

County approves GOP election judges

by David Fette

The Cooke County Commissioners approved precinct election judges nominated by the Cooke County Democratic Party for Precinct 2, 4, 30, and 34 at the regular meeting Monday in Gainesville. According to Texas law all the rest of the precinct election judges will be those nominated by the Republican Party. As of September, 1997, all precinct election judges in Texas are determined by the political party that prevails in the last governor's election. The losing party in each precinct names the alternate judge. Watch for the list of judges for the November 1998 election in a future issue.

The commissioners also approved paying judges and clerks $5 per hour plus $25 extra to the judges who pick up all their own precinct ballots and materials.

John Kent of Gainesville was appointed as constable of Precinct 1 to fill the unexpired term of Doug Dixon who recently resigned. Kent is retired after seventeen years on the security force for Texas Instrument before that he worked for seven years as a private investigator for insurance companies.

David Tharp of Lindsay also applied for the position. He currently works for the Gainesville Fire Department. The commissioners and county judge said they chose Kent because of his experience and because he had no intention to run for election to the position. Judge Russell Duncan thanked Tharp and encouraged him to run for the position at election. Tharp is also a certified peace officer and member of the Sheriff's Department Reserve.

The commissioners' court listened to a preliminary presentation by Municipal Capital Market Group, Inc. represented by Mike Harling and Bob Viterna.

They offered a proposal for building a new county jail and building it large enough to accommodate future projected inmate numbers and pay for the construction by renting out space to other counties, or the U.S. Marshal's Service. They offered fast construction times, competitive financing and no hidden costs or over-runs. "If you need 100 beds, why not build a 200 bed facility and rent out 100 to pay for it," they said. They also discussed having the jail run by a private corporation and making an expansion to the current county jail. Sheriff Compton and some commissioners may visit other jails operating like this to further study the proposal.

Other action taken by the commissioners' court included:

- A bid from Bane Machinery to replace a Pct. 1 brush cutter head for $55,000 was accepted.

- Sharon Parsons was appointed to the Cooke County Child Welfare Board.

- Payment was released for building a proposed county road in the Kupper-Fuhrmann Subdivision in Lindsay. The road was inspected and approved.

- The commissioners voted to nominate Leon Klement of Muenster for election to the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District Board of Directors. Klement was recommended by Precinct Four Commissioner, Virgil Hess.

Fischer's Market honored at Minneapolis convention

by Elfreda Fette

John and Louise Fisher accepted a special recognition for Fischer's Meat Market when they attended a convention of the National Association of Meat Processors in Minneapolis on July 9-12. Also honored were two other plants in the U.S., one in Wisconsin and one in Minnesota.

"Most informative were the four days of activities and meetings," said the Fishers. On the third day, the Fischer's Meat Market program was highlighted in a one-hour slide presentation by Bob Bowlin, engineer of Fischer's recent expansion project during non-stop business. Bowlin was also the engineer on Fischer's construction in the seventies.

The honor was bestowed to Fischer's Meat Market because of the very unusual story about their new facilities being constructed over and around the old, without the loss of a single hour of business. Construction is finished except for a clock tower that will be added this fall to the front of the store.

Johnny and Butch Fisher own and operate Fischer's Meat Market, a 70 year old mainstay of the community, started by their father and uncle in 1927 and taken over by the brothers in 1975.

Their story was told in a lengthy feature article in Meat Business Magazine in June 1998, the "Ideas Magazine For Processors and Retailers." It detailed their history, commitment to the community of Muenster; anxious moments when they struggled to secure space for needed expansion; and their decision to turn to Bob Bowlin of Bowlin Engineering Co. of Fort Worth, to design a new building. For Bowlin, this design project was a professional delight because he was their designer and project engineer for the 1971 processing plant.

Yvonne Ambrose, F.N.P. has joined the practice of Dr. Edd Advincula at the Muenster Memorial Hospital Family Health Clinic. She is an Advanced Practice Nurse specializing in family practice. After many years of commuting to Denton to work she is looking forward to serving the Muenster area community and supporting the efforts of the Muenster Memorial Hospital district.

"Many people don't seem to understand the role of the nurse practitioner (NP)," said Yvonne. "It is not a new role. In fact, nurse practitioners have been serving medically underserved areas for the past 60 years. NPs work in all 50 states and Washington, DC, in many health care settings. We can work independently in our own health care offices or in collaboration with physicians; we also may work in clinics, hospitals, out-patient facilities, nursing homes, schools, businesses, correctional facilities, or in home health agencies.

"The philosophy of advanced practice nursing is caring-centered, that is what nurses do best. This addition to the medical management, that is curing-centered, adds a dimension that together creates a holistic approach to the patient. NPs concentrate on early detection of illness and emphasize disease prevention by providing education for patients."

As health care providers, NPs are trained and qualified to: obtain health histories and perform physical exams, including women's gynecological exams; diagnose and treat common illnesses and injuries; recognize complicated medical conditions that require referral; manage chronic medical conditions such as diabetes and high blood

"Muenster Proud" to be organized by Daryl Ferber

An effort to bring together citizens, churches, schools and organizations for a clean environmental and beautiful area was begun last Thursday evening. The meeting of 17 invited participants who represented Muenster organizations was called by Mary Lee Alford.

The Alford's became interested and involved in trash pick up along 373 where they have purchased 220 acres. They chose the Muenster area because of its attractive appearance, businesses, and this location of Texas, for their future retirement home. Mary Lee contacted the Texas State Highway Department to learn what could be done about trash problems and decided to go all out in trying to help Muenster and the community. She made and distributed informative booklets to the group on trash laws, beautification, and "Proud" organizations.

Gary Fisher spoke on his experience in 1985, taking part in the "Keep Texas Beautiful" contests. With his leadership and the help of many volunteers, Muenster won a $20,000 award in 1986 for cities in their category. There was also a metal plaque which has been in the library. The group would like to see this plaque be more visible by placing it at the roadside area by the park. This and other state contests have continued. After being contacted by Alford, Gary became interested in trying again in some of the contests and he liked her idea in becoming a "Muenster Proud" organization.

Larry Lange, environmental deputy with Cooke County Sheriff's Department, spoke on his job, the problems he has found, and what can be done legally for trash problems. Things became bad after the closing of dump sites, he said, so people are dumping everywhere, especially in the eastern part of the county. He writes tickets, makes the offenders return to pick up what they dumped, and fines are assessed.

Muenster VFD responded to a pasture fire north of Muenster last Thursday afternoon. Assisted by the Saint Jo VFD, only 5 to 6 acres of windrowed grass hay was lost. No official cause could be given for the fire. If the extra dry conditions continue, fires may increase. A burn ban has not been placed on Cooke County at this time. Janie Hartman Photo

How will the water district bond issue affect my water tax?

by Steve Broyles
NOTE: This is the seventh article on the Muenster Water District Bond Election.

Last week's article discussed how the available funds will be spent. This week's article will discuss how the 1998 bond funds will be spent.

There is still $700,000 in bonds to be issued from the 1983 bond passage, which will occur in conjunction with the issuance of the $1,750,000 bonds. These bonds will be added to the additional $1,750,000 being voted on August 8, for a total bond requirement of $2,450,000. These funds will be spent as shown below:

Construction Costs:
Muenster Lake Construction Costs	$1,670,775
Muenster Lake Construction Related Administration Costs	$ 384,000
Muenster Lake and Recreation Facilities Engineering Costs	$ 42,063
Municipal Water Supply Outlet Structure Construction Costs	$189,500
Municipal Water Supply Outlet Structure Engineering Costs	$ 28,500
Water Rights	$ 3,000
Initial Equipment Purchase to Maintain Dam (Mowers, etc.)	$ 68,237
TOTAL CONSTRUCTION COSTS:	$2,386,075

Nonconstruction Costs:
Bond Legal Fees	$ 20,000
Bond Fiscal Agent Fees	$ 18,600
Administration and Printing Bonds	$11,000
TNRCC Bond Issuance Fee	$ 6,125
Bond Application Report	$ 8,200
TOTAL NONCONSTRUCTION COSTS:	$ 63,925

TOTAL BOND ISSUE REQUIREMENT: $2,450,000

NOTE: Keep in mind that the federal government will spend $6,000,000 on this project-federal funds supporting Muenster taxpayers!

This bond issuance will raise Muenster Water District property taxes about $0.20 per $100 value. This is about a 44 percent increase in Muenster Water District property taxes. The following compares a projection of increased Muenster Water District property taxes and how it will affect a taxpayer:

*Net Value of the Property	1997 Tax Bill (0.2489)	1999 Tax Bill (0.4489)	Projected Increase from 1997 to 1999
$ 50,000	$124.45	$224.45	$100.00
$ 75,000	$186.68	$336.68	$150.00
$100,000	$248.90	$448.90	$200.00

*Reflects value after exemptions

Next week's article will discuss what will happen if the bond issue fails.

Their story and many pictures were shown by Bob Bowlin in a one hour slide program he proudly presented at the Convention at the National Association of Meat Processors in Minneapolis, on July 9-12, attended by John and Louise Fisher.

Bowlin told the delegates assembled, "This fall, when the clock tower tops off the new facilities, Fischer's Market will be a tribute to the owners' planning, the engineer's skill in designing for regulations and plant efficiency, and a family's long-time commitment to Muenster."

revealed that the state spends a large amount of money for cleanup of highways, one year $8520 million, and $80 thousand in Cooke County this past year. "Don't Mess With Texas" is not only a threat, there's a "bite" to the slogan, with substantial fines for littering - up to $1000 with penalties, Class C, B or A misdemeanors. If someone sees a violation, they should note date, time, location, license number, and items dumped. After July 31, this information can be sent to Linda Levitt, Travel Information Division, 123 E. 11th St. Austin, TX 78701, or information can be given to local authorities. Bell explained the state puts up signs, gives vests, bags, etc. for the "Adopt A Highway" program, which is a commitment for two years.

After the speakers, the meeting was opened for ideas, suggestions, etc. for the trash problems and beautifying of Muenster. It was noted that an attractive and clean city brings in tourists. Among the suggestions; more recycling (city bins are now at the city lot on Second Street); beer container deposit idea should be reinstated; do "Adopt A Highway" again; Ricky Walterscheid wants to see the "Yard of the Month" project done again; get schools and young people interested before they reach the age of throwing cans out the windows; put something attractive at both city entrances on Hwy. 82; urge businesses along Hwy. 82 to beautify their places, such as The Center, Fina Station, and Chamber of Commerce have done.

Ideas for Main Street were: more outside attractions; more German style businesses, such as Fischer's Market and Crafty Olde German have done; benches for visitors to rest, as in front of Brookes-Reynolds Interiors. Johnny Rohmer was complimented on his hard work and continued maintenance of the street corners beautification spots.

The enthusiastic group agreed they wanted to form a "Muenster Proud" organization and will do so on August 13 at 7 p.m. After representatives have reported from their organizations, officers will be chosen and dues set (for operating expenses). Membership will be open to organizations, schools, businesses and individuals, etc. The objectives will be to make Muenster and area, one of the cleanest and prettiest cities possible and to try for a 1999 state award.

Mary Lee Alford can be reached at 759-2368 for questions and suggestions.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
I definitely agree with Governor George W. Bush when he states there are some issues to fight for that are greater than life itself. To me that issue is Initiative and Referendum (the power of the petition) for the registered voters in the state of Texas. This power is available in all of our home rule cities to their citizens in city government, but not so to our citizens in our state government at Austin. There we are denied active participation in the legislative processes, and Initiative and Referendum is the only known tool to achieve this citizen participation in the legislative processes. Yes, I wish to be able to actively participate in the legislative processes of our state government and for that privilege to be available to all registered voters in our state. Oh yes, in reality Article 1 - Section 2 and Article 1 - Section 27 of our current State Constitution's Bill Of Rights clearly gives that power of the petition to Texas citizens and has since 1846, but these 2 articles have never been, and will never be activated.

Initiative and Referendum is a badly needed check and balance in our state government as it will insure that a voice other than that of lobbyist and their cash will be available to influence the votes of our State Legislators. We must never give up, but come back again & again & again until we finally win and see I&R on the ballot as a constitutional amendment for a vote of the people.
Yours for a better Texas,

Letter to the Editor,
A 10 has been added to the dial around number for our long distance service (example, AT&T's # which was 10288, is now 1010288). The area is in your local telephone book. To use your long distance carrier within the LATA area, you dial the Pic # and then 1, then the area code, and then the telephone number. In most cases this will result in a saving on your long distance call. For those using Excel service the number would be changed from 10752 to 1010752. You can check with your designated long distance carrier for the proper pic #.

In 1996 there was national legislation passed setting up that we can designate who we wish to carry our long distance calls through the local telephone company and the Bell systems.
I appreciated the notice by the local telephone company that the problems of not being able to place long distance calls was not the fault of your Long Distance Carrier.

I am hopeful that everyone will sign the petition for adding Saint Jo to our extended calling service. Any one that has any questions about this, please call and I will be glad to pass on any information I received from the Utility Commission of Texas.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

A day or two back while watching a program on T.V., I chanced to see a large flock of white turkeys that was the subject of some discussion. I had little or no interest in the program, but it did remind me of an incident that occurred in the early 60s, when Donny Trubenbach was in the business of raising turkeys on a wholesale basis. He didn't just have a hundred or two, but more like 10,000 birds, all kept in open pens where trees provided abundant shade.
One Sunday afternoon Aileen and I picked up Martin and Lena Mae Trubenbach, Donny's parents, and along with one of their nieces we drove to the turkey farm to see what there was to see.
I have seen small flocks of turkeys running free on farms all my life, but seeing so many grown turkeys all in one place was a new experience - especially when Martin stepped up beside the pen and let out a loud "Gobble, gobble."

Well, the birds took it up and as we watched and listened they sent out a wave of "gobbles" that traveled the length of the pens before coming to an end.
These captive birds seem to be interested in just about any movement that occurs, and will crowd around anyone who might walk through them, at the same time sending out another wave of "gobbling" that can be a bit scary to the uninitiated.
Martin had told me that anyone who walked among the birds need only to keep their cool and walk calmly and quietly, and the turkeys would crowd around and follow awhile and then lose interest.

About then the niece, an attractive girl of sixteen or seventeen, asked me if I would walk through the flock with her.
I wasn't too keen on the idea, but agreed, and as we began, I told her that regardless of what might happen she was to stay calm and cool. "You bet," she said, but before we had gone 20 or 30 feet she yelled as the birds crowded round. The more excited she became, the louder the flock "gobbled," adding to her fear, and the next thing I knew the young lady took a long jump, landing in my arms, and to make a long story short, I simply carried her out of the pen as quickly as possible, while the birds seemed to cheer me on with another loud "gobble."

Area shows lack of moisture

Hot and dry are adjectives that are commonly used to describe Texas summers. This summer the combination of many days of temperatures over 100 degrees, windy conditions, and minimal moisture is causing crop failures, lack of adequate grazing in area pastures. Also there is a bumper crop of grasshoppers that thrive on the present conditions. They have been chewing their way through the vegetation that is hardly enough to withstand the lack of rain. Without relief, some feel that area farmers and ranchers may soon have to begin to sell off herds. Grassfires are becoming a more frequent threat in Cooke County and caution is urged.

During the 1997-98 year, which runs from March to March each year, she received her Mrs. Albee award and her cup and saucer. These awards are presented as a representative achieves specific dollar amounts.

On July 9, Evelyn was awarded this year's Mrs. Albee with qualifying sales of $9,400. She reached this goal in 12 weeks and was the 2nd in her district out of over 300 representatives to receive this year's Mrs. Albee.

The Mrs. Albee figurine represents the first AVON lady who over 100 years ago became a "working woman," who after her husband died had to support her children, going door to door selling for the California Perfume Company. Mrs. Albee was well received because the lady of the house was so happy to see the product and shop at home, as their travels into town were limited.

David and Juanita Bright honored on 45th anniversary

The children of Juanita and David Bright gathered recently from far and wide to fete their parents in observance of their 45th wedding anniversary. David, Jr. with his children Jessica, Morgan, David and Aliecia came in from Mt. Pleasant, South Carolina; Lola with husband Frank Rust and children Julia and James came from Era; Lt. Col. Joseph A. Bright flew in from Fayetteville, North Carolina; Lt. Col. R. Thomas Bright, with wife Denise, and nephew Nicholas Odle came from Oceanside, California; while Sam Bright with wife Elaine and children Ben and Bonnie came in from San Antonio; Julia with husband Brian Beattie and young daughter Audrey flew in from Medford, Oregon and Major James M. Bright arrived from Kailua, Hawaii to complete the family circle.

First to arrive came in on June 26, with the last departing on July 8.

Juanita and David Bright were married on July 2, 1953 in the old Parish Hall of Sacred Heart Parish with Father Thomas Weinzapfel, her brother officiating. For the next 14 years they lived in Florida, Alaska, Virginia, Germany and North Carolina, while David served in the U.S. Air Force. Upon his retirement in 1967 they settled in Muenster.

All the family, along with relatives and friends attended Mass at 5:00 p.m. on July 4 to celebrate the occasion. Msgr. Weinzapfel was celebrant, with Father Tom Craig assisting, who made a special mention of their presence.

Participating in the Mass were Joseph and Thomas who gave the First and Second Liturgical Readings, while James offered Petitions and Prayers of the Faithful. David, Jr. served as an Eucharistic Minister. Sam with wife Elaine, and Brian Beattie and Denise Bright presented Offertory gifts of bread and wine.

Julia Beattie, on the flute accompanied Ruth Felderhoff, organist and Christi Hesse with Frank Rust in singing.

Following Msgr. Weinzapfel's homily, he asked the anniversary couple to come to the altar for a special blessing.

Following Mass, the family, relatives and a few close friends gathered at the home of Lola and Frank Rust in Era for a sumptuous meal. Their home was beautifully decorated with floral arrangements and minimalist twinkling lights strung about the patio, walkways and trees, providing the setting for meal and reminiscing.

Out of town relatives attending the affair were Msgr. Tom Weinzapfel, Mary Birden of Denton, Dora Jackson of Azle, sisters of Juanita; Anita Cox of Fort Worth, a niece; Andy Birden of Denton and nephew with wife Sophia and son Joshua.

Area business leaders plan Camporee for Boy Scouts

Volunteers from area businesses have begun putting plans together for the first council-wide Boy Scout Camporee in four years. The Camporee will be November 6-8 at the Texas Motor Speedway and is expected to attract as many as 10,000 scouts from the 11-county Council area.

The committee will work between now and the November event to raise funds for Camporee, plan scouting activities for the thousands who attend and to generate interest among the 825 scout troops in the Council area.

The Longhorn Council involves 20,000 youngsters in scouting throughout Tarrant, Cooke, Denton, Wise, Jack, Palo Pinto, Hood, Somervell, Johnson, Young and Parker Counties.

Roller coaster launching chills daily at Six Flags

Mr. Freeze - the Coolest Coaster on the Planet, the newest ride at Six Flags Over Texas, is launching chills every minute - to the delight of thrill seekers visiting from around the world.

This dynamic high-tech roller coaster - named after Batman's cold-hearted arch rival in the DC Comics "Batman" comic book series - launches riders to speeds of 70 mph within 3.78 seconds... and to a height of 236 breathtaking feet. This monument to chills has Texas-sized bragging rights - the tallest and fastest roller coaster in the Southwest.

Mr. Freeze uses linear induction motors to propel riders at such high speeds. This technology, which uses a system of magnetic waves, is being studied by the U.S. Navy for use in launching airplanes from 21st century aircraft carriers. NASA is looking at the technology as a possible means of propelling the Space Shuttle.

TDH urges swimmers to be cautious in stagnant water

With the temperature rising and few signs of rain drops coming, more and more people look to cool off at outdoor water spots. But as the heat goes up and water levels in rivers, lakes, ponds and streams go down, the potential for health problems grows.

"You can look at the problems associated with swimming in fresh water like a pyramid," said James Perdue of the Infectious Disease Epidemiology and Surveillance Division at Texas Department of Health (TDH). "At the broad bottom, you have a lot of microorganisms and bacteria that can cause such mild problems as ear infections, swimmer's itch or intestinal diseases. At the top point, you have the very dangerous but relatively rare problems such as primary amebic meningoencephalitis."

This infection, also known as PAM, is caused by a common microorganism found in most all untreated surface water and all types of soil. It is a combination of lower water levels, high water temperature and stagnant or slow moving water that produces the problems, Perdue said.

During drought and high temperature conditions, concentrations of the amoeba increase as they feed on the bacteria in the warm water. The organisms thrive at temperatures above 80 degrees F but do not multiply at temperatures below 40 degrees F.

Infection occurs when water containing the organisms is forcefully inhaled - usually from diving, jumping or underwater swimming - and infects the brain. Although this infection is rare, affecting only about one person a year, for those infected death occurs usually within a week. Symptoms of the infection include severe headache, high fever, stiff neck, nausea, vomiting, seizures and hallucinations as the condition worsens. People who are infected do not infect others.

Swimming pools properly cleaned, maintained and treated with chlorine generally are safe as is salt water.

TDH offers this recommendation to avoid infection:

- Never swim in stagnant or polluted water. Take "N Swimming" signs seriously.
 - Hold your nose or use plugs when jumping into water.
 - Swim in properly maintained pools when possible.
 - Keep wading pools clean and change the water daily.
 - Wash open skin cuts and scrapes with clean water and soap.
 - Avoid swallowing water when swimming.
 - Use ear plugs, swim goggles or masks if you tend to get ear or eye infections.
 - To help keep potential sources of infection out of recreational water:
 - Shower before swimming.
 - Take young children to the restroom frequently.
 - Children who are not toilet trained should wear a swimsuit or rubber pants over diaper designed to prevent leaks. Check diapers frequently.
- Perdue said that even more common dangers associated with lakes and rivers include injuries from diving into waters that hide rocks and debris or into waters that are too shallow, using alcohol or drugs, and leaving children unattended.

They found a way to alleviate grasshopper scourge in Minnesota

An intriguing story sent to us by a reader relates circumstances surrounding an invasion of grasshoppers into a Minnesota town, and the solution to their problem reached by the townspeople. Their solution was not at all unusual, and totally understandable.

The story tells that a series of catastrophes mindful of God's punishment of ancient Egypt, occurred in Minnesota in 1856-57 when seven plagues of locusts, known as Rocky Mountain grasshoppers struck the area of Stearns County, Minnesota. The story was verified in the History of the Upper Mississippi Valley, published by N.H. Winchell, 1881. The destructiveness increased year after year, bringing the state to its knees more than a century ago.

The crisis came to a head in April, 1877, as related in a story in Immaculate Magazine by Tony Ryan. He said "Trillions of grasshopper eggs lay ready to hatch...Minnesota's governor responded to pleas of religious bodies...the governor called a statewide day of prayer...during the night of April 26, a cold rain began to fall (it still gets cold in Minnesota in April)...the wind shifted...rain turned to snow...and then to sleet...On April 28 farmers found grasshoppers frozen just as they were hatching...Harvest that year was the most bountiful in the state's history...The Sunday before the official day of prayer, several Catholic parishes vowed to build a chapel in honor of Mary, if God would grant them deliverance...Goad to their word they raised a small wooden chapel...on a high hill near Cold Spring...it became known as the Grasshopper Chapel...A tornado blew it away in 1894...58 years later it was replaced by a granite jewel that stands today as a living sign of the power of prayers answered in a time of peril."

This story was shared with us by Irene, Mrs. Ray Klement.

UDC Chapter organizing

The United Daughters of the Confederacy is in the process of organizing a new chapter in the Cooke, Denton, Montague, and Wise County areas. The Lucy Holcomb Pickens Chapter (based in Gainesville) named in honor of the only lady to have her image appear on C.S.A. currency, is looking for ladies who are no less than sixteen years of age, being the blood descendants, lineal or collateral of men or women who served honorably in the Army, Navy, or Civil Service of the Confederate States of America, or gave material aid to the cause.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy is outgrowth of many local memorial, monument, Confederate home associations and auxiliaries to camps of Confederate Veterans which were organized after the War Between the States.

In war and peace, the United Daughters of the Confederacy yields to none in its devotion to patriotic services and its loyalty to our beloved United States of America. Muenster area host families needed now for exchange students Foreign high school students are scheduled to arrive soon for academic semester and year homestays, and the sponsoring organization needs a few more local host families.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (P.I.E.) Executive Director, John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, are English-speaking, have their own spending money, carry accident and health insurance, and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. P.I.E. currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

Muenster area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting with a community representative may call P.I.E., toll-free, at 1-800-631-1818 or via the internet at <http://www.pieusa.org>. The agency also has travel/study program opportunities available for American high school students as well as possibilities for community volunteers to assist and work with area host families, students and schools.

Germany with her host family and schoolmates, she will learn about U.S. culture.

YFU, established in 1951, is one of the world's oldest and largest nonprofit international exchange organizations, dedicated to international understanding and world peace. About 4,000 U.S. families open their homes and hearts to YFU international students each year.

More information about hosting YFU international students is available from YFU's volunteer for the Muenster area, Tom and Pam Schad at 940-668-6464 or by calling YFU's regional office at 1-800-USA-0200.

Something New ... Something Borrowed ... Something Blue," set for the weekends of July 24, 25 and July 31, Aug. 1 at the Mountain Springs Community Center. Years back, a girl's favorite pastime was skipping rope, and with this was the counting rhymes. A familiar one was Cinderella. For example, Cinderella, dressed in yellow, went upstairs to kiss her fellow, How many lasses did she get? 1, 2, 3, 4, 5....(until you miss).

Cinderella dressed in pink, washed her dishes in the kitchen sink. How many dishes did she break? 1, 2, 3, 4, 5,

There were other skip rope verses:

Apples, peaches, pumpkin pie, How many years before I die? 1, 2, 3, 4, 5....

Mother, mother I am sick, sick, sick, Send for the doctor quick, quick, quick, Doctor, doctor, will I die? Yes, my child, but don't you cry. How many minutes will I live? 1, 2, 3, 4, 5....

Jack and Jill sitting in a tree, k-i-s-s-i-n-g, First comes love, then comes marriage, Here comes Mary with a baby carriage.

Another very popular verse was:

Teddy bear, teddy bear, turn around,

Teddy bear, teddy bear touch the ground,

Teddy bear, teddy bear go up stairs,

Teddy bear, teddy bear say your prayers,

Teddy bear, teddy bear say your prayers,

Teddy bear, teddy bear put out the light,

Teddy bear, teddy bear say "goodnight",

Teddy bear, teddy bear show your shoe,

Teddy bear, teddy bear please skidoo.

So go dig out that old jump rope and give it a try and teach your children a little childhood folklore.

Mountain Springs Musical

Performances of "Something Old ... Something New ... Something Borrowed ... Something Blue," are set for July 24, 25, and July 31, Aug. 1 on the Mountain Springs Community Center's outdoor stage.

The 8:30 p.m. performances each Friday and Saturday will display a wealth of local talent from Muenster and the surrounding area, with some 40 performers taking the stage to entertain audiences.

Mountain Springs is located along Farm-to-Market 922 about eight miles east of Interstate 35 in northeastern Cooke County. Those attending are asked to bring lawn chairs to enjoy the performance under the stars.

Tickets are $5 for adults, $4 for children ages 6-12 with those younger than six admitted free.

The musical is in its 15th year as veteran director Sue Viktor leads the way in working to make this year's production a success. More than 1,500 people attend the annual musical, which attracts audiences from several areas of Texas and neighboring states.

This year's show will feature a variety of numbers, ranging from modern songs such as "Men in Black" and "Munchkin Land". There's a number for almost any musical taste, from country to jazz, progressive dance to Disney.

The cast includes young performers Jessica Bennett, Linda King, Jennifer Pitzinger, Laura Pitzinger, Molly Pitzinger, Will Pitzinger, Hailey White, Drew Patterson, April White, George White, Vernon White, Jake Sanders, Jessica Sanders, Jordan Sanders, Angela Schad, Malany Schindler, Megan Schindler, Jacqueline Hope, Heather Patterson, Josh Childs and Colt Walker.

Teen performers include Eli Haislip, Sherida Hibbard, Cindy Hogan, Tricia Miller, Amanda Parsons, Tiffany Parsons, Emmy Schad, Tommy Schad, Amanda White, David White, Amanda Williams, Sabrina Williams and Justin Wood.

Adult performers are Tanya Dickerson, Toni Holland, Robert Kemp, Jessica Richardson, Evelyn Sicking, Jerry Sicking, Sandy Vann, Grace Williams and Thomas Wilson.

The Mountain Springs annual musical production started 15 years ago as a vision for Viktor and Nadine Pitzinger, longtime teacher and local historian at Mountain Springs. The local community club was looking for a fundraising project to pay for renovations to the community's one-room schoolhouse. Cooke County's first schoolhouse, built in 1847, serves as the backdrop for the show and is home to the nonprofit Mountain Springs Community Club.

TPWD establishes nongame permit

State wildlife officials have taken a step toward getting a handle on the status of Texas nongame wildlife, as the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission ironed out a set of revisions to create the state's first permit system for nongame collectors and dealers.

The issue is that, while extensive data exists on numbers and conditions of carefully managed Texas game species such as turkey and deer, relatively little is known about numerous nongame species that are not hunted. Texas Parks and Wildlife TPW is hoping the new permit, designed to monitor commercial trade and collection activities in native nongame wildlife, will provide much-needed information about population dynamics and commercial use of some 200 species of reptiles, mammals and amphibians.

With the adoption of the permit, Texas joins an increasing number of states currently addressing nongame wildlife resources through some type of regulatory process. The new permit system in Texas is scheduled for implementation Jan. 1, 1999.

Wildlife biologists suggest the permit is needed in order to get a handle on native Texas nongame species that have become popular among collectors and in commercial trade. The data could provide a basis for management of nongame wildlife and would allow TPW to determine what, if any, additional regulatory measures are needed.

Under the proposal, any person, regardless of age, who sells nongame and anyone 17 years of age and older in possession of more than 25 specimens of nongame wildlife in the aggregate (no more than 10 of the same species) would be required to purchase a $15 resident commercial collector's permit ($50 for non-residents). An appropriate hunting license is also required for any activity involving the take of nongame wildlife from the wild. Teachers at accredited primary or secondary educational institutions will be exempt from the nongame collector's permit provided that the nongame wildlife is possessed solely for educational purposes and is not sold or transferred to another person for the purpose of sale.

Anyone who buys nongame wildlife for the purpose of resale would be required to purchase a $50 resident nongame dealer permit ($200 for non-residents). The permit requirements do not apply to persons purchasing, possessing, or selling processed products.

Collectors and dealers also would be required to keep a log of their activities and submit an annual report to TPW in order to renew their permit.

The permit would apply to wild and captive bred subspecies of native Texas nongame wildlife, but would not include aquatic animal life possessed under a bait dealer's license.

Among the amendments to the permit were provisions limiting the required permit to live bobcats, cougars and coyotes; and exempting processed nongame parts and those parts that do not require preservation, such as porcupine quills, teeth or skulls.

For more information on the proposed nongame permit, or to offer comment, write to John Herron, TPW Nongame Permit Proposal, 4200 Smith School Rd., Austin, Texas 78744, or call at 1-800-792-1112.

Deer management permit adopted by TPWD

Wildlife managers and landowners now have a new tool at their disposal to help intensively manage white-tailed deer populations on their property. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has adopted procedures allowing permitted landowners to conduct selective natural breeding of white-tailed deer within high-fenced enclosures.

Although statutory authority for implementation of the new deer management permit evolved out of recent legislation, the Commission noted that activities outlined in HB 3061 are already in place under four existing permit systems. The deer management permit combines some of the management options defined in the Managed Lands Deer, Trap and Transport, Scientific Breeders and Scientific Research permits.

The deer management permit will allow landowners with a high fence and a TPW-approved management plan to capture wild white-tailed deer and relocate them into detention pens for selective natural breeding purposes.

The new permit does not come cheaply at $1,000 for the first year and $500 annually thereafter, and TPW has established stringent guidelines to ensure the welfare of the wildlife. Landowners may not sell or barter deer, any products from the deer held, or attain financial gain from the disposition of the animals placed in the breeding enclosures. Implementation of the permit will also be restricted by the following guidelines:

- No trapping would be allowed between March 2 and August 31.
- All deer detained must be marked with a painted stripe or other means as defined in their management plan.
- A pen must have a minimum of 50,000 square feet of escape cover.
- No more than one buck and 20 does may be held in a single pen during breeding season.

• Deer may be detained for breeding purposes for 1 month, unless specified in their management plan.

• All deer detained shall be released only on the tract from which they were trapped, and between March 1 and September 1 only.

• Deer are released by removing at least 100 yards of fence on at least one side of the pen for 60 days.

• The permit carries a $1,000 fee for the first year and a $500 renewal fee if the management plan remain unchanged.

The management plan will also contain specific instructions relating to procedures for implementation of the deer management permit.

In addition to the deer management permit, the Commission acted on additional regulator proposals, including liberalization of restriction under Managed Lands Deer Permits program.

The Commission approved proposal modifying the existing Managed Lands Deer Permit system to create an additional incentive for landowners a land managers. Under the existing regulations, a property which has an established harvest quota for both buck and antlerless deer is eligible for an extended 14-day season for the take of antlerless deer and an enhanced bag limit per hunter of up to five deer, no more than three of which may be bucks.

The modification retains the provisions for the enhanced bag limit and enables a participant who accepts a harvest quota for both buck and antlerless deer to allow the harvest of deer by any lawful means from the Saturday closest to September 30 until the Sunday closest to January 31. Stamp and means/method restrictions during the archery only season would not apply to such properties, nor would provisions restricting the take of antlerless deer (i.e., 'do days').

Butterfat shortage claims a ploy

Claims of a shortage of butterfat and predictions of sharp increases in the prices of butter, ice cream and other dairy products appear to be nothing more than a ploy to public pressure on the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to increase its import quota, according to Texas Farmers Union.

"As dairy producers receive the lowest prices in 18 years--stensibly due to an oversupply of milk--it is inconceivable that there is a shortage of butterfat," said Wes Sims, a dairy farmer from Sweetwater, Texas, and president of Texas Farmers Union. "Dairy processors are using the threat of higher prices to get USDA to raise its quota on butterfat imports in order to have greater availability of cheaper, subsidized butterfat from foreign countries.

USDA several weeks ago denied the dairy processing industry's request to raise the U.S. annual dairy import quota by 40 million pounds. Amid the industry's claims of a butterfat shortage, U.S. milk production increased 3.5 percent last year.

Dairy farmers are currently receiving $10.88 per hundred weight, or 94 cents per gallon, for their milk. Between March and May of this year, milk prices paid to producers dropped 28.5 cents per gallon, yet retail prices remained constant.

"Dairy farmers are losing money, while consumers are being gouged," said Sims. "There's no excuse for price increases of milk and other dairy products at the retail level, given the price farmers are being paid. If farm prices go up, retail prices go up much more, but when farm prices fall there never seems to be a declining drop at the grocery counter.

Texas Farmers Union is a general farm organization representing farmers and ranchers in the state of Texas.

COW CARE CALENDAR

JULY

Observe cow herd to make sure fewer and fewer cows are cycling. Check for bull soundness. Maintain adequate fresh water supplies.

Continue fly control. Methods for controlling flies can depend on labor, costs and animal handling.

When pastures get short, creep feed calves. If there is any shortage of grass, the calf is the first to be hurt by the lack of nutrition. Allow plenty of space at the creep feeder, at least four feeding spaces for every 25 calves. A double-sided creep feeder is large enough for 50 calves.

The invasion of the grasshoppers continue in the area, as the pests continue to multiply.

Weather Forecast

A lengthy period of fair skies, hot temperatures and only scattered showers and thunderstorms is likely from July 20 to August 1. It will be hit-and-miss on a daily basis.

More rains are likely August 2-6 and should continue across the state by the 7th to the 11th, with moderate to heavy totals expected.

Clear skies are predicted again on the 12th and 13th, with scattered showers August 14-17 in North Central Texas.

September should be mostly cool and dry compared with seasonal averages.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

PRUSSIC ACID POISONING

Last week we visited about the potential for nitrates in the drought-stressed forages that we have in the county. A new problem has arisen.

Dr. Jim Neidhardt, Veterinarian here in the county, informed me this week that there has been some cattle deaths due to Prussic Acid Poisoning. In one instance some 12 cows were affected and six died. This particular case was in cattle that were recently turned on to a new pasture that had some volunteer Johnsongrass.

The sorghum, sorghum-sudangrass, and Johnsongrass forages can contain potentially lethal concentrations of prussic acid. Prussic acid is commonly referred to as cyanide, hydrocyanide, or formonitrile. Fortunately, we can usually identify which plants are likely to have the potential for detectable prussic acid levels. Prussic acid is most likely to occur in young growth following clipping, grazing, frost, and drought. In particular, prussic acid may be likely in the rapidly developing new growth following a recent rain.

The Veterinary Medicine Diagnostic Laboratory routinely analyzes forage samples for both prussic acid and nitrates.

The address for the Texas Veterinary Diagnostic Lab is: #1 Sippel Road, College Station, TX 77843. The cost for a Prussic Acid Analysis is $5 and the cost for a Nitrate Analysis is $6. This past week I visited with the Diagnostic Lab and they require for the Prussic Acid test that producers send leaf material from 10 to 12 plants. These should be sealed in a plastic bag, refrigerated, and shipped overnight.

For the Nitrate Test, the Lab requires 12 to 15 plant stalks with leaf material. These should be cut three inches above the ground and do not pull up the roots and soil. Samples should be wrapped in paper, tied, and clearly labeled.

Prussic acid will volatilize out of plant tissue upon death, crop development, severe wilting, or hay curing. Generally, field curing and drying will easily liberate 50-70 percent of the prussic acid. In baled hay, prussic acid levels are generally within acceptable concentrations after six months of storage. This time frame is dependent on bale type, density of bale, and air flow around bales. Naturally, prussic acid will volatilize out of smaller bales at a faster rate.

CORN AND SORGHUM TOUR

With the drought, corn and sorghum in the county has fair to poor production potential. There are some bright spots in the county that look fairly good, however. This year local producers have established both Corn and Sorghum Variety Demonstrations and a Corn Herbicide Demonstration.

Our Summer Tour will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 21, at the Grain Sorghum Variety Plots located on the Selby Farm southeast of Era. The plots are located near the intersection of CR 321 and CR 332 south of FM 922. In addition to the Grain Sorghum Plots we will tour the Pasture Herbicide Plots, Corn Herbicide Plots, and Corn Variety Trials located in the Sivelis Bend and Frog Bottom area of the county.

Two Continuing Education Units will be offered toward recertification of Private, Non-Commercial or Commercial Pesticide Licenses through the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Reduce heat stress

When it's hot, heat-stressed livestock eat less forage and lose weight. This increased stress may also make cattle more susceptible to disease.

During these hot days, cows produce less milk, which means less gain for calves. Heat also reduces bull and cow fertility for lower conception and fewer calves.

To keep the cattle healthy, try to reduce the heat stress. First, keep water for drinking readily available. Also try to provide shade and avoid grazing in low-lying areas.

When cattle must be worked, do it before 9 a.m. Do not herd cattle over long distances or pen in crowded conditions longer than 30 minutes.

Feed grain such as corn for energy and soybean meal or cottonseed for protein. If a supplement is provided, feed in the evening. Avoid feeding roughage that will increase the animals' body temperatures further.
