ON HOODLUM BRUTALITY

The other day we came upon a simple statistic out of Newark, N. J., which made us wonder why there wasn't a riot there last year, with the Newark Police Department doing the rioting. The men in blue certainly had cause.

During 1966, a total of 187 policemen in Newark were victims of hoodlum brutality. That's approximately 14 percent of the uniformed force. They were victims of "police brutality" in reverse, with hoods and punks providing the brutality. But since it's the police who get beaten and maimed, no one becomes indignant. No groups are organized to march on city hall or stage sitdowns at the state capitol. No one screams for federal funds to improve the lot of the poor persecuted men on the beat, build him a new house or train him for a less hazardous job. No politician even goes through the motions of appointing a commission to study the matter for a year or so, still after the next election.

So the policeman's lot continues to be an unhappy one, with all signs indicating that things are likely to get a lot worse. Not only is the policeman at the mercy of the hoodlums in a community; he is made a patsy by politicians who have no qualms whatever about jeopardizing the lives and property of decent people.

Some of the reports coming out of cities ripped apart by criminal mobs are almost incredible. We learn that police and law enforcement officers were ordered to stand by while hoodlums burned and looted. The reason? Action against this rabble might have "an-tagonized" them! In many cases the use of weapons was restricted to a point where they were little more than ornaments. Troops which might have quelled riots in their crucial early stages were kept inactive; guardsmen were told that if they happened to shoot anyone they would be held personally responsible and would have to face civil trial and a court martial. Police were subjected to harassment-by-law, as so-called "civil rights lawyers" filed suits against them for fantastic amounts.

Who wants to be a policeman in such an atmosphere? Would you?

One of these days the politicians responsible for this are going to wake up and find their communities—and themselves—without any protection whatsoever. Maybe by that time they will realize what they have done.

But it will take some recruiting drive to mobilize a police force on that day.

THE PARLIAMENT OF MAN

U Thant, Secretary-General of the United Nations, said in a speech at Uppsala, Sweden, in May, 1962: "The concept of taxing the rich according to their capacity to pay in order to cater to the poor according to their needs, is now well established as a simple canon of social justice in all democratic countries. It requires only little imagination to lift this concept to a higher plane, and to extend its scope from the country to the universe."

Karl Marx phrased it a little differently; he said, "From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs." And he left out the universe. Maybe what U Thant had in mind was the assessment of UN member nations. Sixty-two member nations of the UN, were assessed less than 3 percent of the UN budget for the year 1967. The precise amount is 2.56 percent.

If we add 21 nations, bringing the total to 82, or two-thirds of the UN membership, the assessment was 5.52 percent, according to the Yearbook of the United Nations.

Each of these 82 nations has one vote in the General Assembly. The United States has 17 votes. The 1967 assessment upon the United States was 31.91 percent. The assessment upon the 12 nations with Communist government totalled 21.69 percent.

When it comes to the specialized programs and agencies, and the so-called voluntary programs, the gap is even wider. UN contributions amount to about 45 percent of the overall total. Here the Communist nations lag even farther behind. Among other failures, they refused to contribute to the "peacekeeping operations" in Palestine or the Congo, in spite of World Court rulings that the assessments were legal.

"The expenses of the Organization," says the UN Charter, "shall be borne by the Members as apportioned by the General Assembly."

The contribution of the United States to the regular budget has been limited by Congress to not more than one-third of the total for any year. But year after year, Washington borrows money to pay the assessments and contributions, leaving a colossal debt that our children and their children will have to pay.

Of course, being debt-ridden and poor, our children may find U Thant's dictum to their advantage, and others, richer, may pay their assessments.

BIG CHANGE

Have you noticed how the civil rights movement has changed so drastically during the past twelve months? The civil rights issue no longer concerns only the southern states. It has now become an inflammatory issue in many of our big northern states where people and news media were eager enough to sound off about discriminatory practices against the Negroes so long as corrective legislation was aimed elsewhere, but who have become less enchanted about the whole deal now that their own property and their own rights have become threatened.

The civil rights marches, the violent demonstrations and the emergence of the "black power" advocates in many of the big cities in the north this summer have also played a major role in convincing many of our people that the civil rights movement has gone too far in too fast a time. This does not mean our people are opposed to "equal rights" but it does mean many think the term "equal rights" has now been distorted to the point of legislating "favoritism" for one class of our people. This is something civil rights leaders ought to think about hard and clearly.

The threats of more riots and further violence if their demands are not met are apt to help their cause as most of our people are already sick and tired of the lawless attitude these leaders are spawning across the country, and should this business continue the White "backlash" that has already sprung into being in many areas will grow that much stronger.

TRAINING COMMIES

Washington Observer Newsletter has for some time been warning about the Castro threat. For one thing, the island is a vast training ground for guerrillas trained by Soviet, Red Chinese, Spanish and other Communist cadre, including Viet Cong, who gained their murderous experience in Vietnam killing Americans.

Undergoing training there are Africans from various sections of the continent, Latin Americans, and Negroes from the United States. A total of some 10,000 guerrillas a year are trained in Cuba, then sent secretly to Castro's neighbors to do the work of murder, terrorism and agitation for which they have been trained.

A report from the anti-Communist Cuban underground reveals that 90 to 100 young Negro militants are recruited in the U.S. every month and conveyed to the Isle of Pines where they receive training making Molotov cocktails and in the use of other weapons. Then they are returned home and assigned to racially tense areas. Part of the training includes how to spread false rumors and incite riots.

The Isle of Pines has become Castro's guerrilla training center. All prisoners of the island have been removed and the former prison barracks now house thousands of young Communist recruits from the western hemisphere. No Cuban civilians are allowed there.

The whole operation is financed and supervised by Russia. Meanwhile, the "deal" that President Kennedy made with the Kremlin not to interfere with Castro's Cuba is scrupulously maintained by LBJ.

Of course, the training ground aspect is only one danger that the continued existence of Communist Cuba poses to the American people. Also as has been reported previously in WO, Cuba is a vast nuclear missile base which can be touched off at any moment against American cities, and a submarine base for operation of Soviet submarines. In the event of war, these subs could completely seal off the Panama Canal and Latin America from our East coast in case LBJ's pending treaties do not do the job.

IT'S AGIN THE LAW

The next time somebody asks you if you'll deliver a message to a friend in another city, or down the block even, you'd better play safe and say no. Being helpful could cost you as much as $500. That is, $500 a message.

Carrying a message to Garcia or anyone else is apparently a federal offense, and there is a penalty for violation that can run as high as $500 for each unstamped "message in writing" that is carried.

This interesting aspect of Big Brotherism was disclosed recently when a steel company in Colorado found mail service so unsatisfactory that it started delivering company memos and messages without benefit of the Post Office. To speed things up it set up its own pony express, an armored car that shuttled between the company headquarters in Denver and its plant offices in Pueblo, 120 miles away.

Everybody was happy except the Post Office. Despite the fact that Washington is dead set against monopolies, and the Justice Department is constantly warring on monopolists, the Post Office has a pretty tight monopoly on the delivery of mail. Just how tight that monopoly is was learned the hard way by the steel company when it started to deliver its own messages. Postal inspectors moved in faster than any mailman ever had.

Finally convinced that the steel men were trying to improve their operating efficiency and were not trying to put the Post Office out of business, the postal inspectors made no attempt to toss anyone in jail. However, they figured out how many messages had been hauled between Denver and Pueblo and handed the company a bill for $2,000—for postage due. The steel men paid, and resigned themselves to the same service they had been getting from the Post Office, disbanding their pony express over the Rockies.

Technically, it appears, the individual has the same out. It's all right to deliver a message to Joe Klots in the next town, or Danny the bartender in the neighborhood pub—so long as you stop in at the Post Office, buy a stamp and have it cancelled. At least that's what we understand from all this.

Somehow we think it can't be that simple. We'll bet that before you're allowed to make your appointed rounds you'll be called upon to take a civil service examination or at least get a letter from a district leader or some other political nabob.

It's amazing how great minds work along the same lines. It seems as though the inventor of the mini-skirt and Robert Fulton, inventor of the steam boat, both said the same thing upon viewing their new creations: "Now we don't have to wait for the wind."

Paulette Endres Tom Swirczynski Say Vows at Mass

Sacred Heart Church was the scene of wedding ceremonies Saturday at 4 p.m. when Miss Paulette Endres and Airman 2c Thomas Swirczynski pledged vows in a double ring ceremony at Nuptial Mass. Father Alcuin Kubis officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Endres and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski.

Anthony Luke, organist, and the men's choir provided music for Mass and Mrs. David Hess was vocal soloist before and after the service. Yellow gladioli adorned the altar.

Bride's attendants were her sisters, Miss Dianne Endres of Dallas, maid of honor, and Misses Connie and Nancy Endres, bridesmaids. They wore avocado green peau de soie floor-length dresses with lace Empire bodices and bell sleeves. They had matching bow and veiling headpieces and each carried a single long-stemmed bronze mum.

Another sister, small Rhonda Endres, was flower girl carrying the white gladioli bouquet the bride placed on the altar at the Blessed Virgin's shrine when Mass was over.

After the bride's attendants entered and met Roy Hartman, best man, and the bridegroom's brothers Donald and Kenneth Swirczynski, at the sanctuary, the bridegroom and his parents and then the bride and her parents walked up the aisle for the giving in marriage at the sanctuary steps.

The bride wore a white peau de soie gown with lace appliques accenting the Empire bodice and A-line skirt. A swallow train, attached at the shoulders, fell to cathedral length. Her veil was elbow length, held by a rolled peau de soie rose. She carried a white orchid and split carnations, and wore an antique gold cross and chain that her mother wore at her wedding. It was a gift from her grandmother, the late Mrs. Frank Hesse.

Wedding reception and buffet were held in the Parish Hall where Misses Donna Endres and Kathy Miller, cousins of the bride, registered 275 guests. The meal was catered by Mrs. Joe Lehnertz who also catered the wedding dinner for the bride's parents 23 years ago.

Hornets Expect Tough One Friday With Fannindel

Muenster Hornets have been warned to get set for lots of competition when they go to Fannindel Friday. Coach Glenn Richardson has a report on the team's performance with Anna last week — that it is husky and fast. Anna won a tight one 20-14.

Richardson and the Hornets expect to find a backfield with three stout fullbackers, another six footer at end and the rest of the players more nearly their own size. Their big hope is to keep the opposing line under control so that the big backs will have less chance to get going.

Possibility of doing that seems fair to Richardson. The Hornets have done a good job defensively in two scrimmages and one game. He's looking for another good job this week — unless Fannindel's line was under rated.

Offensively the Hornets are now grappling with a problem which came up in their Lindsay game. Penalties and fumbles were big handicaps which undoubtedly cost them in yardage and possibly also in scores.

A likely cause is coordination trouble which the Hornets are working on this week. Rookie quarterback Bobby Bruns had been out of action for almost two weeks with a rib injury. That left little time for him and the other backs to develop their ball handling teamwork.

Otherwise Richardson was pleased with his boys. The entire line was alert and rugged. Backs Sicking, Knabe, Hellman and Rennels were hard workers, consistently good for short gains. Considering the angles, Richardson thinks the Hornets have a good chance — but they'll need lots of hustle.

Fannindel is a consolidated school, a merger of Ladonia and Pecan Gap. To reach it from here follow US 82 to Honey Grove, turn right on Hwy 34, at flashing signal, and follow to Ladonia.

Canada Trip for Countians Fails to Reach Expo '67

Vacation trip this year was different from any they ever had, so say Mrs. Margaret Sicking and daughter Miss Theresa Sicking of Gainesville who were accompanied by Miss Dolores Laux of Lindsay. They were headed for Expo '67 but they didn't quite make it — time ran out.

They were in St. Jerome, Canada, when their car was rammed from behind by a truck and almost completely demolished... ruined beyond repair. It was almost miraculous that none of the occupants was hurt. There were five by this time. Visiting and sight-seeing on the way, the trio had picked up two of Mrs. Sicking's childhood friends at Falls City, Neb., Mrs. Embersen Keathley and Mrs. Fred Hunker.

At the wreck scene they met a wonderful couple, Mr. and Mrs. John DeVillers, who took all five of them to their summer home at a lake resort at St. Sophie. From there they all taxied to Montreal to visit Saint Joseph's Oratory. The famous shrine attracts two million pilgrims and visitors a year.

The two ladies from Nebraska also taxied to Expo '67 dur-

Captain Merriwether Lewis and William Clark set out 162 years ago with a small band of men from St. Louis to explore the vast unknown tracts to the west. President Thomas Jefferson had purchased the huge Louisiana tract for 15 million dollars from the financially embarrassed Napoleon Bonaparte the year before. The two-year Lewis and Clark expedition became perhaps the most famed American venture of its kind. This year, in conjunction with the bicentennial celebration in St. Louis, an authentic replica of the Lewis and Clark keelboat Discovery returned to St. Louis to add historical support to the city's title as 'Gateway to the West.' The boat's overall measurements are 55-feet in length, 12-feet in width and draws 3½ feet of water. Authentic equipment includes a 26-foot mast, rigging and square sail, long oars and rear pole rudder, the original method of locomotion.

One modern innovation on the replica which would have made the original Lewis and Clark expedition a good deal easier is a pair of Detroit Diesel 4-53 marine engines. After the celebration, owners R. J. Muntzel and Associates will use the Discovery as an excursion boat along the scenic Missouri river from Rocheport. Traveling much of the same route as its famed predecessor, Discovery will remain a lasting tribute to one of the most exciting American adventures.

ing the week's stay at the cottage while Theresa and Dolores went by bus to Detroit, Mich., where the Sicking's have friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tibbitts and son Robert, in the car business. The Tibbitts lived with the Sicking's when he was stationed at Camp Howze, and they went to Flint, Mich., for a new car.

Theresa and Dolores drove back to Canada for Mrs. Sicking and her two friends for the trip home. Sight-seeing on the way included the Canadian Niagara Falls at Ontario, across the bridge to Niagara Falls City, N.Y. to look at the Falls from the U.S. side. Here also they visited the Shrine of Our Lady of Fatima, a replica of the world-famous shrine in Portugal.

On the way going, there was sight-seeing in Iowa with its fields of corn and soy beans and a tour of the Amana Colony. They crossed the new Mississippi bridge into Illinois where farmers were combining grain. In Michigan City, Mich., they toured the International Friendship Gardens, and at Detroit stopped with their friends, the Tibbitts.

Other highlights of sight-seeing were a scenic drive through the Enchanted Mountains after the Huron Tunnel drive into Canada and a visit at the National Shrine of the North American Martyrs at Midland, Ontario.

On the way back they also stopped at Monroville, Ohio, for a short visit with Mrs. Sicking's cousins Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Bores, returned their friends to Falls City, Neb., and made their final stop at Frontier City U.S.A. near Oklahoma City.

They came back with an assortment of rocks from six states and Canada for Mrs. Sicking's rock collection, lots of pictures and souvenirs.

The trip covered over 6000 miles of driving in the two cars and all of it was interesting and enjoyable except the mishap and the disappointment to Mrs. Sicking, Theresa and Dolores not getting to see Expo '67 when they were so close.

Switzerland has two unique characteristics; it is the only modern nation where women are denied the right to vote, and it is probably the world's most trouble free country.

Scouts Cook Less, Canoe More

"Be Prepared," the time-tested motto of the Boy Scouts of America, is nowhere more appropriate than in the North Woods of Wisconsin, the site of the Boy Scouts' Region VII Explorer Canoe Base.

At the Canoe Base, Scouts are taught the fundamentals of good camping, including the importance of taking along wholesome foods that can be carried easily, prepared quickly, and maintain their freshness.

On the trail, Scouts use an imitation bacon which they mix in with eggs, canned meats, and an instant oatmeal that is made by simply adding boiling water to the contents of a single serving packet.

"Be Prepared," the Boy Scouts' motto, is a good motto for all family campers, too. The success of a good camping trip will depend on the planning before the trip.

Terrys Back from Colorado Vacation

Colorado was the vacation site this year for Mr. and Mrs. Bill Terry of Gainesville. They went to Fort Collins to visit friends, the Jack Schreiners. The two couples were together when the men were in the army in California.

The four went sight-seeing through the area, also to Golden, Colo., for a tour of Coor's Brewery, and to Central City, an old mining town.

Going, the Terrys stopped at Colorado Springs for sight-seeing and drove up Pikes Peak. After leaving Fort Collins they visited Estes Park and went up the Trail Ridge Mountain. The highway going up, they were told, is the longest continuous climbing highway in the world.

While they were away their small sons Tim and Tye had their vacation with their grandparents, the Tony Wiesmans at Gainesville and the W. M. Terrys at Valley View until Tim started kindergarten. His grandmother Wiesman helped him get settled.

WAR ESTIMATES

It has been revealed in Washington that estimates of Israel's ability to deal with the Arab armies made by U.S. military chiefs were very accurate. The Joint Chiefs of Staff, reporting directly to President Johnson, are said to have given him a better preview of the Israeli-Arab war than Israel's intelligence service gave President Eshkol.

We hope this means that President Johnson will put more stock in the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the future, and less in McNamara and his Whiz Kids.

Sardines are packed closely in a can because the fish are cheaper than the olive oil in which they are packed.

Another cheerful thought: Karl Marx would turn over in his grave if he knew this, but instead of a "handful of privileged capitalists" tightly grasping the reins of industry, as he predicted, in America 20 million and more people, (more than a quarter of the adult population), own stock in some 6,700 of the nation's industrial concerns ... and 35% of these "capitalists" are housewives and widows!

FLAGPOLE DELUXE
Commenting in the spending of taxpayer's money, Rep H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) said "in the Washington area a new building has been constructed for the Commerce Department's Bureau of Standards. It was supposed to cost $65 million. It is not yet completed and the cost is $107 million. But what really takes the cake in this deal was the erection at the front of the building of a 90-foot, stainless steel flagpole at a cost of $44,768. A $550 per-foot flagpole ought to make the eagle scream in any language!"

Students home for the weekend were Misses Barbara Schmitt, Mary Ellen Endres and Linda Zimmerer, students at the University of Dallas, and Misses Mary Hesse and Monica Fetsch who are student nurses at St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas.

Weekend visitors with the Ervin Hamrics were his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Hellman of Portalis, N. M., and the Hellmans' daughter Sandra and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gornick and baby son Kenneth of Pueblo, Colo.

After intermission the Hornets moved steadily for 59 yards to the Lindsay 13 but a 15 yard penalty put them back to the 28. Next two tries reached the 18, and a snarled effort on the fourth try caught Muenster back at the 26.

Then came Lindsay's finest performance of the night, three good plays fortunately grouped together. Brian Bezner ripped off 9 and 5 to the 40 then Eberhart sprinted 60 yards down the left sideline to pay dirt.

That put the Knights very much back in the game. Another TD would tie and extra points would win. Muenster fans got nervous on the very next play when a Hornet fumble gave Lindsay a chance from the 44. However the next four tries netted a 3 yard loss.

Muenster then made a first down and fell short on the second try. Lindsay failed in its series. Muenster made a first down and fumbled in the next

Lindsay Kids Host SH Cubs Tuesday

Football for the Tiger Cubs of Sacred Heart elementary grades has been going almost two weeks and is getting set now for its first test next Tuesday night.

That's when Coach Tom Williams will take his lads to Lindsay for a tussle with its seventh and eighth graders. Kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Confetti

demand which led up to the strike.

After all these years UAW should know that wage raises don't really help in the long run. They only keep the inflation spiral going. After a while price increases offset the wage hikes and workers are back at the same old level — except that their savings have lost in value. At the same time pay has shrunk for all who did not get raises, and so have savings of everyone in the country.

What this country needs is economic stabilization . . . a leveling off of wages and prices to assure a fixed value of fixed income and savings. The present method is nothing less than systematic stealing from the millions of people who have saved. It is morally wrong as well as economically unsound.
