VOLUME XXXI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 MARCH 15, 1968

NUMBER 17

Any act which, if committed in wartime would constitute treason under the Constitution, should be punishable as a criminal offense.

That is the substance of the Internal Security Act of 1968, which Senator James Eastland of Mississippi is sponsoring for passage as a law of the land — a law which is urgently needed to deal with enemies inside our own country.

It's a regrettable fact that many acts of recent years which have been harmful to the best interests of our country, and at the same time gave aid and comfort to the enemy, have actually been treasonable in nature but could not be identified as treason because our country is not technically at war. There has been no formal declaration of war. So the enemies within our own ranks enjoy an absurd freedom to say and do things which are intended to damage us.

Senator Eastland very logically contends that "any person who owes allegiance to the US and yet gives aid and comfort knowingly and willfully to the Viet Cong or to North Vietnam or to any other nation or armed group engaged in open hostilities against the United States, hostilities in which American boys are fighting and dying, certainly should be punished. But so long as we remain in a state of cold war, where the constitutional crime of treason is virtually impossible to commit, there will be no way to reach persons who aid the adversaries of the United States" — that is, under our present law. Obviously a new law is needed to cope with this kind of presently excused treasonable behavior.

Some of the acts covered by Eastland's proposal, acts which have shocked the nation in the past few years, are collecting and sending blood to the Viet Cong, trying to halt troop trains, demonstrating outside plants which make war materials for our troops, some of the so called peace demonstrations, and publicly denouncing our country here and abroad. All are deliberately intended to hurt our war effort and help the enemy's.

By the very nature of its title, the proposed law should apply also to various other deeds which are harmful to the country even though less directly related to the war. For instance, agitating riots and advocating the overthrow of our government. The characters who do those things are unquestionably enemies of the country. In war time their acts would be regarded as unquestionably treasonable. All should become subject to punishment under the law.

The recommendations by the Mississippi senator are fine, but unfortunately they do not go far enough. Another desperate need is the revival of some former laws in restraint of communism, which have been nullified by the Supreme Court. The loyalty oath should be re-instated as a requirement for employment in a defense plant, a public school or the government.

Regardless of the Court's lenient interpretations on a man's rights to his convictions, most Americans are convinced that a person of questionable loyalty has no right to jobs which concern our welfare. Such a person can betray the country by sabotaging vital equipment or leaking vital information to the enemy, or withholding vital information from our own government. As a teacher such a person can poison the minds of students with teachings that ignore or ridicule American ideals while favoring the enemy.

Internal security applies also to such cases. All of them are very real threats to the well being of this nation, and its very survival. Those enemies can do tremendous damage to our country's best interests by producing defective war material, by betraying official trust, by destroying patriotism and loyalty. If and when the chips are down such damage could make the going more difficult for us, perhaps contribute to our defeat.

Our official attitude of softness to communists is one of the nation's principal security risks. It is a well known fact that communism is more than a social and political theory. It is an international conspiracy, loyal to an alien power and dedicated to world domination. Its members in this country are public enemies determined to overthrow our government. Their presence in any vital position violates every principle.

Doris Schmitt Is Spelling Champ At Sacred Heart

Doris Schmitt, eighth grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Schmitt, is Sacred Heart School's 1968 spelling champion.

The spell-down this year started with 40 students, top spellers in elimination contests in grades five, six, seven and eight.

Nancy Fuhrmann, seventh grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Val Fuhrmann is runner-up. The bee started at 9:30 a.m. in the high school gym Friday with Mrs. Steve Moser as pronouncer. About a dozen were still spelling when time out was called for lunch. Spelling was resumed at one o'clock with Mrs. Joe Felderhoff as pronouncer and the final finish came at about 2 o'clock when Nancy tripped on "levidity" which Doris spelled correctly and then sailed through "longitude" to win the crown.

She will represent Sacred Heart in the County Bee at Gainesville. Sister Georgia was bee organizer and sponsor at Sacred Heart School.

Four Elections Without a Contest Set for April 6

The ballot for election of directors in the Muenster Hospital District will have five candidates listed for five available positions.

With passing of the deadline for filing candidacy, Rufus Henscheid, secretary, said that the five directors whose terms expire this year have all filed as candidates for re-election, but no others have filed. The five are Albert Dangelayr, Alphonse Felderhoff, Norbert Felderhoff, Rufus Henscheid and Ray Voth.

That makes the third uncontested ballot for the three local elections to be held on April 6. Richard Grewing and Aubrey Tuggle are unopposed for re-election to the city council. Ray Wilde and Robert Bayer are unopposed on the school board ticket.

Still another uncontested election on April 6 is that for representative at large on the Cooke County school board. Herman Hartman is unopposed for re-election.

The only choice offered to local voters will be in the election of regents on the board of Cooke County Junior College. The ballot will list three candidates for two positions: W. E. Levell and incumbents Boyd Ware and Paul Campbell.

The three school board elections will be combined on the ballot.

Dr. Antonetti to Attend Auxiliary Meeting Thursday

Muenster Hospital Auxiliary's meeting next Thursday, March 21, will be held in the Medical Center and will introduce Dr. and Mrs. Alfredo Antonetti to the members.

A film and refreshments are also on the program. Starting time is 8 p.m. and all members are being urged to attend, according to Mrs. Henry Starke, president.

Stockmen Asked to Brucellosis Meeting

The Brucellosis eradication program adopted by stockmen of Cooke County will begin on March 22 in the southwest part of the county and a meeting to organize it has been set for next Tuesday night, the 19th, in the community center building of Era.

County Agent Neil Tibbets announced the meeting this week in cooperation with a Dr. Horn, veterinarian in charge of the program in about 20 counties. Dr. Horn will be at the meeting to explain it fully and begin setting up a testing schedule.

Tibbets said a Brucellosis testing laboratory will come into the county on March 22 and the testing will start promptly after that. For the program the county is divided into four areas with Highways 82 and 35 as dividing lines. The southwest area will be tested first.

Vincent called to let them know that Johnny had called from Washington, D. C., reporting arrival and they were on their way to meet him at the airport. In the evening Johnny telephoned to talk with his grandparents.

Alumni Teams Win 2 Volley Trophies

Sacred Heart Alumni volleyball teams came home with a pair of runner-up trophies from the tournament in Nacoma last week.

Alumni men got into the championship on a forfeit by Bridgeport, beat O'Neal's in elimination and lost to Lindsay's Prestolite in the final. Ladies beat O'Neal in their opener and Melba's of Jacksboro in the second then lost the championship to Byers.

Four local teams are playing in the Saint Jo tournament this week — Alumni men and ladies and also Center men and ladies.

Maximum Credit On Fire Insurance Continues in City

Muenster people continue to enjoy the maximum credit of 25 per cent on their fire insurance premiums. Notification to that effect was received by the city last week.

Mayor Earl Fisher said that the maximum credit, which has been in effect for more than ten years, is the city's reward for a good fire record. It means that Muenster fire insurance premiums, as determined by the key rate, can be reduced by one fourth.

On the other hand, a city with a bad fire record can be penalized as much as 15 per cent. There was a time many years ago when the city was subject to the maximum penalty. One sizeable loss then in relation to the city's total insurance, could have resulted in the bad record. Since then, however, the city has maintained a good record and gradually earned the maximum credit. Improvement of credit rating is limited to five per cent a year.

Muenster firemen are due most of the credit for the city's good rating. Several times in recent years their promptness and efficiency has prevented potentially heavy losses.

Muenster's key rate of 35 cents, Fisher also stated, is very low for a city of its size. By meeting various specifications of equipment in the water and fire departments and also in the attendance of firemen at meetings and practice and special training courses, the city earns successive reductions in the key rates.

If it had salaried firemen instead of volunteers it could earn another 10 cent reduction. That, however, would not be practical. Salaries for the extra city employees would be higher than the savings realized.

Loan, Grant OK'd For Lindsay Sewer

Mayor Joe Beznar of Lindsay has received word from Congressman Graham Purell that final approval has been granted on a Farmers Home Administration loan of $108,210 and a grant of $47,590 for a sewer system at Lindsay.

Mayor Beznar said the new system will include 106 families.

Hartman Listed on A&M Honor Roll

Joe Hartman has been named a Distinguished Student at Texas A&M University. Dr. Wayne C. Hall, academic vice president has announced.

He is a sophomore mechanical engineering major, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hartman, a graduate of Muenster High School.

The undergraduate honor is awarded to students with a grade of at least 2.25 out of a possible 3.0 during the most recent semester. Also required is enrollment for at least 15 semester hours and no grade lower than C. The rank is limited to the top 10 per cent of A&M undergraduate enrollment.

Revised Count of Local Voters: 1073

Add 126 to the original report on Muenster's voting strength. A revised figure received this week from County Tax Assessor-Collector Jo Hillis shows that the combined strength of the two local boxes is 1073 instead of 947. There was a miscount in the original rush to get out reports, she said.

The latest list shows 879 in North Muenster and 194 in South Muenster.

The revised list for all of the county, however, has changed very little. It is 10,331 now, was 10,335 in the earlier report.

The big increase in Muenster's list points up the fact that almost one fourth of the local voters are over 60 years old. This year's total is 264 above the total of poll tax receipts and exemptions in 1964, when persons over 60 were not required to get a receipt or exemption. Now everybody must register. So, it appears that the difference in number of voters on record then and now is the approximate count of local people over 60.

Registrations in the 34 voting boxes of the county are listed as follows.

Ward 1 1266, Ward 2 456, Ward 3 1115, Ward 4 2402, Ward 5 1638, Dexter 40, Coesfield 57, Callisburg 349, N. Woodbine 124, S. Woodbine 142, Burton 59, Bloomfield 54, Burns City 83, Valley View 382, Era 257, Rosston 112, Hood 64, S. Muenster 194, N. Muenster 879, Myra 119, Marysville 27, Bulcher 62, Sivells Bend 58, N. Lindsay 316, S. Lindsay 76.

Bob Scofield of Lewisville Runs For Legislature

Bob Scofield, Lewisville lawyer, this week authorized the Enterprise to announce that he is a candidate for state representative of Cooke and Denton counties in the coming election.

Scofield attended Texas A&M University and Texas University Law School, receiving his law degree from the latter. He served with the Marines in the Pacific during World War II.

Scofield spent two years in law practice in the office of the late Cecil Murphy in Gainesville and has also spent four years in the office of the State Attorney General in Austin. He is in private practice in Lewisville now. He is married, has three children.

Scofield's formal statement to voters will appear in a later issue of The Enterprise.

Area Gets More Rough Weather

Rugged winter weather made another unwelcome visit to the community this week, hopefully its last as far as local people are concerned. It was a part of the cold front which covered the Texas Panhandle with a heavy blanket of snow and plunged temperatures in the greater part of the state.

It came in Sunday following two balmy days with a slow drizzle and a mercury drop to the thirties. By 7 a.m. Monday the rain measure reached 1.08 inches.

Slow rain continued until about 1 p.m. then turned to snow while the temperature remained just above freezing. For his official record Steve Moser estimated the snow's depth at two inches and its moisture measure at .33 inch. The moisture measure Tuesday morning was .78 and the temperature was at the freezing mark. Rising temperature during the day disposed of most of the snow.

After a low of 23 Wednesday morning the cold wave appeared to be on its way out.

Neither the moisture nor the temperature was what local people wanted. Cecil Chaney of the Soil Conservation Service said that excessive rain is giving grain fields a sickly yellowish look and is also preventing some seasonal field work. Bermuda plantings are over due. So are fertilizer top dressing on grain fields and tillage work for spring planting.

At this time the effect of the cold on fruit trees is unknown. The general opinion is that many blooms were far enough advanced to be vulnerable and temperature was low enough to hurt them.

Meanwhile the wet spell has its good features. Pasture lands are soaked and ready for good growth with arrival of warmer weather. Also ponds and lakes got a good fill.

Moisture measure for the month to now stands at 2.57 inches, and the year's measure is 8.95. The community had 1.71 in February and 4.67 in January.

YOU FINANCE THE SPENDERS

Until people finally see the inexorably close relationship between government spending, taxation, debt and inflation, they can hardly be expected to insist on financial responsibility in government. Inflation is eating away the value of our money, mainly because for more than a generation advocates of big government spending have enjoyed popular public support.

The mania to spend is out-running productivity and the taxpaying ability of the nation. A recent study by the American Enterprise institute shows why responsible citizens should be concerned. Federal spending has more than quadrupled in the past 20 years. Even when allowance is made for population growth and inflation, it has more than doubled. Outlays by the federal government measured in 1965 dollars rose from $333 per person in 1948 to $776 per person in the current 1968 fiscal year. State and local government spending has increased even more rapidly than federal spending.

No matter how worthy the objective of government spending programs, they are not worth the price when they lead toward unmanageable debt and a breakdown in monetary stability. What good are government benefits paid in dollars of rapidly diminishing value.

ELDER'S MISTAKE

Young people of America are rebelling. Not all of them, of course, but a vocal minority, sometimes described as "kooks."

They say they don't like the world they inherited from their elders and propose to do something about it. Exactly what they plan to do has not been made clear.

There isn't one among the seniors who wouldn't say, "Good luck, Buster. But just be sure your cure isn't worse than the disease." Except that the Old Man remembers when he was young, too—and so recently that he wonders what ever happened to those years that seem to have been stolen from him by something or someone other than time—and, although rebellious, knew right was right and wrong was wrong and precisely where the difference lay. He knows something else, however, that youth doesn't know, or refuses to acknowledge and that is that the world is made up of people, not saints.

It's about time we pause in our worship of Youth and said a word in behalf of the Old Man.

To begin with, without him, youth wouldn't be smirking and reveling in its youthfulness and enjoying the luxury of telling the old folks how wrong they are.

Instead, youth would be grubbing to stay alive and to latch on to some of the creature comforts it presently enjoys in such great abundance. Somebody has to produce, and it's the above-30 part of the population that's doing the most of it, and exceptionally well — never have so few produced so much for so many.

"American youth, alone in the world, can't reproach its elders much. It has inherited from them a well-functioning economic system (which can still be improved of course, but has no need to be destroyed first), wealth, freedom and one enormous luxury that is severely forbidden by other (for example, Communist) societies."

It may sound unbelievable, but no crusty old mossback of a political conservative said that. Would you believe it was a visitor to the United States last year — a visitor from behind the Iron Curtain?

"In the history of mankind, youth has never been conspicuously clever, has always thought itself much more interesting than it really was. But today's youth is stupider than ever, because it makes adolescence an ideal, a way of life, and attributes to itself rights, privileges and virtues (of both brain and soul) that are purely fictitious."

Very strong words, but apropos of the times, and since they come from a visitor, and one from Poland at that, perhaps — since it is fashionable to admire things that aren't American — they are more effective.

The writer was Leopold Trymand of Warsaw, whose article was entitled "American Diary" in a recent issue of "The New Yorker" magazine. Oh, yes, and that "one enormous luxury" American youths enjoy "that is severely forbidden by other (for example, Communist) societies"? What did he say that was? He said it was "namely, permission to be contemptuous of one's elders."

Young people never had it so good, thanks to their elders. Perhaps the biggest mistake the old folks made was making it, not too good, but too easy.

EASTER SEAL CHAIRMAN — Houston Sportsman Roy Hofheinz, 1968 Texas Easter Seal Appeal Chairman is pictured with two children receiving services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Harris County. Frankie Wayne Weaver and Eileen Guidry are two of the 11,390 children provided treatment and service by the Texas Easter Seal Society. 6,232 adults also received Easter Seal treatments. "ECONOMY" IN THE GREAT SOCIETY

During the closing days of the first session of the 90th Congress, a resolution was adopted requiring a 2% reduction in the number of civilian employees on the federal payroll.

The President signed this resolution and thereby accepted the recommendation of Congress that there be a reduction in the payroll.

What has happened? You guessed it. In his budget proposal for the new fiscal year the President requested an increase of 45,600 new federal workers.

Only 3,000 of these extra 45,600 employees are scheduled for the Defense Department. The other 42,600 workers will be absorbed into the patronage-rich Great Society agencies if Congress approves LBJ's request.

With but one exception Johnson is seeking an increase in personnel during fiscal 1969 for every government agency, and that single exception is the Selective Service System, which is scheduled for a reduction of 300 employees.

Congress asked the Administration, "How can you reconcile telling the American people that you're cutting the payroll 2% and at the same time, and in the same message, ask for an increase of 45,600?"

The Administration response: "It's very easy. We reduced 2% below what we would have asked if Congress had not passed the resolution."

This is a revealing commentary on the regard that the Johnson Administration has for economy and reduction of spending.

FLAGPOLE DELUXE

Congressman R. H. Gross (R-Iowa) reports that it could only happen in the federal government where some bureaucrats seem to lie awake at night dreaming up ways of spending the taxpayers' money. He said, "In the Washington area a new building has been constructed for the Commerce Department's Bureau of Standards. It was supposed to cost $65 million. It is not yet completed and the cost is $107 million. But what really 'takes the cake' in this deal was the erection of the front of the building of a 90-foot, stainless steel flagpole at a cost of $44,768. A $500 per-foot flagpole ought to make the eagle scream in any language," he observed.

Over Four Million Votes in Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. —Rural areas are surprising the experts on voter registration.

Preliminary figures submitted to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert show that the first 100 counties to report on their voters, all smaller counties, had a 63.5 per cent gain over last year.

Estimates by tax collectors in the three largest counties —Harris, Dallas and Bexar— indicate gains of only 13.6, 31.7 and 18 per cent.

Some of the increase in rural counties is due to the fact that voters over age 60 in rural areas and towns under 10,000 now must register to vote. Heretofore, they could vote without registering.

It is estimated that the number of qualified voters in Texas will exceed 4,000,000 this year. Final figures will not be in until April 1, the date that county reports are due.

VOTE INTO SLAVERY

Donald G. Crowell of Summit, N. J., recently sent in this penetrating observation: "Why does the U.S. pay 46.6 percent of U.N. costs and get one vote? Why does the Soviet Union pay 3.6 percent of U.N. costs and get three votes? The more you pay the less you vote. Sleep on, America!" In answer we respond: You can vote yourself into slavery, but not out of it. Sleep on, World.

There is a movement under way to organize 'welfare clients' into a union to get bigger unemployment checks and unspecified fringe benefits. Those promoting such a union point out that the refiefers represent a highly potent force and they intend to use it to get everything that is coming to them ... Incidentally, apart from not voting for politicians who won't give them what they want, we wonder what members of a welfare union would do in a case of a strike. Stop not-working?

US Oil Supply Boosted by Better Recovery Methods

Drilling was responsible for only half of the 70 billion barrels added to the nation's recoverable oil supply since World War II, Oil Facts reports.

Quoting a new study by the National Petroleum Council, the publication says the other half of the increase resulted from improvements in recovery technology.

Oil Facts explains that the industry places great emphasis on extracting the maximum amount of oil and gas from the earth. Recovery rates range from 10 per cent in some fields to more than 80 per cent in others, with an overall average of about 36 per cent.

Injecting water and applying heat to underground formations are some of the modern techniques being used to increase oil and gas production.

U.S. Is World's Top Oil Producer

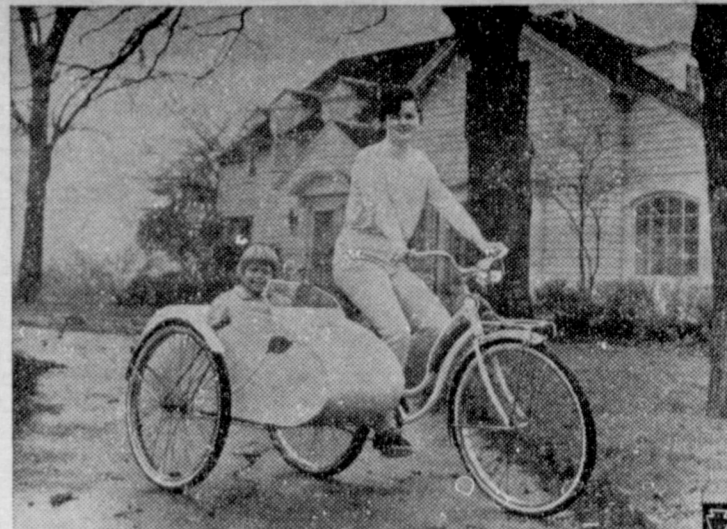

The United States set a new oil-producing record of 3.2 billion barrels in 1967, retaining its title as the world's leading oil producer.

The publication Oil Facts says daily oil output in the U.S. averaged nearly 8.3 million barrels during 1967. The nation's nearest rivals are the Soviet Union with an estimated 5.7 million barrels a day and Venezuela with 3.5 million barrels daily.

The father was sitting in his armchair one evening, when his little son came in and showed him a new penknife which he said he had found on the street.

"Are you sure it was lost?" inquired the father.

"Of course it was lost! I saw the man looking for it," replied the youngster.

CRYSTAL LAKE, ILL. — If you need a second car but your budget won't permit it, how about a sidecar for mama's bicycle? She can take at least one youngster along when she goes shopping and still have plenty of room left to carry packages or groceries.

It also provides a fun vehicle for traveling around town and getting some exercise at the same time.

Built similar to those used on motorcycles, the new product is called the "Satellite" and is manufactured by Atchison Products, Inc. here.

According to the manufacturer, the unit can be installed on any 26-inch-wheel bicycle in five minutes. Its high strength body is finished in baked white enamel with Naugahyde-covered foam cushions and plastic windshield. A roomy storage compartment is located behind the seat. White wall tire and chrome fender are included on the deluxe model. A special ratio reducing front sprocket makes the "Satellite" easy to pedal.

Available from bicycle shops or direct from the manufacturer, the standard model is priced at $69.95, the deluxe at $79.95.

That's a lot less than a second family car. It saves a lot of money on baby-sitters too!

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The wet weather that has been causing delays in planting of grass by cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District will also bring out a big crop of weeds this spring.

The control of weeds and weedy grasses is very important in both the establishment and maintenance of new grass plantings. Many poor stands and some complete failures have resulted from lack of weed control. This should not be. It is too costly to plant grass several times. Loss of production from a field while waiting several years for grass to become established means less money in the farmers pocket.

There are several ways to kill weeds. New plantings of bermuda can be cultivated the same as corn or cotton. If rows are too hard to follow for cultivating, the field should be harrowed with a spike tooth harrow. This should be done as soon as new seedlings of weeds show up. Harrowing after bermuda starts coming out will kill many weeds and not harm bermuda.

The use of herbicides is also becoming a popular as well as a paying practice. Pre-emerge spraying is successful on planting of bermuda roots. Pre-emerge herbicides should be applied shortly after planting the bermuda roots, at least before the weeds come up. Soil should be firm and not cloddy. Use plenty of water, up to 40 gallons per acre, so that all the soil surface is covered.

Control of weeds on plantings of grass seed and also on established stands of all grasses is most economically done with the herbicide 2-4D. New grass seedlings should not be sprayed when first coming up. When properly applied 2-4D will not kill grasses — just broadleaf weeds and is not harmful to animals. Tests have shown that it is more profitable to spray weeds in a pasture than it is to fertilize if the weeds are not controlled.

The trouble with many individuals is that they worry too much about the sins of mankind and too little about their own.

HemisFair Tower Upped to 750 feet

The 622-foot Tower of the Americas is growing again, this time through the addition of a broadcasting mast to push it to 750 feet.

The city of San Antonio has approved funds to construct a 128-foot broadcasting mast atop the tower. It will provide antennas to accommodate television and radio stations on a rental basis.

The Tower of the Americas, focal point of HemisFair '68, will be a permanent structure at the fairgrounds. It is the tallest observation tower in North and South America.

"Bird Watcher"

Add a note to unusual professions: Telling males from females among hours-old turkeys — and at a rate of from 30,000 to 60,000 per day.

The separation is done by specialists working in Swift & Company hatcheries and is part of the process that puts a top bird on your Thanksgiving table.

It is performed by highly-skilled workers, often of Japanese descent, who have mystifying ability to look at plump, fuzzy, dumpling-shaped blobs and tell the Toms from the hens.

The little turkeys so separated will not find their way to market. They are the breeding stock, the specially-selected mammas and pappas which will produce the eggs for the birds-of-the-table.

The unique skill is part of the careful chain of development set up to produce birds to be candidates for Swift's highest turkey honors—the Butterball turkey.

There are not many of the turkey sexers, as they are known. They are highly-paid and at times virtually work around the clock as poults hatch out by the thousands.
