VOLUME IX

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1945

NUMBER 48

As a rule Marquis Childs offers fairly good ideas in his daily newspaper column, but like everybody else he slips once in awhile. One very glaring example of which was his caustic criticism of President Truman for the announcement that so far as he is concerned the secret of the atomic bomb will be retained by United States, Britain and Canada.

Childs suspects that Truman's decision was influenced by Senators Connally, McKellar and Byrd whom he describes as holdovers of the horse and buggy era and not qualified to keep pace with new developments. Very conveniently he forgets that about a year ago he considered age as an asset to sound judgement when supporting the reelection of FDR. A little beside the point perhaps but it has a bearing on the consistency of his argument.

He quotes some eminent scientist as authority for the statement that Russia will be ahead of us scientifically within ten years although he concedes Russia is far behind us today. And then we'll be sorry. Apparently the implication is that Russia will not share her secrets later if we refuse to share ours now. So, he concludes, scientists have lost. We have all lost. Just because Truman decides not to tell Russia.

As a whole the article reveals only the man's disappointment in our refusal to give Russia the secret. As for presenting valid reasons why we should reveal the secret, it is pitifully inadequate.

Considering the present state of relations with Russia, and even during the war, we ought to be most pleased with the president's decision. We might as well admit that Russia is not and was not a real ally. It just happened to be another enemy of a country we were fighting. It has never met us half way in an effort to cooperate. In some cases it has been downright hostile, as for instance when Red occupation troops in Bulgaria gave American soldiers some rather shabby treatment. Charles Lanus has a revealing article on that subject in the current Readers Digest.

And when it comes to keeping secrets, nobody has been as tight lipped as Russia. During the war our correspondents and military observers were carefully herded away from anything that might prove valuable to us. A practice which continues today. A week or two ago the report came out that a Red army mission in Tokyo continues to pry into our affairs while insisting on referring every American question to the Kremlin for an answer. Of course the Kremlin either declines to answer altogether or takes its sweet time until the information is no good anyway.

Incidentally this group was originally intended as a sort of liaison party between our forces and the Russians. We were to have a similar party with their army. The agreement was made a few days after the Reds entered the Jap war. When the Japs surrendered our army recalled its group, because obviously there was nothing for the men to do. But Russia sent its party. Developments since then have revealed why. They are snooping.

That is the nation which, according to Marquis Childs, we should entrust with a weapon that could annihilate us in a few hours. If the situation were reversed does he think Russia would be willing to share the secret with us? Or does he think that ten years hence, when he expects Russia to be scientifically ahead of us, that it would be willing to share with us the secret of its advancements?

As far as we are concerned, we refuse to concede that Russia will ever get ahead of us scientifically. Or if it ever does we certainly are not naive enough to hope that she would reveal anything to us, no matter how much we reveal to her. Quite probably Truman feels the same way about it. And everybody in the United States except the thin scattering of Reds and Pinkies will appreciate his decision.

This entire situation is strikingly similar to the oil and scrap iron deal this country had with Japan. For years we built up their supply and when we finally decided to stop shipping we discovered what they were actually buying it for — the oil to drive bombers that would drop the scrap iron on our own boys.

Here is Russia fretting for a weapon that can blow us all to eternity. Our experience with Japan suggests that is might not be a good idea to let her have it. In fact this is even more sus- (Continued on Page 4)

Mrs. Louisa Wies 72, Succumbs To Illness Monday Evening

Funeral Services At Sacred Heart Church Thursday Morning

Mrs. Louisa Wies, 72, succumbed to a heart ailment Monday evening at 8:30 at her home. She had been ill for about eight months.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Sacred Heart Church with Pastor Rev. Herman Laux officiating at the requiem high mass and at the burial in the Muenster cemetery. He also delivered a short comforting address.

Serving as pallbearers were T. Miller, Matt Muller, C. J. Trachta, J.W. Fisher, John Wieler and Ben Seyler. Arrangements were under the direction of Geo. J. Carroll and Son, Funeral Home of Gainesville. Mrs. Wies was born in Racine, Wis., on November 26, 1872, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kaiser. She was married to John P. Wies at LeMars, Iowa on August 17, 1892, and they made their home in Remsen, Iowa. Mrs. Wies died on December 24, 1909.

Mrs. Wies moved to Muenster in 1920 and had resided here since. She is survived by two of her five children: Mrs. Nick Miller, Muenster, and Mrs. Ann Coursey Fresno, Calif.; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild of California; one brother, Frank Kaiser, Muenster, and three sisters, Mrs. John Meurer and Mrs. L.A. Bernauer, Muenster, and Mrs. A. H. Rebenish, Dallas.

Mrs. Wies was of a quiet and retiring nature; she was a good neighbor always ready and anxious to assist when her services were needed, and interested in her friends and affairs of the parish and community. She was loved and esteemed by all who knew her.

For the past year and a half her health had been falling and on last February 19th she became afflicted with heart trouble. She was reluctant to take to bed and was up and around almost constantly until the time of her death.

A large number of friends attended the funeral services and likewise were present for the rosary said at the home Wednesday evening at 8:30.

MYRICK'S PALOMINO IS GRAND CHAMP OF NOCONA HORSE SHOW

Dr. T.S. Myrick's Palomino "Don Oro" took the prize as the grand champion of the Nocona horse show Sunday, after placing first in the Palomino class. He was ridden by Tony Trubenbach.

Another blue ribbon entry from Muenster was Alois Trubenbach's "Daisy", first in the Paint class.

Other prizes won by Muenster were third place in the Palomino class by "Ginger". Ben Sicking's horse, ridden by his son Paul; Mrs. T.S. Myrick's "Bonnie Lassie" 4th in the Paint class; Doctor Myrick's "Red" third in the Pleasure class; Bailly Corbin's "Flaxie" 3rd in the Walking class.

Mrs. Tony Trubenbach placed fourth in the contest to determine the best all around cow girl.

Scores of Muenster persons attended the show. R.L. McNeelley of this city, served as announcer for the event, and Albert Danlmayr, Muenster, was a member of the board of judges.

Moved To Okinawa

Pfc. Wilfred Walterscheid, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Walterscheid, was recently moved from Iwo Jima to Okinawa, according to a letter received by his parents this week. Other local boys on Okinawa are Sgt. Arnold Henschel, Seabee Pat Hennigan and Seabee Edward Sicking.

First Sea Duty

Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Cason have a letter from their son, Sidney Cason, SC3C advising that he is aboard the U.S.S. Roi making his first run across the Pacific. He has been in the Navy three years. His brother, Joseph Cason SIC, also with the Navy, is stationed in Manila.

Ex-sailor Louis Roberg is back at his old job at Al Walterscheid's machine shop.

OUR BOYS WITH THE COLORS

Released From Duty

Seabee Sidney Otto arrived Saturday with a discharge from the Navy after serving in the Pacific theatre 20 months. He was a machinist mate, first class, and was on duty at Midway for 16 months and in Hawaii 4 months. He enlisted in the service on March 13, 1943. Now here for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Otto, he will make his home in Gainesville, where his wife and little daughter have resided while he was overseas.

Enroute Home

Landing at Boston Saturday aboard the Lake Charles Victory was Cpl. Andrew Yosten, member of the famous 90th Infantry Division, who was in the invasion of Normandy and won for himself the Bronze Star medal for gallantry in action. He is now at a separation center receiving his discharge, and will be home as soon as this business is completed. His brother Seabee Joe Yosten, who served in the Pacific theatre, is also due home in the near future. He passed thru Gainesville Sunday enroute to the naval personnel separation center at Norman, Okla.

Brothers Enjoy Visit

Pfc. Alfred and Emil Rohmer sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Rohmer, enjoyed a week of each other's company during the first part of October when they visited in Manila, Luzon. Emil, on duty at Leyte, had a week's furlough and flew to Luzon to spend it with his brother. It was their first meeting in three years. They also visited with Sgt. Martin Klement, stationed nearby. Emil will soon be on his way home with a discharge on points.

Off For The Navy

Henry Yosten, son of F.J. Yosten, left Friday to begin his Navy training. A post card this week advised that he was enroute to California to take his boot training at the Naval Training Station in San Diego.

Stationed On Leyte

Pvt. Harry Sicking writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sicking, that he has reached his overseas station and is on duty on Leyte. Stationed at the same place is Pvt. Frank Stoffels. The boys entered the army on the same day and have been together ever since. Harry wrote a long interesting letter that arrived too late for publication this week and will be in next week's issue of this newspaper.

MEMBERSHIP IN MUEINSTER HORSE SHOW SOLICITED

Membership in the Muenster Horse Show Association is open to the general public, members of the executive committee wish to remind anyone interested in belonging and helping to plan next year's big show.

It is pointed out that membership, which is only a dollar a year, entitles each member to vote in the annual general meeting and to have a voice in the election of officials and in planning of the show.

This year's general meeting will be held sometime next month and all present officers and directors will resign so that new officials may be elected.

Membership cards may be obtained from Miss Loretta Hartman, secretary-treasurer, or from other members of the board. This is the only way to put on a type of show that most of the people want, it is emphasized. And the kind of show to put on is the kind most persons are interested in whether it includes horses and calves, cows, chickens, pigs, or other farm animals or products.

November 10 Set As City Cleanup Day

Saturday, November 10, has been set as the day for a city wide cleanup, it was announced Friday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the Civic League and Garden Club.

Mrs. Frank Kaiser, chairman of the sanitation committee, stated that a truck for hauling is available on that day and that the project is expected to consume the greater part of the day, beginning early in the morning. A minimum charge of 25 cents will be made at each stop.

Every citizen is expected to cooperate in this cleanup and have trash, cans and other junk ready to be picked up when the truck stops. If the drivers have to spend time in first gathering the trash, the charge will be considerably higher, it was pointed out.

The area covered will include the entire corporate city limits and to simplify the work citizens are asked to have their junk either boxed or sacked and set at the curbs, or in alleys that have been cleared for a through passage of the vehicle. Some alleys are littered with trash containing glass and other elements that play havoc with tires and the truck can not be expected to enter these places where driving is hazardous to tires.

Garden Club Hears Book Review At Friday Meeting

Mrs. Burchfiel Gives Review of Bromfield's Pleasant Valley

Louis Bromfield's "Pleasant Valley" was charmingly reviewed by Mrs. L. Burchfiel, teacher in the public high school, for members of the Civic League and Garden Club at their regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon in the school building.

Pleasant Valley, as Mrs. Burchfiel described it, is a love story. It is the saga of a man who wanders to the far corners of the earth, making himself one with many lands and many people. Only in his dreams does he recall the love of his boyhood, and then the hand of fate leads him back to the place of his childhood.

It is really three books in one: his treatise on farming methods; anecdotes of local personalities, either living or long since dead; and material on animals, both wild and domesticated.

The story is not written for any one group of land owners, and the author points out that one acre, if loved can be as much of an anchor as 50,000.

Proceeding the book review the business session was held with Miss Olivia Stock, president, presiding. Committee reports were given, a city-wide cleanup announced, and other routine business discussed.

Mayor J.M. Weinzapfel was a special guest for the meeting and discussed with the members the new proposed municipal building. He stated that blue prints for the structure are on hand and drew a sketch of the plans on the blackboard. The new building is to be located on the southwest corner of the city square and members of the Civic League and Garden Club are to have the beautification of the square as their forthcoming major project.

The first work of the ladies, it was decided at the meeting, will be the planting of memorial trees around the square.

The floral arrangement of the month was a bowl of red verbenas displayed by Mrs. Jim Cooke.

Fourteen members and two guests were present.

Pvt. James A. Endres Loses Life In Luzon Accident October 1

PVT. JAMES A. ENDRES

Memorial Services Are Held At Sacred Heart Church Monday Morning

Pvt. James A. Endres, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.R. Endres, was fatally injured in a vehicle accident on Luzon Island in the Philippines, October 1st., the parents learned last Wednesday evening through a message from the War Department.

Memorial services with high mass of requiem were held at 8:30 Monday morning at Sacred Heart church with Rev. John Waibe, assistant pastor, officiating, and delivering the sermon for the occasion. Four local veterans served as catafalque bearers: Frank and Vincent Feiderhoff, Arnold Muller and Anthony Luke. Brief rites with customary prayers were held on the lawn in front of the church following the mass, and the flag from the catafalque was presented to the mother of the deceased.

Survivors in addition to his parents are five brothers: Roy, Jr., Edward, Donald, Hugh and David, and three sisters, Rose Marie, Margie and Floradell; his fiancée Miss Rosalie Henschel; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Fred Herr, Sr.; two nephews, one niece and uncles aunts and cousins. His father served overseas during World War I.

James was born in Muenster on Jan. 16, 1923, and attended Sacred Heart School graduating from high school with the class of 1941. He joined his father in the milling business until his call to report for military training. He left on Feb. 16, 1945, and trained at Camp Hood, Texas. He was home on furlough in July, then reported to Fort Ord, Calif., and went overseas on August 10. His trip took 41 days and he had only recently reached his station on Luzon where he was serving with the 248 Port Company.

James was a popular member of the younger set of the community. His pleasant and considerate disposition won for him the general friendship of all his acquaintances. He was a member of the Holy Name Society and the local council Knights of Columbus.

Hundreds of friends, crowding Sacred Heart church beyond its capacity, attended the last rites, and respecting his memory all local business establishments closed their doors during the services.

League Plants Trees As Living Memorial To Local War Heroes

Work began Monday under supervision of the Civic League and Garden Club on the beautification of the city square. This is to be the league's major project in the future.

First activity will be the planting of thirteen memorial trees as living war memorials to keep green the memory of heroes of World War II. Sites for the trees were measured Monday and the holes were dug Tuesday. The trees will be live oaks and are expected to be in the ground by the end of the week.

Later plaques, designating the trees for deceased members of the community who served in the war will be affixed to the trees.

Future beautification plans call for the planting of other trees and shrubbery, and ivy is to be planted to climb on the back of the grandstand.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN ON FRANK POPP FARM

A barn on the farm of Frank Popp, three and one-half miles northwest of Lindsay, was destroyed by fire at about 11:15 p.m. last Tuesday.

The blaze was discovered by neighbors passing the place and they awakened members of the family.

The barn and its contents, including corn, wagons, baled hay and lumber, were a total loss. It was partially covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Yosten of Fort Worth were here to spend the weekend with their parents. They were accompanied by Miss Dolly Lehertz, who visited her parents.

MOSAICS

of Sacred Heart High

Now that classes are in full swing, we will begin our weekly column. As in the past we shall give our best efforts to making this column the best and include only such news as will interest our readers.

Perhaps it will not be too trite to include that the high school enrollment this year numbers eighty nine.

Everyone seemed very anxious to resume classes this year, and why not? An enlarged and newly painted building was an enticement to all of us to come back to S.H.S. The library particularly is our pride and interest.

Class Officers

The various classes have organized their class clubs. The following have been elected officers:

Senior Class: President, Norbert Mages, Vice-president, Margie Endres; Secretary-Treasurer, Jewel Marie Hoffman.

Junior Class: President, Joe Weinzapfel; Secretary, Coralee Fuhrmann; Rosalee Muller, reporter.

Sophomore Class: Pres. Rosalee Fuhrmann; Secretary Treasurer Evelyn Vogel; Vice-pres. Monte Hellman.

Initiation Is Held

The initiation party held Friday evening in the parish hall climaxed a three day initiation test of the Freshman during which time the lower classmen were seen performing some rather ridiculous stunts at the bidding of the dignified seniors.

The initiation proper consisted of stunts in the form of skits and the dialogue and action kept the audience in laughter most of the evening.

After the initiation, light refreshments were served in the hall basement by the junior class under the chairmanship of Mary Seyler and Edna Murrest Hartman. Members of the P.T.A. were guests for the occasion.

Laura Lee Wilde acted as chairman of the initiation. Under her supervision the hall was artistically and appropriately decorated.

Sports Medley

Enthusiasm for athletics is a major item in the extra-curricular activities of Sacred Heart High.

The boys have formally organized their football teams for the season under the supervision of their coach, Rev. Father John. Officers for the boys' athletics are Norbert Mages, captain, Alvin Hartman, Co-captain; Bernard Swirczynski, Secretary treasurer and George Swirczynski, reporter. At the regular meeting, the football squad selected the name "HORNETS" as their title.

Through the cooperation of the P.T.A. the boys will purchase regular suits as soon as they are available. At the present time they are carrying out their colors with gold letters and initials on gray shirts.

Intensive practice is being held each day for the game scheduled with Gainesville next Sunday afternoon.

The girls are active in volleyball and in organizing their pep-squad.

Various types of recreation were provided for the students during the noon recess during the rainy season. Bingo and musical games were enjoyed by all.

The students wish to thank Mary and Margie Seyler and Rufus Henschel for providing the school with the music.

Campus Gleamings:

The junior class members were seen carrying fruit jars to class every day last week. They contained something that crawled — the class is composed of biologists.

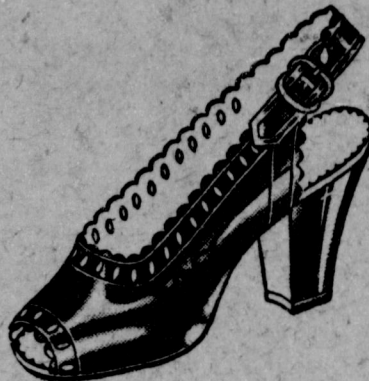

The local theatre showed the film "Song of Bernadette" for the student body of Sacred Heart School last Friday afternoon.

The senior class ordered the class rings last week.

Strange music held the student body spellbound one day last week. Four musicians, who we later found out called themselves the "Rainy Day Drip Band" were responsible for the music which all enjoyed. The members are Joe Weinzapfel, Anthony J. Felderhoff, Gerald Bayer, and Rufus Henschel.

The faculty and students wish to express their sympathy to Anna Mae Dankesreiter on the death of her mother. We regret that Anna Mae is unable to continue school. We also wish to express our sympathy to Marjorie and Donald Endres on the death of their brother, James.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

All you good dairymen whose herds are on a fall freshening program are no doubt at this time converting a part of your barns into maternity wards and practicing up on your floor-pacing.

Calves need a good, clean place in which to arrive into this world. A well ventilated box stall, with deep fresh bedding is best, but if you do not have such a place, good bedding provided in a clean place away from the rest of the herd is next best.

Most important to the cow and to the calf is the care the cow gets at calving time, the extension people remind us. How productive a cow will be in her milking time, for one thing, depends a great deal on proper feeding before and after calving.

As you know, cows should be fed liberally in their dry time, but grain should be reduced about two weeks before calving. Light, laxative feeds, such as oats and bran with perhaps some linseed meal, are recommended.

Extension dairymen advise watching a cow carefully when the calf is due. Most calves are born without assistance, but it is best to be on hand, in case trouble should develop.

If weather is extremely cold, the cow should be blanketed for several days, to protect her from drafts. It's a good idea to give the cow a drink of warm water immediately after calving.

This subject was discussed in the September-October Kraftman which you can get by writing me at 500 Peshtigo, Chicago 90, Ill. For additional information write for one of the following bulletins: Special Circular "Care at Calving Time Is Important." University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.; Bulletin B-69, Texas A & M College, College Station, Tex.; Circular 152, Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala.

When a man reaches the point where he has to have steak made into hamburgers to chew it, he can get a new set of store teeth, but I haven't heard of any upper plates for cows. 'Tisn't necessary to brush your cows' teeth daily to keep them in shape, but you can save some wear and tear on their molars by grinding their grain. And tests at the colleges show this grinding helps in some other important ways.

Wisconsin reports grinding not only saves chewing labor, but keeps whole grain from passing through the cow's body undigested. Grinding also conserves on barn storage space.

When whole shelled corn or corn on the cob was fed, more than 10% did not digest. Such grain does not produce milk or help keep the cow's body in good condition.

Experiments seem to indicate that there is an actual increase in milk volume when feed is ground, over the amount produced when the cow is fed unground grain.

You'll get some valuable help on this subject from Circular 286, Extension Service, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.*

A friend of mine says that one day last winter when he went out to his barn he thought his cows had grown warts overnight, but he found they merely had bad cases of goose pimples. Seems he hadn't got around to plugging up a few cracks in the barn.

Hope you have placed high on your list of "things to do this fall" the matter of barn repair. Replacing window panes, closing up cracks, fixing sagging doors and whitewashing inside your barn give big results.

Wind whistling in your chimney may sound nice when you are sitting by a warm fire, but wind whistling through a barn at milking time is something else. The feed which your cows get won't produce milk if it has to be used to keep the cows warm.

Whitewashing rafters, posts and sidewalls is a mighty important step in your sanitation program. Clean barns help produce No. 1 filter pads, and clean stanchions, clean floors and clean cows carry on the same good work.

*NOTE: There usually is a 3c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

PFC. HAROLD SCHMITZ WATCHED AS TOJO GOT BLOOD TRANSFUSION

Pfc. Harold J. Schmitz, writing from Tokyo, tells his father Theo Schmitz, a number of interesting events he experienced recently, including an eye-witness account of Tojo's blood transfusion and a visit to the imperial palace. Excerpts from the long letter dated Sept. 15, follow:

"Everything is rolling along fine as far as my health is concerned. Gerald (Metzler) is fine too and we see each other every night after duty hours. Arnold Wimmer is also well and lives just across the street from us. We are still in tents but will have better quarters soon. The wind blows so much here, seems strange to us, for it never blew on Luzon.

Archbishop Spellman was here on Sept. 13 and all of us fellows attended his mass, the first one he celebrated on Japanese soil. We shook hands with him and later had a nice talk. Also present was a priest who had been teaching in the university at Tokyo during the war.

Our commanding general was by looking us over and said we all looked like sheep herders. I think so myself. We need some clothes of the right size, also better equipment, to look like anything. Now that the war is over we'll get it.

I had a good look at Tojo, saw him getting the blood plasma. He looked sick, with his little moustache and short hair. Just like any other Jap.

Was guard at the imperial palace yesterday. Nice place. We can get passes to stay in town until 10 p.m., but we don't stay out long after dark. Don't trust the Japs yet. They seem friendly, but we have no love for 'em.

We have three girls serving as interpreters for the 12th Cavalry. They are native born but were reared and educated in New York. Nice looking, but still Japs. The average Filipino has them beat in figure and looks.

Crop land is better here than in the states. I saw maize, corn and rice growing, and everything in the line of garden vegetables. The trees are small, most of them pines and cedars, used for lumber, and there are also elms, or what look like elms to me. There's plenty of grass but few animals. Most farm work is done by hand.

Tomorrow we will see Admiral Halsey ride Tojo's white horse. I'm going to try to get a snapshot.

We will be in a parade with a band playing. We have been drilling for this event.

The biggest fleet of air power and ships I ever saw was on D-Day. We didn't get off on the plank, like they said we would. We came in on a landing barge like a regular invasion. Things were quiet with white flags all around the beaches and very few Japs.

Yesterday when we were at the palace 500 Japanese boys were brought there to work. All had been in the army and were only 14 years old. Looked funny all dressed up but they could really march.

I hope you don't mind reading this written in red ink. It is some Jap ink, and all that I have now. Tell everybody I am fine and that I said hello. Don't worry if I don't write often. I'm going to be busy. Hope I don't have to spend a year over here."

TO COSTA RICA ON GOODWILL MISSION

Vincent Becker, SIC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Becker, was at sea on the USS Newell, a destroyer escort, near the Panama Canal when Japan surrendered. It has been learned.

Becker's ship and others training in the area returned to Balboa, Canal Zone, for a special liberty shortly after the surrender was announced by President Truman. The ship's commanding officer had received orders to celebrate.

The day following the surrender Becker and his ship received orders to proceed to Costa Rica on a goodwill mission. The Newell anchored at Puntarenas, and the officers and men were taken to San Jose, the capital, on special trains operated over the narrow-gauge mountain lines. San Jose, 4,000 feet above the sea and tropic heat was a pleasant change for the men who had been sweating at Panama.

Becker said most of the Costa Ricans knew enough English to understand him and were unusually friendly.

He enlisted in the Coast Guard in May 1942 and has accumulated 14 months of sea duty, all of them on the Newell. He has 41 1-2 points toward a discharge, and is expected home as a civilian this weekend.

Seaman Becker is married to the former Miss Sandra Roscilla of Washington, D.C., and they have one son. Mrs. Becker and the boy are making their home here with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Culligan of West Point, Iowa, are here to visit her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Fette. Last summer the Culligans celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. He is 78 years old and in excellent health. The couple drove down in their own car with Mr. Culligan at the wheel all the way.

picious than Japan's purchase of oil and iron. Those commodities have a peaceful use but the atomic bomb is good only for war. Anxiety to get it betrays anxiety to fight another war. We don't like that—especially not if we should happen to be involved.

By all means let's keep the bomb to ourselves. As long as other nations don't have it we're less likely to be attacked. At the same time our country can probably be trusted with it more than a lot of other countries. Certainly more than a country with Russia's recent tendency toward expansion and militarism.

RAY BEZNER BUYS COFFEE POT CAFE

Ray Bezner, until his recent discharge, a lieutenant in the army air forces, is the new owner and manager of the Coffee Pot Cafe in Gainesville. He was released to inactive duty on Oct. 3, and a few days later bought the Coffee Pot and has settled down to business. He invites his friends to visit him.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bezner of Lindsay and is married to the former Miss Oleta Rosson. They have one on, Ray, Jr.

THUNDERHEAD—Son of Flicka

Thunderhead—Son of Flicka is a sequel to that immensely popular picture of 1944, My Friend Flicka. Both are taken from novels by Mary O'Hara. All who saw Flicka, which played at the Relax in April 1944, will want to see this thrill packed sequel. Every one enjoys the adventures of a boy and his horse. Especially if its in technicolor! Roddy McDowall again heads the cast as he did in the earlier picture. He and his companion, Thunderhead, are finally separated when the boy realizes that his pet longs to be free to roam the wilderness, so he releases him.

Preston Foster, Rita Johnson, James Bell, Diana Hale are also featured in this thrill-filled 20th Century-Fox hit to be seen at the Relax Theatre next Sunday and Monday, Oct. 21 and 22.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mayes of Carlsbad, N.M., visited last week with her sister, Mrs. Martin Hacker and husband. He was recently discharged from the army after serving in the Pacific theatre for two years.
