

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME VI

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1942

NUMBER 35

What an eventful week-end this has been! In sharp contrast with the inactivity of more than a month, things have been happening fast the past few days. And more is to follow.

Word of definite plans for yours truly was given out last Friday. "Be ready for a transfer Monday." Destination and assignment still unknown as this is being written. And incidentally, this column once again originates in the old favorite nook of the Enterprise.

The transfer instruction presented the very opportunity that had been awaited for some time. Previous attempts to get week-end liberty were futile because soldiers subject to shipping orders have to stick close to the company area, ready to move on short notice. In this case the few days of advance notice was a lucky break. It definitely allowed enough time for a trip home. And the company commander, very obligingly granted the pass.

I have a feeling that this is more than just a visit. Very likely it's the last visit for a long time—perhaps for the duration. Considering the many camps scattered all over this country, a person can figure by the law of averages that he has little chance of being located within a thousand miles from home, hence, little chance of taking week-end trips. The distance from Ft. Leonard Wood would be too far if train connections were not ideal.

A better schedule would not be possible. It's an all night ride both coming and going between Lebanon and Denison, and practically no loss of time. A person has just enough time to meet the train after he gets off duty and returns less than an hour before departure.

As far as this column is concerned, an eventful week-end presents a difficulty—too little time to write. That's why this thing is coming to an abrupt close. I'm sorry to break off early, but I suspect this is just a sample of what will happen quite frequently not so many months hence.

Aboard a troop train headed for Indio, Cal. Talk about calling your shots, how was the prediction? Considerably more than a thousand miles from the favorite corner of Texas.

But that's only half the story. If reports circulating around Leonard Wood are reliable, we engineers will be wishing we were back in the Ozarks. And to think how we used to hope for a transfer. This seems to be average army luck. The more men gripe about their camp, the more likely they are to be even less satisfied with the next place.

Of course, this is only something I heard, but—Indio is supposed to be the hottest and driest spot in the U. S. A. Besides it's a new camp, hence slightly shy of comforts. And it's in the desert, hence no less isolated than Ft. Leonard Wood. And it's supposed to be a training ground for desert warfare. Yes, the place has been given a dandy build-up. After all of which anything favorable that we find will be a pleasant surprise.

My destination according to the set of official papers for our group is an engineering battalion connected with an air base. No idea what, ever of the nature of my work, but assume it has something to do with building and repairing bases.

We're having plenty of train riding. Boarded the train at 9:30 P. M. Monday and are due to leave at 3:06 A. M. Thursday. These lines are being scrawled early Tuesday not so far outside of Kansas City—with a hope that it will reach the Enterprise before press time.

John Atchison Asks Re-election As County Attorney

John Atchison, candidate for re-election as County Attorney of Cooke County, has authorized the Muenster Enterprise to make the following statement in connection with his announcement.

"To the voters of Cooke County: I am seeking re-election to the office of County Attorney on the basis of my record during my tenure of this office. I have earnestly endeavored to perform the duties of the office impartially and with equal regard for the rights of everyone.

"The work in the office has greatly increased as a result of the increased activity from the construction of the Army Camp in this County, and as I have no Assistant to help do the work, it has been impossible for me to get out and see all of the voters personally, much as I would like to. Therefore, I hope that you will accept this as a personal solicitation of your vote, and I assure you that I will sincerely appreciate your fair consideration.

"If you believe that I have served you faithfully, and you see fit to re-elect me, I will continue to render you the same impartial service.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN ATCHISON

INVESTIGATION OF FREE WAR INDUSTRY SCHOOL IS URGED

Pointing out that more than 89 per cent of all jobs in Texas are filled by workers who have had specialized training, Mr. W. O. Edgington, manager of the Gainesville office of the United States Employment Service, today urged the people in this area who wish war jobs to apply for the necessary schooling in the free War Industry training schools.

"Most of these war industry jobs," said Mr. Edgington, "are entirely new to Texas. Special pre-employment training is necessary before the employers will hire people to fill them. This training is provided to both men and women free of charge by the War Industry schools. There are openings now in these schools, and local people should investigate them through the Employment Service which selects and refers all trainees."

The schools operated jointly by the state and federal governments in cooperation with public school systems, provide courses to prepare workers for aircraft, shipbuilding, munitions and other jobs in which there is or will be a heavy demand. It is virtually impossible to get one of these jobs without training, which has already landed thousands of workers in good paying war jobs.

Machine Shop, Aircraft Sheet Metal (including riveting), Drafting, and Inspection are the courses offered. The training is open to men between the ages of 18 and 45 years, and to women between the ages of 18 and 45. The demand for women workers, who can fill most of these jobs, is increasing.

Mr. Edgington stressed the fact that the training is entirely free, the only cost to a trainee being that he must support himself during the six to 12-week training period. Even this is not true in some cases, since boys and girls from 17 to 24 years old may be assigned to National Youth Administration war work centers where they will be boarded and paid a small wage while training.

The War Industry Schools are operated on a 24-hour basis so that all equipment can be constantly used and to provide training at all hours of the day and night for trainees who must work while receiving training.

Mr. Edgington urged that any one in or near Gainesville who is interested in entering a training class in the subjects listed, contact him at the United States Employment Service located at 114 Main.

R. L. McNELLEY IS NAMED CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

R. L. McNealley was elected chief of the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department when the annual election of officers took place Monday evening. Other officers as the result of the election are Frank Hodebeck, assistant chief; Leo Sisking, captain; Roy Endres, Jr., secretary. The first drill and practice under the new officers will take place next Monday evening at 7 o'clock and the fire whistle will be blown shrilly at 6 as a reminder to members to attend.

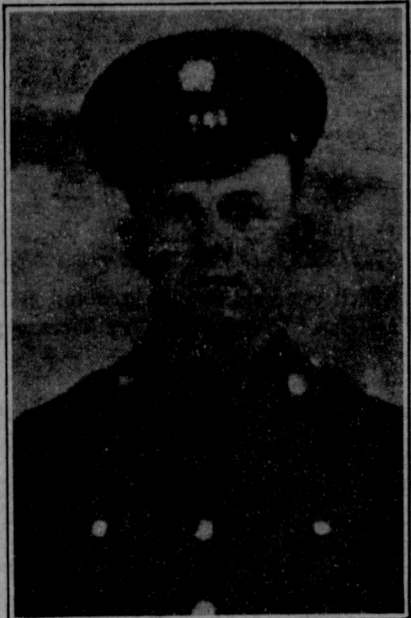

A committee was named to take charge in an effort to get every member of the department to be present. A series of instructions and drills will be held regularly in the future.

FELDERHOFF BROTHERS IN U. S. ARMY

PVT. LAWRENCE

Pvt. Lawrence Felderhoff, 22, was called for foreign service early in June and is stationed with the 27th Infantry in Hawaii. He was inducted in the army on February 3 and spent his first four months at Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Felderhoff.

TECH. SGT. FRANK

Tech. Sgt. Frank Felderhoff, 25, was inducted in the army on February 3, and received his basic engineers' training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., then spent several weeks at Camp Bowie before being transferred to Camp Edwards, Mass., where he is now stationed with the Engineers Boat Regiment.

MRS. J. B. WILDE IS ELECTED TREASURER OF STATE LEAGUE

Mrs. J. B. Wilde was elected treasurer of the Catholic State League of Texas during the annual convention at Fredericksburg last week. This is the first time in the 44 year history of the organization that a woman has been elected to hold this office. In addition, Mrs. Wilde was also re-elected treasurer of the Women's Union for the fourth consecutive year.

Other officers of the League for the coming year are Joe Molberg of Fredericksburg, president by re-election; Mrs. Ben Schwegman, San Antonio, president of the Women's Union; re-election; Ben Schwegman, president of the Insurance group; re-election, and Miss Laura Mae Mueller, San Antonio, president of the Catholic Youth Organization.

Mrs. Schwegman was named as a delegate to the national convention in St. Louis next month. Muenster persons at the Fredericksburg conclave were Rev. Richard Eved, Mrs. Wilde, Mrs. John Fisher, Miss Anna Marie Klement, Frank Klement and Victor Hartman.

X-Ray Work Is Long Jump From Hauling Milk, Says Sgt. Jones

Ben R. Jones, well known here for his daily visits during the several years he was milk hauler between Forestburg and Muenster, has had an interesting career in the army since his induction on March 10, 1941. Ben's many friends in Muenster and Cooke County may remember that he was Forestburg's first draftee. Since June 1st Ben is a sergeant and is stationed with the 38th General Hospital at Camp Bowie, Brownwood.

After his preliminary training at Fort Sill, Okla., and Camp Grant, Ill., he was transferred to Camp Bowie where he was selected out of hundreds of boys as eligible for the position of X-Ray technician. He was then sent to the Medical Department of Fitzsimons General Hospital at Denver, Colorado, where he graduated on December 27, 1941, with the highest grades in the class. He returned to Camp Bowie to take over the responsibility of X-Ray work in 213 General Hospital in January. Ben operates all the X-Ray machines, which he laughingly declares is a long jump from hauling milk cans and trucking.

Sgt. Jones was at home Sunday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Jones, and his five brothers, Cecil, I. M., Casey, Howard and LaRue, at Forestburg. He speaks highly of his superior officers, is really pleased with his division and is grateful to be so near home. He asked that greetings be extended to all his Muenster friends and says he looks forward to returning to their midst.

CLASSIFICATIONS LISTED

Recent classifications made by the Cooke County draft board include the following Muenster men: Class 1-A—Paul Tempel, Anthony Klement, Selby Fielder. Class 2-A—Norbert Koesler. Class 1-B—Edward Hacker, Norbert Tempel, Edward Knauf. Class 4-F—Andrew Walterscheid.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wimmer and Mrs. Louisa Hofbauer were in West, Texas, last Thursday to attend the funeral of Mr. Wimmer's brother-in-law, Frank Bezdek. Enroute home they visited old friends at Tours.

Carroll Sullivant Seeks Re-election As County Judge

Carroll F. Sullivant seeks Re-Election for the Second Term as County Judge Upon His Merits and Achievements as Your County Judge:

I have never indulged in personalities in any political campaign and I do not propose to do so at the eleventh hour. I have conducted myself, as well as the business which you have entrusted to my care, in such a manner commensurate with the dignity of the office. My life, as well as my official record is an open book and I most earnestly urge that such be carefully considered in this campaign.

Most of the people of Cooke County are familiar with the private life of Carroll F. Sullivant, as well as his official record, but for those who are not, the following facts are respectfully submitted for the consideration of the citizens of Cooke County.

He was reared on a farm in Cooke County, about two miles north of Woodbine, attended grammar school at Nelson Grove, Spring Grove, and Woodbine. After completing grammar school he worked as a section hand on the MKT Railroad at Woodbine. After working for the Railroad for a few months as a common laborer he attended the Gainesville High School for a short period of time, after which he entered Denton Teachers' College. He worked his way through Denton Teachers' College by waiting on tables and washing dishes at the Franklin Proffer Boarding House in Denton, Texas. He taught seven years, two years of which he taught at Hood in the west part of Cooke County. Mr. Sullivant worked his way through Cumberland University Law School, was admitted to the bar and started the practice of law in Gainesville, Texas, in 1930. While studying law in Cumberland University he gained a livelihood by working in a tailor shop.

The entire citizenship of Muenster is proud of the representation given them by Judge Sullivant during the time he was in the Texas Legislature. When he was called upon he always responded. He was the Legislator who saved the Scholastic Funds for Parochial students in Cooke County. One of the first appointments that he made in the Texas Legislature was for a Muenster boy. As county Judge of Cooke County he has demonstrated his interest in the problems that confronted our community, as well as the other communities in Cooke County. He has won his spurs and we are willing and anxious that he wear them for two more years. Since representing Cooke County in the Texas Legislature Mr. Sullivant has been attorney for the Railroad Commission of Texas and played an important role in the enforcement of proration in Texas for the Railroad Commission. After leaving the Railroad Commission he resumed his practice in Gainesville and was elected County Judge of Cooke County in 1940. As County Judge of Cooke County Mr. Sullivant entered office at a time when

To be classified as a married man a registrant must have been married before Dec. 8, 1941, and must be living with his wife. To guide local boards on whether or not a man is engaged in the war effort, draft headquarters issued a list of 34 essential activities. In granting deferment for occupational reasons the board must first decide whether a man is engaged in one of these activities and then determine that his particular job makes him a "necessary man." Also, the firm in which he is employed must be fulfilling a war contract, performing a government service or a service necessary to civilian life in support of the war effort, or he must be supplying material for such firms. Essential activities were:

Production of aircraft and parts; ships, boats, and parts; ordnance and accessories; ammunition; agriculture; food processing; forestry; logging and lumbering; construction; coal mining; metal mining; non-metallic mining and processing; and quarrying; smelting, refining and rolling metals; production of metal shapes and forgings; finishing of metal products; production of industrial and agricultural equipment; machinery; chemicals and allied products; rubber products; leather products; textiles; apparel; stone, clay and glass products; petroleum, natural gas and petroleum and coal products; transportation equipment; transportation services; materials for packing and shipping products; communications equipment; communications services; heating, power and illuminating services; repair and handcraft services (blacksmithing, armature rewinding, electrical and bicycle repair, automobile repair, harness and leather repair, clock repair, tool repair and sharpening); health and welfare services; educational services; governmental services.

CAR AND BINDER TANGLE SOUTH OF MUENSTER

Albert Kubis of Lindsay sustained four bruised and broken fingers and his car received a dent across the top when he tangled with the back end of a binder being moved by Hubert Felderhoff Thursday night. Mr. and Mrs. Kubis were driving south to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Voth, and the binder was being brought to town on a truck. The two vehicles were attempting to pass when the accident occurred and were both going slowly. No other injuries were reported.

He was baptized by Father Brady at Saint Mary's church the day after his birth with Mr. and Mrs. Alphons Walterscheid as sponsors. Mother and baby are both "doing fine."

38,000 Pounds Scrap Rubber Collected

Car Is Loaded and Shipped Out Friday

A final tally, check-up and official weighing of rubber collected in Muenster during the scrap rubber campaign revealed that this community's donation totaled 38,000 pounds. Previous estimates had placed the weight at 35,000 pounds.

The car was loaded Tuesday by members of the Magnolia Service Station under the supervision of John Wieler, who was local supervisor of the drive and in charge of the collected scrap. The car was billed out Tuesday evening via MKT and was bound for Rochester, N. Y., to Nat E. Berken, Inc. Mayor Ben Seyler and John Wieler this week expressed their gratification at the large amount collected and extend their thanks to Muenster citizens for their fine spirit of cooperation and response in this campaign designed to offset Japan's blows at the United Nation's rubber supply.

Club Members of County Meet With Navy Recruiter

Will Help Sponsor Campaign to Obtain More Naval Recruits

Russell W. Bryant, naval recruiting officer of Sherman was in Gainesville Tuesday evening to explain the recruiting situation and to enlist the aid of American Legion members and civic leaders in increasing the number of naval recruits. The meeting was held in the Legion room at the city hall at 8 o'clock.

Members from seventeen organizations of the county were present, including the following Muenster persons: Paul Nieball, legion members, and Mrs. Joe Luke, Mrs. J. B. Wilde, Mrs. Jim Cook and Miss Olivia Stock members of the Civic League and Garden Club. The president and three active members of each club in the county received invitations to attend the meeting and were urged to cooperate in the drive for enlistments, which Mr. Bryant explained.

The speaker discussed the naval situation, and pointed out that the navy does not receive men by conscription through draft boards but only through voluntary enlistment. There is a great need for navy men at this time, he stated. The drive is to be opened on August 1st. Club members are to do a valuable service in this line by consulting young men or older men, between the ages of 17 and 50, pointing out the advantages of being in the navy, and were urged by the speaker to endeavor to "enlist a man a month" each. The advantages of being in the navy were pointed out and literature on the subject was distributed.

Authorization to enlist men into the United States Navy up to the time they are actually inducted into the Army under the selective service system was received this week by the Sherman recruiting station. This important change in Naval recruiting policy will prove of great benefit to many men who for one reason or another delay entering the armed services of the United States until caught by the draft, recruiters point out. Heretofore the Navy has refused to accept applications for enlistment from men who have received notices of induction.

"Many men have been led to believe that once they have been classified in 1-A they no longer have a choice as to the branch of service they prefer," the recruiters at the Sherman station said. "This is still the United States of America and though all men between the ages of 18 and 65 have been registered for selective service these men are still free men and have the privilege of exercising their choice up to the time they receive the oath of induction into one or the other branches of service."

The Sherman recruiting station is located in the basement of the post office building at Sherman and is open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., daily except Sunday. For the convenience of those living in other parts of the district a traveling recruiter is at the post office at the Gainesville "Victory House" on Wednesdays. At the Denison post office on Thursdays, and at the Denton post office on Saturdays.

NOTICE
Muenster voters are reminded that the polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m., Central War Time, on election day, next Saturday. Joe A. Luke and Paul Fisher, presiding officers at the North and South Muenster boxes, urge observance of the time. The polls will be closed at 7 o'clock sharp.

State Fire Commissioner Warns Against Storage Of Gasoline at Home

With indications pointing to a possible nationwide system of gasoline rationing, Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, warns against storage of gasoline at home. "The storage of any quantity of gasoline at home," he said, "pro-notes extreme fire hazards. Gasoline when stored and handled through the regular facilities of the oil industry and kept in standard tanks, is relatively safe as a result of safeguards incorporated in the design of equipment and the training of personnel over a long period of years. However, gasoline is a dangerous explosive if kept in all sorts of cans and make-shift containers, stored in basements and garages, and poured from open containers."

Hall explained that gasoline vapor produced when the fluid is exposed to air, is highly explosive and can be set off by electric sparks or careless smoker. The vapor, heavier than air, may flow along the ground under buildings or into basements, to be ignited and flash back from a considerable distance.

Fire insurance can be voided under the Texas standard fire policies," Hall asserted, "if gasoline is stored on the premises without a permit from the insurance company. Thus, if stored gasoline contributes to a fire destroying the property insured, policies could not be collected if the insurance company had not granted permission for storage of the gasoline."

Winning the War Comes First!
 ... That's Why No Electric Service Extensions Can Be Made Without Special WPB Approval!

UNCLE SAM needs copper, steel and many other critical materials for the war program. This means sacrifices for many of us... sacrifices that all are glad to make. Under Preference Rating Order P-46 of the War Production Board as amended on June 24, 1942, electric service lines simply cannot be extended to existing buildings not wired prior to July 1, 1942, or new structures, the foundations of which were not completed prior to that date, without special permission of the War Production Board.

We are cooperating fully with the war program. Our first duty is to Uncle Sam. Our next is to you. Part of that duty is to inform you of these restrictions.

To safeguard you from possible disappointment and wasted expenditures, we suggest that you consult us before you build, or plan any changes in your electrical requirements. We are confident you will cooperate with us, as we are all working together to win the war!

CANDIDATE FOR County Superintendent Of Schools

An honest and faithful service to all the rural children shall be my REWARD to you for your vote and support on July 25th, 1942.

E. S. In a special called session of the 35th Legislature the office was put on a FOUR year basis—TWO terms in one. This was done to give the Supt., a chance to put over his program unhampered by a two-year campaign. The Supt. is paid a salary of $2800 per year and in addition he draws $50 per month traveling expense. Hence, he should devote FOUR days each week, while schools are in session, to PROFESSIONAL school visitations according to LAW.

DO YOUR PATRIOTIC DUTY AT THE BALLOT BOX

Amidst the turmoil and strife of a war-torn world, Old Man Texas takes a day off Saturday to settle his political controversies and blast the hopes of would be statesmen and choose the ones who are to control the destinies of state, county and precinct for the next two years.

It is a great privilege to live in a democracy where the only recognized dictators are the sovereign voters, who alone, have the power to say by whom they are ruled, with the power to remove from high position the unfaithful public servant who fails to measure up to our democratic standard of government.

On Saturday, July 25th, it behooves every patriotic citizen to go to the polls and cast a ballot for the best interests of the community, county, state and nation. Our government is just what the individual voter makes it. It stands us in hand on this occasion to lay aside petty prejudices and personalities and vote for those whom we believe most capable of administering the affairs of state during the strenuous days confronting the state and nation. We should choose public officials as we choose employees in business and private life with qualifications, honesty and integrity as a first consideration.

Saturday is a day that will determine the welfare of the community, county and state for the next two years so far as our officials are concerned and everyone should go to the polls and express themselves through the right of suffrage.

Economic Highlights

After the last war, the American people were definitely sick and tired of militarism and all that it involved. Working on the theory that "the war to end wars" had been finally fought and won, the American people and their government proceeded to scrap their military power with astonishing speed. A large part of the Navy was scuttled. The Army was reduced to 130,000 men—a smaller force than was maintained by many a fourth-class European power. The Air Force was reduced almost to the vanishing point. Appropriations for all the military services were cut to the absolute bone, despite the warnings and pleadings of such foresighted commanders as General MacArthur, who was convinced that another and greater war was coming and said so to a disbelieving nation. We withdrew ourselves from our foreign commitments as swiftly as possible, and pursued a policy of 100 per cent isolation.

The American people seem to think in very different terms today. They, and their leaders in both parties, are coming to realize the immense obligations which our world leadership will impose on us after, as well as during the war. As the United States News puts it, after the war, "The world will be in no shape to run itself. . . . There will be the task of policing and putting on their feet the 300,000,000 people of Europe. There will be the task of dealing with the 80,000,000 people in Japan. . . . A year or two may elapse between the last battle and the actual peace treaty. During this period . . . large occupational forces will be needed. . . . The size of the task involved indicates a force of 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 men outside the United States."

No one regards this prospect with any particular pleasure. Instead, it is regarded as a matter of sheer necessity, whether we like it or not. And there is an amazing unanimity of opinion as to what must be done. For instance, Both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie, who hold extremely opposed points of view on many vital domestic issues, see almost eye to eye when it comes to America's role as stabilizer and policeman in the post-war world. Former President Hoover is co-author of a thoughtful new book in which he too argues that the human destiny lies in a kind of internationalism which is the direct antithesis of our national attitude during the '20s. And American industrial leaders, in all fields of enterprise, hold similar opinions. There is, of course, much argument as to the details of our post-war policy—but there is little argument as to the basic principles which must underlie that policy. It will cost a great deal of money to police and rehabilitate the world. It will require the maintenance of a gigantic Air Force, and of a very large Navy and Army. It may involve outright gifts to stricken nations. It will mean that, in the interest of world peace, we will have to forego some of our past trade advantages, and dispense with high tariffs and other barriers to commerce. But, it is argued, the cost of doing this, gigantic as it may be, is far less than the cost of fighting a terrible war every generation or two. It is also argued that, due to the incredible production machine we will have at the war's end, our national income will be so high that we will be able to afford expenditures which would have been impossible in the past. This, of course, is a form of imperialism. But its principal spokesmen, such as Wallace, Welles, Roosevelt, Hoover, and Willkie, say that it will have little in common with the imperialism of the past. They say it will not be based, as was the old imperialism, on subject peoples. Instead, it is to be based on more or less equal peoples, with each given full opportunity to share in the wealth and progress of the world.

There are skeptics who doubt that this can be done. Even its zealous advocates admit that it is a colossal undertaking. It will be a journey of economic and social exploration for which there are neither charts nor precedents. But millions of men and women believe that unless it succeeds, "the last, best hope of earth" will be lost, and new dark age will come upon the world.

The terrific reverses in Libya are a tribute to German military leadership—and a harsh criticism on British military leadership. That seems to be the collective opinion of most authorities. The British were superior in the air and on the ground. That superiority gave them a fatal confidence. And Marshal Rommel and his Afrika Korps took a long and daring chance and succeeded.

The battle of Egypt is of the utmost importance. If Hitler can seize the Middle East, to which Egypt is the gateway, he will have resources and geographical positions whose value cannot be exaggerated. He will be well on his way to making contact with Japan. He will, with his satellite Italy, dominate the vital Mediterranean. Every resource the United Nations can muster will be used for the defense of the Middle East.

To The People Of COOKE COUNTY

In announcing for my re-election for TAX ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR of Cooke County, I wish to first express my thanks and appreciation to the people for not having an opponent.

The only promise I made before was, that if elected, I would give the county a good business administration.

The records show that I have done this — With the largest tax roll the county has ever had — With the greatest percentage of collections, county revenue, on current and delinquent taxes — This accomplished with less expenses and disbursements. I have tried to give competent and qualified service with a loyalty, both, to the taxpayer and the county.

I am again soliciting your support, purely, upon my qualifications and I shall do my utmost at all times to justify your confidence and loyalty.

T. P. & L. EMPLOYEES MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN WAR BOND DRIVE

Employees of Texas Power & Light Company sold and purchased for themselves War Bonds and Stamps totaling $510,478.55 during the first six months of this year, according to an announcement by John W. Carpenter, president of the company.

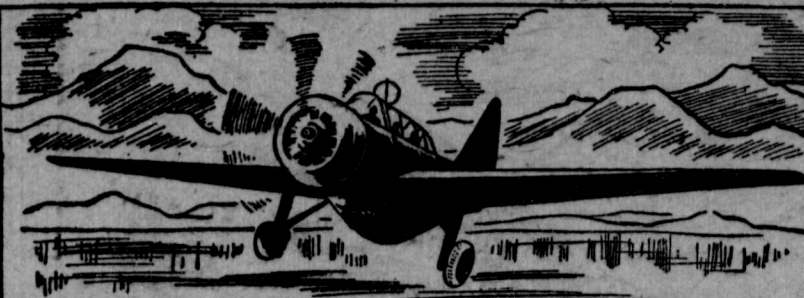

This employee sales plan was inaugurated early this year by Mr. Carpenter, whereby all employees who can be spared from their duties spend two hours of company time each Monday morning selling War Bonds and Stamps to their friends and to citizens of their respective towns. This plan will continue in operation for the duration of the war, or as long as Congress and the President see the need for the sale of War Bonds and Stamps.

War Stamps are also on sale at the Cashier's desk in the offices of each of the 28 Districts which comprise the company's territory.

In addition to selling War Bonds and Stamps, employees of the Texas Power & Light Company through salary deductions are at the present time buying at the rate of approximately $100,000 of matured bonds yearly.

Beauford Jester States Platform in Railroad Commissioner's Race

Pledging efficient operations of the Texas Railroad Commission in gearing Texas oil and transportation systems to the war effort, Beauford H. Jester of Corsicana is entering the final phase of his first primary campaign for the unexpired term on the commission.

"We are rolling along at a fine pace," Jester says in surveying the work which has been done in his less-than-a-month of political life.

It is the first campaign for public office for the Corsicana lawyer who was an infantry captain in the first world war and who has announced he seeks the railroad commission post to render a war time service to his State and nation.

"In these days when petroleum means so much to our fighting machine and when transportation is the real key to keeping our men at the front supplied with their necessary materials, the railroad commission's job is one of the greatest war services available," Jester stated.

Denied readmission to the armed forces with which he served overseas in 1917-18, due to physical disqualification, Jester has pledged that Texas oil and transportation shall not prove bottlenecks for men in the armed forces.

Jester, whose father was elected Lieutenant Governor of Texas in 1894, is a member of a pioneer Navarro County family. He served as chairman of the board of regents of the University of Texas from 1933 to 1935, and is generally credited with having been the man most responsible for the University's great building program of the 30's.

In addition to his war program for the commission, Jester has said that he favors the return of oil production control to the railroad commission after the war. For the duration, the State's oil and transportation must be tied with the production and transportation of the other 47 members of the Union, he says, but afterward, State's rights must be revived.

Economic collapse in the post-war world may be avoided by today's planning for reabsorption of men in the armed forces into their civilian duties, Jester says and he has advocated that the commission immediately begin cooperative planning with the oil and transportation industries to this end.

CAN'T GET TOO MANY EGGS

COLLEGE STATION, July 23—America can use all the eggs which can be produced by the present stock of laying hens in 1942.

With that statement, B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board, this week urged Texas farmers to handle their flocks as efficiently as possible in order to get the greatest possible egg production.

Vance pointed out that the flow of eggs to our armed forces and to our Allies must be increased and that, in addition, domestic demand is strong. Indications are, he said, that there are plenty of layers to meet demand if greatest possible production is obtained from them.

Vance cited Secretary Wickard's statement that Texas produces more eggs than any other state in the nation. The dried egg plants in the state provide Texas farmers with an outlet at fair prices for a large part of their egg production.

Greater efficiency in egg production will mean more eggs, savings in labor and feed, and a better income, the USDA official declared.

COOKE COUNTY FARMERS SHOULD PUT UP ALL THE SILAGE POSSIBLE IN 1942

To make the best quality silage out of corn and grain sorghums, the grain should be at least in the stiff dough stage. If these crops can be left standing until the grain is hard, they will make better silage provided the majority of the leaves are still green. These feeds could be made into silage even though all the leaves are burned or dried up. However, all the Vitamin A would be lost. The Vitamin A is very essential, especially if the silage is the only source of Vitamin A. The main source of Vitamin A for livestock is green feed. In Texas, there are times when no green feed is available. In this case it is very necessary to have Vitamin A in the silage.

It is more necessary to have the sweet sorghums, such as red top cane, seeded ribbon cane, etc.—ripe for making silage, than it is for the corn and grain sorghums. Immature sweet sorghum will make a sour silage. Johnson grass and Sudan grass should be headed out, and the seed in the dough stage. Any of the grasses and legumes can be made into silage by partially drying before putting in the silo. These crops should be dried to where they contain about thirty-five to forty per cent water. This means about half dry enough to bale for hay.

When corn, grain sorghum, sweet sorghums, Johnson grass and Sudan grass have the majority of the leaves green, it is not necessary to add water when the feed is put in the silo, provided the feed is chopped in one quarter inch lengths or less, with an ensilage cutter. If the majority of the leaves are dry, it will be necessary to add enough water to wet the feed about like a heavy dew would wet it. The drier the feed, the more water it will take. When filling a silo with partially dried grasses or legumes, it will be necessary to add enough water to dampen the feed.

If the trench silo is filled with bundle feed, it is best to dampen the feed with water, even though the majority of the leaves are green. If most of the leaves are dry, the bundles should be thoroughly wet. The bundles should be shingled in. By doing this, there will be less air pockets, and therefore less loss of feed.

The trench silo should be dug so that it will have drainage. Otherwise you will have trouble when it rains.

It is a good idea to cover the bottom with gravel, rock, brick or concrete, so there will be no mud in the bottom. Slope the walls of the trench at least one foot in four. If the walls have a tendency to cave or slough, line the walls with brick, rock, plaster or concrete.

When covering a trench silo with dirt, cover with six inches of dirt and then wet this dirt thoroughly. Then cover this wet dirt with a six inch layer of dry dirt so as to prevent wet dirt from cracking. Trench silos not covered with anything or covered with bundles will have considerable loss of silage and they can catch fire and burn. If you want feed insurance, cover with dirt as outlined.

Picket silos are proving very popular with Cooke County farmers. Information about these silos can be obtained from Albert Brient, County Agent.

CONTROL OF FLY MENACE NECESSARY TO PUBLIC HEALTH

AUSTIN, Texas, July 23—Thousands of children and adults die every year from diseases carried by the fly. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases, and frequently death follow closely in the trail of the common house fly.

"The control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list of necessary public health measures which should be applied by every city and community in the State," urged Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The most effective measure for control is to prevent breeding," Doctor Cox said. "Flies breed in filth, and about eight days are required to complete a life cycle. During her life time of several months, one house fly lays from 600 to 1000 eggs. Thus it can easily be seen that in a season which usually begins in the spring of the year, the descendants from one fly number countless thousands.

"To eliminate flies, the breeding places must be destroyed. Manure piles, garbage, and other organic filth furnish the requirements of warmth, moisture and food necessary for the propagation of the fly. Flies should be kept from contact with food or drink or utensils in which such food and drink are prepared and served. Likewise, they should be kept from access to privy vaults where they pick up the infections, which they later spread to humans by contact with the food and drink, and by unwashed hands and utensils.

See that your windows, doors and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor will not molest your family. See that your grocer keeps meat, vegetables, and fruit screened from flies.

"Organize health measures to destroy the breeding places, control the flies' access to your home and food, and establish standards of cleanliness in your community that will eliminate the fly."

NEW TYPE RUBBER HEEL IS DEVELOPED

AKRON, OHIO.—Development of a new type rubber heel with a wood core making possible an estimated saving of 10,000,000 pounds of rubber and 1,700,000 pounds of steel has been announced by the B. F. Goodrich Co.

The new heel conserves approximately 1 1/4 ounces of compounded rubber and one-fifth of an ounce of steel on each pair of half heels of the standard half-inch size, it was declared by William S. Richardson, head of the company's sales division.

there were increasing demands upon the County Judge's time and energy, as well as increasing demands upon the county funds.

With no additional taxes, and in the face of increasing demands upon the county funds he saved the county several thousand dollars in the General Fund alone the first year in office.

The court house bonds will be completely paid for by the end of 1942 without additional taxes. The bonded indebtedness of Cooke County at the present time is at an "all time low" since 1910. The county is in better financial condition from the standpoint of valuation vs indebtedness than at any time since it was organized. With all the multitudinous duties placed upon the County Judge's office he has guarded the expenditures and has conserved the finances of Cooke County in such a manner as to reflect credit upon himself and honor to his county.

On page 28 of the Financial Report of Cooke County for 1941, made up by the Auditor of Cooke County, shows that in the General Fund alone the disbursements were $5251.33 less than the disbursements in 1940. On page 29 of said report the overdraft in the General Fund of Cooke County was $7514.63 when Judge Sullivant took office, whereas the overdraft as of December 31, 1941, was $3275.22. This was Sullivant's first year in office. This report shows that Judge Sullivant has been on his toes, standing guard over the taxpayers funds.

With the Declaration of War and the establishment of an Army Camp in Cooke County the duties and responsibility of the County Judge's office has doubled and trebled making it necessary for him to stay on the job long hours and subject to call at any hour of the night. Mr. Sullivant has laboriously met the emergency, he has co-operated with the State and Federal program both as County Judge and as a citizen of this county.

It is sufficient to say that much has been done toward the protection of the citizens of Cooke County against bombing or invasion. A broad program for Civilian Defense has been set out for the future and there is no end to the amount of preparation and study which devolves upon the Co-ordinator of Civilian Defense. His experience in the past with Civilian Defense and his knowledge of the future program makes it highly important to the people of Cooke County that he be re-elected for a second term.

Mr. Sullivant is very human, quick to admit his mistakes and prompt in remedying them, insofar as humanly possible. He not only requests, but urges the citizens of Cooke County to investigate his private life and public record. He states that "Now is no time for petty politics and differences. We must act swiftly, smoothly, and in accord. The War, as well as the rapidly changing conditions in Cooke County, require sound judgment and experience in the County Judge's office."

We do not know of any other person who has a greater claim to represent the interests of the average citizens of Cooke County in the County Judge's office than Carroll P. Sullivant, due to the fact that he is one of them, familiar with the problems, sympathetic with their desires, conscientious in the fulfillment of his duties, and whose integrity has never been questioned.

I am seeking my second term as County Judge and I state here and now with all of the conviction of which I am capable that in every undertaking as County Judge I have been honest, conscientious and I have tried to be fair with all alike. I am human. I freely admit that I have made mistakes. It is my belief that every person who accepts responsibility and tries to do anything worthwhile errs in judgment on occasions, and I am no exception to the rule. Even the President of the United States errs in judgment and is subject to the most venomous criticism; certainly one so small as I therefore could never claim immunity from the same human defect.

In selecting your County Judge the reputation for honesty and integrity, as well as the ability to do the work required in the office are primary considerations to be taken into account. It goes without saying that in selecting a man for the County Judge's office particular attention should be given towards one whose life and public dealings are in accord with the high honors the office bestows upon one chosen to fill it. I invite your investigation of my public dealings and my life record, but I likewise urge that you investigate the record of my opponent, both private and official. Lay those records down side by side, and when you do, I know that even my severest critics will vote for Carroll P. Sullivant.

I leave my case with the people of my county with whom I have been raised, and whose welfare is my welfare.

Farmers Are Urged To Use Trucks Sparingly

The Cooke County USDA War Board this week urged farmers to comply with the spirit of the ODT order restricting transportation by making the best possible use of their trucks.

The board urged pooling of facilities, best possible care of equipment—especially tires, and elimination of all unnecessary driving.

Farm trucks are exempt from the Office of Defense Transportation Order requiring truckers to carry at least three quarters load on all return trips. J. T. Biffle, Jr., chairman of the board, explained, but farmers are expected to comply with the order voluntarily insofar as possible.

There's no sense in several folks living in one vicinity making separate trips to town when all could have gone together," Mr. Biffle declared. "We don't intend to force farmers to save their tires and equipment by pooling facilities, but we feel that they will all do their part if they understand the situation."

Transportation tie-ups would cause serious damage to Cooke county agriculture, and to the Food for Freedom campaign. Mr. Biffle said, pointing out that trucks and trailers which bring produce to market certainly are one of the most important parts of our transportation system.

"Farmers in this county pledged greatly increased production of

WAR GARDEN INSECT. SERIES—No. 4

Garden Enemy No. 1—The Aphis

There is no vegetable immune from attack by aphids and almost no crop but what suffers appreciable loss thereby. In our war effort to produce food, the aphid is on the side of the enemy and we must combat it by spraying as soon as any of those little green or pinkish insects are seen in our gardens.

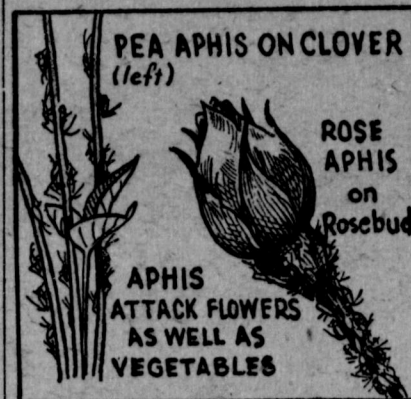

Their effect is not through the vigor of their attack, for they are the quietest, least noticeable insect in the garden; they barely move, and are of such a color that only careful examination will disclose them. Their damage comes through their overwhelming numbers. Their method of eating is to draw sap from the plant through a bill, just as a mosquito draws blood as soon as any of those little green or pinkish insects are seen in our gardens.

Most aphids give birth to young—and this without mating—so that a single aphid in two weeks can become the center of a colony of about 50, which is the number a female will produce in that time. In two weeks the process is taken up by each of the fifty, they in turn giving birth to young. The overwhelming possibilities are readily seen.

Aphids Are Not Hard to Kill
Fortunately, this pest is readily killed, or aphids would over-run the earth.

Natural enemies, however, cannot be counted upon for control on garden and field crops, where only the sprayer in the hands of the gardener will hold the line against attack. Probably the best advice on this is given by the United States Department of Agriculture, when they say, "When aphid is found, do not wait to find out whether or not it is going to increase. Spray at once with nicotine sulphate."

Nicotine sulphate in the form of Black Leaf 40 should be used at the rate of a teaspoonful to a gallon of soapy water to kill aphids.

Use the aphid with this solution and they will be killed by the contact and also by fumes given off from the spray. A second or third coverage may be necessary if the infestation is heavy.

The main thing to remember is to get the Black Leaf 40 going the minute the tiny aphid is seen on any plants in the garden. Here, if ever, is proved the adage that a "stitch in time saves nine."

Cleaning up the garden in the fall is also an important part of the anti-aphid campaign. In the fall, a generation of winged females is born and these are egg layers. The eggs are laid on trash of one kind or another around the place and if the garden is cleaned up and all old stems, weeds and the like destroyed, the aphid eggs go with it. Many other kinds of insect pests are also destroyed in the process.

milk, eggs, peanuts, pork, beef and other food products, but producing won't do any good unless we can get the produce to market, the war board official said. "The best way to make sure we'll be able to get them to market is to keep our trucks running just as long as they will go."

Stockpiles of Food for Peace

Here is what the U. S. Department of Agriculture means when it urges farmers to help produce "stockpiles of food for use after the war." The upper picture shows barrels of dried milk, just as good a year from now as today. The lower picture shows a warehouse filled with huge drums of cheese, even better with aging. These farm products, plus condensed milk, dried milk, cured pork, and canned meat and vegetables, constitute the stockpiles of defense food which, says Secretary Claude E. Wickard, will be needed by hungry Europe and "will exert the maximum influence at the peace conference table."

them. They will make many cleaning jobs, such as dusting, demoting, spraying, upholstery, etc., easier and faster.

Do not wash the bag. It should be occasionally be cleaned with a brush or beaten. When it becomes dirty, it should be replaced. Never remove the cleaner cord from the socket by jerking on the cord. When not in use, the cord should be wound loosely around the hooks on the handle, avoiding sharp bends.

Check the nozzle adjustment. It should be the thickness of a half-dollar from the floor covering before the machine is turned on. This allows the carpet to be raised in a slight arc into the nozzle which in turn opens the nap or pile. Check the bristles on the brush frequently. Your cleaner will not operate effectively if brush is worn and cannot make the contact with the floor covering. If there is a way to lower or adjust the brush, this should be done every six months. If there is no way of lowering, a new brush should be installed.

Pick up sharp metallic objects such as nails, hairpins, tacks, etc., before cleaning. They may cut the belt, puncture the bag, or otherwise damage the cleaner. Don't abuse your cleaner by running it against hard objects such as radiators, etc. Do not attempt to service or repair the motor yourself as you may do more harm than good. If your cleaner requires oiling, do it regularly but in small quantities so that excess oil does not get into the motor or on the carpet. If you have attachments for your cleaner, take full advantage of them.
