PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burnstan

The war has made great and urgent demands upon aeronautical science and industry for the development of flawless aircraft and their components. Under the emergency, the aeronautical world has complied, and the astounding developments in warplanes, only partially known today, will not be entirely (for reasons of security) disclosed until after victory has been won.

Not all aeronautical development during the war has been limited to destruction and death-dealing devices. A great many of the developments have been for safety and accuracy in flight and will be applicable to peacetime aviation.

Radar, in contrast with its destruction-dealing wartime role, will serve peacetime aviation as a detection device for obstructions encountered in flight during poor flying conditions.

The automatic pilot, which has as one of its wartime jobs the responsibility of keeping the aeroplane on an even keel during bombing operations, will be used to afford a respite from routine piloting to peacetime aviators during monotonous flights.

These and other electronic products, whether wholly or partially used in peacetime aviation, will tend to repay in a small way the unestimable destruction they helped cause during the war.

John P. Janicki of Tyler arrive to be sponsors at the ceremony. Mrs. Janicki is the former Miss Marcella Pagel, and she and her husband will spend his leave in this city.

The Executive Board of the Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. will meet in College Station, Texas, on Wednesday, October 12, beginning at 9 o'clock. It has been announced. Members of the Muenster Garden Club interested in attending the session can get full particulars from Miss Olivia Cook, club president.

The Muenster Civic League and Garden Club will meet in regular monthly session next Friday afternoon, Oct. 13, and an interesting program will be presented, it is announced.

Mrs. A.P. Ackley of Gainesville had as her guests Friday her children, George Ackley of Dallas Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Hooper, Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richards of this city, and a granddaughter, Mrs. E.H. LaRose of Arlington, Va. Another son, Paul Ackley, resides with his mother and this was the first time all of the Ackley children had been together in several years.

If all Allied soldiers could match the record of Capt. Jerry Lewis of Coleman, Texas, the war wouldn't last very long. The Lone Star infantry officer, assisted only by his sergeant, captured 204 Nazis in one bunch, during hard fighting in France.

Another Coleman officer, Clarence Carr, recently won the coveted Distinguished Flying Cross for "extraordinary achievement" as a top turret gunner and engineer aboard a Flying Fortress.

Other Texans this week also are wearing new decorations, among them, Sgt. Jim Arnold of Killen, Sgt. Joe Edgerton of Orange, Sgt. Tom Childers and Sgt. Chester Watts of Luling, Sgt. Ross Dulaney of Harlingen, and Sgt. Willie Slaughter of Mexia. All have been awarded the Silver Star.

And a Gorman, Texas soldier has set a new musical travel record. He is Corp. Vernon (Tiny) Adams, who has travelled 200,000 miles, carrying his trusty guitar all the way! After playing and singing on a score of islands in the Pacific, Tiny says now that he expects to play soon in Tokyo.

And on the home front, hundreds of Texans this week were preparing for the "big push" which will start on October 10 in every county of the Lone Star state. They are the "war fund commandos" — leaders and workers who will take part in the state-wide campaign on behalf of the National War Fund.

The war fund drive will open with a 30-minute radio program over all Texas networks and independent stations at 9:30 p.m., Monday, October 9. The following morning, a home-front army of hundreds of patriotic Texans will take the field to raise almost $5,000,000 for the agencies of the National War Fund.

In every county of the state, local and civic leaders will head the drive, which will be publicized through newspapers, radio, billboards, and practically every other media. Texas merchants have been asked to do their bit toward success of the campaign through war fund displays in their store windows.

County campaign chairmen and publicity chairmen have supplies of a special window display instruction book, and posters, cards, and other materials to be used in the displays. Merchants who have not received the materials have been asked to communicate with their local county chairmen at once.

A clean-cut, determined Texan is leading the famed Ninth U.S. Army in France. He is Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson, who hails from Weatherford.

Another Texan, Col. Bob Warren of Big Spring, recently led a horde of Flying Fortresses and Mustang fighters on a shuttle raid of central Germany, taking off from Italy and landing in England, after pasting military objections in the Reich.

But leave it to a sergeant to have the most unusual experience of the week. In Southern France, Bob Blair of Plainview heard an enemy cannon firing and dived for a fox-hole. A German shell beat him to it, landing squarely in the hole before Bob got there. His life saved by his slowness, Bob is determined to spend the rest of the war above ground, and leave the fox-holes for someone else.

Sharing a fox-hole with a Nazi shell isn't healthy. Names make news in war as elsewhere. So here are capsule paragraphs about Texans on the fighting front.

Sgt. R.W. Fulks of Luling, Flying Fortress gunner, has been given the Distinguished Flying Cross for "extraordinary achievement" on bombing raids over Europe.

Sgt. Bill Robinson, Honey Grove has the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, won over Germany. But now he is a prisoner of war, having been shot down on a recent bombing flight. Like other Americans in the hands of the enemy he will receive help from the home-folks, through War Prisoners Aid, a National War Fund agency which provides books, athletic equipment and dozens of other morale-building items to the "barbed wire legion".

Ed Schraeder of Mosheim, mortar expert, recently won promotion to staff Sgt. on the battlefield in the Pacific.

Fighting in France is Lloyd Taylor of Ames veteran of 20 month army service and seven months overseas.

"The Japs will stop at nothing short of death," warns Pfc. Judy Cox, Brownwood boy who has seen much fighting on Saipan. Back home to recover from wounds he tells of hundreds of Japs who killed themselves rather than surrender.

Capt. Freddie Hobercht, Beville airman, set some sort of a record recently when he bailed out of his ripped plane behind the German lines in France. Instead of becoming a Nazi prisoner he made his way back to Allied lines bringing a German prisoner with him. That's the Texas way of fighting!

Among Texans recovering from wounds received in France are these lads now at McCloskey General Hospital, Temple. Pfc. Geronimo Saucedo, El Campo, S.Sgt. Joshua Truitt, Center; Sgt. J.P. Surginer, Tenaha, and Lt. Henry Chaplain, Austin. Lt. Chaplain, who served in England and France says robot bombs in flight "look like comets".

Pfc. Tom Kenworth, who lost a leg at St. Lo in France, says the fighting was so close that often they could hear the Jerries "hollering when our bullets hit them". Tom is from Waco.

And an Anson boy, also back home to recover from wounds, tells how a Nazi shell hit his unit, knocking him unconscious and killing six Americans. He is S.Sgt. Harry Frye.

Lt. Jim McPherson of Kerrville, 21-years-old navigator of the 8th Air Force, wears the Air Medal as result of bombing raids on German war industries. Lt. Ed Nolte of New Braunfels has been awarded the DFC as well as the Air Medal and three Oak Leaf Clusters.

It's hard to tell which to admire most, when one visits McCloskey — the heroic wounded veterans or the human, capable and kind men and women who care for them so well. But one thing is certain: thanks to the skill and patience of the McCloskey medics, thousands of men who might have died or been helpless cripples for life will return to their homes happy, healthy and useful citizens of the Lone Star State.

Back home for a rest after 22

 THE STATE OF TEXAS
 To: Halton L. Walman Defendant.
 Greetings:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Cooke County at the Court House thereof, in Gainesville, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 13th day of November A.D. 1944, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 30th day of September A.D. 1944, in this cause, numbered 14203 on the docket of said court, and styled Nora M. Walman Plaintiff, vs. Halton L. Walman Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit:

A suit to dissolve the marriage between plaintiff and defendant, performed on 6th day of August, A.D. 1944, by reason of the same being null and void in that defendant had a living wife from whom he was not divorced at the time of said marriage, and said marriage being procured by reason of fraud and misrepresentations on the part of the defendant, and for the restoration of the name of plaintiff to her former name Nora M. Mahler, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, this the 30th day of September A.D. 1944.

Your Health

Austin, Texas. — Explaining the need for all Texas births to be registered through the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Department of Health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said in Austin today, "There are many reasons why every person needs a birth certificate. It is necessary for entrance into school, for the right to vote, for work in Federal Defense projects, to prove American citizenship, for entering military service, to prove legal age for inheritance of property, for proving claims of widows and orphans, for settlement of insurance for right of admission to certain professions, for collecting compensation from the government, and for many other important activities.

In Texas whenever a birth is attended by a physician, it becomes the physician's responsibility according to law to file a certificate of birth. There are, however, children born in the state without medical attendance, and it is the parents' responsibility to have this birth registered through the regular channel.

The tremendous load of work done in the past two and one-half years by the Bureau of Vital Statistics in effecting delayed registration and furnishing copies of birth certificates needed because of the war and its resultant changes in occupation and way of living has demonstrated conclusively that the registration of births at the time they occur is of great personal benefit to every individual.

Much of the delay and embarrassment to people in search of a delayed birth certificate could be entirely avoided by general recognition of the value attached to each having his own certificate of birth.

St. Augustine Grass

If you have trouble growing grass under trees, the answer to der shade trees, the answer to your problem may be St. Augustine grass. It grows just as well in dense shade as in full sunlight.

Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening for the A. and M. College Extension Service, says this grass thrives along the Gulf coast and inland for a distance of more than 100 miles. There's still some question whether St. Augustine grass will survive temperatures below 10 degrees Fahrenheit, but Miss Hatfield says she believes the risk is worth taking.

Eventually this question will be settled, because the grass is now being grown in North Texas and even as far north as Oklahoma.

You can start this grass on your lawn by planting bits of sod 15 to 36 inches apart. Home demonstration club members growing St. Augustine grass report that it needs a fair supply of water for the first two years to promote rapid growth and to form a heavy sod. After that, it will stand prolonged dry periods as well as Bermuda.

One more point — Maybe you've heard St. Augustine grass called "carpet grass." That's an error and should be corrected Miss Hatfield says. There's still another grass known commercially as carpet grass, ordinarily it does not make a satisfactory lawn.

Feastdays of Teachers Celebrated

Sacred Heart students eagerly look forward to the feastdays of their teachers as days of celebration for both teachers and pupils. On Friday of last week we celebrated the feast of St. Michael, patron of Sister M. Michael and on Saturday, the feast of St. Jerome, patron of Sister M. Jerome. Classes were held as usual until 2:30 in the afternoon when the entire student body assembled in the Junior-Senior classroom and surprised the Sisters with a short feast day celebration to express their gratitude for their spiritual and scholastic guidance.

Everyone enjoyed the short speech of congratulations mingled with humor rendered by Henry Yosten, Junior-Senior class president. Margie Ann Endres presented each Sister with a spiritual book, A Spiritual Bouquet was offered by the students along with a fruit shower. Each Sister then spoke a few words of thanks for the kind thoughtfulness shown them.

Group singing ended the program.

Science Classes Prove Interesting

For the past two weeks we have been enjoying our laboratory periods in the laboratory. As usual, the science classes are proving themselves the most interesting among the students as can be seen by the enrollment. Every student is enrolled in one or the other of the science courses offered at Sacred Heart High — General Science for the Freshmen, Botany for the Sophomores, and Chemistry for the Juniors and Seniors.

Sacred Heart High can justly be proud of its laboratory which has all the equipment necessary to carry on the experiments required. The only difficulty at present is that the classes have outgrown the size of the room. However, that is not keeping us from work or from enjoying our class-work.

Campus Comment:

What was that? — No assignments this week-end — it can't be true — why it will be the first time since the bell rang on September 11, that we did NOT have to carry home one of our books. Since we have no books to tackle this weekend we will bring you a few tid-bits from the campus. So here goes:

The FRESHMEN have been wearing very anxious and bewildered expressions since last Wednesday. Did anyone of them eavesdrop the special meeting held in the Junior-Senior classroom? Really the little word INITIATION would not alarm them.

These tests we have been having are beginning to tell their tales — A.J. Felderhoff gets lost in his history book — another wonders who it is that "Forgets-me-not" — someone wants to know when a letter is a "vowel" — and, could it be that a few gray hair will show next May.

The little word WHY seems to be the stumbling block in writing book reports. It means you MUST read that book if you want to answer those questions.

Bright Sophomore: Sister, is there anything that has not yet been discovered or invented?

WORTHY OF NOTICE: Father Thomas' interest in playground activities — Mildred Wiesman's and Jewel Marie Hoffman's 100's on tests — Sacred Heart High's bus drivers — Henry Yosten and Thomas Gremminger.

It seems the boys discovered a new football star last Wednesday. Sister Jerome's touchdown caused the losing side to be the winner for the first time.

Until the next time we will say good-bye.

WINTER COVER CROPS FOR COOKE COUNTY

We are very anxious that every farmer possible have as many acres as possible of winter cover crops this year. RIGHT NOW IS THE TIME TO PLANT.

Hairy vetch is one of the best cover crops, both for the cross-timber section and the prairie section of Cooke County. This should be planted at the rate of 20 pounds of seed per acre. Seed can be obtained in Gainesville.

The AAA Program pays the farmers for turning under winter legumes. The rate of pay can be obtained from the AAA office.

Also at this time rye grass should be planted for winter and early spring pasture. This grass proved very satisfactory last year as a cash crop when the seed was combined.

For further information in regard to winter legumes and grass see the County Agent.

If men had no faith in one another, we'd all have to live on our income.

There was a time when I could gad around and catch up with my work too. Now I scarcely find time to gad around.

Sometimes the finest kind of command of the English language is complete silence.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES OBSERVED WITH PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hess entertained at their home Sunday evening with a dinner party marking their fourth wedding anniversary. Sharing honors with them were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schmitt, whose third wedding anniversary occurred on Saturday.

Mrs. Hess is the former Miss Antonio Hundt of Lindsay and Mrs. Schmitt was Miss Mitzie Hess of this city before her marriage.

Personnel included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hundt and daughter, Miss Clara, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hundt and sons of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Hess and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Schmitt and Miss Marie Sturm, and the honor couples and their families.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORS BETTY LUE BUCKLEY

Little Miss Betty Lue Buckley was honored with a party Friday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Buckley, in observance of her 13 birthday.

A color scheme of green and pink was noted in decorations in the party rooms and games and contests furnished diversion for the 21 guests, classmates of the honoree, who presented Betty Lue with appropriate gifts.

Birthday cake and other refreshments were served by Mrs. Buckley at the close of activity.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

How much milk a cow will produce during a year depends greatly on the condition of the cow at freshening time, the extension services say. Cows which have been built up in weight during their dry period and which are properly cared for in the first few weeks after calving will be in better condition to deliver maximum milk during the rest of the year.

There are certain standard recommendations as to handling fresh cows, which are generally agreed upon by dairy specialists of the extension services. The need for building up the weight of the cow 150 to 200 pounds during her dry time has been discussed in this column.

A few days before calving, the cow should be separated from the rest of the herd and placed in clean, comfortable surroundings. In winter, the cow should be sheltered from cold drafts and should have luke-warm water for drinking.

Feeding should be light in the few days before calving, with bran mash, a limited amount of silage and good legume hay suggested. A mixture of three parts ground oats, two parts wheat bran and one part linseed meal is recommended after two or three days, to take the place of the bran mash.

Too rapid increase in feeding after calving may cause indigestion or bloat. In four or five days, if the cow is doing well, up to five pounds of grain may be fed daily, this quantity increased one pound each two or three days thereafter until maximum milk production is reached.

The extension services also say not to milk the cow thoroughly, but to draw only a small quantity of milk from each quarter during the first three days after calving. This will help prevent milk fever.

For detailed suggestions on handling the freshening cow, I suggest you write the USDA at Washington, D. C., and ask for Farmers' Bulletin No. 1470, which is free, and also the Extension Service at the University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota, for Bulletin 218.*

tures, but the difference is that a good pasture is an item you can do something about.

In many places, they call a good pasture a "mortgage lifter." It is one of the most important parts of a sound dairy program.

It may not be too late yet to get lime, superphosphate and other fertilizers on your pasture, for that needed fall application. Scattering of barnyard manure with a chain harrow is a good suggestion from the extension services for this time of year also.

One of the important things to guard against right now is pasturing too late in the fall. You can do a lot of damage to pastures by keeping your herd on the grass in late fall. It should be permitted to recover from summer and early fall grazing, so as to withstand cold weather.

Farmers' Bulletin 1942, by the USDA, Washington, D. C., recommends removing the herd from a pasture while the grass still has at least three inches of top growth. This allows the grass to store up root reserves, and will give you better grass, both tops and root, next spring. This bulletin is entirely on "good pastures" and is worth writing for.

One of those skeptical Scotsmen was riding with a friend on a train. They passed a field of sheep and the friend remarked, "All those sheep have just been sheared." "On this side anyway," said the Scot.

Frozen milk may be all right when it comes in the form of ice cream, but it is a dead loss in most other cases. It is still important in winter time to cool milk down to about 50 degrees after milking, but care must be taken to prevent much lower temperatures.

While waiting for the pick-up truck, cans should not be left out of doors unprotected when there is danger of a sharp freeze. Loss from freezing is a dollar waster which can be avoided with but little trouble.

The best thing to do is keep the cans under cover, in the milk house, in a shed or some other protected place until pick-up time. This is something which will begin to be a problem in a short time now so it might be a good idea to check up and see whether you have a proper place to handle the cans.

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

Mister Dairyman

Do not get too optimistic about this good wheat and oats pasture we will have this fall and winter, and neglect to give your cows those Vital Minerals and Vitamins.

Keep Vitaway Minerals and Vitamins in their feed all the year 'round, it pays. We have reports from feeders of Vitaway Minerals of the healthiest cows they have ever had — no "Pink Eye" — no "Abortion" — no "Calving Trouble". Try it and be convinced.

LET US MAKE YOUR FEEDS —

Bring in what grain you have — we can balance it and turn out as good a feed as can be had — at a saving in price.

Lindsay News

Lindsay Sergeant Is Commended For Outstanding Valor

WITH THE U.S. FORCES IN FRANCE.— Staff Sgt. Raymond P. Kupper, son of Joe Kupper of Lindsay, has been commended by his commanding officer for outstanding courage under enemy fire during the battle for France.

When some of his comrades were wounded in an exposed area, Sgt. Kupper volunteered to lead medical aid men through machine gun and mortar fire so they could evacuate the injured soldiers. Although the enemy hit the entire area with flares and sprayed it with machine gun fire, Sgt. Kupper succeeded in leading the medical men to the wounded and then helped evacuate them to safety.

The 26-year-old sergeant serves with an infantry battalion and has been in the army since February, 1942. He went overseas in May, this year, and was stationed in England prior to the invasion of Normandy. He has two brothers also serving in France with the army. Cpl. Michael Kupper, member of a tank division and Pvt. Andrew Kupper, on duty with an engineer battalion.

8 NEW STAMPS VALID SUNDAY: 3 RED, 5 BLUE

Three new red meats and fats stamps and five new blue stamps for processed foods became valid Sunday.

They are H-5, J-5 and K-5 in the red and M-5 through R-5 in the blue stamps.

Creamery Butter Up

Creamery butter went up from 16 to 20 points Sunday, the OPA indicating that the increase of four points would hold for at least 90 days.

Present point values on all other rationed foods, including meats, cheese and processed items will remain unchanged through October.

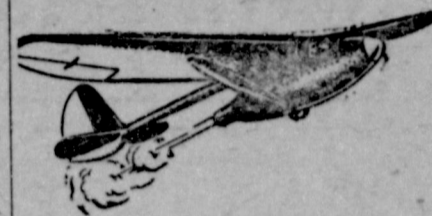

PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burstan

From one of the most destructive weapons of the war, the German robot bomb, may result a propulsion unit for a peacetime sport craft; namely, the jet-assisted sailplane.

At the present time a number of methods are employed to get a sailplane into the air. The original method which included a shock cord launching from a slope, has been practically abandoned in favor of other means of power launching, such as auto tow launching. These methods, of course, necessitate the assistance of at least one person on the ground in order to launch a sailplane.

It is the belief of a group of aeronautical engineers that jet engines can be installed in the tail of sailplanes. This improvement would enable the sportsman pilot to get the plane off the ground without assistance. After the plane is aloft the rising air currents keep it soaring, but the sportsman pilot could turn on the jet engine at any time to obtain power to reach more desirable air currents or to evade bad weather. When the sportsman pilot wished to descend he could glide to a landing without the assistance of an engine.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 544 bales of cotton were ginned in Cooke county from the crop of 1944 prior to September 16, as compared with 2,896 bales for the crop of 1943 to the corresponding date, according to Edwin J. Hultaker, special agent for the department of commerce, bureau of the census.

SUBIACO ALUMNI TO SPONSOR BENEFIT AT LINDSAY ON OCT. 22

Members of the North Texas District of the Subiaco Alumni Association will sponsor their annual benefit party at Lindsay this year. It was announced Monday, and a gala time is being planned for the affair.

The party, with an array of entertainment features, bazaar attractions, refreshments and cold drinks, will take place on Sunday, October 22, and everyone is invited to attend.

Proceeds from the event will be placed in the Subiaco Building Fund. Rev. Thomas Buegler, Muester pastor, and Jake Bezner, Lindsay, are in charge of arrangements and are being assisted by members from this community and Lindsay.

The social will get underway shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon and will continue during the evening hours.

CEILING-SUPPORT PRICES ON HOGS

The Office of Price Administration and the War Food Administration with the approval of the Director of Economic Stabilization have announced that ceiling prices on live hogs will not be reduced from present levels prior to June 30, 1945.

Ceiling Prices are $14.75 per hundred weight, Chicago basis, for hogs weighing 240 pounds or less and $14.00 per hundredweight Chicago basis, for hogs weighing more than 240 pounds.

The War Food Administration also stated that the support price of $12.50 per hundredweight, Chicago basis, for Good to Choice butcher hogs weighing 200 to 240 pounds, which becomes effective on October 1, 1944, as heretofore announced for the period ending March 31, 1945, will be continued until June 30, 1945.

faltered medical service in this country is going to uncork some interesting academic discussion if not a heated squabble. It has merits and demerits, both worthy of serious consideration.

On one side are poor folks who can't afford to see a doctor as often as they should and doctors who can't make a decent living on their meager fees. Socialized medicine could correct that.

On the other side there's the danger of adulterating the medical profession with politics so that ultimately a doctor's standing will be determined less by his skill than by his campaign ability or influence with party bosses.

Perhaps a moderate plan to correct the first evil could be worked out. But it would have to be a cooperative venture in a group or area rather than a public program. Only that way could it be kept free of political entanglements. At the same time private practice would have to con-
