"Fiddler on the Roof" plays to enthusiastic audiences

by Pamela Fette
"Fiddler on the Roof" is the story of man's everyday struggle to maintain an ounce of control, constancy and sanity in an ever changing world. The story is timeless as the main character, Reb Tevye (a Jew in Russia in 1904) has to deal with prejudice and racial cleansing. He also struggles with poverty and raising his family according to his principles. He is a man of depth who talks openly to God throughout the musical either in song or spoken prayer. The most poignant scene of the play is the wedding of the Jewish town of Satevka are forced to abandon their homes, thus becoming refugees as the czarist ruler of Russia applied ethnic cleansing. The last scene we see is Reb Tevye pulling his own cart of meager longings followed by the Fiddler.

Miss Hunt and musically directed by Pamela Fette. Choreography was by Miss Hunt and students. One particularly stunning piece of choreography was the "Bottle Dance" during the wedding scene. The dancers, all males, spent many months perfecting their balance and technique. The dance was spectacular as they performed amazing steps and lunges while balancing a glass bottle on a hat.

Pictured above is Russell Fette as Reb Tevye, the father of five daughters, as he enthusiastically sings "If I Were a Rich Man". Below, awaiting news of that perfect "match" is Golde, Tevye's wife, played by Gina Yosten and Yente the Matchmaker played by Jessica Koesler.

Hess resigns from MMH board

by Janet Felderhoff
Muenster Memorial Hospital's board of directors is presently member short. Dennis Hess submitted a letter of resignation just before the April 27 board meeting. He gave up his position on the hospital board to serve on the Muenster City Council.

Hess' letter was received too late to be considered as an agenda item at the April meeting. If his resignation is officially accepted by the board, a replacement will be pointed.

Financially the hospital experienced a "break even month" in March, according to administrator Jack Endres. In March of 1998 the hospital had an operating loss of $86,000 compared to the hospital's break even month this March with an operating gain of $507. The net loss in March 1998 was $82,076 compared to the gain in March 1999 of $500.

With no opposed candidates for the May 1 hospital board election, candidates Duane Abe, Charles Bayer, and Tom Flusche were declared elected. The election was unanimously canceled.

The board approved a contract with Shared Imaging. The company's original quote was based on a price per scan with a minimum of 20 scans per month; $249 per scan for the first 20 scans and $149 after. The monthly price would be $5,180 plus another $200 per month for a power injector.

"We asked them to give us a break, on the monthly rent, at least at the beginning of the contract, while we're trying to get the service established and get the doctors used to the availability of the test here," said Endres. "So what they agreed to do was to reduce the minimum number of scans to 15 for the first six months of the contract. That takes us from $5,180 down to $3,935 without the power injector. They're going to take those last five scans and add them onto the last six months of the contract. They're waiting until the end of the five year contract to recoup their money which I thought was a pretty good deal."

The five year contract is subject to cancellation if the board doesn't appropriate sufficient funds annually to fund the contract. The unit is expected to be up and operational sometime in the first part of May.

As required by the state government, the board passed a resolution adopting three schedules set by the Texas State Library and Archives Commission. The resolution establishes an active and continuing records management program. Endres was also appointed by the board as the records management officer.

Liability insurance was approved from Arthur Gallagher for $26,700. At Endres' recommendation from the insurance agent, the board only approved a one year policy. It was decided that if rates weren't substantially reduced by next year they would look other places for a more competitive price.

According to an analysis done by Durbin & Company, the Home Health Care operation is only out about $3,000 since February. Endres noted that it was worth keeping in the hopes of salvaging the program. He indicated that he felt changes would be coming that would make it workable.

The next scheduled meeting of the hospital board is Tuesday, May 25.

Drug bust made by Muenster Police chief

by Janet Felderhoff
Muenster proved to be a bad choice of places to have car trouble for two males in their early twenties. At about 1:30 a.m. on April 25, Muenster Chief of Police Bob Stovall noticed a vehicle parked on the DI One Stop parking lot. The occupants seemed to be having trouble with the vehicle.

When Stovall approached the vehicle to investigate he noticed drug paraphernalia in the car. Two males were taken into custody. There was a third person in the vehicle, a juvenile female.

Stovall inventoried items from the vehicle. Items he found included plastic hoses, small baggies, starting fluid cans, ether, more syringes, a bottle with residue, a bottle containing a liquid of an unknown nature suspected to be methamphetamines before being powdered, plastic jug with white powder.

Using a kit carried in the police car, Stovall tested the suspicious items and the results were positive for amphetamines. There was approximately 200 grams of powder suspected to be methamphetamines.

Charles Douglas Parr, 21, of Denison and James Charles Carter, 22, of Bowie were placed under arrest for possession with intent to manufacture/deliver a controlled substance. This is a first degree felony punishable with five to 99 years in prison. The two were booked into Cooke County Jail and bond set at $30,000 each. Both made bond, said Stovall.

Chief Stovall is a member of the North Texas Drug Task Force. The Task Force is working with him on the case. They came to Muenster and took possession of the confiscated items and sent some to the lab for testing. Results take three to four weeks.

Many of the items found in the vehicle are those commonly used in a Nazi drug lab. He stated the law enforcement officers in the area are vigorously working to alleviate the problem.

A substance testing positive as methamphetamine, syringes, and numerous items that are used to make the drug were confiscated recently by Muenster Police Chief Bob Stovall. Photo by Janie Hartman

Felderhoff wins MISD board election

When the doors were closed at 7 p.m., only 170 voters out of the 1,899 who are registered had cast a vote in the Muenster ISD school board election May 1. Votes were being cast to replace Tom Flusche and Annette Anderle in Place 3 and Place 4.

Nick Walterscheid was the only candidate to file for Place 3. He garnered 155 votes. Place 4 drew three candidates. Tim Felderhoff squeaked out a three vote victory with 60 votes to Bob Hermes 57. Judy Hess followed closely with 49 votes.

Both the Muenster Hospital Board and the Muenster City Council canceled elections scheduled for May 1 because all positions were unopposed. According to law if there is no opposition the candidates who have filed can be declared winners. This saves tax money by not holding an election.

Recycling items beats waste in Muenster

by MaryLee Alford
Muenster recycles more than it sends to the landfill. Muenster sent 958 tons of trash to the landfill in 1997, and 948 tons in 1998. That's a 10-ton reduction in trash sent to the landfill in a year. Cooke County Distributing, who "pays top dollar" for aluminum cans, recycles 20 tons of aluminum per year. Fischer's Meat Market provides a place to take cardboard and recycles 72 tons of cardboard per year. By using recyclable tire material and plastics in their products, Rumber Material Inc. recycles 1,000 tons per year, and Rubberline Inc. recycles 720 tons per year. The Muenster Enterprise recycles at least 2 tons of newsprint yearly. The Bell Group reports that Muenster recycles 96 tons of materials through their facilities per year. That brings the total of commodity recycled by Muenster to 1910 tons! Muenster recycles twice the amount it sends to landfills. This is something to really be "PROUD" of.

Classic BMW of Richardson, Texas sponsored a Z3 Rally Sunday and decided to make Muenster their destination. "It's a quiet little German town," said J.T. Bryant, sales manager at Classic BMW. Eighty people brought 47 BMW Roadsters and enjoyed a German meal catered by Rohmer's Restaurant at the Sacred Heart Community Center. Bryant said they hope to come back and make it an annual event.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor,
GERMANFEST. It really was enjoyable to me, and as usual Margie Starke and all of the rest did a tremendously good Professional Job.

My main interest was to meet as many visitors as possible. This was accomplished, and I am not going to bore you with a long dissertation about all of them. Here are just a few. The most enjoyable were the young people. There was quite a group from Oklahoma University. I was very pleased about these comments about Littleton, Colorado. My advise to them was that the beautiful smile they had, they should give it to as many people as they can. This especially around the school if they see any signs of depressed people or loaners. They all agreed, and said they definitely would be here next year. You will be able to spot them by these beautiful smiles. I told them this was one of their biggest assets, as beauty alone doesn't attract as much as a beautiful smile. I was pleased to run in to people that had some comments about my Letters to the Editor. No one said to quit, but many said to shorten! Also several felt to get onto something else besides telecommunication problems. Hopefully that is being handled by our legislators according to the answers I have received back from the petition letter we had. It resulted in twenty pages of names! That should get there attention.

The most concern expressed by the older people was the social security inequity of the people in the gap. I received another mailing on this effort to correct, and I would suggest everyone return there request showing support.

Briefly here are few notable visitors: From Germany, an engineer from Austria presently living in Metro area doing environmental work. Patiently he left me attempt my Deutsch sprechen (German speaking). Hopefully I will be able to visit with him in Germany, and he suggested that I bring a group?

A very interesting visitor was a Major in the Air Force, a Medical Doctor, born from a Chinese Air Force Trainee in Arizona during W.W.II, and his mother a Mexican lady. He is an avid cyclist, and rode in our event Saturday. He said his present duty is teaching healthy living to cut down on medical problems and treatments.

Anyone interested in more can call 759-2535, or e-mail <cc2@texoma.net> Three days of gabbing covered a lot of people and topics.

Letter to the Editor,
 I was in Austin last week and checked on the Senate Bill 644, The Texas Covenant Marriage Act. May 5, 1999 this bill is due to go into the "Committee" and if passed will go to the legislature and then onto the Senate.

My husband, the late Judge Paul Hesse worked on this bill along with Senator Haywood and his staff. It took two and a half years to reach Austin and the Senate will be dismissed on May 31, so it is imperative that you write to the following Senator asking him to make sure this Bill passes.

Please pass Bill 644 - The Texas Covenant Marriage Act. Send to: Senator Haywood, Capitol Office, P.O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711; or Telephone 512-463-0130.

Here are some excerpts on this bill:

SUMMARY

The Texas Covenant Marriage legislation will provide spouses with the option of a more legally binding and strongly committed marriage agreement. Couples will have the choice of either the current marriage license, or a Covenant Marriage license which would require counseling assistance as well as provide them with substantially more legal protection, should problems arise within their marriage.

During the late 1960s, when unilateral (no-fault) divorces first became a legal option, it was believed by many that divorce would become less contentious, therefore less painful for parents and children, if the necessity of placing blame was removed from the divorce process. However, rather than producing the expected positive results, the culture of no-fault divorce has seen a staggering high increase in the number of divorces, a doubling in the number of single-parent families, an increase in teenage pregnancy and illegitimacy rates, and an increasingly negative public perception of the institution of marriage.

From a legal standpoint, the greatest harm of no-fault divorce is that it affords the spouse who chooses to be faithful to the marriage absolutely no protection under the law. The inequity in Texas marriage law is clear - it takes two to marry but only one to divorce. The Covenant Marriage legislation addresses this problem by allowing couples to opt for a more legally binding marriage agreement. The legislation will not remove the option of the current no-fault marriages, it simply provides a marital safeguard for those who consider their marriages to be a lifetime commitment.

WHAT IS A COVENANT MARRIAGE?

Covenant Marriage is more difficult to enter into than a standard marriage and it involves more extensive obligations once it has been contracted. To enter into a Covenant Marriage, a couple must participate in premarital counseling with a priest, minister, rabbi, any clergyman of any religious sect, or a marriage counselor. The couple also signs an affidavit prepared by the Attorney General which stipulates the limited grounds under which they will be able to become legally separated or divorced should future difficulties arise.

Hopefully this bill will cut down on many quickie divorces and allow couples to think twice as to the commitment of marriage in their lives.

As I was standing in the Capitol Building in Austin, many children were with their teachers taking a tour of the Capitol. One little red-haired, green-eyed girl looked up at me and said "Tomorrow I will be eight years old." I asked her what present would she like most to receive, and with tears in her eyes she said "I would like Daddy to come home and live with me and mommy again."

Sincerely,
 Dorothy Hesse

Letter to the Editor,
 As state lawmakers approach the 11th hour of the voucher debate, I'd like to remind them of proven alternatives to their "experiment." Instead of using vouchers in the state's six most urban counties, Legislators should provide funding for smaller classes and hiring certified teachers for all students in those areas.

We already have laws to reduce the number of students in grades K through 4 to 22 students per classroom, yet waivers are routinely issued that allow schools to exceed this maximum. Let's make the current legislation work by hiring more teachers and we will benefit from its intent.

As to the importance of certified teachers, a recent study at the University of Texas validates this. It found that students with certified teachers perform dramatically better on standardized tests than do those being taught by an uncertified teacher.

Are we really prepared to fund this voucher "experiment," where we would drain $1.6 billion dollars in five years from already austere school budgets? Vouchers are a risky and unproven plan that experiments with our children.

I suggest Legislators put the state's money on a sure thing -- lowering class sizes and hiring and retaining certified teachers.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

During a very pleasant visit with a friend a few days ago, first one and then another related accounts of incidents that took place during our younger days, especially school days.

Our friend told of an incident that happened shortly before he began his schooling.

It seems that his father bought an older car - a coupe with a rumble seat. In order to make the conveyance more utile he removed the rumble seat and replaced it with an extended box, thus coming up with a sort of pickup.

Some of the children who were still in school, used the vehicle to haul the farm's daily production of fresh milk to the Farmer's Marketing Association's cheese plant, and sometimes also delivered fresh eggs in town before going to school.

One evening, on their way home from school, the driver was attempting a left turn off the highway, onto a country lane that led to their home, when another car, following them a bit too closely, and a bit too fast, bumped into their rear bumper and sent the car careening off the road a little too quickly, then just drove on.

Fortunately the young driver managed to steer the car onto the lane without further incident, but the milk cans and egg crates were dumped off beside the road.

Later that evening the mother, trying to tell the father of the "almost wreck" while at the supper table said, "The kids had a slight accident on their way home," and she recounted the story to him.

His only comment was, "I hope the egg crates weren't broken."

First Grade Class of 1927 holds reunion

Readers will enjoy the above picture of first grade students of Sacred Heart School made during the 1927-1928 school year, almost as much as those who returned to attend a reunion in May, 1999.

Shown with their teacher, Sister Anastasia OSB, the 72 little ones who registered that first day are named in the outline accompanying the picture. Some of the original 72 were not promoted, especially the very youngest, who wisely repeated the first grade. So there were 56 in the second grade. In later years, others were added, some dropped out, so that when the original group reached eighth grade, there was a total enrollment of 31, and 17 enrolling in the freshman class. Three graduated from Sacred Heart High School 60 years ago in 1939. They were the first high school graduates: Johnny Wimmer, Catherine (Swirczynski) Erpelding, and Lorena (Fisher) Taylor. Most of the eighth grade graduating class finished high school, either at Sacred Heart, Muenster High School, Subiaco Academy, Jonesboro, Arkansas, Gainesville High School, Academy of Mary Immaculate in Wichita Falls, or Our Lady of Victory in Fort Worth.

Twenty-one of the original classmates, ten spouses and guest of one classmate attended the reunion, meeting at 5:00 p.m. at the Center Restaurant upstairs dining room for happy hour, dinner, much visiting and great reminiscing. After dinner the first grade list of 1927 was read; Msgr. Tom Weinzapfel led a memorial prayer, also for those prevented by illness or distance from attending. A letter from former classmate, Frank Streng of Shriner, Texas was read. Pictures of the original first grade class, other school pictures and high school pictures were displayed. Tables were decorated with red and white carnations, red and white streamers, SHS school colors.

Present for the reunion were: Eleonore and Walter Klement; Elvira Flusche; Marie Knauf; Hilda Prescher; Martin Trubenbach; Urban Flusche and guest; Arthur Lutkenhaus; Catherine and Clarence Erpelding; John and Olivia Wimmer; Tony and Sis Klement; Herman Stoffels; Lorena Taylor; Aggie Stormer; Msgr. Tom Weinzapfel; Vince and Trudy Felderhoff; Norman and Evelyn Luke; Pat and Alice Hennigan; G.M. (Bub) and Martha Lehnertz; Leonard "Spike" and Frances Yosten; Clara (Hoenig) Stanley; and Gus and Armella Lutkenhaus.

Items will be gathered in the atrium of the M.J. Cox building at the college until noon Friday. Claxton, Butler and NCTC Nursing Instructor Anita Geoffrion will then transport donations to Ardmore.

Through coordination with Ardmore radio station KKAJ-FM, the items will be delivered directly to the Cleveland County Courthouse for distribution by the Red Cross.

For information on the venture, call NCTC at 940-668-7731.

Cardiovascular diseases rank as America's No. 1 killer. They claim the lives of 41.4% of the more than 2.3 million Americans who die each year. Cancer follows, killing 23%, all other causes of death account for 35.3%.

Medical research continually seeks to reduce disability and death from heart attack, stroke and other heart and blood vessel diseases. However, nearly 59 million Americans have some form of cardiovascular disease, ranging from congenital heart defects to high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries.

- Are you at risk? If you can answer yes to the following questions you are at a possible risk:
- Do you smoke?
 - Do you have an elevated total blood cholesterol?
 - Do you have a low HDL (good) cholesterol?
 - Do you have a blood pressure >140/80?
 - Are you more than 21-30 pounds over your desirable weight?
 - Do you have an inactive lifestyle?

- How do you lower your risk?
- Quit smoking.
 - Get your blood pressure and cholesterol levels checked.
 - Eat a low-fat diet.
 - Exercise.
 - Take medications that lower your risk—blood pressure and cholesterol lowering drugs.

- Risk factors that you cannot control.
- Age — your heart attack risk increases as you get older.
 - Sex — men are at a greater risk than pre-menopausal women.
 - Race — African-American, Cuban, Puerto-Rican and Mexican-Americans are more likely to have high blood pressure than Anglo-Americans.
 - Personal Medical History — If you have diabetes or heart disease you are at greater risk. If you've already had a heart attack, you're more likely to have another one than someone who didn't.
 - Family Medical History — If any close relative had a heart attack or stroke, or died of heart disease before age 55, your heart attack risk is increased.

Last year, more than 2,300 Texas youngsters submitted entries for the contest. In addition to the lifetime hunting and fishing license, winners will receive the Texas Wildlife Viewing Guide and a one-year subscription to Texas Parks and Wildlife magazine. The total value of each prize is valued at more than $1,000.

The poster contest was sponsored by the Serra Club of Fort Worth and open to all children in Catholic grade school and public school children enrolled in religious education classes in the Fort Worth Diocese. Betty M. Pierce, Contes Coordinator, stated, "It was very difficult to judge the best from each grade level from the 2031 posters submitted. The quality was outstanding. Before the award ceremony Rev. Environmental crime regulations noted by Farm Bureau

With the increased pressure of local law enforcement agencies throughout the state to enforce "Environmental crimes", Texas Farm Bureau believes that several of these regulations need to be brought to the attention of rural Texans.

Under the authority granted by legislation in 1997, local law enforcement can issue citations or environmental crimes that they observe on private property. Violations of these laws can result in fines and/or confinement.

The information listed were taken from Vernon's Texas Codes Annotated with the code section cited for each regulation.

ENFORCEMENT
Health and Safety Code, Section 343.024: A county official agent or employee charged with the enforcement of health, environmental safety, or fire laws may enter any premises in the incorporated area of the county at a reasonable time to inspect, investigate, or abate a nuisance, or to enforce the public nuisance statutes.

Water Code: Section 6.014, 26.173: TNRCC employees and agents may enter any public or private property at any reasonable time for the purpose of inspecting and investigating conditions relating to the quality of water in the state or for compliance with any rule, regulation, permit or other order of the commission. Local governments have the same authority as that given to the commission.

WATER CODE
Water Pollution Offenses: Section 7.145: A person intentionally or knowingly discharges (deposits, drains, mits, throws, runs, allows to seep) or permits discharge of a waste (sewage, or industrial, municipal, recreational, agricultural, or other waste such as garbage, refuse, decayed wood, sawdust, shavings, bark sand, lime, etc.) into or adjacent to water in the state that may impair the quality of water in the state.

Section 7.147: A person that discharges or permits the discharge of any waste or pollutant into any water in the state that causes or threatens to cause water pollution. (This differs from Sec. 7.145 in that no bad intent is required; only that a discharge occurred.)

Used Oil Offenses: Section 7.176: A person intentionally discharges used oil into a sewer, drainage system, septic tank, surface water or ground water, watercourse, or marine water, knowingly mixes or commingles used oil with waste that is to be disposed of in landfills or directly disposes of used oil on land, or intentionally applies used oil to roads or land for dust suppression, weed abatement, or other similar uses that introduce used oil into the environment.

Lead-Acid Battery Disposal Offenses: Section 7.185: A person knowingly or intentionally disposes of a lead-acid battery in a mixed municipal waste, or discards a lead-acid battery except by delivery to a battery retailer or wholesaler, a secondary lead smelter, or an authorized collection or recycling facility.

HEALTH AND SAFETY CODE
Sanitation and Health Protection Measures: Section 341.011: Sewage or other organic waste stored, discharged, or exposed in such a way as to be a potential medium in disease transmission to a person or between persons. A collection of water in which mosquitoes are breeding in the limits of a municipality. A condition that may be proven to injuriously affect the public health. The maintenance of an open privy or an overflowing septic tank so that the contents may be accessible to flies.

Public Nuisances: Section 343.011: This section applies only to the unincorporated areas of a county with a population of 125,000 or more. A public nuisance includes storing or accumulating rubbish, including newspapers, abandoned vehicles, furniture, tires, cans, on premises in a neighborhood for 10 days or more unless the rubbish is completely enclosed in a building or is not visible from a public street. Maintaining premises in a manner that creates an unsanitary condition likely to attract mosquitoes or disease-carrying pests. Allowing weeds to grow on premises in a neighborhood if the weeds are located within 300 feet of another residence or commercial establishment. Maintaining a building in a manner that is structurally unsafe or constitutes a hazard to safety, health, or public welfare because of inadequate maintenance, dilapidation, or abandonment, or because it constitutes a fire hazard.

TRANSPORTATION CODE
Abandoned Motor Vehicles, Section 683.071: A junked vehicle is a vehicle that is self-propelled and inoperable and (1) does not have a lawfully attached unexpired license plate; or a valid motor vehicle inspection certificate; (2) is wrecked, dismantled, partially dismantled, or discarded; or (3) has remained inoperable for more than 45 consecutive days.
Section 683.073: It is an offense to maintain a junked vehicle that is visible from a public place of right-of-way.

This is a partial list of the laws and is not intended to be a complete list of the environmental regulations that could affect rural Texans.

Effort made to reverse shipment restrictions on beef and poultry

U.S. Rep. Mac Thornberry (TX-13) was joined by U.S. Reps. Barbara Cubin (R-WY), John Thune (R-SD) and Charlie Stenholm (D-TX) in introducing legislation designed to help thousands of small and medium-sized meat and poultry producers in Texas and elsewhere around the country by allowing them to market their product across state lines.

The bill is called The Meat and Poultry Inspection Equity Act. Similar to legislation Thornberry authored in the 104th and 105th Congresses, the bill is intended to amend the Federal Meat Inspection Act of 1967 and the Poultry Products Inspection Act of 1968, which prohibits the shipment of state inspected beef and poultry across state lines. Thornberry's bill would reverse this restriction and allow state inspected beef and poultry to be sold anywhere in the U.S.

"State inspected beef and poultry is currently required to meet the same standards as beef and poultry inspected by federal inspectors. But if a federal inspector doesn't personally inspect the beef and poultry, it's not allowed to be sold or marketed in other states. What makes this prohibition even harder to understand is that it doesn't apply to other countries."

Consequently, meat imported from a plant in Mexico that's not subject to U.S. federal inspection can be sold anywhere in the U.S., while meat from a state-inspected plant in Amarillo can only be sold in Texas. This restriction is not only outdated, it also doesn't make sense.

In Texas alone, Thornberry noted, reversing this restriction could produce enormous benefits. Statistics from 1997 reveal over 360 state-inspected plants in Texas are prohibited by federal law from selling their product in other states. These plants employ about 6,000 people. If exemptions were granted for every one of these plants, Thornberry said, it's estimated that another 1,800 jobs would be created, and gross sales would increase by an additional $450 million.

TEXAS COUNTRY CLEANUP DAY

A Texas Country Cleanup Day will be held in Denton County on May 19, 1999 at the Smith Bros. Roping Supplies Store arena facility located on I-35E north of Denton at the Ganzer exit and on the west side of the interstate. The Collection event will run from 8:00 a.m. until 12 noon. The Texas Country Cleanup is a cooperative effort between the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC), the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA). The Cleanup Program provides the opportunity for agricultural producers and rural residents to participate in responsible recycling.

The TCC event will collect batteries, oil, oil filters, and properly rinsed empty plastic pesticide containers. Recyclers donate their time and services at no charge to producers and residents, but reserve the right to refuse any materials. The TCC Collection is not an Agricultural Waste Pesticide Collection; hazardous waste cannot and will not be accepted. Please call the Denton County Extension Service at (940) 565-5535 or METRO (972) 434-2052 for more information.

MARKETING CLUB

The Marketing Club will meet at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, May 11 at the Farm Bureau Building in Gainesville. Robert Klement and Ronnie Felderhoff will coordinate and teach the session on outlook, futures, options and contracts for cattle, wheat and feed grains.

Repeat offered of grazing workshop

Popular demand has resulted in the repeat of a seminar and tour May 21 for cattle producers focusing on the Noble Foundation's Controlled Rotational Grazing Unit at the NF's Pasture Demonstration Farm west of Ardmore.

The seminar-tour shows livestock owners how to produce more cattle on less grazing area through rotational grazing, and how to get by with lower capital expenditure for farming equipment.

The program begins at the Southern Oklahoma Technology Center's conference room at 8:30 a.m., followed by a tour of the CRG Unit at the Foundation property.

R.L. Dalrymple, program coordinator, said the CRG unit has been in existence nine years, and continues to be one of the most popular tour requests for the Foundation's Agricultural Division.

Topics to be covered during the day include rotational grazing unit design, high-powered electric fences, homemade water points, broadcast seeding in bermudagrass, managing without herbicides, two-herd grazing management (first and second grazers), why to topgraze, creepgrazing management, "wild critter" impacts, alternative cattle management techniques, wintering cows on stockpiled bermudagrass, and more.

Registration for the program begins at 8:30 a.m. at the Southern Oklahoma Technology Center, east of Ardmore on Sam Nobel Parkway and just east of the Foundation campus. Although lunch is not included in the program, people interested in attending the seminar and tour are asked to call Tracy or Julie at 580-223-5810 by 5 p.m. March 8 for a participation count.

Beef checkoff referendum drive going full speed

The campaign for a producer referendum on the beef check-off is far from over, despite a recent reduction in the number of signatures necessary for a vote, said Livestock Marketing Association (LMA) President Hatch Smith.

LMA is leading the petition drive for a producer vote. The trade association was told by USDA that the required number of signatures is 107,883, instead of the approximately 117,000 announced when the drive began last year. The new figure is based on a new estimate of the number of producers who sold cattle or calves in 1998, the agency said.

"Now is the time for those who pay, to have the final say," Smith said. For those who haven't called LMA at 800-821-2048 to request a petition card or to obtain more information.
