Slow Drivers Please Pull Over

Courtesy of the road is in need of improvement in Texas and would be appreciated to the fullest extent during the summer vacation season.

Although the state has more interstate highway mileage completed than any other and its size necessarily makes Texas the state with the greatest mileage of good roads, there remain stretches of highway that simply cannot carry the volume of motor vehicles that try to use them. Along such stretches, courteous driving is even more essential because it enhances safety.

This is not, however, the courtesy of the road we're thinking about. We have in mind the consideration that drivers might give to other drivers on stretches of two-lane highways where the road shoulders are also surfaced and wide enough to serve as an auxiliary lane for moving traffic.

In too many instances, a slow driver hugs the center stripe and vehicles begin to stack up behind him for long distances. That slow driver could pull over to the side of the highway and let the faster traffic move around him. He could do that, but doesn't.

This simple courtesy needs to be extended. On the highway these days are older cars that can't keep the pace of the posted speed limits. Elderly drivers are inclined to a slower pace. The pickups, campers, trailers, mobile homes and other varieties of vehicles and trailer loads do not move at the rate which other traffic can flow.

Slower drivers, by pulling over to let traffic around them, would be promoting safety by relieving the frustrations and tensions of drivers caught in a lineup of vehicles moving 10 to 20 miles an hour slower than the legal speed limits. In doing so, slow drivers would be winning praise instead of opprobrium. — Wichita Daily Times

Murder Inc. Made Legal

Another newspaper, the Washington Missourian, came out with some strong statements recently. Many people, we think, will find them worth reading:

"There was a time in this country when you could hire a professional murderer to kill someone you didn't like. The killers for hire were a group of gangsters who operated under the name 'Murder, Inc.' Murders were illegal in those days. The killers were punished when they were convicted.

"Today it's different. We have moved out of the 'dark age' of a few years ago into a new, enlightened age! Today, 'Murder, Inc.' has become legal — legal in some states, that is. And these states are capitalizing on their new man-made moral freedoms!

"One of these states is New York. It got the jump on the rest of them! Missouri, aware of the money-making potential murder can lead to, is thinking about getting on the gold-laden band wagon by organizing a 'Murder Inc.' of its own. The reasoning goes something like this: 'Why have all this business of murdering human beings go to New York when we can do the same thing right here and keep the money at home?'"

"The abominable practice of abortion is far worse than the original gangster-operated 'Murder, Inc.' The gangsters confined their killings to adults who could defend themselves, but the new, modernized 'Murder, Inc.' directs its killings against helpless and defenceless babies!"

"The world has always looked with contempt on what are commonly known as 'street walkers,' whose bodies are for hire, but the 'street walkers' are a saintly bunch of women compared to the murderous abortionists!"

Blind Alleys of Confusion

We have been seized with the idea for some time now that there is more madness than method in the following:

1. The desperate pursuit of the defeat for the Allies in Vietnam by some persons, papers and politicians.
2. The inspired drives to get rid of Edgar Hoover as head of the F.B.I., ignoring older men in Congress or on the Supreme Court.
3. The much-publicized war-time trials of American military officers accused of battlefield crimes.
4. The persistent deficits in our international trade balances year after year, with this year's threatening to be the worst of all.
5. The proposed increases in welfare, though the Federal budget is faced with another big deficit.
6. A running debate on ending all capital punishment, along with the discovery of 25 bodies of men murdered by someone totally undeterred by the prospect of life imprisonment.

Each of these developments follows a course that is not consistent with the history of the United States. It is not normal to seek defeat, nor to try military officers in the middle of a war, nor to drop the head of the F.B.I. because of age without concern about the ages of other top government officials, nor to argue more about the rights of killers than of those liable to be killed.

Each of these developments weakens and confuses the nation. They are by no means the only such actions. Whatever the motivations, they should not be permitted to lead us into chaos. Sound common sense and the basic logic that have made this country great must be our guide.

— U. S. Press Assn.

On one side of a signboard on an Ohio secondary road the message says: "Road Closed — Do Not Enter." The other side reads: "Welcome Back, Stupid!" In Cleveland, signs posted along a main rush-hour artery admonish: "Keep Moving." Then add, almost wistfully: "When Possible." . . . When nobody paid any attention to a 10 m.p.h. speed limit sign in a mobile park in Oxnard, Calif., the manager revised the sign slightly to get better results. Catching the eye of motorists was this new restriction: "SPEED Limit 9½ M.P.H."

Broadly speaking there are three kinds of minds in the world which we might generally classify as follows:

1. Little minds that think in terms of personalities, and pettiness.
2. Medium minds that think in terms of the immediate past and current events, and
3. Big minds that think in terms of principles and ideals.

Perspective

Stories and news reports from East Pakistan and India present with numbing horror the plight of a people overwhelmed by war and pestilence. One report in Life magazine declares, "The scale of the disaster . . . is staggering, hard to comprehend. Cholera is only the first epidemic; it now afflicts areas along the entire 1,350-mile India-East Pakistan boundary. Doctors point to the possibility of smallpox, typhoid and polio in the offing."

Pictures show scenes of people whose faces are "emptied of all hope." Young and old, fleeing from the brutality of West Pakistan's soldiers, have no food, shelter or clothing. They are doomed to death because these things are not available. Their tragedy should make every American pause in humble gratefulness for the blessing of plenty which is taken for granted in our own country. Compared to the final extremity confronting countless thousands and perhaps millions of people in diseased and war-torn East Pakistan, the imaginary tribulations and laments of some of our own people are revolting to say the least.

Have you heard it before? There was a man who failed in business in '31; was defeated for the legislature in '32; failed again in business in '34; lost his sweetheart by death in '35; had a nervous breakdown in '36; was defeated again for election in '40. Lost a congressional election in '43; same in '46, again in '48.

Lost a senate race in '58. No doubt he was discouraged, but he kept on trying. The moral of our little story is that the way to win is to keep on trying. The man we are talking about is Abraham Lincoln. Heard of him?

Governor Orders Another Meeting For Redistricting

Legislative Redistricting Board will meet here August 24 to begin consideration of state senatorial reapportionment.

Shortly after the Board announced its meeting date, Gov. Preston Smith issued a sharply-worded statement calling on the Board to forget "political considerations" and start work on a House of Representative redistricting bill also.

Smith noted the fact that Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin's appealing a district court decision invalidating the 1971 legislative act which attempted to reapportion the House does not preclude the Board from preparing for any eventuality. Supreme Court of Texas, Governor noted, may uphold or over-turn the district court's August 2 decision that the Legislature illegally divided more than 20 counties. In either case, he said, the Board should be prepared with a House as well as a Senate reapportionment plan to avoid the need for a "million dollar" special session of the Legislature.

Board has just 60 days to draw the reapportionment after its initial meeting which means its lifespan expires in late October.

State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert said the Court will meet within 48 hours after receiving a request for an appeal hearing and can reach a decision in 10 days or less.

Attorney General Martin said a transcript of the lower court proceedings is being speeded to completion and can be placed before the Supreme Court within another week.

Juryman: "You can tell that man is guilty by his looks."
Foreman: "Sh-h-h. That's the State Attorney."

Too Many Rotten Apples

In a special report, the magazine "National Review" presents the results of a survey it conducted among students at 12 representative institutions of higher learning in the United States. As these students graduated, "to take their places as citizens," National Review asks, "Along with their sheepskins, what spiritual and ideological baggage will they take with them?"

According to the magazine's survey, "Three fifths call themselves political liberals; fully 17 percent are self-proclaimed radicals. Approximately half can't identify with either member of our cherished two-party system . . . almost half favor the socialization of all basic industries; seven out of ten want their country unilaterally to suspend atomic weapons development. . . . Given the alternatives of war or surrender in a confrontation with the Soviet Union, 54 per cent would have the United States surrender." A dozen sick universities don't make a sick society, but like a dozen rotten apples in a barrel, they can cause a lot of trouble.

Jill Swirczynski And Steve Kralicke Say Vows at Mass

Wedding vows were pledged in a double ring ceremony Saturday by Miss Jill Swirczynski and Steve Kralicke during Nuptial Mass in Sacred Heart Church.
Father Kurt Buranich, Franciscan, of Stone Lake, Wis., formerly of Crowell and a close friend of the Kralicke family, officiated at the 5 p.m. services.
Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Swirczynski and Dr. and Mrs. Martin Kralicke.
Presented by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory silk satin enhanced with imported French re-embroidered

Alencon lace and a sprinkling of seed pearls accenting the Empire bodice, high neck and full bishop sleeves banded with cuffs at the wrists. The A-line skirt featured a beaded and appliqued motif down the center front over a satin band of palest pink. A detachable chapel train unfolded in a cluster of pleats from the center back.
Her tiered veil fell to her waist from a caplet of lace and seed pearls and she carried a colonial cluster of gardenias, stephanotis and powder blue gypsophelia.

Attendants
Bride's four attendants were her cousin Miss Alice Swirczynski of Dallas, maid of honor, and Misses Margaret and Mary Lou Kralicke, groom's sisters, and Mrs. Danny Hoenic of Denton, bridesmaids. They were identically gowned in navy silk organza floor-length dresses over taffeta with mandarin necklines, bishop sleeves, and Venice covered moulded bodices. They wore white picture hats accented with navy ribbons and carried hand bouquets of mixed summer flowers.
Bridegroom's attendants were Tom Schmitt, best man, Mike Horsley and Johnny Johnson, all of Houston, and the bride's brother Kevin Swirczynski.

Little Miss Andrea Gravelle of Duluth, Minn., cousin of the groom, was flower girl and Darrell Swirczynski, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.
Ken Ferguson of Lubbock and John Henry Streng were ushers.
Mrs. Ken Ferguson was vocal soloist accompanied by Anthony Luke, organist. She sang "We've Only Just Begun," and "One Hand, One Heart."
Decorations in church featured pedestal arrangements of white chrysanthemums and powder blue pompoms on each end of the altar, and in the sanctuary space floor arrangements of palm foliage and twin candelabra entwined with forget-me-nots and topped with votive crystals.

Wedding Reception
Wedding reception and dinner were held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville where Miss Laura Kralicke, sister of the groom, and Miss Patsy Metzler of Lindsay, cousin of the bride registered 250 guests.

The bride's table was covered with a hand crocheted white lace cloth made by her grandmother the late Mrs. Frank Trubenbach, over blue taffeta, and held the four-tier wedding cake flanked by candelabra and fresh flowers.
The groom's table covered with a blue cloth held a large chocolate horseshoe shaped cake flanked by blue candles in wooden candelabra.
After their honeymoon trip the newlyweds will be at home in Atlanta, Ga., where he will attend Emory University School of Dentistry when the fall term opens. He is a graduate of Sacred Heart High and of the University of Houston with a BS degree in biology. She was graduated from Muenster High and received her BS degree in education at the University of Houston following the summer semester and will teach in the Atlanta public school system.

Rehearsal Dinner
Dr. and Mrs. Kralicke were hosts in their home for the rehearsal dinner honoring their son and his bride-to-be Friday night. The buffet table and quartet tables carried out the bride's colors of blue and white in covers, centerpieces and candles. Places were laid for 26 guests.

"I need a job, Senator," insisted the voter from the lawmaker's home constituency. The Senator thought for a moment.
"Well, I'll tell you," he said, "there aren't any jobs available. But here's what I'll do. I'll get up a committee to investigate why there aren't any jobs. And you can head that committee."

Save Nutrients
Of Vegetables by
3 R's of Cooking

Practice the three R's of cooking, and you'll save nutrients in vegetables, reminds Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist. Miss Reasonover says the three R's are to reduce the amount of water used, reduce the cooking time, and reduce the amount of surface area exposed. To decide how much water to use, consider the color and flavor of the vegetables, she explains. The size and shape of the pan, the length of cooking time, and the use of a pan cover are also important. Quick cooking vegetables need only a small amount of water, she adds. Starch vegetables need longer cooking and require more water. It is better to add water during cooking than to have more than needed when vegetables are done. Vegetables should be cooked in the shortest possible time, Miss Reasonover continues. Bring the water to a boil, add the vegetables, and again bring the water quickly to a boil. Cook only until tender. The specialist advises cooking vegetables in their skins wherever you can. Slicing and dicing will increase the loss of nutrients, especially if the cooking water is discarded and the vegetables are overcooked. For her first dinner, a young bride served a baked ham with the ends cut off. When her husband asked the reason for the cut ends, she explained, "That's the way my mother always did it." The next time his mother-in-law came over, he inquired about the cut ends and she said, "That's the way my mother always did it." When Grandma arrived for dinner one weekend, she was asked whether she cut the ends off hams when she baked them. "Certainly," she said. "That's the only way I could ever get them to fit into the pan!" There is no better test for a man's ultimate integrity than his behavior when he is wrong.

Cost Sharing in Pollution Control
Offered by ASCS

Pollution is not always obvious, according to local farm program official A. R. Robbins. For example, pesticide residues and fertilizers cling to soil particles and, if carried in excessive amounts into streams with eroding soil, may create a pollution problem. Or pollution may result from a farm operation that has been handled in the same way for years with no outward sign of harm to people or to air, water, or land. This is because some types of pollution build up slowly, finally requiring expensive remedies for control. These facts are spelled out in a new environmental leaflet recently received in the Cooke County ASCS Office which discusses the agricultural pollution problem and explains to farmers how they can use the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) to help control various types of pollution. The leaflet points out that REAP, which is administered by the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, provides a system for government-farmer sharing of the cost of carrying out approved pollution control practices as well as approved soil, water, woodland, and wildlife conservation practices. The pollution problems associated with agriculture, like those in industry and municipalities, can affect everyone and can sometimes be so expensive to solve that an individual citizen can't afford to undertake the task alone. The new ASCS leaflet on pollution control, published by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, briefly discusses the REAP cost-share practices which are tailored to fit local needs. Examples cited include: Construction of lagoons, pits, trenches, other management systems; vegetated filter strips, impoundments; incorporation of crop waste into soil, shredding, chipping of forest waste; grading, shaping, filling and plant cover for areas of critical erosion.

Three steps are outlined for farmers to combat pollution. They should review their farming or ranching operations for sources of pollution. If the review turns up problems, then a visit to the County ASCS Office is in order to discuss possible solutions. If REAP can provide assistance for remedying the pollution problems, a farmer may then file a request for cost-sharing. Cost-share requests are reviewed by the County ASCS Committee and if applicable forwarded to the Soil Conservation Service, or Forest Service for technical determination of need. Final approval or disapproval of the request is made by the County ASCS Committee. The leaflet, "Cost-Shared Pollution Control Practices for Agriculture," has been mailed to farmers and other interested persons in Cooke County, reports A. R. Robbins III who is the County Executive Director. Robbins said the County ASCS Office has enough leaflets on hand to supply individual requests. "We also will be happy to provide a speaker for any group which is interested in learning more about REAP pollution-control and other conservation cost-sharing practices in Cooke County," he said.

Fluoridation of Water Approved By Health Dept.

Fluoridation of public water supply has been one of the most widely discussed and debated health issues during the past quarter century.

Almost all water supplies are naturally fluoridated to some extent, containing a mineral form of fluoride. Controlled fluoridation brings the amount of fluoride in water up to the optimum level, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Lack of sufficient dietary fluoride can render the teeth more susceptible to decay. Fluoride is a nutrient, working in the body through normal body processes. In addition to strengthening the teeth, there is some evidence that fluoride may help to prevent other diseases of the bones and circulatory system. The optimum level of fluoride as a nutrient is extremely small. Even if a person received eight to 10 times this optimum level there would be no serious danger, say health authorities.

The water of many communities contains much more fluoride than is needed, providing a natural laboratory in studying its effect on the body. Some of the earliest studies of fluoridation were conducted in Texas communities with natural fluoride of optimum or higher levels.

Since fluoride is a natural part of the environment, adding minute quantities to water won't hurt plants, animals, machinery or anything else. Even if some of the fluoride is unused, watering lawns, for example, it still is much cheaper to distribute and control the fluoride level in water than in any other way. Fluoride can be applied directly to the teeth, but it isn't as effective and is more expensive.

A precise answer to the cost depends on how natural fluoride is in the water. The design and size of a community's water system also makes a difference. However, in most cities controlled fluoridation costs between five and 10 cents per person per year. This small cost is more than offset by the savings in dental cavities later on. Children grow up with stronger, healthier and prettier teeth than they would without fluoride. The results of a nationwide nutrition survey showed dental problems as one of the most frequent health problems in children. Fluoridation of water would get help to those who need it most, lower income groups who cannot afford expensive dental care.

Fluoridation is an extremely valuable preventive tool against dental trouble. It benefits everyone in a community by reducing the incidence of tooth decay. In Texas alone, two and one-half million people in nearly 70 cities drink water in which the fluoride level is controlled. Another four million people in 586 communities have naturally fluoridated water. Texas is 17th in the nation in total population served by fluoridation. Total number drinking fluoridated water in the United States is 92 million. To add to the emphasis on fluoridation, seven states now require water fluoridation.

A distressing fact reported by the Federal Bureau of Investigation is that a crime of violence is committed each and every minute of the year. Also, a burglary every 16 seconds; larceny of more than $50, every 21 seconds; a car stolen every 36 seconds; a robbery every 2 minutes; a forcible rape every 14 minutes and a murder every 36 minutes. The price of being civilized? . . .

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor, The New Book of Knowledge

What do you know about atoms?

At one time or another you may have taken apart a toy or a clock to see what made it work. The result was simply a collection of parts—wheels, screws, and pins. If you were clever enough, you put them back together again and re-built the toy or clock. Or perhaps you made something else out of them.

Modern scientists have learned to do much the same thing with matter. Matter is anything that takes up space and has weight; it can be a liquid, a solid, or a gas. All matter can be split into smaller and smaller pieces. A molecule is the smallest piece that keeps the characteristics of the original substance.

With special equipment a molecule can be broken down into still smaller parts. These

Two counterfeiters whose printing press went haywire and turned out $18 bills took them back into the hills in the hope of finding ignorant people who would exchange them for good currency. They found a little country store with a bewildered old gentleman sitting on the porch. They asked if he had change for an $18 bill.

The old man never batted an eye as he said, "How do you want it — three sixes or two nines?"

are atoms. If all the atoms of a molecule are put back together properly, they will form the same molecule. But if the atoms are rearranged, a different kind of molecule will be made. This is why atoms are called the building blocks of matter.

Do you know how April got its name?

No one really knows how April, the fourth month, got its name. Some people think April was named for Aphrodite, the Greek goddess of love. Others think that the name came from a Latin verb meaning "to open" or a Greek word meaning "the opening." In fact, the Greeks called the season of spring "the opening."

In any case, though spring officially starts in March, April really ushers in this season of growth for all nature. In the plant and animal kingdoms, April is a time of "opening."

Do you know what gerontology is?

Gerontology is a fairly new science that studies aging. The word comes from the Greek geron, "an old man." The aim of gerontology is to find out as much as possible about aging in man and animals. Eventually, gerontologists hope to find ways of slowing aging down and of making people stay healthy longer.

HD Club Members Make Field Trip

Members of Muenster Home Demonstration Club gathered at the home of Mrs. John Wieler for their August meeting and after a brief business session made a field trip to the Alex Lutkenhaus home where they saw his paintings and rock collection.

Back at the Wieler home they had refreshments.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Earl Robinson, members were reminded of the National HD Convention to be held in Dallas, Sept. 21. Local members plan to attend. Mmes. Gus Lutkenhaus, Joe Hoenig and Bill Lutkenhaus reported on visits to shut-ins the past month and Mrs. Henry Pick volunteered as chairman for this month.

It's a tough world for the American businessman. Every time he comes up with something new, the Russians invent it a week later and the Japanese make it cheaper.

100th Birthday Party Will Honor Mrs. Joseph Neu

Mrs. Joseph F. Neu will have help celebrating her 100th birthday Sunday, August 22, at an open house party for which her children and families will be hosts in the Lindsay Cafetorium from 2 to 5 p.m. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Immediate family members will be together for a covered dish dinner at noon after attending the 9 a.m. Mass.

Mrs. Neu, the former Elizabeth Reinart was born August 21, 1871, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Reinart in Minnesota.

She married Joseph F. Neu on Feb. 6, 1893, in Iowa and they moved to Lindsay about five years later, just seven years after the land was laid out in building lots for the town. Mrs. Neu has seen Lindsay develop from prairie land to the thriving community it is now.

When she and her husband moved to Lindsay they settled on a farm three miles south of town. The farm is still owned by family members and her son Joe J. Neu and his wife live there. It was the family homeplace until Mr. Neu died March 10, 1937. Since that time Mrs. Neu has divided time among her children.

She is the mother of seven — four sons and three daughters. Two sons have preceded her in death. Those living are Mike of Hermosa Beach, Calif., Mrs. John Kupper (Margaret) of Valley View, Mrs. Elmore Gore (Agnes) of Garland, Joe J. Neu and Mrs. Joe Hermes (Catherine) of Lindsay. Mrs. Neu is still alert and active. She walks with a cane or walker when out of doors and attends church on Sundays. She is presently staying with her daughter in Lindsay.

In the late 80s she had her first plane ride when she flew to California and spent several years with her son Mike. After returning she traveled by train to Iowa to visit her brothers and a sister.

In 1965 she underwent major surgery for gallstones. In 1966 she broke her right hip and in 1968 she broke her left hip. Each time she had surgery to pin the bone. Except for the time spent in the hospital and extended care in a nursing home she has been cared for by her daughters.

Mrs. Neu and her husband also reared a niece, Mary Reinart, from infancy. Her mother died when she was ten days old. Mary is now Mrs. Will Walterscheid of Carlsbad, N. M.

There are 35 grandchildren and some 70 great-grandchildren. Two brothers live in Iowa. John Reinart, 90, lives in Manning and Joe, 98, lives in Carol, Iowa. A sister, Mrs. Mary Schnidler lives in Nebraska.

St. Anne Society Meets at Lindsay

Members of Lindsay's St. Anne Society, at their monthly meeting, heard a report on the Catholic State League meeting held in San Angelo. Mrs. Albert Klement, newly elected state president of the Women's Section, gave a detailed account of convention proceedings.

Mrs. Joe Paul Fuhrmann, president, read a letter from the orphanage where Sung Sam, the Korean orphan sponsored by the society lives. It advised that the little boy has started school.

In other action members approved the society's purchase of a new clothes dryer for the rectory, purchase of material and making of new surplices for Mass servers, and Mass offerings for Father Aloys Fuhrmann who is ill and for Mrs. Joseph F. Neu who will be 100 years old August 21. She is a charter member of the society.

Members were again reminded to save Bonus Coupons and Pepsi and Woosi bottle caps.

After adjournment members were joined by their husbands for a cold buffet and dancing to records. Mrs. Norbert Zimmerer won the door prize.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hinzman has been moved to its new location about three miles south of Lindsay and finishing touches are being added.

Sister Bernadette Bezner has returned to San Antonio where she will teach, after a vacation visit with her parents and family, the William Bezners and a vacation tour of several states in company of her brother Mike Bezner. They covered 3800 miles sight-seeing in Washington, D.C., Virginia, New York, Niagara Falls and Michigan. In Detroit they visited relatives.

Joanie Zimmerer And Danny Jones Say Vows at Mass

Miss Joan Carol Zimmerer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer of Lindsay and Danny Wayne Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill J. Jones of Gainesville exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at Nuptial Mass in St. Peter's Church Saturday at 5 p.m. Father Leonard Wangler of Muenster was officiating minister.

Orchid gladiola bouquets and fern adorned the altar and candelabra holding green vigil lights were in the sanctuary.

The bride wore a formal gown of white peau de soie with high necked Empire bodice, Juliet sleeves and A-line skirt with a chapel train. Scalloped lace ornamented a loose panel down the front of the dress and edged the skirt and train.

A petal headpiece held her tiered veil and she carried a nosegay of white sweetheart roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid. For something old and borrowed she wore a gold necklace belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Joe Bezner Sr., who received it as a gift 40 years ago from her late husband.

Miss Janie Zimmerer was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Donna Zimmerer, also a sister, and Miss Cathy Monroe of Abilene, groom's cousin, were bridesmaids. Their floor-length dresses of deep purple sheer knit had ruffles at the neck and wrist and light orchid ribbon circling the high rise bodice and extending in streamers to the floor. They had orchid ribbons in their hair and carried nosegays of orchid and purple asters.

Attending the groom were his brother Don Jones, best man, Bobby Zimmerer, bride's brother and Mike Bezner a cousin, groomsmen. Larry Zimmerer and Kenny Bezner, also cousins, ushers.

Jennifer Zimmerer, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She handed the bride an orchid gladiola to place on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

In the entrance procession into church the bride was escorted by her father and mother, the groom was accompanied by his father and mother, and the attendants walked in pairs ahead of the bride and groom.

Wedding music was by Mrs. William Schmitz, organist, and the Lindsay adult choir with Rudy Dieter and Mrs. Julius Hermes Jr. as soloists.

Wedding Reception
Wedding reception and dinner were held in Lindsay Cafetorium for about 350 guests who were registered by Misses Janie Benenate of Dallas and Carol Zimmerer, cousins of the bride. They sat at a table holding the bride's picture and the couple's anniversary candle.

The bride's table held the wedding cake iced in shades of orchid and purple, the five-tier creation of alternating white and German sweet chocolate topped with two white doves. When the cake was served to wedding guests the top layer was saved for the couple's first anniversary.

After honeymooning in the Corpus Christi area the newlyweds will be at home in Gainesville.

He is a graduate of Gainesville High and Texas Barber College in Fort Worth and is employed at Courtney Barber Shop in Gainesville. She is a graduate of Lindsay High and CCJC and will finish her senior year at TWU in Denton where she is a physical education major.

Rehearsal Dinner
The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents before the church rehearsal. Places were marked for 30 guests in the Tangier Room at the Caravan. Table decorations carried out a color scheme of white, purple and orchid with flowers, hearts and love birds.

After everyone had departed from the church except the engaged pair and their parents, and Father Leonard Wangler, Danny Wayne Jones was baptized by Father Leonard with Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer as godparents.

Wedding Guests
Out of town guests at the wedding were: Messrs. and Mmes. Leonard Zimmerer, Roy Morisak, Truman Wolf, R. C. Young and Jimmy, F. A. Benenate and Frankie, Janie and Marie, Tom Mullican and Chanel, Mrs. Leo Cutaia, Carol Cutaia, Mrs. David Blackburn and Allison and Christine, all of Dallas.

Perhaps we should be thankful to Senator McGovern for proposing the Barnes idea as a national policy. This isn't the first time he has identified himself with far out ideas, but it's probably the worst. Our country now has a better basis of judging his qualification for president — or even for reelection as senator.
