Memorial Service Honors Deceased Service Men

Two related items in this week's news concern our federal government's fiscal problem. From Washington comes a report that the Treasury Department is asking Congress to raise the temporary debt ceiling from $328 billion to $332 billion. And from our county seat comes the report that local people are invited to work out a program whereby they can qualify for a share in the fabulous expenditures of the war on poverty.

The one report plainly implies that our government is desperately in debt, the other implies no less plainly that Uncle Sam is loaded with money and welcomes an opportunity to scatter it around. Of course it's superfluous to mention that the two ideas can't be reconciled, and neither of them can be justified if the other is correct. Well, none of us has any doubt about which is the correct statement.

The purpose here is not to criticize our county for its effort to participate in the government's give away program. When taxpayers see their money being scattered, self interest prompts them to do what they can about getting some of it back. After seeing the program in practice for a while and realizing that the chance of licking it gets slimmer and slimmer, the urge to join gets stronger and stronger. And why not? If we can't stop the gravy train the next best is to get on and ride.

In this case the switch is particularly easy because the train has such an appealing name. Everybody is opposed to poverty. The program takes on the nature of a crusade. Who would dare question the motives of a War on Poverty?

Another very appealing feature of the program is the government's very generous cooperation with any area that wants to start it. The man who outlined organizational procedure Monday night said that a federal grant of $12,000 is available to develop a poverty program. The money can be used to pay a director and staff to study and propose a program.

The man also said that Cooke County will lose $63,000 on June 30 because no program is under way. That amount, he explained, was for administration only. Presumably if the local program had been started in time it could have received both those sums, a total of $75,000, for organization and administration before a single penny was allocated for needs of the poor. The additional money to be spent on the poor would be determined by need, so there's no way of estimating how much it would be. Nor should we be fussy about it. After all the program was originated for them so it seems proper that a substantial share of the fund should go to them.

But that brings up a big question. After the poverty program has been organized all over the country at the cost mentioned above, how much can actually be left for those in need? It was mentioned that Texas has 40 of them going. Then how about the country as a whole? — plus the oversized staff of overpaid administrators in Washington?

That problem bugs people like you and me but apparently it does not bother the modern economists of government. Despite deficits and the constantly rising debt and the increasing danger of inflation they are not alarmed. Now they talk about increasing tax to relieve the inflation strain caused by their fiscal policy. They want to treat the symptom instead of the disease. Why don't they realize that inflation comes from their own excessive spending and can be cured only by reduced spending?

If these sentiments appear like a voice in the wilderness the column frankly admits they are exactly that. So, despite the folly of continued excessive spending — especially while we have a war in our budget — it wishes success to our county in its effort to organize a poverty program. Not on principle, but on expediency.

After all, why should we be the noble ones? We have to pay our share of the taxes which power the federal gravy train, so we're entitled as much as anyone else to a ride on it. If this sounds like a cynical attitude, remember, it's also the practical one. In fact, it

Deceased service men of Muenster will be remembered Sunday in the annual memorial service conducted by the VFW Post and Auxiliary in cooperation with the pastor of Sacred Heart Church.

It will follow the 7:30 Mass beginning with a procession from church to the cemetery headed by color bearers and a rifle detail from the VFW Post.

First stop there will be at the crucifixion group in the center where Father Alcuin will lead in prayers for deceased of the community and an officer of the VFW Auxiliary will place a floral arrangement.

Then the group will go to the service men's section where Auxiliary officers will place floral and buddy poppy arrangements at the central monument and girls of this year's first communion class in their white dresses will put flowers on all service men's graves.

After that Father Alcuin will lead in prayers for the service men and deliver the Memorial Day address.

Last is the military service conducted by the VFW group. It consists of a 3 volley rifle salute and taps.

Gold Star parents will wear flowers from the VFW Auxiliary for the services. Mothers will receive corsages, fathers will receive boutonnières.

Eighteen students received high school diplomas and the same number received elementary diplomas in commencement exercises at Muenster Public School last Friday night.

Heading their program as commencement speaker was Glenn Shelton, writer of the "Hired Hand" column in the Wichita Falls Record News.

Shelton gave his audience several minutes of humor before reminding the graduates of the many blessings they enjoy as Americans and encouraging them to continue in school so they can earn a greater share in the country's blessing.

Be proud of America, he urged. In spite of some faults it is by far the greatest nation of all history — greatest in material achievement and greatest in ideals of human dignity and freedom.

He said it is everyone's privilege to point to the nation's faults in a constructive spirit but the beatnik and subversive types of fault finders who hurt our country and help the enemy are violating their American rights.

Regarding their personal careers, Shelton advised the grads to keep going to school. He quoted statistics showing that on an average each year of school increases a person's life time earnings by $25,000. He also mentioned the new opportunities to be found in new developments. In a few years there will be many jobs that are unheard of now, such

Sunday Designated Buddy Poppy Day

Sunday will be Buddy Poppy Day in Muenster.

The day is set each year to coincide with annual Memorial Day services conducted at Sacred Heart Church on the Sunday nearest May 30.

Members of Muenster VFW Auxiliary will be at the church doors following all services Sunday to accept contributions and hand out the little red flowers.

Buddy Poppy Day which had its beginning in 1922 continues today as it began — a remembrance of an obligation to brave men who gave their lives that others might live in freedom and dignity.

The Auxiliary invites everyone to be generous, reminding that proceeds from the campaign, other than the actual cost of the poppies which goes to disabled veterans, remains here in a special fund to help local disabled veterans and handicapped children.

Mrs. Don Flusche is general chairman of the drive.

Auto Road-E-O Slated Sunday At Public School

Jaycees are all set for their second annual Auto Road-E-O, to be held on the street in front of the public school next Sunday, starting at 1 o'clock.

Bobby Walterscheid, contest chairman, says he has fifteen entries and hopes to get several more, at least enough to beat last year's record of 19.

The contest is conducted in accordance with state wide Road-E-O regulations and the high scorer here will qualify to enter the state contest at Pampa on June 11.

The local contest will be held in boys and girls divisions, and three awards are offered in each. First place gets a plaque, next two get medals. The high scorer, who goes to the state contest may be a boy or a girl.

The contest consists of two parts, a written exam taking about 30 minutes, then a driving test. Cars for the test are furnished. Contestants cannot drive their own.

Judges in charge of the event will be Patrolman George King of the DPS, Deputy Sheriff Don Morris, Driving Instructor James Polk and Emmett Walterscheid.

Boys or girls who want to compete are reminded that they are welcome. Entries will be accepted up to the start of the contest.

County Schools Get Federal Fund For Head Start

Operation Head Start, one of the benefits offered in Cooke County's newly declared war on poverty, the Community Action Program, has been approved to begin immediately.

A telegram Tuesday to Program Director Tom Riddlehuber from Congressman Graham Purcell announces that a grant of $34,492 has been provided for the program by the federal government.

All public schools of the county are invited to participate, Riddlehuber said, and those that want it must decide quickly because the starting date is June 6.

The program is for preschool children who will start the first grade the coming September. As the name implies, it is for children who need a head start so they can be on a par with normal pupils when the regular school year begins — that is, educationally deprived, culturally deprived, economically deprived.

Era Seeks Top State Award in Progress Contest

Enthusiasm and community pride are running high at Era this week as the town is being considered in final judging for top honors in the state wide Texas Community Improvement Contest.

As of now Era is one of the top four of the state. The other three are Knippa in Uvalde County, Harris Chapel in Panola County and Middlewell in Moore County. And for Era the day of decision is Thursday when contest judges come out to look over the community.

The town is observing that occasion in a big way. Murray Cox, WFAA farm editor is there to tell what he sees and hears. And all who wish to come are invited to tour the community and join Era folks at a big community dinner. Judging is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. by three specialists of the A&M Extension Service and A&M University.

Era is one of 283 communities throughout Texas participating in the Community Improvement Program sponsored by investor-owned electric companies of the state. Previous judging this year has eliminated all but the four who are now being considered in the finals of the state contest.

All of the four finalists will receive cash awards: first place $450, second place $350, third place $250, fourth place $150.

All Is Ready for First Ordination In Local Church

Two outstanding events — a historic ordination and the First Mass of the newly ordained priest — will be held in Sacred Heart Church here June 4 and 5.

The Rev. Frowin Schoech, O.S.B., of New Subiaco Abbey, Subiaco, Ark., will be ordained to the priesthood Saturday, June 4, at 10 a.m. by the Most Rev. Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese. It is the first time in this community's 76-year history that an ordination will be held in the parish church.

Father Frowin will celebrate his First Solemn Mass Sunday at 10:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church.

The young priest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schoech and a Muenster native. He completed high school, college and theological studies at Subiaco.

Rev. Langenhorst Addresses Grads At Sacred Heart

Graduates of Sacred Heart School were told to rely on their faith and the teachings of the Ecumenical Council to lead the world out of our modern dark age.

The Most Reverend Monsignor E. G. Langenhorst of Fort Worth, commencement speaker, told the students he is sorry that they do not have a better world in which to make their start. Two thirds of the world's population is ruled by dictators and the threat of nuclear destruction hangs over all. After 50 years communism exerts its influence over more people than Christianity does after 2000 years, and the number of active Christians is actually decreasing at this time. Since the start of this century 65 million people have died violently as a result of wars and dictatorial oppression.

He said the world is in disorder, and quoted St. Augustine as saying that peace can come only from order. That order, he said, can be found by turning to God, by worship and love and justice, guided by faith and teachings of the Ecumenical Council. Now as never before people have an opportunity to become gloriously adopted to the work of God.

Commencement services for the thirty four high school graduates and fifty four elementary graduates was held Sunday night in Sacred Heart Church in connection with the She'll leave June 8 by air jet to spend four weeks in Switzerland with her four brothers, four sisters and their families. One brother is a priest, and a grand-nephew has just been ordained. It's her first trip home in ten years.

Traveling with her will be Sister Bernadette of Jonesboro, Ark., also a native of Switzerland, who will visit her family.

Little League Starts Friday

The Little League season of 1966 will open with special ceremonies Friday night. Father Andrew Wever will be there to start it with an invocation and Mayor Earl Fisher will throw out the first ball.

And then the kids will proceed with the first encounter of double header programs that are scheduled for Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays the next six weeks. Games are to start at 7 and 8:30. If games have to be postponed they will be played on Thursdays or Sundays or the end of the season.

Muenster Jaycees sponsors of the Little League program are making special efforts this year to make it popular, and urge parents to come and encourage their kids. To make it more enjoyable they have renovated the grandstand especially new concessions serving hot dogs, popcorn and soda pop. Another addition is a PA system.

The league was organized last Sunday afternoon in the ballpark as boys were assigned to teams and managers. Jerry Hoenig, project chairman, expects to publish the roster of each team next week.

Team sponsors in the senior division and their managers are Cooke County Electric Co-op, Ed Schneider; The Center, Adam Wolf; Endres Motor, Robert Vogel; Muenster Mill, Dennis Hess.

Sponsors and managers of the junior division are Muenster State Bank, Donald Endres; Wilde Chevrolet, Bobby Walterscheid; Colonial Acres, Tommy Herr; Tuggle Motor Co., Donny Hess.

Summer Course Is Available in Driver Training

A summer course in driver training is available at Muenster Public School if enough are enrolled to justify a class. Registration will be next Tuesday, May 31, at 9 a.m., in the school.

Superintendent L. B. Bruns reported Wednesday that James Ray Polk, who taught the course during the regular school year, is here during the summer and willing to teach. Cost of taking the course is $25. This is not a federal sponsored project, Bruns said, so the entire expense will have to be paid by those who take it.

To be eligible a student must be 14 years old or older as of June 1, and there is no maximum age limit. Adults also may take it. Minimum number to get the course going is 20 students and the maximum number accepted will be 30.

The course can solve a problem for many of the youngsters who have motorcycles but no licenses. Passing this course will qualify them for regular drivers license, which also allows them to operate motorcycles. Otherwise a special license must be obtained for operating the motorcycle only, and that license is limited to machines of 5 H.P. or under.

The driving course consists of 30 classroom hours, 6 hours of driving, 6 hours of observing and a written test. If grades are satisfactory in all that the student becomes eligible for a driver test under supervision of the Department of Public Safety.

Bro. Thomas Moster On Shrine Tour Through Europe

Brother Thomas Moster left Monday on a two-month tour of Europe. He went by jet from Dallas to New York City and boarded an ocean liner there Tuesday for the voyage to London, scheduled to dock June 1.

In London he will meet other travelers for the grand journey — a shrine pilgrimage during the centennial year of Our Mother of Perpetual Help.

The 41-day tour includes England, Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy, Monaco, France, Spain and Portugal. Travel from country to country will be by motorcoach.

In addition to shrine visits the tour will include scenic beauty, historical and cultural sight-seeing, overnight steamer trips, leisure time to explore noted cities, and an audience with the Holy Father, Pope Paul VI.

Brother Thomas plans to return by air, flying from Lisbon, Portugal, to New York at the end of July.

Swimming Pool Will Open June 4

Muenster's swimming pool will open on Saturday, June 4, with Carl King serving again as its operator. Terry Cason will be his assistant.

The opening date was announced this week by City Manager Steve Moster, who is supervising a general fix-up program to get the pool ready. It's getting an over-all cleanup plus replacements, repairs and paint.

Opening this year was set later than usual to allow King and his family time for a vacation after getting away from his teaching job.

Pastors Attend Retreat at Abbey

Pastors of the Sacred Heart Parish will be absent four days next week to attend the annual retreat of their monastery in Subiaco, Ark.

Father Alcuin Kubis said this week that they intend to leave as soon as possible after Sunday's morning services and will return late Thursday. The regular schedule of Friday Masses will apply.

Gainesville pastors will help out while local pastors are away. One of them will be here for the Sunday night Mass and the Tuesday night novena service. And the St. Mary's rectory of Gainesville should be called in case a priest is wanted in emergency.

Effort to Secure Poverty Program Starts in County

A Community Action Program to receive benefits available in President Johnson's War on Poverty was endorsed for Cooke County Monday night in a meeting of about 70 persons in the court house at Gainesville.

Those attending voted to set up the program after it had been explained to them by Bert Adams of Austin, program consultant of the state unit of Office of Economic Opportunity.

He said that the CAP is for poor people of four categories: the unemployed able and willing to work, part time workers, the undertrained and dependents such as aged, sick and disabled.

Help to them will consist of such benefits as remedial and non curricular education, employment, job training, counseling, health and vocational rehabilitation, etc.

The program is to be administered by a permanent board including persons from health, welfare and education agencies, city and county government, poor of the county and organizations-at-large.

A 16-member Community Action Committee named at Monday's meeting has responsibility for getting the program organized and selecting the permanent advisory board. County Judge Bill Carroll is chairman of the committee. Representing Precinct 3 are Norbert Mages, Glenn Hellman, Parker Yarbrough and B. P. Douglas. Representing Precinct 4 are L. B. Bruns, Ray Wilde and Bill Sullivan.

SEEKING A SCAPEGOAT

Inflation is making itself felt. The cost of living increased at an annual rate of 6 per cent in February and only slightly less in March. Administration spokesmen point out that an important part of this increase was due to higher food costs, which included higher prices paid farmers. The official finger of blame is being pointed everywhere except at the major cause of the problem — unprecedented, nonmilitary and nonessential federal spending.

For over 30 years, the government has poured billions of dollars into price support programs and other schemes aimed at raising the price of farm commodities. An American Farm Bureau Federation spokesman points out: "Now that prices of farm products are rising naturally in response to stronger demand, the Administration has set about the job of not only trying to lower them, but of trying to use the farmer as a scapegoat for government-induced inflation." Like most of the rest of us, farmers have not caused inflation. They are only victims of it. Farm production costs have increased $4.1 billion since 1960, while net income in the same period has risen only $2.4 billion.

In a recent Address at a Cornell University forum,

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, put the case in strong terms when he said: "Now we are getting the double whammy from the Administration as it pushes for an increase in the minimum wage, spelling higher prices for production items farmers buy, and at the same time using various devices to beat down farm prices." Mr. Shuman cites five instances of farm price-depressing actions. 1. Sharply increased sales of surplus corn at cut-rate prices. 2. Increased support prices on soybeans for 1966, the purpose — to artificially stimulate production and so, lower prices. 3. Steps have been taken to lower prices on dairy products — eliminating butter from the armed services menu, increasing the cheese import quota by 1/2, raising dairy supports — all to artificially boost supplies and weaken prices. 4. The use of prime pork products by the military services was decreased. 5. Recently imposed quotas on hide exports are intended to drive down domestic prices.

The farmers are not in a unique position. Other industries — aluminum, copper, steel — have felt the pinch of "unofficial price control." As long as it can, government will seek to make the people pay for its own mistakes — the inflationary, monetary, fiscal and labor policies chiefly responsible for rising prices.

Robert P. Griffin, U. S. Representative from Michigan said: "To force a worker to join a union, and then to use his dues for politics, is to make a second-class citizen."

THEIR LAST FULL MEASURE

A DAY TO REMEMBER

The muffled dirge of a military band ... the rhythmic cadence of marching men ... the creaking, squeaking of the caisson ... the nervous clatter of horses hooves all break the tense silence as the cortege slowly wends its way toward its final destination in the National Cemetery in Arlington.

The trees are beginning to weave their natural canopy of green over the Virginia landscape, the floral plants are in bloom, and in the distance one may see President Kennedy's resting place, the Lee Mansion, and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Slowly paced through the winding streets amid the thousands of small headstones nestled close to the turf and bordered by trees about to flower into protective shade, the impressive procession passes. Suddenly it halts. The precision-like steps of the pallbearers are heard against a murmuring silence. And as they lead the mourners to the gravesight "Lead Kindly Light" is heard softly in the background. At the grave a man of God says a prayer. On a far hill — the sharp clicking of rifle bolts is heard — three sharp reports from the firing squad — and the poignant rendition of Taps is sounded. The pallbearers in meticulous precision remove the flag — and snap each fold into place. The commanding officer presents the flag to the next of kin.

This is but one day — in one place — but all over America on May 30th the nation pays tribute to the military dead.

JUST FILL OUT THIS FORM

You haven't by any chance had a recent experience, have you, that has left you a little shell-shocked from paperwork and form-filling-out?

You have? What a coincidence!

Here's a morsel of comfort for you:

What good old Form 1040 did to you was practically a love pat. You ought to see what thousands, maybe millions, of folks are putting up with every day in the year.

For the frightening fact is that it is taking more and more red tape to wind up the main-spring of the Great Society.

Item: It takes a radio station about 80 hours, a congressional committee was told the other day, to fill out the necessary forms to renew its license.

Item: The other day there were four women working in this paper's payroll office. Three were filling out government reports. One was working for the company.

Item: It's not unusual for a big shot in a big company to read 150 documents a day.

Item: It is estimated that at this very moment there are 1.5 quadrillion — yes QUADRILLION — pieces of paper stored in the nation's offices and storerooms.

Item: The paperwork cost of running the U. S. Economy is estimated at $100 billion a year — one-seventh of the nation's annual output of goods and services.

Item: It is true that new-fangled computers can bat out these figure-filled forms 100 times faster than an expert typist, and that copying machines can make carbons like crazy. But this only means there will be more forms and more carbons for someone to read.

Item: Furthermore — but you know that the little paperwork you did for the Internal Revenue was just a warmup.

Saddest item of all: You ain't seen nothin' yet!

THOSE DEPRECIATING PENNIES

Once again the government is endeavoring to hold back inflation pressures of its own making, by resorting to punitive measures against a single industry. In this case, export quotas have been placed on cattle hides by U.S. Department of Commerce, in an effort to hold down hide prices and hence the price of shoes.

The effect of the government's action on the price of shoes is nebulous. As Vice President Aled P. Davies of the American Meat Institute points out, hide prices have little to do with the price of shoes. He cites a study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, indicating that only 6.8 per cent of the retail price of shoes is represented by cured hides, moreover, from 1951 to 1965, the wholesale price of footwear advanced 17 per cent, while cattle hide prices dropped 44 per cent. He added that measures for controlling inflation exist in the areas of fiscal and monetary policy, particularly in the matter of government spending. Hide export controls are the wrong tools used for wrong reasons at the wrong time.

"Business as usual" political spending piled on top of the war in Viet Nam makes inflation inevitable. Business and industry have to operate on the same kind of pennies that the housewife uses to buy groceries. As government policies destroy the value of those pennies, it takes that many more of them to do business.

Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, says if you are making more now, but enjoying it less" you have "prosperity disease" ... This comes from confusing luxuries with necessities, and trying to own all the extras ...

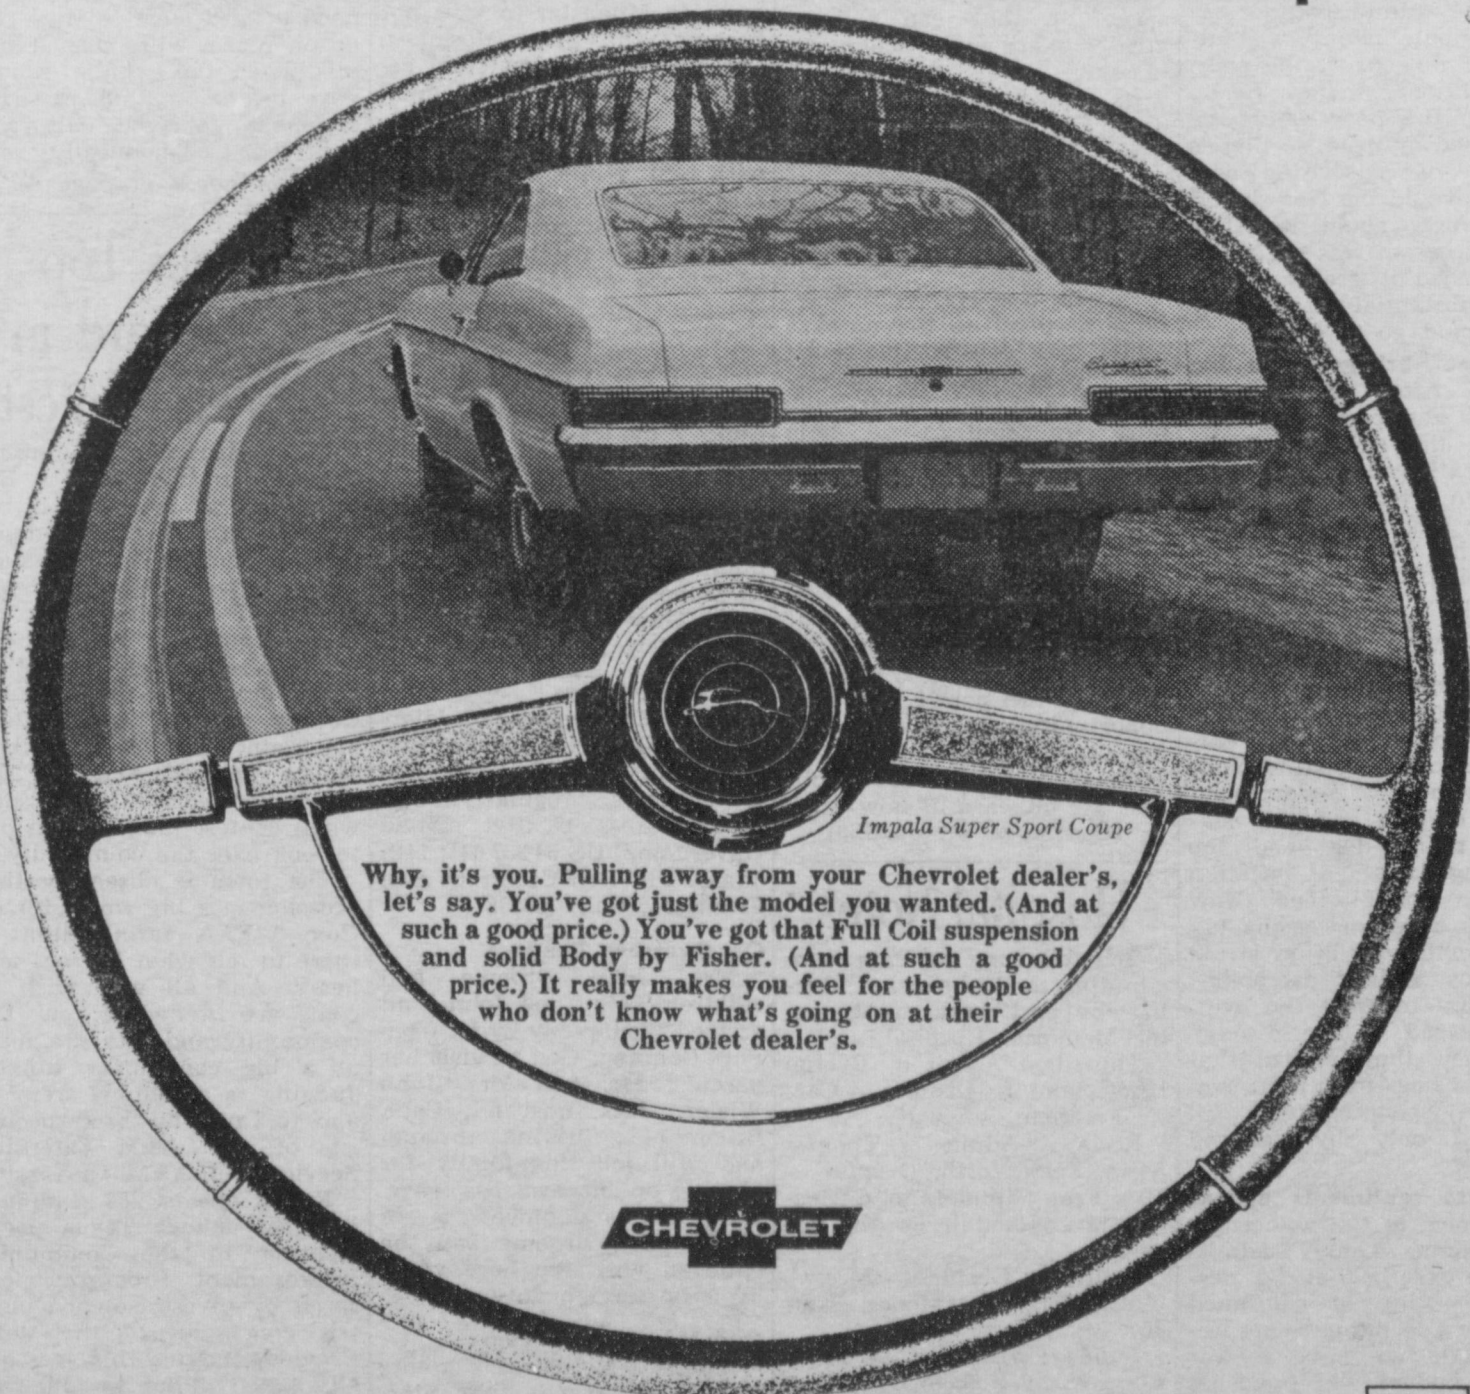

"Nearly half of all traffic deaths occur at speeds under 40 miles per hour," says the Portland Traffic Safety Commission. Mrs. Grewing Is New President of Hospital Auxiliary

Mrs. Richard Grewing is the new president of Muenster Hospital Auxiliary elected at the May meeting Thursday to succeed Mrs. Ervin Hamric who held the presidency for two years, since the Auxiliary was organized.

Other new officers are Mrs. James Mollenkopf, first vice president; Mrs. Martin Kralicke, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Grewing, secretary; Mrs. Paul Fisher, treasurer.

In other business the Auxiliary bought an analyzer for the oxygen machines at Muenster Hospital — a $300 item — and made a donation to the Civic League and Garden Club's statue fund.

For the program there were two films on tuberculosis with commentary by Dr. Martin Kralicke.

About 25 members attended and hostesses served refreshments after adjournment. Mrs. Don Flusche won the door prize — a shampoo and set at Evelyn's Styleroom.

Redwoods

The Redwood Forest claims the two tallest trees in the world ... They are 367 feet high and grow in a single secluded grove in northern California ... They are surrounded by scores of other trees soaring over 300 feet ... A private logging road provides the only access to the Redwood giants which are found in Humboldt county, less than 10 miles from the coast ... Millions of redwoods have been used by industry ... The wood of a single 300-foot-tall redwood alone can go into the building of five homes ... Today 300,000 acres of the red giants remain, 50,000 of which are permanently preserved within public parks and groves.

An echo always has the last word, but it never wins an argument.

V. M. Ramsey Feted On 89th Birthday
 Eighty-ninth birthday of V. M. Ramsey which was Monday, May 23, was celebrated Sunday at a family reunion and picnic dinner in Muenster Park. The honoree, a patient at Golden Years Rest Home, felt strong enough to join in the celebration. He received a shower of gifts.

His children present were the Sam Sparkmans and family, the Melton Ramseys and sons of Whitesboro, the Willis Robison family of Gainesville and the Roy Ramseys of Dallas accompanied by a niece, Cheryl Gieser of Arlington.

Other relatives and friends attending were Joe Carroll McElreath and Mrs. Evelyn Sills and son of Gainesville, and the Rafe McElreaths and Becky.

The Gordon Ramseys of Gainesville, the Sid Ramseys and family of Arlington, Bro. and Mrs. Roy Cook of Saint Jo, and the Earl Rodisons joined them for visiting after the noon meal.

Jim Walker sends word from Fort Worth that he is out of the VA Hospital in Dallas since Tuesday this week and is with a niece, Mrs. Theo Dunsworth in Fort Worth. He's due back in the hospital in a month. Mr. Walker said many thanks for many greeting cards he has received and especially wants to thank local VFW members for remembering him.

Visitors Monday and Tuesday with Angela Laake and Rosa Driever were their nieces and cousins, Misses Marie and Gena Niehues of Temple. They also visited long-time friends, the Nick Millers.

Seniors of Sacred Heart High School and their dates were guests for after graduation festivities Sunday night. They ate at Rohmer's Restaurant and went to the Val Fuhrmann home for a party that ended with breakfast. Elementary graduates of Sacred Heart School had their final party after commencement exercises with parents as guests for the event in the school gym.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders were among guests at the International Ball Friday in the Dallas Sheraton.

"MUSTS" to get the MOST from your AIR CONDITIONING

FOLLOW THESE STEPS:

- 1. REPLACE OR CLEAN FILTERS
 Dirty filters cut down air flow... increase operating cost. Replace or clean before hot weather starts... monthly thereafter.
- 2. OIL VITAL SPOTS
 Refer to the operating manual for instructions on oiling.
- 3. HAVE A CHECK-UP
 A periodic check-up by a qualified serviceman will assure efficient and economical operation.
- 4. SET THE THERMOSTAT
 The hotter it is outside, the more your air conditioner must work. Set the thermostat for a comfortable temperature; don't try to make it "December in July."

NEW LOOK IN FLY CONTROL

The fight to control flies is an annual battle for farmers. But these pests must be controlled or they will present many problems.

For one, they are carriers of diseases from farm to farm, and can bring serious health problems to livestock. Left uncontrolled for very long, a few pairs soon breed many thousands more.

Flies are a nuisance to hogs and beef cattle. They annoy the animals, reducing feeding time and consequently may interfere with maximum weight gains. Flies cannot be tolerated in dairy operations where quality milk is to be produced.

There is no simple solution to the annual fly problem. But attention to several basic, good management steps can help eliminate flies.

The first step is proper sanitation. Eliminate fly breeding places such as manure piles, refuse, rubbish. By removing favorite breeding places, flies will be denied the necessary places to lay eggs. Begin early. It is easier to knock out a few flies than attempt to fight thousands by mid-season.

Sanitation is the first part of any effective large scale fly control program. The second part is a well-planned spray program.

When DDT was first introduced, it proved to be useful against flies. However, flies became resistant to DDT and similar chlorinated hydrocarbon pesticides.

Looking for improved fly control methods, scientists developed malathion insecticide. It is a broad-range organic phosphate material that provides excellent control. It is still widely used and can be applied on buildings and on livestock directly when label directions are followed. One big advantage is that malathion does the job on flies, then disappears.

However, even with effective materials like malathion, scientists continued their search for new techniques. One of the most recent developments is Cygon insecticide. This newer pesticide provides both effectiveness and long residual action. In research work and farm tests across the country, Cygon proved capable of giving up to eight weeks of fly control from one application.

Today, farmers can combine good sanitation practices with effective spray programs, and modern insecticides, to solve the annual fly problem.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Since the recent abundance of rain, pastures in the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District are looking favorable. However, if a pasture is to make the best of the moisture, some other factors are involved. This is particularly true of bermudagrass pasture. One very important factor in bermudagrass production is fertilization. Bermudagrass which is fertilized each year will not only provide more grazing for livestock, but will also provide better protection of soil from erosion.

Grazing management is also important. Most of the food that a plant uses in its growth is taken from the air and converted into plant food in the leaves. If most of a plant's leaves are grazed off, it doesn't have enough leaf-surface to manufacture adequate food. Therefore, growth is slow. More tons of grazing can be produced by leaving grass at proper use height, which is 6 inches for Coastal bermuda and 4 inches for common bermuda, than by allowing the whole plant to be grazed off. In addition, an adequate cover is left on the soil to prevent erosion.

Another factor in good pasture management is weed control. Weeds take up water and food nutrients which should be available to pasture grasses. They also tend to shade out the better plants. The best method of weed control is by chemical spraying, but shredding also works well.

Start today in developing a pasture management system on your farm or ranch. Technical assistance is available through the local Soil Conservation Service assisting the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District.

Health Department Citation Given to Frank Haverkamp

An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Frank A. Haverkamp, superintendent of the Lindsay water supply system. The citation reflects the high record in which Haverkamp is held by state water officials.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

Mrs. Charlie Meurer of Windthorst and her daughter, Mrs. Henry Thoele of Wichita Falls, spent Tuesday to Thursday with relatives here. They were overnight guests of the Bill Beckers and Joe Wildes.

Nevertheless we have to be aware that the total of these handouts and their accompanying political slush funds are causing present economic trouble and heading for economic chaos. Next Tuesday Is Last Day to Sign For Medicare

May 31 is an important date for several hundred thousand people over 65 to keep in mind, Gus Jones, Social Security District Manager at Sherman, emphasized today.

"May 31 is the deadline date for those who reached age 65 before March 1, to enroll in that part of the Medicare program that will help pay doctor bills," Jones stated. "Those who delay beyond May 31 will not have another opportunity to enroll until October 1, 1967. Their coverage would not become effective until July 1, 1968."

Jones urged those who have not enrolled but wish to have this coverage should get in touch with his office as soon as possible.

The Sherman Social Security District Office, located at 315 West Mulberry, will be open Thursday evenings until 9:00 p.m. and will be open all day, Monday, May 30 (Memorial Day).

Those who cannot call at the District Office may obtain an enrollment form by telephoning 893-4301.
