The Supreme Court's decision Monday in the Adam Clayton Powell case was a fitting finale to the Warren Court's record of the past several years. As so often before, the court's ruling went to absurd extreme in upholding the rights of a defendant but clashed with the public's right to have men of high character in government.

The court decreed by a count of 7 to 1 that Congress did not have the power to exclude Powell in 1967. It said that he possessed the qualifications prescribed by the Constitution and had been elected by the voters of his district, therefore he was eligible to a seat in the House of Representatives.

Apparently it did not consider the man's other qualities which, in the opinion of the House, made him unfit for the office. At the same time it disregarded the constitutional provision on which the House based its 1967 decision: that each house of Congress shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its members. Also it disregarded the ruling of two federal courts which had rejected Powell's appeal.

Here is another case of going all out to guarantee an individual's so called right while ignoring the real right of many. It reminds one of acquitting a criminal on a technicality even though he has been proved guilty of a crime. The result is that a man who brazenly demonstrated his dishonesty by using public funds, who disgraced the Congress by vulgar behavior and verbal abuse, received the blessing of the Supreme Court just because he could meet the simple qualifications of age and residence.

Since when are those qualities more important than honesty, integrity and the other traits which are proper to a national leader? Since when is such a person's claim to an office more important than all of the country's right to proper representation?

The Supreme Court's oversolicitude for individual rights in this case follows a disturbing pattern which has been evident many times in the past. The loyalty oath has been abandoned as a requirement for teachers, to avoid discrimination on grounds of political conviction. For the same reason the ban was removed against people of questionable loyalty seeking jobs in defense plants. And rabble rousers were permitted to exercise the right of free speech to the extent of preaching violence and revolt.

Too often the rights of society have been violated in misguided concern for the individual rights of undeserving characters. That is a glaring national fault which urgently needs correction. It is the fault which our Supreme Court failed to recognize when it decided that a person of Powell's character has a right to impose himself on us as one of the country's lawmakers.

The threat of an SDS invasion of industry is less disturbing than it was a few weeks ago. The word of radical student intentions was hardly out before employers and union leaders let it be known that their guard was up and they had no intention of allowing their operation to be fouled up by the trouble makers.

The SDS plan is similar to that of the Progressive Labor Party, which gets its inspiration from the Red Chinese branch of world communism. Its purpose is to infiltrate the ranks of organized labor, indoctrinate the workers with opposition to the country's war effort and eventually cause shut-down in production of war materials.

But they are encountering opposition from both union leaders and workers. Leaders don't want their influence challenged by the young upstarts, and workers don't want the work stoppages which would reduce their pay. It's gratifying to learn that subversive efforts by these young traitors are running into a dead end.

Other pleasing signs are seen in American colleges and in Washington. The colleges, after many bitter experiences in the past school year, have learned that leniency doesn't work in dealing with SDS, which responds to every con-

Bumper Harvest Delayed by Rain

For the second time in less than a week rain has interrupted this community's harvest of a bumper grain crop. Farmers are experiencing the nervous tension which they normally feel when grain is ready and they are not able to get it.

However the situation can still be rated as very good. Rain last Thursday and Friday was followed by fine drying weather. The grain was not hurt. Farmers were back on the job Monday and Tuesday, found the crop still standing nicely and the test still high.

Council, RRC Men Discuss Disposal Of Salt Water

Two members of the Wichita Falls office of the Texas Railroad Commission met with the Muenster City Council Monday night to discuss the pollution of municipal water supply by disposal of salt water from oil fields.

They discussed contamination of surface water by dumping the salt water into streams and of underground water by pumping salt water into abandoned wells.

The latter method was mentioned as a possible cause of serious trouble here at some future date. Salt water pumped into an old well, even when pumped into the oil and salt water strata, can follow underground channels to an abandoned well and rise in that well to a pure water level, where it mixes with the water that is pumped out for human consumption.

The Railroad Commission men said that the sure way to prevent such contamination is to plug an abandoned well all the way down so that salt water cannot rise in it and reach the pure water. They also said that many abandoned wells of this state were not plugged properly and may become channels through which salt water gets to the pure water.

In case a community develops salt water troubles, they said, it may become necessary to re-work the improperly plugged wells, an expensive operation that can be prevented by doing the job right in the first place.

Community's First Vietnam Victim

Funeral Rites Held For S. Sgt. Glenn Fleitman

Funeral services for Staff Sergeant Glenn Ray Fleitman, 20, were held Thursday at 2 p.m. in Shiloh Baptist Church and burial followed in Shiloh Cemetery. The Rev. Aubrey Thetford of Collinsville, uncle of the young soldier, officiated. Vernie Keel Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Sergeant Fleitman was killed during hostile action June 8 in Vietnam where he had been serving with the 28th Infantry, First Division, since January this year. He is Muenster's first casualty of the Vietnam war.

Military personnel from Fort Sill, Okla., served as bearers and military rites were conducted by a burial detail from Fort Sill.

He was born in Muenster on July 4, 1948, graduated from Muenster High School, attended East Texas State University and enlisted in the Army in February 1968.

The parents received word of their son's death last Tuesday and the body arrived by air Tuesday this week. Their message from the War Department revealed that their son died June 8 as the result of wounds received in action on the same date. He was admitted to a military facility in Vietnam and expired shortly thereafter.

Survivors are his wife, the former Judy Todd of Leonard, whom he married July 10, 1968, his parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fleitman of Muenster, one sister Gwen Fleitman of the home, one brother Roger Fleitman of Gainesville and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Thetford of Big Spring.

Staff Sergeant Glenn Fleitman was fatally wounded in the Vietnam War on Sunday, June 8. He is Muenster's first victim of the war, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fleitman. Funeral services Thursday in Shiloh Baptist Church were followed by burial in Shiloh Cemetery.

Twister Hits Muenster

Muenster was fortunate early Saturday morning when a tornado hit the community but caused no personal injuries or damage to homes. However property damage in the city and on several farms runs into the thousands of dollars.

The storm arrived shortly after 2 a.m. Saturday and one of its effects was an hour and a half of power failure after four poles broke down and lines were severed in the TP&L power line east of town. Until repairs were finished late in the afternoon Muenster had an emergency hook-up with the Brazos Electric lines west of town. Provision for such an emergency had been made several years ago.

Most of the damage occurred along the highway inside and beyond the east city limit. Apparently the east bound twister took its first dip down at Hofbauer's store where it wrecked a sign. Next damage was two blocks east where the Grady Jones sign was twisted and tilted, and the big Center sign was twisted about ninety degrees.

Fina signs were by passed but just beyond there the A-OK Motel sign was broken and tilted and Louis Roberg's sign and support were crashed to the ground. Up to that point no building was damaged, but the storm ripped a gash in Roberg's roof before going to Wilde Chevrolet and tearing a big piece of the surface material from the portion of roof over the parts department. Rain came through and required a big clean-up job but caused no damage. Other exterior damage was to metal facing at the edge of the roof, a broken door, a broken window, the lettering portion from the firm's sign, and an antenna.

Next door, at Muenster Butane, two plate glass windows were broken and a half dozen display appliances were tumbled over and scarred by the broken glass. None of the units is saleable. Water and broken glass and disarray caused by the wind made a mess of the interior. Outside a big sign was demolished and the walls were scarred by flying debris.

From there the twister jumped across the highway, broke tree limbs and phone lines for Ray Swirczynski also picked up a 450 foot roll of fencing and carried it about 250 feet.

Next place was Joe Felderhoff's where about half of a barn's metal roofing was torn off and scattered, one tree was uprooted and limbs were broken out of another tree. The place is just across the highway from Tony Felderhoff's where a twister about 30 years ago demolished a barn. That place was not

In St. Louis for Christening Rite

Mrs. Ed Pels, son Bob and daughter Beverly, made a flying trip to St. Louis during the weekend to visit Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pels, get acquainted with their infant daughter, Anita Jo, first grandchild of Mrs. Ed Pels, and attend her baptism.

The baby was baptized Saturday afternoon and Bob Pels was godfather for his niece. An aunt, Miss Sharon Brown of Fort Smith, Ark., was godmother.

Surprise visitors arriving Sunday morning were Mr. and Mrs. James Fuhrmann, newlyweds on their honeymoon. She is the former Carol Pels.

The Muenster trio left Friday and returned Sunday night. It was first-time air travel for them.

Bill Beckers Are Injured in Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Becker are patients at Muenster hospital following a two-car crash Sunday shortly before 7 p.m. in front of Sacred Heart Church. Both sustained fractured ribs.

Lee Roy Hess, 18, was released from the hospital after being treated for a scalp laceration.

Highway Patrolman Carl Rickett Jr. reported both cars were northbound. They collided when Becker attempted a right turn to park. His 1964 car is listed as a total loss. Hess' 1961 model car was heavily damaged.

touched this time.

About a half mile east is the area of damage to the power line and a mile south-east of there is where two big doors were torn off George Bayer's barn. On the neighboring Rufus Henscheid place a small poultry house was wrecked. After that the tornado either fizzled out or chose a path through open country.

Apparently three other twisters were spawned by the night's rough weather. A big portion of roof was taken off a barn at Voth Brothers farm. At Hardy, just off the Saint Jo-Forestburg road, limbs were torn off a number of pecan trees. And damage was reported south of Forestburg.

Harvesting was stopped by the Thursday night rain. First combines were back on the job Monday.

Mrs. Rudy Hellman On Foreign Tour

Mrs. Rudy Hellman is on a tour of the Orient since leaving by jet early Sunday morning from Dallas. Her son Dr. Monte Hellman and family of Dallas saw her off. She arrived in Tokyo Monday.

Among places Mrs. Hellman will be visiting during the six-week trip are Tokyo and Kyoto, Japan; Hong Kong; Bangkok, Thailand; Singapore; also Sydney and Melbourne in Australia; points in New Zealand; Fiji Islands and Tahiti. There are 26 in the tour.

Payne Goes to Dallas

Gareld Payne, band director at Muenster Public School for the past three years, announced during the weekend that he will work in the Dallas Public School System next year. He will teach vocal music in junior high school. Payne expects to remain here until shortly before school starts.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hoehn and six children of Dumas were here and at Nocona last week visiting with the Ed Clers and Jack Heehns. Mr. and Mrs. Hoehn and son David spent three days of the time attending an orientation course at A&M University where David will enroll on a scholarship in September. Meanwhile Luann, Bryan, Julie, Chris and Melissa remained with the Clers.

Building Notes

Newest in the Muenster building program is a new home just starting for Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Hess a half mile south of town. It will have three bedrooms, two baths, double garage, central heating and cooling and brick veneering.

The Len Haverkamps have almost finished their new house in the north part of town. It will be a three bedroom brick veneered house with bath and a half, double garage, central heat and air conditioning.

In the same neighborhood Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Waltercheid Jr. have reached the painting stage in their new home. It will have three bedrooms, two baths, central heat and cooling, brick veneer, double garage.

Painters have also started for the Louis Robergs, who are building a three bedroom brick veneered house in the northwest part of town. Other features are two baths, double garage, central heating and cooling.

The Mike Fuhrmans are almost ready to move into their new house a mile west of Lindsay. They are building three bedrooms, two baths, attached garage, brick veneer, heating and air conditioning.

Recently finished and occupied are the homes of Dr. Kralicke and Bernard Wolf. Kralicke's, just beyond the south city limit, features split level with five bedrooms, three baths, swim pool, brick veneering, double carport, central heating and cooling. The Wolf house on West Third has two bedrooms and baths, double carport, brick, central heat and air conditioning.

Major repairing is in progress at the Mel Stephens home after fire damage of a few weeks ago. It's getting a new roof, new windows and interior decorating.

Other remodeling includes new kitchen cabinets and a complete interior re-decorating job for Mrs. Ed Pels; new porch and outside paint at John Fisher's; addition of a utility room at Ed Clers'; a new roof at Conrad Jostwerner's; a chain link fence for Carl Walterscheid. Richard Grewing is building a 20x30 livestock shed.

There is a trend toward longer education and another toward earlier retirement. Give generously to both causes Help stamp out WORK.

THREE TEXAS GOVERNORS joined forces in Austin Monday as they spoke before a large group of prominent Texans assembled for the organizational meeting of the Governor's Committee of 500. Left to right are Governor Preston Smith and former Governors Price Daniel and John Connally.

The Governor's Committee is the organization set up to campaign for the passage of Constitutional Amendment 2 in the August 5 special election, the next step in the Texas Water Plan.

Governor Smith said, "This is one of the most important elections in Texas history. It will determine whether or not Texas can act in time to meet the future needs of an adequate water supply."

Former Governors Connally and Daniel gave their full endorsement to the amendment. Each spoke in behalf of its passage. Another ex-Governor, Allan Shivers, was to have been present but he was called to the bedside of his son, Allan Jr., 23, who was seriously injured in a swimming accident at Eufaula, Alabama, on Friday. Young Shivers is in the hospital in Columbus, Georgia.

Week's Rainfall Measures 2.11 in.

Muenster's moisture measure so far in June is 2.26 inches according to Steve Moser's weather bureau records, and the year's total to date is 22.65 inches.

Rain which followed last Friday night's cyclone measured .70 inch and the previous night's rain was .78. Next rain was this week Tuesday for a reading of .63 inch. Completing the 2.26 total is a light rainfall of .15 earlier in the month.

The city's rain last Thursday and Friday apparently was the lightest of the area. Higher measures were reported in all parts of the community, as high as four inches near Red River.

"THE BROKEN CROSS"

The Communists are winning their battle for men's minds. They make every effort to capture the minds of our youth and to destroy the will of all who resist their takeover.

Many Americans are familiar with the "peace symbol." Some are even willing to wear it. But, what most of them do not know, is that it is "the Broken Cross" of the anti-Christ.

The Communists won another victory when Time magazine, on its cover of June 7, 1968, carried a picture of a bearded youth as the 1968 graduate. For all the world to see, he wore the Broken Cross!

The Communists have infiltrated the garment industry and you find the Broken Cross embroidered on jackets and other garments for the casual American to wear. The Broken Cross is also manufactured as a medallion, to be worn on a chain. Many of the younger set wear it thoughtlessly or as a peace symbol knowingly. But seldom do they realize that they are supporting the emblem of the anti-Christ, the Broken Cross.

Today many men's stores and ladies' ready-to-wear stores advertise this symbol of the atheists and sell it openly, perhaps even ignorantly to thoughtless people who do not know what they are buying or planning to wear. But every symbol of the Broken Cross that is publicly displayed is noted gleefully by the godless Communists, who can see how thoughtless and vulnerable so many Americans really are.

A CALL TO SANITY

Here are excerpts from a piercing editorial which recently appeared in a Hamilton (Ohio) newspaper: "We are disgusted that a nation of enterprising people, who once knew that competition and industrious labor make a nation great, have given in to the politicians' cry of 'support the poor'— when we know full well that the poor of whom they speak are the lazy, good-for-nothing, third generation of welfare recipients...."

"We are alarmed that color has become a substitute for training, ability and experience in the hiring and promotion of individuals both in government and private industry... We are disgusted that arsonists and looters are allowed to have their way instead of being shot on sight... We are alarmed that our judges free criminals and incarcerate the policeman and the honest citizen...."

"We are ashamed that a funeral for one who advocated giving blood to the Viet Cong and practically demanded surrender to them can occupy nine hours of prime television time and yet the deaths of brave heroes who have fallen victims to the Viet Cong are barely mentioned in the back pages of the local paper... We are ashamed and alarmed that our nation has forgotten that a man's freedom stops where it encroaches upon the freedom of his neighbor...."

These strong words came from a gratifying source—the Negro-owned Butler County American. They evoked praise and emphatic approval in many quarters across the nation. The Southern States Industrial Council called them "refreshing, courageous, and a bold repudiation of all that the militant Negro leadership—the Rap Browns, Stokely Carmichael, Adam Clayton Powell and Eldridge Cleavers—have advocated."

South has long agreed with the Council's insistence that preferential legislation is not the answer to social or ethnic problems, and that arson and looting are hardly the best methods of ending discrimination. That a Negro journal now comes out so forcefully for a resurgence of normalcy is a salutary development—another of many current portents that promoters of chaos, anarchy and racism, black or white, may at last be facing decline and retreat before the country's overwhelming majority forces of sanity, law and order.

TIME TO CALL A HALT

The national secretary of the so-called Students for a Democratic Society, Michael Klonsy, says that the United States Attorney General plans to make "sweeping arrests" of SDS and other leftist leaders. Such a plan was denied by a Justice Department spokesman in Washington.

Such arrests should have been undertaken long ago—not because of dissent but because of the crimes some students and non-students have committed in the name of dissent.

If a group of students or a gang of thugs enters an office building or a university building and tells a business executive or a college administrator he cannot leave, then the thugs or students are guilty of kidnaping—a federal offense.

If a businessman or college official, upon being told this, attempts to leave and is forcibly restrained, the crime of assault is added.

If a gang of thugs or a group of students makes demands of a businessman or a college administrator and threatens certain harmful actions if the demands are not met, the crime of attempted extortion has been perpetrated.

If the files in a business or university office are rifled, the crime is burglary.

If thugs or students force their way into a building under any pretext, the crime is breaking and entering.

And if someone sets a fire, whether in a wastebasket or a library, the crime is arson.

Both the Justice Department and the state and local police of many states have more than enough evidence to put these destroyers in jail where they belong. But that will never happen as long as college administrators or victimized businessmen refuse to press the charges—criminal charges which ought to be prosecuted.

Too few college administrators have had the fortitude to stand up to what have actually been crimes committed against their persons or against property which is in their charge.

But no administrator has to put up with this. A crime is a crime, whether committed by students or by a gang of thugs trying to seize the U.S. Mint.

And any administrator worth his salt has only to remember that the full force of the law is waiting to back him up. If he is assaulted and kidnaped or burglarized he can and should file the criminal charges these actions call for.

It is time to call a halt to criminal actions perpetrated in the name of student protests. The guilty should be prosecuted, letting the law determine the punishment that fits their crimes.

We Americans have learned we can make a lot of money by charging one another too much for goods and services, but we are making little progress in learning that this kind of money isn't worth much.

Husband: "Nonsense. I didn't care who left you the money."

Two Local Poems Take State Wins In CDA Contest

Muenster has two state winners in the CDA-sponsored Poetry Contest this year.

Winners are Doris Schmitt whose poem placed second and Mary Lou Kralicke whose poem was third in Texas competition. Both poems have been entered in the national contest.

Announcement of the wins was made at the June meeting of the CDA court Thursday and Misses Schmitt and Kralicke read their poems for the assemblage before the business meeting.

Principal activity for members was installation of new officers and discussion of plans for the court's annually sponsored observance of Independence Day.

The July 4 program will be similar to those of the past two years with decorated bicycle and tricycle parades for the kiddies, a woman's ball game, a men's ball game and a teen dance. All events will be held in the ball park except the dance which will be in the KC Hall this year. Previously it was a street dance. Another change this year is that there will be no fireworks.

District Deputy Anna Chancellor of Wichita Falls was installing officer. She was accompanied to Muenster by Elizabeth Lane and Genevieve Rogan of Wichita Falls. Court Chaplain Father Placidus Eckart also attended.

After adjournment Mrs. Clyde Walterscheid served punch and cookies from a pretty table carrying out the court's colors of purple and gold.

Officers installed are Mrs. Alvin Fuhrman, grand regent; Mrs. Al Schmitt, vice regent; Mrs. Ed Schmitt, monitor; Mrs. Charley Hellman, treasurer; Mrs. Steve Moster, financial secretary; Miss Helen Hess, historian; Mrs. Joe Felderhoff, organist; Mrs. Clyde Walterscheid, lecturer; Mrs. Denis Hofbauer, prophetess; Mrs. Ed Endres, sentinel; Mrs. Martin Becker and Mrs. Tommy Knabe, two-year trustees; and carry-over trustees Mmes. Al Hess, Paul Fisher, Gene Schmitz and Ray Wilde.

Four cousins of the Hoedebecks visited here Tuesday and Wednesday with the relationship. The visitors Mrs. Margaret Richardson and Miss Jewel Hoedebeck of Granite City, Ill., Miss Florence Schumacher of Cincinnati, Ohio and Miss Millie Hoedebeck of Teutopolis, Ill., accompanied by Father Paul Hoedebeck of Subiaco, Ark., drove in Tuesday afternoon.

That evening they were joined by the Gene Hoedebecks and Clem Reiters from here, the Leo Hoedebecks of Gainesville and the Ray Hoedebecks of Denison for dinner at the Center. They had breakfast Wednesday with the Reiters.

The visitors had spent Friday to Tuesday at Subiaco where 16 of the 33 members of last year's European tour conducted by Father Paul met for a reunion and a retreat at the abbey.

Reunion Held at Henry Pels Home

The home of Henry Pels Sr. was the scene of a family gathering Sunday in observance of Fathers Day and in honor of two visiting nuns — his daughter, Sister Imelda of Jonesboro, Ark., and his sister, Sister Eleanor of San Antonio. Examining physician: "You have a slight case of Dunlop's disease."

Patient: "Is it serious?" Physician: "Not very. Your stomach's done lopped over your belt."

Another reason you can't take it with you is that goes before you do.

Four Local Girls Attend Workshop

Four Muenster girls Margie Felderhoff, Yvonne Gehrig, Kathy Rohmer and Vivian Yosten spent the week of June 8-13 attending a workshop "Project Involvement" at Fort Worth. Eight other girls attended from points in Texas and Louisiana and the group stayed together at Nolan Conv. Three nuns who head the project for the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese were instructors.

Movies, film strips, lectures on child psychology, Christian doctrine and related subjects were followed by each girl preparing a religion lesson and presenting it to the group at the end of the week.

One day the group went to Ranger to observe classes of small Mexican children and on two afternoons the girls visited Negro and Mexican sections of Dallas playing and singing with the children.

Next summer the four local girls will be assigned as teachers to different religious centers in Texas.

The training program will be held again next year. "Project Involvement" is for girls 15-22 years of age who are interested in helping the less fortunate peoples of their areas. Young women interested in attending next summer's workshop are invited to ask Misses Felderhoff, Gehrig, Rohmer and Yosten for further details.

Adopt Menu and Habits to Beat Summer Heat

Austin — Summer officially arrives June 21 and the intense hot weather ahead calls for a few simple health rules which can make it more bearable, says the Texas State Department of Health.

First of all, avoid heavy, fat-loaded meals. They are difficult to digest during hot weather. Emphasize fruit and vegetables on your summer menu rather than protein foods — eggs, fish and meat — which your body needs for fuel during winter months.

Perspiration helps cool the body, but at the same time it drains the body of vital fluids. To replace these fluids, drink plenty of water or other liquids. Fruit juices are a pleasant way to make up the loss. But don't gulp down large amounts of ice water when you are overheated.

The body also loses salt through perspiration. Replace your salt loss at meals, or if your work or exercise causes you to sweat profusely, take salt tablets — about one every half hour with a glass of water.

Parents can place extra salt in children's diet with salted nuts or crackers plus a little added salt during meals.

Your clothing plays an important role in keeping cool. Loose, light clothing is highly recommended for summertime wear. Normal body temperatures are dependent on the evaporation of sweat.

Avoid wearing clothes that inhibit evaporation. Also, remember that white or light colors are cooler than dark colors, since they do not absorb hot sun rays so readily.

Exercise is an essential part of a well-rounded, healthy life, but it can easily be overdone in the summer. Use common sense and start gradually if you are initiating a summer exercise program. Also, confine any long periods of hard yard work or active tennis games to the cooler parts of the day.

Swimming is one of the best summer sports, provided the proper safety rules are followed — including not swimming alone, getting chilled, waiting at least an hour after meals and avoiding tiredness. All in all, summer can be one of the most enjoyable seasons of the year ... provided you use your head as well as your body.

A man was driving in the country when his car stalled. He got out to check the spark plugs. Suddenly an old horse trotted by.

The horse said, "Better check the gas line." Then the horse trotted on.

The motorist was so frightened that he ran to the nearest farm. He told the farmer what had happened.

"Was it an old horse with a flopping ear?" asked the farmer.
 "Yes! Yes!" cried the man.
 "Well, don't pay any attention to him," said the farmer. "He doesn't know anything about cars."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Many fishermen are known to lose their "religion" this time of year because of pond scum and pond weeds in their fishing waters.

Eual Davis, Soil Conservation Service at Muenster says, "Don't cuss, call us. There are many good products on the market to rid ponds and lakes of these pests and the results justify the small expense."

"Copper Sulphate or 'Blue-stone' is the most widely known and successful product for eliminating pond scum. Other pond weeds would have to be identified before a recommendation can be made."

"Now is the time to treat your pond or lake. SCS personnel are ready to help identify your weed problem then recommend what to use and how much based on your own situation. If muddy water is your problem we can help with that too. Call or come by and let us help you with this problem soon."

Effective July 1, 1969 the Muenster work unit of the Soil Conservation Service will have a limited amount of money to use to develop Great Plains Conservation Programs on farms in Montague County. Those land owners in Montague County who are "sold" on this program and who definitely "want" a Great Plains program should contact their local SCS office in the near future. There could be a waiting list so do it soon.

Portrait of Parker Presented to CCJC

The faculty and staff of Cooke County Junior College recently presented a portrait of President John H. Parker to the college. Mr. Parker has served as president since the institution was organized as a county junior college in 1960.

The presentation was made during a special ceremony with Ruth Schlaudroff acting as spokesman for the faculty. She said: "For some time there has been a feeling among staff members that something was lacking at CCJC, but not until recently... was there an opportunity to remedy this."

Because of your dedication to the dream of providing an opportunity for education for both young and old of this area—

Because of the countless hours you have spent in dealing with the many tasks which confront a college president when really the lake or golf course was much more to your liking—

Because of our appreciation of your leadership in making the college the successful institution it has become; not only as a token of work completed but also as a symbol of inspiration and continuing service, we present this portrait to the school in your honor."

Following the presentation the college staff and their families enjoyed a picnic at Leonard Park.

Once you get a mouthful of boiling hot coffee, whatever you do next is going to be wrong.

Why Plymouth?

(Instead of Ford or Chevy.)

Plymouth Fury III has front torsion-bar suspension for better handling. Chevy Impala and Ford Galaxie 500 still have coil springs that bounce up and down.

Fury III has greater brake lining area than either Impala or Galaxie 500.

Fury III has a single-unit welded body for strength. Both Ford and Chevy construction still bolts body to a frame.

To fight rust, Fury III is prepared by a 7-step dip-and-spray treatment. Impala and Galaxie 500 preparation is by spray only.

Fury III has a longer wheelbase than Impala, is greater in length than Galaxie 500.

Interior room of Fury III is greater than both, greater than any car in its class.

Fury III also has the biggest trunk in its class.

For easy entry, Fury III has wider door opening than either Impala or Galaxie 500.

Fury III's instrument panel is fully floodlit. Impala and Galaxie 500 lighting still comes from behind the instruments.

Ammeter and temperature indicators in Fury III are precision gauges. Both the others have lights that come on when trouble occurs.

Electric clock? Standard in Fury III. Extra-cost option in Impala and Galaxie 500.

Add it up, and you see why over 3/4 million owners of competitive cars have been won over to Plymouth in the past two years. Plus, right now, we're putting the big stuff on special Furies (vinyl roof, automatic transmission, radio, power brakes and steering, 8.25 x 15 whitewalls, and deluxe wheel covers). And, we're reducing the price. Why Plymouth? Is there any better way to get a great car and save money in the bargain? See us now.

Plymouth Unbeatables put on the big stuff...

New industry is pouring dollars into TP&L territory

During 1968, fifty-six industries decided to locate new plants in the TP&L service area.

TP&L's Industrial Development Division, in cooperation with local and area organizations, constantly endeavors to inform industries on the advantages of locating plants in the area served by the Company.

TP&L pledges its efforts in the years to come in promoting the industrial growth of North, Central and East Texas.

IT'S A FACT: During 1969 and 1970, Texas Power & Light Company will invest approximately $160 million in new and improved facilities to keep pace with its customers' constantly increasing needs for electric power.

cession with a new demand, which has shown that its aim is to destroy, not to improve. So, a changed attitude is emerging in the colleges. The coming year will see more firmness in the administrators. Students with legitimate complaints will get a hearing but trouble makers will find themselves in trouble.

National legislators, too, are adopting a tougher attitude. They're concerned about the raw deal to students who are deprived of class time they pay for. They're especially annoyed by the radicals who try to wreck the educational system while being supported by federal aid. They are impatient with colleges which get federal money and fail to keep the classes going. They can be depended upon to pass laws requiring more responsible performance by the students and the schools. We can confidently expect SDS influence to decline.

Mrs. R. M. Zipper has as guests this week her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stockman and children David, Debra, Ronnie, Michael, Steven and Karen of Kansas City. They arrived Monday for a week's vacation.
