VOLUME XXXVI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 FEBRUARY 18, 1972

It's gratifying to note that our state's redistricting hassle is settled for this election year, but we can't be so well pleased over the prospect of avoiding another round of trouble the next time the state gets divided. As we see it, the federal court, which over-ruled the last legislature's division because of a 4.1 per cent variance between the most and least populous districts, has set a guideline that will cause no end of problems in the future.

The reason for the change-up, of course, was the official census of 1970. The state's increase of population entitled it to increased representation in the national legislature. This is based on the "one man-one vote" principle which specifies representation in Washington based on the population of each state.

So far, so good, but the matter doesn't remain quite as simple when it comes to upping our number of congressmen from 23 to 24. State legislators had the job of making 24 out of 23 districts, and doing it so that each district had about 463,000 persons. That's the theoretical number for each out of the state's total population of 11,196,000.

Imagine what kind of headache the legislators had when they started dividing the state into 24 areas so as to have the specified number of people in each. They were to recognize county lines in establishing the lines for the 24 districts of equal population. And they came out with a map which did not please a three-judge federal court of Dallas. They had a variation of 4.1 per cent between the biggest and smallest.

Then the judges decided to show how it should have been done. They turned a guy and two kids loose with a computer and worked out a map with boundaries that cut through counties and cities. Fortunately the Supreme Court, on request of Senator Bentsen, decided against the three judges and permitted the Legislature's districting to apply for this year.

Now one wonders what will happen when the legislators make another effort at dividing. Will they be able to stay with county lines and arrive at a more precise division? If not will the federal judges insist on the kind of division they have already called for?

In that regard we come to other problems which will bother the constituents as much as the representatives. For instance, in the effort to maintain equal numbers, thinly populated rural counties would be added to densely populated urban areas. We can imagine a considerable rural area divided and included into two districts dominated by a heavy urban vote. The end result would be loss of representation in Washington by those rural areas. By the same method representation could be lost to oil or timber or fishing or mining interests of the state.

It makes a person wonder whether the one-man, one-vote guideline is really such a good idea. That reduces us constituents to so many numbers but does not provide a way of looking after our respective interests. This effort to give us precise representation could actually give us less real representation than we had before.

Good intentioned though it may be, the method would have the marks of gerrymandering. When rural votes are overwhelmed by superior numbers of urban votes, it's plain that the rural candidate is at a disadvantage. We think it would be better to arrange a few predominantly rural districts to give the farmers a voice.

Obviously, fair representation is not determined by numbers only. We ought to forget about that 4.1 per cent variation which bugged the court and arrange districts so that interests of the people are recognized.

Intentional or unintentional, gerrymandering often casts an ugly shadow over our kind of government. A few weeks ago ethnic groups in some Texas cities sought and got court decisions which divided heavily populated counties into districts and eliminated county-at-large elections. In that way a number of minority representatives can be elected to the state legislature. Otherwise the majority candidates would have had an

Interstate Cattle Rustling Ring Broken by Cattlemen's Inspectors

Fort Worth, Texas — A ring of cattle thieves operating along the Red River from Amarillo to Texarkana has been broken up by a half-dozen Field Inspectors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, aided by a number of local Sheriffs and federal officers. Operating in both Texas and Oklahoma, the ring, headed by Delwin Earl Peoples, had stolen 138 head of cattle that have been accounted for, mostly from livestock auction markets located in both states.

TSCRA Inspectors Paul Wade, R. A. "Slim" Hulen, Manfred Elliott, Marvin Turner, Jerry Gass, and Charlie Hodges were involved in bringing the group of thieves to justice. A value of $25,000 was placed on the stolen cattle and another $3,700 on stolen trailers.

Peoples, 21, was apprehended at his ranch south of Atoka, Okla., where a number of the Barbecue sandwiches, candy, cold drinks, coffee and popcorn will be available in the concession stand.

Oklahoma Election Regarded Vital to Red River Bridge

Possibilities for a bridge over Red River northwest of Muenster got another boost last week when the legislature of Oklahoma ordered a state wide election on a road bond issue on March 7.

If the issue is approved it opens the way for a vast highway development program over all of the state in the next five years. The program is identified as "Freeway 77" because, as explained by Governor Hall, it concerns all of the state's 77 counties, it is a year program ending in 1977, and it is free, that is will not require new taxes to retire the bonds. The money for this program is to come out of income already provided and used wholly for maintenance. The order for bond election was passed in the legislature by a strong majority which is believed to reflect a favorable attitude by people of the state.

One of the projects of the Freeway 77 program is an extension of Highway 76 from Leon, Okla., to Red River and a proposed bridge across the river.

According to J. M. Weinzapfel of the Texas Good Roads Association, the Texas Highway Department is on record as favoring cooperation with Oklahoma on construction of that bridge.

First Clue at Paris

Inspector Hulen was called January 27 when a theft of 47 head of cattle from the Paris Livestock Commission Co. was discovered. Plaster casts of tire prints gave some indication of the vehicles used. Hulen found a witness who was traveling north from Paris late that evening and was passed by two pickups pulling goose neck trailers loaded with cattle and traveling at high speeds. With this tip, Hulen contacted Sheriff Lyle Smith at Antlers, Okla., who in turn checked with an attendant at the Indian Nation Turnpike tollgate. The attendant, Elmer Lewless, Jr., verified that two pickups pulling trailers with cattle had used this exit during the night.

Further checking revealed that a patrolman of the Atoka police department saw similar vehicles drive through

Responsibility in Driving Urged by SH Student Council

February is Traffic Safety Month at Sacred Heart High, Ronnie Hess, president of the Student Council, disclosed this week. He said the council urges student drivers, and adult drivers to apply the following guidelines of responsible driving.

1. Accept and practice this personal commitment: "When driving a motor vehicle, I AM RESPONSIBLE for the safety of any passengers, pedestrians, other drivers and myself."

2. Consider the basic wisdom in the phrase, "If you drink — don't drive." But if you should do both, stay within sensible and realistic limits for drinking and driving FOR YOU.

3. Improve and maintain Defensive Driving Knowledge and skill (applicable to all drivers — young, middle-aged and old).

4. Fasten your seat belt every time. Remind passengers to do so. When used, seat belts cut the chance of serious injury about one-third and of death by about one-fourth.

5. Support the adoption by your state legislature of the provisions and principles which are recommended in the Uniform Vehicle Code and by the National Highway Safety Bureau. The following are particularly timely and significant: a) chemical tests for intoxication with the critical presumptive level at 0.10%; b) implied consent legislation.

6. Support use of examinations and testing procedures so that the privilege to drive is given only to persons who are competent and qualified.

7. Support your local Traffic Safety organization and encourage driver training and driver education. It will make the "other driver" better and thereby make driving safer for you.

Pay-Your-Bills Week

February 17-21 is National Pay Your Bills Week. In announcing the week, the American Collectors Association pointed out that "two out of five Americans have debt troubles."

"Because their problems arise from careless use of credit," the Association said, "we like to take this opportunity to urge consumers to develop healthy credit habits. This includes such things as careful budgeting, resisting impulse, and paying bills promptly."

Theme of the week is: "It's a Thrill to Pay a Bill!" — though some people prefer the theme: "Stop the world, I wanna get off."

Credit-card conscious Americans are now using $104 billion worth of products they have not yet paid for. No wonder people cannot afford to die!

There are 2,500 collection agencies in the U.S. Good luck to them. If they could just collect some of the money owed us, we could pay some of our back debts, though it would take more than a lie-detector to find out who the real culprits are.

Proven Failure

Much has been written about the failures of government medicine — national health insurance — in countries like England. Still, the U. S. seems bent on following this blighted path of failure. Once again, as so often before, a visitor from the United States has returned from Great Britain after studying the performance of the nationalized English system. And, once again the findings are anything but encouraging.

The visitor, an American doctor, speaking at a National Press Club luncheon in Washington, D. C., expressed the belief that medical care under Britain's nationalized health care system is so bad that Americans wouldn't tolerate it. During his trip, the American doctor took a car into "the boondocks" to see how the average resident of Britain receives medical care. He said: "I saw the type of medical care over there that you . . . would not tolerate over here."

He told of going on a house call in a little mining town in South Scotland with a specialist called in as a consultant in a case. The specialist hardly spoke to the patient, didn't even carry a thermometer, apparently made little attempt to diagnose the illness of the patient and failed to prescribe any medicine. The American physician reported to his Press Club audience that hospitals in Britain are clean but antiquated, and added that a new hospital he saw under construction would never meet the standards demanded of U. S. hospitals.

Instead of following in the path of Britain, he urged adoption in our own country of legislation such as the proposed Medicare program. It would provide comprehensive health care for all Americans while giving the patient the freedom to choose his own doctor and otherwise preserve the principle of voluntarism that has produced for our country the most advanced medical standards ever known.

AS DISTINGUISHED FROM POLITICIANS

TRUTH WILL ULTIMATELY PREVAIL WHERE THERE IS PAIN TO BRING IT TO LIGHT.

LET THE PEOPLE KNOW THE TRUTH AND THE COUNTRY IS SAFE.

Responsibility In Government

It has been said that the difference between a politician and a statesman is one hundred years. This becomes more evident as we begin to hear the rhetoric of a national election year. It takes real statesmanship to speak out for or against issues which might adversely affect a candidate's reception at the polls.

Two of our great Presidents whose birthdays we celebrate this month had the courage to speak their true convictions.

George Washington aptly expressed his feelings when he said, "Truth will ultimately prevail where there is pain to bring it to light."

And Abraham Lincoln showed confidence in the fair judgment of the electorate when he said, "I have faith in the people . . . the danger is in their being misled. Let them know the truth and the country is safe."

These comments are especially appropriate in this election year.

National FFA Week

Slick magazine articles portray the youth of today as a wholly new breed. As events continue to prove, the portrayal is about as substantial as the froth on a milkshake. One of these events is the annual observance of National FFA WEEK — February 19-26. The theme of FFA WEEK in 1972 is "Youth With A Purpose". And, in spite of the cynics and skeptics, youth does have a purpose, now as always.

The FFA is a national organization of 430,000 students studying vocational agriculture in 8,200 public schools. The foundation upon which FFA is built includes leadership, character development, sportsmanship, cooperation, community service, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship and patriotism. The goal of FFA members is to learn the technology and get the practical experience for a career in agriculture. The strength of FFA lies with the local chapters where student officers and members are developing into the agricultural leaders of tomorrow under the guidance of advisers and teachers of vocational agriculture.

The youths who follow their dreams of tomorrow in the work of the Future Farmers of America can hardly be called a new breed. They are a new generation seeking to build a better future on the knowledge and experience of the past which is what each generation must do if mankind is to advance.

55 Candidates For State Office On Primary Ballot

A total of 55 candidates for statewide office entered the Democratic primary before the February 7 filing deadline. There are contests for every office on the statewide ballot except four judicial places.

Republicans fielded only 10 state office candidates — and seven of them are running for governor.

There are 10 Democratic candidates for governor, five for U. S. Senator nine for lieutenant governor, three for attorney general, nine for comptroller, seven for treasurer, two for land commissioner and four for railroad commissioner.

Republicans have only one candidate each for U. S. Senator (incumbent Sen. John Tower), treasurer and railroad commissioner.

Former Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough and Barefoot Sanders of Dallas are the leading Democratic candidates for senator. Governor Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde and State Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi will stir most of the action in the governor's race. Three state senators and a newspaper executive are battling for a runoff spot for lieutenant governor.

Attorney General Criticizes Single Member Districts

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin strongly criticized a January 28 federal court ruling ordering single-member districts for Bexar and Dallas Counties.

Martin contends the decision is wrong and that the U.S. Supreme Court may reverse it on appeal.

Meanwhile, he asked the highest court to delay effect of the order for 1972 elections. If it is made effective immediately, Martin contended, re-registration may be necessary for 400,000 Dallas and 224,000 Bexar County voters in line with altered voting precinct lines.

The three-judge federal court ordered 11 individual House districts in Bexar and 18 such districts of about 74,000 each of Dallas. Other districts drawn by a state legislative redistricting board last October were left intact, for this year's voting, although the legislature was directed to redraw all of them by July 1, 1973.

Oklahoma Well Is World's Deepest

Lone Star Producing Co. of Dallas today announced that its E. R. Baden No. 1 wildcat well has become the world's deepest hole ever drilled. The exploration project in the Anadarko Basin near Elk City in Beckham County, Oklahoma, surpassed the previous record depth of 28,500 feet — almost 5½ miles into the earth's crust.

While currently drilling at 28,550 feet, the Baden is permitted to a depth of 29,000 feet, and application has been made for a permit extending the depth to 30,000 feet. Lone Star officials also announced entry into the Hunton Formation at approximately 28,440 feet, and expect to complete testing of this formation before bottoming out.

It is not yet known if the well will be gas productive in economic quantities.

The well was first spudded in on September 4, 1970, and is 100% operated by Lone Star Producing Co., subsidiary of Lone Star Gas Co. of Dallas. Drilling contractor on the project is Loffland Brothers Co. of Tulsa.

Man's Way Is Better

Much of the public thinks of a forest as something that can be preserved forever. It has been difficult for the public to believe that harvesting trees intelligently is not only good business for a timber company but is necessary for the health of forest lands, and for the perpetuation of these lands as a source of recreation and wildlife refuge. If man does not harvest the forests, nature does — and in the ruthless manner.

The timberlands manager of a large forest products company, addressing a group of people in a small community on the Oregon Coast, used that particular region as an illustration of how nature "manages" the forest. He said on the Pacific Coast of Oregon, "The Nestucca fire in 1848 burned 300,000 acres. In 1849 some 800,000 acres between the Siuslaw and Siletz rivers went up in smoke. In 1853, the Yaquina fire started near Corvallis and burned 480,000 acres. At least 25 billion board feet of timber — equal to what we harvest in Oregon over a period of three years today — was estimated to have burned in that fire. In 1868 the Coos Bay fire destroyed 300,000 acres of choice timberland."

The timber executive observed that nature has "clear-cut" forests with fire for century after century. Such is nature's way of removing the old and the diseased timber and replacing it with new growth. Man does it more intelligently. These are some facts of history that more people of today must learn.

Lent and Self Denial

With Lent starting on February 16, a little self-denial is in order. Someone has composed the following prayer: "Father, hear this day my prayer for self-denial."

Deny me anger, that I may know the meaning of self-control.

Deny me gossip, that I may know the meaning of true charity.

Deny me stinginess, that I may know the meaning of generosity.

Deny me pettiness, that I may know the meaning of great-heartedness.

Deny me foolishness, that I may know the meaning of wisdom.

Deny me fault-finding, that I may know the meaning of friendship.

Deny me self-righteousness, that I may know the meaning of contrition."

The Oregon Voter magazine reported that: "A recent survey of 5,000 college students at 39 campuses turned up the information that 20 percent of those surveyed were thinking of leaving the U.S. The taxpayers could get a real bargain by offering to buy one-way tickets to Russia, North Korea, Cuba, or Red China for these anti-Americans. As for us, we wish them a hearty bon voyage!"

Two small British boys were gazing at a butcher shop window decorated for Christmas. One of them pointed to a number of hams hanging from a large holly branch. "Look, Tom," he said. "Look at them 'ams a growing up there." "Get away," said the other. "Ams don't grow on trees." "Well' that's all you know about it," said the first scornfully. "Ain't you ever 'eard of an 'ambush?"

KC State Council Charity Program Will Instruct Deaf

Knights of Columbus in Texas have adopted religious education of the state's Catholic deaf as their prime charity program, Lino Perez, Jr., head of the 34,000-man organization, has declared.

"All of our 205 councils over Texas have had, and may continue, their own local charity projects," Perez said, "but our statewide program will be religious assistance for the deaf who, for years, have been unintentionally overlooked."

Perez said that more than $18,000 in cash donations had been made during the initial drive which was launched on Columbus Day, Oct. 12, and concluded last month. "When prizes and expenses were deducted," he said,

"some $13,860 remained and all of it will go into the program, including compensation for Father Robert Bek, a highly-trained young priest who speaks the sign language and who has been conducting our 'apostolate for the deaf' the past six months.

"Father Bek was chaplain in the only college for the deaf in the United States and has been traveling over Texas locating and organizing deaf Catholic adults and children into community groups for mutual companionship and instruction."

Among top prize-winners in the fund drive were James Matthews and Berry Smith of Abilene and Alfred J. Hoedebeck of Irving.

Cindy Swirczynski Athel D. McMahan Say Wedding Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Athel Dean McMahan will make their home in Dallas after honeymooning in South Texas. She is the former Miss Cindy Swirczynski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Aubry McMahan of Saint Jo.

The couple married Friday, Feb. 11, in Sacred Heart Church at 7 p.m. Father Placidus Eckart celebrated the Nuptial Mass and directed the exchange of vows in a double ring ceremony.

Presented by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white peau de sole and Venice lace. Floral appliques of the lace, outlined with tiny seed pearls, accented the long-sleeved, moulded bodice. The chapel train, attached at the shoulders in soft fullness, extended aisle-wide. Her tiered veil fell shoulder length from a crown of pearl petals and lace over satin. She carried a cascade composed of a yellow-throated white orchid, stephanotis and carnations and ivy.

Miss Debbie Felderhoff was maid of honor and the bride's sister Miss Jeanne Swirczynski was bridesmaid. They wore identical royal blue velvet gowns with leg o' mutton sleeves, high neckline and Empire bodice trimmed in lace. Their flowers were nosegays of white carnations and blue star flowers.

Tom Swirczynski, bride's brother, was best man and Don Schneider of Dallas was groomsman. Donald Hellman and Dwight Wolf ushered.

Charla Bayer, niece of the bride, and Rodney Swirczynski of Gainesville, a nephew, were flower girl and ring bearer. Little Miss Bayer was a miniature duplicate of the bride's attendants in royal blue velvet.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Mary Lou Kralick, organist, and Dr. Martin Kralicke and Mrs. David Walterscheid, vocalists. They sang "How Great Thou Art" as a duet before Mass and "A Time for Us Together" at the communion. Mrs. Walterscheid sang "We've Only Just Begun" at the Offertory and "Santa Maria" after the service when the couple went to the Blessed Virgin's shrine where the bride made the traditional floral offering, presenting a large white mum on the altar. White gladioli decorated the altar before which the couple exchanged vows.

On entering the church the bride handed her mother a long-stemmed red rose and on leaving handed an identical rose to her husband's mother.

Wedding reception, followed by a dance, was held in the VFW Hall where Mrs. Clifford Sicking and Mrs. Jimmy Kupper registered 200 guests.

The bride's sister Mrs. Charles Bayer served the handsome tiered wedding cake which she made. Mrs. Ervin Henscheid assisted at the cake service and Mrs. Richard Swirczynski, an aunt served punch. Mrs. Tom Swirczynski and Mrs. Donnie Swirczynski, sisters-in-law of the bride served the groom's cake.

The bride's mother attended in a blue costume with blue accessories and the groom's mother wore a beige ensemble with brown accessories. Both had white cymbidium corsages. The bride is a graduate of Muenster High School and Jessie's Beauty College in Denton.

The groom was graduated from Saint Jo High School and served in the armed forces with a year of duty in Vietnam. He is employed at Optical Electronics in Dallas.

Out of Town Guests
Out of town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swirczynski, Debbie Swirczynski and Ronald Romanek of Fort Worth; Messrs. and Mmes. Bill Bowman and Bob Green, Chris Cagel and Lewis Henderson of Dallas; Margie Cazsity of Farmersville, Gretchen Koesler and Larry Kostznick of Sherman, Bobby Bruns of Arlington and others from Gainesville, Valley View and Saint Jo.

The name "police dog" is not applicable to any particular breed of dog. There are dogs of all kinds — shepherd, cross-breeds, and even mongrels — that have been trained in police work. The breed of dog most commonly referred to as "police dog" is the German shepherd.

She had chosen a floor length gown of white satin and lace fashioned with an Empire waist, high Mandarin neck and lantern sleeves with covered buttons on the cuffs. The lace covered bodice was hand-beaded with seed pearls and paillettes. The A-line skirt swept to a chapel length train. A row of tiny satin covered buttons extended down the back. Applied chantilly lace, hand beaded with pearls and crystal beads accented the front and back of the skirt.

Her veil of French illusion was attached to a satin bow embroidered with lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink and white rosebuds, stephanotis and baby's breath. She wore a ring which had belonged to her maternal great grandmother, Mrs. John Bayer, Sr. and a gold cross and chain that belonged to the groom's maternal grandmother. State Financing Of Primaries Will Get Legal Test

The complex question of financing May and June primary elections is heading for a final legal test.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert asked Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin for an official opinion on Secretary of State Bob Bullock's plan to pay for the party primaries with state funds.

Bullock forced the issue to a head last week by handing Comptroller Calvert $73 worth of initial pre-primary bills and asking him to pay them.

Calvert balked and took the matter to Martin for advice.

"I will not pay anything out of the treasury for this unless I have a written opinion from the attorney general or an order of the court," said Calvert. He added he does not think Martin will advise him to pay the bills submitted by Bullock.

"If the vouchers are, for some reason, not approved, I intend to place this question before the Texas Supreme Court at the earliest possible moment so that the entire matter of primary financing can be adequately, equitably and finally resolved," Bullock stated.

He moved with court authority to formulate rules for the primaries after a three-judge federal court January 20 struck down the filing fee law relied on to finance the spring elections. Gov. Preston Smith proposes to transfer to him more than $1 million for paying primary bills if the plan is finally cleared by legal authorities.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine accused Smith and Bullock of pre-empting prerogatives of the legislature, and said the governor should call an immediate special session to give lawmakers another whack at resolving the problem. Reps. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty and Jim Nugent of Kerrville defended Smith and Bullock and charged Price was trying to further his House speakership campaign. Daniel and Nugent are also seeking the speakership.

Film Available on Judge Roy Bean

AUSTIN — Judge Roy Bean, featured in the Texas Highway Department's film "Law West of the Pecos," was a star in Montreal, Canada, for a week last summer.

The travel film was selected for featured showing by the Smithsonian Institution and the U. S. Department of Commerce Travel Service. The U. S. Pavilion hosted some 30,000 visitors during the crusty judge's film appearance in Canada.

The Highway Department film was produced by the Travel & Information Division cinematography staff in 1969 following completion of the Judge Roy Bean Visitor Center in Langtry. The film, which is available for loan from the Department, traces the frontier judge's life and times at Vinegaroon and Langtry. A skillful mix of border scenery, lifelike dioramas and authentic-sounding voices has produced a gusty, colorful movie of wide appeal.

The dioramas and narrations are daily attractions at the air-conditioned visitor center along the Rio Grande in Southwest Texas. Outside the modern tourist stop is the original saloon-court which Judge Bean named the "Jersey Lilly." Nearby, landscaped walks wind through a comprehensive garden of southwestern flora, thick with a thorny collection of cacti and dazzling desert blossoms.

Claunch Heads 1972 Easter Seal Appeal in County

Mr. William Claunch, Jr. will head the 1972 Easter Seal Appeal in Cooke County, it was announced by Rodney D. Hargrove, Dallas, President of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

Residents of Cooke County will receive the annual Easter Seal Appeal letters in the mail beginning February 28. The Easter Seal Appeal, conducted yearly to provide disabled persons and their families treatment and services, will continue through Easter Sunday, April 2.

Mr. Claunch is one of 223 men and women throughout Texas who are serving in this capacity. The cost of the statewide Easter Seal program is over one million dollars, financed mainly by the Easter Seal Appeal. Almost 90 percent of all funds raised by the Easter Seal Appeal remain in Texas to support the growing needs of the disabled in the State.

Special emphasis is being given in the 1972 Easter Seal Appeal to the disabled citizen or his family in Cooke County who may need assistance and not know where to obtain it. Any disabled person can contact Mr. Claunch at the First State Bank Gainesville, who will refer the request for services to the Easter Seal Society.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

If you have purchased a franchise or you are seriously considering investing in a franchise business, there are certain questions which you might ask to determine your chances for success.

First, who is the franchisor? If the franchisor is well known, has a good reputation, and has an obviously successful franchising operation, you have a better opportunity to succeed in your business. Occasionally, a dishonest promoter will use a franchise name and trademark deceptively similar to that of a well-known franchisor. Be skeptical of franchisors whose major activity is selling franchises and whose profit is primarily derived from these sales or from the sale of franchise equipment. Remember, the more information you learn about the franchisor and the successes or failures of individuals who have purchased his franchises, the better prepared you will become to make an intelligent decision.

Second, you should determine the length of time the product has been on the market and whether it has enjoyed successful promotion during this time. In short, is it a proven product or service or just a gimmick? Ask yourself whether or not you are really interested in selling the product or service, what the future demand will be, and the nature of the competition you must face in marketing the product.

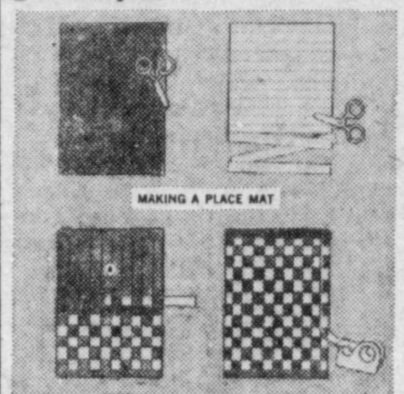

Third, what is the cost of the franchise? In addition to the initial cash outlay required, there may be other charges, assessments, or royalties to be paid to the franchisor, and you may be required to purchase supplies from the company rather than from local sources.

Fourth, what profits can reasonably be expected from

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor, The New Book of Knowledge

Would you like to make a place mat? Using two sheets of paper of different colors, you can make an attractive place mat that will grace any table.

On one sheet draw lines 1/2 inch apart down the length of the paper, leaving a margin of 1 inch all around. Now carefully cut along each of these lines, being sure not to cut into the margin. On the second sheet, draw lines 1/2 inch apart across the width of the paper, this time leaving no margin. Cut along these lines so that you have a number of narrow strips of paper.

(For a free booklet, "The Magic Carpet," illustrated in color from The New Book of Knowledge, send name and address to Martha Glauber Shapp, Box 47, Putnam Valley, New York 10579.)

Now you are ready to basket-weave these strips into the first sheet of paper. Slide one strip alternately over and under the slats of the sheet. When you have woven all the way across, push this strip to the top of the first sheet, next to the margin. Now start weaving with a second strip of paper, making sure you slide the second strip over the slats that you slid the first one under, and the second strip under the slats that you slid the first one over. Continue in this way until the slatted sheet is filled with woven strips. You can fasten the strips to the back of the place mat with cellophane tape.

For variety, you can use strips of several contrasting or coordinating colors, or you might weave some silver or gold wrapping-paper strips into your place mats.

the franchise operation? Here again, private investigation on your part by talking with present franchise owners may provide facts you will need to make an intelligent decision. In any event, the representations of a promoter concerning projected net profits or earnings potential should be carefully examined for accuracy.

Fifth, what training and management assistance will be provided by the franchisor? It is very important that you clearly understand the specific nature of the training to be provided. Will it consist only of receiving a manual of instructions or hearing a few lectures? You must determine whether or not after taking the training offered you will be able to operate the franchise successfully.

Sixth, what are your rights and obligations under the terms of the franchise agreement contract? Contact your attorney and listen to his explanation of the terms and conditions of the contract. Compare this with the representations made to you by the promoter selling the franchise.

In summary, you should not rush into signing a contract or any other document relating to a franchise promotion, and you should not make any deposits or down payments "to hold a franchise open" or to "demonstrate good faith" unless you are absolutely certain about your decision to go ahead with the franchise arrangement.

Find out all you can about the franchise including the names and addresses of other franchise owners whom you can contact. Take the time to talk with these individuals to determine their attitudes toward the company, the success or failure they have encountered, and the problems they have dealt with in operating the franchise. Consult your attorney and have him review all aspects of the agreement to be certain that all terms of the agreement are set forth in a written contract which is not oppressive in its requirements. Finally, study the product, the market, and your ability before signing that contract.

If you become aware of deceptive franchise operations such as described above, please notify Attorney General Crawford C. Martin, P. O. Box 12548, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Institute Set for N. Texas Dairymen In Denton Feb. 22

Many Cooke County dairymen will be in Denton this month to learn what is new and what might even be coming in their business.

Something new, for example: computerized rations by telephone. Scheduled Feb. 22 is The Dairymen's Institute, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Tropicana Motor Inn, on Interstate 35, and ending at 3 p.m.

The institute was put together by dairy committees in North Texas counties, by Cooke County Agricultural Agent Neil Tibbets, and by specialists of the Associated Milk Producers Inc. and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Six speakers, five from out of state, will discuss computerized rations by telephone, ways to beat a drought, keeping more tax dollars at the dairy. The California attack on mastitis, and contracting for herd replacements.

Least-cost rations (yet another method of using computers) will be topic of a panel comprising dairyman Vernon Friedrich of Gainesville and feed dealer Arthur Felderhoff of Muenster, and four other area dairymen.

Lunch will be dutch-treat at the Inn.

Except for minor changes, the same program will be presented Feb. 23 at Tarleton State College in Stephenville.

Antelope fawns develop faster than deer fawns. When only a day or two old, they can run at speeds up to 25 miles per hour for short distances.

Guidelines Set for Publicly Financed Primary Elections

New guidelines for conduct of the state's first publicly-financed primary elections are due to reach local election officials this week.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock, as chief Texas election officer, drafted the rules in line with a federal court-amendment to the decision outlawing filing fees as proposed in a 1971 law.

Bullock interpreted the latest order as authorizing the state to foot the bill for primary election costs. He said an earlier opinion permitted use of nominal filing fees to regulate length of the ballot but not as a revenue-raising device placing a wealth requirement on candidacy.

The chief election officer ordered this mandatory filing fee schedule for both Democratic and Republican candidates (or an alternative nominating petition signed by qualified voters):

Statewide offices, $400; U.S. representative, $300; state senator, $150, state representative, $100; chief justice or associate justice, court of civil appeals, $100; member state board of education, $50; district judge or judge of any court having district office status, $100; district attorney or criminal district attorney, $100; all county offices except county surveyor or inspector of hides and animals, $100; inspector of hides and animals, $50; county commissioner, $50; justice of the peace or constable for counties above 200,000 population, $50, justice of the peace or constable for counties under 200,000, $25; all party offices, no fee.

Fees must be paid in full by February 28. In lieu of filing fees, candidates may elect to file petitions by a March 6 deadline. For statewide offices, 2,500 signatures are necessary. For other offices, signatures urging candidacy must be equal in number to at least two per cent of the entire vote cast for a party's gubernatorial candidate in the last general election for the territory served — or at least 25 and no more than 300 signers.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has stated he will ask an attorney general's opinion on legality of Bullock's proposal to finance May and June primaries with funds transferred from another state appropriation. Gov. Preston Smith applauded the plan and said he will direct the necessary transfer.

Cattle Rustlers - - - his town at 3 a.m. and turn south.

Hulen traveled to Atoka on Jan. 29 where he conferred with Undersheriff Otto Hembree who stated that the two vehicles could possibly be in the possession of Peoples at his property south of Atoka. Driving by the property, Hulen observed the pickups and trailers which fitted descriptions given as well as cattle penned behind the residence. Then Hulen, joined by TSCRA Inspector Paul Wade, Undersheriff Hembree, and a district attorney investigator, Bill Lilly, confronted Peoples and asked permission to investigate the cattle and the vehicles.

With a signed waiver from Peoples, the officers soon identified the cattle from back tag numbers which corresponded to those at the Paris sale barn. Other cattle on the property led officers to suspect further thefts.

Muenster Animal Identified
Discovery of an Angus bull with underbit in the left ear led Inspector Manford Elliott to the identification of one of 52 head of cattle stolen from the sale barn at Muenster, Texas. Charlie Hodges, TSCRA Inspector, helped with the investigation of the cattle from this area penned at the Peoples ranch. Seven head from a packing plant barn at Annona, Texas, were also linked to this theft ring.

King said, while the thieves stole cattle indiscriminately in both states, all of the cattle were traded or sold at markets in Oklahoma. Apparently, the fear of brand inspectors at Texas markets kept them from selling any of the stolen cattle in Texas.

The trailers used to transport these stolen cattle were also found to be illegally obtained. A small goose neck trailer was stolen more than a year ago from Hale Trailer Co. of Amarillo while the larger trailer was paid for by Peoples with a "hot" check to W-W Trailer Co. of Madill, Okla. TSCRA Inspector Jerry Gass of Amarillo helped with the identification made difficult by alterations.

Peoples was immediately jailed in Atoka county, Okla., where bond was set at $10,000. Reed Mayfield, assistant district attorney at Atoka, filed charges. Sheriff Lyle Smith of Pushmataha county along with Sheriff Harold Delay and Undersheriff Otto Hembree at Atoka were assisted in these investigations by various local and federal officers.

Peoples' his mother Jeanette Peoples, and John Dillard Moore, were all charged in Atoka county with concealing stolen property. Both Peoples' mother and wife, Linda Louise Peoples, were charged with being accessories after the fact. Federal charges have been filed on both Peoples and Moore for interstate transportation of stolen property. Peoples has been charged for theft of cattle at Snyder, Okla., and in Texas at Muenster, Clarksville, and Paris. Moore has been charged in Paris with theft of cattle.

Senator Creighton Talks at FB Party

The appearance of Senator Tom Creighton was an added attraction for about 60 Farm Bureau members and guests at a 42 party last Wednesday night in the FB building.

Creighton is a practicing attorney living on a 125 acre farm near Mineral Wells and is seeking re-election as state senator of the 22nd district. He came to Gainesville in his private plane, landing at the municipal airport.

At the 42 party Roy Atterbury was high score winner, Martin Friske won the 84 prize and Bill Lutkenhaus the low score prize. Hostesses were Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerman, Mrs. George Berry and Mrs. Ray Lynch.

advantage all over the county. Gerrymandering, it seems, is one of the big reasons behind present troubles in Ireland. Districts are arranged so that Protestants outnumber Catholics in all, and manage to keep a solid Protestant legislature. The representative form of government is far from fool proof. And wise districting is a way to make it work in spite of that idealistic stuff about equality of numbers.
