VOLUME XXXI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 JANUARY 13, 1967

NUMBER 8

If there is any local opposition to the proposed school tax rate increase it has not been heard. Despite the fact that taxes and tax increases are usually unpopular, this one apparently is being accepted as the lesser of two evils.

The public understands that the school board needs more tax revenue to meet its increasing operating costs. The tax structure set up almost twenty years ago is inadequate for a budget that has been pushed up by inflation, pay raises and growth.

People also understand that the board has two ways of increasing income. One is the proposed method of adopting a higher tax rate on existing valuations. The other is to continue the old rate and increase the valuations. The first method requires voter approval, the second does not. If voters do not adopt the first the board will have to adopt the other as their only means of getting the job done. So, the choice in this election is not the acceptance or rejection of more tax but rather the preferred way of paying the higher tax.

And there's also another consideration: whether the increases are to be spread equally over all properties or applied only to the properties of resident taxpayers.

The district has two classes of property and two methods of determining valuations. Property of resident taxpayers is evaluated by a local equalization board. Property of utilities and oil companies is evaluated by an engineering firm. Those latter valuations have been accepted for many years. Raising them along with resident property valuations would be difficult if not impossible. If they could not be raised the entire tax increase would have to be assessed against resident taxpayer properties.

A hypothetical case illustrates what could happen then. Suppose a revenue increase of 50 per cent is needed. Currently resident property pays almost $34,000 a year and non resident property pays almost $33,000. The two classes of valuation are almost even and their combined tax is almost $67,000. Increasing revenue by 50 per cent would require additional tax of $33,500. If, however, the non resident valuations could not be raised the entire increase would have to be collected from resident taxpayers. To do that their valuations would have to be raised 100 per cent.

Perhaps there is a way of adjusting valuations so that both classes of property can share the tax increase. But even if so the job would be big and difficult — and the end result would be higher valuations for all with frequent valuation changes for changing revenue needs.

On the other hand the election proposes a simple solution. By approving a raise in tax rate voters can be assured that tax increases will be equally assessed against non resident as well as resident property.

In case any doubt exists, one fact should be made clear. The election is not a matter of adopting or evading the additional tax. It will be assessed regardless. But voters may possibly determine whether the increase will be assessed against all or only half of the district property.

An idea that deserves lots of thought in Muenster, and any other town, was presented in the film on Purple Martins shown during the past few days to school children and the Garden Club. It shows the most practical and most pleasant way of dealing with insect problems.

It is nature's way, extending a welcome to the little feathered friends who can do the job better and cheaper than any community program.

The film told about a town in Illinois that has become known as the purple martin capital of the world. Jaycees headed a project of erecting martin houses all over town. They went all out, putting up accommodations for about 3000 birds. The homes were mostly grouped in apartments, real works of art that added lots of beauty to the project, maybe even appealed more strongly to the birds. At any rate, the martins were impressed. They accepted the hospitality and

New Chlorinator To Cut City Cost Of Treating Water

Purchase of a more efficient type of chlorinating unit for the city's water system was approved in last week's meeting of the city council.

It will use chlorine gas instead of a powder and its cost of operation is estimated at about one third of the present cost. Water Superintendent Steve Moser told the council that last year's cost for the chlorine powder was $562 at the city pump and $350 at the swimming pool. The cost of equal treatment with chlorine gas is estimated at $180 and $112.

The city will buy two of the units, one to be installed soon at the pump house and the other to be installed at the swimming pool when the season opens. The units cost $497 each and, according to estimated savings in operation, they should be paid out in less than two years.

After the change one of the present chlorinating units will be used for fluoridation, which is done by a very similar process. That is, the material, received in powder form, is dissolved and the solution is fed automatically into the water system. The other unit will be used as a standby chlorinator at the sewer plant. In case of equipment troubles or excessive load on the system the unit can be used to kill the excessive bacteria.

School Tax Election Ordered January 21

An election to determine whether the Muenster School District will adopt a maintenance tax maximum of $1.50 per $100 of valuation will be held on Saturday, January 21. Members of the school board set the date at their meeting last Thursday night after Superintendent L. B. Bruns presented a petition with the required number of signatures.

The election will be held in the public school from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. with Clive Gobble as the presiding judge and George Petrus, Edgar Dyer and Carl King as his assistants.

If approved the tax will increase the maximum rate from $1.00 to $2.00. A 50 cent maximum for debt retirement would continue in effect and the proposed rate allows as much as $1.50 for operating

Four Injured in Weekend Crashes

Two weekend accidents here hospitalized three local people, one of them seriously injured.

A motorcycle-pickup crash about 3 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of N. Elm and W. 6th Streets resulted in multiple serious injuries to J. D. Rumley, 14, who received fractures of both legs, and both arms and head injuries. He was transferred to a Wichita Falls hospital after receiving emergency treatment at Muenster Hospital. He is the son of Mrs. Melba Kinsey.

Pat Walterscheid, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walterscheid, was a passenger on the motorcycle driven by young Rumley. He is a patient at Muenster Hospital with a severe leg gash, a head cut and bruises.

J. D. Luttmer, 16, driver of the pickup, was not injured when the motorcycle crashed broadside into the truck. The motorcycle was demolished and $125 damage set on the truck. Luttmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Luttmer.

The other accident, a one-car crash, happened Friday and put six-year-old Carla Ann King in Muenster Hospital with a broken leg. Her mother, Mrs. Carl King, a teacher at Muenster Public School, received facial cuts and was dismissed from the hospital after treatment.

This accident happened at 12:20 p.m. east of town near the King home. Mrs. King lost control on loose gravel and ran over two piles of road base material before a third pile stopped her car. Automobile damage was estimated at $500.

New Set of Plans Started for City Sewer Addition

The Muenster City Council started last Thursday on reshaping plans that had been wrecked by a cut in federal grant for sewer work.

About a year ago the city was told that a 50 percent grant was available for the work. Engineers got to work on the drawings and about the time they were ready with plans for a $56,000 project the federal government sent word that the grant has been cut from 50 to 30 per cent. That would have increased the city's share from $28,000 to about $39,000.

At the time the city had about $22,000 available. Councilmen felt they could manage somehow for $6,000 more, but they backed away when the difference suddenly jumped to $17,000.

Now they are trying to make a new start. At their meeting last week they told engineers to plan for a less expensive project, one that the city can afford.

In doing that they are encountering another problem. Because of increasing emphasis on reducing stream pollution the state health department is getting more rigid in its demand of sewage treatment plant specifications for all future installations. The better plants cost more, which complicates the engineers' job. They have to meet more expensive specifications on a smaller budget.

expense. However, as pointed out by Bruns, the actual assessment will be only what the budget requires, which will probably be $1.50 next year. Debt retirement requires about 25 cents and the operating budget about $1.25.

For the benefit of some dozen visitors, Bruns explained that the proposed increase of tax rate appears to be the better of two possible methods of raising local revenue. The other, which does not require voter approval is to leave the rate at its present level and increase valuations as needed.

That method would tend to increase valuations for other tax purposes and would also require tedious changes of valuation as budget requirements change. It also presents a problem in taxing oil properties and utilities, the valuations of which are determined by an engineering firm, whereas other valuations are determined by the local equalization board. Under such an arrangement it is possible that oil and utility valuations cannot be changed and the entire amount of increased tax would have to be collected from resident taxpayers.

Since property of the district is about evenly divided between resident and non resident taxpayers it could mean that the increase is doubled on a resident tax payer's assessment.

Because of those problems the board favors changing rates and leaving valuations as they are. That would present fewer difficulties of adjustment and would spread the tax equally over all properties.

Principal factors which have increased administrative expense and caused the need for additional revenue are teacher pay raises, inflation, and increase of both faculty and enrollment.

Muenster Mutual '66 Losses Break All Time Record

Last year was the worst in the 74 year history of Muenster Mutual Fire Insurance Association. At the annual general meeting held here Wednesday, Ed Endres, secretary, told the delegates that total losses for the year were $30,862.24 on an exceptionally high number of fire and storm damages.

He also said that last year's assessment of 35 cents per $100 of insured valuation, which is intended to provide a generous surplus, was not enough to pay the year's claims. The year's operation went into the red and the association's assets decreased by $5,956.52. Cash and reserves at the start of the year were $100,034.78. At the end of the year they were $94,078.26.

Nevertheless delegates looked optimistically to the new year. They again set their assessment rate at 35 cents, confident that it will be sufficient to build back the assets.

Principal claims that make up the record total of losses were house fires at Werner Yosten, Muenster and John Samed Jr., of Valley View, also barn fires at Hubert Felderhoff, Muenster, Paul Fisher, Muenster and Schad and Pulte, Gainesville, also a widespread storm on Easter Sunday.

Other reports of the association were better. Present membership is 699, an increase of 19. The number of policies is 853, an increase of 33. Insurance in effect is $7,899,815, an increase of $424,230.

Voter Registration Deadline Is Jan. 31

People of Muenster who still have not qualified as voters this year are reminded this week that they can apply for their registration certificates at the Muenster State Bank.

Jo Hillis, county tax assessor collector, whose office issues the registration certificates, said Tuesday that the bank is offering its customary help to voters. Blank forms to apply for the certificates are available there. Bank personnel will assist in filling out the forms and will also forward them to the tax office. The certificate will be mailed a few days later to the voter.

Mrs. Hillis said procedure for voter registration is about the same as it used to be for paying poll tax, except no money has to be paid. The form filled out by the applicant gives the necessary information for the registration certificate, just as before. And the deadline is the last day of January, just as before. Furthermore people over 60 can vote without registering in towns of less than 10,000 as they used to vote without paying poll tax.

Procedure is similar also in that registration is as important as the poll tax payment used to be. Mrs. Hillis said that some apparently think they automatically qualify as voters since poll tax has been discontinued. They should understand that they will lose their vote if they fail to register.

Another reminder from the tax office: "No one can act as agent and sign for another except husband, wife, father, mother, son or daughter. Brother and sister cannot sign for each other."

THERE'S NOTHING IN THE BANK

Realizing that there is a growing suspicion about its social security claims, the government, from time to time, has some functionary give out a "news" release calculated to allay increasing suspicion and fear. A recent Associated Press story is a case in point. Reporting on an interview with Robert J. Myers, chief actuary of the social security program, the AP account said, in part:

"The Social Security Trust Funds for old age payments, benefits to survivors and the disabled are in a state of healthy long-range surplus, a new actuarial study says."

The actual study, and the chief actuary, if he told the AP reporter that, indulge in raw prevarication.

The "Social Security Trust Funds" referred to are nothing more nor less than government bookkeeping entries, government IOUs written by and to itself. The money taken from your pay envelope, together with a like amount extorted from your employer, and turned over to the government, has long since been spent... shot from the mouths of cannon, given to foreign potentates, spent to support an ever-growing parasitical bureaucracy. There is, we repeat, NO Social Security Trust Fund.

The government's ability to make future social security payments is predicted on its capacity and willingness to tax you, and your children, at an ever increasing rate. That is the "trust funds" to which actuarial study and the chief actuary refer!

Even the actuarial study admits in Aesopian language that the social security account is bankrupt. Again quoting from the AP report:

"The trust funds are earning more interest. Social Security receipts above those needed for current expenditures are invested in special government securities that bear interest at the average rate the government is paying in the market..."

Cutting through the double-talk, that reduces to just this: One branch of government, social security, takes your social security taxes and lends them to another branch of government, getting an IOU from the second branch in return. The second branch spends the money on boondoggles after which, at specified periods, it pays the first branch interest on the loan, such interest being paid in the form of another IOU.

THAT, dear readers, is the "Social Security Trust Fund" you are depending upon to take care of you in your old age. THAT, dear reader, is your "protective" government at work.

—Odessa American.

THE BERKELEY BUMS

It is probably safe to say that no University in the United States has received such consistently bad publicity as the University of California at Berkeley, thanks to the antics of the Skid Row scholars who infest the place. Actually, much of this bad reputation is undeserved since many of these kooks aren't even students, including a few who are billed as "student leaders."

Indeed, one might liken them to fleas on a dog, and the parallel doesn't end with the fact that they're equally hard to get rid of.

However, we're pleased to note that the University seems to have changed its policy with regard to these parasites. This was indicated by the prompt and efficient action that was taken recently when Berkeley's bums tried some Hitler Youth tactics on a few Navy recruiters who visited the campus. On that occasion several of the bums ended up in jail — properly de-greased and fumigated. We hope.

We trust that this no-nonsense policy will be followed in another respect. Job recruiters from major industries show up at Berkeley and other universities. They, too, have been prime targets of the campus bums. After all, these recruiters represent dirty, imperialist, Wall Street capitalists. Further, they're fascist beasts whose companies make hardware that might be used against the Communists in Vietnam and elsewhere. And as though that isn't bad enough, they signify work, and that's not for these proletarians.

So the non-toiling trouble-makers on campus have done everything possible to discourage the job recruiters. And in some instances they have succeeded. As a result some bright and ambitious young men and women have been deprived of job opportunities.

Somehow it seems to us that somebody's civil rights are being violated and that state and local authorities should move in to protect them.

Or, maybe the time has come for the good students on campus — the great majority — to take some indicated steps. Such as giving the bum's rush to the Berkeley-type bums.

BELA FABIAN - R.I.P.

On Christmas Day, Dr. Bela Fabian died of a heart attack in San Juan, Puerto Rico. He had gone there to escape the severity of New York's winter to rest and be warm in the sun for a few days.

Bela Fabian was a Hungarian by birth, an American by choice.

He was a lawyer, and a good one. He was captured by the Russians in 1916 during World War I. When the Bolshevik Revolution broke out he wrote articles for the prison camp newspaper warning against the Communists. In time he escaped and returned to Hungary where he wrote and spoke against the Communist menace. For this he was imprisoned by the regime of Bela Kun, a Communist who ruled the country briefly.

Freud, when the regime fell he became a member of Parliament.

When the Nazis overran Hungary in World War II, Bela Fabian was arrested by the dread Gestapo and imprisoned in concentration camps. He escaped. At war's end he was skin and bones and a mop of white hair — and fire.

He had survived the Communists, and the Nazis.

Bela Fabian came to the United States, because the Communists had again seized his beloved Hungary. His friend and benefactor, Cardinal Mindszenty was already in jail.

He lectured and traveled throughout the free world. When Soviet dignitaries came to New York he organized demonstrations and pickets. When Khrushchev went to Des Moines to see the corn fields Bela Fabian was there to picket. When Khrushchev scheduled a visit to Sweden, Bela Fabian preceded him and aroused enough anti-Soviet sentiment to force cancellation of the trip.

Bela Fabian was a Jew Once, in Budapest, he fought an anti-Semitic member on the floor of Parliament and barely escaped with his life, and parts of both ears. But his impatience with those of his own religion who did not rally to the death-struggle against Communism was equally great.

For 48 of his 77 years, Bela Fabian spent every penny every breath, every fibre every prayer in total opposition to his personal enemy — and God's.

This was a man.

A good salesman is the guy who can convince his wife that she would look much too fat in a fur coat.

Caesar's camp, under the leadership of Cynthia Bindel, includes Joe Luttmer, Beverly Koelzer, Margaret Kralicke, Melvin Bayer, Mike Endres, Lynn Reiter, Bobby Sicking and Valerie Voth.

The camp of Ariovistus — a proud German king whom Caesar conquered — is headed by Kenneth Schmitz and counts as its braves Dolores Pels, Kaye Klement, Doris Schilling, Joan Fetsch, Tim Endres, Robert Knauft, Clifford Sicking and Mary Jane Swirczynski.

Virginia Fleitman is scorekeeper and scores are constantly in sight on the blackboard.

Translations from English into Latin and vice versa are contest material. At present the scores stand at 66 to 57 in favor of Caesar's camp.

There is also a contest between Ptolemy and Copernicus in Algebra I class taught by Sister Theresina.

Unlike the characters in the Latin contest who were contemporaries, these men lived about 1300 years apart. The former advocating the geocentric idea of the universe, the latter the heliocentric, both great mathematicians and astronomers.

Lined up under the banner of Ptolemy are Diane Sicking, leader, and Connie Endres, Darlene Hess, Patty Sicking, Paul Bayer, Judy Klement, Jerry Schmitz, Lou Ann Endres, Carol Grewing and Doyle Hess.

Clifford Zimmerer heads the Copernicus group composed of Barbara Knabe, Joan Pels, Teresa Becker, Melvin Schilling, Betty Stoffels, Andy Trubenbach, Monica Yosten, Elizabeth Fleitman and Eugene Fleitman.

Present score is 24 to 22 in favor of Copernicus. The contest is moving at a slow pace because students are just being initiated into the skills of algebra.

Sacred Heart High

Cancelled stamp collecting is big business at Sacred Heart High School according to Sister Theresina who sponsors this project.

It is not because interest is lagging that there is silence from headquarters in recent weeks. The business is going on quietly, but continuously.

Donors are as faithful as ever. There is the REA Co-op with its wealth of good stamps, Muenster Telephone Corporation, Shamburger Lumber Company. There are those families and individuals who send stamps in through the school children.

Basil Reiter sent a fine shipment of stamps all the way from Joppa, Maryland; a Miss Burke sent hers from Wisconsin. Joe Walter Lumber Company sends stamps from Gainesville. And packages of stamps come from Switzerland.

Betty Stoffels, Lou Ann Endres and Judy Klement give freely of their time to sort and cut stamps off of thousands of envelopes. Carol Grewing and Monica Yosten pick up the envelopes at the REA Co-op office.

Sacred Heart School is not in a contest this year but there is not one speck less interest in the project which benefits the poor and needy of the world.

A sincere "Thank You" to each and everyone who helps in this project in any capacity whatsoever, from Sister Theresina and students. And a belated Happy New Year to friends far and near ... with a plea — do keep on, or start saving cancelled stamps.

A sure sign of old age is when you feel your corns more than your oats.

Dimes March Here Again Sponsored By VFW Auxiliary

Muenster's 1967 March of Dimes campaign will again be sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the organization that has for years been at the head of the annual drive for funds in this community.

Plans were mapped at the Auxiliary's meeting Monday night and date for the customary church door collection will be announced after arrangements are made with the pastor.

Participation in the March of Dimes is one of the January honor roll requirements. The other is a contribution to the Memorial Chapel in Austin. With the donation goes the privilege of inscribing the name of a deceased veteran. This year's contribution was given in memory of Tony Yosten.

In other business conducted by Mrs. Ray Walterscheid, president, members made plans to sponsor a dance for teens on February 3 instead of the annual benefit Valentine dance because Valentine Day falls in Lent this year. Heading the dance committee are Mmes. Al Walter, Larry Yosten, Frank Felderhoff and Ray Walterscheid.

Members also started making plans for the District I VFW and Auxiliary convention which Muenster will host Feb. 25 and 26.

The Auxiliary sent a contribution to Quinlan where the newly organized West Tawakoni Post and Auxiliary lost all their equipment in a fire that destroyed the Post Home. The group also signed a get-well card and sent it to Dutch Schnitker, past district commander, who is reported on the mend after a heart attack in November.

Twenty-three members were present, Mrs. Larry Yosten won the door prize and hostesses Mrs. Pete Hammer and Mrs. Tommy Hesse served refreshments.

4-H's Discuss
Food Show Plans

Sacred Heart 4-H club girls had Mrs. Bernice Thurman, county home demonstration agent, with them for their December meeting which featured discussions of the county's annual Favorite Foods Show, scheduled for January 28.

In discussing various rules and regulations of the contest Mrs. Thurman showed centerpieces and table cloths that would and would not be appropriate.

Seventh and eighth grade club had Donna Endres presiding and Patty Felderhoff leading the inspiration. Joan Rohmer and Nancy Endres were recreation leaders. Margie Felderhoff reported 30 members present. Also present were Mrs. Ed Sicking, adult leader, and Mrs. Bernard Sicking and Mrs. Alois Rohmer, 4-H mothers.

Junior club members, fifth and sixth graders, had Lenora Fleitman presiding. Janet Knabe counted 34 members present. Before adjourning Beverly Walterscheid and Shirley Swirczynski led recreation. Mrs. Eddie Fleitman and Mrs. C. A. Sherrill, adult leaders, attended.

"Now children," said the teacher in the civics class, "there's a wonderful example of social structure in the life of the ant. Every day the ant goes to work. Every day the ant is busy. And in the end what happens?"

From the back of the room came a voice, "Someone steps on him."

Seven-year-old Albert performed so well in the local concert, he was required to give an encore.

"Well, Albert, how did you get on?" his father asked after that night.

"Why, I thought I did all right," replied the youngster, "but they made me do it again."

Garden Club Hears Clive Gobble as Speaker on Trees

A lecture by Clive Gobble on planting trees and treating tree wounds featured the January meeting of Muenster Civic League and Garden Club Monday night.

Mr. Gobble, a recognized authority on trees, gave detailed information on his subject and answered questions from the floor.

Another program feature was a film entitled "The Purple Martin Story." This is a bird known to eat as many as 2,000 mosquitoes a day. The film was shown by Mrs. John Mosman.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Earl Fisher, president, committee chairmen gave reports.

These included Mrs. Mosman's on soil conservation—the semi-annual report compiled by the local conservation office, and Mrs. Steve Mosler's annual cemetery report.

Mrs. Larry Yosten and Mrs. Werner Yosten were co-hostesses in the TP&L community room. After adjournment they served a dessert course and coffee. Centerpiece for the refreshment table was a winter scene.

Twenty-three were present including members and guests.

At the close of the afternoon the hostess served a dessert course and coffee to 11 members and one guest, Mrs. Clarence Wilson.

"I've got the very thing you want," said the horse trader to the hillbilly in search of a horse, "a thorough-going road horse. Five years old, sound as a dollar, priced at a hundred dollars and he goes ten miles without stopping."

"Not for me," said the man from the hills. "I wouldn't give a dime for him. I live eight miles out of town and I'd be hanged if I'd walk back two miles!"

TP&L Budgets $42 Million for '67 Construction

Texas Power & Light Company will spend $42,003,000 in 1967 for the construction of new facilities, W. W. Lynch, TP&L president, reported.

Two major construction projects are new generating units at the Company's Valley Steam Electric Station in North Texas and at the Tradinghouse Creek Steam Electric Station near Waco.

Construction of Valley No. 2, a 550,000-kilowatt generating unit, began in January, 1965, and will be completed in late 1967. Work on Tradinghouse No. 1 was started in late 1966, and completion of the 565,000-kilowatt unit is set for late 1969.

Also to be constructed in 1967, are several transmission lines and substations which will provide ample electric power for TP&L customers.

New 138 kv transmission lines will be constructed from near Edgewood to Canton and from near Weatherford to Springtown. In addition, work will continue on 345 kv transmission lines from Lake Creek to Jewett, from TP&L's Valley Steam Electric Station to Royce City, and from Royce City to Forney. Construction will also continue on 138 kv transmission lines from Payne to Gainesville and from Northwest Carrollton to Argyle.

Additional substations will be constructed or improved at Paris, Oglesby, Springtown, Canton, Forney, Nacogdoches, Chico, Martin Springs, Gainesville, Jewett, Navarro Mills, Lake Creek, Royce City, McKinney, Woodway and Payne.

Lynch noted also that on a nation-wide basis, total generating capacity of the electric utility industry in the United States in 1966 reached an estimated 249.1 million kilowatts. This was an increase of 5.7 percent over the actual 1965 total of 235.7 million kilowatts.

As a result, the U. S. is believed to have increased its lead over the Soviet Union to about 143 million kilowatts. The USSR is expected to have had a total of 124 million kilowatts at the end of 1966.

In addition, Lynch said, 1966 generating capacity provided an estimated annual margin of reserve of about 17.9 percent over the estimated peak demand. The margin of reserve is maintained to insure adequate service and protection against emergencies.

Lynch estimated that investor-owned electric power companies had invested a total of more than $64.5 billion dollars in electric plant and equipment at the end of 1966. Expenditures for new construction by these companies during the year were about $4.9 billion, or eight percent of the total new construction expenditures by American business.

Taxwise, the investor-owned electric power companies are expected to have a 1966 tax bill of $3.03 billion dollars, about $158 million dollars greater than their 1965 tax bill. Lynch said that twenty-two cents of every dollar received by the investor-owned electric companies of the nation is for taxes to Federal, state and local governments.

Lynch said that in 1967, output by the total electric utility industry in the U. S. is estimated to reach 1,237 trillion kilowatt-hours, or about 7.3 percent over 1966.

He said that during 1967, investor-owned electric companies will install 17.6 million kilowatts more of generating capacity. Nationally, 1967 electric power capability is expected to reach 286.3 million kilowatts, a 7.3 percent increase over the estimated 1966 total.

Two shoe salesmen were sent to Africa to open up a new market.

Three days after their arrival, the first salesman sent a cablegram: "Returning on next plane. Can't sell shoes here. Everybody goes barefooted."

Nothing was heard from the second salesman for about two weeks. And then there came a fat air-mail envelope with this message for the home office: "Fifty orders enclosed. Prospects unlimited. Nobody here has shoes."

A five-year-old boy had just been vaccinated and the nurse prepared a bandage to place over the spot on his arm.

"Nurse," said the youngster, "will you put it on my other arm, please?"

"But I must put it over the spot on your arm that is going to be sore," explained the nurse. "You see, I'm trying to protect it so your playmates won't hit it."

"That's why I want it on the other arm," declared the lad. "You don't know my playmates."

Parcel Post Zones And Rates Revised To Fit ZIP CODE

Use of ZIP CODE will make it easier to mail packages after January 15, Postmaster Arthur Endres said today.

New rates and a new system for identifying parcel post zones will go into effect on that date as provided in legislation signed into law by President Johnson on September 20, 1966.

The rate increase will average about 10c a parcel, Endres said. Starting July 1, the law provides for a series of a size and weight increases on packages mailed between first class offices. Muenster is a second class office. The size and weight increases will be in five annual steps, the last coming on July 1, 1971.

Use of ZIP code in the recipient's address will enable the sender or a mail clerk to determine quickly the proper zone, and thus the rate, for the package. The zones will be based on the distance a parcel travels between the 552 sectional centers in the country, Endres said.

By consulting a simple chart, which is available at all post offices, the zone can be readily identified because the first three numbers of the ZIP Code represent the sectional center. This replaces a method in which a directory often had to be consulted to locate the proper zone for each of the nation's 33,000 post offices.

The new rates will range from 40c for a three pound parcel destined for local delivery to 60 cents for the same parcel to zone 3 (150 to 300) to $1.05 to zone 8 (over 1,800 miles). The new zoning method will also apply to air parcel post, catalogs and to publishers who pay zone rates on the advertising portion of their periodicals.

Endres noted that all parcels mailed between post offices within the Denton, Texas sectional center will be charged at the first zone rate. There are 38 post offices within the Denton sectional center.

The new rates are expected to provide an additional $74 million a year for the Post Office Department. The later size and weight increase will add another $32 million a year. The additional revenue is to help keep Department within 4 percent of costs on parcel post as the law requires.

"If there's anything wrong with me," the man told his doctor, "don't scare me by giving it a complicated scientific name. Just tell me what's wrong in plain English."

"Well, to be frank," said the doctor, "You're just lazy."

"Thanks," sighed the patient. "Now give me a scientific name for it so I can go home and tell my wife."

Spanish Students Making Progress

Spanish students at Sacred Heart High are enjoying their Spanish magazine "El Sol," a scholastic publication, which offers a variety of material such as description of sections, cities, people and customs of Spain and Spanish speaking countries of South America.

The magazine also contains comic strips, crossword puzzles, songs, recipes and stories. Accompanying the magazine each month is a record of the entire script of "El Sol" read by native Spaniards. This gives the students an opportunity to compare their pronunciation with those who know.

Doyle Hess offered his service in providing a workable record player.

On the days before classes dismissed for the Christmas holidays the class learned "Noche de paz, Noche d'amor," (Silent Night, Holy Night) with Janice Grewing accompanying on a portable piano.

And Patty Sicking and Teresa Becker, following one of the magazine's recipes baked a large cake which was a treat for the entire Spanish class. Conversation during the party was carried on in Spanish among students.

Sister Theresina is Spanish teacher.

REPORT FROM CONGRESS

by Congressman Graham Purcell Dear Friends,
 Tuesday was opening day for the 90th Congress. This is my first newsletter of the new year. As those of you who have received the newsletter prior to this time know, I will attempt to send you one every two weeks during the session of Congress.

 Later this month, I begin my sixth year in Congress. It has been a wonderful and rewarding time, and I am grateful to you for giving me this opportunity to serve you here in Washington.
 It is my sincere hope that this session of the Congress will act as I suggested a year ago and give careful, deliberate and detailed study of the programs we have passed in recent years. This should be done with an eye toward streamlining them, eliminating overlapping functions, tightening administrative procedures, cutting costs, and evaluating the need for these programs and their success in accomplishing their goals in light of our limited experience with them.
 Great quantities of legislation have been passed with such unprecedented speed that the administrative problems which were experienced with the new programs were certain to develop.

Prior to the last session of Congress, I expressed the hope that there would be no great volume of new domestic legislation presented to the Congress. I was disappointed on that score. The Congress had so much work to do on new proposals that there was virtually no time for study of programs already in operation. I express my hope of one year ago again at this time.
 As was the case last year, the 90th Congress will be primarily occupied with the war in Vietnam. This will be the overriding issue. Every other matter will be considered in light of the requirements of our efforts in Southeast Asia.
 I returned from a visit to South Vietnam just a month ago. While I was there, I had an opportunity to view our primary installations first-hand, to look at our operations there, and to talk with our military commanders, General William Westmoreland, and the U. S. Ambassador to South Vietnam, Henry Cabot Lodge, as well as many other American military men and civilians.
 I feel that this experience will be most helpful to me in the months ahead, as I exercise my responsibilities as your Representative. Also, I am in the process of preparing a rather detailed report on my visit to South Vietnam and my views on the war effort in Southeast Asia for general distribution in our 13th Congressional District. You will receive a copy of this report in the near future.
 There has been a great deal of speculation in recent weeks over the question of whether or not the President will request a tax increase.
 My newsletter on April 4, 1966, stated my view at that time that a tax increase was not necessary if the Congress would make every reasonable attempt to reduce federal domestic spending. After carefully and thoughtfully considering recent economic developments and other factors, I still hold the view at this time that a tax increase does not appear to be necessary at this time if the Congress does a good enough job of reducing less essential domestic federal expenditures.

When the new preacher moved into town, one of the first people he met said: "I certainly hope that you're not one of those narrowminded ministers who think that only the members of your church are going to heaven."

"I'm even more narrow-minded than that," replied the preacher. "I'm pretty sure that some of the members of my congregation aren't going to make it!"

have appraisers of each district call on their members this year and bring policies up to date if changes have occurred since they were written. Another purpose is to check hazards.

Directors and officers of the organization were all re-elected. They are Albert Henscheid, president, Al Hess, vice president, Ed Endres, secretary, Victor Hartman, treasurer, and Al Fleitman, director.

Delegates represented the districts of Muenster, Lindsay, Valley View, Windthorst and Electra. Each of those districts will soon have a local meeting to hear reports of the general meeting and elect delegates for next year's general meeting.

Hornets Show Big Improvement But Remain Winless

Muenster High's Hornets, still winless in their district race, were at their season's best Tuesday night in giving Era's Hornets a good tussle before going down 64-55 in the local gym.

Coach Richardson's boys started strong for a 12-10 first quarter lead, however they fell behind 31-22 in Era's red hot second quarter. Next period Muenster gained slightly and trailed 46-41 then slipped back again as their fourth quarter effort was spoiled by fouls.

Chris Cain scorched the net with 23 points. John Monday and Ken Stormer hit 8 each.

MHS girls playing the title contenders from Era did not look so good and settled for a 66-32 loss. The visitors jumped to a 21-3 first quarter lead, improved their margin the next two periods and coasted through the last. Top scorers for Muenster were Linda Wilson 13, Jil Swirczynski 8 and Debbie Cain 5.

Last Friday, hosting Valley View the teams lost another pair — by 48-27 in the girls game and 45-27 in the boys game.

The visiting boys gained steadily all the way for counts of 11-27, 38-22 and 45-27 ending the periods. Cain and Monday scored 15 and 5 for MHS.

Parochial Girls Win Two Games, Tigers Lose Four

Sacred Heart Tigers lost their game in the first and last quarters as they played Notre Dame HI Tuesday night at Wichita Falls. They dropped back 11-6 in the first period, held their own by counts of 23-17 and 38-32 in the next two and then fell back to 53-41 in the last period. Despite the margin, the game was a dandy. Top scorers for Sacred Heart were Leon Endres 12, Larry Hess 8 and Tommy Hess 6.

In the opening game Tiger reserves went ahead 8-2 in the first period and then went haywire. They were scoreless the next period and almost scoreless the last two. Final count was 32-20 favoring Notre Dame, Leroy Hess scored 10.

Last Friday the parochial teams hosted Greenhill of Dallas and divided the pair of games.

Tigerettes were steady gainers all the way and ended with a 48-25 score. Joyce Schmitt had a big night and hit 31 of the points.

Next game the Tigers had a hot streak in the last period and cut the Greenhill margin to 5 points, but then came a Greenhill hot streak that ended the game at 56-40. In the first three quarters the visitors gained slowly to a 43-26 lead. Larry Hess and Leon Endres scored 19 and 15 for the Tigers.

Not for the record but fine practice was a pair of games with local cagers of past seasons. Tigerettes won their tussle 47-26 but the Tigers ran into more competition. They were licked 54-25.

Safety Inspection Still Needed on Most Texas Cars

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reminded Texas motorists today that most vehicles have not yet been inspected for their 1967 vehicle inspection sticker.

"The inspection period is two-thirds over and only about one-third of the vehicles have been inspected," said Garrison. This means that during the 14 weeks remaining before April 15 deadline for inspections, more than twice as many persons each week must have their car inspected to avoid long lines forming at the end of the period.

In urging motorists to have their vehicles inspected at an early date, Garrison pointed out that official inspection stations are easily identified by the standard sign displayed at or near the service entrance of the garage.

He advised that inspection stations are being urged to request permission to inspect any vehicle brought into the garage for repairs or regular service.

"In this way," Garrison pointed out, "time will be saved for the motorist as well as for the inspection station."

"And if you have not had your vehicle inspected, take it to one of the 5,500 authorized inspection stations for a 'check-up' and start the new year off right with a safe vehicle."

Local News BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burt and daughter, Miss Sue Burt, of Nazareth, Texas, arrived Monday for a visit until Thursday with Mrs. Burt's uncle and aunt, the Bill Kathmans and other relatives of the Lutkenhaus families. Sue also went to Dallas to visit friends.

Some 30 students of Nocona High School were guests Sunday evening of Sacred Heart High sophomore class and together they attended evening

Mass in Sacred Heart Church. Before the service they gathered in the high school lounge for a religion discussion. After Mass they returned to the lounge for a pizza supper.

Seminarian Robert Fetsch of Conception, Mo., was a guest speaker at Sacred Heart High School last Wednesday before he returned to Conception Seminary after spending the holidays at home. He told about some of the work he and his classmates are doing in the slum areas of Kansas City where they go on weekly trips.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Perz of Valley View are parents of a son born 5:17 p.m. Thursday, Jan 5, at Muenster Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Morris and daughter, Mrs. Dee McElreath of Gainesville, were recent visitors in Fairview, Okla., with their son and brother, Harold Morris and family.

"Dad, what is your definition of money?"

"Money, Son, is something that brushes by you on its way to Washington."

Confetti

Results were obvious. Insects were wiped out in the town that used to have insect problems. In one area especially, millions of flies formerly swarmed over the livestock division of a county fair, but there have been no flies there since the martins came. They are equally effective against mosquitoes. Ornithologists estimate that one martin will eat as many as 2000 mosquitoes a day.

Seeing the film makes a person wish that the martins were equally welcome in our town. It would be nice to hear them chirp and watch them dart, knowing that practically every aerial maneuver rubs out another pesky insect. It's nice to think that we taxpayers would be spared about $200 a year, which the city spends on that smelly mosquito spray — and doesn't do half the job that martins could.

The film leaves no doubt that putting up a martin house is a nice way of serving one's community.
