

Endres to represent TORCH in Washington

by Janet Felderhoff
At the June 22 regular meeting of the Muenster Hospital Board, Administrator Jack Endres told the Board that he would be going to Washington, DC in mid July as a representative from Texas Organization of Rural Community Hospitals (TORCH). Their purpose while there will be to make senators and representatives aware of the plight of rural hospitals in regard to Medicare revenues. According to Endres TORCH is larger (in member numbers) than many state hospital organizations.

new done," explained Endres. "We have to support what's in the pipeline right now. There's the Triple A Act, which would undo a lot of the Balanced Budget Act of '97 at least as far as rural hospitals go, and another senate bill pending. Those two are going to be the focus of what we try to get done now."

Financial information has been collected from all the TORCH hospitals and that financial information will be used to demonstrate with numbers how dire the financial situation has become for these hospitals. "They're predicting that we may see two-thirds of the rural hospitals close if they don't change this. We're in bad shape," Endres commented. "Medicare reimbursements have been cut to the bone."

Werner Becker Jr. remarked that he felt that many of the congressmen don't understand the situation. Endres stated, "They've got these lobbying groups out there saying, 'Hospitals are making 15% margins. Here's all our data, here's the average hospital margin.' Well, that's throwing in the Mayo Clinic and everybody else. You take all the fore profits and take out the big players and just look at the rural hospitals, we're all in the negative margins."

Board members learned that the preliminary tax appraisal roll showed $129,826,348.00. Endres said that was $2,361,000.00 less than 1998's appraised value. "Assuming we applied the same tax rate, the resulting loss in value would cause about a $6,200.00 decline in tax collection," he explained. "So our effective rate when they calculate it will obviously go up. We'll have a rate increase plus whatever we do beyond there." Board members were warned that there will be at least three special meetings, in addition to the regular meeting in August, to accomplish all of the required legalities that go with a tax increase.

Senate Bill 1628, the hospital's enabling legislation amendment was passed and signed by the Governor. It will be presented at a future meeting.

A new rate system has been put in place at St. Richard's Villa Endres informed the Board. The minimum per diem was moved from $68 to $75. That put St. Richard's substantially above other area rest homes for a short time. Soon after St. Richard's rate increases the others raised their prices making St. Richard's rates below the others again.

"There's really been no adverse reaction to speak of," remarked Endres. "I think everybody realizes that as we get paid less and less by the government its got to be made up somewhere and unfortunately that falls to the private payers." About half of the patients are private pay at St. Richard's so around 20 patients are affected. Those at higher levels of care are charged more based on the Medicare rate structure.

As of August 2 Yvonne Ambrose FNP-C will be at the Lindsay Health Clinic full time.

The hospital is applying for a grant from the Department of Agriculture for telemedicine and training. It requires a 30% match from the hospital. It is a $60,000 to $80,000 grant. The hospital paid an initial fee of $400.

Wilson says no to expansion of "non-attainment regions"

During the June 17 North Central Texas Council of Governments (NCTCOG) meeting regarding air quality and non-attainment regions, Denton County Judge Kirk Wilson clearly stated Denton County's position to the leadership of Collin, Tarrant, and Dallas counties against the expansion of the non-attainment area currently encasing the four metro counties.

"We believe our three metro counties are well intentioned in pursuing a regional solution, however, we disagree with the expansion of the non-attainment region," said Judge Wilson.

The eight counties in question are Ellis, Henderson, Hood, Hunt, Johnson, Kaufman, Parker, and Rockwall. The NCTCOG has designated these counties as the eight perimeter counties that are located around the four core counties of Denton, Collin, Tarrant, and Dallas.

The attainment plan proposals that bring these eight counties into the non-attainment zone has caused much concern in recent months. If the eight counties are brought into the non-attainment zone, strict rules and regulations similar to those found in the metro area could be forced on them. However, no pollution monitoring devices exist in seven of the eight counties to establish any need for such stringent regulations.

"Without the supporting data or the necessary monitoring devices to provide the data, I cannot support dragging these counties into a problem that is not proven to be theirs. Denton County favors a constructive, fact based method of determining attainment compliance," said Wilson.

The leadership at the NCTCOG meeting had several options to choose from in order to find a productive solution to this problem. The first two options would designate the eight perimeter counties as non-attainment, forcing them into the same regulations imposed on the four core counties. Option three dealt with only the four core counties currently designated non-attainment, and how they would continue implementing potential control strategies from the federal regulations.

Judge Wilson also recognizes the need, and strongly supports dramatic changes by Congress in amending the legislation to the Clean Air Act.

"We recognize that congressional action may be several years away, however, we must take a stand now to make the public aware of the unreasonable ceilings, formulas, and punitive measures that the Clean Air Act are imposing or stand to impose to many regions of the nation," Wilson said.

On commenting on Judge Wilson's comments, Steve Broyles, City Administrator, stated that the City of Muenster concurs with Judge

Shoddy workmanship to be corrected at courthouse

by Janet Felderhoff
"At the time we never realized what type of work was being done until we got this crew here and started seeing the difference in what the first crew was doing versus what Mid-Continent is doing," remarked Virgil Hess Precinct #4 Commissioner during a discussion of restoration work done earlier on the east steps of the Cooke County Courthouse. He said that in some places the work is good and not noticeable. Other places have material where grout work was done and the material used changed shades after some time.

"We need to get that cleaned now, get it off of there and get it back to its original color, otherwise it could possibly stain and we may not be able to get some of it out," Hess explained.

Shouldn't the company who did the work originally be responsible for fixing their mistakes, asked some of the commissioners. Courthouse maintenance supervisor Junior Haney noted that he had contacted the company hoping for such action. He said they never responded.

At the June 28 regular meeting of Commissioners Court it was unanimously decided to approve a change order and have Mid-Continental take the action necessary to improve the work done on the east steps. The company is currently water proofing steps at the courthouse.

There will soon be new child support software in the District Clerk's office. Cooke County Judge Bill Harris confirmed that the present software doesn't do the job. On the recommendation of the Courthouse Technology Committee, District Clerk Pat Payne will purchase a $7,750 software package from Apollo.

The price includes software, set-up, training, and one year of service.

Mrs. Payne noted that they are currently paying $600 for service and are getting no service.

Funds for the software package will be taken from the Technology Fund.

Also recommended by the Technology Committee is the purchase of three computer workstations for Justice of the Peace Dorothy Lewis's office. The computers now in use are not Y2K compliant. Also they won't operate the new Windows software. Money for this purchase comes from the Defensive Driving fund.

Union Pacific Railroad requested permission to extend St. James Road to the north about 300 feet to accommodate railroad renovations. The road is in Precinct #2 of Cooke County near Pilot Point. A private road has been purchased by the railroad. Union Pacific has agreed to improve the road to bring it up to county specs and then deed it to the county.

As explained by Steve Marchensky of Union Pacific, it will basically be a relocation of the existing St. James Road to 600 feet north. This will allow them to add on to the side track. The additional footage will allow traffic to flow freely even when a train is side-tracked. "We want to do whatever it takes to develop and maintain a good relationship with Cooke County," said Marchensky.

Precinct #2 Commissioner Bill Cox reported that he had met with George Fisher of Union Pacific to discuss the specifics. All approved the request.

Southwestern Bell's request to place a buried communication line with the right-of-way of Cooke County Precinct #2 beginning at the Prairie Grove Road, crossing the intersection of CR 221 and CR 230, and ending at the Neely Trail Intersection was approved 5-0. Cox stated that the telephone company had been very good about getting the roads back in shape after the lines are buried.

Cox asked about regulations on burying the lines. Hess said it had to be at least 30 inches because of the dig law which says that if they are going below 24 inches they must test. Cox said his crews had recently nicked a telephone line that was near the top of the ground.

Hess asked, "How are you going to put in a 24 inch culvert if they've got their line at 16 inches? The law says that if we're going to go below 24 inches we must call a dig test or we're responsible."

Commissioner Phil Young added that his crew had recently dug one up and they weren't even cutting four inches deep. Judge Bill Harris said that it is policy for lines to be buried between 30 and 36 inches.

In other business Commissioners Court:

- Approved public official bond for Joseph Martinez, deputy sheriff.

- Tabled action on engineering cost for communication study with the city of Gainesville until area volunteer firemen could be consulted.

- Approved 45 mph speed limit zone starting at FM 902 heading north to Woodbine Road on CR 219 in Precinct #2. This was requested by two Cooke County Sheriff's Wilson's disagreement on expanding the non-attainment region. In fact, this is the purpose of the Texas Air Quality Coalition (TAQC) which was formed last year and of which the City of Muenster is a charter member. The Coalition's primary purpose is to keep Red River counties which are not contributing to the air quality problems in Dallas-Fort Worth from being included in the non-attainment region.

 Steve Broyles stated: "While we appreciate Judge Wilson's position in the North Central Texas Council of Governments meeting, the city's and coalition's major concern is what position will the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) take? At present, Cooke County is still included in the TNRCC proposal to expand the non-attainment region on air quality. However, the TAQC is still actively lobbying against this position. A TNRCC air strategy proposal should be submitted to Governor Bush next month. At that time, we'll know if we have been successful in being excluded from the non-attainment region expansion."

Sarah Hess attends DCYC

Sarah Hess attended the DCYC (Diocesan Catholic Youth Conference) last weekend, June 26 and 27, at the DFW Hyatt West. As a member of the Youth Congress, instead of attending the proffered workshops on such things as "Stress and Time Management for Teens," "Relationships With Parents," "Dating Options," or "What Does God Expect From A Teenager," Sarah met with others to discuss the Synod which will be happening the next 2 years. They also went over the results of the survey taken by the High School youth of the Diocese. They drew graffiti (on paper!) to fill the walls for all participants, to show the results of the survey on the Synod.

During the conference, Sarah was honored with an award of a pin and a certificate "for outstanding service, dedication, and faithfulness to Jesus Christ" by Mr. Gray, and by Kevin Prevou, the Director of the Office of Youth Ministry, Diocese of Fort Worth.

On Sunday they presented skits on stage to other participants. There were 500 Catholic Youth from our Diocese at this DCYC, including 17 youth from St. Mary's (Gainesville) and many from St. Peter's (Lindsay). Sarah was the only youth from Sacred Heart, and she was accompanied by Sacred Heart Youth minister Eric Gray, whose last day with us was June 30.

Sacred Heart Church site of Ing, Knabe vows

by Elfreda Fette
Mr. and Mrs. Steven Thomas Knabe have returned from their wedding trip to Cozumel, Mexico and are at home in Denton. They were married in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on June 12, with Father Thomas Craig, pastor officiating the nuptial Mass and presiding for their double ring vows.

The bride is the former Katrina LeAnne Ing of Denton, daughter of Lanna Terrell of Thackerville, Oklahoma, and Dean and Susan Ing of Gainesville.

The groom is the son of Tommy and Ruth Knabe of Muenster. He is a 1987 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a 1993 graduate of the International Aviation School, and is employed by Peterbilt as a Paint Technician. The bride is a 1989 graduate of Gainesville High School and a 1996 graduate of Texas Woman's University. She is employed by Dickson and Dickson D.D.S. as a Dental Hygienist.

Before an altar decorated with ferns and arrangements of spring flowers, tree-shaped candelabra accented with white bows and tree ferns, and pew markers of white satin bows, the bride was presented by her father. For her wedding she chose a white satin designer gown by Demetrios, with re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearls covering the bodice and basque waist; and halter neckline. The full skirt flowed into a semi-cathedral train trimmed with lace and pearls. The back was low and featured three rosette flowers. Her two-tiered illusion veil was held by a headpiece of pearls.

For tradition and sentiment she carried a blue rosary and wore pearl earrings.

She carried a clutch bouquet of twenty-five white and pale pink roses, accented with stephanotis and pearls, white aster, bluish bouvardia, tied with multi-color satin ribbon, in lavender, pink and white.

ATTENDANTS

Kristin Lanz of Nashville, Tennessee friend of the bride was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Kathy Creed of Lindsay, groom's sister, Kim Hicks of Bandera, college friend of the bride, and Sandy Kuhn of Gainesville, friend of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Tyler Ing of Gainesville, sister of the bride.

They wore lilac crepe gowns, designed straight line, sleeveless with satin draping front and back; and a fish-tail train. They carried long-stemmed light pink roses, bluish bouvardia, white asters tied with multi satin ribbon.

Megan Ing of Gainesville, bride's niece was flower girl and Clayton Bryant of Gainesville, bride's cousin was ring bearer.

Mike Adair of Denton, friend of the groom was best man.

Groomsmen were Troy Pagel of Muenster, Kyle Walterscheid of Muenster, and Chris Klement of Denton.

Ushers were Kevin Ing of Killeen bride's brother and Mitchell Creed of Lindsay groom's nephew.

Mass servers were Jonathan and Nicholas Yosten.

Wedding music was presented by Ruth Felderhoff organist and Christy Hesse vocalist, including "Canon in D" and the Mendelssohn "Bridal March," and Surely the Presence of the "Lord," "Edelweiss Blessing," "Sunrise, Sunset," "One Hand, One Heart," "The Gift of Love," "Blessed Are They," and "Ave, Maria."

RECEPTION

A reception and buffet dinner followed in Sacred Heart Community Center for 250 guests, who were registered by Tonya Bryant. The guest registry was covered with a lace cloth, and held a floral arrangement of roses, spring flowers and two candles.

The bride's table was covered with lace cloths, skirted in white, and held a pair of silver candle holders and spring flower arrangement with ivy. The three-tier white wedding cake was accented with pearls and doves, and was encircled with a ring of fresh flowers.

Reception assistants were Sandra Sullivan, Kristie Ing, Lauren Creed, Kenzie and Lenzie Bryant.

Guest tables were decorated with hurricane lamps, lavender ribbon and ivy. A white lattice wall decoration was accented with white tulle, with 8 foot high columns on each side, wrapped with ivy and miniature lights, holding large ferns. In the foyer was a seating area, with white wicker furniture, ficus trees, potted green plants and 6 foot tall white columns with lights and ivy.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home on Thursday, June 10.

Public school teens invited to religious ed classes

by Barbara Rohmer
There will be religious education classes for public school students this coming school year at Sacred Heart Church. Grades nine through 12 will meet Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8 p.m., and join with elementary students once a month for Mass at 6:30 p.m.

All teens attending public schools, whether MISD, Era, Forestburg, or wherever, are invited to register. In general, the following curriculum will be followed: 9th grade Morality; 10th grade Scripture; 11th grade Church History; 12th grade Catholic Beliefs and Christian Vocations.

There will be one component in comprehensive youth ministry, which also include retreats, service opportunities, socials, and pastoral care.

Parents are invited to register their teens as soon as possible. Registrations forms are in a basket in the vestibule of church. Any teen who was actively involved or enrolled in classes within the past two years should register as a "returning" student, and parents should complete both a white registration form and a consent form; then attach the registration fee, place in an envelope labeled "Rel. Ed." and drop in the collection basket. New students' parents should complete the pink form front and back and follow the above instructions.

Deadline for registration is Sunday, July 25. After that date, an additional charge of $5.00 will apply.

Also the registrations may be brought in or mailed to the Business Office, Sacred Heart Church, 714 North Main, Muenster, TX 75252.

Another option is also available this fall. Any parent who would like to do "intergenerational" religious education with their teens in family groups is welcome to do so. You may do it within your immediate family, or you may want to join with other families. For this option, or for any other information, contact Barbara Fuhrmann Rohmer 759-2511, Ext. 37.

Any adult interested in being a teacher, aide, or hall monitor, should contact Barbara Rohmer.

Please join Gainesville Memorial Hospital in welcoming Mark Gibbs, MD to the hospital and the area. Gibbs joins GMH after completing his family practice residency at John Peter Smith Hospital in Fort Worth.

Dr. Gibbs is a specialist trained to diagnose and treat a variety of common illnesses in patients of all ages — from infancy to the elderly. By treating all members of the family, the family practice physician gains a better overall view of the problems that may be common among family members. Also, understanding the dynamics of the family assists Dr. Gibbs in his diagnosis of illnesses which might be common to the entire family.

Dr. Gibbs is currently accepting new family practice and obstetrics patients at his office which is located in the McLeroy and Lewis Medical Clinic, 1625 North Grand Avenue in Gainesville. His hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. For more information about Dr. Gibbs or to schedule an appointment, please call today.

NATURE EXPOSED

CHIGGERS

What is a chigger, beside a bothersome itch? They are red mites. With a sharp eye, you can spot a chigger on your skin, a tiny red dot in the center of an itching welt.

Chiggers don't suck blood, they bite. The bite itself isn't painful. Chiggers attach themselves to the outer skin with tiny jaw like pincers, concealing an enzyme that dissolves the skin cells into a thick liquid they can drink. The chemical reaction is what causes the itching.

The best defense is to avoid chiggers. Treatment of boots and pants legs are effective for walking through grass and low brush, but chiggers also can get on you from trees and shrubs.

It is best to take a hot bath, using plenty of soap, after a trip in the countryside. Be careful where you put clothes before washing, because chiggers can get into the house by clinging to them.

Once you get a chigger bite, you can't do much more than scratch. Chiggers find homes in skin folds and where clothes fit tight. Although they will feed on you for only 3 or 4 days, the itch can last as long as 10 days. Anti-itch creams do help ease the itch.

MHS Cheerleading Camp results

by Joni Sturm

The Muenster Varsity Cheerleading Squad returned recently from the National Cheerleaders Association Camp held at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, June 17-20. Approximately 500 cheerleaders and 25 varsity squads attended the camp.

The squad received blue superior awards for each daily evaluation in which they were judged on a cheer and chant learned that day, the squad also received a red excellent ribbon for their home cheer on a first day of camp. The squad was presented with certificates by NCA staff for the motion award (twice) and the jump award. These certificates were presented daily in each evaluation group to the squad that the instructors felt best demonstrated a particular skill technique. An additional certificate, Stunt Smart Award, was earned in stunt class. Several squads were awarded this certificate for displaying excellent skills in spotting and stunt technique and commitment to team safety.

The squad was additionally presented with the following awards in closing ceremony earned in competition throughout the week and on the final day:

NCA Spirit Stick - This is given out each day to recognize squads for outstanding spirit and positive attitude. This award was won three times including the final day enabling the team to bring it home to the trophy case.

Champion Chant Trophy - This is an optional competition which nearly every squad participated in. Teams compete on the final day of camp with a camp chant. Technical skills as well as the ability to lead the crowd are judged to select one winning team.

National Championship Bid Winner - This tremendous accomplishment is awarded to teams exemplifying the best technical skill and cheerleading technique. The bid is extended to teams to compete at the NCA National Cheerleading Championship in Dallas. The NCA Championships are the world's largest cheerleading events, bringing over 12,000 of the nation's best cheerleaders for the nation's most exciting cheerleading competitions.

Hornet Mascot, Keri Felderhoff also had a successful week attending mascot training classes. She received all blue superior ribbons for her performance evaluations and the Mascot Spirit Stick for one day. These accomplishments resulted in Keri being named an NCA All American Mascot.

Individual cheerleaders were also recognized throughout the week. NCA Camp Instructors were on the watch for those that excelled in tumbling jumps, cheer techniques, stunting or leadership. The following were nominated and named to the NCA All American Team: Keri Felderhoff, Jackie Henschel and Ashley Klement.

Muenster High School Cheerleading Sponsor, Jon Sturm and Muenster Junior High Cheerleading Sponsor, Lisa Hettler participated with the squad the entire week and received NCA Coach training. They were presented an NCA Coach's Certificate and medal.

PHYTOESTROGENS
 MAY CUT BREAST, ENDOMETRIAL CANCER
 Scientists are reporting the positive benefits that soy isoflavones (phytoestrogens) have on reducing the risk of endometrial and breast cancer.
 Japanese women, who consume about 45 mg/day of soy isoflavones have one quarter the breast cancer rate of women in the United States, who consume about 5 mg of soy isoflavones a day.
 When Japanese women immigrate to the United States, their diets become higher in fat, and breast and endometrial cancer rates increase.
 In vitro data suggests that soy will actually reduce the proliferation of breast cancer by 28% to 30%, the same rate as tamoxifen and raloxifene.
 So can high soy diets substitute for hormone replacement therapy?
 Data supports the benefits of soy for cardiovascular protection, and lipid lowering, and bone protection. The relief of menopausal symptoms, such as hot flashes and vaginal dryness, is not well documented. So far, data has shown a decrease in the severity, but not the frequency of these symptoms.
 If you want to boost your intake of soy, it is recommended you have one serving of a soy product a day and an increase in fruits and vegetables to improve your intake of isoflavones. In addition, soy is available as a supplement.

Stockpile Fescue in the Fall

Feeding cattle through winter is one of the most expensive parts of cow-calf production. Reducing your hay costs is one of the best methods to cut your winter feed bill. Stockpiling tall fescue can allow you to delay feeding hay.

Stockpiling is simple; it is nothing more than saving forage in the field for grazing later. By stockpiling in the fall, you'll decrease the amount of hay needed in the winter. Stockpiling one acre per cow can help delay hay feeding by one to two months. Stockpiled tall fescue in the fall is higher in quality than in the spring because it's leafier, higher in protein and carbohydrates and lower in fiber.

- Graze or clip fescue pastures short. Make sure to remove old, mature forage.
- Apply 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre in September. This promotes extra forage growth. Ammonium nitrate is best, but if using urea, apply it before a rain.
- Keep cattle off a couple of the pastures. Try to keep cows off pastures until a frost to allow the fescue to accumulate.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

BEEF TOPICS

We received the following information from Steve Hammack, Extension Beef Cattle Specialist, on various research trials being conducted and wanted to pass this on to you.

Ranch To Rail Scheduled

The Texas A&M Ranch to Rail evaluation program has again been scheduled for later this year. Producers wanting to evaluate feedyard and carcass merit of their cattle can consign a minimum of five steers. Cattle are evaluated in either Texas Panhandle or South Texas locations. Nominations are due September 1 and cattle will be placed on feed in October. For information, contact Dr. John McNeill, program coordinator, at (409) 845-3579.

"Rat-Tail" in Cattle

There is in cattle a genetic condition called "rat-tail syndrome", which can occur when crossing black cattle with some Continental breeds. Such cattle have short, curly, often sparse hair and poorly developed tail switches. There may be price discount for this condition, based on supposed poor health and performance. Kansas State University and USDA researchers studied a group of spring-born calves identical in background and management, some of which were rat-tail. There was essentially no difference in birth or weaning weight. But rat-tail calves gained 0.22 lb/day less from weaning to 12-month of age, 0.24 lb/day less from 12 months to slaughter at about 16 months, and were 79 lb. lighter at slaughter, though they were fed for 13 more days. So some price discount may be justified, though not as much as is often seen.

Beef Semen Sales

AI is used in only about 5% of the beef females in this country. This resulted in a little over 900,000 units of semen sold domestically in 1998. Over 65% of this was Angus, and another 8% was Red Angus. Perhaps this is logical since AI in beef is used most often to breed heifers for first calves and these breeds average high in calving ease. Other breeds with over 50,000 domestic units were Simmental and, mostly polled, Hereford. The same four breeds were highest in export sales of almost 850,000 units. But Red Angus accounted for 43% of the export market, with Angus at 19%. Total semen sales were almost the same in 1998 as 1997.

Effect Of Worming and Ionophore On Heifer Puberty

Using a group of 288 heifers, University of Missouri researchers, 1) left some as untreated controls, 2) injected some at 9 months of age and again at 12 months with Ivomec TM; 3) fed some the ionophore Rumensin RM; or 4) applied both treatments to some. Heifers were weighed every 21 days to feed for gain at the same rate (about 1.75 lb/day) through breeding. Ivomec heifers, compared to controls, had 8% better feed efficiency and were 9 days younger and 23 lb. lighter at puberty. Rumensin and combination-treated heifers did not differ in age or weight at puberty from Ivomec, but they were, respectively, 16% and 20% better in feed efficiency than controls. In later work, in cooperation with Colorado State University, it was determined that Ivomec enhanced growth of ovarian follicles. Combining these two products may allow heifers to be bred earlier with lower feed cost.
