

IMAC purchases AMPI plant

by Janet Felderhoff

A new chapter has opened in the history of what has for many years been known as the Muenster cheese plant. On Thursday, June 18, Dr. M. S. Eddy, owner of IMAC, Inc. International Media And Cultures, purchased the facility and some of its contents. The cheese plant located on the corner of Hwy. 2 and Main Street in Muenster was officially closed Feb. 27, 1998.

According to Stan Crowgey of Klahama, Dr. Reddy hates to see plants which are an important part of a community's livelihood torn up and spread abroad. The huge dryers and refrigeration equipment were bought with the building so that walls wouldn't have to be torn up to remove the large pieces.

Ed Price, plant manager of the IMAC facility in Orchard, Nebraska, revealed in a telephone interview that they weren't yet certain what would be processed in the Muenster plant. The first choice is to dry soy which is used in a number of applications. Soy or a blend of soy and other products might be used in health foods or milk replacers. Second on the list is an anti-caking agent for cheese products. A dry powder of rice and corn is used in this product.

"It will take some time to get the Muenster plant open and running," said Price. "We'll have some things going, but not the drying." Mr. Price said it is their intention to hire most of the employees from the Muenster area. An exception might be the plant manager. He said that they will try to re-employ some of the former AMPI employees since they are familiar with how things operate. Mr. Crowgey will be in Muenster on June 25 to talk to some of the potential employees.

IMAC now has seven plants in the United States. The plants were bought from AMPI and Mid America. Dr. Reddy has plants in England, India and Australia. Many of their products are exported to Europe.

Mr. Price said that they are looking forward to being a part of the local community. IMAC is an environmentally friendly company. Price said that the facility's effluent is very low and that there is no unpleasant odor. "We're good neighbors," he promised.

One reason for buying a plant in Texas is that it will be more centrally located to rice, one of the products used by IMAC.

Throughout its history the products of the Muenster milk plant have been agriculture related. It originated in 1922 when the Farmer's Union was formed to insure prices on pecans, hides, eggs, poultry and cream.

In 1925 the Farmer's Union became the Farmer's Marketing Association and a building was built on the corner of Hwy. 82 and Main Street in Muenster. The first vat of cheese was made in 1930. Milk was bought from local dairies and bottled in returnable bottles. In season, turkeys were processed and packaged. Improvements continued to be made when possible at the facility.

In 1943 the country was experiencing a protein shortage so FMA mixed soybean meal with condensed whey to make a feed for hogs and poultry.

On Sept. 11, 1953, FMA voted to sell to North Texas Producers Association (NTPA). Growth and improvements continued. Then on July 29, 1967 NTPA merged with Milk Producers, Inc. (MPI). In 1969 MPI became Associated Milk Producers, Inc. (AMPI). In January of this year AMPI consolidated with three other dairy manufacturers to form Dairy Farmers of America (DFA) with the hopes of increasing milk prices. In the process the decision was made to permanently close the Muenster facility and the era of manufacturing cheese in Muenster came to an end.

Harry Davis and Company auctioned the contents of the AMPI cheese and drying plant in Muenster last week Thursday. Buyers packed into the plant, purchasing everything from 50,000-gallon vats to paper clips. Janie Hartman Photo

A three-vehicle collision occurred at the intersection of Main Street and Division (Hwy. 82) on Tuesday about 3:15 p.m. Vincent John Felderhoff, 17, of Muenster was driving his pickup eastbound on Hwy. 82, when he ran the red light. His pickup struck a northbound 1995 Nissan driven by Christopher Sampson of Saint Jo. Felderhoff's truck then spun across the highway and struck a 1995 Ford pickup, driven by Laveoda Nance. Sampson had two passengers, Sherry Bonner and Loren Hermes, 17. Hermes was transported by Cooke County EMS to Muenster Memorial Hospital and kept overnight for observation. In above photo, Muenster Volunteer Fire Department First Responders render aid to the injured passenger while waiting for the EMS to arrive. None of the others involved were injured. Evelyn Yeatts agrees to teach county employees judicious health

by Janet Felderhoff

"We all know that the cost of health care is rising," Cooke County Extension Agent Evelyn Yeatts told members of Cooke County Commissioners Court at their June 22 meeting. "Research has shown that a lot of the reason for the increase in health care is that people go to the doctor more often than they used to. Health care now where you pay a certain fee and the insurance picks up the rest, is one reason that more people go to the doctor even more. Research also shows that 60 percent of office visits don't really result in improved medical or health for a person. Most would have gotten better with some self care on their own."

With these statistics in mind the Texas Association of Counties (TAC) decided to train county employees on health care. TAC is where Cooke County gets its health insurance for employees. With a limited staff, they have asked extension agents to provide the training. Also each county is asked to pass a resolution that workshops will be held and that every county employee will participate in the workshop. Each employee will be given a handbook that helps them determine when a visit to the doctor is necessary. Workshops will last from 30 minutes to one hour and will explain how to use the handbook.

Commissioner Jerry Lewis remarked that the information he's seen shows that people using the handbook are cutting down on their health insurance costs because they use the doctor less. The book also deals with safety issues, he said. Mrs. Yeatts noted that the workshops will be offered on two different Wednesdays, two weeks apart, since July is often vacation time. The resolution was unanimously passed 5-0.

Cooke County EMS Director Bob Harbin explained that money ($4,480) received from Senate Bill 102 must be used to improve the EMS system before August 31 or be returned to the state. He asked that it be spent to purchase Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS) training equipment.

The Cooke County EMS ambulances have ACLS equipment on board and personnel are trained in its use, but on-going training is required. The training equipment costs $12,483. Mr. Harbin said that the county, Gainesville Memorial Hospital and Muenster Memorial Hospital had agreed to contribute $4,000 each for the purchase. The Muenster Hospital has since had to withdraw from the agreement due to financial constraints, said Harbin. Commissioners were unanimous in their agreement to pay Muenster's portion with the SB 102 moneys.

Muenster Memorial, Cooke County, and Gainesville Memorial Hospital will all share in the use of the training equipment. Muenster Memorial will now be asked to pay an undetermined fee since they didn't contribute to the purchase.

Plans are in progress with the Texas Department of Transportation to make a four mile stretch of FM 678 a safer road to travel. The road was described by some of the commissioners as being a real bad piece of road where a lot of deaths and bad wrecks have occurred.

"Some of the corners are real sharp and they're going to take the corners and make them longer and bank these corners where they're more of a sweep instead of all the tight little zigzags through there," said Precinct #1 Commissioner Phil Young. Cooke County was asked to pay 10 percent of the cost to purchase the right of ways which at this time is $100. Commissioners agreed to pay their part to have the improvements made.

Environmental Health officer John Pipes requested assistance from the county for a radio telephone. Pipes has a cellular phone which he has paid for himself for the past four and one half years. Originally he acquired it for personal use, but as people learned his number, it became mainly a business phone.

There are areas where his cellular phone doesn't work which is one reason he is requesting a radio phone. The cost will be $50 per month with no maximum number of calls, all long distance calls are 25 cents per minute and all inbound calls are free. Commissioners approved the request.

In other business Commissioners:

- Approved repairs totaling $2,857 to the building being leased to the Cooke County Appraisal District. Rain is leaking in around the damaged red granite tile which is loose.
- Bob Harbin's request to appoint a fire marshal was tabled until all legal avenues were studied by the county attorney's office.

Constable's duties discussed at Commissioner's Court

by Janet Felderhoff

When Doug Dixon ran for the position of Precinct #1 Constable, he anticipated a part-time job. That is no longer the case, he says, and he wants relief or he will submit his resignation.

Dixon explained his dilemma to Commissioners during the regular June 22 meeting of Cooke County Commissioners Court. Prior to 1996 Dixon said that the constable in Precinct #1 probably served or attempted to serve less than 190 citations per year. During the past 18 months Dixon said he has served or attempted to serve 477 citations and traveled over 6,800 miles in the process.

Starting in 1997 Dixon began serving as bailiff of the district court when the regular bailiff, Tom Ellender, is absent. Dixon also serves the county court at times and serves for both justices of the peace in Precinct #1. This takes up more of his time. Also he serves papers for the assistant district attorney, from out of town, and for both JPs.

"This is not a part-time job," stated Dixon. "Now the sheriff has decided that the Sheriff's department will no longer serve writs out of the JP court and he is correct that the constable is supposed to serve writs that come out of the JP court. Repossession, taking of cattle, repossessing people's trailers, getting in their face and saying, 'You owe so much money, we've got a judgment against you. How are you going to pay this? I'm not able to serve all my citations and bailiff courts and serve writs too.'

Dixon said that the Sheriff is correct that constables should serve writs out of the JP courts. He noted that he took the position as a part-time job to continue to help the county, not to be a full-time police officer or a full-time constable. He stressed that money isn't the problem.

"Other than the fact that if I don't get any relief or we don't go back to the way things were, I will resign by the end of this month," Dixon told Commissioner. "It's not a threat, just a promise. I took this job on from James Boone to serve a few civil papers and help out. Now I'm being asked to do all these things that a constable is supposed to do, but never has done here in the past. The sheriff's department has always done the repossession and writs and such to get in people's faces and say, 'Give me your money. Give me your second TV set, I'm taking your second car or I'm taking some of your cows.' I'm not going to do that. I just signed on to serve papers and that's all I intend to do."

When Judge Duncan asked Dixon what he wanted Commissioners Court to do he responded that he needed some relief. Duncan asked if it would help to be relieved of the duties in the courthouse, but Dixon said he enjoyed doing the bailiff job.

"What I'm asking for is relief from doing the writs and stuff that the Sheriff's department has always done up until this point," Dixon stressed. "Sheriff Compton has found out that constables are supposed to be doing it instead of the sheriff's department. That's one reason why they've always had a civil deputy." The commissioners told Dixon that they didn't have the authority to change the law or to make the Sheriff's department serve the writs. It was suggested that since the constable was only required to serve as bailiff for the JP court, that he limit his bailiff duties to that and save time that way.

Cooke County Sheriff Mike Compton told Commissioners Court, "The thought that comes to my mind is if an old boy gets hired to be the cook and he don't like the smell of bacon frying or he can't take the heat from the stove, he'd better go get him another job. The

by Elfreda Fette
Bernice Bartel became the bride of George Spaeth on June 20, 1998, in a Nuptial Mass and double ring vows officiated in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m. by Father Nicholas Fuhrmann, OSB of Jonesboro, Arkansas.

Daughter of Walter and Celine Bartel of Muenster, and granddaughter of the late Andrew and Margaret Truebenbach and the late Frank and Annie Bartel, the bride is a 1992 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is a secretary in public relations employed by Muenster Telephone Corp.

The groom is the son of David and Lou Ann Spaeth of Lindsay. Grandparents of the groom are Elsie Endres and the late Gilbert Endres, and Mickey and Henry Spaeth of Gainesville. He is a 1990 graduate of Lindsay High School and is a presales representative employed by Ben E. Keith Beers in Denton.

Presented at the altar by her father, Walter Bartel, the bride was wearing an elegant traditional wedding gown of ivory satin with sweetheart neckline and molded bodice of Venice lace encrusted with seed pearls, crystals, and iridescent sequins. Sleeves were long and fitted, tapered to points over her wrists. The skirt was bouffant enhanced with cascades of lace embellished with seed pearls, iridescent sequins, and crystals and sweeping to a full cathedral train. Her illusion veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls, crystals and iridescents.

Her bridal bouquet was arranged in a cascade of ivory roses, blush alstromeria, lisianthus, freesia, Queen's Anne's lace, calcein, plumosa and English ivy, entwined with a rosary, a gift from her mother.

For tradition and sentiment she wore the family-treasured wedding ring of her maternal grandmother, Margaret Truebenbach, and worn also by her sisters on their wedding day. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings borrowed from the groom's mother.

In his pocket, the groom carried a rosary made by his great-aunt, Sister Amora Felderhoff OSB, blessed by Bishop Dangelmayr, given to Mickey Spaeth, who now has given it to George and Bernice.

Attendants

Adrienne Bartel of Muenster, bride's sister was maid of honor. Prudy Bayer of Muenster, friend of the bride was matron of honor. Brenda Clark of Lindsay, groom's sister, Kimberly Sandmann of Lindsay, groom's sister, and Lisa Schilling of Denton, bride's friend, were bridesmaids. Jessica Bartel of Muenster, bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid. They were identically attired in floor length, empire-style dresses with fitted ivory bodice and navy A-line skirt of sheer chiffon over satin. Each carried a miniature version of the bride's bouquet.

Chelsea Felderhoff of Conroe, bride's godchild and Sara Clark of Lindsay, groom's godchild and ShyAnn Bartel, bride's niece, of Muenster, were flower girls, dressed in pink. Justin Felderhoff of Conroe, bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

Tommy Huchton of Myra, groom's friend, was best man. John Spaeth of Lindsay, groom's brother; Terry Bartel of Muenster, bride's brother; Tim Bartel of Muenster, bride's brother and Leo Sandmann of Lindsay were groomsmen.

Ushers were Floyd Felderhoff of Conroe, and Jason Brogdon of Muenster, both bride's brothers-in-law and Michael Lutkenhaus of Gainesville, friend of the couple.

Altar servers were Jason Henry of Gainesville, groom's cousin, Clayton Truebenbach of Muenster, bride's cousin and Adam Dangelmayr of Muenster, cousin of the couple.

Wedding music was presented by the Shepherd String Quartet of Arlington offering prelude selections of two "Bach Concertos"; Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik"; Handel's "Overture to the Messiah"; Vivaldi's "Spring"; Beethoven's "Joyful, Joyful"; Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Instrumental solos were Pachelbel's "Canon in D", the "Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin" and "Wedding March from Mendelssohn".

Participating in the special wedding liturgy were:

and wine were presented at the altar by Lorene Dudley of Gainesville and Juline Brogdon of Muenster, both sisters of the bride. Eucharistic Ministers were Sandra and Leon Fuhrmann of Muenster, Doris and Chuck Koesler of Muenster, Paulette and Tom Swirczynski of Muenster, Diane Neu of Lindsay, Andy Bezner of Lindsay all friends of the couple and Karen and Sam Endres of Muenster, groom's cousins.

Church decorations included arrangements of mixed pink flowers on the altar, brass tier candelabra with lighted candles, lighted hurricane lamps with candles in the center aisle.

Reception

A reception, formal dinner and dance followed in the Lindsay Centennial Hall. As a special surprise for the couple, a limousine had been engaged to take them from the Church to Lindsay.

Attending the guest book were friends of the bride Donna Walterscheid of Muenster and Audrey Brandon of Whitesboro.

The tiered wedding cake was made by the groom's grandmother, Mickey Spaeth. The groom's cake was made by his mother, Lou Ann Spaeth. Cutting the wedding cake was Patsy Henry, groom's aunt. Cutting the groom's cake was Mary Allison, a family friend. Serving were friends of the bride Kyla Henscheid, Tammy Chancellor, Donna Neumann, Francine Walterscheid, and Susan Flusche.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on Sunday, June 14, at 6 p.m. in their home.

When the couple returned from a wedding trip to the Poconos Mountains, Pennsylvania, they will reside in Gainesville.

Desiring"; and Bach's "Two Gravates".

Soloists were Kerri Kennedy-Reiter and Roger Dieter who sang as duets: "Sunrise, Sunset", "Parents Prayer", "Father, Make Us One", "Bridal Prayer". Dieter sang "Surely the Presence of the Lord" and "Ave Maria" as solos. Kerri sang the "Our Father" and "How Beautiful" as solos.

Marceline Felderhoff of Conroe, bride's sister, Ka Tina Bartel of Muenster, bride's sister-in-law and Patsy Henry of Gainesville, groom's godmother who gave the First Reading, Responsorial Psalm, and Second Reading respectively. Offertory petitions were read by Staci Walterscheid of Muenster, bride's future sister-in-law. Offertory gifts of bread

Guests included her parents; big sister Lauren; grandparents Robert G. and Gloria Klement, and Agnes Rohmer; great-grandparents Frank and Lucille Zimmerer and Ed and Rose Klement; and great-uncle Ronnie Klement. Also attending were uncles, aunts, cousins and friends Justin Klement; Shelley Klement and Damon Foster; Scott, Zonya, Toby, Tori and Tressa Klement; Chris, Leslie and Kalyn Dangelmayr;

Dwayne Rohmer; and Ryan and Garrett Hennigan. On Adrienne's actual birthday she shared cupcakes with her friends at Tender Loving Care Day Care.

Father Bill Hopkins celebrates Nuptial Mass in Sacred Heart Church

by Elfreda Fette

The wedding of Allison Laire Klement, daughter of Andrew and Emily Klement of Muenster, and Lewis Barnett Rix III, son of Lewis and Irene Rix of Nacogdoches, was held in Sacred Heart Church on June 13, 1998 at 7:00 p.m. Father Bill Hopkins of Fort Worth, friend of the bride's family celebrated the Nuptial Mass and officiated for the exchange of vows in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Klement and Mrs. Vera Metzler. She is a 1993 graduate of Muenster High School and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Communications from Texas Tech University in 1996 and a Master of Science degree in Agricultural Education from Texas A&M University in 1997. She is a Sales Representative for American Cyanamid.

The groom is the grandson of Mrs. Valeria Verkamp. He is a 1991 graduate of Nacogdoches High School and received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Texas Tech University in 1995. He is a Sales Representative of Rexel-Summers Electric Company.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents; the groom was presented at the altar by his parents.

For her wedding the bride chose a formal gown of elegant ivory shantung designed in princess line with empire waist; bodice of open cut lace traced with pearls. Her illusion tulle veil was attached to a band of pearls. Rolled satin piping encircled the entire edge. She carried a bridal bouquet of long stemmed ivory rosebuds.

Attendants

Kristen Klement Ware of

Wichita Falls, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Pam Rix of Dallas, and Kim Rix of Lubbock, both sisters of the groom, and Laura Klement of Muenster, sister of the bride. They wore Jessica McClintock blush taupe satin formal evening gowns with brocade bodices, and carried long stemmed ivory roses wrapped in tulle.

Andrew Ware of Wichita Falls, nephew and godson of the bride, brought long stemmed roses to the couple after Mass, for them to present at the Blessed Mother's altar.

Scott Hermes of Duncan, Oklahoma, friend of the groom, stood with him as best man.

Groomsmen were Eric Atwood of Plano, friend of the groom, Brad Simmacher of Lubbock, cousin of the groom, Adam Klement, brother of the bride.

Ushers were Justin Hartman of College Station, childhood friend of the bride, James Milford of Houston, Mitch Ashley of Nacogdoches and Jeff Hermes of Irving, all friends of the groom.

Altar servers were Jackie Bartush and Grant Hartman of Muenster, friends of the bride.

Wedding music was presented by Raymond Chan, violinist, Ruth Felderhoff, organist, Christy Hesse, Dave and Pam Fette, and Roger Dieter vocalists.

Prelude music included selections on the violin and organ; Pachelbel's "Canon in D" and Purell's "Trumpet Voluntary" for the entrance of the bridal party; "Edelweiss Blessing Song" at lighting of the Unity Candle; "The Center of My Life" between the two liturgical Readings; "Panis Angelicus" at Offertory; "Servant Song," "Lord, You are More Precious" and "I Exalt Thee" at Communion. The bride's mother sang "Schubert's Ave Maria" while the couple knelt at Mary's altar. Recessional was "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring".

During the wedding liturgy Carla Truabenbach gave the Old Testament and New Testament Readings. David Klar led Offertory Petitions and Prayers of the Faithful.

Offertory gifts of bread and wine were presented at the altar by Mike and Cindy Berend and Ed and Joyce Klar, godparents of the couple. The wine, consecrated at the wedding Mass was a gift from Phil McGrath of West Des Moines, Iowa, friend of the bride, who made the wine, and had it blessed specially on the feast of St. Urban, in preparation for the wedding ceremony.

Eucharistic Ministers were Roger and Janie Taylor, Clinton and Debbie Endres, Roy and Irene Hartman, Sam and Karen Endres.

Church decorations included large floral altar arrangements; candelabras with greenery and tulle on the altar; and tulle bows marking center aisle pews.

Reception

A reception followed in Sacred Heart Community Center, hosted by the bride's parents for about 300 guests.

April Walterscheid of Muenster and Melissa Chescher of Plano, friends of the bride, presided at the guest book.

The hall was decorated by Carol Henscheid and Betty Rose Walterscheid in ivory and tulle, with candelabras, votive candles, and fresh long stemmed roses arranged by Janie Taylor. A large summer arrangement of fresh white stock, ivory roses, and Casablanca lilies decorated the foyer created by Roger Dieter.

The wall behind the bride's table held a backdrop of ivory satin and tulle. The table held arrangements of fresh roses, greenery, and gold candelabra.

The wedding cake made by Betty Rose Walterscheid was decorated with basket weave icing, tiers separated with pedestal each layer filled with a different flavor apricot, strawberry, pineapple, raspberry. Fresh roses decorated the top and the base. The groom's chocolate fudge cake carried a Texas Tech "Double - T" insignia, and chocolate dipped strawberries.

The buffet table was decorated with fresh flowers, fruit, and candles. Food service was designed by Roger Dieter in a visual treat, featuring cascading effects in fruits, vegetables, baskets of assorted bread and grains. The menu included bacon-wrapped filets prepared by Rohmer's Restaurant using grain-fed beef raised by the bride's father on his farm, as the main course.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted at The Center Restaurant by the groom's parents, followed by a party at the home of Ray and Kaye Wimmer. Guests included the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

A bridal luncheon was given at noon on the wedding day in the home of Irene Hartman, co-hosted by Pam Fette, Kathy Berres, Janie Taylor, Karen Endres, and Debbie Endres. An array of foods and desserts was served to the bride, bridesmaids, mothers, grandmothers, and out-of-town guests.

The groom and his father hosted a golf tournament at Turtle Hill Golf Course the morning of the wedding. Special guest was Father Bill Hopkins.

Coming from out-of-town for the wedding were guests from Lubbock, El Paso, Amarillo, Friona, Austin, San Antonio, Wichita Falls, Arlington, Bowie, Houston, College Station-Bryan, Sweetwater, Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Windthorst, Plano, Sulphur Springs, Nacogdoches, Denton, Gainesville, Lindsay, Saint Jo, Albuquerque, New Mexico, Nashville, Tennessee, St. Paul, Minnesota, Duncan, Oklahoma, and Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Upon return from a wedding trip to Cozumel, Mexico, the couple will reside in Fort Worth.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Brandy Gilpin and Darren Klement have been announced by her mother, Elizabeth (Betty) Gilpin. Brandy is the daughter of the late Michael Gilpin. Parents of the future-groom are Pat and Ruth Klement. The wedding will be held at 5:00 p.m., officiated by Msgr. Hubert Neu. Attendants will be Tammy Gilpin as maid of honor; and Leslie Grewing, Crystal Klement, Renee Knabe, Julie Prescher; and Gary Muller as best man; and John Klement, Jay Reed, Donny Knabe and Lee Skinner. The bride-elect is a 1997 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed in sales. The future-groom attended Sacred Heart High School, receiving his GED from TWU. He is employed as a beer distributor.

Emily Klement works in a multi-faceted realm

by Cody Perryman and Jerry Stoffels

Emily Klement is the school counselor at Muenster ISD. She lives with her husband Andy, daughter Laura, and son Adam just outside the city of Muenster. She has two older daughters, Kristen and Allison. Kristen, her husband Randall, and small son Andrew live in Wichita Falls. Allison is living in Des Moines, Iowa.

Emily is known around the area of Muenster for the comfort she gives to families in their time of loss and for the joy she gives at their weddings. Although Emily does a great deal of community work, she is best known for her music ministry. In addition to the regular Sunday services, Emily is often called on to sing at both funerals and weddings. She says, "Singing at funerals and visiting with the families takes its toll emotionally." She also admits, "Bringing comfort and helping with the healing process is a great reward."

Anyone that has heard Emily sing knows that music can bring comfort and a feeling of peace. Emily also gets to rejoice with families. She is often asked to sing at weddings. "Music is something that I love, and I am happy to share this with others." She admits, "I get a lot of encouragement from others." Janie Taylor, a longtime friend, gives Emily constant encouragement. "Her inspirations and prayers keep me going when I get discouraged," Emily says. She also credits Pam Fette, the music and choir teacher at Sacred Heart High School, for her help and encouragement. Emily states, "Pam's knowledge of music has taught me so much."

When asked if she ever questions the impact she is making, Emily replies, "I hope I do. Sometimes I get tired and doubt myself, but I continue going on faith."

In addition to her music ministry, Emily makes sure her family gets involved in service work. As a family, they do all types of work. In addition to helping in volunteer work with the church, they visit the nursing home, help raise money for the social concerns and even try to maintain the country road that goes to their home. "I want them to learn about giving and to grow up to be less self-absorbed." The family has also helped at the Loaves and Fishes soup kitchen that serves the homeless. "Teenagers need to realize how many homeless people exist." She feels that children have to be taught to care about others. "As a parent, I have to set the example," she says.

Emily also works with families through her job at Muenster ISD. While the family is the most important influence in a young child's life, she is finding that many children are missing out on the experience of a solid family unit. "The family unit is very fragile in society today." When asked what she would do if she had unlimited funds, her first thought is, "I would set up parenting workshops with counselors to help both the parents and the children." She feels that we can stop the cycle of child abuse only if, "We can educate parents that grew up in dysfunctional homes." She loves children and feels that almost all children want to be good. She would also like to work with the churches and schools in setting up a youth center with an outreach program for those who need help with school or home problems. She feels that young people need to have someone to talk to that won't judge them. "They need someone who will listen without censorship." On a personal level, Emily also added that if she had unlimited funds, she would buy a new organ for the Sacred Heart Church. She would love to go back to school and get her Ph.D. She says that she enjoys going to school, and that one day she would like to teach on the college level.

When Emily came to Muenster ISD she started a Freshman Force 2000 group. The Pals program was already established, but Emily felt the freshmen group needed to have a special identity. At school, these high school students choose a junior high or elementary student that needs extra help in one area of their life. They spend some time each week helping these students with their homework or just talking to them. Both the freshmen and the younger students seem to get a great deal from the program. "I want the students to really learn to care about others," she says, adding, "Many of the students really look forward to the time spent with the younger students. She encourages all students to do some type of service work. "I would like to see this become part of the curriculum," she states. "It should be a requirement to graduate." Emily feels that students that learn to care will become adults that care.

Along with the challenges of doing service work, comes the rewards. Emily's greatest reward is when, "A 30-year old adult tells me that there was something that I did or said that made a difference when they were a teenager." She feels that this makes it all worthwhile. "I feel good when a young person that I worked with does good things with his or her life." She spends many hours working with young people, and it sometimes takes away from the time she spends with her family. This is especially true during the hectic spring season of school activities. "I sometimes worry about the time I have with my family," she says. This year she volunteered to teach the senior CCD class. She emphasizes that the senior year is really hard, and that she "really wanted to spend some time with these students and help them in their last year." Emily adds, "I feel that every child should know how much God loves them, and that He has a plan for their lives."

Perhaps Emily's only problem is learning to say no. After talking to her, it is apparent that this will always be her "cross to bear" as a compassionate person. Her friends, however, see the community as being a better place because of Emily's compassion.

Dyan Fisher earns degree from TWU

Dyan Fisher, daughter of Debbie and Jack Brittain, and David and Helen Fisher graduated from Texas Woman's University on May 16, 1998 at 9:00 a.m. She received a Bachelor of Business Administration in Management with a strong emphasis in Human Resources.

The ceremony was held at Margo Jones Performance Hall. Attending the ceremony were her parents Debbie and Jack, brothers Bradley and Greg Fisher, and her grandparents Vince and Trudy Felderhoff.

While attending TWU, Dyan was a member of Students In Free Enterprise (S.I.F.E.). A project, which Dyan was involved in, went to competition. Dyan was also a member of Society for Human Resource Management. She held the office of membership chair one semester and the office of vice-president one semester.

In honor of Dyan's graduation, a party was given on Friday evening by her co-workers. She was also honored with a brunch on Saturday following the graduation ceremony. It was held in the home of her parents, Jack and Debbie, with Paul and Susie Wilson helping with the brunch preparations.

Guests included her parents Jack and Debbie of Krum; brothers Bradley and Greg of Krum; grandparents Vince and Trudy of Muenster; uncle Mike Felderhoff of Lake Kiowa; aunts Janie Hennigan and Carol Klement; cousins

Thirty-six nurses attend maternal/newborn update

Muenster Memorial Hospital sponsored a medical seminar for nurses entitled "Maternal/Newborn Update" on Tuesday, June 2 at the Cooke County Electric Co-op Community Room. Presented by the Perinatal Outreach Services of Harris Methodist Fort Worth Hospital, speakers were Ginny Gill, RNC, and Karen Shelby, RNC, BSN.

Perinatal Nurse Practitioner Master's program at Regis University in Denver, Colorado, and will graduate this December. She has worked full time at Harris Methodist for 14 years - eight years in Labor and Delivery, two years in the High Risk Antenatal Assessment Center and four years as the Perinatal Outreach Coordinator.

Thirty-six nurses from area hospitals attended. These hospitals included Gainesville Memorial, Clay County Memorial in Henrietta, Decatur Community, Nocona General, Denton Community, Denton Regional Medical Center, and Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Topics included in the seminar included preterm labor, premature rupture of membranes, newborn assessment, thermoregulation and nutritional needs of the newborn, newborn sepsis, pregnancy induced hypertension, pre-eclampsia and post-partum complications.

Good Samaritans abound

A couple who identified themselves as "two oldies from Saint Jo" came to the Muenster Enterprise one day last week to express their admiration for two local citizens who offered help when their car broke down. They said "Mike Stoffels and Johnathan Bayer came to our aid, with battery cable jumpers. A Krane air compressor pulled up, as did others, to offer help. Mr. Stoffels and Johnathan went personally to the garage for us. We haven't seen this kind of valor in years. Thanks to your entire community."

Happy Birthday AMERICA

Sicking, Endres and Huchton attend board training session

Muenster ISD Board members are required to take board training hours each year. Board members Clifford Sicking, Jim Endres, and Neil Huchton recently spent Saturday, June 6 at the Regional Service Center in Fort Worth. This was an all-day training session emphasizing the roles and responsibilities of board members. All board members give unselfishly of their time in the multitude of meetings they must attend each year. This training is just another example of the time and effort board members commit to, when they are elected to serve.

MHS Cheerleaders return from NCA Camp at Tarleton

by Joni Sturm

The Muenster Varsity Cheerleading Squad returned recently from the National Cheerleaders Association (NCA) Camp held at Tarleton State University in Stephenville, June 8-11.

The squad received two motion award certificates. These were new additional awards this year presented after each daily evaluation. The NCA instructors for each evaluation group voted on the team they felt best demonstrated the skill technique for that particular night. The squad also received all blue superior ribbons for their daily cheers and chants evaluations. Because of the quality of their cheers and chants, they were nominated for the Top Team Award. This qualified the squad to compete with other nominated squads for the Top Team Award on the final day. Sanger High School Varsity was the winner of this award.

The squad also brought home the following awards earned in competition with other area squads: Herkie Team Trophy - named after the founder of NCA, this award is presented to one squad from the entire camp that exemplifies true team spirit, unity and leadership throughout the week; Stunt Smart Award - several squads were awarded this certificate for displaying excellent skills in spotting and stunt technique and commitment to team safety; out each day to recognize squads for outstanding spirit and positive attitude. This award was won two days including the final day. Winning the stick on the last day is especially important in order to bring it home for the trophy case.

Individuals were also recognized throughout the week. NCA Camp Instructors were on the watch for those that excelled in tumbling jumps, cheer techniques, stunting or leadership. The following were nominated: Jackie Henscheid, jumps; Kristin Grewing, Kelly Felderhoff, Ashley Klement, and Brittany Haverkamp, stunts; Dee Dee Walterscheid, leadership. Jackie was a winner in the NCA All American competition. Hornet Mascot, Ami Graham also had a successful week attending mascot classes. She received all blue superior ribbons for her performance evaluations which resulted in her nomination for NCA All American Mascot and Award Winner.

Sponsor, Joni Sturm participated with the squad the entire week and was presented an NCA Coach's Certificate.

Shelbi Jolliff, 5th grade student at Muenster ISD, was the $500 lucky winner of the final drawing of Guaranty National Bank's "Pays for A's" program. Police Chief Bob Stovall drew the winning name. GNB plans to repeat the popular program next school year. Janie Hartman Photo

Voth has once-in-lifetime experience

On Tuesday, June 16, Mike Voth had the experience of a lifetime. One he'll probably never forget! He spent the afternoon fishing with one of the Texas Rangers, outfielder, Rusty Greer. As if that weren't exciting enough, all of this was being recorded by a TV camera or airing on Fox Sports network's show, "In the Zone."

This all began in the Spring of 1997, when Mike saw a segment on "In the Zone" where other kids had baseball fantasies come true. He decided to write a letter to the Fox network telling them of his fantasy of spending some time with one of the Texas Ranger baseball players. Well, Fox took his letter to heart and set the wheels in motion. A Fox feature producer, Greg Costa, flew in from California to be joined by free lance camera and sound men.

While fishing at the Ballpark's Mark Holtz Lake, Mike and Rusty visited about everything from fishing to baseball plays. Mike's comments about Rusty were that he was very nice and friendly, easy to talk to and seemed like an ordinary kind of guy.

With the fishing complete, their next stop was "The Ballpark." More footage was shot with Mike down on the field while the players were warming up for the Oakland Athletics vs. Texas Rangers game. Rusty also introduced Mike to pitcher, John Burkett. Mike was able to secure autographs from Juan Gonzalez, Tim Lincecum, and Rusty Greer on a baseball.

Mike and his parents, Danny and Janet Voth, were then guests of Fox network at The Ballpark and received complimentary tickets for the game that evening.

Mike's segment on "In the Zone" is scheduled to air on Saturday, July 4, at 11:30 a.m. on Fox.

FOX Sports tapes a "high five" between Michael Voth and Texas Ranger Rusty Greer.

Sacred Heart Basketball Camp stars awarded

Skills were improved at all levels during the recent Sacred Heart basketball camp. The working four-day camp guided youngsters through fundamental skills to improve their basketball game. "The students entered the camp knowing it would be a working camp," said camp director Jon LeBrasseur. "I am very pleased with the improvement of all campers."

Campers spent a portion of each day on ball-handling, shooting, and team play. All campers had their shooting form analyzed via the video camera. Each camper received a t-shirt, self-improvement manual, and a camp award.

Camp award winners included: One-On-One - Audrey Barnhill, Jacqueline Bauer, Mikey Bayer, and David Walterscheid; Top Free Throw Shooters - Luke Endres, Clayton Truebenbach, Heath Jones, and Nolan Hartman; Hot-Shot Shooters - Nicole Bayer, Mitch Sellers, Audrey Barnhill, and Mikey Bayer; Top Ball-Handlers - Lilly Nasche, and Paul Bartush; Most Improved - Maggie Ferrell, and Micah Flusche; Top Team Players - Matti Sicking, and Marty Ferrell; Top Camp Hustler - Hannah Hess.

Road safety of farm tractors raised by new reflecting tapes

The nation's farmers (or only members) are being led at an alarming rate to and from their fields. They are now being urged by safety and educational groups to protect their lives and equipment with new slow moving vehicle (SMV) emblems and reflective tapes. Ten times brighter than current materials, the new tapes reflect automobile headlights back to drivers' eyes - warning them of slower moving farm vehicles in the road ahead. Daytime visibility is boosted by brighter, longer-lasting fluorescent SMV emblems which resist fading for many years.

New safety kits provide farm vehicles with a bright fluorescent emblem (for nighttime rear visibility) along with a dozen red, yellow and orange headlight reflecting tapes for the four sides of the vehicle (for darker conditions). The American Society of Agricultural Engineers (ASAE) has recently issued a performance specification upgrade calling for the new tapes.

The nearest distributor of the new SMV Farm Safety Kits can be located by calling a toll-free number: 1-877-768-8324.

Fiber is an important ration

Leaving fiber out of dairy rations could be disastrous to a herd because it's vital for proper digestion. Fiber is necessary in the diet for four reasons. First, it maximizes dry matter and energy intakes. Second, it helps rumen function. Third, it helps maintain a normal milk fat percentage, and finally helps protect cows from post-calving metabolic disorders. A cow's fiber needs are met by the roughage she intakes, whether it's hay or silage. A cow needs fiber more than most animals because of her physiology. Though she has four stomach compartments, the rumen, a large fermentation vat, holds 40 to 60 gallons of material to be digested. Maintaining fiber levels provide enough "chewing". Longer fiber particles increase rumination time, which increases saliva, which has the necessary agents to keep the stabilizing chain reaction in the rumen. Fiber is essential to assure microbial growth.

FARM SAFETY DAY CAMP

Telisha Reid and Nick Yosten presented a water safety program to 10 different groups of youngsters at the Farm Safety Day Camp last Saturday at the Cooke County Fairgrounds Barn. Other safety programs not pictured were First Aid, 911 First Response, Firearm, Seat Belts and Fire. There were 188 participants in the camp. Janie Hartman Photo

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

GRASSHOPPERS INCREASING

Just this past week we visited with several producers in the western part of Cooke County and eastern Montague County who have begun some grasshopper control on pasture. Grasshopper numbers tend to vary throughout the area, but it seems that we all are experiencing our share of problems with this chewing pest. Farmers and ranchers should watch for grasshoppers early in the season and begin some type of control during the nymphal stages of growth near hatching sites. Most grasshoppers hatch along roadsides, fence rows, or other areas that have offered protection and forage. Early control means fewer acres will need to be treated with less insecticide. In addition, small grasshoppers are more susceptible to insecticides and early control prevents migration of the flying adult stage.

One method to understand populations is the square foot method. Count the number of grasshoppers that hop or move within a square-foot area. With 15 to 20 paces between each square-foot sample, conduct 18 square-foot samples and divide the total number of grasshoppers by two to obtain the number per square yard. If the grasshoppers are predominantly first to third instar, (wingless and generally less than 1/2 inch long), divide the number by three to give the adult equivalent. Consider fourth instar nymphs and above as adults. Control will generally be necessary when square-yard counts reach the threatening level. Use Table 1 to determine the need for insecticide application to control grasshoppers.

Rating	Adults per sq. yard
	Margin	Field ^a
Non-economic	5 to 10	0 to 2
Light	11 to 20	3 to 7
Threatening	21 to 40	8 to 14
Severe	41 to 80	15 to 28
Very severe	80	78+

^a Field ratings are to be used for both irrigated and field crop locations.

BEEF MANAGEMENT MEETING

A Beef Management and Pasture Tour will be held at the Cross N Ranch at Era on Saturday morning, July 11.

The program will focus on Management of Pastures and Beef Cattle in Drought Conditions. Dr. Ron Gill, Extension Livestock Specialist, will present a noon meal program on Summer Supplementation of Beef Cattle and Drought Conditions.

Hosting the program will be David Alphin, Manager of Cross N's Commercial and Registered Brangus operation. Martindale Feed Mill will be sponsoring the noon hamburger lunch.

The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. Additional information will be coming next week, but mark your calendars now for Saturday, July 11.

Texas weather

This weekend should be dry and warm across most of Texas, except for Panhandle heavy rains. Those showers are expected to spread across the northern half of the state before clearing sets in on July 1.

Only light, isolated showers

Rudy Paclik volunteered Jennifer and Sebina, his donkeys, to be part of the Animal Safety Program.

Robert Ward of Pettit-Ward Machinery demonstration on lawn mower safety included what happens if your foot is caught in the mower blade.

Farm Safety, at left, was illustrated by Phil Young using an unguarded baler. Young showed participants how simple it is to get caught in moving pulleys, chains and PTO shafts. Below - County Agent Craig Rosenbaum uses a black light to show how chemicals, not normally visible, can be spread by just touching your face or mouth, without proper washing. Jack Queen of Red River Farm Co-op assisted in the program. Janie Hartman Photos

Will new century bring higher crop prices?

Scouting for pest control treatment

To maximize the effectiveness of pest control, to serve beneficial insects, and to minimize pesticide use, plan your pest control treatment. Effective control should include a process similar to scouting in crops. By knowing what pests you have, right control method can be used.

Stable Fly:
Small - from .06 to .12 inches long.
Oblong - broad, flattened.
Yellow-brown or blue-black.
Usually clustered at base of tail, shoulders, top and back of the neck, dewlap and backline.

Eggs may be found glued to the hair shaft, close to body.
Grubs:
Adult flies resemble honeybee, but usually not seen.
Cattle stand in water to avoid egg-laying adults.
Larvae may be felt along the backline in mid-winter.
Stable Fly:
Resembles housefly.
Piercing mouthparts project from lower part of head.
Lays eggs around legs.
Cattle bunch together to avoid them.

HOW TO MONITOR Cattle Lice:
Change in animal behavior - rubbing and scratching hair on fence. Patchy hair coats.
Three to 10 lice per square inch is moderate, greater than 10 is heavy infestation.
Grubs:
Cattle running with tails in air or standing in water.
First larvae large enough by late December to be felt by rubbing.
Stable Fly:
Count flies on all four legs of about 10 animals in a group. Treat if count reaches an average of 10 flies per animal.

The USDA's 10 year projections say to look for higher prices, expanded acreage and increased export demand for corn and soybeans. The commodity projections cover 1997 through 2007.
According to USDA, corn prices should bottom out at $2.55/bu. in 1999 and then strengthen to $3.10 by 2007.
The average soybean farm price is expected to rise to $7.25/bu. by the end of the 10 year period. That's after a low of $5.65 projected for 1999-2000.
Corn acreage should reach 84.5 million by 2007, slightly higher than peak levels during the mid-1970s and early 1980s export boom. Soybean acreage should stay steady at around 70 million through 2007.

A rising foreign demand for soybeans will produce an upward trend in U.S. exports, from the current 980 million bushels to 1.1 billion by 2007-08 year.
Increasingly tight supplies and rising prices will slow the annual growth.
Soybean oil prices should stay flat for the next four years, then climb by 2007. Meal prices will push down, peaking in 1999-2000, then stay flat because of foreign competition.

Annual corn production is now a little over 9 billion bushels and should surpass 11 billion by 2005. Soybeans will increase from the current 2.7 billion bushels to just over 3 billion. Total corn demand should grow sharply - assuming the U.S. stays the major corn supplier, and China becomes a major importer.

Food, seed and industrial corn use should grow by 425 million bushels over the 10 year period.

Sanitation notes when working cattle

- Set up a clean table near the chute to lay your supplies. It should be of non-porous materials for washing.
- Power wash the chute and work area.
- If the work area is dusty, hose it down before you start.
- Don't combine two different products in the same syringe.
- Discard any dirty, bent or burred needles.
- Never go into a bottle with anything but a new needle.
- Don't return product from a syringe to a bottle.
- Don't dip needles in open containers of disinfectant. If rinsing is necessary at the chute, use a bottle of distilled water.
- Take apart, wash and disinfect non-disposable syringes when finished.

Monthly Report by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service

The June 1, Texas grapefruit production forecast is 4.8 million boxes for the 1997-98 season. All orange production estimated at 1.53 million boxes, 1.42 million boxes last year.
The 1997-98 harvest was usually complete by June 1 in Rio Grande Valley. Yields were better than earlier reported.
United States grapefruit production is forecast at 64.1 million boxes, orange production is forecast at a record 14.0 million boxes.
The 1998 winter wheat crop is forecast at 132 million bushels, 11 percent above last year and up 75 percent from 1996.
According to June 1 survey conducted by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, statewide yield is expected to average 33 bushels per acre, up 4 bushels from last year. Harvested acreage, at 4 million acres, is down 2 percent from 1997.

United States winter wheat production for 1998 is forecast at 1.74 billion bushels, down 7 percent from last year. Yield is expected to average 42.9 bushels per acre, down 2.1 bushels from a year ago.
Texas milk production totaled 527 million pounds during May, down 1 percent from last year. Revised production for April, 1998 totaled 534 million pounds.
The number of milk cows during May averaged 375 thousand head, down 13,000 head from last year. Production per cow averaged 1,405 pounds during May compared with 1,370 pounds last year.

Four steps to ensure failure on your farm

- Buy machinery to keep up with your neighbor or for tax purposes. Buying to save taxes only works if you need equipment. The government pays a maximum of 43% on a piece of equipment. The other 57% comes from savings or profits. Trade equipment when the projected repairs for the coming year, added to the decrease in value, exceeds the payment for new equipment.
 - Using your operating line of credit to buy land, equipment, stock, or buildings. All operating loans should be self-liquidating after the sale of that years crops and livestock. Finance equipment, etc., with term loans.
 - Don't make a marketing plan. Market your commodities on the advice of the "experts" rumors at the coffee shop. Market your crop more frequently and you have a good chance of hitting the top 1/3 of price received for the crop year.
 - Don't keep and use production records. They require time and money. Successful producers know where they stand technically and financially. Many associations have data forms for tracking production performances. This helps the producers track the technical and financial performance of their operation, while helping interpret the data and give advice.
