

A disturbing report in the news this week is that concerning a deal for huge shipments of Canadian wheat to the Soviet Union. As expected the transaction is praised by Canadian leaders as a welcome opportunity to convert some of the nation's surplus grain into money. But no emphasis is placed on the fact that the transaction probably is worth much more to Russia.

The situation reminds us of deals that are being encouraged in Washington. There are proposals that United States extend special trade favors to the communist bloc nations of Eastern Europe, including Russia, presumably as a way of making them more friendly and reasonable.

It's the same old line we've heard for over twenty years. Reds get the word around that they can be more agreeable after receiving a few favors, but invariably carry on in their usual hateful way after getting what they want. They go on relentlessly with the cold war and hot war efforts which are intended to bring them to world domination. We're dopes when we believe we will get along better with the reds by doing them favors.

But the perpetual ugly attitude isn't half of it. Far more damaging is the fact that our help is turned against us. They are using our billions of dollars worth of aid and trade to supply our enemies in North Vietnam. They have been doing it ever since the war started and they are doing it now, even while asking for our help.

There's Czechoslovakia, for instance, which makes the anti-aircraft guns that shoot down our planes in Vietnam.

And Romania which provides petroleum products to red military forces all over the world.

And Bulgaria and Hungary and East Germany, all united in the East Europe economic complex which supports both hot and cold warfare of the communists.

All those nations work together not only in providing material and commodities but also in transporting directly to the enemy.

Of course, that is not how the deals are pictured by those who promote them. We're handed the self-interest line, that we gain by disposing of surpluses we don't need. And at the same time we're told that we send only the non-strategic items which cannot be used against us.

Neither is a valid contention. In the first place we don't accomplish anything by just getting rid of a surplus. The important point is what we get in return. Do you know what we get? Neither do I. And can you imagine what might be sent from those lands of shortages to improve on the abundance we already have? Actually, do we receive anything more than a worthless note? Remember our big wheat deal with Russia? That, incidentally was worse than a give away. After being gyped on the deal we paid Russian ships to haul the stuff. Do we gain by that kind of trade?

The absurdity of that talk about non-strategic items is even more apparent. Anybody knows that by supplying non-strategic needs we enable the reds to put more effort into their own production of the strategic items. We are kidding ourselves when we say our humanitarian shipments of food and fiber and medicine do not help the red war effort. We know that more are engaged in war production because we supply basic needs they would otherwise have to produce.

And don't be taken in by those reports of grain shortages in the red countries. The reports, if true, may only reflect the fact that, because of our generosity, the reds have transferred many workers from farms to munitions plants.

The same principle applies to all other things we send to red countries. Whatever we provide for them provides more opportunity to transfer materials and energy and man power to the grim business of their long range plan for world conquest.

This column has felt that way for many years about trade with communist bloc nations. It is convinced that we defeat our own purpose

Crops Thrive on More Rain and Mild Weather

Muenster's rain measure was nudged .37 inch last Thursday night and the moisture situation is fine. In fact, the entire crop situation is fine after local weather performed very much as the farmers ordered. To begin, the season was favorable through most of the harvest. Little was left in grain fields when rains, with combined measure of .357, did wonders for the other growing crops. Then came mild and dry weather keeping the remaining grain in fine condition until combines could get to work again.

So far it's a good year for local farmers. Grain harvesting was better than normal and growing crops are doing well.

Rainfall measure here is .357 for June and 23.18 for the year to date.

Jaycees Sponsor De-Litter Project On Main Highway

Operation De-Litter is a new project endorsed by Muenster Jaycees and, they hope, to be supported by all business firms of town.

The project is a weekly clean-up of litter along Highway 82 and Main Street and Highway 373 leading north out of town.

Jaycees hired Fred Hennigan to take care of the job in connection with his other trash hauling contracts. They have taken on responsibility for the job and intend to solicit local business houses for the funds — and response of the business firms will determine whether the project keeps going. Walter Grewing is in charge.

The clean-up begins near the electrical sub-station east of town, follows the highway to Main Street and follows Main (Highway 373) to about a mile beyond the city limit.

First clean-up along that route required twelve hours. Required time hereafter is estimated at about three hours.

Bake Sale

The Civic League and Garden Club will sponsor a bake sale Saturday, June 25. The place is Muenster Pharmacy starting at 9 a.m. They will have a large assortment of homemade breads, rolls, cakes, pies etc. during the day.

It will be a benefit for the St. Francis Statue fund for Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Coffee and donuts will be available and they invite workers to take their coffee breaks with them.

A sure sign of old age is when you feel your corns more than your oats.

City Purchases New Fog Machine to Blitz Mosquitoes

A sharp drop in Muenster's mosquito population was assured Monday night by the city council's decision to buy a new and more powerful insecticide fogging unit.

As explained by Mayor Earl Fisher, the council had a two fold reason for replacing the machine now in use. It was old and causes frequent trouble, and at its best is inferior to the one being purchased.

This unit, he said, will spread the fog farther and better, allowing adequate coverage over an entire block. The old unit had a much shorter range.

With the new machine the entire town can be fogged in a period of about 3 hours, using about $30 worth of insecticide. The intention is to do the job at night when air is normally cooler and quieter assuring better results from the fogging.

Lindsay Is Ready For Homecoming

The Lindsay Community and St. Peter's Parish are extending a general invitation to their eighth annual homecoming celebration Sunday.

The big event, traditionally the party of the year at Lindsay will begin with a dinner served in the school cafeteria from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Other events of the celebration will be held in the Lindsay City park during the afternoon and into the night. Attractions will include games, eats, drinks, rides for the kiddies, and opportunity to see lots of old and new friends.

Little League

The perfect record of the Center was spoiled by a 4-4 tie Monday night but its leadership in the league is still undisputed. The standings in the senior loop of the Little League after Monday's contests are 5-0-1 for the Center, 2-3-1 for Endres Motor and 2-4-0 each for Muenster Mill and the Electric Coop.

Standings in the junior division have not changed. The scheduled games, for last week Friday, were postponed because of a wet field. As a result the youngsters are due to be busy the next few days. Following their regular games Wednesday they will be back Thursday night to make up the postponed games and then they will be back on schedule next Monday. The standings now: Bank 3-1-0; Wilde Chevrolet 2-1-1; Tuggle Motor 1-2-1; Colonial Acres 1-3-0.

The senior division has games booked only for Friday night.

In Monday's action The Center had a 3-0 lead in the fourth and Endres Motor tied the count with 1 and 2 in the bottom of the fourth and fifth. In the last inning Center took a 1 run lead and Endres came back to tie it again at 4-4. Center was working on 2 hits, 9 walks and 2 errors, Endres on 3 hits, 9 walks and 1 error.

The Electric Co-op took advantage of loose pitching for a strong 9-1 lead at the end of the third and coasted in for a 9-6 win over Muenster Mill. The teams were even with 4 hits and 3 errors each, but walks, 14-3 in favor of the Co-op made the big difference.

Last Friday The Center started with three big innings for 11 runs and then coasted. The Millers got their limit of 5 in the last inning but still left the count at 11-9.

Next game Endres scored 5 in the first three innings before allowing Electric Co-op 2 in the bottom of the third. After that both teams clamped down. Co-op got another run but that still left the count at 5-3 favoring Endres Motor.

Television Cable Franchise Granted To Phone Corp.

Cable television is coming to Muenster.

Members of the city council at their meeting Monday night granted a franchise to Muenster Telephone Corporation for exclusive rights to establish the service here.

Alvin Fuhrman, co-owner of the telephone company, said that work on setting up the system will get under way promptly but he can not say when service will be available.

The reason for setting it up, he said is that it offers a number of definite advantages to owners of TV sets. First of all it delivers a clearer signal than the conventional antenna, also it delivers practically no interference. The result is much better picture and sound, especially on color sets, which are more sensitive to interference.

The antenna for this system is mounted on a tower 200 to 250 feet high, where the signal is better. Furthermore a separate antenna is used for each channel, faced directly to the sending station so the signal will be the best possible. Several considerations control location of the tower — where best signals are available and away from heavy traffic, motors and other possible causes of interference. It will be somewhere in the country.

That better signal with less interference is delivered to the subscribers' set through a co-axial cable which does not lose its quality of signal or pick up interference along the way.

Fuhrman said the franchise specifies service of at least seven channels and a FM radio channel. The present plan is to offer the principal stations of this area and add an educational channel if and when it becomes available here.

Also possible eventually is a local outlet for local programs. Maximum cost of the service, as specified in the franchise, will be $5.00 a month for one TV set plus $1.00 a month for each additional set in the house.

Cables bringing the signals to subscribers will be mounted on telephone poles. Having those poles available, Fuhrman said, is one of the incentives to the phone company for setting up the service. It can save much of the expense of line building.

Besides better variety of programs and better quality of signal the cable service eliminates certain troubles connected with antennas. There is no danger of lightning coming to the set and no losses because of storm damage.

Over 200 Enroll In Swim Classes

With a total enrollment of 214 pupils, the 1966 Red Cross swimming classes are under way at Muenster's municipal pool. The annual program conducted by Carl King under supervision of Mrs. Paul Yarbrough and Mrs. Marie Owensby of the Cooke County Red Cross Chapter, was organized in registrations Monday and Tuesday.

King said the roster shows 102 beginners, 66 advanced beginners, 22 intermediates, 17 swimmers and 7 adults. All are taught under Red Cross regulations and all who finish in their respective divisions will receive cards for their billfolds and pins or patches for their swim suits.

The course consists of six 1-hour classes, three of them starting at 8:30, 9:30 and 10:30 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, the other three classes at the same hours on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Twenty seven instructors are helping Carl King in the program. Mrs. Martin Kralickie is working exclusively with the adult class and the other teachers are Mary Ellen Endres, Sue Flusche, David Fette, Mary Wimmer, Janice Wilde, Ann Stewart, Frank Luke, J. D. Rumley, Peggy Hellman, Debbie Cain, Rita Fette, Donna Endres, Peggy Endres.

Community Is Well Served by VFW Flag Service

The flag service provided by the Muenster VFW Post, now beginning its fourth year, has a commendable record in more ways than one.

First of all it creates a good impression of the community by having out an abundance of flags on every day when Old Glory should be flown. And secondly it makes very good use of the money it receives for putting up and taking down sixty nine flags on fifteen separate occasions.

A report to the VFW Post by Quartermaster Herbert Herr indicates that $1865.95 have been donated to charities and projects of the community out of the flag service fund during the past three years. $400 went to the hospital, $200 to the Jaycee tennis courts, $100 to each school lunch room for needy students, $200 for wheel chair and hospital bed loaned by the VFW and a total of $865.95 to needy individuals of the community.

Annual charge for the flag service is $14 — a dollar each for the 14 days when the flag should be flown. A bonus value is free service on days of special community significance, such as Homecoming next Sunday.

Auxiliary Plans Two Benefits for Hospital Fund

The Muenster Hospital Auxiliary met Thursday evening, June 16, for their regular monthly meeting in the hospital dining room. Mrs. Richard Grewing, president, conducted the meeting.

They completed plans for their bake sale and white elephant sale which they set for July 7 and 8 at Muenster Pharmacy. They reminded members to keep these dates in mind and start collecting their items for the white elephant sale. They have distributed posters around town reminding everyone of the sale.

Mrs. Rufus Henscheid won the door prize, a hand painted serving tray, donated by Mrs. Richard Grewing.

After the meeting Mrs. Jerry Walterscheid and Mrs. Charles Bayer served refreshments to twenty members. Hostesses for next month's meeting will be Mrs. Herman Grewing and Mrs. Ted Henscheid.

Swim Class for Adults Organized

Adults who want to get into a swimming class specially for them have the opportunity to do just that in this year's swimming course at the Muenster pool.

The adult class, booked for 9:30 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Friday started Wednesday morning with Martin Kralickie as instructor. Seven ladies, all beginning swimmers, are in the class and more are welcome.

The special class developed Monday when Mrs. Paul Yarbrough, county chairman of the Red Cross swimming program, said that adult interest is often dampened by the fact that they get teen agers for instructors. So she asked Mrs. Kralickie, a former Red Cross swimming teacher, to join the staff specially for adults. She did, and the class was organized.

Four more one-hour sessions are still on schedule. Ladies who want to come for them are welcome.

CULTURE FOR THE UNCULTURED

Ugh! That can be our only reaction to a news story out of California recently which has to do with the Lyndon Baines Johnson's "Great Society" and another of his war on poverty programs.

Seems that a high school there had scheduled a junior-senior dance, a formal dress affair of most of them are.

Now, in one of those classes, there were possibly a half-dozen youths who didn't have the money for a tuxedo or to buy corsages for the girls they hoped to escort to the dance. That, decided the school board with federal prodding, just wasn't as it should be.

These poor boys, they just deserve better. After all, a formal dance can be construed as a step toward broadening culture. And that is one of the aims of the Great Society. So the school board, with federal blessing, came up with some $200 and rented tuxedos and purchased corsages for these "unfortunates." Of course, the fact that these pupils could have found odd jobs to provide the wherewithal as did other members of the class, probably, did not enter the picture. They asked for and they received.

DOUBLE STANDARD

It is interesting to speculate on what might have happened if the people who are so stridently promoting deals favoring the Communists in Asia had advocated similar deals with the Nazis three decades ago.

Had pacifistic views prevailed we would have stayed out of World War II and Hitler doubtless would have won. Only the most chauvinistic Communist would argue that Stalin could have kept from going under if it hadn't been for the massive aid he received from the United States.

So we might have seen Hitler and his generals dictating a humiliating peace to the Communist leaders in the Kremlin. And today we would be opposing not the spread of Communism but the nightmare world outlined by Adolf Schickelgruber in "Mein Kampf!"

Had that happened, would a few strategically placed Nazi opinion-makers in the United States have forced Chiang Kai-shek to form a coalition government in China, with Nazi prominent in that government — with the result that the nation was bound to become a vast Nazi satellite? Would we have stood for the actions of Nazi gauleiters infiltrating and taking over one country after another and placing them at the service of the Nazi fatherland? Specifically, would we have stood for the takeover of Cuba by a Nazi Quisling, first welcoming this brutal gauleiter to the U.S.A. and giving him a publicity buildup on leading television shows? Would we have sat idly by while thousands of Nazi technicians and storm troopers built missile bases in that country, despite U.S. demands that they get out?

Would we now be complacently permitting hordes of pro-Nazis to demonstrate against and obstruct a war, if Hitler were backing our opponents and calling on pro-Nazis in this country to sabotage our war effort?

Would we tolerate having known Nazi storm troopers and gestapo agents recruiting for the Nazi Party on our nation's campus, aided and abetted by faculty members openly peddling the Nazi line? And would the U.S. Supreme Court come up with one ruling after another making it virtually impossible to take effective action against Hitler's agents?

As the saying goes, these questions are rhetorical because everybody knows the answers. The next question is definitely not rhetorical: How is it we're so all-fired complacent and tolerant of Communist activities which are every bit as evil as those we'd properly end if they were being promoted by Nazis?

News Item: Supreme Court rules policemen must not question suspect without suspect's permission.

Policeman on his beat hears sound of breaking glass and, rounding the street corner at a run, dashes headlong into fleeing man with his hands full of rings and watches. In the street lie fragments of broken glass from a jewelry store window.

"Pardon me, sir," says the officer, "but may I ask if you stole those things from that jewelry store?"

"Police brutality! That's what it is — police brutality!" yells the suspect. "I don't have to tell you nothing, copper! Now stand out of my way before I call my buddy Earl Warren! I'm standing on my constitutional rights!"

"But sir, I was just..." the policeman protested weakly.

"And another thing, my lawyer ain't here. You know you can't ask me no questions unless I let you and unless my lawyer's on hand. Now git outta my way, flatfoot, or your next beat will be helping school kids and old ladies across the street. I've got connections!"

The officer hesitates. "Well I..."

INDEPENDENCE DAY 1966

The Fourth of July falls on Monday this year. That means another long weekend of fun and recreation. But this year to a greater degree than in many years, we should pause to reflect on the true meaning of the Fourth of July. There are thousands of families across the land who face a sober Fourth. Their sons and husbands are in Vietnam because as a nation, we are dedicated to the document which the Fourth of July commemorates.

That document is our Declaration of Independence from Great Britain, adopted by the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776. It signifies the birth of a nation and a degree of individual freedom that exists nowhere else on earth. So long as the Declaration of Independence endures in the minds and hearts of American citizens, freedom will endure. So, with due humility and reverence, enjoy yourself in this Fourth of July, in the year 1966.

NO LONGER CHARITY

Charity ceases to be charity and becomes vote bait when government takes over; thus the poverty program deserves no sanction on the grounds of anyone being his brother's keeper. The man who tells St. Peter that he left it up to government to do his good deeds is going to get short shrift, would be our guess.

HIGH SCHOOL DRAG

The American teen-ager who may have considered high school a drag might get some consolation from the "care-free" life of high students in Communist China.

First, high school students live in, eliminating long bus rides to and from school. The day begins at 6:20 a.m. when students arise. They exercise from 6:30 to 7, and then study for an hour. Classes run until 3:40 when students have supervised sports until 6 p.m.

After that, it's dinner time, followed by about two hours of supervised study which ends at 9 p.m. Students are free to do whatever they like from 9 p.m. to 9:20 p.m. when lights go out. The schedule runs six days a week.

On this subject of the government helping me spend most of my paycheck, we had this thought which made me furious. We work hard to educate our children. One graduates from high school this week... scholastically in top 5 of class of 100... top 2 percent in college entrance tests... normal school clubs, activities... been accepted in college... no scholarship. Yet, down the street there is a dropout... been in and out of juvenile institutions... family draws relief... now in job corps and government will spend thousands on him. What really worries us it that our 8th grader may catch on to how the "Great Society" really operates.

WHO'S ISOLATED

At Senate hearing last week, two China scholars suggested the United States ought to do more to keep Red China from being so isolated from the western world. The theory is valid enough: a country less isolated might tend to be less fractious. But it's worth noting that some contacts do exist between the United States and Red China. This week, for instance, United States and Chinese ambassadors will hold another meeting in Warsaw, the 129th in 10 years. If the discussions follow the usual pattern, the Chinese ambassador will demand Formosa and refuse to discuss anything else. Which raises the question: Who is isolating whom?

USE COMMON SENSE AFLOAT

To combat ignorance and recklessness on the nation's waterways, The Outboard Boating Club of America is making available to all boaters a "Boating Information Afloat" tag (shown above).

The 4" x 6" tags give the fundamental rules of boating. They are weatherproofed and have an adhesive-back sticker for easy placement on the dashboard or other prominent place on water craft.

Intended to serve as a constant reminder to novice skippers and seasoned boaters alike to practice courtesy and common sense afloat, the safety

Most Accidents In Boating, Fishing Can Be Prevented

The American Medical Association reminds that the season has arrived for a sharp increase in boating and fishing accidents and deaths from drowning. Most of these accidents need not happen. The AMA reminds each spring that most boating and fishing accidents could be prevented if outdoorsmen would observe a few simple precautions.

Good manners and common sense in boating will prevent most accidents. We all know the rules: Don't overload the boat; have life preservers for each occupant; don't stand up or change seats in a small boat while under way; keep a watchful eye out for other boats, swimmers and fishermen, and give all a comfortably wide berth. We know the rules, but there still are drownings because someone ignored them.

Most marina operators and many sporting goods stores have pamphlets on boating safety. Get one, study it follow it.

fresh air and sunshine, and help to clear away those mental cobwebs left over from home and office worries. Fishing is not particularly hazardous, but there are some pointers to watch to help avoid accidents.

Fishhooks are designed to catch and hold fish. They also can snag an unwary finger, hand, arm or leg. If you're deeply hooked, go to a doctor and ask him to remove it. Don't try to work the hook out backwards. Your doctor has the instruments and know-how to remove the hook with a minimum of pain and further damage.

Hooks left lying in the bottom of a boat or on a dock are a real hazard. Many fishermen follow a simple rule with hooks: When not in use for fishing, cover the barbed point with a small cork.

Many a man thinks he is over-worked just because he takes all day to do a three-hour job.

We're helping keep key makers busy...

Key makers, grocers, druggists, service stations, department stores... every business is busier after a new industry comes to town.

New industry means new people, new jobs, and new dollars... dollars spent for materials and labor to construct plants... dollars spent for goods and services needed by the plants and the workers... dollars paid for taxes that help support schools, build and maintain streets and highways and make possible other essential public institutions and services.

Texas Power & Light Company's Industrial Development Division carries on continuous efforts to attract new industries to the area it serves... helping to promote growth and prosperity

Daughters of Two Muenster Natives Join Dominicans

Two girls from the Dallas-Fort Worth diocese were among twenty-eight taking part in Profession and Reception ceremonies June 8 at Sacred Heart Dominican Convent, Houston. With Bishop John L. Morkovsky presiding, nineteen novices pronounced their first vows and nine postulants dressed as brides received the habit of the Order of Preachers. The two were Sister M. John Leonard (Judy Ann Yosten of Fort Worth) and Sister Michele Marie (Anna Marie Flusche) of Dallas.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Yosten of St. Paul's Parish, Sister John Leonard graduated from Our Lady of Victory High School in 1963. Sister Michele Marie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urban M. Flusche of St. Monica's Parish. She graduated from Ursuline Academy in 1962 and attended the University of Dallas.

The Sisters received the black veil after a program of formation which included nine months of postulancy and two years of novitiate. Final profession follows five years of temporary vows, renewed annually.

The Texas Dominicans came from Columbus, Ohio to Galveston in 1882 at the invitation of Bishop Nicholas Gallagher. In 1926 the motherhouse was relocated at its present site in Houston. The 400 women of the congregation staff schools in Texas, California, and Louisiana. This year they will open their first mission in Zacapa, Guatemala.

Among those present for the ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Yosten and family, Mr. and Mrs. Flusche and family, Mrs. Julia Mueller and Father Leon J. Flusche.

The newly professed Sisters will continue their religious and professional training at the motherhouse. Both are engaged in musical studies at Sacred Heart Dominican College.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

With small grain harvest drawing to a close, now is the time to be thinking about the best use of crop residues.

Crop residue, when left on or "tucked" into the soil surface, aids in protecting the soil against erosion. This is true of both wind and water erosion.

Severe erosion can result by not leaving enough residue on the soil to protect it during periods when it is bare of vegetation.

Crop residue is also beneficial from a moisture standpoint. First, raindrops are slowed down by the residue before striking the ground. This keeps hard rains from "packing" the soil. Then, the residue helps hold the water on the land, allowing it to soak in. This reduction in runoff reduces soil loss. In addition, the residue cover helps prevent the soil from drying out, and more moisture is available when the following crop is planted.

Another advantage of residue use is that of adding organic matter to the soil. Decomposed residue builds up the organic contents and increases fertility. Soil that is high in organic matter doesn't pack together readily and usually stays in a loose condition. This allows more water to be taken in.

Crop Residue Use is a very important part of a basic conservation program. For technical assistance on the best use of crop residues and on other conservation problems, contact your local Soil Conservation Service assisting the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District.

The irate doctor phoned his patient.

"The check you gave me," he declared testily, "came back." There was a momentary pause.

"That's nothing," said the patient, "so did my arthritis."

Jimmy's parents were anxious to know how he was getting along with his first grade teacher. Finally, he responded to their questions: I guess I like her. But she sure is spoiled! She wants her own way all the time, and I'm afraid I'm going to have to let her have it."

Travel in Texas Promoted by New Color Brochure

AUSTIN — The immense variety of Texas pleasure travel is portrayed in an entirely new edition of the popular travel brochure, "TEXAS - America's Fun-tier," released by the Texas Highway Department.

The 32-page color brochure incorporates maps, photographs and art-work in a glossy, magazine-style format. It provides the traveler with a short, vivid course in Texas geography, spiced with colorful pictorial glimpses of things to see and do in the "Friendship State."

So vast is Texas, the new brochure divides the state into six recreational regions, focusing on attractions which are depicted by caricature maps, drawings and photos. Designed to give equal representation to all parts of the state, the new publication illustrates a cross section of Texas vacation variety. Historical, amusement and recreational features are portrayed in each section, outlining a brand of fun for everyone.

Also included are informational sections on hunting and fishing, highway regulations and tourist services provided by the Texas Highway Department.

Nearly a million free copies of an earlier edition have been distributed since its introduction some three years ago. Demand for the new publication is expected to be even larger.

The new brochure joins other pieces of travel-oriented literature which are now being distributed by the Highway Department. More than three million pieces are annually provided free to Texas travelers.

Supplemental literature includes the Official State Highway Map, Texas Calendar of Events, State Capitol Guide, Texas Facts Sheet, State Parks Guide and an invitation to visit Highway Department Tourist Bureaus.

Those Tourist Bureaus — seven located at major highway entrances to the state, and one in the State Capitol rotunda — served more than 750,000 travelers last year. Visitors were provided free maps, literature, travel tips, and encouragement to stay a while longer in Texas. A ninth Tourist Bureau is under construction in Amarillo.

What's the Use?

A pessimist has defined ambition as working your head off at a job you don't enjoy, in a place you don't like, trying to save money you can't keep, in order to spend your declining years in idle boredom that you can't stand at some place you won't like any better.

Peach Festival At Montague Set for July 8

BOWIE — The expanding fruit and vegetable industry in this area of North Texas will be looked at quite closely July 8 by guests touring Montague County.

The July event will be the 1966 Peach & Vegetable Festival sponsored by the Bowie Chamber of Commerce and the Fruit Land USA Marketing Association, with headquarters here.

On the program are a fruit and vegetable show in Amon Carter Pavilion here in Pelham Park, and a tour of the Fruit Research-Demonstration Station at Montague, which will end at noon.

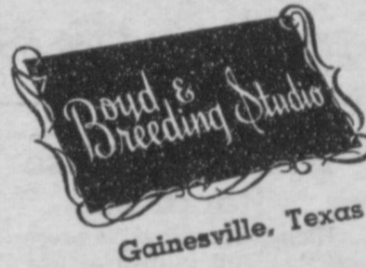

The show in the pavilion will be judged for winners by Dr. John E. Larsen, horticulturist in the Department of Soil and Crop Sciences at Texas A&M University, and Neil Tibbets, agricultural agent for Cooke County. Chairman of the show is Norman E. Heath of Bowie.

The tour will begin at 8 a.m. at the marketing association headquarters on U.S. 287, south of Bowie, where the guests will board buses for the trip to Montague.

The field station is a unit in the Agricultural Experiment Station of Texas A&M University, its superintendent the past 28 years being U. A. Randolph, who will be official host for the July program.

Since 1938, Randolph has directed scientific research into practically all phases of the production of peaches, apples, pears, plums, grapes and berries. The station is 2½ miles southeast of Montague, on a county road intersecting State Hwy. 59.

Oil and Sports

In late years sports records have been falling like leaves in the autumn. Such once seemingly unassailable marks as the 4-minute mile and the 16-foot pole vault have been passed and surpassed over and over again. Even the beloved Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs in a single season has been exceeded.

All manner of reasons have been advanced for these developments. Now a new and compelling reason comes from Al Hirshberg, a nationally known sports writer and the author of some 19 sports books. It is — of all things — oil!

This isn't to say it is oil as we usually think of it. It is oil that has been transformed into various products by the miracles of chemistry. Take, for instance, pole vaulting. With the bamboo pole, it became apparent that about 15 feet was the limit. Then a fiber-glass pole with an epoxy binder was developed — and the 17 foot mark has been passed and 16 feet is commonplace.

Take track sports. Tracks built of synthetic materials derived from oil are replacing the cinder tracks. These are faster and bouncier — so up goes performance.

Mr. Hirshberg gives example of sports in which oil helps to make record breakers — in bowling, golf, baseball and so on. It certainly is one of the most versatile of all the substances used to serve the wants and needs of man!

Donations in Work And Money Wanted By Library Board

A call for more donations and more workers to meet the expanding needs of Muenster Public Library was made by the Library Board at its meeting Monday.

Keeping the library open two days a week in the summer requires additional help, and volunteers will be appreciated. It was also emphasized that the helpers need not be members of the Catholic Daughters of America. The library, sponsored by the CDA, benefits all of the community and welcomes help from all in the community. Anyone who wishes to work is asked to see Mrs. Joe Luke.

Regarding its budget, the directors discussed the need of a bigger operating fund in its larger quarters, and again appealed for help from all of the community. Possibility of state and federal aid was indicated in a letter from Congressman Graham Purcell with materials on recent legislation pertaining to libraries and instructions on how to determine if Muenster can qualify for the help.

A report by Mrs. J D Hanna of the Books and Magazine Committee revealed that about $128 worth of new books have arrived and are ready for circulation.

To divide duties, the board voted to have separate officers for secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Leon Fleitman continues in the former job and turns over the treasurer job to Mr. Henry Weinzapfel.

Acknowledgement for donations during the past month were made to Hess Furniture Company for a table in the children's reading room and to Mrs. Ernest Medders for a subscription to the Wichita Falls Record News.

At Subiaco Camp

The summer camp for boys held annually at Subiaco Academy in Arkansas was held June 6 to 11 with thirty boys enjoying swimming, hiking and many other activities.

Six boys from Muenster attended the encampment. They were Mike Trubenbach, Tim Hennigan, Steve Rohmer, Bobby and Jerry Caplinger and Glenn Rohmer.

A Subiaco bus driven by Father Beno left here Sunday morning, also boarding the bus here were Dale Schumacher of Gainesville, Sammy, Chuck and Kenny Bezner of Lindsay and five boys from Windthorst. They returned the following Sunday. Father Harold driving the bus back to Muenster.

when we help them in any way. It is convinced further that we are naive in thinking that the enemy can be melted by our favors. He only laughs at our gullibility and goes on working for our destruction.

Some day history will tell that the great blunder of this century was our country's allowing itself to be conned by the communists. Most likely the red plan of world conquest would already have fizzled by now if we had drawn the line, refused to subsidize them and stood pat on every encounter with them.

We can't deny that our help enabled them to get where they are today, and that our continued help sustains them as a threat to the world.

Furthermore it's not too late to correct that big mistake. The world picture will change in a hurry if we'll give our help to friends and none to enemies. Communism will die of its own faults if we'll only quit subsidizing it.

"Are you a good boy?" "No ma'am, I'm the kind of boy my mama doesn't want me to play with."

There is nothing wrong in having nothing to say unless you insist on saying it.

The only object in the White house from the time of occupancy by President John Adams in 1800 is the famous full-length portrait of George Washington by Gilbert Stuart... The painting hangs in the East Room, which is open to the public.
