Valerie Henscheid joins City Council

The Muenster City Council appointed Valerie Henscheid Monday night to fill Mike Trubenbach's unexpired term as a councilman. Trubenbach resigned because his employer transferred him to Memphis, Tennessee.

The four council members remaining voted 2 to 2 for Henscheid versus former Mayor volunteered to do the job. Bert Walterscheid nominated Henscheid, saying he thought Ronnie Felderhoff's business obligations would detract from the time he could serve the council. Mayor Miller broke the tie with a vote for Henscheid.

As the meeting progressed, Henscheid had her first experience with the friendly relationship between Mayor Miller and Councilman Arthur Hennigan. Bert Walterscheid introduced discussion on certain residences in the southeast part of town that had poorly-kept or trashy yards. He wanted the city to enforce the law concerning clean up.

Harvey Lamkin said that he was in the process of cleaning up the metal in his yard after the storm toppled his rack that kept a lot of metal in order. He asked for more time. Walterscheid said that wasn't the only problem but it was his main concern. Valerie Henscheid commented that there are problems all over town. She said Muenster should live up to its German reputation and present the best image to all visitors. Since the discussion seemed to be centering around Lamkin, he said, "If you decide to come after me only, I'll put up a big privacy fence, call it modern art and nobody will like it but me. Treat everybody else the same, not just me."

Discussion included the fine of $200.00 per day for noncompliance. Then Arthur Hennigan commented that if the mayor doesn't have to clean up his property, why should anyone else have to. Miller said, "Why can't you just stay off my back?" and the argument escalated.

The council finally agreed to allow 60 days hence for people to show progress in cleaning problem areas. After 60 days, the city will follow ordinance procedures which include written notice of noncompliance, then possible fines. The council agreed that Lamkin's various metal works at his residence did not really constitute a business and would be okay if put in neat order.

Other items of discussion and action included:

- The city will advertise for bids to drill a new water well with a deadline of 2 p.m., Jan. 16, 1995.
- Flusche Enterprises received permission to build a structure over an existing sewer line. They agreed to build a new line if any problems develop.

- Bill Williams was engaged as appraiser and Delbert West as surveyor for the new water well and flow line.

- Muenster's sewer plant effluent pH value does not comply with Texas Natural Resources guidelines. Chris Yosten explained that Muenster's well water is nearly at the pH limit and gets higher going through the sewage treatment process. The city will study the problem and seek help to comply with the rules.

- The city will advertise for bids on maintenance contracts for the two city parks.

- Roof repair at the municipal swimming pool is under study.

- Alan Sicking, Bert Hesse and Henry Starke were reappointed to the Zoning Board.

- Monthly bills totaling $42,475.80 were approved for payment.

Courthouse procures archeological designation

by Janet Felderhoff

Cooke County Judge Ray Russell received notification this week that the Texas Antiquities Committee had voted to designate the Cooke County Courthouse as a State Archeological Landmark under the provisions of the Antiquities Code of Texas. "The people of Cooke County should be very proud of their courthouse," remarked Nancy A. Kenmotsu, assistant director, Department of Antiquities Protection. "Not many county courthouses are kept in such good condition. A structure must go through a very rigorous kind of process before it can be listed. There are not a tremendous number of structures listed."

The Cooke County courthouse was built in 1911 in a beaux arts style. Not very many structures of that kind were built outside of large cities, according to Ms. Kenmotsu. A very prominent Dallas architectural firm familiar with that type of structure was in charge of building the courthouse.

Mrs. Ona B. Reed, president of the Cooke County Historical Society, submitted the nomination of the local courthouse to the Texas Antiquities Committee. When a property is submitted the recommendation goes before a staff of architects and historians to see if it meets criteria. Then a formal board of nine heads of state agencies and government appointees consider the property and decide if it will be designated for the honor.

In papers naming Cooke County Courthouse as a designated landmark it says, "The state has determined that in their opinion it is a very important structure, both physically and visibly very unique. It is important in politics and government of the area. For over 80 years in Cooke County it is where things happen in government."

"It is quite an honor," said Judge Russell of the courthouse's designation. "Although there won't be a plaque or anything noting it, brochures will list the honor. There are not many structures in the state with that honor. It will be a tourist attraction to Cooke County and a benefit to the county." Judge Russell added that it will require a bit more paper work to make any major structural changes to the building since the plans must be submitted to and approved by both a historical society and the Texas Antiquities Committee.

The courthouse was eligible to receive a State Archeological Landmark designation because their protection can be extended to everything man has created in the state.

Chorale sings out with joy

Sing Out! Sing Out! proclaims the anthem, and the Cooke County Chorale did just that, before a standing room only audience in the Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on Friday Dec. 2 at 8 p.m. as they presented "Messiah" by George Friderich Handel.

With Dr. Michael Linder as conductor, John Dill as accompanist on the harpsichord, implemented by the University of North Texas Symphony Orchestra, the 70 voices of the Chorale put heart and soul into the performance. It was a fitting tribute to the sacredness of the Christmas season and the majesty of Handel's Messiah.

The audience responded with enthusiasm. How they wished for an encore of the inspiring, crowning, Hallelujah Chorus. Among the hundreds who attended were Congressman Ralph Hall and

Muenster ISD Theater Arts class hosts "The Egg and I" production

The Theater Arts class of Muenster High School presented Betty MacDonald's "The Egg and I" in two performances, the first on Sunday night, Dec. 4 and the second on Monday Dec. 5, both at 7 p.m. in the MISD Auditorium, directed by Irene Hartman.

For exceptionally good performances the cast of students accepted appreciative applause from parents, grandparents, fellow students, friends and guests in the audience.

It was a treat for many who recalled with delight having seen the movie "The Egg and I" many years ago starring Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert.

In order of appearance, for the Muenster ISD performance, the cast of characters included: Lucas Hartman as Don MacDonald, Melissa Biffle as Anne MacDonald, Toni Trubenbach as Joan MacDonald, Ashley Hartman as Betty MacDonald, Cody Perryman as Thad, Andrea Klement as Delicate Daisy, Bryan Hudspeth as Ar. Mannix, Misty Klement as Corinne, Robert Valentine as H-baby, Summer Jones as Fishface, Matt Cotter as J.J., Andrea Goodwin as Lingery Lady, Laurel Green as Millicent Ames, Jill Reiter as Thermometer Tessie, Telisha Reed as Paula, Angela Russell as Toni, Rebecca Nicholson as Lolly, Audrey Knabe as Mitzie, Mary Knabe as Miss Linden, Melinda Leitman as Gracie, Brad Knabe as Arsen and Matt Muller as Ross.

Based on the novel, the play offered good, wholesome entertainment for the entire family. Acclaimed for the play was the MacDonald chicken ranch in the Olympic Mountains area of Washington, in the forties or fifties. Scenes were mostly in the farmhouse kitchen.

All members of the production staff deserve credit for a job well done. They include: Director, Irene Hartman; Student Director, Keisha

Dill; Stage Manager, Kristin Dickerson; Props, Crew Head Kristine Hartman, Andrea Goodwin, Andrea Klement, Keisha Dill; Costumes, Crew Head Mary Knabe, Audrey Knabe, Angela Russell; Make-up, Crew Head Misty Klement, Summer Jones, Rebecca Nicholson; House, Crew Head Andrea Goodwin, Summer Jones, Jill Reiter, Laurel Green; Publicity and Tickets, Crew Head Melinda Leitman, Crew Head Telisha Reid, Rebecca Nicholson, Misty Klement, Laurel Green, Jill Reiter; Sound, Crew Head Cody Perryman, Matt Cotter, Matt Muller, Brad Knabe; Lighting, and Claudette Colbert. NCTC audit report indicates finances in excellent shape

North Central Texas College's books show it to be "in extremely good financial condition," according to what NCTC President Ronnie Glasscock termed one of the most thorough and rigorous audits in his experience as an educator. College trustees heard a formal report on the audit of 1993-94 business at their regular monthly meeting last week.

Al Brown, head of the Sherman accounting firm that conducted the audit, presented the trustees with an "unqualified opinion" that NCTC is an exceptionally firm financial footing and commended the administration for the high degrees of efficiency and accuracy with which the college manages its financial resources and does its financial recordkeeping.

"When I came here two years ago," Dr. Glasscock commented, "the trustees made it very clear that they expected the financial affairs of this college to be managed in a smart, professional manner, with particular emphasis given to improving our accounting system and putting into place a strong framework of internal controls."

"With the board's leadership and outstanding work by dedicated administrators like Dean of Financial Services Heidi Ellis, we've been able to live up to those expectations. And I believe that as a matter of public trust, we're obligated to continue striving to do even better."

The audit affirmed the NCTC trustees' commitment to building reserves, showing the current level of "board-designated" discretionary reserve funds has risen to almost $1.6 million. The audit showed a transfer of more than $120,000 to reserves during the 1993-94 fiscal year.

Brown also commended NCTC officials for their "wise and prudent" handling of investments of college funds. Earlier in the meeting, Ellis reported that investments in all funds currently total more than $2.5 million.

Also singled out during the audit report as a financial plus during the 1993-94 fiscal year was the board's decision to retire the remaining indebtedness on a $271,385 revenue bond issue used to finance construction of the Community Education (Classroom) Building. Early retirement of this bonded indebtedness made possible a savings of over $12,000 in interest payments.

The only negative aspect of Brown's audit report were only minor "finding" - a mathematical error in the calculation of a student financial aid award - and two "reportable conditions." The first of these involved a strong recommendation that all college bank accounts be fully reconciled as of the last day of each month, rather than on a schedule dictated by when statements are normally issued by depository banks. The second pointed to an amount of less than $100 deposited in an area bank without a current depository contract in effect. The funds, however, were more than adequately collateralized, as required.

In other business, NCTC trustees heard the first reading of a proposed new policy regulating solicitation Please See COLLEGE, Pg. 2

by Janet Felderhoff

In an effort to promote better communication between the media and organizations seeking publicity for their causes, the Texoma Council of Governments sponsored a Media Access Forum in Denison on Nov. 15. Objectives were to educate local organizations regarding local electronic and print media schedules, policies, and procedures; to discuss how organizations can assist in building an effective relationship between themselves and the media; and to inform local media representatives about local organizations and their effect upon the community.

Media representatives included Brenda Rigsby, Muenster Enterprise, and Dale Rideout, Howe Enterprise, weekly publications; Steve Martindale, Denison Herald, and Kathy Williams, Sherman Democrat, daily print publications; Vicki Skipworth and Garry Carter, KTEN TV-10 and Loren Farr and John Fullylove, KXII Channel 12; Bill Harrison KLAK 96.5 FM; and Deborah Adams Post-Newsweek Cobah.

Mr. Rideout and Mrs. Rigsby offered guidelines for submitting news for articles and photos for publication. Weekly newspapers work with a small staff, a limited amount of space for articles and advanced deadlines since there is only one issue published per week.

Suggestions for submitting articles included the following:

- *Submit both a brief and a longer version since space available determines what will be used. Be concise, a short to the point article will often be printed before a padded article requiring additional time to edit.
- *When typing article use double spacing and do not use all caps as this is confusing. Be sure spelling of names, etc. is correct.
- *Contact news department to be sure that article was received or check before sending to let them know an article is coming to allow space.
- *Include phone number and name of contact person.
- *Have someone who knows how to write prepare the press release.
- *Submit article in sufficient time for publication. Newspapers can't guarantee publication on certain dates due to space allocations.
- *Observe deadlines.
- *Consider submitting a good quality photo, chart or graph since related artwork catches the reader's eye.
- *Color photos may be used as long as they are of good quality.

"The line between news and advertising is fine," noted Howe Enterprise owner Dale Rideout. "I don't mind helping with some free publicity, but when I give it free and then see it as paid advertising in another newspaper it makes me not want to do it anymore."

Brenda Rigsby stressed that the Muenster Enterprise prides itself in keeping up with local families - births, school achievements, weddings, baptisms, obituaries, etc., but that it was important also to keep readers informed of local issues.

Kathy Williams, city editor for the Sherman Democrat, added more information for newspaper articles. She suggested letting the paper know about the event in advance so that coverage might also be given as spot news on what happened, as a follow-up or even as a feature. She warned that the only way one should expect coverage to be exactly as submitted is to buy an ad. Most newspapers offer a nonprofit rate.

Williams also suggested that the person submitting information for an article give as much information as possible. Questions answered should be Who, What, When, Where, Why and be sure that facts are accurate, dates and spelling are correct. "Show, don't tell," suggested Williams. "Call to be sure that information has been received through mail or FAX."

There were representatives from many area organizations present for the forum. Each received a booklet with information on the various media groups present. Questions were answered after each media representative presented his or her views.

Civic Outlook

by Mayor Bill Miller

I would like to congratulate Mrs. Valerie Henscheid who is our new City Council member replacing Alderman Mike Trubenbach who resigned recently. So, Valerie, welcome to the council. I am pleased to have you join us.

And I would like to apologize to the Muenster people for the swift change on the council. This opening should have been advertised in the paper to give all citizens a right to apply for the position. Several of our City Council members went around and got prospective candidates and I was unaware until the meeting that they intended to fill the opening immediately.

Another item on Monday night's meeting agenda was put on by Bert Walterscheid. He speculates that the city's next summer bid upon for the mowing in the park, five well sites, sewer ponds, lake right-of-ways, etc. Bert wants to farm out the mowing but keep the employee on the payroll doing something else. I feel that this is a decision that should be requested by our Administrator Chris Yosten. He is responsible for management of city affairs. I talked with Chris and he feels that we have so much area to be mowed that we will not save anything by a farm-out. Also, our employees can check the park and areas every day in litter and keep up a neater city appearance. We've had a lot of good compliments from visitors on our present employees' work.

Another item Ald. Bert Walterscheid put on the agenda was a request for property owners to clean up their properties. This is a problem that all towns and cities have. What many cities have done to solve this problem is plant a privacy hedge in the city right-of-way to present a neater appearance. Many businesses have large items to store or a lack of storage space. It is better for us to keep these businesses in town. A privacy hedge may be the answer in some cases.

Cooke County cities slip in sales tax comparison

"The Texas economy continues to improve along with employment, which grew by 3.1 percent since one year ago," State Comptroller John Sharp said. A total of $195.3 million in November sales tax rebates were returned to 1,072 Texas cities and 111 counties. "Sales tax rebates reflect a 3.6 percent in consumer confidence over the same period last year," Sharp said. With the exception of Lindsay, cities in Cooke County didn't comply with the trend.

Muenster's November check for $17,139.25 was 6.27 percent lower than the $18,286.71 received in November 1993. To date in 1994 Muenster has received $124,355.55. This is still 1.25 percent more than the total payments to date at this time in 1993.

Gainesville's check this November was $193,225.89, a decrease of 2.30 percent from last November. Oak Ridge noted a drop of 5.92 percent from a year ago with its check of $3,298.01. Valley

View's check for $2,843.67 was 17.47 less than a year ago. All are ahead of last year in total payments to date.

Lindsay accepted a check for $5,745.68. This was an increase of 5.44 percent over last November's check. Lindsay's total payments to date in 1994, $49,985.39, shows an increase of 9.28 percent from the total in November 1993.

Cooke County received a November rebate check for $101,705.05. It was 3.98 percent less than the amount of November 1993's rebate. Total payments to date in 1994 for Cooke County, $950,747.09, show an increase of 23.55 percent from that recorded in November, 1993.

Texas cities received $178.7 million in local sales tax returns, up 4.1 percent over last November's payment of $171.6 million. Counties received a total of $16.6 million for their November rebates, one percent less than the $16.7 million payment of one year ago.

James Bishop named president of Texas Propane Gas Association

James J. Bishop, president of Enderby Gas Inc. of Gainesville, began the first year of a five-year term as past president of the Texas Propane Gas Association board of directors at TPGA's recent state convention in San Antonio. Bishop's one-year term as president ended at the convention. Before that, he served a one-year term as president elect and a two-year term as district director. He has also served as a state director on the board of the National Propane Gas Association of Lisle, Ill.

Bishop is a 21-year industry veteran and a second generation propane dealer whose firm specializes in full-service propane marketing and carburetion and other petroleum products in north central and central Texas and southern Oklahoma. Enderby Gas has offices in Duncanville, Gainesville, Lampasas, Sanger, Sherman and Temple.

Association is a statewide trade association of dealers and suppliers who promote safety and education in the propane industry. Propane, a by product of natural gas and petroleum, is a source of energy used for heating homes, cooking, drying clothes and heating water. It is also a clean-burning alternative vehicle fuel that plays a major role in reducing air pollution.

As a past president of the association, Bishop will continue to lead efforts to promote propane as the residential and vehicle fuel of choice.

Veterans health screening Dec. 9 in Nocona

A free health screening for all veterans will be held at the Veterans Memorial Building, Highway 82 West, Nocona, TX on Friday, December 9, 1994. Hours of the clinic will be from 11:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.

A medical team from the Sam Rayburn Memorial Veterans Center in Bonham, TX will provide blood pressure, cholesterol and glucose checks, and veteran eligibility information.

Veterans that have not previously been treated at a VA should bring a copy of their DD Form 214.

Please contact Dewayne C. Vaughan, Chief, Voluntary Service, at 903-583-6282 or 583-6283 for additional information.

Holiday memories sought by Enterprise

Of all holiday memories of the year, Christmas stories preserve the best of the best, the most treasured, those that should not be lost, those that deserve retelling each year.

Christmas memories may be poignant, tender, glorious, happy, sad, historical, memorable, funny, traditional, ethnic. Christmas memories may include a favorite recipe, a favorite gift, a longed-for gift that never happened, a favorite trip or a favorite relative. Do you have a special or unique story about your family's Christmas? If so, The Muenster Enterprise would like to know. If there has been a Christmas story in the past which has touched your heart for a special reason, or simply fulfilled your dreams of Christmas, please send your story to The Enterprise for publication in the Christmas edition.

Memories of Christmas last a lifetime; the glow grows more tender as we grow older. Don't let something so precious be lost before sharing its treasure and preserving its thought. Don't be shy or self-conscious about your talents. If you hesitate to put your thoughts on paper, just jot down a few notes and let us help you express your memories in written form.

Response from readers, adding to "Christmas Memories" in 1993 was gratifying and, oh, so interesting. Among articles submitted were those from Lu Vogel, Evie Felderhoff, Ed Cler, Sister Mary John Seyler, Wilfred Klement, Brenda Rigsby, Dorothy Mae Luke Denny, Judy Inman and several high school students.

by outside parties on college property. Basically, the policy will require all vendors to obtain clearance from the administration and be issued a "vendor pass" before being allowed to approach faculty, staff or students.

"Our intention is certainly not to deny any individual or company reasonable access," said Whit Williams, dean of administrative services. "We simply want to be able to better control activities that have the potential for intruding into and disrupting the educational process. This includes a requirement that vendors abide by the same standards of conduct and adhere to all other board policies college personnel are subject to."

NCTC trustees also accepted a bid of $15,525 from R.H. Smith Company, Inc. of Denton, to replace two classroom floors in the 500 (Business) Building. Foundation problems have caused floors in several rooms in this building to sink and crumble in recent years.

Highlighting the "President's Update" concluding the agenda was a report of some $15,000 worth of equipment and software donated by several companies to the college's new Health Information Technology program.

Six Flags celebrates Christmas

The Tasmanian Devil and Santa Claus share the spotlight as the 10th anniversary edition of Holiday in the Park began at Six Flags Over Texas.

Taz and Santa are featured in two new musicals specially produced for the anniversary event.

Six Flags Over Texas is "Santa Country," one of the largest holiday celebrations in the state and the place to find Santa Claus and all the trimmings.

The Warner Bros. cartoon characters send a lively Christmas card to guests in a fantasy stage production based on the first Looney Tunes album in 20 years, "Have Yourself a Looney Tunes Christmas." The Lone Star Theater stage has been transformed into Daffy Duck's living room, complete with a cartoon Christmas tree, where the famed duck hosts a holiday soiree for all his Looney Tunes pals. There's even a surprise visit from Santa.

"Santa Country" comes to life in the Southern Palace with a musical production featuring country Christmas classics by Garth Brooks and Alan Jackson. This festive holiday tale features classic Christmas songs with a Western flair as well as Gospel favorites. It's a show for the whole family and sends a powerful Christmas message.

Even the critters are in the Christmas spirit at Six Flags. Everyone's favorite performing animals from the "Hollywood Animal Action Show" star in a holiday version of their show. "Purrs, Paws and Santa Claws" has a new holiday look and features the animals helping Santa prepare for his yearly deliveries.

Most of Six Flags' rides will be open during the holiday festival and a real snow hill is added for sledding.

More than 200 choirs will perform throughout the park during the festivities.

Holiday In The Park will be open Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays until Dec. 16, when daily operation starts. The celebration continues through New Year's Day, with the exception of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, when the park will be closed. Operating hours are 4 p.m. until 11 p.m. until after Christmas when the park will open at 2 p.m.

There are even special, low holiday admission prices. Regular admission will be $16.95 and $8.95 for children under 48 inches tall and senior citizens age 55 and over. Children age two and under are admitted free.

Golden wedding observed Nov. 27

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lutkenhaus celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, November 27 at an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. at the SNAP room of the Sacred Heart Community Center. Their children and families attended Mass in Sacred Heart Church at 10:30 a.m. with the honorees along with Rufus and Betty Henscheid.

The Lutkenhaus are parents of six children. They and their families hosted the celebration: Walter and Kathy Lutkenhaus and children Donna, Laura and George of Valley View; Norma and John Kubicek and daughter Mary of Valley View, and their sons Dave and Monika Kubicek and Michele of Durant, OK, and Steve and Karen Kubicek of Corinth; Doris and Chris Muller of Muenster and sons C.J. and Matt; Dennis and Carolyn Lutkenhaus and children Clifford, Charlene, Robert, Mark and Kevin of Lindsay; Leo and Peggy Lutkenhaus and children Kristie, Pamela, and Patrick of Muenster; and Charles and Lorie Lutkenhaus and children Greg and Jenna of Mesa, Arizona. All children, grandchildren and great-grandchild were able to attend.

Gus and Armella (Flusche) Lutkenhaus were married December 21, 1944, in Sacred Heart Church with Rufus Henscheid of Muenster as best man and Lorene (Lutkenhaus) Sandmann of Valley View as bridesmaid.

Armella is the daughter of the late Joseph and Mary Flusche and Gus is the son of the late George and Mary Lutkenhaus, all of Muenster.

A three tier anniversary cake with gold leaves, and gold punch were served along with pick up foods to friends, neighbors, and family members. Pictures of the wedding couple then and now were displayed along with their children's families. The table also held a model tractor, a sheep, a windmill, and hand-crafted items representing their work and accomplishments of their years together on their farm.

Smiles of honorees and their families revealed the pleasure they felt by being able to visit with relatives, neighbors and old friends, some of whom they had not seen in years.

Thanksgiving liturgy observed at St. Peter's

Mass on Thanksgiving Day, November 24 in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay at 8:30 a.m. renewed the tradition of a liturgy of gratitude.

Elaine Hess gave the introductions and Nathan Hermes presented the crucifix at the altar as a symbol of God's greatest gift to us.

Joey Arendt carried the U.S. Flag, symbol of a nation free to worship God. Cody Anderle presented a set of old school books, reminding parishioners to be thankful for the opportunities of education offered in Lindsay.

Larry and Joanie Wyrick and children Erin, Ben, John and Emilia represented the family unity that all should be grateful for. Dana and Valerie Huchton presented a basket of food at the altar as the children placed their donations for VISTO before the altar. Presenting the food for those who have less were: Lori Kasperek, Kendyl Odell, Adam Kasperek, Ryan Zimmerer, Allison Hundt, Brittany Selby, Lindsey Williams, Emerald Otto, Trinity Otto, Jared Schroeder, Clint Williams, Jacob Fuhrmann, Philip Bayer, Benjamin Hundt, Patrick Bayer, Mallory Block, Megan Metzler, Brooke Davis, Heidi Hess, Emily Walterscheid and Kimberly Hermes.

As the choir sang the entrance hymn, "America The Beautiful," Mass servers Josh Hoberer, Dominic Fuhrmann and Philip Fleitman entered, carrying the cross and candles. They were accompanied by the lectors and the celebrant, Father Eugene Luke, OSB.

The First Reading, Responsorial Psalm and Second Reading were given by Katie Hoberer, Whitney Neu and Melissa Fuhrmann, respectively. Petitions and Prayers of the Faithful were read by Brandon Kiesel, Patrick Zimmerer, Scott Neu and Danny Kendall. As Offertory gifts were presented at the altar by Jason Metzler, T.J. Krebs, Michelle Rauschuber and Brandi Martinez, the choir sang: "Alleluia, Alleluia, Give Thanks!"

Eucharistic ministers at the altar were Harold Nortman, Pam Hoberer and Diane Hermes. As parishioners received Holy Communion, the choir sang: "Let There Be Peace On Earth" and "Mine Eyes Have Seen The Glory of The Lord." The choir, composed of the Lindsay CYC was accompanied by organist Clara Hellingner. The assembly sang "How Great Thou Art" to conclude the liturgy.

Children participating were assisted by Pam Hoberer, Kathleen and Walter Lutkenhaus, Doris Rauschuber, Lavern Nortman and Sister Dorothy Theresa Zimmerer.

We want to thank everyone who helped Frank in any way when he had the accident December 3rd. Special thanks to Dr. Larry Tisdale, Bernice Mollenkopf, Della Schmitt, Joan Hartman & Randy Wimmer. Your kindness is appreciated more than we can express. Our family joins us in saying, "Thank you and may God Bless each of you."

Joe turns 4 with a polka dot party on Nov. 20

Guests were seeing spots at Joe Hesse's 4th birthday party Sunday afternoon, Nov. 20. His actual birthday is Nov. 23. The house was decorated with polka dots hanging from the ceiling and taped to furniture. Polka dot attire was required. Joe and little sister Rebekah wore colorfully decorated polka dot sweatshirts made by their Aunt Jenny. Guests were quite creative: there was a polka dot tie, dress, pantsuit, earrings and dots on faces. Grandpa even had spots on top of his head!

Guests were entertained by playing Musical Hats in which various hats were passed around as music played. Whoever was wearing the polka dotted hat when the music stopped got a confetti egg smashed on his head by the birthday boy. Confetti birthday cake, decorated by the honoree, was served. Gifts were then opened.

Joining Joe were his sister Rebekah and parents, Bert and Christy; grandparents, Ethel Hesse, Joe and Ruth Felderhoff; Uncle Mark, Aunt Melanic, Mitchell and Megan Hesse; Uncle Cliff, Aunt Tina, Kate and Angie Cox; Uncle Neil, Aunt Anne, Matt and Kaitlin Hesse; Aunt Rose Felderhoff of Dallas; Aunt Jenny and Emily White of Houston.

LAURIE SULAK and Jimmy Herr, both of College Station, have chosen Jan. 7, 1995 for their wedding day. Their engagement and approaching marriage have been announced by parents of the bride-elect, Charles Sulak and Jeanette Bounds Sulak of Brenham. Parents of the future-groom are Richard and Anna Herr of Muenster. His grandparents are John and Melba Miller of Sherwood Shores, Texas. Laurie is a student at Texas A&M University, majoring in Education. Herr is also a student at TAMU, majoring in Political Science. The wedding will take place in St. Mary's Catholic Church of Brenham, Texas at 3 p.m.

Jenna celebrates one!

Surprises for her family and the honoree occurred when a one year birthday party for Jenna Lutkenhaus was held November 29 in the home of Walter and Kathy Lutkenhaus of Lindsay. Jenna is the daughter of Charles and Lorie Lutkenhaus of Mesa, Arizona, and the granddaughter of Gus and Armella Lutkenhaus. Jenna has one brother, Greg.

Birthday cake and ice cream were served to those attending: Gus and Armella Lutkenhaus, Leo and Peggy Lutkenhaus and family all of Muenster, Dennis and Carolyn Lutkenhaus and family of Lindsay, Chris and Doris Muller and family of Muenster, John and Norma Kubicek and family of Valley View, and Walter and Kathy Lutkenhaus and children of Lindsay.

Pictures were taken and gifts opened including a doll buggy presented by Jenna's aunts and uncles.

Secular Franciscans plan future projects

The Secular Franciscans Fraternity of Lindsay met in the home of Lawrence and Marie Zimmerer on Nov. 15. Ritual observance was followed in the opening song of St. Francis, the Holy Spirit Prayer and the Franciscan prayers.

Jewell Sweeney read from Scriptures. A letter from Anthony D. Vadackel about the fraternity's adopted family in India expressed thanks for assistance in getting his home built. A letter from Father Tom Gardner OFM also sent thanks for aid to his mission work in Brazil.

The National Fraternity of Secular Franciscans of the United States established the Regional Fraternity, officially known as Las Tres three companeros, the Three Companions on Oct. 20, 1994, according to information from George Irving III of San Antonio.

Grace Serio of Dunmore, PA of the Secular Franciscan Order is the leader of the "Jesus Walk", scheduled for Nov. 20, 1994, the feast of Christ, the King. Several people from Lindsay plan to attend the "Jesus Walk" in Muenster. There will be others held throughout the country.

Members discussed various projects for the coming year.

Following closing Franciscan prayers and the Prayer for Healing, many petition prayers were also included.

Hostess Marie Zimmerer served a cheese and cracker plate, and cherry cobbler with ice cream, and coffee after adjournment.

Baptism

Tepera

Madeleine Leigh Tepera, the infant daughter of Andrew and Cheryl Tepera of Tyler received the Sacrament of Baptism at St. Peter's Parish in Lindsay on Sunday, December 4 with Father Eugene Luke, OSB administering. Following the ceremony, a dinner was held at the home of her paternal grandparents Joe and Martha Tepera of Lindsay. Special guests included Father Luke and Madeleine's godparents Tom and Rhonda Riney of Irving, who presented her with a Precious Moments Bible. Also present were two uncles, James and Steven Tepera of Lindsay and her Aunt Mary Tepera also of Lindsay.

Out-of-town guests included Ronald Rodenbaugh and daughter Krista of Allen, Cindy Penn and children Ryan and Amber of Eules, Rosa Sanchez and Helen Foster of McKinney and Julia Evans of Lucas, who presented Madeleine with a baby rosary in a porcelain holder.

Unable to attend but sending a gift of a gold infant cross were Madeleine's maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Larry Estingie of Logan, Utah.

Hess and Knauf in "The Nutcracker"

Jennifer Hess from Cooke County Ballet Academy and Kristen Knauf from Muenster School of Dance will be performing in Festival Ballet of North Central Texas' "The Nutcracker." Both will be dancing as "soldiers." The performances will be Friday, Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 10 at 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 11 at 2:30 p.m. They will be performing at Margo Jones Auditorium on the TWU campus in Denton. New Arrival

Sandmann

Leslie and Marilyn Sandmann of Gainesville are parents of their third daughter, Brienne Nicole Sandmann, born on Monday Nov. 21, 1994 at 3:37 p.m. at Medical Plaza Hospital in Sherman. Brienne Nicole weighed 7 lb. 15 3/4 ounces and measured 19 1/2 inches in length. She joins two sisters Adrienne age 12 and Renee age 9. Their grandparents are Charles and Mary Neu and Julius and Marie Sandmann all of Lindsay. Great-grandmothers are Evie Simmel of Gainesville and Ida Neu of Muenster.

Christmas Shopping Raffle winners announced

A drawing held Sunday, Dec. 4 left several lucky people with a little more cash as a cushion for the Christmas holidays. Monica Haverkamp won the grand prize of $1,000 in Muenster Marks. Other winners of Muenster Marks in Sacred Heart Home School's annual Christmas Shopping Spree raffle were: Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Henscheid, $500; Hicks Swirczynski, $500; Mary Beth Bartush, $100; Pam Fette, $100; Gene Hess, $100; Margaret Fenoglio, $100; and Gary Walterscheid and Gary Bathrop, $100.

Purchasers of tickets were entitled to a meal for two and an afternoon of camaraderie as football fans watched the Dallas Cowboys play the Philadelphia Eagles.

Cheers to an award-winning 40-year old!

Happy Birthday, Kim!

Christmas Lighting Contest adds incentive to outdoor decorating

With the Christmas season underway, more people than ever seem to be adding outdoor decorations to their homes and businesses. Muenster is glowing with Christmas spirit.

To add a little sparkle of fun and incentive to Christmas decorating, the Muenster Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring its annual lighting contest, "Sparkling Enchanted Storybook Land". Winners are selected by the people of the Muenster community who take time to view the local neighborhoods and cast their ballot.

Official ballots are published in the Muenster Enterprise. Copies will not be accepted. Only one ballot per person will be counted. All persons living in the Muenster area are eligible to vote.

Ballots must be turned in to the Muenster Chamber of Commerce office by 5 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 19.

Categories are Best Business, Best Residential, Best Rural, Best Religious, Most Unique, Most Humorous, Best Street Block, and Best Adopted Vacant Lot. Only homes outside the city limits are eligible for Best Rural and only blocks within the city limits are eligible for Best Street Block.

Prize money will be awarded in Muenster Marks. Prizes will be awarded as follows except for Best Street Block: First Place $100.00; Second Place $50.00 and Third Place $25.00. Street Block is $175.00 total to be divided, used for a block party, or to buy more decorations for the street block for next year's decorating contest.

Nominees can win in only one category. If they are one of the top three in more than one category, the top award will be given and another nominee will receive the other awards.

Food Show completes 4-H food project

What is a 4-H Food & Nutrition Project? Yes, it does involve food preparation and learning to cook. But, it also involves much more. Here are just a few of the things a project includes: learning to eat according to the Food Guide Pyramid and why it's important; reading and using the new nutrition label and using it in food planning; menu planning; fitness and healthy lifestyles; food and kitchen safety.

Around 100 4-H'ers completed the project with 52 entering in the Food Show on November 5. The 4-H'ers prepared a food dish at home, planned a menu, and then answered questions which judges asked testing their nutrition knowledge.

Top 4-H'ers in each division will represent Cooke County at the District Food Show on December 10.

Senior Alternates to District were: Breads & Cereals - Rachel Cravens, Silver Cedar; Snacks & Desserts - Emily Felderhoff, Muenster.

Ribbons Received by 4-H'ers participating were: Main Dish (Blue) - Downward-Fairplains club, Kacie Banks; Era club, Tiffany Miller, Becky Muller, and Amanda Myers; Lindsay Junior club, Melissa Fuhrmann; Mountain Springs, Ben Clayton; Muenster club, Laura Drachenberg, Kristie Lutkenhaus, and Dana Miller; Valley View club, Kellie Sharp.

Fruits & Vegetables (Red) - Lindsay Junior club, Ashlie Privett; Muenster club, Kristen Creed.

Breads & Cereals (Red) - Lindsay Junior club, Kimberly Hermes and Emmy Trammell; Muenster club, Jackie Bartush.

Snacks & Desserts (Blue) - Lindsay Senior club, Lisa Mosman; Muenster club, Diana Felderhoff, Pamela Lutkenhaus, and Lynn Sicking; Silver Cedar club, Sarah Long.

Another division was an Open Class where 4-H'ers prepared a food but were not questioned on their nutrition knowledge, so were ineligible for District competition. These included: Blue - Lindsay Junior club, Dominic Fuhrmann and Hannah Trammell; Muenster club, Daniel Bartush; Silver Cedar club, Telisa Riggs.

Red - Downward Fairplains club, Jessie Pembroke; Era club, Karen Hudson, Melinda Myers, and Jenna Sawers; Lindsay Junior, Leslie Schumacher, and Abby Trammell.

White - Downward Fairplains, Michelle Beck; Era club, Michelle Clarke; Lindsay Junior club, Philip Fleitman, & Russell Fleitman; Muenster club, Danny Felderhoff, Bernadette Miller, and Jason Vogel.

The final group participating were the Clover Kids from Lindsay. All received participation ribbons. These included: Mallory Block, Nathan Hermes, Diane Knauf, Elizabeth Neu, Kaylee Privett, Jared Schroeder, and Jenny Schroeder.

During the judging, leaders worked with 4-H'ers in making Tootsie Pop Santas, Oreo Turkeys, and Creative Twist Hearts. Clover Kids made turkeys also. Parents attending participated in a cake decorating workshop led by Paula Glass, Red River leader.

The 4-H Food Show was held in the Whaley United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall and was sponsored by Gainesville National Bank. Prizes were presented to 4-H'ers by Chicago Cutlery, Wal-Mart, and Pioneer Flour Mills.

Muenster 4-H'ers to carol at St. Richards on Dec. 13

Muenster 4-H will meet Tuesday, Dec. 13 at 6:20 p.m. at Sacred Heart High school. At this time 4-H'ers will carpool to St. Richards Villa for Christmas Caroling and visiting. Family members are welcome to join the group. This is a community service project for the 4-H'ers.

Upon returning to school, the regular business meeting will be held.

Muenster, Sacred Heart host Red River Shoot-Out

Muenster High and Sacred Heart High Schools combined this weekend to hold the third annual Red River Shoot-Out Basketball Tournament. Sixteen teams played in the contest that was held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday in both the Tiger and Homet gyms.

In the girls division, Celina took the championship, with Era's Lady Hornets settling for 2nd place. Muenster came in third and Sacred Heart 4th. Consolation was awarded to Chico.

The Collinsville Pirates won the boys championship trophy, with Celina finishing in 2nd. Third place was won by Chico and in 4th were the Era Hornets. Gainesville's junior varsity took the consolation prize.

The following is a report on the tournament.

Collegiate athletic scholarships available

Over 100,000 collegiate athletic scholarships are available each year to male and female high school and junior college student athletes. Contrary to popular belief, students don't have to be all state to qualify. Much of this money goes unused. A new publication with forms, sample letters and tables of factual information is available for student athletes.

Knights end Cinderella season

The Lindsay Knights finished their 1994 extended football season last Friday in Fairfield. Even though the Knights were defeated 19-7 by the Burkeville Mustangs, they ended the game as winners in the eyes of their coaches, parents and fans.

Lindsay started the season slow, but the big Muester upset put them on the road to the playoffs. "We were picked to lose all 3 playoff games," commented Lindsay Coach Charlie Meurer, "but our long hard season ended positively." As Quarterfinalists, the Knights are one of the top 8 Class 1A teams in the state of Texas. They should be 5th, as the other 3 teams eliminated last week were beaten by worse scores than Lindsay.

The Knights took the opening kick that rolled out of bounds on the 30-yard line. Three runs were 5 yards short of a 1st down and Lindsay punted.

Burkeville began their first drive on their 38. Nine short runs carried the Mustangs to their 29 before ending the drive 2 yards short. The Knights took over on their 27.

Chris Brown and Jeff Hale exchanged 6 runs to the Mustangs' 45. An 8-yard loss and incomplete pass ended the drive on 4th and 14 with a punt.

From their 9-yard line, Burkeville slowly moved the ball against the Knights' defense into the 2nd quarter. It took a dozen plays for the Mustangs to get to the 17-yard line. A quarterback keeper gained only 1 yard as Garrett Hellinger, Greg Arendt and Brian Hermes stopped the run. The next play, T.J. Goldsmith, Shawn Cartwright and Greg Dulock stopped Burkeville for no gain. A 5-yard penalty and an incomplete pass left the Mustangs with a 4th and 14. Again, Burkeville took to the air. A completed pass was stopped 5 yards short by George Lutkenhaus and Lindsay took over on their 12.

Brown, Hale and Hellinger drove out to the 37 before punting on 4th and 5. Chris Brown's 34-yard punt was fumbled by the Mustangs. Brian Hermes picked up the ball and ran it to the 1-yard line. The next play, a quarterback keeper by Garrett Hellinger, put the Knights on the board. Aaron Krebs added the extra point for a 7-0 score with 3:19 remaining in the first half.

Burkeville fought back, taking only 8 plays to go 71 yards for a touchdown. The score was a 15-yard pass from Jeremy Brooks to Anthony Gaston. Prentice Arnold added the PAT to tie the game 7-7 with 52 seconds remaining on the halftime clock. The Knights ran out the last seconds going into the locker room with a pleasing score.

Burkeville's offense began the 2nd half. Slowly driving downfield, the Mustangs moved into Knights' territory. A good hit by T.J. Goldsmith knocked the ball loose and Pat Hogan covered for Lindsay on the 33-yard line.

The Knights were unable to move the ball and punted to the Burkeville 33. The Mustangs got in 3 short runs for 11 yards, then Jeff Spikes broke free for a 56-yard touchdown. Jeff Hale stopped the attempted extra point run that gave Burkeville a 13-7 lead with 6:17 on the clock.

The Mustangs' defense pushed the Knights back on 2 runs so, on 3rd and 22, Chris Brown quick-kicked a 65-yard punt, putting their opponents on their 13-yard line.

Once more, the Mustangs were pounced by the Knights' defense, who allowed only short runs. Thirteen plays, plagued by flags, left Burkeville in a 4th and 18 on the Knights' 42-yard line. The 41-yard punt ended the 3rd quarter.

Lindsay's next drive began on their 17-yard line. Unable to move the ball, the Knights booted the ball out to midfield.

The Mustangs took 9 runs to the 27-yard line, then went to the air on 4th and 8 for a touchdown. Brooks connected with Cedrick Priestly for the score. The PAT run failed, giving Burkeville a 19-7 lead with 5:49 remaining in the game.

The Knights started their next drive on their 34. Runs by Hale and Brown and a Hale-to-Lutkenhaus pass carried Lindsay into the Mustangs' end of the field. But, on 4th and 7, a fake punt came up short and Burkeville took over. The Mustangs ran out the clock, handing Lindsay a 19-7 regional loss.

"This was a great football game, couldn't have asked for a better effort. Thanks to those who never gave up," commented Meurer after the game. "You seniors, I'm very proud of you," Meurer continued, addressing the team. "We learned a lot from the senior players. You will always be Lindsay Knights!"

Goldsmith 9 each, Jeff Hale and George Lutkenhaus 8 each.

Coach Meurer was very proud of the Knights' defense, holding the Mustangs to only 3 touchdowns. "It was a very hard-hitting game. I didn't realize the boys played so well until we watched the film. They overachieved."

Efficient, propane flame weeding making comeback

Many people have an old flame from years ago still burning in their hearts. Now some Texas agricultural producers are rekindling one old flame in particular: propane flame cultivation to clear fields of cotton, vineyards and row crops.

"We see this new interest in a proven technology as a key growth market for propane sales," said James E. (Jim) Nugent, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission. The Railroad Commission regulates the Texas oil and gas industry.

Before chemical weed-killers were in widespread use, many farmers relied on propane-powered flame machines to control weeds in row crops. Harry Garretson, a propane dealer in Hale Center, said that in 1964, 21 farmers around that town used high-clearance tractors equipped with flame cultivators. "They kept us running from sunup to sundown supplying propane and service," he said.

But competition from inexpensive chemical weeding agents that became widely available in the 1960s caused the demise of the technique. Mr. Garretson said he knew it was the beginning of the end for propane flame weeding when he saw a farmer spraying a new product called Treflan on his crops. Propane was then selling for 10-15 cents a gallon. "It was just too expensive to compete with the new, cheaper chemicals," Mr. Garretson said.

Now that many farmers face strict environmental protection guidelines and rising production costs, propane flame cultivation is again a practical option. "We saw a need for more uses for this environmentally friendly farming procedure," said Railroad Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers.

For example, Jim Crawford of Muleshoe farms 1,200 acres of organic cotton. Last year, his weed-control cost for "hoe hand" labor got up to nearly $80 an acre. This year, he tried an eight-row flame unit, which cost him $3.50 per acre, per application. Learning to use the unit effectively took some trial and error, but it paid off - some of his cotton this year should produce more than two bales per acre.

How do farmers like Mr. Crawford avoid harming their crops? A row of special burners mounted across a tractor tool bar directs a blast of heat at the base of the plants. The high temperatures cause delicate plant cells to rupture, destroying weeds without injury to cultivated crops. That's because row crops can take more heat (when properly applied) than most grasses, weeds and vines. The heat penetrates more completely through tender vegetation than through woody stems and tightly rolled stalks.

Extensive testing done in the 1960s with various kinds of equipment and crops still yields valuable information. Besides cotton, crops on which flame weeding has been used successfully include corn, grain sorghum, soybeans and potatoes. The best time to flame cultivate is while weeds are small, and damp conditions after rain or irrigation are ideal for the treatment. But, naturally, many farmers want to know more about flame weeding before committing to it.

The commission's Alternative Fuels Research and Education Division is cooperating with Texas A&M University to study flame cultivation and herbicides to determine the best combination for effective, safe weed control. Areas of focus this year were sugar cane and aloe vera crops in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, as well as cotton and grapes on the South Plains.

Several West Texas farmers trying the old methods have agreed to track their results for the Texas A&M Experiment Station in Lubbock. The data, combined with controlled experiments at the station, should prove interesting to farmers considering alternative kinds of weed control.

"An increase in propane use through propane flame weeding would benefit the Texas economy," said Railroad Commissioner Barry Williamson. "Texas produces 35 percent of the nation's propane supply. Thus, as new propane gas technologies develop, so does that economic sector."

Flame weeding is environmentally benign, as well. Propane burns clean and will not contaminate soil or water. As one farmer put it, the only residue propane flame weeding leaves behind is dead weeds.

The ultimate test of flame weeding will be its acceptance by farmers as an effective, economical technique. Some farmers have already made up their minds. "I wouldn't take a million bucks for my machine now," Mr. Crawford said. He plans to build a second flame weeder for next season.

Levelland farmer Preston Turner also reported good results with his unit this year. He said he will be sticking with it next year to improve his knowledge of the process.

For more information about propane or flame cultivation research, contact the Alternative Fuels Research and Education Division (800/64-CLEAR).

Premise identification for livestock coming?

A new concept of "premise identification" was described to the livestock identification committee of the United States Animal Health Association's during its recent annual meeting.

The system would involve assigning each livestock production farm a number that would be used on any identification devices on livestock from that premise.

Dr. James Davis of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, Veterinary Services, said one impetus for implementing this system comes from a bill in Congress that would require the identification of all livestock at slaughter and records to identify the animal back to the farm of origin.

Davis said the system could utilize any identification method, including electronic implants or ear tags.

The committee was told that the swine industry is assembling a working group to define requirements of such a system and make final recommendations by Oct. 1, 1996.

TFB's 61st recognizes membership

Awards for county Farm Bureau public relations and membership were presented at the Texas Farm Bureau's 61st convention last week.

Recognition was also given to counties showing the largest gain in membership, the highest renewal percentage, the largest number of new members and the longest continuous gain. Winners in the largest gain category included Cooke County.

Recognized for the longest continuous gain were DeWitt, 45 years; Karnes, 40 years; Franklin, 14 years; San Augustine, 14 years; Cooke, 13 years; Morris, 13 years; Erath, 8 years; Live Oak, 8 years; Delta, 6 years and Falls, 6 years.

Texas Farm Bureau finished fiscal year 1994 (Oct. 31) with 296,852 members. TFB is the largest general farm organization in Texas.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

LATE SEASON SOYBEAN DEMONSTRATION

For the past four years we have had the Group VI and VII Soybean Variety Demonstration on the Arnold Fuhrmann Farm north of Lindsay. During this period the various varieties have averaged 31.7 bushels per acre with a yearly low of 26.9 bushels and a yearly high of 35.6 bushels average. The double crop or late season beans have produced well for many producers in the county. These are determinate growth pattern beans and have the ability in most instances to remain fairly dormant until good growing conditions occur to where they bloom and set pods. These soybeans should be planted during the first two weeks of June. Many producers try to double crop following small grain. One problem that you run into when doing this is soil compaction from grazing or equipment tracks. For this reason, it is recommended that some form of tillage be done so that the soybeans can be planted.

This year's variety plot was established on June 8 using a dry inoculant with no added fertilizer. Tillage included one heavy disking, one harrowing, and one field cultivation. A herbicide rate of 2 pints of Prowl was also used. The previous crop was barley which was combined high moisture and the straw was baled.

The following is the results of the demonstration. Our thanks to Arnold fuhrmann for his continued work and involvement in these result demonstrations.

Implants of cow cells found to relieve pain

People suffering chronic pain reported substantial relief after receiving an implant of cow cells that pumped out a natural painkiller, a preliminary study at the Lausanne University Medical School in Switzerland has found, according to The Associated Press.

The study involved nine patients, eight of whom had cancer. Seven patients gained relief.

The painkilling implants contained cells from the adrenal gland. Scientists wanted to show that animal cells can work in people without the use of drugs to prevent rejection of the cells.

My earliest remembrances of cattle bring back mind pictures of tormented animals bunching together, to take advantage of each other's swinging tails, as they tried to get some relief from the ever present swarms of flies that pestered them from spring into fall.

If there was any brush growing in the pastures, much of it would be worn in the shape of the animals' sides, from the effects of the cattle running thru and against it in an effort to dislodge the flies, if only momentarily.

There was little that could be done to keep the flies off. Sprays were mostly ineffective or would last only a short time.

One of the worst flies was the screw-fly that would lay eggs in

Cattle-on-feed report shows light placement

The US Department of Agriculture's Nov. 18 seven-state cattle-on-feed report indicated feedlot managers placed the fewest number of cattle for the month of October in six years, reflecting months of losses suffered at feedlots this year.

USDA reported 8.51 million head on feed Nov. 1, down 6 percent from last year and 1 percent below Nov. 1992.

October placements were pegged at 2.46 million head, 1 percent below last year and 8 percent below 1992. Marketings were at 1.62 million head, up 4 percent from last year and 9 percent from 1992.

In Texas, 2.44 million head were on feed Nov. 1, down 11 percent from 1993 but up 8 percent from Oct. 1. Inventory in the 1,000-plus capacity feedlots totaled 2.43 million.

Producers placed 735,000 head during October, 1 percent less than a year ago but up 34 percent from September. Marketings were at 545,000 during October, up 14 percent from 1993 and 5 percent more than Sept. 1994.

any bloody wound on any animal, at every opportunity. The eggs would hatch and the wound would then be infected with screw worms that if left unattended, could eventually kill the animal. For this reason, cattlemen would look their animals over closely at least once, or preferably, twice a week.

Any calf born in the fly season, was fair game for the screw-fly until its navel was well dried. For this reason it was necessary to check these new calves early on. We regularly caught them and painted their navels with pine tar that would usually repel the flies until the navel dried.

I found that it was easy to ride a horse close beside a calf, drop down over it, and soon have it under control, so the navel could be painted or treated for worms if they were already present.

Once, while bending over a calf and intent on the job at hand, I failed to notice the mother cow that had responded to the calf's loud call. Before I could react to the danger, it was over, and I was about 20 ft down the hill spitting out gravel and grass and hoping that was all.

Fortunately for me, the cow bumped me solidly on what I usually sit on and the only injury was to my pride.

Fortunately for the cattlemen, and their animals, thru the magic of modern technology, the screw-fly has been eradicated, and new products are available to keep animals almost fly free.

It is a pleasant sight to see a herd of cattle resting, chewing their cud, with hardly a fly swatter swinging.
