Hits High F, So Is Movie-Bound

FARMERS OF COUNTY HAVE BUSY MONTH IN MARCH, REPORT SHOWS

Cattle and Cotton Improvement
Projects Claim Attention
Of 4-H Members

Brown county farmers engaged in a variety of activities the past month, a report compiled by County Agent C. W. Lehmberg shows.

The report is in part as follows: Ten days were devoted to 4-H club work in March. On March 2, twenty-three 4-H club boys exhibited twenty-seven baby beavers at the Brown County 4-H Club Fat Stock Show, three boys exhibited sheep and two showed hogs.

These calves average a daily gain of 2.7 pounds during the eleven months feeding period, and the twenty-one calves sold in the auction ring at the conclusion of the show brought an average of 10 1-2 cents per pound. The classes of calves shown was a decided improvement over the calves fed last year. Two things account for this improvement. First, better type calves were fed by the boys, and second, the boys through past experience, knew more about feeding and taking care of their calves.

Cotton Improvement

On March 19, 74 bushels of registered cotton seed were distributed to thirty-one 4-H club boys to be used in their cotton improvement program. These seeds were furnished by reputable breeders in the

BONDS OF DISTRICT WATER PROJECT ARE STAMPED APPROVED

Action Paves Way for Full-Swing
Work on Million-Dollar
Project

Final approval by attorneys of $600,000 in bonds of Brown County Water Improvement District was filed last week, paving the way for full-swing work on the district's million dollar Lake Brownwood irrigation project. The bonds were transferred to Brown-Crummer Investment company for cash.

Requisition has been filed for 45 per cent of the $450,000 grant to the project made by the Public Works Administration.

Work on the project has been underway on a small scale for the past few weeks, but a full crew will be employed in a short time, according to Briggs-Darby Construction Co., contractors for unit one of the project. Unit one plans include clearing and fencing right-of-way and construction of seven miles of main canal and an inlet structure at Brownwood dam. Contract price on the unit was $161,424.81.

Plans and specifications on other units will be completed and contracts will be let as rapidly as possible, district directors state. The next unit probably will include construction of large water filtration plant for the City of Brownwood.

Bond Series

Bonds approved last week were issued in two series, $300,000 in Series A and $300,000 in Series B. Refunding bonds totaling $1,493,000 also have been issued. In issuing the $2,093,000 in new and refunding $2,093,000 in new and refunding bonds at 3 and 4 per cent interest, the district cancels $2,495,000 in old 5 1-2 per cent bonds. $1,493,000 of which are outstanding. This means not only a big saving in interest payments, but also complete cancellation of $402,000 in bonds.

Actual filing of the district's share of the funds assures construction of the project, and will be the means of providing Brownwood with an abundant water supply and making irrigation water available for more than 10,000 acres. Requisitions for the remainder of the PWA funds will be made from time to time as the money is needed.

Full crew on the project will consist of about 150 men. About 500 men will be employed on the project at the peak of the work when contracts on other units are let.

CCC REVIEWS ACCOMPLISHMENTS DURING ITS FIVE YEARS OF EXISTENCE THIS MONTH WITH ANNIVERSARY PROGRAMS

Two Brownwood Camps Are Hosts
To Hundreds of Visitors
Over Past Weekend

The Civilian Conservation Corps paused this month to review its accomplishments in forestry, soil conservation, construction projects in state and national parks, and other projects which have made it the outstanding governmental agency created as a result of the depression.

Brownwood's two camps—located at Lake Brownwood State Park and at the Soil Conservation camp on Fourth street—were hosts over the past weekend to hundreds of visitors from this section when they held open house in observance of the fifth anniversary of the CCC.

Sunday's program at the State Park camp opened at 1:30 p. m. with a concert by Brownwood High school band, directed by W. R. Parker.

Program

Speakers were N. H. Lee, park superintendent for the National Park Service; Marshall L. Moore, camp educational director; I. N. Polk, Jr., camp enrollee and company clerk; Chester Harrison, manager of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, and Wendell Mayes, chairman of the Texas State Parks Board which directs work in 16 state parks now operated by CCC camps. Invocation was by Rev. A. W. Anderson, pastor of First Christian church. Captain Oscar P. Houston, commanding officer, presided.

Retention of the CCC camp in the park for another six months period recently was approved by the CCC and the National Park Service. The new period began April 1. The State Parks Board has made application for retention of the camp in the local park until June 30, 1940.

Loyalists Vow 'Not Licked Yet'

NEA Radiophoto

Raising his hand in a clenched-fist salute, a Spanish Loyalist trooper is pictured above, in a radiophoto transmitted from Europe for NEA Service, as he vowed to go back to Spain from France and fight Franco's insurgent army to the death. The picture was taken at Luchon, France, as 4000 Loyalist militiamen, who fled over the border before the insurgent drive on Barcelona, cast ballots in a referendum in which an overwhelming majority voted to return to the fighting.

OILMEN INTERESTED IN DEEP-TEST SPUD NEAR RISING STAR

Drilling Operations Get Underway
Again After Rain During Past Week

Spudding of a deep test by Hayner, Reeves and Hise on the P. C. Larkin tract, 912 feet from the west line and 527 feet from the south line of NW one-quarter of section 40, ETRR Co. survey, 3 1-2 miles northwest of Rising Star, held the attention of oil men this week.

The firm has a block of more than 5,000 acres around the well, which is offsetting a well drilled several years ago by the Invincible Oil Co. on the Finks Winters land, with initial flow of about 400 barrels daily. This well was lost early in 1920 by a large shot of nitro which collapsed the pipe.

Two Are Not Implicated in Frome
Case, Officers Here
Believe

As an aftermath of an affray Wednesday afternoon when two bullets, allegedly aimed at Jack London, local funeral home official, missed their mark, charges of assault with intent to murder with malice aforethought and assault with intent to rob were filed Thursday morning by County Attorney Conner Scott against H. C. Greener, 30 and his wife, Lois Key Greener, 25.

London, in a statement to officers, said he was called to 407 Main avenue, across the street from the funeral home with which he is connected, Wednesday morning, and that the couple in a room there demanded $1,000 or his automobile. When he ran from the room the man followed him into the street, firing twice from a .45 caliber pistol.

The couple, who said they came here from Colorado, Texas, were arrested a short time later at Main Hotel and taken into custody by Assistant Police Chief C. S. Thigpen. Questioned for five hours Wednesday night by District Attorney A. O. Newman and County Attorney Scott, Greener declared he merely wished to talk with London.

Officers state they doubt that Greener had any connection with the murder of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter at Van Horn last Wednesday. Greener told officers he was working in Colorado at the time of the murders, and asked them to check his statement to relieve him of suspicion in the Frome case. Officers will check the statement, and also will send a bullet from the gun, which was taken from Greener when he was arrested, to Austin for examination and comparison with a .45 caliber bullet which killed one of the Frome women.

Bonds for Greener and his wife have not been set, and no date for examining trial has been determined.

MOM SAYS THAT'S MORE'N IT COSTS TO RUN OUR LECTROLUX!

Less than the cost of your Daily Newspaper

PROOF . . .
What Owners All Over West Texas Say . . .

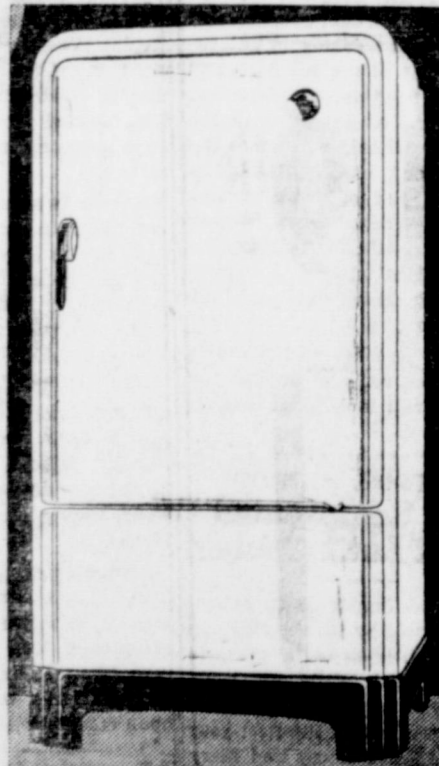

Do I think my Servel Electrolux is an investment? I think it is the best investment I have ever made, and I don't see how I ever got along before I purchased it. I am sure that I have already saved more than the purchase price of the refrigerator.

Food, that either had to be disposed of daily, or had to be refrigerated, making it unfit for use, now keeps perfectly safe until used. Of course this is due to the fact that Servel Electrolux can be depended upon to keep food safe in an unvaried temperature. Food and vegetables retain their fresh crispness and can be bought in quantities, which certainly is a saving. The operating cost is the least I know of in a mechanical operated refrigerator. The fact that the mechanism is silent makes Electrolux "tops" with me. So I think my investment is paying big dividends when I think of the food I save, and at the same time am safeguarding the health of my family by saving food perfectly preserved by my Servel Electrolux.

MRS. FRANK COX, Antelope, Texas.

When you buy an Electrolux your problem of keeping food is over, also your worries as the cost of operation is so small compared with old time ice bills. An Electrolux makes life worth living. Of all things bought for the home for convenience, I prize my Electrolux most highly.

After Storm Lashed West Coast

ON TEXAS FARMSIncome from Fruits And Vegetables

Farmers' income from fruits and vegetables and the income of industrial workers are closely related, according to W. E. Morgan, economist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service. Both rise and fall with industrial activity.

Unless city workers make money they cannot buy fruits and vegetables and without money growers cannot buy manufactured goods.

In 1932 the income from fruits and vegetables dropped to 50 percent of the average of 1924-29 and the income of industrial workers fell to 46 percent of their average for the same period.

In 1937 it is estimated that the income of the two groups was about 90 percent of the 1924-29 average, Morgan said.

Surplus Farm Products Bought by FSCC

More than 98 million pounds of food products were purchased in Texas and removed from overburdened agricultural markets during 1937, by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation in cooperation with the Triple A," according to E. N. Holmgren, administrative officer of the Texas AAA office at Texas A. and M. College.

Surplus agricultural commodities bought in Texas last year included $1,837,440 pounds of grapefruit; 9,129,000 pounds of onions; 6,150,000 pounds of rice; 267,000 dozen eggs, and 534,000 pounds of cottonseed oil which was converted into shortening.

The corporation also purchased 679,064 cases of grapefruit juice during the year in a supplemental program to stabilize the market for citrus growers.

The primary object of the purchase operations was to remove surpluses, stabilize market, and protect growers. The food bought was distributed by relief and welfare agencies in various states.

Texas' Outstanding 4-H Club Members Selected

The selection of Cletic Clinton, 17, Minden, Rusk county, as the recipient of the Texas Home Demonstration Association's college scholarship award and of Elizabeth Harrison, 16, Alvarado, Johnson county; Pauline Miller, 17, Crescent, Wharton county; Ellis Britton, 15, Snyder, Hale county; J. Johnson, state girls' and boys' club agents of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

Each of the girls has featured home improvement work and each has served as president and demonstrator of her 4-H club. From a bedroom improvement demonstration, Miss Harrison's work has resulted in remodeling the entire house. The family fruit orchard is of her planning, and from her garden she has realized a net profit of almost four hundred dollars, yet this work is only incidental to major work in home improvement.

Miss Miller is the winner of the state clothing contest for girls, and has helped 345 women and girls in their clothing work. She entered Texas State College for Women last fall, and made most of her clothes for college at a cost of $16.39. Don't Overlook Cash

Persons entitled to lump sums under the old-age insurance program are being paid 3 1-2 per cent of wages received from covered employment after 1936, and up to attainment of age 65 or death. For example, if a worker's wages during this period amounted to $1,000, the lump-sum payment would be $35. Information concerning the filing of a claim may be obtained from the Social Security Board, 412 Rust Building, San Angelo, Texas.

The "balance wheel" effect of a coal fired boiler makes an automatic stoker ideal for air-conditioning installations. The ever - lowing firebed gives off a constant flow of warmth. By acting as a "balance wheel," the firebed prevents sharp fluctuations in temperatures.

There is nothing "faddish" about fine woods. A doorway of classic elegance, carved from Philippine mahogany, for example, is in no more danger of going out of fashion than a genuine pearl necklace, says the Modern Home Institute.

Presidential Cars ...

WARM SPRINGS, Georgia—Over Georgia's red-clay roads last week drove President Roosevelt in a brand new Ford touring car (license: FDR). In Gainesville, he later took his first ride in one of the new cars which he will henceforth use when exhibiting himself to crowds—a special-built 16-cylinder, nine-passenger Cadillac with handles on the windshield for Secret Service men, a stock of tear gas bombs in a compartment behind the driver's seat. In the ample floor space behind the compartment the President can lie down, if anyone starts shooting at him.

"Swoosh" ...

WASHINGTON—For gunpowder used in salutes to the President and other dignitaries, the War Department last year spent $124,500—or $96,000 over its appropriation for this purpose. Parading expenses, the Department last week announced official salutes henceforth would be fired by inferior powder, thus cutting the cost of a 21-gun salute from $62.37 to $28.35. With cheap powder, War Department officials say, noise made by salutes will be not "Boom" but "Swoosh."

Bill Rendered ...

TOKYO, Japan—When Japanese bombing planes sank the U. S. gunboat "Panay" as she proceeded up China's Yangtze river with a convoy of three standard oil tankers last December 12, Japan promptly promised to make "indemnification for all losses." U. S. Ambassador Joseph C. Grew last week presented in Tokyo an itemized bill: Property losses, $1,945,670.1; indemnification for death and personal injuries, $268,337.35. On the $2,214,007.45 total which includes no punitive damages, the State Department expected prompt payment.

Ninth-Inning Rally ...

WASHINGTON—"It is not too much to say that what we are now here considering today is the question of plunging a dagger into the very heart of democracy!"

These violent words, shouted at a packed Senate Chamber last week by Massachusetts' David Walsh, were the final major volley of the bitter political fight of 1933—waged against Franklin Delano Roosevelt's plan to reorganize the executive department of the Federal Government.

In the first of the two final votes on the Reorganization Bill last week, the Senate decided 48-43 against recommitting it. In the second, five minutes later, the Bill passed 49-42, and the Senate's Reorganization fight was over.

The Reorganization Bill empowers the President to reshuffle any or all of the 100-odd agencies under the executive branch; calls for a single Civil Service administrator instead of a three-man commission; splits disbursing and auditing functions by abolishing the Comptroller General who has previously done both, giving the first half of his job to the Director of the Budget, the second to a newly created Auditor General; sets up a Department of Welfare; empowers the President to hire six administrative assistants. Major basis for the widespread claim that President Roosevelt would give the President dictatorial authority lay in the wording of Title I, whereby Congressional disapproval of any of his proposed changes in Government agencies must be made within 60 days and is still subject to Presidential veto, which can be overridden only by a two-thirds vote.

Day before the Senate voted on the President's Reorganization Bill, Detroit's Rev. Charles E. Coughlin roared against it over the radio: "It will mean that it's none of the people's business how their tax money is used. . . . (It) sets up a financial dictatorship in the person of the President. . . . The immediacy of the danger insists that before tomorrow noon your telegram is in the hands of your Senator to stop the Reorganization Bill as Washington stopped George III. . . ."

For hours after Father Coughlin's speech, anyone in New York City who hoped to send a telegram had to wait at least an hour because the whole facilities of both Postal Telegraph and Western Union were being used by Father Coughlin's responsive listeners. By next day, when the time came for a vote on recommitment, no fewer than 100,000 telegrams had piled up on Senators' desks in Washington and quantities were still pouring in.

But passage of the Reorganization Bill by the Senate did not mean that its difficulties were completely over. From the Senate it went to the House, where Administration leaders may expect the battle to begin again.

Refugee Committee ...

WASHINGTON—Reluctantly forced to recognize Adolf Hitler's annexation of Austria, yet pressed by liberal and racial groups to think up a practical way to press U. S. disapproval of it, the State Department last week issued through Secretary Cordell Hull a statement:

"This Government has become so impressed with the urgency of the problem of political refugees that it has inquired of a number of governments . . . whether they would be willing to cooperate in setting up a special committee for the purpose of facilitating the emigration from Austria and presumably from Germany of political refugees. Our idea is that, whereas such representatives would be designated by the Governments concerned, and financing of the emergency emigration referred to would be undertaken by private organizations within the respective countries."

The statement further added that no country would be asked to receive more immigrants than its current quota laws permit. Invitations to help set up the committee went to Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland and 20 South American republics.

Secretary Hull's invitation was unanimously praised in the U. S. by Jewish welfare groups, the Federal Council of Churches and the nation's press; and prompt official acceptance seemed likely to be forwarded from Great Britain, France, The Netherlands and Belgium. In Warm Springs, Ga., Franklin Roosevelt said he hoped the U. S. would maintain its 150-year-old tradition by becoming an asylum for political refugees not only from Germany and Austria but from Russia, Italy and Spain as well.

Of Secretary Hull's plan, Adolf Hitler last week said, "I can only hope . . . that the other world, which has such deep sympathy for these criminals, will at least be generous enough to convert their sympathy into practical aid. We are ready to put all these criminals at the disposal of these countries, for all I care, even on luxury ships."

The maximum number of refugees entitled to enter the U. S. under present quotas would be 26,000 each year from Germany, 1,400 from Austria, 2,700 from Russia, 5,300 from Italy.

Business: Government Week ...

WARM SPRINGS, Georgia—Rushed by airmail to Franklin Roosevelt at Warm Springs last week was the special report on the railroad crisis prepared by Interstate Commerce Commissioners Walter M. W. Splawn, Joseph B. Eastman and Charles D. Mahaffie. Meanwhile, in Washington, the Association of American Railroads and the Railway Labor Executives Association "decided to wait and see what the President is going to do" before discussing wage cuts. Said R. L. E. A. President George L. Harrison after the meeting: "They told us how poor they were." Said A. A. R. President J. J. Pelley: "And they told us how poor they were."

GAINESVILLE, Ga.—Speaking at Gainesville, Franklin Roosevelt declared that wages and the standard of living in the deep South are too low. Said he: "Georgia and the lower South may just as well face facts. . . . Most men and women who work for wages in this whole area get wages which are far too low. On the present scale of wages, the South cannot and will not succeed in establishing successful new industries." Ascribing part of the South's economic difficulties to old-fashioned feudalism, the President added: "When you came down to it, there is little difference between the feudal system and the fascist system. If you believe in one you lean to the other."

WASHINGTON—Continuing his efforts to satisfy the demand for more credit facilities, first enunciated by the small businessmen's conference in February, Franklin Roosevelt appointed Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. to head a committee to study the problem and prepare a program for its solution. The committee: James Roosevelt, SEC Chairman, William O. Douglas, RFC Chairman, Jesse H. Jones, and Vice Chairman Ronald Ransom of the Federal Reserve Board.

WASHINGTON—Introduced in Congress by Senator Carter Glass with Franklin Roosevelt's approval was a bill to restore to RFC the power to make loans to "any business enterprise" which is unable to find funds elsewhere, RFC's original power to make self-liquidating loans was given to PWA in 1933 and RFC lending power is now limited by numerous restrictions. The Glass amendment is suggested only as an emergency measure to expire in a year's time.

NEW YORK—As the stockmarket slumped to new low figures, gloomiest statistic of the week was the Dow-Jones industrial average of 166.6, lowest point since June 1935. The psychological stimulus for the demoralized grave political reports from France, Pres. Roosevelt's Gainesville speech in which he twitted the "selfish few."

WASHINGTON—Contradicting advance reports, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced: "I would guess that income taxes might run between $20,000,000 and $50,000,000 below our estimate."

Self-Criticism ...

NEW YORK—Labor unions are first on the list of institutions Americans think are "most in need of reform," the Quarterly Survey of public opinion by Fortune magazine this week reveals.

Reforming unions is twice as important as reforming public utilities or stock exchanges, ten times as important as reforming the Supreme Court; and the survey shows that even 35.6 per cent of factory labor puts union reform first. Among executives, 52.9 per cent put it out front. Comments Fortune: "The indignation seems to be directed specifically at the leadership of the present union movement. Some of it is certainly intended for union rackets. Some of it may be inspired by a feeling that Lewis has overplayed his cards and brought a useful cause into popular disrepute. Some of it may even arise from a belief that Green, in contrast with Lewis, has been too inactive in the service of organized labor."

Pastimes ...

CHICAGO—After working, eating and sleeping, most U. S. citizens have some 40 hours a week left in which to loaf, talk, read, walk in the park. But their biggest single recreation, accounting for one fifth of their spare time and a bigger proportion of their spare cash, is commercial entertainment. The U. S. people each year spend about $10,000,000,000 (an estimated one-fifth of their income) for all forms of recreation, including their public parks. One-third to one half of this goes to the biggest U. S. industry—commercial recreation.

U. S. educators are much concerned with recreation, because what a nation does with its leisure is an index of its character and culture.

Northwestern University and the Chicago Recreation Commission, which five years ago began a monumental $250,000 study of public and private recreation in Chicago, last week published its findings in a 176-page report—the most exhaustive study ever made in the U. S. of what people do clandestinely and publicly with their spare time.

The report revealed that Chicagoans spend slightly more than $30,000,000—or $10 per capita—for public recreation; $250,000,000—or $8 per capita—for commercial amusements. Other highlights:

Chicagoans buy 20,000,000 movie tickets a year. They bought 1,500,000 theatre tickets last year (an unusually big year); 155,000 went to the opera; 205,000 went to symphony concerts. The per capita expenditure for music is 20¢ a year. Most popular sports are billiards and bowling, on which Chicagoans spent 5 per cent of their amusement money; the city has 500,000 bowlers. "Horse races were seen last year by 859,000; and $37,305,000 was wagered at race tracks. Chicago has 9,331 taverns (the word "bar" is prohibited by law), one for every 338 inhabitants; of 3,000 taverns sampled, nine out of ten violated various laws, 392 provided indecent dancing exhibition, 113 prostitution, prostitution and other "dubious" entertainments were estimated to gross over $30,000,000 a year.

Regarding the less savory pastimes, the report concluded that the "red lights burn brightest in deteriorated or neglected neighborhoods," that the cure is not moral indignation, nor character education, but better living conditions.

PEEP SHOW

—For Ladies Only—

BY MIGNON

Backward turn backward
Oh time in your flight
Make me a school kid
Just for tonight . . .

All up and down the country side there is a stirring . . . a happy whistling . . . for the old high school Alumni are getting together now-a-days in a happy reunion. The old spring are being settled at a friendly neighbors' house for Dad and Mom must go back to the old High School homecoming. Oh no. You don't have to have been a college kid to enjoy a real and regular homecoming. For no dearer ties are made than those formed in high school days. Back to the same old school house. Maybe you'll find the same old desk in study hall where you carved her name with yours. Back where memory had made a brightbeaten track for you to follow gladly. Many are some. Many whose light hearted laughter once made the old hi balls ring. They shall be missed and remembered more poignantly this year than ever, for the ranks are thinning as your own step is a little slower as the years move on. Your class was few in number maybe, but great in its activities and memory making events. You'll stroll down a lane where the catalpa trees once made friendly shadows for you and the only one to walk hand in hand in the dear long ago. Oh, not so long ago. . . . Wasn't it but yesterday I rode on his handle bars, careful that my third petticoat didn't catch in the wheel chain? Wasn't it but yesterday I wore his senior class ring while he climbed high . . . higher than any other boy in school to paint our class year upon the water tower? Ah . . . he was a gallant hero and daring. Oh happy yesterday . . . your sunny hours have made today a brighter one—Your fleeting fancy-free minutes are images on the hour glass of tomorrow . . . Images that neither time nor eternity can erase.

Here's something new to watch for that friendly editor sends in:

"A new motor car by Ford, smaller and cheaper than any one on the market today, with a welded tubular steel frame . . . a tiny electric shaver for women to be introduced by Shick . . . Corn on the cob individually wrapped in a new parchment paper . . . Cosmetics for mechanics and factory workers to protect faces from heat and dust . . . A new safety belt to keep the children securely fastened in the back seat of the automobile . . . An electric toothbrush made by the Molotod Company . . . Decks of cards with five suits for poker players . . . A device to cook food by radio waves . . . Tests by Westinghouse show that a 14 pound ham which normally takes four hours to cook can be done in a turn in 20 minutes when cooked by radio waves . . . Higher prices for knitted dresses if the demand for wool and worsted yarns increase."

My delightful friend Betty Greig of Tulsa is always like a bright bird on wing—flitting to and from all the places one has always dreamed of going. Betty reminds me of another friend I have who once remarked to me . . . "Oh, that's just fortiora . . . when I had complimented the beautiful glass ware on her table . . . Betty writes: "I've just come home from Bermuda . . . or I may take the week off and take the canal trip again" . . . just like one of us common mortals would say . . . "no I believe I'll cook oatmeal this morning instead of corn meal mush." But she writes interesting and refreshing stories of her travel that makes us all feel we'd been right there, and they land in one of Oklahoma's largest Sunday newspapers. Betty is a sort of female Richard Halliburton but much easier on the eyes.

Those cherry blossoms
From Under the moon
Bloomed a full two weeks
Too soon.
But I'm still happy
If Josh Lee
Or Homer House
With their P. H. D.,
Will show me Washington's D. C.
Of course as a member of the L.A.P.
I'm favorite squaw in the Big Teepee.

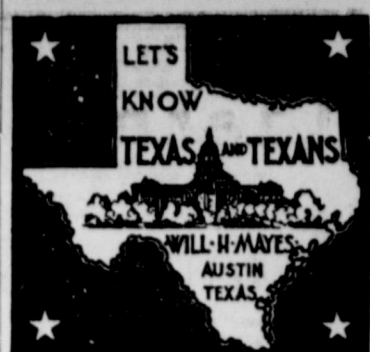

Didst see Helen McMahan's lovely cadences concerning the mock-bird in the Oklahoma Farmer Stockman? They fairly sing. Those trilling notes might have poured from the feathered songsters himself.

I've found the sweetest kinkfoks I'm just like old Bib Burns
San Saba County's bill of them
And how my glad heart yearns
To see them and to greet them
With a friendly how-de-do,
If I had his bazooka
I bet I could, don't you?

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What four areas are being considered as possible sites for additional National parks?

A. Mount Olympus in the state of Washington, the King's River canyon in California, the Everglades in Florida and the Big Bend area in Texas. Of these the Big Bend is considered the most desirable by the National Park Board, because of its extreme southwestern location, its varied and unusual scenery and the possibility of joining with Mexico in a vast international park area.

Q. What was the first bank recognized by the Republic of Texas?

A. In 1835, Samuel M. Williams, secretary to Stephen F. Austin, obtained from the Mexican government of grant from the "Banco de Comerciaria Agricultura," which was recognized by the Republic of Texas in 1836. Ball-Hutchins of Galveston opened a bank in 1847, and in 1858 Ball-Hutchins and Company acquired the good will of the Samuel Williams bank, thus becoming successor of the first bank of the Republic of Texas.

Q. What firm was fined in the days of the Republic of Texas for circulating the bank's notes as money?

A. In 1845, the firm of R. & D. G. Mills, merchants of Galveston and plantation owners, finding circulating currency to be insufficient for the transaction of their business, obtained $200,000 in bank notes from a Holley Springs, Miss., bank, endorsed and circulated them, for which they were fined $20,000 under a law of 1842 that prohibited any person or firm from circulating currency of any kind. The currency was known as "Mills Money." The fine afterwards was remitted.

Q. Where and when was there a prosperous Texas place known as "New Kentucky"?

A. "New Kentucky" was a thriving settlement north of Houston near the Montgomery County line about 1825-30, at which point an appropriate marker has been placed. Nothing is left of the old village except a water well, said to have been dug in 1826.

Q. When was Alleynet an important railway terminal?

A. Alleynet, Colorado County, named for Rawson Alley, an early settler, was a busy railway terminal from 1849, when the route, now known as the Southern Pacific was completed to the point, until 1868, when the road reached Columbus. Much cotton and other products were shipped to Alleynet during the Civil War and transported from there to Mexico and to points west in Texas by wagons.

Q. Where is the village of Bonney, for whom it is named and for what is it noted?

A. Bonney is a little station 32 miles out of Houston on the old Columbia Tap (now part of the Missouri Pacific) railway. It was named for Joe Bonney, superintendent of the line in its early days. It was most noted for the site of China Grove, a plantation home of Gen. Albert Sydney Johnson, where he spent much of his time when not on military duty and when not living in Austin. The site is marked by a monument erected by the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Daughters of the Republic.

Q. What became of the four vessels that formed the first navy of the Republic?

A. The Liberty, after conveying the Laura to New Orleans with Gen. Sam Houston aboard for treatment of the wound received at San Jacinto, was sold there to pay its repair bill; the Invincible, in trying to escape pursuing Mexican brigs, ran aground off Galveston Island and was wrecked by the waves; the Independence was captured and converted into a Mexican man-of-war, the Brutus lost its rudder in trying to aid the Invincible escape from Mexican pursuers and was beaten to pieces in a storm a few weeks later in Galveston harbor.

Q. Why was the Texas fleet returned from Yucatan early in 1842?

A. Houston, again president, ordered the fleet taken to New Orleans for repairs in preparation for a contemplated blockade against Mexico, which was dropped before the vessels were made ready to put to sea.

The whole nation was shocked this week with the torture murder in West Texas of Mrs. Hazel Frome and her daughter, Nancy, as they leisurely toured through the State, en route to visit relatives in South Carolina. The brutality of the crime itself was revolting, and Texas officials rightly are making every effort to see that the criminals are brought to justice.

Apprehension of the criminals will not restore the two lives which have been lost, and, while this should make the highways relatively safer, the condition which caused the two murders will not have been removed through arrests and punishment. It was recalled by officers that a similar crime was committed in the same locality in 1933, which has never been solved. Such things should not happen in Texas or anywhere else, and whatever is needed to prevent them should be done.

Greatest need, it appears to us, in making the highways safer, would be through an increase in the force of the State Highway Patrol. While the force is to be increased shortly to 300 patrolmen, this number is not sufficient to adequately patrol the highways in 254 Texas counties, and at the same time handle the numerous other duties assigned to the service. With a larger number of patrolmen always on the highways, such crimes as we have had this week would be rare, indeed, and very likely could be stamped out.

We should remember that the great increase in automobiles, and their wider use through improved conditions, has opened a new avenue to crime, and one which cannot be coped with by the law enforcing agencies established in the days before the use of the automobile. Heavy automobile travel gives rise to numerous new conditions which must be met by a new and specialized service, adequately manned and adequately trained. The Highway Patrol is doing a fine job as far as it is able, and is a credit to the State, but it is essential to safety that it be increased.

Meanwhile, motorists should take a warning from the Frome murders and other incidents which have turned out more fortunately, and be more cautious on the highways. Women especially, should avoid trips alone whenever possible. When driving along highways, it should be seen that the doors to automobiles are locked; that stops be made only in settled communities so far as possible, and that emergency stops on the highways be as short as possible. No woman should make a trip from town to town unless she is capable of changing tires on her automobile unaided. And, of course, unknown hitch-hikers should not be picked up under any circumstances. Observing every possible precaution will go a long way in preventing highway mishaps and misfortunes.

During the week the Civilian Conservation Corps observed its fifth birthday. The service was created by Presidential order on April 5, 1933. During the five years of its existence, it has forged to a place at the head of the many emergency agencies created by President Roosevelt in an effort to stem the rising tide of the depression as he took office five years ago. Alone of the emergency agencies, it escaped criticism during the past Presidential campaign; alone it has been the beneficiary of a determined effort to establish it as a permanent department of the Federal government.

The CCC Birthday

to stem the rising tide of the depression as he took office five years ago. Alone of the emergency agencies, it escaped criticism during the past Presidential campaign; alone it has been the beneficiary of a determined effort to establish it as a permanent department of the Federal government.

The Civilian Conservation Corps is doing a valuable work. In the forests of the States and of the Nation; in Soil Conservation Service; in our State and National Parks and in several minor capacities, the CCC is doing a valuable work in conserving the resources of our country. It is a work of which everyone is proud; of which even the taxpayer who pays the bill feels is worth the money and should be continued. In performing the duties of conservation, the service is making the bid of this generation to be remembered as one which is making a definite effort to see that those who come after us will find a better world in which to live.

Yet this is not the primary purpose of the CCC. Rather it is the by-product of a service created primarily to give employment to boys and veterans who found it difficult to adjust themselves to the bewildering economic conditions of 1933. In doing this job, the CCC made for itself a place in our scheme of living and our scheme of government. More and more it has become evident that there is a place for the CCC even in more prosperous times. The training, the environment, the educational facilities which are provided by the service are definitely needed to help equip men and boys for an established, orderly citizenship.

A few months ago there was a movement to reduce the number of CCC camps in the United States by 300. Conditions since that time have made leaders at Washington realize that such a move would be unwise, and it is now indicated that the reduction order will be rescinded that the service will be continued at its present strength of 1500 camps. Such a decision will be evidence of sound judgment on the part of Congress.

Fortunately, Brownwood for some time has been the location of two CCC camps. The veterans' camp has been conducting a very beneficial program of soil conservation on Brown county farms, and the camp at the State Park at Lake Brownwood has been constructing a valuable park and conserving the beauty and usefulness of Lake Brownwood for all the people. Present plans call for moving the veteran camp within a short time, but it is to be hoped that the continuation of the CCC at its present strength will result in the camp remaining here.

A NEW TEXAS PRODUCT

Rock wool for insulating purposes is the newest of the thousands of Texas products. Experiments have shown that a fine grade of rock wool can be made from native Texas rock and marketed at a price much lower than that now on the market.

It looks like cotton and is proof against both fire and vermin. Tests have shown that four inches of rock wool has the same heat resistance as 11 feet of concrete.

The rock needed for its manufacture is found in abundance in the neighborhood of Temple, where the first rock wool plant is located. Rock wool is now used extensively in building refrigeration and furnace insulation.—The Houston Chronicle.

state. Each boy agreed to follow definite cultural methods and turn in a report to the county agent's office at the close of the demonstration. On March 22, 175 4-H club boys and their sponsors met at the Shelton Bros. Dairy Farm for a dairy judging work out. One class of dairy cows and one class of heifers were judged. A number of boys gave reasons for their placings. E. R. Eudaly, dairy specialist, conducted the judging. After the judging was completed, the crowd was taken to a trench silo where Mr. Eudaly discussed the need for building trench silos and the benefit of ensilage on the farm and ranch.

W. I. Glass, agent for district 7, spoke briefly to the club boys on the value of 4-H club work and the district encampment to be held sometime in June or July.

On March 23, the 4-H club members who completed their 1937 demonstrations were guests of Brownwood Lions Club. This banquet was given the 4-H club boys by the Lions Club in recognition of the good work they have done in baby beef feeding, cotton improvement, work and sheep flock improvement. A short, snappy program was given by the club boys which was thoroughly enjoyed by all Lions present.

AAA Meeting

A group meeting of county agents, assistants in soil conservation and county committees of five counties in district 7 was held in Hotel Brownwood, March 3 to discuss the 1938 farm program.

W. I. Glass, agent, district 7, was in charge of the meeting.

What Do YOU Think It Is?

Harris Connick, new executive director of the Golden Gate International Exposition which is to be held in San Francisco next year, contends the above bit of sculpture looks like a woman pushing a peanut with her nose after losing an election bet. Terming Mr. Connick an "old fuddy-duddy," Cecile Graham, who created the figure for the exposition, retorts that the work represents a South American woman grinding corn. "Art," the sculptor added, "should stimulate the imagination." Well, what do you think it looks like?

Protection For The Family

We offer an insurance plan that protects the whole family. This plan does not interfere with your present insurance in any way, but provides a special fund for "burial" expenses. This policy can be carried at such low rates that anyone can make the payments. No one can afford to be without this protection when it costs so little to have it. Remember we do not claim this to take the place of your present insurance. This plan is intended to supplement what you now have. Why be without protection when it costs so little?

Our membership is made up of people from every walk of life. In fact there is no one who does not need this protection. All must have the expense of a burial at one time or other. Think it over and get this protection for your family while they are in good health. Remember when health is gone there can be no insurance. Get the protection while you have health—Be prepared for that "last minute expense" that comes to all.

Since our organization five years ago we have paid to beneficiaries in this community more than $33,000.00 in claims. This amount has helped some 219 families. To pay this amount of money we have made only 22 calls. Our last statement shows that we have more than "half a million dollars" insurance in force in this community. Our association is serving a local territory and we are interested in our members and their needs. When you have this protection you are associated with your friends and neighbors.

Investigate this plan of protection. It will not interfere with your present insurance program. The cost is so low you can have protection for the whole family rather than on one member of the family.

We operate under the supervision of the State Insurance Department. Remember . . . only a few cents will put this policy in force . . . investigate at once . . . tomorrow might be too late.

You will note the cost is less than a penny a day for this protection. Can you afford to be without it?

QUICK FACTS ABOUT THE MORRIS ASSOCIATION:

A local association for the benefit of its members.

Claims paid promptly from a local office.

Premium calls made only as needed.

are expected around 2,050 feet. The test will be drilled as deep as possible — probably through the Caddo line — with rotary equipment. DII string of casing will be set on top of the Ranger line and the lower horizon will be drilled with standard tools.

South Brown Well

J. C. VanBebber of Brownwood, George Davis of Jal. New Mexico, and M. L. White of Midland plan to begin drilling operations on a 300-acre block in the southwestern part of Brown county. A gas well on the C. M. Carter tract in this block, which was drilled by VanBebber and which has been producing 1-2 million feet of gas since 1927, has developed considerable oil at 930 feet, 42 feet in Caddo line. Gas from this well and from another on the adjoining J. V. Sewall tract has supplied the town of Brooksmith for ten years. Operations plan to move on a rig to clean out and run tubing in the Carter well, and to drill ten or more tests on the block. Acid treatment may be given the Carter well and the new tests to be drilled.

L. E. Lockhart of San Antonio is rigging up for his No. 1 A. O. Angel, B. W. Garvin suvey, five miles west of May. Location is 600 feet west of the east line and 330 feet south of the north line of the Angel tract.

J. H. Harvey has spudded his No. 1 on the Ryder tract, 1,300 feet west of the east line and 230 feet south of the north line, for a Ranger line test. This is the second new well in the area northeast of Byrds store within a week. H. A. Harrold of Dallas spudded his No. 1 on the Mrs. Bertha Tabor, HT&BRR survey, north of the Ryder tract, a few days ago and is drilling ahead.

Byrds Wells Drilling

Two wells south of Byrds are nearing pay horizons of the Ranger line and are being watched with considerable interest. They are the Whiteside & Smith No. 1 Mrs. J. O. Gilliam, 430 feet from the south line and 1,145 feet from the west line. BBB&CRR survey 53, three miles southeast of Byrds, and the H. S. Wilder No. 1 M. M. Cox, 150 feet from the south and west lines, NW one-fourth of Joe Padillo survey 48, 1 1-2 miles southwest of Byrds. The Gilliam is drilling past 1,945 feet and the Cox past 1,745.

R. M. Rassadale is rigging up for No. 1 B. S. Boysen, Prosper Mangie survey, three miles west of Brownwood, a test of the 500-600 foot sand.

George Christie is drilling ahead on his well on the Kilgore tract in the Blake field, northern Brown county. There are several old producers on the tract.

Owby Drilling Co. No. 1 Tongate in the Salt Creek area, seven miles northeast of Brownwood, is reported drilling around 2,000 feet.

Spike Irwin No. 1 Giddens, one mile southeast of Trinity is shut down at 1,555 feet, 25 feet in Caddo line, with a good showing of gas and high gravity oil. Acid treatment may be given.

HARLEY SADLER

The Harley Sadler new stage show, which appears here for 2 nights, brings many new features, and is considered one of the biggest and best companies that Mr. Sadler has ever carried. In addition to the regular line of vaudeville, orchestra, and special line of plays, the company has contracted for Lew Childre, nationally known radio, stage, and recording star, with his River Revelers Band, which includes Wiley Walker, and his fiddle. Among other vaudeville features are: Mary Layne, acrobatic dancer, the Glendale Quartet, Munde and June, jugglers, Bob Siler, vocal soloist, Jean Oxford, singer and dancer, Jackie Phillips, singer and dancer. The musical Troupers offer an entertaining presentation. Special scenery is carried for each play. Prices have been reduced, ten cents for children, twenty-five cents for adults, and numbered chairs fifteen cents extra. The show will be here for two nights only. Doors will open at 7:15, curtain will rise at 8:15. The opening play will be Little Miss Hitch-Hiker and a new version of "Trail of Lonesome Pine" will be featured. The company will be playing under the auspices of the American Legion.

Texas Stands Next To California in Truck Farm Acreage

Significant evidence of growing diversification in farm crops, highly desirable in the South to ease the shock of dwindling cotton markets, is seen by the All-South Development Council in the rise of Texas to second place, next to California, in acreage devoted to commercial vegetable crops.

The 271,550 acres of Texas land producing truck crops in 1937 was nearly eight times the 35,000 acres so utilized in the state in 1919, bringing the state from 12th place to second. The $19,255,000 in cash income from such crops put the state in fourth place nationally in that table, and was a large gain from the $11,700,000 valuation in 1936.

California, which has been the leading state in both acreage and income for many years, was far out in front in value, with $92,735,000. Florida and New York were second and third, with valuations of $26,745,000 and $25,180,000, respectively.

Other southern states, making vigorous efforts to "balance agriculture and industry" as well as to balance the dollar and factors within agriculture and lessen their dependence upon cotton, have greatly increased their commercial vegetable acreage, too. The report cites a study of Gustave Burmeister, Department of Agriculture economist, showing that Louisiana's acreage last year was five times as great as in 1919; Alabama and Mississippi four times, and Georgia and Florida tripled their truck crop acreage in that period.

Spinach was Texas' principal truck crop in acreage last year, its 50,000 acres representing about two-thirds of the total in the nation, though marketing faults make the income to "winter garden" farmers uncertain. Acreages devoted to other leading truck crops were: tomatoes 46,000, watermelons 46,000, cabbage 36,000, onions 21,200, Irish potatoes 15,000, carrots 7,800, snap beans 7,300, green peas 6,000, cantaloupes 5,200, beets 4,800, strawberries 2,150, green peppers 1,600, egg plant 500, and cauliflower 150.

Texas' progress in crop diversification is noted also in its substantial production of corn, wheat, oats, grain sorghums, grapefruit, peaches, pecans, peanuts and other staple and fruit crops not listed in truck lists. Increasingly better balance in agricultural pursuits will help to round out farm incomes and stabilize purchasing power, the council's report noted, improving the state's rating as an active consumer market and therefore as a magnet for new commercial and industrial enterprises.

Improved roads, making possible rapid transportation by trucks, and improved facilities for handling perishable food products during the winter and early spring have been important factors in the growing

Renfro To Open New Paint Store April 15

Because the paint and wallpaper business handled by Renfro-McMinn Drug Company for the past seven years has out-grown the available quarters for it, a new retail business enterprise, the Renfro Paint Company, will be opened in Brownwood about April 15, according to Joe F. Renfro, head of the Renfro Drug Company with which the new concern will be affiliated.

The old Renfro building on Baker street at Brown street is being completely renovated and redecorated, and modern equipment for the display and sale of paints and wall papers is being installed. Myron Embrey, who formerly was manager of the paint and wall paper department for Renfro-McMinn, will be manager of the new store.

Believes in Brownwood

"We have been considering this project for some time," J. F. Renfro said in announcing plans for the new enterprise, "and believe that general conditions amply warrant the venture at this time. Improved general conditions, together with the development which we confidently expect to follow the establishment of irrigation here, along with unusually good conditions for the production of large crops this year, inspire our faith that Brownwood will find an ample volume of business.

"Throughout our forty years of active business experience in Brownwood we have believed in the town, and have never hesitated to take a forward step in the development of our business. The new paint store," Mr. Renfro continued, "will be equipped to serve a large area and will be arranged so as to make it one of the most attractive stores anywhere. We have always believed in going forward with Brownwood, and no better evidence of our faith in the town need be cited than the investment in this new store with its specialized service commercialization of Texas vegetable crops, the report said. That there is room for continued expansion was shown, however, by the fact that one third of all the vegetables unloaded in Dallas alone last year came from California, and that was four times the amount received in this city from Texas shippers.
