Senior Class of MHS Takes Trip To South Texas

Reports on the recent inter-American pow wow at Punta del Este reveal that all was not sweetness and light despite the closing declaration of mutual love and affection between the Americas. And that, incidentally was not a unanimous statement. The president of Ecuador was sufficiently unhappy to refuse to sign.

His principal peevishness, it seems, was this country's failure to send the customary grab bag to the meeting. Our congress had declined to give President Johnson a blank check for curing the ills of those troubled countries. So, by the usual logic of beneficiaries who have become too accustomed to outside help, they insist that we are shirking an obligation.

It's an attitude that applies to nations as well as individuals. It reminds us of the kind of talk that goes on here when pressure groups seek more and bigger appropriations for social welfare programs. They point to riots as a natural consequence of government's failure to meet their want and predict with definite implication of threat that more violence can be expected if more welfare money isn't provided soon.

Well, it is time for some nations, and some of our own people, to learn that they are not wards of Uncle Sam. Regardless of the twisted thinking of some do-gooders, productive citizens of this country do not have an obligation to subsidize people here or abroad who make no effort to help themselves.

Besides imposing an unfair burden on those who provide, this idea is all wrong also from the standpoint of those who receive. Neither a man nor a country benefits from continuous unearned hand outs. The more either gets the more it wants, and eventually gets the notion that it has a right to the give-aways. The receivers lose self respect and self reliance while the givers lose the fruits of their earnings.

Many billions of US tax dollars have already been goofed off in the futile effort of bringing prosperity to Latin America. But the desired results are not there. Conditions are as bad as ever and they will remain that way until leaders use their talents to instill more production instead of trying to mooch from Uncle Sam.

It's a well known fact that Latin America is rich in resources. It has unlimited opportunity to develop a high standard of living. The great opportunity of its leaders lies in establishing the kind of industrial and social standards that will inspire people of all levels to do things for themselves. After all, the greatest resource of any country is its people. They can get along on their own through hard work and self respect, but they'll always be peons if they remain dependent on hand-outs.

Latin American leaders could bring additional benefits to their countries by a better policy of cooperation with foreign investors. The record of the past has been discouraging. Through expropriation or greedy demands the Latins have killed many geese that were laying golden eggs. They could improve things wonderfully by revising that policy.

Aside from the fact that Latin America is better off in the long run without our tax dollars, we need to consider our own circumstances as well. With a bigger national debt than all other nations of the world combined, we can hardly afford the luxury of playing the global Santa Claus. We need to think of the burden already on our people and their children. We need to think of the chaos that can result if our own fiscal structure goes to pieces.

That suggests a good reason for serious reconsideration of some of our domestic hand-out policies. Foreign give-aways aren't causing all of our financial strain. Many features of the Great Society are socialistic luxuries that our economy can't afford.

And their effects on beneficiaries are as harmful here as they have been in Latin America. Initiative and self respect are eroding as people refuse to work because they can live as comfortably on relief. The country's moral and social standards are eroding as people blackmail the government with threats of violence and other make a career of having illegitimate children.

Seniors of Muenster High have been on their class trip since Wednesday and expect to be back home on Sunday.

They departed Wednesday morning on an itinerary that will take them to principal points of interest in Austin, San Antonio, Houston and Galveston. Adults with them are Mr. and Mrs. John Mosman and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel.

Other excitement is in store — or already past — for all other classes. Grades 1 and 2 will head for the Gainesville park and zoo Friday morning, have a picnic lunch there and then take a train ride to Denton where cars will meet them and return them home.

Students of grades 5 through 11 begin their big time after school is dismissed Friday at 3 o'clock. They'll go to Six Flags Over Texas and stay until closing time. Grades 3 and 4 had their day last Friday in Fort Worth. They saw "The Wizard of Oz" at Casa Manana then saw the zoo and had picnic lunch at Forest Park.

500 Children Are In Ceremonies to Crown May Queen

Annual May Queen crowning in Sacred Heart Parish was a colorful and inspiring ceremony Tuesday night with about 500 children in the march from school to church.

Included in the lineup were banner bearers, flag bearers, altar boys in red and white robes, nuns in black and white habits, boy scouts in full uniform, high school girls in formals carrying nosegays, little girls in white carrying red roses, all of them with flowers in their hair, small boys in dark trousers and white coats carrying red roses, and the pastors in their vestments, and senior boys carrying the statue of the Madonna on a flower-decked platform.

In church they placed the statue in an improvised shrine at the entrance into the sanctuary and those carrying flowers placed them there as they passed while youthful voices joined in singing hymns.

To Miss Cheryl Reiter went the honor of crowning the May Queen. She's a senior, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Reiter, and is this year's "Miss Sacred Heart High." She wore a white lace and satin gown with Empire bodice and free flowing back panel.

Her attendants were Miss Mary Hesse, bouquet bearer and Miss Dianne Gehrig, crown bearer.

After an act of consecration Father Andrew led the weekly novena devotion to Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Father Alcuin officiated at benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and the congregation joined in singing "Te Deum."

May Queen crowning and its attendant ceremonies are arranged each year by the Benedictine Sisters.

Peggy Sicking Is Second in Region Spelling Contest

Muenster's Peggy Sicking, representing Cooke County in the regional spelling bee won runner-up honors Saturday in the Dallas spell-off.

As second best elementary school speller in Northeast Texas, Peggy is alternate to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C., June 5-10. She is an eighth grader at Sacred Heart School, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sicking.

Peggy lost the regional crown to Michael McCall of Godley, an eighth grade student at Fulton Junior High in Cleburne. The two survived 16 rounds and 207 words in eliminating 26 other contestants and entered the final spell-off.

Peggy tripped on "tragedienne" by spelling the masculine form "tragedian." McCall made the correction and spelled "geodesic" to become champion.

The bee was televised on WFAA-TV and scores of Muenster residents were tensed at their sets. Among those they saw in the audience were Peggy's parents and her teacher, Sister Rose, who organized the bee at Sacred Heart School. Peggy won that championship and went on to win the county crown. She was a stand-out on the telecast wearing her navy and white school uniform.

Her prizes are a 19-inch portable television set and a Lincoln Library of Essential Information.

A hitting spree by the Saint Jo Panthers Tuesday set back the Sacred Heart Tigers by a count of 9-2. For four innings the game was under fair control as the Panthers scored 1 each in second, third and fourth. But dimming Tiger chances blacked out completely in the fifth and sixth as Saint Jo brought in three for each inning.

Leon Endres and Kenny Schmitz were Sacred Heart's only hitters. From those hits and 3 walks the team got its 2 runs. On the other hand Saint Jo was working on 11 hits and 6 walks. Seven Tiger batters fanned but only one Panther batter.

NOTED AND PASSED

Rest Tranquil: We know people who can't sleep nights, worrying about the state of the world. But we're not one of them. We are aware that we have some mighty brainy people on our team, working for the new world of the future, not to mention the Great Society. For example — U Thant, Arthur Goldberg, Dr. Benjamin Spock, the Kennedy Boys, Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., W. Averell Harriman, Robert S. McNamara, J. W. Fulbright, Wayne Morse and a few others.

When we can't sleep we keep saying these names over and over instead of counting sheep. Now if we could only do something about the nightmares!

Fun in Fun City: In calling for more federal funds to fight crime in Fun City-on-the-Hudson, John Lindsay was of course recommending the politician's panacea for all the ills that beset us — $$$$$$. In this case, Mayor John called for a tripling of federal aid to Lil' Ole New York. That, presumably, would cut crime two-thirds, which would leave it being only scandalous.

We'll go along with Hizoner's suggestion, on condition that the money be used to buy "Wanted, Dead or Alive" posters, and to offer bounties for some of New York's fun-loving muggers, murderers and rapists. Perhaps visitors to Fun City might be given guns and hunting licenses to protect themselves and round up a few of the "Wanted" while enjoying the sights.

Just Like in USA: It seems that the book of Mao Tse-tung's sayings is being revised. You know, the red volume that prudent Chinese carry with them wherever they go so that they can read Mao's thoughts about putting the cat out at night, placing the cards on the table, etc. A new edition is called for because the present volume says something nice about President Liu Shao-chi, and Mao is now mad at him.

It sounds so much like the gigantic fuss over Manchester's book about the Kennedy assassination that we expect Look Magazine will start presenting a peephole version of the matter any day now.

TIME TO STOP
 Sen. Paul Fannin of Arizona has sounded a timely warning of the dangers of the United States policy of economic sanctions against Rhodesia. Blind pursuit of this course could involve the U.S. in a United Nations war in Africa.

In a speech to the Senate, Fannin pointed out that if the sanctions fail to break Rhodesia's will as widely predicted, the next step might be use of force and this could draw the U.S. into an invasion of Africa. This could become a mess which would make Vietnam seem tame.

The Arizona senator also pointed out to the Senate that America is supporting and participating in a U.N. action which is in clear violation of its charter. No matter what you call it, the U.N. sanctions against Rhodesia are an undisguised effort to interfere in the internal affairs of a nation. This the U.N. charter flatly forbids.

It is absurd to pretend that the situation in Rhodesia is a threat to peace. The threat to peace comes from the U.N. itself, in attempting to impose its will on Rhodesia.

If the explanation of Ambassador Goldberg is to be taken seriously, the adventure becomes even more dangerous. He said American support of the U.N. action is to drive home to Rhodesia "that the international community will not tolerate the existence of a discriminatory system based on minority rule."

"Fewer than half of all the 121 U.N. members — including the Soviet Union and many of the African nations — have governments clearly based on majority rule," Fannin said.

And how many of these can be said to be nondiscriminatory? The possibilities are endless for future actions against a nation whose internal policies have aroused the ire of other nations.

The action against Rhodesia is a bag of trouble. The U.S. should put it down, before it explodes.

"MAYBE TWO PERCENT"

Two men we have known for several years observed the so-called antiwar rally in New York City on Saturday, April 15. Each is a trained reporter. What they told us deserves comment here.

First off, the rally did not generate the 400,000 demonstrators the sponsors had boasted it would produce. The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. contended that 250,000 participated. Police suggested not more than half that many. Our two friends thought that not more than 80,000 appeared. More important, they reported that a high percentage of these were neither adults nor even college age, but rather youngsters of high school age, obviously joining in a "happening" for the lark of it, and convening from New York City communities.

Sharing the speakers platform were three of the most publicized Negro "leaders" in the country: the aforementioned Dr. King, Floyd McKissick, national secretary of the Congress of Racial Equality, and the foul-mouthed leader of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, Stokely Carmichael. It was he who described the United States presence in Vietnam as "brutal and racist."

The most striking feature of the whole affair to our two friends was the fact that only a sprinkling of Negroes participated in the demonstration. They agree that the percentage of the demonstrators who were Negro was "maybe two percent." One in fifty.

One of them put it this way: "They had more Negroes on the speakers' platform than in the crowd!"

In any event, the point is that the Negro community did not turn out for King, McKissick and Carmichael. These men are not leaders of the Negro community. And no single event in recent months makes that fact more clear.

Last March 9, President Johnson awarded the Medal of Honor to Specialist 6 Lawrence Joel — a Negro.

We very much wish that New York City authorities would invite Lawrence Joel to New York for a traditional ticker-tape parade.

We suspect that more than 2,000 Negroes would turn out to salute him. And just maybe King, McKissick and Carmichael would get the message. Certainly the rest of the country would.

School boards have a tough job these days — monitoring the length of girls' dresses, and boys' hair, fighting President Johnson for the kids' milk, and guarding them against catching religion.

From The Senate Hall...

by Senator Ralph Hall
YEARLY BUDGET — Governor John Connally stood before the State of Texas with a speech to a joint session of the Legislature and called for the adoption of an appropriation bill for only the first year of the biennium. Up to now, the financing of the State has been budgeted for a two year period at each legislative session.

The other half of the Governor's fiscal proposal was to call a special session next year to provide a budget for the second half of the 1968-69 biennium. Under the plan, no new taxes would be necessary during the first year because the unexpected balance of $140 million in the General Revenue Fund would be used. Governor Connally said that the present policy of budgeting State government two years in advance is unrealistic and unsound.

ACTUALLY, I think it makes better sense to plan the people's budget and business as you would a private enterprise. Most corporations have board meetings and financial discussions almost every day, but the State, with a $2 billion-a-year business, has such "board meetings" only every two years. I believe that the yearly budget will provide some degree of flexibility for unforeseen developments.

A report in Colorado Editor says that the U. S. Post Office deficit is up $700 million. First class mail (including airmail) is paying 103 per cent of its cost, says the report, but will likely be raised one cent. Second class mail pays only 30 per cent of its handling cost and third class 61 per cent of its cost. One problem the Post Office is faced with is a large turnover in personnel.

The Chicago office reported that it hired 600 new employees one week while at the same time 650 quit. The average wage for the post office clerk is 6 cents a minute. Some of the workers are taking 10 seconds to read an address, resulting in a cost of 1 cent. This only leaves four cents on a first class letter for transportation costs, handling, and delivery to the destination.

If you are 29 years old, you have 36 years left to work and taxes will take all you make in 10 of them.

Human Events recently asked this question: "How bad is the Post Office service? A letter from a Washington, D. C., resident, sent to the Hon. Everett M. Dirksen at his former residence on Massachusetts Avenue, was returned to the sender stamped, 'Addressee Unknown.'"

Sunday Is Annual Homecoming Day For Marysville

Marysville's annual homecoming celebration will be held Sunday, May 7, and everyone is invited to attend.

The program is planned to begin at 10:30 and Bro. Aubrey Spires of Gainesville will be speaker for the morning worship hour at 11. The oldest mother and oldest father present will be recognized and will receive gifts.

A picnic dinner will be spread at noon on tables on the church lawn. Everyone is reminded to bring food for the meal. Marysville women will furnish hot coffee. The afternoon will be free for reuniting and visiting.

If you are willing to admit you were wrong yesterday then you are a lot smarter today than you were yesterday.

Doughtys Host Kin For Sunday Dinner

There were 21 for dinner Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doughty were hosts in their home honoring his sister, Mrs. Martha Sloan of Gruver. She left Sunday evening accompanying her sister, Mrs. Lula Ritcherson, to Denton to spend a week.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Doughty and daughters Jackie and Jeannie of Euless, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Doughty and son and her sister and brother Dollie and Richard Duggar, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Doughty and family, all of Valley View, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Doughty and daughter Linda of Grand Prairie.

The big difference between death and taxes is that you only have to die once for your country.

Muenster Library Board Sets Book Budget for Year

"We take so many things for granted in our daily lives — the gas we cook on, the water we drink, the electricity that lights our homes.

"We take some of our community institutions for granted too. The library, for instance. Sometimes we think of our library as just a place where they've got a lot of books. And we're right, for the library has books. But it's a lot more than that.

"A library is a busy information center where persons of all ages can seek information, all ages can seek knowledge. A library makes it possible for us to share the experiences of other persons by reading about their thoughts and achievements. It is a place where the knowledge of the past can meet the needs of the present.

"Your library card is a passport to adventure, education, peace of mind, information and know-how of all types. Your library is a part of your American Heritage. Use it often!"

of the board of directors and the volunteer staff of Muenster Public Library were reminded of the importance of the job they are doing.

The reminder was read from a communication from the Texas Library Association concerning National Library Week, April 16-22. The communication was part of the board's meeting during Library Week.

Business consisted principally of a budget approval of $450 for books for the coming year and a report by Mrs. Joe Luke, librarian.

Mrs. Luke reported that 171 hours were logged by her volunteer staff in March checking out 303 books. Fifty one new books and four gift books were added to the shelves.

Two new filing cabinets were recently added so that adult and children's books can be catalogued separately. This arrangement will benefit patrons of the library, Mrs. Luke said.

held in church, members of the congregation participating. They represented the trades, occupations, and vocations of the citizens.

These included farmers with fruits of the fields, other laborers, factory workers, lay teachers, and school children with symbols of their work and subjects, priests, brothers and nuns, the latter carrying lighted candles, boys and girls of the First Communion and confirmation classes, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Zimmerer and their baby son Jeff representing marriage and the family.

An appropriate prayer of thanksgiving was said in unison by the congregation as each representative walked up the aisle and placed his or her offering on the side altars. This program ended with the assemblage singing "America the Beautiful."

After Mass more than 600 of those present went to the school cafeteria for a community dinner served by women of the parish.

Historical Drama

At 8 p.m. a program entitled "Highlights in Lindsay History," was presented in the school gymnasium.

Margie Hundt was "Spirit of the Diamond Jubilee" and Bobby Zimmer was narrator for the pageant.

As actors and actresses were announced they came to the stage through a door fashioned like a book cover — the history of Lindsay — as though they were stepping from the volume itself.

Characters included Anton Flusche played by Bobby Hundt, a grandson of the founder; and first settlers: the Dudenhoeffers, enacted by Arnold Zimmerer and Susan Benfort and their children Danny Nortman, Joan Schad, and Sundra Bezner; the Castors, represented by Kenneth Krebs and Carolyn Block and children Karen Fuhrmann and Kathy Felderhoff; the August Pultes played by Barbara Laux and Francis Hermes with Sammy Bezner as the child.

The first pastor, Father Hugo Bardenhewer, was represented by Gerald Stoffels and his first servers were played by William Flusche and Bobby Hermes.

The first wedding, that of Stephen Geray and Miss Marie Gieb, had Ralph Hermes and Janice Hellinger as the groom and bride.

The first Benedictine in Texas was Father Bonaventure Binzeggar. He was represented by Gary Beyer. The first nun, Sister Margaret Zimmerman, was portrayed by Mary Jo Sandmann and the first pupils were represented by students of German classes of grades 6 and 9. They sang two German songs.

Rusty Collum of Gainesville was the bugler with a salute to men in the service. Lindsay veterans, representing each branch of the service, were Weldon Bezner, Rudy Dieter, Bill Metzler, Joe Schmidtkofer and Damon Fuhrmann.

Choral speakers representing light were Bernadette Mosman, Christine Bengfort, Vickie Kuhn, Joan Zimmerer, Janet Arendt and Marilyn Hundt.

Deep voices were David Arendt, Michael Hundt, Don Schad, Rudy Zimmerer, Henry Arendt and Roger Hundt. Medium voices were Margie Fuhrmann, and Sharon Loerwald, Joan Kuhn, Jane Stoffels, Joan Fuhrmann, Barbara Sandmann and Clara Hess.

Sister Aida was in charge of production and direction. Light effects were by Nick Block, sound effects by Sheila Arendt. Anthony Felderhoff was stage manager, Bobby Hermes was at the projector and Norb Mages was curtain man.

Pioneers Speak Before the children's program Mrs. Luebbert and A. C. Flusche gave short talks, recalling early history of Lindsay. Gregory Hundt was master of ceremonies. Pictures of early settlers and happenings were projected on a screen and Hundt gave the commentary.

Antique Display

A display that was popular with visitors was one containing old pictures and antiques exhibited in the hall of the high school. It was here old timers stopped for reminiscing.

In the pageant all characters wore costumes of the period, the occasion, or vocation, pioneer dresses, nuns' and priests' garb, and wedding garments.

84th Birthday

The 84th birthday of Mrs. Mathilda Wimmer was observed Sunday at a dinner party for which her daughter, Mrs. Fred Hennigan Sr. was hostess in the Hennigan home. A decorated cake and gifts were part of the celebration. Attending from out of town were the honoree's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mages and family of Dallas.

MHS Baseballers Beat Callisburg And Lose to Era

Muenster High School's first two baseball games of this season found the boys playing two completely different brands of ball. To Coach Glenn Richardson they seemed like different teams.

Playing Callisburg last Friday they played a fine game and won 10-0. Errors by Callisburg helped account for some of those tallies.

In the game at Era Tuesday the situation was reversed. Era played the steady game while Muenster made boners all over the field. Muenster was clobbered 13-1.

Hitters for the Hornets in the first game were Mike Cason a double and a single, Ken Stormer and Mark Hellman, each a single. Hitters in the second game were Wayne Klement and Kenny Walterseich, each a single.

Carl Endres pitched four innings and Paul Rennels one in the first game. Chris Can pitched two innings, Carl Endres four and John Monday one in the second game.

"Beauty is not a Gift,
It's a Habit."

Man is the only animal who goes to sleep when he isn't sleepy and gets up when he is.

A sidewalk interviewer asked an old timer what he thought of the two candidates for an election. "When I look at them, Son," he said, "I just thank the Lord that only one of them can get elected."

Horse sense, quite naturally, will be found dwelling in a stable mind.

G M Announces Anti-Theft Device

General Motors Corp. announced recently that it will incorporate in its 1968 model cars, scheduled to go on sale next October, new anti-theft features as standard equipment.

James M. Roche, president of General Motors, said the new features would include a buzzer device to remind drivers that the key has been left in the lock, easily visible identification numbers for each car located on the instrument panel and visible through the windshield, and a significant increase in the number of key-lock combinations, to make illegal entry more difficult.

He warned, however, that carelessness of car owners is a major factor in the theft of cars, and said a strong national campaign against auto theft is needed. Laws against improper possession or reproduction of master keys are also needed.

Federal Land Bank Is Fifty Years Old

The Federal Land Bank Associations were cited by Governor John Connally as he declared April "Federal Land Bank Month." In an Official Memorandum, the Governor praised the Federal Land Bank System and called upon all Texans to pay tribute to those engaged in farming and ranching.

The Federal Land Bank System, encompassing 73 local associations in Texas and 700 associations throughout the United States, is observing its 50th Anniversary this year. The Anniversary Year is dedicated to America's Farmers: "Providers of Plenty."

The Federal Land Bank Association of Sherman is participating in the year's activities by recognizing the farmers and ranchers of Cooke, Grayson and Fannin Counties. April, 1917, marked the beginning of the Federal Land Banks, thus providing the first nationwide means of making private capital investment available to farmers and ranchers so that their holdings could be improved and the productive capacity expanded. The Federal Land Bank of Houston made its first loan on May 22, 1917, and from a modest beginning the 73 local associations today have recorded long term real estate loans of more than $1.1 billion to 185,000 Texans.

It's getting so a man can't afford to be prompt for an appointment or people will think his time isn't worth anything.

Drive the cost of living down, without giving up all this.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.
