208-202. The appropriation of funds for it was blocked by only 185 votes; it happened that less than that numbers, only 162 of the 208 who passed the bill itself, were on hand to see that the money would be provided to pay for it.

Even that is a good sign. It means that there are at least 185 men and women in the Congress who haven't forgotten that there is such a thing as the "power of the purse," and that it is sometimes possible to exercise that power to delay, if not prevent entirely, the promiscuous dispensation of our tax dollars.

The anguished cries from some of the machine political bosses in large cities about the country suggest that even the delaying of funds serves a worthy purpose. For it will be possible between now and convening of Congress in January to identify the ward-boss politicians who have been financially pinched by the delayed distribution of the anticipated checks. Few domesticated animals have a more mournful wail than a wounded political boss who has jammed his fingers reaching for the key to the money-box, particularly if he is already out of breath from promising how the money would be distributed.

AND BOTH SHALL FALL INTO THE DITCH

"Blind-leading-the-blind department: Arthur Goldberg, chief U.S. delegate to the U.N. has invited Martin Luther King to the United Nations to discuss the Viet Nam situation Goldberg said he would also meet with Socialist party leader Norman Thomas, who continues to bugle for an American withdrawal in Asia.

While playing the part of the stern, firm, sure-footed executive in carrying out his Viet Nam policy, President Johnson appoints a man to counsel with those who represent us in the U.N. who have nothing but contempt for the policies advocated by the administration. What kind of sense does that make?

NO ALIBI FOR LAWLESSNESS

All manner of excuses are given for the waves of juvenile delinquency that continually poison this country. It is said that home way, some how, society has failed these errant young people and so society must take the bulk of the blame. How about parents?

A man who is a real authority on crime and its causes — Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI — holds a very different view. In his words, "Teen-agers and their parents have been subjected to a foolhardy theory which condones rebellious conduct against authority, law and order, or any regulatory measures which restrict their whims, wishes, desires, and activities. This astonishing belief has spread into the schoolroom, the living room, the courtroom and now into the streets of our nation in the form of wild, drunken brauns."

"No doubt society has failed our youth, but not in the way many seem to think. Rather, the dereliction has been in the failure to teach them the meaning of discipline, restraint, self-respect, and respect for law and order and the rights of others. Consequently, the lesson now is both painful and costly."

The surest way to turn the juvenile delinquent of today into the hardened adult criminal of tomorrow is to pamper him. The foremost right and duty of society is to enforce the law under representative government.

NEW SLANT ... ADDAGE

More each day it is evident that our productive population is being more heavily taxed to subsidize an ever increasing number of welfare and unemployed cases who have nothing wrong with them except a total absence of pride. Some of these cases are people who have found the "easier way" — they are willing to subsist on public charity rather than work and earn honest wages through their own endeavors. This type of existence is completely dishonest, and as such, is a sin.

This new situation in some of our state welfare plans has changed the adage to: "The wages of sin can be as much as $250 per month." Think about it.

Golden Years Rest Home has planned an old-fashioned holiday get-together for December 12 with everybody invited to join in between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m. Theme of the afternoon will be "Put Christ Back in Christmas."

Rest home patients and personnel enjoyed the open house program on the first anniversary so much that Mrs. Dick Cain, administrator, concluded it wasn't necessary to wait for a special occasion or anniversary to have an open house and decided to have one Sunday afternoon each month for open house. December 12 was set for the first such get-together.

Her guest here was her sister-in-law Mrs. George Johnston of Albuquerque, N.M., who left Thursday for Floydada to visit a sister enroute home. She flew from Albuquerque to Dallas where a nephew from Gladewater met her and she bought a new car in Gladewater for the rest of the trip. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Johnston visited in Gainesville with relatives including the Lloyd Sparkmanns and Mrs. H. L. Cogdell who also visited here at Mrs. Wilson's home.

Charles Felderhoff of Houston spent four days last week with his parents, the Tony Felderhoffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Blevins and children Belinda, Tommy, Phillip, Joseph and Suzy of Cookeville spent the weekend in Gainesville with her parents, the Joe B. Walters. Visiting Henry Hennigan, a patient at Muenster Hospital, and Mrs. Hennigan Sunday afternoon were a nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Hope of Fort Worth and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fisch, also of Fort Worth. Mr. and Mrs. Hope also visited at the Pat Hennigan home.

Birthday Club Has Dinner Meeting

Mrs. M. H. King was hostess for the November meeting of the Dizzy Dozen Birthday Club. She welcomed members in her home for the evening and took them to Rohmer's Restaurant for dinner.

At the King home the group of 13 enjoyed home movies taken at previous parties. Mrs. Ray Swirczynski took and showed the films. She also made pictures of the group that night.

Pre-Thanksgiving Dinner for Vogels

The Mullers also visited his prents, the Matt Mullers, and showed off little Stephen to other relatives and friends. It was the two-month-old baby's first visit to Muenster to meet the relationship.

Birthday Surprise For Mrs. Loerwald

A birthday surprise greeted Mrs. Robert Loerwald at her home, 210 McClain, Gainesville, Sunday afternoon celebrating her 82nd birthday.

Four generations of family were joined by other relatives including her only brother, Pete Mosman of Gainesville, and long-time friends. About 30 were present. They brought gifts and enjoyed visiting and refreshments including several decorated birthday cakes.

Mrs. Loerwald is a native of Iowa and a former resident of Lindsay where she and her late husband farmed for 44 years before retiring and settling in Gainesville about 27 years ago.

Local News BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Scoggins enjoyed a week of visiting with relatives in company of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. V. K. Barrier of St. Joseph, La., who were their guests last week. They visited in Vernon, went on to Abilene to visit Mr. Scoggins' brother Otto and wife, and a niece and her family. The B. M. Rogers, she's another daughter, of Pampa joined them at Abilene. The Barriers also went to Sweetwater to see their son Gary play football. He's a student at Texas Tech. From Abilene the Scoggins and Barriers drove to Eunice, N. M. to visit relatives. On the way home they stopped for an overnight visit with the Don Mullers at Lubbock and picked up Gary to accompany them to Vernon for another visit. They parted company there and Mr. and Mrs. Scoggins returned home Friday night. The Barriers went to Wichita Falls to visit until after Thanksgiving.

Relatives and friends of Mrs. Rex Anderson of Forestburg enjoyed seeing her on the television show, "What's My Line?" Sunday night. She flew to New York for the appearance. Her line? Turkey raising.

Relatives received word of the death Monday morning of C. B. Wright of Madera, Calif., formerly of Marysville. His widow is the former Hazel McCool. She and two daughters survive.

Johnny Becker left Monday to return to Silver Springs, Md., after a two-month visit with his grandparents, the Felix Beckers. They gave a farewell party for him Sunday night. Leo Becker saw him off at the Dallas airport.

Hornets - - - -
series. Klement and Stormer alternated in carrying the next five plays for a total gain of 65 to the Wildcat 20. But then the drive quit clicking. Next three tries gained only 3 yards and a kick for field goal was wide.

From the 20 Callisburg advanced 52 yards to the Hornet 28 in eight plays, including a 25 yard pass. But the drive stopped suddenly there when Joe Hartman recovered a fumble.

A pass advanced Muenster back to the 44 but the next three plays lost ground and the Hornets kicked. Next play however Robison's interception put them back in business in midfield. Seven plays from there gained to the 10 and Wildcat defense stood pat again. The series ended on the 2.

From there Callisburg went to the 13 in two tries and gained 3 on the next three tries. On the kick that followed Glenn Fleitman and Wayne Klement stormed through for a dandy block. Muenster had the ball on the 10. Second play of the series Virgil Swirczynski tossed to Louis Hellman for 8 yards and the final TD.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
A lot of taxpayers don't like to keep records. They are willing to take the standard deduction and pay more tax to get out of the record keeping chore. You can cost yourself a lot more by failing to keep a record of your deductible contributions, taxes, medical and miscellaneous expenses. A careful record of deductible items is a pretty good idea, even if you don't itemize your deductions every year. Good records help you manage your personal affairs better.

A grizzled old banker was being interviewed on his successful career. "How did you get started in the banking business?" he was asked. "It was quite simple," he replied. "One day I put up a sign saying Bank. A feller came in and gave me one hundred dollars. Another came by with two hundred dollars. And reached such a point, I put in fifty dollars of my own money."

TEXAS BEEF TO EUROPE

FIRST AIR SHIPMENT of chilled beef to Germany is shown being loaded aboard a jetliner at Dallas' Love Field. Looking on are (l. to r.) Texas Farm Bureau President C. H. DeVaney of Waco; Jack Estes, Jr., of Estes Packing Co., Fort Worth; and Don Chappell, Dallas district sales manager, Pan American Airlines. Four carcasses, quartered to meet German import regulations and weighing 2,200 pounds, were sent to Cologne for sale during a "Texas Week" promotion in a supermarket there. U.S. Ambassador George C. McGhee, who hails from Waco, was on hand for the Cologne celebration. The Texas Farm Bureau, working with Texas Direkt Import of Wiesbaden, Germany, initiated the shipment in cooperation with Estes Packing Co. and Pan American Airlines. The TFB handles supply contracts in Texas for the German import firm which deals only in Texas-produced food items.

Over 1.4 Million Persons Unaware They Are Diabetic

Almost everyone knows something about diabetes. And a lot of what we think we know isn't so. The experts have estimated that there are more than 1,730,000 known diabetics in the United States, and that there are about 1,426,000 more Americans who have diabetes and don't know it. These figures are plus untold hundreds of thousands more who may develop diabetes if they don't follow a balanced diet, keep their weight down and have periodic physical examinations by doctors to detect early changes in how their bodies use sugar.

What is diabetes? It is a disorder in which the body cannot make full use of some of the foods we eat — mainly the carbohydrates, or sugars and starches.

Diabetes can be controlled by planned diet, exercises and, in many cases, insulin or oral medication. Well-controlled diabetics can lead active and useful lives.

Most likely candidates for diabetes are overweight persons past the age of 40, particularly those who are related to diabetics, and especially older women. But diabetes can hit anyone at any age.

Symptoms in advance cases include increase in thirst, constant hunger, frequent urination, loss of weight, itching, easy tiring, changes in vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches.

A committee is a group of unqualified persons appointed by a disinterested party to do a job that no one else would volunteer to do.

Here Is The Truth Your Community Should Know About Your Home Owned Red River Farm Co-op Inc.

Quotations From Leaders On Cooperatives ...

Cooperatives give our American farmer a great voice in how to buy, sell and receive necessary supplies, marketing and other services. They provide an essential business tool for rural America. Their vital role in our economy makes it imperative that more people know and understand the important partnership which they form.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON

"... The role of farm cooperatives is increasingly important in our national economy. Over the years they have proved a major means for assisting farmers to meet the problems and opportunities of modern agriculture ... Farmer Cooperatives are shining examples of the self-help pioneering spirit that has made this Nation great ..."

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

"... I have many times declared by conviction that the development of a powerful cooperative movement in this country is one of the needs of this period of economic readjustment ..."

CALVIN COOLIDGE

"... The cooperative is rooted in the concept of dispersal of ownership and control — the opposite of monopoly. The cooperative is the regulator — the great leavening influence — in our economy ... The cooperative method is the one organized economic force which demonstrated that it has within itself the facilities of stemming the tide of our economic system from one of tendency and dependency to one of ownership and responsibility ..."

SENATOR GEORGE AIKEN

Editorial, August 17, 1965:

"Texas farm cooperatives now are sole owners of the Houston Bank for Cooperatives. During the past nine years they have retired $7,600,000 in capital through repayment to the federal government, which established this bank in 1934 to finance cooperatives. Farmers did not have to repay this sum. They voluntarily supported laws which provided higher interest rates on borrowing from the bank over a period of years in order to make these payments to Washington. This is encouraging evidence that farmers and ranchmen prefer independence. It would be gratifying if this should prove to be an example widely followed in agriculture and other businesses. There is a growing need for more people who will pay their own way and not ask Washington to do what they can do for themselves."

DALLAS MORNING NEWS

Editorial, November 12, 1965

"The plant expansion agreement behind Southland Paint Co. of Gainesville and Cooke County Development Foundation Inc. is a cooperative enterprise that should be beneficial to both the company and the community."

GAINESVILLE DAILY REGISTER

RED RIVER

Many farmers of Texas have had no experience with cooperatives. They are finding their lot as individuals increasingly difficult as they buy and sell in a business world of corporations, chainstores, combines, trusts and unions.

Business groups generally have found the corporation a useful tool for concentrating capital to do jobs too big for the small investor or operator. The nation's 4 million farmers are by far the largest group of small independent businessmen in the country.

In 1921 when the Texas Legislature passed the Cooperative Marketing Act it made the following declaration of policy:

"In order to promote, foster and encourage the intelligent and orderly marketing of agricultural products through cooperation and to eliminate speculation and waste; and to make the distribution of agricultural products as direct as can be efficiently done between producer and consumer; and to stabilize the marketing problems of agricultural products; this law is passed."

What Is a Farmers Cooperative?

It is an organization of agricultural producers chartered to transact collectively business pertaining to agricultural products, supplies or services.

What Are Some of the Advantages Farmers Have Found From Cooperative Action?

Farmers use cooperatives to process, store, and market their produce and to purchase supplies and services. Cooperative processing plants prepare their crops, livestock, and livestock products for market. Marketing associations are used to obtain for their members the highest possible price for their products, quality considered. The cooperative purchasing association, on the other hand, assists its members in obtaining their farm supplies at the lowest possible price.

How Much Stock May One Member Own?

The Texas laws state: "No stockholder of a cooperative association shall own more than one-twentieth of the issued common stock of the association. This may be further limited in the bylaws — RED RIVER FARM CO-OP, INC. LIMITS one common stock share — one vote."

Are Members of Cooperatives Liable For Debts Incurred by the Association?

No. Except to the extent of any stock owned in the association or any unpaid balance on a promissory note given in payment for common stock or membership fees.

Red River Farm Co-op Has No Yearly Membership Fee

Where May Cooperatives Obtain Credit?

In addition to the usual lending agencies, The Houston Bank for Cooperatives, Houston, Texas, is a possible source of credit for Texas cooperative associations. The bank as established under the Farm Credit Act to furnish credit to farmers' cooperatives. Such loans are made in accordance with good banking practices, with adequate security and an acceptable plan for repayment.

Do All Cooperatives Pay Cash Patronage Refunds?

It is the ultimate aim of cooperatives to return all net margins to patrons. Generally, 20 percent or more of the correct patronage refunds are made in cash. In the early life of an association the remainder is retained by the association for paying off loans for capital investments, and investment stock is issued to the patrons. When funds are available cooperatives revolve out the oldest outstanding stock certificates.

What Requirements Must an Association Meet to Qualify for a "Letter of Exemption" Under Section 521, Title 26, of the Code?

1. The association must be owned by producers of agricultural commodities. Substantially all voting rights must be owned by actual producers who patronize the association.
2. The association must not do more business with non-members than with members.

3. Operations must be of a mutual nature with nonmembers treated equally with members in business dealing and in the distribution of savings.

4. Purchasing associations must not make purchases for nonmembers who are also nonproducers (not farmers) in excess of 15 percent of the total volume of business.

5. The legal structure of the association must be cooperative in principle.

6. Patronage refunds must be allocated and distributed to patrons under a binding obligation to do so.

Is the Cooperative Movement Antagonistic To Democratic Government?

A cooperative is simply a democratic way of doing business and thrives best in democratic soil. If the aims, objectives and practices of cooperatives were not entirely American and wholesome, over two thirds of the farmers and ranchmen in Texas would not own and use them.

Do Other Businesses Use The Cooperative Principle?

Yes, there are many more mutual and nonprofit corporations among businessmen on main street than among farmers. A few examples are:

1. the Railway Express Agency, owned cooperatively by a large number of railroads.

2. the Associated Press, owned by a nonprofit corporation by many newspapers.

3. numerous associations of grocery stores, drugstores, hardware stores, etc., which own their wholesale supply businesses or which provide insurance service, collective services, etc., on a cooperative basis.

4. Railroads have their union ticket office and cooperative switching service.

5. Banks have their clearing houses operated "at cost".

A congressional committee reported some 300,000 mutual, nonprofit and cooperative businesses in the U.S., all taxed on the same basis as the 6,000 federal "income tax exempt" farmer cooperatives. Few businessmen realize that they use the cooperative plan to such a large extent.

What Can Directors Do If a Person Makes False Statements About a Co-op?

Article 5761 of the Texas Cooperative Marketing Act reads:

"Any person or persons or any corporation whose officers or employees knowingly induce or attempt to induce any member or stockholder of an association organized hereunder to breach his marketing contract with the association, or who maliciously and knowingly spread false reports about the finances or management thereof shall be liable to the association aggrieved thereby in a civil suit for damages suffered in three times the amount of actual damage proven for each offense."

These are the facts. Now investigate the many other advantages that YOUR Co-op has for you and the community. All the profits from the Co-op you get as a patron and you spend it yourself in your community with local community businesses.

Post Office Helps Count Livestock

Rural mail carriers from the Muenster Post Office started leaving livestock cards along their routes Saturday. "Information reported on these cards is used to set the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms," explains Postmaster Arthur Endres.

Rural carriers distribute the cards at random in boxes along their routes. "This means that not every box will get a card," says Endres. "For this reason it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out, so that USDA can get a true sample of the state's livestock numbers."

District 16-B Spring Meet Is Organized

In a meeting held in Saint Jo, coaches and teachers from District 16-B made plans for the 1966 Interscholastic League Meet. There are 13 schools in the district.

Schools represented at the meeting were Muenster, Bellvue, Goldburg, Byers, Era, Forestburg, Callisburg, Midway, Prairie Valley, Petrolia, Valley View and Saint Jo. Lindsay, also a member school, was not represented.

John Henderson, Saint Jo superintendent, was elected director general of the meet and Coach Herschall Shuttlesworth was appointed secretary of the district and was elected athletic director.

It was voted that Cooke County Junior College have charge of the literary events either at their college or at Saint Jo Public Schools.

Also voted was that the track and field meet be held in Saint Jo on April 14. The meet will be three divisional, including senior, junior and elementary.

In charge of the tennis meet will be Mr. Taylor of Valley View and Wayne Moyer of Petrolia will be in charge of the volleyball meet.

Each school in the district will be assessed $5.00 to help defray expenses of this district meet.

Library Location Discussed at Meet

Plans have been made to have a contract drawn up for board approval relocating Muenster Public Library. The contract will be with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke to rent one of their houses for a library. From this point it is hoped the library can eventually be located in a new building of its own.

Library relocation has become necessary on account of over-crowded conditions at City Hall and the continued growth of the library.

This was the principal business discussion at the Nov. 17 meeting of the library board of directors. A group of local Joycees attended and offered to help if their assistance is needed.

It was decided that the library will continue to operate in its present location until relocation plans the worked out.

Meetings are held on the third Wednesday of every month and are open to the public. Interested persons are urged to attend.

COLD WEATHER DRIVING EXPERT PREPARES FOR WINTER.

Why more motorists switch to the Tiger when it gets cold.

Many cars that ran just fine all summer get into trouble when ear-muff time rolls around — stalling at stoplights and coughing and chugging halfway into town. That's when a lot of people switch to the Tiger. Winter-formula Enco Extra gasoline is blended to match the weather conditions in your area — including a special additive to help guard against icing. Result: easier starting, faster warm-up and a lot less worry about stalling. You'll like the way new Enco Extra behaves on the open road, too. It's the High-energy gasoline with the: (1) cleaning power; (2) firing power; (3) octane power to help preserve the performance of new cars and restore lost power and mileage to many older cars. Switch to the Tiger and get that nice warm feeling. Happy Motoring!

Power Failure Is Unlikely Here Says TP&L Chief

Electric power is not exposed to failure in the Texas Power & Light Company service area as occurred in the north-eastern United States recently because power requirements in this area are not dependent on remote power sources connected by long transmission lines, W. W. Lynch, president of TP&L, reported.

In addition, Lynch said, TP&L has seven large power plants located in various sections of its service area. As a result, the failure of any of these plants would not be crippling to TP&L. Should a generating unit in any of these plants fail, the units in the plants which remain in operation would immediately provide electricity for the customers.

The Company operates major power plants at Valley near Savoy in north Texas; at Rivercrest near Paris; at Collins near Frisco, at Trinidad near Athens; at Stryker Creek, northwest of Nacogdoches; at Lake Creek near Waco; and at the Aluminum Company of America plant at Rockdale.

Lynch pointed out, "TP&L keeps in operation a power reserve equaling the maximum output of the Company's largest generating unit which could handle the outage if the Company should have a service interruption at any of these plants."

He stated that TP&L is capable of meeting all electric power requirements in its 52-county area at any given time and that the Company has available ample reserve power at all times.

However, in the event of an emergency, Lynch said, "the interconnections of the electric system with those of Dallas Power & Light Company, Texas Electric Service Company and Houston Lighting & Power Company would provide an immediate source of electricity for TP&L customers." The Texas Utilities Company system, composed of TP&L, DP&L & TESCO, is capable of supplying more than 5 million kilowatts of electric power, he said.

If needed, he stated, the 345,000-volt transmission tie with Houston Lighting & Power Company could carry one-half million kilowatts into the Texas Utilities Company system.

As a result, Lynch said, "the multiplicity of TP&L plants, combined with the interconnecting systems of DP&L, TESCO and HL&P, as well as that of the Lower Colorado River Power Authority, make virtually impossible the loss of power on a state-wide level."

Lynch also said that security measures are maintained at the power plants. "The plants are lighted, have high steel fences as well as locked gates and there are persons on duty at all times," he said. In addition, the major power plants are inspected by the Army at regular intervals, he explained.

Also, hydroelectric power from dams represents less than 3% of the combined electric capacity of the three companies of the Texas Utilities Company system. These companies do not rely as greatly on this type of electric power as is the case in the East where it is more highly prevalent. The majority of TP&L power is generated by steam turbines.

Linda Hoelker Is Queen at Lindsay Hi Homecoming

Miss Linda Hoelker was crowned football queen for 1965 in formalities at Lindsay High homecoming celebrations Saturday.

A huge crowd gathered for the pre-game ceremony and cheered for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Hoelker who won the coveted crown. The crowd cheered again and again during the night as Lindsay Knights played to victory in the final game of the season, romping past Gunter 38-14.

Others participating in the royal ceremonies were Co-Captain Joe Bezner who did the honors of crowning, and last year's queen, Miss Margie Hess who relinquished the crown. Also Queen Linda's escort James Hellingner, and Kenny Laux who escorted Miss Hess.

Other key figures were the three princesses, runners-up in the contest, and their escorts: Janet Arendt and Louis Gieb, Diane Zimmerer and Jimmy Eberhart and Margie Fuhrmann and Mike Hundt. Superintendent Glenn Hellman recognized the starters: Joe Bezner, Kenny Laux, Andy Arendt, James Hellingner, Mike Hundt, Louis Gieb, David Arendt and David Laux. For the first time this season all regulars were able to start. One or the other had always been out for injuries before.

After the game ex-students of Lindsay School had a reunion and buffet and festivities ended with a homecoming dance.

Many former students were recognized and Mrs. Joe Bezner Sr., received the prize for being the oldest ex-student present. Lambert Bezner of Gainesville won the door prize. Other on-field activity was a display by the football squad and pep squad. They formed a large K in the center of the field. Kenny Laux presented the new queen a bouquet of long-stemmed red roses.

Mrs. Bruno Zimmerman registered guests. Honored ones were tenth grade graduates of 1932 and 1933 and 12th grade grads of 1935.

Mrs. J. S. Horn - - - moved to Muenster and Mrs. Horn has been a continous resident since.

She was married to J. S. Horn in May 1903 and in 1909 took over as switchboard operator when the first telephone system was installed. She held the job for five years then resigned to devote full time to a growing family. She returned to the telephone company in January 1927 and was in charge until 1943. From then until May 1950 she served as relief operator. At that time she broke a hip and it was two years before she walked again.

She lives alone and does her housework with an occasional assist from her children. Her husband died in June 1949.

Always interested and active in parish and civic events, Mrs. Horn is a charter member of the Muenster court Catholic Daughters of America, belongs to the parish St. Anne Society and the Third Order of St. Francis.

In addition to her three sons and two daughters she has 12 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. She has one sister Mrs. John Wilde of Muenster and one brother Joe Voth of Justin.

Homecoming at Lindsay Spiced by Win over Gunter

A long awaited victory Saturday night did wonders for the Lindsay High homecoming and also made a pleasing finale to the 1965 football season. The Knights' 38-14 win over Gunter was the third of the season and the first of the district schedule.

Expert passing by Mike Hundt for 14 completions out of 20 tries and a total of 214 yards sparked the Knights in their one sided win.

His barrage started in the first quarter and accounted for most gains in a 60 yard drive which ended in a 5 yard plunge by Joe Bezner, who also made bonus points.

Bezner scored again in the second quarter by intercepting a pass and returning it 14 yards to pay dirt. Louis Gieb followed over for two more, making the count 16-0 at half time.

The Hundt - Bezner combo for 25 yards produced the next Lindsay TD early in the third and Bezner went over again for two extra points.

Then the Gunter team got their machine ticking and put over two TDs before the Knights could stop them.

But the Knights themselves had more scoring in their system. One resulted from a 30 yard pass to David Arendt, the other from a 26 yard pass to James Eberhart.

Tigers - - -

Wimmer and Rudy Koesler, but two incomplete passes and a 2 yard gain called for a kick on the third series.

From there the Austin fellows put on 90 yard grinding drive in 16 plays for their next touchdown. Big gains were 16 by Purdy, and 21 by Howard. Fred Howard made the last 3. An attempted kick for extra point was blocked.

Back in action Sacred Heart had to kick on its first series and recovered St. Ed's fumble on the play. Then Kralicke ripped off 15 to the St. Ed's 36, and the threat fizzled in a big way. The series was short and the kick was fouled by a high pass from center. The visitors were in business on the Tiger 48 as the last quarter opened.

A kick ended the first series but a Muenster fumble two plays later and 15 yards free on a penalty two plays after that put the visitors on the 12. A pass to James on the next was good for the final TD and a run added two points.

Sacred Heart returned the next kickoff to its 42 and fumbled. St. Ed's went sour on its next series and had to kick. Larry Hess made a first down to Sacred Heart's 45 and another first down was completed to the St. Ed's 44 but wasted on a fumble. The visitors made their first series and kicked on their second. Larry Hess gained 10 to Sacred Heart's 30 and an interception on the next play ended the game.

Medders Host - - -

12:30 there was breakfast with a variety of foods including country sausage which Mrs. Medders says is a must out here, and grilled ham, fried chicken livers, Texas honey buns, hot biscuits, scrambled eggs, marmalades and Danish pastries.

Comedian Cactus Prior, who President Johnson calls his "favorite mc" kissed ladies' hands as he played the role of Sir Carl Pederson, Administrator of Agriculture from Denmark.

Newspaper cameramen and a reporter from Life Magazine interviewed guests and flashed bulbs for a story on big things in Texas.

Dual hurricane lanterns outlined the road from the highway to the barn and parking area. And the red carpet was rolled out - 35 feet long under a canopy - for guests to walk on and under as they stepped from their cars. Muenster Jaycees in western vests parked automobiles.

Surprise Program

A surprise event of the evening for Mr. and Mrs. Medders was a gift presentation - a love gift from their Muenster friends at the party - a silver tray in grateful appreciation for all Mr. and Mrs. Medders do for Muenster. The tray is engraved with an appropriate message.

It was presented at intermission in a short program emceed by Tom Thorpe of Dallas with Father Alcuin Kubis and Mayor Earl Fisher as speaker and Comedian Cactus Prior as entertainer.

Father Alcuin spoke about Muenster's being fortunate in having the Medders' fine family as residents and of the good they do in so many ways for the community.

Before the presentation he asked Mr. and Mrs. Medders to come to the raised platform while the band played "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You."

After the program he asked all the Medders' kin to dance to "I Love You Truly." Some 30 relatives of the host family danced that number and the audience applauded as they had done at gift presentation time.

Congressman and Mrs. Graham Purcell of Washington, D.C., were among distinguished guests signing the guest book at which Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Herr presided. Those attending showed their invitations at the gate.

The new building, referred to by many as the "Astrodome" of show barns, is large enough to stage a rodeo. The special portable dance floor will be stored for future special events.

Mrs. Medders is accustomed to entertaining. With six young people in the family a party is a routine occurrence.

Along with the special floor there was a temporary sidewalk from the show barn to the horse stable, about 100 feet to the east. Guests also visited this building.

J. D. Howard, farm manager, and Bob Smith, horse trainer, served as guides. In typical Texas style they wore cowboy boots with their smart black suits.

Hat check girls and cigarette girls were finalists in the Miss Muenster contest: Patsy Hartman, Miss Muenster, and Candy Fette, Debbie Schilling, Barbara Schmitt, Mary Wimmer, Paulette Endres and Margie Fuhrmann. They wore red and white colonial costumes and white wigs.

After the Royal Canadians finished playing at 12:30 a rock and roll band, The Abstracts from Oklahoma City, started and dancing continued for late night people until 3 a.m.

In addition to those from Texas, guests came from Virginia, Tennessee, Illinois, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico, and Washington, D.C. These included people in the cattle world and horse raisers.

The Medders family raises Black and Red Angus cattle, quarterhorses and Appaloosa horses on their 237 acres which is a typical Texas ranch.

The barn will be used for horse and cattle shows, for livestock sales and rodeos but Tuesday night it was a magnificent ballroom, the scene of the grandest ball in all of Texas, or any other state.

Joyce Neu, 10, Is Birthday Honoree

Joyce Neu celebrated being ten years old Sunday at a party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neu at Lindsay.

Twelve girl classmates and other guests were present for games, refreshments and party favors.

Special guests were the honoree's grandparents, the Joe J. Neu and her great-grandmother Mrs. Jos. F. Neu. Also present were an uncle and aunt, the Lee Schroeders and four children of Gainesville, the Wilfred Bindels and six children of Muenster, the Leo Felderhoffs and Darleen and Gary Joe of Gainesville and Mrs. Vincent Zimmerer.
