MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 MARCH 31, 1972

NUMBER 19

George Meany and the other labor bosses who walked out of the Pay Board of President Nixon's wage-price control committee actually did the country a favor. In the first place their ideas on wage controls were not consistent with an anti-inflation effort. And besides, as representatives of the big unions, they were not representatives of the majority of workers.

As regards their kind of thinking, it should be pointed out that their stand in the dockworkers strike was definitely more inclined to inflation than to control. They insisted on wage and fringe increases adding to 21 per cent, and left in a huff when Business and Public members would not allow more than 15 per cent.

The point that strikes us here is that the 15 per cent seems most generous and even inflationary. Average people like you and me cannot understand how that much increase is justified, but the pay board fellows insisted on an even more inflationary rate. No matter what the union bosses claim, they can't convince us that a worker deserves that much raise, or that it can be granted without a sharp increase of prices.

And let's not overlook the chain reaction in this. Suppose dock workers got their raise. How long then until others would make similar demands, and still others and others? Surely they have as much right to a raise. And when they get it they send the price spiral on another whirl.

Aside from lack of justification, we need to think of the common sense angle. As Senator Mike Mansfield observed, "labor should be just as interested in price controls, unemployment and the general economic situation as anyone else." The labor bosses apparently did not bother to think that all workers, including those to receive the wage hike, would find their dollars buying less.

This is the real approach to the wage-price problem, the area in which our country desperately needs some statesmanship. All of us know that prices and wages are out of line. It doesn't make sense to let one and then the other inch up, giving temporary comfort to one faction until the other decides it's his turn to get the lion's share.

The smart solution is to strive for the opposite trend. We heard talk of sacrifice when the control mechanism was in the making. Now's the time to get some of the sacrifice in practice. If labor leaders were forth their salt they'd offer to take a 5 per cent pay cut on condition that prices come down proportionately. After that levels off they could arrange for further cuts of prices and wages.

At first sight this doesn't seem to make a difference. Just a matter of breaking even at progressively lower levels. But a big factor is involved. With deflation the value of savings would increase. People's buying power would improve, thereby stimulating more business and more employment. As the prices come down gradually the economy would bring one item after another back in competition with foreign markets. The net effect: more business and more jobs, and a healthier economy.

This column has long maintained that the liberal scheme of spending ourselves rich through inflation and deficit financing does not make sense. Instead of increasing our supply of constantly shrinking money and stealing the value from savings, we ought to be working on the method whereby actual buying power increases and more jobs are created.

We have seen enough of our present folly to know that it pays off only in temporary benefit to the greedy while others have to suffer, and before long the greedy too feel the pinch. Over all it does not improve a worker's current purchasing power, but it hurts him by eroding the value of bonds, insurance and other kinds of savings. Well, why can't these smart people in Washington, including our president, find a way to stop the silly system that is leading to ruin and introduce a sensible plan?

Back to that remark about the union bosses being the wrong representatives on the Pay Board for working people. Those guys represent union members — but only 17 million of the country's 80

Tigers Will Host Meet Saturday at Gainesville Track

Sacred Heart High's track team Tigers, unwilling to sit out the coming weekend, have decided to host a meet of their own. Coach Tom Joy announced Tuesday that, through the cooperation of Gainesville High School, they will hold the "Tiger Relays" Saturday at Leeper Stadium. The SH Lettermen's Club will assist and have charge of concessions.

Joy said that the meet is exclusively for Class B teams, that his invitation has been accepted by 15 teams up to Tuesday, and that about six or eight additional teams are expected.

Included in that group are Celina and Community which have meet wins to their credit, along with Saint Jo, Bells, Callisburg, Era, Valley View, Leonard, Prosper, Gunter, Anna, Windom, Lone Oak, Collinsville and Sadler-Southmayd.

For the benefit of people who wish to attend, Joy announced the meet schedule as follows:

9:30: discus, pole vault and high jump, also preliminaries in 440 relays.

10, 10:30, 11 and 11:30 preliminaries in 100 yard dash, 120 hurdles, 220 yard dash and 330 hurdles; also long jump and shot put.

At 1:30 awards will be presented for the field events after which the track events are booked as follows:

2:00, 440 relay; 2:15, 880 dash; 2:25, 120 high hurdles; 2:35, 100 yard dash; 2:45, 440 yard dash; 3:05, 330 intermediate hurdles; 3:25 mile run; 3:35 mile relay, 3:45 presentation of trophies.

Hornets Win 15-6 In District Opener With Whitesboro

Bill Moore and his MHS Hornets made a good start in their district baseball season here Tuesday afternoon with a decisive 15-6 win over Whitesboro.

Roger Harrison ended it dramatically with a grand slam homer in the bottom of the sixth and the Hornets did not need their half of the seventh.

Earlier in the game things didn't go so well. They made 5 errors the first two innings and Whitesboro cashed in for a 4 run lead at the top of the second. However Muenster evened the count in the same inning and allowed only one more run.

Jim Endres pitched, striking out 14 while giving up 5 hits and a walk. The visiting hurler allowed 9 hits and 13 walks and fanned 8.

MHS hitters, along with Harrison were Ricky Swirczynski 3, Gary Walterscheid 2, Jim Endres, Randy Wolf and Robert Johnson each 1.

Starting the district play they had a 5-1 practice season, the last game of which was a 9-0 shutout of Alvord here last Friday.

Ricky Swirczynski handled the pitching job in grand style by allowing only 4 hits and no walks and striking out 12. Meanwhile Hornet hitters battered the visiting pitcher for 14 safeties and took 3 walks and 4 of them struck out.

Jim Endres led at the plate with 4 hits. Mark Lippe got 3, Randy Wolf, Gary Walterscheid, and Terry Huchton each got 2 and Robert Johnson 1.

Sharon Rohmer Is Cooke County's Spelling Champ

Muenster's Sacred Heart School entry in the Cooke County Spelling Bee Saturday won the crown.

Sharon Rohmer, eighth grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Rohmer, outspelled eight other county entries to become the champion and will represent Cooke County in the regional spelling bee at Dallas on May 6.

Last up with Sharon to spell to the finish was Kim Barthold of Valley View who tripped on "choruses" which Sharon spelled correctly and then breezed through "technical" to capture the crown.

She had won the local spelling bee at Sacred Heart in February. Sister Georgia Felderhoff is local sponsor.

Electric Co-op Members Receive $51,283 in Checks

Consumer-owners of Cooke County Electric Cooperative total of $51,283.35 next month, announced General Manager, Michael E. Sloan. The payment of this amount represents the retirement of accrued Capital Credits for the remaining portion of 1955; and brings the total of such retirements to $449,988.87 over the last six years.

Since Cooke County Electric is a consumer-owned electric utility, added Mr. Sloan, the surplus in excess of costs and expenses of operation are assigned to the consumers, on a patronage basis, during the respective year. The accrued Capital Credits are then gradually retired according to the Cooperative's financial stability and future capital requirements as determine by its Board of Directors.

Mr. Sloan further pointed out that the retirement of patronage capital furnished by its consumers represents a substantial savings to the members and in many cases, the original rates charged were lower than other available sources of electric service.

Inflation is what turns a nest egg into chicken feed.

3 No-Contest Ballots Await Voters Saturday

Muenster voters will go through the formality of three elections Saturday. They will mark three ballots to name 14 persons on city, hospital and school boards but they will not have a choice on any of the tickets. All of the candidates are unopposed.

All of the elections will be held in one location — at Muenster Public School — where Clive Gobble will be in charge of the city election and Charles Cash will conduct the elections for school and hospital boards. Voting time will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Candidates for the city council are Richard Grewing, A. T. Tuggle and Roddy Klement for positions 1, 2 and 4 respectively. All are incumbents and unopposed.

The same applies in the hospital board election. All of the candidates are incumbents and unopposed. They are Albert Dangelmayr, Rufus Henscheid, Ray Voth, Sylvan Walterscheid and Norbert Felderhoff.

Deadline Near to Register for Vote In May 6 Primary

People who still have not registered to vote the May 6 primary are running out of eligibility — fast! Their deadline is only a few days away, on Wednesday, April 5.

To qualify for voting in an election, according to the law, a person must register 30 or more days before the election. So, whoever is not registered at the end of next Wednesday cannot vote in the primary.

However such a person can still qualify to vote in the runoff or general election. He just has to beat the registration deadlines for those elections.

Soil Conservation

Awards Banquet Set For Sherman, May 11

This year's banquet honoring conservation champions of the Upper Elm Red Soil and Water Conservation District will be held in Sherman on Thursday, May 11.

Plans for the event were made last Thursday afternoon in the Community Room of First State Bank, Gainesville, by representatives of the banks, newspapers and radio and TV stations within the district, which sponsor the annual event.

The meeting opened by re-electing William Claunch chairman of the awards program for another year. It then accepted the invitation of Sherman representatives to have the banquet in their city. The site within the city, however, had not been determined.

Headliners on the program will be Judge Les Tribble of Sherman as opening chairman, Gene Foster of Grayson County Junior College as master of ceremonies, and C. O. Spence, agronomist of the A&M Extension Service, as narrator.

He will tell the conservation story of each award winner as colored scenes from the person's farm are projected on a screen. Following each narrative the winner will receive a wooden plaque hand carved by Ludwig Kieninger of the Bavarian Wood Carving Studio.

Awards will be made in nine categories, eight of them being the plaques and the other the cash award set up by the late Claude Jones.

There will be an award for each of the district's five zone champs, for the Comeback Farmer of the year, the Town and Country Conservationist, the Landlord Tenant Team (both of whom receive plaques) and the Claude Jones award winner.

Named to present the awards are C. B. Crenshaw of Nocona, Bill Flynn of Bowie, R. N. Fette of Muenster, Lowell Miller of Valley View, Jerry Talley of Sherman, Ron Smith of Whitesboro, Lambert Bezner and William Claunch of Gainesville and Fred Holland of Sherman.

bers on the Muenster School Board, the County School Board and the Cooke County Junior College Board. And it also has one unopposed candidate for each available position.

Ed Cler and Ray Swirczynski are asking for re-election to the Muenster school board. Herman Hartman is seeking re-election for trustee at large on the county school board. Urban Endres is a candidate for re-election and Wendell Proffer and Parker Yarbrough are candidates for places vacated by W. W. Weems and Jack O'Brien who chose not to continue on the junior college board.

Tiger Trackmen Score Big at Two Weekend Meets

The past weekend was a big one for Coach Tom Joy and his Sacred Heart track team. They participated in Friday and Saturday meets and came away with trophies and fine records in each.

They started at Edgewood, competing in a field of 32 teams, 22 of which were in class AA. Rain spoiled the meet's records, however Ronnie Hess won the mile run in a very creditable 4:44 and John Bartush was fourth with 5:00.4. Also Davey Krahl ran the 880 in 2:12 for sixth place and Kevin Pels and Gary Endres were close behind with 2:15 and 2:16. The team had scored 14 points in the mile and 1 in the half mile.

The next day at Sherman they attended a meet of Class B schools hosted by Anna and took second place honors with 72½ points. The day's winner was Community with 107½ points.

Their achievement included 3 new records for the meet besides improving on four of the existing records at Sacred Heart. The boys did all of it in the running events. They did not score in any of the field events.

Furthermore two of them were winners in events they had not run before. Coach Joy was using the meet as his own special test of the boys' abilities, hoping thereby to arrange entries that might net a few more points.

Ronnie Hess, a record breaking miler, tried the 880 and came in first with a fine time of 2:04.5, a new record for the meet.

And Kevin Pels, who's been going strong in the half mile, ran the mile in this meet. He also took first place and broke the meet's previous record with a time of 4:54.8. His chief contender was his team mate John Bartush who was less than a step behind, and took second with 4:54.85.

The big mark on their score was the mile relay run by Gary Endres, Kevin Pels, Ronnie Hess and Davey Krahl. The astounding feature in this race is that Kevin Pels was running immediately after winning the mile. Nevertheless the team took first place and set a meet record with the hot time of 3:42.9.

Other events that added to the Tiger score were Davey Krahl's second in the 440 with 53.3 and fourth in the 220 with 23.5; Ronnie Hess, tie for third in the 330 hurdles; Melvin Luke, third in the 120 hurdles for a new Tiger record of 17.8, and a tie for sixth in the 330 hurdles; and Gary Endres, sixth in the 440.

Buying at Home

Mobility is now considered one of our inalienable rights. However, it is not free, and sometimes it can be exercised beyond the point of practicality.

The Wells County Free Press of Fessenden, North Dakota, makes the point very well. It says, "Did you ever drive 50 to 100 miles or more to take advantage of a super-duper special that was advertised somewhere? A local $50 item 50 miles away would have to sell for $34.50 in order for you to break even. The American Automobile Association certifies that 15.5 cents is what it costs to drive your car one mile. So if you've driven 100 miles round trip to pick up that special, you'll have to add $15.50 to that purchase. That sweet buy can suddenly turn quite sour.

"Local merchants, whether it is groceries, clothing, drugs, hardware, appliances or whatever, feature top line, nationally advertised products. And they are also at comparative prices. They also support your local schools, churches and organizations. They also help to pay for improvements to make this a better place to live. And they'll be here tomorrow to serve you personally."

THE CRUCIFIXION by Richard Hook from Taylor's Bible Story Book

THE CRUCIFIXION

As the crowd led Jesus away to his death, Simon of Cyrene, who was just coming into Jerusalem from the country, was forced to follow, carrying Jesus' cross. Great crowds trailed along behind, and many grief-stricken women. Two others, criminals, were led out to be executed with him at a place called "The Skull." There all three were crucified. Jesus on the center cross, and the two criminals on either side. "Father, forgive these people," Jesus said, "for they don't know what they are doing." And the soldiers gambled for his clothing, throwing dice for each piece. The crowd watched. And they laughed and scoffed. "He was so good at helping others," they said, "let's see him save himself if he is really God's Chosen One, the Messiah." The soldiers mocked him, too, by offering him a drink... of sour wine. And they called to him, "If you are the King of the Jews, save yourself!" A signboard was nailed to the cross above him with these words: "This is the King of the Jews." One of the criminals hanging beside him scoffed, "So you're the Messiah, are you? Prove it by saving yourself... and us, too, while you're at it!" But the other criminal protested. "Don't you even fear God when you are dying? We deserve to die for our evil deeds, but this man hasn't done one thing wrong." Then he said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your Kingdom." And Jesus replied, "Today you will be with me in Paradise. This is a solemn promise." By now it was noon, and darkness fell across the whole land for three hours, until three o'clock. The light from the sun was gone... and suddenly the thick veil hanging in the Temple split apart. Then Jesus shouted, "Father, I commit my spirit to you," and with those words he died. When the captain of the Roman military unit handling the executions saw what had happened, he was stricken with awe before God and said, "Surely this man was innocent."

LUKE 23:26-47 from The Living Bible translation

"Now He's Crazy"

William Chapin, a professor of journalism and former newspaperman, has written the intensely personal account of his child's descent into drug addiction and subsequent mental illness. The parents' struggle to prevent that disaster was unavailing. It is the true story of one middle-class family's battles, loves, hates, reconciliations and contacts with the drug and medical worlds. These are the strong stirring elements of "Wasted — The Story of My Son's Drug Addiction."

Starting with marijuana at the age of 14, the author's son, Mark, quickly moved on to experiment with LSD and amphetamines. How much was taken is not known, but enough to mess up the boy's head.

"He's crazy," exclaimed the father. "I have to say it to write it down, to grind it into my own awareness, to accept it: he's crazy."

Now 21, Mark is confined to a mental hospital with a schizophrenic psychosis. The years of confusion and anguish, the frustration from obstacles encountered in seeking help, the constant struggle to understand and deal with the boy's deteriorating condition are described in simple, unemotional language by the author. The result is an unsparingly honest and hauntingly poignant book. The title: "One Life to Live."

The old, familiar story: it started with "harmless" marihuana. Enormous fortunes await giant companies if they can get marihuana legalized. In publishing the book, McGraw-Hill has given us some powerful ammunition against its legalization.

Will the Canal Be Given Away?

In his report to Congress on "U.S. Foreign Policy for the 1970's" (Feb. 9) President Nixon made this cryptic remark: "We have entered new negotiations with Panama to achieve a mutually acceptable basis for continuing efficient operation and defense of the Panama Canal."

It is necessary to point out that the United States has no need of any assistance from Panama to operate and defend the Canal. The Panamanian Government has had 59 Presidents in the past 69 years, which is a fairly good indication of the instability, the weak character and the unreliability of Panama as a partner in the operation and defense of the Canal.

The Canal Zone was bought acre by acre and is held in perpetuity by the United States under a treaty signed in 1903 with Panama. The net total investment of United States taxpayers in the Panama Canal was more than $5 billion by June 30, 1968.

Representative Daniel J. Flood, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said in the House on Feb. 23: "As regards the Panama Canal, it should be remembered that wresting its control from the United States has been a major Soviet policy since 1917, and that the Communist takeover of Cuba in 1959 was the first specific step in that direction." He related that Russian technical advisers are already in the Isthmus. The policy that has been followed by every United States Administration since 1945 makes the odds heavily in favor of relinquishing control of the Canal to Panama, unless the American people make their voice heard loudly in this matter.

Will US Go Broke?

The question was raised a few weeks ago by Time magazine. Henry Hazlitt often raised it in Newsweek. It is not a new idea. Cicero, the most eloquent of ancient writers, raised it but very few in authority listened. They did not remember what he said even after Rome went bankrupt.

"The budget should be balanced," Cicero insisted with the politicians. "The treasury should be refilled. Public debt should be reduced. Arrogant officialdom should be tempered and controlled."

"Aid to foreign lands should be curtailed lest Rome be bankrupt. People should be forced to work and not depend on the government for subsistence."

It all sounds very timely. At least Roosevelt made the able-bodied work for their sustenance. We think we are wealthier now, but we are going further into debt at an alarming rate. Interest on the debt last year cost twice as much as the Vietnam war. At the very least, we are robbing the next generation by overspending with borrowed money.

The next generation? That's our children and our grandchildren. It ought to make us feel like thieves.

An American welfare state would be no match for the Soviet warfare state; so as we see our national resources being channeled increasingly into warfare and the Soviet's increasingly into welfare, we should be able to see what's cooking before it boils over. — Altoona, Pa., Mirror

Mental Health Clinic Established in County

As an outreach facility of the Wichita Falls State Hospital to serve the needs of persons in Cooke County, a mental health clinic has been established in Gainesville, Miss Margaret Parx Hays, social worker in the local clinic, has announced.

The local mental health clinic will provide outpatient care and follow-up therapy for persons recently discharged from the Wichita Falls State Hospital. It will also work with the county judge and families concerned in arranging for admission of patients to the hospital, including voluntary and emergency admissions. In addition, it will gradually increase its services to include group therapy, individual counselling, and related activities.

Another goal of the mental health clinic will be to strive to promote good mental health in the community by participating in local education programs, obtaining visiting speakers on mental health subjects, and assisting in in-service training programs of community organizations. These in-service programs might include, for example, a session on "The Art of Interviewing" for ministers, or a workshop for law enforcement officers on the handling of the psychotic person. Lewis Theobald, chief of police, has already requested this sort of program.

Psychiatrist Available
As a part of the outpatient program, Dr. A. J. Galivan, clinical director of the Wichita Falls State Hospital, will visit the mental health clinic here periodically to see patients and prescribe necessary medication. Former patients at the hospital may henceforth visit the local clinic rather than having to travel to Wichita Falls. Through his visits Dr. Galivan will also provide supervision for the local office.

A local advisory board appointed jointly by the City Council and the County Commissioners will provide liaison between the community and the clinic.

The clinic will operate temporarily in the First Presbyterian Church (Church Street entry), but as soon as a desirable site is located, the office will be set up in a separate building, Miss Hays said.

Both Miss Mays and Mrs. James Bezner spent the week of Jan. 17-21 at Wichita Falls State Hospital for an orientation course of operation of an outreach clinic. They attended class with persons from Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, and the Sherman-Denison area who were likewise in training for the work.

Open to County Residents
The local mental health clinic is open to anyone residing in Cooke County. Referrals of persons needing assistance may be made by local physicians, the county judge, schools, or other agencies. Any individual, however, may call at the clinic on his own initiative.

Office hours at the clinic are 8:00-12:00 and 1:00-5:00 Monday through Fridays. Services will be by appointment through the secretary at 665-3962. Emergency service may be secured by calling the social worker at 665-4854 or the secretary at 665-4536.

Cost no Obstacle
Fees for the physicians services will be on a sliding scale based on the income and number of dependents in the person's family. When an individual comes for his first interview, the social worker will determine the fee in accordance to guidelines established by the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

"No one," Miss Hays said, "however, will be turned away because of lack of money." Both staff members of the local mental health clinic are natives of Cooke County. Miss Hays is a graduate of Cooke County Junior College and North Texas State University. She was employed for 11 years at the latter institution, where much of her work consisted of assisting students in planning their careers. She received a master's degree from the University of Michigan, doing her work in the field of education. She was employed by the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington, and spent ten years in the field of personnel work. Included in her assignments was that of personnel officer at the U.S. Embassy at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and at Manila, Philippines.

Mrs. Bezner attended Cooke County Junior College, is a graduate of North Texas State University, and has had several years' teaching experience at Lindsay and has also been employed as interviewer at the Texas Employment Commission in Gainesville.

Al Felderhoff, right, reviews 100-day-plus grazing results in Renner Pasture System Demonstration with George Sultemeier, Texas Research Foundation agronomist. The Cooke County cattleman has wintered two animals per acre on improved grass for less than ten cents a head a day.

Ermelo Winter Pasture Eliminates Need of Hay

Al Felderhoff has the idea that you can run beef cattle all winter without cracking a single bale of hay.

His thoughts are based on experience at his 180-acre stock farm north of Muenster.

Felderhoff is completing 110 days of grazing on Ermelo lovegrass stocked at two mature Angus cows to the acre. Except for six cents a head a day for protein, the cattleman hasn't opened a barn door for extra feed in more than a year.

"Mr. Felderhoff has mastered the methods for coaxing maximum production out of Ermelo lovegrass even on shallow to medium soils," George Sultemeier, Texas Research Foundation agronomist who is assisting the local producer said.

The 20-acre exhibit pasture has been evenly clipped by livestock, already fertilized for 1972 and is greening up well in mid-March, said the agronomist.

Ermelo lovegrass is one of a number of improved forages in the year-round Renner Pasture System. The plan is recommended to North Texas stockmen by the Foundation as a 12-month system for maximum profits from beef cattle production. Other forages in the plan are Coastal Bermuda grass, Renner lovegrass, DeSoto grass and small grains.

This is the sixth year in the locally-sponsored educational project which is located off FM 373 two miles north of Muenster. Some 35 Cooke County farms and individuals are putting on the project with Renner's supervision.

The Felderhoff project covers 20 acres of DeSoto grass, 20 acres of Ermelo lovegrass, 70 acres of Coastal and Midland Bermuda grass and a sizeable acreage of native prairie grasses under improved management.

Currently, some 53 grown animals are being used to evaluate forages in the project. Considering the Lindy clay loam soils here, we are fertilizing the grasses heavily, said Sultemeier. Cost of nitrogen applied to Ermelo lovegrass in February and September totaling 171 pounds was $15 per acre. No mowing or other mechanical treatment was needed.

In all, the Ermelo lovegrass has provided 198 days grazing in three periods during the past 12 months. Dormant season grazing just ending is the longest, explained the agronomist. During May and June, some 248 pounds of beef per acre was produced by running 40 calves on the 20 acres for a 60 day period. Calves were weighed on and off.

For winter's use Felderhoff turned in 43 mature cows on the 20 acre Ermelo lovegrass pasture on December 1, and utilization continues at this time. No hay has been fed to the herd! Fertilizer cost penciled out at 3.25 cents per head daily for the 198 day usage.

Felderhoff's total wintering cost, for plant food and supplemental protein, therefore, was under 10 cents a head daily, Sultemeier pointed out, a low cost indeed. Thirty-seven percent protein blocks were dispensed at various locations to spread grazing of the field-cured Ermelo.

"This is the first year that I've ever had a hay-less winter, and I like it," said Felderhoff. This has been the cheapest year yet on feed. My neighbors can't hardly believe it even after watching across the fence all winter, said the demonstrator.

"I spent $930 on fertilizer this past year, and sold calves worth $6,300," Felderhoff added. This is double my calf sales from 1967, he said.

Health Dept. Urges Immunization of All Pre-Schoolers

There are thousands of children in Texas today who are susceptible to one or more preventable diseases. Most of these youngsters are between one and four years of age. State health authorities have mounted a massive immunization campaign aimed at the preschool child in an effort to reduce the number of preschoolers who remain unimmunized against several deadly and common childhood diseases.

"The Texas Legislature moved last year to require certain immunizations for all school-age children as a prerequisite for attending school," said Texas Health Commissioner Dr. J. E. Peavy, "and it will go a long way toward reaching all school-age children who have not maintained their immunization level. But even this measure will not reach what we consider the prime group of susceptible children — the preschooler between the ages of one and four."

Dr. Peavy stressed the importance of giving protective immunization to all preschool children immediately. "Otherwise, parents run the risk that potentially deadly diseases like diphtheria, polio, measles, rubella, tetanus, or whooping cough may strike their unprotected preschool child," said Dr. Peavy.

Diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis (or whooping cough) can all three be prevented by triple vaccine DTP. The first dosage is given as early as two months of age, and is followed at one month intervals by the two remaining doses. All three doses are necessary before complete protection is given.

Today, one dose of measles vaccine given to children one year of age or older offers almost 100 percent protection. It's the best odds a parent can find anywhere in child health care these days.

Since the Salk and Sabin vaccines were discovered a decade ago there has been no major polio outbreak in Texas. But Texas has always had more than its share of this disease. In a five-year period in Texas, 121 of 133 victims of polio were under five years of age. Nothing further need be said on the necessity of immunizing all preschoolers against this disease. Again, three doses are necessary for complete protection.

When a youngster transmits the rubella virus to a pregnant mother — particularly during the first three months of her pregnancy, the results can be devastating — a baby born with severe birth defects. That is why it is important to have mass immunization of all children between one year of age and puberty.

The Nation's Timekeeper
 According to the Idaho Power Company, the country's generating system helps to keep your electric clocks at the current time. The utility company notes that, "Some years ago, electric companies throughout the country agreed to use a standard of 60 cycles per second for a frequency of alternating current power generation. Today, electric clocks in the nation count seconds at the same speed. To make sure, time of a master clock in Canton, Ohio — accurate to within a few thousandths of a second — is constantly compared with that of a clock operated from the nation's power systems. If these clocks vary by two seconds, notice is given to all electric utilities to change generation slightly to correct the time. The frequency of an electric motor that drives a clock is driven by the frequency of the alternating current. If it receives 59 cycles per second, it runs slow. If it receives 61, it runs fast. It must receive 60 cycles per second."

Triple Birthday Celebration Held In Don Cooke Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Cooke was a lively spot Saturday when four generations were together to celebrate three birthdays.

Driving to Muenster in cars loaded with children, food, gifts and a three-tier cake were all of Mr. and Mrs. Cooke's family.

Birthday honorees were Mrs. Don C. Cooke and her great-granddaughter Dedie Ann Cooke of Fort Worth whose birthdays are March 27 and the Cookes' son Harold Cooke of Mineral Wells whose birthday was March 15. His wife came with him.

Dedie Ann's parents the Don M. Cookes and sons Mark and Keith came with her from Fort Worth. The Gene Alexanders and their daughters Dana and Nikki also came from Fort Worth bringing three young friends, Kathy Anderson, Betty Ann Henderson and Cindy Goss of Fort Worth. Reeve Cooke also was a guest.

The dinner table, beautifully appointed, was covered with the family's traditional birthday cloth. After the meal the huge birthday cake was cut. In three tiers, there was a tier for each of the honorees, decorated accordingly.

In the afternoon the grown-ups visited and the children played outdoors and roamed over the hillside, and everybody joined for picture taking.

The visitors returned home in the late afternoon leaving Mr. and Mrs. Cooke with happy memories of the triple birthday celebration.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER
 By Crawford C. Martin
 Attorney General of Texas

Recreational land promotions always increase during the spring as companies selling lake lots, wilderness lots, and speculative land investments begin to advertise. Direct mail promotions for local developments encourage personal visits by the whole family by offering "discounts" off the "regular" price of the lots. Some companies conduct contests while others speak of the investment potential inherent in land — particularly their land.

If you are considering the purchase of a lake lot or a small tract of land as an investment, then you should be cautious. The following guidelines are worth reading before you sign the contract:

1. Make a personal visit to the property to see for yourself the overall condition of the land, access roads, improvements and the specific plot you will be purchasing. Every year thousands of people purchase land they have never seen and are often disappointed when they later visit the land development.
2. Ask the salesman for a copy of the Property Report which many land developers are required to file with the Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Washington, D. C. 20411. This report will furnish information regarding the existence of liens on the property, availability of recreational facilities, availability of water service and utilities, the type of title the buyer will receive and the distances to nearby communities over paved or unpaved roads.

3. Determine a fair price for the land on the basis of land near the development rather than accepting at face value the salesman's claims of rapid appreciation of land values in the area.

Don't fall for the "free lot" sales pitch or its companion the "discount check". These pitches are merely designed to encourage people to purchase a lot on their first visit to the development. Land developers are going to make a profit on the sale of their lots. If the development advertises a country club, golf course, boat marina, water district or other improvements which would enhance the value of the land, check on the status of these items to determine whether or not they are still in the "planning stage".

In summary, the most important first step you should take before purchasing land would be to make a personal visit to the land to see for yourself what you are buying. But just as important would be to ask the right questions regarding the availability of the items necessary to insure your enjoyment of the property. If good quality drinking water is not available at an economical rate, septic tanks are not permitted, or electric power cannot be obtained at a reasonable cost, then the progress of the development may be very slow. Think about these problems before signing up for a lot in Rainbow City.

Well, What Do You Know?

What do you know about growing your own green onions?

In the wintertime chives and green onions are not easy to find. But an ordinary onion will sprout easily. Pick out one that shows signs of sprouting and leave it near a sunny window for a few days. The sprouts should grow several inches. Cut them off, and use them as you would use chives or scallions.

What do you know about salt?

Common salt is a mineral that is vital to life itself. Salt is

What do you know about Columbus Day?

The anniversary of the day Christopher Columbus discovered America, October 12, 1492, is celebrated in 37 states of the United States. It is also observed in parts of Canada, in Puerto Rico, and in some cities in Italy and Spain. Although Columbus was not the first explorer to set foot in the Western Hemisphere, his landing at San Salvador was very important. It opened the way for the settlement of America by Europeans. Columbus Day became a legal holiday in the United States in 1892, 400 years after his famous voyage.

Upside Down Logic

A North Carolina magazine, "The State," observes some upside down logic: "We have courts that protect criminals and condemn law officials; public officials who advocate violence instead of order; artists who win prizes for ugliness instead of beauty; moralists who condemn ethics and exalt license; ministers who preach against a Divinity and 'patriots' who aid our enemies. About all we need now is to try to cure people of sobriety, jail citizens for saving money, and paying their taxes, and award degrees for ignorance."

CCJC Ag Facility Will Be Financed By $25,000 Drive

Advance contribution from Agri-Business and Beef Cattle producers in the amount of $8,000.00 has been announced at a finance drive kick-off meeting at the Cooke County Junior College. This drive will finance a $25,000.00 facility to be located on the Mary Josephine Cox farm approximately 7 miles east of Gainesville.

The Agriculture Advisory Committee of CCJC is serving as solicitors in the finance drive. They are Weldon Bez-ner, Dr. Delbert Davis, Billy Farr, Charles Fry, Neil Tibbets, Fred Webb, Lee Wolf, and P. C. Wylie. Dr. Bill Day, vice president for instructional affairs, and Mr. Tommy Davidson, agriculture department chairman, are representing the college on the advisory committee. Bob Vaughn and J. P. Shull are also assisting the committee.

Dr. A. E. Shasteen, president of Cooke County Junior College, said that Cooke County enjoys a good reputation now as a producer of high quality beef cattle, and this project is an effort to improve on this reputation and keep Cooke County in the forefront. The college will own and operate the test station. Dr. Shasteen said that the need for this facility has been pointed out by producers and other Agri-Business people and the college was undertaking the project to satisfy this need, which is in keeping with the college's policy of serving the area's needs.

The purpose of the test facility is to measure the weight gain of bulls during a 140 day period. Weight gain is an inheritable trait so bulls with a high rate of gain are very desirable. Another test will consist of measuring ultrasonically the amount of red meat an animal produces as compared with the amount of fat produced. The consumer is primarily interested in purchasing red meat with a minimum amount of fat. The ability to produce red meat as opposed to fat and other meat waste is another inheritable trait which bulls can pass on to their offspring. By these tests a producer will know the performance he can expect from a bull.

All producers, large or small, will benefit from this knowledge, but perhaps the most important benefit of all will be realized by the consumer who will be able to purchase better cuts of red meat.

Tommy Davidson has a prepared speech and slide presentation on the Beef Cattle Evaluation Center and is available to present this program to civic clubs, community clubs, and any other interested groups.

DeSoto Hailed for Summer Grazing By Renner System

Texas cattle producers who find that beef gains taper off in the hot summer months should consider planting DeSoto grass in 1972.

A succulent, highly palatable perennial sorghum, DeSoto is bred to keep beef coming in July and August, a time when many improved and native grasses give less than desired results. Seed of DeSoto grass is plentiful and reasonable in price this spring. The best planting period is during April and May.

"DeSoto grass made new friends, particularly across West Texas, in 1971," reports Dr. C. L. Lundell, Director of Texas Research Foundation at Renner. The first half of '71 was especially dismal for forage growth due to drought, he reminded.

"With August rainfall, DeSoto grass responded quickly with beef-making growth on thousands of acres of rangelands and pure seeded DeSoto pastures," explained Dr. Lundell. Within 45 days, DeSoto reached five to six feet in height at the ranches of Leland Woodward and Jack L.

Foxworth near Graham, the sites of two Renner Rangeland System demonstration projects.

In Brown County, DeSoto has remained productive for beef cattle for six years at the R. H. (Bob) Ross Ranch demonstration in both a rangeland mixture and in pure pasture seedings. At Renner, yields up to 400 pounds of beef to the acre have been made in a single grazing season, said the director.

In the blacklands of Texas, a similar surge in growth occurs with warming temperatures and adequate moisture. DeSoto provides readily acceptable forage to put beef cows in excellent condition, and to top out calves for fall market.

DeSoto is one of the companion forages in the year-round Renner Pasture System and the Renner Rangeland System.

Developed in the Foundation's grass breeding program, DeSoto is a perennial that carries the growth response of an annual forage. It is a grass developed from three forage sorghum-type crosses. It carries a high nutrition and palatability level that allows animals to perform well even during extreme heat of mid-summer. This is a period when most improved and native grasses, especially Coastal bermuda grass, will give the livestock man less than one pound of gain per head a day.

For hay, DeSoto is recommended for permanent pastureland, though the forage makes nutritious green-chop and silage. Leaves and stems are somewhat coarse when cured for hay or fodder.

DeSoto is one of the most vigorous and fastest growing of all permanent grasses, summed up Dr. Lundell. Profitable grazing is nearly always obtained the first year of planting — usually in six to eight weeks — compared with the slower perennial grasses that may take one to two years to reach the stage of growth where full grazing is possible.

Because of its persistent rhizomes and reseeding, DeSoto is for use only in permanent pastures, not where land may be returned to row-crop cultivation.

It pays to advertise with the Muenster Enterprise.

THAT JUST THE RIGHT - OR WRONG - RATIO OF GREASE AND WATER CAN CAUSE PROBLEMS IF THE LAYER OF MELTED FAT PREVENTS THE WATER FROM BOILING NATURALLY.

THE KEYNOLDS TEST KITCHENS FOUND, DURING RESEARCH ON OVEN COOKING BAGS, THAT THE PROBLEM OF GREASE - WATER COMBINATION CAN BE PREVENTED. A TABLE-SPOON OF FLOUR SHAKEN INSIDE THE BAG BEFORE COOKING DOES THE TRICK.

SINCE OVEN BAG COOKING IS NEW, INSTRUCTIONS SHOULD BE FOLLOWED CAREFULLY. ROASTING PANS SHOULD BE AT LEAST 2" DEEP AND LARGE ENOUGH TO HOLD ENTIRE BAG WITHOUT OVERHANG.

SIX SLITS WITH A KNIFE IN THE TOP OF THE BAG ARE ESSENTIAL TO RELEASE EXCESS VAPOR. AS IN ALL TYPES OF COOKING, NORMAL CARE SHOULD BE TAKEN TO PREVENT BURNS OR OTHER KITCHEN ACCIDENTS.

Does your hot shower end in the middle of your hot shower?

And, as if that isn't bad enough, you've got three kids and a very irate wife prepared to tar and feather you for using up their hot water.

Maybe it's time to move up to a larger gas water heater. Gas water heaters are easy to buy. Easy to install. And they recover hot water up to twice as fast as electric water heaters.

Make the decision. You'll stop getting into hot water with your family, and start getting into hot water with your shower.

Wouldn't it be lots better for everybody if the board were made up of people who think primarily of the consumers' welfare rather than the wealth and political power of the unions? We don't need nor want union bosses on the board. Their performance of the past thirty years tells us how their methods and interests lean. Rather we want plain level headed people with a conscience and a basic knowledge of economics.

Fewer Income Tax Returns Are Being Audited by IRS

As the years go by, the Internal Revenue Service audits a smaller percentage of income tax returns.

"The IRS examined only one out of every 56 individual income tax returns in the fiscal year 1971, compared with one in 46 during 1970," noted Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist at Texas A&M University. "A few years ago one in every 25 was audited."

"Don't think this will necessarily make for easier tax evasion," the specialist warned. Although 350,000 fewer returns were audited in 1971 than 1970, the total of additional tax payments resulting from audits rose by $300 million to a total of $3.4 billion.

Two-thirds of all taxpayers have more withheld than they owe, according to Mrs. Myers. In 1971 the government refunded $19.9 billion to nearly 56 million taxpayers.

"Also," Mrs. Myers said, "fewer income tax returns were filed last year for the first time since 1959. The Tax Reform Act of 1971 excused million of lower-income taxpayers from filing."

About 130,000 corporate returns were audited, or 30,000 fewer than in 1970. But the IRS claimed $1.9 billion of added tax, compared with $1.6 billion in 1970.

One taxpayer out of every 16 made errors in arithmetic or used the wrong tax table. "That was better than 1970 when one in 12 taxpayers made such errors," Mrs. Myers said.

"Some 2.9 million taxpayers made errors in their own favor, and the government took an additional $313 million from them," the specialist said. "Only 1.7 million made errors in the government's favor. The government returned $140 million to them."

Marine Sergeant Anthony Hermes, son of Mrs. Joe Hermes, has completed the grammatical structure course at Camp Lejeune, N. C. He is a member of the Second Marine Division.
