VOLUME XXXVI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252

NUMBER 11

An incident that must have rubbed your fur the wrong way is that jaunt of the UN Security Council to Africa at a cost of about $250,000 a week.

When the trip was in the planning stage the U.S. ambassador, George Bush, hinted quite strongly that the trip was not necessary, but found himself voted down by representatives of the 36 African nations which wanted the party to visit in their lands.

The significant point about the whole affair is the financing. Our country kicks in 31.5 per cent of the UN budget and all of those 36 African countries, combined, pay in only 1.8 per cent. We pay almost a third of the cost of the trip and our wish is ignored. The Africans pay roughly one eighteenth as much and are allowed to decide the issue.

This presents another good reason why it's high time for us to stand up and assert ourselves in the UN. Unless we're content to go on being Uncle Sucker we ought to demand some major changes in the UN, or make some major changes in our dealings with it.

The first issue concerns the finances. Let's do that like the average corporation and make voting strength proportional to financial support. If we have to contribute a third of the funds let's have proportional influence on the spending.

Next there's the matter of representation. Isn't it absurd that each nation has a single vote regardless of the number of people represented? There's Malta with 318,000 and Maritius with 800,000, both equal to the US in voting strength. The UN is the outfit which condemns Rhodesia for failure to abide by the one-man-one-vote principle but ignores that principle in its own organization.

It insists on one vote per nation — except in the case of Russia, which has at least three votes, or more, depending on the way we look at it. On the UN roster Russia, the Ukraine and Byelorussia are three separate countries. But the latter two are actually states of Russia and their vote is always identical to Russia's. The net result is that Russia has three votes and other nations only one.

And still that's not the full extent of Soviet overrepresentation in the UN. How about Poland, East Germany, Bulgaria, Roumania, Hungary, Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania? All are Soviet satellites, politically and economically under Moscow's domination. Every one votes with Russia in the UN. So, actually, the Kremlin crowd dictates the casting of at least ten votes on every UN issue, whereas US controls only its own.

Obviously that kind of representation is a farce. We've goofed for years in allowing it to continue and we should refuse to let it go any farther. Neither the idea of one vote per nation, nor the fenagling which gives ten votes to Russia, is acceptable. It's time for an ultimatum that UN representation must be more evenly distributed. This column doesn't presume to know what system should be adopted but imagines it should be related to both population and financial support.

Another fault in the UN is its colossal hypocrisy. Presumably an organization to promote peace, it kicks out Taiwan, refuses to admit quiet and progressive Rhodesia and admits Red China with its long record of aggression, repression and mass murder.

The whole issue, condensed to just a few words, is that UN is dedicated to the advancement of communism, which, in turn, is dedicated to our destruction. Our self interest demands that we demand reforms in the UN or get out of it completely.

Concerning signs of our times, two Texas groups looking into problems concerning children, in preparation for a White House conference, recommend less penalty for first offense of possessing marijuana. They think the offense should be a misdemeanor instead of a felony.

The two groups came up with 264 recommendations including the following: Opposition to capital punishment; repeal of abortion laws; mandatory sex education as early as possible; drug education starting at kindergarten or first grade; state funds for low cost housing.

Some of the recommendations reveal a deplorable softness.

Man Charged in Cattle Theft from Sale Barn

The theft of 58 head of cattle from Muenster Livestock Auction during the night of last November 20 was partly solved Tuesday with the identification of one animal.

That animal, Sheriff Bill Pratt said, was a yearling black Brangus bull, the only one that could be definitely identified as one of the stolen herd.

As a result Delwan Earl Peoples, 21, of Atoka Oklahoma was charged with theft over $50. He is custody in the Atoka jail.

Sheriff Pratt said the accused man's arrest has led to the recovery of 47 head of cattle stolen from a Paris livestock company and two from a Snyder company.

Sooners Revive Interest in Bridge Over Red River

Prospects for a bridge across Red River northwest of Muenster were revived during the past weekend as Governor Hall of Oklahoma gave his approval to a state wide highway program which includes the bridge.

Next requirement in the program's development is the approval by the legislature of a state-wide election on a bond issue for financing the program. If the bond issue carries the bridge project will need funds from the Texas Highway Department for its share of the cost.

The project received a warm welcome from a group of Oklahoma people in a meeting Saturday night at Wilson, following the annual banquet of the Wilson Chamber of Commerce. Senator Ernest Martin and Representative Bill Bradley displayed maps of the program including an extension of State Highway 76 from Leon to Red River. They assured the group that the project includes a bridge, subject to cooperation of the Texas Highway Department, and it has high priority on the state-wide program.

Also present was Bill Lyle, commissioner representing the Leon area of Love County, Okla., and other Leon residents. All were pleased to hear encouraging news of the river crossing they have awaited for years.

Others at the meeting were J. M. Weinzapfel, Robert Bayer, Ernest Jaska and R. N. Fette, representing the Muenster Chamber of Commerce. They attended the Wilson Chamber of Commerce banquet, which was headed by Former Governor Raymond Gary as speaker. Before the banquet Governor Gary and they were guests in the home of Mayor Charles Metry.

No Shadow

Winter is on the way out — if that stuff about the groundhog and his shadow is dependable.

It's not at all likely that he got to see the shadow any time Wednesday. In the first place the sun probably did not peek through the overcast at any time. And if so any smart groundhog was not venturing out into the misable weather.

Thursday arrived as one of the colder days of the season to date — a reading of 13.

Building Notes

Ten new homes and Muenster's newest business house head the list of building jobs now under way or just completed.

Interest of the young set centers on the new building for Dairy-Inn, which will specialize in dairy foods and short orders, and hopefully will be finished in a few weeks. Its outside will have white brick and glass with a mansard roof of red shingles, and the inside features ivory tile and terrazzo. It has generous parking space, outside service and room for 50 persons inside. Owners are Tom Herr, Jerry Wimmer, Joe Hellman and John Pagel.

The biggest job of the community is finished and occupied after more than a year of construction. Cooke County Electric Coop. has moved in and is working on the finishing touches for an open house in March.

After several weeks of delay, work has resumed on the new home for Mrs. Ronnie Hoagland on North Hickory. It will have five bedrooms, three baths, swim pool, double garage, central heat and air, exterior of brick and redwood. It's at the framework stage now.

A mile out of town on North FM 373 the Adam Wolfs are also on the framework of their new home. It will be a 4 bedroom job with three baths, brick veneer, double garage, central heating and cooling.

The David Bayers, two miles northeast of town, are painting and covering floors of their new house, which features three bedrooms, two baths, brick veneer, double garage, central heat and air.

MHS Boys Win, Girls Lose Sanger And Frisco Games

In basketball activity during the past week Muenster High boys won two and the girls lost two. As a result both of the teams now have a 4-4 standing in the District 12-A race.

Starting their game with Sanger last Friday night on the local court, the Hornets still had a chance at the district title, but a disastrous ending put an end to their hopes. The game had to go into over-time following a 49-49 tie at the end of the regular time. During that period the visitors nudged Muenster 9-8 and won by a count of 58-57.

The rest of the game was a tough tussle all the way. After trailing 11-10 the first period Muenster led 24-21 at the half and 37-32 at the third period, and held the lead until 1:30 from the end. With only 10 seconds to go Muenster went ahead again by 2, but a foul awarded two free shots and Sanger hit both.

Scorers for MHS were Doris Felderhoff 29, Dolly Bayer 16, Janet Swirczynski 12.

Playing Frisco here Tuesday night Muenster girls had leads of 7-5 and 17-13 in a slow first half. But in the third the visitors hit a hot streak while Muenster cooled down, and the quarter ended with Frisco ahead 29-21. Fourth quarter was more of the same, ending 45-32 in favor of Frisco.

Scorers for MHS were Doris Felderhoff 21, Dolly Bayer 4, Joyce Swirczynski 4, Janet Swirczynski 3.

Following those losses the Hornets won both of their games. In Friday's action they spoiled Sanger's title hopes just as the Sanger girls had spoiled Muenster's. A difference, however, is that the outcome was never in doubt as the Hornets held a comfortable lead all the way and won 78-54. Scores ending the first three periods were 18-7, 36-25 and 57-35.

Hornet scorers were Jim Endres 21, Tommy Otto 16, Randy Wolf 15, Mark Lippe 8, Jerry Eckart 7, Claude Klement 4, Lonnie Hellman 2, Ronnie Felderhoff 2, Ricky Swirczynski 1.

Likewise in the game with Frisco, Muenster led all the way but not always comfortably. During the last half the margin was cut to 3 at one time and 5 at another. Scores ending the quarters were 14-8, 39-30, 55-46 and 67-58. Top scorer for the Hornets was Jim Endres 21, and others were Randy Wolf 14, Tom Otto 9, Ronnie Felderhoff 9, Mark Lippe 7, Jerry Eckart 5, Claude Klement 2.

The next two games will finish the season for Muenster High. Friday's will be at Nocona and Tuesday's at Lake Dallas.

Warm Water Speeds Growth In Catfish Farming Project

Catfish, an important but publicly obscure source of high protein, may someday become as common as meat and potatoes on the world's dinner tables.

And to help prepare for this dietary advance, Texas A&M University and Texas Power & Light Company are working together to develop comprehensive information regarding the most efficient methods of raising whisker-fish.

In fact, some 100,000 catfish fingerlings about 5 inches long are now making their homes in the discharge canal of TP&L's Trinidad Steam Electric Station near Athens in Henderson County.

The unique research project is being funded entirely by TP&L, and all catfish and other related fish studies at the Trinidad site are being conducted by scientists at Texas A&M. Research will be performed over a 7-year period.

Texas A&M scientists estimate that by the end of the 7-year research period, more than two million pounds of catfish will be raised annually at Trinidad.

The discharge canal at Trinidad offers an excellent location to raise catfish because warm water coming from the plant after finishing its electricity-producing cycle is particularly conducive to fish growth.

A&M researchers point out that marketable catfish (those weighing about one to one and one-half pounds) can be grown from the egg at Trinidad in only 10 months, compared to 18 months in waters with cooler average temperatures. By beginning with 5-inch fish, only 4 months of growth is needed for the fish to obtain marketable size.

Before the catfish research program was begun, there was no practical use for the warm water which left the plant by way of the discharge canal for cooling in the TP&L lake at Trinidad. By helping raise catfish, much of this waste heat has now been converted to useful and beneficial energy.

TP&L received its first shipment of 100,000 catfish in early January, 1972. The small fish were transported from a commercial dealer in Mississippi to Trinidad in a truck designed specifically to keep the fish alive during the lengthy trip.

At Trinidad, the catfish were placed in a small holding pond near the discharge canal where A&M graduate students headed by Dr. John Kelley, Jr. of Texas A&M, checked the fingerlings for signs of disease or parasites.

From the holding pond, the students transferred the young catfish to custom-built cages placed in a 40,000 square-foot area of the discharge canal. The cages are constructed of galvanized mesh wire supported by angle-iron frames and measure 3x3x4 feet.

Currently, the project involves 200 cages, but the purchase of another 400 cages is anticipated during the term of the research study.

Before the cages could be placed in the water, TP&L dredged a large area of its discharge canal to a depth of 8 feet. Normal depth of the canal is 2 feet.

Daily, the young catfish are fed pre-determined amounts of a floating, high-protein, catfish food. And on alternate weeks, the fingerlings' progress and growth is carefully observed and noted by two A&M graduate students who live at the research site. In addition, the young fish are regularly checked for diseases and/or parasites which might harm the caged catfish or other species of natural fish in the lake.

At the end of the optimum growth period, in this case 4 months, the catfish — which are the sole property of Texas A&M University — are removed from their cages for commercial distribution. A new batch of catfish will then be added, and the entire cycle will resume.

Since the catfish are the property of A&M, TP&L does not reap any profits from their final disposition. However, under the contract between TP&L and Texas A&M, it is stipulated that all proceeds from marketable catfish will be reinvested in catfish research.

TP&L officials point out that the Company has no desire to enter the commercial catfish business. Rather, the Company is participating in the research project because it recognizes the significant nutritional and economic value that catfish will have in the near future.

Because of this research and similar projects currently underway, it is hoped the findings will provide valuable information to commercial catfish farmers and will allow them to raise high-quality, low-cost catfish at reasonable profits.

Much information regarding catfish growth in warm water has already been gathered by scientists working with Texas Electric Service Company on a similar program. TESCO began its catfish research project in 1969, and this year expects to produce 60,000 pounds of catfish.

Since catfish farmers do not have access to warm water in which to raise catfish, TP&L and Texas A&M are conducting a second research project at Trinidad.

Near the discharge canal, the Company has built 4, 1/4-acre ponds which are stocked with catfish to simulate conditions faced by the typical catfish farmer. Research in the ponds will be aimed at discovering more efficient ways to raise catfish in waters of variable temperatures.

Through its catfish research, Texas A&M expects the game fish population at Trinidad to shortly develop into one of the best in the state.

Catfish waste matter, which is high in protein, and a small percentage of high-protein catfish food which is expected to escape from the catfish cages will contribute to making Trinidad one of the most fertile and fish-productive lakes in the Southwest, A&M scientists believe.

By the time he is 70, the average American will have used 26 million tons of water, 10,000 pounds of meat, 14 tons of milk and cream, and 9,000 pounds of wheat

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

Today with building costs for new homes at an all time high, and with the present shortage of housing facilities, many families are buying mobile homes. Perhaps you have been considering such a move? If so, you should consider the following suggestions:

- (1) Will a mobile home fill the needs of your family? Is there going to be enough living space?
- (2) Have you talked with friends or acquaintances who now live in a mobile home? If not, do so as this first-hand knowledge will be invaluable in helping you decide if a mobile home will be compatible with your family.

(3) Are you familiar with the different models and brands of the most popular mobile homes? Here again you should talk with people who actually live in mobile homes to discover the advantages and disadvantages of different models and brands. This is where "caveat emptor" or "let the buyer beware" really applies. Don't just listen to the dealer's or salesman's sales pitch when comparing brands and models. Their business is to sell the mobile homes on their lot — nothing more. Only by comparing and talking to mobile home owners can you decrease the risk of making a mistake and your family will have to live in.

(4) After you have decided on the size you need and the amount of money you can spend, try to find out what a dealer's reputation is for service after the sale. Once more, the way to do this is by asking people who have previously purchased homes from the dealer. If some problem arises after you complete your purchase and then you discover that the dealer or manufacturer will do nothing, it may be too late to protect yourself.

(5) In some mobile homes

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH . . .

DENTAL FLOSS IS AN IMPORTANT AID IN DENTAL HYGIENE, THE AMERICAN DENTAL ASSOCIATION SAYS. MUCH TOOTH DECAY AND PRACTICALLY ALL GUM DISEASE OCCUR IN AREAS THE TOOTHBRUSH CANNOT REACH.

the furniture and appliances are of the lower price range, and you might consider using your own furniture or buying furniture from a local furniture dealer of better quality than that which is supplied by the mobile home manufacturer.

(6) Interest rates on mobile homes are like interest rates on everything else. It puts money in your pocket every month if you will shop around and compare interest rates. It is now possible for purchasers to obtain FHA and GI loans if qualified. Always check to see what interest rate your local bank or savings and loan association is charging on mobile home loans. Always be wary of salesmen who tell you that their loan rates are as low as the banks or savings and loan associations. The salesman gets a commission for selling the mobile homes, and he may also receive an additional commission if he arranges the financing. Thus it is to his advantage to have you finance through his company. Always pay as much down as possible and arrange your payments for as short a period of time as your budget will allow. This will save you money.

(7) You should also remember that the term mobile home is not a completely accurate description. These homes are really pre-fabricated homes that can be moved if well constructed and if the mover is careful and experienced. Many mobile homes, however, are damaged when moved because the mover or hauler is not careful, or because there is some structural design problem. Also, the costs for moving may be much higher than you think. If you have to move often, it can be quite expensive.

If you will follow these suggestions, you should be a much happier mobile home owner

Pixy Bluebirds Have Cookie Bake

Muenster's Sacred Heart second grade Pixy Bluebirds at their weekly meeting last Wednesday were at the home of their leader Mrs. Betty Ann Trubench for a cookie bake. They made and decorated gingerbread men.

Rene Stelzer, vice president, presided in the absence of Leslie Reiter. Tina Hesse was candle lighter, Donna Trubench gave the treasurer's report, Jenny Felderhoff was refreshment hostess and Susie Felderhoff dismissed with the magic wand.

Assistants Janet Pels and Joan Hesse met with the group and their leader.

B Teams Swamp State School Kids

Muenster High B teams won a pair of easy ones Monday night in games with the Denton State School teams. MHS girls took the opener 42-10 and the boys won the next one 91-23.

Top scorers for the girls were Shirley Swirczynski and Sandy Dittfurth with 6 each. For the boys they were Robert Johnson 26, Tom Hennigan 19, Joe Bright 17, Curtis Klement 14, Lyle Klement 11.

Home Employment Schemes Bared by Attorney General

Attorney General Crawford C. Martin today issued a warning for Texas citizens to be on the alert for bogus employment schemes. Elderly people and housewives who are anxious to supplement the family income, but because of children or other obligations find it impossible to hold a part time job, are usually the victims of such operations, Martin said.

Martin pointed out the companies engaging in this practice typically place advertisements in the "want ad" section of newspapers which tell of the chance to earn money at home. "Normally there is no disclosure of the type of work, but the pitch is made to send in a small sum of money, usually less than $5, to show faith or cover expenses. The work generally turns out to be addressing envelopes or some other similar activity," the Attorney General added. While the "work" offered may vary, a common theme found in all of the plans is that the prospect is required to buy something from the advertiser. This purchase by the consumer is the gimmick, and this is what the company is interested in, not in providing employment, Martin continued.

Recently the James Bliss Company of Pennsylvania has been enjoined by the Attorney General of Pennsylvania from using such false advertising practices, Martin said. "The Court decree provided that individuals that have been victimized by this scheme may obtain refunds of their money from the company," he added.

Martin asks that anyone who has paid money to the James Bliss Company and desires a return of the money to contact his Consumer Protection Division at P. O. Box 12548, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. Martin said these requests will be forwarded to the Attorney General of Pennsylvania for processing.

Further, Martin asks people who have been victimized by other such ploys to forward the information to his Consumer Protection Division. Martin noted that many people do not complain to his office since the amount of money involved is so small. "Unless we are made aware of the vicious rackets, however, such activities on the part of unethical promoters may go on for some time before they are stopped," Martin concluded.

Skidding accidents kill 10,000 persons each year. If your car starts to skid out of control, take your foot off both the gas pedal and the brake. Control can be regained by countersteering and pumping the brakes.

A research director of a major government agency was ordered to study about fleas. He obtained a flea with a high IQ, placed it on his desk and finally succeeded in training it to jump over his fingers on spoken command. Then he removed two of the flea's legs. "Jump" he ordered, and the flea still jumped. Two more legs were removed. Again the flea responded to command. At last the final two legs were removed. "Jump" the research director commanded, but the flea didn't move. The director then wrote his lengthy report on the project, concluding that: "When a flea loses all six legs, it becomes deaf."

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Bettie Luke

Some of the interesting books on the shelves of Muenster Public Library are "Remember the Alamo" by Robert Penn Warren, and a concise "History of Early Texas" by Charles E. Gilbert Jr.

The history describes all the flags of Texas from the first flag of the first inhabitants — the Indians — the different flags under France and Mexico, and Texas as a Republic, the Confederate Battle Flag and Old Glory, etc.

We also have some interesting pamphlets from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. These include "Roses for Texas," "Roses: Variety Selection," "Roses: How to Plant," "Roses: Summer Care," and "Roses for the Home." Chrysanthemums for Texas Gardens, "Growing Pansies," and "The Amaryllis."

50th Anniversary Observance Fetes Clem Hermes

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hermes Sr. of Lindsay who were married there January 31, 1922, celebrated their golden wedding there Saturday at an anniversary Mass in St. Peter Church at 4 p.m. and a reception with dinner in the Knights of Columbus Hall at Gainesville.

Celebrating with them were their 11 children and their families including 51 of their 55 grandchildren and their one great-grandchild. Other relatives and friends attending made 215 guests present. Father Damian Wewers, pastor officiated at Mass and Father John Walbe of Fort Worth was present in the sanctuary. A daughter, Mrs. Frank Haverkamp, played the organ and members of the Lindsay church choir sang. Grandchildren participated in the Mass, each family represented in the prayers of the faithful by Timmy Voth, Diane Haverkamp, Leslie Strittmatter, Nancy Hundt, Joan Schad, Jerry Hundt, Danita Hermes, Carl Hermes and Kim Corcoran. Another grandson Joey Hundt was lector. Twin sons Joe and Clem Hermes Jr. presented the sacred vessels at the offertory and another son Gilbert Hermes carried the anniversary candle. It was presented to the 50-year bride after Mass and she carried it from the church.

Mrs. Hermes wore a navy blue costume and a gardenia corsage. The couple was unattended. Her sister Mary, Mrs. John Bukowski of San Antonio, bridesmaid in 1922, was unable to be present and his brother, the late Joe Hermes, was best man a half century ago.

At dinner a grandson, Bobby Hundt, presented a family history.

After the catered meal, Mrs. Jerry Walterscheid cut the handsome anniversary cake. It was topped with a 50 ornament and further decorated with small figurines representing the children and rosebuds for the grandchildren and great-grandchild.

Granddaughters Mrs. Don Cox of Gainesville and Miss Margie Hundt of Lindsay registered guests.

Mrs. Hermes, 72, is the former Emilia Rauschuber, born in Tours. She lived in Durant, Okla., about 5 years with her family and they moved to Lindsay in 1918.

Mr. Hermes, 78, is a native of Taylor, Texas, and a resident of Lindsay since the turn of the century.

After their marriage they farmed south of Gainesville for nine years before settling on a farm at Lindsay.

He is semi-retired and Mrs. Hermes still enjoys being a homemaker. Her hobbies are raising chickens and a garden and quilting.

Their children are Mrs. Gregory (Mary) Hundt, Mrs. Ed (Louise) Schad, Mrs. Joe (Elfrieda) Hundt, Miss Anna Hermes, Mrs. Frank (Angela) Haverkamp, all of Lindsay, Mrs. Ted (Emilia) Voth of Muenster, Mrs. Harold (Rita) Corcoran of Gainesville and Mrs. David (Bernice) Strittmatter of Pilot Point, and Joe, Clem Jr. and Gilbert Hermes of Lindsay.

Among out of town guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Story and son Guy, the couple's only great-grandchild, of Dallas, Mrs. Ben Wolf and son Joe of LaFeria, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rauschuber of San Antonio, Sister Marcella Hermes of Tours, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Yosten of Rusk.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Fette had as their guest five days last week a friend, Colin Chung from Hawaii. He took German sausage from Muenster with him on his air trip home.

Tom Creighton Seeks Re-Election To State Senate

Senator Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells has today announced his intentions to seek reelection from the 22nd Senatorial District to the Texas Senate for the term commencing January 1973. Creighton was first elected to the Senate in 1960 and is now fifth in seniority. During his twelve years in the Senate, Creighton has been chairman of the important Water and Conservation Committee, Privileges and Elections Committee and vice-chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. For the past three sessions, he has served on the Appropriations subcommittee and the Senate-House Conference Committee on Appropriations, as well as the powerful Legislative Budget Board. His conservative beliefs on spending have been evident during these years. The newly constituted 22nd District includes the following counties: Bosque, Comanche, Cooke, Denton, Eastland, Erath, Hill, Hood, Jack, Johnson, Montague, Palo Pinto, Parker, Somervell, Stephens, Wise and Young.

Creighton and his wife, the former Sue Sparks, together with their three sons Will, Kenny and Mark reside in Mineral Wells where he is a practicing attorney.

In making this announcement, the veteran Senator said, "I believe that my reelection will prove to be of the utmost benefit to our District because of my past experience and seniority which will assure my appointment to the most important committees".

Political Syrup

Let someone suggest that expenditures for space exploration have been a good investment, and he is promptly shot down. However, the day of another story is coming. Dr. Wernher von Braun gives a late report in Parade magazine.

Back in 1969, thanks to satellite pictures, the U. S. National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration has estimated that the lives of 50,000 people were saved that would otherwise have been in the path of Hurricane Camille when it hit the Gulf Coast. Also, Dr. von Braun, who is associate administrator of NASA, advises that, "Today satellites carry about half the world's international telephone, telegraph and television load. . . . Or take computers. The demands of space flight pushed computer technology forward so fast that it is an $8-billion-a-year industry that employs more than 800,000 people. Thousands of new products and industrial processes have been introduced as the result of the space program."

The list of benefits from space exploration will continue to pour in — notwithstanding the street corner skeptics who like the flavor of government projects best when they are covered with political syrup.

Monster Polluter

Vandalism has risen to such heights that the new John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D. C., has asked Congress for an "emergency" $1.5 million appropriation to keep the Center open for tourists. Visitors to the Center — between 6,000 and 20,000 everyday — have removed or defaced everything within reach and more guards are needed to make people behave. Reportedly, crystal chandeliers have been stripped, pieces of rugs and curtains snipped away, faucets pried from bathroom basins. Not only do the tourists steal everything moveable, but they leave souvenirs of their visits in the form of cigarette burns and smears of candy and chewing gum.

This kind of destruction of public property makes something of a joke out of public concern for the environment and public interest in natural beauty. Perhaps it is true that a very small percentage of the public is made up of vandals and litterers, but the fact remains that the public is environmentally destructive. Left to its own devices, it is a monster that makes the alleged industrial exploiters of old look puny by comparison. In reality, much of today's disregard for environmental aesthetics is the result of a general lack of respect for the rights of other persons and their property.

Will Nixon Ask Peking about Heroin?

In his dealings with Red China it is to be expected that much of the "dialogue" between President Nixon and dictator Chou En-lai will be little more than polite talk. But there is one question Mr. Nixon should put to the Chinese Communists in plain and simple language: "When are you going to stop heroin production and sales throughout the world, especially to U.S. soldiers in Asia? When are you going to stop smuggling heroin into the United States?"

Almost every month for the last year has been a new report about Red China's role as the world's largest grower, refiner, salesman, shipper, and smuggler of deadly heroin-morphine drugs. A recent detailed report by the Institute of International Studies featured an article entitled "Chinese Communist Production and Sale of Narcotics" by Peter Huang. It pointed out the locations of opium farms, refineries and shipping points throughout Asia, and the purity of the different types of heroin produced.

In the November "Issues and Studies," Dr. Stefan Possony updated the Haug report. Possony went even further and explained how Red China is the world's largest producer of opium products. The various refining processes require a high degree of controlled production and equipment, plus close supervision of the poppy fields, with modern farming techniques. By a systematic analysis of estimated opium production throughout the world and the needs of the known heroin addicts, Possony concludes that there has to be one major industrial base for the production of the very pure heroin which has appeared throughout Asia in the last few years.

The heroin that is addicting our men in Vietnam is sold very cheaply on the streets, yet it is 96-100% pure, a purity that is impossible to achieve in the isolated hills of Burma, Thailand or Laos.

The American public is being deliberately misled on the heroin problem because we have been blaming the wrong people. Turkey has cut her production heavily, and the amounts grown by the tribal groups in Asia are small and of low purity. Yet not one American official will even mention Red China as the source of the world's illicit narcotics, for fear of "offending the Communists."

Our men are being deliberately turned into addicts in Asia, and our youth in America are being destroyed through addiction. President Nixon must be firm in demanding of the Chinese Communists: "When are you going to stop your production of narcotics?" The place to stop our drug problem is right where it starts: in Red China.

Peace through Morality

David Lawrence, venerable dean of American journalism and editor of U. S. News & World Report, in his own inimitable and fearless manner has pointed the way to peace: "The peoples in the countries which have the major military power can do a great deal to bring about peace. In Red China and the Soviet Union, the citizens do not have the freedom which prevails in democracies. But if the peace of the world depends upon the liberation of the peoples of the Soviet Union and of Red China so they can help to abolish wars, this should become the issue of greatest priority."

It is what we ultimately must do, but we are not even going to think about doing it until vast convulsions of the world have taken their toll. It is precisely the opposite of what we are doing. We are helping in every way to keep the Communist strait jackets on the Soviet and Chinese peoples by dealing with their governments over their heads and in complete indifference to the way in which they are robbed of their freedom.

What Mr. Lawrence is saying is that the way to peace is through morality in internal and external affairs. It is not through Machiavellianism or wishful thinking. Until we can free the peoples of the U.S.S.R. and Red China — and it is something we should ponder — we must base our policies at home and abroad on simple morality, on right as distinguished from wrong.

It's Not Too Late To Register for Voting This Year

Secretary of State Bob Bullock said today that despite some newspaper articles and radio bulletins to the contrary, voter registration does not end on January 31.

Secretary Bullock said, "I am aware of at least two newspaper articles and several radio announcements which state that January 31 is the last day for voter registration. Apparently there is some confusion about the new voter registration law passed by the last legislature. Under the new law, voters can register any time during the year. However, persons must register at least 30 days prior to an election, to be able to vote in that election."

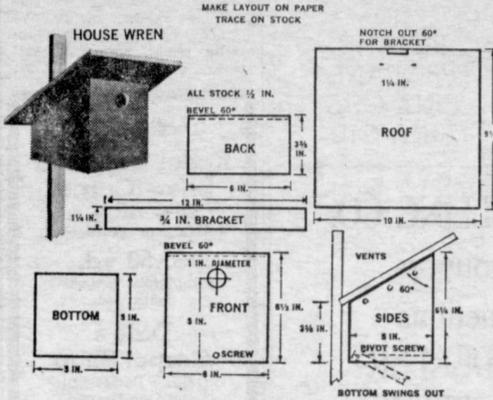

Bullock stated that his office was mailing a reminder of the new voter registration law to all County Tax Assessor-Collectors who are responsible for issuing voter registration certificates.

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

Would you like to build a birdhouse?

The best way to enjoy wild birds is to attract them close to your home without taking away their freedom. Constructing birdhouses can be an interesting hobby. There is endless variety in the project because different kinds of birds need different types of houses. Here is a birdhouse for a house wren.

One of the most important measurements to check is the size of the opening. House wrens need no more than 1 inch. The hole should be high enough so the mother bird will not be seen when sitting on her nest.

Use wood for making birdhouses. Metal becomes extremely hot and young birds may die as a result.

Birdhouses should be cool and dry. Ventilation is created by drilling small vents close to the roof, and drainage by small holes in the floor.

Paint or stain the birdhouse a color that will make it blend with its surroundings.

(For a free booklet, "The Magic Carpet," illustrated in color from The New Book of Knowledge, send name and address to Martha Glauber Shapp, Box 47, Putnam Valley, New York 10579.)

Place birdhouses in locations that are suitable and safe from prowling cats and other animals. This means avoiding dense foliage and using a post or a tree trunk in the open as a support. For a house wren, the house should be from 5 to 15 feet above ground.

After the birdhouse has been used and the young have flown away, it must be cleaned before a new family will be attracted. The best time for this is in the fall, when old nests and debris should be removed. The house should be well scrubbed with soap and water.

Court Decision Fuels Feud of Smith and Barnes

One adverse federal court decision after another fuels the feud between Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Smith was quick to blame on Barnes the failure of a 1971 filing fee statute which threatens to force a special legislative session.

While that issue was still raging, another Dallas three-judge court struck down the legislature's congressional redistricting plan. Once more, Smith accused the lieutenant governor of "reluctance" and "inaction" on redistricting.

When a third court frowned on House of Representatives redistricting in major counties as done by a board Barnes served on, Smith once more leveled at the lieutenant governor charges of "immature action" and lack of leadership. Single-member districts were ordered for Bexar and Dallas counties.

Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian, speaking in Barnes' defense, said Smith offered the legislature no leadership himself and reminded that the governor could have vetoed the congressional redistricting measure if he didn't like it.

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin succeeded in getting a temporary postponement of the congressional redistricting order. The U. S. Supreme Court agreed to delay the new plan pending appeal.

U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, who intervened as a friend of the court in support of the stay, said congressional candidates for this year, at least, can run in the districts given them by the legislature.

That would be a relief for Congressmen Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls and Omar Burleson of Anson; Jim Wright of Fort Worth and Ray Roberts of McKinney and O. C. Fisher of San Angelo and Abraham Kazen of Laredo who had been pitted against each other in the federal district court plan.

If he has to call a special session on primary election financing, said Smith, he will expect "those responsible for creating this problem" to come up with workable alternatives.

The prescription for most of the ills that beset the world is just plain, everyday honesty.

Medicare Boosts Deductible to $68

"The hospital deductible under the Medicare program went up to $68 beginning in January 1972," said Gus Jones, district manager of the Sherman social security office today.

Since hospital costs rose substantially in 1970, the law required that a higher deductible be set. Under the formula in the law, the new hospital deductible is based on the ratio between hospital costs in 1970 and the costs in 1966, the year Medicare began. That ratio is multiplied by $40 and the result rounded to the nearest $4. The result is an increase from $60 to $68.

"The change in the deductible does not change the fact that a Medicare patient can still have up to 60 days of covered services in a hospital with cost to the patient only $68," Jones emphasized.

He went on to say that changes were made in the amounts a Medicare beneficiary pays when his hospital stay is longer than 60 days or a posthospital stay in an extended care facility is more than 20 days. If a Medicare beneficiary is in the hospital more than 60 days, he will pay $17 a day for the 61st through the 90th day. If he has a posthospital stay of over 20 days in an extended care facility, he will pay $8.50 a day of the cost for the 21st through 100th day. If he needs more than 90 days hospital care in the same benefit period and he chooses to draw on his "lifetime reserve," he will pay $34 for each day used instead of the present $30 a day.

No More Delay in Getting Car Tags

AUSTIN — You don't have to stand in line anymore if you don't want to in order to register "Old Betsy" — or whatever you can the faithful family car.

Texas motorists can get their 1972 license plates by mail if they send in the three-part renewal form, the registration fee and one dollar to their county tax officer prior to March 1.

This allows for the 30 days that are necessary for the application to be processed and the license plates delivered before the April 1 deadline. The plates themselves become available at the tax office or sub-station February 1.

If the motorist prefers, he may register his vehicle in person by taking the handy three-part form to the county tax office. It takes the clerk only a fraction of the time it used to take to process the form, collect the fee and send the motorist on his way with new plates.

Whether the driver uses the mail or applies for his license in person — the important thing for him to remember is to be very careful NOT to separate the three-part application form.

Even though the three-part renewal form carries the warning "DO NOT Separate or Detach Any Parts of This Notice" in large letters on the reverse side, some motorists do just that.

Department officials stress that the entire form must be mailed in or brought to the county tax office or sub-station. A stick down strip showing the new license number is attached to all sections of the form and then the tax-officer separates the form, returning the license receipt to the owner.

Applications for license plates should only be sent to the county tax office. Motorists should NOT send their payments to the Texas Highway Department because this will delay their registration.

During the month of March, it will be necessary for owners to apply in person at the county tax office or sub-station to obtain the 1972 license plates. In any event, owners will save themselves time and trouble by using the new computerized forms in this third year under the new system.

With the form, a certificate of title and last year's registration receipt is not needed.

So register now and display your new plates. This will remind your neighbor it is time for him to do the same.

Cooke County Farm Bureau directors, meeting Tuesday night, had Melvin Dansby, area field representative for district 4 as guest speaker and he furnished a detailed account of the district meeting in Waco on January 19-20 for all new county presidents.

He also brought the group up to date on membership drive on the district level the week of Feb. 14. Climaxing the drive will be a meeting and banquet in Arlington Feb. 25. Dansby recognized E. V. Fox and presented him an award for outstanding accomplishments in membership during 1971.

J. T. Cole challenged each director to "be a friend" to at least one person by signing him as a new F. B. member this month. He said Farm Bureau's primary purpose is to serve farmers and ranchers, and it's theirs to direct, support and use.

President Burney Almon presided for business. Directors voted to purchase a United States flag and a Texas flag to be displayed inside the F. B. building.

Neil Tibbets proudly reported that a Cooke County 4-H boy, Mike Davidson, member of Muenster Community 4-H Club, had shown the first place winner in the medium weight calf division at the Fort Worth Stock Show. Young Davidson's calf, a Santa Gertrudis-Hereford cross, sold for $900. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davidson.

It was announced that plans are complete to have Texas State Senator Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells as a guest at the next 42 party to be held in the F. B. building on Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m. All members and guests are invited. Refreshments will be served.

After adjournment Mmes. Lawrence Zimmerer and Roy Lynch served refreshments to 20 present.

tening of attitude in an effort to adjust society to the growing prevalence of standards which used to be morally unacceptable. For instance, repealing capital punishment and abortion laws. The sob sisters seem to overlook the commandment which says "Thou shalt not kill" — along with the rights of an unborn child and a murderer's victim, but they are most solicitous for persons who commit the crimes.

Regarding education on sex and drugs, the idea's merit depends entirely on the kind of teaching. The wrong kind of teaching can cause more harm than good. Endorsement without qualification can be a step toward promiscuity and addiction.

State funds for low cost housing is just another advancement of the socialistic trend. We already have too many ways of taking from the haves and giving to the have nots — social security, medicare, relief programs, free food, guaranteed annual wage, etc. Instead of adding more we need to be eliminating.
