NUMBER 49

The ultimate in UN infamy happened Monday night. That organization reached a new low in shabby policy when it voted to admit a renegade government and to expel a government of high principles and ideals. That stunt clearly indicated that UN is as bankrupt morally and intellectually as it is financially.

On the basis of principle the passage of either measure was absurd. The country that got the boot had lived up to the UN charter in every respect. It had lived at peace with others while vastly improving its people's standard of living. On the other hand the country which was welcomed has a long record of slavery and mass murder in its own country besides aggression in other countries.

Perhaps this is what should have been expected in an outfit that has been so obviously deteriorating in justice and integrity. For a number of years the Reds, who dominate the UN, along with their satellites and stooges, have carried on a constant conspiracy to undermine the interests of free countries and support interests of Communism.

They have loudly condemned the old colonialism knowing very well that they were helping promote a scheme whereby Reds planned to take over those countries. They have criticized American commercial interests as imperialism while hypocritically tolerating the ultimate imperialism of the Reds in enslaving their captive nations.

The high ideals originally claimed for the UN have become meaningless. The aim for peace has deteriorated to the Communist aim of co-existence, which means getting along on terms laid down by the Reds. We have had years of constant strife and oppression, with aggression and atrocity, and all the while UN made little, or no effort to restrain the aggressor or help the victim. The reason is that things were going according to Communist plan, supporting the Communist conspiracy for global domination. So this latest outrage of banning a civilized country and admitting an outlaw country should come as no surprise.

Supporters of the scheme have been saying that Communists are the legitimate representatives of the Chinese mainland because they have been there for more than twenty years. That statement is not necessarily true. Regardless of how long they have had control of the government the fact remains that they imposed themselves on the people in the first place and never allowed the people to express their wish. They can't reasonably claim to represent the people or deny that the Taiwan government represents them.

Furthermore, if UN lacks the logic to resolve the case on that issue, it should have no trouble observing that Chinese Reds excluded themselves from eligibility by violating the UN charter. On the other hand the Nationalist government is still the last legitimate government of the Chinese, still the representatives of Chinese culture and civilization.

There is still another consideration in favor of the Nationalists. Even tolerating the twisted logic which admits the Reds to represent Mainland China, there is no valid reason for ousting the Taiwan government, which is the representative of over 14 million people. They have a right to membership and their government qualifies according to all clauses of the UN charter.

Well, it has been done, and it gives us good reason to believe that this is the beginning of the end for the UN. Any outfit so vile and unjust is doomed to become a victim of its own corruption. It's been the history of Communism the past half century to live like a leech off the life blood of free countries. It would have folded several times if the United States had not sustained it through its crises.

Now it apparently chooses to alienate the free countries and go it alone. And this country should make sure that the UN and its communist sympathizing members will now have the opportunity to be on their own. By this we mean stopping our aid program to every nation that had a part in this outrage, and of course stop-

Haverkamps Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary at Mass and Reception

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haverkamp who were married in Sacred Heart Church on Oct. 25, 1921, have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. She is the former Miss Elizabeth Wiesman. Both are natives of Muenster.

The golden jubilee Mass was celebrated by Father Leonard Wangler in Sacred Heart Church Saturday at 5 p.m. He also directed renewal of the vows the couple pledged a half century ago.

Following the services, a reception and catered dinner were held in the KC Hall. The goldenweds' children and families including 23 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, along with other relatives and friends attended. The guest book showed 115 present.

Each of the 26 grandchildren had a part in the celebration including Frank Luke who was organist. He also accompanied Mrs. David Walterscheid, vocalist, who sang "On This Day" before Mass, "Blessed Be This Day" at the offertory and "Santa Maria" after the service.

Witnessing the anniversary vows as best man and matron of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wiesman of Gainesville. He was attendant in 1921 and the late Mrs. John Kathman was bridesmaid.

Grandsons Kenneth and Bobby Luttmir, George Luke, Eric Sturm and Alan Zimmerman were candle lighters and acolytes.

Hornets, Coons Tangle for Lead In 12-A District

Another big one is booked for the MHS Hornets this week when they take on the Coons of Frisco. Both teams now have two conference wins and either will need this one to keep its chances alive for the 12-A title. Nocona, the other team with two wins, will play Lake Dallas, a two time loser.

The indication, according to Coach Glenn Richardson, is that this will be the toughest yet for his Hornets. The Coons have a decisive 27-0 win over Sanger and a 6-0 win over Lake Dallas. Furthermore they have a long roster of big boys enabling them to play a two platoon system. This means their boys will have alternate rest periods whereas the Hornets have to go all the way. Endurance could become a factor. Along with that they have a pair of speedy light weight receivers who have made the passing game effective. They will be a big threat to the stout Hornet defense which has blanked its first two district opponents.

At the same time the Hornets will be handicapped by injuries. Roy Klement, who was out with a wrist injury until two games ago, now has a cracked forearm. Henry Krabe and Danny Fette have sprained ankles. All are still prospects for the game but likely to be below par.

Mentally the team is in fine condition. Good performances in their past two games has built up confidence in their ability to keep going.

12-A standings now are two wins each for Muenster, Frisco and Nocona and two losses each for Sanger, Pilot Point and Lake Dallas.

It's Time to Change Clocks

Effective Sunday at 2 a.m., it's clock changing time again. Daylight Saving Time has run its course for the year and the country now will get back in tune with the sun.

Sometime during Saturday night folks will set their clocks back, recovering the hour they lost in April. Then, after an extra hour of sleep, they'll find the day more advanced than it used to be.

Remember: Change the clock or you may be an hour early for church.

Building Starts on Dairy Foods and Sandwich Shop

A new business in a new home is in the making at Muenster. It's a combined dairy foods and sandwich stand located south of Highway 82 at the Walnut Street corner... which is diagonally across from Rohmer's Restaurant.

The business will be owned jointly by Tommy Herr, Jerry Wimmer, Dolphy Joe Hellman and John Pagel.

Work on the project started Tuesday with removal of two to three feet of top soil in order to lower the surface to near street level and construction will start promptly. The building will be brick veneered with ceramic tile interior. It will measure 36x70, providing space for inside service as well as drive-in service.

Rain Measures .64

Continued rainfall continues to keep local croplands too wet for over-due grain planting. The latest came Tuesday night as the fields were almost ready. Readings reported by Steve Moster are .63 at 7 a.m. Wednesday and .01 Thursday. Total to date for the month is 6.69 inches. Total for the year is 31.93.

Hornets Win Second 12-A Tilt, Beat Bearcats 27-0

Homecoming was a great event at Muenster High, thanks to the fighting, hustling Hornets. In their second consecutive superb performance they blasted the Pilot Point Bearcats 27-0 and maintained their perfect record in the 12-A district race. For season their record stands at 6-0-1.

The game was a continuation of that at Lake Dallas a week before. Following that one Coach Glenn Richardson said it was the best so far, and this was more of the same. The Hornets' offense was tops in hustle and coordination, the defense was stout and alert. They outgained their opponents more than two to one.

Starting the game the teams were deadlocked and each had to kick twice. Then the Hornets started from their 44 and got to the Bearcat 18, and came to a sudden stop as Jim Endres' pass was intercepted at the goal line and run back to the 21.

After another exchange of kicks the Hornets got back in business when Curtis Klement intercepted a Bearcat pass on Pilot Point's 29.

Six plays were enough from there. Hank Trachta and Henry Knabe alternated in driving to 5 and Jim Endres went over from there. Endres' kick upped the score to 7.

On first series after kickoff Pilot Point failed on a fourth down gamble giving the Hornets a good opportunity from 22 yards away. Three tries made the distance, the pay off being a 6 yard romp by Trachta. Endres' kick added another point.

Late in the second period Muenster moved again. Five tries gained 32 to the 30. A place kick attempt there with 33 seconds remaining was short. The half time score was 14-0.

During the first half the visitors were kept very much in check. They had one first down and net yardage of only 12. One reason for their troubles was the absence of their speedster, James Johnson, who was out with an injury.

His return for the start of the second half made a difference. He went 22 yards to mid-field on two plays. Then Alan Miller rudely interrupted the drive by swiping a pass and sailing down the left sideline some 60 yards to the third Hornet TD.

After the next kickoff the Bearcats put on their best drive of the night. Johnson was the spark plug in grinding out three first downs to mid-field. Danny Fette spoiled the next series for them by nailing the quarterback for a ten yard loss. Next play, on fourth down, was a long pass that

Pam Walterscheid Crowned Queen at MHS Homecoming

MHS Ex Students and all other Hornet fans had a fine homecoming Friday. Along with a thrilling 27-0 win over Pilot Point's Bearcats, they enjoyed a homecoming dance and the pomp and ceremony of crowning a homecoming queen.

Her royal highness is Miss Pam Walterscheid, elected by the football team from four senior nominees. The other three, who were honored as princesses, are Cheryl Otto, Kris Stormer and Debbie Sickling. Also princesses were Diane Klement, Dolly Bayer and Janet Swirczynski of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes.

The queen was crowned by Debbie Yosten, last year's queen and received a bouquet from Johnny Pagel, president of the Exes. The princesses received corsages from other student officers and the senior class sponsors. Escorts were MHS grads of last year: Tim Hennigan, Leon Klement, Gerry Cash, John Schneider, Glenn Felderhoff, Earl Koelzer and Ricky Walterscheid.

The dance was at the KC hall with music by Cherry & Rhone. During a short meeting there new officers were elected as follows: Mrs. James Walterscheid, president; Roy Monday, vice-president; Kenny Fette, secretary-treasurer.

Kenny Walterscheid, 15, Dies In Motorcycle-Pickup Collision

Kenny Walterscheid, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denis Walterscheid died instantly about 7:45 Tuesday morning in the collision of his motorcycle with a pickup truck.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by a Muenster doctor and was said to have sustained a broken neck.

The accident occurred while he was driving north on FM 373 on his way to Sacred Heart High School, where he was a freshman. He collided with the vehicle driven by Albert (Buster) Herr, owner of Stockman's Feed Store, as Herr was angling left to drive to the store. As explained by Highway

Patrolman Tim Freeman, Herr was headed south following a large truck loaded with oil field equipment and was not able to see the motorcycle until he had started his turn. Herr applied his brakes immediately and came to a stop with his vehicle partially blocking the north-bound lane.

The boy failed to get past the front of the pickup.

Damage was only slight to the motorcycle and the pickup.

Funeral services were held at 9:30 Thursday morning in Sacred Heart Church with Father Placidus Eckart officiating. Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was also officiated by Father Placidus under direction of Nick Miller Funeral Home.

Bearers were Pat Endres, Chris Felderhoff, Melvin Luke, Steve Taylor, Danny Voth and Ricky Walterscheid, all of the Sacred Heart Tiger football team. Other members of the Tiger squad served as honorary pallbearers.

Two rosary services were held in the Miller Chapel Wednesday, at 4 and at 8 p.m.

Kenny was born Sept. 12, 1956, and was a member of SHH football team.

Surviving are his parents; three sisters, Darlene, Denise and Debby; and three brothers Phil, Teddy and Bret, all of the home, grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herr and a great-grandmother, Mrs. I. A. Schoech, all of Muenster.

Tigers Will Host Dallas Christian Saturday at 7:30

Another long night is on schedule for Sacred Heart's Tigers when they take on super powered Dallas Christian, the front runner and title favorite of the Texas Independent Schools Conference. The game will be on Sacred Heart field Saturday night starting at 7:30.

Again the Tigers are matched far out of their class. The Chargers' record to date is 7-0-0 including a 19-8 win over North Garland, a Triple A team, and a 6-0 win over Fort Worth Day School, which annihilated the Tigers. Coach Tom Joy says that he hasn't even a remote hope of winning but would like to see the visitors turn over a big part of the game to their rookies so that his kids will have some time on fairly even terms.

With the odds already stacked against them, the Tigers lost one of their starters this week in the accidental death of Kenny Walterscheid. A back injury to Mark Schmitt two weeks ago benched him for the rest of the season. The squad roster now is down to 17 boys, several of them being light weight freshmen.

The game will be preceded by junior contest at 5:30. Tiger Cubs will play the seventh and eighth graders of Dallas Christian.

Cub Scout Pack Reorganizes with Eighteen Members

Muenster Cub Scouts re-organized at a meeting Monday night when 18 boys registered and were assigned to dens.

New members are Benji Luke, Bobby Hamric, Steve Hennigan, Sammy Hess, John Walterscheid, John Zimmerman, John Trubench, Graig Bayer, Greg Rohmer, Mark Miller and Glen Fisher. These were welcomed by the former seven members.

Mrs. Jerry Wimmer and Mrs. W. J. Miller are new den mothers. Mrs. Larry Hennigan continues as a den mother and is den mother coach.

More boys are welcomed and those who are interested are invited to contact Fred Knabe, cubmaster.

Webelos present were recognized. They will receive their awards, earned during the summer, at the next meeting.

Pack meetings will be held the last Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall.

Kin at Norman for Funeral of Aunt Mrs. Louis Klement

A group from Muenster was in Norman, Okla., Monday for the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Louis Klement, 84, formerly of Muenster who died Saturday.

Services were in St. Joseph's Catholic Church followed by burial in the parish cemetery. Mrs. Klement was the former Mary Strategier. She married Louis Klement in April 1907. He died in July 1965. They had no children. Two sisters, both of Norman, survive.

Attending the funeral were Messrs. and Mmes. Alfred Bayer, Gene Klement, Tony Hess, J. A. Klement and Ray Klement and Mrs. Albert Reiter.

Tigers Win Consolation in Second Half at Greenhill

Sacred Heart's game at Greenhill Friday night officially goes on the record as a 38-22 loss, but the Tigers and their fans prefer to think of it a two-part event in which they won one and lost one.

To begin, Greenhill's Hornets lost no time in marking up a decisive win for themselves on the TISC record — and at the same time the Tigers sustained their third conference loss. But in the second half Greenhill was the gracious host, playing its youngsters and giving Sacred Heart a better matched game.

The Hornets got their start when Sacred Heart fumbled on its first series. Five plays covered the 40 yards to pay dirt and a run added 2 points.

Again, ending the Tigers first series, they blocked a punt and started 44 yards away. A pass reached the 6. Three runs finished the job.

Next they succeeded with an on-side kick attempt after which they went in from the 42 in seven plays.

After holding Sacred Heart for the first series they started again but fumbled on their third series and Kenny Hess recovered.

Gary Endres made 17 on a keeper play to the Hornet 43, but the next series was a disaster. Three plays lost 8, then the center's pass sailed high over the punter. When the scramble ended Greenhill was in business only 14 yards away. One try was enough, making the count 26-0 early in the second quarter.

Shortly after that an interception by Gary Endres stopped the Hornets on the 24, but they had the ball back two plays later on a fumble. Three runs took it in from the 29. A short kick and good return ending the Tiger's next series put Greenhill on the Tiger 29. Eight runs made the distance making the half time score 38-0.

It was a different ball game when the Greenhill reserves took the field after intermission. Hornets had to kick on the second series and got possession again by covering the ball after it had bounced against a Tiger. Their next series lost ground, however, so the Tigers started from their 31. At that time Kevin Pels was at quarterback replacing Gary Endres, who was injured late in the first half. Melvin Luke, Davy Krahl and Pels hauled the ball down the field in eight plays for the first TD. Pels scored and Krahl followed over for bonus points.

Following the Hornets' next series the Tigers moved again. Luke and Pels gobbled up 50 yards on six runs before a

Public Invited to Halloween Fete For Hospital Fund

Members of Muenster Hospital Auxiliary extend a general invitation to everyone to join them at the VFW Hall Saturday this week at 9 p.m. for an old-fashioned Halloween celebration. The party is a benefit for Muenster Hospital and proceeds will go toward purchase of another bed in the recovery room.

Halloween of yester-years will be revived with old time games and contests, prizes and surprises. The party includes a buffet of finger foods, a song-fest and music for dancing. Admission is six dollars a couple. Mrs. David Bayer is in charge of table reservations. While costuming is encouraged it is not required. However there will be prizes in several costume categories. Final plans for the party were made at the Auxiliary's meeting Thursday night.

Members decided to again sponsor donations to Muenster Hospital in lieu of Christmas cards.

Four receiving blankets were on display. They were donated to the Auxiliary's gift counter at the hospital by Mrs. Joe Luke and Mrs. Walter Grewing.

Mrs. David Bright won the door prize.

Paper Pickup Saturday

SHH seniors will conduct a scrap paper drive Saturday, Oct. 30, beginning at 9 a.m. Persons with paper to give are asked to have it out at the curb boxed or corded for quick pick up. Area farm residents with paper to contribute may leave it at the west entrance of SH High School.

12. To permit state employees to serve on local governing boards.

14. To allow counties to reduce their permanent school fund and distribute money to independent and common school districts on a per-scholarship basis.

Imbalance in Europe

The recent Berlin agreements have been hailed in some quarters as evincing a sincere desire by Russia for better relations with the West. High hopes have been placed by western leaders on the continuing Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT). Moscow also continues to profess a desire to discuss mutual balanced force reductions in Europe.

All this sounds good. But what the Berlin agreements will amount to in practice remains to be seen. The marathon SALT talks, just possibly, may turn out to be a calculated Russian delaying tactic to gain decisive nuclear superiority over the U.S. And if Russia really wants to cut back its forces in Europe, why does it not match the reduc-

Instead the Russian buildup continues without the slightest sign of letup, and the West goes drifting along as usual. Facing facts is always a lot more painful than cultivating hopes. Failing to provide adequate defenses against a potential aggressor could be more painful still.

Very little public notice has been given to the ominous Russian buildup in Europe, where the military balance is slowly but steadily increasing in favor of the eight Warsaw Pact nations. Defense Secretary Laird has warned that Russia's relentless drive for world supremacy in naval and nuclear strength could be successful by the mid-1970s. His warning is corroborated by the report of the International Institute for Strategic Studies that Russia's ever-growing military preponderance over the West, especially on the crucial central European front, is now unmistakable.

A Critical Look

Former Health, Education and Welfare Secretary, Senator Abraham Ribicoff has used an interesting analogy to emphasize the waste in the government's numerous poverty programs—waste that he lays directly at the doorstep of Congress.

He observes that some $31 billion will be spent this year, at all levels of government, on poverty programs. "And yet," he adds, "it is questionable whether any of those programs have removed a single person from poverty. It might be intriguing for senators to contemplate that, if we eliminated all these programs and bureaucracies, and divided that $31 billion among the people who are under the poverty line, every family of four would receive a total of $4,800, almost $1,000 over the poverty line. We would eliminate poverty completely in America... it is incumbent upon us in the Senate to be much more critical of the actual performance of many of the programs we pass." Senator Ribicoff's remarks help to explain why welfare has become an issue of transcendental importance.

The Search For Decency

There was a time when "law and order" were acceptable words. Those were the days when county prisoners earned time by working on public roads.

Times have changed. The misinformed have condemned work by prisoners. So perhaps a Miami, Fla., judge has redesigned, unless the supreme court over-rules, a method of rehabilitation that could be effective, and at the same time, a bit less expensive to the over-burdened taxpayers.

Criminal Court Judge Alfonso C. Sepe, according to the Tampa, Fla., Tribune, imposed the different sentence on Paul Joseph Abdullah and Howard Eric Abis, each twenty years of age, after they terrorized three elderly women in a holdup.

The judge ordered the two to write 10,000 times each "I shall not disobey the law again". They must start to college this fall and earn a four-year degree, stay away from alcoholic beverages (drinks), drugs and weapons, and write letters of apology to the victims. Also, they must attend religious services. One slip and off to jail they go for two years. This type of rehabilitation could be an improvement over many current sentences — provided jails and prisons are places one would want to stay away from.

Blockading Pacific Ports

Classic military strategy includes the blockading of enemy seaports whenever possible. Laymen may not understand military strategy, but on the West Coast, they can now fully appreciate the devastating consequences of a harbor blockade. Twenty-four West Coast ports, through which pass much of the nation's vital shipping and commerce, were blockaded all during the summer of 1971 — not by the action of enemy war vessels, but by an equally paralyzing maritime strike involving some 15,000 dock workers.

The nation's answer to the blockading by a foreign enemy of U. S. ports would be swift to meet the necessity of keeping lifelines open. But, apparently, there is no answer to the paralysis of a strike. According to Time magazine, "In all, some 150 freighters have been rendered a Pacific mothball fleet..." As the strike moves into its fourth month, ships lie idle at anchor with cargo amounting to hundreds of thousands of tons — some of it already spoiled. U. S. farmers who rely increasingly on foreign customers were hard hit. In the state of Washington, 15 million bushels of wheat have been dumped. In California alone, reports Time magazine, the cost of the strike has exceeded $1 billion.

Blockading a nation's ports spells catastrophe whether it is accomplished by enemy action or by abuse of the right to strike. U. S. citizens will long remember the great Pacific strike blockade of 1971.

Two veteran newsmen greeted each other in their favorite pub.

"Why so down in the mouth, Ed?" said the first.

Daylight Saving Time

When is daylight saving time going off, a fellow asked the other day. Well, we answered, that won't be until the last Sunday in October.

"For crying out loud," he exclaimed, "I will be eating breakfast in the dark a long time before that."

It is true that six months of daylight savings time in this part of the country is a mighty long time. We start in April when 8:00 o'clock comes pretty early and don't end until October when the same thing is true. During the summer months it is not so bad because the sun is pretty far up when we go to work.

"What I would like to know," said one fellow, "is who is getting the daylight saved?" We wonder, too. What is the advantage to the ordinary mortal when he gets up an hour earlier and, if he gets his sleep, has to go to bed an hour earlier. What has he saved? Nothing but the feelings of the politicians who thought this mess all up.

failed to connect.
 That was followed by a pair of Muenster fumbles, the first on Pilot Point's 25. On next play the Cats passed for a first down on the 44. Four plays later they had to kick and got two breaks together. The Hornets' receiver fumbled and a Bearcat recovered, and Muenster drew a major penalty for piling on. The result was a first down for Pilot Point only 14 yards away. However the threat ended suddenly on the second play as Jim Endres intercepted.

After that the teams were deadlocked again for four series of downs before the Hornets cranked up their last scoring drive. Rickey Swirczynski, Trachta and Knabe tore off 64 yards in ten plays, and on the last one Knabe went 3 yards through a huge hole in the line without being touched. The clock read 1:23 as Endres kicked true for the last bonus point.

Speedster Johnson almost put his team on the scoreboard on the kickoff that followed. Mack received the ball and handed off to Johnson who streaked down the left sideline getting past mid field before the last Hornet defender forced him out of bounds.

Tiger Cubs Win 18-6 at Greenhill

The brighter side of Sacred Hearts' trip to Dallas last Friday was furnished by the Tiger Cubs. They beat Greenhill's seventh and eighth graders by an 18-6 count.

Greenhill's kids opened the game with a jolt first by keeping possession on an on-side kick then by scoring from the 45 two plays later on a pass. That was the end of Greenhill's scoring.

The Cubs evened the count minutes later. After kickoff they drove all the way, about 60 yards, finishing the job with a 10 yard touchdown pass from Roger Endres to Mark Hess.

Early in the second Carl Koesler put the team in business with an interception about 40 yards away. They gained 25 from there on rushing, then Endres connected with Koesler for 15 yards and a TD.

Three other Cubs got interceptions that night. They were Darrell Walterscheid, Leon Bayer and Bruce Fuhrman.

Last score came in the fourth period following one of those interceptions in mid field. Mark Hess ended the drive with a three yard dive.

Education Week Stresses Study of School Dilemmas

The dilemma of today's schools — with their still too high dropout rates, the minimal learning on the part of many who remain in school, and the growing alienation among the young of all colors and classes is the focus of American Education Week observed here and across the nation October 24-30.

"The hope is that citizens will implement the theme of this year's observance and 'Help Schools Bridge the Gap' between the promise and the performance of the American educational system," says Sister Mary John Seyler, Principal of Sacred Heart School.

American Education Week has been held annually since 1921. It is under the auspices of the National Education Association, The American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education. The purpose: to encourage citizens to look intensely at their schools in order to provide adequate support and initiate action toward correcting problems or weaknesses in the education program.

4-H Club News

Muenster Community Club members at their October meeting saw a film on Texas presented by Craig Rosenbaum, assistant county agent, and heard reports on activities by members and by Mrs. Marlea Thompson, assistant home demonstration agent.

Barbie Davidson told about a radio program in which she, Allen and Mary Lou Fleitman participated on KGAF for 4-H Week. Kathy Davidson reported on posters made during 4-H Week.

Mrs. Thompson announced the Food Show will be held January 8 at CCJC and also told about the Milk Demonstration to be presented by Mrs. Shirley Carter, home economist for TP&L Co.

Mike Davidson reported 20 members, including four new members, Shari Wimmer, Clara Knabe, Karen Barnhill and Larry Fleitman, present, along with four adult leaders. Pat Davidson led recreation.

Tips for Parents: After the teen-ager has been driving the family car, be sure to adjust the rear-view mirror, change the radio station, and head for the nearest gas station.

With all the concern about pollution standards for stack effluents, so frequently measured in parts per million (ppm), the Phillips Petroleum Company questions as to how many people have any real idea of what one ppm is. For example, one ppm amounts to: one minute in two years; one second in 11.6 days or one cent in $10,000 or one ounce of vermouth in an 8,000-gallon tank car of gin.

The magazine then goes on to say: "This question has caused considerable controversy in recent years as experts strive to decide which is truly the better procedure. Now comes the National Bureau of Standards to report that the best tires should be used on the rear wheels. Failure of rear tires is a more important cause of accidents than failure of front tires, says the Bureau after exhaustive tests."

"Woodman, Spare That Tree!"

Did you know there was a shortage of paper during the American Revolution? Even George Washington was forced to write many of his dispatches on scraps and pieces of old paper.

To meet the need for writing paper, mills advertised asking patriotic American women to supply them with old clothing and sheets from which they could make rag paper. This reuse of discarded fabrics is one of the first examples of recycling in this country.

Today the recycling of fabrics and waste paper into stationery, cartons, paperboard and newsprint is a significant factor in the battle against solid wastes plaguing our environment. About 20 per cent of all paper manufactured in this country uses recycled paper.

In 1945 we were recycling 35 per cent of our paper and the need is even greater today. If paper recycling was increased to 50 per cent, says the National Association of Secondary Material Industries (NASMI), we would spare 500,000,000 trees annually — a forest equal in size to all of New England, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland. — for a healthier environment.

Recycling of metals as well as paper, NASMI adds, helps the nation's economy by conserving natural resources and producing dollars from materials recovered from solid waste. At present, it costs municipalities about $30 a ton to get rid of waste paper that could be sold for productive recycling.

Well, What Do You Know?

fun, games and knowledge

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor, The New Book of Knowledge

Would you like to have a shell collection?

Shells are sometimes found cast up on a beach after a storm. But the best way to find shells is to hunt the live mollusks (a mollusk is a soft-bodied, shell-bearing animal) in shallow water at low tide. Freshwater shells are found in the mud and sand of ponds and streams and on underwater plants. The best time to search for these shells is during dry periods, when the level of water in ponds and streams is low. You can look for land snails under stones and logs in damp places and beneath the loose bark of rotting stumps.

Many mollusks leave trails in the mud or show their presence by small, round holes in the sand. The more you know about the habits of mollusks, the more shells you will find.

When you find a shell, make a note of exactly when and where you found it. Identify it from one of the many excellent guidebooks to shells.

If you collect a living specimen, you will have to get rid of the animal. Clams, for instance, can be boiled for a few minutes. Then the shells pop open and the animal can be cleaned out easily. To avoid cracking delicate shells, bring the water to a boil slowly and do not let it boil too briskly. Let the water cool before removing the mollusks.

Snail shells present more of a problem. If you boil them for a short period, you can usually remove the animal with a crochet hook. Some may break off, however, and remain lodged inside the shell. If this happens, soak the shell in water for a few days and then flush it out with a strong jet of water. Usually a faucet turned on full force will do the trick. Very small shells may be placed in alcohol for a few days and then dried in the shade.

If you want your shells to dry in a "butterfly" position, with the "wings" outstretched, lay them flat open after removing the animal. If you want them closed, tie the two halves together after cleaning.

Wherever you collect your shells, this is a hobby that will give you hours of fun and fascination.

Take an electrical tour (it may surprise you!)

Start in your own living room. Write down each electrically operated thing you see. And do the same for all other rooms. Remember small appliances tucked away in closets and cupboards... the Reddy Lite outside and power tools in the garage. Total the list and — probably you have more than you thought.

Like most of us, you're using more electricity than before — to make living a lot easier. The average TP&L residential customer is using six times more electrical energy today than 20 years ago! The average annual cost per kilowatt hour of TP&L residential electricity is only about half what it was 20 years ago. That's a bargain!

ping our subsidy to the UN itself.

This latter reprisal is already being proposed in the US Senate. Members pointed out that we have 6.6 per cent of total population in the UN but pay over 35 per cent of its operation cost. Others say that there are 131 members, each with one vote, so our real representation is considerably less than one per cent. So we ought to pay on the basis of one of those figures. And who can say that we shouldn't? We've been suckers all these years.

Senator Barry Goldwater proposes a still better idea. He wants to get us out of the UN and get UN out of the US. He expresses the opinion of millions of Americans in stating that the organization for years has been communist controlled and actually is detrimental rather than helpful to world peace. We'll do more harm than good by our continued membership, in that we'll only help to sustain an evil outfit. He might have added also that the UN has made it possible for hundreds of spies and saboteurs to operate here under diplomatic immunity. Ridding the country of them would be a most welcome change.

Lately we occasionally hear puny reasoning which admits that UN has lost effectiveness as a peace keeping organization but still serves a good purpose as a forum for presenting ideas of international importance. It sounds like a reason until one remembers that UN is dominated by Reds and its podiums are hogged by Reds for spreading their propaganda.

When a person thinks it over he can't find a reason why UN deserves to continue existing, nor one reason why we should permit it to remain here.

It pays to advertise with the Muenster Enterprise.

fumble brought their drive to a sudden halt on the 4.

From there Greenhill got back to midfield before losing on a fourth down try, then Luke, Krahl and Pels romped again. They used six plays, Pels scored from the 10 and Krahl added bonus points.

First play after next kickoff Danny Voht jarred a Hornet loose from the ball and Steve Taylor recovered on the Tiger 44. Luke made 18 and Krahl 32 to the 6. At this point a number of Greenhill regulars came back into the game, and so did Gary Endres. Three plays lost 18 yards. Then, on fourth down, Endres passed to Kenny Hess who went on to pay dirt.

A fumble recovery by Pels on the next series probably kept the Hornets from scoring again. They lost valuable time while the Tigers played out a series and kicked. After that they put on a hard fast drive reaching the 6 as the game ended.
