Muenster State Bank endows new NCTC scholarship fund

Students headed to North Central Texas College from the Muenster, Sacred Heart and Forestburg school districts can bank on more plentiful scholarship opportunities thanks to a recent gift to the NCTC Foundation by Muenster State Bank (MSB). The $12,500 gift will endow a scholarship fund from which only interest proceeds will be spent to provide a cash award of $250 per semester to a qualified recipient. "We believe it's vitally important that young people further their education," said Earl Fisher, MSB president, "not only to improve their own outlook for a better life but also to enrich the community of which they're a part. "By providing this kind of incentive and support to deserving students from the Muenster and Forestburg area, we know we're making an important investment in the future."

According to Regina Organ, NCTC Foundation executive director, all the local area banks have played an extremely important role in the recent growth of the foundation's assets, now standing at well above $700,000. "Through their trust departments and in various other ways, the banks have been of enormous help, particularly in increasing the share of those assets devoted to supporting scholarships," she said. "It's notable, however, that MSB is the first area bank to actually endow a scholarship itself, and we're very grateful to Mr. Fisher, to Mr. Henry Weinzapfel and to the other officers and directors of Muenster State Bank." Organ said the first MSB scholarship will be awarded for the 1996 fall semester. To qualify, applicants must have graduated from Muenster, Sacred Heart or Forestburg high schools and must be enrolled at NCTC for a minimum of 12 semester credit hours. Currently, a total of 101 students from those three schools are attending classes at NCTC, including 67 from the Muenster ISD, 21 from Sacred Heart and 13 from Forestburg. "We appreciate Muenster State Bank's gift of an endowed scholarship for another reason," said NCTC President Ronnie Glasscock. "We view it as an important vote of confidence in this college and in the effort we are making to provide local area students with a high quality education that's both accessible and affordable." Organ said that she welcomes inquiries about this and other scholarship opportunities available through the NCTC Foundation. To reach her, call 817-668-4213.

Joe Nichols relinquishes position as county sheriff

by Janet Felderhoff
Within a week of his announcement to not seek a second term as sheriff of Cooke County, Joe Nichols resigned his office effective midnight, Oct. 8. Chief Deputy M. D. Stephens is filling the position until Cooke County Commissioners Court can appoint someone to finish out the remaining year of Nichols' term. Nichols' resignation as sheriff was officially accepted by Commissioners Court at their regular meeting on Monday, Oct. 9. Commissioners decided at that time to take applications until 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12 and to appoint one of the applicants Cooke County Sheriff at a special meeting called for 10 a.m. today (Oct. 13). "My resignation is no surprise to many people," Sheriff Nichols wrote in his resignation statement. "Sheriff's resignations have become commonplace, due to the stress and arduous nature of the job. The reasons for my resignation are both personal and ethical and I will make no further comment in that regard at this time."

Friday announced his intention to run for sheriff on the Republican ticket; and Bill Pratt, a former Cooke County Sheriff. Elaborating on his announcement last week not to seek re-election Joe Nichols said, "The people of Cooke County have been absolutely tremendous to me. The job has really put me in touch with the needs of people of all ages. Community conditions exist that I did not know were there. Now that others can carry on in my stead, I intend to carry on as a citizen to help my family, friends and neighbors. The Sheriff's Office will continue to function as before until the people elect a candidate of their choice. And, this process starts now. With everyone knowing my intentions, it opens the door to others who may not have otherwise announced." A new fiscal year began on Oct. 1 for the Sheriff's Office. Nichols noted that this would allow whoever was appointed sheriff to start fresh with a new budget. "The staff of the Sheriff's Office (to include the jail) are highly competent and work hard," wrote Nichols. "Many are cross-trained and have and will serve in various capacities, as patrol deputies, jailers, communicators, or investigators. There are a total of 31 employees, with multi-faceted responsibilities. My Chief Deputy, M. D. (Mike) Stephens, has depth of experience in up-to-date Sheriff's Office operations. He commands control in my absence and has always performed in a stalwart manner." Stephens's joined the Cooke County Sheriff's Department in March of 1993 and was appointed Chief Deputy in September of 1993 by Sheriff Nichols. In a telephone interview Wednesday Stephens said that at this time he had no plans to run for Sheriff in the next election. "It is the farthest thing from my mind," he noted. "I'm just taking one day at a time. I would like to continue with the job that I've been doing either as Chief Deputy or as Sheriff." If Commissioners Court decides to appoint someone besides Stephens to finish out Nichols' term as Sheriff, Stephens would like to keep his job as chief deputy. That would be up to the person appointed sheriff, he said. The sheriff can make changes in the department as he chooses. Asked about the number of employees resigning from the Sheriff's office in the last two weeks, Stephens said that besides the Sheriff, three other employees had resigned. Stephens conceded

Mr. Nichols could not be reached earlier this week for statements other than what was in his resignation statement to the media. Cooke County Judge Paul Hesse noted that Nichols' resignation did not come as a complete surprise since Nichols had informed him that he was considering such action. "I hated to see him go," Hesse said. "I wish he'd been able to finish out his term. He knows best the needs of his family. I don't know the exact reasons for his resignation." According to Judge Hesse three people have applied for the position of Cooke County Sheriff. These were all received on Monday, but application will be accepted until 5 p.m. Thursday. The applicants as of Tuesday evening were M. D. (Mike) Stephens who as Chief Deputy is acting as Sheriff until one is appointed; Mike Compton who last

When forty-five charter members formed Muenster Knights of Columbus Council #1459 on Jan. 16, 1910, they began a local tradition of faithful service to God and their community. Ever since that date, there have been energetic and enthusiastic members who give generously of their time in promoting the council's welfare by their untiring and faithful service. In observance of Columbus Day, the Knights of Columbus hold their Good Neighbor Awards Breakfast on the Sunday nearest the Oct. 12 holiday. Every year they honor someone of another faith in the ecumenical spirit of encouraging greater harmony among creeds. The award is presented to someone whose pursuit of excellence is exemplified by his love of God and love of his fellow men, whose generous contributions and extensive services to the community are performed in a gentle, quiet manner shunning all publicity. Activities began Sunday as they and their honored guests worshipped together as a faith community at the 8 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church. "In this spirit," said Grand Knight Ed York, as he presented the honoree to all attending the service, "We salute the 1995 winner of the Good Neighbor Award, Steve Cooper!" Guests of Steve and his wife, Nelda Cooper were Nora and Drue Bynum; Jerry and Kay Bynum; C.E. "Jack" Kretsinger and Marilyn Kretsinger; and members of the MISD Board of Trustees. A breakfast and presentation ceremony followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall. In the presentation at Sacred Heart Church, Grand Knight Ed York, and in the presentation at the KC Hall, Father David Bellinghausen OSB, both said: "Steven Barry Cooper was born on Sept. 21, 1944 in Minneapolis, MN. He married Nelda on Feb. 13, 1967. They are parents of two daughters, Nora, Mrs. Drue Bynum and Keri, Mrs. Paul Bedard. In 1970, Steve earned his Bachelor of Arts degree from Western New Mexico University with a Major in History and a Minor in Health and Physical Education. In 1977, he graduated from East Texas State University with a Master of Education and a Mid-Management Certification. He earned his Superintendent Certification in 1987 at Stephen F. Austin University. Mr. Cooper was the Athletic Director and Head Coach at Tom Bean, Texas from 1970-1974. He was Athletic Director and Head Coach at Van Alstyne, Texas from 1974-1978. From 1978-1981, Steve was the Athletic Director and Head Coach of Alto High School. There he became principal of the high school from 1981-1986. Mr. Cooper was the Superintendent of Douglass ISD from 1986-1990. He has served as Superintendent for Muenster ISD from 1990 until the present. Steve Cooper is a member of Muenster Baptist Church and teaches the adult Sunday school class. He also substitutes for the pastor for Sunday Evening Services. Steve is a member of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis. He is also Chairman of the North Texas Educational Network, and a member of Texas Association of Community Schools, Texas Association of School

Administrators, and the Association for the Supervision of Curriculum Development. Under Mr. Cooper's direction Muenster ISD and Muenster High School have earned 1993-1994 Exemplary Accreditation and 1994-1995 Exemplary Accreditation. Muenster Elementary has earned 1992-1993 Governor's Award High Performance, 1994-1995 Honored School, and 1994-1995 Exemplary Accreditation. Under his

Letters to the Editor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Senior citizens should be on the alert to Congressional plans to renege on two promises that will affect their pocketbooks - promises not to touch Social Security and not to raise taxes. Both Republicans and Democrats have been talking out of both sides of their mouths in making these claims. By what circuitous route do they plan to deceive Social Security beneficiaries into believing that Congress is keeping its promises?

According to the September 27 Wall Street Journal: "Thus far this year, inflation has risen at an annualized rate of 2.9%." What does this inflation increase have to do with those promises? Social Security and income tax brackets are indexed to the Consumer Price Index (CPI) to reflect inflation rates. Lower inflation means lower adjustments, and vice versa. To get around openly reducing Social Security cost-of-living increases and openly increasing taxes, both Republican and Democrat Senate Finance Committee leaders are backing an artificial downward adjustment to the CPI. A downward adjustment would mean no (or lower) cost-of-living increases and higher tax brackets. Senior citizens - already targeted by plans to overhaul Medicare by a proposed initial premium increase and a yearly $10.00 premium increase through 2002 - will see their standard of living essentially reduced if these measures are adopted by our Congress.

To the Editor,

Muenster is fortunate to have civic minded organizations with hard working members. Their many projects benefit the whole community. Residents are also to be commended for attending and supporting the fund raising activities.

The Kiwanis, with their pancake supper recently, is one of these organizations and the library building committee is very grateful for the $1,000.00 that they contributed to our fund.

Thank you - to all who made this possible.

Dear People,

Did anyone else notice the small paragraph on the front page of last week's Enterprise that stated: "The council rejected all bids submitted for purchase of the 102-acre farm land owned by the City. Waste Management, Inc. will be contacted to see if they might be interested in the land for a landfill site."

I urge everyone to pick up their telephones and give City Hall a call, to tell them you do not want a landfill in our area. Country people and out-of-towners should call too, because this has less to do with City business and more to do with a decision that affects our whole area. Please call. Your opinion does matter!

Property tax headaches increasing

by Jennifer Sicking

The latest political games in Cooke County involve increasingly familiar players and a difficult subject. The property appraisal process and paying taxes are enough to give any taxpayer a headache without any of the other disturbances.

The allegations against the Cooke County Appraisal District, the board members and the chief appraiser can be lost in the confusion of the process and the foreign language of the tax and appraisal world.

In the early 80s the Texas Legislature mandated the formation of tax appraisal districts. The districts are responsible for the appraisal of property (land, buildings and business) and the collection of taxes.

There are components the taxpayers should be familiar with, according to the pamphlet "Texas Property Taxes," by John Sharp, Comptroller of Public Accounts. The three parts are the appraisal district, the appraisal review board and the local taxing units.

Entities or local taxing units are the county, city, school district or special district, according to the pamphlet. The entities decide how much money will be spent for the next year. This determines the total amount of taxes taxpayers will pay.

Citizens on the different entities' boards vote on whom to place on the appraisal district's board of directors. The board of directors are over the appraisal district. The board decides upon a budget for the entities to approve and hires or fires the chief appraiser. The chief appraiser is responsible for the hiring and firing of his or her own staff.

Chief Appraiser Robert Lewis has been on the job for less than a year after former Chief Appraiser Ross Fry resigned. The remaining board members are Tom Schad, Sandra Currie and Arthur Felderhoff. The board is made up of five members yet two seats remain vacant after one board member resigned and another board member was recalled.

The board members do not receive any compensation for their work on the board. The board members usually do not have any training in taxes or appraisal.

"You get a liberal education, you learn as you go," Schad said. "It would be nice to know something about it."

All three members must be present to hold a meeting. According to Currie, the October meeting was canceled because Felderhoff would be out of town. The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 9 at 2 p.m.

Kim Marlin was chosen to replace Keith Clegg who resigned in June. However, Marlin resigned the position before being sworn in. He was concerned that the CCAD meeting agenda listed his swearing in after the budget consideration.

According to the Sept. 12 Gainesville Daily Register, Schad said, he placed the swearing in after the budget because Marlin did not know enough about the CCAD budgets and Marlin had not participated in the budget process.

Murrill said the reason given for her recall was not being a team player. "I don't feel disgraced from being recalled," said Murrill. "I feel like I'm getting recalled actually proves Rosaleigh Wood and Darlene's (Alderman) case. (Wood and Alderman have filed wrongful dismissal suits against the CCAD.) If you try to get the right thing done, you're going to be blackballed and railroaded—you're going to be kicked out."

According to Murrill, doing the right thing is following all parts of the law laid out in the board's manual, "Texas Property Tax—The Appraisal District Director's Manual," by Sharp.

Murrill said, she had concerns about the appraisal district before she became a member in January 1994.

"The appraisal side and the collection side did not match," Murrill said. "The figures didn't balance. I went to the other board members but they said I didn't understand but I have been in taxes for over 30 years."

Murrill began calling for an audit. After much discussion and debate the board approved the money for the audit. The findings from that audit have not been released.

Both Schad and Currie stressed that the board of directors just oversees the CCAD and are not involved in the day to day operations.

"It would be like the city council overseeing the trash collecting," said Schad.

Another problem Murrill perceived was the lack of a policy manual.

She read out of the director's manual, "The board must have a written policy showing citizens how to make complaints and how the board handles and resolves complaints."

That problem was solved, after much debate and rejection of a manual written by Fry, when the board voted to adopt the state's handbook as its manual.

Schad said, the man before him as chairman on the board gave him the manual and told him that is what they went by.

"We passed the thing (manual) and they may have passed it before," Schad said. "We just use that, it pretty well covers everything."

Sharp also thinks taxpayers should be familiar with the Appraisal Review Board. The ARB with the CCAD computers sprung into the news in July.

The computer system fouled up the tax rolls which consequently were certified by the ARB.

The personal property roll numbers became off when the real property tax roll was fixed. The first certified roll tally was $60,256,310. The recertification was $866,042 less at $59,390,268.

The ARB consists of citizens who act as arbitrators settling differences between the appraisal district and taxpayers. If a taxpayer thinks his or her property has been appraised too high then the taxpayer may challenge it in front of the ARB.

According to "Texas Property Taxes," the ARB must base its decision upon evidence from both sides—the taxpayer and chief appraiser.

"Gather blueprints, deed records, photographs, a survey or your own measurements. Get photographs, statements from builders or independent appraisals," the pamphlet stated.

After the ARB rules on the evidence it sends its decision by certified mail.

"If you are dissatisfied with the ARB's findings you have the right to appeal its decision to the state district court in your county," stated the pamphlet.

A petition must be filed with the court within 45 days of receiving the ARB order.

"You are also required to make a partial payment of taxes—usually the amount of taxes that aren't in dispute—before the delinquency date," stated the pamphlet.

According to "Texas Property Taxes," there are three ways for taxpayers to be effective:

- know their rights
- understand the remedies
- fulfill their responsibilities.

Information is available to the public at the CCAD office, according to the office.

Remember as Benjamin Franklin said, "In this world, nothing is certain but death and taxes."

CCAD calls for new computers, increased budget

by Jennifer Sicking

It has been touted that a new computer system would help solve some of the Cooke County Appraisal District's problems. There are opponents, of course, who disagree.

The new computer system is just one part of the budget that some entities are having trouble swallowing. The other part of the budget is a pay raise for nine of the appraisal district's employees.

Robert Lewis, chief appraiser, could not be reached for comment.

In the July 21 Gainesville Daily Register, Lewis said, Cooke County cannot mass appraise, as many counties do with their software. Instead the CCAD must individually appraise any changes to be made.

In a June 23 Muenster Enterprise article, Lewis said, the current software is unreliable and didn't show the division between improvements and land on some taxpayers accounts.

Because of these problems and others the district has decided to purchase new software by CPS Systems Inc. The contract would include software, hardware maintenance, training and conversion costs. The total cost would be $223,168 with a five-year financing plan. The first year would cost $39,772 and $45,849 for the next four years.

The CCAD is currently using the EZ Access System, the software is switched to from the CPS Systems

Inc. because of problems experienced with that company and its programs. An estimated $23,000 is still owed to IBM on the current computer software.

The other part raising entities collective eyebrows are the nine proposed salary increases.

Currently the lowest salary is $15,225 and is proposed to increase to $17,000.

In an Aug. 15 Register, Lewis said, the CCAD cannot compete with other entities and collection agencies. The district has the potential of losing a five-year financial investment in the employees who have completed the State Registered Tax Collector Training.

The total proposed budget is $670,281, an increase of $24,489. The appraisal budget is $515,391, $14,455 over last year, which is a 2.9 percent increase.

The proposed collection budget is $154,890, $10,034 more than last year which is a 6.9 percent increase.

The City of Muenster and Muenster I.S.D. voted down the proposed budget.

Tom Schad, CCAD chairman of the board of directors, said, Muenster votes down the budget every year. He said, "It's like the sun rising in the east and setting in the west, Muenster is not going to approve the budget."

Schad also said, he thought the budget has always passed and has not been sent back to the board of directors.

Dear Editor:

As a supporter of the Christian Coalition, I want you to know that I am very concerned about the relentless anti-Christian bias of the news media.

For example, Dan Rather of CBS NEWS described conservative Christians as "hate mongers." THE WASHINGTON POST, in a feature article, described us as "largely poor, uneducated and easy-to-command." And CBS NEWS anchorman Bob Schieffer made this outrageous comment: "We've all noticed that there is a link between crime and religion." These kinds of false caricatures must stop.

Christians make up the majority of your readers. I'm writing to urge you to be fair in your coverage of Christians. Why not publish some positive articles now and then about all the good work Christian organizations are doing in our community?

Hall takes firm stand in Medicare hearing

Rep. Ralph Hall (D-Texas) took a firm stand in the Commerce Committee's hearing on Medicare by refusing to participate in a Democratic walk-out during the proceedings and by calling for less theatrics and more work on behalf of the millions of senior citizens covered by the program. The hearing was televised live on C-Span.

Hall, along with two other Democrats, remained in their chairs as other Democratic committee members left the hearing. Hall then made an impassioned opening speech in which he said that because the program is projected to be insolvent by the year 2002, the time has come to stop postponing action on Medicare reform and consider the needs of those who rely on the program for their medical care.

"We owe them," Hall said. He used a recent meeting at the Rockwall Nursing Home to make his point. "So the challenge for our Committee is to determine what we must do to protect those served by Medicare while also protecting the future of the program."

Hall acknowledged that he was troubled by the huge projected figures. He noted that he supported a balanced budget and is pleased with the progress this Congress is making toward erasing the $4.7 trillion deficit.

Good News!

I have set the Lord always before me: because He is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth; my flesh also shall rest in hope.

that there was some speculation as to the reasons the Sheriff's Department had so much turn over in personnel. "There are some rumors that some (employees who resigned) that might want to come back."

The resignation papers all cited different reasons. One employee resigned due to a scheduling conflict with educational pursuits, another to take the positions of police chief of Valley View. Melvin Brown, jail administrator, submitted his resignation after recent accusations of sexual harassment by a female inmate.

On Sept. 26 a female inmate alleged a wrongdoing on the part of a jailer. The incident allegedly took place on Sept. 20, but wasn't reported until Sept. 26. District Court Judge Jerry Woodcock ordered that the Cooke County jail was not to house any female inmates until further notice. The three female inmates were transferred to Wise County.

This order was rescinded after Brown submitted his resignation and the women were brought back to the Cooke County jail. The investigation has been dropped and no formal complaint was filed.

Precinct #4 Commissioner Virgil Hess offered these thoughts on Nichols' resignation, "He'd weathered the storm. He had more headaches when the jail was full. I feel there might have been some internal problems and he just didn't want to deal with them. It seems they were having trouble keeping people (employees)."

In concluding his resignation announcement Nichols wrote, "Anyway, whoever your appointed and elected Sheriff may be, give that person your support. In fact, when you see any officer, city, county or state, shake their hand and tell them you appreciate them. Your encouragement can be a catalyst that propels them into a lifetime career of service. Such service has blessed my life and I will always be proud to have also served Cooke County. This is home."

Commissioners hear report from Cooke County Animal Committee

by Janet Felderhoff
At the Oct. 9 meeting of Cooke County Commissioners Court, Mimmie Kirksmith, chairman of the Cooke County Animal Control Committee and head of the Humane Society, gave an update on the progress of securing land for building a facility for the local humane society.

"We now have four lots and things have been happening in my little world, with respect to the city, pretty quickly," related Mrs. Kirksmith. "The lots are immediately south of Pecan Creek Park." She said she was still seeking answers as to how much of the land belongs to the city, how much has been condemned, etc.

"What I am asking is that one of two things will happen to this property. First of all assuming that we will get permission to build one type of facilities there. Either the Humane Society will go on and build our facility there or, if there will be some additional ground around there which is unoccupied that would be then plenty of property and really a nice location, for the overall county run facility.

"If the county would help us preparing the site and lay the parking lot, that would be a big, big plus and a big help. That would satisfy people from the city who keep telling me, very frankly, 'If you can get the county to do anything, lots of luck.' But I don't think it's that way. I think that we can communicate and work together."

"I have seen, from the information that I have received from Judge Hesse, that you are most willing to cooperate in your own realistic world where you have your budget and your own legal things to deal with."

The Humane Society is not the same public facility as the Animal Control, Kirksmith said. "The Animal Control is definitely a public facility that would certainly meet requirements for the county helping," she added. "If what I come back with is agreeable, will you work with me, is what I am asking." She received no reply to this question.

Kirksmith presented a petition signed by 520 citizens from all over the county in support of the animal control facility.

After some discussion Commissioners decided to take no action until more information was available.

Bids submitted by two companies on pagers for the volunteer fire departments were opened. Self Radio of Montague won the bid with a quote of $21,445.00 for the pagers, programming software and encoders.

Commissioners nominated Robert Eggleston, Betty Buttolph, and Paul F. Hesse as candidates for the Cooke County Appraisal District Board of Directors. The vote was 4-0 with Paul Hesse abstaining.

In other business Commissioners:

- Approved final plat of Shady Oaks Subdivision in Precinct #1.
- Resolved to support Proposition 5 concerning Texas Veterans Land Board continuation which will be voted on in the Nov. 7 election.
- Renewed Interlocal Agreement of Interstate 35 Corridor Coalition.
- Approved painting of County Attorney's office.
- Approved minutes of last meeting.
- Approved monthly reports, except Royce Martin's which was not submitted.
- Approved monthly bills.

Library building committee initiates planning process

by Lorna Dempster
Library Building Committee

Members of the Muenster Library Building Committee met Tuesday evening, October 2, to begin the development of long range plans, goals and objectives. Items on the agenda included a review of the Ice Cream Social Fundraiser event, the search for a building site and state and local funding options. The bulk of the session focused on a discussion of that the committee initiate what, in library terms, is called a PLANNING PROCESS. This would require surveying the community to determine their expectation of a new library. It would serve to educate the community on what a library can be for its community and enable residents to have their say. In doing so, the committee would recognize what we are going to have to plan for. The development of this survey will soon begin and residents of Muenster will be notified as to when they can expect to receive it in their mail.

If you wish to work with this committee or would like to be present at the meetings, please contact Lorna Dempster at 759-4909, or Daryl Ferber at 759-2838.

the philosophical support of the community versus the actual interest in supporting a library. The committee recognized that the key element of pleasing the greatest number of residents is to determine their needs and wants. To do this, it was recommended four different communities; dual credit courses that enable students to earn high school and college credit simultaneously; Computer labs on high school and elementary campus; Block schedule.

While Mr. Cooper has been head of MISD, they have adopted State Recommended Curriculum which exceeds the Honors Curriculum and enrollment has increased 14%. A Course Descriptions manual has been developed and a new gym has been built.

Master of Ceremonies at the program following breakfast was Grand Knight Ed York. Invocation was given by Father Frowin Schoech OSB. Pledge of Allegiance was led by Thomas Felderhoff, Jr. and a brief welcome was given by Deputy Grand Knight Bob Bauer. The Good Neighbor Award was presented by Father David Bellinghausen OSB.

In his presentation, Father David listed high points of the Coopers' life and family and record at Muenster Independent School District.

He added "Steve came here in 1990. Our working relationship has been great. In all areas he worked for the benefit of the community, with sound judgment and fairness and honesty. He is a good neighbor who shares the benefits he has brought to Muenster, and we hope he stays for many more years."

Steve Cooper responded: "It's always nice to be recognized. It's also very humbling, as I feel most inadequate as this year's recipient. It's important to remember that when someone is recognized it's never a solo journey. I'm most fortunate that any redeeming qualities I might have I give credit to the good Lord for his influence on my life. I also want to say that successes that we've enjoyed at Muenster are due entirely to the fact that I work with good people and I work for good people. We have enjoyed our time in Muenster and want to thank the people for their support and encouragement."

Knights of Columbus officers were recognized and presentation of membership pins followed.

Myra plans annual dinner for Oct. 22

The Myra Community Club held its quarterly meeting with President Rose Hudspeth presiding. Final plans for the annual Holiday Dinner were completed. The meal will be served on Sunday, Oct. 22, from 11:00 to 2:00. Turkey and dressing, sausage and all the usual trimmings will be served along with drinks and home made desserts. Tickets will be $6.00 for adults, $3.00 for under 12; and children under 6 years eat free if accompanied by an adult.

An updated report was given by Rose Hudspeth on the current remodeling of the Community Club. The broken windows have been repaired in the gym and the ceiling was replaced in the entrance way. Painting is in progress. It was decided to get more information and prices on repairing the outside brick on the gym before proceeding further.

The general clean up of the town is progressing. Chairman Mike Grewing suggested that having a large commercial dumpster so people could discard things like paint buckets, tires, oil cans, etc. would probably help with some of the problems. He was asked to get prices and conditions of a commercial dumpster and report back to the club. The next regular meeting will be in January.

JOHNNY ROHMER, representing the Muenster Kiwanis, presents checks to, above, Muenster Public Library and, below, Muenster Memorial Hospital. The Kiwanis recently held a Pancake Supper earned the funds presented. Lorna Dempster and Daryl Ferber represent the library while Jack Endres accepts for the hospital. Rohmer wishes to thank all donors and participants that made the fundraiser a success.

Dance-A-Thon Duet for Dollars planned

In the next month, Sacred Heart Youth Ministry is sponsoring two dance-a-thons, one for high school and one for junior high! At a time when there are so many fund raisers for so many good causes, it can get difficult to choose who to support and for how much. SHYM realizes that! All proceeds from the dance-a-thons go straight to the youth ministry, so of course, all pledges/donations are tax deductible. Please support our youth in this effort as much as you can.

Life Teen dance-a-thon (high school) will be on Saturday, October 21, 8-11 p.m. in the K.C. Hall. JELLY dance-a-thon (junior high) will be on Sunday, November 12, 6-9 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Community Center Main Hall. Stay tuned for more details!

Texas, the conclave will offer more than 30 special interest conferences on topics such as "Raising G-rated kids in an R-rated World," "New Millennium - Never Been There, Never Done That," "Dealing with Destructive Moral Choices" and "We're Not Willow Creek, But We Still Have Seekers".

Lauren clowns around on her sixth birthday

Classmates, friends and family joined Lauren Sepanski in celebrating her sixth birthday on Saturday afternoon, September 24. Guests arrived to be greeted under the "Big Top," where they were donned with clown attire and had their faces painted and photos taken.

The afternoon saw a chilly, frost morning transformed into a glorious fall day that seemed to beckon "Bring out the clowns!" So the troupe paraded outdoors, where they performed in a variety of clown-related games.

The final clowns to make their appearance were those of frosting sitting atop Lauren's birthday cake. With their arrival, everyone was seated to enjoy the final act, cake and ice cream and the opening of gifts.

Lauren is the daughter of Bob and Linda Sepanski and the granddaughter of Arnold and Imelda Rohmer.

Morgan feted on 1st

Two celebrations marked the first birthday of Morgan Alexis Terrace, daughter of Melanie and Joe Terrace. The first was held on Saturday, Sept. 23, her actual birthday, at the family home in Denton. A "Winnie the Pooh Bear" theme was carried throughout the courtyard. A hamburger, chips, dip, and soft drink lunch was served, followed by the Pooh Bear birthday cake and ice cream.

Gifts were opened while the group sang "Happy Birthday" and home videos were made.

Attending the party with her parents were grandparents Judith and Will Allen; grandfather Michael Orsburn; great-grandmother Carol Williams; uncle Brian Orsburn, along with numerous aunts, uncles, cousins and friends from Denton.

Morgan's second party was celebrated on Sunday, Sept. 24 in the Lindsay Park Pavilion. Balloons were used to decorate the pavilion, using the Minnie Mouse theme. A special table held the decorated birthday cake, with one candle, and Morgan's birthday gifts. Children attending enjoyed playing in the park, until time for refreshments of birthday cake, ice cream and soft drinks. Morgan opened her gifts, home videos were made, and many snapshots. Before the children departed, they were gifted with party bags.

Attending with Morgan's parents, Melanie and Joe Terrace were grandparents Debbie and Bob Bixby; great-grandparents John L. and Marcella Hess; great-great-grandparents John J. and Edith Hess; Danny, Robin, Heidi and Cade Hess; Janice and Jim Gilbreath and Gregory; Bart, Terry and Aunt Kathy Orsburn; Randy and Teresa Hess; Sarah and Dusty Reed; Stanley, Tonya, Kaileigh, Tyler and Mandy Hess; Sandra Hess; Marsha Dill and Paige; Kelly Reynolds and Ashton; and Angela Luttmir. NCTC Continuing Education offers new computer classes

"The Division of Continuing Education at North Central Texas College is offering some new and challenging computer related courses," said Kay Moody, NCTC continuing education coordinator.

"WordPerfect 6.1 and Microsoft Word 6.0 will allow students to learn how to create, edit, print, save and retrieve documents," explained Moody. "Students will be instructed on how to change the appearance of any documents by changing fonts, sizes, appearances and colors of text."

Students must have some knowledge of Windows in order to enroll in WordPerfect 6.1 and Microsoft Word 6.0.

WordPerfect 6.1 for Windows will meet five Wednesdays - October 18 through November 15 from 6:00-9:00 p.m. Microsoft Word 6.0 for Windows will meet five Thursdays - October 12 through November 9 from 6:00-9:00 p.m.

NCTC continuing education will offer two spreadsheet application courses. Lotus 1-2-3, Release 5, for Windows will be offered November 16 through December 14 from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Microsoft Excel for Windows will be offered November 20 through December 11 from 6:00-9:00 p.m. "Both these courses are for the more experienced user," explained Moody.

"Students will become familiar with setting up spreadsheets and how to enter the correct formula and function into the spreadsheet that mathematically manipulates the data automatically."

Home & Business Accounting with Quicken for Windows will be offered October 17 through 31 from 6:00-9:00 p.m. The class will meet for three Tuesdays.

"Quicken is one of the most popular software packages," said Moody. "Quicken is a helpful software that allows persons to learn how to use their checkbook to set up a complete accounting file, create revenue and expense categories to identify the purpose of each transaction."

Computerized Accounting Using Peachtree will be offered October 17 through November 14 from 2:00-5:00 p.m. The class will meet for five Wednesdays.

Setting up general ledgers, budgeting accounts payable, accounts receivable, invoicing and payroll will all be covered. Students must have prior knowledge of Microcomputers and accounting experience.

Borland Paradox for Windows will be November 7 through December 5 from 6:00-9:00 p.m. The class will meet five Tuesdays. Students must have working knowledge of Windows 3.1 or Windows.

Paradox is a full-featured relational database that gives the user the full power of use without the need for programming. Paradox makes it easier to link data between multiple tables, transfer data between tables and ask questions related to multiple tables. The data collected can be organized and put into forms and reports.

Registration for all fall non-credit courses is now in progress in the NCTC Registrar's Office during regular college business hours. All registration is on a first-come, first-serve basis to ensure fairness. Places cannot be reserved until fees are paid. Disks and handouts are included in the price of the course and textbooks are optional.

For more information on these and other non-credit courses, call Continuing Education at 817-668-4272.

TDC Tourism Division awards new advertising

The Texas Department of Commerce Tourism Division has awarded its estimated $8.5 million annual advertising contract to GSD&M, Austin. The contract covers two years, and includes three, one-year optional renewals.

The advertising agency review process began in March 1995 with an invitation for bid. Three agencies made final presentations to a six-person selection team of marketing professionals from the Department of Commerce and the Department of Agriculture August 7 and 8. Those making presentations were GSD&M, Austin; The Richards Group, Dallas; and Moroch & Associates, Dallas.

"Tourism is one of the nation's fastest growing industries," said Texas Department of Commerce Executive Director Brenda F. Arnett. "The energy and ideas of GSD&M in partnership with the tourism professionals in our state will position Texas to continue to create new jobs and financial growth," Arnett added.

Commerce's Tourism Division will continue its award-winning theme "Texas. It's Like a Whole Other Country.®" which has helped make Texas the second-most visited state in the nation. Tourism ranks as the third-largest industry in Texas. In 1993, travelers spent an estimated $22.8 billion in Texas, and sustained approximately 422,000 jobs.

Baptisms

Powell

Megan Kathleen Powell was baptized on Sept. 30, 1995 in St. Peter's Church in Lindsay, with her great-uncle Father Eugene Luke OSB officiating at 2 p.m. She is the daughter of Mike and Carolyn Powell of Grand Prairie and the granddaughter of Bill and Eileen Luke of Muenster and Beryl and Smythie Powell of Arlington. Baptismal sponsors were an uncle and aunt Jim and Beth Luke of Houston.

Megan Kathleen wore the white satin embroidered baptismal dress which was worn by her older sister, Amy Lea at her baptism. She also wore a gold cross and chain, a gift from her paternal grandparents.

Attending the ceremony with the parents, Amy Lea, age 1 1/2, the godparents, and the maternal grandparents, were uncles, aunts and cousins Don and Kathy Hartman and Jeff and Cindy of Muenster; Fray and Nancy Webster and Tara, Brad and Mark of Keller; and special friends Jeff and Diana Barcafar of Arlington.

After the ceremony, those attending were guests of Bill and Eileen Luke for dinner. A special white cross with pink flowers adorned the strawberry baptismal cake, which was iced with whipped cream and decorated with pink flowers. Gifts were opened, and guests enjoyed visiting and hiking around the farm.

Unable to attend, but sending their blessings were the paternal grandparents Beryl and Smythie Powell.

Hess

Brittany Renee Hess, daughter of Lisa and Darrell Hess of Hurst, was baptized October 1, 1995 at St. Michael Catholic Church in Bedford. Brittany's birth date is August 21, 1995.

Godparents for Brittany are great-aunt and great-uncle, Linda and Robert Coursey of Gainesville. A special baptismal gift from the godparents was a blessed baby rosary worn by Brittany. The infant wore the same baptismal gown as her two brothers, Jordan 3, and Brandon 2, and originally worn by her mother, godmother, and maternal grandmother.

After the baptismal ceremony, family and friends joined together for gift opening, dinner and cake. The baptismal cake featured a cross with a praying hands emblem below it and with the inscription "God bless you, Brittany Renee, October 1st, 1995."

Brittany is the granddaughter of Rachel and Arthur Hennigan and Dale Hess of Muenster and Cathy Hess of Lewisville. Great-grandparents are Odilia Lutkenhaus, Caroline Hennigan and Caroline and Gary Hess, all of Muenster.

Chance is two!

Chance Christian Cameron celebrated his second birthday with a party at Leonard Park in Gainesville. Joining him in the fun were his parents, Richard and Misty Cameron of Gainesville, his grandparents James and Linda Vogel of Muenster and Louis Cameron of Denison. Meme Cameron sent her good wishes, but was unable to attend because of work. Also attending were his half-brothers, Tony and Richie Cameron of Colbert, OK, Uncle Larry and Tracy Westbrook of Gainesville and Uncle Shawn Vogel of Muenster.

A farm scene cake was served along with ice cream and punch. A video and pictures were taken while Chance opened his gifts. A big surprise for him was a talking, rocking horse from his maternal grandparents.

Everyone also enjoyed a visit through the Frank Buck Zoo.

An early birthday treat was a trip to the Texas State Fair on Wednesday, Oct. 4. Chance enjoyed seeing Big Tex, riding the rides and eating the great food. It was his first trip to the fair. Accompanying him was his mother Misty, grandparents Jim and Linda Vogel and Aunt Tracy Westbrook. Chance's actual birthday is Oct. 9.

Chance has been chosen by Garner Photography Studio to be their display model. His pictures will be displayed at various locations throughout the North Central Texas area. Locally, his picture will be on display at the Tom Thumb store in Gainesville.

Tour groups take in Gainesville sites

The Morton Museum of Cooke County welcomed three tour groups to Gainesville and Cooke County during the week of September 18-23, 1995. The first was a group from Dallas put together by "Patti's Tours." Their tour of the county was planned in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce. The second group came from Velma, Oklahoma and the third was made up of representatives from the National Campers and Hikers Association. Walking and driving tours of the Victorian homes and the historic downtown area in Gainesville were conducted for the visitors as were tours through the Morton Museum. The groups visited St. Peter's Church in Lindsay and one stopped in at the First Methodist Church in Gainesville. After lunch, all three groups finished their trips with shopping at the Gainesville Factory Outlet Mall. For more information on arranging a tour, please call the Morton Museum of Cooke County at 668-8900.

MISD to celebrate Homecoming Oct. 20

by Brandi Lutkenhaus Student Council Reporter

The Muenster Hornets celebrate their 1995 Homecoming with their game against Saint Jo next Friday, October 20, at 7:30 p.m. in Hornet Stadium. The Royal Court for 1995 will be introduced during a pregame ceremony, and the 1995 Homecoming Queen will receive her crown during the game's halftime ceremony.

The Queen candidates for this year are Julia Fleitman, daughter of John David and Patsy Fleitman; Hollie Jo Fuhrmann, daughter of Ruff and Pat Fuhrmann; Carrie Hess, daughter of Virgil and Judith Hess; and Misty Klement, daughter of Wayne and Tudor Klement.

Homecoming activities commence with a Liturgy at Sacred Heart Church at 8 p.m. Wednesday, October 18. The Mass will begin with an entrance procession of Hornet football players with their coaches, queen candidates, princesses, and cheerleaders. Students, parents, and MISD faculty are invited to attend this special liturgy. After the Mass, a short but spirited pep rally will be held in Hornet Stadium.

On Friday afternoon at 3:05, the Hornet cheerleaders will lead a schoolwide pep rally in the new Hornet Gym. As part of the pep rally, Student Council members and Senior officers will present Homecoming mums to the Royal Court.

A free dance in the school's cafeteria after the game for MISD students from grades 8-12 concludes this year's Homecoming festivities. The school and classes are providing hamburgers, soft drinks, and snacks while D.J. George Spaeth offers dance music until midnight.

To complete the Royal Court, the four seniors are joined by the princesses: Junior Brandi Lutkenhaus, daughter of Bobby and Linda Lutkenhaus; Sophomore Mindy Endres, daughter of Bob and Kenya Endres; and Freshman Kristin Chisam, daughter of Bob and Judy Chisam. MHS students elected this Royal Court in class elections earlier this school year.

Tigers battle, fall to Warriors 48-21

"It was our best game of the year and it was our worst game of the year," commented Coach John Nasche, on the Sacred Heart Tigers 48-21 loss to Denton Liberty. "Our best the first half, our worst the second. The first half we were the better team. In the second half, turnovers doomed us." The Tigers fumbled away 3 of their first 4 possessions in the 3rd quarter and Liberty covered them all, scoring on 2 of them. The Tigers had a 21-14 halftime lead.

The Warriors took the opening kick, but Sacred Heart's defense held them to one yard, forcing a punt.

Starting on their 20 yard line, three runs by Scott Frost took the Tigers to the 33. On Frost's 4th run, good blocking by Sacred Heart allowed Frost to go 69 yards for an early Tiger touchdown.

but failed. Sacred Heart took over on their 20, but on the first play, another fumble returned possession to Liberty on the 18. Two plays later the Warriors scored. The PAT tied the game 21-21 with 9:24 still on the clock.

Sacred Heart's next drive went backwards and they kicked the ball away to midfield. Liberty took only 5 plays to find the end zone. Another good PAT and the Warriors had a 28-21 lead with 5 minutes on the clock.

Taking the kick on their 9 yard line, Sacred Heart fumbled the ball again, this time in the end zone to give Liberty a touchdown and a 35-21 lead. The teams then exchanged punts and the 4th quarter began.

The Tigers punted on 4th and 5 on their 8 yard line giving Liberty Possession on the 40. Four plays Michael Becker kicked the point after for a 7-0 score with 8:51 on the clock.

Liberty Christian came right back, moving the ball 55 yards in 6 plays, the last a 16 yard run up the middle for a score. The PAT tied the game 7-7 three minutes later.

Frost, John Klement and Paul Swirczynski got in a few runs before booting the ball away on 4th down. The Warriors got in 3 plays before Scott Poole intercepted a Liberty pass, on the Warriors 21 yard line.

As the 2nd quarter began, 3 plays later, a tipped pass from Swirczynski to Klement was good for a 21 yard score. Becker added the PAT to give the Tigers a 14-7 lead less than a minute into the quarter.

Again the Sacred Heart defense held the Warriors. A quarterback sack by Jake McCoy forced a Liberty punt.

From midfield, the Tigers struggled with a penalty and fumbled play. On fourth and one, later, the Warriors scored again on a 25 yard pass play. Once again the PAT kick counted for a 42-21 score with 8:15 remaining in the game.

Beginning their next drive on their 29 yard line, the Tigers had 3 incomplete passes and a fake punt pass that failed, giving Liberty the ball on the 29. It took 7 runs and the Warriors again lit up the score board. Scott Frost blocked the extra point kick to give Liberty the 48-21 leading score with 5 minutes remaining in the contest.

The two teams exchanged punts as time ticked off the clock.

"You can't give a good team that many chances," Coach Nasche commented about the turnovers. "Liberty stepped up their defense the 2nd half and we couldn't get things going again."

Again Nasche credits Scott Frost for a good rushing game behind good blocking in the first half of the game and Paul Swirczynski who ran the option real well.

"Our team defense continues to Next Action - Dallas Temple Sacred Heart begins TAPPS district 1-1A Friday night when they host the Dallas Temple Blazers, who were 2-7 last season and winless so far this season.

"They're down this year, losing their key players to graduation," Nasche commented. "They also had several players transfer." Last year the Tigers defeated the Blazers 28-0. "Though they are small, they play scrappy," Nasche concluded. "Finally we're not playing an opponent that has 30 more players than us."

Game time is 7:30 p.m. on the Tigers field.

a pitch to Scott Frost around the left side was good for a 40 yard touchdown run. Becker again kicked the point after giving Sacred Heart a 21-7 lead with 7 minutes remaining in the first half.

Liberty began their next drive on their 30, moving the ball into the end zone in 8 plays, the final play of the drive a 19 yard pass. The extra kick counted for a 21-14 game with 3:44 on the clock.

Two Tiger runs were followed by 3 bad plays which forced a Sacred Heart punt on 4th and 22 giving the Warriors possession with one minute remaining in the 2nd quarter. Three plays later, Michael Becker picked off a Liberty pass, allowing the Tigers offense to run out the clock.

After an extended halftime Homecoming break, action continued with the Tigers taking the opening kick. Two plays later, Liberty covered a fumbled ball on the Sacred Heart 18 yard line. Unable to pick up any yardage, the Warriors attempted a field goal, improve, but we're playing better teams," continued Nasche. "We do need to improve our pass rush and need to avoid missed key tackles." Nasche also said though the Tigers have a tough 2-3 record going into district, they still have a shot at a successful schedule as Sacred Heart slowly gets back their injured players.

Hornets outfly Eagles 33-18

Muenster visited Valley View's new football stadium last Friday night and buzzed down the Eagles to a 33-18 pre-district victory.

The Hornets rushed for 241 yards while holding Valley View to only 83. Cody Sicking led Muenster with 200 yards in 43 carries and scoring 5 touchdowns.

"They (Muenster) did a great job, winning after being picked two TDs underdogs," commented Coach Randy Tankersley. "The defense played their best football all year the first half."

Muenster starts district next week in Era with a 3-2 pre-season record.

Friday night at Valley View, the Eagles took the opening kick, but two plays later, Steven Reiter covered a fumbled ball on Muenster's 40 yard line. The Hornets were a yard short and punted their first possession away, then held Valley View, forcing a punt on 4th and 17.

The Hornets began their second drive on the Eagles 41 yard line. Four consecutive runs by Cody Sicking quickly moved Muenster to the 19. A holding penalty nullified a 14 yard pass to Darrell Charles, but a face mask flag on Valley View along with an 11 yard Sicking run gave the Hornets a 2nd and one on the 8 yard line. Two Sicking runs later, a six yarder, put Muenster on the scoreboard. Matt Chisam added the extra point for a 7-0 game with four minutes on the first quarter clock.

Again Muenster's defense held the Eagles, ending the drive with a punt. The Hornets got in two runs and fumbled, giving Valley View possession near midfield. The Eagles took the ball into the 2nd period moving to the Hornet 26 yard line. Brian Fleitman stopped any scoring threat when he picked off an Eagle pass and returned the ball to the 43 yard line. Another holding penalty held the Hornets, who punted the ball away.

Valley View gained only 2 yards. A fumbled snap on the attempted punt put the Hornets on the Eagles 30 yard line. Sicking runs and passes to James Klement and Darrell Charles took Muenster to the 5, where Sicking had the honors of scoring again. The PAT failed and the Hornets had a 13-0 lead with 4:10 remaining on the clock.

The teams exchanged punts and the first half ended when Darrell Charles sacked the quarterback and Chad Roller intercepted an Eagle pass.

Valley View came back strong in the third quarter. After Muenster fumbled the kick at midfield, it took the Eagles only 3 plays to score on a 22 yard touchdown pass to Joe Slover. Muenster blocked the extra point kick for a 13-6 score with 10:53 on the clock.

Muenster got in a few good runs, but punted the ball away after 8 plays. From their 35 yard line, two big runs by David Reed and Keith Alexander moved the Eagles to the ten. A pass to Reed was good for another 6 points. The attempted two point conversion failed and Valley View closed the score to 13-12 with 5:17 left in the 3rd quarter.

Muenster again fumbled the kick return, giving the Eagles the ball on the Hornet 30, but the Muenster defense held. An attempted Valley View field goal defense, moving the ball from their 30 yard line to the Eagles in 13 plays. With 37 seconds on the clock, Cody Sicking put the icing on the cake with a 3 yard touchdown run. The kick failed for the final 33-18 Hornet victory.

Coach Tankersley credits part of the victory to the offensive line and James Klement's lead blocking. "Scott's (Hermes) pass to Tony (Hartman) shows the great improvement in our passing game." The coach also bragged of the defensive ends Tony Hartman, Jeff Flusche and Greg Flusche and safety Brian Fleitman. Other having a good game at changed fell short and the Hornets offense returned to the field, momentarily. The teams again exchanged punts with the Hornet offense taking the ball into the final quarter. From the 9 yard line, Cody Sicking pushed through for the touchdown. Chisam kicked the point after for a 20-12 Hornet lead.

The Eagles next drive was shortened when Jeff Flusche covered a loose ball near midfield, setting up Muenster's next touchdown. After two Sicking runs, quarterback Scott Hermes sailed the ball into the hands of Tony Hartman for a 38 yard score. Chisam kicked and Muenster extended their lead to 27-12 with 8 minutes to play.

On Valley View's first play from scrimmage, Alexander hit Slover, who broke away on a 63 yard touchdown pass play. The extra points run failed and the scoreboard then read 27-18.

Muenster's offense took control of the game and the clock, slowly pounding away at the Eagles

Next Action - Era This Friday is Cooke County's Buzzing Battle of the Hornets, as Muenster travels to Era.

"Era's big and fast, with two of the district's best offensive linemen, Arlis Pearce and Casey Harrington," commented Coach Tankersley. "Their new coach has them fired up. They'll be coming in on a high with big wins over Nocona and Lexington."

Tankersley believes it will be a tough game and Muenster will have to play a high level game with no fumbles or penalties. Action begins at 7:30 at Era.

The Lady Hornets came back with a second place finish, scoring 58 points, behind Jacksboro. All of the Lady Hornets met their goal of improving their time. Muenster 6 Valley View 13

The Muenster Hornets took on the Valley View Eagles last Thursday night and came up a bit short falling 13-6. The Hornets were able to move the ball from twenty to twenty but just couldn't punch the ball in at critical times during the game. The offensive line had a few miscues but all in all played pretty well. "I thought John Roller had his best game rushing. He ran really hard and carried several Eagles down the field to get the extra yards," said Coach Kent Josselet. "We had several players playing new positions and I thought the kids stepped up to meet the challenge and did an outstanding job. We need to improve our backside blocking this week and work on our footwork all the way around to become a better football team." "Defensively I thought the kids did a good job. We went to a 5-0 front to better suit our personnel," continued the coach. "The kids picked up on the scheme pretty quickly and were able to get to the right place at the right time. We got beat deep one time that cost us and then our kids adjusted well the rest of the way." According to Coach Josselet, the defense did a nice job of keeping Muenster in the game. Jeremy Walterscheid came up with a big play late in the game as he stripped the ball from a Valley View player deep in their own territory, but the Hornets couldn't capitalize on the turnover and the clock ran out.

The Hornets prepared themselves for another Hornet team this week as they took on Era Thursday night. The Junior High started at 5:30 and the Junior Varsity at 7:00.

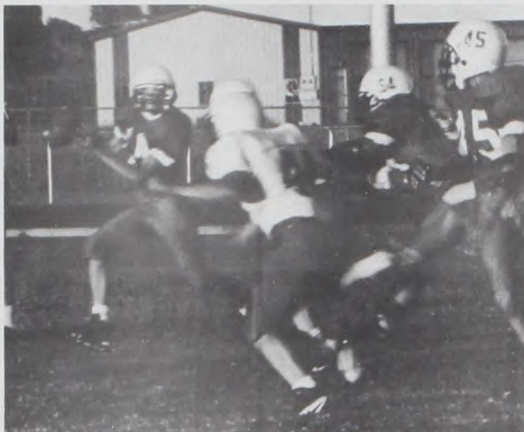

Lindsay 7th 14 Saint Mary's 8
Lindsay's 7th grade Squires took on the Mustangs of Saint Mary's last week Thursday edging out a 14-8 victory.

The first score of the game was in the first quarter when Nick Fuhrmann ran in from 15 yards out. The extra points failed giving Lindsay a 6-0 lead.

Saint Mary's scored later and took a 6-8 lead. On the last play of the first half, Fuhrmann found Cody Starnes for a 5 yard touchdown pass play. Fuhrmann added the 2 point conversion, giving the young Squires a 14-8 lead at halftime.

The second half was scoreless. John Eberhart made a touchdown saving tackle to keep Lindsay in the lead.

Having a good defensive game were Eberhart, Jonathan Bengfort and Fuhrmann.

"The boys are definitely improving and playing better," commented Coach Linus Fuhrmann.

Lindsay 8th 26 Saint Mary's 22

Adrian Anderle scored all four of the Lindsay 8th grade Squires' touchdowns last week Thursday as Saint Mary's Mustangs fell 26-22 to the young Knights.

After a 14-8 lead at half time, the Squires extended their lead to 20-8 before the Mustangs closed the gap to 20-14. Lindsay added another 6. Then Saint Mary's scored 8 points to narrow the score to 4 points. The game ended with the Mustangs attempting to score a winning touchdown.

The Lindsay offense was led by Anderle on the ground with nice catches by Clay Gallagher from Daniel Hellingier assisting the Squires.

Defensive standouts for the Squires were Cole Tabbert, Scott Metzler, Cody Secrest, Hellingier and Anderle.

"We beat a pretty good football team, but still have lots of room for improvement," commented Coach Linus Fuhrmann.

Fifth week of contest sees 44 entrants vying for win

Forty-four entries were turned in the fifth week of the Enterprise Football Contest, with 18 entries missing only 5 games or less.

Mike Stoffels missed only two games and takes this week's first place cash prize of $15. He will pick up his winnings at Schilling's Fina, last week's tie breaker sponsor.

Four contestants missed three games, with the tie breaker determining 2nd and 3rd place. Since Jennifer Campbell and Charles Edwards mis-picked the winner of the Muenster game, they were dropped out of the competition. Neil Huchton came in second place with a 14 point spread, with Mike Felderhoff finishing 3rd, 16 points off the tie breaking score. They picked up their cash prizes at Endres Motor and Tony's Feed & Seed.

Peachie Huchton and Wayne Klement missed 4 games while Doug Hennigan, Edna Hermes, John Nasche, Carol Grewing, Paul Swirczynski, Benny Haverkamp, Mark Grewing, John Klement, Donny Stoffels, Amy Fette and Edgar Dyer all had a score of 25. Low score of the week was 14.

Locally 27 entries picked Muenster to lose to Valley View. The closest pick to the final score was Chris Stoffels' 28-21 guess. The most off prediction was Valley View to win 40-6. Ten mis-picked Sacred Heart to be victorious over Denton Liberty.

Every contestant correctly picked Collinsville to win, while only 2 predicted A&M's loss to Tech. Sixteen thought Saint Jo could beat Chico while one picked Whitesboro, 2 missed Era and 2 missed Lindsay. Thirty-one entries missed Iowa's win while only one picked Thackerville to win, who in the 2nd consecutive week, called the game before regulation time was over because of the one sided score.

Power Points produce battle for 1st

Brad Schilling, a junior at Sacred Heart High School, won last week's local Power Points Football Contest. He and Darrell Herr each had a score of 108, but Schilling won on the 1st tiebreaker, beating Herr 35-33.

The Enterprise did not receive the name of the Texas winner and the $1,000 state prize before press time. Watch next week's paper for last week's state winner.

Knights shoot down Falcons

Lindsay traveled to the far corner of Fannin County to play last Friday for a one-sided contest with the Fannindel Lions.

The Knights defense proved tough for the Falcons as they were held to a total of 80 yards in 37 attempts, while the Lindsay offense drummed up 393 total yards in the game.

"I'm not sure in the first half if we had more yards or more penalties," commented Lindsay coach Charlie Meurer. "We had 35 points. We should've had 35. Officials stepped in to take control and wouldn't let the game happen. We would have been happy with a good lead, then let JV play the second half. That's why we brought them along," Meurer continued.

Fannindel took the opening kick, but the Knight defense held it to a minus 2 yards on 3 runs. The Falcons punted the ball away.

Lindsay's first play was a Garrett Hellingner pass to Robert Sharp for 4 yard gain and suddenly the Knights were sitting on the 15 yard line. The next play, Jeff Hale tried the Knights to the one yard on Hale broke through the defense for a touchdown.

The PAT pass failed and Lindsay led 6-0 in an early 6-0 lead.

Again it was 3 plays and punt as on Krebs, Greg Dulock, Sharp, Hank Huchton pushed Fannindel back 12 yards. Beginning their second drive on Falcon 43, Shawn Hanks, Kenny Jones and Hellingner turn running the ball to the 9 yard line in seven plays. On 2nd down, Kenny Jones moved the ball into the end zone for another Knight score. Again the Knights after attempt failed and Lindsay led 12-0 with 2:26 on the clock.

A face mask flag gave the Falcons their 1st first down and moved them to the Knight 20 yard line. Two more runs and they were knocking at the Knights' door with a 1st and goal right inside the 10. Any threat to score on this drive ended when Garret Hellingner intercepted a pass and the Knight offense took over on their 20 yard line.

Lindsay carried the ball into the second quarter, running out of downs after 7 plays and punting.

Again the Knight defense, led by Dulock, Clint Gallagher and Chris Escobedo, held the Falcons to only one yard. A 25 yard punt and a 15 yard penalty put the Knights on their 45. Two consecutive passes to Hale and Sharp put Lindsay over on the 33. Two Hale runs and the ball was on the 17. Jeff Hale again did the honors and carried the ball into the end zone for six points. Aaron Krebs kicked the extra point and the Knights took a 19-0 lead with 5:45 remaining in the 1st half.

Once more it was three unsuccessful runs and punt for the Falcons.

The Knights' next drive wasn't too productive, failing to complete a pass on 4th and 15. But on the Falcons first play, Kenny Jones picked off a pass and Lindsay regained possession. Fate turned on the Knights. On their second attempted run, Fannindel covered a loose ball and took over on their 43 yard line.

The Falcons got in two good runs before Kenny Jones intercepted another pass to end the first half.

The Knights took the opening 3rd quarter kick to their 35 yard line to begin another scoring drive.

Hellingner passes to Hanks and Brian Covington and runs by Hale and Levi Seeds took the Knights to the 21 yard line. Again Jeff Hale took the ball in for another Lindsay touchdown. Krebs booted the point after and the Knights led 26-0 with 8:42 remaining in the 3rd period.

Once again, it was 3 plays and punt for Fannindel, giving Lindsay the ball on their 41 yard line. The Knights again mixed passes and runs but came up short, turning the ball over on downs inside the Falcon 30 yard line.

On the Falcons 3rd attempted play, Brian Covington covered a fumbled ball on the 21 yard line. On the Knights' first run, Shawn Hanks ran in for the score. Krebs added the PAT and the Knights took a 33-0 lead with 1:37 on the clock.

Fannindel's next drive lasted for six plays, moving into the final quarter, but near midfield Zack Bowman covered a fumbled ball. From the 38 yard line, Bowman took the ball 38 yards for another Lindsay touchdown. Again Krebs added the PAT and now the Knights had a 40-0 lead with 9:36 remaining in the game.

Fannindel once again had a short offense with 3 runs and punt, but on the Knights first play, the Falcons regained control when they covered a loose ball. Three plays gained 8 yards and on 4th and 2, a pass fell incomplete, so the Knights took control and ran 8 plays until the time ticked off the clock.

"Our defense looked real good, preventing Fannindel from moving the ball," said Coach Meurer. "And the offense moved the ball consistently on the ground. Our passing game also looked good."

Next Action - Collinsville
The Knights open district 17-A action this Friday when they host the Collinsville Pirates. Lindsay, regional finalist last season, takes on the defending area champions, in what many believe will be the battle of the district's top two teams.

"Collinsville has a very good offensive team. We have to watch their receivers," commented Meurer. "Our secondary has to recognize their offense and be there for the plays."

Collinsville will be led offensively by quarterback Brent Vannoy and wide receiver Eric Montoya.

"We have to remain stable and not give up any big plays. Then we can win the game," concluded Meurer.

Action begins at 7:30 p.m. on Knight Field.

Landowners Rights Week celebrated October 21-27

There's gold in Texas! The gold is in its landowners. In just 150 years property owners have turned rags from a wilderness to the rd-ranking state in population in the United States and its economy 11th in the nations of the world. Landowners Rights Week, October 21-27, is the time for everyone to reflect on and celebrate the bounty we enjoy cause of landowners. Every acre of foodstuff, small business, and ag-rise office complex begins in a piece of land someone owns.

Texas comprises 130 million acres and over 97% of these acres privately owned. Property must be sacred or property cannot exist. Property rights create a vested interest in the preservation and improvement resources. It is the unowned rd, animal, or other species in the world that are in danger of extinction.

The central importance of private property is its linkage with an individual's exercise of liberty. There is nothing else upon which you can base a concept of freedom.

The rights of landowners have been compared to a bundle which is made up of the many rights possessed by those landowners. The most basic of this bundle is the right to pay taxes. Owning property begins this taxation process - it is paying their fair share for the common good. Another right in this bundle is the right to call the land "Private property," to put a fence around the boundaries, and place signs on this fence telling anyone desiring to enter that permission must first be granted by the landowner.

The landowner can expect the law of the land and the courts to support this right. The landowner also has the right to use his land as he deems appropriate. When private property is taken or the value is compromised for public use or the "common good," the United States and the Texas Constitutions require that just compensation be made to that property owner.

Texas Department of Agriculture reports that Texas is first in the nation in the production of Cattle, Sheep, Goats, Wool, Mohair, and Cotton. The basics of life - food and clothing - are provided for the citizens of Texas, the nation, and the world from these products.

The Private Property Rights Act of Texas was passed by the 74th Legislature of Texas and signed by Governor George Bush. All Texans join with our leaders in government as they salute Landowner's Rights Week. We are thankful for a state with leaders who value the contributions of private property owners and we are thankful for landowners who, in owning and using their piece of Texas, recognize they are but stewards and that land ownership is a cherished right to be guarded constantly.

Texas is a giant among the states because of the vision and work of its landowners - and because Texas has leadership in government and business helping landowners do what is best for Texas.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

MAJOR SHOW LAMB VALIDATION

4-H and FFA members who have lambs to enter at the major livestock shows (Ft. Worth, Houston, San Antonio, etc.) will need to have them validated on Monday, October 23, from 5:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. Beginning with the January 1996 show season, all lambs, barrows, and steers must have an official state validation in order to enter and show. If you have questions, call your local Vo Agriculture Instructor or the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

AG MARKETING CLUB

The Agriculture Marketing Club will hold its monthly meeting at 9:00 a.m. Tuesday, October 17 at the North Texas State Bank located on Hwy 82 at Gainesville. The marketing club is open to all agriculture producers and offers participants an opportunity to evaluate crop and livestock marketing alternatives. Ken Stokes, extension economist, will conduct the program.

SOYBEAN FIELD DAY

A Soybean Field Day will be held at 1:00 p.m., Tuesday, October 17 at the late group 6 & 7 Soybean Variety trial on the Arnold Fuhrmann farm. The demonstration is located at the intersection of FM 1199 and County Road 420, approximately six miles north of Hwy. 82. Data from 4 years of plot work along with management systems will be discussed. Seed representatives will also be on hand to discuss their varieties. One continuing education unit (CEU) will be given to those attending toward their pesticide recertification for private applicators.

ANIMAL VIRUS FOUND AGAIN

We have received the following information from Dr. Ellen Jordan extension dairy specialist, who tells us that less than a month after a quarantine was lifted on a horse in West Texas, a new case has been confirmed in East Texas with the same highly contagious virus that mimics foot-and-mouth disease. The Texas Animal Health Commission diagnosed the second case of vesicular stomatitis in Texas on Oct. 3 near Henderson in Rusk County. The quarantined premises extend in a 10-mile radius into portions of Cherokee and Smith counties.

Vesicular stomatitis is a viral disease affecting cattle, horses, swine and occasionally goats and human beings. An infected animal develops blister-like lesions inside the mouth, around the hooves and on the teats. As the blisters swell and break, the animal is too sensitive to eat and drink or will exhibit symptoms of lameness.

Infection lasts about two weeks and incubation time is two to eight days after exposure. To prevent spread of infection, affected and potentially exposed herds of livestock must remain under quarantine until 30 days after their last lesion has healed. Infected animals without symptoms can expose other animals.

The Texas Animal Health Commission is advising livestock owners who plan to move livestock out of state to contact the state or country of destination for entry requirements prior to their scheduled departure date.

Mexican cattle imports are temporarily halted

Recent findings of pesticide residue in carcasses of cattle from Mexico have caused USDA to temporarily halt direct-slaughter cattle and horse imports from Mexico.

USDA's Food Safety and Inspection Service found residues of coumaphos, a compound used at border crossing stations to kill ticks, in fat samples of slaughtered cattle from Mexico.

FSIS is identifying and retaining all carcasses of cattle from Mexico slaughtered in the United States and will collect a fat sample from each carcass to submit to the Western FSIS Laboratory for coumaphos testing. Carcasses will be held until test results are received and no violations are found. This is currently taking from four to 14 days.

The USDA Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, which enforces the tick control program, is involved in research efforts to identify the source of the coumaphos-residue problem.

Dr. Phillip A. Pickerill, area veterinarian in charge with Veterinary Services in Austin, Texas, said APHIS has asked Mexico not to send slaughter cattle and horses to the United States until Oct. 15. This will give the agency time to implement necessary changes.

A pyrethrin-based pesticide will be substituted for the coumaphos compound used on slaughter cattle and horses.

Coumaphos will continue to be used on all other cattle and horses imported from Mexico. Therefore, crossing locations will need to have two dipping vats, one for slaughter animals and one for other livestock.

Pickerill said Del Rio and Presidio are the only border-crossing locations in Texas that have two vats. There are also two crossing points in Arizona and New Mexico that have the necessary facilities. Slaughter cattle and horses imported into the United States will have to enter through one of the four locations.

TSCRA Director Jim Peters of Laredo, Texas, says the effect of the new restrictions will be minimal.

"The restrictions only affect slaughter cattle which make up a very small percentage of the cattle coming in from Mexico. Ninety percent of the slaughter cattle that were going to come from Mexico this year have already come over," Peters said.

Ag Briefs

Thousands of government employees who run the nation's farm subsidy programs at the local level are collecting hefty subsidies themselves. The Environmental Working Group, which conducted the computerized analysis, found that more than 4,600 department-paid employees in the county and state offices received nearly $243 million in crop subsidies, conservation payments and disaster assistance for their own farms over the past decade. — Wall Street Journal

Ag research seeks improved management of nitrogen fertilizer

Applying exactly the right amount of fertilizer to a crop can help a farmer avoid excessive applications that cut into profits and use environmental damage.

Dr. Art Onken, a professor of soil chemistry with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, is working to develop a way by which producers can improve their management of nitrogen fertilizer.

"The goal is to be able to apply just the amount of nitrogen necessary for the crop, monitor it and make any corrections needed during the growing season," said Onken.

If producers apply nitrogen just as it is needed by the plants, and in the correct amounts, they can minimize the amount of nitrogen buried into undesired soil areas.

Assessing the nitrogen status of lands has been difficult due to wide fluctuations in plant nitrogen status caused by prevailing irrigation practices.

Ideally, irrigation water should be applied to plants in small amounts every three to three-and-a-half days. This regulates the water low and eliminates wide water fluctuations and the stress-nostress cycles. It greatly improves the condition for using tissue analysis to determine the nitrogen status of crops, Onken said. Some of the more sophisticated irrigation methods in use on the High Plains, such as the low-energy, precision application (LEPA) irrigation system, achieve these kinds of results.

There are several potential methods for measuring nitrogen in a crop such as corn during the growing season. Two methods that hold promise are the chlorophyll meter and nitrogen in the plant sap.

When taking chlorophyll readings, test the lowest live leaf, and the uppermost mature leaf, the scientist advised.

"Most people have looked at the top because it's easiest," said Onken. "We know from previous work that corn will move nitrogen from the bottom leaves to the top leaves as the plant becomes nitrogen deficient."

Reading the lower leaves helps to determine nitrogen deficiency symptoms sooner than by measuring the top leaf. The symptoms should appear in the lower leaves first due to its movement to growing tissue when plant nitrogen levels are limiting, Onken explained.

The chlorophyll meter does no harm to the corn plant, he said. It beams light of specific wavelengths through the plant leaf and reads how much is transmitted. Chlorophyll content of leaves is influenced by the nitrogen status of the plant.

Measuring nitrate-nitrogen in the plant sap is also used to determine the nitrogen status of the plant. A corn plant is cut off a few inches above the soil line, and a drop of sap is placed on a portable nitrate meter to determine its nitrate-nitrogen concentration.

The nitrate meter is a small, battery-operated meter about the size of a pack of cigarettes.

The measurements taken with the chlorophyll meter and the nitrate meter have been correlated to the nitrogen fertilizer rate and crop yield.

"We need to be able to determine not only that the crop is deficient, but we would like to know how much nitrogen we have to apply to correct that," Onken said.

"When we maximize profit for fertilizer application, then we also minimize any environmental impact," said Onken. "If we optimize the profit from fertilizer application, we leave no more residual fertilizer in the soil than if we had grown a crop without it."

Tire inflation key to tractor performance

Improper radial tire inflation on tractors can increase fuel use by as much as 10 percent, not to mention the negative effect it may have on tire life, riding comfort and soil compaction.

Randal K. Taylor, Extension farm power and machinery specialist at Kansas State University, tells how to make proper adjustments and tire inflation in a new farm power publication.

"The two items that influence a tire's contact with the ground," he said, "are inflation pressure and weight supported by the tire. Since the amount of ballast on the tractor seldom changes, the weight supported by the tire doesn't change that much either. So, inflation pressure must be adjusted to ensure optimum ground contact. The only way to achieve maximum performance from a tire is to use a tire table to adjust inflation pressure."

Other information on bias ply tires and tractor ballasting is contained at your county Extension office in MF-985 "Selecting Tractor Tires" and MF-588 "Getting the Most From Your Tractor."

For out-of-staters, the Kansas address is KSU Extension, Manhattan, KS 66506. Or call (913) 532-5813.

It Was News Then ...

50 YEARS AGO

Sept. 14, 1945

Father Thomas Buegler is transferred from Sacred Heart Parish to St. Joseph Church in Rhineland, Texas. Funeral of Joseph Dangelmayr, father of Bishop A. Dangelmayr is attended by hundreds, including one other bishop, one abbot, three monsignors, many nuns and other dignitaries. First day of school shows combined enrollment of 440. S. Sgt. Gregory Hundt of Lindsay has completed a 30 day furlough and has reported to Fort Sam Houston, TX. A veteran of the European campaign, he wears the ETO Ribbon with 7 battle stars, the Good Conduct Medal and the Presidential Unit Citation. He served as an aerial engineer on a C-47. Since going overseas in October, 1943, he was on duty in England for 15 months, then moved to France. He was a member of the 53rd Troop Carrier Wing which participated in the Normandy invasion on D-Day, the Southern France invasion, the resupply of Bastogne and the Rhine jump. Besides these special events, his regular duties consisted in flying in the C-47s to take ammunition and gasoline to the spearhead of General Patton's Third Army as it sped across France and Germany. After the war in Europe was over, he helped bring Russian slave laborers in France to Leipzig Germany, to be picked up there by Russian flyers, who took them home. On the return trip, English and French prisoners of war were taken to their home countries. S. Sgt. Gregory Hundt entered the Air Corps in November 1942.

He is now a patient in a U.S. Army Hospital. He was a member of the "Lost Battalion," being attached to Company B of the 131st Field Artillery, Second Battalion. It was 18 months from the time he was taken prisoner before any word was received by his family. During the 42 months he was held as a POW, his parents received only three printed cards from him, each bearing a brief written message.

S. Sgt. Alois Rohmer was awarded the Bronze Star Medal and a Citation for meritorious services with the corp of engineers. He is stationed in Germany. The citation reads: Staff Sergeant Alois J. Rohmer, corps of engineers, is awarded the Bronze Star medal for distinguishing himself by meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy of the United States from August 1944 to April 1945 in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. During many months of combat, S. Sgt. Rohmer worked tirelessly to maintain efficient operation of his maintenance section. Many times he completed repair work on the front lines, and quickly returned fighting vehicles to action. S. Sgt. Rohmer's outstanding skill and devotion to duty were of great value to his company in carrying out its important assignments on the continent.

Six local veterans are enroute home: T/Sgt. Anthony Luke; Pfc. Carl Schilling; Sgt. Frank Felderhoff; Pfc. Thomas Sicking; S/Sgt. Ferd Yosten; and Marine Corporal Ray Voth. T/Sgt. He wears the campaign ribbon with 6 battle stars, and the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious services performed as cashier of the division finance office.

Pfc. Schilling served with a chemical company in the U.S. and in Hawaii from February 1942 until the present.

Felderhoff, veteran of 37 months in the ETO served with an engineers battalion, saw action all the way from North Africa to Sicily, the landings in Italy, the landing at Anzio and the landing in Southern France. operations, receiving a presidential citation and a merit plaque.

He saw action in the battles from the Marianas to Saipan and from Okinawa to Tokyo. He served aboard an aircraft carrier as an electrical and radar technician and has been in the Navy since September 1942.

Pfc. Jeff Linn writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Linn, written aboard ship in Manila Bay. It reads, in part, "After almost a year, I can seal this letter without it being censored, which was lifted today ... I am on a P.A. ship (Personal Attack). It is loaded and crowded. It is the USS St. La Croix. I am with the Eighth Army and will do M.P. duty on the island of Honshu in Japan. We will be in Yokohama, about 40 miles from Tokyo ... We have good cats here. I sleep near a fan and our company is on the top deck. We even had ice cream for supper. The camp where I had been was near Cabanatuan, Luzon, P.I., about 85 miles north of Manila. I guess you read in the newspapers about the camp the Japs had at Cabanatuan. When I first came in at Lingayan Gulf, I saw some of the boys that had been released. They were simply skin and bones.

The general wants to keep our division together, so it can come back to the states without being broken up. We may get back in March or April.

Back to the food - the Navy has the best bread I've eaten since I left the states.

I've never had a chance to tell you about my trip overseas. I went from San Francisco to Hollandia, New Guinea on the ship, General Hugh L. Scott. From there to Luzon on the other side of Leyte, a submarine fired 5 torpedoes into our convoy. A ship only a few hundred yards from the one I was on, was hit.

All of us have more stars to add to our campaign ribbon. Tell everybody I said: "Hello."

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

Sam was one of a team of horses my dad bought from one of the neighbors when I was a kid of 12 or 13.

We often had cattle to move from one farm to the other, and Sam seemed to be more of a riding type animal than a draft horse, so he was often used for that purpose.

It didn't take long for us to find that Sam was a pacer, and it was almost a pleasure to ride him. Another thing we soon learned was that he seemed to know all about driving cattle, and would get a bunch together and keep them in a group without much urging.

He also had this habit of walking slowly behind a laggard cow and nip her gently on the hind quarter to liven her pace a bit.

It was not a rare occurrence for me to ride Sam down to the creek and fish for half a Sunday afternoon. On one of these occasions I rode the horse through the creek, and into an unfamiliar area.

Soon I found I had ridden Sam into a tangle of old barbed wire, and the horse, not being wire wise, went into a panic and before I could get his left front foot free of the wire, reared back and suffered a severe cut just above his hoof.

I had little choice but to ride him home and see what I could do for him. On examining the wound I found the bleeding had stopped and the wound seemed to stay closed. There was little else to do for him but to try and keep the screw flies off, and let nature take its course.

After almost ten days of treating the cut, it only got worse. It did not heal and was developing a terrific odor.

Fortunately for me, while all this was going on, my dad was visiting relatives in several of the midwestern states and Sam's problem was all mine.

On the advice of one of Dad's old friends I turned Sam into the pasture and let him get a case of screw worms. These pests do not eat live flesh, but do clean out the gangrenous membranes, and if not left in too long, the wound has a better chance of healing.

After five or six days Sam had a real case and, I must say, he was being a pretty good sport while I was busy cleaning the wound - or so I thought.

I was stooped over, intent on the job at hand, when Sam turned his head and gave me a gentle nip on one of my buns.

Well, maybe he thought it was gentle.
