VOLUME XXXI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 DECEMBER 1, 1967

For an A in advertising this column recommends Warner & Swasey of Cleveland, manufacturer of precision machinery, a company which follows a long time policy of selling Americanism as well as its own products.

Another outstanding ad of that nature appeared last week in US News and World Report. It's an editorial gem entitled "The more eager, the less anger." Here it is.

"In a large northern city some families in a desperately poor neighborhood got tired of dirt, and did something about it. Each raked up a load of trash from his tiny yard, swept the sidewalk, patched broken steps and railings, mended broken windows, and those who could, painted their houses. The idea spread to half a dozen other areas.

"In another city a group of Negro boys kept busy with brooms, mops and rakes, doing any clean-up job, and doing it well.

"In every city and town some families stand out — homes poor but clean, boys glad to run errands, girls anxious to baby-sit or clean house for working mothers. They know there is work to be found by any healthy person who wants it badly enough, and they're too busy doing it, to be angry at anything.

"These are the Americans whose pictures should be in the papers."

In our opinion, this kind of advertising can be classed as enlightened self interest and far sightedness. It is comparable to community boosting by a local firm on the premise that it will share in resulting progress.

But another consideration also stands out. This firm, like the local concern, is aiming at immediate benefits which help others first. The direct appeal is for a better country made up of people who live up to the high principles and ideals by which our national greatness was attained, by which it must be sustained.

As regards the content of the editorial above, it is a thought which deserves national attention. If more people will try to make the most of circumstances in which they live they will find much less reason for discontent.

With very few exceptions the people who complain most about how little is done for them are those who do very little to help themselves.

A few months ago the subject of urban rat control developed into a big issue. Some people were deploring the fact that human beings got less consideration than animals, that a rat control program was adopted for farms but not for urban ghetto areas.

We often hear about some people's deplorable living condition, prompting the bleeding heart element to demand new housing for them at taxpayers expense. But the record shows that unlivable conditions result from vandalism and neglect rather than honest wear — also that much of the honest wear can be offset by normal care.

Much of this country's poverty is self imposed. Sometimes by living beyond one's means, sometimes by failing to take care of what one has, sometimes by plain laziness and demanding relief rather than taking available work.

This is the element of poor folks which needs to be reached by a nation wide educational campaign stating that our national sympathy is reserved for those who suffer through no fault of their own, and they are the only ones who qualify for help.

This idea prompts us to wonder whether the welfare program could not be changed in that respect. Why not adopt a national policy of more

Local KC Council Hosts Initiation of 25 New Members

Twenty five men from six councils of this area joined the Knights of Columbus Sunday in a second and third degree initiation hosted by the Muenster council. Other councils represented were Gainesville, Denton, Sherman, Denison and Pilot Point.

Fifteen of the new members were initiates of the Muenster council and the others were divided among the other five councils. The Muenster men were David Fisher, Robert Fisher, Tom Flusche, Dan Hamric, Eddie Hellman, Pat Hennigan Jr., Tommy Herr, Dennis Hess, Joe Knaf, Leon Knaf, Steve Kralic, Ricky Stewart, Donald Stoffels, Conrad Walterscheid and Robert Walterscheid.

Third degree of the order was conferred by State Warden Henry LaLande assisted by District Warden Tom Murphy. Second degree ceremonies were conducted by officers of the Rhineland council joined by their former member, Dr. Martin Kralic.

The day's program started at 10:30 a.m. with group attendance of members and candidates at Mass in Sacred Heart Church. After Mass, candidates were guests of their councils for breakfast at Rohmer's Restaurant.

Initiation ceremonies started at 1 o'clock and lasted until about 4 o'clock. During that time visiting ladies were entertained by a committee of local KC wives in the community room of the TP&L Building.

After initiation, ladies joined the Knights in the KC Hall for a get together extending into the night. A dinner catered by Rohmer's Restaurant was served in the basement beginning at 6 o'clock and a dance upstairs started at 7:30.

Parochial Cagers Drop Opens to Callisburg Teams

First basketball games of the season for the Sacred Heart teams were losses, but by gratifying scores. Playing Callisburg's two classy outfits the SH girls lost 42-24 and the boys lost 40-34. Coach Tom Williams was pleased with both games.

In the opener the visitors took a strong lead in the first quarter and spread their margin a little in each of the remaining three periods. Scores ending the quarters were 13-3, 21-9, 32-17 and 42-24.

Scorers for the Tigerettes were Margaret Kralic 10, Joyce Schmitt 8, Kay Klement 6. The Tigers did all right on field goals and ball handling but beat themselves by missing foul shots and giving the opponents too many foul shots. The Tigers fouled 20 times and the Wildcats 10 times. Tigers made 2 free points and the Wildcats 12. Sacred Heart led by 4 on field goals.

Callisburg was ahead all the way, by counts of 9-4, 22-15, 32-22 and 40-34 ending the four periods. Top scorers for Sacred Heart were Lee Roy Hess 17 and Tommy Hess 13. The teams will compete in a tournament at Alvord this weekend beginning Friday night. First opponent for each will be Alvord, the girls' game at 8:30 and the boys' game at 9:45.

22 Players Named To Get Awards as Tiger Lettermen

Twenty two boys of the Sacred Heart football team have their 1967 letters now or will receive them soon. Those who are receiving jackets received them Tuesday. Those receiving sweaters or blankets are still waiting.

The jacket is described by Coch Tom Williams as very similar to last year's. It is red with a white monogram M superimposed by the letters SH in red. It also has the player's uniform number in white and white bars to indicate the number of years as a letterman.

The list of lettermen includes the entire squad, Williams said. They are Ken Stoffels, Lee Roy Hess, Chris Walter, Tom Hess, Steve Hess, Melvin Schilling, Doyle Hess, Fred Fuhrmann, Ben Fleitman, Jim Dangelmayr, Bob Miller, J. D. Luttmere, Bill Bayer, Paul Bayer, Jerry Schmitz, Kevin Swirczynski, Dan Schmitt, Kenny Schmitz, Tim Bindel, Stan Endres, Glenn Schoech and Gilbert Hess.

Fog and Drizzle Of 3 Days Produce 3.6 in. of Moisture

Damp and dreary weather, the kind that is typically winter in this area, arrived this week. Three days of fog and light drizzle have been occupied in precipitating a puny rain measure of only 3.6 inch. Readings on Steve Moser's official gauge were .27 on Tuesday and .09 Thursday.

That Thursday reading was the last for this month and completes the November record at only .96 inch. Likewise below normal is the year's total to date — only 26.12 inches. More than average for December will be needed to bring the year's total to 30 inches.

Temperatures have been moderate. Tuesday was coldest with readings in the thirties. Wednesday and Thursday readings rose to the high forties.

Building Activity Continues Steady

Community progress remains evident in and around Muenster nowadays in the number of construction jobs under way or recently finished. Activity includes a new factory building and a number of smaller jobs, both commercial and residential, in new structures and remodel or repair work.

Also welcome to the community though in different categories are two other local projects — conversion of Highway 82 east into a four lane highway and installation of Cable TV. All combine as an indicator that Muenster is going forward.

Newest on the building program in Muenster are homes that will get under way for the David Brights and the Herbert Millers as soon as workers can get on the jobs.

The Brights have had a groundbreaking ceremony for the house that will be across the lake between Henry Weinzapfel and Sixth street. It's planned as a story and a half, masonry construction, central heating and cooling, six bedrooms, three baths, double garage.

The Millers plan a four bedroom house with three bathrooms, brick veneer, central heating and cooling, rough cedar siding.

THE SIDE WE'RE ON

Like many other Americans we are on the receiving end of a lot of propaganda urging us to use our influence to get the United States out of Vietnam. We probably get more of this propaganda than most people because the propagandists would like nothing better than to get the support of this and other newspapers to help them in their crusade. They can look elsewhere. Little of this material comes from out-and-out Communist sources, but the distinction is academic. Almost without exception what these people are calling for is precisely what is being demanded by official Communist publications, from Pravda and Izvestia to Worker and People's World, in this country. As for the sponsoring organizations, we don't think that any one of them could ever be described as flag-waving and superpatriotic. Invariably they are off somewhere in left field, promoting causes that are not likely to be in the best interest of the United States.

The latest broadside to come to hand invites us to contact, Committee of the Professions, New York SANE, Universities Committee, Teachers Committee, or the Women Strike For Peace. It quotes the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., who recently got TV and slick-magazine space by calling for paralyzing strikes and massive civil disobedience to protest the Vietnam war. The Reverend says we should end the bombing, end our military buildup, and start dealing with a coalition group which include the Communists. He's too tactful to call them that, however. He refers to them as the National Liberation Front.

It may be that the Reverend Doctor is a wizard with the Holy Writ — according to Martin Luther King, but keeping in mind the lives and well-being of a half-million GI's in Vietnam, we think we'd prefer to rely on the testimony of our men in uniform in Vietnam who are of the unanimous opinion that our men would be a lot safer today if we had not previously heeded the Kings and the Spocks and other non-experts in regard to military matters. Because we refrained from purposeful bombing and halted our bombing at other times, defenses were built by the Reds, and offensives were undertaken by them. The result has been an unnecessary toll of our own men.

The organizations promoting Dr. King's views may just as well take this paper off their mailing list. We happen to be on the American side.

THE BRIGHTER SIDE

The National press, and that includes radio and television news, tends to give the impression that the campuses of this nation's educational institutions are peopled by hippies, drug addicts and insurrectionists. This is a weakness of the reportorial process and a good example of what Palmer Hoyt of the Denver Post recently called over-communications.

Recently, for instance, the campus news gatherers at the

"Cures" Persist By Coincidence

Coincidence played a large part in establishing the reputed effectiveness of traditional remedies in medical folklore, points out TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.

Warts, which come apparently from nowhere and often disappear for no apparent reason, gave undeserved reputations to innumerable remedies which happened to be used just preceding the spontaneous disappearance of a wart. The self-limiting character of many diseases, such as the milder sore throats and colds, also caused simple herbs and other home methods to gain a curative reputation which they did not merit, the health book says.

Here are the facts about some of the common misconceptions regarding health—

- There is no medicine which can be taken by mouth to dissolve gallstones.
- Heart disease is not necessarily a reason for refusing an operation or for being afraid to take anesthetics.
- Flowers absorb some oxygen, but the principal reason they are removed from the sick room at night is because they keep better in the open air.

• Insulin does not cure diabetes; it substitutes for the insulin which the body is unable to provide for itself.

• Premature baldness in men is not caused by wearing hats; nobody knows what causes it.

• Cancer has not been shown to be contagious.

• It is not important to lie on the right side when sleeping to keep from interfering with heart action; the heart actually is in the middle of the chest and not on the left side.

• Persons over 40 need not avoid strenuous exercise if they have been accustomed to it and are in good condition.

• Removing a mole will not result in cancer; cancer is more likely to result from not having it removed if it ought to be.

University of North Carolina reported that some 500 students had gone to Washington to join the anti-Vietnam war protestors. Now, five hundred odd-balls, protestors or just plain conscientious objectors is a sizeable number from any one campus if taken by itself.

What was needed to complete the news item was a reminder that there are 14,000 students registered at Chapel Hill and that 96.5 percent of them elected to stay on campus and attend to the business of getting an education. Unfortunately, that wasn't news, nor is it news in California, Chicago, or at Yale or Harvard.

A recently conducted survey of colleges and universities showed, first of all, that campus rioters, Vietnam protestors and other demonstrators were a small minority which could hardly be called representative of today's college students.

In the second place, college administrators and faculty members, almost without exception, consider this generation of students the finest yet. They are idealistic, they work diligently and they try to face their problems honestly, say their professors. And because they are honest, they are ready and willing to challenge adult authority and old concepts of education.

This is good, and it is good to remember when headlines make it seem that today's students are concerned more with revolt and demonstrate than with learning.

WORD MONOPOLY

For some time now, Donald Turner, trust-buster extraordinaire of the Justice Department, has been busy trying to make a case for taking General Motors apart. When he gets the time, he might look into another kind of monopoly, one that has far more sinister overtones than the one that turns out Chevys, Buicks and other GM products.

Since it's a Russian monopoly it may be out of his jurisdiction, but we have the impression that our own Don doesn't let technicalities get in the way when he decides he wants to disassemble something. In any case, this particular monopoly supplies translators of the written and spoken word to the United Nations.

The Soviet Union is the only nation in the world which provides a linguistic training service for the UN. For six years now, since 1961, it has had a tidy arrangement for screening and training Russian-language experts for UN jobs in New York, Vienna, Geneva and Paris. At last count, 63 graduates of the Moscow Institutes of Foreign Languages training school hold UN jobs. This word trust is supported jointly by the Soviet Union and the United Nations Secretariat, each paying $100,000 a year to provide a continuing supply of translators.

Needless to say, the graduates are Russians. And one can reasonably surmise — in view of the way the Kremlin does things — that the training of these people will cover more than languages. They will, after all, be working in highly strategic places where they can put in a good Russian word now and then, or maybe use a hopeful though distorted phrase. Equally important, they can on occasion overhear a few words in other languages that will prove enlightening to their colleagues in this country and back home.

It is interesting in this respect to note that the course of study offered at the Moscow Institute of Foreign Languages includes special terminology used in various committees of the UN, notably space and economic groups. Our hunch is that the course of study includes at least a smattering of words that deal with military matters too.

"We try to prepare them totally for their jobs," said a Mrs. Zaya Zarabina, liaison officer between the Institute and the UN.

Which is precisely the point we're trying to make.

J. W. Hammond, 79
Former President Of Texas FB Dies

J. Walter Hammond, 79, former president of the Texas Farm Bureau, died at his home in Abilene Saturday following a long illness. Funeral services were held Monday in that city.

Mr. Hammond, known as the "Father of the Texas Farm Bureau," is survived by one daughter, Mrs. W. D. Wolford, Abilene, and two grandsons. His wife died Nov. 22, 1964.

Mr. Hammond was elected president of the fledgling Texas Farm Bureau in 1939, when it was still known as the Texas Agricultural Association. The name was changed shortly after he became president when the organization affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation. The Taylor County farmer served as president of the TFB for 18 years, until 1957. Nationally known in agricultural circles, he was a member of the AFBF board of directors for 17 years during that time.

Sidney Dean, TFB president, paid this tribute to the memory of Mr. Hammond: "Farm Bureau, as well as agriculture, has lost a true and valuable friend. His passing recalls the great leadership which contributed so much in securing this organization's rightful place in the agricultural history of Texas."

During Mr. Hammond's tenure, the TFB grew from less than 5,000 members in a few organized counties to more than 70,000 members in almost 200 counties.

Best Variety Ever Presented in 1967 Christmas Cards

New York... For Christmas this year, there are more "happenings" involving "new design motifs" — "new color schemes" — "new papers" and many innovations in exciting graphic arts processes, than ever before in the history of American Christmas cards, according to Steve Shannon, Executive Director of The National Association of Greeting Card Publishers.

From Christmas card headquarters, the word is that not only are there going to be more Christmas cards this year, but they will be bigger, brighter and more colorful.

The Association estimates that over three and one-half billion cards will be mailed this year — an increase of about 8% over Christmas 1966. It will require nearly two hundred million dollars worth of postage to mail them.

Greece has eighty-five million olive trees or ten trees for every Greek. It is further reported nearly sixty million American families will be remembering friends and loved ones with an average of seventy-five Christmas cards.

Five More Cities Approve Sales Tax

Five more Texas cities have given overwhelming approval to one per cent city tax levies. Huntsville, Uvalde, Seguin, Commerce and Llano voters asked for the tax by margins ranging from two-to-one to eight-to-one.

So far, 33 cities have approved the local revenue-raising method passed by the Legislature this year although it was believed to be highly controversial. Only two, Lufkin and Electra, have turned it down.

Next two elections — December 2 — are in Galveston and Kilgore. Fifty-six cities will vote on December 5, including Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth.

BUSINESS FINANCES 4-H CLUB YOUTH

BUSINESS leaders from across the nation met recently in Chicago to learn what is new in 4-H and to discuss continued financial support. Their firms annually contribute more than $1½ million covering some 50 national and regional 4-H award programs.

Hosting 1,650 teenage delegates to the 46th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago is another function of the 4-H award donors. The annual congress referred to as the "showcase of 4-H" gets under way the Sunday after Thanksgiving.

Pursue Excellence

The congress theme "Pursuit of Excellence" sets the tone for the week-long event which culminates years of diligent work on a wide range of 4-H programs. The trip awards were based on excellence in a completed project plus a record of outstanding 4-H achievement over a period of years.

"Learning about plans for participation in the National 4-H Club Congress," said Raymond C. Firestone, chairman and chief executive officer of The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, "is always inspiring to me." Firestone, who also is vice president of the National 4-H Service Committee, addressed the 4-H donors' meeting.

Firestone continued: "4-H believes in competition, and while rewarding outstanding accomplishment, it also teaches that one should accept defeat gracefully and profit by mistakes. No other organization provides a better training ground for democratic processes, or a better appreciation of our free enterprise system."

Long-term Support

Awards and other aids to 4-H are provided by American business enterprises on a voluntary basis. Such support has been going on almost since the start of club work for boys and girls in the early 1900's, according to the National 4-H Service Committee. Funds are channeled to 4-H youth through the committee in cooperation with federal and state extension services of the land-grant universities, and U.S. Department of Agriculture.

When the 4-H'ers return to home and school, they will have added another dimension to their already well-rounded young lives. They will have experienced fellowship with teenagers from Coast-to-Coast better understanding of the anxieties of today's youth; a broader cultural background, and the never-to-be-forgotten "trip to congress." More than 300 youths will be the richer by scholarships worth $164,000.

Among the 4-H award donors are: American Forest Products Industries; Chevron Chemical Company; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company; The Milwaukee Road; Chicago & North Western Railway Company; Cities Service Oil Company; The Conrad Hilton Hotel; John Deere; Elgin National Watch Company; Ford Motor Company Fund; Homelite, A Division of Textron Inc.; Illinois Central Railroad; International Harvester Company; International Minerals & Chemical Corporation, and Livestock Conservation, Inc.

Others are: Massey-Ferguson Inc.; Edwin T. Meredith Foundation; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation; Pure Oil Division, Union Oil Company of California; Pyrofax Gas Corporation; Santa Fe Railway System; The Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc.; The Singer Company; The S&H Foundation, Inc.; Standard Brands Incorporated; Sunbeam Corporation; Tupperware; The Upjohn Company, and The West Bend Company.

Cunninghams Join For Get-Together

The Herbert Cunninghams had a family gathering at their home during the holiday weekend, and their newest grandchild was baptized in Sacred Heart Church. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bridier of Fort Worth had their infant son out for the first time on the trip to Muenster and Father Andrew officiated at the christening service. The baby's name is Stephen Todd Bridier. His grandparents, the Cunninghams, attended as godparents at the Sunday afternoon ceremony.

Other visitors were the Herb Cunninghams Jr. and children Brian and Kim of Fort Worth and another son, Ronnie Cunningham, separated from the Navy. He came in Saturday morning from San Diego, Calif.

Only family member missing was Earl Cunningham who is soldiering in Vietnam.

The Cunninghams Jr. divided time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Kieninger and sons.

Four Rural Loans Made by FHA in Cooke-Montague

The Cooke & Montague County Office of the Farmers Home Administration made 4 loans for construction or improvement of Water Supply systems and Sewer Systems in Fiscal 1967, according to John D. Cunningham, County Supervisor. About 75,000 Texas Farm and other rural people benefited from such loans and grants last year estimates County Supervisor Cunningham. Texas led the nation in total activity, advancing $23,275,870 in loans and grants to develop or improve 139 water or waste disposal systems during 1967. The Texas projects, which are spread through 97 counties, were financed with $22,304,600 loans and more than $971,270 in grants.

The rural water and waste disposal systems are organized through initiative by town governments, other public bodies or private non profit associations formed by prospective users in communities of less than 5,500 population. The loans are repaid from the earnings of the systems during periods of up to 40 years at 5% interest.

"These systems are becoming a major force in bringing rural living conditions and economic opportunities up to national standards", Mr. Cunningham explained. "Differences will continue to be less noticeable as rural communities offer the same facilities as cities."

Many of the communities helped by FHA were dependent upon wells, cisterns, springs, and water hauled in by truck as their only source of water, and on aged, inadequate septic tanks until FHA made available their financial assistance.

Christmas Bulb Glows On

Back in 1919 the Harvey Ross family of suburban Chicago decorated its Christmas tree with the antique bulb, right. This December it will glow again for the 48th consecutive year. In contrast to the General Electric miniature lamps of that day are the new lighted ice lamps, which look like white snowballs until they're lighted, then produce a soft-colored glow. They come in a variety of colors, both for indoor and outdoor use.

thorough inquiry into welfare cases and giving less to those who are less deserving? This may not seem politically feasible, because the moochers make up a sizeable voting bloc. On the other hand it might appeal strongly to voters who are paying the bills. And it might eventually bring our welfare program closer to its original purpose — to help those who really need help.

A puzzle. Why hasn't our government told the public that communists were behind the anti-war march on the Pentagon October 21?

Representative Ford of Michigan asked that question a few days ago after Representative Albert of Oklahoma mentioned in a speech that the demonstration was "basically organized by International Communism."

Ford referred to a secret report read by President Johnson to Republican leaders the day after the demonstration, and urged in a speech on the House floor that LBJ reveal its contents to the American people. The point is that the President knew all along that reds are responsible for all of the disgraceful affair but chose not to expose them. Why?

This is a strange situation, to say the least. Silence on the point was equal to implying that average Americans were making the protest. At the same time it served to hide the guilt of traitorous American reds and their probable collusion with the Hanoi government.

Naturally we wonder about the president's motive for secrecy. Did he wish to avoid offending the Soviets because of his "bridge building" ambitions? Was he simply ashamed to admit that the enemy put on this embarrassing stunt under the noses of government officials? Whatever the answer, the demonstration gave Hanoi a propaganda scoop and made our country look silly.

News services too share in responsibility for the boner. At least a few commentators exposed communist affiliations of the ring leaders and stated that the affair was communist managed all the way. Big news services had equal opportunity to know the truth — and plenty of reason to tell the world.
