HEW "GUIDELINES" REJECTED BY NEGRO PUPILS

Nothing could demonstrate more clearly the preposterous nature of the Administration's school guidelines than the recent disturbance in Hyde County, N. C. At the insistence of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the local school board has consented to bus Negro children halfway across the county so they may be enrolled at the formerly white school at Mattamuskeet.

Let there be no misunderstanding. The Negro children do not wish to attend school at Mattamuskeet. Neither do they wish to see the county's Negro schools shut down, which is what HEW fanatics have planned for 1970. A spokesman for the students, Golden Frinks, says Hyde County Negroes prefer keeping the county's schools open on a segregated basis, but this NEW refuses to allow.

As a consequence, most of the county's 800 Negro school children have refused to attend any school at all this year. Idle hands, the adage has it are the devil's workshop. Last week lawless demonstrations erupted at Swan Quarter, the county seat. The Highway Patrol moved in to keep the peace, and by week's end more than a hundred children had been arrested.

The question that has arisen before in other communities now arises in Hyde County. What, for pity's sake, does HEW hope to accomplish? Whose educational interests are being served? Whose health? Whose welfare? The best to be had by way of an answer has come from A. J. Howell, the HEW desk man who rides herd in North Carolina schools from his vantage point in Washington, D.C.

"There's not much we can do," he says. "We can't allow them to go back to freedom of choice, because then we wouldn't be doing our job." Hyde County residents, black and white, by now could probably suggest several useful things for Mr. Howell and his fellow pains-in-the-neck to do. For a start, they might cease disrupting local communities. Next, they might explain if they can why any dispassionate observer, viewing the results so far, should want to encourage Mr. Howell and HEW to get on with the job.

FARM TABLES

Analyzing government statistics is sometimes more fun than doodling. A case in point is table 3H which appears in a federal report on the Farm Income Situation.

According to the table, the average net cash income per farm in this country in 1929 was $597. And in 1967 according to the table, it was $3,389. Secretary Orville Freeman's face must have suffused with a warm and ruddy glow as he read those figures. But perhaps the average farmer who farms will blush the same color for another reason.

First, the average farmer's payments for the government in 1929 were zero; but in 1967 those payments were $979, provided by hard-working taxpayers, none of whom was paid for not doing anything. However, the average farmer didn't really get $979 in 1967, according to Sen. John J. Williams, of Delaware. He notes that the largest single payment was $4 million to a huge corporate farming enterprise; four others received $1 million each; 15 were paid between half-a-million and a million dollars; 1,678 "farmers" received checks ranging from $50,000 to $500,000.

Those figures suggest that NOT FARMING is attractively profitable to at least 1,700 "farmers."

Back to table 3H. In 1929 there were 6,512,000 farms in the U. S. In 1967, that number had shrunk to 3,146,000. Using 'old math we are able to add up a total net cash farm income in 1929 of $3,887 million, and for 1967 of $10,661 million. That looks pretty good. But wait. They say that the 1967 dollar was worth only 42 cents compared with a 1939 dollar. Remembering that approximately 30% of that 1967 farm "income" is federal government subsidy, and calculating, the real income in 42-cent dollars we make the 1967 figure $3,184 million, as compared with $3,887 million in 1929.

Impossible, you say? Maybe table 3H is wrong but we will stand behind the old math. And we'll bet that the country is filled with farmers who think their bank accounts document the old math figure.

What we are trying to say is that the farmers have troubles, and they are big ones. Clearly, $3 billion a year in farm subsidies isn't solving anything.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

An Impossible Job?

Perhaps the most thankless job in the entire United States government is that of Secretary of Agriculture. It is most difficult for the incumbent in that post to look good.

Obviously, if the increase in the world population goes according to the demographers, with the resulting shortage of food supplies, at some distant time in the future, world demand for food will put the American farmer in a pretty good position.

However, future prospects do not pay today's taxes, living costs, mortgage payments, or buy needed equipment.

Actually, the problems of food and of food producers has a long history. The collapse of Rome due in part to the mobs of dispossessed in the streets largely the result of driving the Italian farmers off the land. They could not compete with lower cost grains imported from the African colonies controlled by Roman leaders.

In modern times, the food problem has been the principal difference between Russian and Chinese communism.

The Chinese communists, undoubtedly influenced by a long history of starvation, shaped a course around so-called land reform, and accented collectivization of land to presumably achieve more efficient food production, with greater returns for the grower.

You can vote for a Communist for president, you can negotiate with a Communist for a test ban treaty, you can invite a Communist to address your college, your church or your luncheon club. Sr. Roberta Hesse Tells of Activity In Fatundu, Africa

Sister Roberta Hesse, former Muenster young woman, a member of the Sisters of St. Mary Namur, in Fatundu, Africa, writes entertaining letters to her relatives.

She left OLV Convent in Fort Worth in August of 1967 to work as a nurse. Presently she is on a temporary assignment teaching native women to cook and to sew. She teaches a hundred mothers, divided into three groups, in twice a week lessons. The mothers are making pants and shirts for their little boys. Young girls are making blouses. Everything is done by hand. Most of it is beautiful work.

The school of 300 pupils teaches grades one through eight. There are many more boys than girls. All classes are in French since this is the official language. It presents a problem because many children do not understand French. However, they do learn it. The first grade has a special problem with language. The teacher gives classes in French and Kicongo. But many children speak other dialects. For instance among first graders seven different languages are spoken. But it is amazing how quickly they learn.

Sister Roberta writes that they have a very good choral group. A Congolese nun, very gifted in music, teaches. In a recent program choral singing was in French and Kicongo. And the children did a number of native dances... all accompanied by tamtams. The final song honored their pastor, an American Negro priest, and Sister Roberta.

At the mission, building includes four classrooms, a dorm and dining room for the boarders. When all that is finished they'll begin a new chapel for the Sisters. Building is slow and material is hard to get. The nail problem is just unreal! she emphasizes. Their stores do not have nails because there is so little demand. They have to be ordered from other places and are delivered when a truck happens to go their way... waiting stretches into weeks sometimes. One needs patience. It took two years for iron rods to be delivered. And lumber ordered in August from 30 miles away arrived the middle October.

A new mission in Cameroun opened in August. Sisters are teaching in grade school and have opened a clinic. They plan to open a foyer (school for cooking and sewing) soon. Someday they shall also work with lepers.

Next August they hope to open a new mission near about 60 miles from Fatundu. The name of the village is Kingala-Metale. Priests from Fatundu go there about four times a year to say Mass and give the sacraments. Each time the priests go the people ask for Sisters to come and live there. One of the priests told them the Sisters cannot come if there is no church. On his next visit he found that the natives had gathered lots of lumber and rocks. They told him they wanted to build a church so that the Sisters could come. And so he marked of the land and a church was begun.

"These are people with great faith. We shall be glad to go there," Sister Roberta said.

The elderly farm couple sat in their rocking chairs in front of the fireplace one wintery night in Iowa. "The years are passing up by, Sarah," said the old man.

"We're getting older," he said, "and pretty soon one of us will be left."

"That's right," she said, "and when that happens, I'm moving to California."

Big Crowd Enjoys Basketball Show By Harlem Stars

The basketball show sponsored by Muenster Jaycees Wednesday night presenting the Harlem Stars and Muenster Teachers was a good deal for all concerned. About 500 enjoyed the antics of the colored players, particularly the head clown, Brick, in the kind of horseplay and ball handling that made the Globetrotters famous.

Ticket sales amounted to $510 for a 50-25-25 split. The Harlem Stars got half, a fourth went to Texas Rehabilitation Center and Jaycees got the other fourth.

The Stars won 78-65.

Morton Museum Proposes Tour to McKinney Museum

Plans for a group tour of the Heard Natural Science Museum and Wildlife Sanctuary of McKinney originated Monday night at a meeting of the Cooke County Heritage Society in the Morton Museum. The tour, to be conducted on Saturday, April 26, will be sponsored by the Morton Museum. Persons interested in making it are asked to send a post card to the Morton Museum, P. O. Box 150, Gainesville, 75240.

Planning for the tour originated after Dr. Harold Laughlin, director of the Heard museum and sanctuary, spoke at the Heritage Society meeting. He illustrated his talk with colored slides on the museum's exhibits on natural science and natural history of North Central Texas and its art collection of nature prints by Aububon, Gould and others. He described the sanctuary as a 256 acre area in which all native species of wildlife are protected, and with nature trails open to visitors on guided tours.

Education Pays Records Show that

COLLEGE STATION — Education is still a paying proposition. Latest Census Bureau figures confirm that it pays to get an education.

While income of all segments of the population has grown in recent years, Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist reports that the biggest increases have occurred at the higher education levels.

For example, between 1961 and 1966 the annual income of an average elementary school graduate 25 years old or older rose from about $4,200 to $4,900 that of a high-school graduate from $5,900 to $7,500; and that of a college graduate from $9,300 to $11,100.

Estimating the lifetime income of men by years of schooling completed, the Census Bureau experts came up with these figures:

Eight years of elementary school, $247,000. This amounts to about $6,175 a year.
Four years of high school, $341,000 for the total lifetime income, or about $8,525 a year.
Four years of college, $508,000 or an annual salary of about $12,520.

Five or more years of college, $587,000 or about $14,675 a year.

An average college graduate can look forward to half again as much income as a high-school graduate who fails to enter college, says Mrs. Meyer at Texas A&M. A person who has done post-graduate work in college can anticipate three times the income of an elementary-school dropout.

However, Mrs. Meyer points to exceptions. Educational attainment does not guarantee the financial success of everyone. Many intelligent people get ahead without a great deal of formal education.

Tenth Birthday

Benny Bindel, ten years old Sunday, had a birthday party at the home of his parents, the Wilfred Bindels. Eight young friends were guests. They brought gifts and had refreshments of ice cream floats and cup cakes served by the honoree's mother.

Library Report Reveals Progress Made During 1968

Muenster Public Library's annual report as compiled by Mrs. Joe Luke, librarian, reveals progress and activity during 1968.

Library staffers and volunteers logged a total of 2,269 hours worked. Of these, 1,804 were by staff members and 465 by school girls during the summer.

Number of books on the shelves at time of Mrs. Luke's report totaled 3,243. Books added during the year totaled 532 while 134 books were withdrawn, either obsolete or worn out.

During the year the library signed up 84 new patrons, assisted 50 students in research, conducted a story hour for pre-school to third grade children for six weeks during the summer, conducted a summer reading program from May 15 to August 15 and during the three month period checked out 6,900 books and at the end issued 95 reading certificates.

Staffers conducted three library tours: four nuns and 129 children in April, three nuns and 95 children in May, one teacher and 30 children, also in May.

The library acquired 161 new books through its budget, and 54 from petty cash — fines collected totaled $80.65 — donated books totaled 313 plus four Memory Books.

Donations also included 708 periodicals, 21 pamphlets, a Muenster Enterprise subscription, $100 cash from CDA court, an end table by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Watkins, and 209 new Easy Books from Fisher's Market.

Donations by the library included 130 books to Wichita Falls State Hospital, 42 to Muenster Memorial Hospital, and 57 books and two large boxes of magazines to the Salvation Army.

Staffers conducted a book sale at the CDA bazaar and had 12 issues of National Geographic Magazine bound. These magazines were donated by the Joe Lukes.

Volunteer hours logged show Mrs. Lee Toothaker with 334, Lee Toothaker 138, Mrs. Albert Schilling 285, Mrs. Tony Gremminger 137, Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel 22, Miss Elizabeth Herr 229, Mrs. Steve Moster 102, Mrs. Edd McGannon 72, Mrs. Alfredo Antonetti 4, and Mrs. Joe Luke 485.

Volunteer hours worked by girls during the summer were as follows: Doris Felderhoff 82, Peggy Hoedebeck 80, Marilyn Felderhoff 72, Gerrie Knabe 37, Janet Fisher 28, Shirley Swirczynski 49, Lola Bright 38, Patti Luttmer 36, Debbie Reynolds 34, Darlene Wolf 9.

During the past year library workers checked out 8,724 books and 871 periodicals for a total of 9,595.

A recent poll shows that a majority of people are not concerned about public apathy.

A yawn is nature's way of letting married men open their mouth.

Texas Expects to Sell 7.2 Million Registration Tags

AUSTIN — There will be approximately a quarter-million more vehicles on the State's streets and highways this year, State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall said today.

During the 1969 registration year, indications are that more than 7.2 million motor vehicles will be registered in Texas, Dingwall said. That compares to almost 7 million registered in 1968.

Texas license plates this year have black letters and numerals on a white background. For the first time this year, all Texas license plates are reflectorized as a safety measure.

Registration began February 1 at county tax offices and sub-stations throughout Texas. Motorists have until midnight, April 1 to register and affix license plates to their vehicles.

"But we urge everyone not to wait till the last minute," Dingwall said. "By registering now motorists can avoid waiting in long lines during the last few weeks of the registration period."

State law requires each owner to register his vehicle in the county in which he resides and to present his title as evidence of ownership.

The vehicle title is one of four items motorists will need when registering. The others are last year's registration receipt, current residence address and correct ZIP code.

Making certain that the correct residence address appears in 1969 registration records can mean a big plus in convenience to vehicle owners next year.

Texas motor vehicle registration records are being computerized, and a new registration system for 1970 will speed up the registration process considerably.

Next year, vehicle owners will be mailed a special prepared registration form. Owners will have only to bring the form to the county tax office or registration station, pay the fee and have the form validated with new license numbers.

Fees are the same this year as last year. Minimum fee for vehicles including small trailers such as boat trailers, is $5.30.

Rates for passenger cars are: Up to 3,500 pounds — $12.30
3,501 to 4,500 pounds — $22.30
4,501 to 6,000 pounds — $30.30
More than 6,000 pounds — 55¢ per 100 pounds.

The judge was examining a man accused of theft.

"Did you steal this man's overcoat?" he demanded.

"No sir," said the accused. "I was just playing a joke on him."

"What did you do with the coat?" asked the judge.

"I took it off the coat rack in the restaurant and carried it home with me."

"Fifty dollars and ten days in jail," the judge said, "for carrying the joke too far."

A recent issue of the University of Utah Review carries an article by a professor of surgery, Dr. Ralph C. Richards.

Dr. Richards says that the percentage of bacteria removed from the body by bathing is "almost insignificant, probably no more than 7 per cent."

And then he puts on record his professional opinion that those who scrub and brush themselves probably irritate the skin enough to wind up with substantially more bacteria than would have been present had the bather never troubled to get into the tub or shower.

Don't let cut worms or rabbits ruin your early garden. We have the right answer for those folks. The correct food makes for beautiful roses, and we have it. According to the Public Service Company of Colorado, "the world's food production will have to be increased two and a half to three times in the next 30 years to feed a population expected to double in that time. This warning came in a recent report from the President's National Advisory Commission on Food and Fiber. The increased production would be attainable, some experts believe, if other areas of the world could achieve a level of productivity approaching that of U. S. agriculture. On six per cent of the world's tillable land, American farmers produce, among other things, over 21 per cent of the world's meat supply, 27 per cent of the oats, and 48 per cent of the corn."

Easter Seal Appeal Letters Are Mailed In Cooke County

Easter Seal Appeal letters are being delivered this week in Cooke County, according to William Claunch Jr., who is the Easter Seal Representative for the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

The Society also provided for research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions, finances public education programs, and provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers.

During 1968, the Texas Easter Seal Society helped to provide treatment and services to 11,390 children and 6,232 adults who were in need of rehabilitation services. These services are available to any disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society.

Mrs. Koons' gas dryer is so typical...it's impressive!

With a family of five, Mrs. William Koons, of Dallas, averages 15 loads a week in her gas dryer ...and has for four years! She has yet to spend a cent on maintenance. Remarkable? Nope. Gas dryers are built for that kind of reliability! Mrs. Koons also does each load for about a penny...that's five times less than electric drying. Amazing? Not at all. Gas dryers deliver that kind of economy! Would you like that kind of reliability and economy? Then get a typical gas dryer...it'll really impress you!

Only One Third Of 4-H Members Are Farm Youths

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 16 —4-H is no longer an organization strictly for farm youth, according to Tom Davidson, assistant State 4-H leader at Texas A&M University.

Davidson says that only 34 percent of the state's 4-H members live on a farm. Thirty percent of the members are rural non-form, and the other approximately 36 percent have urban addresses.

4-H was originally a program to assist farm youth who were not receiving an adequate education in agriculture and homemaking skills. Then, as families migrated to urban areas, the 4-H program went with them.

4-H moved to town in the memories of parents who wanted their children to have the same experience they had as 4-H members on the farm, said Davidson.

There are 2,493 4-H Clubs in Texas, with 83,167 members between the ages of 8 to 19. Adult leaders number 13,410, and junior leaders total 5,614. In the nation, there are 26 million 4-H alumni.

New projects are added and traditional ones revamped. Projects such as photography, electric, woodworking, entomology, and knitting have shown an increase in popularity. Davidson emphasizes the value of 4-H demonstrations as a skill useful in the educational process.

Reading, citizenship, and the new science projects are popular as well as practical for youth living in urban and suburban homes, he noted.

4-H programs and experiences have helped many youth to establish careers in agriculture and related fields, says Davidson.

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor, The New Book of Knowledge

One of the most interesting hobbies is making a collage. Do you know how to make one?

A collage is a picture made by pasting pieces of cloth or paper on cardboard, wood or canvas.

Collages are easily made at home. All that you need are such ordinary materials as old newspapers and magazines, theater or bus tickets, some rags, and perhaps a package of colored tissue or construction paper. A pair of scissors is helpful, but a piece of paper can often be more interesting when its edges have been torn rather than cut. Contrasting textures may be added to your collage with bits of burlap bag or sandpaper. The most important tools, however, are paste (collage is a French word for "pasting") and your own imagination.

Your first collage may be something simple — a birthday or Christmas card. One of the most interesting kinds of collage that you can make is an abstract design — one that does not depict a lifelike scene. To create such a collage, cut and tear your paper and fabric into shapes that do not resemble real objects. When you paste them onto your cardboard, try to contrast the shapes and textures.

The best collages will result from experiments. Colored tissue paper, when pasted flatly with rubber cement, is transparent (you can see through it); and countless effects can be created by pasting tissue on top of newspaper, sandpaper or cloth. On the other hand, it is often effective to wrinkle the tissue when pasting it down. Some of whatever is underneath then shows through, while other parts do not. Another way to achieve interesting effects is to sprinkle sand, coffee grounds or uncooked rice over an area that you have covered with glue. The grains stick to the glue, and this creates unusual and varied textures.

A collage may be made quickly, with no planning at all, or it may be made with painstaking detail after a great deal of planning and thought. The way you make yours depends on how you like to work, but as a beginner it is best to try both. Make one collage by quickly tearing, cutting and pasting shapes onto the cardboard. Add more shapes, take some away, or change the form of others as you think necessary.

When you are satisfied, draw pencil lines on the cardboard around each shape. Then remove the shapes, coat them one by one with paste, and replace them within their proper guidelines.

Forestburg Trims Muenster Girls in 30-B Tournament

MHS girls were eliminated by Forestburg at the District 30-B tournament held in Gainesville last weekend. The game was the last of their 1969 season giving them a record of 6-17.

The poor percentage in their shooting was the big reason for their loss. Coach Charles Cash said they hit only 8 of 22 free throws and 20 per cent of their field goal tries. The result was that Forestburg gained in every quarter for counts of 11-6, 21-10, 33-18 and 43-26. Scorers for MHS were Debbie Cain 12, Debbie Yosten 11, Joan Monday 3.

Winner of the tournament and 1969 champ of District 30-B was Slidell, and Krum was the runner-up. Forestburg beat Alvord for the third place title.

Officer (to draftee during training): "You idiot! You fool! Do you want to get yourself killed? Don't you realize that you are exposing yourself to an imaginary enemy 300 yards away?"

Draftee: "Oh, it's all right sir. I'm standing behind an imaginary rock that's 30 feet high. I won't get killed here, sir."

CSL Officers Plan Year's Program in Weekend Meeting

Miss Cynthia Bindel was among officers of the Catholic State League at an executive board meeting in San Antonio Saturday and Sunday. She is State treasurer for the youth section.

She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lindemann of Scotland and Andrew Roewe of Windthorst. Mrs. Lindemann is president of the women's section and Roewe is president of the men's section of the league.

About 25 attended the two meetings on Saturday in the Catholic Life Insurance Building and 50 were present for two meetings Sunday in San book contest will be conducted again and pins for past presidents of the Catholic State League of Texas will be presented. Resolutions were passed concerning abortion and the proposed school bill.

The state convention was set for July 11, 12 and 13 with San Angelo as host. Convention theme this year is "Christian Living in Our Day."

Confetti

pose of the Communist Party is to overthrow our form of government and destroy our way of life.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Declare officially that our hot and cold war aim and purpose is total victory over Communism. Then implement that policy. We have tried the soft "no-win" approach. It hasn't worked and won't in Vietnam or elsewhere.

Discontinue any future support of the United Nations' financial burden beyond our regular dues and assessments. If the UN's members won't support it, it should be permitted to die.

Discontinue foreign aid to and trade with all Communist nations. We cannot buy friends, and trading with our enemies is self-defeating. Foreign aid accounts for a considerable part of the imbalance of payments which is draining our gold reserves and endangering our currency.

In our dealings with foreign nations, be guided by what is best for the United States, and not by what is believed to be agreeable to "world opinion" — whatever that is. A good way to begin would be to recognize our ally Rhodesia as a free and independent nation.
