VOLUME XXX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 JANUARY 14, 1966

NUMBER 8

The current transportation mess in New York City, like so many other hassles of recent years, shows very clearly that human rights isn't really an important issue with big time politicians unless the people affected happen to be on the right side. The rights of millions in the big city, even though protected by adequate legal provision, are meaningless when the offender represents an important segment of political power. One arrogant man heading 33,000 captive followers tramples on the rights of ten million individuals and no one has the spunk to do anything about it.

The newly inaugurated Mayor Lindsay does nothing, apparently unaware of the right of all those others to live and work normally. One would think that after he flunks on his obligation something should be done by the governor of the state. But Rockefeller too seems afraid to touch the issue. The same applies to President Johnson. They are his constituents too, but he hasn't done a thing to restore order for them. It's an ironic contrast with his hasty crack down on industrialists trying to raise the price of their products—which incidentally were justified by wage raises that had been approved by him a short time before. Apparently it's good politics to go along with union bosses, no matter how absurd their demands are.

A brief look at the facts gives an idea of how far boss man Mike Quill was out of line. His members already are the nation's highest paid transit workers but he was asking for a raise of more than 100 per cent in pay plus a cut in hours. Honestly, can that be called a reasonable demand? Next there's a law against strikes by city employees in New York and a special court order reminded Quill to observe that law. He defied it, with insult, and was arrested, but workers remained off the job. The law also provides a stiff fine for violation, but it has not been assessed.

That's how Quill and his union are pampered while they are imposing hardship on millions of individuals and causing an estimated $100 million of loss daily to the city's businesses — along with losses to the rest of the nation resulting from inability to do business with the city's firms.

How about the question of rights in this affair? Whose rights are being violated? Does the right of absurd demand by Quill and possibly a few henchmen have priority over the rights of millions to work and live normally?

This mess shows the wisdom of the law forbidding a strike by government employees. The public good demands that they stay on the job, so the plain fact is they do not have a right to strike. What a shame that Mayor Lindsay did not have the courage to apply this law and order all transit workers to their job. We're inclined to think that most of them would have been pleased with his order. After all, the transit workers themselves share in the city's suffering during the mess. They too feel the pinch of joblessness.

Another absurdity about this whole affair is that this ill advised concern for unionism is hurting union members as much as others. Among those inconvenienced or unable to get to work are millions of members of the hundreds of union organizations in New York. One wonders how they feel about the violation of their rights.

As high as the price is, let's hope that people will learn a valuable lesson from this. A very significant point to consider is that high handed despotism such as Mike Quill's flourishes best where people have to be members of a union in order to hold their jobs. They are captive members ruled by a few at the top and forced to stay in line or go hungry.

There never was a better occasion to demonstrate the merits of an open shop and the need for Right to Work laws permitting the open shop. Dictators like Quill do not deserve to head an organization of workers, and they don't get to the top if those workers are free to express themselves.

Unionism under the open shop provision is completely different from that under the

Rebuilding Job Starts on Hy. 373 South of Town

Highway 373 south of Muenster is getting a complete rebuilding. Maintenance men of the State Highway Department assigned to Cooke County started work this week on a project which will re-shape the base and add more base and a new surface on the five miles between Muenster and the intersection with Highway 1630.

Work is under the supervision of Lovelle Meaders of the Highway Department's district office in Wichita Falls and J. C. Larrison, maintenance foreman of Cooke County. The job is expected to take about thirty working days.

The new road as planned will be a big improvement over the one that has been in use for about 15 years, and, according to Meaders, it isn't likely to need the extensive maintenance the present one has received.

The job starts with tearing up the gravel road bed completely and re-shaping and re-packing. Next it will receive a 5 inch course of crushed limestone as additional base which should "strengthen the base enough to bridge over all the seepy spots that gave trouble before." Finally it will be surfaced with asphalt and crushed rock.

Garden Club Hears Clive Gobble Talk About Plant Care

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club members learned about plant care at their January meeting Monday night when C. F. Gobble, a recognized authority on fertilizing and spraying, was guest speaker.

He spanned the seasons for his audience discussing dormant sprays, fertilizers and pruning in order now and continuing with what is to be done after leaves appear and plants grow. He discussed care of flowers, shrubs, lawn and trees. Afterward members joined in a round table discussion and a question and answer session followed.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Dick Cain with Mrs. Lawrence Bruns as co-hostess. They served refreshments as members arrived. Business was brief and routine. Mrs. J. D. Hanna presided. Sixteen members and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gobble, attended.

Anna Mae Shorter Seeks Promotion To District Clerk

Miss Anna Mae Shorter, deputy district clerk of Cooke County for the past twelve years, authorized the Enterprise to announce this week that she is asking for full responsibility of the office.

In announcing her candidacy she said that working there for three terms has made her thoroughly familiar with the job and she is certain of her ability to handle it. She decided to seek the office after Milton Thomason said he would not ask for re-election.

Miss Shorter's formal statement will appear in this paper at a later date.

Johnny Sicking Is Allis Chalmers Dealer in County

Johnny Sicking and sons, Jerry and David, are the new agents for Allis Chalmers farm equipment in Cooke County, succeeding Bullard Implement Co.

The location of their business, to be called the Sicking Tractor Company is at 400 Summit Avenue, formerly Embry's Feed Store, in Gainesville. They have started moving in and expect to have their complete line of tractors and implements soon.

Their plan is to offer complete Allis Chalmers sales and service along with diesel pump service and shop work for all makes of tractors. They will also keep a small stock of most used parts at R&M Auto Service in Muenster to accommodate owners of this area.

The agency will also be a second location for Sicking's anhydrous ammonia sales and service. Headquarters will remain at his home south of Myra.

Mrs. Joe Pulte of Gainesville Dies

Funeral services with Requiem Mass were held in St. Mary's Church Tuesday morning at 9:30 with Father Thomas Taaffe officiating and Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home directing burial in Lindsay Cemetery. Two rosary services were held in the Carroll Chapel Monday.

Mrs. Pulte was the former Miss Emma Hundt, born May 6, 1877 in Iowa. She moved to Lindsay with her parents when she was a young girl and was married to Mr. Pulte in Muenster on May 5, 1898.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Leo Schmitz of Gainesville, two sons, Fred and Willie Pulte of Gainesville and three grandchildren. She was a sister-in-law of Joe Fisher Sr. Mr. Fisher, members of the family, and Muenster friends attended the funeral.

Sacred Heart and Frohsinn Choirs Plan Joint Party

Members of the Sacred Heart Choir are planning for a repeat of last year's very delightful joint party with the Frohsinn Singers of Dallas. The event is set for Saturday, Feb. 5 in the Parish Hall.

As before it will begin with a dinner featuring German foods, after which the two choirs individually and combined will present a program of German songs. Last on the program is a dance to music of the Polka Peppermints, who do polkas, waltzes, novelty and new music.

Muenster Mutual Reports Low Cost And Growth in '65

A good year for the Muenster Mutual Fire Insurance Association was reported Tuesday in the organization's annual general meeting.

Secretary W. H. Endres told the delegates that the combined cost of losses and administration expense was 19 cents per $100 of insured valuation, a very gratifying drop from the former year's all time high of 53.5 cents per $100 of valuation.

The secretary's report also indicated a gain in membership, in total insurance and in total resources. At this time the organization has 680 members with 820 policies covering total insured valuation of $7,275,785. Total resources now are $100,034.78.

The past year's assessment of 35 cents per $100 of valuation raised $22,791.48, premiums brought in $2,416.87 and interest on investments brought $3,710.00 for a total income of $28,918.35.

Expenses for the year were listed as $8,061.80 on fire, lightning and smoke damage; $1,808.93 on storm and hail damage and $3,815.87 on administration. The total expense of $13,686.60 deducted from total revenue left a net gain of $15,231.75 in the organization's total resources. Principal losses of the year were two houses in Valley View district.

Regarding their next assessment the delegates favored last year's rate of 35 cents as a means of approaching the reserve of 2 per cent recommended by the state's insurance commission. The present reserve is slightly over $100,000. Two per cent of the present insured valuation would be over $145,000.

Delegates also decided to raise the limit on home insurance from $15,000 to $20,000. The reason is to adjust for increasing valuations of recent years.

In other official business the delegates voted to retain all officers as follows: Albert Henschel, president, Al Hess, vice-president, W. H. Endres, secretary, Victor Hartman, treasurer and Al Fleitman, director.

Delegates attending were from the association's five districts: Muenster, Lindsay, Valley View, Windthorst and Electra.

In the near future each district will have its local meeting to hear reports on the general meeting and to elect delegates for the next general meeting.

Poll Tax Law in Texas Unchanged For '66 Elections

Poll taxes and exemptions will be required as usual to vote in this year's local elections. That's the report this week from County Tax Collector Mrs. Jo Hillis to people who have been sweating out an earlier report that the poll tax may be abolished.

Because of that report, she said, poll tax payments have been lagging, especially by people who pay poll tax along with ad valorem tax. Though they are increasing lately they have far to go before the deadline on January 31. Up to Monday Mrs. Hillis said there were only 1523 poll taxes paid in the county and 1253 exemption certificates issued.

A statement this week from Muenster State Bank indicates that the customary accommodation for poll tax payments is offered there again to persons who prefer not to make a trip to the court house.

Those who wish to pay it the convenient way are invited to stop in the bank, fill out the form with information for the tax receipt and pay the $1.75 tax. The bank forwards the information and pay to the tax collector's office and the taxpayer receives his receipt directly by mail a few days later.

Parochial Teams Win Three Games And Lose Four

Basketball girls at Sacred Heart won both of their games during the past week, but the Tigers did not do so well. They won only one out of five. The girls beat Greenhill and Denton State School. The boys beat Denton State School and lost A & B tussles to Greenhill and Dallas Christian.

Last Thursday night in the local gym Greenhill reserves gained all the way for their 37-20 win. Ted Endres and Leroy Hess hit 7 and 6 for Sacred Heart.

Next game the visitors led 10-5 at the quarter and 27-17 at the half and the Tigers played them on even terms the rest of the way, 36-26 at the third quarter and 48-39 at the end. Leading Tiger scorers were Larry Hess 15, Steve Kralicke 9, Leon Endres 7.

The girls game was an easy win for the Tigerettes, 53-19. Barbara and Joyce Schmitt hit 14 points each, Mary Wimmer made 10.

Dallas Christian, here Friday night, took on an easy 51-29 win in the B game as Ted Endres scored 11, 6 and 5 for Sacred Heart.

Next game the visitors held their lead but had to work for it. Counts by periods were 16-9, 30-19, 46-30, 62-45. Top scorers for Sacred Heart were Leon Endres and Steve Kralicke, 19 each.

Games with the Denton State School teams were both one sided. Tigerettes won the first 47-18 and Tigers won the second 69-23. Leading scorers were Joyce Schmitt 18 and Mary Wimmer 15; Leon Endres 15, Larry Hess 14, Steve Kralicke 11, Willie Wimmer 8.

During the quarter the bank gained $32,204.34 in deposits and $88,033.85 in loans.

Total deposits and loans in the four Cooke County banks also dropped during the year. Deposits on December 31 were $24,304,160.83, a decrease of $387,286.42. Loans on the same day were $10,939,835.31, a decrease of $392,979.22.

Muenster High basketball teams lost three of their four games during the past week, drawing the double blank at Valley View and winning the boys' game at Era. As a result the boys now have a season standing of 2-1 and the girls have one of 0-3.

At Valley View last Friday night Muenster gals were swamped 56-19 in the opener. Jill Swirczynski led Muenster's effort with 12 points and Linda Wilson added 4.

Next game the Eagles gained steadily through three quarters by counts of 9-7, 27-15, and 46-26 then coasted through the final period for a win of 62-51. Top scorers for the Hornets were Dale Klement 19, Bob Russell 15 and Chris Cain 8.

After a 5-5 deadlock in the first quarter MHS took a half time lead of 17-14 and a third quarter lead of 38-29. In the final period the two teams ran even again and the final count was 51-42. Dale Klement had a big night at the scoreboard for a total of 24. Chris Cain hit 11 and Robert Russell 9.

Next MHS games are Callisburg here Friday and Saint Jo here next Tuesday.

Mrs. Frances Binz, 55 Year Resident Of Muenster Dies

Mrs. Frances Binz, 88, resident of Muenster for 55 years, died Sunday afternoon at 12:30 in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Wiesman, which had been her home for many years. She suffered a stroke two months ago and was bedfast since that time.

Funeral services with Requiem Mass were held Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church and burial followed in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Father Alcuin Kubis officiated and Nick Miller Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Bearers were Ray Wilde, Richard Trachta, Maurice Pagel, William J. Miller, Martin Becker and Larry Yosten.

Two rosary services were held at the Miller Chapel Monday; at 4 p.m. by St. Anne's Society and the Third Order of St. Frances — she was a member of both organizations — and the community rosary at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Binz was an early-day housekeeper at Sacred Heart Rectory, during the pastorate of the late Father Joseph and for some time during the pastorate of Father Frowin.

She was born May 17, 1877, in Dutzow, Mo., but lived there only a year and a half. Her parents moved to Arkansas and she was married to Martin Binz in Subiaco on Oct. 4, 1897. He died when their daughter was ten months old. Two brothers preceded her in death. Father Benedict Boergerding, O.S.B. of Subiaco, Ark., died about 20 years ago; Henry Boergerding died two years ago.

Survivors are the one daughter, four granddaughters, Mmes. Leonard Yosten, Tony Koessler and Henry Yosten of Muenster and Mrs. Melvin Fisch of Chicago; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Scholastic Census Starts Next Week

The annual scholastic census of the Muenster School District will begin next week, Superintendent L. B. Bruns announced Wednesday.

The method of taking the count will be the same as usual, Bruns said. Blanks will be sent home with all school children and parents are urged to fill them out and return them promptly so that the job of listing and checking can start soon.

In preparing his list Superintendent Bruns checks against last year's census and this year's class rolls to make sure that no students are overlooked.

Since registration for the pre-school program the school also has a record of most 6 year olds in the community. However, there is still one small group who are not on the school's records. Those are the children who will be 6 years old by September 1 but are not enrolled as pre schoolers.

Parents of those children are asked to contact the school and make sure that they will not be overlooked.

DROP OUT AND YOU'RE IN

We thought that just about the ultimate in what-ever-you-want-to-call it had been reached when we learned several months ago that a federal anti-poverty project in Alexandria, Virginia, across the river from Washington, was rewarding youngsters for dropping out of high school by paying them $1.25 an hour to cut grass, pull weeds, rake leaves, and such like. But now the drop-outs are to receive an additional bonus: they can attend night school to complete their high school education, with tuition and textbooks furnished by the taxpayers of the city of Alexandria.

Even a student who has flunked out ought to be able to add this up without difficulty. Why go to that stuffy school, with its crowded classrooms, clanging bells and cafeteria lines, when one can get paid a buck and a quarter an hour for not going? Night school should be much more fun, plus an excellent excuse for being out late at night and for leaning on the rake handle a little more often during the day. Surely no one can expect a guy to work real hard in the daytime when he's going to school at night. Besides that, the books are free at night school - for day school dropouts, that is. Ordinarily in the State of Virginia, students must buy most of their textbooks for use in the regular public schools.

It occurs to us that all students - including those with passing grades - should be given the same opportunity to get the hang of the Great Society. For their daytime jobs the kids could pick up pop bottles, beer cans and sandwich wrappers from the road-sides, as part of the highway beautification program. Their snacks on the way home from night school should ensure there'd always be some trash to pick up. And if they get nothing else education-wise out of the arrangement, they would have a practical understanding of the Great Society ethic just from having lived it.

Now that we've suggested it, that all sounds so silly we're afraid it might be accepted.

SLICK

To the liberal Washington Post it is "about the size of Esquire magazine." To the conservative New York Herald-Tribune it is "about the size and girth of Fortune." That gives you an idea of the dimensions of Toward an Age of Greatness. The Associated Press described it as a "slick, 176-page book." It's slick, all right. It is an eulogy to the Democratic party and the proceeds from the ads will be used to help elect Democrats to Congress next year. Sixty-eight corporations bought ads. Many of them are firms that do business with the government. Are these firms really so ecstatic with the administration, or are they just getting bright? For instance, does the firm that bought a $15,000 ad to say it wants to "join in honoring... an outstanding administration, impressive in accomplishments..." really feel that way? The firm deals in aluminum.

The whole thing smacks of blackmail and influence peddling. The federal corrupt practices act forbids political contributions by corporations. The Democrats get around the law by giving the $900,000 profits to "voter education committees," nonpartisan communities of Democrats. Slick, eh? The corrupt practices act is the most got-around law since the Volstead act, but seldom so inexcusably.

'CIVIL RIGHTS' CONFUSION

There seems to be a prevalent confusion about "civil rights." Assuredly all Americans have the (civil) right to equal protection of the law, which includes police protection and jury selection, equal opportunity to use public facilities for which they are taxed; but why should anybody claim the right to be employed by somebody who doesn't want to hire him, for what ever reasons?

These are two very separate things. The "civil rights" of the employer are being curtailed if he is not permitted to discriminate for whatever reasons strike his white or black heart.
 —McAllen Evening Monitor

TIT-FOR-TAT

Federal legislation now requires that cigarette manufacturers place this warning on all packages of cigarettes sold in the United States — "CAUTION: CIGARETTE SMOKING MAY BE HAZARDOUS TO YOUR HEALTH." In the interest of fairness and consistency, it is respectfully suggested that the federal government might print the following warning on all so-called Savings Bonds sold by itself — "Caution: Savings Bonds Encourage Inflation, Feed the Growing Bureaucracy, Rob Non-purchasers, and May Be the Worst Investment You Ever Made."
 —Colorado Springs Gazette

WHAT ARE WE GIVING?

"I can't get anyone to work!" This was a statement made to The Beacon editor by a farmer just last week. The refusal of jobs by able-bodied men or women is the direct result of the Democratic administration's pampering and petting people until they have destroyed their initiative and desire for personal financial independence. Certainly we believe in taking care of the needy, the elderly, those who are unable to work, but when we continue to provide for able-bodied people who refuse to work we are not only throwing away money but are doing an injustice to the recipients.

FARM VIGNETTE

Back in 1933 the Roosevelt administration set up the Commodity Credit Corporation to finance crop price support programs. Wheat, corn and other feed grains, and cotton were among the crops in worst price and surplus difficulties. The CCC, the administration said, was a device to make the private market system work better.

The latest CCC report discloses that since 1933 and to the end of fiscal 1965 it had spent nearly 47 billion dollars to finance price support and related farm aid programs. Of this sum, 14.6 billion dollars was for wheat; 8.6 billion for corn and other feed grains... Wheat, feed grains, and cotton are the crops currently in worst price and surplus difficulties.

President Johnson soon will sign into law a new farm subsidy program that will cost an estimated 18 billion dollars in the next four years. Principal beneficiaries are the growers of wheat, feed grains, and cotton. The new program, the administration explains, is needed to make the private market system work better.

THE DAY OF RECKONING

Probably comparatively few of us realize the extent to which federal spending and debt have risen in a very few years.

The publication Washington Report tells the story briefly. In 1963, appropriations were $12 billion greater than in 1962. In 1964, they were $3.4 billion greater. And in 1965, they were up $16.7 billion over the 1962 figure.

The national debt followed this trend. In 1963, it rose $7.9 billion over the 1962 level. In 1964, it was $13.9 billion above that level. And in 1965, it was higher by a staggering $19 billion. Just the cost of interest in 1964 on the existing debt was $11.6 billion.

Moreover, as Washington Report observes, new programs enacted this year will generate calls for even larger appropriations in 1966. And it is the general rule that estimates of the ultimate cost of such programs are commonly too low.

A family or business that continually spends more than it earns winds up in the bankruptcy court. Government, with its power to tax and appropriate and defer, can last a long time before the day of reckoning must be faced. But can it last indefinitely?

WHAT THEY SAID

Those Senators who—against most of the predictions—prevented repeal of section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartly Act, which authorizes the states to enact Right-to-Work laws if they so choose, were not against the unions. They were against coercion.

Senator Dirksen said: "... Is there a more fundamental right than the right to make a living for one's self and for one's family without being compelled to join a labor organization?" Senator McClellan said: "If I were a wage earner, to have the choice of joining a union. I might not want to be compelled to join. Have we lost all sense of reason—have we forgotten the dedication to fundamental rights?"

Senator Smathers said: "I am for organize labor. I like organized labor. But the right of each and every wage earner to make a free choice concerning union membership must be paramount over the desire of any single private group." Senator Eastland said: "One of the most incredible elements in the whole movement to repeal 14(b) is the fact that the very liberals who talk the loudest and longest about civil rights are now bent on destroying the freedom of an individual to choose what organization or association he shall or shall not join."

So it went. The battle is not over—compulsory unionism will again become an issue when the second session of this Congress convenes in January. And, once more, that issue will be whether a man can be forced against his will and his beliefs to join a private organization in order to hold a job.

The Gadsden, Ala., Times reported so many dropout students had dropped out of some of the poverty program's Youth Corps projects 'it has been rumored that a dropout school for dropouts who dropped out of the dropout school will be started.'—Or why why not just drop it?

L. T. Potter, Lone Star president, said the new budget will include $11,380,000 for the transmission system; $10,949,000 for the distribution system; $9,539,000 for the Producing Co. operations and $1,720,000 for Nipak, Inc., a chemical fertilizer manufacturing subsidiary of Lone Star Producing Company.

Transmission system will apply its funds toward constructing and replacing transmission and gathering pipelines, improving and enlarging underground natural gas storage facilities, introducing additional sources of supply into the Lone Star system and other construction necessary to maintain a dependable supply of natural gas.

Included in the construction budget is the completion of an eight story, $4,789,000 general office building to be finished in December, 1966, as an addition to Lone Star's home office complex in downtown Dallas. More than $3,000,000 of the total will be used in 1966.

Distribution system expenditures will be used for all types of customer service facilities and include funds allocated for an anticipated increase of more than 20,000 customers in the more than 500 cities, towns and communities in Texas and Southern Oklahoma served by Lone Star.

Approximately one-half of the Producing Company expenditures will be used in the drilling and deepening of oil and gas wells. Also included is exploration, acquisition of new leases, seismicographic services and other production costs.

Nipak, Inc. will use its portion of the budget for improvements at its recently completed $25,000,000 plant near Kerens, Texas, and two Oklahoma plants in Pryor and Tulsa. Approximately $500,000 will be used in the construction of a bulk urea storage plant at Pryor.

Other construction in the 1966 budget includes a new $85,000 office building in Brownwood and the completion of a new service center at Carrollton to serve customers in Carrollton, Farmers Branch, Lewisville, and Addison.

Sam says it's getting so bad that all a man can put aside for a rainy day is a pair of dry socks.

An Iowa farmer, on his first visit to the big city, stopped in a plush cor-tail lounge and ordered a beer.

"How much beer do you sell a week?" he inquired.

"About 40 kegs," replied the bartender.

"I'll tell you how you can sell 80."

"Eighty kegs?" said the bartender. "How?"

"Simple," answered the farmer. "Fill up the glasses."

The big-voiced wife was really sugery. She glared at her meek little hubby. Then she bellowed: "Horace, look at me! The ten dollars that was in your pants pocket last night ... Did you steal it out of my purse this morning?"

26 SHH Students Qualify for Work In Youth Corps

Twenty-six students of Sacred Heart High School are participating in the Neighborhood Youth Corps program (NYC) under the Economic Opportunity Act (EOA), in effect in the Catholic Diocese of Dallas-Fort Worth.

Under the program for which Sacred Heart School qualified in December, students work ten hours a week at $1.25 an hour. They put in an extra hour a week in supervision and counseling by the faculty. The program is set up on a three-year basis.

Youths are employed as academic aids, clerical aids, maintenance aids, library aids and cafeteria aids. They must be between the ages of 16 and 21.

The Rev. John F. Meyers, superintendent of diocesan schools, is project director and his office, headed by John Ryalls, handles all details of the program incorporated under the name Dal-Tex Poverty Elimination Program. Sister Geraldine, Sacred Heart School principal, and Brother Thomas Moster serve as local supervisors.

Increase Reported On Screwworms In Texas in 1965

MISSION, Jan. 13 —Texas farmers and ranchers detected more than twice as many screwworm infestations in 1965 as during the previous year, but the total was still negligible when compared to what they used to experience before the screwworm eradication program came along.

Livestock authorities have estimated that up to one million screwworm infestations occurred annually in the southwestern United States before agricultural researchers learned the livestock insects could be eradicated by overwhelming them with billions of screwworm flies reared in a plant and sexually sterilized with atomic radiation. Sterile flies mate with fertile flies and prevent reproduction. Nearly 17 1/2 billion flies have been dispersed during the past four years.

Statistics maintained at the screwworm eradication center, near Mission, revealed that 466 infestations were recorded in 53 counties during 1965. The previous year, a total of 223 cases were found in 65 counties.

The majority of the infestations were detected in counties adjacent or near the United States-Mexico border, leading eradication authorities to believe that most of them were the result of fertile screwworm flies migrating out of Mex-

In 1964, cases were scattered over much of the state, including the Panhandle and East Texas.

Also contributing to the increase in infestations, according to officials, were weather conditions on both sides of the border which were ideal for screwworms to develop and spread.

Screwworms have been eradicated from all states except California and Arizona, where eradication activities are currently underway, and a barrier of live sterile flies has been stretched across northern Mexico to prevent reinfestation. Screwworm outbreaks can be expected to continue to occur in states bordering on Mexico, officials declared, until this barrier zone can be extended farther south.

Eradicators hope to expand the barrier in the coming months and thus reduce outbreaks in the United States. They plan to disperse the majority of the flies produced in Mexico this winter and spring to wipe out colonies of fertile flies that could survive near the international boundary.

Generating capability in the United States, Lynch said, provided an estimated annual margin of reserve of about 20.3 per cent over the estimated annual peak demand.

In 1966, he stated, output by the total electric utility industry in the United States is expected to reach 1.1 trillion kilowatt-hours, or about 6.8 per cent over 1965.

During 1966, Lynch concluded, investor-owned electric companies in the United States are expected to install 9.5 million kilowatts more of generating capacity. In the next five years, these companies expect to put approximately 75 million kilowatts of new capacity in service.

TP&L Budgets $48 Million for '66 Construction
 Texas Power & Light Company will spend $48,424,000 in 1966 for the construction of new facilities, W. W. Lynch, TP&L president, reported.

One of the major items under construction is the generating unit, Valley No. 2 at the Valley Steam Electric Station between Sherman and Bonham. Work began on the 550,000-kilowatt unit in 1965. It will be completed in 1968.

The company is now completing a new 500,000-kilowatt generating unit at Stryker Creek in East Texas.

Also to be constructed in 1966 are several important transmission lines and substations which will provide ample electric power for the needs of TP&L customers.

Major transmission lines will be constructed from Waco to Belton, from TP&L's Lake Creek Electric Station south of Waco to Jewett in Leon County and from Gainesville to Argyle in Denton County.

In addition, substations will be installed or improved at Navarro, Jewett, Lake Creek, Temple, Belton, Waco, McGregor, Gainesville, Argyle, Gordonville, Crockett, Commerce, Wolfe City, Paris, Fink, Rhome, Oran, Bedford and North Lufkin.

Additionally, a new Brownwood district service center, a local office center at Ennis and a shop building at Gainesville will be constructed this year.

Lynch stated that on a nation-wide basis the output by the electric industry in the U. S. in 1965 exceeded one trillion kilowatt-hours, for the first time in history. At the same time, the average price per kilowatt-hour of residential electric service dropped to an all-time low.

Generating capability in the United States, Lynch said, provided an estimated annual margin of reserve of about 20.3 per cent over the estimated annual peak demand.

In 1966, he stated, output by the total electric utility industry in the United States is expected to reach 1.1 trillion kilowatt-hours, or about 6.8 per cent over 1965.

During 1966, Lynch concluded, investor-owned electric companies in the United States are expected to install 9.5 million kilowatts more of generating capacity. In the next five years, these companies expect to put approximately 75 million kilowatts of new capacity in service.

Miss Walterscheid And Mr. Prescher Say Vows at Mass

Away on a honeymoon since their marriage Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. Bonny Leo Prescher. She is the former Miss Florence Walterscheid, daughter of Mrs. Alphons Walterscheid of Muenster and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Prescher of Valley View.

The young couple exchanged vows at Nuptial Mass in Sacred Heart Church at 4 p.m. Father Alcuin Kubis, pastor, officiated and read the double ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Wilmer Walterscheid wore a formal length gown of diamond white peau de soie with a belled skirt, rounded neckline and long fitted sleeves. A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her tiered elbow length veil and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Maid of honor was Miss Renita Walterscheid, sister of the bride, in a turquoise blue peau de soie dress with street-length belled skirt and elbow length sleeves. Her veiled pill-box hat matched her dress and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Jim Prescher of Valley View was his brother's best man. Leon Walterscheid, brother of the bride, and Frank Hacker of Valley View, bridegroom's cousin, ushered.

Mrs. Dave Walterscheid, sister-in-law of the bride, was vocal soloist before Mass singing "On This Day" and again after the service presenting "Sancta Maria" for the bride's presentation of the traditional bouquet at the Blessed Virgin's altar. Anthony Luke, church organist, was accompanist. He also was at the console assisting the men's choir in furnishing music for the Mass.

Wedding reception and buffet were held in the Parish Hall. Miss Donna Prescher of Valley View and Miss Sharlene Wimmer registered about 300 guests.

When the couple left on their honeymoon, the bride was wearing a gold tweed suit with brown accessories.

She is a graduate of Muenster High School and had been employed in the bookkeeping department at Wilde Chevrolet Co. Mr. Prescher was graduated from Valley View High and is employed in Gainesville as a butcher for Safeway. They will make their home in Valley View.

Deadly Poisons Can Be Found in All of the House

Upstairs, downstairs, all through the house deadly poisons, ready for the taking.

Catherine de Medici, says a new pamphlet from the American Medical Association, hid deadly poisons behind a secret panel in her boudoir.

Chances are, says the AMA, your supply of potential poisons is not so well hidden. Seemingly harmless household items — items which cause half a million accidental poisonings in our country each year — are probably stored in every room of your house. Before some one finds them accidentally, look for these items:

Kitchen killers may include household chemicals such as detergents, ammonia, silver & brass polishes, disinfectants, room deodorants and insect poisons. They may be under the kitchen sink in easy reach of children.

Medicines cause most accidental poisonings in children, and aspirin leads the pack. Cosmetics, deodorants, shaving lotions and unlabeled medicine can poison adults who take them in the dark without reading the labels.

The home workshop has its dangers, too. Children are curious enough to drink paints, lacquers, varnishes and turpentine, especially if you leave these chemicals in empty soft drink bottles.

Garden aids, such as insect sprays, weed killers and fertilizers may benefit your plants, but can kill children. Store garden chemicals out of reach of children. When applying, keep preparations away from eyes, nose, mouth and skin.

In the bedroom, never leave cosmetics and pills on table-tops or in drawers where children can find them. Mothballs are a hazard if you store winter clothes in a low chest or drawer that children can reach.

Some final precautions — label everything, keep medicine in a locked cabinet, never store chemicals in food or beverage containers or on food shelves, date medicines and discard old drugs, use only prescriptions ordered for you by a physician, do not contaminate food or utensils with insect sprays, aerosols, rat poisons, weed killers or cleaning agents, and, keep potential poisons out of children's reach.

Two little boys kept after school for being naughty were ordered to write their first names five hundred times.

"It isn't fair," one of them protested. "His name is Lee and mine is Schnickelfritzer."

What's the best 5-letter word for fertilizer?

And for wheat — NIPAK 45.

Get better wheat crops and earn bigger profits. Topdress your wheat with Nipak 45 right now — for greater yield and higher protein. Nipak 45 — 45% nitrogen fertilizer from Urea — gives you one-third more nitrogen per pound than any other form of solid nitrogen fertilizer — which enables you to handle less fertilizer and cover more ground in less time. Nipak 45 is uniformly prilled, too. It flows easily, won't cake, clog — or corrode your equipment. Nipak also dissolves in the soil moisture and moves quickly to the root zone where it stays put until your crops need it. So for more grow power, ask your local Nipak dealer about Nipak 45. He can help you plan a complete fertilizer program because he can provide a complete fertilizer service.

State Officials Find Problems in Medicare Program

Working out federal medicare insurance benefits in Texas may take a while. According to state officials, the Texas plan for those 231,819 persons on old age assistance rolls will require "some time" to develop. This because complexities in the act require further study. Problems arise out of Title 19. It provides a $3-a-month voluntary medical insurance program for the elderly. This would supplement medical care available both to social security recipients and elderly persons who receive medical aid through state welfare programs. Problem is whether old age assistance payments should be raised $3 to take care of the premium, or whether the state should pay the premium separately. Either way, it will cost welfare recipients nothing. Medicare is effective July 1, but a March 31 deadline has been set for voluntary enrollment in the basic hospital insurance for the elderly. According to Commissioner John Winter of the Department of Public Welfare, it is not mandatory for everyone to sign up for the voluntary insurance feature of the program. However, all who participate in the medicare program do have to sign in. It's the only way those who receive Social Security can get the medical benefits. "But," says the Commissioner, "they can choose to do so without the insurance coverage."

Plans Mapped for Sports Banquet at Lindsay on Feb. 12

Principal business at the January meeting of Lindsay Athletic Association was mapping plans for the sports banquet on Feb. 12. Key speakers are still to be announced.

Members decided on a roast beef and ham menu with all the trimmings in the school cafeteria. A dance will follow in the school gym.

This will be discussed at the next meeting.

Confetti - - - closed shop. It is made up of individuals who belong because it merits their membership. Leaders are more likely to respect the wishes of members knowing that membership and influence will shrink accordingly if they get out of line. The other leaders can do as they please knowing that members can't do a thing about it.

Senators and representatives in Washington might find it advisable to keep that idea in mind as they are called upon to re-consider repeal of 14-B. Folks all over the country have seen what an iron fisted union boss can do to a great city. Lots of people were aware of that before, including many union members. And this affair undoubtedly has convinced millions more, both union and non union.

Along with all the trouble he is causing, Quill in his arrogance may be rendering a real service to the country. At least he is demonstrating that 14-B should not be repealed, and that, on the contrary, every state should have a right to work law.
