HOUSE IS FIRM ON ONE-THIRD PLAN

ACTION ON COTTON CURTAILMENT BILL TODAY

Sept. 17.—(AP)—The Texas House of Representatives today and refused to take any action on the cotton curtailment bill.

The bill was introduced by Representative G. E. Lockhart of Dallas, and is known as H. R. 1032. It provides for a 25 per cent curtailment of cotton production for the year 1932.

The bill has been passed by the Senate, but the House has refused to take any action on it. The Senate bill provides for a 25 per cent curtailment of cotton production for the year 1932.

The House has refused to take any action on the bill because it is opposed by many farmers. They believe that a 25 per cent curtailment would be too severe.

Pilot of Missing Atlantic Plane

Fear was expressed for the safety of Pilot Christian Johannsen, above, and his two flying companions when the large all-metal Junkers plane in which they were flying from Lisbon, Portugal, to New York became long overdue.

The plane failed to reach New York on schedule after being sighted near Halifax.

Southward solution of the cotton crisis apparently rested between two curtailment plans, the Olson bill in the house and a so-called coalition measure in the senate.

The Olson bill provided for a reduction of cotton production to one-third of the 1932 acreage under cultivation. The coalition bill provided for the more drastic curtailment to one-fourth of the 1932 cotton area.

Estimates of reduction in the Texas crop by the two bills range from 50 to 60 per cent. Indications were that adoption of one of the plans or a compromise plan would be speeded up with the definite elimination of the Long idea.

COUNTY SCHOOL LEAGUE DIVIDED INTO 2 GROUPS

Literary events of the annual Brown County Interscholastic League meet were divided into two groups at the business session of the city-county teachers' institute here Saturday, by vote of the teachers.

The division of the meet eliminates rural school students from having to compete in the literary events with students of city schools.

Directors for the rural school division were elected this afternoon as follows: Director General, Leslie Griffin, Zephyr; Debate, R. L. Fortune, Blanket; Declaration, Paul A. McCasland, Brooksmith; Extemporaneous Speaking, Clive Pierce, Williams; Spelling, Mrs. V. B. Eoff, Blanket; Essay Writing, Miss Annie Laurie Petack, Williams; Music Memory, Miss Elizabeth Robertson, May; Athletics, Coach Williams, Bangs.

City teachers did not hold a meeting this afternoon. Officers in the division of the Interscholastic League will be elected later in the day, according to Superintendent E. J. Woodward.

Mr. Marrs Speaks Assurance the $17.50 per capita appropriation for the schools of Texas for the 1931-32 term will be paid in full was the cheering message brought to the teachers attending the Brownwood-Brown county institute by State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs Saturday morning.

While many have opposed the cigarette tax, Mr. Marrs said, it is a fact that the school appropriation would have been $16 instead of the $17.50.

MAN FATALLY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

When he was struck by an automobile at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, John Wesley C. Gist, 64, blacksmith, received fatal injuries. He died in the Central Texas Hospital at 11:30 o'clock.

Gist, according to county officers who went to the scene of the accident, had stalled his automobile near the Bayou bridge on highway 10 and had stopped another car to get his car pulled into town.

Gist was knocked unconscious by the blow on his head when he struck the pavement. Also his right leg was broken. Woolridge stopped his automobile and took Mr. Gist to the hospital. Doctors say Gist died from concussion of the brain.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of a sister, Mrs. J. E. Warren, 401 North Greenleaf, where the body is at present. Dr. A. E. Prince, pastor First Baptist church, and Rev. P. T. Stanford, pastor Central Methodist church, officiated. Interment was made in Greenleaf cemetery. Meltriss Funeral Home had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Mr. Gist was born September 9, 1867, in Alabama. He came to Brownwood about 22 years ago to operate a blacksmith shop and at the time of his death operated a shop at 800 Belle Plaine avenue.

He is survived by five children, Mrs. Ethel May Hayden, El Paso; Mrs. Viola Hill, Fort Reno, Okla.; J. C. Gist, El Paso; Mrs. Mary Jackson, Fort Worth and Mrs. Ruby Warren, Fort Worth; his mother, Mrs. Isabella Gist, Brownwood; three sisters, Mrs. M. L. Dobson, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Flora Cable, Brownwood; and Mrs. J. E. Warren, Brownwood; one brother, C. C. Gist, Brownwood.

FUNERAL RITES E. H. BOENICKE HELD MONDAY

Funeral services for E. H. Boenicke, 48, who was instantly killed when a shotgun was carried discharged, were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Mount View church and interment followed in Trickham cemetery.

Rev. C. A. Wilkerson, pastor of the Mount View Methodist church, assisted by Rev. A. C. Jones of Brownwood and Rev. L. A. Clark of Zephyr, officiated. Austin-Morris Cephary had charge of the arrangements.

Mr. Boenicke, a prominent Brown county farmer for almost 30 years, and his son, Herman 15, had been hunting for chicken hawks late Saturday afternoon in the pasture near the home about five miles of Trickham and were returning to the house. Mr. Boenicke started to crawl through a barbed wire fence about 100 yards from the house and the gun was accidentally discharged.

The charge ranged through the left side of his body and pierced his heart. Herman, who was nearby, ran to his father's side and lifted his head but he had died instantly. The boy's cries for help brought other members of the family to the scene of the tragedy.

Had Bought New Gun Mr. Boenicke had purchased a new 12 gauge single barrel shotgun from the Weakley-Watson-Miller Hardware Company about 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. At the time of the purchase he also bought some heavy loads saying he intended to go home that afternoon and kill some of the hawks that had been catching his chickens.

E. H. Boenicke was born October 16, 1882, at New Ulm, Texas, and moved to Brown county in 1903. He was married to Miss Annie Schroeder. Three children survive, Arnold of Bangs, Mrs. Laurena Drumm of Luling and Herman. His father, A. Boenicke, four brothers, Ernest of Brooksmith, Louis of Brownwood, Anton and Oscar of Bangs; five sisters, Misses Pauline and Lydia Boenicke of Brownwood, Mrs. Carl Harris of Bangs, Mrs. Fred Miller of Bangs and Mrs. Bertha Deere of Beville; and two grandchildren, also survive.

WORK AT JAIL AWARDED SAN ANTONIO FIRM

The Southern Prison Company of San Antonio was awarded the contract to improve the Brown county jail on their bid of $5,200, by the commissioners court in session Tuesday.

The company was the only one bidding, but submitted three different bids on various grades of material. The bid on type "A" material, which was the one accepted, was $5,200; the bid on type "B" material was $5,830, and the bid on type "C" material was $5,642.

George Isbell, representing the Southern Prison Company, said today the class "A" material is the best prison material made and the court did well to accept the bid on the best material.

Improvement of the jail included construction of a tier of cells on top of the present cells on the second floor in the east wing of the jail. New cells will make room for 18 to 20 more prisoners.

The only other matter considered by the court was the acceptance of the bond of Thompson Construction Company, successful bidders on the Jim Ned bridge.

The grand jury reconvened today to investigate the shooting which occurred near the courthouse yesterday as Wiley was being conducted to the courtroom. Several shots missed Wiley. Jeff and Jim Harkey, brothers of Leigh Harkey, were under bond in connection with the shooting.

MASS MEETING IN BRADY FOR COUNTY AGENTS

BRADY, Texas, September 17.—Several hundred farmers crowded the district court room this afternoon in a mass meeting held before the County Commissioners Court in protest to the discontinuation of the services of the county agent, county home demonstration agent and the county library.

Scores of rural men and women made brief talks asking the commissioners to continue these services. Just one or two dissenting voices were raised during a three hour session, which was turned into an "experience meeting" with many of the rural folk relating the benefits which they have derived from the personal services of the agricultural demonstration agents and from the use of the circulating library.

In presenting the plea for the supporters of the home demonstration work, Mrs. Kirby Huffman related that McCulloch county farm homes have greater need of this service this year than in any past year on account of the present economic conditions. She said that more than one million pounds of vegetables, fruits, meats and berries have been canned this year by McCulloch county farm wives, which will tide them safely over the winter.

The work of the county agents was praised by Frank Hurd and a number of other farmers and ranchmen, who stressed the fact that cheap cotton will make it necessary for the farmers of this section to raise feed crops and to feed livestock next year, which will require the supervision and direction of a county agent.

The great educational factor which the county library, established two years ago, has been to both children and adults of this county, was presented in a talk by Bert Hughes of the library committee, who stated that 90,000 out of a total of 151,000 books circulated by the central library station and its 24 rural substations, or approximately two-thirds of all the books circulated were read by people in the rural districts.

Another meeting is to be called just as soon as this committee will be ready to present its plan.

DALLAS LOVE MART PROBED

DALLAS, Sept. 17.—(AP)—A "love mart," through which gay stenographers and tired business men were allegedly brought together in a business way, was under investigation by police here today.

Police said they had learned that the operator of the "mart" came in contact with unemployed stenographers through newspaper advertisements. The girls were instructed to meet the prospective employer at a downtown hotel, where they were questioned carefully as to their willingness to join in the scheme.

Then the operator, for whom police hold a warrant, would tour downtown business offices in the guise of a typewriter ribbon salesman and try to place the girls. Officers learned that the inducements were spiced with information that the girls were attractive and not averse to enjoying themselves.

Officers received information that the scheme worked in several cases and that it developed into a blackmail proposition. The girls, under one pretense or another, demanded money in exchange for silence.

322 BALES AT LOCAL GINS

Three local gins have ginned 322 bales of cotton thus far in the season. All three gin operators say the season is considerably later this year than last because of the rains received during the summer. Last year little rain was received and the cotton crop was a great deal earlier.

All gins are running every day, and it is expected that the crop will be cleared through the gins earlier than is usually the case, according to the local ginners.

The grand jury reconvened today to investigate the shooting which occurred near the courthouse yesterday as Wiley was being conducted to the courtroom. Several shots missed Wiley. Jeff and Jim Harkey, brothers of Leigh Harkey, were under bond in connection with the shooting.

OPENING EXERCISES OF EARLY SCHOOL FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 25

Early high school will open Sept. 25th. Superintendent Spencer S. George says the school is to start late in order to give parents a chance to use their children in gathering cotton crops for the children. He needed more now than they will be next spring.

The formal opening program will be held at the school auditorium on Friday evening, September 25th, at 7:30 o'clock so parents of the children invited and parents are especially urged to attend the opening exercises, says Mr. George. The program is not complete, but Dr. Thomas H. Taylor, president of Howard Payne College, has been secured as one of the speakers.

Faculty and trustees of Early are looking forward to a progressive Tuesday and Wednesday nights have been expected to reach 275 since the school will operate this year with additional territory, part of the Center Point district having been annexed this summer. The bus lines have been lengthened to take care of the larger district.

SUBGRADING AND BASE WORK ON HIGHWAY 129 WAITING ON MACHINERY

Subgrading and base work on highway 129 which was to have started today has been delayed on account of lack of machinery on the grounds. One steam shovel of the E. R. Leach Construction Company of Dallas was received Tuesday afternoon, but other machinery has not been received.

For several days work on the gravel pits and other work that could be done before the machinery arrives, has been going forward. Subgrading and base work is expected to start within a few days, it is said.

The grand jury reconvened today to investigate the shooting which occurred near the courthouse yesterday as Wiley was being conducted to the courtroom. Several shots missed Wiley. Jeff and Jim Harkey, brothers of Leigh Harkey, were under bond in connection with the shooting.

Mrs. F. U. Irwin died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Mullan, in Dallas Wednesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Irwin had not been well for some time and went over to Dallas for a visit with her daughter thinking the change might help her. She had only been there a few days when she took pneumonia and grew worse till the end came.

Mrs. Irwin was reared near Holly Springs, Miss., but came to Texas when she was a young woman. She was first married to Mr. Jim Hurdle. To this union was born three children, Ben Hurdle, now living in Cameron; Mrs. Carrie Bodkin, deceased; and Mrs. May Mullan of Dallas. Several years ago Mr. Hurdle died and later she was married to Mr. F. U. Irwin. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin lived in the Pleasant Grove community for several years, then moved here and have lived in this city ever since. Mrs. Irwin was a devoted Christian woman, one of the leading members of the Nazarene church at this place. She was possessed of a strong mind and a pleasing personality. In her going away this community has lost a strong force for good in church and civic affairs. Many went to her for advice in their business as well as religious affairs. Her remains were shipped here on Thursday morning and carried to her home. Funeral services were held at four o'clock, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Braswell, assisted by Rev. Evans, Rev. Bowles and Rev. Kelly.

Farmers Who Got Loans Raise Food And Feed Crops

Ninety per cent of the farmers in Brown county who obtained feed and seed loans from the government are producing food and feed to carry them over the next year, in the opinion of County Agent O. P. Griffin. Practically all the loans will be paid this fall. When the loans were obtained the fact was stressed through the county agent's office that the government expected the farmers to whom they were made to look out especially for raising the needed food and feed crops, and the admonition was very thoroughly observed. Both Mr. Griffin and Miss Malone, county home demonstrator, say that due to the provisions that have been made in the homes of this county in the way of food and feeds the farmers of the county face 1932 in a great deal better condition than they faced 1931. One man who had received a government loan sold fruits, and vegetables this summer. Recently, when his sales had been sufficient to cover the loan, he went into the office of the county agent, poured out on a table the receipts of his sales, counted out the amount of the loan and said: "Here it is; and now the rest of it is mine."

Low Pressure Of Water Was Due To Broken Main

Maybe a number of Brownwood people failed to wash their faces this morning but it was not their fault, but because they did not have any water. One of the water mains between the pump station and the city broke early today and the water pressure in some parts of the city was very low and in some instances there was not any water at all. Workmen finished repairing the line early this afternoon, but in the meantime water was taken care of in other lines.

Will Not Repeal Law BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 17.—(P)—Governor Huey Long today said he would not repeal the Louisiana law prohibiting growing of cotton next year for the time being, explaining that he wished Louisiana to "stand fast" in the event other states might desire to take cotton relief action along the same lines. The Governor pointed out that he had until January 15th, 1932, to repeal the statute by proclamation if other states did not concur with similar legislation, and added that he was in no hurry to do so right now.

The Governor said that the age reduction would do as far as prices of this year's crop concerned. He made no statement concerning any remaining prohibition legislation for the exclusive of Texas might be OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 17.—(P)—A definite move to increase was under way by representatives of Oklahoma and cotton growing counties here yesterday at Governor W.
