VOTER LET-DOWN

The leftist crew which is responsible for scuttling Texas' poll-tax law is somewhat discommodated by the fact that the vote in Saturday's primary was 500,000 short of the total in 1964 Democratic primaries, despite the fact that payment of a poll tax was not this year a prerequisite of voting.

The anti-poll taxers had cried that once the poll-tax bars were lowered the poor folks who did not have enough money to pay their head tax would flock to the polls and soon there would be ushered in a new and glorious day.

It did not work out that way and it will not do so. It has not done so in other states where the voting tax has been removed.

We think that most people who do not vote fail to do because they simply are not interested.

But there is a growing group of coldly disheartened conservatives who are also failing to vote because they are becoming convinced that the nation is not ruled by the people but by an oligarchy, and that there is little they can do about it. They are wrong, because we have not yet quite arrived at that dismal time.

It can and will come, however, if the trend toward absolutism is not soon somehow halted and reversed.

A GREAT SOCIETY FOR ASIAN LANDS

We have always thought that this was a government "of the people, by the people and for the people," but more and more these days we are getting away from this basic principle.

Monday night Vice President Hubert Humphrey told a CBS audience of millions that the U.S. was in Asia, not just Viet Nam, for a long, long time to come. He said we would export the Great Society to that part of the world. He also said President Johnson's declaration in Honolulu means more to Asia than the Atlantic Charter did in Europe.

We wonder if Hubert Horatio is not getting carried away with his do-gooding and general uplift on the world scene. Does he have the authority to make such a policy or commitment? When did this government "of the people" vote to extend the Great Society to the teeming millions of Asia?

In speaking of the Honolulu conference between President Johnson and Prime Minister Ky, Humphrey had this to say: "It was a much broader declaration," he said. "It was directed toward an Asia, a modern Asia, an Asia with abundance, an Asia with social justice, an Asia at peace, an Asia with tremendous programs of social, economic betterment... I think there is a tremendous new opening here for realizing the dream of the Great Society in the great area of Asia, not just here at home."

Before we go any further on this matter of exporting the Great Society to Asia as another burden to the American taxpayer we would like to see some sort of expression from the people on the subject. Vice President Humphrey talks too much!

DOOLITTLE TALK IS HEARTENING

It is heartening indeed to read where Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle had urged a return to old-fashioned moral virtues in a commencement address to graduating officers of the Border Patrol Academy in Port Isabel.

These virtues, the man who led the first air raid on Tokyo in World War II said, are often questioned and sometimes ridiculed and maligned, but are responsible for our greatness and essential to our survival.

That kind of talk is rarely heard these days at graduating exercises of American colleges and universities, most of which are tax-supported government schools. The trend is for speakers, most of them products of socialist schools, to minimize individual responsibility and extol collectivism as the wave of the future.

Gen Doolittle is nearing 70 and in his lifetime has seen America turn from a nation of hard-working free enterprisers to a welfare state.

"I believe that everyone, regardless of race, color or creed should have equal rights and opportunities. They should have the right to think and do exactly as they please — up to the point where they begin to interfere with the rights of others."

Gen. Doolittle put his finger on the key to libertarian thinking in that last sentence. Back up and read it again.

REBELS AND REVOLUTIONARIES

There is a tendency to write off the current wave of unrest on the nation's campuses as the work of a lot of exhibitionists who are just taking part in a fad, akin to raiding girls' dormitories for panties or drinking goldfish from a bowl.

Those who think so should read the sober warning in an excellent new book, "The New Left," written by Phillip Abbott Luce, a former leader in campus rebellions who broke with leftist groups when he realized who was seizing leadership and where the rebellion was heading.

The most important of the far-left campus groups he identifies as Progressive Labor, and it is even left of the Communist Party of the USA, because it follows the hard Chinese line. Explaining this, Mr. Luce says: This is not a group of young people simply flaunting their alienations from society and parents. This is a cult of true believers... Progressive Labor is dangerous to our democracy and especially dangerous to its own members who have little idea of the hidden objectives of the leaders whom they follow."

He tells who these leaders are and how they have taken over Progressive Labor, the DuBois Clubs, the May Second Movement, and other (but not all) left-wing campus groups. Incidentally, the author quit the movement when he saw how the Communist leadership was making plans to involve members in illegal and in some cases highly dangerous activities without letting them know what they were in for.

As he makes abundantly clear, the New Left has been taken over by the Old Left of the Communist Party, and even the intra-party squabbles have been incorporated into the new movement. Not to mention such characteristic Communist claptrap as the perennial bald-headed 'youths' who are fixtures of Red youth movements, the illiterate jargon of their publications, their typical inconsistencies in dealing with the issues, the inflexibility of their thinking, and their sheer, unmitigated gall.

His conclusion is worth keeping in mind:

"Young Americans should stop simply writing off the New Left as a bunch of beatniks and Communist misfits and take them seriously enough to begin rationally countering their propaganda and membership drives. The government can prosecute their illegal manifestations, but it is up to us to stop them in their tracks. If we believe that democracy is worth fighting for in Vietnam or Korea, then it is certainly worth fighting for here in the United States..."

should not be subjected to recurring debate any more than the right to vote.

The husband came home one evening and gave his wife an insurance policy. "I've insured my life for $25,000," he said, so that if anything should happen to me, you would be provided for."

"How nice and thoughtful of you!" beamed his wife. "Now you won't have to go to the doctor every time you feel ill, will you?"

YOU HAVE TWO DEFENSES

In our home states, we all know the men and women who we elect to Congress. They are the butchers, the bakers, and the candlestick makers, our neighbors. Most of them are no smarter than the rest of us. But once they are elected as our representatives in Congress, they seem to take on characteristics alien to the folks at home. They immediately begin telling the home folks what to do in all the affairs of life. They assume the position of their brother's keeper — of knowing more about his business than he does.

A typical example is their current program to raise farm costs, store costs and costs in all business — hiring unskilled labor. The Arizona Farm Bureau Federation says: "For many of the less qualified and skilled workers the increase in the minimum wage will spell unemployment rather than higher wages... if people don't want to hire high school dropouts at $1.25, how many are going to hire them at $1.60 per hour?"

Your friend who went to Congress forgets about your problems. All of a sudden he goes big government, big spending, big taxes, big deficits, big debt and big inflation. He gives away tax dollars for votes. You have two defenses: 1. Stop begging from government; 2. Vote "No" on the spenders.

ANY QUESTIONS?

For a moment it looked as though some economy-minded U. S. Senators might actually save us selfish taxpayers a little money by blocking appropriations for the rent-subsidy program. But then the comet — us — reason — together technique of President Johnson and company won out, and enough representatives of the people" in the Upper House changed their votes to get one more element of the "Great Society" underway. A modest beginning, to be sure — only 12 million dollars to start with. But we're confident it will grow along with the rest of them.

Many newspapers and commentators hailed the event, we suppose quite properly, as a victory for President Johnson. Ordinarily it would seem Americans ought to be happy when their president achieves a victory. But it seems that every time he wins the taxpayers lose.

One thing might be gained from this particular event, however. There is a clearer than usual picture in this instance of at least one of the characteristics of the democratic process in these enlightened times. Senator Bartlett of Alaska, who had voted against the appropriations when the bill was in committee, decided overnight to change his vote. So by the impressive margin of 46-45 we miserly taxpayers were compelled once again to fulfill our humanitarian duties in keeping with the GS (great society) philosophy.

The Alaska senator sounded not the least embarrassed, and perhaps even a little boastful, over the fact that after he voted against the appropriation in committee, several of the President's cabinet officers called to tell him of their great interest in and support for his own long-standing proposal that $10 million or so tax dollars ought to be sent to his own state to improve housing for Eskimos. Apparently having thus learned who his true friends are, Senator Bartlett had no difficulty seeing the error of his voting ways of the day before.

Now we wouldn't want to give the impression the Senator from Alaska is the only member of Congress who understands so well the modern democratic process. We're satisfied many of his colleagues participate and profit equally well, if perhaps a little less openly than he did in this instance. Anyway, we think this provides a pretty clear picture of the working under creative federalism of what has been called the "greatest and most representative legislative body in the world."

HOUSING FOR CONGRESSMEN

After a recent trip to Washington, D. C. and an open-mouthed inspection of the new House Office Building, familiarly known as the Rayburn Building, a taxpayer put his business and building experience to work by calculating the cost figures.

Brace yourself. The question is: what does it cost to house your Congressman in his spanking new building completed and occupied last year?

Back in 1959, it was estimated that construction and equipment of the new building would cost $66 million. Now the Capitol Architect reports the figure has proved to be $88,900,000, which sum includes a $2 million reserve for finishing uncompleted committee and supplementary rooms as needed.

The Rayburn Building has 169 three-room suites, plus committee and meeting rooms. Thus, the cost per Congressman is $526,035.50. Assuming a life of 50 years, and surely no Congressman will want to work in a building more than 50 years old when he can appropriate money for a new one, the annual cost per Congressman is $10,520.

Of course, the government had to borrow the money to build the building. At the going interest rate of 4%, the annual interest on $88.9 million amounts to $3,556,000. That breaks down to $21,041 for each of the 169 Congressmen. When we add the two costs we get a total of $31,561 for office space and furniture for each of the Congressmen, each year.

You must understand that these figures do not include an item of $7,909,700 for construction of a sub-way from the Rayburn Building to the Capitol. Nor do the figures allow for a contractor's claim of $996,000, disallowed by the architect, but appealed by the contractor and unsettled.

Each Congressman's suite contains a safe, built-in bookshelves, storage facilities, toilets and closets. Steam for heating and chilled water for air-conditioning are provided by the Capitol Power Plant. Electric current is purchased from the local public utility. These services, as well as the janitor's — pardon us, custodian's — gardener's, maintenance, repairs, etc., are additional.

So, there is your answer. It costs $31,561 plus, for office space for your Congressman in the new Rayburn Building, each year. And that, my friends, is more than the Congressman's annual salary.

It occurs to us that in real life, any professional man who spent more for his office suite than his salary each year would soon be in bankruptcy court.

Garden Club Opens Fund for Statue at Muenster Hospital

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club has opened a fund for purchase of a new St. Francis statue to place on the grounds at Muenster Memorial Hospital. First benefit scheduled to boost the fund is a bake sale planned for June.

Members all agreed that a new statue must be sturdy to withstand wind and weather extremes. A refinished statue placed there when landscaping was begun was blown over and broken.

The new statue will stand on a permanent base in the inner court where it can be seen and enjoyed by hospital patients.

Mrs. J. D. Hanna named members on two working committees who will report at next month's meeting.

The club met in the home of Mrs. Ted Gremminger with Mrs. Steve Moster as co-hostess for the Monday night meeting. Mrs. Hanna, president, presided.

Members voted to continue meeting during the summer months. For several years the organization disbanded during the summer although working committees continued active.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger reminded members of the semi-annual collection for Sacred Heart Cemetery fund.

Mrs. Dan Luke was program leader. She gave a demonstration on flower arranging, illustrating her talk with posters showing line and form, and demonstrated a Hogarth Curve.

After adjournment the hostesses served refreshments to 22 members.

Mrs. Hanna and Mrs. Tony Gremminger will be hostesses for next month's meeting at which Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel will show films for the program.

4-H Clubs Have Demonstrations to End Current Year

Sacred Heart 4-H Club girls in their final meetings of the term showed demonstrations at their May sessions. Mrs. Evelyn Yeatts met with clubs in separate meetings for the same program.

Fifth grade girls had two groups and one individual to give method demonstrations. Janet Swirczynski presided and opened with the pledge. Joyce Swirczynski gave the inspiration. Janice Fisher called roll. Debbie Walterscheid counted 23 members present.

Mary Medders presided for the seventh grade group and led the pledge. Suzanne Huchens read minutes of the previous meeting and Laurie Wimmer led the inspiration. Demonstrations were given by Janell Stoffels, Joanie Rohmer, Mary Bayer, Peggy Sickling and Peggy Endres. Eighteen members attended.

Eighth grade group saw two demonstrations: "A Slick Chick" presented by Kathy Rohmer and Margie Felderhoff, and "Facts on Fallout Protection" presented by Mary Lou Kralicic and Yvonne Gehrig, all sixth grade members, who were guest performers. Janell Reiter, president, Barbara Knabe led the inspiration and Theresa Becker reported 11 members present.

One of the newest additions to the Los Angeles skyline is a steel structure 10 stories tall that looks like an office building but actually contains an oil drilling rig. This is one of many techniques oilmen have developed to enable them to drill for petroleum in heavily populated areas without disturbing their neighbors.

Today's teenagers with 12% of the population and an income of $12 billion a year, have the power to set many of today's mass-buying trends. When youngsters now between the ages of 5 and 12 reach their teens, they will probably have an income of about 20 billion dollars.

The number of automobiles in the United States has increased 32 percent since 1958, while the number of service stations has risen only 3 percent. The latest figures show there are about 213,500 stations servicing the nation's 75 million automobiles.

Mrs. Paul Fisher Is Grand Regent Of CD of A Court

Election of officers for a new year was the principal business at the May meeting of Muenster Court Catholic Daughters of America.

Heading the executive committee as new grand regent is Mrs. Paul Fisher. Mrs. Ernest Medders is new vice regent. Mrs. Arnold Muller is new sentinel and Mrs. James Voth is new treasurer. New trustees are Mrs. Ed Knauf and Mrs. Walter Klement.

Re-elected for another year are Mrs. R. N. Fette, historian; Mrs. Tommy Knabe, lecturer; Mrs. Martin Becker, prophetess; Mrs. Leon Fleitman, financial secretary; Miss Sara Fleitman, monitor; Mrs. Joe Felderhoff, organist. Mrs. Tommy Dankesreiter was named alternate organist.

In other business conducted by Mrs. Al Schmitt, retiring grand regent, members discussed plans for a summer benefit to help Muenster Civic League and Garden Club with its statue project for Muenster Hospital grounds.

The group also discussed plans for the dinner the court will prepare and serve on June 5 at the community gathering honoring Father Frowin Schoech on the day of his First Mass.

Mrs. Ed Schmitt gave a report on the state convention she attended in El Paso. Mrs. Steve Moster gave the library report. Plans are to have the library open two days a week during the summer and volunteer helpers are needed.

Mrs. Ben Luke and Mrs. R. N. Fette told about the birthday party they took to Golden Years Rest Home in April and Mrs. Tony Gremminger, Mrs. Ted Gremminger, Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, Mrs. R. R. Endres and Miss Elizabeth Herr volunteered as hostesses for the May party. Each month members visit the home, cheer patients with visits, take a flower arrangement and a decorated cake for those who have birthdays during the month.

Mrs. Tommy Knabe and Mrs. Steve Moster were refreshment hostesses, and a film, "To Be and To Do," relating to CDA was shown by Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel and Mrs. Al Schmitt. Thirty-six members were present.

Installation of newly elected officers will be held at the June meeting.

Patsy Zimmerer Truman Wolf Say Vows at Lindsay

Miss Patricia Marie Zimmerer and Truman Michael Wolf exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony at Nuptial Mass in St. Peter's Church at Lindsay Saturday.

Father Francis Zimmerer of Little Rock, Ark., uncle of the bride, officiated. He also was officiant at the wedding of the bride's parents when they married in Muenster.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zimmerer of Lindsay. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wolf of Muenster.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of white silk taffeta combined with imported hand-clipped Chantilly lace. Designed with a fitted basque bodice of lace, the gown featured a Sabrina neckline edged in lace scallops, sprinkled with seed pearls and sequins, and long petal point sleeves. A pick-up effect edged in lace scallops enhanced the bouffant skirt and revealed a scalloped lace flounce at the center front hemline. The lace-edged chapel train was detachable falling from the waist at the back of the bodice in Watteau effect.

The bride's veil of illusion cascaded in tiers from a crown of pearls and aurora borealis that completely circled her head.

She carried a yellow-throated white orchid with white forget-me-nots and stephanotis atop a pearl prayer book, a gift from the bridegroom.

Bride's attendants were Miss Angie Hess of Dallas, maid of honor; Miss Barbara Bezner of Dallas, Miss Margie Neu and Miss Carol Ann Morisak, both of Gainesville, bridesmaids. They wore floor length dresses of yellow chiffon over peau de soie designed on Empire lines and matching head pieces with circular veils. Their flowers were yellow daisies in scroll arrangement.

Leonard Zimmerer of Sanger, bride's brother, was best man. Tommy Zimmerer of Lindsay, a cousin, David Yosten of Weatherford, Okla., and Leslie Kuhn of Lindsay were groomsmen. Clyde Walterscheid and Jimmy Zimmerer ushered.

Jenelle Street of Gainesville and Robert Wolf of Fort Worth, bridegroom's nephew, were flower girl and ring bearer.

Mrs. William Schmitz was organist for the church choir. The bride's aunts, Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer and Mrs. Vincent Zimmerer, sang a duet before Mass and sang again after the service when the bride placed the traditional bouquet on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Wedding reception and buffet were held in Lindsay Parish Hall with over 400 relatives and friends attending. They were registered by Miss Jackie Wimmer of Muenster and Miss Janice Wayland of Oklahoma City, cousins of the bridegroom.

Among guests were grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. H. A. Lueb of Oklahoma City and Mrs. John Wilde of Muenster. They had gardenia corsages.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Wolf and sons Robert, Bryan and Jeff and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Zimmerer of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Kupper and son Joey of Dallas, Messrs. and Mmes. O. E. Wayland, daughters Peggy and Janice, Odis Minnick, Ray Lueb and son Ricky, all of Oklahoma City, and C. W. Monaghan of Allen.

Also the Ray Bezners of Bryan, Misses Maxine Morris and Evelyn King of Richardson, Mrs. David Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hess, and Misses Sarah Ross, Sandra Bridwell and Elaine Edwards, all of Dallas. When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride was wearing a yellow three-piece suit with matching accessories. They will be at home in Dallas.

Pearl Brewing Company: San Antonio, Texas • St. Joseph, Missouri

Famous spring water gives Pearl its edge over other beers. Ages ago, the earth itself determined where the world's great beers would be brewed. One place would be Munich, Germany, where great brewing water comes from springs that flow beneath glacier ice. Another would be Burton-upon-Trent in England, where sub-surface rock holds a mineral water of rare quality. And another would be near San Antonio, where 1100 Hill Country springs produce a perfect brewing water. This is the water we use to brew Pearl Beer. Sealed in pure limestone, it comes straight from the springs to our brewery. Pearl is better beer because it's brewed with famous spring water from the Country of 1100 Springs:

They returned Tuesday night reporting weather wonderful for swimming in the Gulf and tanning on the beach. They had several tours before going to Houston for more sight-seeing. The highlight there was the AstroDome.

Wednesday was campus day at Sacred Heart for all the elementary grades with picnic and bazaar attractions. Room-mothers assisted the faculty.

John Walter, 90 Birthday Honoree

John Walter, oldest pioneer male resident of Muenster, celebrated his 90th birthday with a family gathering at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Paul Endres.

Joining the local relationship party for the Wednesday evening party were a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walter of Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter still live alone and do their household chores with assists from their children. Until about a year ago he drove his own car. Since he gave that up he walks, the daily outing including a walk to Sacred Heart Church for early morning Mass. Mrs. Walter, who has had illness the past year is less active than her husband.

The couple has ten children, four sons and six daughters: Al and Oscar Walter of Muenster, Joe Walter of Gainesville, M. Sgt. Alfred Walter of Honolulu, Hawaii; Mmes. Frank Bayer, Andy Hofbauer, Paul Endres and William J. Miller, all of Muenster, Mrs. Charles Everett of Olney, Ill., and Mrs. John O'Dowd of Houston. They have 51 grandchildren and 45 great-grandchildren.

Local News BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoeng spent Sunday in Dallas with the Bill Thomas family... had dinner and supper with them.

It was a family reunion Sunday when members of the Otto clan spent the day in Lawton, Oklahoma, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wolf. Together for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Otto and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Otto of Muenster, Ben Otto of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Otto of Wichita Falls and their daughters, Mrs. Hugo Horkey of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moser of Electra. The group missed Mrs. Joe Otto of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otto of Weslaco who were unable to be there.

Miss Helen Hess, Al Hess, his son Myron and nephew Mark Hess spent the weekend in Lake Arthur, La., visiting Sister Joan Hess. They saw all the other former Muenster girls who are nuns there. Sister Carmelita was back at the convent for the weekend, a leave from a Lake Charles hospital where she underwent surgery Tuesday this week. The nuns have classes through May and will return to the motherhouse in Jonesboro, Ark., when school dismisses.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Bettye Luke

It was "visitors day" the past two Thursdays at the library. Nine teachers and their pupils came to see the library and we were glad to see them come and hope the children will check out many books this summer.

We are sponsoring the annual State Library Reading Program again this year and every child reading 12 or more books will receive a certificate at the end of the summer program.

During the summer library hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. every Tuesday and Thursday. Among new books received is one that we have had several calls for. It is "Black Like Me," by John Howard Griffin, and began as a scientific research study of the Negro in the South with careful compilation of data for analysis.

Another book is "Ann Landers Talks to Teenagers About Sex," and it puts the answers right on the line.

We received four new biographies for children eight to 12 years old. They are "Franklin D. Roosevelt," "Teddy Roosevelt," "Sam Houston" and "The Story of Dr. Doolittle."

Come and read with us.

The ancient silver and lead mines near Athens, Greece, were first worked 2000 B.C.

The development of explosives for blasting and the use of steam to drive pumps mark the beginning of modern mining.

New remote control console for FM two-way radio system compensates electronically for changes in outgoing voice levels of different dispatchers, and provides anti-blast protection for incoming calls. Designed by General Electric at Lynchburg, Va., for use by businesses, governmental agencies and others, it's all-transistorized, easier to operate and more functional. Another automatic feature, electronic voltage regulation, keeps the console's performance steady and provides extremely stable characteristics for messages to cars and trucks on the road. For multi-office locations, additional consoles may be used.

from 6 to 8:45. Each 3-semester hour course is scheduled to meet two nights a week for six weeks and on alternating Friday nights.

"We schedule summer courses at night for the convenience of working people," President Parker said. "CCJC will attempt to offer any course during the Summer Session for which there is sufficient demand to form a class."

Scheduled for the first six weeks, which ends July 8, are courses in Freshman English, Business English, College Algebra, Typing, Business Speech, Business Mathematics, Modern Mathematics, Punch Card Machines, Sociology, Child Psychology, Introduction to Psychology, Texas Government, American History, and World Literature.

Each student has the choice of multiple sections in Freshman English, Punch Card Machines, and World Literature.

Trigonometry will be offered in lieu of College Algebra during the second six weeks, starting July 11 and ending August 19.

Tuition rates for the Summer Session are on a semester hour basis, $8. per semester hour for residents of Cooke County and $9. per semester hour for residents of other counties. Fees are identical to those of the long season.

A full-time student attending both semesters of the Summer Session can earn a maximum of 12 semester hours.

The accelerated office training program, with a credit value of 12 semester hours, will include all basic elements contained in the usual college courses in Typing, Shorthand, Office Machines, and Secretarial Training. This is a "crash" program approved and supported through the Texas Education Agency, which is intended to prepare students for immediate employment in office occupations.

Students in the "crash" program must have completed high school typing and shorthand or else have the consent of the instructors. Representatives of business and industry will assist the regular college faculty in making this program effective.

Students who have not been enrolled previously at CCJC may call, visit the college at their convenience and obtain a class schedule and a card packet for registration. Mail inquires, to be addressed to the Dean of Student Services are welcomed.

Special attention will be given this Summer to helping CCJC students and former students at other colleges who need remedial work. A student needing remedial work should contact the Dean of Student Services so that the proper course opportunities may be made available.

"If a student has a Selective Service deferment and has some doubt about his being able to complete 30 semester hours during the calendar year, now is the time for him to get remedial attention," President Parker explained. "We are much better equipped to help the weaker students during the summer months than we will be in September."

Reasons for attending Summer School are varied. Some students are home for the summer and would like to stay busy. Others planning to attend another college in September choose to complete one or two of their "hardest" courses at CCJC so that college life will not be strange to them. The basic reasons for students attending are (1) to stretch the money available for education; (2) the opportunity to continue living at home; (3) the friendlier, more personal attention usually available from a small college.

Upholstering Is Demonstrated at HD Club Meeting

Members of Muenster Home Demonstration Club had a lesson on upholstering for the program at their May meeting. Mrs. Alois Rohmer was program leader.

Mrs. John Wieler was hostess in her home and 16 members were present.

Meeting opened with prayer and Mrs. Joe Hoenig, president, presided. Mrs. Norbert Klement called roll which was answered by members telling what new furniture was needed in their homes.

Mrs. Martin Bayer gave the council report and also told about the annual county luncheon, May 10, for county home demonstration club members. Ten Muenster members attended, one of them Mrs. Earl Robison, a 25-year member.

County clubs have 28 members who have been in club work for 25 years. Sixteen were present and were special guests.

Mrs. Martin Bayer and Mrs. Theo Vogel reported visiting three local shut-ins during April. Mrs. Gus Lutkenhaus and Mrs. Bill Lutkenhaus volunteered to visit shut-ins this month. Cheering the sick with visits and a treat of candy or cookies in one of the club's new projects inaugurated last month.

Four members subscribed to the THDA Messenger.

Mrs. Hoenig led recreation. Prizes were won by Mrs. Arthur Williams, Mrs. Paul Fisher and Mrs. Bill Lutkenhaus.

The hostess served refreshments and Mrs. Henry Pick invited members to her home for the June 8 meeting.

Chevrolet Shows Gas Turbine Truck

Ray and J. B. Wilde have just returned from Arlington where they had the opportunity to preview Chevrolet's "Truck of Tomorrow," the TURBO TITAN III, powered by a gas turbine engine.

This unit is the result of 15 years of development in General Motors Research Laboratories and combines futuristic styling with sophisticated control devices such as hinged-up power windows, retractable square lens triple head-lamps, astronaut seats, full pile carpeting, tinted glass, air conditioning, two-way radio telephone and four-speaker FM stereo radio.

At the preview, approximately 150 dealers received delivery of 204 air conditioned pickups. These pickups will be used in connection with the current Chevrolet promotion, "COOLEST DEAL IN TOWN".

Time to Convert Postal Savings To Savings Bonds

Postmaster Arthur Endres urges local citizens who have funds on deposit in the abolished Postal Savings System to convert their holdings into United States Savings Bonds. "Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, who is Chairman of the Federal Savings Bonds Campaign, has appealed to the 930,000 Americans who have $285,000,000 on deposit with the Post Office Department to convert their investments into United States Savings Bonds", Mr. Endres stated.

"I join him in urging local citizens who have Postal Savings Accounts to make that change which will be of great benefit to both themselves and our country. Savings Bonds offer every advantage of convenience and security formerly available through Postal Savings Certificates plus many other advantages unique to Savings Bonds." Among those special advantages, the Muenster Postmaster said, are Savings Bonds' new interest rate of 4-15 per cent and "the great intangible benefits of supporting our country in the fight for freedom in the world and for economic progress and security here at home." Mr. Endres said details about the procedure for conversion can be obtained from the Postmaster of any postal Savings Depository Post Office. The Postal Savings System, in operation since January 1, 1911, was discontinued April 27, 1966, by Act of Congress. The Post Office Department presently is liquidating its accounts and on July 1, 1967 will transfer all unclaimed assets of the System to the Treasury Department.

St. Anne Society Names Delegates To State Meeting

Members of St. Anne's Society at their meeting Sunday night elected delegates to attend the state meeting of the Catholic State League in New Braunfels July 9-11. Named were Mrs. Wilfred Bindel and Mrs. Ted Gremminger with Mrs. Ed Schneider as alternate. Other members are planning to attend.

Mrs. Al Walterscheid, president, presided. In other business, members were reminded to contribute to the mission exhibit at the State League. Principal items needed are medical supplies — aspirins, vaseline, band-aids and similar items. They may be left at the home of Mrs. Alfons Koesler Sr. who will ready them for shipment.

Members voted a contribution to the St. Francis statue the Civic League and Garden Club is sponsoring for erection at Muenster Hospital, and also voted a donation to Father Frowin Schoech, to apply on the purchase of a typewriter.

Mrs. Martin Hacker of Valley View sent a request for broken rosaries which Father Anthony Gajda repairs and distributes to girls at Gainesville State School.

Mrs. Walterscheid reported on the district meeting of the Catholic State League at Windthorst and asked members to wear their society medals at afternoon rosaries which the society recites for deceased members of the parish.

Two recordings were heard continuing the series by Father Bertin Roll, national director of the Archconfraternity of Christian Mothers, Pittsburg, Pa. One urged mothers to use patience, the other explained work of the Confraternity of Christian Mothers.

Twenty-one members attended and Mrs. Alfons Koesler Sr. won the door prize. After adjournment the ladies joined members of St. Joseph's Society for a social hour and refreshments.

Poll Tax Dead, but Still Included on Amendments List

Although the poll tax now is officially dead, as a voting requirement, the fight over registration procedures continues.

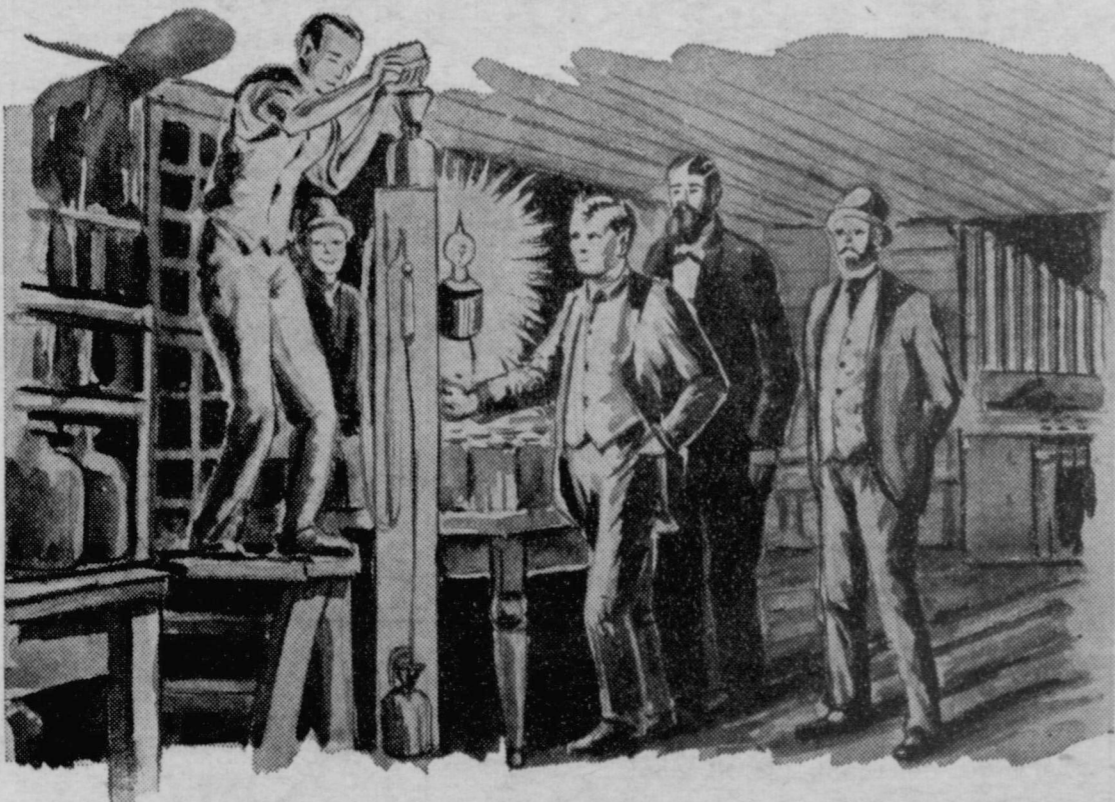

U. S. Supreme Court, as expected, agreed with a three-judge federal court here that the 74-year-old levy is unconstitutional. Court already had stated in a Virginia case that a state is prohibited from placing a charge on the right to vote.

Action, however, was necessary to place in full effect the voter registration law passed by the Texas Legislature in special session last February.

Texas voters still will cast ballots next November on a proposed state constitutional amendment to "repeal" the poll tax. Same amendment provides that an annual registration system will replace the levy.

Some groups are urging defeat of the November amendment. This so that annual registration will not be built into the state constitution. They will continue their drive for a permanent registration plan, whereby a voter once registered remains eligible simply by voting regularly in elections.

58 YEARS FROM THE BENCH...

...TO THE BARN

It took 58 years for Thomas Edison's marvelous incandescent lamp to find its way from the laboratory to the rural areas of Texas.

Big cities were electrified quickly, but rural electrification wasn't even started until the electric cooperatives were organized.

BRAZOS ELECTRIC POWER COOPERATIVE this year celebrates 25 years of service, generating electricity for COOKE COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE and 18 other electric distribution cooperatives serving more than 70,000 families in the rural areas of 54 Texas counties. Together they have transformed rural life. So great has been the impact of electricity, it is doubtful even the "Wizard of Menlo Park" could have foreseen its great demand.

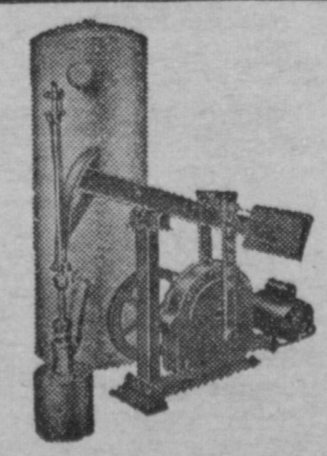

As that demand continues, COOKE COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE and BRAZOS ELECTRIC POWER COOPERATIVE are planning ahead for improving facilities to deliver the power that is Helping Texas Grow.

Birthday Fete and 8th Grade Class Party Combined

Cindy Swirczynski shared honors of her fourteenth birthday celebration Saturday with her classmates of the eighth grade of Sacred Heart School. It was a graduation party. There were 55 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski entertained for their daughter and the class in their shop building which was gaily decorated with streamers and balloons. Tables were arranged around a dance floor and guests helped themselves from long buffet tables. They danced to recordings.

Before the party ended Cindy displayed her birthday gifts and Mrs. Swirczynski cut and served four large birthday cakes with other refreshments.

The residence of the president of the U.S. was first called the White House in 1811, but not until Theodore Roosevelt put the name on stationary in 1902 was it made official.

If all descendants of one female housefly that survived the winter lived and multiplied, there would be enough flies in August to cover the world 47 feet deep.

Awards Banquet

Carrollton and Clyde King of Valley View were honored as the best landlord-tenant team.

Special recognition was also given to a teacher and nine students for achievements related to conservation during the past year. Mrs. Frances Waters of Nocona was introduced as the outstanding conservation teacher, Craig Williams of Saint Jo as the district essay winner, and also the Muenster FFA grass judging team and the Prairie Valley FFA land judging team, along with their coaches, as winners of contests sponsored by the district.

Another special recognition was dedication of the program to the memory of J. C. Porter, Wichita Falls banker who had been prominent for many years in area and state conservation endeavors. He was to have been master of ceremonies at the banquet but died on April 9.

Porter's place on the program was taken by Clyde Wells, former conservationist of this district. He introduced Mrs. Porter, asked for a minute of silent prayer and read a message of tribute.

About 600 persons attended the banquet and were served in four lines as they entered. While they ate Mrs. Lessie Tinsley of Sherman played the organ.

The program opened with a welcome by Charles Coffield of the First National Bank, Bowie and invocation by Dr. D. L. Payne of First Baptist Church, Bowie, then Wells took over as master of ceremonies. After introductions and tribute he called on Charles Fenoglio of Midwestern University for a short talk on conservation, then turned the program over to Olie Carriker of KBAN, Bowie radio station.

Carriker told the conservation story of each award winner while colored scenes from his farm were projected on a screen. Each narrative ended with presentation of the engraved wooden plaque.
