VOLUME XXXI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 MAY 19, 1967

NUMBER 26

American officials are puzzled about that bully-boy behavior of the two Russian ship captains last week in the Sea of Japan. What's the reason behind the deliberate bumping of two American destroyers? For that matter, what's the reason behind a half dozen or more other incidents which our country has officially protested as reckless harassing maneuvers?

A possible explanation is that reds resent having our ships that near their Siberian shore — about 200 miles — where we might pick up some of their secrets. With their well known inclinations to spy on anyone else their suspicions would be understandable.

On the other hand these incidents might be cover-ups for their own attempts at spying. The reds were seen taking pictures of our ship just before one of the bumps.

Or maybe the red captain is just a smart alec playing a sea version of "chicken." Maybe his motive is only to show how much nerve he has.

And maybe, also more likely, this is another version of Soviet bluffing, intended to intimidate our country into fearing the possible consequence of continued military action in Vietnam. Since there have been so many incidents they cannot be regarded as accidents. Apparently Moscow is involved. So, the most likely conclusion is that the Soviet top brass is making threats but in a manner from which they can back away if we fail to cringe satisfactorily.

Well, that shouldn't cause any great worries to our top brass. Remembering Moscow's back down on a few other occasions when we refused to be pushed around, we can expect these affairs, too, to fade out.

That, however, is not saying that we should be unconcerned. On the other hand we have very good reason to get our dander up and respond to the Soviet bluff. We can and should regard this as another of several good reasons for calling off those much publicized efforts of improving relations with the Soviet. Why have any dealings at all with an outfit that aids our enemy abroad, agitates our trouble makers here, sponsors subversives in practically every free country of the world, and openly admits that it is dedicated to our destruction? — especially, why have any dealings when our most effective way of fighting this enemy is simply to shun him?

Experience has shown many times that Russia would have folded long ago without American help. It still can't succeed without our help. Well, doesn't that suggest our best way of fighting the communists?

Ugly incidents in Hong Kong nowadays make us wonder whether the bosses of Red China are blundering. From here they look like the beginning of a communist take-over and the alienation of a long standing affection. Since Mao took over the country some two decades ago he has discretely allowed Britain to keep Hong Kong. All that time Britain has been friendly, urged diplomatic recognition by other countries, admission to the UN, and abandonment of Formosa, while helping China substantially by trade.

One can imagine that Britain's friendly concern will likely cease if it loses the city. It just might switch. With no reason left for expediency it might turn to principle and become more cooperative with the free countries — maybe even to the extent of calling off its shipment of war supplies to North Vietnam.

There's a chance also that our problem at Haiphong will become less complicated. It's generally admitted that the presence of friendly ships — including British ships — in the harbor was a reason for our not bombing there. Many of us thought all along that Britain put a big strain on our friendship by hauling in the enemy supplies, but we can understand that it risked being kicked out of Hong Kong if it declined to go along with the reds. Britain was on a spot, but it will no longer be on the spot if it loses Hong Kong. In fact it could be inclined to quit shipping to Haiphong, and U.S. could be more inclined to blast the harbor.

We could sympathize with the British for their present slim chance of holding on to (Continued on page 10)

Elevators Ready For 1967 Harvest

Bernard Gieb of Lindsay and Alexander Brothers of Era delivered the first 1967 grain received at Muenster.

Gieb's was a load of oats sold last Friday to Tony's Seed and Feed, Inc., and the Alexander's was a load of wheat sold Tuesday to Muenster Milling Company.

As usual the Muenster community is lagging behind in grain maturity. The grain dealers here report that no local combines are running as of Wednesday but the harvest has started in several other areas of the county. Harvesting in this area is expected to start late this week or early next week.

Predictions on grain crops this season are generally gloomy. Scattered reports from farmers indicate that they expect about half the yields of recent years. The Alexander's on their first two loads estimated an average of about 20 bushels per acre, in contrast with a normal yield of about 35. Tests of those first loads averaged 60.

The three Muenster feed stores are all back in the grain buying business. Muenster Milling Company operates the elevator just south of the Katy railroad, Tony's Seed and Feed, Inc., operates the elevator north of the railroad, and Stockmen's Feed Store operates the elevator at Myra.

Harvesting of another kind is already going strong. Haying equipment is working overtime to bring in the first cutting of alfalfa and sudan and that portion of the oats crop which was intended for baling.

School Transfers Due This Month

Students who live outside the Muenster school district and wish to attend in Muenster next year are urged to get in touch with Superintendent Bruns soon, unless they have already done it.

May is transfer month, he reminds this week, and arrangements must be completed before the month ends.

Brun said he will help with the paper work of any who wish to transfer and invites interested students to call on him. "And, do it now. Don't postpone and then forget."

City Ball Park Gets Overhaul Job

Baseball and softball will be more fun to watch and to play at the city ball park this summer. And it will be safer to boot.

That's the result of an improvement program carried out there in recent weeks by volunteer workers and a United Fund appropriation to the Muenster Youth program, plus donation of pipe by Grewing Brothers Well Service.

Principal addition is a sturdy and good looking chain link fence extending from the grandstand down both sides some 30 feet from the first and third base lines. It is 5 feet high supported by 2 inch pipe set in a concrete curb and braced by a full length 2 inch pipe topping the posts. A gate in each fence opens to a "dugout," which in this case happens to be above the ground on a concrete floor, a pen for the players who are at bat. The three sides joining with the fence to make the enclosure are the same material as the fence. Pipe and fencing are all aluminum painted. Hereafter players and sideline spectators are all safe from foul balls. And a concrete floor behind each fence extends from the grandstand to the players' enclosure.

In the grandstand work started with a general fix up, which was followed by a coat of GI green paint over the gray of raw cement. Players in the field used to have trouble seeing the ball against that light background. Likewise the netting at the front of the grandstand, formerly white, now also GI green. Keeping an eye on the ball is easier now.

A battery of three drinking fountains at the east side of the grandstand is more adequate than the former single fountain for the thirsty traffic caused by popcorn, sweets and sweat. Better drainage also eliminates the former mud puddle.

Still more improvement was re-shaping the infield, so that rain drainage will go down the sides instead of down the middle.

Principal credits on the job go to Herman Grewing for supervising, to Herb Walterscheid for welding and to a gang of Jaycees for long hours of volunteer work.

Center Is Third In Bowie Tourney

The men's volleyball team of the Center returned with a trophy from an invitation tournament in Bowie last week. It was the third place trophy for beating Paradise in consolation final.

Only two games were on their tournament schedule. After two byes they beat a Bridgeport team and then the Paradise team.

Two other Muenster teams, Center ladies and Alumni Men, also played in the tournament.

The three teams are entered this week in a tournament at Whitesboro.

Sister Thomasine on New Assignment

Sister Thomasine, a Muenster native, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Walterscheid, had been named administrator of St. Bernard's Hospital in Jonesboro, Ark.

She previously served as administrator of Mercy Hospital in Brinkley, Ark., assuming that assignment in January 1964. Both hospitals are operated by the Olivetan Benedictine Sisters of Jonesboro, Ark. Sister Thomasine made her vows as a nun in 1929 at Holy Angels Convent and is a graduate nurse of St. Bernard's Hospital. She was head of hospital personnel before going to Brinkley as administrator.

Muenster Schools Remain Separate

The proposed merger of Muenster's parochial and public schools has failed to materialize. As a consequence they will operate separately next year as they have since early in the community's history.

Final decision on the proposal was announced in a letter from Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese dated May 12. It was sent to Father Alcuin Kubis, pastor of the Sacred Heart Parish and a copy was sent to Charley Hellman, president of the Muenster School Board.

In it Bishop Gorman pointed out that the merger had been discussed at length in a meeting with the Board of Consultants, the Superintendent of Schools and other advisors. "The result of the vote was negative," he said. "Therefore, following the advice of my Consultants — there will be NO merger of the school systems in Muenster."

Accordingly he directed Father Alcuin to continue with

Year End Events At Public School Set for May 21, 24

With baccalaureate on Sunday and commencement next Wednesday the scholastic year at Muenster Public School will officially end. Both events are scheduled for 8 o'clock in the auditorium.

Sunday night's program will feature Father Joseph Drew CSP, chaplain of the Newman Club at Southern Methodist University, as the baccalaureate speaker. He will be introduced by Superintendent L. B. Bruns following processional by Sandra Sloan, invocation by Father Alcuin Kubis and a vocal solo by Miss Bettye Dodds.

After the address the program lists a musical selection by the Choral Club, benediction by Rev. Larry Taylor of First Baptist Church, Muenster, and the recessional by Sandra Sloan.

Heading the graduation service as commencement speaker will be J. Norris Scott, dean of Cooke County Junior College, and the next ranking speakers will be Doris Lutkenhaus in the valedictory and Wayne Klement in the salutatory.

To the graduates the most important persons will be Charley Hellman and Jerome Pagel, president and vice president respectively of the school board. Mr. Hellman, assisted by Superintendent Bruns, will present high school diplomas. Mr. Pagel, assisted by Glenn Richardson, will present grade school diplomas.

Grads of both departments will enter the auditorium as Paul Rennels plays the processional. Then Debbie Yosten, eighth grader with the (Continued on page 6)

Awards Banquet Honors Elm Red Conservationists

Champion conservationists of the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation district received traditional honors and three promoters of conservation received special honors at the eighteenth annual banquet and awards program of the district last Thursday night at Denison. About 600 persons attended.

Heading the list for special awards was Claude Jones of the First State Bank, Gainesville, who resigned chairmanship of the Awards Program this year after serving as its head since its beginning in 1949. Bill Claunch, also of the First State Bank, succeeds Jones as chairman.

Others honored were Tony Walterscheid of Muenster who resigned last year after ten years as a district supervisor and Charles Howard of Nocona, who died last year while a member of the board. Mr. Jones received an engraved silver tray as his award. Mr. Walterscheid received a wooden plaque and Mrs. Howard (Continued on page 4) the present system exactly the way it is at the present time.

The bishop's decision presents serious and immediate problems to the Muenster School Board, which anticipates a substantial increase of enrollment next year.

It had hopes that the schools would combine as proposed and that no trouble would result regarding space, equipment and faculty. Now, however, with only a few months before the next school year, the school must make all preparations for the expected increase.

A survey during the past weekend showed that almost 200 students intend to transfer from the parochial to the public school next year. However it has been suggested that another survey be taken following definite information on curriculum, tuition, etc. at Sacred Heart next year. Heads of both schools said that such a survey will be more accurate.

Regardless of a second count, the school board has no doubt that it will have a big increase next year and accommodation must be provided for all those additions — plus more to relieve the crowded condition already existing.

Board members at a special meeting Tuesday night agreed that they must build, and the project must start moving soon so that it can be ready in September.

This development is a let-down to both the school board and the parish. The desired plan was to rent classroom space from the parish rather than assume a district obligation or new construction. From the parish standpoint this could possibly result in vacant buildings later because the public school does not need them.

Another problem can develop in the bus system. According to Superintendent Bruns, the Gilmer-Aiken program of financing will become more practical in this system if the enrollment increases by only a few. In that case the school would have to support its own bus system rather than share with Sacred Heart in contracting for bus service. The probability is that the community will go back to separate but duplicate bus service next year.

School Kids Face Three Easy Days

Practically speaking the school year ends this week at Sacred Heart School and it will end Monday at the public school.

Sister Roberta, principal, said that Monday is campus day for the Sacred Heart students, except those who had their holiday earlier at Six Flags. And Superintendent Bruns said that Public School students will finish their exams Monday.

After that the schedule is identical at both schools. Teachers will have Tuesday to themselves to finish their paper work and students will be back Wednesday to receive report cards and check out. They will be dismissed before noon.

New Officers of CYC Take Office

Recently elected officers of Muenster CYC took over duties at the May meeting Tuesday night. Miss Cynthia Bindel, president, presided in the presence of Father Andrew and 34 members.

The group discussed the deans' CYC meeting to be held in Sherman on Sunday, May 21, and made plans to attend.

They also discussed plans for decorations at the homecoming celebration on June 18. They have been drafted for this job.

Other new officers are Mona Voth, vice president; Dianne Sicking, secretary; Joan Fetsch, reporter; Karen Sicking, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Fleitman have moved from the farm to town to occupy the former home of Mrs. Joe Bernauer which they bought. Mrs. Joe Bernauer and son Frank moved to her smaller house a block up the street. The J. D. Caplinger family is moving to the Fleitman place. The property was bought by Eddie Fleitman.

THE SPECIALIST AGE

Common sense tells us that the specialist age, or card age, whichever one encounters, is often an enemy of prompt and efficient execution. The age of specialists is here and there is no reversing the trend. So many of our facilities today are highly complicated, only specialists can perform needed work.

On the other hand the specialist system, or the card system among workers, sometimes produces a farce. In Bunny, England, recently, a button fell off a telephone switchboard. Two engineers came to put the button back in place. They dropped it and it rolled under a cabinet. Two carpenters, called to move the cabinet (the engineers couldn't do this), tore the floor linoleum. Two linoleum layers (everyone in two these days) appeared and decided a heater had to be moved before they could perform their special function.

Two electricians came to move the heater and discovered a hole in the floor which had to be filled by two bricklayers. Then, after the new linoleum floor had been laid, employees tripped over it and the floor had to be tiled. All because someone dropped a button.

We have come a long way from the day when the all-around man, the general fixer-upper, could take care of almost anything in the office or home. And in this sense one often longs for the good old days.

WHERE MY MONEY GOES

We have just sent our dear old Uncle Sugar a pound or two of flesh in the form of additional income tax owed for last year, plus social security tax, plus estimate for the first quarter of 1967, and frankly, we are not in the best of humors about the whole thing.

We begrudge not one nickel of our huge contribution — from our viewpoint, but infinitesimal drop from the standpoint of the national budget — so long as the money is used for our boys in Vietnam and for other defense purposes, as well as for the myriad other legitimate functions of our federal government, but when we look around us to see how our money is being spent on worthless, useless, and often harmful programs dreamed up by some of our wild-eyed Washington planners, it makes us a bit sick to our tummy.

We try not to let our own 60-hour work week cloud our vision of the finer things planned by the Tall Texan and his cohorts in that citadel of easy money on the Potomac, but in all honesty we must admit that this year more than ever before, it galls us no end when we realize that we are working more and more month by month so that others may

Program Combines Banquet, Prom and Class Night at SH

Palm trees, camels, tents and "flying carpets" set the scene for Sacred Heart High School's annual banquet and prom this year. And the after-dinner program included class night features.

Theme of the three-in-one event was "Arabian Nights." It was held in the VFW Hall Saturday night, May 13. Seniors, juniors, their parents and the high school faculty were there.

Don and the Demons of McKinney played for dancing. Yellow and orange predominated in decorations and yellow roses were the floral complement.

Robert Miller was master of ceremonies. Ben Fleitman Jr. gave "Red Tents in the Sunset" in which he introduced the 30 seniors, and Linda Zimmerer delivered the salutatory address. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Zimmerer.

"Bagdad Banter," reminiscences, had five in the lineup: Stanley Endres, Donna Stoffels, Mary Koesler, Joyce Schmitt, and Laurie Trubench.

Sophomore girls presented a skit, "In the Harem," featuring an Arabian dance. "Aladdin's Lamp" by Andy Klement, Gloria Gieb and Gilbert Hess told the class prophecy and will, and the final number, "Now Our Caravan Departs," was the valedictory address by Gloria Reiter. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Reiter.

Faculty members present were Father Alcun Kubis, superintendent, Sister Roberta, principal, Father Andrew Wewer, Father Benedict Buegler, Sisters Richard, Theresina, Amora, and Rose, Joe Felderhoff and Miss Dorothy Bengfort.

Attractive programs listed senior class officers: Andy Klement, president; Mary Kay Luttmer, vice president; Gloria Gieb, secretary; Janie Fleitman, treasurer. Sister Rose is class sponsor. Colors are yellow and orange, class flower is the yellow rose, motto is "Tonight we launch; where shall we anchor?"

Also listed were junior class officers: Linda Rohmer, president; Gilbert Hess, vice president; Mary Alice Koesler, secretary; Chris Walter, treasurer. Sister Richard is class sponsor. Colors are orchid and royal purple. Gardenia is the class flower. It takes a little stooping to grow" is the motto. The program also included space for memories and pages for autographs.

After the prom Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bayer entertained with breakfast for the students. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Klement also attended.

loaf more and more, day by day.

Guess we're just too old fashioned, too hard headed, or just too blamed stupid to be able to convince ourselves that it is better to live on the sweat of another man's brow than by our own efforts. Tragically, as Uncle Sugar "buys" more and more of our citizens with his easy-money offers, the old-fashioned philosophy of a day's work for a day's pay which did much toward making this country great is getting scarcer and scarcer, and even downright unpopular in many circles.

WHERE ARE THE POOR?

Here in Broward County, poverty war workers have been forced to go knocking on doors to find eligible people who not only need help but are willing to make the necessary effort to get it. As nationally-known writer Kay Picot relates in a Florida Journal article, she was told by one staff member at a neighborhood center that nobody ever comes into the center for information but staff members.

A salaried job counselor, who shows up one afternoon a week, went for three or four months without anybody showing up to be counseled.

In another center the entire audience showing up for a class in sewing conducted by a paid demonstrator consisted of a single woman. Another paid aide told the writer her duties consisted of filling out fact sheets and driving people to the welfare office, the health clinics and to the surplus food distribution centers.

Thus, what we have here seems to be a fully-staffed, well-financed army to fight poverty, but one which has trouble locating the enemy it has been set up to fight. And, even when the enemy is discovered, he all too often, isn't interested in being helped, particularly if it involves the display of any ambition or energy on his part.

This characteristic of the poverty war isn't peculiar to Broward County. It exists almost everywhere, with the result millions of dollars are being wasted on programs which don't reach to the heart of the poverty problem, and which won't have solved anything when all the money appropriated for them has been spent!

One might think that with our nation as prosperous as it is and with the billions of dollars a year we are spending on welfare projects of all kinds, the number of people on our public relief rolls would be constantly declining. Instead the relief rolls are getting bigger every month, and we now have untold numbers of second generation Americans who know no other way of existing than at the public trough.

Many of the idealistic hand-out programs designed to encourage poverty-stricken people to lift themselves by their own bootstraps are only serving to perpetuate the conditions they were supposed to cure. Yet, we go on thinking all that is needed is more money to spend, and certainly we have no dearth of politicians anxious to spend more money.

Livestock Survey Cards are Coming

Postmaster Arthur Endres reminds rural patrons of the Muenster Post Office to be on the lookout for June Livestock cards. Next week, mail carriers will leave survey cards in a sample of boxes along their routes.

"USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates in replies to this survey," Mr. Endres explains. "It is important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier. This way USDA gets a representative sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are: Edward Endres, Route 1, and Henry Pels Jr., Route 2.

Survey cards will be forwarded to Cary D. Palmer, State Agricultural Statistician, in Austin. After adding and analyzing these cards, USDA statisticians are able to estimate the State's milk production, calf and hog crops, lamb and wool crops, and the number of hens and pullets.

Information from this survey will guide livestock and poultry producers in making important business decisions," Mr. Endres concludes.

A person gets paid for using his brains, not for having them.

First Aid Items Are Solicited by St. Anne Society

These articles will be on display at the mission exhibit during the state meeting of the Catholic State League in Windthorst and will be forwarded to needy mission posts and hospitals.

Also solicited are cancer pads and bandages. The latter are to be six to nine feet long and one and three quarter inches wide rolled tightly. Pads' specifications are 6x6, 8x8 and 12x12 inches, edges pinked and stitched from corner to corner.

"Why I'm ashamed of you, my son," the father fumed at his loafing son. "When George Washington was your age, he had become a surveyor, and was hard at work."

"When he was your age," the boy said softly, "he was President of the United States."

A Negro woman of Wichita Falls, Maggie Preston, 66, died Sunday morning about 8:30 in a one car crash about 4 miles west of Muenster on Highway 82. She was Cooke County's first traffic victim of 1967.

She was dead on arrival at Muenster Hospital.

A daughter of the victim, Mrs. Florene Alexander, 31, also of Wichita Falls and her two children, Diane 11, and Donnie 10, were injured in the accident and were admitted to Muenster Hospital. The mother and son were listed in fair condition Wednesday. The daughter was dismissed Monday.

Mrs. Alexander was driving the Ford Falcon east bound as it ran off the left side of the highway, plunged into a ditch and tumbled over twice. The grandmother and the boy were thrown out of the car, which was demolished. Ambulances from Nocona and Saint Jo took the victims to the hospital.

These members of a Thailand young farmers' club are typical of world youth being mobilized by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations and supported by Massey-Ferguson, worldwide farm machinery manufacturer, in a unique project to battle the global hunger crisis. This Young World Food and Development Project is aimed at raising agricultural production and living standards in developing nations by strengthening rural, out-of-school youth programs to further train tomorrow's farmers in modern agricultural techniques. To plan necessary programs, aimed at involving 30 to 35 million young people in developing countries, the project has two stages; first, meetings of developing nations held in 1966 to determine needs, and second, meetings of developed nations to be held in 1967 to determine available resources to help meet these needs. ### 4-H Dress Revue For District Set July 27 and 28

Plans are now being completed for the District 4-H Dress Revue to be held at Seminary South at Fort Worth, July 27 and 28. Mrs. Bernice Thurman and Mrs. Cheryl Harrison attended a committee meeting in Fort Worth recently for the purpose of planning this event.

Representing Cooke County at the Dress Revue this year will be Miss Patty Pybas, of Sivelis Bend, Miss Joanie Rohmer of Muenster and Miss Margaret Pybas of Sivelis Bend will also attend the Dress Revue.

The District Revue climaxes the county 4-H Clothing Program which is begun in late winter continuing until early spring when the county revue is held and ribbons awarded and winners chosen.

The national 4-H Clothing program annually enrolls about three-quarter million girls from 9 to 19 years of age. Many mothers of today's members learned to sew when they were enrolled in this program now in its 27th year.

By participating in the clothing program over a period of years, the 4-H girl has an opportunity not only to have a fine wardrobe at low cost, but also to compete for valuable awards provided by various program sponsors.

This year six of the nation's most outstanding clothing members will receive $500 scholarships. Fifty — one from each state — will win all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Several thousand will earn the county medal.

Scholarships Are Available in ROTC

Eighty of a total of 800 four-year Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) scholarships awarded in the entire United States will be offered to outstanding high school graduates living in the five-state area encompassed by Fourth U.S. Army, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Of this number, 55 will be offered to Texans, the second largest individual state allocation; Virginia will have 61 scholarships. Winners were selected from over 12,000 high school seniors who applied.

Students selected for the scholarships may attend any of the 247 colleges and universities offering the four-year ROTC program in the United States. Each scholarship pays for tuition, textbooks, laboratory fees and provides a subsistence allowance of $50 a month. During a six-week summer camp between the junior and senior years of college, the student receives $151.95 per month.

In addition, the Fourth Army will receive 115 of a national total of 856 two-year ROTC scholarships, awarded to college students completing their second year of Army ROTC training.

The ROTC scholarship program was authorized by Congress in 1964. Approximately 2,200 scholarships were awarded during the past two years. The selection of recipients is based on academic excellence, extracurricular activities, physical standards, results of college entrance examination boards and evaluation of motivation and leadership potential. Upon graduation from college and successful completion of the Army ROTC program, scholarship students are commissioned second lieutenants in the U.S. Army and serve on active duty for four years.

High school seniors desiring to compete for the four-year scholarships next year should write for application blanks in December 1967 (or earlier) and submit completed applications by Jan. 15, 1968. Address letters to: Commanding General, Fourth U. S. Army, ATTN: AKAA-G, Fort Sam Houston, Texas 78234.

MALNUTRITION MAY IMPAIR LEARNING AND BEHAVIOR, NUTRITION FOUNDATION HOLDS

Poor nutrition during the first few years of life probably has an adverse effect on a child's later learning and behavior, the Nutrition Foundation reports.

It is well established that retardation of human physical growth occurs as a result of malnutrition. But only recently has evidence accumulated to suggest that mental development is at risk as well in severe malnutrition.

The Nutrition Foundation, financed by leading companies in the food and allied industries, recently set as one of its major goals the support of scientific studies on the relation between malnutrition and learning and behavior in children.

Studies with laboratory animals have clearly shown that malnutrition which stunts growth reduces learning ability, memory and behavior. It seems likely that children who suffer malnutrition are similarly afflicted. But scientific evidence to establish this point has not been accumulated.

At a recent meeting of the Trustees of the Nutrition Foundation, a research program which will spur studies on the relation between poor nutrition and learning and behavior in children was approved.

The Foundation for some time has supported studies investigating the possibility that poor nutrition impairs subsequent mental development in humans. The evidence is not all in yet, but studies already finished make it seem likely that children's ability to learn is adversely affected by malnutrition just as are the abilities of laboratory animals.

The problem is particularly important to technically underdeveloped countries of the world where there is not enough food — particularly, high-quantity protein food — for everyone. In these countries, children more often suffer from poor nutrition than do adults.

If children in these areas are crippled in mind because of poor nutrition in the early months of life, efforts to improve conditions — investments in schools and teachers, for example — are lessened in value. And the future of the world is threatened if future generations are being damaged in mind and body by malnutrition, the Nutrition Foundation holds.

A host of infections plague children in underdeveloped areas. These occur along with malnutrition. Infections and poor nutrition may work together to impair mental as well as physical growth. So well-planned studies are essential in assessing the part played by malnutrition in the development of children.

The Nutrition Foundation and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will hold an international scientific conference on "Malnutrition, Learning and Behavior" in March, 1967. Some of the world's leading educators, psychologists and nutritionists are expected to attend.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MUESTER:

SECTION 1. Effective with the first gas bills rendered on or after the 1st day of June, 1967, the general service rate for sales of natural gas rendered to residential and commercial consumers within the city limits of Muenster by Lone Star Gas Company, a Texas corporation, its successors and assigns, is hereby fixed and determined as follows:

First 800 cu. ft. or fraction thereof of $1.760 gross; $1.584 net
Next 1,200 cu. ft. at $1.482 per MCF gross; $1.334 per MCF net
Next 3,000 cu. ft. at .92 per MCF gross; .834 per MCF net
Next 20,000 cu. ft. at $3.9 per MCF gross; $3.4 per MCF net
Over 20,000 cu. ft. at $4.3 per MCF gross; $3.8 per MCF net

Each gross monthly bill shall be adjusted proportionately. Company, at its option, may forego the application of this adjustment; however, failure of Company to apply such adjustment shall not constitute a waiver of Company's right from time to time, or at any time, to make such adjustment, in whole or in part, in any subsequent current monthly bill that may be applicable to such bill.

Net rate shall apply to all bills paid within ten days from monthly billing date.

In addition to the aforesaid rates, Company shall have the right to collect such reasonable charges as are necessary to conduct its business and to carry out its reasonable rules and regulations in effect.

Council Allows Small Increase of Local Gas Rates

Lone Star Gas Company's request for increase in the local gas rate was approved by the Muenster city council at its Monday night meeting.

Along with the increase is another change, by which a customer who does not use gas during the month will not be charged. Formerly there was a minimum charge for everyone on the line. To avoid that charge a customer had to request a disconnection. Later he had to pay a $2.00 fee for re-connection.

The new arrangement allows non users in the summer to avoid a charge and also the re-connect fee. It is also a convenience to customers in that gas is immediately available when cold weather arrives.

The new agreement also anticipates possible new taxes in the future and provides that bills may be increased accordingly if any such additional taxes are imposed on the company.

Only a slight change will result in gas charges. Formerly the minimum was $1.53 for the first 1,000 cubic feet or fraction thereof. Now it is $1.58 for the first 800 cubic feet or fraction thereof. A customer using 800 cubic feet or less will pay 5 cents more.

After 800 feet the new rate is $1.334 per 1,000 cubic feet for the second bracket of 1,200 feet whereas it used to be the same rate per MCF for the second bracket of 1,000 cubic feet.

All of the increase is in the first 1,000 feet of gas used and the charge will be $1.84 by the new rate whereas it used to be $1.53. The rates for additional gas are exactly as they used to be.
