MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 APRIL 15, 1966

NUMBER 21

A Senate committee headed by Senator Dodd has presented evidence showing conclusively that Chinese communists are responsible for the Buddhist uprising which is at this time rocking the government of South Vietnam. Our suspicions told us the same thing at the very beginning. In their typical sneaky way the reds are capable of using a religious group to attain their end even while they are contemptuous of all religion. The tragic fact is that Buddhists cannot see the light, that they will be oppressed like any other religion after they have served their purpose.

For us the internal strife creates an awkward and frustrating situation. We are told to get out by the people we are helping. American lives are threatened and American fighting efficiency is hampered by people whose lives and rights the Americans are protecting.

It also creates an ironic situation. Despite all the pussy footing our leaders have done to avoid involvement with Red China, we have the involvement anyway. The Peking crowd is very much in this tussle, in fact, even more so than it could be by sending troops. Militarily Red China is only a paper tiger. The experts are agreed on that. But subversively it is a trouble maker capable of fouling up very much of our effort.

A bit of hind sight now confirms what many military men have said ever since the war started. The way to victory is not in hand to hand jungle fighting with the Viet Cong but in strategic bombing and blockade aimed at North Vietnam which is backing the Cong. The mess could have been settled before the Chinese trouble makers moved in.

We wonder what will be our country's official attitude now. Since the cautious approach has failed to prevent Chinese involvement, will we finally decide to fight for victory, or will we continue the half effort policy, wasting American lives while waiting for a negotiated peace that serves only the reds?

Even though our position has deteriorated, the basic situation over there remains as President Johnson described it several times. The Vietnam war is freedom's last stand against communism in Asia, and America's first line of defense against communism. Then why aren't we fighting to win?

A movement under way in Congress nowadays, and co-sponsored by our Senator John Tower, seeks new legislation which specifically permits voluntary recitation of prayer in American public schools. Its obvious purpose is to undo the harm caused by the 1962 Supreme Court decision stating that official prayer is unconstitutional.

Senators and representatives working on this new measure deserve our gratitude. If they can get it adopted they will give new emphasis to the fact that God has a place in the classroom besides asserting the fundamental American principle of freedom of religion.

Even so, it is doubtful whether such legislation is needed. Christopher News Notes, a nationally circulated bulletin, says in its April issue that the court has declared official school prayers unconstitutional but still encourages reciting patriotic documents or singing patriotic songs which include reference to God.

It did not mention voluntary prayer. In fact, since the statement specifically mentioned official prayer, it seems reasonable to assume there is no ban on voluntary prayer. Suppose a teacher would announce "We will have a prayer and all who wish may participate." Would that be unconstitutional? Obviously that is very different from saying "We will have a prayer in keeping with the school's official policy." Under the Supreme Court's decision, can such a voluntary prayer actually be pro-

Electric Co-op To Meet Monday At Colonial Acres

Up to a thousand members of the Cooke County Electric Cooperative Association are expected in Muenster next Monday night for that organization's annual general meeting.

The meeting will be held in Colonial Acres Show Barn beginning at 8 o'clock. Registration of members will begin at 6:45. During the time up to opening of the meeting visitors are invited to see the facilities of Colonial Acres Farm and its registered Black and Red Angus cattle and Appaloosa horses. Personnel of the farm will show the facilities and stock.

Also during the half hour preceding the meeting people inside the show barn will be entertained by a Gainesville High School choral group.

The purpose of the meeting is to report on last year's operations, to consider new business introduced by members and to elect two members to the board of directors.

Those directors are for the two positions now held by J. A. Klement and Doye Doty, both of whom are recommended for re-election by the nominating committee.

Headliner on the program is an address by Jim Morris, information director of the statewide Association of Rural Electric Cooperatives.

For many members the principal attraction is the traditional annual drawing for attendance prizes. Every member there will be eligible in the

Jaycees Sponsor Fishing Contest For Kids Under 12

A fishing contest for the kids is the newest project for Muenster Jaycees. Clyde Muller, chairman, announced this week that it is booked for Sunday, May 1, 1 to 5 p.m. at the Weinzapfel lake just west of the hospital. May 15 is the substitute date in case bad weather prevents it from being held on the first.

The contest will be held in three divisions: for children through 6 years old, for those 7 through 9 and those 10 through 12. Girls as well as boys can compete.

Top prize in each division will be a rod and reel, for the largest fish and another prize will be given in each division for the most fish.

Bait will be worms and minnows only and all will be furnished by the Jaycees.

Members of the organization will be there to conduct the contest and take care of a cold drink concession.

Jaycee Officers To Be Installed In Banquet Ritual

Officers of the Muenster Jaycees, headed by Henry Weinzapfel as president, will be formally installed for the current year at the organization's fourth annual installation banquet Thursday night in Muenster High School cafeteria. Starting time is 8 o'clock.

Top feature on the program is an address by Bob Castellaw, state programming vice president. And a special feature is presentation of a plaque recognizing someone as Muenster's outstanding citizen of the year. That person has been selected by a vote the outcome of which is known to only a few members, and his identity will not be revealed until the presentation.

Master of ceremonies is Adam Wolf. Others on the program with him are Father Benedict Buergler, Mayor Earl Fisher, Don Bayer, Jerry Hoenig, Henry Weinzapfel, Bernard McNamara, Jim Hudnall, past president of Gainesville Jaycees, Bob Castellaw, state vice-president and Bill Sutherland, state director.

Former Resident, Dick Meurer, 79, Of Scotland Dies

H. A. (Dick) Meurer, an early day Muenster resident, and a pioneer rancher and farmer of Archer County, died Saturday 10:30 p.m. in Archer City Hospital after being admitted that afternoon. He was 79 and had a heart condition for some time.

Funeral services with Requiem Mass were held Wednesday at 10 a.m. in St. Boniface Church at Scotland with a nephew, Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel of Dallas, officiating. Burial was in St. Boniface Cemetery. Assistants at the Mass were Father Joe Weinzapfel of Breckenridge and Father Cletus Post of Windthorst. Father Weinzapfel delivered the sermon.

Dick Meurer who watched the Scotland community grow out of the prairie was born Jan. 9, 1887, in Bastrop, Texas, and lived in Muenster before going to Windthorst in 1904. His father, J. H. Meurer, was land agent for the final settlement of the Windthorst colony and for the entire settlement of Scotland.

He married Miss Mary Goedtkin in 1907 and they resided on a ranch near Onion Creek until 1918 when they moved to Scotland. He was a member of the Scotland school board for 21 years, a county commissioner for six years beginning in 1938, and a charter member of Knights of Columbus Council No. 1715.

Survivors include his wife; five sons Raymond of Decatur, Richard and Henry of Scotland, Edward of Lawton, Okla., and Joe of Ardmore; two daughters, Mrs. Jake Hoepfner and Mrs. Al Miller, both of Wichita Falls.

Attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meurer, Mrs. Tony Gremming, Mrs. G. H. Hellman and J. B. Klement.

Parish Drive for Cancer Research Slated Sunday

A collection at the church doors following all services in Sacred Heart Church next Sunday will be this community's response to a nationwide appeal for funds to fight cancer — especially the second part of this year's cancer control slogan to "fight cancer with a check-up and a check."

Dr. Martin Kralicke, local drive chairman, said that the money collected will be turned over to the American Cancer Society, a voluntary organization of over two million persons united to conquer cancer through a balanced program of education, research and service.

The cancer research program, he said, is a tremendous undertaking dedicated to finding the cause of the dread disease as well as to develop cures and preventives and methods of alleviating its pain. The program is basically one of research which has been in progress since 1945 at a cost of over $141 million supported by individual donations and grants from large foundations and the federal government.

The Sunday collection is Muenster's opportunity to help in that program.

City's Water Bill Applies New Rate Of Sewer Charge

This is the month when many Muenster people will see a change in rate for sewer service on their city water bill. It is the time to begin applying the sewer rates established by water use during the months of November through March.

Charge for sewer service is set at 25 per cent of a customer's water bill except for those who do a good deal of yard and garden watering. The intention is to charge for volume of water going through the sewer.

To estimate a fair charge for outside watering customers it is figured on water used during winter months when watering is at a minimum, and that rate applies for a full year.

For low volume water users there are minimum sewer rates of $1.30 per month in a home and $1.80 a month in a business.

67 Games Booked Here Next Week In Huge Tourney

Sixty seven volley ball games are on schedule at the Sacred Heart gymnasium next week when the Sacred Heart Alumni sponsors its annual invitation tournament for teams of this area. Forty seven teams are entered in the affair, which is the biggest by far for Muenster and probably also the biggest of the area.

The tourney is the community's best from another angle as well. Trophies are bigger and more elaborate and there will be eight of them instead of six. There will be one each for the winner and runner up in champ and consolation bracket of both the men's and ladies' divisions. That means one for each of the eight teams of the four final games.

The tournament starts Monday and will continue with packed schedules every day through Saturday. Starting time the first day is 4:30 and other days at 5:30, and the last game each day is set for 10:30. A match consists of two 15-point games. Playoff, in case of a tie, goes to 7 points.

Snacks of sandwiches, popcorn, and candy plus coffee and cold drinks will be available throughout the tournament.

Preliminaries, which will

Appaloosa Contest Colt Arrives at Colonial Acres

It's a boy at Muenster's Colonial Acres Farm! That new Appaloosa colt that over 18,000 people have suggested names for arrived 6:10 a.m. Monday, April 18, and is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Meaders, sponsors of the contest to name Queen Anne's first foal, are amazed at the number of entries. The contest staff is literally up to the ears in letters and it will take some time to process the many entries. Winner of the $500 cash prize will be announced as soon as possible.

Entries came from all over the world... some elaborately done with hand painted pictures of a horse and a colt, some with cartoon sketches, there are entries from invalids and shut-ins and from the fighting men in Viet Nam.

Many are touching, some have an air of urgency, quite a few tell how the money will be spent, others include life stories of the contestant.

None of these will affect the decision of the judges in choosing the baby Appaloosa stallion's name. The contest was only to name the colt and decorated entries do not count extra.

Four Score in Literary Meet

Four students of the Muenster Public School earned points in the literary division of this year's Interscholastic League district meet.

Robert Fisher was first and Joe Hartman was second in high school science. The team made up of Clellene Streng and Sandra Sloan took third place in seventh and eighth grade spelling.

Easter Storm Causes Widespread Damage And Power Failures

An Easter Sunday storm striking the community about 7 p.m. left widespread destruction in the rural area and a power failure of almost twelve hours in the city. It was 7:20 when the city went dark and 7:10 the next morning when lights came back.

On Overseas Leave

Sailor Ronnie Cunningham came in Saturday from Long Beach, Calif., for a short leave before reporting in San Francisco on April 20 to join his outfit on a mine sweeper for a tour to Viet Nam. He's visiting his parents, the Herb Cunninghams.

The high winds continued for about three hours before they calmed down. Property damage was light within the city.

Outside of town the situation was reversed. Storm damage was more extensive but the power failure was shorter.

Mike Sloan, manager of the Cooke County Electric Co-op, said that service was interrupted in the entire system for about an hour and ten minutes. The failure occurred when high winds carrying tree limbs and other debris hit the Brazos Electric Power Corporation's transmission grid which feeds power to the local system. The break was repaired by crews of the Brazos and Cooke County Electric crews and lines re-energized about 8:25 p.m.

Other power failures throughout the system resulted during the storm. Principal damage listed by Sloan were two broken poles, several breaks in the line, blown fuses in transformers, and service wires pulled loose from houses and buildings. Those damages in scattered areas were repaired as they were reported. Except in a few cases all the repairs were completed quickly.

Regarding prompt restoration of Brazos transmission power, Sloan said that it is a loop system in this area, capable of feeding power from either end. It enabled the crew to bring current from another direction before the damaged line was repaired.

The power failure in the city of Muenster resulted when four transmission line poles broke about three miles east of town. Another pole broke about two miles from town. Lines were not broken as the poles went down however they blew the main fuse feeding the line at Texas Power and Light Company's Gainesville sub-station. That put Lindsay and Myra also in the dark.

Ernest Jaska, temporary district manager, said the line repair job was complicated by storm damages occurring then in Gainesville. Falling trees and TV antennas and flying debris caused many power failures. TP&L service crews from Dallas, Sherman, Decatur and McKinney joined the Gainesville men to handle the job of the entire area.

Meanwhile three of the company's emergency generating units were put into service — one at the NTPA milk plant, (Continued on page 8)

Red China Is No Threat

by Dr. George S. Benson
 If our plans in Viet Nam are founded on a fear of Communist China entering the war, as they appear to be, then Americans face another tragic page in history, in which tens of thousands of our young men will be "expended," our resources drained, and the long-range security of our nation further jeopardized—without having administered a defeat on North Viet Nam, Red China, or the Communist world. U. S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg has clearly stated that our purpose in Viet Nam is not to win the war but to prevent North Viet Nam from winning.

 Such an unreal war policy, imposing terrible, needless sacrifices upon the American public appears to be based upon a fear of all-out war with Red China — which fear I believe is totally ungrounded.

A Paper Tiger

A great many American citizens seem to share the fear however, of involvement of Red China. If it is indeed a genuine fear, there are many facts suggesting that it is fraudulent. For China alone, although vast in geography and with a massive population, is neither a major military power nor a powerful nation.

Communist China's industrial and economic power, her capacity to produce armament, to equip, and feed, and transport an army and keep it supplied, is scarcely any greater today than it was in 1960, when I was in Hong Kong and had opportunity to talk with many well-informed Chinese who had just escaped through the Bamboo Curtain and could tell the true story. The "Great Leap Forward" in truth never got off the ground. The so-called "steel mills" that were reported to be operating in the thousands were jokes and have been largely abandoned. In truth, after 15 years under Communist yoke, Red China has scarcely any highways or all-weather roads, very limited air capacity, no navy capable of attack, no atomic bombs, and would find it utterly impossible to maintain logistics in any protracted war, especially so far away as Viet Nam.

Population Would Revolt

The anguished Chinese, some of whom I had known intimately in my 11-years mission to China, were in agreement that 90 per cent of China's population would turn upon the Reds if they saw a chance to defeat them. They said that if Chiang Kai Shek's forces were to achieve an effective beachhead on the mainland most of the population would join him in crushing the Reds. The Red leaders are aware of this situation and their fear is real. This is a genuine deterrent to a direct Communist China involvement in Viet Nam.

Yet America apparently remains a sucker for Communist-inspired propaganda which today seems to be dictating military and diplomatic decisions pinning us down in South Viet Nam, withholding our full military power as the Reds stream down from the north to kill our soldiers. We appear to stand fearfully in awe at the Red China "threat." It was propaganda, likely of Communist origin, that led us to believe that Mao Tse-Tung was "a good agrarian reformer" who would be better for China than Chiang. And so we placed an arms embargo against Chiang and thereby effectively contributed to his defeat. Later President Kennedy called this "one of the greatest blunders in history." But the lesson wasn't learned.

Victims of Propaganda

Castro, so the propaganda led us to believe, was a good reformer; so we withheld arms from Batista and permitted the later-to-be-revealed Red revolutionary to get American armament — and Cuba today is a Communist fortress. In the Korean war we were made to believe Russia might come in if we took the necessary steps to win; so we did a holding operation, followed by a truce and an uneasy "peace" which still requires 55,000 American soldiers to guard.
 Will we forever be fooled — over and over again — while the leaders of world Communism rub their hands gleefully at what's happening in Viet Nam. We could upset the Communist blueprint in Asia, if having made the commitment, we now would go forward with whatever measures are necessary for victory in the war. Logic and facts strongly suggest that Red China would scream but not act; and if she acted, the forces of Chiang Kai Shek could rally the Chinese millions, stamp out the Reds and, together with the United States, swing the whole course of history back toward freedom.

In Russia they proudly display a lion and a lamb in a cage together as Russian proof co-existence. Of course they don't tell you they put in a new lamb every day.

Bigger Spending To Cause Inflation And Higher Taxes

If the Federal government continues its "rifles and ruffles" program, informed Republicans are saying on Capitol Hill, the result can only be runaway inflation and a rash of increased taxes.

Many economists, favoring no political party, are saying the same thing. They note that for the first time in six years, the cost-of-living has begun to break through the overhead. They expect higher and higher prices, particularly in such items as food and clothing — the necessities of life. Restoring the taxes which the Johnson Administration cut with so much fanfare in the 1964 election year will not do very much good to stop the upward zoom of living costs, they say.

Political observers here point out that whereas the President signed the civil rights bill at the Lincoln Memorial and the new immigration bill at the Statue of Liberty — all with considerable fanfare — he put his name on the new tax bill in his office at the White House, with no publicity whatsoever.

The solution being proposed by those with no political axes to grind is a halt in the multi-billion dollar program being pushed by the White House. It is argued that the President got enough "handout legislation" passed in the last session of Congress to hold him for the next years, or at least until the bill for the Vietnamese war has been presented. There can be no cutback there if the United States is to stem the tide of Red aggression and protect her flanks in Southeast Asia.

But businessmen, big and small — as well as farmers and those with limited earnings or fixed pensions — feel that the Great Society's programs can only lead to further shrinkage in the purchasing power of the dollar, with hardship to the vast majority of Americans. Foreign aid, they believe, has run its course and is only helping the perennial "gimmies" of countries whose sole interest is in the Yankee dollar, not the Yankee well-being.

"The big businessman always makes out," one Republican congressman recently remarked, "but when inflation hits, it's the housewife who has to cope with higher prices at the market and shop, plus a family pay envelope which gets lighter every week."

If taxes are to remain down and inflation curbed, Federal expenditures must be cut. The Administration hopes to hold the line against GOP attempts to break through a 10 percent cut on authorizations and appropriations for new and expensive projects. In the past, the most effective method has been to ask for more than was wanted, in the formal White House requests of Congress, thereby getting what the heads of departments and agencies had sought in the first place.

This technique may work again this year. But if congressional mail continues to run as it does, overwhelming anti-spending the House of Representatives and the Senate may seriously hone their knives for deflating the new "inflation budget."

The United States is the only country where it takes more brains to make out the income tax return than it does to make the income.

Henry Hazlitt writes in Newsweek: "The real author of inflation is the government. It has been averaging an annual cash deficit of $4 billion for the last six years. It has been pushing down interest rates. It has been increasing the money supply recently at an annual rate of 8 percent. It has cheapened the dollar. And now it tries to divert attention from its own inflation (which it calls 'expansionary' policies) by making industry the scapegoat."

Program on Care Of Lawn Heard at Garden Club Meet

A program on lawn care was presented to members of Muenster Civic League and Garden Club at their April meeting Monday night. Mrs. L. B. Bruns led the discussion.

She traced the steps necessary in building a new lawn and in renovating an established but neglected lawn. She described soil preparation, tilling, fertilizing, choice of grasses, summer care and annual maintenance.

The meeting was held in the TP&L community room with Mrs. John Fisher and Mrs. Earl Fisher as co-hostesses.

Committee chairmen reported during a brief business session. The club plans to purchase a new St. Francis statue for the inner court at Muenster Hospital to replace the statue that was destroyed by wind soon after it was erected.

An invitation to attend an open house at Muenster Public Library was read. The event will be held Sunday, April 24, 2 to 5 p.m. as a finale to observance of National Library Week, April 17-23.

Mrs. Earl Fisher was joined by her husband in showing slides of their recent trip to Florida and others taken at flower shows in Fort Worth and of local scenes and flower gardens.

The hostesses served strawberry short cake and coffee from a pretty table centered with pink hydranges.

Program for the May meeting will be a flower arranging demonstration by Mrs. Dan Luke.

Tigers Lose Two Baseball Games
 The season record of Sacred Heart's baseball team took a severe jolt during the past week. After two losses the boys now have a record of 2-4.

First setback was at Byers last Thursday when the home towners scored 7 runs on 7 hits while the Tigers got nothing on 2 hits. Ted Endres and Leon Endres got those hits, both singles. Tiger pitchers were Larry Hess and Leon Endres.

Tuesday at Collinsville the Tigers made 1 run on 3 hits while the Pirates made 3 runs on one hit. That hit was a triple following three walks in the first inning. After that both teams settled down to good baseball, but it was too late for Sacred Heart. Larry Hess pitched all the way for SH, fanning 10 players. Leroy Hess got two hits and Leon Endres 1.

Salvation Army to Call April 18, 19

Spring cleaning discards are of value to the Salvation Army, notes Major Byron A. Freeman, commanding officer of the Men's Rehabilitation Center for North Texas.

"Many householders will find clothing, bedding, appliances which may not be working, furniture, and many other items to discard during Spring cleaning time. We invite our friends in Muenster to call 759-4311 and a Salvation Army truck will pick up these discards from their home on April 18 and 19," he added.

The Salvation Army salvages, cleans and rebuilds items given to it, a process which not only supports the rehabilitation of over 1100 men each year, but also teaches the men skills which will help them become self-supporting after graduation from the Center.

Household discards are tax deductible, notes Major Freeman. "We gladly furnish receipts for the goods which may be used in declaring a fair value for income tax return, just as if it were a gift of cash," he added. The Salvation Army Men's Rehabilitation Center is completely self-supporting, and does not receive funds from community drives of governmental agencies.

The highest bridge in Texas is the Pecos River Bridge, soaring 273 feet above the bottom of the channel. The longest bridge measures 11,901 feet and spans Lavaca Bay.

Mosman Family Together Easter

It was an all-family reunion again for the John Mosmans. They were together for Easter for the first time since Tim Mosman went overseas for army duty in Ethiopia, Africa, a year and a half ago. He's on a six-week leave before taking on a new assignment in Panama.

Joining them in the evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hennigan of Fort Worth who are spending this week with their son Pat Hennigan and family.

To the Highway Department, a bridge is a structure at least 20 feet long — it's a culvert if it is any smaller — that spans a body of water, a stream or a stream bed.

1 KILOWATT HOUR = 50 SHEARED SHEEP

It may not be any consolation to 50 shorn sheep but it takes only one kilowatt hour of electricity to relieve a half hundred of these animals of their fleece, saving labor costs and increasing profits.

The use of electric sheep shears is just one of literally hundreds of ways thousands of rural families utilize electricity generated by BRAZOS ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE of Waco and distributed by COOKE COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE.

BRAZOS ELECTRIC POWER COOPERATIVE with its dependable, low-cost electric supply joins hands with COOKE COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE building a brighter tomorrow and Helping Texas Grow.

The place to go for brands you know.

Father John announced Sunday that the second collection next Sunday, April 17, will be for Erlach Monastery in Austria, a small monastery only three miles from the Iron Curtain. Brother Prochomius has been sent by his abbot to this country to ask help for his community. The monks follow the rule of St. Benedict closely. They operate a dairy to support themselves, but recently an infection of tuberculosis was discovered in their cows and the herd had to be killed. The monks hope to raise enough money to acquire a new herd.

Easter Storm - - - one at Muenster Telephone Company and one at Lindsay water well. Muenster Hospital's stand by generator took over the job there automatically a moment after the power failure.

Within the city the storm hit in many places but practically all damages were light, such as broken TV antennas and tree limbs and shingles ripped off of roofs. Even as an inconvenience it was not bad. People slept through most of it, except the first hours when they missed TV and radio programs. And for many, the power was back before breakfast. At Sacred Heart Church the power failure hit during the evening Mass but the service continued by candle light.

Damages in the rural area are described as widespread, but mostly small. W. H. Endres of Muenster Mutual Insurance said the buildings affected are generally those of lighter construction or those weakened by age. Some of the heavier damages were destroyed barns for the Joe Walterscheid Estate and Emmet Sicking; a 2x6 plank driven through a wall of the house and outside damages at Henry Pick's; also multiple damages about the place at Charles Fisher's and Gene Klement's.

Other persons reported as being hit by the storm in varying degrees are Gary Hess, Mike Schilling, Ray Sicking, John Sicking, Alfred Sicking, Ed Knauf, George Bayer, Andy Trubenbach, Julian Walterscheid, Joe Linn, E. A. Thompson, Bruno Fleitman, George Barnhill, Joe Mage, Dangelmayr Brothers, Al Hesse, Tony Felderhoff, Eddie Schmitt, Rosie Walterscheid, Ray Voth, Henry Wolf, Joe Hoenig, R. W. Donnell, Rufus Henscheid, Tony Otto and Vincent Felderhoff.

hibited? The general public believes that prayer in public schools is banned. Is that really correct, or is the public mistaken about how far the ruling applies?

Regardless of the answer to that question, let's hope that the present effort of lawmakers will get results. If voluntary prayer was all right before it will be greatly emphasized and encouraged by an act of Congress. If it was not all right before this law is badly needed.

In this column's opinion, the proposed law still does not go as far as it should. It ought to go all the way and reverse the Supreme Court decision, thereby allowing any school that wishes to adopt official prayer. Why? Simply because of the fundamental fact that all of us were created by God, we all depend on Him, we owe Him our respect and loyalty. No other fact in the entire field of education is more true or more important. Nothing is more deserving of factual and reverent daily presentation to students.

We admit this brings religion into the school, but not in a way the constitution forbids. Our founding fathers did not oppose belief in God but only adoption of any denomination as a state religion. They advocated freedom of religion, not freedom from religion.

Regardless of the Supreme Court, our country would be better off if all schools had an official policy of reciting the Lord's Prayer. Its message is the beginning of wisdom. No matter what else a person learns in school he is still basically an ignoramus if he does not know that.
